A Great Intrigue,

Mistress of Darracourt.

CHAPTER XXXV.

Harry looking down at her face, slowly put her hands from his arm.

"What is this?" he said, sternly. "Does this man speak the truth? Have you promised to marry him?"

"Yes, yes, yes!" wailed Mr. Sinclair. "Years ago, and a month ago!

I've got her letters, here, here, here, and here—"

Harry looked at the bundle of letters from his pocket and struck them with his shaking hand.

"Answer him, Marie! Tell him that you love me, that you'll marry me!"

Marie Verner was no ordinary woman. A woman of the usual type would have lied, or prevaricated, and most certainly have fainted.

She did none of these things. Quietly, calmly, she fixed her eyes on the wretched man, and smiled—a smile full of contempt and loathing.

"Marry you!" she said; "I would sooner die! This—and she touched Harry's arm—"is my husband."

At the words there rose a sob, and Lucille staggered into the hall.

Marie Verner started and drew back, and Harry darted forward; but Lucille, with a gesture, swept past him, and with lowered head passed up the stairs.

The group stood amazed, thunder-struck at this fresh complication.

Marie was the first to recover her self-possession.

"Yes," she said, looking round calmly; "this gentleman, Mr. Herne, is my future husband. Our marriage is fixed for to-morrow; that, gentlemen—meekly—must be my excuse for following him here."

Mr. Sinclair scarcely waited until she had finished. With something between a moan and a shriek, he threw himself at her feet.

"Marie!—Marie! Have mercy on me! Don't drive me mad! I did it all for you! I'm a rich man now! Twenty-five thousand pounds! Do you hear?—five and twenty thousand pounds!—all yours! They can't keep me out of it! See, Marie, here is the check—where is it?—show it to her! Don't desert me; don't disown me, Marie! All these years I've waited and loved you—"

Marie Verner turned from him with a beautiful expression of pain and astonishment.

"This is extraordinary!" she said. "I know this person—I have known him for some time; but there is nothing in our acquaintance to warrant—"

He broke in with a wild laugh. "You hear her! Listen to her! Nothing in our acquaintance! Marquis, gentlemen, if she has promised to be my wife once she has promised to be my wife a thousand times! I've lived for nothing but that! Nothing! Worked and waited! And now I'm rich—do you hear, Marie, rich!"

Do Your Looks Quite Satisfy You?

If Your Color is Bad, If You Suffer From Pimples, Here is Good Advice.

Fine Results in Two Weeks. Miss Nettie E. Callaghan, a well-known young lady in Middleton, writes as follows: "I was affected for two years with a rash, and ugly looking pimples that spread over my face. My color was poor, and my blood evidently completely out of order. Certainly it was a most despairing sort of a case, because various treatments did but little to help me. A friend of mine in Toronto, Ont., advised me to get Dr. Hamilton's Pills, so I sent at once for five boxes. In two weeks I felt like new—looks improved, spirits rose, and I felt I was getting well. I have used this remedy for a long time, and now wouldn't be without it."

If you are in failing health, have blood disorders, stomach trouble, or headaches, Dr. Hamilton's Pills will help you quickly. All druggists and storekeepers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. 25c. per box, five for $1.00. Sent postpaid by the Catarhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

leave him with me; but go, gentlemen, pray go—"

"Mad, am I?" yelled Mr. Sinclair. "Mad! I'm not so mad but I can baulk you, marquis, and you too; my lady," and he shook his fist in Marie's face. "You've got the secret, have you; and you meant to make a fine haul with it! You threw me over to be the Marchioness of Merle, did you? And you thought I'd stand by and see it and say nothing except 'Thank you!' But you're mistaken. Gentlemen all, look at that man there!" and he pointed to the marquis, as we must still call him. "Look at him! He gave me that check; he forged it! He must have done, for I didn't! Why did he give me that? Why?"

"Silence!" cried the marquis, and he sprang upon the wretched man; but Harry seized him in his herculean grasp and held him off.

"Why?" cried Mr. Sinclair. "To shut my mouth? Oh, you may look as black as you like; I'm going to make a clean breast of it! Why shouldn't I? The money is no use to me now!" and he glared at Marie Verner. "That check was a bribe to me to keep my mouth shut, to keep the secret I got from old Pollard. Gentlemen all, that man's not the rightful marquis! There stands the real lord—there!" and he pointed to Harry.

"It is a madman's ravings!" said the marquis, wetting his parched lips.

"Ravings, is it? It's the truth! His mother was married at St. Angelo, Paris! There is the copy of the certificate! There in Paris is the entry. The witnesses can be found. The real marquis is Harry Herne!" and, gasping, he sank into a chair, glaring at Marie Verner.

Mr. Head took the certificate from his nervous fingers and read it swiftly.

"Is this true?" he said, in a grave voice to the marquis. "I have long suspected some mystery—"

"True!" and the marquis laughed. "Does it sound true? Take him to the lunatic asylum."

Marie Verner glided forward. Her face was white as death, but there was a smile upon her lips.

"It is true!" she said, and her voice fell upon the storm like the clear note of a bell. "It is true, and he knows it! I learned the secret and—she shrugged her shoulders—"should have taken the whole world into my confidence to-morrow after twelve o'clock. I should have been the Marchioness of Merle then!" and she laughed. "But your folly has spoiled both our pretty plots, marquis—Mr. Merle, I should say. Take my advice and accept the situation—as I do!" and she smiled. "My lord," and she turned to Harry. "You have had a narrow escape; and yet, I don't know, I think I should have made you as good a wife as most. But it is of no use crying over spilt milk! You had better remember that. You can take the man's title away from him; it is yours; but you can't take his wife!" and she smiled sardonically.

Harry sank into a chair, great drops standing upon his brow.

"Are you a fiend?" he gasped. "This is all your work!"

She smiled.

"No, not a fiend; only a woman full of ambition, my lord. My work?"

you mean Lucille's marriage? Yes! You see, I wanted her out of the way!"

His head sank upon his breast. "Heaven forgive you!" broke from him; "I cannot!"

"Wait until you are asked, my lord," she said. "And yet, I don't know why you shouldn't forgive me when you know what I am going to do!" and she moved to the door.

Harry sprang up. "Where are you going?—and what are you going to do?"

She put his hand from her. "I am going to see Lucille," she said. "Not to make reparation—I leave that for fools; but I am going to put you straight in her eyes—to show her that you couldn't have done anything else but marry me under the circumstances. I was making you—wasn't I?"

She laughed.

"Good-day, gentlemen. Mr. Merle, you have spotted both our fortunes, and I can't forgive you! A forged check!—it was the work of an idiot!" and, with the first touch of passion, she shot a furious glance at him and went out.

They heard her ascending the stairs with a light, careless step. Bad to the core, she had one redeeming quality which most villains, male and female, lack—courage!

Mr. Head went up to Harry and laid his hand on his shoulder.

"This is strange and sudden news, my lord," he said, solemnly. "I have long had my doubts that there was some mystery in the life of the late marquis; but you will admit that it was not my place—"

Harry shook his head wearily. "What is to be done?" he said, hoarsely.

Mr. Head looked at the marquis. "I do not imagine that the claim will be contested," he said, significantly. "I would suggest a compromise."

The marquis laughed sardonically, and threw himself back in his chair. "Compromise!" he said, with a sneer. "I shall contest this claim to the last farthing! I will never give up, never!"

Mr. Head approached the table and bent over him.

"For your own sake remain quiet," he said. "Do not anger him; he has been cruelly used. Look back, sir, upon the years he has borne the shadow of disgrace and obloquy. As to the claim, if you know it is—can easily be proved—you are lost!"

The detective, who had been perfectly silent, watching the scene and taking in every detail, stepped forward.

"I have to do my duty," he said. "I arrest you, sir, on a charge of forging a check on Messrs. Coutts' Bank!"

The marquis started and clutched the table.

"You—you cannot!" he said, hoarsely.

The detective shook his head. "It is the cleverest case—and the prettiest—I ever had to do with," he said, with an air of satisfaction. "The evidence is conclusive. That man, and he pointed to Sinclair, 'could not have done it if he had tried. He isn't clever enough. Come, sir, behave like a man.'"

Harry came into the light of the lamp that streamed upon the table and upon the marquis' livid face.

"I Didn't Think."

By RUTH CAMERON.

A woman who sometimes comes to our home has a habit of making what she cheerfully calls "breaks."

For instance, she will forget that Mrs. A's daughter is suing for a divorce and that Mrs. A, who does not believe in divorces, is very sensitive about the matter, and in her presence will bring up the latest divorce scandal of the newspaper world and comment on it in a way that Mrs. A's oversensitized feelings must be like a sledgehammer falling on bare nerves.

Or will she forget that Mrs. L's brother is a dipsomaniac and the father of four boys, and will tell Mrs. L, at length about a sweet girl who is going to marry a man who drinks. She thinks it is a terrible mistake, she says. Such people ought to be taken in hand by society and restrained from marrying and having children, for they are so sure to inherit their father's weakness.

When she remembers or is reminded afterwards what an unfortunate topic she chose, of course she has the grace to be sorry. "Wasn't it terrible?" she says. "I didn't think."

But she hasn't.

Moreover, her statement isn't true. Of course she thought. Human beings always think. That's the price of having a mind, we can't stop thinking for a moment through all our lives except when we sleep, and even then most of us still carry on a kind of subconscious thinking which we prefer to call dreaming.

It isn't because she fails to think that she tramples on people's exposed mental nerves—it's because she thinks only of herself and what she is interested in.

It's the same way with people who lack good manners. One man rises when a woman enters a room and finds her a chair; another fails to assume that responsibility. One man remembers to say "Good night" to his hostess's mother; the other forgets. "I don't think about those little things," he explains with an evident feeling of justifying himself.

The other man does think. He is not so concentrated upon his own interests and his own pleasures that he cannot remember the little graces of manner that make daily life sweeter and more gracious. In plain words, he is not so selfish.

"I didn't think" is used to cover a multitude of sins. It cannot really cover one.

It is merely another and prettier phrase for "I didn't care," for if we cared, we would think.

If we could see our failure to think in this light and recognize it as self-and apparently she considers that ble forgetfulness perhaps we should be more troubled when we fail to think, and make a greater effort not to do so.

Fish dipped in boiling water will scale easily.

When boiling a ham leave it in the water in which it has been cooked until it is cool. This will make it tender and juicy.

The well-beaten white of egg whipped into mashed potatoes before serving them will add much to their appearance and taste.

If hard-boiled eggs are plunged into cold water as soon as they are taken from the fire there will be no dark ring around the yolk.

The Big Circus Act.

SERPENTELLO AND THE FROG.

To-night the most wonderful act in circus or vaudeville profession, dainty little Serpentello, the lady who was the pet and pride of Barrow and Bailey and Kingston. Shows; also young Nicholson, the Human Frog man, who made such a sensation here two years ago. Now the double act is simply marvellous. Those wonderful people have several very special acts, horizontal bars, flying trapeze, swing of death where the clever Serpentello will swing on a perch from the ceiling of the theatre; all wonderful and daring. They will give many styles of dancing, acrobatic and otherwise. This is another sample of act from across the ocean, and their first show will prove that this is an act that the public of St. John's will say the greatest they have ever seen. The pictures are just as good and can't be beaten. The price of admission is like the rest of the performance, right.

The Crescent Picture Palace.

The Crescent Picture Palace advertises to-day a great two reel feature by the famous Eclair Biograph Company. This story treats of a wealthy society man who through disastrous speculation loses his fortune and starts to seek for gold in the Yukon; the terrible hardships of a winter in that region is vividly portrayed in this great feature.

The leading Rex actors, Bob Leonard and Marguerite Fischer are seen their best in the drama: "The Wrong Road." This story is a fishing village and has some beautiful scenic effects.

An "Eastern Cyclone" at Bluff Beach, is a corking comedy of western life and shows how the cyclone tames the whirlwind; plenty of fun in this. Mr. Frederick Knights, the tenor, sings "The Old Plaid Shawl" an old time melody. Don't miss this show it's one of the Crescent's best.

One Dose and You Will Feel Better.

We are able to produce letters from all parts of Newfoundland which highly recommend the wonderful results derived from using this preparation called Prescription "A."

It is for sale in nearly every out-post from the leading business places.

Why are you too tired to do anything? A feeling of distress after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headaches. You feel more tired when rising in the morning than you were retiring at night.

Your sleep is disturbed and you feel as if you are going to suffocate and afraid to go to sleep again.

You have to be careful of what you eat for your breakfast.

Why go on suffering like this when you can be cured by obtaining a bottle of Stafford's Prescription "A" for small size, 25c.; postage, 5c. extra. Large size, 50c.; postage, 10c. extra.

Stafford's Liniment and Phosphate Lough Mixture are still in great demand.

Great Send-Off

To the Four British Belles.

On Saturday night the Rossley theatre was jammed to the doors, all wanting to see the final performance of the troupe of ladies. Those ladies received many beautiful gifts from some of our best citizens. Mr. Rossley presented each lady with a large box of chocolate together with handsome brooches, and Miss Evelyn Keen presented the Rossleys with an elegant silver entree dish. She made a very nice little speech to the public of St. John's for their kind patronage and the Rossleys for so pleasant an engagement, and wished them success in their new theatre when open. The fairy pupils of Mrs. Rossley then stood up and gave them a college yell:

1 2 3 4 British Belles
They are all jolly fine girls,
Rossley's fairies give these yells,
Hip, hip hurrah for the 4 British Belles.

They also sang the chorus "It's a long way to Tipperary," in which the audience joined.

More Fires.

Fire provokes immediate sympathy for the sufferer and also thankfulness for personal escape. Another thought should be whether one is personally and sufficiently protected? An insurance policy with Parole Johnson would provide for you this desired security and at small expense. Have you enough insurance?

Personal.

The many friends of Mr. A. E. March, formerly purser and wireless operator on the Red Nid, ships plying between North Sydney and Port aux Basques, will be pleased to hear of his doing well in Montreal. He is now in the employ of the Canadian Northern Steamship Co. Ltd., holding the responsible position of Chief Clerk in the Passenger Department of that Company.

MINARD'S LINIMENT RELIEVES NEURALGIA.

Gruesome Find.

The Minister of Fisheries received the following message Saturday evening from Mr. J. Roche, of Branch:

"John Nash, fishing six miles off Branch, found a dory bottom up with a dead man tied to her. The dead man cannot be identified as the clothing shows no marks; supposed to belong to the district of Placentia and St. Mary's."

Minister Piccott wired for fuller details. There is a theory that the corpse is that of one of the men lost at Bar Haven on Friday last.

German Seaman Taken into Custody.

Saturday afternoon a German seaman named Carl Riebers, alleged to have deserted the German Navy, was arrested by Constable Lawlor. The German came by the S. S. Nascope on Friday last from York Harbour, Hudson Bay, having reached there, it is supposed, on a schooner from an English port.

Another German named Yiemann, who also came on the Nascope, is now under police surveillance.

Indigestion Ended, Stomach Feels Fine.

Time "Pape's Diapepsin!" In five minutes all Sourness, Gas, Heartburn and Dyspepsia is gone.

Sour, gassy, upset stomach, indigestion, heartburn, dyspepsia; when the food you eat ferments into gases and stubborn lumps; your head aches and you feel sick and miserable, that's when you realize the magic in Pape's Diapepsin. It makes all stomach misery vanish in five minutes.

If your stomach is in a continuous revolt—if you can't get it regulated, please, for your stake, try Pape's Diapepsin. It's so needless to have a bad stomach—make your next meal a favorite food meal, then take a little Diapepsin. There will not be any distress—eat without fear. It's because Pape's Diapepsin "really does" regulate weak, gut-of-order stomachs that gives it its millions of sales annually.

Get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. It is the quickest, surest stomach relief and cure known. It acts almost like magic—it is a scientific, harmless and pleasant stomach preparation which truly belongs in every home.

Fox Cases.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Two men here from Sydney, who are or were partners in a fox ranch, were fined a thousand dollars a few days ago for a breach of the Game Laws—buying foxes out of season.

Very well now, every law-abiding person here is glad to see this long abused law maintained and carried out and we hope the authorities will discover and punish every one who has been breaking this law ever since it was enacted, but there is one thing that is puzzling a good many of us and it is this: why it was that these two men were fined $1,000 each while the members of a company operating a ranch at Port au Port convicted of a similar offence, a short time ago were fined, it is said, only six or seven hundred dollars each? Now, Sir, as I said before every law abiding man in this Bay wants to see the Game Laws carried out properly and every breach of them justly punished without any consideration of persons whatever.

It is nothing short of a white scandal the manner in which the Game Laws are said to have been broken in parts of this district.

Why, it has been said that people whom you would expect to uphold the law, have openly shown their opposition to officials who have been trying in the face of great obstacles to carry out the regulations according to instructions, but now that public opinion has been aroused over this matter, a decided improvement all round may be expected.

Yours truly,

Another Naval Exploit

The news from Secretary Harcourt to the Governor that four German destroyers were sunk on Saturday, is gratifying. The British casualties were slight, one officer and four men being wounded. The British forces engaged consisted of the cruiser "Undaunted," Capt. Fox, and four destroyers of the L class, viz., Lance, Commander Egerton, Lennox, Commander Dale, Legion, Commander Allison, and Loyal, Commander Burgess. The "Undaunted" is one of the new Arctura class of 4,000 tons displacement with a speed of about 30 knots. They burn oil exclusively and are lightly armored. They are a type intermediary between the destroyers and the small protected cruiser, a kind of scout class. The "Undaunted" was built at Fairfield Co.'s yard and completed this year. The destroyers engaged were of the 1912 type, the Laertes class, which did such excellent work in Heligoland Bay some three weeks ago. There are 20 in the L class. They burn oil exclusively. No information has been made public, so far as we are aware of the armaments of the cruiser like the "Undaunted" or of the L class of destroyers. They were built under the new regime, which endeavors to keep as much information about war vessels from enemies and prospective enemies as possible. By their works, however, we know them and the work they did in Heligoland Bay is short time ago and along the Dutch coast on Saturday is most gratifying.

MONDAY, Oct. 19, 1914. We shall have open in a day or two our stock of Dutch Bulbs, consisting of Hyacinths, Narcissus, Tulips, Crocuses, Daffodils, Snowdrops and other popular ones. These bulbs produce very beautiful flowers, which add greatly to the beauty of the home or garden; and are very suitable for grave plots. The prices of this lot, considering their remarkably high quality, will be very moderate. We should be glad if those who wish to purchase these bulbs will order them a day or two before they are required, as they require some little time to unpack, etc.

Captured Captor.

How a Cosack escaped from captivity, captured a Ulian officer, and upheld his reputation as a horseman, is told by the "Retch" of Warsaw. The Cosack was captured near Lutz, and with his horse was taken to Petrofok, where man and beast were objects of curiosity. A Ulian officer tried to put the horse through its paces, but it declined to budge. "Let me get on with you," suggested the Cosack. There were too many German soldiers about for escape to be dreamt of, so the officer laughingly complied. As soon as the Cosack was in the saddle he uttered a couple of words, and the horse dashed off through the astonished German ranks at full gallop. No one shot because of the officer. That night the Cosack joined his company with the Ulian captain as a prisoner.

Funeral of His Grace Archbishop Howley.

Remains Interred at Belvidere - A Solemn and Impressive Ceremony.

The funeral of the late Most Rev. Michael Francis Howley, D.D., Archbishop of St. John's, and Metropolitan of Newfoundland, took place from the R. C. Cathedral where the remains had been lying in state since Thursday night last. Thousands of citizens of all ranks and denominations attended to pay the last tribute of respect to the most distinguished son of Newfoundland who produced. The spacious Cathedral was filled to its utmost capacity, and the Cathedral grounds were filled with citizens who were anxious to pay tribute to the deceased Prelate.

At 10 a.m. the sacred Office for the Dead was sung, and followed by a Solemn Pontifical Requiem Mass, at which His Grace Archbishop McCarthy, of Halifax, was celebrant. Rev. Fr. Maher and O'Flaherty, Deacon and Sub-Deacon, respectively, and Rev. Fr. Donnelly, Assistant Priest. Those in the Sanctuary were: St. Rev. Bishop Power, Rt. Rev. Monsignor Roche, V.G., Rt. Rev. Mgrs. Veitch, Keardon, St. John, Very Rev. Fr. Roche, Rev. Fr. McGrath, O'Callaghan, Rawlin, Pippy, McCarthy, Renouf, Kelly, Rev. Frs. Whelan, Kilcherr and Greene, Rev. Frs. Doyle, E. O'Brien, J. Whelan, Gough, P. O'Brien, Wilson, Nangle, Sears, McDermott, O'Driscoll, Donaghy, Vereker, McCullagh, Sheehan and Tierney.

The following, who attended Mass, occupying prominent seats in the church were: The family relatives of the deceased, the Christian Brothers, His Excellency the Governor and suite, Chief Justice Horwood, Judge Emerson, Judge Johnson, Dr. Burke, the French Consul, Lieut. McDermott of R. S. Calypso, Mr. J. M. Keenan, K.C., Lt. Col. Conroy, members of the Executive Council and of both branches of the Legislature, I. G. Sullivan, City Commissioner, and other officers of the various Catholic societies. Following Bishop Power's sermon the congregation repaired to the Cathedral grounds. Mean while, the Myrick and staff removed the remains, which were enclosed in a handsome casket, of the late Archbishop from the grounds. Mean while, the church to the house outside, where a dense crowd of people were assembled. Then the procession lined up in the following order:

C. C. C. and Officers, Cross and Acolytes, Christian Brothers, Choir Boys, The Hearse, with a Guard of Honour of Officers of B. I. S. Family and Relatives, His Excellency the Governor & Suite, Officials, Officers of the various Catholic Societies in order of seniority. Bringing up the rear were thousands of people prominent in church and state, including clergy and laymen of other denominations, the French Consul, members of the Executive Council, members of the Legislature, Council and Assembly, members of our Civic Government and many other persons. On leaving the Cathedral grounds as the sad cortege wended its way towards Belvidere Cemetery the band of the Catholic Cadet Corps discoursed the "Dead March in Sol," which added solemnity to the solemnity of the occasion. In addition the clergy and acolytes chanted the "Benedictus" en route. The cortege moved in a way slowly on, viewed by a multitude of people, who were eager to witness for the last time the casket that contained all that was mortal of the late illustrious dignitary, and many were moved to tears. The police and contingents from the C. C. C. were kept busy keeping back the crowd.

LATEST

2.30 P.M. "DISGUISED AS HOSPITAL SHIP." LONDON, To-day. The Central News has sent out a despatch from Harwich, in which the correspondent says he has learned upon good authority that the British cruiser "Undaunted" has captured a German mine layer in the North Sea. The mine layer was disguised as a hospital ship. The "Undaunted" is bringing the prize into Harwich. The Press Bureau is without confirmation of the incident.

WOMAN MISSING.—Mrs. Edward Landy, who resides on 46 Colonial St. left her home a little before seven o'clock last evening to attend prayers at the R. C. Cathedral and has not been heard of since. Her friends are very much concerned as to her whereabouts, and though the police have been informed, and have made diligent enquiries, no information had been received up to press hour. She is a sister of Mr. E. Brophy, and any information that would lead to finding her would be gratefully received by him.

Desperate Chauffeur.

Grim End to a German's Duress. Paris, Sept. 24.—This is one of the most ghastly stories I have heard among all the grisly incidents that have so far marked this savage war. It would take a Zola to relate its horror fully. I will not give names or places, not because every detail is not available, but because if the man concerned in the story were again to fall into the hands of the Germans his manner of death might be made unpleasant.

There is a French chauffeur in the employment of a rich young man living in a district recently occupied by the Germans. When the young master went to the war he was left without work. However, he received an offer to drive some refugees to a town in the south of France. He was away ten days, and when he returned he found the part of the country from which he had set out in the hands of the enemy.

Almost at once he met a German patrol. The officer in command was a man of enormous stature and evidently of great physical strength. "You mine," he said in bad French and in a threatening tone to the chauffeur, "car mine, March!" And getting in at the back, the officer drew his revolver and placed the muzzle against the chauffeur's head.

So they started, the two together, along the road. It was a bad road and the chauffeur began to fear that the jolting might make the revolver go off by accident. He accordingly ventured to ask the officer whether he would not prefer to sit in front. The giant consented.

Sulphate of Ammonia.

St. John's Gas Light Company. Dear Sir,—I have analyzed a sample of Sulphate of Ammonia made at your works, and I found 20.5 per cent of NITROGEN, Sulphates of Ammonia and Nitrate of Soda are two of the principal Nitrogen manure. Sulphate of Ammonia is less soluble than Nitrate of Soda, consequently it is a safer manure to use during a wet season.

Hunting For Wounded Under German Fire.

London, Oct. 9.—The London Daily Express prints the following from a correspondent in Belgium: "The British field ambulance worked with the convent of the Sisters of Notre Dame at Zele, near Antwerp, as its first aid base, and throughout the afternoon Dr. Sector Munro and his dressers were receiving one motor car of wounded after another.

Both Dr. Munro and E. Gurney, one of his dressers, made repeated trips into the firing line in a light motor car to look for wounded. Dr. Munro sitting, bare-headed, behind the driver, sometimes propping up an unconscious soldier hit by shrapnel. "Mr. Gurney went past Grembergen, toward the river this morning searching for wounded, and part of the time had to crawl along low entrenchments practically on all fours. German infantrymen, screened behind the opposite bank, shot at him every time he dared to show his head above cover. "Mr. Gurney came back with two badly wounded infantrymen and his courage saved the life at least of one of them who was bleeding to death from a shrapnel wound. In the afternoon he went into the shelled village of Berliere, just before the Germans occupied some houses a few hundred yards away, and again succeeded in bringing away two wounded men.

Divorced Life

By Helen Hanson Fuesco

Trying to Forget Challoner here her impressions of Challoner would automatically blur into indistinct lines and values. This was what she wanted. She struggled hard to overcome the persistent and insistent desire that his fascinating man should come to mean more and more to her. In the wake of any such development, she knew that tragedy could not help being. She had endured enough tragedy; she had no desire for any more.

"It is odd how lonely one can be in the midst of people without end," she wrote moodily. She signed her initials, and addressed the card to Challoner. Re-reading it later, she smiled, and assured herself that she would not post it. Nevertheless, acting upon a sudden impulse, she dropped this card, along with the others, into the letter slot at the postoffice. She consoled herself with the thought that the card bore no trace of her whereabouts at Atlantic City. Even if it had, she lacked the conceit to presume that Challoner, busy man that he was, would do more than drop her a brief note in reply. She knew men and their ways. Challoner, by this time, regardless of the interest he had evinced in her at Placid Inn, had unquestionably let her slip away into the category of bygone memories.

Life, she reflected, was incessant and merciless change. The friendships of yesterday were the faded, dimly remembered impressions of today. She knew the loss of vividness which absence imparts to once intimate objects. She knew that even Frank, her former husband, must by this time be thinking of her only occasionally and no doubt vaguely, if at all. Marian, let it be understood, had fully made up her mind that it was her duty to forget Challoner. She was glad that she had invaded this veldt of humanity, and she believed that

TO DECEASED PRELATE.
Yesterday in many of the city churches sympathetic references were made to the death of His Grace Archbishop Howley. At the Cathedral the Rev. Canon White spoke in feeling terms, and expressed his sympathy with the Roman Catholic community in the loss of their beloved Archbishop. Before the opening of the United Intercessory Service at Gower Street Methodist Church, Rev. Dr. Curtis paid a worthy tribute to the memory of the deceased Prelate. With feelings of deep emotion he referred to the great loss sustained by the Roman Catholic Church. Personally the speaker felt that he had lost a sincere and deeply cherished friend. The congregation was much moved by the remarks of Rev. Dr. Curtis, whose words were an expression of the general sympathy felt by all present. At St. Mary's Church, Southside, before the close of the evening service Rev. Canon Bolt made reference to the loss of the Archbishop to Newfoundland, as he had been foremost in everything for the amelioration of its native land. As a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased the "Dead March in Saul" was played at the close of the service.

When a window is difficult to raise, pour melted lard between the frame and the casing and put a little also on the cord.

At the R. C. Cathedral.

Vespers for the Dead were sung at the R. C. Cathedral last evening. Rt. Rev. Mgr. Roche, V.G., was the celebrant, and in the Sanctuary were His Grace Archbishop McCarthy, His Lordship Bishop Power, Rt. Rev. Mgr. Boardman, Rt. Rev. Mgr. St. John, Rev. Fr. Callaghan and upwards of thirty priests from the different parishes of the diocese. The service was a solemn and impressive one. After Vespers the Rosary of the Blessed Virgin was recited by Rev. Dr. Greene.

NAVAL LOSSES AND GAINS.

LONDON, To-day.
The sinking of the four warships on Saturday, makes six torpedo boat destroyers sent to the bottom of the sea by British gunfire since the war, seven when the torpedo boat destroyer or which was sunk by submarine E 9 is counted. In this number without counting converted merchantmen such as the Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse and Cape Trafalgar, the score now favors the Allies, they having sunk six German and one Austrian cruiser, seven German torpedo boat destroyers, while there has been unconfirmed reports of the sinking of several Austrian destroyers in the Adriatic Sea. The Germans have sunk eight British, one Russian cruiser, while Australia lost a submarine by accident. The Russians also claim to have sunk two German submarines, but this the Germans deny. Up to date Berlin had not heard officially of the sinking of the British cruiser Hawke, which indicates that the submarine which accompanied it has not yet returned to port. The cruiser Undaunted was commanded by Capt. Fox, who commanded the cruiser Amphion which after sinking the German cruiser Koening Luise, was itself destroyed by a German mine on Aug. 6th.

OIL TANKER CAPTURED.

HALIFAX, To-day.
The auxiliary cruiser Coronia brought into port the oil tank steamer Brindelia, flying the American flag. She was overhauled by the H. M. S. Suffolk, which intercepted the oil tanker on her way from New York. The Coronia was on the way to Halifax. The Brindelia was placed in her custody to be brought to this port, while the Suffolk continued on patrol duty. The fact that her registry was changed to the American since the outbreak of the war is probably the reason for her arrest. When the prize came into port the prisoners were taken off and placed in the Citadel. The case will come before the Admiralty Court, where it will be determined whether or not the steamer is a prize or whether she shall be allowed to proceed.

BUCK UP!

Come, buck up, laddie, quick and get something to do
Now the summons has sounded for all;
Some have put on their khaki and some wear the blue—
Say, then, how will you answer the call?
For the greatest and least from each part of the land
Has deserted the outrage and hall.
And when everyone's ready to take up his stand,
Tell me, how will you answer the call?
See our soldiers and soldiers go marching along
As if nothing else mattered at all,
And they're never downhearted but singing their song—
It's the way that they answer the call.
There are lots of brave nurses for Tommy and Jack,
Nor are surgeons and parsons found slow,
And if some of these faithful ones never come back
There are plenty more waiting to go.
But whatever your work is, the duty remains
Just to fall into line and obey;
Steady courage and grit are more useful than brains
And we're all of us equal to-day.
For in Kitchener's army it's men that they need
Who are ready to fight till they fall;
They are asking for some of the old British breed—
Are you ready to answer the call?
Come, buck up, and be quick for the time's slipping by
For God's sake, as for your country's be true;
They are looking for someone to answer the cry
And the man they are wanting is you!

What Happened to the Cats?

Not long ago the U. S. Gov't made some experiments to determine the poisoning qualities of caffeine (the drug in tea and coffee).

Twenty-seven healthy cats were given an average dose of 5 4-5 grains of caffeine—about as much of the drug as is contained in 2 or 3 cups of tea or coffee.

What do you suppose happened?

The Cats all Died!

See Gov't Bulletin No. 148, Bureau of Chemistry.

Of course they were only cats.

But there are plenty of people who dose themselves with enough caffeine every day to kill a cat and Cripple a Man, not at one blow, but by little blows repeated daily.

Of course some systems are strong enough to stand all kinds of abuse, but most systems are not. And when a man or woman observes a growing nervousness or sleeplessness, heart trouble, stomach, bowel or eye disturbance, it is time to quit both tea and coffee and turn to a real food-drink, free from the drug, "caffeine."

It is easy to shift from tea or coffee to

FOUR GERMAN DESTROYERS SUNK.

October 18.

Government.

New light cruiser 'Undaunted,' Captain Fox, with Destroyers 'Lance,' 'Commander Egerton,' 'Lennox,' 'Commander Dale,' 'Legion,' 'Commander Allsop,' 'Loyal,' 'Commander Burges Watson,' engaged and sank four German destroyers off Dutch Coast seventeenth October.

Our casualties, one officer and four men wounded.

Damage to destroyers slight; 31 German survivors prisoners.

HARCOURT.

BELGIANS AGAIN IN FIRING LINE.

PARIS, Oct. 18.

The French official statement issued this afternoon, says: In Belgium the Belgian army has vigorously repulsed several attacks directed by the Germans against the crossing of the River Yser. On our left wing the Allied troops have occupied the ground in front of Givarchy and Promelles, and retaken Armentieres, to the north of Arras. Saturday was marked by a perceptible advance on our part between the region of Arras and the Oise. We have made slight progress at certain points at the centre, and on the wing the situation is unchanged.

GERMANS BEATEN.

PARIS, Oct. 18.

The French and British forces met a furious attack by the Germans today in Western Belgium and defeated them in a battle for six of the positions commanding the highways to Dunkirk. The enemy was entirely forced back toward Thourout, which appears to be the Kaiser's base of operations in his attempt to seize the forts of the northern coast of France. Vigorous onslaughts have been made by the Allies against the German line near Arras, and the Germans have lost some of their principal defensive positions in this region. The right wing of the French Army has achieved new success in the operations against the forces commanded by the German Crown Prince, which are now in extreme danger at St. Mihiel, through the success of the French in pushing forward east of St. Mihiel toward Etain and in Lorraine toward Metz. Preparations for the investment of the forts of Metz with a large French force have been completed, and this force is now attacking the Germans at the outer right trenches giving approach to the forts.

ALLIES PROGRESSING.

PARIS, Oct. 18.

The War Office announced this afternoon that considerable progress was made by the Allies north of Arras, on Saturday.

BELGIAN ARMY IN FRANCE.

BORDEAUX, Oct. 18.

The Belgian army, under King Albert, is in France. It will soon take the offensive against the Germans with the Allies.

ST. PIERRE BULLETIN.

Oct. 18.—(Official.)

The Belgian army has vigorously repulsed several German attacks on points of passage of the River Yser. At our left wing north of La Bassée Canal, the Allies have retaken Armentieres, to the north of Arras and within a few miles of Lille. Our troops have slightly advanced between Arras and the Oise region also. In the centre we have slightly progressed on certain points. At our right wing the situation is unchanged.

FRENCH SUCCESSES.

PARIS, Oct. 18.

Further successes have been gained by Anglo-French troops in the vicinity of Armentieres, near St. Mihiel, and in the valley of the Meuse. The French occupy Fleur D'Aix, six miles from Armentieres, and the Germans are reported to have been driven out of Lille. The French are within 12 miles of Metz and are pressing forward. The city of Arras is in ruins.

THE GERMAN ARMY.

BERLIN, Oct. 18. The German army has completed its Belgian campaign, Bruges and Ostend having been taken. The German right wing is receiving reinforcements from Belgium, and will make an energetic offensive movement.

BUSINESS PROSPERITY.

No Reason for Industrial Depression.

Property is a happy state. It depends upon good credit, stable prices, employment of wage earners and a general confidence in the future.

Of late there seems to have been an unnecessary amount of business depression, due mostly to the lack of fairness of one class toward another, and to a high dishonesty or overreaching scattered through all the classes, but not in a majority of any of them.

In a country of our enormous natural wealth, we should have little to worry about. The United States, with its similar possessions and Abundant is nearly a large Europe. Our coasts are indented with excellent harbors and intersected by internal waterways, and we have by far the finest and cheapest coast railroad transportation in the world, making communication cheap and easy. We have tremendous water power and every variety of climate and soil. Magnificent forests cover a great area of our territory. Our land is liberally stocked with almost every variety of mineral wealth, and with our vast agricultural wealth, we lead the world in a great many things.

When corporations are renovated and their ill-aimed by publicists, and when business men begin to care for the welfare of the community, and when political "sore alla" who have never made a success of their own affairs, quit offering "remedies" for all sorts of imaginary troubles, when we have full publicity in politics and in government; when business managers and employees treat each other fairly, the causes for apparent depression will disappear and real prosperity will return and stay with us.

Certain-teed Roll Roofing is guaranteed 5 years for 1-ply, 10 years for 2-ply and 15 years for 3-ply and the written guarantee is backed by the assets of our big mills.

In addition to above we also make a complete line of other roofings, building paper, etc. Ask your dealer. He will be glad to give you further information about our goods and will quote you reasonable prices.

GERMAN ATTACKS REPULSED.

PARIS, Oct. 19.

An official communication issued by the French War Office last night says: During the course of last night two violent attacks were attempted by the Germans to the north and east of St. Die. These were repulsed with heavy losses to the enemy. No other reports of any importance were received on the operations of the day.

GETTING REINFORCEMENTS.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 19.

The Russian General Headquarters makes the following announcement: On the front in East Prussia on the Vistula there is nothing new to report. Austrian attempts to cross the Sauer River have failed. South of Przemyśl fighting continues. At several points there were bayonet attacks, in which we captured 15 Austrian officers and more than a thousand men. Austrian reinforcements are reported in the passes of the Carpathians.

BRITISH CASUALTY LIST.

LONDON, Oct. 19.

The official report from General French, Commanding the British Expeditionary Force, gives the total British killed, wounded and missing, from Sept. 12th to Oct. 18th, as 561 officers and 12,980 men. The War Office issued last night another casualty list received from headquarters under date Sept. 19th. It gives 51 non-commissioned officers and men as having been killed, 149 men wounded, 555 men missing. Those of the killed belonged entirely to the Royal Scots, Royal Irish and East Surrey. The King's Own, Scottish Borderers and Somerset Light Infantry figure largely in missing. Of commissioned officers the list gives 4 killed and 5 wounded.

Intercessory Services.

The Day of Intercession was duly celebrated by all the Protestant Churches in the city yesterday, but owing to the Roman Catholic Church being in mourning, no special services of an intercessory nature were held, as the death of His Grace caused the postponement of the special service until a later date.

In the Church of England special services were conducted in the morning and evening, the different preachers delivering patriotic sermons appropriate to the occasion. Special emphasis was laid on the righteousness of Britain's cause in all the churches, and the services were of a most inspiring character.

At Gower Street Methodist Church a special Prayer Service was conducted, the united congregations of the four city Methodist Churches being represented.

Rev. Dr. Curtis, the Chairman, opened the meeting at 8.15 p.m., and after referring to the death of Archbishop Howley, delivered an interesting and inspiring address on the war situation. Prayer was led by prominent laymen and clergymen and special hymns of intercession were sung.

Star of the Sea Association.

A special meeting of the Star of the Sea Association was held yesterday afternoon, the President, Mr. E. M. Jackman occupying the chair.

In opening the meeting the President referred at length to the life work of the late Archbishop, and to the loss sustained by the Roman Catholic Church by the death of her esteemed Prelate. He reviewed the Archbishop's work as a churchman, patriot and friend, and dwelt upon the many noble traits that marked the character of Newfoundland's most gifted son. Through his zeal and energy many ecclesiastical buildings were erected, and these will stand as enduring monuments to his memory. The following resolutions were then read:—

RESOLUTIONS.
WHEREAS, by the death of His Grace the Most Reverend Michael Francis Howley, D.D., Archbishop of St. John's, Terra Nova mourns a great patriot who enriched her literature, inspired her people with noble ideas of citizenship, and was always a sturdy champion of her territorial and maritime rights;

AND WHEREAS, during the episcopacy of this great churchman and ecclesiastical statesman his master mind grasped the spiritual and temporal needs of present and future generations, and under the quickening influence of his vigorous and progressive leadership, churches, colleges, schools, convents, charitable and social institutions sprung into existence and are monuments of his zeal for his church and people;

AND WHEREAS, our beloved Patron always took a keen interest in the Star of the Sea Association, its lectures, its work and its members;

BE IT RESOLVED that this Society tender to the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Roche, V.G., an expression of our profound sympathy in the loss that the Church has sustained by the death of our beloved Archbishop;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that as a mark of respect we adjourn this meeting, and meet again on Wednesday next at 8 p.m. to nominate officers for the ensuing year.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of these Resolutions be sent to the immediate relatives of the deceased Archbishop and to the Press.
D. M. JACKMAN,
Pres. Star of the Sea As.
WM. F. GRAHAM,
Sec. Star of the Sea As.

Mr. J. J. Lacey moved the adoption of the resolutions which were supported by Messrs. Thomas Melvin and P. Hanley. After their unanimous adoption the meeting adjourned until 8 p.m. Wednesday next.

Prospero Returns.

The Bowring coaster Prospero, Capt. A. Kean, returned from Northern ports Saturday night, after a stormy trip. Going north the weather was boisterous and occasional snow showers were experienced. Coming south, however, conditions were much better. Capt. Kean reports that all the Labrador fleet have reached their respective home ports and with good fares on the whole. Within the past week a number of fishermen at Twillingate visited the grounds daily but only secured small catches.

Licensing Board.

The annual meeting of the Licensing Board set down for Saturday was postponed till this afternoon, owing to the absence of two members of the Board. Judge Knight, Jas. P. Blackwood and H. A. Winter were present. The applications for renewals of retail licenses were read by Judge Knight. Applications from persons under changed names in the city along with an application from a Gambro resident, will be considered at today's meeting.

EXPLAINING THE VALUE of the protection afforded by fire insurance should not be necessary. Everybody knows of instances where the lack of it has resulted in ruin. So we won't waste time in arguing. We simply urge you to have us

MAKE YOU A POLICY at once. It will be in one of the best companies and the rates will be the lowest.

Published by Authority
The following Notice, issued by the Imperial Board of Trade, on the 18th September last, calling attention, in connection with the Government's War Insurance Scheme, to the necessity of complying strictly with all orders and directions given by the Admiralty as to routes, ports of call, stoppages, etc., is published for general information.

Government War Insurance Scheme.
It is an essential feature of the Government War Risks Insurance Scheme that all insured ships must obey implicitly all orders and directions given by the Admiralty as to routes, ports of call, stoppages, etc.
To avoid misapprehension on this point, the Board of Trade wish it to be clearly understood that this provision is intended to secure the safety of both ship and cargo, and that any deviation which may be rendered necessary in consequence of Admiralty orders or directions is in the interest of the cargo as well as of the ship. It is important that this fact should be borne in mind by all parties concerned in the shipment or carriage of goods on insured ships, and that in contracts of carriage the shipowner's obligation to comply with the Admiralty requirements should be fully recognized.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES PAIN DRUFF.

My Lady's Wardrobe!
Autumn is here. Say what we may as to the Calendar, we can no longer shut our eyes to the fact that now or never we must decide upon the additions to our wardrobe which are to serve us throughout the cold weather.
The changes are many and fundamental, but thanks to the process of Dry Cleaning and Dyeing most of us can wear our last season's garments, with a few necessary alterations, throughout the winter months and conform to the prevailing styles.
Inquire into this method of dressing economically.

Fishery Gear!
WE ARE MANUFACTURERS of the GILL NETS, used by Messrs. Job Brothers & Co. in the Straits this year. They have been successful at a time when traps had partially failed. We make them in all sizes to order.
WE ARE MANUFACTURERS of COTTON DRIFT NETS, such as are used in the North Sea Herring Fishery. As the catch of Herring will be interfered with during the war, a good opportunity occurs for use of these Nets in Newfoundland.

WE ARE MANUFACTURERS of the celebrated STANDARD brand of Herring Nets, which is universally acknowledged to be the very best Net on the market. We are now making the CRESCENT brand Herring Net, which is the best and strongest LOW PRICED NET MADE. It is mounted just the same as the Standard Net, and it is harked for preservation, not merely dyed like other cheap Nets.

WE ARE MANUFACTURERS of SQUID TRAPS, which are now legal; we make them in any size required, to order.
We manufacture TARRIED COTTON LINES, all sizes, for Bankers' use; strong, durable and easily handled.

We make COD TRAPS, COD SEINES, CAPLIN SEINES, ETC., to order, in all sizes.
All the above fishery gear we can strongly recommend, and we would urge our fishermen to patronize articles of home manufacture, in order to give employment, which is so much needed this year.

The state of war makes our winters none the less severe. In making your old suit or overcoat do for the winter may be false economy. Protect your body from the warring elements by ordering one of our Heavy weight Overcoats. Owing to general depression in woollens we were enabled to buy in a splendid variety of Winter Suitings. Also a very fine range of Winter Suitings. Write for samples and self-measuring cards, as we guarantee results.
