STEWART'S Home Made Bread,

THE BREAD MY DADDY LIKES.

Daddy is evidently not one of those back number lords of creation who believes that woman's place is in the home—and only there. His taste in a wife is an up-to-date woman who will prove herself a real companion. He knows that if she is a slave to her kitchen she can't enjoy the poise or have the interest in world affairs that a little extra leisure would make possible; and so he is pleased to eat MRS. STEWART'S HOME MADE BREAD—the loaf with the home made flavor.

The smiling, well-nourished kiddie doesn't look as though suffering because mother is progressive enough to buy good bread made by a bread specialist, instead of wearing out her life in the kitchen.

T. McMURDO & CO., Ltd.,

THE PIONEER DRUG HOUSE.
Established 1823. Incorporated 1920.

In re-organizing our business at the beginning of last year when times seemed prosperous, somewhat drastic changes were made in credit terms to our customers in the belief that it would ultimately prove to be for their benefit as well as our own.

Results to-day have proved our forecast to be correct, and as a consequence we are now in a better position than ever to serve our friends to advantage with a new and up-to-date stock.

From being pessimists in apparently good times we are now optimists when many think there is nothing but "blue ruin" ahead; and in consequence we are now prepared to entertain extending longer credit than is indicated by our general terms, where desired, to approved wholesale customers.

We have the necessary Stock and Capital to do a much larger business. We are desirous of keeping our present staff on at suitable wages, necessitated by higher cost of living, and to do this an increase in trade is hoped for. This we anticipate getting by efficiency of service, combined with the high grade goods we carry and sell at lowest possible prices.

CHAPTER IX.

Esther climbed the stairs of the agency again the following morning. There was a little feeling of despondency in her heart. She had slept badly, and she had not been able to forget what June had said about Ashton. Esther was influenced by June's "instincts," as she chose to call them; she knew it was foolish, but the fact remained all the same.

When she opened the waiting-room door she felt half inclined to turn and go away again. She would only meet with the same answer: "Nothing that will suit you to-day, Miss Shepstone."

But for a wonder the room was almost empty, and the tall and stately one was standing at the communicating door.

When she saw Esther she came forward. "I was hoping you would call, Miss Shepstone. Will you come into my room?"

Esther's heart leapt. She obeyed eagerly.

A lady was sitting at the table looking rather bored and irritated.

She was grey-haired and handsome, and most beautifully dressed. She turned slightly when Esther entered, and stared at her through tortoiseshell glasses.

"Is this—the young lady?" she asked.

"Yes, madam—this is Miss Shepstone." The stately one introduced Esther with a wave of her hand. "This lady, Miss Shepstone, is looking for a companion. Some one who can work well—and read aloud." She looked at Esther sharply. "Can you read aloud?" she asked.

Esther stammered out that she supposed she could, but . . .

"That is a minor detail," the lady with the tortoiseshell glasses interrupted. "Write and tell me what you decide to do. Here is my card . . ." She took one from a heavy silver case and laid it on the table. She looked at Esther quizzically, then suddenly she held out her hand.

"Good-bye, Miss Shepstone. I hope I shall see you again," and the next moment she had gone.

The stiff and stately owner of the agency was smiling, well pleased.

"You are most fortunate, Miss Shepstone," she said. "You have secured one of the best posts I have on my books. If you take my advice you will not hesitate. Make up your mind at once."

Esther did not answer. She took up the card from the table, then she drew in her breath with a hard sound, for the name printed there was Mrs. Raymond Ashton.

CHAPTER XI.

Esther never knew how she got out into the street. She walked along like some one in a dream; her cheeks were burning hot.

Mrs. Raymond Ashton! Raymond's mother! The woman of whom he had spoken so often and so bitterly. The woman who had raised such a fierce objection to her marriage with Raymond.

There was not much resemblance between mother and son; they were both handsome, but there was a sort of humour in Mrs. Ashton's face which Raymond lacked. Esther tried vainly to find some likeness between them.

She realised how different this woman was to what she had pictured in her mind. She had pictured a stern, cold, and somewhat repulsive old woman. But now even the children do not know they are taking cod liver oil when they are given a dose of because he's not the sort of man I care about," he said stammeringly. "He's got all right—it all depends from what point of view you regard him. I hope you will forget that I said that, Miss Shepstone. It—it was unparliamentary."

"It's a matter of complete indifference to me what you say about—Mr. Ashton," she told him.

She stopped. They had been walking along together.

"Which way are you going?" she asked.

Micky flushed up to the eyes; he knew this was a dismissal.

"I was coming along to see June," he said. "I hoped you would allow me to walk along with you—if I am not intruding."

Esther forced a smile, but her lips felt stiff.

"Oh, but I am not going back," she said. Her voice sounded as if it were cut in ice. "So I won't detain you. Good-bye."

She turned and left him, walking quickly away again in the direction from which she had just come.

Her eyes were smarting with tears that had to be restrained.

"How dare he—oh, how dare he!" she asked herself passionately. "What does he know about Raymond?"

She could not trust herself to go back home. She walked about in the cold till she was tired out. She wanted to be sure that Micky would have left Elphinstone Road before she got there. She wondered if June knew the Ashton too. She probably did, as Micky Mellowes knew them. They were both of Raymond's own world, these two.

It was only she, who loved him best, who was outside the magic circle of his friends.

It was nearly supper time when she got in. She paused for a moment in the hall and looked anxiously at the rows of coats and hats hanging there. She thought she would know Micky's if she saw them there. She forgot that he might have taken them up to June's room. She turned away with a little sigh.

At the foot of the stairs she met young Harley. He coloured sensitively when he saw her and stood aside for her to pass.

Esther flushed too. She wondered what he thought of her note refusing the theatre. With sudden impulse she spoke—

"I hope you are not angry with me, Mr. Harley, but—perhaps you do not know that I am engaged to be married, and so . . . so I don't think I should accept invitations from any one else, though—though it was kind of you to ask me," she added.

After-Dinner Stories.

At a brilliant dinner in Washington the guests of honor were leading Englishmen and leading Frenchmen. Mr. Everts, Secretary of State, presided with one of them on his right and the other on his left, and began his post-prandial talk by observing that it was a nice question whether the Englishman or the Frenchman was named to be the pick of humanity. "As for me," he added, glancing from right to left as he spoke, "I prefer something between the two."

At a dinner to Bishop Potter, several other distinguished men answering to the name of Potter were present. This fact prompted Mr. Everts to tell the company of a dazed clergyman who put up the petition: "Oh, Lord, let us never forget that Thou art the clay and we are the Potters."

Among the guests at a Washington dinner at which he was present was an eminent scientist. Late in the evening Mr. Everts suddenly attracted general attention by saying to the scientist, "Professor, I should like to ask you a question. Why is it that the liquid at the bottom of a bottle is more intoxicating than the liquor at the top?"

The scientist, all unconscious of the fun lurking in the question, replied: "Why, I have never had my attention called to the fact." "Yes," rejoined Everts, with a perfectly grave face, while the rest of the company broke into a burst of laughter. "I know men who have frequently found by actual experience that it is so."

His sly dig at President Hayes's temperance principles is still one of the favourite stories in Washington. "While Hayes occupied the White House," said Everts, "the water at his dinners flowed like champagne."

Cure for Marital Differences.

In Swabia there was a curious custom aimed at reviving harmony in troubled homes. Whenever a married couple, declaring incompatibility of temperament, seek divorce, instead of appealing for conciliation to a magistrate who may or may not be a psychologist and may or may not be possessed with persuasive eloquence, the authorities shut up husband and wife in a tower, allowing them only one fork and one plate between them. The result of the experiment is then patiently awaited. If the story goes that a few hours out of ten, at the end of a few hours of this inconvenient regime, the two are released from the tower perfectly reconciled. Material necessities have drawn them together and effaced the sentimental misunderstandings. And they return happily to their dwelling to breakfast more comfortably in the peace of the reconstituted home, whose imperfections they no longer perceive.

Household Notes.

Add diced bacon to your omelet mixture.

Stuff apples with marshmallows and bake.

Prunes are excellent stewed with raisins.

Never fail to strain white sauce if it is not smooth.

For flavor add a little grated lemon rind to baker rhubarb.

Rhubarb punch made with lemons and pineapple juice is delicious.

Roast duckling is excellent stuffed with apples and seedless raisins.

Long cooking is the secret of success in preparing uncooked cereals.

Left-over spinach and mashed potatoes make delicious croquettes.

Sweetbreads are delicious cooked in butter and served on fresh toast.

Add 1/2 cupful of cocoa to rice pudding. This makes a nice change.

When making oyster stew, cook the oysters only until their edges ruffe.

A pinch of sugar added to the sauce of cheese fritters improves the flavor.

Irons keep hot a long time if kept on the soapstone radiator of the fireless cooker.

Guinea should be served with a sauce flavored with orange or pineapple juice.

If you wish your white sauce to be thick, double the quantity of butter and flour.

A salad which men particularly like is made of chopped apples, celery and walnuts.

A good brush for plugh and velvet hats is a small velvet pad loosely filled with sawdust.

Plain jelly roll may be made into a delicious dessert if sliced and served with whipped cream.

Oysters and oyster liquor add a savory taste to tomato bouillon. Boil after adding the oysters.

U. S. Resurrectionists.

In order to prevent grave robbers exhuming the body of Senator John Keen (New Jersey), and holding it for ransom, a guard was placed over the grave. Word was brought to the police that body-snatchers were at work in the cemetery. Half a dozen patrolmen reached the cemetery just about midnight, and found that they had scared away the ghosts just as they were about to break through the concrete in which the coffin is set, having dug down through the frozen earth to that distance, Julian P. Keen, President of the National State Bank, a brother of the late Senator Keen, said that he could think of no motive for the vandalism unless the grave robbers intended to hold his brother's body for ransom.

Minard's Liniment Co., Ltd.
Gentlemen—I have used Minard's Liniment and have found it a good remedy. After the explosion I was pretty well shaken up having quite a number of bruises and cuts, but thanks to Minard's Liniment I am my old self again. It healed the sores and bruises and gave me much relief. It is true to its name as the King of Pain, for it stopped the pain almost at once. I first noticed the ad in the Montreal Standard and decided to invest in a bottle, for which I am not sorry, but can say with truth that I am thankful for it having done all it claimed to do, and in my case much more, and a satisfied customer is the best ad. one can possibly find. That is my view of it and I think you will agree with me too.

Yours very truly

International Coal Strike in United Kingdom.

Success or Failure Depends Upon Railway and Transport Workers -- Government Proclaims State of Emergency -- Overseas Market May be Found For Wabana Ore -- Austrian Monarchist Attempt Ends in Fiasco.

A CRITICAL SITUATION.
LONDON, March 31. Success or failure for the national miners' strike, which has been expected to depend upon the results of the meetings of Railway and Transport Workers would find a way out of the difficulty received little to re-secure them in the statements issued in their behalf after the morning conferences. These statements were to the effect that the attitude of the owners and the government was regarded by the railway men and transport workers as a prelude to a general attempt to reduce wages and get back to the old days of dis- instead of national negotiations labor disputes. The National Union of Railwaymen has called a conference of delegates for April sixth, at which it will be decided whether the railwaymen will support the miners. The transport workers also have decided to call a meeting of executives of all bodies affiliated with them for April fifth to take similar action.

tack was made by civilians at two o'clock this morning. The front wall of the barracks was blown in by explosives, bombs were thrown and heavy fire maintained. The police held the barracks until the room in which they were took fire, when a few escaped by the upper windows.

DISORDERS IN IRELAND.
DUBLIN, March 31. Two motor cars, filled with auxiliaries, were bombed in Lower Dorset Street, yesterday. There were no casualties among the Auxiliaries, who opened fire on the crowd, wounding seven. Head Constable Mulrooney with a sergeant and constable were ambushed to-day near Sallierstown. The sergeant was killed and the other two seriously wounded.

MARKET FOR WABANA ORE.
NEW GLASGOW, March 31. The proposed merger of the Scotia Steel with the Dominion Steel Corporation and Halifax Shipyards, Limited, was placed before the shareholders of the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Co., at the annual meeting here yesterday. Addressing the meeting President D. H. McDougall said there was no disposition on the part of the Government to place orders for new equipment, but any marked improvement in general business would in all probability cause the placing of substantial orders. There are, he said, substantial stocks of iron ore in England, the United States and the Continent, and the immediate outlook for the sale of ore is not good, although there are reasons to believe a market for Wabana ore will be found overseas at a not distant date. The conditions that have to be faced during the year are likely to prove trying, more so in fact than any encountered in recent years, and no heavy expenditures are contemplated. President McDougall said, he trusted the proposed merger would assist in bringing about economy in operations, and when the matter came up for decision on April 7, he hoped the company would approve the project.

STATE OF EMERGENCY PROCLAIMED.
LONDON, March 31. The Government this evening in connection with the coal strike proclaimed a State of Emergency under the Emergency Powers Act of 1920.

ANOTHER COAL STRIKE.
LONDON, March 31. Coal miners began to leave pits in various districts this afternoon in line with the decision to call a strike at midnight because of failure to settle the wage demands. The Board of Trade have decided that coal exports will be rationed rigorously. It is announced the railwaymen have called a conference for April second to decide whether they will support the miners or not. The transport workers will meet April 1 for similar action.

He is reported to be a well-known anarchist.

GERMAN COMMUNISTS FAIL.
BERLIN, March 31. That the Government believes the danger of a Communist rising is past is shown by the removal yesterday of barbed wire barricades and the reopening of the Wilhelmstrasse to traffic, as well as a marked reduction in the number of sentries. The Communists have failed to promote a strike of workers in Berlin.

IRISH RELIEF.
WASHINGTON, March 31. Charitable organizations constituted "on a strictly non-political basis," in the United States, which desire to deal, "in an impartial spirit with Irish distress, will find no unnecessary difficulties in their way," said the British Embassy last night. The Embassy said that were it not for the fact that Sinn Fein sections of Ireland refused assistance from the United Kingdom there was no case of distress which could not be adequately met from British sources.

LONDON, March 31. Lloyd George's recent declaration of war on labor as the coming enemy is being held up to derision by political opponents, in the light of sections of a small section of extremists from the Independent Labor Party. Harbor Grace Notes.
Mr. Ralph Barrett, having spent the week-end here, returned to the city on Monday last. He is at present employed at Messrs. Parker & Monro's Boot and Shoe Factory there.

Miss Marion Dawe of Bay Roberts is spending the Easter holidays here with her grandmother, Mrs. William Butt, and other friends.

Rev. Ernest Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Davis of Woodville Road, and pastor of the Methodist Church at Little Bay Islands, N.D.B., arrived in town by Monday night's train to see his father, who at the present time is ill.

The sale of high class teas, candies, by the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church in Coughlan Hall on Tuesday night last was very successful, the sum of $140 being realized as the night's proceeds. The hall was very tastefully decorated, some beautiful Easter flowers being in evidence. Together with the able manner in which the ladies endeavored to supply the wants of the inner man may be quoted the desire of each and all to help make those present spend a most enjoyable evening.

Miss Sadie Strong, who has been attending the Methodist College Home, St. John's, is spending Easter with her parents and other friends in town.

Mr. J. Max Cron is having his grocery store enlarged. The work is being undertaken by Messrs. R. Telford & Son, and it will no doubt be of great service to Mr. Cron in order to keep pace with his fast increasing business. This shop was formerly occupied by the late Andrew Rutherford, who conducted business there for many years.

The St. Catherine's Girls' Guild intend holding their annual tea in St. Paul's Hall to-night, Thursday. We trust the ladies will meet with success.

We had been inclined of late to think that the storms of winter were over, but the severe blizzard of last evening and night convinced us that spring is not really with us yet. Last night's train did not arrive here till this a.m. at 9 o'clock. Some snow banks have gathered but will no doubt soon vanish again under the powerful rays of the sun.

Woman Suffrage.
(From Women and Education.)
Over and over again in appealing for some new progressive measure affecting women, one is met by opposition based on the fear of a change. There are those who speak of woman's sphere, as though through all the ages, women have done exactly the same things. As though the Creator, in placing them on the earth had laid down certain laws and principles, and that these laws had been given into the hands of men to be interpreted.

A crusade which began in our grandmother's time or thereabouts, called itself "higher education for women." It may be described, in reality, as a movement for equal opportunity in education.

Lucy Stone was born in 1818. At that time the educational opportunities for women were few, for there was no college in America which had opened its doors to them, and the strongest feeling possible existed against one who took any active interest in community affairs or expressed an opinion on any subject—even religion. Lucy Stone's father was a well-to-do farmer. Born with a strong sense of justice; and a con-

In 1891, Johns Hopkins University opened its doors to women. This gave precedent to the movement for women to obtain a medical degree. Regarding the Ministry; here is an extract from the "Women's Leader" of April: "With reference to the report on 'Women in the Churches,' it should be pointed out to those of your readers, who are not up in church matters, that under the new Enabling Act, the Church of England gives an absolutely equal franchise to men and women; and that women can now be elected to conferences and to the Representative Church Assembly—the Church's Parliament."

The Canadian Magazine says: "The question is asked, 'What is it that women desire in the church?' Very few indeed wish to be ministers or presbyters. The majority, who have built up organization in their churches, by means of which they raise great yearly contributions of money, train missionaries, support and manage hospitals, publish magazines and direct other activities; desire to retain the control of this church-work, which they naturally regard as belonging to themselves. On the whole, they would welcome a change which would bring about an amalgamation of men's and women's committees, on equal terms. But they have had great responsibilities in the past, and do not mean to devote themselves in the future to carrying out plans made for them by men's committees. Why, if we are members of a committee with men, they ask, do the men make the plans first, and then call us in and tell us what we are to do."

Little by little woman's part in the opportunities of the world has been enlarged. Every change advocated, whether great or small has met with the same relentless opposition of ignorance, and narrow range of vision. Great consternation reigned when the first perambulator was wheeled down the street, by the poor unsuspecting mother. Little did she realize that the tongues of the village were to be turned upon her, that the minister would take her as the awful example, for his Sunday's sermon; and that the proverbial "anti-suffragist" would be there to prophesy the down-fall of the home.

The St. John's Octette

TO HOLD CHARITY CONCERT.

Under the auspices of the Llewellyn Club a grand concert will be held in the Methodist College Hall on St. George's Night, April 23rd. This concert will prove something new in the musical line. For some time past the best musical talent in the city banded together under the name of the St. John's Octette, have been undergoing careful training. As the name implies the "St. John's Octette" is composed of eight male voices including the best of St. John's present-day soloists. They are being trained by one of our best popular Professors of music, particular attention being given to correct the blending of voices. The programme will consist of choruses, set-songs, quartettes, duets and solos. There is no doubt but that the St. John's Octette will prove a hit, as during a recent concert some of its members brought down the house in a quartette. Further particulars will be forthcoming.

Laid to Rest.

Yesterday afternoon the mortal remains of John Withers were laid to rest in the Church of England Cemetery. So far I have not had the opportunity of seeing the deceased in person, but I am sure that the Select Vestry of the Cathedral will be pleased to have the body of this Bay area member of the Select Vestry of the Cathedral laid to rest in the Cathedral where the funeral service was conducted by the Rev. Canon Jones, His Lordship's Bishop White, Messrs Bolt and Field with Rev. J. Howland occupying seats in the stalls.

The funeral cortege entered through the western door of the church, the coffin which was decked with beautiful wreaths being brought to the altar steps while the organ submitted the Dead March in Saul.

The service included Hymn 225, the 1st Psalm, a lesson, 15 chapter 1st Corinthians beginning at 20th verse and Hymn 499. When the final prayer was said the organist rendered the solemn Funeral March. The cortege then conveyed through the north exit and placed on the hearse.

A large number of mourners following the hearse, the committal service at the grave site was conducted by His Lordship the Bishop.

"The Irresistible Marmaduke."

The final performance of the "Irresistible Marmaduke" took place in the Casino Theatre last night, and as on the previous nights, a capacity audience greeted the performers. The comedy has been one of the best of its kind to come before the footlights in recent years and the players are deserving of every praise for the splendid amateur performance they have given the St. John's theatre going public. Last night's performance eclipsed all previous efforts, and their acting was highly appreciated. The songs by Mrs. F. J. King and Mr. Karl Trappnell were well received, both having to respond to several encores, whilst the dancing by the Mount Cashel boys was a feature of last night's entertainment. The proceeds of the several performances are in aid of Mount Cashel Orphanage and all who in any way contributed to the splendid success achieved, are to be complimented on the results of their efforts.

Catholic Cadet Corps.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION MEETING

On Tuesday night last the C.C.C. Athletic Association held a very enthusiastic meeting in their Armory at which a great deal of important business was transacted. The President Lt. J. M. Spearns, was in the chair. It was decided that the Cadets football team would again be in action this year and it is likely that much new material will line-up. The team this year will be strictly Cadet. There are some excellent players amongst the young blood of the Corps, and the team that takes first place from the Cadets this year will have no "cinch." During April there will be a big indoor Sports Night in the Armory, when the public will be given an opportunity to witness an excellent programme of interesting events. The sports last year were not public, but all who had the pleasure of being present were unanimous in stating they were as good as the best. Some new and novel items will be introduced, and the Sports Committee are determined to leave nothing undone to make the night a tremendous success. Only three more games of Basketball remain to be played in the junior section and it looks as if the "Natives" and "Stars" will play off for championship honors. As yet the championship of the senior section is uncertain, but it is likely that the final games will be played off in the sports. The new gymnasium equipment will be in the Armory Thursday night.

Largely Attended Card Tourney.

The Holy Cross Extension Fund held an enjoyable card tournament in Holy Cross School last night which was very largely attended. Great interest was manifested in the games and the lucky winners were: 1st prize, one barrel flour, won by Frank Walsh; half ton coal, donated by W. H. Jackman, won by Mrs. Johnston; large tub of butter, donated by Geo. Neal, Ltd., won by S. Griffin; one Dunhill pipe, donated by T. J. Rolfs, won by M. Horan. To-night the Committee are holding their final entertainment of the week's series, and they promise their patrons the best night's enjoyment of the lot. In view of the worthy cause for which these events are being held, we bespeak for the promoters to-night a capacity audience.

L. S. P. U. Reject Wage Scale.

An important special meeting of the L.S.P.U. was held in the Union Hall last night, President J. Flavin occupying the chair. A communication from the Employers' Association in which they notified the Union that beginning May 1st next, a reduction of wages would come into effect which would place the men on the same scale of wages as existed in 1919, was read and discussed. The meeting decided to reject the scale submitted by the employers. The Union takes the stand that they are satisfied to accept a reduction compatible with the reduction in the price of the necessities of life, but contended that the proposed reduction is altogether out of line with the general fall in prices. The Employers' Association will be notified of the Union's decision and further developments will be discussed, as they arise, at subsequent meetings.

Llewellyn Club Concert and Smoker.

The regular monthly concert and smoker for the members of Llewellyn Club took place in Canon Wood Hall last night and proved a very enjoyable affair. A splendid programme of music and songs, etc., was gone through, the various numbers being well received. At the close tea was served by the lady friends of the Club and the evening's entertainment brought to a fitting close.

resolved, That Fear of Punishment has a Greater Influence on the Race than Hope of Reward."

The above question was debated in very interesting and instructive manner at the regular meeting of the M. C. L. I. held last night. The platform speakers for the Affirmative were Messrs. A. E. Hayward, W. Drover, who volunteered to fill the vacancy by the absence of the second speaker, and F. Peters, and for the negative Messrs. E. Burrey, M. Barr and F. Gushue. The chief contention of the Affirmative were that Fear of Punishment kept our natural human waywardness in check far more effectively than Hope of Reward and that if we were faced with a removal of this fear, the sum total of crime and sinning would be greatly increased. The negative held that a constant fear of punishment resulted in a fearful shift of race, who would commit crime at the first opportunity held no fear of detection. They cited many of the great reforms and penalties which have affected the human race, and endeavoured to prove that the leaders of these movements were actuated by a hope of reward, rather than fear of punishment and at hope tended towards the improvement of the race. The debate was all taken up by the members present and the vote resulted in a majority of one for the Affirmative. On next Thursday the annual business meeting of the Institute will be held.

C. L. B. Cadets.

Last night's parade of the C. L. B. Cadets was very well attended. The following officers were present: Lt. Goodridge, Capt. N. Henry, P. J. Snow, H. Outerbridge; Lieut. P. B. Rendell, W. Mott, G. A. B. Perlin. After prayers had been read by Rev. J. Brinkman, the parade was taken by the O.C. The parade was held at the O.C. school, and under Lieut. G. Hunt, carried out P. B. Rendell took the recruits in order for the week, ending April 1, 1921, are:

Duties—Orderly Officer for week, Lt. P. B. Rendell; next for duty, Lt. H. Hayward; Duty Co. Company; Duty Section, No. 1 Sec. F Company.

Parades—The Battalion will parade strong as possible on Tuesday, 5th, Thursday, 7th April. Time: 7.45 Dress Drill Order.

The C.O. will inspect A Company Thursday, 7th April at 8.15 p.m. Thanks to be on parade. Particular attention will be given to Due and an effort should be made to have all outstanding dues collected before this parade.

On Wednesday next the Old Comrades are holding a dance in which they are being assisted by the newly formed Ladies' Auxiliary. It is hoped every member of the Brigade will attend himself or persuade some of his friends to go.

The Old Comrades held a large and business meeting last night and several matters of great importance were discussed. Amongst other things have decided to enter a football team in the League this season.

KINDNESS AND THE CITY.

played the friend one happy morning when a stranger chanced to pass along his way. The mood was on him to be kind that day. When he did seem oh, so trifling then: cheerful word—the easiest gift of man's hand for which there is no pay. But all it means no words can ever say.

By Bud Fisher

These he gave and went his way again. He forgot the stranger and his need, he knew that he had helped his city's fame; could not guess that thousands shared his deed.

At the mention of his city's name man there is who rises to declare: "The finest man I've ever met lives there."

Schr. "Roxanna Burton"

EXPERIENCES ROUGH CROSSING.

The schooner "Roxanna Burton" reached port at 4 p.m. yesterday with a cargo of anthracite coal for Job Brooker & Co. The vessel, which is an auxiliary schooner, occupied 11 days in making the trip from New York. She encountered the full force of Wednesday's storm and received a severe drubbing, losing considerable cargo and being badly lashed up. The captain reports that it was the worst storm in his many years' experience and at times it was impossible for the crew to remain on deck. Yesterday evening the vessel made Cape Spear, which station reported the vessel in distress and the Ingraham was dispatched to her assistance. It was found by the tug when it reached the schooner that she was using her own engines and did not need any assistance, her own power being sufficient to permit of her navigating the narrow, and coming to anchorage. Civic Commission Weekly Meeting.

The weekly meeting of the Municipal Council was held yesterday afternoon. Acting Mayor Bulfinch presided. Councillors Morris, Peet and Vinicombe were present.

The minutes of previous meeting being confirmed, the following matters were dealt with:

A communication was read from Inspector General Hutchings in reference to water supply Dick's Square and vicinity and of the necessity of having the hydrants connected to the larger mains. This matter was referred to the City Engineer.

Silverlock and Cullen forwarded B.P. amounting to $145.00 for work done in connection with the Whippet Tank. In view of the publicity given this matter during the past two months that the operation of the "Tank" had cost the city some thousands of dollars the above expenditure must certainly relieve the minds of taxpayers.

Mr. H. Daws asked attention be given to the opening up of Pennywell Road. This will be attended to as soon as possible.

Plans submitted by Mr. W. J. Bartlett for building New Gower Street, were referred to the City Engineer.

L. Murphy, Warberry Street, must forward plan and location of proposed stable before his application will be considered.

The City Engineer reported that according to Venturi Meter readings eight million gallons of water were coming daily into the city. This he considered abnormal waste caused by householders allowing taps to be open.

An immediate inspection of all houses was ordered and any person found infringing the regulations are to be prosecuted.

The cleaning up of city streets is to be immediately proceeded with. Instructions are to be given the Sanitary Supervisor and Inspectors to report to the Acting Mayor every morning. Reports of City Engineer, Sanitary Supervisor and Health Officer were read. After the disposing of minor matters and the passing of pay rolls and bills the meeting adjourned.

RAL PERSHING DENOUNCES
FRANKS WHO SPREAD PRO-
PARAGANDA IN U. S. A.
NEW YORK, March 18.—General
J. Pershing, speaking before a which packed Madison Square to-night at one of the greatest demonstrations here since signing of the armistice, bitterly condemned persons of foreign birth to spread "political and war-propaganda" to weaken the ties friendship between the United States and her Allies in the late war.
Meeting was held under the auspices of the American Legion and patriotic societies as a protest at the recent mass meetings arranged to voice objection to the presence of French colonial troops in Germany, described as "the men on the Rhine."

Minutes before the meeting called to order by Colonel Frank Smith, National Commander of the American Legion, the fire department is ordered the doors of the Garfield to bar further admission,
thousands of less fortunate ones swarming around the building in this endeavor to enter.

General Pershing, paying tribute to born citizens who served in the Philippines, Mexico
France, declared it was entirely that foreigners should cling to their birthplace, but he assailed
those who seek to decide questions
political policies in this country
the standards of their fatherlands.
to object," said General Pershing to the foreign-born citizen attempts to determine a policy for this country because of foreign interests, whether he be German,
Italian, Hungarian or Russian.
They resent the abuse of United citizenship or residence for the purpose of political or warlike pro-panda in foreign countries.

The United States there can be no place for those who, claiming citizenship with us and enjoying its privileges under our flag, yet use their allegiance to another country. We welcome all those who desire to become citizens of this country as their own, but not the intrigues, who at the time would secretly plot against our interests.

We to forget the vows of yesterday? Is the wanton destruction of Belgium and on the seas condoned? Shall subtle propaganda lift its poisonous head to our friendship? The United States shall remain steadfast in her policy against aggression and insist that outlaw nations be held to full responsibility and pay the full penalty for their misdeeds to the end that all nations may know the value of such misdeeds against civilization.

Similar sentiments were expressed by speakers. Letters endorsing the meeting were received from President Harding and patriotic organizations in all parts of the United States.

Make 'Em Pay.

Germany does not pay for the destruction of French and Belgian property and Belgium must pay. It is the cold fact that the Allies are in justice overlook in their deals with the Hun. The vandals of the Kaiser destroyed hundreds of beautiful cities of France,
were ruthless beyond parallel,
in the destruction of property,
their cruelty to the inhabitants,
and the way they treated the people can be set on their treatment of French and Belgian people.
Reason for such atrocities is the power of Money. But so is the restoration of the ruined cities, concerned the German people should be made to pay the cost.
The Hun would leave them the cities, and the French the vanquished spirit so frequently displayed by the cry of "Kamerad" in the revealed in all the negotiations conducted with the reparations. Their regard about the impoverished condition of their country excites distrust among the brave citizens of France. Germany is to-day better off than the victims of her attack. Her people are able to pay the moderate
sums demanded by justice for France, Belgium, and The Socialist joins the British public who say to Germany: "Make 'em pay."

Nehemiah— Temple Builder.

Nehemiah—the name signifies "consolation of the Lord"—was the son of Hachaliah, and lived in the early half of the fifth century, B.C., and was probably of the tribe of Judah.

It was early in the fifth century,
B.C., that the epoch-making battle of Marathon—when a handful of Greeks defeated the hordes of Persia—was fought.

Nehemiah was cup bearer to the Persian King Artaxerxes and it was while he was fulfilling his duties at Shushan that certain of his brother Jews who had not been carried into captivity with the majority of the nation, arrived from Judea, and came to visit him.

The tales they told of the sad condition of Jerusalem, and the hardships endured by the Jews there so touched the heart of the cup-bearer that the king noticed the sadness of his favorite, and begged to know the reason.

Nehemiah, after a little prayer for wisdom, told him the cause of his grief and appealed to his sovereign for permission to return to Jerusalem.

Artaxerxes not only granted this request, but also gave Nehemiah authority to procure all things necessary for the accomplishment of his patriotic task. Further, he appointed Nehemiah governor of Judea.

Arriving at Jerusalem Nehemiah found conditions even worse than he had anticipated, but the Jews among the inhabitants received him with open arms and were soon persuaded to co-operate with him in the work of restoration.

But not so the foreign elements of the city, who did everything in their power to hinder the good work, and make themselves a constant source of annoyance to the Jews. One Tobiah and another Sanballat (probably Arabs or Canaanites), were particularly troublesome.

But Nehemiah persisted in spite of all difficulties. By his orders the builders were armed and a vigilant watch was kept, day and night. In course of time the walls of the city and the walls of the temple had all been made intact. Then finally the temple itself was rebuilt.

This building, which was damaged
in a subsequent invasion of Palestine, and replaced by Herod's temple of Our Lord's time, was known as the Temple of Nehemiah, and although not so gorgeous as Solomon's Temple was nevertheless a very beautiful building.

Nehemiah's good works did not end with the rebuilding of the city and the temple. He did everything in his power to help and encourage his people. Setting an example in generosity by refusing to accept the salary to which he was entitled as governor, he exhorted his wealthy fellow citizens to alleviate the distress of the poorer members of the community, whenever possible.

Then Nehemiah took a census of the people and made various arrangements which secured greater efficiency of the temple service; the law was read in the hearing of the people, who were called together by Ezra for that purpose.

Nehemiah having been commissioned by Artaxerxes to take the chief direction of the civil affairs did not take a prominently active part in religious matters, but left the control of them to the house of Aaron, the traditional priesthood. However, he did use his influence to induce the people to act in accordance with the law.
Upon his return to Jerusalem, after a temporary absence, finding that the precincts of the temple had been profaned and that Tobiah had been given a chamber there, he drove him out without ceremony and expelled the high priest who had permitted the sacrilege.

Throughout his whole career, Nehemiah proved himself to be a man of great executive ability, and singleness of purpose, and absolute integrity. He had no private ends to serve, no favourites and in all that he did he showed true-hearted piety
and humble dependence on the God of his fathers.

Names in Boys' Stories.

It is wonderful how much depends upon getting effective names for both hero and villain in boys' stories, writes a literary correspondent. Certain names, and particularly certain combinations of names, make a subtle appeal to the writer and actually help him on in his work. Jim, Joe, Bill, Dick, Tom, and Harry are names still as much in common use as ever they were. Yet if the writer of a boys' story is going to use one of them he must be careful to combine it with a surname that is of a less common order.
For instance, you could call your hero Dick Sterne, but Harry Jenkins would be simply unthinkable. The youth of the present day have the critical faculty highly developed and, to the best of my belief, prefer names that are a little bit of the common. Personally, I generally call my hero
Roger, Basil, Owen, Digby, Roy, Boyd,
or by some name of similar type. It should, if possible, be short. Also his nationality should always be indicated by his name. Desmond, for instance, for an Irish boy; Douglas for a Scot; while Bud or Hank will indicate an American.

THE WILL

There comes a time in the life of every man when he must leave his worldly possessions to the care of another. In anticipation of this, therefore, the first obligation resting on an individual who is possessed of property is the making of a will and this should be done before the faculties become impaired by time or the ravages of disease.
