"FAMILIARITY breeds contempt" says the old copy book heading. How true. Last fall people were sadly shocked on hearing of several thousands being killed in the war. To-day we hear with utmost calmness reports of tens of thousands being slain.

A WRITER to the Sarnia Observer says that the Northern Navigation Company's boats carry the German colors on their stacks. If such is the case it will pay the company to make a change without delay. The travelling public are sensitive this year, and the few who will travel by boat do not want any reminders of the Lusitania staring them in the face.

THE G.T.R. will in future pay their employees in cash instead of the old cheque system, owing to the necessity of putting a two-cent war stamp on the cheques. It is estimated that the war stamp would cost the company $200,000 per year by fixing them to the salary cheques.

A LETTER from Hon. T. C. Casgrain, Postmaster General, states that the question of having the westbound train passing through Watford at 12.13 stop here has been taken up with the G.T.R. officials and they have declined to stop this train here, and the Department cannot compel them to do so. However, mail will be dispatched by the train in question from London, taken on to Sarnia and returned on train due in Watford at 3.05 p.m., which is as satisfactory an arrangement as can be made under the new time-table.

THERE seems to be unnecessary delay in the delivery of mail matter on some rural mail routes. Subscribers to this paper on the Alvinston routes claim that some weeks they do not get their copy of the Guide-Advocate until Saturday, and occasionally Monday. For their benefit we wish to state that all newspapers leave this office on Thursday afternoon. The Alvinston papers have always gone on the 2.55 train, and were in Sarnia one hour later. A complaint to the Postoffice Inspector is threatened by some of our subscribers.

SATURDAY'S Sarnia Observer says:—"While driving out the plank road last evening in a Ford automobile, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sedwick and party had a most unpleasant experience. When near the railway crossing something went wrong with the steering gear and the automobile headed for the ditch. The occupants were thrown out and Mrs. Hill, mother of Mrs. Sedwick, suffered a fractured rib and some severe bruises. Her injuries were attended by Dr. Logie. The other four people in the car escaped with minor injuries. The car was damaged somewhat, but was brought to the city under its own power."

AN exchange says:—A good story is told of a local sport who, while fishing one day recently, was seized by a fit of coughing during which he lost a set of false teeth. A few days afterwards he was informed that another sport had had the good fortune to catch a large black bass, which on being opened was found to contain a set of teeth. It was taken for granted at once that they were the first sport's teeth, and he at once beat it to secure them. His disappointment can be better imagined than described on being informed that the teeth found in the bass belonged to the fish and were not false.

A CUT of Corp. G. H. Brown, of the Princess Pats, and of the 1st issue, failed to arrive from the engravers before time of going to press. His sister, Miss Muriel Brown, received word from him Wednesday night stating that he had been under X-rays, that the piece of shell had been extracted from his chest, and he was progressing nicely. Corp. Brown was wounded in the terrible battle early in May, when 273 men and 19 officers went into action but only 106 men and 3 officers survived the awful fight.

THE men of the Methodist church gave a supper and entertainment on Thursday evening. The basement of the church was tastefully decorated and the long tables filled with delicious edibles of all kinds. No women were visible save when the kitchen door was inadvertently swung too far open. Each waiter wore a white apron and a regulation chef's cap. After the supper all adjourned to the auditorium, where the program was given by men. The choir chairs were filled with men. Most of the selections were patriotic. Solos, duets, quartets and patriotic choruses, with an occasional recitation, constituted the unique performance. The net proceeds amounted to $35, which sum is to be used in the purchase of new music for the choir.

Hill of Minneapolis, who is regarded as one of the greatest authorities in matters of public health on the continent, has been secured as head of the Institute of Public Health, to take up his duties immediately. Steps have also been taken looking towards a new medical building, which it is anticipated will be erected during the coming year. Thirty-two degrees were conferred by President Braithwaite in Arts and Medicine, many scholarships and prizes were awarded and the address to the graduating class was made by Rev. D. C. MacGregor.

All these and others have decided to join in the big celebration to be held in Watford on July 12th which is expected to be one of the biggest demonstrations ever held in county. The meeting was presided over by County Grand Master Wm. Cully. The question of train service for the celebration was considered and will be fully arranged. Following are some of

Copy of a letter received by the secretary of the Women's Patriotic League from the secretary of the Red Cross Society, London:—"Your three boxes arrived in good condition. We thank you so much for all this splendid work. To-day we shipped a great quantity of supplies, both for Red Cross and war contingent. The Red Cross, you know, is for the sick and wounded, while the war contingent is for soldiers in the camps and trenches. We divided your supplies between the two and they are already on their way to the front. I think your League is doing splendid work. This war is all so strange and terrible. We are not used to it. As Canadians we have lived so peacefully, with plenty of everything. I often think that those European countries, so thickly populated, with seemingly a mad rush for life, do not consider war so badly as the Canadians. Sir Adam Beck, who has just returned from the front, says the fields are being tilled and people do not seem to worry, even in hearing of the guns, only a few miles distant, and in Belgium the German soldiers are destroying the new crops as they grow. What next winter will bring forth no one knows, but this much we do know, that it will be much harder than last winter, and we must give, give if we have our own loaf. Kindly thank the friends and keep on in the much needed work."

DOCTORS DID NOT HELP HER

But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Mrs. Bradley's Health—Her Own Statement.

Winnipeg, Canada.—"Eleven years ago I went to the Victoria Hospital, Montreal, suffering with a growth. The doctors said it was a tumor and could not be removed as it would cause instant death. They found that my organs were affected, and said I could not live more than six months in the condition I was in. "After I came home I saw your advertisement in the paper, and commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it constantly for two years, and still take it at times, and both my husband and myself claim that it was the means of saving my life. I highly recommend it to suffering women."—Mrs. ORILLA BRADLEY, 254 Johnson Ave., Winnipeg, Manitoba, Can. Why will women take chances or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc. If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

owe to Germany. She has made war so horrible on land and sea that she has accelerated the thought of the civilized world toward international courts and international police. It was the horror of war that first inspired Grotius to lay the foundation of international law less than 300 years ago. It is the horror of war to-day that inspires the human soul with a passion for an international law that can command the respect of the world. Germany has succeeded in her determination to make war "frightful" not only to her enemies, but also to her friends. It is the duty and the will of America, by moral suasion or by force if need be, to lay the monster of this modern Frankenstein.

Evidence is accumulating to the effect that the Germans have been guilty of revolting atrocities towards the bodies (whether living or dead is not certain) of Canadians fallen in fair fight. Apparently this is an expression of that "hatred" with which the German regards everybody who interferes with his Gott-given prerogative of trampling upon French, Belgians and Russians, and which grows the more furious, the further the interferer has come. The British were had enough, but when Canadians, instead of throwing off the British yoke, as they were scheduled to do in all the reports filed in the Berlin secret service archives, actually sent troops to maintain the British cause, that was too much. Such monstrous bestiality merely recoils upon the heads of the guilty. The sufferings of the victims are but for a moment, but the wrath of their avengers will abide until the bloody tortures are swept from the face of Europe.

The Gasoline Horse is Here

A new substitute for old dobbie has made his appearance. He is fed on gasoline, he never balks, never grows tired, never shies, night or day he is on the job at his owner's bidding. Truly, this latest tractor is the most serious opposition our faithful four-footed friend and servant has yet met with. This gasoline horse is hitched to the load precisely as is an ordinary horse. The gasoline horse is driven with reins. The pulls on these have the same effect as pulls on reins attached to a bit in a horse's mouth. The pulling of either the right or the left rein steers the gasoline horse, and a pull on both at once stops him. A further backward pull on both reins causes him to back up. By the control of the lines it is possible for one man to operate both the tractor and the implement to which it is attached, riding on the latter. The tractor is small has two wheels, and will hitch up to practically all types of farm implements, the change from one to another being as easily made as with a team of horses. Thus has science taken another step in the direction of a horseless world.

The Season For Enjoyment

These are the days when desk men place disapproved hands on their soft city muscles and grow restless. For it is Spring and men have heard the irresistible call of the black soil. After a winter on the stone pavements and hard floors the animal Man has the desire to walk on the naked ground and feel the cool earth, to take out his spade and rake and fiddle and fuss in his garden. That man makes a noise like one thinking about a vacation. Chances for the tired business man—and that includes newspaper workers—getting many vacations look slim.

He was deeply in love with his wife, but awfully careless about money matters. He started away on a long business trip, leaving her short of money, and promising to send her a check—which he forgot to do. The rent came due and she telegraphed: "Dead broke. Landlord insistent. Send me money." Her husband answered: "Am short myself. Will send check in few days. A thousand kisses." Exasperated, his wife replied: "Never mind money. I gave landlord one of the kisses. He was more than satisfied."

Obituary (Continued.) One by one we are passing away. How true the passage that reads "For ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Lord of God cometh." This passage of scripture, it seems, is closely allied to the case of the subject of this obituary. Mrs. James Thompson, wife of James Thompson, who passed peacefully away at her daughter's, Mrs. Robt. Campbell, in Warwick, Friday, April 23rd, 1915, at the advanced age of 52 years and 6 months, where she received most careful attention and nursing in the home. The deceased lady's maiden name was Margaret Calvert, aunt of Mr. Wm. Calvert, ex-M.P.P. of Stratford, and was a member of one of the largest and wealthiest families of relatives in Warwick. Mrs. Thompson had a wide circle of friends in Watford, where she lived with her youngest daughter, Margaret, one of the most handsome and highly-respected young ladies of this town for some years. Possessed of an open, genial smile, she easily ingratiated herself in the hearts of those among whom she mingled, and was always thoughtful and devoted to her mother. Here Miss Margaret was married in highly esteemed to Mr. J. G. Ormrod, Sarnia, a Patterson music store. In that city the deceased lady made her home with her daughter and son-in-law until Mr. and Mrs. Ormrod moved to Sarnia. She then remained with her children until 1911. Since then she took up her home at her daughter's, where she has since resided with Mrs. Campbell. Mrs. Thompson was a member of the Congregational church and whenever convenient, was a communicant at the Lord's table. In the death of this grand and noble woman the world loses a striking example of love, kindness and true womanhood. She was a mother never on any occasion knowing, at any hour of the day or night, to refuse all her possible assistance to any sick, bed-ridden or suffering neighbor. Her life was devoted to her family as well. And her hand was always ready to help the poor, in fact kindness, self-sacrifice and devotion were most prominent features in her character. She was much respected by all her neighbors and a large circle of relatives and friends. She was a large circle of sympathy. Thus her circle of acquaintance was ever wide. The fact of her wide popularity was attested by the great gathering of friends assembled at the home on Sunday afternoon to pay their last tribute of respect to her. Her death was a great loss to her family, genuine hospitality and Christian spirit, not soon to be forgotten. Such a life as this carries with it a Christian realization that there is more joy in one minute's walk with God than years of worldly pleasures. Born to the parents were ten children, all of whom are living except the oldest son, Alexander, who passed away 37 years ago, who are left to mourn the loss of a loving mother. The family are—Mrs. Chas. Jackson, Bosanquet; Mrs. Robt. Campbell, Warwick; Mrs. J. McKay, London; Mrs. A. H. Spearman, Forest; Mrs. Albert Beedham, Calgary, Alta.; Mrs. George J. Ormrod, Sarnia, Ont.; Mr. Williams, Sarnia, Ont.; Mrs. James A. Thompson, Mrs. Jeremiah Thompson, all of Warwick. The deceased lady was a grandmother of Mrs. (Dr.) Shipley, wife of William Shipley, M.D., Calgary; Dr. Elmer A. Thompson, Toronto; also an aunt of Hamlet Thompson, M.D., of Guelph; Dr. John Thompson, Chatham; Mr. C. Harper, wife of S. Harper, M.D., of Maitland, Ont.; the University, Saskatoon. The family have the deep sympathy of a large circle of friends in their bereavement, who are all respected citizens. A large and handsome designed wreath was given by the children.—"From Calgary."

Letter of Condolence

Watford, May 8, 1915.
To Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Newell.
DEAR FRIENDS:—It was with deep regret that we learned that your son, Sergeant Lawrence Gunn Newell, had died through wounds received in battle. We realize your overwhelming grief when the sad intelligence reached you that he, in the full strength of manhood, had been so rudely snatched from you, that his form will never more be seen, and that through the coming years you will sigh in vain for the touch of a vanished hand and the sound of a voice that is still.

It will, we trust, afford you great comfort to know that he, with his brave comrades, though outnumbered ten to one, unflinchingly faced the foe, warding off disaster from the allied forces and preserved the best traditions of the British army.

Your irreparable loss, dear friends, will doubtless prove to be your country's gain, since your son's noble life and brave death will inspire his countrymen to fight on until the remorseless foe has been vanquished and humbly sues for mercy.

We are proud of the fact that he was a member of our Lodge and we shall ever revere his memory.

We realize how helpless we are to alleviate your sorrow. We can but tender you our deepest, our heartfelt sympathy. We trust you will look to One who will never fail you, who will support and strengthen you and will afford you every consolation in this, your hour of saddest bereavement.

PRESENCE OF MIND.

Saved General de Segur From the Fury of the Kalmucks.

In Napoleon's campaign in Russia one of his generals, Philippe de Segur, had a peculiar adventure with a band of Kalmucks. The Kalmucks are wandering tribes of southeastern Russia. They are fierce warriors, and their light cavalry forms an important part of Russian armies. De Segur's presence of mind saved him from being killed by them when the most desperate fighting could not have done so.

The French had attacked a body of Russians and put them to flight, when Segur suddenly discovered that he and a few French dragoons had become separated from the French army and were being carried away with the retreating party.

He and his men were surrounded by a band of Kalmucks. The situation seemed so hopeless that the men gave themselves up and, disregarding his orders, passively allowed themselves to be struck down. De Segur determined to sell his life dearly and continued to fight. A Kalmuck lance struck him from his horse. He jumped to his feet and, getting behind his horse, continued the struggle. It was a hopeless contest, however, and in a few moments he would have been killed had not a happy thought occurred to him.

The Kalmuck leader, a fine looking Cossack, remained calm while his men were carried away with the fury of battle. The expression on his haughty countenance indicated that he scorned to murder a vanquished foe, and from time to time he called, "Nikale, nikale!"

De Segur guessed that this was an order to cease fighting. He shouted imperiously to the Kalmucks that surrounded him, "Nikale!"

Immediately the fury died out of their faces, and they paused, motionless with astonishment. Their fury once checked, Segur's life was saved by their chief.

He learned afterward that the word meant "Do not strike" and that while the impetuous Kalmucks had not heeded the command of their chief they were puzzled and disturbed at hearing this word of their native dialect from the mouth of one whom they supposed to be an enemy.

De Segur was kept a prisoner until a peace between France and Russia was arranged some months later.—Exchange.

German Helmets.

German military helmets, though made of steel, are as light almost as a cloth cap or a straw hat, and more comfortable than a bowler. Round the inside, where the helmet touches, is a ring of metal "leaf springs" bound with leather, which lightly clips the head to keep the helmet on without heavy pressure. The brass spike or knob that crowned the helmet is made useful as well as ornamental. There are large holes in it, which give very good ventilation to the inside of the helmet—much better than the pinholes that are supposed to ventilate a bowler. In fact, the Germans seem to have succeeded in making a really comfortable bowler out of paper thin steel.—Manchester Guardian.

A Military Compliment.

During the South African war an order was issued to the men of the Highland regiments that they must cover up their tartan kilts as they made too good targets for the enemy. The order proved very unpopular and caused a great deal of dissatisfaction among the soldiers concerned. When Sir George White heard this he thought of a way out of the difficulty.

"Let them cover up only the front of their kilts," he said. "The enemy will never see the other side."—London Answers.

"Cranks" Catalogued.

A catalogue of murderers is one of the curiosities in the offices of the United States secret service in Washington. In this catalogue all the "cranks" in this country are listed, first alphabetically under their names and aliases and, secondly, under the particular forms taken by their obsessions. The catalogue is kept up by contributions from the police of every town and city where a crank is found.

The Alvinston Picnic

Alvinston, June 2.—One of the most successful picnics ever held in this district took place yesterday under the auspices of the Brooke Farmers' Club, at the fair grounds. About one thousand people were in attendance. Two baseball games were played in the afternoon, the first one between the club and Walnut, and the winner played the Little League team. The first game resulted in a victory for Walnut, by the score of 16 to 10. Walnut then was pitted against Little Ireland, and the latter trimmed them by the score of 30 to 11. While the baseball games were in progress a grand program was being given in the palace. Alfred Darwill opened the program by a very lively speech, after which Mr. Groh, president of United Farmers of Ontario took the chair. The program was lavish in songs, dancing, music and speeches. Among the speakers were: J. E. Armstrong, M. P.; Dr. J. B. Martyn, M. P.; P. F. Pardee, M. P.; Dr. Pickering, G. G. Bramhill, R. Stirrett, Dr. C. O. Kearney—McCaw

In Napier, June 1st was the scene of a very pleasant gathering, when Flossie, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McCaw, became the bride of Mr. Delmer Kearney, a prosperous young farmer of the townships of Brooke, by the Rev. K. M. Easson B. A. The bride looked very pretty in a tailored suit of navy blue, her only ornament being a coral pin, the gift of the groom. Ceremony and congratulations being over, all repaired to the dining-room where a sumptuous dinner awaited them. The happy couple left by auto, amid showers of confetti and good wishes, taking the train for Detroit, Buffalo and Niagara Falls. Sarnia, June 2.—The county convention of the W. C. T. U. is in session here. A feature of last night's session was an address by Mrs. Gordon Wright, of London, who spoke along temperance lines. An event of interest to the numerous friends of the family in Watford took place at Vancouver, B.C., on Tuesday, May 25th, when Miss Gertrude Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Mavity, 1544 William street, was united in marriage to Mr. Clifford Akin Rainsford, of North Vancouver. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. P. W. Langford in the presence of only the immediate relatives. The signing of the register was witnessed by Miss Alexander and Mr. H. A. Mavity, brother of the bride. The bride is a graduate nurse of the Vancouver general hospital and has a large circle of friends in the B. C. metropolis.

The groom is a prominent contractor for cement work and the happy young couple will spend part of the summer in camp where Mr. Rainsford has an extensive contract for a sea wall. The Guide-Advocate joins the bride's numerous Watford friends in extending felicitations.

War Notes

Rome, May 31.—The Italian forward movement is progressing along the entire frontier. In the Trentino district the advance on both sides of the Adige River has reached a point that places Bozen in jeopardy. The threat against this Austrian stronghold is intensified by the progress of an Italian column across Tonale Pass from the west and another column operating by way of the Lavarone Plateau. The Italian forces have advanced all along the zigzag Tyrolean frontier until one wing rests at Cortina.

Washington, May 31.—President Wilson intends to so shape the course of the United States Government in the international crisis which has arisen as to leave no doubt abroad of the country's purpose not only to speak, but if necessary, to act, for the cause of humanity. Two things were practically determined upon by the president today. First, that Germany's avoidance of the larger questions of humanity and the spirit of international law, by a technical argument on a hitherto undisputed point in the statutes of nations—the exercise of the right of visit and search by war craft when encountering merchantmen, whether carrying contraband or not—must be met promptly, with a note again setting forth briefly the facts as found by investigation of officials here as to the cargo and peaceful equipment of the Lusitania, and reiterating the earnest intention of the United States to hold the German Government to a "strict accountability" for all violations of American rights on the high seas.

Ottawa, May 30.—The militia reserves in Canada are shortly to be organized. To that end a special committee has been appointed by the Minister of Militia. It is estimated that throughout the Dominion at present there are 300,000 men who have served at one time or another in the militia, but have retired. There are thousands of others who ordinarily would be too old to join the service, but would be of utility in case of any trouble or emergency at home or to bring up to establishment the regiments whose ranks have been depleted by enlistments of overseas service.

Northern France, May 30.—German prisoners brought into the British camp pay great tribute to the heroism of the Canadian troops. It is related that a wounded Canadian, who refused to surrender, first shooting with his rifle and later using it as a club, killed six Germans before he himself was killed. These German prisoners say that the vigorous British offensive has astounded the German commanders.

Petrograd, May 31.—Gen. Irmannoff's Caucasian corps continue to force a wedge into the German position north of Przemyśl. They advanced from Sienawa and took all the villages on that side of the river with 1000 or more prisoners and a large supply of held kitchens intended for the German army on the right bank of the San. This army, headed by the Prussian Guards, under Gen. Von Emmich, was subjected to incessant bayonet fighting.

By Taking "Fruit-a-lives" Says Capt. Swan

Life is very miserable to those who suffer with Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach and Bilelessness. This letter from Captain Swan (one of the best known skippers on the Great Lakes) tells how to get quick relief from Stomach Trouble.

PORT BURWELL, ONT., May 8th, 1913.

"A man has a poor chance of living and enjoying life when he cannot eat. That was what was wrong with me. Loss of appetite and indigestion was brought on by Constipation. I have had trouble with these diseases for years. I lost a great deal of flesh and suffered constantly. For the last couple of years, I have taken "Fruit-a-lives" and have been so pleased with the results that I have recommended them on many occasions to friends and acquaintances. I am sure that "Fruit-a-lives" have helped me greatly. By following the diet rules and taking "Fruit-a-lives" according to directions, any person with Dyspepsia will get benefit."

GRAVE PERIL TO ALFALFA.

Weevil From Europe Threatens Crop. Close Watch Advised.

Alfalfa growers everywhere should be on the lookout for the alfalfa weevil, which was introduced into Utah several years ago from Europe and is doing much damage there and has spread over into Idaho.

There is no reason to doubt that it would spread and multiply in the states farther east if it were once introduced.

This is an impending calamity to the whole country. By keeping watch we may be able to call its appearance to the attention of our experiment stations and the United States department of agriculture, so that war may be waged on the pest in time.

The alfalfa weevil is a small beetle about the size of a grain of wheat. The mature bugs eat holes in the alfalfa leaves and lay eggs in the holes. The eggs are of a lemon yellow color. They hatch out into grubs which are greenish in color, with a white line along the back, and of course are rather small, being the offspring of a beetle no larger than a wheat grain.

The grubs feed on the alfalfa leaves and sometimes destroy them completely.

No more serious danger confronts the agriculture of the country than is found in the possibility of the spread of this little bug into the states east of the Rocky mountains.

Inspect your alfalfa plants for the little holes close to a bud. If they are made by a little grub send one specimen to the entomologist at your experiment station and another to the bureau of plant industry at Washington, and write a letter to go with each specimen, telling the story of your find.

Professor Gillette of the Colorado station advises farmers not to receive shipments of bulky merchandise like potatoes, fruit or nursery stock from those regions of Utah or Idaho where this insect occurs, unless the goods have been thoroughly disinfected. It would seem the part of wisdom for the government to adopt preventive measures.

Alfalfa For Hogs.

There is really no more profitable pasture for hogs than alfalfa. It should not be stocked too heavily in pasturing, the surplus growth being mowed whenever it needs it. Good hay results from that portion which the hogs do not eat, and the new that comes up is fresh and well liked by the hogs. If it is not mowed swine are apt to eat it in patches, killing parts altogether.

Weight of Peking Ducks.

Peking ducks should weigh more than five pounds. The standard weight of the duck is seven pounds and that of the drake eight. They are creamy white with bright orange colored beaks and legs. A well bred, well cared for Peking duckling should weigh five pounds at ten weeks of age.

THE PROFITABLE CAPON.

The best capons are hatched in early spring and operated upon during early summer, before extremely hot weather begins, says the Country Gentleman. The birds are then ready for market during and after the holiday season.

Clergyman Helps to Make Shells

A call for recruits at Glasgow was issued in the manufacture of shells brought forth a clergyman, who was promptly accepted. He is the Rev. Stuart Robertson, of Polloksheld church, a tall, athletic figure, who now serves from 6 o'clock in the morning until 5 at night in a large engineering shop. His day's work over, the Rev. Robertson attends to his pastoral duties as his evening's recreation.

Like a Grip at the Throat. For a disease that is not classed as fatal there is probably none which causes more terrible suffering than asthma. Sleep is impossible, the sufferer becomes exhausted and finally, though the attack passes, is left in unceasing dread of its return. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is a wonderful curative agent. It immediately relieves the restricted air passages as thousands can testify. It is sold by dealers everywhere.

When Canada Struck

Canadian casualties to date totalling close on 6000 officers and men probably ninety per cent. of which occurred in the battle of Langemarck, where the men from the Dominion saved the situation in the face of tremendous odds. The proportion of killed and seriously wounded is, however, very small and probably many of the injured men are already back in the trenches.

Far from feeling discouraged by the heavy blow, the Canadians take pride in the fact that they gave still harder blow to the enemy, despite the enemy's partial reliance upon the effect of noxious gases, and are anxious to get into the fight again. At home the feeling among the soldiers preparing for service is to get more quickly into action, as instance the scramble of volunteers to be transferred to units detailed for immediate service. Since the big battle, too, there has been an added briskness of recruiting, so that on the whole the German hope that Canadians would be disheartened by their losses is a long, long way from fulfillment, and points another misreading of the character of the British peoples.

The Germans are said to be particularly angry at the success of the Canadian soldiers, who were described in Bernhardi's book as small, untrained forces of no importance, and at the attitude of the Canadian people, supposed to be waiting, like Ireland, for an opportunity to throw off the hated British yoke.

Murder Is Still Murder

(The Outlook)

"We need not wait for official investigation. The murder is unambiguously avowed. We need not wait for judicial investigations of the defenses offered. The War Zone? No nation has a right to put an invisible fence around a section of the open sea and warn all neutral nations off as trespassers, at the peril of their lives. Warning given? When did warning of an intent to commit murder serve as an excuse for the murder perpetrated? The Lusitania was armed? She was not armed; but she had a right to be. The Constitution of the United States recognizes the right of peaceful citizens to bear arms; international law recognizes to a similar reasonable degree the right of peaceful vessels to bear arms. She was carrying contraband? Then she might be sunk; but not until the safety of her crew and passengers was assured. Great Britain is starving Germany, therefore Germany has the right to murder American citizens? A strange logic! But Great Britain is not starving Germany. The laws of war forbid the murder of the unarmed but they also declare in explicit terms that "it is lawful to starve a hostile belligerent, armed or unarmed, so that it leads to the speedier subjection of the enemy." The invention of airships and submarines has changed international law? John Bassett Moore is our authority for saying that it has not changed international law! Certainly it has not changed the Ten Commandments. The use of a novel instrument does not change the nature of a crime. Murder is still murder; and killing unarmed non-combatants in cold blood the conscience of all civilized nations still condemns as murder."

When the English Country Lad Returns

"Let there be no mistake," says the Daily Citizen. "This great war is not going to leave social problems in the old place. The effect of it will be searching and deep. The spirit of the people, of the great masses of the people, has been roused by this war as that spirit was never roused before. These great masses of the people have been and are realizing themselves as never before. When sons and brothers come back, as they will, the veterans of victory, the man who reads history in the nation's eyes will meet with a new expression. Whatever these toilers

WORD FROM THE WOUNDED

Cheerful Letters from the Brave Boys Fighting for us in Europe

FROM CORP. GERALD H. BROWN, PRINCESS PAT'S LIGHT INFANTRY On Saturday last Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Brown received a short letter from their son, Corp. G. H. Brown, who was reported wounded in last week's paper. The letter was written from No. 2 Canadian Stationary Hospital, Boulogne, France, and dated May 15th, 1915, and says: "Guess you know by this time that the lucky boy has stopped a chunk of steel. I did not want to do it; I was heard about poor Jack (Watford). It was a great blow to us. He was carrying wounded into the dressing station when he was hit by shrapnel. It was a red letter day for us. It's a wonder any of us got through. I saw all the Watford boys fall that were hit, but Jack. The first to get hit was L. Johnston; a spent bullet lodged in his side. The next A. Woodward, he was shot through the head; then Sergt. G. Newell was mortally wounded. Corp. S. Welsh got a bullet through his hand and Glenn Nichol bullets through both legs. R. A. Johnston was slightly wounded, but kept on. C. Toop got it through both hands. The other two I did not see (Sergt. Owens, who got shrapnel in the shoulder, and Sergt. C. Newell, who was hit in the arm). Charley was slightly wounded, so far as I can find out, two days afterwards. The wounded are now all in England. No doubt you know that the Germans used gas. We did not come under it enough to harm us, but we could smell it and that was enough. What a lot we've seen since this time last year. Fred and I are promoted to Sergeants. My mother's youngest brother is a wounded prisoner of war in Lille. He was in the 2nd Suffolks.

BASE BALL

Salem 10: Walnut 6 A large crowd of fans witnessed an interesting game of ball between the Salem and Walnut teams on the latter's diamond on Friday evening. Ross pitched an excellent game for Walnut and at the end of the first inning Walnut led by 2-1. In the second Salem evened the score. King pitched the first two innings for Salem, then Fisher took the box. The end of the fourth saw the visitors leading 5-3. The next inning on account of darkness errors were made, the final score standing 10-6 for Salem. Bill Rundle handled the game to a T.

A FINE COMPLEXION

May Be Had Through the Rich, Red Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make

A girl's complexion is something more than a matter to concern her vanity. It is an indication of the state of her health. Pallor in a growing girl means a thinning of the blood. Parents should be watchful of their daughters' complexions and should see to it that these danger signs are corrected. When a girl in her teens becomes pale and sallow, if she shows an inclination to tire easily, is listless and inattentive to her work or studies, she needs Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a tonic which directly and specifically corrects the condition from which she is suffering. A chemical analysis of the blood of such a girl would show it to be deficient in just the elements that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can supply, and which restore brightness to the eye and color to the cheeks. Miss Delina Arsenault, Urbainville, P. E. I., is one of the thousands of anaemic girls restored to health by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: "I was attacked with anaemia, and was in such a miserable condition that I had to consult a doctor, and was under his care for several months, but without getting better. I was growing thinner every day, had dark circles around the eyes. I could hardly sleep at night, but tossed restlessly and got up in the morning with black anticipation of the day's miseries before me. I was always bothered with headaches and pains in the back and limbs. My appetite was poor and I frequently vomited what I did eat. My friends feared that I would not recover. I had often seen Dr. Williams' Pink Pills advertised and finally decided to try them. I used altogether nine boxes and they made me as well as ever I was in my life. All the pains and aches disappeared; my appetite returned. I could sleep soundly at night, and the color returned to my cheeks. I also gained seven pounds in weight. I am now always well, and for this happy condition I have to thank Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." You can get these Pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
