Russia

ILLUSTRATED History of RUSSIA

from the Earliest Times to 1877. By A. RAMBAUD. Translated by L. B. LANG. In two large 12mo volumes, Long Primer type, with numerous fine illustrations and maps. Fine cloth, gilt tops, Library style. Price reduced from $18 to $1.75.

RAMBAUD'S is doubtless the best history of Russia in any language. Russian history begins almost in myth, proceeds into a wilderness of conflicting traditions, and emerges into a clear light only in comparatively recent times. It is studded with imposing personalities and darkened by hideous crimes; striking events make it dramatic, the sufferings of a great people lend it pathos; the unrest of the present hour and the uncertain outlook for to-morrow invest it with deep interest. M. Rambaud puts the reader's mind fully in train to consider the situation of the hour.—Literary World, Boston.

THE PERIOD covered is from the earliest times to 1877. It is more interesting as told by M. Rambaud than any romance. It is a cloth of gold studded with diamonds, not of moral brilliance but of intellectual vigor and fascinating personality. Ivan the Terrible, Peter the Great, Mazeppa, Catherine, Nicholas, and other monarchs of iron will and broad ambition relieve the monotony of war, and the Mazeppa of Byron comes in as a charming episode. The high civilization attained without the adoption of a civilized form of government, leaves no room for surprise at the strength of Nihilism.—Inter-Ocean, Chicago, Ill.

THE HISTORY of Russia now published is the most satisfactory history of that country ever brought before English readers. The history of the rise of this wonderful nation is remarkable. Its power of absorption and diffusion is phenomenal. "The World," said Napoleon once, "will one day be ruled by the Slav and Teuton races." The prophecy is under fulfillment. How the Russian Slavs expanded from small districts about the Upper Dwina and Dneiper and the Volga and the Oka until they dominate one-sixth the territorial surface of the globe, containing a population of 103,000,000, is most admirably told by Rambaud. The work is well supplied with maps, and well indexed.—Pioneer Press, St. Paul, Minn.

RUSSIAN history is full of cruelty, oppression, tyranny, and all sorts of crime, with few peaceful passages to note the advance of civilization. This very fact makes it dramatic and full of stirring incidents, and those who crave this kind of reading, or who desire to know the history of Russia for its own sake, will find M. Rambaud's volumes well suited to their needs. He has taken vast pains to make his history both full and accurate; his style is nervous and forcible, and he gives a graphic picture of the bloody centuries through which the Russian Empire rose. His book lifts to a great extent the veil of mystery that hangs over the origin and growth of Russia.—Inquirer, Philadelphia.

NO STUDENT of history and no observer of public events can afford to be ignorant of Russia—that Polar Bear which stretches one huge paw toward Constantinople and the other toward India—that "muffled destiny" of whose future no one knows save that it is to be great and must affect to a remarkable extent the condition of well-nigh the entire human race. No more weighty matter of debate exists among the nations than that which constitutes the "Eastern Question," and of this question the White Czar, representing territorially the greatest nation on earth and one of the strongest, most ambitious, shrewdest, far-seeing, and persistent, is the central figure. What is the best HISTORY OF RUSSIA in the English language? Undoubtedly that of M. Alfred Rambaud.—Morning Star, Boston.

The Editor's Table.

No. 1 of Vol. 10 of the Canadian Horticulturist to hand. We like it better than ever. Under the former editorship it was always interesting, but latterly under the editorial guidance of L. Woolverton, M. A., of Grimsby, it is packed full of the best possible information for lovers of the beautiful in nature. By mentioning this paper on a post card to the editor as above, he will forward a specimen number free.

SIXTIETH YEAR.

The Youth's Companion celebrates this year its sixtieth anniversary. It might well be named the 'Universal Companion,' so widely is it read, and so widely adapted to all ages. Its contributors are the most noted writers of this country and of Europe. Among them are W. D. Howells, J. T. Trowbridge, Prof. Huxley, The Duke of Argyll, Marquis of Lorne, and Princess Louise, Archdeacon Farrar, C. A. Stephens, Admiral David Porter, Lieut. Schwatka, and many others. We do not wonder that the Companion, with such contributors, has nearly 400,000 subscribers. It costs but $1.75 a year. Perry Mason & Co., Publishers, Boston.

Vick's Magazine for January is an excellent representative number of this always interesting journal. Every lover of the beautiful in nature should secure it.

400,000 SUBSCRIBERS.

If we gave a column to The Youth's Companion announcement, we could scarcely enumerate the attractions it promises for its 61st volume. Serial stories of adventure and domestic life, including the eight prize stories for which $5000 has recently been awarded: Narratives of travel by celebrated explorers, biography, history, science, hygiene, recreation,—and many other subjects are represented in it.

We are not surprised at The Companion having nearly 400,000 subscribers when we see how it provides something of interest for every member of the family. The Companion is published weekly and fully illustrated. Its subscription price is $1.75 a year.

Perry Mason & Co., Publishers, Boston.

Vick's Floral Guide is by far the handsomest seed catalogue published on this continent. Sent to any of our readers for 10c. Jas. Vick, Rochester, N. Y.

The Marion Tract Depository of Saratoga Springs is a purely benevolent and Christian enterprise devoted to the dissemination of religious literature. The founder, Dr. Kendall, lost his only daughter, Marion, a child of rare loveliness and piety, about two years ago, and he has commemoratively christened the society in her honor. An 8-page monthly journal, printed on fine paper, and of handsome typographical appearance, The Word and the Way, was started last January, and it has rapidly grown in circulation and influence. Each number contains a sermon by a leading clergyman, together with poetry, contributions, children's department, temperance column, and choice miscellany. There is no sound reason why any Christian family should be without a sound religious paper. The Marion Depository also publishes a large line of tracts.

The New York Tribune, says, No pains or expense have been spared in the production of Vick's Floral Guide, and every effort has been made to render it worthy the reputation of its publisher, James Vick, Seedman, Rochester, N. Y.

PRIZE STORIES.

The Youth's Companion maintains its reputation for publishing the best serial and short stories as well as striking stories of adventure. The next volume will contain the eight prize stories selected as the best from over 5000 manuscripts sent in competition. The first serial story, to appear in January, will be "Blind Brother," in eight chapters, illustrated. Every one will want to read it. Subscription $1.75 per year.

Perry Mason & Co., Publishers, Boston.

VICK'S FLORAL GUIDE.

Lovers of the beautiful in art and floriculture have in store a rich treat in the perusal of Vick's Floral Guide for 1887. Each succeeding year brings great improvement in this popular annual, and the present issue is far in advance of previous issues in beauty of exterior, number and elegance of floral and vegetable illustrations, and the large variety of subjects thoroughly and practically treated.

The title illustration, a bunch of pansies, and the page in colors of border and bedding plants, are triumphs of chromo-lithography which have probably never been excelled, while the hundreds of smaller illustrations are true to nature and thoroughly described.

The volume opens with a series of practical articles of great service to both amateur and professional gardeners, is followed by faithful illustrations shewing interior of the immense seed house, and then by engravings of all the leading and rare varieties of flowers and vegetables, with directions for their culture.

LITTLE, BUT O, MY!

How a Youngster Whipped a Big Rival and Distanced All Competitors.

Size and strength do not always go together, and sometimes size and strength enclose a very weak and cowardly spirit. Very often little men and women, too, who are smart and spunky and determined can accomplish a heap more than big hulking people, who are always stumbling over their own feet. The Toronto Daily and Weekly News is an example of the success that has been achieved by the small but bright and courageous papers both in politics and in business. The Daily News is the youngest daily in Toronto, and is equalled or excelled in circulation by only two papers in Canada, it having made a sworn statement that its average circulation for '85 was over 20,000 per day. Its chief aims are to be right and readable; its chief character is in its fearless editorial style, which recognizes neither friend nor foe in its sweeping denunciation of what is wrong and unjust, both in parties and the general political system. Its pictures are rivalled by those of no paper in Canada, it having made arrangements with the leading illustrated papers of the United States to receive whatever cuts are desirable from their columns. In this way both the readers of the Daily and Weekly News get the choicest pictures from "Judge," the celebrated New York comic paper, from the New York Evening Telegram, New York Journal, and from the artistic society paper "Life." Besides these the News has many original pictures drawn and engraved by its own artist. Last year "Dolly" a story of Canadian life, was one of its chief features, succeeding the farm sketches by the Farmin' Editor. A story by the same author will appear during 1887. Talmage's sermons are still a feature of the Saturday and Weekly News. The short laughable sketches, the absorbing serial stories, the reliable market reports, together with the brightly stocked news columns, where all the doings of all the people of the civilized world are daily chronicled, make up a galaxy of brilliant journalistic features unrivalled by any paper published west of New York.

The Weekly News is only $1.00 per annum and each subscriber is given a dollars worth of books free as a premium. Those who don't desire the premium will have a liberal reduction made in the price of their subscription. The Combination Offer—the Weekly and Daily—is suitable for farmers who have leisure during the winter, who are too busy in the summer to read a daily, and is a great feature of the News. In this way for $2.00 you can get the Weekly for six months, and the Daily for six months and a dollar's worth of books as a premium, or the Daily for three months and the Weekly for nine months and a dollar's worth of books for $1.50

No one need be without a daily paper during the winter months. A general Dominion election is approaching, which will be one of the most fiercely fought contests ever seen in Canada. The next session of Dominion Parliament will be an arena in which the concentrated bitterness of all the Canadian factions will find vent. The News presents a concise and bright report of Parliamentary proceeding, which is not dull and dreary like that provided by its big and heavy competitors, but which will interest every farmer and every farmer's son in the country. Be sure and subscribe for either the Daily or the Weekly. Subscriptions will be forwarded from this office, and the following are offered to clubs of this paper and Weekly News $1.50. This paper and Daily News six months and Weekly News six months, $2.25. This paper and Daily News three months and Weekly News nine months, $2.10.

THE BEST PAPER.

The best paper you can possibly have in your family is the Montreal "Witness," which gives more profitable and interesting matter, has more fearless and intelligent editorials, and is, in all respects, one of the most reliable and newsy journals on this continent. There are, now a-days, unfortunately, but too few newspapers that can be admitted into the sanctity of the family hearth, but the Witness is one of the few. Though full of enterprise in the matter of news, it never admits into its columns anything which could possibly injure the mind of even the youngest of its readers, while its Question and Answer Department, in which queries on all subjects of general interest are replied to by competent authorities, renders it of the greatest possible value to all its subscribers. To commemorate the fiftieth year of Queen Victoria's reign over the British Empire, the publishers of the Witness are giving to all subscribers to that paper—either new or renewing—who send ten cents in addition to their subscription, a magnificent picture of Her Majesty. This fine portrait is highly spoken of by many prominent Canadians who have already received it, and consider it a worthy likeness of our noble Queen.

The yearly subscription to the Daily Witness is $3.00, and to the Weekly Witness $1.00, an additional 10 cents to be sent in either case if the picture be desired.

Send in your subscriptions without delay to John Dougall & Son, Montreal.

The Northern Messenger is ever gaining in popularity, and is still "The cheapest illustrated paper published." Prizes of Books and Money are given to those who canvass for it. PHOTOGRAPHY MADE EASY, AN ENTIRELY NEW PROCESS.—SIMPLE and SURE.

Read! Read!! Read!!!

Hitherto Photography was considered an art requiring years of study and practice, and very costly apparatus, but since the introduction of Gelatine Bromide Process Dry Plates, any one having common sense and a small capital to buy an outfit, will be able to make the finest photographs without the aid of a teacher; either to make money or merely for amusement. This process dispenses entirely with the preparation of chemicals by the operator. He finds already prepared, and distinctly labeled, everything necessary to his work, and when these materials are exhausted they can be renewed by us at a very low price. Our Cameras are not mere toys; they have been used and approved by eminent photographers. No apparatus can compare with that manufactured by us in durability, accuracy and elegance of finish. It is in use in all parts of the world, and has by merit won this widespread reputation. Be not deceived by what is copied after it. The Improved Champion Cameras are warranted to produce pictures of the highest excellence, in every respect. For compactness, portability and style there is no equal to them. We would call special notice to the lenses of our Cameras, scientifically combined. These are the only Cameras in the market with which you can make a true picture without deformity or distortion. The real value, the true merit of our Cameras are concentrated in the genuine Photographers' Lenses, which have all been tried in our gallery by our widely known operators. Every outfit is thoroughly tested, and every single article warranted. This process makes photography so simple, pleasant and successful. Full instructions are sent with every outfit, and everything is so minutely described that none can go astray or be disappointed. Boys and young men, mechanics, artists, real estate agents, card printers, booksellers and stationers, tourists, students, postmasters, photo-copying agents, &c., should purchase an equipment. It will pay.

IS PHOTOGRAPHY PROFITABLE?—You cannot engage in a more profitable business than photography, nor anything more genteel or gentlemanly. The profits are enormous, being in some instances 500 per cent. above cost. Don't be afraid to order an equipment for fear you would not get enough to do, for besides portraits photography there are hundreds who will employ you to photo houses, landscapes, furniture, &c., and such will bring in many dollars. Don't delay, order at once; remember, "Procrastination is the thief of time." Delays are dangerous. "Strike while the iron is hot," and see the sparks fly. Think of it! A fine equipment requires but a small outlay. Suppose, for instance, $10 be invested, the interest on that sum at 10 per cent. is $1.00 per year. One job will pay you that sum and more. In many towns there are no photographers. In such places is the richest kind of a field to use one of our equipments. Anybody can make it pay immensely, and you will become a well-known and important citizen. An equipment runs at fairs and summer resorts pays big. We know of a young man who averaged $13 a day at a large fair. How about traveling with an equipment, did you say? Does it pay? Well, now, we should say it did. During the past year the business of photographing city and farm residences, family groups at home, farm stock, schoolhouses and scholars in groups, churches, factories, country views, &c., has rapidly developed. The men who are doing this have a very easy way of getting orders, entirely distinct from soliciting. They start out early in the morning with a good stock of dry plates and their camera in hand, all weighing but a few pounds, approach the residence or business of any kind, and in a very short time they can get the most attractive view of it; then politely telling the owner you are photographing the notable scenery and buildings in that neighborhood, you request him and family to stand at the window or door, or other natural position. Well, the novelty of having a photographer with full equipment appear unexpectedly at his very door at once excites his curiosity, and he readily complies with your request, and in five seconds or less you have the negative. While this is being done you quietly suggest that "Nero," the family dog, or the fine team would make an interesting picture; and by this time the whole family mind is set on getting the best photograph of themselves or some favorite article, and it is so "cute" to have it done right at home, no making up for the hired man has his taken in his shirt sleeves, slouch hat, cowhide boots, and tools in hand. In 20 minutes you have from Mr. A's from one to five negatives, and, passing on to his neighbor, Mr. B. you call him out in the same manner, and in addition remark that you have just photographed Mr. A's residence and family, his dog, blooded cow or horse, and immediately Mr. B. will try to outdo Mr. A. In this manner you continue till about 4 p. m., and then go home with your 20 or 30 negatives, develop them, and get them ready for printing the next day. From one negative you can print 1000 photographs. If necessary, and every negative you take will be worth from $1 to $2 profit to you. A school is a perfect bonanza for you. Only one negative is required, from which you can print as many photographs as there are scholars in the group. At 50 cents each you will clear from $10 to $15 profit on the school. Photography is unquestionably the most profitable of the regular trades. No chance of failure unless through laziness. We will send a sample photo made with one of our equipments on receipt of 20 cents in stamps.
