OTTON FUTURES TAX AMENDMENT IS CARRIED

S. S. Tariff Revision Bill Was Adopted and Smith-Lever Amendment Was Carried After a Short, Bitter Fight Led by Underwood.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—(Can. Press.)—The Democratic tariff revision bill was passed by the House tonight on what party leaders hoped would be its last vote. After many hours of debate the House adopted the conference agreement on the bill, 108, almost a strict party vote. By this action gave its endorsement to everything in the measure except cotton futures tax.

The end of a short but bitter fight that followed the adoption of the tariff revision bill, Representative Underwood, the Democratic leader, succeeded in carrying through the Smith-Lever cotton futures tax amendment by a vote of 171 to 161. Democrats and Republicans are noted on this without regard to party, and a large portion of the Democratic membership from the southern states joined in the demand that the whole subject be carried over to the next session of Congress. The cotton futures tax question now rests entirely with the Senate. The House passed the tariff bill by a vote of 108 to 87. The House also passed the Smith-Lever Underwood plan as another amendment. Unless the Senate will accept the change, which is the endorsement of the president, the whole cotton futures plan will have to be considered in the next conference committee and again reported to both houses of Congress for action.

Might Vote Against It.

The conference report will be called up in the Senate early tomorrow. Chairman Simmons of the Finance Committee unless there are unexpected developments. Several Democratic senators who are dissatisfied with certain features of the bill today began a demand for a Democratic caucus to consider the conference report. Senator Reed of Missouri insisted that unless certain changes were made he might vote against the report and the tariff bill on its final passage.

The cotton futures tax dominated today's fight in the House, although little time actually was given to its consideration. Three distinct elements developed among the Democrats in the cotton futures fight. One branch, led by Representative Hardwick of Georgia, demanded that the whole subject be carried over as a separate measure. Another section, led by Representative Johnson of Arkansas, insisted that the bill should accept the language of the Smith-Lever amendment in the Senate. (Continued on Page 8, Column 7.)

The World's Baseball Series

John J. McGraw and Connie Mack will lead their respective teams into battle, commencing next Tuesday, for what promises to be the greatest world series on record. Each club has won the honor once in their former struggles and this year's fight will be for the rubber. Realizing the importance and the great local interest in this struggle The World has lined up a battery of the best-known baseball experts to write up each battle for its readers.

Hughie Jennings, manager of the Detroit Tigers, and who has three times battled in world series, will supply The World with a well-written story of the inside workings of every game. De Wolf Hopper, the well-known actor, and one of baseball's greatest fans, has also been secured, and his exclusive stories will appear daily in The World. The New York World's expert, assigned to cover the series, will write a breezy size-up of the situation. The Canadian Press will contribute its usual feature story, and World readers will be the best-posted fans in Canada.

THUNDERSTORM, TERRIBLE TOLL

Fourteen Killed, Thirty Injured and Many Missing in French Town—Flood and Explosion.

CERBERE, France, Sept. 30.—(Special.)—A terrific thunderstorm, which raged for 12 hours, has spread death and ruin throughout the city. Fourteen persons are known to have been killed and 30 injured, but there are many missing.

A stream which passes thru the city was soon over its banks and flooded the streets. In a hardware establishment, where large quantities of gasoline, petroleum, alcohol and other inflammables and a cask of calcium carbide were stored, the water dissolved the chemicals and enormous volumes of gas were formed, which completely wrecked two buildings and enveloped two others in flames. Three persons who were passing at the time were killed outright. Five families were buried in the ruins.

Nearly every house in Cerbere is flooded and most of the provisions have been spoiled.

In answer to an urgent appeal from the mayor, the prefect of Perpignan despatched several tons of bread to meet the pressing needs of the inhabitants. A company of the 52d Infantry was rushed here to assist in rescue work.

The floods also carried away the greater part of the Papillon Dynamite factory and caused tremendous damage throughout the department. The railroad has been washed out in several places. A freight train was derailed and a passenger train is imprisoned in the tunnel at Banyuls-sur-Mer.

His Prouddest Possession.
When Cyril Maude, the idol of the London light comedy stage, comes to the Princess Theatre on Monday, with his famous repertoire, he will have many works of art to exhibit to local audiences. In the opinion of Mr. Maude himself, it is his daughter, who comes to the United States and Canada for the first time, and plays leading parts in her famous father's comedies.

TRIED TO CASH A BOGUS CHEQUE

Toronto Couple Held at Niagara Falls May Be Members of Gang of Swindlers.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—In the arrest of two men and two women here this afternoon, the police believe they have rounded up members of a swindling gang whose operations were international in scope. The prisoners gave names of Mrs. Clara Knapp and W. E. Walker, both of Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Allen, Erie, Pa. They were arrested following an attempt by Mrs. Knapp to cash an alleged worthless cheque for $400 at the Bridge street branch of the Imperial Bank of Canada.

The prisoners came to the Falls on Sunday night. They registered at the Savoy Hotel and spent money lavishly. They insisted upon having the best of everything and appeared to have a plentiful supply of funds. They acted like any other wealthy tourists until this afternoon, when Mrs. Knapp attempted to cash the cheque at Bridge street bank.

When the woman tendered what purported to be a certified cheque for $400 on the Toronto branch of the Union Bank of Canada, the teller referred her to the manager, A. N. Murray. She showed Mr. Murray a Union Bank pass book showing $1110 to her credit at the Toronto branch. The cheque was signed "Clara Knapp," made payable to "Cash." Although it appeared to be right, Mr. Murray was suspicious because of many swindlers worked on banks recently, and told the woman to call later in the afternoon, when the cheque would be honored.

When the woman left the bank Mr. Murray called up the manager of the Union Bank in Toronto. Then he learned that Mrs. Knapp had only $110 to her credit. It was her original and only deposit. In the meantime the bank messenger had shrouded Mrs. Knapp. She returned to her hotel, joined Walker and the Allens. The four were just leaving the hotel to go for an auto ride about the city when they were arrested by Chief John Kimmins and Patrolman John Dart of the city police.

At police headquarters the four prisoners refused to talk. Search of their rooms at the Savoy was made. The police say a counterfeit "certified" stamp of the Union Bank was found among their belongings.

Half a dozen Canadian banks will send representatives here in an effort to identify the prisoners as operators who have worked a similar swindle throughout Canada and in several American cities recently. Three weeks ago the Hamilton branch of the Bank of British North America was swindled out of $2,000 on a spurious certified cheque.

The prisoners will have a hearing before Magistrate Fraser tomorrow morning on a charge of attempting to utter a false cheque.

THINKS BROTHER WAS POISONED IN GOTHAM

A. G. Beard of Toronto Had Body Exhumed and Inquest Ordered to Ascertain Whether His Brother Was Poisoned or Died of Bright's Disease as Certificate Stated.

Evidence of a somewhat startling nature was adduced at the inquest last night into the death of George F. Beard of New York, who died in that city on Sept. 14 last, and whose body was shipped to Toronto for burial in Mount Pleasant Cemetery on Sept. 17. Although the death certificate is said to give acute Bright's Disease as the cause of Beard's death, a doubt on the part of A. G. Beard, 2400 East Queen street, brother of the dead man, that all was not right, resulted in the exhumation of the body. Dr. Singer is presiding over the inquest.

Altho Dr. Johnston, who examined the body and has gone into the details of the symptoms up to the time of death, would make no definite statement on the stand last night, he admitted that there are certain conditions which would lead him to suspect poisoning. According to the doctor there was nothing acute about the Bright's Disease in the body, altho the kidneys here certain evidences of congestion, which, under extreme conditions, might have caused death. The body, he said, was exceptionally well nourished and Beard must have been in good health shortly before his death. The inquest was adjourned for two weeks to allow the doctor to make a microscopic examination of some of the organs.

The brother, A. G. Beard, stated that on receipt of a telegram signed "Gloria," his brother's wife, to the effect that his brother was dead, he had immediately gone to New York, where he was informed that death was due to Bright's Disease. All his brother's jewelry, he said, had disappeared, which, the wife told him, had been handed to her lawyer. He could not get any of the medicine that had been prescribed, neither could he get the burial certificate, which the wife promised to send by mail.

The wife of the dead man was to have given evidence, but left for New York shortly before the inquest opened.

HEIRESS TO WED THIS AFTERNOON

Hon. Victoria Sackville West Will Be Bride of Minor Clerk in British Legation.

Special Cable to The World, Copyrighted by The Toronto World and N. Y. World. LONDON, Sept. 30.—The Hon. Victoria Sackville West, the only child of Lady Sackville, who was made an heiress by her mother's sensational and successful fight for a large part of the fortune left by the late Sir John Murray Scott, is to be married tomorrow at Knole Park, to Harold Nicholson, the youngest son of Sir Arthur Nicholson, former clerk of the house of commons, now ambassador at St. Petersburg.

There are six hundred presents, the most important being a case of jewelry from Lady Sackville, which is worth over $50,000. The bride's parents are also giving her a set of Russian sables, a collection of old silver and a suite of old English furniture.

It was in the midst of the celebrated lawsuit, in which Lady Sackville proved her right to a large part of the Scott millions, that Miss Sackville West allowed her engagement to young Nicholson to become public. Her parents promptly denied it, but the young lady having all of her mother's force of character, held tenaciously to her intention, and won her way against all opposition.

The bride is extremely pretty and unusually interesting. She has already published several poems, and will shortly give a volume of her verse to the public. The bridegroom holds a small position in the British legation at Constantinople.

FIREMAN FATALLY INJURED BY FALL FROM HOSE WAGON

James Kerr of Wychwood Hall Missed Footing, Fell and Struck His Head on Stone Curb.

Falling to the asphalt pavement from a hose reel traveling at a furious speed, James Kerr, of 383 Ossington avenue, a fireman stationed at the Wychwood fire hall, struck his head on the stone curb, sustaining injuries from which he died ten minutes later in the home of Dr. McCormack on Bloor avenue, Eastcourt. The accident took place about 4:30 p.m. yesterday, on St. Clair avenue, near Oakwood, when the truck was traveling to the fire at the Union Stock Yards at West Toronto. According to other firemen, Kerr fell while in the act of changing seats with the driver, who wished to don his rubber boots and coat. He expired two minutes after being carried to the doctor's residence.

Kerr, who was about 25 years of age, had been in Canada only three or four years, and his mother in England is thought to be the only surviving relative. The body was removed to Wm. Spicer's undertaking rooms on Dundas street, and from there taken to the morgue.

FALSE PRETENCE CHARGE IS LAID

L. V. McBrady, a Toronto Barrister, on Bail on Charge Laid by One of His Clients.

L. V. McBrady, a well known barrister, connected with the legal firm of McBrady and O'Connor, 48 West King street, was arrested yesterday morning on a charge of false pretence, the sum of $500.00 being involved. He appeared before Magistrate Denison, pleaded not guilty, and was remanded on bail for a week.

The charge was laid by Brodfoot, Bennett and Grant, barristers, whose offices are in the Confederation Life Building. It is alleged that McBrady held back the above sum, which should have been paid to a client who had entrusted a real estate deal to him. The client placed the case in the hands of Messrs. Bennett and Grant, resulting in the charge being laid.

EX-KING MANUEL OFF TO ENGLAND

His Journey Will Represent a Separation by Consent Say Reports From Vienna.

Special Cable to The World, Copyrighted by The Toronto World and N. Y. World. BERLIN, Sept. 30.—An official bulletin regarding the illness of ex-King Manuel's bride, issued tonight, says she is suffering from gastric fever that was set up Sept. 18 by bacteria in the intestines and which subsequently attacked the kidneys.

Altho the dates set for her removal to the palace of her father at Sigmaringen have been ignored as they arrived and were passed—the princess still remains despondently ill in the Munich Hospital—the three physicians signing tonight's bulletin express belief that she will be restored to complete health within a reasonable time.

The long-continued silence in authentic sources had given impetus to the most sensational stories about the true illness of ex-King Manuel's bride. Most of them agree, however, in the assertion that the couple will never again live together.

The only information that seems reliable is that the condition of the princess is improving, and that if no complications ensue she may leave the hospital at Munich at the middle of October. She will then go to Sigmaringen, accompanied by Manuel. The latter will immediately leave for England, returning to Sigmaringen after a few weeks.

Report that reaches Berlin via Vienna asserts positively that Manuel's journey to England will represent a separation, by consent, of the ex-king who will not rejoin his bride.

The story that the princess attempted suicide apparently arose from a visitor who regret that her illness was unlikely to prove fatal. Enquiries at Munich set trace neither the source of the story nor the person to whom the statement was supposed to have been made.

Toronto Fireman Killed.

James Kerr of Wychwood Fire Hall, Who Fell From a Hose Wagon Yesterday and Was Fatally Injured.

STRUCK BY CAR WHILE DRIVING

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Trueman Thrown From Buggy and Badly Hurt on Arthur Street.

While attempting to cross the intersection of Euclid avenue and Arthur street at 3:10 last evening, a buggy containing Mr. and Mrs. William Trueman of 144 Clifton street was struck by an eastbound Dundas car (316), and the occupants were thrown to the pavement. They were carried unconscious into Struthers' store where Mr. Trueman shortly came to, but it was an hour later when Mrs. Trueman regained consciousness in the Western Hospital, where they had been removed in the motor car of Dr. A. H. Perfect of 210 Annetta street. Mr. Trueman received several serious scalp wounds, and Mrs. Trueman a slight scalp wound, a badly lacerated foot and a bad abrasion on the arm.

Owing to the work going on on Bathurst street, a stub line is in operation on Arthur street, two cars running backwards and forwards on their respective tracks, and the car that struck the buggy was going east on the north track. Eye-witnesses to the accident stated that the World that the crash was tremendous, the buggy being carried fifteen or twenty feet in front of the fender, while the horse breaking loose, dashed up Euclid avenue. Every pane of glass in the front of the car was smashed, and glass littered the street.

The car was in charge of Motorist John Robinson of 406 Perth avenue, and Conductor John Hardin, of a Golden avenue.

NEGLECTED ROAD CAUSED LOSS OF MOTOR

Five Thousand Dollar Limousine Owned by Dr. John Hall Completely Burned When Chain Drive Was Broken by Bad Highway on Don Road and the Engine Back Fired.

Dr. John B. Hall, the well-known physician, at the corner of Jarvis and Carlton streets, had a five thousand dollar limousine completely destroyed by fire on the top of De Grass Hill, a mile north of Todmorden P.O. on the Don road, at 5:30 last night. No one was injured, but ten dollars for what was left of it. The engine back-fired and started the blaze. But there was a story before that of a neglected road and a broken chain-drive caused thereby.

Dr. Hall owned a high-class Chadwick touring car and had a $1500 limousine body put on it. The job was finished yesterday and two drivers from the Century garage at 44 Carlton street (in which Dr. Hall's son is interested) were sent out in the afternoon to test the machine. They had a full supply of gasoline. They selected the Don road for the purpose. When they were going up De Grass Hill from the main valley and just beyond the gate into the Cliff Farm, the road was so bad by neglect that the sprocket chain broke; the driver managed to stop the car as it ran back on the C.N.R. and rested against the guard rails of that structure.

A neglected road of this kind has been absolutely neglected owing to a dispute between the Township of York and the Good Roads Commission. The car, as was said, rested against the bridge rail—had it gone thru the rail, as it might, the men would have been sent down the tracks, 30 feet below, and killed! The men got a team from the Division and towed the machine up the hill. Thinking that the car on the chain might be driven by the remaining engine, they started the engine. It back-fired; the men jumped and ran; they said they were afraid of the explosion—and the whole outfit was enveloped in flames a moment after the gasoline had caught. It had a four-cylinder motor with left hand iron strap, two rubber caps and a distorted frame. Not a vestige of the big new body or its appointments was left.

As to the road, hundreds of machines and teams pass over it, and yet it has been going from bad to worse for two years. When W. F. Maclean and others went to the township council on three different occasions, they said they were afraid of the explosion—and the whole outfit was enveloped in flames a moment after the gasoline had caught. It had a four-cylinder motor with left hand iron strap, two rubber caps and a distorted frame. Not a vestige of the big new body or its appointments was left.

DOINGS OF THE DISCIPLES

BY DR. QUILL

It was a "far cry" back over the centuries from the Brush Run Church, Pennsylvania, to the "upper room" in Jerusalem. Nevertheless, on June 2, 1912, seven disciples met as they believed, "to continue in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship and in breaking of bread and in prayers." And here, still further down the stream of time and place, another meeting is held of Disciples. In the meantime there have been Pentecosts and prayers. They have been "adding to the church daily such as being saved" until the seven have become seventy times seven and that many fold over.

With the weariness and dust of their long pilgrimage scarcely forgotten, they immediately proceeded to their tasks. For all Disciples know that they should be faithful. Hence the convention opened "at the tick of the clock" yesterday afternoon. Massey Hall was seated with probably 2000 people. The rear guard were announced to arrive in force by the evening session.

Whether it was that the visitors from the sunny south are still feeling the Canadian air a trifle chilly, the "Brothers and Sisters" took their seats with little of the enthusiasm characteristic of such large "family reunions." The fact is, however, that these particular Disciples of Christ do not build much on fervor. While friendly, and anyone stepping into the reception room has such before his eyes, they are not bolsheroous. Therefore, they seemed to have simply left the personal element aside and are prepared for earnest duty. Hence, as a mass of people, they appear to represent about evenly the service of men and women. There are few patriarchs, but most are of the strong bone and stony of the brotherhood. And what is of primitive simplicity, there are no clerical collars or reverends so and so, Peter and James and John, "in their working clothes," are here just as the Master left earlier disciples on the Mount of Olivet.

The opening ceremonies were in harmony with all these principles. "With one accord they continued in prayer and supplication with the women." W. E. M. Hackmann Indianapolis, led the service of song. Where the words of the hymns signified praise the audience filled the hall with music. But as the lines breathed a prayer, every voice was hushed to a whisper, giving a deeply spiritual tone to the service. Charles S. McDermott, Des Moines, opened the Holy Scriptures where the Apostle Paul charged the church at Philippi to think on things that are true, honest, just, pure, lovely and of good report. And with great aptness of expression, this young Disciple charged his fellow-workers of this convention to be careful of "their thinking." Then he led in another prayer, which included the King and governor-general and all rulers. (Continued on Page 8, Column 8.)

CANADIAN ACTOR DID NOT RALLY

Dr. John C. Dixon, Formerly of Montreal, Died in New York From Complications of Diseases.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—(Can. Press.)—John C. Dixon, a son of Canon Dixon of Montreal, is dead at Bellevue Hospital. He had been suffering for some time back from a complication of diseases, when he was removed from the apartments to the hospital. He did not rally as had been expected, and pneumonia set in, carrying him off. Before taking up the practice of dentistry in this city, Dr. Dixon had made a name for himself on the stage. He began as an entertainer in his native city, and later appeared as a professional, playing leading parts. He was at one time a member of Sir Henry Irving's company and took the part of Srengrill in "Trilby," on a tour of Canada. The authorities at Bellevue are awaiting instructions from Canada to dispose of the remains.

TIGHT BINDING

CHURCH STARTS ON OBSTRUCTION

Tried to Block All Business of the Board of Control.

BUT ATTEMPT FAILED

Business Was Disposed of, Tho It Took a Long Time.

For two hours the business of the board of control was held up yesterday by Controller Church in an endeavor to make a point. What the point is no one could find out. He did not make his point. It is probable he wants to block all business until the valuator report upon the projected street railway purchase. The business of the session was disposed of, however.

He moved that the corporation counsel and city solicitor see and report on the memorandum of agreement between the city and Sir William Mackenzie, and that the memorandum of agreement be tabled. Mayor Hocken looked amused.

"It's no laughing matter," Controller Church remarked.

Controller Foster broke a package of chewing gum and passed around the pieces of gum.

"Are you chewing the rag or chewing gum?" Controller Church queried. He went on talking. Controller Foster read The Globe. Controller McCarthy yawned and stretched. Controller O'Neill put on a quizzical look.

"I could speak on this subject entertainingly for a couple of days," Controller Church threatened.

"Sure," Controller O'Neill commented. "But would you be satisfied if everything is tabled within a week?" "It may be too late," Controller Church said.

"Too late for what?" Mayor Hocken asked. "To make cheap capital out of it?"

"You don't wish to be ridiculous in this matter?" Controller O'Neill suggested to Controller Church.

"You're very fond of making those remarks," Controller Church snapped.

"Ald. McBride wants to introduce a matter," Mayor Hocken pleaded. "It will only take a moment."

"I have the floor," Controller Church insisted.

The Civic Survey. However, Ald. McBride worked in and warned the board that the committee promoting the civic survey intends to receive the report of the survey before giving it to the board of control. He was assured that the board would be in control throughout the survey.

"I saw the agreement a month ago," Controller Church resumed.

"Where did you get it?" Mayor Hocken asked.

"I'm not going to tell you," Controller Church came back.

Just then Mayor Collins worked in to ask for repairs to the old fort.

"You're a man of war and so am I. I'm on the warpath," Controller Church greeted the mayor.

After Mayor Collins was thru Mayor Hocken had to leave to keep an appointment. He first put Controller Church's motion and it did not carry. Controller Church took the chair and moved that Mr. Moyes be sent for to confer with the board.

"That your motion," Controller O'Neill demanded.

"Let's adjourn," Controller Foster insisted.

"I'm willing to stay here all day," said Controller McCarthy. "I'll be home to lunch."

Kept Right at It. Then the proceedings became a cross-examination by Controller O'Neill went to the far end of the room to see a constituent and

The Dyspeptic's Dream Is a Good Meal

And He Could Most Completely Enjoy It If He Ate a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet After It.

One of the greatest horrors to dyspepsia sufferers is the fear of food consequences. They know from past experiences that meats, vegetables and fluids will not agree with them. The stomach tells them so, and thus after awhile they actually learn to abhor such dishes.

But often in their dreams they experience the joys of the good old-fashioned kind. When they awake the old fear is still with them.

"He could eat a meal like that if he took a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet."

Of course this fear of food is natural. It arises from an abused and diseased digestion, but the moment you put into the stomach along with the food you eat the very elements that will digest the meal you will suffer no evil effects, and thus lose your fear of food.

Such elements are contained in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and they are so powerful and yet so thoroughly natural that of themselves when placed in a glass tube with a mixed food they will actually digest that food.

More than the mere act of digesting the meal eaten, they go into the blood and thus enrich all the digestive machinery of man so that when the next meal is eaten the fluids are stronger and more capable of doing their work.

A little Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet taken after each meal will quickly restore the dyspeptic's digestion so he can enjoy the meal of his dreams in reality.

The Disciples' Convention.

J. W. PERRY, banker, of Kansas City, Mo., president of the National Benovolent Association, Disciples of Christ.

Controller Foster turned his back and chatted with a friend.

"We couldn't get Fleming's Jersey cows," Controller McCarthy remarked when Controller Church said that the Mackenzie offer was not a clean-up of the franchise.

"Then Controller Church moved that Mr. Moyes be summoned before the board forthwith, and it did not carry."

"I'm going on with this until I get the memorandum tabled," Controller Church said.

"Keep at it," Controller McCarthy suggested.

"This discussion should not go on until the mayor is here," said Controller Foster. "We should adjourn."

Controller Church declared the board adjourned, but Controller McCarthy and O'Neill compelled him to go on with the business and finish it up.

Removing Fences. "After 4 o'clock in the afternoon there are likely to be 20 children playing in my backyard," said Controller McCarthy. "I am now discussing with my neighbors the advisability of removing fences and converting several adjoining backyards into a well-equipped playground."

Representatives of the Toronto Housing Company were submitting plans of another unit in which sewers and drains provide air, light and playground. Controller Foster objected to a common playground for children. The plans were approved.

EXPLORERS GUESS DEGREES OF COLD

Capt. Amundsen Tells How Polar Voyagers Can Make Calculations.

Sometimes during sledge journeys on the Arctic ice the thermometers are broken and when such a thing occurs the exploring party finds itself without means of determining the temperature. Roald Amundsen, the discoverer of the South Pole, declares, however, that the explorer accustoms himself to guess of temperature it is possible to estimate the mean temperature for a month with a fair degree of accuracy. This fact he proved, says Youth's Companion, by means of a guessing contest during the winter he and his men spent in camp on the great ice barrier.

As each man came in the morning, Mr. Amundsen is quoted as saying, he gave his opinion of the temperature outside and each guess was entered in a book.

"At the end of the month I went over the figures, and the man who had guessed correctly the greatest number of times won the prize—a few cigars. Besides giving practice in estimating degrees of cold it was a very good diversion with which to begin the day. When one day is almost over like another the first hour of the morning is likely to be a little sour. The competition engaged every one's attention pleasantly. Each man's entrance was awaited with excitement and one man in the hearing of the man who followed him. Therefore they had to speak as they came in, one by one.

"Now, Stubberud, I would say, 'what's the temperature today?'" Stubberud had his own way of calculating, which I never succeeded in understanding. One day, for instance, he looked about him and studied the various faces. "It isn't warm today," he said at last with a great deal of conviction. I could immediately encourage him with the assurance that he had guessed correctly. It was 69 degrees Fahrenheit!

"The monthly results were very interesting. So far as I can remember the best performance in any month was eight approximately correct guesses. A man might keep remarkably close to the actual temperature for a long time and then suddenly one day make an error of twenty-five degrees.

"The winner's mean temperature agreed within a few tenths of a degree with the actual mean temperature of the month, and the mean of all the competitors' mean temperatures gave a result that was almost exactly correct. So if we had been so unlucky as to lose all our thermometers we should not have been entral y at a loss."

AIR RESISTANCE NOW UNDER CONTROL

Comparative Effects of Pressure on Surfaces at Different Angles.

PARIS, Sept. 29.—There has been installed in the Champs de Mars, in Paris, an aero-dynamic laboratory for the making of experiments relating to the laws of atmospheric resistance. In the course of his studies one eminent engineer verified a curious statement communicated some time ago to the Academy of Sciences, namely, that the pressure upon a square surface inclined 37 degrees to the wind is one and one-half times stronger than that exerted on the same surface exposed at 90 degrees.

FRISCO'S NOVEL FERRY SERVICE

Coast City Planning to Inaugurate Hydroplane System on Bay.

An aerial yacht company is planning to institute a hydroplane ferry service between San Francisco and bay points, and the scheme, explains The San Francisco Chronicle, is the outgrowth of a newly invented craft designed by Silas Christofferson, a local aviator.

In model this flying boat is similar to the Curtis hydroplane, but many innovations which tend to the comfort and safety of those on board have been added. It is designed to carry two passengers besides the pilot and will be luxuriously finished in mahogany with deep upholstered seats not unlike those of a motor car.

Instead of the usual pontoons, a regular boat has been provided, which can be instantly detached from the flying apparatus, so that in case of accident the boat can be driven thru the water under its own power.

The hull is twenty-four feet long and three feet wide, with a floating capacity of 4000 pounds, divided into six airtight compartments. The engine, which is set in the boat, is a Curtis 80 horse-power model, and the power will be transmitted to the propeller by chain.

The boat is entirely covered over, excepting the cockpit which is protected by a rising hood, affording absolute protection from spray. The engine is equipped with a self-starter, and the plane is provided with an electric lighting system. The exhaust from the motor is so arranged as to heat the seating space in case of cold weather.

Many people have been taken on short flights by Christofferson, and much interest has followed the appearance of the new aircraft. It is expected that the hydro fleet will continue to expand as San Francisco Bay affords great opportunities for this style of craft.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—A striking illustration of the influence of the ubiquitous cinematograph is reported by the United States Consulate at Belgrade, Serbia. American fashions have recently become very popular with the young men of that city. There is an unprecedented demand at the local shops for hats, boots and other wearing apparel similar to that in vogue in the United States, and the American style of hair-cutting has come into favor. These innovations are undoubtedly the result of the exhibition of moving pictures of American origin. The obvious moral of all this, as the consul points out, is that the cinematograph might be used to great advantage in advertising all kinds of American products. For instance, pictures of American agricultural machinery in operation would probably create a great demand for the product itself. This plan offers an economical substitute for the actual exhibition of products in commercial museums and the like.

PRICE OF MILK UP IN HAMILTON

After First of Next Month Consumers Must Pay More.

CONNORS IS SENTENCED

Gets Two Years for Stealing From Tuckett Cigar Company.

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 30.—(Special.)

The wholesale and retail milk dealers of this city held a joint meeting at the Franklin House on Saturday afternoon, and the former decided to raise the price of their commodity from 17 and 18 cents to 20 cents per gallon, to take effect on Nov. 1.

MR. MILLER GIVEN FOR THE INCREASE

has been during the past few months feed had become very expensive, and it was stated that although the crop in this district was satisfactory, in the other parts of the province it was a failure. This necessitated the shipping of feed to those districts, and hence the increase here.

It was announced during the meeting that for the month of October the price of milk would remain at 19 cents per gallon, and that the retailers would not raise the price until after Nov. 1.

When a representative of one of the largest local retail companies was interviewed by The World today, he stated that it was more than likely that the price of milk would be increased to 3 cents per quart after that date.

Wordy Battle Continues.

When in conversation with the press today, R. F. Miller of the National Gas Company, had something to say regarding the A. D. Hopkins letter to him, published yesterday.

Mr. Miller spoke as follows:

"Dr. Hopkins offers to pay for experts. I offer to pay him $5000 if he can prove that I've misrepresented anything. It would take two weeks to secure the reports of a genuine expert, and the latest offer of the doctor is to pay me $5000 until last Thursday, which means that the bylaw would either be defeated or passed before he could secure expert opinion. My offer still stands good.

Mr. Hopkins some time ago attempted to block the National Gas Company by saying that we would cut up the streets. In reply to that I may say that any person could see that a company would not cut up the streets, and cut up the streets for the purpose of laying mains if it could not produce the goods which would pay for the work.

The next encounter in the famous battle of words is due tomorrow.

Gets Two Years.

At the weekly sittings of the criminal court this morning Judge Monck handed out the severe sentence of two years less one month to Michael Connors, charged with stealing from the warehouse of the Tuckett Cigar Company. Connors pleaded guilty to the charge, and his lawyer, C. W. Bell, made an earnest plea for leniency.

Dr. Monck sprung a surprise, however, when he stated that Connors' record was so bad that any question of leniency was impossible. He had been sentenced on three serious charges in former years. Connors' lawyer, Harry Cassel, charged with selling a w/ch giving a false trade description, alleged to be tried by a judge without a jury, and will appear on Tuesday next.

Refute Suicide Theory.

The Rochester friends of Mrs. Ethel Sutton, who, it was alleged, died in the city hospital recently as the result of drinking poison, refuse to believe that the woman ended her life, and refute the coroner's statement to that effect. Such was the purport of an article published in The Rochester Post-Express yesterday.

Mrs. Sutton was buried in that place on Sunday amid a great demonstration of sympathy from the thousands of her fellow-workers. Mrs. Sutton came of a

At a special meeting of the Y. M. C. A. executive, held yesterday afternoon, it was decided to extend a call to Harry Fleming, for the past two years general secretary of the Collingwood Association, to return here and accept the position of membership secretary at the Central Y. M. C. A.

At the resumed sitting of the Ferguson Avenue Arbitration Board this morning, the arbitrator examined W. M. Lounsbury, one of the G.T.R. valuers. He gave testimony as to the value of lands only, and considered the greater part to be worth $60 per foot. On some property near the street, however, he placed a value of $80 per foot.

Common Entrance.

City Solicitor Waddell today received word from the Dominion Railway Commission that it would take up the common entrance scheme when it meets in this city on Oct. 15.

New Branch Bank.

It was announced today that a new branch of the Metropolitan Bank would be opened in this city in the very near future. It was said that a site had been secured near the corner of King street and Sherman avenue.

Caught After Chase.

Shortly after twelve o'clock today Constable William Yaxley, after a chase in an automobile, arrested Thomas M. Gehey of Burlington.

A well-known woman of this city complained to the officer that the man had been following her on the streets, and it was said that the man attempted to make his getaway from her.

RIFLE MATCHES HELD AT GUELPH

Two King's Prizemen Took Part in the Annual Competition.

LOCAL MEN WERE BEST

W. H. Sleeman, H. G. Bowyer and Others Carried off High Honors.

GUELPH, Ont., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—Many celebrated rifle shots took part in the annual matches of the Guelph Rifle Association here today, including P. W. Hawkins, J. C. L. Jones, and H. G. Bowyer, both King's prizemen; as well as many others who have participated in the Elsiey matches. Among the latter were Capt. C. R. Crowe, Capt. John Crowe, Sgt. J. Steele, P. D. McKie, all of this city, and Co. McLaren, Hamilton, and F. Bibby of Dundas. The weather conditions were excellent, and the matches were improved, but considerable fault was found with the ranges and the facilities for shooting by the visitors.

Today's matches clearly demonstrated that if Guelph wants to retain her place among the cities where the rifle is popular, she must turn out new recruits must be secured. There were about fifty-five shooters participating, the majority of them being local men, and once more the Guelph men came out victorious.

List Was Re-Written

In preparing his despatch yesterday, the Albany correspondent of The Toronto World omitted to announce that the tariff list respecting wheat and wheat products was re-written and a clause inserted placing a countervailing duty on such products coming from a country which maintains a tariff wall against wheat, flour or semolina from the United States.

The countervailing duty on Canadian wheat will be ten cents a bushel. Forty-five cents a barrel will be the tax on wheat flour, a barrel containing 112 pounds. A ten per cent. ad valorem duty will be levied on semolina and other wheat products.

Mechanically ground wood pulp, chemical wood pulp, and print paper up to the value of $100 per ton will enter the United States duty free.

BOAT BUILDERS COME TOGETHER

Association Formed at Prince George Yesterday to Unite and Educate.

MOTOR BOAT DISPLAY To Be Held Here in February Under Auspices of New Body.

Competition fostered by co-operation is the ideal now recognized by a number of the boat manufacturers of the Dominion. They are endeavoring to form a body to organize the Canadian Association of Boat Manufacturers. Two sessions were held in Toronto, and were elected who will carry the association over its first year.

The object of the organization is to eliminate as far as possible the objectionable features attendant upon competition between manufacturers within the Dominion. Also to create a central bureau which will deal with the problems of transportation on the railways, to lay aside discrimination and declare fair charges for the freighting of all boats.

It is also the intention of the association to engage experts on factory management and cost systems with the idea of educating the manufacturers within the Dominion on the subject of production. Boat builders, naval architects, and manufacturers of marine engines will constitute the membership of the association.

The officers of the organization elected yesterday are as follows: President, H. W. Goring, Brockville; and Hugh M. Warnock, Prescott; treasurer, Claude H. Rogers, Kingston; secretary, Peterboro; and J. C. L. Jones, Hamilton. Other members are: H. W. Goring, Brockville; and Hugh M. Warnock, Prescott; treasurer, Claude H. Rogers, Kingston; secretary, Peterboro; and J. C. L. Jones, Hamilton.

ALBANIANS DRIVE SERBS FROM CITY

Situation in Macedonia Reported Critical—Serbian Troops Retreat.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The Vienna correspondent of The Daily Telegraph sends the following dispatch: "While the reports from Belgrade now seek to minimize the trouble in Albania, the news from Avlona indicates that the Serbians are in a desperate position, and that it will need all of Serbia's powers to overcome it. The Albanians are reported to have won a succession of victories from the coast to the interior. The Albanian operations against Krushova and Ochrida are progressing successfully.

Forty thousand revolutionary Macedonian Bulgars are co-operating with 20,000 Albanians against the Serbs in Macedonia. The Serbian troops have been forced to leave Monastir, where the authorities are forming volunteer corps for the defence of the city and the protection of Albanian and Turkish citizens. Singularly, encounters mark the fighting around Prizrend, where the situation is critical.

TWO BOYS ARRESTED.

Two youths of the tender age were placed under arrest by the police of Cowan street yesterday, charged with breaking into a grocery store at 124 West Queen street Sunday night, and stealing a quantity of biscuits, candies and other articles. Entrance was made thru the back window.

FULLER DENIES KNOWLEDGE OF MRS. SULZER'S INTEREST

Head of New York Brokerage House Details the Government's Various Stock Transactions—Long Series of Borrowings on Securities Deposited With Firm.

ALBANY, N.Y., Sept. 30.—(Can. Press.)—Evidence that Governor Sulzer's stock transactions with the New York brokerage firm of Harris & Fuller were for the account of Mrs. Sulzer was today disclosed at the trial of his impeachment. The articles of impeachment charge that the governor made use of some of his private contributions in these transactions.

Melville B. Fuller, head of the firm, said that the governor had told him that Mrs. Sulzer had a loan with the law firm of Harris & Fuller, and that in order to take up the loan for which he had given his note he had deposited securities belonging to Mrs. Sulzer with Harris & Fuller, and borrowed thereon with which to pay the

The governor's account with Harris & Fuller showed a long series of borrowings on securities brought to the firm by Mrs. Sulzer, but also the purchase and sale of securities by the firm on the account of the deposit by Sulzer of cash payables to the governor in response to the calls of the account began in June, 1910, when

CHARGES AGAINST PRISON OFFICIALS

Commission Now Hearing Evidence in the Kingston Penitentiary Matter.

O'LEARY AND PHELAN

Deputy Warden and Surgeon Specifically Named—Russell Present to Testify.

KINGSTON, Sept. 30.—(Special.)—The prison reform commission, appointed by the government to enquire into the management of Kingston Penitentiary, opened today, with serious charges preferred against two of the officials by the justice department thru Dr. J. W. Edwards, M.P. for Frontenac.

Stewart, K.C. Brockville, appeared before the commission on behalf of the justice department, and presented charges of political partiality; with testifying falsely at investigation held at the prison; with consulting with ex-prisoners; with using violent and obscene language to a guard in the presence of others; with conniving at the absence of a guard at an election trial, where an inmate was wanted as a material witness; with grafting by asking for and receiving money from guards to which he had no just or honest claim, etc.

Personal of Commission. The commission is composed of G. F. Macdonnell, K.C. Kingston; Dr. Frederick Etherington, Kingston; J. Downey, Orillia.

Mr. Stewart asked that former Accountant W. F. Hughes, now an inspector of prisons, be summoned as a witness, and as he is in the west, it will be some time before his evidence is taken. Hughes will be subpoenaed.

Thomas Clarkson Gordon, Russell, M.A., B.Sc., Toronto, ex-convict and lawyer, who made charges against the penitentiary management in the Orange Sentinel, is present, having been summoned as a witness. He says he is willing to tell all he knows about the management, and he is anxious to name some men in the penitentiary to give evidence.

Dr. Platt on the stand. Dr. Platt, warden of the penitentiary, was questioned as to the working system at the prison, and the classification of inmates. He was warden from May 1899, till March 3, 1912.

The commissioners spent three hours in the afternoon in the examination of Dr. Platt's examination, and when the commission opens again tomorrow, Dr. Platt's examination will be resumed.

SPAIN'S DELUGED TORRENTIAL RAINS

Inhabitants Are Forced to Take Refuge in Tree Tops.

MADRID, Sept. 30.—(Can. Press.)—Torrential rains are falling throughout Spain. Great damage to crops and property is reported, and streets and telegraph lines have been destroyed in places, rendering communication difficult. Urgent appeals for aid have been made from the interior provinces. At Barcelona the flood carried away a carriage with two children, who were drowned. In each section the rains have destroyed by fire yesterday, and the ruins were flooded today, and the water having risen ten feet in two hours.

The rivers Noya and Lobregat are swollen to a height of 25 feet. The inhabitants of those districts are in tree tops and house tops awaiting the arrival of boats which have been sent to the scene.

BAPTIST MISSION FUND INCREASES

BANQUET LAST NIGHT

Newton W. Rowell and Murray Williams of New York Spoke.

"To have more than attained the standard of $200,000, set five years ago, we must raise the standard," was the message given to the interprovincial convention of Baptist laymen at McMaster University, and Jarvis street church yesterday. Several hundred leading members of this denomination were present.

At the opening meeting at McMaster in the afternoon a reorganization was effected to enlarge the laymen movement for missions. James Ryer accepted the chairmanship of the interprovincial committee. W. C. Senter acceded to a request that he become general secretary, devoting his whole time to the work. E. B. Fellard was elected treasurer.

A banquet was served in the spacious parlors of Jarvis street church in the evening. S. J. Moore presided. N. W. Rowell extended greetings from the Canadian council. Murray Williams, Newton W. Rowell, Henry Bond, Balthasar V. and Geo. Nines, Philadelphia, addressed the convention.

A business session will be held at Jarvis street church this morning. Many of the delegates will attend the interdenominational missionary luncheon at St. James' parish house at 1 o'clock, and the conference which it precedes.

DICKENSON FOUND GUILTY BY JURY

Mercy Recommended for Man Who Caused Lucy Ives' Death.

James Dickenson was found guilty in the court of criminal assizes by a jury yesterday afternoon of manslaughter in connection with the death of Lucy Ives in the kitchen of Smith's Hotel at Queen and Simcoe streets on the morning of August 27. The jury added a strong recommendation for mercy. Dickenson will be sentenced today.

The evidence showed that a trifling argument had arisen over the question of putting ice in a refrigerator in the kitchen and the woman called Dickenson names and slapped him on the face three or four times. The blow which caused her death.

Medical men testified that any blow on the head might result in the neck being struck in a certain manner with the open hand, as the prisoner said he struck Lucy Ives, would be sufficient to cause death. In this manner Mr. Robinette showed that a blow might be struck in play or given as a slight rebuke with no intention of causing serious results.

MANY WOMEN AT BIG CONVENTION

They Meet in King Edward, While Men Invade Massey Hall.

CHAIRMAN PRESENTED

At Initial Session. Yesterday Afternoon—Much Routine Business Transacted.

Representative of many quarters of the world is the big convention of the Disciples of Christ now in progress in Toronto. When the congress opened yesterday afternoon about fifteen hundred delegates were present, and others are expected to arrive today until the full complement of the three thousand expected will be in the city.

Even while laborers worked in the interior of Massey Hall, men and women with suit cases and satchels were standing about the entrance of the hall, evidencing that this is the Mecca, the recognized headquarters, where all information will be given and all doubts set at rest in the mind of the newcomer, who has not yet found his bearings in his strange surroundings.

The delegates hail from the United States and west states, from the east and south, from the western provinces of Canada and Ontario, from Africa, Japan, China, England, the West Indies and Islands of the Pacific.

Devotional exercises, conducted by Mr. J. E. Poindax, and a song service led by Prof. Hackelmann, were preliminary to the business of the opening meeting. Judge F. A. Henry of Cleveland, Ohio, was introduced to the audience by Mr. W. F. Richardson of Kansas City to take the office of moderator and the gathering then devoted itself to the routine of the introduction of resolutions and filling vacancies on the program.

A motion of many clauses was brought forward for the purpose of allaying fears that seem to have arisen in some quarters regarding the attitude of the convention in its relation to religious and co-operative bodies. The gist of the resolution was that the convention now in session makes little claim to speak authoritatively to any of the component parts that make up its unit, freedom being allowed largely on all sides.

Some Authority Needed.

Some discussion arose on this point and one of the speakers reminded the meeting that some years ago there had been a controversy as to whether different elements would be brought in to union. It seemed to him that there should be authority some at present, on motion of Dr. Garrison, was deferred for consideration and perhaps rearrangement by a committee of five, to which another name later was added.

This conference promises to differ from its predecessors on the matter of the vote. Heretofore the consensus of opinion was not, however, unanimous that only accredited delegates now have the right to vote.

Many Women Take Part.

A large number of women are a part of the convention. A banquet yesterday was held in the banquet hall of the King Edward. Like their men associates, they are from many quarters. Prominent members are Mrs. Cornelius, from the maritime provinces, and Miss Lyons of Ohio, who, as she states, represents seven thousand of the women of her country. A fund of over a million dollars is part of the assets of the Disciples, and they have erected ninety-four churches at a cost of $135,470 in the cause of extension during the year. Since the institution of the permanent fund for this purpose, established 25 years ago, 1628 church buildings have been erected in Canada, the United States and the Hawaiian Islands.

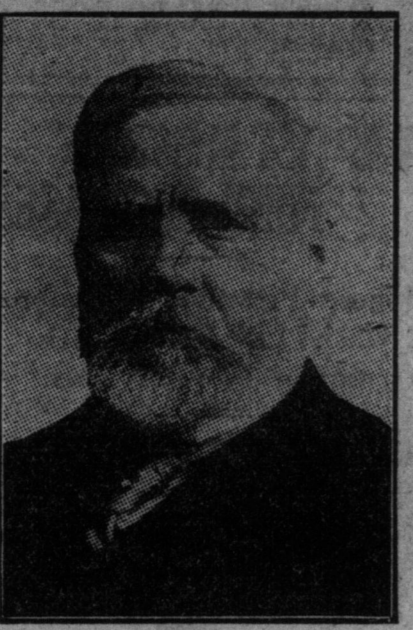

Eleven different co-operative interests, educative, temperance and the rest, are represented in the organization in the United States, five centers are engaged in looking after the interests of immigrants from Europe. Here instruction is given in the languages of the country. Rest rooms and bath rooms are provided in each building. In the matter of providing places of worship one woman has become so interested that she has promised to build thirty churches and chapels in Tibet.

The Evening Session.

At the evening meeting of the Disciples the ground floor and first gallery of Massey Hall were filled with delegates, who listened to a series of welcome from civic and ministerial representatives, and in turn voiced their appreciation of the cordial reception given them for the purpose.

The introductory service of praise was led by Mr. C. J. Tanner. In the later musical selections W. E. M. Hackelmann was leader.

Mayor Hocken, on behalf of the city, welcomed the delegates in what one of the audience termed a "beautiful address," and Rev. John Neill, D.D., gave welcome for himself and his conferees in the ministry.

Amos Lovell, president of the Ontario board of co-operation, referred to the reception that had already been given the convention by the different business, civic and religious bodies. To these he added his cordial greetings and wishing the gathering every success, together with the hope that they would have nothing but happy memories of Toronto. The duty of replying to the different speakers fell to Mr. Wallace Sharp. He referred to Toronto as among the foremost cities in the world. This he could say from experience because he had seen many of them. The problems that this city had to deal with were, he knew, very similar to those they had to deal with in his home. He promised co-operation in working them out and hoped that something might be added because they had been its happy honored guests. Mr. Sharp made a plea for one "beautiful, unanimous union of hearts." He added it is now an absorbing passion with us that of seeking a common denominator by which all may be reduced to one common standard.

President's Address.

The president's address was given by Hon. F. A. Henry. It was fitting he said that the close of the century of peace should be honored by the entry of the army of the Prince of Peace into the land of Our Lady of the Snows. He confessed that he and those for whom he spoke had been unable to withstand the welcome as the president of the convention. He consulted with one another about the coming kingdom, but it was better that we separate now than establish a new ecclesiasticism. Anything we may counsel here will not be compulsory, but advisable.

He admonished that there should be no dissension about the question of delegate or mass representation. If ever there was a time for war, there was no doubt that this was the time for peace. They should not boast of their members or progress but rather feel humbled because in their hundred years of work they had not won the world to their plea.

It was announced that Mr. Lloyd George had intended to be present, but a letter announcing his inability to come on account of the land campaign upon which he had been started, had been received.

The presidents of two different societies were introduced before the close. The men's banquet takes place this evening.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING

BY HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL DOMESTIC SCIENCE LECTURER

Mackerel

MACKEREL is excellent fish; its strong, sharp flavor is something of an appetizer and no matter how you prepare it for the table, it is sure to be relished.

At certain seasons of the year it abounds on our sea coast, for it is a migratory fish and travels thru many waters. The tunny of the Mediterranean and the southwest coast of the United States is a member of the mackerel family.

During the mackerel season a couple of men with lines baited with bits of scarlet cloth and pieces of bright metal and well weighted down will catch a thousand fish a day. It is a wonderfully beautiful sight to see a line of fishing sloops making the most of a "mackerel breeze," as a strong, fresh wind is called, and handling long lines of fishing nets filled with blue and black striped fish beautifully.

Fresh mackerel are considered injurious if eaten out of season, but the salted article is good every day in the year, and is extra fine on Sunday morning.

Soak the salt mackerel in fresh cold water over night. Sticks should be slipped beneath the fish, as it lies soaking, to let the water circulate all about it. In almost all New England kitchens you will find two hardwood blocks that are used just for this purpose, year after year.

In the morning broil the fish over hot coals or place in a frying pan with two tablespoons of butter. Cover and cook 15 minutes. Serve on a hot dish with the butter poured over the fish. Buttered toast, zwieback, heated and dipped in cream, or steamed rice should be served also.

Mackerel is prime this month and the first of November will bring little kegs of the new catch in fresh brine, into all our stores.

Salmon, shad, white fish and herring are all excellent eating when salted, but are more frequently cured with smoke. Smoked sturgeon is considered the finest of the smoked fishes. Abroad it is called rolf fish, and every one caught in English rivers belongs to the King, except those taken in the Thames below Temple Bar, which are the property of the lord mayor.

There is nothing that makes a more satisfactory night lunch for late home-comers than a little smoked fish, wafers or thin crackers and a small piece of cheese. For fish is digested much more easily than meat, and smoked fish easiest of all.

PERMITS ARE GRANTED

For Marriage of Non-Residents Who Apply to Registrar General.

The effects of the new marriage act authorized by the Ontario Government during the last session are now becoming apparent in the provincial towns, where miniature Gretia Greens had sprung into existence, the annual record of marriages has decreased by one-third, and this before the first year of operation has run out. That such a decrease should follow is considered as a distinct success by the provincial board of health, inasmuch as the abnormal rate of license required formerly was known to be productive of evil in several ways.

Several of these were pointed out by the Ontario board of health, and the complaint of certain Toronto ministers concerning the working out of the act has been before the board since the records since the new legislation has been enforced. All that is required in such an event is an application for special permit from the registrar-general, in all which are bona fide the privilege will be forthcoming.

Dr. J. W. S. McCullough points out, however, that this clause was entirely misunderstood by the complainants. The instance that a man coming from the west to meet his bride-to-be in an Ontario town or city was very easily arranged by the department. In fact, many such cases have been met by the registrar-general, and the board is bona fide the privilege will be forthcoming.

"We invariably issue permits in such cases," said Dr. McCullough, in giving the instance of a man who would come down from Winnipeg to be married in Toronto. "No bona fide applications have yet been refused."

The proposition is largely one which faces the issue of the license. His duty is to make certain that the regulations have been faithfully carried out before his part of the ceremony is performed. Under exceptional circumstances he seeks the authority of the board for the issuing of a license. It is in this way that the reform of border town conditions has come about.

No Attempts at Evasion.

There have not yet appeared before the board any serious attempts at evasion altho several American parties have come to inland places with the object of marriage in view. In fact, the board has been very busy in the past few days, during the Exhibition time, a large number of such requests came to the department for the issue of a license.

The aim of the act is acknowledged to be the retention of the solemnity of the nuptial vows, and any case where no outward secrecy is desired receives the sanction of the registrar-general. A rather fashionable marriage which took place recently in this city, uniting parties from England and Canada, bears witness to the fair dealing of the government in this regard.

THE GARDEN

CONDUCTED BY RACHEL R. TODD M.D.

Pruning Shrubs.

A number of our readers are very anxious concerning the long shoots and trailers that have grown again on their various shrubs and vines, so we will first settle the question once for all.

The lilacs, especially the Persian varieties, need constant watching in this respect. Do not forget that your spring bloom will appear on these long slim green young heads, and side shoots, but not on the suckers (which should always be removed) that appear from the base roots. Your lilac may be slipped down and the side shoots, but not on the suckers, during the summer.

These same rules will apply in general for most of our common shrubs: Lilacs, syringas, wigelias should have their tops systematically rounded off. Japanese cydonias, that lovely bush with waxy leaves and blood-red blossoms should be encouraged to throw up basal shoots until your bush contains from 10 to 20 good strong canes. This may take some seasons because Japanese cydonia is a slow grower, but one of the most satisfactory of shrubs, once well-rooted and clipped thus. The long, pale green, spotted over-hanging trailers, drooping to the ground, having stored themselves with flower-producing energy since early spring, will have a golden shower of misty, yellow, bloom from early March. Leave these long trailers on then, and after the bloom has quite gone next spring, cut off any of the old third-year wood that may appear to be crowding the bush. These are useless, and need an immediate disposal with the pruning saw.

Prune your grape-vines this fall, after the fruit has been removed. It is a mistake and often a fatal one, to prune your grape vine in the spring, for even a branch accidentally broken, will commence "bleeding." This means that the sap has started from the roots only to be wasted by the break. Indeed, wherever the small-leaved break appears the drip-drip of the sap begins—the very life of the vine.

Often quite impossible to stop this terrible bleeding, you may stand helplessly by and watch the glittering white drops ooze in a slow but determined and remorseless drip until even a little pool lies on the ground.

Do not prune your grape vines in the spring.

SOME ARTICLES OF DIET

No matter how far we wander in the realms of "mental activity," "habit training" and the like, letters on diet invariably bring us back to that all important subject.

Eggs should be given boiled, coarsely, dropped in water, and children over two and one-half years may eat hard-boiled eggs. If the egg is not liked, give a teaspoonful each morning until they are used to it, then gradually increase to larger amounts.

Soups are not an important article of food, and most diets are made indigestible. Clear broths and beef tea are mostly water and are given only to vary the diet, stimulate the appetite and act as a vehicle for bread and crackers may be eaten.

Desserts are not given until the second year. Then they should be simple puddings sweetened, such as bread puddings, rice pudding, blanc mangle, gelatin puddings, farina, rice cream, soft and hard custards, sponge cake and lady-fingers (dry or with whipped cream), angel cake, sweetened crackers and fruits (raw or cooked). No other cake or pastry is allowed until after the child is twelve years old. The usual pastry, rich cake and cookies are ruinous to the digestion.

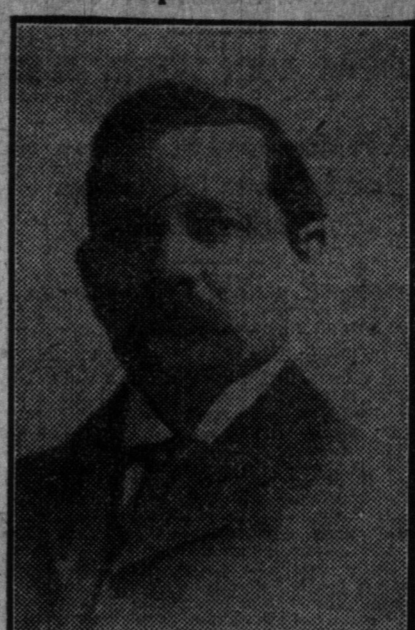

Children seem to crave sweets, but I am not one of those who believe that this craving is normal and should be catered to. More indigestion and ill health is caused among children by eating sweets than by any other one article of diet. Candy may, however, be allowed after the second year once or twice a week, and well manufactured after dinner, provided the dessert has not been sweet.

But fruits, either cooked or uncooked, make good desserts. Bananas are the only fruit I exclude from the diet. Under two years, fruits, such as apples, pears and peaches, should be scraped with a spoon. Berries should not be allowed until the latter part of the second year. Uncooked fruits, if mashed or scraped and well manufactured, are as digestible as cooked fruits. Cooked fruits must not be sweetened too much.

Ornams at 25 Cents a Week.

From $15 to $50 is the price quoted by the old firm of Heintzman and Co., Limited, 193-195-197 Yonge street, for an organ of well-known makers. Payments of from 25 to 50 cents a week will buy one.

New Marriage Act Not to Be Harshly Construed, Says McCullough.

THE RED STREAK

Basil Thorn, the hero of Wilmot Kaye's "The Red Streak," learns from his father that he inherits a temper that is liable to become uncontrollable at any moment, and that murder may ensue. Indeed, there has been more than one murder in the Thorn family, and the father has no more than made this portentous announcement to his son than he himself, suddenly goes off into a frenzy, kills a man and dies in prison before he can be tried. Sir Basil (for the son has fallen heir to his father's title), breaks off his engagement, loses all his money and goes to Africa billeting in the Colonial service. The red streak is forever showing itself, and above all finds a nice girl who says she does not care anything about the red streak, and the book ends in the old way of living happily forever after.

THE YOKES OF PITY

By JULIEN BENDA

THE YOKES OF PITY

Julien Benda, in his "L'Ordination" illustrates what he believes to be certain truths about the soul. The principal character having found sufficient strength of egoism to break liaison with an exceptionally loving woman, of a class lower than his own, has the misfortune to stultify the highest power of his intellect by rendering to the pity evoked by the spectacle of his suffering child. The novel shows a keen insight into the pathos of a woman's love. "The Madeleine of L'Ordination" makes a strong appeal to the heart. The book will be commended for its intensity of utterance and for its rapid action.

THE NEW DAWN

By AGNES LAUT

THE NEW DAWN

Agnes Laut has entered a new field for her in this narrative, and the result of the entry is a most successful one. The characters present a strong man who allows nothing to stand between him and business success. He becomes more powerful than even he ever dreamed. To him the joys and loves of life mean nothing. He neglects his wife and his home. His wife, a beautiful woman of the period, seeks happiness apart from her husband. His utter disregard of business, moral law of life. A young friend, a girl artist, rescues her, and she awakens to find her true self. It is a story of spiritual awakening, and the dawn brings great peace and calm and rest. To the man is brought a new vision; to the woman it brought love. To both it brought that peace and joy that passeth understanding.

BOOK REVIEWS

BY CHESTER FIELD

PELLE, THE CONQUEROR.

Andersen Next, the Dane, has given us an interesting biographical novel with the above title. It is not unlike Sudermann's masterpiece "Frau Sorge." Both novels take boy life for their subject, and a farm for their setting. "Pelle the Conqueror," shows us the life of a poverty stricken boy, records its daily incidents, and does it as only a man who himself has tasted poverty, can. In imaginative power, too, the work of the Dane is almost equal to that of his great German contemporary.

TRAILS AND TRAMPS

"Trails and Tramps in Newfoundland and Alaska," is the title of William Thomas' new book, published by Putnam of London. Much of the narrative is concerned with big game and its pursuits in widely separated areas. Its most delightful impression is given by its comprehensive study of wild animals in their native haunts and by its splendid collection of illustrations. The pictures of birds, especially are both exquisite and rare. The book is all the more worthy because it deals principally with the living, and is full of wild, pulsating interest. The author's study is enhanced by the swiftness of the harsh face of the earth to a warm paradise teeming with blazing flowers. Here the lupines, anemones, calypso and orchids, abound. Nature is radiant. It appears overdrawn, but the writer assures us that his pictures are true to life.

The author spent several weeks hunting the great Kodiak bear, and while roaming thru the forests took photographs of many birds, including the bald eagle which flourishes abundantly in the eye tree-tops and the cliffs.

The kind of hunting Mr. Thomas did commands the admiration of the reader—he hunted to save, not to kill. His motto is: "They only know what nature means. Who watch the play behind the scenes."

OLIVIA IN INDIA

"Olivia in India," is one of the best travel books of the season. It is written by O. Douglas, and published by Holder & Stoughton. A young lady goes from England to India, and the book is made up of her letters written back to England on her trip. The book is not brilliant or original, and yet it is attractive. She records her own impressions in a simple way without philosophizing. She gives an intimate account of India and the resident British element that is both convincing and informal. It is India from a woman's point of view, and will commend itself particularly to readers of the gentler sex.

SENATORS

FROM MEMBER OF THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON INTERSTATE COMMERCE.

August 18, 1913.
Dear Mr. Abbot—I am greatly pleased with your "Panama and the Canal in Picture and Prose." It is the most interesting and attractive book on Panama I have ever seen. It contains the complete story from Columbus to the present, and I have no doubt it will be readily recognized as the most useful compilation of facts relating to our Canal interests in Panama now published. Its wealth of illustrations as well as its attractive presentation of related facts make it a very valuable addition to my library. Sincerely yours,
CHARLES E. TOWNSEND.

FROM THE MAJORITY LEADER IN THE HOUSE.

My Dear Mr. Abbot—The book is a graphic presentation of the facts concerning this greatest of all modern contributions to the world's progress and the amity of nations. Your style of treatment makes it as interesting as it is informative, and it will be read both by those who have visited the Canal Zone and those who have that great pleasure yet in view. Sincerely yours,
O. W. UNDERWOOD.

FROM A WELL-KNOWN DEMOCRATIC SENATOR.

August 21, 1913.
My Dear Mr. Abbot—Your book upon Panama is splendidly illustrated and written, and I have enjoyed it very much, besides getting from it a great deal of most valuable information. Very truly yours,
JOHN SHARP WILLIAMS.

FROM CHAIRMAN OF SENATE COMMITTEE ON INDIAN AFFAIRS.

August 12, 1913.
Mr. Abbot's work on "Panama and the Canal" is the most interesting and valuable publication relative to the Isthmian Canal that has ever come to my notice. Its careful preparation is especially evidenced by its completeness of detail. Both as a literary and historical production of great value, and as a model of typographic art, its place in any library ought to be assured. Sincerely yours,
WILLIAM J. STONE.

FROM A WELL-KNOWN OHIO SENATOR.

August 18, 1913.
My Dear Mr. Abbot—"Panama and the Canal in Picture and Prose" is a book that has awakened many a home-sick heart. It is a thing of beauty and a joy forever. The mechanical execution is unsurpassed, and you have made a great contribution to Panama literature. It should be in the hands of everybody, and especially those who are not able to visit the isthmus in person. After reading your splendid descriptions and looking at the fine illustrations no one can fail to have a complete and accurate knowledge of every subject concerning the isthmus and the Canal of any possible interest. Yours very truly,
JNO. W. KERN.

UNIVERSAL ENDORSEMENTS

FROM THE CHAIRMAN OF INTERSTATE COMMERCE HOUSE COMMITTEE.

August 15, 1913.
My Dear Mr. Abbot: I have examined with great pleasure and admiration your exquisite book on Panama. Of all the works relating to that priceless enterprise with which I am acquainted this product of your genius is most excellent and satisfactory. As it is so well written, and contains so much of the most interesting and valuable information, I have no doubt it will be readily recognized as the most useful compilation of facts relating to our Canal interests in Panama now published. Its wealth of illustrations as well as its attractive presentation of related facts make it a very valuable addition to my library. Sincerely yours,
W. C. ADAMSON.

FROM THE WELL-KNOWN WISCONSIN SENATOR.

August 20, 1913.
My Dear Mr. Abbot: I have had opportunity only to glance through "Panama and the Canal" to observe how profoundly and beautifully it is illustrated. Its artistic finish and fascinating literary style combine to make this story of Panama the most attractive and comprehensive I have ever seen. I heartily congratulate you on this picture and prose history of the Isthmus, for the eyes of the world are now centered on this our greatest national endeavor, and as everybody interested in this world-famous enterprise, you have surely given to students and the reading public generally a new beacon light of history with a fascinating descriptive thrill in every page. Cordially yours,
ROBERT M. LA FOLLETTE.

FROM MEMBER OF SENATE COMMITTEE ON INTER-OCEANIC CANALS.

August 15, 1913.
My Dear Mr. Abbot: I shall read "Panama and the Canal in Picture and Prose" with a great deal of pleasure, but the pleasure will be largely enhanced by the fact that as a member of the Committee on Inter-Oceanic Canals I visited the Canal in October, 1911, and the half-tone cuts in the volume recall more vividly than anything else the scenes I visited. Sincerely yours,
C. S. PAGE.

FROM AN ILLINOIS CONGRESSMAN.

August 21, 1913.
My Dear Mr. Abbot: I am delighted with your book "Panama and the Canal in Picture and Prose." It is the most valuable publication on Panama yet issued. You have thoroughly popularized the entire matter. I think I have read everything published on the subject of Panama and the Canal, and in my study of the subjects connected with the Canal I have spent many days on the Isthmus of Panama. Your book appears at a most opportune time. I know of no information of real value on the subject, which is not contained in your book. You have rendered a great service to the world by writing in a charming manner, and you present the intensely interesting history connected with that part of the world as no one else has yet been able to do. I know of no other book of travel appearing in recent years so interesting and valuable as this. Very truly yours,
HENRY T. BARNHART.

FROM AN INDIANA CONGRESSMAN.

August 21, 1913.
My Dear Mr. Abbot: With a great deal of pleasure I have read your new book on Panama. Its artistic finish and fascinating literary style combine to make this story of Panama the most attractive and comprehensive I have ever seen. I heartily congratulate you on this picture and prose history of the Isthmus, for the eyes of the world are now centered on this our greatest national endeavor, and as everybody interested in this world-famous enterprise, you have surely given to students and the reading public generally a new beacon light of history with a fascinating descriptive thrill in every page. Cordially yours,
HENRY T. BARNHART.

FROM A NEW YORK CONGRESSMAN.

August 20, 1913.
My Dear Mr. Abbot: I desire to congratulate you most heartily on your latest book, "Panama and the Canal in Picture and Prose." A book of this kind is usually regarded as a picture book and surely this one is most beautifully illustrated. But your book could be regarded as a picture book if one were to regard it from its letter press alone. I found it packed with information about the most wonderful and about the ruins and the history that tell of Aztec and Toltec days, and the later amazing adventures of Balboa, Cortes and their handful of Spanish conquerors, who mixed their private business of buccannery with an authorized business of exploring. I think this in which you have written is most clear and flowing, and altogether this book by far the best presentation of this much-talked-of subject that I have seen. Sincerely yours,
HENRY GEORGE, JR.

FROM A LOUISIANA SENATOR.

August 25, 1913.
Dear Mr. Abbot—"Panama and the Canal in Picture and Prose" is one of the most thorough works of its kind that has come before me, and on its face it shows the result of untiring efforts on your part. It appears to be remarkably well arranged, and I am sure it contains an exhaustive fund of information. Very sincerely,
JOS. E. RANDELL.

FROM A FLORIDA CONGRESSMAN.

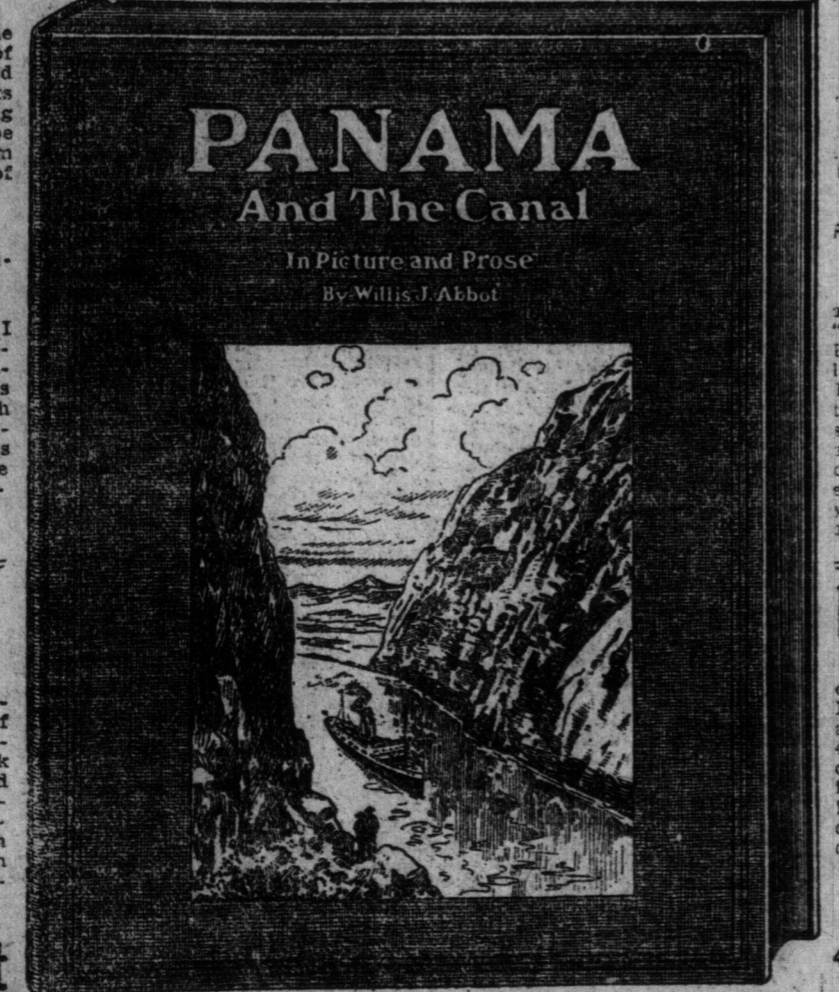

August 22, 1913.
Dear Mr. Abbot—I have looked over your book on Panama and the Panama Canal very carefully, and I consider it the best book on the subject that I have ever seen. The descriptions and illustrations are excellent. I have added it to my library. Yours most truly,
FRANK CLARK.

FROM AN ALABAMA CONGRESSMAN.

August 21, 1913.
My Dear Mr. Abbot—I have just examined your excellent book entitled "Panama and the Canal in Picture and Prose," and I assure you that I am delighted with it from cover to cover. The style and diction are entertaining, the illustrations are beautiful, and the subject-matter is full of instruction and replete with information. This contribution entitles you more than ever to the grateful appreciation of your admirers. With best wishes, I am your friend,
JOHN L. BURNETT.

FROM A PROMINENT REPUBLICAN SENATOR.

August 22, 1913.
My Dear Mr. Abbot—My wife and I spent a most delightful Sunday in going over your magnificent book on Panama. We had visited the isthmus last Christmas and were familiar with the different places, which lent an additional charm to the work. It is about the most "readable" book I have had hold of for a long while. Sincerely yours,
WM. S. KENTON.

Doings of the Disciples

By DR. QUILL.

All of this was, indeed, apostolic Christianity, which shows that there is still a deep spiritual union, when disciples sit at the feet of the Master or follow in supplication before Him. But just as in the experience of the twelve, the brotherhood is likely to bear the strain of divided counsel, so they are likely to translate their faith into work or show their love by their labor. That is, the Peters and Pauls of today do not always pull together.

But we are ahead of our story. Business immediately confronted these disciples as they arose from their prayers. Three men with serious faces had early ascended the platform together to discuss the pilot who can control the contrary winds of this stormy Galilee? One is as tall and supple as a good mast, another is a seaman, cautious and confident, and the other like a joiner the Beloved. After enquiry we take the names in order as Judge F. A. Henry, Cleveland, O., president of the convention; W. F. Richardson, Kansas City, chairman of committee of fifteen; and E. D. Jones, Bloomington, Ill., a leader in the forward movement.

W. F. Richardson starts the ship, freighted with his business, and narrated the history of the launching of this first convention of delegates. He did not give a single sign of anything but a calm and self-confident, and the other like a joiner the Beloved. After enquiry we take the names in order as Judge F. A. Henry, Cleveland, O., president of the convention; W. F. Richardson, Kansas City, chairman of committee of fifteen; and E. D. Jones, Bloomington, Ill., a leader in the forward movement.

Then a voice rang out which had no taint of theories in its sound. He states that he was from Fort Worth, Texas, but when he gave his name as Chalmers McPherson, we were not surprised that the judge dealt with his gently. His explanation was that he wanted to ally feeling. That a motion should be put on the records to make clear that this general convention has no authority over any local or anywhere. He read a resolution to that effect, which was immediately moved by Peter Ainslie, Brooklyn, and seconded by Fred D. Keeler, independent Christian University, Fort Worth, Texas, who are two of the strongest men in the convention.

George Miller, the hard-headed pastor of the Disciple Church of the Capitol Hill, rose to speak in support of such a resolution. He declared that if the new constitution had any meaning, it meant that a committee be appointed to re-edit the phrases in McPherson's resolution. This seemed to immediately seize the mind of the convention. But ere it was declared carried W. H. Book asked who had the right to vote, which was reintroducing a ticklish topic. The judge, however, asked along, "You and everybody else who wishes may vote, unless somebody challenges it. In that event shall rule according to the constitution. If there was a calm and as of old these disciples set to work to mend nets."

In the evening official welcomes were extended to the convention. It was laid on sweet and thick, but none the less sincerely. It meant that how ever much the brotherhood may be at odds among themselves, their hosts do not forget to welcome the new and troublesome fellow. His worship the mayor stood for several minutes on the platform, and his happy words of welcome have given him back all hearts.

We give a few sentences. He said that Toronto is so proud of her beauty and wealth that she wants the whole of American and European commerce and sea-her. And because a Canadian is also an American we feel a common brotherhood. How wonderful this side of the line we cannot but admire what you have done for God and humanity on the other side. Dr. John Nell, who represented the ministerial association of the city, spoke with fine tact and spirit. In referring to union and creed, he declared amid great applause that this much is granted by those who have a creed, "that whether long or short may be old, it must be in harmony and in subordination to the word of God." Mr. Amos Towell, the president of the Canadian board of co-operation in this convention, referred to the very great satisfaction that disciples in Canada feel that after so long a wait, they now see their dream realized of having this convention here. Con- triller Church stated that any body of people who are visiting the city in his hand have his welcome and that of every thinking man. Wallace Thorp, Pittsburg, a cultured and eloquent representative of the brotherhood, responded to the secretary's welcome. "We have received a royal welcome to us here, but you know that we are a royal people, we come to give you help. Probably we have been trying our problems of citizenship upon you, and you have been thus give you counsel as to the manner of tackling them. As to our brothers and sisters here, we are an emboldened and we are the Royal and then whether you are little or large, you will be strong."

The president, Judge Henry, then read his inaugural address. It was a judicial paper, on a judicial question, and was so strong and clear on the questions at issue over the constitution that it will certainly be a historic document. He has given his

WEDNESDAY MORNING, OCT. 1. MUST DO OUR OWN HOUSE CLEANING.

British papers without exception speak of Chairman Drayton with great respect, but they seem to be at a loss to understand what the Dominion Government hoped to accomplish by his mission. The Canadian Gazette of London regards as impracticable the suggestion of an Anglo-Canadian commission to regulate freight rates on the high seas, and we read:

Certainly the proposal is not one in which the co-operation of the British Government is to be anticipated, and it is not to be expected that it will have any effect to the proposal without such co-operation. Equally obvious difficulties in the way of Canadian Government action and Anglo-Canadian Government co-operation beset the further suggestion that a fleet of state vessels should be formed to convey east-bound produce and west-bound merchandise at something less than the ruling rates; while the third proposal, that powers under the three-mile limit of territorial jurisdiction should be exercised in connection with fisheries trading to Canada points, seems at first glance to present even greater administrative and legal difficulties.

For the failure of his impossible mission, Mr. Drayton is not to blame. Nor, perhaps, should we criticize the government for making an attempt, however futile, to remedy the transportation evil. We did think at the time, and we still think, that some other envoy should have been selected, in view of the slow progress being made in the western freight inquiry, by the tribunal over which Mr. Drayton presides. That enquiry has now dragged its slow length along for nearly two years, and will probably accomplish little beyond vindicating the position of those who contend that effective relief can only be obtained thru the action of parliament. In Canada we have arrived at that point where all competition in rates by land or water has been eliminated. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company maintains extortionate and discriminatory rates, and we are seriously told that it is performing a great public service thereby, because its competitors could not compete if the rates were reasonable, and pay interest on their securities. This means that all railway rates in Canada are fixed by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. Again, all the inland shipping of Canada is controlled by one great trust, which must be correlated with the railway companies, because the rate on grain from Port Arthur to Montreal is identical, whether you ship by water, or partly by rail and partly by water. This inland navigation merger is again controlled by one of the leading companies composing the North Atlantic conference, and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is a member of that conference, and the directing genius of a supreme monopoly which levies toll upon the grain of the western farmer from the time it is dumped from his wagon at the railway station, until it is delivered to the British miller at London, Liverpool or Glasgow.

It is with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company that we must deal. That company must be compelled, either to withdraw from the ocean freight rates combine or surrender its franchise as a common carrier in Canada. We should be strong enough thru the railway commission, thru the government, or at any rate, thru parliament, to regulate the titling and tolling of that great corporation on land or water within the confines of our Dominion. To Ottawa, and not to London, the people of Canada look for relief from the unjust burden of extortionate and discriminatory freight rates. But there are a few people who really fear that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is too big and too powerful to be dealt with and disciplined by parliament. Others fear any searching enquiry into the real cause of the transportation hold-ups because they know it means bringing the people face to face with the evil of over-capitalization. They shrink from discussing that evil as though it were something not mentionable to ears polite. No sooner did a number of members of the house who supported Mr. W. F. Maclean, M.P. for South York, in his fight against the inland navigation merger last session, begin to see, and seeking to proclaim, the connection between over-capitalization and higher freight rates, than the attention of the house and the country was diverted to the combine among shippers on the North Atlantic, and Mr. Drayton was subsequently sent to England.

Had the Canadian Pacific Railway Company lived honestly up to its contract with the Government of Canada it would today be distributing among its shareholders not more than $6,500,000 in dividends per year, and all of its assets would be devoted to improving and cheapening the transportation facilities of Canada. But in its last fiscal year the company paid in dividends $10,000,000, carried forward a surplus of over $77,000,000, and is proposing to divert from the enterprise and turn over to shareholders for their personal aggrandizement, lands conveyed by the Dominion in trust to the corporation worth at least a quarter of a billion dollars. The capital stock of the company has expanded from $65,000,000 to $200,000,000. By raising money thru the issue of 10 per cent. stock in lieu of 4 per cent. bonds the fixed charges have been increased by many millions of dollars every year, and thru allotting to shareholders new issues of stock at a price far below the market value it is estimated that $150,000,000 which should have been consecrated to the enterprise, and have become available for making transportation cheaper and better, has been divided among the shareholders as a raise-off.

The company is now or will soon be knocking at the door of the privy council asking permission to issue more 10 per cent. stock in lieu of bonds at 4 per cent. or 5 per cent., so that another million of millions may be divided among the stockholders at the expense of the Canadian people.

The supreme issue has been created whether the Canadian Parliament or the Canadian Pacific rules Canada.

THREE MILES OF ABANDONED ROAD.

It is time the attention of Sir James Whitney and of Dr. Reame, minister of public works, was publicly called to the fact that three miles of the Don road immediately northeast of the city has for all intents and purposes been abandoned for over two years, until such time now that one mile of it, which includes the crossing of the Don River, is highly dangerous.

It should be pointed out that the county, city and legislature voted $800,000 for the construction of good roads in the County of York, and turned over the money into the expenditure thereof to a highways commission, of which Mr. Lionel Clark is chairman. This commission constructed the upper end of three and a half miles of the Don road, and it is now much used and gives satisfaction to the farmers; but the three miles nearest the city has been absolutely neglected since the commission took office. Not a hole has been filled in unless the neighbors have done it; a plank or culvert is left with the plank standing upright on Thorncliffe Hill; the gravel has been washed away; accidents happen daily. One mile of it is so bad that a tragedy may result any dark night in connection with motor travel.

The highways commission, thru Engineer James, says: (1) that they have no money to go on with the work; and (2) that the contractor is suing them for damages, and until he withdraws they will do nothing. The township council of York say that they turned over their responsibility to the county, who assumed the road and passed it on to the highways commission. The county council meets twice in the year, and it seems to be indifferent to the situation.

How would it do if Sir James asked the eminent road commission that he recently created to look into this situation, and to make him a report. And perhaps Dr. Reame might take a trip out some dark night and test things; but The World would not advise Sir James to lend Dr. Reame his new and softly-cushioned automobile for the purpose. It might never get back.

P.S.—Since the above article was put in type the destruction of a $5,000 limousine on this road last night has supplied a part of our production.

U. S. PARCEL POST.

Reduction of rates and extension of the weight limit have been following by a phenomenal expansion of the United States parcel post system. In New York City it is stated that the mails are daily as heavy as during the usual Christmas season. Not only has the introduction of the parcel post added directly to the quantity of mail matter carried, but it appears to have noticeably stimulated general correspondence. As a result a surplus for the current fiscal year is confidently predicted by United States postal officials, and Postmaster-General Burleson.

HOW DOES MME. LABADIE PRESENT PLAYS?

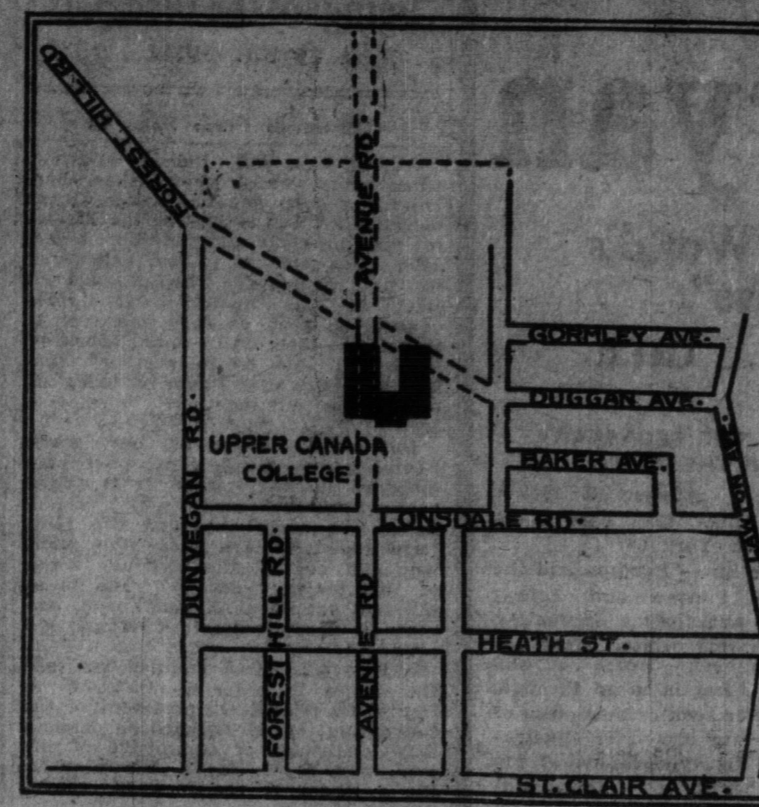

To describe the outward visible means by which an artistic effect is achieved in the details that together make the perfect result is not to give any definite conception of the achievement in art that is inspired by the soul and mind of the interpreter of that art. To enjoy the art and understand the genius of the artist, the "finished product" must be seen and heard.

Applying the definition of art to dramatic interpretation, then to enjoy and understand the art of Mme. Labadie requires that we see and hear her presentations in the art of the stage. As the mastery of style in the construction of language gives literary distinction to the writer, so does the development of form in presentation give distinction to the dramatic interpreter.

"Art is the expression of that power in man which he creates for his aesthetic and intellectual pleasure."

Underrating Him. "My dear boy, I happen to know you mortgaged your house and lot in order to buy that motor car. How are you managing to keep it in repair?" "No trouble about that. I give an occasional mortgage on some bit of personal property. From the way you talk, Uncle Henry, one would think I hadn't any business capacity at all!"—Chicago Tribune.

ANOTHER DIAGONAL IN SIGHT

The sale of Upper Canada College enables the city to get another diagonal road without any great cost. If the council file a plan therefor prior to approving the subdivision of the college block of 50 acres, it will bring Forest Hill road over to Yonge street by way of a diagonal street thru the college block, as set out in the map. Lawson avenue would have to be widened and a plan filed for widening Forest Hill road.

son is reported to have further changes and developments in view, which will make an annual surplus a certainty.

From all parts of the United States a remarkable increase in postal business is reported and the offices have had to add to their staffs in corresponding degree. In consequence complaints have been made that the orderly course of other classes of mail has been interrupted. These, however, are largely confined to a few localities where the available accommodation proved insufficient to meet the public need. In the cities the difficulties have been satisfactorily overcome, but it is evident that the authorities, undeterred by the influx of business in making their preliminary arrangements. One of the main factors, is that the parcel post in the United States has been a magnificent success.

"SOME TORY MYSTERIA."

Ottawa Free Press, Sept. 25, 1913: Of course it is very interesting to watch the spirited attacks which are just now being made by a number of Ontario Conservative newspapers upon Sir James Whitney. But one cannot help being amused at the first into which some of these organs of public opinion have worked themselves. If we believed The Kingston Standard, The Toronto Telegram, The Toronto Orange Sentinel and others, we must come to the conclusion that the very foundations of Canadian liberty are being undermined by this monster Whitney, and that he is contemplating bringing the whole fabric of state toppling about our ears.

But we really cannot, the quite insinuated that way, yet understand how Sir James Whitney's action in permitting, in a few special circumstances, a few French children in a few French districts in this province to be taught their first school lessons in the language learned at their mother's knee, is going to appreciably affect either the rights of the public school system of English-speaking Ontario.

Whitney are making themselves ridiculous. They are suffering from hysteria with a hydrophobic expression. In The Toronto Telegram and The Orange Sentinel such outbreaks are no surprise, because those newspapers are chronic sufferers from "nerves." But when such ordinarily sane writers as the gentleman who edits The Kingston Standard, gets an attack, we find ourselves wondering what brought it on.

We would suggest a couple of weeks in a sanitarium. At the end of that time he may realize that the so-called concessions which Sir James Whitney has made to the French-Canadian people of Ontario are utterly worthless. For the reason that Sir James has reserved to himself the right of playing the trump card thru his officials, and those who know Sir James will be quite sure that he will play it whenever it is required to capture the trick.

U. S. PARCEL POST.

Reduction of rates and extension of the weight limit have been following by a phenomenal expansion of the United States parcel post system. In New York City it is stated that the mails are daily as heavy as during the usual Christmas season. Not only has the introduction of the parcel post added directly to the quantity of mail matter carried, but it appears to have noticeably stimulated general correspondence. he was content to rely when he made the agreement in question. W. C. Ferrier remains liable for the agreement. He could only be relieved by something amounting to a novation. This is not established. Judgment will therefore be given for the plaintiff. W. C. Ferrier for amount due, with costs, and the action as to the company will be dismissed without costs.

Action by contractors of Welland against defendants, a Hamilton company, for $100,000 damages, alleged to have been caused by them by reason of non-delivery of steel to complete their contract and for loss on other contracts, etc. Defendants counter claimed for $23,175 moneys paid on plaintiffs account in connection with completion of said contract. Judgment: A hearing on all questions in issue between plaintiff and defendant was disposed of except that relating to liability of defendants owing to delay in supply of steel necessary for the construction work. After considering matter very carefully I can see no reason for discrediting the evidence given on behalf of the third party, showing the delay in the furnishing of the steel is to be attributed to the action of Mr. Dick. In the light of this evidence I do not think plaintiff can recover. If the case should go further, I have difficulty in event of my being held in error I now assess plaintiffs damages at $1000. Action dismissed with costs and judgment for defendants against plaintiff on counter claim. $15,701.14 and interest from time of payment (to be computed on security judgment) and costs of counter claim and reserving to defendants leave to apply with respect to any sums they may be compelled to pay in respect of their property from mechanics' liens.

SOMETHING MUST BE DONE AT ONCE FOR THE PUPILS

Don Road Muddle is Serious and Highway is Very Dangerous.

York Radial Will Accommodate Scholars at Newmarket High School.

The highways commission met yesterday and decided to try and do something with the three miles of the Don road near the city, a mile of which is in dangerous condition.

Arrangements have now been made by the Toronto and York Radial Railway Company to accommodate the high school pupils at Newmarket by providing a train northbound car until 3:15. This enables nearly all the pupils from the north to get home right away.

The consideration shown by the company in this matter has been very appreciated by the pupils and their parents, who have all thanked The World for calling attention to the matter in the first instance.

On Friday evening the North York Poultry Association will hold their annual meeting for the election of officers.

St. Paul's Cricket Club will meet in the Sunday school tonight at 8 o'clock. Applications to the C. and M. League will be discussed and there is a good deal of general business to be transacted.

As the new well which has been sunk to augment the supply of water has resulted in an additional 20,000 gallons per day, all danger of a water famine is past, and to make this more certain, the council has decided to sink another well about 235 feet distant from the present one.

St. John's Church, West Toronto, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday evening, when Rev. T. B. Leavelle officiated. The bride, Miss Edna Elliott, was given away by Mr. G. W. Malone, who was traveling gown of navy blue silk and wore black silk crepe. Mr. Newlove, assisted by Mrs. Newlove, officiated. The ceremony was held at 11 Margueretta street after Oct. 15.

BY-ELECTION MAY HAPPEN IN PEEL

Sam Charters, M.L.A., May Succeed Late Mr. Johnston as Registrar.

PROBABLE CANDIDATES

James Heathy Gets Bail on Two Thousand Bond—Brampton News.

James Heathy, who was arrested last week on a serious charge and sent up for trial at the fall session in Brampton, Ont., on Saturday, has been released on $2000 bail. It is thought that the local authorities could not accept bail, but that the provincial authorities, three of whom were given two $500 and $4000 by himself.

Samuel Charters is mentioned in reference to the Registrar's vacancy, caused by the resignation of Robert Johnston. In all probability Charters will be the new Registrar for the County of Peel, and would be a most popular appointment with both Liberals and Conservatives. A Conservative caucus was held yesterday morning at Charters' residence, and it was decided to accept the position, which would be ratified by a meeting of the different representatives from the county within the next month.

Several names are being mentioned as nominees for the Conservative party to the event of a bye-election in Peel. The names so far mentioned are: Jan. R. Falls of Brampton; Thos. Duffin, mayor of Brampton; and Major Tom Kennedy of Coakville.

The Young People's Guild of the Presbyterian church held a rally meeting last night at which Rev. F. Robinson of Toronto gave an illustrated lecture on "The Problems of the City." The program consisted of musical numbers and illustrated songs. The guild have decided to purchase a lantern for use in young people's work.

The Rowthorpe League of Grace church last night held a social evening. Richard Blain, M.P., gave an excellent address on the subject of "The City." The opening of Mill street, which has caused a great deal of annoyance to the town council thru the obstruction of Albert Liddell in refusing to accept their terms, has been put to a board of arbitration. The town has offered to offer to remove the barn on the property, and to purchase both sides of the road. Mr. Liddell demands $1000. It is hardly likely he will get what he asks as the property is not worth it.

LEASIDE. The Canada Wire and Cable Co. have commenced work on their new factory at Leaside. About 30 carloads of timber, cement and other contractor's material is lying at Leaside junction and rapidly being teamed to the factory site.

The C. P. R. has begun construction on a siding three-quarters of a mile long, from the east end of Leaside yard, to the factory. Two work trains are busy on it.

MOORE PARK. Fifty houses are now under construction in Deer Park district, the majority of them being north of St. Clair avenue. Street lighting will be installed immediately, including good lights on the Moore Park bridge, which is now being repaved. Commissioner Harris has the matter of sewerage under consideration and cement sidewalks are being rapidly laid down and when some arrangements have been made for an extension of the street car service, Moore Park will be as desirable a residential district as any in the city.

DANFORTH AVENUE. It is reported that Rev. Father Chene of Ottawa will be pastor of the Catholic Church at the corner of Danforth and Carlaw avenue, and that he will take up his duties about the middle of October.

DEATH OF GUELPH LADY. GUELPH, Sept. 30.—(Special)—Mrs. Dunbar, wife of S. A. Dunbar, barrister, Calgary, and daughter of Dr. Angus MacKinnon, Guelph, died last night at 11:15 p.m. She was 65 years of age. She was a devoted mother and a most successful business woman. She was survived by her husband, who is on his way here from Calgary, she leaves five little children to mourn her loss.

HIGH SCHOOL RUGBY LEAGUE OFF AGAIN

Parkdale and Harbord Win the Opening Games—Practices and Gossip.

The interscholastic Rugby League got under way again yesterday, after a year of idleness, when two games were played. Harbord defeated Technical in a exciting game at Willowdale Park by 11 to 0.

At St. Michael's College grounds the strong Parkdale outfit, victory over St. Michael's squad into camp to the tune of 15 to 1. The Parkdale backs were in great battle, but Parkdale's backfield were the victors and the story. A. W. Dunlop referee.

Balm Beach practice tonight at Scarborough Beach at 6 o'clock.

Central Y. squad will meet at the gym tonight at 8 o'clock. Practice at Normal school ground Thursday morning 5 o'clock.

Argonauts had another rattling good workout against the intermediates last night and the full squad of the seniors were on hand. The seniors were in the middle wing, and shaped up well. The seniors will take the match for a practice game tonight.

Varsity had a full turnout for the night's study against the seniors. It was one of the most useful works of the season. The seniors were in the middle, and is right down to quarter and back. The seniors were in the middle of the seniors. The seniors were in the middle of the seniors.

Says The Varsity: Our outlook for the season of 1913 is one of the brightest in the history of the blue and white. The seniors were in the middle of the seniors. The seniors were in the middle of the seniors.

The new men that are attracting considerable comment are: Carr of last year's Hamilton Aletas, sterling back, showing exceptional dodging ability, and is right down to quarter and back. The seniors were in the middle of the seniors.

Then with such old-timers as Frank Knight, Buck Pearce, Lou Coy, Frank Gage, Bobby Sinclair, Clarkson, Lorimer, Knox, Brown and Nicholson, the followers of the blue and white should indeed feel confident.

Irving, a wing man with the Tiger intermediates, was out with Balm Beach last night.

Capital Junior O. R. F. U. team practice at Aura Lecky tonight against T. R. & A. A. at 6 o'clock. The seniors were in the middle of the seniors.

This is the way The Varsity does out the line-up. This is not official but we may publish it to show the strength of the team.

Backs: Maynard, Carr, Lindsay; quarter, Peter Candry; center, Black, Brown, Storms; inside, Black, Frank Knight, Lou Coy; middle wings, Buck Pearce, George Gage; outside wings, Reumo and Sheehy; scrum: flying, Clarkson; line: Brown, Sinclair, Lorimer, Knox, Mackenzie, Taylor, Nicholson and Clarkson.

Manager Bob Grass of the Old Boys team has secured the following talent for the Saturday game: Billie, Hugh Duncanson, Rusty Bell, Jimmy Bell, Art Mull, Heather, Dr. Frank Parker, Chas. Tomson, Coyrell and Mike Kennedy.

The Ottawas are this year garbed in new suits and they think they will present the best appearance in the league. Light garnet jerseys in the league. College type are worn with molehairs and cane. The seniors were in the middle of the seniors.

Says an Ottawa colleague: The arrival of Martin Hill and Aid Black on the scene last night at the Ottawa practice was a joy to the hearts of the local Rugby fans, who were alerted to be very pessimistic over the poor showing of the team against the Alerts. The locals are now confident that they will down the M. A. A. on Saturday, although they look for a hard fight to vanquish Coach Hamilton's string.

Montreal has always given the Ottawa's a tough struggle on the field and the Combines look for nothing easy. There is also a chance that Eddie Elliott will be on hand for the second game of the schedule and this would greatly improve the locals line, which looked the weak spot on Saturday. It is hardly likely that Eddie Elliott will play and it is also possible that Eddie Elliott will be seen in action again this season. He was injured in the alert game and his injury will probably prevent his participation from Rugby. There were forty candidates out. It is probable that Gilligan and Jack Ryan will hold down the outside wings, while Megoulis and Kitt will be at middle. Black and Vaughan holding down the outside wings. The scrimmage will probably be Sullivan, Holly and Willie while Boucher, McCann, Quilty and Johnstone will form the half backs. Snelling playing quarter. Boucher started in the alert game and for 15-year-old youngster looks to be the find of the Big Four this year.

GIANTS HAVE THE PITCHERS ATHLETICS THE WINNER WORKS

Philadelphia Strongest With the Bat, But McGraw Hopes to Land World Series With His First String of Pitchers—Chief Meyers Looks the Best Catcher.

In less than a week the first battle for the premier baseball honors will be fought in the city of the relative strength of the two teams will not be amiss.

New York fans are betting McGraw to land the series and back up their arguments by saying that it will be the Yankees who will win the series.

Jack Coombs, a Philadelphia standby and a veteran of world series, was missing when the ump's call "play" was blown. C. McDermott, who is a look over the pitchers from every angle.

Home Run Baker is not the greatest third baseman in the world, but he is known for his stinging ability, and he is looked upon to give the New York team a shiver when he steps up to bat in a pinch and with a hot bat.

Now for the catchers, McGraw has chosen Mack, McLean and Wilson to back up against Schang, Lapp and Thomas. Meyers is the best hitter on the New York team and always a reliable batsman.

Home Run Baker is not the greatest third baseman in the world, but he is known for his stinging ability, and he is looked upon to give the New York team a shiver when he steps up to bat in a pinch and with a hot bat.

Now for the catchers, McGraw has chosen Mack, McLean and Wilson to back up against Schang, Lapp and Thomas. Meyers is the best hitter on the New York team and always a reliable batsman.

It's All Off

PARCEL POST AT START OF YEAR

Hon. L. P. Pelletier, Passing Thru Toronto, Announced Date of Innovation.

POSTOFFICE IS NEEDED

Postmaster-General Glad That Toronto is to Be Recognized.

The parcel post system in Canada will be established early in January. Hon. L. P. Pelletier, postmaster-general, made the announcement last night when seen by The World at the Toronto Union Station in passing thru to Ottawa, on his return from the western tour which he had made with the postmaster-general of Great Britain. Postmaster Samuel had left Mr. Pelletier at the coast in order to pay a short visit to Seattle, Wash., and as a consequence did not arrive east at the same time as did the Dominion minister.

The Dominion postal department had for some time past been at work on completing the arrangements and were now awaiting word from him for the date on which the parcel post system would see inauguration, said Mr. Pelletier. That date he was now able to say would be January.

The system was to be placed in operation simultaneously in every province in the Dominion, but in its inauguration Canada would learn a lesson from the experience of the United States, which on the first day of the parcel post were so overwhelmed with business that great congestion and delay resulted. The Dominion postal department being forewarned of what to expect would be prepared and would be in a position to take care of all business offered right from the start. This, of course, would mean a big increase in the staff, but to just what extent could not as yet be stated. All the final details had not been worked out on account of his absence in the west. The matter would now, however, receive his whole attention.

He was glad to hear that Toronto was to obtain such fine postoffice buildings. "They were badly needed," he remarked.

The postmaster declared that with the exception of Vancouver, the postoffice buildings thruout the west were entirely inadequate to meet the demands placed upon them. This was due to the rapid growth of the west, which had exceeded the expectations of those who erected the buildings. He could say, however, that the new buildings would see the old structures replaced with modern buildings, and that the work of doing this was to go right ahead.

KINGSTON GROWS STEADILY.
KINGSTON, Sept. 30.—(Special).—The report of the assessor gives the population of Kingston as 21,918, an increase of 1,308 over last year. The assessment is $11,949,577, an increase of a million and a half dollars. A steady growth is being shown.

WILL TRAVERSE SOUTH AMERICA

Col. Roosevelt Plans Big Things on His Latest Projected Expedition.

LEAVES ON SATURDAY

Three Months in Wilds of Brazil, Argentina, Chili and Paraguay.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—(Can. Press).—For more than three months—from about the middle of December to the end of March—Theodore Roosevelt will be buried in the wilds of South America. Arrangements for this end of the colonel's South American trip were described today, but the announcement did not tell much about the times and places, because the colonel himself is not just sure where he will leave or where he will emerge into civilization.

Col. Roosevelt will sail Oct. 4 from New York, and will spend about two months visiting various cities in Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Paraguay.

In these countries he will be the government's guest, and he will deliver several formal addresses. Late in December a little river steamer will leave him and his party of naturalists at Cuyaba, Brazil, the head of navigation on the Paraguayan River, and at that point the hardships of the journey will begin.

His traveling companions from this point will be Anthony Flais of New York, the Arctic explorer, and Geo. K. Christie of Indiana and Leo and Miller of Newfoundland, Y.L. naturalists connected with the American Museum of Natural History, under whose auspices the expedition will be undertaken. Mr. Flais will look after the equipment of the expedition. Mr. Christie will have charge of the collection and preparation of bird specimens, and Mr. Miller will superintend the collection of mammals. The expedition will be the party's chief huntsman.

Indian bearers, canoe men and servants will embark at Cuyaba in light-draught motorboats and canoes, although later it is expected that canoes alone will have to serve.

Collect Scientific Specimens.
It was said today that when Col. Roosevelt first received the invitation to lecture in Brazil, Argentina and Chile, his first idea was to decline, but that opportunity to hunt and collect scientific specimens in the wilds of Brazil was too attractive for him to resist. This opportunity was brought to his attention by the Rev. John Augustine Zahm of Washington, provincial of the Order of the Holy Cross, a missionary and a scientist who has explored much of the wild country that Mr. Roosevelt will enter. Father Zahm has been consulted about the itinerary and the equipment of the Roosevelt expedition.

The Philosopher of Folly

By Sherwood Hart

WHY HE DOES IT.

For a fortnight he's been gazing with persistence most amazing at the hats the shops are showing as the proper hats for fall, yet he meanders "J. A. Caesar! This winter proves a freaser, I won't doff my old straw bonnet for a hat like those at all! Let the village urchins guff me as they merrily go by me when the winter winds are whistling round my trusty summer hat; when the Arctic blasts are snorting I would feel much better sporting my old straw-and-ribbon sky-piece than a lid like that—or that! All my peace of mind it shatters when I notice what the haters are displaying in their windows as the newest things to wear; when I see this season's caddies, if it were not for the ladies, I would vent my pent-up feelings in a long and forceful swear. Oh, my straw hat may look foolish and may prove a trifle coolish when the mercury has tumbled down to minus 10 degrees—yet, it may look rather silly, but you'll not catch little Willie placing on his dome of reason any funny jokes like these. So I guess that this here chicken to his straw will still be stickin' when the snow is on the hillside and the fall has fled away. When you ever see me wearing hats like these at which I'm staring, you can bet your bottom dollar it will be a frosty day!"

RAISE STOCK AND CHECK STERILITY

Earl of Clarendon's Advice to Farmers of Canadian West.

The Earl of Clarendon, who arrived in Toronto yesterday after a trip to the Pacific coast, and who is on his way back to England, said when interviewed here that the one thing he noticed particularly in the west was that the farmers there are making money as fast as they can without much regard to the future. "Of course the land is very fertile," he said, "but it will not last always. I think there is a great demand for mixed farming there."

Going in for mixed farming would not only be of great benefit in supplying the much needed demand for animal products, but would at the same time retain the fertility of the soil.

CANADA'S GROWTH PULLS FIGURES UP

More Freight Carried This Year Than Last Despite Tight Money.

Local freight men are remarking on the fact that despite the effect the tightness of money must have had on the general industrial output, the total freight carried this season shows an increase over last. Their explanation of the matter is that the results of the stringency have not proved as serious to the manufacturers and other shippers as was at first feared and that the general increase in the country's growth had the effect of counterbalancing the scarcity of ready capital.

"FILMING" FEATURES OF CANADA'S TOWNS

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 30.—(Special).—Eighty-four towns and cities in Canada will be visited by James W. Jones, originator of the Canadian Agricultural and Industrial Bureau at Cleveland, Ohio, who is here awaiting the arrival of a moving picture machine and operator, for the purpose of "filming" the features of various points that might appeal to United States manufacturers and capitalists across the line with money to invest. He will deal with the boards of trade, and is beginning his campaign in St. Catharines.

TORONTO MAY GO INTO BUSINESS

Of Selling Milk if Dealers Keep on Raising the Price.

"A hold up," Dr. Hastings, M.O.H., declared. "The milk producers have increased their price a quarter of a cent per quart and the dealers have promptly made their increase two cents a quart."

"Toronto uses 125,000 quarts a day, and the people will have to pay for them an increase of $2500 a day, or $912,500 a year. This increase would pay for a $2,000,000 municipal milk plant in two years."

"It means that the city will have to go into the milk business," Dr. Hastings said.

Official Announcement on Dividend Causes Reaction in Macdonald Shares.
TRADERS ARE BEARISH
London Market Accepted as Indicator for Movements in Canadian Stocks.

The Toronto stock market showed a good deal of irregularity today. The atmosphere is still disturbed by the Macdonald and Spanish River securities, while added to this was the renewed apprehension over the fresh Balkan movements.
A further decline in C.P.R. in London and continued ease in Brazilian was taken as evidence of the temperance of the British traders and operators here were inclined to take this as their immediate guide.
An official statement was given out by the Macdonald directors placing the dividend question beyond further surmise. During the morning session and prior to the publication of this statement, the stock sold as high as 24, but a reaction of three points followed and the shares closed at about the lowest of the day.
Large transactions in Brazilians failed to hold the opening prices. The operations were highly professional and bear scalpers had the best of the day's business.
Promoters of these shares have ceased operations for the time being, and until the shares are again made active, no upward movement is anticipated.

Toronto Rails was the one strong feature of the day. Demand for the shares was principally in Montreal, at which market the price advanced to over 141 during the trading. The shares were not as firm here, but a 2-point rise was registered and the rail was well maintained. To account for the advance brokers cited the nearness of the publication of the valuation report of the city experts, which in a general way the market gave no evidence of any new stimulus and only a moderate amount of investment buying took place.

ENGINEER KINGSLEY.
Charles Kingsley, mining engineer, of Toronto, formerly manager of the Colonial Mine of Cobalt, has just returned from the Kirilind Lake camp, where he inspected all the active working properties.
He visited the "Foster" mine and showed at 100-foot level was truly marvelous. He also visited the "Burnside" and "Wright-Hargreaves," which both have splendid showings. On the "Teck-Hughes" he saw the strike which was recently made at this property and he considers one of the big features of the new camp. Mr. Kingsley states that he sees no reason for other than an optimistic view of the camp. He expects to return there shortly.

C. P. R. EARNINGS.
MONTREAL, Sept. 30.—The gross earnings of the C. P. R. during August were $11,434,460; working expenses, $7,473,321; net profits, $3,961,139.
For the two months ending August 31, the figures are as follows: Gross earnings, $23,427,522; working expenses, $15,349,926; net profits, $8,077,596.
In August, 1912, the net profits were $1,717,602. The decrease in net profits is, therefore, for the two months ending August 31, $6,360,000.

FOCUS ON RAILS
C. P. R. Falls Back Slightly—
Toronto Rails Among Few Closing Higher.

MONTREAL, Sept. 30.—Slight improvement in the local stock market this morning was succeeded by a weaker feeling in the afternoon, the main influence being a fairly sharp break in the New York list and an official announcement from the C.P.R. which had touched 22 1/2 the morning low back in the afternoon to 22 3/4 in New York. The low point here was 22 3/4, but the stock was slightly higher at the close on Monday.
Montreal Power, steady in the morning at 21 1/2, fell to 21, and finished at 20 1/2. Brazilian, firmer around 23 in the morning, receded to 22 1/2 and finished at 22 1/4. Richelle, which recovered 1/4 to 15 1/4, and seven-Williams common, which sold at 60, a net gain of 5 points, were among the few stocks to close at the top of the day.
In advance of the dividend announcement, Macdonald continued the improvement in the morning, rising on a fair demand in the morning to 24, and closing at 23 1/2 at noon. The definite news of the passing of the dividend, although discounted by the market for some days, resulted in an entire relapse in the afternoon, the price dropping to 21 and closing at the low on a small volume of selling. The Spanish River stock was thus converted into a final loss of 1 point. Concurrently the Spanish River stock, which was quoted 14 1/2 asked and 14 bid at the close, was converted to 15 to 14 1/2 the previous day, and the preferred at 60 to 45, against 62 to 50 on Monday.

FOREIGN CROP SUMMARY.
LIVERPOOL, Sept. 30.—Broomfield's crop summary:—Weather fine. Thrashing progressing rapidly and supplies of native wheat increasing.
France—Wheat generally fine during past week and thrashing has progressed without interruption. There is no improvement noted in the yield and quality of foreign wheat continues.
Russia—Wheat crop generally satisfactory. Arrivals of wheat at ports liberal and export trade active. The quality of crops in the centre is poor. Outlook for oats unfavorable owing to wet weather.
Roumania—Weather wet and generally unsettled. This is delaying thrashing of corn and also thrashing of wheat and some damage is reported to wheat and corn crops to be very light this week.
India—Drought continues and therefore holders of wheat are very firm. Shipments expected to be very light this week.
Argentina—Outlook for all cereals favorable with exception of southern zone, where dryness continues.
Australia—Wheat crop excellent. Outlook for oats some complaints owing to effect of recent drought.

LONDON DULL.
Money Outlook and Balkan Situation Restrained. Fresh Ventures.
LONDON, Sept. 30.—Money was in good demand today and discount rates were firmer. The $3,250,000 new gold offered in the open market was not sold, but it is believed the continent will take a portion of it tomorrow.
The stock market continued dull and uninteresting. The money outlook and the Balkan situation restraining fresh ventures. Near the close, however, a drooping movement was checked and a better tone developed, in sympathy with Paris, and the market closed steadier.
American securities were quiet and there was no trading in the early trading. Prices sagged in the afternoon and then rallied on Wall street buying and closed steadier.

TO MAKE CHINA A BATTLEGROUND
Japan's Rivalry With Russia
Was Not Settled by Late War.
LONDON, Sept. 30.—(Can. Press.)—A Pekin despatch to The Daily Telegraph says: Japan is preparing to make a battle-ground of the rivalry with Russia was not settled by the late war. No Russo-Japanese agreement has been made to cover Mongolia or correlated matters. Japanese policy has been devoted to proving the status quo in Manchuria, thus leaving her free to take any necessary countervailing steps.
The Japanese policy in China summed up by the planting of garrisons without territorial concessions will be retained. Another probably will be planted at the great Hankow garrison of two thousand Japanese concessions under special control will be demanded at Nanking, which will be repeated at Fu-Chow, Amoy and elsewhere. In case of trouble the railways in which it was hoped that British capital would be interested also will be demanded.
"The Japanese naval units will be increased in Chinese waters. There will be no danger to British interests if Great Britain display her usual flexibility."
Pekin is no longer the capital in the old sense, the loss of Mongolia and the absence of the usual intercourse rendering it impotent and transferring the power to the hands of Japan, with practically the whole Chinese revolutionary party under lock and key in Tokio holds out her hand to England, knowing that the alliance is more important and necessary than ever."

STOCKS GO DOWN SENTIMENT BEARISH
Coming Effects of New Tariff
Law Exerted Some Influence.
STEEL WATCHED CLOSE
Union Pacific Sustained Break of Three Points—Bonds Steady.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Sentiment was more potent than fact in the stock market today. There was no change in speculative situation so far as facts were concerned. Reports from the most imaginative trader had no fresh material from which to fashion even a rumor. But sentiment was decidedly bearish and stocks went down abruptly. Traders talked about the tariff. Although the probable extent of changes to be made had been apparent for some time, the agreement of the congress and the virtual conclusion of the work of tariff revision brought realization of the fact that the new tariff law is at hand. Traders were reluctant to make new commitments on the long side of the market. With the effects of the new law as yet unknown and the steel trade, but the situation offered an opportunity which the bears seized. A raid was attempted at the opening and a break of 1 1/2 in Union Pacific, the list held fairly steady, and such slight losses as were inflicted were made up before noon. In the last half of the day, however, the market grew softer, and prices gradually gave way. In the last hour there was a further decline and a break of nearly three points, while losses of a point or more were sustained by many other securities.
Commercial paper was lower, and money developed a slightly easier tendency. The tendency of October first payments.
Bonds were steady.

GREW SUSPICIOUS AND TOLD POLICE
E. Madden Did Not Hand
Hundred Thousand Over to Swindlers.
Charles Gondorf, alias Robert R. Vincent, and Samuel Gerus, alias John Fair, wanted in New York for grand larceny and wire tapping, were committed to stand trial by jury by Magistrate Denison yesterday on a charge of attempting to defraud E. Madden of $100,000. Gondorf is alleged to have told Madden that he knew a man named Fair in London who had 20,000 shares of the stock of the Wheelock Cork Boot Company and that he was willing to sell at $5 a share. The deal had not been completed before Madden became suspicious and informed the police. Gondorf and Vincent were then arrested.

INVESTORS BUYERS OF CONIAGAS STOCK
Mining Market Reactionary
With Pearl Lake Easier—
Teck-Hughes Called.

Prices on the Standard Mining Exchange were slightly reactionary yesterday. The market was one minus enthusiasm from the buyers' standpoint and traders endeavoring to score advantage by offering prices down. A clear case of shortage of offerings was the movement in Coniagas, which rose some 50 per cent. on a few transactions. The buyers were investors purely for dividend purposes. Pearl Lake was depressed to 25. Delay in the mill installations was regarded as disappointing and some stock was disposed of at a loss by anxious holders.
Montreal was again a seller of Jupiter and the price declined to 15 1/4. A little buying demand was present for Gifford at 1 3/4 on a rumor that the other deal was in prospect for reopening the property.
Teck-Hughes, a Kirkland Lake proposition, was called for the first time and the shares changed hands at 30.

Black and Navy Serge Suitings

The popularity of the serge suit never seems to wane. This season the navy serge suit is even more popular than ever.

We carry the finest assorted stock of black and navy serges in the Dominion, including almost every known weave and finish, imported from the best European makers.

West of England serges in fine, medium and wide twills, all thoroughly shrunken and unspottable mill finished chevrot twill serges, splendid tailoring serges in three splendid shades of navy and black.

English and French chevrots in weights suitable for tailored suits or separate coats.

Wide wale and diagonal serges, always popular for fall tailored suits and coats.

Men's finished serges, the best tailoring serges made, in fine and medium twills; also in the softer vicuna finish in splendid shades of navy and black, etc.

Very special attention is paid to the dyeing and finishing of our serges, and we guarantee them all fast unfasting dyes and thoroughly keep shrunken and unspottable.
