JOINT ACTION Three Fleets, Three Armies, Will Attack Dardanelles— SOON COMING Biggest Fight in a Century Russian Black Sea Fleet Smashes Bosphorus Forts

WHAT WILL THE U.S. DO NOW??

LONDON, March 31, 2.52 p.m.—The official announcement is made that among the missing passengers of the steamer Falaba which was sunk by a German submarine is Leon Chester Thrasher, an American engineer, who had been living for the past year on the Gold Coast, British West Africa.

VICTORY WITH DAWN Canadians Were Ready to Take Part in Dash on Trenches.

BY SIR MAX AITKEN. Official Observer with the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

CANADIAN DIVISIONAL HEADQUARTERS IN FLANDERS, MARCH 30

Six kilometers to Neuve Chapelle.

It was night when I left the Canadian divisional headquarters and moved in a southerly direction towards Neuve Chapelle. It was the eve of the great attack and in the bright moonlight the motor lamps along the road here came a kaleidoscopic picture of tramping men.

Here at the front there is no need of police restrictions on motor headlights at night as there is in London and on English country roads. The law under which you place yourself is the range of the enemy's guns. Beyond that limit you are free to turn your headlights on, and there is no danger. But once within the range of rifle fire or shell, you turn your lights on at the peril of your own life. So, you go in darkness.

March 30. Thru Night. As we rode along with lamps lit thousands of khaki-clad men were marching along that road—marching steadily in the direction of Neuve Chapelle, and the endless stream of their faces flashed along the edge of the pavement.

Onward to Victory. The tramp of battalions after battalions was not, however, the tramp of a shadow army, but the firm, relentless, indomitable step of armed and trained men. Every now and then there came a cry of "halt!" and the columns came to the instant to a stand. Minutes passed and the command for the advance rang out. The columns moved again. So it went on—halt—

ITALY TO PRESS ADRIATIC CLAIMS

Substitution of Slavs for Austrians Not Acceptable Solution.

RUSSIA'S OPPOSITION Situation is Apparently Developing New and Serious Phase.

ROME, via Paris, March 30, 7.55 p.m.—The Giornale d'Italia, replying to comments in the Russian newspapers opposing Italy's acquisition of the territory on the Adriatic now in the hands of Austria because of the large Slav population, says that while Italy acknowledged the right of the Slavs to have an outlet on the Adriatic, it was not to be supposed that Italy would acquiesce merely in the substitution of Slavs for Austrians on the east coast, the Slavs having the power of support of Russia behind them.

It adds: "It is best clearly to state now that whether Austria continues to exist as an Adriatic power, or a great Serbia be formed, Italy's position on the Adriatic must be absolutely or largely ameliorated."

FIREWORKS FLEW AT NIGHT SESSION

"Limit to My Patience," Said Hon. W. J. Hanna.

RETRACT STATEMENT

T. S. Davidson Started Ball Rolling and Rowell Took Turn.

The He was passed in the legislature last evening and for a few moments the house was precipitated into a great uproar. Hon. W. J. Hanna on his feet in great indignation demanded that T. S. Davidson of South Brant retract a statement or take the consequences. In the following moment N. W. Rowell on his feet, with quivering forefinger, declared that the minister had no right to attempt the bullying of a private member, the bullying of a private member, the bullying of a private member, the bullying of a private member.

Mr. Davidson in working up the climax of his address on the temperance legislation stated that this particular bill had been dictated by the provincial secretary last little time in gaining his feet.

Says There's a Limit. "There is a limit to my patience," he declared, angrily. "What he says is absolutely false, untrue and outside the rules of the house. I demand that he retract it. I will not give license to malicious slander."

"Well, all right, then," said the member respectfully. "The hon. minister has not the right to shake his fist across the floor and make a bully of himself," shouted Mr. Rowell on his feet.

"Now, that is enough of that," declared the minister, training his guns on the new speaker. "We have stood for all that kind of talk we are going to."

The Brant member, encouraged by his leader's support, took courage to say that while he would withdraw any objectionable phrase, "they couldn't help making him believe what he had said."

"Mr. Speaker, that is absolute contempt of this house," declared Hon. W. J. Hanna again. "I ask him to withdraw it absolutely and unreservedly, or take the consequences."

The Speaker ruled that the matter must be withdrawn and not raised again under any subterfuge.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. PETROGRAD, March 30.—The Russian plans are developing with perfect success. This was the cheer tonight, after the Austrians had been driven from the heights on the roads to Bartfeld and Uzsk Pass, the Russian infantry managed to carry more of the enemy's fortified positions on the heights covering the roads.

The Russian captures amounted to 76 officers, 3384 men, 21 machine guns, 5 field pieces and one trench mortar in Sunday's and Monday's operations. The enemy put up a stubborn resistance to the Russian progress and made a series of desperate counter attacks.

John Sexton secretary of the Dockers' Union, addressed them, but was unable to persuade the men to change their decision. The suggestion that the military might be called upon to do their work was received with derisive laughter.

Black Sea Squadron Works Havoc Among Turkish Defences.

WEATHER HAS CLEARED

Enemy's Land Forces Are Preparing for Big Operations.

BY FREDERICK RENNET. Special Cable to The Toronto World. PETROGRAD, March 30.—Fine weather favored the bombardment of the Bosphorus by the Russian Black Sea fleet, and this enabled aviators to obtain a clear view of the damage inflicted. The worst destruction was done to the fort of Elmas, which early in the day had been firing its four guns very steadily. Russian 12-inch shells demolished both the old stone bastions and also the new earthworks round the emplacement where the Germans had recently transferred some of their guns.

It is known that the Turks have 22 guns at Anadolu and Kavak four miles further along the Asiatic shore of the Bosphorus and 24 guns at the neighboring fort of Mudjar Kait. Six guns were worked from the fort of Kilit on the European side. The capture of Elmas had, being unable to withstand the fire of the warships, Turkish land troops are now evidently preparing to make a desperate attempt, which they expect to be undertaken simultaneously from the Black Sea and the Aegean Sea.

The Russian admiral congratulated the fleet on the excellent results of the day's operations.

For Shrouds Coast. An official communication issued to-night tells of the operations of the Russian fleet in the Bosphorus. It says: "This double attack, the Russian fleet in the Bosphorus, it says: "On Monday morning our fleet approached the outer fortifications of the Bosphorus, but were unable to continue a considerable time. Moreover, which made off at full speed for the Bosphorus after the first shot."

Must Await Results. A semi-official statement commenting on the Russian naval operations in the Bosphorus, warns the Russian people not to expect the speedy success either of the allies against the Dardanelles or the Russians against the Bosphorus.

The Russian admiral congratulated the fleet on the excellent results of the day's operations.

Another success achieved was the capture of a German post near the forest of Le Prete which was captured by French infantry today and 100 prisoners were taken. To hold their new ground the French infantry had to repel a violent German attack.

Artillery actions and mine warfare have succeeded the French infantry offensive in the Champagne region. The French war office reports gaining the advantage in this species of warfare.

German Bombardees. The bridges thrown across the Niouport Canal by the allies continue to be the object of a German bombardment. The French official statement says that this firing has been without result.

From the sea to the Aisne cannonading has been intermittent. Tenacious and stubborn fighting is reported from the Argonne without either side securing the advantage.

The state department at Washington desires that the prosecution, under a state law be discontinued, to which the prosecuting attorney has assented.

ONLY DEFENCE IS GUNS

Submarines Have Not the Slightest Scruples in Committing Murder.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. LIVERPOOL, March 30.—The Falaba outrage has aroused mercantile masters, who are determined to avenge the death of Capt. Davis. He was a man of quiet, reserved disposition, with hosts of friends in the service. It is declared in Liverpool that the gallant manner in which he died was typical of his character.

"Give us guns is the reply of ship-masters to the German pirates," said T. Scott, secretary of Mercantile Marine Service Association, in discussing the outrage today. Continuing, he said: "Submarines have now given sufficient evidence that they have not the slightest scruple in murdering defenceless crews and passengers. There no longer is anything in the argument that arming merchant ships would provoke submarines. They need no provocation. Our only defence is guns."

GERMANS BEATEN IN ALSACE FIGHT

Inferior Number of French Defeats Fifty Thousand Men.

ENEMY DISHEARTENED

Alpine Chasseurs Fought Like Lions and Checked Grand Offensive.

PARIS, March 30, 6.50 p.m.—The Temps prints the following despatch from Geneva: "Fifty thousand German troops occupy the valley of Kayserberg, Muenster and Gebweiler, according to private information from Alsace to the Democrat. The French, who have been guarding this part of the line, had difficulty in resisting the large forces arrayed against them."

"It was on Feb. 19 when the Germans began their great offensive in Alsace. The Alpine chasseurs yielded ground only inch by inch, fighting like lions and inflicting heavy losses on the Germans. With French reinforcements arrived they succeeded in repulsing the Germans, whose casualties in these engagements are said to have been 400 killed. The hospitals were filled with wounded. The check to their offensive seems to have somewhat discouraged the German soldiers."

GREECE MUST FIGHT VENIZOS DECLARES

Conjecture as to Attitude of Neutrals Given Fresh Life.

LONDON, March 30.—The return of ex-Premier Venizelos to Athens after a short rest, the tumultuous reception accorded him and his reiterated declaration that Greece must join in the conflict on the side of the entente powers, have combined to start up further predictions as to when the group of neutrals, which have been wavering so long, will take up arms.

But the matter upon which these predictions are based are at the best, conjectures.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. LONDON, March 31.—The Chronicle naval correspondent, discussing the position at the Dardanelles, and the necessity that a passage shall be forced at all costs, says: "There will be combined operations such as we have hardly seen for a hundred years. Three fleets are marching in the attack, and at least three armies will be engaged in the campaign of shore."

A Reuter despatch from Athens says: "The Turks are repairing the damage done to the forts and are concentrating troops in Smyrna."

"The operations in the Dardanelles Sunday were confined to an intermittent bombardment of several Turkish positions in which seaplanes co-operated. The Turkish reply was feeble."

As Berlin Speaks. A despatch from the Dardanelles via Berlin says: "After having remained almost totally inactive since March 15, vessels of the allied fleet today developed slight activity near the entrance to the Dardanelles, limiting their operations to weak attempts to halt the Turkish mines. Every allied vessel which has penetrated the straits, at night has been met by firing from the alert Turkish troops, and the result invariably has been a quick withdrawal."

"Apparently no serious attempt to sweep the mines from the Dardanelles waters has been made by the allies since March 15. Interest by the allies in the Dardanelles defence works has not been lacking, however, for every day a bombardment takes a mile over the outer end of the waterway."

TAKE LEADING PART AGAINST LIQUOR TRADE

Anglican Episcopal Joined by King's Physicians in Crusade in London.

LONDON, March 30.—Three members of the Anglican episcopate are taking a leading part in the agitation for a drastic reduction of the sale of intoxicating beverages during the war. They are the Bishop of Lincoln, Bishop of Exeter and Bishop of Willesden. Mrs. F. E. J. Parker, sister of Lord Kitchener, is leading in a pledge signed in Convocation Hall. Lieut. Gov. J. S. Hendrie introduced the speaker as the famous explorer who has done so much to open up and make known the vast extent of the northern country. The lecture was illustrated by moving pictures, which showed the life and habits of the inhabitants of Baffin Land. Their adaptation in environment in the way of food, clothing and houses was shown in interesting fashion, and the lecturer told of many incidents which he has experienced in his contact with the brothers of the frozen north. Many of the stories were exceedingly humorous, and altogether the lecture was very instructive, as well as entertaining. A generous response was made to the appeal for funds for the hospital for wounded Canadians in France. The lecture was under the joint auspices of the University of Toronto, the Archeological Institutes of America and the Royal Ontario Museum of Archeology.

SEEKING DAMAGES FROM AN ESTATE

Mrs. Percival, Who Was Assaulted by David Boal, Brings Suit.

The Trusts and Guarantee Company, administrator of the estate of the late Robert Boal, has entered action at Osgoode Hall against Andrew Boal of Northville, Pa., for a declaration that the defendant holds in trust for the estate of Robert Boal the property known as 169 Gowan avenue. It is also sought so to establish that a registered charge of $500 in favor of the defendant is not a charge upon the lands. Robert Boal was the man who committed suicide by drowning in the Don after having murdered and attacked Mrs. Annie Percival, his landlady, with an ax. Mrs. Percival is suing the estate for damages for the injuries sustained. The question to be determined in the trial of an issue directed by Mr. Justice Britton is what interest Richard Whitehead gave his wife Jennie Whitehead, in property at 5 and 8 Gibson avenue. It is stated that Mr. Whitehead was induced to give his wife a half interest in the property, but it appears from the document to be a joint tenancy. There is 21 years' difference between the ages of the parties. Under a joint tenancy the survivor would take the entire property. Mrs. Whitehead is seeking to have the property sold and secure her interest.

ANXIOUS TO SELL

Mrs. Whitehead Would Dispose of Share if Interest Was Determined.

PROHIBITION SENTIMENT IS STRONG IN ENGLAND

Drastic Anti-Liquor Legislation During War Seems Assured. LONDON, March 30.—All of the evening papers in London this afternoon published columns of interviews with notables regarding the speech of Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd George, in which he urged that the production of war material ought not to be hampered by drunkenness. The chancellor's opinions are practically unanimously supported in all responsible quarters. The possibility of a prohibition bill totally preventing the sale of intoxicants during the war, appears to arouse little resentment. It is generally believed that drastic steps will be taken.

NIGHT MARCH BROUGHT VICTORY. The good part which the Canadian artillery played in that attack.

The good part which the Canadian artillery played in that attack. The Canadian division, which was a little larger than that of Neve-Chapelle, was marching in one direction men and were marching in the other.

While the bombardment continued, British aeroplanes sailed overhead and crossed over to the German lines. The road on the southeast bore the inscription "Six kilometres to Neve-Chapelle."

At length the din of the gunfire ceased and the British troops were rushing from their trenches to deal with the Germans.

THINKING ABOUT COMING SUMMER

Fear of Mosquito Nuisance Brings Catfish Pond Question Up Again.

MAYOR WAS PLEASED

Cancellation of Franchises of Electric Railways Sued Him.

Council will have another opportunity to talk on Catfish Pond, as the parks committee yesterday decided to send a third recommendation to the board of control that the pond be cleaned out.

The parks committee will go in a body some day next week to inspect the work on the Bloor street viaduct with a view to deciding as to whether it is believed would kill the mosquito nuisance, but the motion was lost.

The exhibition association has asked the military department to install a model camp at the fair this year, as it is desired to make this one of the features. A request has also been put in for permission to show a number of big guns and equipment.

The board of control yesterday made an interim grant of $250 to the Toronto Relief Society, making the amount paid to the society this year $750. Fifteen hundred dollars is allowed in the interim.

For Smart Men

Sir Walter Scott, the Wizard of the North, was of course well-known in his native Edinburgh, where he was distinguished by the unflattering character of his clothes.

A man of genius can ignore conventionalities, but it certainly would not profit the business man of today to appear in other than the smartest of clothes.

United States Makes Arrangements for Cut With Barbados and Leeward.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Two cents, instead of five cents, will be the postage rate on letters, beginning April 1, between the United States and the British colonies of Barbados and the Leeward Islands in the British West Indies.

A two-cent rate recently was put in operation between the United States and British Honduras and the Bahama Islands. Bermuda, Jamaica, the Windward Islands and other British dependencies have not agreed to the reduction.

TWENTY-TWO AGREE REGARDING CONDUCT

Fire Department Inquiry Was Resumed Yesterday and Several Heard.

MAY HAVE COUNSEL

Chief Thompson Asks What Other Charges are, But Refused.

When the fire department investigation was resumed yesterday in court No. 1 in the city hall, Chief Thompson asked Judge Denton if the inquiry into the management, discipline and conduct of each of the fire halls could not be limited to a period of time, say five years, as it had been in Winnipeg.

His honor said that this would no doubt be a good plan, but as he had been instructed to conduct a thorough inquiry, he was not in a position to grant any such request at present.

Corporation Counsel Geary explained that he would give the witnesses every chance to tell all they knew, but as they had certain evidence that might not be brought out in their testimony, he would recall them later.

Chief Thompson then asked that these charges be placed before his men first, but was not sustained. In this, then the chief asked if the firemen could engage counsel to defend them after the investigation was in progress.

Judge Denton replied: "Yes. Twenty-two firemen from Adelaide Fire Hall gave their testimony, and all maintained that the proper discipline had been meted out by the officer in charge; that no women of loose character had been seen or taken into the hall; no gambling had been done in the station, and no conversations of a nature which would be engaged in relative to betting by them or others; and no betting had been done on place in the hall, although several said that one of their number had taken a bet on the horse race." Q.—How long have you been on the fire department? A.—Ten months and three weeks.

Q.—Were you put on probation? A.—I was taken on right away after I passed my physical examination. Q.—Did you get a book of rules? A.—Yes, but I don't remember them all now.

Q.—What impressed you? A.—The chief told me that there was to be no drinking or gambling, and that nothing was to be taken off the floors or counters in buildings where there was a fire. Q.—Was there any lack of discipline at the hall, or did you see any women of loose character in the hall? A.—No, I never saw any drinking and the only women I saw were visiting and I took one around myself.

Q.—No, only that I made a bet at Hillcrest on my day off. The remaining witnesses were questioned along the same lines, and answers were similar. Two of the men admitted that they had had the help of aldermen to secure them their positions.

Twenty Years Good Discipline. Alex. Public Franchises Are for the People

Sir Adam Beck was perfectly justified in the expression of his indignation at the return of the Forest Hill railway bill to the railway committee of the legislature yesterday.

clearly Mr. Gooderham moved for its return, but it has been abundantly clear all along that the bill was an attempt to wrest a franchise possessing speculative value from the City of Toronto.

The Forest Hill bill was defeated last week and was brought in again, Sir Adam charging that a lobby had been organized for the purpose.

There was, of course, the further issue of protecting the routes of the proposed radial lines. It is quite evident now that the radial scheme of the Hydro-Electric Commission is of a wide and inclusive character.

A Nation Insane

All over the civilized world there has gone out such a feeling of repulsion for German "kultur" and all its works and ways that the Kaiser must feel the impact of the moral force which has been stirred against him.

There are many people who still doubt about the atrocities in Belgium. We are asked for proofs, and American correspondents, writing from German soil under German surveillance, are quoted as saying that they often heard of such things but never came in contact with them.

But granted that all the horrors we have been told about as having occurred in Belgium were apocryphal, the incident of the sinking of the Falaba with the loss of 110 lives is enough to place Germany in the class where she belongs, and to establish her in the detestation of every humane nation.

It is a terrible thing to consider that a nation may go insane. But the evidence that Germany has lost its moral sense, its sense of ethical values, its ability to judge between right and wrong, is overwhelming.

"GWAN AWAY"

LOVE and HATE ENGLAND TO GERMANY

You poison the springs that should ever flow To aid the bright flowers of peace to grow; You teach little children in school to pray That curses may blight, and that wrath may slay;

You savagely boasted your brutal might, And scornfully sneered when men spoke of right; Refused to be true to the pledge you signed, And seered at the nations a bond could bind;

We heed not your curses. We know God hears The cry of the nation whose bitter tears Flow out from the heart that in anguish bleeds Because of your merciless, ruthless deeds.

For all that you did in your brilliant past We thank you, but mourn that, misled at last, You sullied the fame of your noble state, And shadowed your soul with the curse of hate.

That Walter James of Trenton, whilst driving an automobile, collided with a hydrant, breaking it off at the curb. Considerable damage was done to the car. A new hydrant was placed in position after considerable trouble.

TELEPHONE RATES

Next January North Toronto Will Pay Same as Other Parts.

Sir Adam Beck and L. F. Hellmuth, K.C., appeared before the Dominion Railway Board at their session in the city hall yesterday and asked that an order be granted to the London and Port Stanley Railway giving them the right to operate their cars over the tracks of the G.T.R. at the station at London, under the terms of an old agreement made in 1870.

After some discussion this plan was agreed to, and the telephone rates together with an engineer from each of the railway companies will visit London on Thursday and again go over the plans.

The companies were advised by H. L. Drayton to come to an agreement among themselves if possible, and if not that the commission would decide the matter on Monday.

The Bell Telephone Company was ordered to make the telephone rates in the North Toronto the same as those in other parts of the city, the order to go into effect on January 1, 1916.

A number of London commercial travelers were present to protest against the G.T.R. timetable, which reduces the service from London to Owen Sound, and spoils connections. They stated that the trains were run to suit high school pupils going to school from school, and that the board refused to alter the timetable.

Corporation Counsel Geary and W. C. Chisholm, C., appeared to argue out the question of responsibility for accidents at the Boyce avenue crossing. Mr. Chisholm contended that the city should be held liable for accidents and negligence on the part of gatemen.

Assessment Commissioner Forman explained that the surrounding property would be made more accessible and more valuable by the opening of the new street, and stated that he was willing to make a concession to the property owners.

Mrs. Wiseneighbour Says:—"I should have told you the other day, when I was speaking of 'Eddy's' Washboards, that it is just as necessary to have an Indurated Fibreware Tub to hold your clothes if you want to make a success of washday."

Mrs. Newlywed Says:—"I've heard of Eddy's Indurated Fibreware. What's the difference between fibre and woodenware?" "Fibreware is made from compressed fibre, baked at extreme heat. All in one solid piece, it cannot warp or fall apart. No chance of splinters. Wears much longer, looks better, and is light to carry. The latter point you should always take into consideration," concludes Mrs. Wiseneighbour.

GERMAN CAMPAIGN ON NIEMEN FAILED Russian Official Statement Emphasizes Importance of Victory.

PETROGRAD, March 30.—A review of the German offensive movement in the Niemen district to which, it is said, great importance was attached, is contained in an official statement issued by the war office.

During an engagement in which we took German trenches on the 27th near the Village of Vaki in the direction of Sotleniki, Captain Suvarov leaped into an enemy trench and captured a machine gun, the fire of which he turned against a German reserve.

During the last two days on the left bank of the Vistula, the Germans have been very economical in their artillery fire. It would appear that the German forces in that region have been considerably weakened.

Doctor Says Johnson Has Smallest Heart

HAVANA, March 30.—With the battle for the world's heavyweight championship less than a week away, Jack Johnson and Jess Willard today began reducing their weight. Willard is so fat that he is virtually laid off and planned to walk from a walk and run of a few miles to seven miles this morning. The balance of the day he will spend in jogging and walking. Johnson took some short sprints on the road and went through his regular pugilistic training in the stadium in the afternoon.

at Reno in 1910. Nevertheless, Willard is the bigger man in almost every particular.

A group of Cuban ministers, representing various evangelical missions centred in Havana, has filed a protest with the government officials against the fight, and some American ministers living here have addressed an open letter to tourists, asking them to advise the Cuban officials of the fight promoters.

Willard money is beginning to appear, and it is expected to reduce the present odds of 3 and 2 1/2 to 1.

Globe Trotter Bowling Ball at the Central Y

A novel feature in bowling is on at the Central Y.M.C.A. bowling alleys this week, in the form of the famous world tourist mineralite, bowling ball. This ball is on a trip around the world, ending up in San Francisco. It has had quite a time in its world tour, being in Berlin at the outbreak of the war. It was taken for a bomb and confiscated as contraband of war. It, however, escaped by the help of the American ambassador, to Paris, and from Paris it went to London. From London it sailed for Bombay and the far east. Now it is on the last lap of its travels. On its box can be seen names of bowlers from all parts of the world, and Central Y.M.C.A. boys are having a hard time finding space enough for their names.

A special prize is offered by the association for any member of any branch bowling the three highest games with it. Wednesday (day and evening) is Central's turn; Thursday will be for Broadway, and Friday, West End bowlers. The bowling Association tournament at the Panama Exposition.

Every Y.M.C.A. members in Toronto should grasp this opportunity of bowling with it. Central Y.M.C.A. being the only place it can or will be used while in this city.

NEWS OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN

TAILORED WAISTS FOR SPRING WEAR

New Notes of Interest in Connection With Easter Models.

USING LONG SLEEVE

Short Sleeve Blouses Now Passe, Wrist Length Rules.

The "tailored" blouse continues in popularity, but the 1915 model is not the severe masculine looking affair like the "tailored" of a few previous seasons; it is a dainty concoction of striped or dotted crepe de chine, hem-stitched silk or printed taffeta. No severely plain neck line is checked up tight with a dead colored tie—instead, a becoming and novel collar which will close in a variety of ways makes the blouse practical for house or street wear, and the tie is of delicate tinted crepe silk or de chine.

There will be no short sleeves this summer provided the devotee is faithful to the most careful dictates of Dame Fashion. Only in evening and dance frocks may the summer girl show her uncovered arms, but for the rest her frocks "sleeves" is the slogan.

But the tailored blouse shows how attractive the wrist length sleeve may be made. Set-in sleeves are favored, and many are filled into a quite close armhole.

Much in Vogue. The bishop and semi-bishop sleeve is much in vogue, and some of the smartest models show them gathered into narrow black velvet wrist bands fastened with tiny, little bows or buckles.

Buttons of very diminutive size are extensively used on tailored waists, outlining the cut of the yoke, vest fronts, etc., or defining some pretty pattern on front revers. Over blouse effects continue to increase in popularity, and also in taking away the plain appearance that made former tailors so unpopular with well-dressed femininity.

OTTAWA BRANCH WILL EQUIP HUNDRED BEDS

The Ottawa branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society has generously offered to equip 100 beds for the Duchess of Cornwall Hospital at Cliveden and the Toronto branch has increased its first gift of 25 beds to 100. Up to the present 289 additional beds have been provided, leaving 201 still to be equipped.

The society acknowledges the following additional donations for this purpose: Ottawa branch, 100 beds, 28 of which have been donated by the daughters of the Empire; Toronto branch, 75 additional; staff of Barisourt Public School, one; Mrs. Margaret Ramsey, one; and Lyndhurst Patriotic League, one bed.

A CONDUCTED BY Clinia Murray

Spring Troubles

"Haven't you used this spring stuff before?"

That is what the editor wanted to know. And, of course, I told him yes; last spring, and the spring before, and probably the spring before that.

There are always new babies and new mothers, but the troubles, illnesses and baby treatments are old and must be repeated for each new, interested set of readers.

The most serious ailment for mothers and babies; the editor and other like big folks need not care what is in it—because they do not need its information.

But to return to our subject. Sometimes high fever accompanies abscess in the ear, and such cases it is well to consult an ear doctor, who will give almost instant relief and prevent any more serious trouble.

The most serious ear disease is what is known as mastoid abscess. This occurs in the mastoid bone, just behind the ear. There is pain, swelling and tenderness of this part, and if it is allowed to go on far enough there will be redness and the ear will be made to stand right out by reason of the intense swelling behind it. If this is noticed, do not delay a moment, but have an ear specialist see the child at once. Immediate treatment is needed, otherwise the infection may burrow upward and cause serious brain trouble.

Applying local home treatments or relying on neighborly advice will not do at all. If you cannot call in a specialist, the case will be treated at the sick children's or the general hospital.

As preventive measures against ear troubles it is well to spray the baby's nose and throat after being out on a windy day; watch for adenoids or enlarged tonsils and have them attended to, and at all times keep the nose and mouth carefully clean.

Here Are Two Women:

Which Is the Failure?

By WINIFRED BLACK

Copyright, 1914, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

POOR Miss Rosie, her life has been a good deal of a failure," said the woman who used to know her, "and she is too bad." And she was such a clever girl, and pretty, too, but she gave everything up for that selfish brother of hers and his children. I saw the professor the other day at a teachers' meeting. He asked all about Miss Rosie.

"You know, we all thought she would marry him some day.

"He's married—has been for some years. They say his wife makes him sleep pretty lively. He always asks for Miss Rosie whenever I see him, and I feel like telling him that if he had the spunk of a mouse he'd have carried Miss Rosie off and married her anyhow, and then they'd all have been happy.

"Kate? Oh, Kate isn't a failure.

"Kate was single, too, you know, when the brother's wife died and left the children motherless, but she didn't stay single on that account. Not Kate.

Miss Rosie's "Threes."

"They think the world and all of their Aunt Rose—well, they ought to—she's given up her whole life for them." And then the woman I used to know went on to tell me how the son of the town drunkard had turned out, to everybody's surprise, to be a good, steady man, and how the minister's son had run away, and nobody knew what had become of him, and all about the next minister, and how popular he was with the ladies, and oh, so many interesting things, and I found myself feeling very, very sorry for Kate, who had made such a success, and envying good-naturedly, just a little, "poor Miss Rosie," whose life has been a good deal of a failure.

A failure—with love at the door and courage at the window?

A failure—with unselfish devotion for a life companionship? A failure—dear Miss Rosie? No success can there ever be anywhere like hers, after all!

There was a letter from Jack—such a funny letter, with so much nonsense in it—was the rose that wouldn't bloom all summer had bloomed at last, and Daddy was delighted, and the little home was just as fresh and pretty and cozy as it could be, and the artist brother was having a lovely time being artistic as to tie and temperamental as to curls, thinned a little by time, but still ambrosial, and there were tried chicken and strawberry shortcake for supper.

Happy Miss Rosie.

And we had a glorious time, and were all so happy and so I used with the world that we quite hated to go to bed at night for fear we might miss something agreeable.

And when I got back to town I found that we had not even mentioned Kate—the one who was the great success in life because she married a rich man, who really is not quite what he ought to be.

An elderly man, with a white beard, and a white hair, that very night I saw Kate, the successful sister, at the theatre in a box.

Kate was magnificent and massaged and curled and powdered, and when you first looked at her, she was a good deal of a beauty.

But at the second glance you saw around her mouth the lines drawn by him, and all about her eyes the look that comes with loneliness, and all her face was cast somehow in an iron mask, and I found myself feeling very, very sorry for Kate, who had made such a success, and envying good-naturedly, just a little, "poor Miss Rosie," whose life has been a good deal of a failure.

A failure—with love at the door and courage at the window?

A failure—with unselfish devotion for a life companionship? A failure—dear Miss Rosie? No success can there ever be anywhere like hers, after all!

HELPLESS WASTED CHILD

Completely cured by the Wonder-Medicine of Great Britain.

Canadian Mothers, Don't Let Your Babies Suffer the Remedy is Here.

Could more convincing proof be offered or required of the altogether amazing power of Dr. Cassell's Tablets than that which follows? It is the testimony of a British Mother, given spontaneously, given gratefully. Here it is: "Dr. Cassell's Tablets merit all the praise they have ever received," says Mrs. Charlton, of 30 Station Road, Epsington, Co. Durham, England. "They cured my child when nothing else could. Following rheumatic fever, Wilfred just wasted away, and all power went from his left side. We had medical advice, after which we took him to Hospital, where for seven months he was treated. He came out still helpless. He could only drag about, trailing his useless feet along the ground. Both the left arm and leg were completely useless, and there seemed no prospect of their ever being anything else. But when we commenced giving Dr. Cassell's Tablets power slowly returned to his limbs. He learned to walk freely, and now at eight years old he is at school, full of life and vigor." Dr. Cassell's Tablets were the only remedy as they have been the only remedy in effecting many equally remarkable cures. Trust to Dr. Cassell's Tablets for Nervous and other forms of Dyspepsia, for Nerve Weakness, Nerve Failure, Neuralgia, Neuritis, Anemia, Palpitation, Debility, Wasting, Kidney Trouble, Lame Back, Vital Depletion, and for weakness and wasting in children. Mothers will find them especially valuable while nursing, and during the critical periods of life. Keep a supply by you in case of need. MRS. PANKHURST NOW RECEIVED WITH CHEERS

War Has Softened Antagonism of Even Strongest Opponents.

LONDON, March 26.—(Correspondence.)—Patriotic fervor draws thunderous cheers in place of old-time jeers, is the way a London newspaper heads an article on Mrs. Pankhurst as a popular war orator. The paper itself is violently anti-suffragette, but honors the war truce which the suffragettes announced at the beginning of the war.

"It was only a year ago when a speech by Mrs. Pankhurst was a signal for a riot. It allowed to proceed at all. Now she is described by a reporter in these words: 'A graceful, dignified figure, the suffrage leader makes as she faces the audience. Over a becoming black dress she wears a black lace shawl; suspended from a thin gold chain is a locket, which she does not use. The Union Jack centred across a certain of green forms the stage background.'"

Her women followers still send up floral offerings to the stage, says the reporter. In speaking, Mrs. Pankhurst carefully avoids passion and invective, but she presents her points clearly and tellingly and with conviction. At the finish of her speech young suffragettes sell postcard souvenirs for a patriotic fund.

Some Points About Shrub Planting

Continuing our talk from yesterday on shrub and vine planting, let us consider a few of the conditions that may be easily overcome in the ordinary backyard, and so allow of good shrub and vine growing.

As a rule, everyone knows that a healthy shrub or vine means a healthy environment, not only for plants but for children and adults.

Stunted growth shows poor soil, either poor in plant food, or poor in conditions that point to a proper plant hygiene.

These two facts point to poor exposures to sun and air, and unhealthy soil.

Here, in our towns and cities, unhealthy soil is not as common as might be thought. Yet it is sufficiently prevalent to be a real detriment to nearly all gardening operations.

Most yards are fairly well drained, nevertheless heavy, sour, and often pointed soil, is to be found in hundreds of our backyards.

Now, gardeners, what is the cause of this sour, heavy and entirely unhealthy soil? And how can the condition be remedied, and the earth made suitable for healthy plant growth?

The answer is: Lack of sufficient sun, lack of sufficient air, lack of ordinary backyard cleanliness, all of which points to a sad lack of household pride.

There are few backyards in our town that cannot make use of the sun, if they could get it; that could not make use of air, if they could get it; and that would not be clean and healthy, if they were able to get these two things. These things may be obtained if you wish a healthy shrub or vine.

High board fences are one of the main causes of this unhealthy soil condition in the yards. These shut out a good deal of sun, and block off currents of air that might go a far way in remedying the ill effects caused by the lack of sun spoken of just above.

Old, and in many cases half-tumbled down back sheds are also a deterrent to plant growth, for the same reason as the fences are. In the case of the shed, and in the case of the shed, these unfortunately provide suitable supports against which old lumber, truck of all kinds, and what not, may be piled for indefinite periods of time, during which time the soil beneath and in the immediate vicinity, becomes heavily from lack of drainage, air and sun, and so unhealthy, while the debris itself gathers all sorts of dust and the like, unsightly to the eye, and giving off bad odors.

Do not attempt to plant a shrub or vine either to hide such spots, or in the mistaken faith that such shrub will grow. It will do neither.

The remedy for these conditions is obvious. While it is not always possible to do away with fences and old sheds, yet all piles of truck can be removed, not only from yards but from lanes. Where possible, of course, remove both sheds and fences. And do not have them put up again.

Now, do we hear some of our gardeners exclaim: It is a far cry from shrub planting to shed and fence removing? Not so. If our new gardeners had never thought of beautifying their back yards, their attention might not have been called to that same truck heap that has been brazenly facing them for some years back.

Beautifying means cleaning up. Cleaning up means striving for more sanitary conditions outside, which also means inside strivings after cleanliness. Inside and outside cleanliness means improved health conditions for children and adults as well as for the beloved plants. And to finish the train of thought, does not individual health mean the health of the town?

BRUCE COUNTY MAKES A FURTHER DONATION

The Belgian Relief Fund of the Toronto Board of Trade received a grant of $100 from the county of Bruce, Ontario, in December last, but the people of that county have now made a further expression of their sympathy. At the January session of the council a grant of one-half mill on the dollar on the assessment was made for patriotic purposes, and divided among the Patriotic Red Cross and Belgian Relief Funds. The Belgian Relief Fund proportion of this is $117.50.

The Westminster Presbyterian Church, Toronto, have also contributed to the fund's fund, their subscription being $150. The fund is now over the $7,000 mark.

STOP LIQUOR SALE IN LONDON DANCE HALLS

LONDON, March 26.—(Correspondence.)—Liquor licenses are being refused to dance halls by the magistrates in charge of this branch of excise. Formerly they were generally awarded without much question, even to halls in which dances were held only occasionally.

"The present is no time for dancing anyway," explained a magistrate in West London, in refusing a license. "If they must dance, let them dance on coffee."
