The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

McLennan Library
McGill University
Montreal

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol → (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ▽ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

McLennan Library

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole → signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ▽ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

P E T R A ,

A Poem, read at the Convocation of Trinity College, Toronto, on the 18th December, 1862; to which was awarded the Prize for English Verse, presented by the Archdeacon of York.

"Oh! death in life, the days that are no more!"

The wave of life bore high its crested top;
Then sank, and fell into a lower deep,
And passed away, and left an azure calm.
The winds of Heaven raised the sands of Time,
And formed a monument, a mighty Fame,
A glorious city, strongest of the earth;
And then these blasts rushed on, and buried
it down,
And 'neath the sands of Time it lay concealed.
Before the weary feet of Israel
Trod the hot sands that bound their promised rest,
Petra was seated, rock-throned as a queen.
And now when Israel's sole can find no rest,
Petra rock-buried is no more a queen,
Is but a name, a shadow of the past
Left by God's light upon the mountain side.
Power sought a home, and hovered o'er her
vale,
And built an eyry on the hanging cliff
Commerce brought sea-worn, and brown-
dusted men
Over the billows of cerulean depths,
And o'er the wav-less seas of Araby,
To wreath a golden crown for Petra's brow,
And pour their jewels at her sandalled feet.
The busy sounds of bardy labour rose,
When rose the song of early-singing bird;
And when blue night put forth her dewy lamps
The voice of tuneful mirth was heard around.
Art came and smiled on Toli; and Beauty grew
Amid their homes, unnoticed; as a child
That plays unheeded in the house he glads.
Here, first, welled forth the crystal stream
that bathes
In glowing power the reason of the world,
And understanding gleamed within their eyes.
Pomp bad its throne, proud pageants swelled
their hearts,
And victory clothed with fame their mighty
Kings.
The proudest blossom on the bush of Time,
A full-blown rose, it bloomed in crimson pride,
And centred on itself the praise of men,
And scorned the root and sap which gave it being.
And where is now that rose? Scentless and
dead,

It's withered leaves lie scattered on the ground;
For Gor' ath spaken, and the proud are low.
Blank ruin calls to the past, and solitude
Wat'kens a death-like echo. The sad air Breathes but of death. The heavy, storm-born cloud
Of wrath has hung low in the burdened sky;
As hangs the v'leath of gloom above the burit,
And blackened ground where once a city stood.
The sculptured homes of living and of dead,
Left of their tenants by the hand of Time!
A lifeless statue of the life tba' was,
Blacked with the dust and cobwebs of decay!
An empty nest that once was sweet with song!
The homes where love let in the summer sun;
The homes which hate made dark with winter's gloom;
The cot where bright-eyed hunger was at
home;
The gold-built castle where ber kings were fed;
The balcwed temple where her gods were praised:
All—are the homes of dragons and of beasts,
And shrieking owls, and ravens gloomy-plumed.
Silent the voice of power that scorn'd the
world;
Silent the eager shouts of those who came
With treasures of that world, far-gathered from
The dusky East, the golden grained glebes
Of sunny Egypt, and the farther west;
Silent the toilful sounds of horny hands,
The manifold rich sounds of cheerful work;
Silent the songs of those who plucked the
grapes
Purpled the ripened vineyard, and of those Who trod the wine-press, with light purpled
feet;
Silent are they who quaffed the goblet's
stream,
While harpist singer sang his olden lay,
And every eye was like a well of mirth;
Silent the temple and the priests' proud chants;
And silent King, and all who swelled the pomp
Of Golden glory, and were loud with pride.
The Eternal Voice that speaks in history
spake:—
"When the whole earth rejoiceth, I will make,
"Thee desolate." And Petra knows 'twas Gon.
