RUSSIAN INFANTRY FAILS TO STOP ENEMY'S THRUST

Road to Petrograd Now is Wide Open, But it is Doubtful if Hindenburg Would Attempt to Advance as Country is Almost Impassable for Troops.

Berlin, via London, Sept. 3.—The supplementary statement issued this evening from general headquarters, announces the capture of Riga by the Germans.

Riga, Russia's biggest port on the Gulf of Riga, is in the hands of the Germans and its garrison and the civilian population are in retreat eastward.

Following up rapidly the advantage they gained in driving the Russians across the Dvina River on both sides of Uxkull last Saturday, the Germans threw bridges across this stream and soon were on the heels of the former defenders, some of whom offered resistance, but others of whom showed the white flag, giving the invaders no trouble in marching up the eastern bank of the Dvina towards Riga, fifteen miles distant. Seeing the disaffection and the inability to stem the tide of the advance, the Russian commander ordered an evacuation. With the falling back of the Russians from the city proper and the advance of the Germans northward along both sides of the stream, the Russians still defending the eastern bank around Dahlen seemingly are in danger of being between the two fast-moving bodies of the enemy and made prisoner. Behind them, the Russians in their retreat from Riga are leaving the country in waste, burning villages and farms. Whether the city itself remains intact has not yet been made known, but doubtless the guns in the fortress and the ammunition stores were moved or destroyed to prevent them falling into the hands of the Germans.

Aside from the strategic value of controlling the Gulf of Riga and of a base nearer the mouth of the Gulf of Finland, at the head of which Petrograd is situated, for the moment it is impossible to see the importance of the German gain, especially with the near approach of winter, when military operations in this northern region are almost impossible. Where the Russians will draw their new line in the north to connect with that below also remains to be seen.

Petrograd, Sept. 3.—The German offensive on the Riga front began Saturday by an attack on the Russian Uxkull position, following artillery preparation which lasted several hours. The Russian troops defending the Dvina River withdrew and the Germans succeeded in throwing two bridges across the Dvina and passing to the eastern bank.

The Russian infantry, in spite of the brilliant action of the artillery which destroyed one of the enemy's bridges, could not stop the German thrust and the enemy, taking advantage of this, rapidly developed his success and began an advance northward. Russian counter-attacks against him were unsuccessful.

No Great Alarm.
 Washington, Sept. 3.—An abandonment of Riga in the face of the new German drive into Russia, and even the evacuation of Petrograd itself, have been forecast as possibilities in confidential advices to the American Government during the last two weeks. Such a development is not regarded with so much alarm, as might be supposed.

With Riga abandoned, and German occupation of Petrograd in prospect, the seat of the Russian provisional government undoubtedly will be moved to Moscow. Much as they may regret seeing the Russian capital occupied by a German army, the forceful, thinking men of Russia, working to set up a government, may regard it as a blessing in disguise.

government, and that an experience under the military heel of Germany might convince them of the need of supporting a government as now constituted to save their fatherland for Russia.

Roads Are Bad.
 As a military achievement a capture of Riga and Petrograd amounts to almost nothing. With support of the German fleet in the Baltic a German army can take Riga almost without an effort. Between Riga and Petrograd are many miles of swamp waste, but admittedly the German army could traverse them, altho not easily.

Panic in the City.
 Petrograd, Sept. 3.—The war office informs the Associated Press that the evacuation of the Riga fortified district referred to in today's official communications includes the City of Riga itself.

ONE-THIRD OF ENEMY ARMY DESTROYED ON ISONZO LINES

Present Offensive Costs Austrians Many Thousands of Best Troops—Italians Forced to Clear Out Pockets of Isolated Foe Forces.

Udine, Italy, Sept. 3.—Notwithstanding bad weather conditions fighting still continues all along the Italian-Austrian line, and consists for the most part in isolated hand-to-hand encounters between small detachments of Italian and Austrian soldiers, the latter imprisoned by Italian artillery fire in galleries, the mouths of which have been closed by shell-fire. The attacking forces are straightening out the new line by cutting out salients still held by small groups of Austrians. Counter-offensives by the Austrians, in which they are supported by reinforcements, are being continually repulsed.

Mostly Fresh Troops.
 The trenches taken during the last four or five days are for the most part fresh troops in excellent physical condition, and well-equipped, showing the immense effort the enemy is making to save the situation.

Along with these individual combats continues the artillery duel with the Borovich army, possessing more than 4000 cannon of all calibres. The Austrians have transformed the favorite summer playground in the Favozza woods southeast of Gorizia into an immense artillery park from which they pour a continuous rain of fire to the north over the little plain of Gargano.

According to calculations made here, General Boroevic, the Austrian commander, has lost one-third of his first-line army in the present Italian advance.

The advancing fighting armies of Italy along 60 miles of front over every variety of ground, is scarcely more impressive spectacle than the work of 30,000 men engaged in vast engineering operations in the occupied territories behind the forces which are continually in action.

Another Air Raid on England

German Machines Crossed Southeast Coast, Dropping Bombs at Various Places.

London, Sept. 4.—German airplanes visited the southeast coast of England last (Monday) night, dropping bombs at various places, according to an official statement issued shortly after midnight. No report of casualties or damages has been received up to the present time.

The official statement follows: "Enemy airplanes crossed the southeast coast at eleven o'clock last night and dropped bombs at various places. No reports of casualties or damage have yet been received. "A number of our airplanes pursued the enemy."

ITALIANS DRIVE AHEAD ON BRESTOVIZZA ROAD

Allies Storm More Positions in Valley Southeast of Gorizia, Repulsing Counter-Attacks—Much Artillery Activity.

Rome, Sept. 3.—Italian troops have fought their way further forward in the Brestovizza Valley, in the district south of Gorizia, and repulsed a violent Austrian counter-attack on their new positions, the war office announced today.

The text of the statement reads: "On the front as a whole the activity was mainly confined to the artillery. The firing was more intense east of Gorizia and on the Carso Plateau. "In the Brestovizza Valley, after a very bitter struggle, we succeeded in advancing still more to the east and captured some prisoners. A violent counter-attack by the enemy was broken up by our fire. "The number of prisoners captured on Saturday and Sunday on the Julian front was 6 officers and 829 men. "In recapturing the advanced position in the Zebra Valley, as reported yesterday, our Alpine troops captured one gun and three machine guns."

Local Enemy Attack Repulsed While British Gain a Success

By the Associated Press.
 British Front in France and Belgium, Sept. 3.—The reappearance of fine weather along the British front has quickened the fighting line. The Germans last night essayed a local attack on a British position southwest of Havrincourt, and were repulsed. The assault was preceded by a heavy bombardment, in which gas shells were used, but the Germans were unable to withstand the combined fire of artillery and machine guns.

The British carried out a highly successful raid on German trenches southeast of Monchy. The attack was a complete surprise, and the British returned with a considerable number of prisoners. There was intense aerial activity last night with many bombing raids along the line. There was little wind and the bright moon lighted the country like day, making it ideal for the operations of the airmen. Heavy artillery duels also occurred at various points. A sunset sun and a favorable breeze also rapidly drove out the muddy roads and waterlogged battle-ground.

MORE LENS HOUSES LOST BY GERMANS

HEAVILY PUNISH FOE
 Dominion's Men Inflict Twenty Thousand Casualties in Five Weeks.

By Stewart Lyon.
 Canadian Headquarters in France, via London, Sept. 3.—The Germans in the Lens struggle doggedly strive to loosen the constrictive grip of our men upon the defenses of the city, but as the days pass the constriction increases instead of lessening. It is on the north and west fronts that the enemy shows most uneasiness. On the south he is protected by the flooded area in the valley of Scarpe and by formidable artillery and machine gun positions on the Sallaum mines hill. On the west the struggle is a house-to-house one, and in that sort of fighting the Canadians because of their greater powers of initiative, have a distinct advantage and are making steady progress toward the heart of Lens.

The enemy has been using gas when the conditions are favorable to do the advance, but even in this form of warfare he is no longer superior. This (Monday) morning, 200 drums of gas were projected by our mortars where the German posts are most numerous, and the enemy has Afraid the Price Paid May Be an Excessive One.

Montreal, Sept. 3.—On being asked to make a statement in connection with the proposed acquisition of the Canadian Northern Railway by the Canadian Government, Lord Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, made the following reply:

"I wish to deny most emphatically the statement published in a number of newspapers and evidently inspired, that the Canadian Pacific Co. is offering organized opposition to the government proposals about the Canadian Northern. Up to the present time no effort of any kind has been made by the company to influence the vote of a single member of the house of commons of the senate upon the measure now before parliament.

"This reference to the Canadian Pacific is the same old threadbare ruse to which resort has been made on more than one occasion during the past 30 years when railway schemes (Concluded on Page 2, Column 2).

Wm. and Mary Furniture For Your Dining Room

Delightful Reproductions of This Graceful Old-time Design, Adapted to Small or Medium-sized Rooms and to Limited Pocket-books.

QUEEN MARY, wife of King William of Orange, had a great fondness for interesting furniture. And behold the impress of a woman's influence in the cabinet-making of the time. A dainty simplicity shows itself in line and motif—in the cup-turned legs, slender braces and noticeable absence of the heavy, ornate carving of the Frenchified furniture of the preceding reign of King Charles.

Hence the popularity nowadays of the William and Mary design for ordinary household use—and the special attractiveness of these delightful walnut dining-room sets now being featured on the second floor of the Furniture Building.

The set our artist has sketched represents a remarkable value at $193.00. Developed in rich, black walnut, it consists of 9 pieces, viz., sideboard, china cabinet, round extension table, and 6 chairs with slip seats, upholstered in leather. The drawers, which are of dust-proof construction, have the antique drop handles characteristic of the design. A notable price value at $193.00.

Another William and Mary design in black walnut shows a long, low sideboard, quaint closed china cabinet, round extension table and 6 chairs upholstered with a brown wool fabric. Price, $485.00 for 9 pieces.

Louis XVI. and Mission Designs.

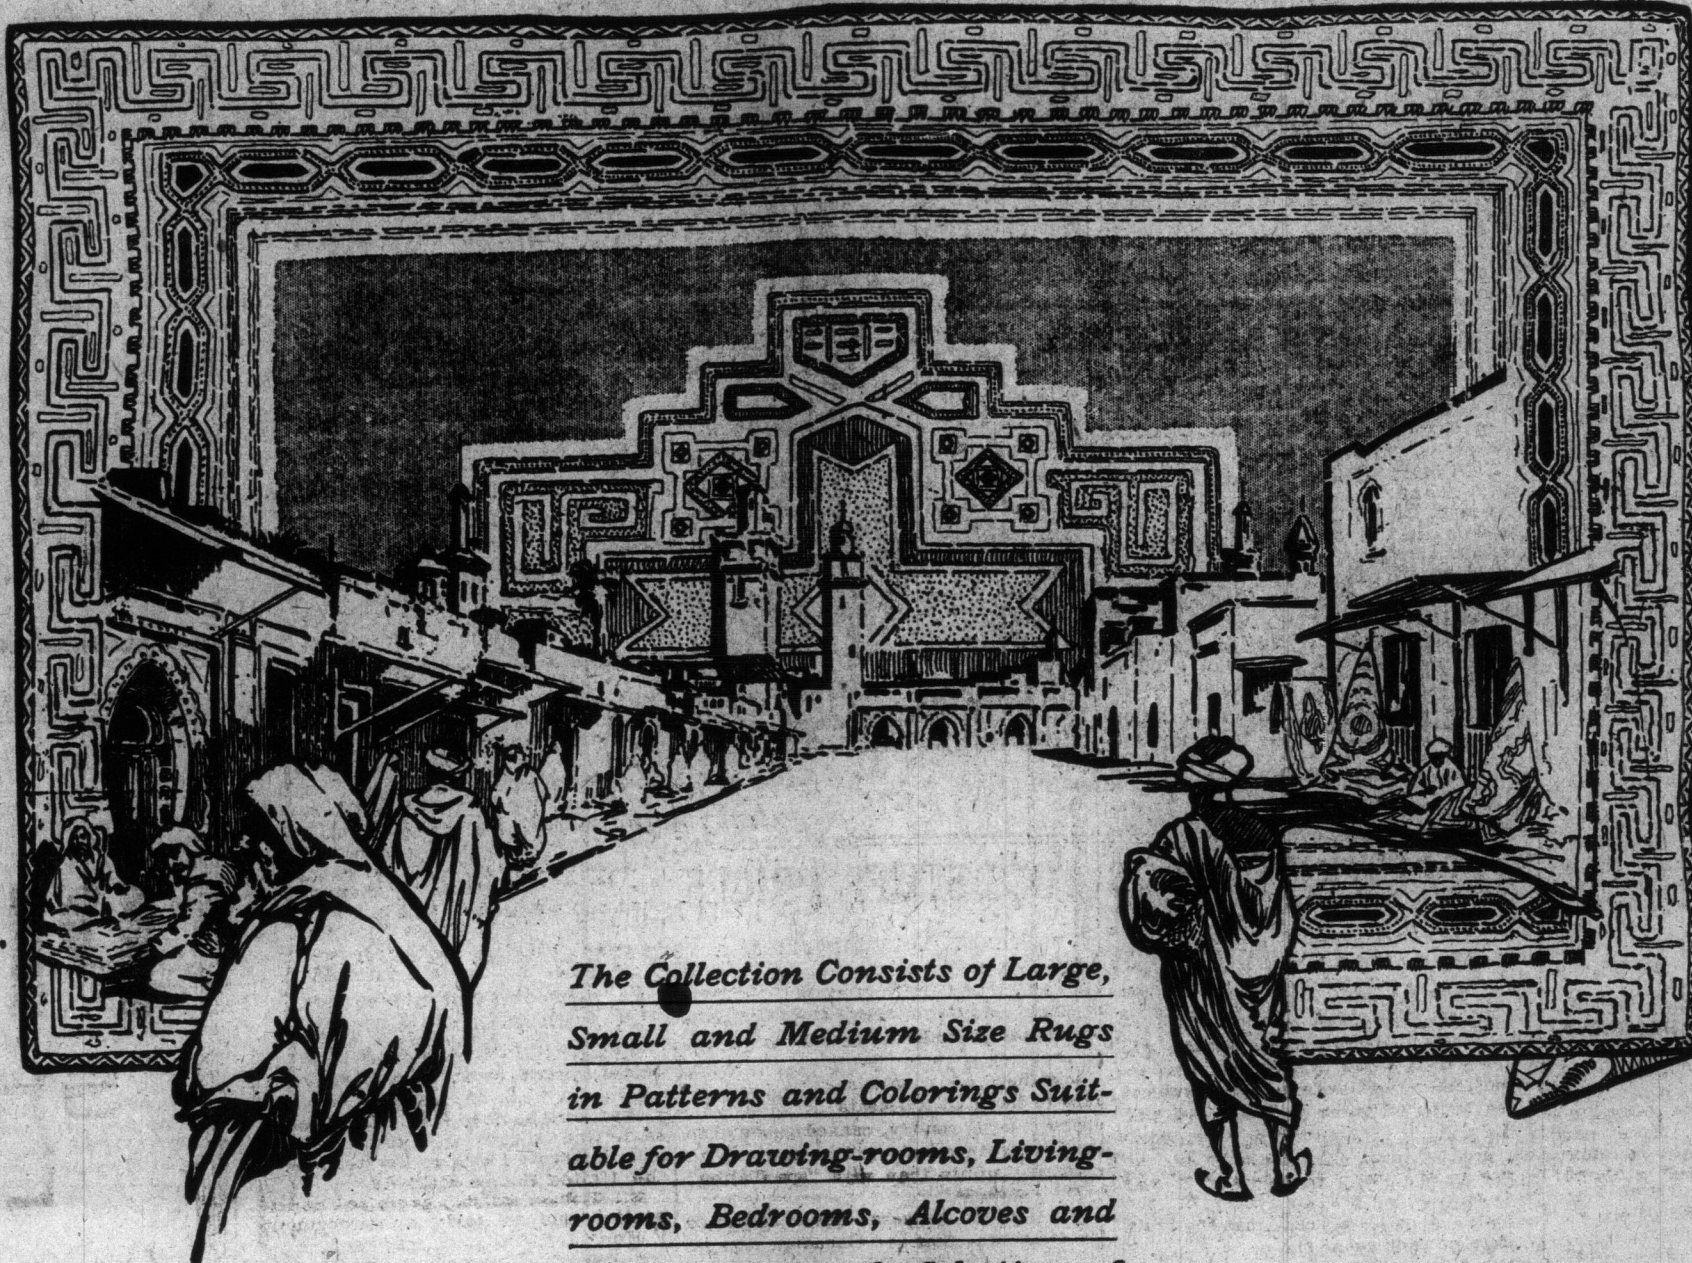

For a small room is a very pleasing dining-room set in mahogany, carried out in Louis XVI. design (straight of line and simple of motif), and consisting of sideboard at $62.50, dinner wagon, $23.50; 6 chairs, $81 the set; china cabinet, $42.50; oval extension table, $61.00.

And in plain mission design in turned oak, admirable for bungalow use, is a set made up of sideboard, with mirror and shelf, at $47.50; china cabinet, $24.00; round extension table, $36.00, and set of 6 chairs, with leather seats, $38.25.

GIVE yourself a good excuse for carrying one of the fashionably enormous knitting bags. Make a sleeveless sweater for some soldier or sailor, who, in a few months' time, will be in the icy throes of another winter campaign. Such jackets require 1/2 lb. of wool (grey beehive, double knitting yarn at $2.50 per pound, or Canadian khaki yarn at $1.75, are suitable for the purpose), and one pair of Number 5 or 6 needles (20 and 30 cents a pair). Following are the directions for making:

Sleeveless Sweater—Cast on 72 stitches, knit 4, and purl 4 for 3 inches; then knit for 21 inches. For neck opening knit 24 stitches, bind off 24 stitches, and knit 24. Knit 4 ribs on each side, knit 24 stitches, cast on 24 stitches, and knit 24, and bind off. Sew up side seams, leaving ample arm hole. Knit 1/2-inch edge around neck.

If you have any difficulties with your task, bring them into the art needlework department, and the knitting instructress will straighten them out for you.

It is no idle rumor that narrow skirts are back into vogue. Two or three of the Paris gowns just arrived measure no more than a yard and a quarter around the ankles.

And 'tis a fallacy to think that narrow skirts must be long. Six to eight inches from the ground is the prevailing length.

Again let us remind you of the colors that Fashion is calling her particular own this autumn—mole, beetroot, Maduro brown (tete de negre), balsam green, taupe, Burgundy, purple, plum, Twilight and navy blue, Cuban brown, and black. You can make up your costume in any one of them—from headwear to hosiery.

GRAY-DORT After 60 and 30 Years

Wm. Gray Sons Company, Chatham, 1855
Gray-Dort Motors, Limited, Chatham, 1915
Dort Carriage Company, Flint, 1885
Dort Motor Car Company, Flint, 1915

A Complete Showing at the Ex.
Gray-Dort Cars will be shown in the Transportation Building at the Exhibition. There will be Touring Models, Roadsters and Sedans. It will be the biggest and most complete showing of our cars ever made. Expert motor car men will be there to explain the car to you. Do not fail to visit this exhibit.

SIXTY years successfully building good vehicles should be a broad preparation for the motor car field. Especially when those vehicles have been so well known that their name is a household word in practically every home in Canada.

Gray has been building good vehicles since 1855. Thirty years building vehicles should teach something of transportation equipment—when those thirty years have been years of continued growth and success.

Dort has been successfully building vehicles since 1885. Place one of these institutions in Chatham, Ontario, with a man at its head who built successfully because he builded well—at reasonable prices. Give him a keen interest in the motor car industry plus the patience to wait till he knew he could make a good car at a nominal price. There you have Robert Gray and the Wm. Gray Sons Company.

It is not surprising that the entire output of 1916 Gray-Dorts was sold in three days. It was a foregone conclusion that such institutions would build a car that would win unstinted praise from owners. Praise freely given to the extent of over-selling a doubled output for 1917. Praise that may oversell the again doubled output for 1918.

WELL-CONTESTED RACES AT GALT
Galt, Sept. 3.—The most successful race meet ever held was that at Man-chester track this afternoon with a record attendance. All three races were keenly contested, two going five heats.

JUDGING ROADSTER CLASS AT THE EX.
Considerable adverse criticism was caused in the judging of the single roadster class in front of the grand stand yesterday afternoon at the Exhibition. The class was possibly one of the best shown for some years, and the old-time harness horse enthusiasts were there in great numbers. The different entries were put thru the stretch at their different paces—walking, trotting, and then a show of speed.

SOLDIER'S BOY CHAMPION BABY

Little Billy House Carries Off Sweepstakes at Record Show.

FATHER IS OVERSEAS

Some Mothers Can't Understand Why Babies Fail to Obtain Prize.

Here's a letter from your son, Daddy Mine! Daddy Mine! Just to tell you that he's won, Daddy Mine! Daddy Mine! The sweepstakes at the Fair From scores of babies rare Who could not with him compare, Daddy Mine!

William House—"Billy," his mother calls him—winner of the sweepstakes medal and twenty dollar prize in the baby show at the Canadian National Exhibition—will send the son of his victory to his soldier daddy, who is far overseas and who has not yet seen the bonnie blue-eyed boy who among the 315 of Canada's show babies carried off the highest award at the fair. Billy, who is just seven months old, is twenty-eight and a half inches tall and weighs twenty-one pounds and ounces. His father, who is of English birth, went overseas with the 4th A.S.C., and his mother, a young Scotch woman from Nairn, is now living at 7 Robcock avenue, Toronto. Her baby won first prize in class No. 1 and then swept the field, carrying off the chief stake. The mother of Billy was very modest in her conquest, saying that at first she had not thought of taking him, but she went out to have him photographed, followed by an admiring crowd and with Dr. Edmund E. King asking that he might have the child in his arms to certify during the process, the little woman would have been more than human had she not felt elated.

Wonderful Showing. It was altogether a wonderful showing. The entries were nearly double those of last year, being 315 against 158, and the mothers individually and collectively seemed to take a scientific interest as well as a motherly pride in the exhibit. As a whole the babies were a beautiful collection of babyhood, and the judges in many instances had to pull themselves up with a jerk and remember that there were hard and fast rules by which they had to stand—otherwise the baby girls with the alluring eyes which, young as they were, they cast upon the judges, who, however, proved stony-hearted—and the lusty boys, who, alas! were too often over weight, might have won out against the final prizewinners. Preliminary to the judging in the dairy building the babies were carried to a tent where a staff of attendants were ready to take them in charge. Two policemen stood at the end of the line to keep back the all too anxious mothers from crowding to the inconvenience of the arbiters of the fate of their babes. Every tot was weighed in the white cradle patriotically swathed in the Union Jack and superintended by the Exhibition baby's friend, Charles Holland. Later the child was passed on to a nurse who took its measurements, which were at once written on his tag, after which he was ready for the final judgment by the jury of eight doctors in the dairy building.

Elimination Process. The process of elimination was watched by hundreds who stood patiently outside the ring waiting for the various verdicts, and while for the most part the mothers took the rejection of their offspring with Spartan-like demeanor, there were some who were differentiated against. "What's the matter with this boy?" said a young woman, holding up a fine fair baby to the one interrogated. "There's nothing the matter with him," said the other woman, as she took one of the baby hands and looked at the child admiringly. "Is there any boy up there like him?" continued the first speaker, whose wrath against what she considered the blindness of the judges was evidently rising; "yet they wouldn't look at him. They said he is too tall!" The second woman tried to console her by telling her that the babies had to conform to certain regulations, but that these would not prevent her great, lusty boy from becoming a general some day, where his strength and length would be appreciated. Ida Victoria Barnes, the baby who came first in the class of girls over six months and under 12, was a dark, olive-skinned and brown-eyed girl, daughter of Mrs. R. M. Barnes of Bracondale Farm. Both parents were English, the father having gone overseas with the Princess Patricia's.

Twins. Always a special attraction in this year's show were the twins. Lorna and Mildred Wood, who came out first in this section, were pretty medium-sized children in charge of a nice young mother, a general daddy is in muniton work. Other beautiful twins were Jack and Kenneth Campbell, the brown-eyed darlings of a Titan-haired mother who hails from Guelph. A quite unusual feature was that a large number of the winners were the children of the men who are fighting for the empire and the interest of the soldiers and sailors accompanied his son to the best fair held here for years. In all of the classes there are a large number of entries, and especially in horses which is the finest exhibit ever made here. The attendance today was upwards of 4000, and a fine program of sports was provided. The two speeding events brought together some good horses. The classes were the 250 and 218.

After Vacation Peel Your Discolored Skin
 Women returning from the seaside with brown, reddened or freckled complexions will be wise in immediately taking up the mercurized wax treatment. Weatherbeaten skin had best come off, for no amount of "beautifying" will ever make such skin pretty to look at. The surest, safest, easiest way to shed the discolored cuticle is with the treatment suggested. Put the wax on before retiring, as you would cold cream, and rinse it off next morning with warm water. Minute particles of scurf skin will peel off day by day, gradually showing the healthy, youthful skin beneath. One ounce of mercurized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is enough to make any discolored or spotted complexion clear, white and satiny soft. Its action is so gentle no harm is caused and the face shows no trace of its use.

MAJ. E. W. WRIGHT IN TORONTO. Major Edward W. Wright was in Toronto Saturday, and left yesterday for Chicago. He is one of the Canadian officers associated with the British mission in charge of recruiting in the United States. Major Wright reports a fair run of recruits. After enrolment in the American cities the British-born volunteers are sent to Canada and concentrated in the west at Vancouver, from the central states at Winnipeg and in the east at Toronto and Montreal.

Gooderham and Mrs. Plumtree went to Montreal on Saturday night to see Lady Drummond, and took breakfast with her on their arrival, and motored to Mrs. Huntly Drummond's lovely country house for supper before leaving on their return to Toronto on Sunday night. Col. Noel Marshall was also of the party. Lady Drummond has been appointed one of the councilors of the Canadian Red Cross Society, and returns to England almost immediately.

Miss Church received in the women's committee room yesterday afternoon at the Exhibition when General Sir Sam Hughes took tea there with others at the table were: Mrs. Willoughby Cummings, Joseph Oliver, Dr. and Mrs. Norman Allen, Mr. D'Arcy Hinds, Col. Marshall also came in to add his welcome to the ever-popular Sir Sam, who later dined with the directors, and was in a box on the grand stand in the evening. BELLEVILLE FAIR OPENS.
 Belleville, Sept. 3.—Belleville fair, which opened today and will continue tomorrow, is expected to be the best fair held here for years. In all of the classes there are a large number of entries, and especially in horses which is the finest exhibit ever made here. The attendance today was upwards of 4000, and a fine program of sports was provided. The two speeding events brought together some good horses. The classes were the 250 and 218.

MASS OF HUMANITY WEDGED IN GROUNDS
 Labor Day Crowd Joggles and Jostles, But is Good-Natured.
 Given ideal weather and a holiday, labor, both organized and unorganized, donned its glad rags yesterday, and hid itself to the hounds of the Canadian National Exhibition, and there departed itself to its heart's content. Eager to augment Confederation Day's attendance and assist it toward the objective of the management, the million mark, the people arose early, and started on the rampage. By 8 o'clock yesterday morning the streets on every route leading to the Exhibition were comfortably filled; by 10 o'clock there was a little less room to spare, and by 11 o'clock they were rammed, jammed tight with pleased and gasping humanity. Crowd Corps Early. The cars came along Dufferin street and Strachan avenue, the eastern and western entrances of the Exhibition in strings of three. As fast as they arrived they disgorged their contents: made the loop, and ran back for more. They were like Oliver Twist—their appetite was omnivorous, insatiable. The shaded approaches to the Dufferin street entrance were packed with people patiently awaiting their turns at the ticket wickets, and the turnstiles clicked merrily. Early in the day the checking offices were demanding elastic slides to accommodate the baggage being unloaded there. With the delighted crowd the government building, being within easy reach of the Dufferin entrance, was an easy mark. The transportation building ran its close second. Harmony emanating from the band stands attracted the musically inclined, and thousands descended to the water's edge to take a sniff of the fresh clear air that swept across it. The process, manufacturers, industrial and various other buildings were agog with excited people, all keenly interested in the multitudinous sights and sounds of commerce and industry. The main thoroughfare, it was a case of "follow your leader" all the way. The mass of humanity was packed so tight as to leave little elbow room, but everyone was good-natured and did not mind the joggling and jostling one iota. It was a happy crowd out for a lifetime's pleasure crowded in a scant twelve hours. What cared it for the morrow, when it was labor day in truth? Sufficient unto the day was the evil thereof. As usual the Labor Day athletic events drew thousands of people to the athletic grounds at 2.00. Everyone entered into the numerous events with a zest that only a heart-whole enthusiasm can make the day a real letter day in the history of the Canadian National Exhibition, and an epoch in the annals of labor can indicate. In the morning, even before noon, there was a queue of people fully 50 yards long at the main and side entrances of the grand stand, eager to secure tickets for the afternoon performance. At night also the stand was packed to capacity with an enthusiastic and appreciative audience. It was a hungry crowd, too, and lucky the ones who had brought their victuals for the restaurants were crowded to the doors, and many clamoring prospective customers had to be turned away unsatisfied. As in the past the police authorities had a herculean task to control the crowd, and it speaks well for the organization of the Exhibition force that Labor Day passed away without accident or unwelcome incident. Labor Day, 1917, is a day that will not soon be forgotten by those who had the good fortune to participate in it at the C. N. E.
