MARITIMES' LOSS

Young From East Not Begrudged To West, But To Other Countries

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 17.—A vigorous discussion, turning mainly to the subject of immigration, opened at last night's session of the Dominion conference of Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce.

The session was called for discussion of problems presented to the conference by speakers at the afternoon session.

Speakers emphasized that immigration must be stimulated. The consensus of opinion was that the tide of immigration could be swelled through the force of public opinion exerted through the bodies represented at the conference in every city and town of the Dominion.

Declaring he had been for many years interested in the question of immigration, Colonel Brown, London, Ont., pointed to the fact that there were 400,000 acres of unoccupied land in that section of Ontario, which raised 45 per cent. of the field crops of the province, and 50 per cent. of the live stock.

U. S. COMPARISON.

In the past, a measure of the immigration was due to the feeling, erroneously held by some people, that by living in Canada they were inferior to their neighbors in the United States.

This inferiority complex was engendered through living under the shadow of a nation of 100,000,000 people, with immense resources. The complaint was made that the Canadian men and women of the country were those who left to seek their fortunes elsewhere. This, he declared, could be solved by the business men of the country making a greater use of university trained men and women.

G. Frank Beer, Toronto, held that the country should be opened up to Canadians of the same remuneration as paid in the United States.

APPEAL FOR INDUSTRY

Too much stress was being laid on the subject of agriculture, declared Nicol Thompson, of Vancouver. The development of Great Britain, he said, had been brought about through the development of industry, and he considered that Canada would be well advised to follow along the same line.

"We are despoiling our country by shipping out our raw materials," said Mr. Thompson. "While we want people on the land, we must provide some outlet for their offspring," he declared.

DISGUSTED WITH POLICY

One trip through Europe had disgusted him with the immigration policy of the Federal Government, declared C. W. Petersen, of Calgary. He had found in Europe, he said, under adverse conditions, Canada had a plant sufficient to care for a population of 15,000,000 people, and the doors should be thrown open, and every effort made to get these people.

MR. SCANDERS SPEAKS

Hearty accord with the views of Mr. Petersen, was expressed by E. Macleod Scandlers, Saint John. Restricted immigration, declared Mr. Scandlers, was the greatest political blunder any country ever made, and the sooner the restriction is removed, the better the country would be. If admission was granted to all wealthy, God fearing people, with the Anglo-Saxon dominance already in the country, Canada could soon produce a higher type of composite individual. Development should be two fold, agricultural and industrial.

While many of the young men from the Maritimes came to Western Canada, they were not begrudged to this section of the Dominion, but they were begrudged to another country. A United States senator had sought to place Canada under the quota law, which would have stopped the leak from Canada to the United States. The United States government had taken the stand that when the government of Canada asked to have this bill put in force, it would be put through, but as yet the government of Canada had not taken steps to stop this leak.

WEST OPTIMISTIC.

Colonel Robert Starks, Montreal, spoke briefly on the steps that were being taken to settle the Northern district of the province of Quebec, and C. W. Rowley, Toronto, had a word to say for the farmers of Western Canada. The condition of the western farmer, said Mr. Rowley, was not nearly so bad as one would think. While some were hard up, many were making money, and the people of the country had the heart and would come out all right.

PARIS, Nov. 17.—The text of Premier Painleve's bill instituting exceptional national contributions, for the redemption of the public debt, has been printed and sent to members of the Chamber of Deputies, together with a voluminous report of Lucien Lamoureux, rapporteur of the Chamber's finance committee. This morning nothing appeared to stand in the way of commencement of debate in the chamber on the measure.

CANADIANS HIT

Canadians and other expatriates in France, will be hit hard by the "National contributions" act unless—which appears improbable—an amendment exempting them, is introduced during the passage of the bill through parliament. Article 16 provides that the levy is payable on "real or personal property retained abroad by persons of French nationality or habitually residing in France."

Clung To Overturned Boat For Three Hours ON WAY TO SHIP Men Were Off Coast Guard Cutter; Took Sick Member Ashore

SHELburne, N. S., Nov. 17.—Eight bodies, those of members of the crew of the U. S. coastguard cutter Morrill, who were swept to tragic deaths in the storm-tossed waters of Shelburne Harbor, last night, were discovered along the shores of the harbor this morning by fishermen, who had started their search at daylight.

The dead are as follows: Henry Kingsbury, 25, warrant paymaster, Detroit, Mich.; Charles Lundgren, 58, warrant boatwain, Detroit, Mich.; John Salsyack, 22, first class seaman, Baltimore; Herbert K. Wilson, 24, cabin steward, Montreal; John R. Shea, 22, chief boatwain, Providence, R. I.; J. Stevens, 22, first class seaman, Baltimore; Ira J. Brackett, 25, coxswain, Lehigh, Pa.; Hugh H. McMurdo, 25, chief yeoman, Clarkburg, W. Va. Sole survivors Chester Taylor, second class engineer, Bay City, Mich.

But for the stamina and endurance of a 19-year-old Bay State, Mich., boy, an engineer of the Morrill, the story of how eight members of the crew went to their death last night would never have been told.

DIE ONE BY ONE While older and more seasoned veterans of the coastguard succumbed one by one to the rigor of the storm, and the icy water, young Taylor kept his hold on the boat's keel, until he felt the down-hung mast touch bottom. At that time only one of his comrades, J. R. Shea, 23, of Providence, R. I., had survived. Together they plunged into the sea in a last desperate effort to reach shore. Shea gave out after a few strokes, and then came the hardest part of all for Taylor. His companion endeavored to grasp him in the last despairing effort of a dying man. Taylor, his own strength waning, was barely able to realize that Shea was dragging him down when the latter collapsed and disappeared. A few minutes later Taylor was dashed upon the rocks, bruised and broken. Walking and crawling through the bushes, Taylor, his weak cries unheard, sought help and finally met a young boy, who took him to a house, where every assistance was rendered and the story of the tragedy unfolded.

SICK MAN VICTIM It was a strange coincidence that the visit of the men to shore was to carry a sick man to hospital, and that the men, found by shore physicians to be not in need of hospital care, was being returned to the Morrill, only to go to his death by drowning. The shore trip had been made by a crew of

CANADA TRADE BOARD TO BE RECOMMENDED

Will be Modeled After U. S. Chamber of Commerce, Says Toronto Chief—Dawson Will Bring the Matter to Conference.

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 17.—S. B. Gundy, president of the Toronto Board of Trade, announced last night that a motion would come before the Dominion conference of boards of trade and chambers of commerce for the formation of a Dominion Board of Trade.

The formation of this body was in the back of his mind as the ultimate aim of the Dominion conference of boards of trade when he first proposed that it be called, Mr. Gundy said in an interview.

DAWSON WILL MOVE. A. O. Dawson of the Montreal Board of Trade, will move for the formation of the Dominion board. It seems obvious that we should have such an organization, said Mr. Gundy, for it will mean co-ordination and co-operation of all the various parts of this Dominion, and will lead to our problems being treated as they should be from a national standpoint.

Mr. Gundy said he would suggest that the organization be modeled on that of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

OTTAWA, Nov. 16.—Highly encouraging news of the manner in which Canada's exhibit at the exhibition at Dunedin, New Zealand, is regarded was received here today. Previous to the official opening which takes place Tuesday, the Governor-General of New Zealand, Sir Charles Fergusson, and staff, the Mayor of that city and the exhibition committee paid an informal visit to Canada's exhibits and found the Canadian display entirely completed and the exhibits installed.

"The visitors expressed keen appreciation of Canada's magnificent installation," says the concluding sentence of a cable received here today.

Fifty-three Canadian companies are represented in the Canadian pavilion and occupy 25,000 square feet. In addition many other Canadian companies will take part. J. O. Turcotte is in charge of the pavilion for the Dominion Government. The cost to the latter is not expected to exceed $180,000.

Canada enjoys an average tariff of about 20 per cent with New Zealand as compared with the general tariff of 35 per cent, and Canada's exports to New Zealand in the year ended September last exceeded $15,000,000.

CALLS LIBERAL METHODS IN P. Q. DANGEROUS

Meighen at Hamilton Quotes From Report of Taschereau Speech

LEADER BLAMED FOR CONSCRIPTION IN WAR

Declares Effort to Confuse Campaign Issues Failed in Other Provinces

HAMILTON, Nov. 16—"I do not speak the language of resentment or of bitterness; I speak only the language of truth when I say that never in the history of elections in this Dominion has a great party stooped to methods at once so dishonest and so dangerous as did the Liberal party in the late campaign in the Province of Quebec," declared Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, speaking at a banquet given here tonight by the Wentworth Conservative Association in honor of Gordon C. Wilson, member-elect for Wentworth.

QUOTES PAPER

"As evidence of this assertion, Mr. Meighen read a newspaper extract quoting Premier Taschereau, of Quebec, as having declared at a meeting in that province near the close of the campaign, 'that Mr. Meighen is the man of conscription, the man who sent our men to fight in Flanders fields.'"

NEW WARS PROPHESED

"New wars," continued Mr. Meighen, "are being further with the campaign in Quebec," were prophesied and were declared to be part of the program of the Conservative party. "A war with Turkey indeed was to come right away if the Conservative party were returned."

DO NOT CONCLUDE FROM ALL THIS

declared Mr. Meighen, "that the people of Quebec are arrayed in sentiment against the rest of Canada. Do not even conclude that there is any lack of fidelity there to British connection because these things were done. These were only plays, these were only phantasies conjured up by political leaders in order to mislead the people and gain an election."

BRITISH REPORT ON MARITIME WOODS

Farnworth and Jardine's wood cruises of Liverpool date November 1, says of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia spruce and pine deals, etc. "The import showed an increase on the last two months amounting to 4,670 standards. Deliveries came to 2,320 standards, but there is a fair quantity of the month's arrivals still remaining on the quay. Stocks stand at 11,180 standards, in comparison with 12,710 standards last year. It was difficult to compare last year's figures for forward shipment because of the large increase in the large size of the competition of the United States. Lumber parcels from Halifax were much curtailed, and reduced to very small quantities. Pine deals, etc.—Business passing was not important.

CONSERVATIVES READY TO ASSUME OFFICE

HAMILTON, Ont., Nov. 17—"The Conservative party stands ready for office and awaits with confidence the will of the majority of the House of Commons," declared Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, in touching upon the situation at Ottawa in the course of his address at a banquet which was tendered here last night to Gordon C. Wilson, who was elected for Wentworth riding, at the recent Federal election.

GALE FOLLOWS ON HEAVY RAIN

Wind Blows at Forty-Three Miles An Hour Velocity

Bay Steamer Expected Here This Evening—Snow Flakes at Times Today

The gale that made such a flurry yesterday afternoon, at times reaching a velocity of 43 miles an hour, held high carnival throughout the night switching from southeast to southwest. It brought with it the chill air and lowered the mercury quite precipitately. During the early hours of today it was blowing in heavy gusts and its high point was 38 miles.

Roundabout town the usual numbers of tottering chimneys and decrepit houses fell before the gale and the high seas of yesterday. The men were allowed to sleep and did not attempt the return trip until late in the evening, when the gale had somewhat abated.

The Morrill was lying at anchor five miles off the harbor but less than a mile off shore, having arrived there last week, for shelter, while on a voyage from the Great Lakes to Boston.

START IN DUSK

It was growing dark when they set off and a strong wind blowing. At 6:30, according to Taylor, the boat capsized in the squall. Then started the grim struggle for life and for three hours, within sight of the swirling lights of the town, and with dry land half a mile away on either side, the battle waged.

The life belts aboard the boat had just been grasped when the final squall that capsized the boat struck her sails and there was no time to use them. Wave after wave swept over the overturned boat, and the men clinging to it, and every wave took its toll in human life, until only Shea and Taylor remained. The battle through the surf to shore remains somewhat of a blur to Taylor, who was in a serious condition and closely guarded by doctors throughout the night.

Of these names by Taylor, the boatswain, Lungren, was from Detroit, Mich. He was 38 years old and in charge of the boat.

It was said information would be laid against two others besides Wright for discharging fire arms in a public place on Sunday.

On Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Bostwick were walking on the shore. A bullet from a small calibre rifle struck Mr. Bostwick's hat and lodged in the flesh near the top of the head. The wound is not considered serious. It was learned there had been firing at a target.

G. C. BAND FAIR IS WELL OPENED

Good Attendance Marks the First Night in St. Malachi's Hall.

Attractions of Interest—Names of Those Who Are in Charge

Commemorating the 51st anniversary of its organization, the City Cornet Band last evening opened its tenth Annual World Fair in St. Malachi's Hall, corner of Sydney and Leinster streets. Despite the numerous counter attractions and the unfavorable weather, the attendance was large and everything went with a swing.

The fair will be continued for the next ten days and as the hall is central, heated and admirably adapted to the conducting of a fair, expectations were that all previous records will be broken.

Of particular mention is the arrangement made on the stage. Three Niagara, in all its might, forms a scenic background for a tasteful decorative effect which, when the lights are turned on, gives every appearance of reality, whilst the front is adapted in the form of a neatly tinted arch. The effect is a very pleasing one.

On each side are the booths, finished in appropriate colors and each of a separate design. Across the front of each the initials of the band are emblazoned, whilst in a roomy space is the ever popular game of lousie house.

The around the world drawing proved as popular as ever and the many patrons took advantage of the occasion to get their tickets for this feature, the result of which will be known shortly after the end of the fair. The door prize will also be drawn.

Last night in the bean bag the winner was F. McAuley and the prize an umbrella.

THOSE IN CHARGE

James Connolly is general convenor for the fair with the following committees: E. W. McBride, E. Higgins, W. McLaughlin and W. A. Bridge.

Those in charge of the various booths are: Housie-house—Thomas Killen, G. Kane, R. Doody and J. Mills.

SECRET MARRIAGES
STARTLE SOCIETY

Four Young Debutants Are Principals in Recent Romantic Ceremonies

LONDON, Nov. 17—London society dowagers are disturbed at the secret marriages which have taken place during the first part of this "Little Season."

There have been four secret marriages of society "debs" during the past few weeks, the two most startling being those of young Lord Hastings, the son and heir of the Earl of Huntingdon, and of the young Lord Cardigan, both of whom married girls well known in London society—and they told their respective parents about it afterwards.

Lord Hastings and his bride were married secretly at the Chapel Royal, Savoy, half an hour after Mrs. Vanderbilt and Senator Garry, and they received the good wishes of half a dozen friends, in whom they had confided, at a wedding breakfast given in the White Room of the Savoy—next to the Princess Ida room where Senator and Mrs. Getty were giving their wedding breakfast.

The British couple, however, did not cross to France for their honeymoon; they caught a boat the following day for Australia, where Lord Hastings owns considerable property.

Those present all joined heartily in a "get acquainted" game in which Miss Mary Gunn was prize winner.

FIRE IN FAIRVILLE

The prompt response of the Fairville fire department yesterday saved the Charles street house which is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George Duncan. Fire which is supposed to have been caused by a smoker's pipe had burnt some clothing and a couch in the hall and the fire alarm was sent in at 4:30 p. m. The chemical was used and the fire was put out speedily. The damage was slight.

MAKING GARMENTS

The German street Baptist Willing Workers at their meeting last night were busily engaged in making garments for the children of the New Brunswick Protestant Orphanage. Mrs. Donaldson Hunt, president, was in the chair and there was a good attendance of members. Arrangements were made for a sale and tea to be held the first of next month.

TAKING RAILWAY ENGINE ADMITTED

Long Island City Man, Intoxicated, Took Friend on Demonstration

NEW YORK, Nov. 16—Nicholas Oper, 49 years old, of Long Island City, pleaded guilty before Judge Burt J. Humphrey to stealing a locomotive. The indictment against Oper charged him with malicious mischief and destruction of railroad property. After he pleaded guilty he was remanded for sentence.

On the night of July 3 last, Oper went to a roundhouse on the property of the Degen Contracting Company in Long Island City. There he found a locomotive with steam up. He admits that he was intoxicated. He invited a friend into the engine cab to show him how to fire an engine. The demonstration by Oper included opening the throttle and soon the locomotive dashed out of the house and along the siding of the Degen company. Oper's companion jumped out of the cab as the locomotive cleared the roundhouse. Where the sliding joined the tracks of the Long Island Railroad Oper was jolted out. He was merely stunned. The pilotless engine kept on as far as the Fresh Pond junction, where it collided with a waiting locomotive and injured the engineer, Edward Reese.

ISLAND UPHOLDS IN FOX SUPREMACY

TORONTO, Nov. 16—Western Canada today kept up its record in winning at the Royal Winter Fair in beef cattle, grains and fruits. There were no maritime entries in the exhibits judged today, the provinces by the sea contenting themselves with their extensive winnings in the dairy classes.

Prince Edward Island maintained supremacy as the leading fox breeding province of the Dominion and took the major portion of the prizes offered. British Columbia won all the prizes for boxes of apples except Wealthy, Greening, Tolmans and Kings. The latter were won by Ontario orchards.

A new discovery adds durability to comfort in these smart silk and wool socks

All the reinforcement is hidden at the toe. The part the world sees is superlatively smart.

No. 1730 Ex—A smart new men's style, Rayon blended with fine cashmere in popular two-tone effects: Black and White, Fawn and White, Brown and Black, Blue and Black. Price . . . $1.00

No. 1730 Ex—Rayon twisted with fine cashmere in popular two-tone effects: Black and White, Fawn and White, Brown and Black, Blue and Black. Price . . . $1.00

Other Ex Toe styles are: No. 1770 Ex—Cashmere and pure silk plaited, $1.25; No. 420 Ex—Pure Thread Silk, $1.00; and No. 240 Ex—Fine Lisle, 50c. All equally stylish and durable.

At last, silk and wool hose that will really wear! Now men can have the softness and warmth of silk and wool plus satisfactory service. A new type hose gives 3 to 4 times the wear of ordinary kinds, at no greater cost.

It is a new principle in hosiery manufacture. Extra reinforcement is knitted into the toe—the point where 95% of all men's socks wear out first. There is no cumbersome thickness. You can scarcely see it, cannot feel it—due to the special process.

Months were spent in perfecting this new way. Experts made hundreds of tests and experiments. Designers built and perfected remarkable new machines.

Then came Holeproof Ex Toe. An achievement that has revolutionized old-fashioned standards. Hosiery cost has been cut 3 or 4 times because wear has been increased. Yet comfort and style have not been sacrificed.

You can now get smart silk and wool socks with softness and warmth—and toes that withstand hard wear. No longer any holes to darn—no darned places to hurt the toes.

And such economy! Silk and wool styles in medium and heavy weights are priced at only $1.00 and $1.25. In silk, too, at $1.00; lisle, 50c.

Get a pair or two today. At almost any men's store. Be sure you ask for Ex Toe.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 17, 1925.

THE MARITIMES AT WINNIPEG.

This is Maritime Province day at the Winnipeg conference. Because of the representative character of the attendance, well covering the whole Dominion as it does, and because of the extent to which public attention has been directed of late to the chief problems confronting this country, the Winnipeg conference may be regarded as certain to produce results.

Mr. Thomas White, in his opening address at Winnipeg, made particular reference to Maritime Province conditions, and strongly suggested in the national interest, and as a matter of simple justice to this Canadian division, the wisdom of so shaping national policies affecting transportation and immigration as to promote in the Maritimes in future the same degree of growth and prosperity enjoyed by the other provinces.

The recommendations concerning economic policy which will result from the Winnipeg conference are bound to have considerable effect upon Parliament. They will assist in clarifying the political situation, and if another general election is to come in the near future the issues raised at Winnipeg are bound to receive emphasis.

Maritime members of Parliament, whatever their political complexion, will doubtless see the wisdom of uniting to support at Ottawa the policies and proposals of special Maritime interest emerging from the Winnipeg meeting.

THAT LOST TRAFFIC.

One of the advocates of the development of the St. Lawrence waterways estimates that within a generation a billion bushels of Canadian wheat will be passing from Western Canada to the Atlantic seaboard for export to Europe. In spite of Vancouver and Panama, such an estimate should not be regarded as exaggerated, and it is reasonable to expect that traffic other than grain will show a like increase.

But what proportion of that increased traffic, to facilitate and to cheapen the passage of which Canada is asked to spend immense sums, will find its way through Canadian, as opposed to American Atlantic ports? This question derives increasing importance from Ottawa figures just published relative to export wheat traffic during the autumn months, showing how tremendous is the increase in Canadian grain finding its way to American harbors.

Owing to the immense crop in Western Canada this year, and the fact that early harvesting operations were uncommonly successful, the stream of early grain available for shipment was very much greater than last year and far above the average. But how did it go? Ottawa has provided the figures, and they are by no means reassuring to the people living in Canadian port cities. Taking the first three months of the crop year, including October, exports of Canadian wheat more than doubled as compared with last year.

The total export of our wheat to all countries during these three months were 78,107,000 bushels as compared with 32,740,000 bushels during the same period last year. And, say the Ottawa despatches, "American ports again handled the larger share of the shipments to Great Britain, and in fact the increased exports went almost entirely via that route.

received considerable attention, but which has not yet brought forth the penetrating and resolute treatment which its importance demands. Buffalo and New York are being built up by this expanding river of Canadian grain. Canadian capital is assisting to build four mills at Buffalo. American port and railway workers are being employed through this diversion of Canadian freight which should be giving employment to Canadians, expanding our ports, and giving productive traffic to our railroads. Are Canadian ports in coming years to receive only a trickle from this growing stream of traffic of Canadian origin, while the greater volume flows through and enriches American channels? It is a question in which the Maritimes are very directly interested, particularly as lack of facilities at our Atlantic ports—lack of foresight in preparation, lack of robust all-Canadian transportation policy—constantly strengthens the dangerous attraction of alien harbors and alien railways.

The consumption of tobacco is found to be increasing tremendously in the United States. In fact, says the Boston Transcript, "you would almost think it was prohibited."

A lot of dismal prophets are attempting to convince themselves and others that there will be no summer next year. It is about time somebody prophesied a year without a winter.

The agitation for the abolition of the use of submarines receives fresh impetus in Great Britain through the recent submarine disaster. Britain proposed at the time of the international arms conference that the nations abandon submarines, but France and Japan were unwilling to agree. London now reports that the submarine issue is likely to prove of less importance in the future owing to great improvement in devices for detecting and definitely locating underwater craft.

The smack and tang of elemental things; The rectitude and patience of the cliff; The good-will of the rain that loves all leaves;

The friendly welcome of the wayside ways; The courage of the bird that dares the sea; The gladness of the wind that shakes the corn;

The pity of the snow that hides all scars; The sagacity of streams that make their way; Under the mountain to the rifted rock; The tolerance and equity of light; That gives as freely to the shrinking flower;

As to the great oak flaring to the wind; To the grave's lowly hill as to the Matterhorn; That shoulders out the sky. Sprung from the West, He drank the valorous youth of a new world.

The strength of virgin forests braced his mind, The hush of spacious prairies stilled his soul, His words were oaks in acorns; and his thoughts Were roots that firmly gript the granite truth.

So came the captain with the mighty heart And when the judgment thunders split the house, Wrenching the rafters from their ancient rest, He held the ridge-pole up and spiked again

The rafters of the home. He held his place— Held the long purpose like a growing tree— Held on through blame and faltered not at praise. And when he fell in whirlwind, he went down As when a lordly cedar, green with boughs, Goes down with a great shout upon the hills, And leaves a lonesome place against the sky.

(Ottawa Journal.) And now, the Progressives are merely a reminder of James Russell Lowell's scorching lines: "A merciful Providence fashioned us holler In order that we might our principals swaller."

Fortunately for Canada, the next general election is certain now to see the Progressives disappear altogether as a political force.

He Wasn't the Greatest.

A firm advertising for a salesman received a reply from a man who stated that he was the greatest salesman in the world. They engaged him and gave him three lines to sell anywhere in England. After he had been away a week and they had received no orders, they were surprised to get a telegram saying—"I am not the world's greatest salesman. I am the second best. The greatest salesman is the man who got you to buy these lines."

NEWS ITEM in the daily papers: "Mrs. Jack Dempsey, formerly Estelle Taylor, the movie actress, stated yesterday that she had no objection to Jack's proposed fight with Harry Wills. "Fighting is Jack's business," said Mrs. Dempsey, "and I hardly think it would be proper for me to interfere." "Fighting," so says Mrs. Dempsey, "is Jack's only stock in trade, and I wouldn't ask him not to, lest he think I am afraid." Maybe so; but Jack's not Irish; fighting solely for the fun. Never has appealed to Dempsey. He declined to meet the Hun; Claimed exemption in a shipyard at some twenty blocks a day. Fighting without "compensation" isn't Mr. Dempsey's way. Pursues less than half a million he will skillfully evade. Jack's a synonym for money; when Jack fights, Jack must be paid.

Dinner Stories

AN ENGLISHMAN of a generation ago was going out in his carriage, accompanied by his wife, to make some calls. Discovering that they were without visiting cards, he ordered his new footman to go to the manège inn the sitting room and bring the cards he should see there. The latter did as he was directed, and off they started.

Whenever a "not at home" occurred the footman was sent in with cards. Toward the end of the drive, the gentleman turned to the servant with the question: "How many cards have you left, John?" "Well, sir," said the footman, innocently, "there's the king of spades, the six of hearts, and the ace of clubs." "The deuce!" exclaimed his master, thunderstruck. "That's gone," said John.

Mr. Smith smilingly arose, and, after gazing impressively around the class room, began with, "I hardly know what to say," when a small, thin voice in the back of the room, lisped: "They amen, and thit down."

The Best of Advice

BY CLARK KINNAIRD

THE GREATEST BOOK IN THE WORLD.

NO ONE disputes the great value of Mr. Carnegie's gift to the masses, but we may as well keep in mind that the highest and best sources of truth, light, and elevation of mind are not libraries, but our inward and outward experience. Human life, with its joys and sorrows, its burdens and alleviations, its crimes and virtues, its hopes and disappointments, its solemn changes, and its retributions, always pressing upon us; what a library is this! And who may not study it? Every human being is a volume worthy to be studied.

THE books which endure the longest are those which give us the most truthful pictures of human life. But much more improving is the original, when we know how to read it. We always have this page open before us; and, still more, we are always writing a volume more full of instruction than all human productions—our own lives.

Dependability

VALVES that control water for fire protection must function when required. They may remain idle for years but when the emergency arises, they must be ready. Property and human life depend upon these valves.

In most of the large buildings and institutions, you will find JENKINS VALVES controlling fire protecting equipment. They are selected because of their dependability. They hold back the water without leakage, but when required they function instantly. Whether for radiators or steam pressure control, for air pressure or water, it is good economy to insist on JENKINS VALVES. They never leak and they never fail to work. The peace of mind inspired by JENKINS VALVES is worth making sure of.

HON. PETER LARKIN, Canadian High Commissioner in England, on his return to London from a visit to Canada: "It is sometimes said that Canadians are too optimistic, but it is part of the life of a new country to be so. Things would never go ahead if the people lost their optimism. The more new, the more undeveloped a country, the more need for optimism. So it comes about that the pioneers in the northwest are more optimistic than the people of the more settled parts. Pessimism does not make for progress."

Egyptian Towns Have Their Picturesque Characters

LETTER-WRITER, mattress-maker, publican—these three types are to be found in most Egyptian towns and are truly characteristic of the country itself. The letter-writer sits outside the post office on a low stool with his writing paraphernalia spread out on a higher stool in front of him. His is a very necessary occupation as so many of the natives are unable to write for themselves. The charge for a letter is one piastre, equal to 5 cents (or more if he thinks he can get it). One can not help wondering what happens when any of his customers wish to send a message of special importance or privacy, whether he demands back-sheesh for guarding the secrets he may learn.

The mattress-maker is most interesting to watch at work. He is much in demand for remaking beds which have been in use some time. He first empties out the kapok—a kind of coarse cotton wool—which it is composed, and beats it well with a thin cane. Then he proceeds to tease out the wool with a peculiar instrument, specially made for the purpose. It consists of a thick wooden rod about four feet long, which has a strong wire fastened to each end and drawn taut. This wire is held in position over the heap of wool and struck rapidly with a big wooden mallet. By this means little pieces of wool are caught and flicked over to the other side, and the process goes on until the whole mass is light and fluffy. The Arab then gets a length of material and makes the cover. It is well at this juncture to watch him closely, or you will find that the finished mattress falls several inches short of the required length, and he will blandly inform you that it will stretch out when you lie on it.

SIR THOMAS WHITE DISCUSSES CANADA'S ECONOMIC POSITION

Boards of Trade Told Need For Body to Disseminate in Canada Understanding Towards Unity

Harmony Sought Throughout Country to Make Dominion Best Land for Strong People in Attaining Prosperity and Happiness

WINNIPEG, Nov. 16.—In an atmosphere charged with patriotic fervor, in the magnificent legislative buildings of Manitoba, the historic conference of Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce, which the Chairman S. B. Gundy of Toronto, described as the most important, non-political conference in Canada since confederation, listened today to a momentous message of national import from Sir Thomas White, a remarkably comprehensive and brilliant address on immigration, by John M. Imrie of Edmonton, and a most informing address by Agent General Noxon of Ontario on conditions in Great Britain and the prospects for getting immigrants from that country.

The high note struck by the chairman in his opening remarks was taken up by Leut.-Governor Atkins of Manitoba, Premier Bracken and Mayor R. H. Webb in their welcome to the visitors from coast to coast.

ADDRESSES DEBATED. Tonight there was a general and intensely interesting discussion of the addresses of Sir Thomas White and Mr. Imrie. It had at first been decided not to have evening meetings, but when the magnitude of the conference was realized as delegates poured from east and west, and the intense interest of every one of them was manifest, the program committee decided on evening meetings both today and tomorrow.

MARITIMES AT LUNCHEON. The Maritime delegation met at lunch time and with W. S. Fisher as chairman decided that J. D. McKenna will present the Maritime case tomorrow and F. MacLure Scudder spoke for the Maritimes this evening in the discussion on immigration. On invitation of F. R. McMillan, of Saskatoon, the Maritime men dined in a private room in the Fort Garry with him and several other Western men who wanted to set forth the case for the Hudson Bay Railway and Fort Nelson development. A very interesting discussion was held and much light thrown on the attitude of the Prairie Provinces on this question. L. W. Simms stoutly presented the case for full consideration of the Maritime resolutions before the committee of which he is a member.

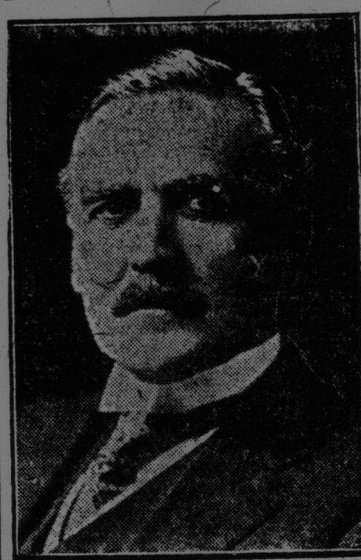

Sir Thomas' Speech. Sir Thomas, after a few preliminary opening remarks said: "The subject which you have committed to me for exposition is as follows: "Canada's Present National and Economic Position."

"It is proposed that this be a survey in broad perspective of the present situation from such standpoints as population, trade, debt, taxation, national and international spirit and those elements in our present situation from such standpoints of confidence in our future and that should serve as a challenge to the conference. I have endeavored in devising ways and means of promoting Canadian unity and development."

WHOLE RANGE COVERED. "That is a pretty large order. It covers a wide range of our national life. Reading between the lines it is apparent to me that it is suggested that my address should be of a nature leaning at least to the side of optimism. I have always been optimistic in Canada, and it would be difficult indeed for me to be other than confident as to Canada's future. That is because I believe that Canadian ability, Canadian energy and Canadian patriotism will always prove adequate to the solution of Canada's national problems. The period since 1920 has been an exceedingly trying one. The war and the conditions which have been going through the period of deflation. The war caused dislocation of business and industry. Business and industry have been going through the period of readjustment. History repeats itself. The economic experience of Europe has been in many respects that of Europe after the Napoleonic wars. The economic questions which agitate Britain today are similar to those of the years following Waterloo. Ours, since the armistice, may be more nearly likened to that of the United States after the War of Secession. Currency, tariff policy, traffic rates, Congressional blocs, cooperative productive and marketing enterprise, cost of living, industrial unrest—these were the problems and issues of the period succeeding the close of the Civil War. The parallel is almost complete.

PRESENT POSITION. "In order that we may not be confused by post-war experience and may see our situation in proper perspective, I shall ask you to forget for the moment the war and the conditions which have arisen out of the war and consider our present position in the light of a general survey of the progress of Canada over a term of years. It will be as startling as possible of statistical figures, but some are necessary in order that you may have the picture before you for your own consideration. "First, as to the country. There is no doubt it is large enough; in fact its great size provides many of our most serious problems. It is admittedly rich in resources, in agricultural lands, minerals, waterpowers, forests and fisheries. It has an unexcelled waterway extending halfway across the continent. It has been and is the problem of Canadians to develop this vast heritage. To this purpose an enormous amount of energy, ability and resources have been devoted. The problem since confederation has been to join up the scattered parts of Canada and people and develop. "What is the stage of our progress today? We set out to create a great nation upon the northern part of this continent. How far have we succeeded in our efforts? Let us consider first our population. In 1891 it was five millions; in 1911, seven millions; today it is nine millions.

MIXED POPULATION. "Racially it is a mixed population. We are a modest people, but I don't if any country boasts a population of greater average intelligence and energy or of sounder character. We must admit that the increase in our numbers has been slow. Probably the greatest deterrent factor has been the attraction of the great Republic to the south with its huge population, immense wealth, diversified trade and industries and opportunities for professional success. We must, however, take the situation as we find it, and there is one feature to which I desire especially to draw your attention. Judged from the standpoint of population, Canada may be said to have great length and little depth. We are stretched like a thin line from the Atlantic to the Pacific. One of our problems is to give depth as well as length to Canada's population. For the purpose of marking out progress it is to be noted that our population has increased, even though the rate of progress can hardly be regarded as satisfactory, from five million in 1891 to nine millions in 1925. Having regard to the resources of Canada there is no reason why this Dominion should not sustain in comfort and prosperity, before the end of the present century, a population of fifty millions. It is too much to expect that by the middle of the century we should have at least double the number of our present population?"

GROWTH OF WEALTH. "Let us consider the growth of our wealth, trade and productive industry. In this respect I think, notwithstanding the adverse conditions with which we, in common with the rest of the world, have been struggling, there is ground for satisfaction. Statistics are of material assistance here. We must not confine ourselves to a consideration of the last few years, but take a longer view in order to obtain the proper perspective. The savings of the people are a useful index to the general prosperity of a country. The Canadian people are not thrifty in the European sense. They are free spenders. And yet the record of their savings is striking and impressive. Savings deposits in 1890 were seventy-seven million dollars; in 1900, one hundred and seventy-seven millions; in 1910, five hundred and thirty-nine millions; in 1925, twelve hundred and fifty millions. They have increased sevenfold in the twenty-five years since 1890.

DEBT OF CANADA. "The net direct public debt of Canada is two billion, three hundred million dollars. In ten years it has increased sevenfold. "In dealing with the question of the public debt and the taxation necessary to meet the annual charges connected with that debt, there should be added the debt of the several provinces and municipalities throughout the Dominion. The aggregate net direct debt of the provinces has been estimated at six hundred and fifty million dollars.

INTEREST PAID IN CANADA. "With respect to the debt of the Dominion it should be kept in mind that by far the greater portion is owed to our own people who subscribed for our great Victory and War Loans during the war period, and for refunding issues since that time. The same may be said of the major part of our provincial and municipal indebtedness. The importance of this fact is manifest and requires little elaboration. The amount of interest upon the public debt, which is paid by the people of Canada as a whole to our own nationals, is expended or invested by them, and thus is not lost to Canadian trade and development as is the case where interest is paid upon that portion of the debt held by investors in United States or Britain. From the national standpoint there is a great deal of difference between a huge public debt, the securities for which are held domestically, and the same amount of debt owed externally, which is paid to our own people who have lent it to us. It is about half the sum which Britain owes to the United States after the war and which she is now paying off in annual instalments extending over sixty-two years. This is in addition to her vast domestic debt which is much larger proportionately than is ours. If Britain can sustain the double burden of her domestic debt and her debt to America, surely we need feel no sense of discouragement in regard to our own.

DEFICIT ON RAILWAYS. "If we had but to carry the burden of our direct national debt I think it could be done without causing undue serious inconvenience. If the Minister of Finance had only to provide for the annual service of the debt proper, he would balance his budget without great difficulty, although, of course, our taxation would still be heavy. It is when we add to the annual charge of this debt the deficit upon the operation of our national railways that the difficulty in balancing is experienced, and it is this deficit which makes the railway problem the most serious with which we are faced. It is not necessary for me to describe how our railway situation has been created. The facts are known to you all. The problem is before us. For this year we are hoping it will be materially less. A further expenditure of many millions is required annually for capital expenditures and betterments which are not likely under present conditions to be productive of additional net earnings sufficient to pay interest on their cost.

NEED OF IMMIGRATION. "It is not my purpose to discuss any matter of controversial political policy. I think we may leave that to our several members of Parliament and our party leaders. They will do it better than we can. And we might not agree any more than they do. There is, however, one matter to which I may allude and upon which I trust we may find common ground for agreement. I refer to the subject of immigration. This country has a railway plant far beyond its immediate requirements. In its daily operation it serves all parts of the Dominion. Its capital investment has been made and interest is being paid upon that capital. Owing to our sparse population we cannot furnish enough business for that railway plant. Its capacity, without further capital investment, is much greater than its present employment. If we could employ it to anything like its capacity, our railway deficit would disappear, and we might have a surplus in its place. Our greatest financial problem would be at an end. And both agriculture and business would enjoy lower traffic rates. I might say something similar respecting our manufacturing plants throughout Canada. They require a greater volume of production. Part of the plant is really not in use, although all may be in partial operation. This no doubt results from the great expansion of these plants during the war period and the two years of inflation following the Armistice. What we greatly need in Canada like its capacity, is a greater volume of production. If we can accomplish this within a reasonable time we shall see our way through our economic difficulties. Our railway problem will be solved, and our taxation eased. And we shall also be able to promote interprovincial trade by contracting, through adjustment of traffic rates, the breadth of Canada as to reduce the geographical distances and physical barriers which now separate its component parts. Ever our effort should be to narrow our gaps and lower our mountain walls.

MARITIME PORTS. "I observe with pleasure that you are to discuss the greater utilization of our Maritime ports. The sum lost annually to Canada through transportation by foreign routes is very great. Anything that can reasonably be done to retain for Canada the value of this service will promote our internal and external trade and ensure to the advantage of the whole Dominion."

Creation of a commission composed of the Dominion's ablest men to carry out a "bold and courageous" scheme of immigration and colonization formulated by the Federal Government was urged in the address given by J. M. Imrie. "One of the chief objectives of a courageous National policy would be the early systematic and intensive colonization of the Dominion's vacant land through selected immigration on a large scale and the repatriation of former Canadians and their descendants now living in other countries. Nothing less would serve so quickly and so effectively to restore the confidence of our people and the confidence in Canada of the people of other countries. "To meet the burden of a huge per capita debt, a high tax levy, high freight rates on many commodities, heavy annual deficit on the National Railways, to reduce the cost of manufacturing and distribution, the building up of a permanent population to a point at which it could reasonably support systems of government and transportation, the chief remedy is immigration. "SOURCE IN BRITAIN. "In the United Kingdom the pressure of population and the growth of unemployment have led many to contemplate emigration and the state to offer financial aid to immigration to the overseas dominions.

What Can the Woman of 50, Whose Children are Married, Do for Companionship?—How Can She Prevent Her Husband From Lending Money They Cannot Spare?—Ancestor-Worshipping Wife.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a widow of 50, with two sons who are about to be married. What am I to do? I don't mean for support, but for companionship? I don't fit in with the young people and, believe me, I spend some mighty lonesome times. Don't say "How about your friends?" You can't impose on them all the time. Most of my friends are married and I hate to stick around with them. What shall I do?
YOURS IN HOPE.

ANSWER:—There is one thing not to do, and that is not to go and live with your sons when they are married.

There are thousands of well-to-do widowed mothers, such as you are, who saddle themselves on their children when they get married just because they are terrified of the bogey of loneliness. And the result is almost inevitable disaster.

Don't make this mistake. Believe me, no woman is ever so lonely as the mother who finds herself an unwanted third in her children's homes, and who realizes that they drag her around with them not because they want her, but because it is the decent and polite thing to do.

Personally, I think that it is a sensible thing for a woman to break up her home when her children get married and go to live in some nice boarding house or family hotel, where there is always some one to talk to of evenings and where one does not have to eat ghastly meals alone. Of course, a woman naturally misses her own home, but she can take along the dearest of her belongings, and the society she gets compensates for the loss of her own gas range.

Travel is also a great resource for the woman who is left alone when her children marry. If you have money enough to become a globe-trotter you can go anywhere under the sun in the parties organized by the numerous tourist agencies who conduct you wherever you want to go, look after you when you are sick and generally carry you about as if you were a babe in arms.

These tourist agencies are perfect godsend to middle-aged and elderly women, who can make the latter years of their life full of thrills and interests by going to new places.

And, of course, you can "see Canada first," as the slogan goes, and spend your winters in agreeable warm places, and your summers in nice cool ones, and everywhere you will pick up new and agreeable friends.

If you have only a modest amount of money, go into some little business. Keep your own house and take a few boarders. Start a little gift shop. Start a flower garden. Raise chickens. Do anything that will keep you busy and occupied. Work is the best remedy for loneliness.

I started out with a "don't" and I end with another "don't." Don't marry some man who comes along, and of whom you know nothing, just because you are lonely. There are a lot of dead-beat men who prey on lonely widows.
DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am married to a fine man, who makes only a fair living. But we could get along, and even realize our ambition to own a little home, except that he is always lending money to any one who asks him for it. Of course, it is rarely repaid, because he is an easy mark for the grafters, and it keeps us strapped for money all the time. I have remonstrated with my husband over and over again, but it is useless. What can I do about it?
MARY.

ANSWER:—I don't know, Mary, unless you can make your husband see how unwise he is to be always lending money to any one who asks him for it. But I think it is doubtful that he will listen to reason because that kind of man not only lacks backbone enough to stand up and say "No," but he is an egotist who likes to pose as free-handed and generous.

He gets a kick out of the fact that he is a sort of big man, a moneyed man to whom those without money come to borrow. And you may be sure the ones who get his money flatter and cajole him while they rob him.

A lot of philanthropy is just self-glorification. I know plenty of men whose wives have to almost chloroform them to get enough money to buy a new coat, yet whose names always head every subscription list that is published in the papers. And I know a lot of men, like your husband, who let their families go without the things they need so that they can maintain their reputation as liberal men by always being ready to lend a few dollars to any one who asks them.

Charity begins at home, and no man has a right to give to his relations or lend money to his friends until he has comfortably provided for the wife and children for whom he is responsible.
DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I adore my wife, but she often makes me very unhappy by bragging about what an aristocratic family she belongs to, when she well knows that I came of poor and humble people. Before we were married I knew I would have to contend with her, but I loved her too much to take it as seriously as I should. Is my wife right in what she does?
HUSBAND.

ANSWER:—Certainly not.

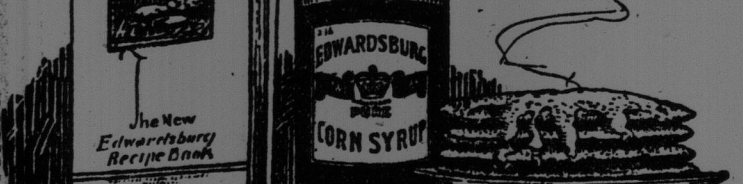

She may have good blood in her veins, but she is not acting as a lady should when she boasts of her family and humiliates you. In your attitude toward her you show much better breeding than she shows to you.

It is just as vulgar to boast of one's ancestors as it is to boast of one's money, and it is something that a real aristocrat never does. The woman who has to proclaim the fact that she is a lady and the man who has to tell the world he is a gentleman are neither.
DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I have always had the impression that when you really loved any one you thought their every act perfect, but I'm in love with a young man who is not as polished in his manners as I would like him to be, nor is his English above reproach. Do you think I could be happy married to him?
DOROTHY.

ANSWER:—You will never marry if you wait to find some one whom you think absolutely perfect. Perhaps you are not perfectly perfect yourself. There are lots of qualities in a man more important than his table manners or his grammar. If you are sure you love your rough diamond and he loves you, marry him and polish him up.

Wall Street Boom Making New Crop of Millionaires

By MARGERY PICKARD.

A new crop of millionaires is being produced by the current boom in Wall street, the greatest in nearly ten years. Fortune is being amassed in a minute. Since somebody must lose when anybody gains, fortunes are being lost that quickly, too.

Money is everywhere the topic of the hour. Women have lost interest in fashions, the Charleston and such things. Stenographers and society women are plunging. College students are risking their nudes. Elevator boys are dreaming of getting rich quick—and some are. The bright young messenger of one Wall street house is now wealthy enough to buy a share in the firm.

Men "in the know" say the rally has its genesis in rumors of "melon cuttings" which have been issued from the financial district concurrent with the investigation by the internal revenue bureau of the undistributed surpluses of large corporations, many holding to the belief that way will be found to tax these huge accumulations of undivided capital, and that they would be distributed among the stockholders in consequence.

J. Pierpont Morgan is the man of the hour, and the king of finance as of old. It is being called a "Morgan market" because of the strength and activity of issues which have been financed by J. P. Morgan & Co.

As to when the boom will end, no one can predict exactly, but here's the opinion of one prominent operator: "What do you think of the market?" was the perfectly natural question.

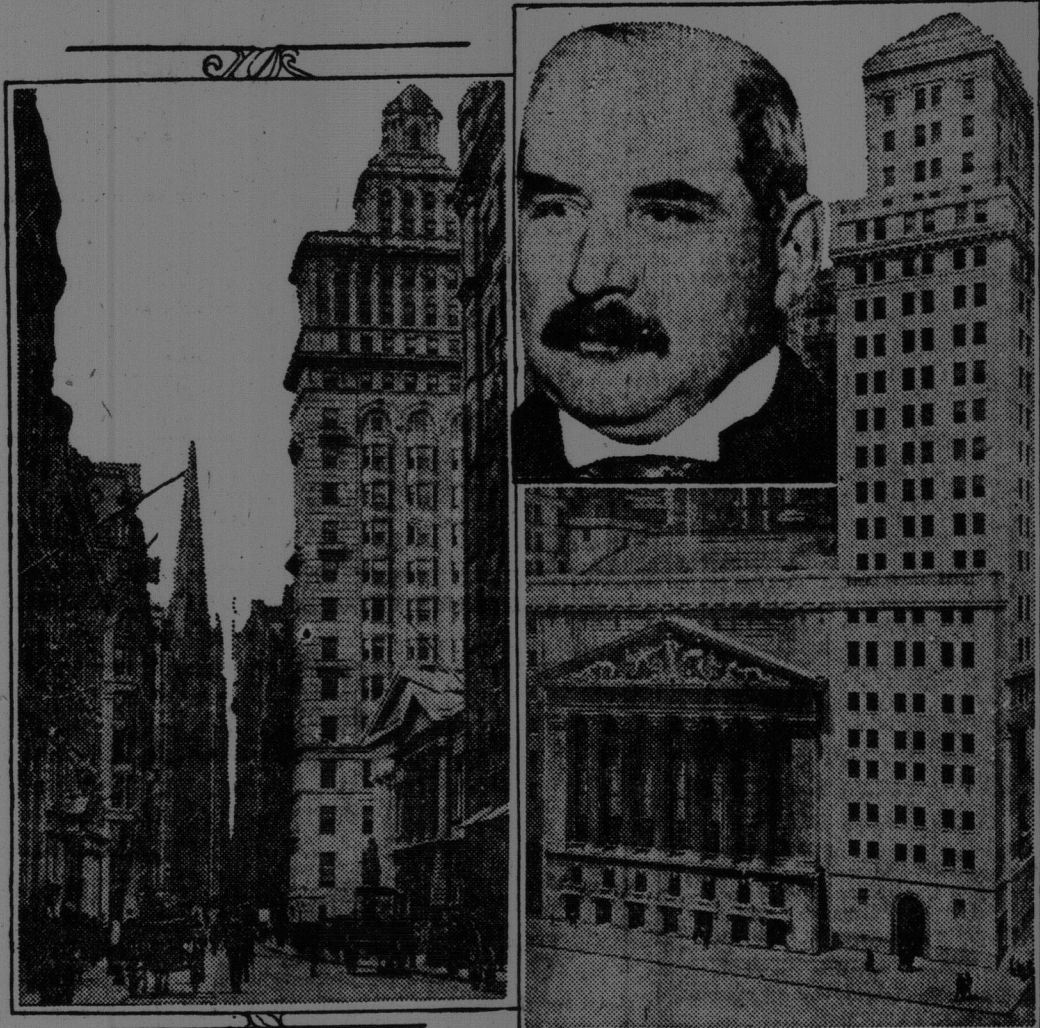

"I think the public is in it up to the pimple on its nose."

"When is it all going to end?"

"When the public hasn't got any money to speculate with."

"When will that be?"

"I don't know; it's got a long pocket-book."

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"I SPY" IN HIGH JINKS LAND.

"What shall we do next?" asked the clown, who didn't like to be still for a minute.

"Let's play 'I spy,'" said the Jack O'Lantern.

"It isn't very dignified," said the Scare Crow.

"Then let's play 'Pussy-Wants-a-Corner,'" suggested the Hi Diddle Diddle Cat.

"I couldn't get into a corner," said the Big Fat Elephant.

"And I couldn't get out of one," said the Scare Crow. "I stood in a fence corner one winter and there I stuck."

"Say," said Mister Corn Dodger. "Don't you agree with anything?"

"Certainly," said the Scare Crow. "But I'll be honest with you, Mister Dodger. The reason I really object to it is—"

Here he whispered into Mister Dodger's ear.

Mister Dodger looked surprised.

"Why, of course! I never thought of that," he nodded. "Well, we'll all go on and play without you then. But you can stay around base and make sure that no one peeps when he's in it."

Mister Scare Crow seemed satisfied and sat down.

"Who will be it?" asked Mister Corn Dodger next.

"I will," said Nick.

So he started to count. "Ten, 20, 30, 40, 50, 60, 70, 80, 90, 100." Then he called out:

"Ready or not you shall be caught. In your hiding hole or crevice."

"I spy the elephant," he cried the very first thing when he opened his eyes.

"That's not fair!" cried the Big Fat Elephant. "I'm right behind this barrel and I know you can't see me. I can't see you, so how can you see me?"

"But you stuck out all around," insisted Nick. "I can see you as easily as I can see the sky."

"My goodness!" said the elephant, crossly. "You'd think I was as big as a barrel to hear you talk. All right, I'll be 'it' next time, but I'll play honestly and not pretend to see people when I don't."

"I spy the giraffe," said Nick after a bit, running back and tapping base.

"Why, how could you?" remarked the giraffe, blinking his eyes. "I had my legs completely up in that tree and I'm as sure as gunpowder that you couldn't see me."

"What do you think you are? An ostrich?" laughed Nick.

"I don't see how you could see me, either," complained Jack O'Lantern later. "It was in a very dark place."

"Yes, but you forgot to put your light out," said Nick.

"I don't see how you could see me either," remarked the Hi Diddle Diddle Cat. "I was behind the door."

"Your long tail stuck out," explained Nick.

Pretty soon everybody was found, so they began all over again. My, but people hate to be found out!

What was the Scare Crow whispering to Mister Corn Dodger?

Oh, nothing much! He just said he always dropped so much straw as he ran that it gave his hiding hole away. I don't know why he whispered it, I'm sure.

To Be Continued.

A nervous curate, addressing a meeting on behalf of the Society for the Abolition of the Short Skirt, said, "I shall watch very closely the efforts made in discarding—the Society's efforts in doing away with this scanty apparel. May I appeal to those ladies here present, who may be wearing short skirts, to at once set a public example (after an embarrassed pause)—that is, of course, privately."

THE LAST FRONTIER

Nevada's Prehistoric City Was As Large As Reno

By DAVID DIETZ.

TWO thousand years ago there flourished in Nevada a city larger than any of its present cities, with the possible exception of Reno. This is the opinion of archeologists who have unearthed the lost city of Nevada.

The city was found by scientists from the Museum of the American Indian, New York, under the direction of Dr. M. R. Harrington. It lies in the southeastern part of Nevada, near the little village of St. Thomas in the valley of the Muddy River.

Prospectors, adventurers and cattlemen have passed over this city many times without realizing its existence. Mormon settlers had built adobe houses and a fort upon the site at one time or eight feet long. Often many rows of rooms are found in a row, or it may be that these were separate houses built to adjoin each other.

Circular rooms are also found resembling those in the Indian communal buildings in use in New Mexico and Arizona by the Indians at the present time. These rooms therefore are believed to have been used as council chambers.

THE graves which have been found show that the custom of burying personal belongings with the deceased was practiced. Arrows, stone knives, flint hammers and the like are found in the graves of men.

Pottery, grinding bowls and beads are found in the graves of women and playthings in children's graves. The grave of one infant contained the bones of two puppies.

Everything, however, was apparently "killed" before being placed in the grave, for pottery, knives and the like are always found broken into pieces.

Fashion Fancies

By Mme. Lisbeth.

AN interesting coat note is that sports types and parts of ensembles in three-quarter lengths in practically straight lines are being featured. The ensemble coat in this length is developed in silk or cloth and sometimes both, the latter treatment resulting in a reversible type that is often noted. The idea is particularly well done in models where silk generally white silk poplin, in association with colored crepe silk for the inner surface, is attractively decorated with quilted stitching.

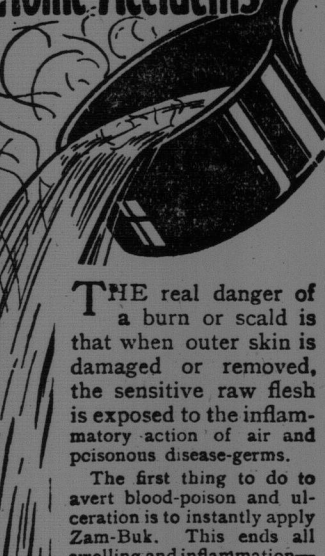

In the ensemble illustrated three materials are combined. With the black velvet skirt is worn a blouse of lipstick red crepe which is embroidered in gold metal threads. The coat—flared in this instance—is of black kasha with gold colored buttons on the pockets and cuffs, a scarf collar and a border of skunk. A large, round skunk muff is an up-to-date accessory and a small black velvet toque with a gilt buckle for trimming completes the costume.

At Last! Irene Rich To Get Parts Without Tears

By JACK JUNGMEYER.

Admirers of Irene Rich, if I may presume to speak for them, pleasantly anticipate the promise Lubitch's rendition of "Lady Windemere's Fan" holds out to liberate her from a succession of dolorous roles.

Irene Rich has had more than her share of "unhappy wife" characterizations because she has the capacity to bear such movie misery with fine dignity and restraint. Having created her own standard of excellence in this respect, Warner Brothers continued to cast her in the same mold to the verge of monotony.

Miss Rich, chafing at the threat of stereotype, and by nature the very antithesis of her misanthropic roles, earnestly longed for happier and more diverse parts. And quite sagaciously so, from the standpoint of screen prestige. For nothing under the sun may become so irritating as the constantly tearful woman, even though she may have just cause to weep.

This charming and talented actress is intelligent and intuitive enough to know that on the screen as in real life there is a line beyond which sympathy for an unhappy creature turns to a revulsion in the beholder. This line is passed when a heroine, by force of her role, is forced too often to turn the other cheek; when she meekly accepts her lot and weeps instead of striking out in self defense.

Sooner or later such roles nibble away a player's popularity. And it is high time that Miss Rich be relieved of this encumbrance, with the substitution of some happier expression of her engaging and buoyant womanhood.

Indeed, there is something almost demoralizing in the persistent spectacle of Miss Rich, a paragon of photoplay virtue, going covered and whipped and seldom adequately revenged, before arrogant and smiling villainy. What price virtue, if it is bathed in tearful misery?

THE hardest job in the world is trying to blow a hole in a mosquito with a howitzer.

TWINS INJURED AT THE SAME MOMENT

Remarkable Case Disclosed When Constable Notices Parents of Accident

LONDON, Nov. 17.—A remarkable case of twin brothers being injured at the same time, in the same town, but in different parts of it, has just occurred in Eastbourne.

Fred Crowhurst, of Uppertongardens, was cycling with another lad when he collided with a motor-cyclist, was badly injured, and was taken to hospital. A constable went to inform his mother, and was asked by her to dress a wound in her son's leg. In a room he had left a few minutes before he had been taken to hospital, and the brother of the lad taken to hospital, and that he had fallen from a wall at the same moment that his brother was hurt.

F. T. SHORT GIVES LAYMEN ADDRESS

Meeting of St. Paul's Association Hears Talk on Church in Canada

St. Paul's Church Laymen's Association met last night in the church hall, and some 35 members listened to an instructive address by F. T. Short on "The History and Growth of the Church of England in Canada."

He started with the activities of the missionary endeavors of the Church in England to the American colonies and the subsequent formation of the Church of England in Canada and the Episcopal Church of the United States, and ended with a lucid explanation of the 26 dioceses in the Dominion, the last being formed as recently as 1918. An interesting fact mentioned was that Bishop Seabury, who had been consecrated the first Bishop of the Episcopal Church after the revolution visited Saint John on his return and preached his first sermon as Bishop in Trinity church.

At the conclusion of Mr. Short's address a vote of thanks was moved by Dr. J. Roy Campbell seconded by C. A. Robinson. The chair was taken last night by C. C. Kirby, president of the St. Paul's branch of the association. The business of the meeting included the adoption of the constitution.

It was decided that an address on the budget system and the principle of the church finances be given at the next meeting; also that meetings of the association be held on the third Monday in each month.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will not only neutralize the acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powdered or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

Launching of Red Cross Canvass in the Business Section of City Planned

The launching of the Saint John Red Cross canvass of the business section of the city in a drive for $2,000 was planned for at a special meeting of the executive and members of the men's committee held yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. I. F. Longley, president, was in the chair and spoke of the hope that the canvass of the business section of the city would bring in the funds necessary to carry forward the work this year, supplementing the proceeds of the membership drive carried out by the women.

$1,400 EXPENDED LAST YEAR.

It was estimated about $1,400 had been expended last year and that the funds had been entirely inadequate. The women's canvass had brought in about $800 and approximately $200 of that must go to the Provincial Red Cross. It was decided that the objective of the canvass must be $2,000.

Mrs. Bert Gordon, relief worker, gave details of cases that have been dealt with. Miss H. MacKay, superintendent of the V. O. N., spoke of cases which that order had referred to the Red Cross for aid. She said there were eight families the nurses were visiting that must have immediate aid and three needed medical attention.

W. R. Pearce and H. Usher Miller told how a campaign could be conducted with the best results.

It was asked by Mr. Miller whether material relief was not outside the province of the Red Cross Society and Medical research has definitely proved that one of the causes of a run down condition of the body is a shortage of certain mineral elements, including iron, potassium, calcium, sodium and phosphorus, and until a sufficient supply of these minerals is restored to the body, good health is impossible. There are "Red Seal" Period Chests in genuine Walnut to harmonize perfectly with that "period" suite in your bedroom, dining room or living room. ### SERGEANTS' MESS ELECTS OFFICERS

Annual Christmas Treat Will Be Given Again This Year

The annual meeting of the Garrison Sergeants' Mess was held in their rooms at the Army last night when most gratifying reports were received and officers were elected for the year. It was decided to have the annual Christmas tree again this year and Petty Officer Instructor H. E. Thompson, R.C.N.V.R., was appointed chairman of the committee to carry on with this event.

An entertainment committee was appointed to provide musical evenings and other entertainments during the winter.

After regular routine business had been transacted the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

RELIEVED PAIN AND SWELLING OVERNIGHT

Long-standing case of rheumatism helped in a few hours

After having suffered with rheumatism for years, and tried all kinds of remedies in vain, thousands of people have at last found a way to get quick, sure relief.

"I have been a sufferer from rheumatism for years," writes one woman from Washington, D. C. "At times my hands are terribly swollen. Sloan's always gives me relief in a very short time. I have tried other liniments, but nothing equals Sloan's."

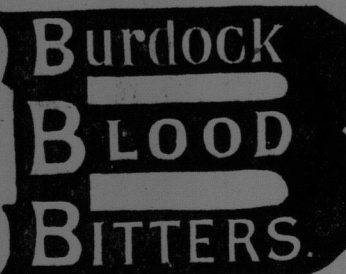

The marvelous effectiveness of Sloan's is due to its stimulating effect upon the circulation. Straight to the sick, aching tissues, it sends a healing tide of fresh new blood—clears out rheumatism germs—kills pain.

So pleasant and clean to use, too. You don't even have to rub. Just put it on gently and you will get immediate results. All druggists—35 cents.

Was Nearly Crazy From Headaches

Miss K. Brill, 579 Redwood Ave., Winnipeg, Man., writes:—"I was troubled with such severe headaches that some times I was nearly crazy with them."

One day a friend told me about, and advised me to use

so I tried it, and it has done me a world of good. I just took two and a half bottles, and I haven't had a headache for a long time, now."

Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

President, Sergeant-Major W. E. Ross; vice-president, Sergeant W. G. Lake; secretary-treasurer, Sergeant T. L. Vinery; mess committee, Furlers, Q.M.S. H. R. McLaughlin; Artillery, B.S.M. P. L. Griffin; Permanent Force, Q.M.S. E. W. Johnson; Naval Forces, C.P.O.S. H. E. Thompson; Postal Corps, Sergeant J. K. MacDonald; auditors, Sergeant W. J. DeVenne and Q.M.S. G. S. Knowles.

APPLE QUESTION UNDER DISCUSSION

Women's Institute Takes up Marketing Method—Two New Members

Methods of marketing apples in New Brunswick were discussed at the Saint John Women's Institute meeting last evening in the Health Centre with Mrs. T. N. Vinery, president, in the chair. Mrs. Richard Hooper, convener of the committee on agriculture, said she had seen a farmer in New Brunswick with a splendid crop of Parnassus apples who was giving them away because, he said, if he shipped them to Saint John all the profit he could make was 50 cents a barrel and he would rather give them away than have the trouble of shipping for so small returns.

Members spoke of the poorer New Brunswick apples being all that could be had on the local market and stated the home grown product offered did not compare with the imported fruit.

Two new members, Mrs. David Morrow and Mrs. Charles Powers, were elected.

Miss Sharkey gave the second paper in a series on celebrated contemporary men, an account of the life of Marcell Foch.

Mrs. Hooper exhibited Christmas cards made with pressed native flowers.

The members were sorry to receive the farewell greetings of Mrs. Sydney Collins.

FIREMEN MEET.

The Fairville firemen met in their hall last evening with Frank Mason, engineer, in the chair, and made plans for an at-home to be held on Nov. 25.

CENTENARY CHURCH HISTORY RECALLED

Interesting Sketch Given by Judge Henderson at Meeting Last Evening

A very interesting account of the history of Centenary church was given at the Young People's Society of the church last night by Judge George A. Henderson, who has published a book on this subject.

Robert Laskey, president, was in the chair and the evening program also included devotions led by Miss Gretchen Moorehouse, a piano solo by Miss Mary Futch and a vocal solo by E. Clyde Parsons. There was a good attendance.

The special program was arranged in connection with the observance of the 80th anniversary of the church.

SKETCH OF INTEREST

Judge Henderson in his address said in part as follows:

"After the enlargement of Germain street (now Queen square) church in 1838 the congregation became too large for the building and the question of the erection of Centenary church was discussed. Rev. Enoch Wood was the leader of the enterprise. Mr. Wood purchased three lots of land for the trustees of Centenary church, paying $1,500. John B. Gaynor, as a donation, paid $500 for a fourth and gave the lot for the purposes of the church. These four lots constituted the site on which the church was subsequently built.

"At 8 o'clock Sunday, July 15, 1838, Rev. Enoch Wood preached at an open-air service held on the floor of the chapel then being erected. On Monday at 11 o'clock the cornerstone was laid. The venerable John Ferguson, who had been a member of the Wesleyan Society for 47 years, laid the stone in a most devout and impressive manner. The building was 60 by 90 feet and of a very chaste design.

"The building was completed and opened for worship in the fall of 1839, the centennial year of Methodism. The last service in this church was held Sunday, June 17, 1877, Rev. Howard Sprague being the preacher. The great fire of 1877 swept the city, leaving Centenary church in ashes.

"The trustees proceeded at once toward the erection of the new church. Additional land was purchased so that in all a lot 225 feet on Wentworth street and 129 feet on Princess and Lennox streets became the site of the present church. The building of the school room was immediately commenced and on the following November, 1878, the present Sabbath school room was opened. Worship was conducted there until the church structure was completed and opened in August, 1882."

LIQUOR CHARGE

Alexander Legere was fined $50 or three months in jail for having liquor in his possession in other than his private dwelling by Magistrate Henderson in the police court yesterday. Detective Biddecombe told of arresting the accused and produced the alleged bottle of beer found on the defendant by Detective Saunders. The report of Dr. Abramson, provincial analyst showed that the bottle contained beer having 5.80 per cent. alcohol.

SOCIAL ENJOYED.

The Saint John Power Boat Club held a very successful bridge and dance in their club rooms last evening. There was a large number in attendance.

CELEBRATE THEIR 57TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Campbell celebrated their 57th wedding anniversary yesterday and had very many callers at their home, Hazen street. They also received numerous gifts and many bouquets of lovely flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell have spent all their married life in Saint John and their wedding took place in New York. The officiating minister was Rev. Dr. John Thompson who was a former minister of St. David's church, Saint John.

TO DISTRIBUTE BASKETS.

Moulson Temple, No. 14, Pythian Sisters, at its meeting last night in Pythian Castle, made plans for distribution of 18 Christmas baskets.

Mrs. O. R. Black, M.E.C. president. Arrangements were made for holding a rummage sale this week.

'HIS FATHER'S SON' IS WELL PRESENTED

St. John the Baptist Juniors Score Hit in Initial Performance

Those who appreciate drama of the more subtle variety; a strong heart-rending story with a powerful theme, excellently enacted, will find all this in "Single Wives" at the Palace Theatre.

"Single Wives" deals with women who are the victims of indifference of their husbands. The compelling feature is the highly entertaining story it unfolds.

As Betty Gordon, a misunderstood bride, Corinne Griffith has a sympathetic role. Milton Sills, who is co-producer and excellent in the difficult characterization of the busy husband, who is so wrought up in making dollars that he fails to note that his wife is drifting away from him.

George Archainbaud, directed the picture from a story by Earl Hudson. An unusual dramatic finesse is noted.

The situations are admirably connected, the colorful background of wealth setting off the smoothly running story.

One of the chief charms is its difference from the usual run of society and matrimonial problem plays. Supporting Miss Griffith and Mr. Sills are Kathlyn Williams, Lou Tellegen, Henry Littlejohn, Arthur Lower, Thomas Stanley, Jerre Austin and John Patrick.

"Single Wives" will have its final showings tonight.

Those taking part was as follows: Edmund Gordon, Charles Farrell, Russel Porter, Louis Barrer, Walter King, Leonard Sogre, Thomas Killen, John Barrett, James McIntyre.

The Tumblers were: Edward Murdoch, Fred Britton, Fred Britton, Donald Green. Floor manager, William Shortis; clown, Edward McCarthy.

QUEEN SQUARE HAS APPEALING STORY

Sackcloth and Scarlet Well Presented With Alice Terry in Feature Role

"Sackcloth and Scarlet," an unusually human and appealing story of two sisters, adapted from the novel by George Gibbs, is now playing at the Queen Square. Alice Terry is featured in the cast which includes Dorothy Sebastian, Orville Caldwell, Otto Matiesen, Kathleen Kirkham and John Miljan.

The far West, New York and France, play prominent roles in the unfolding of this Paramount picture tale.

The story starts in a fashionable mountain resort in California with Polly Freeman (Dorothy Sebastian), a wealthy, spoiled, spoiled 18-year-old New York girl, carrying on a dangerous flirtation with Stephen Edwards, played by Orville Caldwell, one of the guides. Polly is happy until Edwards asks her to marry him, when she takes French leave and returns to New York, where she and her sister Joan (Miss Terry) manage a beautiful home.

Polly runs away to Paris and marries a dancer. Joan is ostracized and feels guilty for the sins committed by Polly. Finally Joan goes to Washington, where she meets and falls in love with Edwards, who has worked hard, succeeded after years in Congress.

A few days before the wedding, Polly reappears. Jealous of her sister, despite the sacrifices the latter has made for her, she determines to claim the now successful Edwards.

The many big dramatic situations in the earlier portions of the story reach a tense and unusual climax.

Those who appreciate drama of the more subtle variety; a strong heart-rending story with a powerful theme, excellently enacted, will find all this in "Single Wives" at the Palace Theatre.

JACKIE COOGAN ON SCREEN AT GAIETY

Lovable Lad Has Master Picture Story in the Rag Man

Jackie Coogan's fourth contribution to Metro-Goldwyn productions was presented yesterday at the Gaiety Theatre when "The Rag Man" was enjoyed. It is the best Jackie Coogan offering that Metro-Goldwyn has thus far distributed, makes the most impressive hit because of the abundance of comedy episodes. These are touched up with a sufficiency of thrills and tears to give the story authentic value.

The audience rejoiced and laughed and chuckled all the way through this charming story. They followed Jackie's adventures from the time the orphanage burned down till Jackie, as little Tim Kelley, became the senior member of the firm of "Kelly and Ginsberg," the largest dealers in high class junk in New York.

Max Davidson as Ginsberg, the junk dealer, gave a memorable performance, full of quaint appeal. Lydia Yeasman as the Apple Woman mingled breath of comedy effect. Robert Edson gave a master performance of the crook reformed by Tim, and William Conklin was sturdy and fine and

DUMBELLS TAKE HOUSE BY STORM

Soldier Entertainers Sway Throng That Crowds Imperial

Snappy Production is Lucky Seven With Much That is New

Greeted by the biggest house here in three years, Captain M. W. Plunkett's Dumbells presented their liveliest and peppiest performance "Lucky Seven" at the Imperial Theatre last evening. High-class comedy, fresh as the morning dew, shared honors with the special Dumbell orchestra while all the old favorites "Red" Newman, Pat Rafferty, Al Plunkett, Ross Hamilton and the others added to well-earned laurels in their efforts to drive dull car away. For more than two and one-half hours they held sway and there was not one bit in a procession that piled comedy on comedy, interspersed with bits of genuinely clever talent by various individual members of the company, culminating in "Melodies of Yesterday" by the entire company. The Dumbells are famous for the smooth precision in their performances and "Lucky Seven" is no exception, everything running in clockwork style from start to finish in the March of Fun.

SOME HIGH SPOTS

Following a novel introduction of the cast, "Red" Newman starts the parade with "Colonel Thingamob" followed by Ross Hamilton in a new song "I'm Wonderful." Al Plunkett, who is acting manager of the show, owing to Captain Plunkett being detained home through sickness, sings "Whiter Than Snow" and then Newman stages another one of those imitable estaminet scenes. The bell hop by Glenn Allen, a remarkably talented dancer, stands out as a specialty by Pat Rafferty, "The Prisoner" precede the finale of the first part. The little comedian's effort as the sorcerer convict was one of the high spots of the evening. "High Street Africa" with Morley Plunkett and the company concludes the first section.

ORCHESTRA BIG HIT

Opening the second part, Howard Fogg, violinist, directs the Dumbells orchestra in some melodious offerings. Combining with the orchestra in the "Toy Drum Major," Pat Rafferty and Glenn Allen stage a toy act that went over big. The "Gypsy Love Song" by Al Plunkett was well received. As on former occasions, the orchestra earned the largest mead of applause, the big audience insisting on repeated encores. "Rilly's Cow Shed," with Newman, Rafferty and Devon, had the audience roaring with laughter with their dancing. From then on, the entire show picks up rapidly to a smashing finish. Ben Allen, blackface comedian, scores in "Susannah's Squeaking Shoes" while Glenn Allen made a splendid impression with his toe dance act. "Jock" Holland's "Aint It Nice" is followed by the big scream of the entire show "Us Girls Must Have Our Fun." Stan Bennett in one of those characteristic English dude songs "Reckless Reggie" aroused much laughter and then came a pulse-stirring patriotic tableau "Up the Hill."

Pat Rafferty's best song "I'm Not All There" aroused gales of laughter and Ross Hamilton showed next a stunning gown in his song "Darling, I Love You." "Red" Newman's "Let's

Start The War Again

Hope of Saving Three Miners Is Abandoned

Drumheller, Alta., Nov. 16—

All hope of saving the three miners entombed by a blast in the Kirkpatrick mine, seven miles west of here, Friday night, has been abandoned. The men, M. Gilday, L. Burke and J. J. McLean, were residents of Drumheller. Malcolm McDonald is making a remarkable recovery at the Drumheller Municipal Hospital, after being precipitated some 60 feet by the force of the explosion. As usual, the orchestra was the biggest hit with the biggest number of the audience and it was not allowed to leave the stage before giving two encores and taking several curtain calls. The musical programme was unusually good and showed a variety that added to its charm. The opening was one of the best yet. The audience was quick to recognize old favorites on their appearance in this first ensemble and to give them a welcoming hand. OLD FAVORITES Red Newman was the first to appear in a solo part and, as usual, was heartily applauded by an audience which remembered past laughs due to his imitable contortion. As the hero of an estaminet scene he made another hit and he did not let the people down in his last appearance alone, giving a song that bids fair to rival his "Oh, Oh, It's a Lovely War." The latest one is along similar lines but the sentiment has shifted as is shown by the title, "Let's Start the War Again."

Ross Hamilton's several appearances were distinguished from his former ones by an improvement in his singing and by the beautiful clothes he wore in a way to make even the women jealous. Al Plunkett, always popular, did not injure his reputation in his new songs. He was the old, smiling Al and his reception was up to anything in the past. A comparatively new one among the "female" members of the troupe, Glen Allen, made a decided hit in a toe dance, something seldom attempted with any success by female impersonators. He also had another dance that surprised the audience by its excellence. Stan Bennett, with his "Archie" accent and manner, went over well again. He has one song that is up to his best, "Stop, Look and Listen."

Pat Rafferty, probably the "dumbest" looking Dumbell of the lot, is sure of a warm welcome any time he comes to the Loyalist city. Something about his completely unconscious expression, his woodenness of motion and the way in which he puts his parts over seems to have won the approbation of local audiences completely. Ben Allen, the blackface comedian, has a new number that is a scream and his dialogues with Morley Plunkett are well worth watching. A dancer that is coming more into prominence is Jimmy Devon. His work is well worth watching. Jock Holland, another of the "ladies," also has some first class numbers which proved highly popular. Morley Plunkett hits his high spot in a jungle comedy, "High Street, Africa."

Unless this course is fully and specifically complied with, immediate steps will be taken to compel this course." The telegram was signed by Mayor Bader, Samuel P. ### IRISH JAY WALKER IS PROSECUTED

Crossed Street With Mattress on Head and Was Knocked Down

LONDON, Nov. 17—A prosecution against a pedestrian for interfering by negligence, the free passage of a carriage in the public street came before the Belfast Court a few days ago and was dismissed.

Police evidence was that Edward McCann negligently walked across Newtownards road carrying a mattress on his head, and was knocked down by a motor car. He crossed the road diagonally, and it was urged, did so, with apparent disregard of his own safety. The car, it was added, had to swerve, and might conceivably have killed some cyclist or child. J. C. W. Rea, for the defence, said the case was a ridiculous one. McCann was knocked down and had to have five stitches in his head. Mr. Rea's application for costs against the police was refused.

Hemorrhoids Or piles are quickly relieved by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

It is a serious matter to have piles and one person in four has them at one time or another. The annoyance and distress is great. It is difficult to obtain lasting relief. So much so that your physician may tell you that a surgical operation is necessary. That is unless he is familiar with Dr. Chase's Ointment for many doctors recommend this treatment to their patients.

For nearly half a century Dr. Chase's Ointment has been the never failing relief for itching, bleeding and protruding piles. It is now very generally known by the medical profession, and the public generally, as the standard treatment for this torturing ailment. Ask your friends about Dr. Chase's Ointment for "users are boosters" in this case. Relief comes quickly and you can obtain the ointment at any drug store.

"The Coast of Folly" is the finest of all the stories by Coningsby Dawson, author of "The Kingdom Round the Corner." The story offers direct contrast to "Madame Sans Gene," with its costumes and spirit of the Napoleonic period, in that it is a modern romance laid against an American background—Palm Beach, the "coast of folly," and New York.

CLAIMS OIL SUPPLY NEARS EXHAUSTION

Former Mine Official Sees U. S. Wells Dry Within Twelve Years

LONDON, Nov. 17—Oil, in the opinion of so high an authority as Sir Richard Hedmayne, formerly Chief Inspector of Mines, will never be a serious rival to coal. The supply of oil, Sir Richard told the Coal Commission, is restricted, and an American authority had estimated that the petroleum supplies of the United States would be exhausted in 12 years. Taking everything into account, it was doubtful if the world's supply of natural mineral oil would suffice for more than 80 to 100 years. Replying to Sir Herbert Samuel, the chairman, Sir Richard expressed the view that oil could rarely be used economically as compared with the best Welsh steam coal.

LONDON, Nov. 17—Ulriceth's ancient seal, traced in the British Museum, is to be adopted by the local council as their common seal. It bears three towers, with two sentries guarding a keep. The inscription "Kraikin de Walls," said Councilor Harlech Jones, when it was decided yesterday to adopt the seal, means "Crucible in Wales."
