TWAS SOME GAME WHILE IT LASTED

When Bob Cunningham, the genial captain of No. 2 Salvage Corps company, consented to umpire a game between some of his own stalwarts and a team from the North End fire department he accepted a contract which put it mildly, caused some difficulty to fulfill. However, he managed to get the game going and it was a most interesting warfare breaking out. The firemen won, but the score is not exactly certain; the chap who was keeping the tally said it was something like 12 to 6, but he was not sure if he got all that crossed the plate.

PRISONERS SING AS GRAND JURY FINDS TRUE BILL

Make Merry in Cells Below Court as Foreman Reads Verdict—Startle Jail Officials.

Sarnia, June 16.—While strains of the prisoners' voices singing in their cells "I Wonder How the Old Folks Are at Home," reached the courtroom above the cell block in the county jail, the grand jury selected at the opening of the General Sessions of the Peace and County Court brought in a true bill of robbery with violence against Edward McMullen, William Ayres, John Yohn and George Anderson, London men charged with robbing the Wyoming branch of the Bank of Toronto of $10,000 on October 20, 1921.

Few spectators were in court when the grand jury filed into the courtroom and returned a true bill against the London men.

All afternoon, while the jury was out, the four men kept singing popular airs, and at the time the jury foreman was reading out his verdict the air was vibrating with "I Wonder How the Old Folks Are at Home."

Shave Startles Officials.

Jail officials tonight started a probe in Lambton county jail as the result of finding that the alleged Wyoming bandits, Anderson, McMullen, Ayres and Yohn, had in some unknown manner secured a razor or knife in their cells, and when they were called out the guards were surprised to find that, instead of having a three-days growth of beard, all men appeared clean-shaven.

No trace of the knife or razor has been found, and the prisoners, while admitting they secured a shave while the guard's back was turned, refuse to tell how they secured it. As a result of this finding the prisoners have been placed in new cells and the watch over them redoubled. No person is now allowed to see them, and a search is being made of the jail to see if friends have secreted razors or saws that would enable the prisoners to make a dash for liberty.

VALUES GOWNS BEFORE HER LIFE

Woman Holds Up Liner's Sailing Because of Trunks Left Behind—Aims at Self-slaughter.

New York, June 16.—The sailing of the United American liner Reliance for Hamburg was held up for nearly an hour by the repeated efforts of a woman first-cabin passenger to jump overboard. The woman was Mrs. Anita Motti, wife of a wealthy exporter of Milan, Italy. She had come here last week on the same vessel, and was being deported because Italy's quota had been filled for the year.

Mrs. Motti, expensively gowned and wearing numerous rings, spent her entire stay here at Ellis Island.

When she found that her six trunks, containing clothes, valuables and personal effects, were not on the Reliance, the woman became hysterical. She struggled violently with immigration officers in her efforts to climb the ship's railing and jump into the water.

Mrs. Motti had come to visit her cousin, Alfred Caloro, who is president of the Banca Nazionale de Reduce, on

WOMAN'S PROMPT ACTION SAVED LIFE OF LITTLE GIRL

Gertrude McDougall, a little girl between four and five years old, was saved from death by drowning at Blue Rock beach yesterday afternoon by the bravery and presence of mind of Mrs. Dennis O'Keefe, of 165 St. James street, w. e. According to witnesses, the little girl, who is the daughter of Mrs. Andrew McDougall, of St. James street, was playing on the beach and suddenly fell into the water. The backward splash at this point is very strong and she was lifted out beyond her depth. Mrs. O'Keefe, who is the wife of Dennis O'Keefe, driver at No. 7 fire station, was sitting on the beach. She took in the situation and called to some boys who were near. The boys approached, alarmed by sight and Mrs. O'Keefe plunged into the water, clothes and all, waded on until the water was beyond her waist, and brought the badly frightened child to the shore. Witnesses of the accident said last night that but for the prompt action of Mrs. O'Keefe the little girl would certainly have been drowned and that some recognition was due her.

Mrs. J. Boyle Travers, the vice-president, was in the chair. It was decided that ice cream should be given to the ward patients once a fortnight during the summer months and that a Book Day should be held in September to fill the shelves of the book-cases which the Aid has provided in the hospital. METHODISTS MAKE REVISIONS IN STATION SHEET

Sackville, June 15.—Some revisions have been made in the station sheet as drawn up by the Methodist conference in session here. Some of the charges still are vacant, but it is hoped that they may be supplied by students, probationers and supernumerary ministers, at least temporarily. Changes and additions to the sheets as published yesterday are as follows:—
On a question of privilege Rev. W. D. Wilson, secretary of the New Brunswick Temperance Alliance, was introduced to the conference by Rev. R. G. Fulton, chairman of the business committee. Mr. Wilson paid a tribute to the men who represented the conference on the provincial temperance organization. The work of reform in the province, he said, had been conspicuously served by such men as R. T. Hayes, M. P. P., of St. John, and Rev. Thomas Marshall. It was felt by their fellow workers that an expression of appreciation by the conference of the character and services of three of its members who are severing their connection with the work occupied the first hour of the conference session this morning.
Rev. Thomas Marshall and Rev. W. R. Pepper are withdrawing from the active work, taking a supernumerary relation, and Rev. Hammond Johnson, of Moncton, is leaving for his new charge on St. John's, Newfoundland. Many members of the conference spoke on the resolutions, the preparation of which had been referred to a special committee yesterday. Rev. H. E. Thomas, for the committee, with appropriate remarks. The brethren thus solicited addressed the conference.
A committee was appointed to take adequate note next year of the half century of ministry which will then be reached by Rev. William Penna, of Moncton, and also Rev. William Lawson; the committee includes the president and secretary of the conference and the officers of the Historical Society.

THE VALUE OF DRILL
(Border Cities Star)
The value of proper fire drill was strikingly emphasized in Park street public school yesterday when 310 pupils marched from their class rooms, cool and unafraid, when a blaze broke out in the roof of the building. The children did not know until they reached the street that a fire was in progress. The alarm, to them, was the ordinary fire drill. The school was emptied in less than two minutes.
Time spent in fire drill is time well spent. The same idea might well be extended to office and factory buildings.

McAlister laid that record of business-like achievement before a large audience that packed away into the Opera House here this evening.

Regular Retail Values $40 and $45 Factory Sale Price $29

A wide range of beautiful patterns, finely hand-tailored suits, you will recognize as shown elsewhere at $35 to $40. You must see these garments to appreciate them at this price.

Fine imported and domestic woolsens, beautifully trimmed and tailored. The fabrics, patterns and models will appeal to men accustomed to paying the higher prices for their clothes.

The most wonderful values in Canada. Single and Double Breasted Suits in a variety of light and dark patterns. All sizes.

These suits have just been distributed from my factories to my retail stores for this sale. Every city in which I operate has received its full share and at these prices they will make clothing history. The fabrics are in endless variety of worsteds, tweeds, serges, vicunas and saxonys. All models.

REMEMBER—Robinson's Clothes are all wool with nothing used but pure linen pre-shrunk canvas, all wool linings and strictly hand tailoring. Every suit is made to give the service that the Robinson Label and the Robinson Guarantee in the pocket assures you of.

I have found it necessary to inaugurate this yearly FACTORY SURPLUS EVENT in order to keep my factories going full capacity the year around and keeping my overhead down, thereby retaining my regular factory help in the dull season. The overhead is an important factor in a large business such as mine and instead of shutting down my factories a few weeks between seasons, (as most clothing manufacturers do) with the large added volume of business that this sale will bring, I can continue throughout the year without a stop. By keeping my factories busy and the same help employed always, you will readily see that this plan will make Robinson's Clothes better and more uniform; and at a lower price than they can be produced elsewhere.

Commencing this week, this sale will become an annual event that will be watched for across the length and the breadth of Canada!

LEGENDRE'S CAREER ON TRACK IS OVER

Remarkable All-Around Athlete to Take Up Film Acting Upon Graduation.

New York, June 16.—Bob Legendre, greatest of college athletes in all-around competition, has ended his career on the cinder path. With his graduation from Georgetown University, this super-performer finishes a career that will go down in the annals of sport as one of the most phenomenal yet attained by a college athlete. Not since the days of Jim Thorpe, the Carlisle star, has any one stood out so prominently in intercollegiate athletics as this Georgetown marvel, who three times has won the national pentathlon championship, besides many collegiate and A. A. U. titles.

From athletics as a sport to movie acting as a profession is the leap Legendre is taking. As soon as he gets his diploma from Georgetown safely tucked away and has bid farewell to his friends in the east he will leave for Los Angeles, where he expects to enter upon a theatrical career which will bring him fortune in addition to the fame he already has won on the cinder path. For Bob, they say, has been the recipient of several flattering movie offers, having refused them all until he had finished his college course this month. He has had experience as an actor in amateur productions at prep school and at his home in Lewiston, Me. Among the competitors in the Inter-Allied games and in the Olympic meet Legendre gained the reputation of being the "Beau Brummel of the American athletes."

His Record in Sports.

A summary of Legendre's athletic record follows:—
 1912, Frye Grammar School, Lewiston, Me.—Pitched on baseball team; end on football eleven.
 1913-17, Jordan High School, Lewiston, Me.—Football, two years; baseball, two years; track, four years; holder of records in broad jump, high jump and shot-put.
 1918, Hebron Academy, Hebron, Me.—Tackle on varsity football eleven; pitcher on varsity baseball team; holder of broad jump record at twenty-two feet and eleven inches.
 1918, Georgetown University, Washington, D. C.—Varsity football; won five events in service meet; three arm out in pitching and went out for track honors, leaving baseball for good.
 1919, South Atlantic Indoor Championships.—Won 100-yard dash in 0:10 1-5, and shot-put with thirty-nine feet and nine inches; set new record in low hurdles of 0:11 4-5. Ran on several relay teams in various indoor meets. Won pentathlon championship for first time at Penn relays in April, scoring thirteen points. Won several points in South Atlantic meet at Baltimore, scoring twenty-eight out of a possible thirty points. Won second place in intercollegiate broad jump at Cambridge with a leap of twenty-two feet and eleven inches. Won the elimination tryouts in Paris for United States team at inter-allied meet. Won intercollegiate pentathlon championship of the world in August at Paris, scoring three fifts and two seconds.

Broken Leg Halts Him Briefly.

1920.—South Atlantic Championships.—Won 100-yard low hurdles, 100-yard dash, 440-yard dash, shot-put, broad jump, javelin and discus. Broke record in seventy-yard low hurdles at Illinois University in eight seconds flat. Ran on long-distance medley relay team which broke the world's record at Urbana. Broke leg in April, preventing his entrance in the pentathlon at Philadelphia. On crutches for six weeks, and then went into the Olympic tryouts in New Jersey in July against the advice of physicians, finishing second in the pentathlon and third in the decathlon. Finished third in pentathlon in Olympic games with leg not fully healed.
 1921.—South Atlantic Championships.—Won 100-yard dash, 100-yard low hurdles and shot-put. Won pentathlon for second time at Penn relays with score of ten points. In South Atlantic meet broke broad jump, discus and javelin records.
 1922.—Ran on relay team which broke world's record for one and seven-eighths miles in national senior A. A. U. championship meet at Buffalo. Won 100-yard dash and ran on one and seven-eighths mile relay team in Johns Hopkins meet. Ran on winning team at Boston. Won six events for a total of thirty points in dual meet with Penn State, breaking varsity field records in broad jump and javelin. Won five events in quadrangular meet at Georgetown. Won pentathlon for third time with eight points, breaking records in javelin and 200 meters. Won five fifts for a total of twenty-five points in South Atlantic meet at Charlottesville, breaking record in broad jump with twenty-three feet and in javelin, with 174 feet and four inches, besides equalling 100-yard record at ten seconds flat.

 1922.—Intercollegiate Championships at Cambridge.—Won broad jump title with a leap of twenty-three feet and 7 1/4 inches; scored fifth place in discus throw.

FUNERAL OF AIRMAN WHO WAS KILLED ON EVE OF GLOBE FLIGHT
 London, June 16.—(Canadian Press).—A remarkable tribute of respect was paid to the memory of Sir Ross Smith, Australian airman, whose funeral was held yesterday in Adelaide, Australia, says a Reuter despatch from that city. The streets were thronged with dense crowds at an early hour, flags were flown at half staff all over the city, business houses were closed and the courts adjourned at midday in honor of the great airman who lost his life accidentally on the eve of his attempt to fly around the world.

 After a brief service in the cathedral, the cortege, preceded by a firing party, proceeded to the cemetery.

ANNOUNCING

The Best Hard Coal in the World and a New Scale of Prices

WELSH ANTHRACITE

Anthracite (Hard Coal) is mined in Pennsylvania, British Columbia, China, Scotland and Wales. Pennsylvania Mines have been closed since the first of April, due to the labor strike; freight from British Columbia is prohibitive; to import from China is, of course, impossible; the logical source, therefore, is Scotland or Wales. Welsh Coal is recognized as the best coal in the world and as the time is getting short for handling next winter's coal supply, we have turned to Wales for a large shipment of

If the special rates for export coal out of the Old Country continue, and if the ocean freights remain at the present low level, we anticipate continuous importation, and along with this new coal, we have arranged a NEW SCALE OF PRICES, which, to our mind is more in keeping with the services rendered to the individual customer. This price list is worked out so the customer, who pays cash in advance, and thus saves us a lot of bookkeeping, making out bills and saves us the risk of any loss through bad debts, etc., gets that to which he is entitled—a better price than the customer who has the coal charged, and may or may not pay within the ten days, for discount, or at the end of thirty days, when coal bills are supposed to be due. Also, in the matter of delivery, it is much cheaper to dump the coal at the curb or in the yard, as it used to be delivered in olden days, than sluicing coal in an iron chute, or delivering coal in bags. This new scale of prices, which we think will be more in keeping with the services rendered, will apply to this importation and is as follows:

For Delivery Immediately After Safe Arrival Str. "Withington"—Due about 30th June

Charge Accounts	Payment 30 days after delivery.	$16.00	dumped
With Cash Discount	Payment within 10 days after delivery.	$15.50	dumped
Prepaid Orders	Payment in advance, eliminating all bookkeeping, bills, etc.	$15	Dumped

Add to the Above—25c for coal sluiced and 75c delivered in bags. Also usual extra charges for West Side, etc.

Our books are now open for orders at the above prices. Many of our customers, who have listed with us for their usual supply of Radio Coal, asked us to make delivery of this coal. We would suggest to others, who are anxious to make sure of next winter's coal supply, to let us know their needs at once. It is quite apparent that all the cargo will be sold before it arrives. We cannot guarantee the same price on future cargoes, as we are advised that prices are advancing on the other side in expectation of a large demand due to the strike in the American Mines.

American Hard Coal
Pea Size $12.00

To make room for the above we must move a quantity of our Radio Pea coal and have priced it at $12.00 cash for immediate delivery. Extra for charge accounts, bag delivery, etc., as above.

Mr. Advertiser:

Think for a minute about St. John and Ottawa, in connection with newspapers and advertising.

The population of Ottawa (according to Might's Directory) is 143,402.

The population of St. John according to the last census is 47,166 or, counting close suburban territory, say 55,000 to 60,000.

The Ottawa Journal, morning and evening, has a combined circulation of 27,717.

The Ottawa Citizen, morning and evening, has a combined circulation of 29,460.

The Ottawa Journal and Citizen have the A. B. C. audit, which is accepted as the standard authority on circulation by all the agencies and leading advertisers in Canada and the United States.

The Telegraph and Times (A. B. C. audit) for the six months ended March 31, 1922 had a combined net paid circulation of 30,461.

Mr. Advertiser: Does not this strike you as a significant comparison?

The Telegraph and Times cover the city of St. John and the province of New Brunswick like a blanket, from the advertising standpoint.

Their circle of readers exceeds 100,000 people, practically all the live buyers not only in New Brunswick, but as far east as Amherst and including the Nova Scotia counties across the Bay of Fundy.

Please note that The Telegraph and Times are the only A. B. C. papers in New Brunswick. It is suggested to you that the Ottawa and St. John figures given above are worthy of a little study and productive of a little thought.

Advertising is the life blood of business. Circulation, particularly when it is well distributed among every class of buyers, gives advertising the pulling power that keeps the cash register and selling force busy. Advertising is a productive investment. It cuts your overhead by swelling your total sales.

CONCERT ENJOYED.

The Sewing Circle of Cullum Lodge, No. 36, L. O. B. A., held a very successful concert on last Tuesday in Temple Hall, Main street. All the members on the programme were heartily entertained and all present seemed to enjoy the entertainment. During the evening a drawing of a quilt made by the circle took place and the quilt was won by ticket No. 298, held by Mrs. Naves, 168 Rockland road.

The following took part in the programme: Miss Pearl Newham, Miss Lydia McGeachan, Miss Edith Welch, Miss Earle, Miss Maud McKay, Miss Ethel McKay, Miss Alberta Bentley, Miss Lilian Thoms, Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Wetmore, Alice Raymond, Olive Byfield, Florence Welch, Florence Jewett, Kathleen Jewett, Emma Welch, Jean Arbing, Beatrice McKenna, Dorothy Ferris, Helen Priddle and Florence McKenna. Following the concert, refreshments were served by the lodge and all joined in singing the national anthem at the close. Part proceeds are for the Wright orphanage.

At a special meeting of the Federation city council last night a motion was passed to notify the contractors building a new theatre for P. G. Spencer, of St. John, that work must stop as the building infringed on city property. Mr. Spencer said he would take the matter up immediately with the architect, F. Neil Brodie.

THE BUSINESS COLUMN

Edited by Mrs. E. M. Thorne (Copyright)

Tells How to Fit Chairs to Clerks
Glaring faults in the sitting posture of store employees are emphasized in a recent report by Dr. Arthur B. Emmans, director of the Harvard Mercantile Health Bureau.

"Experience in surveying the twenty-five stores subscribing to the Harvard Mercantile Health Bureau," he says, "shows the most glaring examples of bad sitting posture in the alteration rooms."

In the main office, he says, many stenographers and clerks are found sitting in adjustable chairs which are not adjusted.

He offers the following rules for fitting seating conveniences to the individual worker:

"The cardinal principle to be remembered is to hold at the hips, never at the waist."

"First, Start with the height of desk (usually three inches) or table.

"Second, Subtract the sitting height of the individual from the desk height to determine the height of the work-chair seat. This must be done by trying the worker in chairs of different heights.

"Third, If the feet do not rest comfortably on the floor without the thighs sagging heavily on the foot of the chair seat, provide a foot rest or brace. Rarely is a foot rest satisfactory if attached to the chair. Usually it may be attached to the desk or table.

"Fourth, The light coming over the left shoulder is best for general work. Avoid light from directly in front, which reflects glare from the work, and also light from the right, which casts the shadow of the hand on the work. Light from above is also excellent, especially if reflected from the ceiling, as in totally indirect lighting."

TRADE BETTER IN UNITED STATES

(Bradstreet)

Retail trade is better, this being reflected in more confident buying by buyers, who show more disposition to buy for the future; the industries, especially iron and steel and automobile lines, are more active; building has taken another surge forward; factory activities in shoe and leather making have enlarged at the western points, being stimulated by higher hide prices; crop reports have improved, more especially those in the big surplus food staples, and additional measures of monthly industrial movements received go to confirm the idea that May saw a very pronounced forward step. All these developments, if should be remembered, have occurred in the face of a 50 per cent. tie-up in all the face of the country's railways by what might be called the auxiliary classes of railway labor. Owing to additional wages ordered by the Railway Labor Board, the latest reduction being 10 per cent., the latest reduction being 10 per cent. of shippers or merchants, a strike vote has been ordered taken by 400,000 of these as well as the 400,000 of maintenance of way employees. Other trades unions within the auxiliary branches of railway labor are expected to follow their example, and a possible strike of 1,000,000 of men early in July is hinted at. These, taken with the pending strike of coal miners and of cotton mill hands in New England, constitute an unfavorable condition. The trend of commodity prices is upward, new high prices being made this week by, among others, cotton, print cloths, refined sugar, hops, beaver and raw wool, and Bradstreet.

Warmer weather has been helpful to rear sales of dry goods have been large. Good growing weather following abundant moisture has made for an undoubtedly good crop prospect.

Darkness Stopped Game. The St. Rose's and the Cathedral teams met on the Nashua Park last evening in a regular scheduled game in the St. Peter's House League but, as the game only went four and a half innings, neither team was able to win although the St. Rose's had a big lead when the game was called on account of darkness.

A dispute that lasted nearly ten minutes and an injury to a player which held up the game for quite a long time were responsible for the regulations number of innings not being completed. Catches by Costello and Jones and Berasa's home run were features of the contest. The St. Peter's and the Cathedral teams will meet tonight in this league on the St. Peter's Park.

City Intermediate League. The West End Improvement League took the measure of the St. George's in a City Intermediate League fixture on the Queen Square diamond last night by the score of 7 to 6. The game was very closely contested and the large number of fans present were kept at a high pitch of excitement. The work of Stackhouse, playing first base for the winners, was the feature of the game.

The batteries for the winners were Nixon, Hanson and Daly. White pitched for the losers. The next game in this league will be played on the North end diamond tomorrow night, when St. George's and Portland will clash, and on Monday night Portlands and the West End Improvement League will meet on the Queen Square diamond.

East End Intermediate League. The East End Clippers defeated the Beavers in the regular game of the East End Intermediate League last night on the Rockwood Park grounds. The score was nine to five in favor of the Clippers. The batteries were as follows: for the winners, Griffin and Griffin; for the losers, McCluskey and LeBlanc.

New Pitcher Wins. Fredericton, N. B., June 15.—Fredericton defeated Moncton in a full nine-inning game this evening, the score being 5 to 3. Until the ninth inning the score was 3 to 1. The brand of ball was a great improvement on Wednesday's game, and a good sized crowd was pleased.

Turf. Exterminator's Victory. That grand old thoroughbred Exterminator, whose record forms one of the high lights of the turf on both sides of the Atlantic, even though his activities have been confined to America, gave a large crowd at Belmont Park on Tuesday afternoon another exhibition of his admirable racing qualities.

The seven-year-old son of McGee shouldered 138 pounds in the Garden City Handicap and showed the way home to the great Mad Hatter and several others in the extraordinary time of 1:44 for the mile and a sixteenth. The record for this continent at the distance is 1:42 3-5, set by Celesta with only 108 pounds up at Syracuse in 1914.

The best Belmont Park figures are 1:48 1-4, and Captain Alcock, winner of the recent Suburban, carried 106 pounds when he established the mark last season. Incidentally, Exterminator, now second only to the unequalled Man o' War as a money winner in American turf annals, brought in $1,332 more to the W. S. Kilmer exchequer by his feat. The gelding's triumph career of 1922 in the east and west, in the course of which he has succumbed but once, when Boniface noted him out in Maryland, has bulked his total winnings up well past the $200,000 mark, and he has passed first Colin, then Sycamore, and finally Domino in the list of money producers.

Man o' War, with his total of $249,465. The box score and summary follow:

C. P. R. TELEGRAPH WINS FIRST GAME IN SERIES WITH W. U. The C. P. R. and Western Union telegraph staffs left off pounding their keys yesterday afternoon long enough to journey out to the Rockwood Park diamond and click off a few home runs instead. The C. P. R. boys were better senders than the Western Union team and at the end of the session had piled up thirteen messages to three for the latter. The game yesterday was the first of a series which has been arranged and as both teams possess several good players, the game was not so one-sided as the score would indicate. Both teams batted well and there were several hits which kept the large number of fans present on their toes. Both McCormack, for the winners, and Beckett for the losers, pitched good games, the former having eight strike-outs to his credit and the latter six. The C. P. R. boys came through the scrap with only two errors, while the Western Union had five against them.

MIXED BATHING AT SEA. (Montreal Gazette.) Wireless reports have it that bathing parties in mid-ocean have been a novelty of the second voyage of the White Star liner Majestic, the world's largest ship, which arrives at New York today. The bathers did not disport themselves in the sea while the ship waited for them, but were carried along at a speed of about twenty-five knots an hour as they swam—for the bathing was done in the ship's big Pompeian swimming bath. One novelty of the sport was the presence of men and women in the bath at the same time, for although the bath is reserved for women only at certain hours, and for men only at another period, it has been thrown open every afternoon on the present voyage for both sexes. Bathing at once took on a new interest for many passengers, and bathing parties have shared in popularity with dancing in the big ballroom as a social diversion throughout the voyage. This novel social venture on the Majestic was the beginning of mixed bathing on liners. It was not authorized by the White Star Line without due deliberation as to whether it would be fitting and popular or not. A wireless message received by the New York managers of the line yesterday removed all doubts as to the success of the innovation, for it read: "Mixed bathing immense hit; swimming pool occupied by large parties every afternoon of the voyage." An official mermaid, Miss Winnie Elliott, a professional swimmer, is in charge of the bath on the Majestic and chaperones the mixed bathing parties. On feet, and a depth of from four to nine feet, is filled with 120 tons of clear green sea water, heated to a suitable temperature. The bath being lined with green tiles, and brilliantly lighted, the water sparkles like a fairy lake, surrounded by pillars of red and green mosaics, and when bathers plunge into the water, or splash about, the air seems filled with liquid diamonds. There is a gallery around the pool with room for 300 spectators, and watching the bathing parties in the pool has been popular with passengers who did not care to swim themselves. Explanation of The Irish Elections Today

(Associated Press) The Anglo-Irish treaty, signed last December, under which the Irish Free State is being created, provided for the formation of an Irish parliament. The act to give the treaty effect, passed by the British parliament in March, stipulated that elections to a provisional parliament for the Free State should be held "as soon as may be" after the passage of the act. These are the elections being held in Ireland today. The parliament so elected is to pass upon the "Constitution" for the Free State under which a permanent parliament for Southern Ireland will be chosen.

Lacking any constitutional division of the country into districts for the present election, the act of the British parliament stipulated that the prospective members be nominated from the constituencies which elected members to the Government of Ireland Act of 1920. Elections were held in Southern Ireland that year under this act, but the parliament never came into being. Instead the members elected were declared by the Irish Republican government at that time to constitute the membership of the Dail Eireann, or Republican parliament, which, since the adoption of the Anglo-Irish treaty, has been allowed by the British government to function as virtually the recognized legislative body for Southern Ireland. It was the Dail Eireann, for instance, which passed upon the Anglo-Irish treaty itself, ratifying it, as will be recalled, by a majority of seven votes.

It was contemplated by the British government, and originally by the Irish provisional government headed by Michael Collins, that today's elections should be freely contested and should virtually constitute a plebiscite of Southern Ireland on the question of the treaty and the proposed constitution. The opposition to such a plebiscite on the part of the Republican faction, led by Eamon De Valera, was so determined, however, that late in May an agreement was reached between the Collins and De Valera factions that candidates previously agreed upon should be nominated by the two factions, comprising virtually an official slate, the members being chosen in the proportion in which the two factions are now represented in the Dail Eireann, with a slight preponderance for the Collins party.

The new parliament will form a coalition cabinet, drawn from the pro-treaty faction under Michael Collins, and the anti-treaty forces under Eamon De Valera. An agreement reached in May by Collins and De Valera provided, among other things, for a cabinet of eleven members including the president and the minister of defense. The nine other members will be selected five from the majority party and four from the minority party, each party to choose its nominees.

The factional agreement of May brought about a halt in the aggressive fight being waged by the De Valera faction against the provisional government. At the same time it was received with something like consternation in British government circles. It was believed in England that it struck at the basis of the treaty in preventing a free expression of Southern Irish opinion on the pact, and that it might represent also the yielding of the Collins faction to the militant anti-treaty party, which has been insistent that the fight for a republic be kept up.

In this situation the British authorities asked the leading representatives of the provisional government to go to London for a conference, and lengthy conversations between cabinet members and the Irish representatives took place there during the week of May 28. As a result Colonial Secretary Winston Churchill, in a speech in the British House of Commons on June 1, announced what was virtually the decision of the British government to let the elections proceed as arranged by the two factions in Ireland. This was coupled, however, with the warning that if any members of the coalition government for Ireland, representing both factions, constituted upon the basis of the new elections, should fail to subscribe to the declaration of adherence to the treaty, the British government would consider that this constituted a violation of the treaty. The British government would feel free in that case, he said, to resume full liberty of action as to reclaiming the powers ceded to the Irish authorities under the treaty. It was broadly hinted by Mr. Churchill indeed, that this might mean a military re-occupation of Southern Ireland by the British.

Mr. Churchill said also it had been explained by the Irish representatives that they considered it virtually impossible to hold free elections at the present time. They expected militant opposition from the opponents of the treaty, and this would prevent voters from registering their free choice.

The list of candidates for election, issued in Dublin leaves the present composition of the Dail Eireann only slightly altered.

The Candidates.

There are 126 seats in the country, borough and universities of Free State constituencies, for which 124 candidates appear in the panel. The other four, forming the constituency of Dublin University are left uncontested by the coalition on the presumption that they will be returned unopposed.

Although 126 seats are represented in the panel, only 124 candidates will be nominated because Commandant General Dan Breen was selected for both sides in the division formed by East Tipperary and Waterford County and City.

The panel gives 6 seats for proponents of the treaty and 99 for Republicans.

In County Meath, Dr. McCarthy was selected by the Republicans in place of Sean McEater, who is a strong opponent of the treaty. P. O'Kelly was nominated in Dublin County for the seat made vacant through the recent death of Frank Lawless.

Incidents probably will contest twenty constituencies. The Irish Farmers Union has between twenty and thirty candidates ready. The Labor nominees number twenty, and half a dozen candidates will run in the cities of Dublin and Limerick on behalf of business interests.

The Republican list for Kildare and Wicklow contains the Buckley, the only pre-treaty candidate in that constituency being C. M. Byrne.

Several Ratepayers Association candidates will appear unattached, while the independent nominees include the Lord Mayor of Dublin, Alderman Alfred Byrne for the City of Dublin and E. Mac Lysacht for County Clare.

HORACE E. HOOPER, PUBLISHER, DEAD

President of Encyclopedia Britannica, Inc., a Victim of Heart Disease at 62—Long With London Times.

Horace Everett Hooper, president of the Encyclopedia Britannica, Inc., and a noted publisher and book merchant in this country and Great Britain for nearly forty years, died the other day of heart disease at his home at Bedford Hills, N. Y. He was 62 years old.

The last years of Mr. Hooper's life were marked by long litigation with his former partner, a disagreement having arisen in 1908 over their plans to purchase The London Times before it passed to the ownership of Lord Northcliffe. For many years he had been associated with The London Times in his work with the Encyclopedia Britannica and it was his dream to buy The London Times and combine it in an immense publishing business with The Encyclopedia Britannica and other noted English publications.

The complete story of the alliance between The London Times and the Encyclopedia Britannica and the plans of Mr. Hooper to purchase The Times was told in papers titled the New Jersey Court of Chancery in 1909 in an action seeking appointment of a receiver for the joint assets of the two partners.

After long experience in this country in the sale of reference books, Mr. Hooper, a citizen of this country, decided to go to England and join a book selling company there. Before 1900 he and Walter M. Jackson, the partner from whom he became estranged later, were associated with James and George Clarke in the sale of subscription books under the firm name of the Clarke Company, Ltd. In March 1900, Hooper and Jackson bought out the Clarks.

Then they started an expansion of their business which ended with the disagreement over the proposal to buy The London Times before it passed to the ownership of Lord Northcliffe. They controlled all the editorial and trade name of the Encyclopedia Britannica, and decided to sell the famous reference books, written under the direction of the University of Cambridge, in all parts of the world.

In 1902 changes in the English laws, putting a tax upon their business, made it advisable to organize separate English and American companies and the business was carried on in England under the firm name of Hooper & Jackson, Ltd., and in this country under the name of the Encyclopedia Britannica Company, a New York corporation. Other companies were organized later.

In January, 1908, the public announcement of a proposed change in the control of The London Times was regarded by Mr. Hooper and his partner as likely to impair the value of a contract they had for the publications of the eleventh edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica, which was to be issued a year later. They had spent about $500,000 on the contract and both considered plans for purchasing The London Times themselves or getting a control for it that would not impair the value of their existing contract.

Through negotiations by the two partners The London Times in March, 1908, passed to the control of a limited liability company, with Arthur Walter, G. F. Buckle and Moberly Bell as the chief engineers and directors. It was reported at that time that Sir Arthur Pearson also was desirous of purchasing The Times which, through internal differences among the members of the management, passed on June 27, 1908, to the control of Lord Northcliffe.

Mr. Hooper desired to organize a large corporation for control of The Times and the Encyclopedia and offer securities to the public. Mr. Jackson objected to this proposal as hazardous and likely to result in a large loss. He then proposed that $1,500,000 be raised on their joint assets for bringing out the eleventh edition of the Encyclopedia, with advertising in all parts of the world. Mr. Jackson demurred to this also.

Further differences on management of the business resulted in long litigation, which was won by Mr. Hooper in 1912 the Supreme Court here decided that Mr. Hooper did not have to pay $6,000,000 to Mr. Jackson as his share of the profits of the Encyclopedia enterprise, which Mr. Jackson said, Mr. Hooper had agreed to sell to him for $750,000. Thereafter Mr. Hooper remained in undisputed control of the companies.

Mr. Hooper was born in Worcester, Mass., on Dec. 3, 1859, a descendant of some of the earliest settlers in New England. He was educated in the Worcester Public Schools and Princeton Preparatory School. In 1883 he went into the book business at Denver, Colo., organizing the Western Book and Stationery Company. A few years later he organized a company in this state for the sale of the Century Dictionary

RABBI WISE ON A MISSION FAR AWAY

When the Aquitania sailed on Tuesday from New York she carried Rabbi Stephen S. Wise on a mission which will take him to Poland and also to Palestine. Dr. Wise was accompanied by his wife, his son, James Waterman Wise, of Harvard, and his daughter, Miss Justine Wise, of Bryn Mawr College. The chief work of Dr. Wise while in Europe will be to secure teachers for the faculty of the Jewish Institute of Religion, a school for the training of men for the liberal ministry, of which school he is the president. Dr. Wise will also represent the American Jewish Congress as chairman of its executive committee and will deliver addresses in London and in Paris and other continental cities. He will make a study of Jewish conditions in Poland and will then go to the Holy Lands, where his work will be on the establishing of a Jewish state in Palestine.

A. F. Bentley was declared elected to the provincial legislature from St. John county, on Wednesday afternoon by Sheriff Wilson. The official count was the same as previously published, the vote being: Bentley, 2,081; Barton, 1,780; majority for Bentley, 271.
