

HARD AND SOFT COALS. We guarantee REASONABLE PRICES, BEST QUALITY, PROMPT DELIVERY. R. P. & W. F. STARR, Limited. 49 BMYTHE ST. 14 CHARLOTTE ST. Telephone 9-115.

Wall Paper Bargains!

We have purchased from one of the largest manufacturers in Canada 5,000 rolls of Wall Paper worth from 5c. to 12c. per roll, and will place the entire lot on sale tomorrow at 5c. per roll. All 5c. Paper for 4c. Border 5c. yard. All 10c. Paper for 7c. Border 7c. yard. Paper your Bed Room, Dining Room, Kitchen, Hall or Parlor at 5c. per roll, while this lot lasts. Send us a postal or call and ask us to send you our sample Book. This bargain won't last long.

PEOPLE'S DEPARTMENT STORE, 142 Mill St

Horse Furnishings.

WHIPS 15c. upwards. HORSE BRUSHES 20c. upwards. DANDY 15c. upwards. CURRY COMBS 10c. upwards. HORSE CLIPPERS, $1.25 and upward. TOILET CLIPPERS, $1.25 and upward.

H. Horton & Son, Ltd., 9 and 11 Market Square.

A Little Better Than Any Other. Sold by all dealers in high grade CIGARS. Agents: Evangelino Cigar Store, Cor. Main St. and Paradise Row. Phone 377

SPORTING MATTERS MARYSVILLE DEFEATED BY THE MARATHONS IN A ROUGH GAME.

The Marathons defeated the Marysville Crescents in the Marathon rink last evening in a game the chief feature of which was rough house checking and absence of team work. As a result of the game the teams will play off for the championship of the N. B. A. H. League. During the second half several of the players on each team regarded the puck as of no account, their chief aim being to lay some person out. Luckily they were not able to accomplish their benevolent designs. During the evening there were six penalties handed out, the chief offender, Woodworth, managing to escape scot free.

MONCTON WON FROM CRESCENTS

HALIFAX, Mar. 15.—For the first time in the history of the Starr Cup games the challenging team won. The Moncton Victorias defeated the Crescents tonight 2 to 1. This was the first defeat the Crescents have met this year. The challengers won on their merits and although the Crescents strove hard they could not score one. It was worth against experience, and experience won. In speed and stick handling and shooting the Victoria forwards were the equal of the Crescents and in the knowledge of the game they were away ahead of their younger opponents.

MANAGER DONALD EXPLAINS WHY GAME WAS LATE.

Regarding the delay about the game Manager Donald of the Marathons called at the Sun office last night to explain this cause. He said that Manager Gray, Capt. Cain, Len Inch and Bunky Robinson, met him in the Victoria Hotel in the afternoon and agreed to accept 10 inches or Frank O'Neill as referee. He thought the matter was settled, but just before the time to play, Hovey refused to play unless Howard or Blizard were to officiate. The Marathons then agreed to play with six men, but Howard at that was found and officiated. The Marathons think they were treated shabbily by being thus held up after a referee was decided upon.

RACES AT CAMPBELLTON.

CAMPBELLTON, March 15.—Morris Wood tonight won the quarter mile and half mile, but fell in the mile and hurt his knee so that that event was not finished.

MARYSVILLE TIED WITH UNIVERSITY.

MARYSVILLE, N. B., March 15.—The Victoria hockey team of this place played an exciting and interesting game of hockey tonight with the U. N. B. team, resulting in a tie—two and two. The U. N. B. were the first to score, which play was soon followed by the Victorias scoring, which made it one each when the first half was over. In the second half the U. N. B. made another after about ten minutes' play, which was quickly tied by the Victorias. Both teams played hard after this to win, but could not score. They did not play over time. There was a large crowd present, who enjoyed the game.

ON THE SPEEDWAY.

Work will be started this morning plowing out the Millidgeville speedway for this afternoon's meet. About three inches of snow covers the tracks since the storm of Wednesday last, but the management will have this cleared so that the horses and their horses may have a perfect track in every particular, and one on which fast work may be expected. Sleights will leave corner Adelaide and Main streets for track in time for races, which will start at 2.30 p. m.

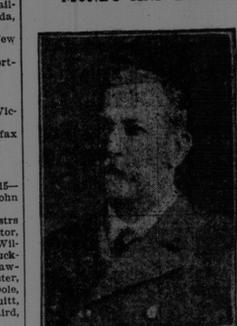

HOCKEY. A CHALLENGE.

The young Marathons challenge the C. P. R. messengers to a game of hockey in the Marathon rink on Tuesday evening next. The C. P. R. messengers will accept the challenge of the Young Marathons and will oblige the Marathons with a game on the Marathon Rink on the 19th inst, the game to be played between the hours of eight and nine.

SHIPPING.

Domestic Ports. HALIFAX, NS, March 15.—Arld, strs Montreal, from St John, NB, and sailed for London and Antwerp; Canada, from Liverpool. Cld.—Schr Robert Ewing, for New York. Sid, str Mongolian, Henry, for Portland, Me. British Ports. LIVERPOOL, March 15.—Sid, str Victorian for Halifax. LONDON, March 15.—Arld, strs Halifax City, from St John and Halifax. Foreign Ports. SAUNDERSTOWN, RI, March 15.—Sid, str Lucia Porter, from St John for New York. NEW YORK, March 15.—Arld, strs Victorian, from Liverpool; Navigator, from Halifax; brig Alcoa, from Wilmington, NC; strs Charles E. Buckley, from Charleston; Joseph W. Hawthorn, from Georgia; Charles C. Lister, from Beaufort, NC; Elizabeth T. Dole, from Brunswick, Ga.; W. M. Trull, from Port Royal, SC; Edward R. Baird, Jr., from Washington, DC. Cld, strs New York, for Southampton; North Star, for Portland; H. M. Whitney, for Boston; ship Alacritia, for —; str Theta, for Jacksonville. Sid, strs Judge Fenwick, Charleston; Henry Lipitt, for Jacksonville; Grace D. Buchanan, for do; Sunlight, for Norfolk; Wm H. Summer, for Savannah; Edward W. Murdoch, for Savannah; Methuesen, for Baracoa; Mary A. Hall, for Brunswick; Jennie N. Hubbard, for Virginia; Lawrence, for Tampa; Bianche H. King, for Charleston; Nimbus, for Wilmington, NC. HYANNIS, Mass., March 15.—Sid, strs Orestimo, for Calais; Madagascara, for do; Marcus Edwards, for Rockland. BOSTON, March 15.—Arld, strs Saxonia, from Liverpool; Pathfinder, from Guanaco, P. R.; str Lewis H. Goward, from Newport News. Cleared, strs Republic, for Mediterranean ports; Iberian, for Manchester; Menomine, for do; Boston, for Yarmouth, NS; strs Governor Powers, for Norfolk and Port Tampa. Sailed, str Prince George, for Yarmouth, NS; bark Snowdon, for Buenos Ayres; strs Charles R. Lawrence, for Eastern port; R. Carson, for St. Martins, NB; Grace Darling, for Wolfville, NS; Rowena, for St. John, NB; 15—Sid, strs Calais, for Calais; Josephine Elliott, for Brunswick, Ga.; Mount Hope, for Baltimore; Henry W. Camp, for do; Tifton, for Belfast; strs M. Young, for St. Andrews, N. B.; W. H. Waters, for do; Freddie W. Alton, for Eastport. NEW LONDON, Conn., March 15.—Sid, strs Kewadin, for Sackville; Frederick Rosner, bound east. PORTLAND, Me., March 15.—Arld, str Calvin Austin, from St John for Boston, and proceeded; North Star, from New York; str Albani, from Lunenburg, N. S. Cleared, strs Southwick, for Liverpool; Kildon, from London; str Addie M. Lawrence, for Philadelphia. Sailed, strs J. S. Winslow, for Georgetown, Dem.; Addie M. Lawrence, for Philadelphia; Annie F. Kimball, for Northport, L. I. PHILADELPHIA, March 15.—Cld, strs W. B. Palmer, for Portland; Alicia B. Crosby, for do. DELAWARE BREAKWATER, Del., March 15.—Sid, str Samuel S. Thorp, from Boston for Newport News. CITY ISLAND, March 15.—Bound south, strs D. Edmonds, from Stonington, Me.; General Adelbert Ames, from Greenwich, Conn; Aetna, from Greenwich, Conn; strs, from do. Following vessels, before reporting, strs Elma, from St. John; Emily F. Nathan, from do; Gardner, from New York; strs Stetson Springs, Me. Bound east, bark Glenville, from Ellanethport for Halifax, NS. QUEENSTOWN, March 15.—Arld, str Lucia, from New York for Liverpool, and proceeded. VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., March 15.—Arld, strs M. V. B. Chase, from Wilmington, NC, for Portland; Fred A. Emerson, from Edgartown for St. Mayflower, from Philadelphia for St. John. Sid, strs Marcus L. Urann, from Philadelphia for Boston; Alacritia, from Halifax, New York; Alacritia, from Liverpool, NS, for New Haven. CHATHAM, Mass., March 15.—Light southwest wind, strs Wellfleet, from Mobile for Boston; Samuel Dillaway, Off here this p. m. Five, one, four and one three-master passing north. SAGLEH, Mass., March 15.—Sid, str Helen G. King, for Stockton, Me.; J. V. Wellington, for Eastport, Me.; T. W. Cooper, for Rockport, Me.; Alma, for New York; Harry W. Lewis, for do; Samuel Hart, for do. BOTHBY HARBOR, Me., March 15.—Sid, strs M. V. B. Chase, for Washington; Alaska, for New York; Pardon G. Thomson, for do; Olyvia, bound west; Margaret, for do. FOREMOUTH, N.H., March 15.—Wind westerly, moderate. Arld, tug Lehigh, from South Amboy, towing two barges, for Baltimore. Passed Isle of Shoals, strs Grace Darling, from Boston for Wolfville, NS; W. H. Wevers, from do for St. Andrews, NB; Thomas B. Carland, from South Amboy for Somers Sound; Lois V. Charles, from Port Reading for Rockland; Silver Spray, from St. George, SI, for Eastport; Emily S. Baymore, from Edgewater for Portland; Francis Goodnow, from Plymouth for Long Cove.

THE PRINCE OF MONACO, WITH BOTH MONEY AND BRAINS

PARIS, March 15.—Latest photo of the ruler of the little principality of Monaco, who is better known as a scientist and lecturer than as a prince, and who spends most of his time in scientific researches. The Prince, it is said, will go to the West Indies this spring to study the depths of the sea in that part of the world.

KITTY GORDON SUES FOR VALUE OF A FUR COAT

A Tiresome Case Dragging Through the English Courts.

LONDON, March 15.—Before Mr. Justice Bray in the King's Bench Division, Captain, the Hon. Henry Beresford and his wife, Mrs. Constance Beresford, professionally known as "Kitty Gordon," have brought an action to recover from the Accident Insurance Company damages for the loss of a sable coat valued at $5,000 which had been insured with the defendants. The plaintiff was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000, about evenly divided between the furs and dresses on the one hand and the jewelry on the other. The insurance was duly effected and the trip to America took place. At the end of May, 1906, the Beresford residence in London was burgled and the sable in question was packed in a trunk in New York, but was missing when the luggage was opened in London during wear and tear. Mr. S. T. Evans, K. C., for the defendants, said their contention was that the fur was now second hand and worth only $1,000. The plaintiff, however, insisted that the fur was worth $5,000 when it was packed in the trunk and that the value of it was not what it was alleged to be. The case, according to the plaintiff, was specially made of selected skins by Jay's of Bond Street. At the end of 1905 Mrs. Beresford was going to America with her husband to an engagement in "Veronique" and an agreement was entered into for the insurance of their house and Mrs. Beresford's personal effects. The total value of the furs, dresses and jewels was $20,000,

THE STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B. SATURDAY.

STORE OPEN TONIGHT UNTIL 11 P. M.
UNION CLOTHING CO.
26 28 Charlotte Street, St. John, N. B.
Old Y. M. C. A. Building, ALEX. CORBET, Mgr.
IF I HAD ONLY KNOWN
So said a man Thursday who had bought a $15 suit at a certain clothing store on Tuesday, when he accompanied a friend here who bought even a better suit of us for only $12. It's the same old story, as old as time: "If I had only known." Of course, as this man said, he will know better next time. He will come here hereafter. How is it with you? Have you been here and saved $2 or $3 on a suit, or if not, will you not do so? Think it over. Look around if you please, for then you will certainly buy your new Spring Clothing here.
SWEETEST SUITS 'IN TOWN—Prices $5, $6, $7, $8, $9, to $22. The very latest cuts—new, nobby patterns. Latest Mohair linings, and all please at sight.
OLD GREAT TROUSER VALUE is still on. Have you seen them yet? Take a glance at our window display—a $3 TROUSER for $1.98 a pair.
SPECIAL BOYS' KNEE PANTS, ages 5 to 14 years, at 40c, 50c, 60c and 75c a pair.
OUR FURNISHINGS DEPARTMENT is overflowing with the latest novelties in Neckwear, Hosiery, Hats, Shirts, etc. etc.
OUR $1.35 BOBOM SHIRT at 95c. beats any in the city. See them.
IF I HAD ONLY KNOWN
UNION CLOTHING CO.

MARVELLOUS HUMAN FREAK DEAD IN PARIS

Simeon Alguler Had a Habit of Hanging Himself.

He Was Exhibited as the Living Skeleton and the Fat Man at the Same Time—Doctors Puzzled.

PARIS, March 16—One of the most original and eccentric characters known as "La Ponde" or the man who used to hang himself, has just died at Solles Pont near Toulon. His real name is Simeon Alguler and he was born at Solles Ville in 1861. Unlike Fregoli who imitates various personages by sudden changes of clothing he costumed in a way transform his body and possessed perhaps the most curious physical adaptabilities ever known. As a young man he surprised and puzzled the army doctors. As he presented himself for physical examination he appeared a thin spare-bodied man with a skeleton, and before the examination was over he stood in the presence of the army doctor with an enormously inflated abdomen as if he had the dropsy. While the physician was examining this abnormal development the abdomen suddenly retreated and the army doctor's tumor suddenly grew on the young man's throat as if he had an immense goitre. He had apparently transferred the swelling from the lower part of his body to his throat. When the examination was over, he stood there a skeleton-like young fellow with a head full of gifts in bodily transformation soon became known all over his native district and he was soon exhibited as the living skeleton at the fat man. For a long time he was known as the skeleton man, though he also exhibited himself as the fat man. His physical transformations did not stop here. He was able to imitate the process of drying and death to perfection. He was able to imitate the process of various medical faculties often wished to examine his strange methods, but he capably refused to divulge the secret of his transformations. When he imitated the state of a dead person he threw himself into a perfect coma. He had heart apparently ceased to beat, and the most expert physicians are said to have been unable to detect the slightest movement of his pulse. They went so far as to apply various instruments to detect life without success, and even though the stethoscope was brought into play not the slightest action of the heart could be perceived. The most expert doctors would have declared him dead, and yet in the next instant he would jump up and crack jokes and be as much alive as anyone. His latest trick, and the one which kept him in the limelight, was when he used to hang himself by the neck with a cord. There was no more make-believe about it. He would hang himself, or allow himself to be hanged from a nail in the ceiling in the presence of a large audience. His muscles would stiffen and the frightened public would see him go through every one of the phases of a man who was actually hung. This ghastly spectacle was first exhibited in a cabaret in Montmartre and despite its horrors or rather on account of them it had a great success. A story is told of how he once played a trick in a hotel where he was stopping. He hung himself from the ceiling, and when the waiter entered he was horrified by the sight and rushed down to inform the proprietor. Before they returned to the room the man who was supposed to have hanged himself had taken up his valise and met them quietly on the stairs. Although it might have been expected that some day he would hang himself in real earnest such a calamity never befell him. He died of a most commonplace illness, the grippe, at his home near Toulon where he had retired after earning a considerable fortune on the stage. He never divulged the truth of how he produced the extraordinary rigidity of the muscles of the neck when he used to perform his feats of hanging and carried the mystery with him to his grave. Doctors proposed to perform an autopsy upon his body when it had a great success. The secret if possible, but his family refused to permit it.

CHARGED AN OFFICIAL WITH STEALING JEWELS

BRUSSELS, March 16—The last has not been heard of the famous blue diamond mystery which created so much of a sensation last year. As will be remembered M. Greger, a Russian councillor of state, was accused by his hostess, Countess Rodolice du Porzio of purloining a gold ring, set with a blue diamond. The ring was subsequently found but the accusation against M. Greger was not withdrawn. Now M. le Calloch, a French lawyer residing at Brest is bringing an action against the Count and Countess du Porzio. He is said to be acting on behalf of M. Alexander Greger. The affair will not come up in the courts until after Easter. M. Greger who had decided to ask for one franc in damages will now claim damages to the amount of 1,601 francs so as to reserve to himself the possibility of taking the case before the courts on appeal at Rennes. Maitre Frederic Allain of Paris will present M. Greger's case and Maitre Labont will defend the Count and Countess du Porzio. The celebrated chateau of Ker Stears where the drama was enacted will be sold in the near future.

LOVELY WOMAN!

(Chicago Daily News)
"Harold," said the pretty girl after a long pause, "have you any idea as to the cause of the recent earthquakes?"
"Well," replied Harold, "if I thought a woman could understand the cause of you mean to insinuate, sir, that a woman's brain is inferior to the brain of mere man?"
"Oh, no, my dear. I was only wondering if you were familiar with the influence of Jupiter and—"
"Jupiter? How absurd! Why, Jupiter is a planet. We are talking about earthquakes."
"Just so, pet, but the conjunction of the moon and Jupiter was on Wednesday and Friday, 1.30 to 5.30 p. m. Enquire of S. M. WETMORE, Ferry building, Water St. 12-2-11.
TO LET—Large barn in rear 118 Waterloo street, formerly occupied by Bands Express. J. E. WILSON, 17 Sydney. 12-2-11.
TO LET—Flat of nine rooms, modern improvements. Inquire at 75 Hazen street. E. B. HOLMES. 12-2-11.
TO LET—May 1st, cottage, corner of Seelye and Spruce streets, near Horticultural Garden gate. New plumbing. Apply G. ERNEST FAIRWEATHER, 64 Germain street. 12-2-11.
TO LET—Two small self-contained houses, 391 Haymarket Square. 12-2-11.
Scrupulous care and cleanliness at Ungar's.

CLASSIFIED

ONE CENT PER WORD per issue is all it costs like those appearing below in the lively column. This ensures them being read in 6,500 St. John's little busybodies. SUN and STAR
6 insertions for the price of 10

TO LET.

TO LET—One flat of 4 rooms, situated at 49, corner Sydney and Sheffield streets. Rents reasonable. Enquire on premises. 12-2-11.
TO LET—Nice furnished double parlors. Apply Tuesdays and Fridays at 40 Mecklenburg street. 12-2-11.
TO LET—Store from May 1st, Store 609 Main street. Apply 143 Union. 12-2-11.
TO LET—Shop 63 Pitt street. Suitable for shoemaking or laundry. 12-2-11.
TO LET—Upper flat, off Douglas avenue. Apply 461 Main street. 12-2-11.
TO LET—Three rooms at 250 Waterloo street. Can be seen Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. 12-2-11.
TO LET—At 319 Princess street, lower flat containing 6 rooms. Can be seen Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 3 to 6. Apply on premises. JAMES J. POWER. 12-2-11.
TO LET—One flat with seven rooms, modern improvements. Apply to William Humphreys, 113 St. James street. 2-3-11.
STORE TO RENT—Now occupied by McLaren Belting Co., 18 Prince William street. For particulars apply to F. J. LYNCH, 141 Paradise Row. 12-2-11.
TO LET—On Dorchester street, self-contained house, 55 Dorchester street. Apply 113 Charlotte street. Can be seen Thursdays. 12-2-11.
SHOP TO LET—At 109 Main street. Enquire J. E. COWAN, 99 Main street. 12-2-11.
SHOP FOR SALE OR TO LET—Small fresh food property, 289 Prince William street. G. S. FISHER & CO. 12-2-11.
TO LET—Three flats and shop on the corner of St. James and Charlotte streets. This can be seen on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons. Apply to DANIEL MULLIN, Pugsley Building, 12-2-11.
TO LET—Self-contained flat, five rooms with bath, hot and cold water, gas and hot water heating. Can be seen Monday, Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. Apply at 99 Wright street. 12-2-11.
TO LET, at Croucheville, that pleasant and conveniently situated cottage with or without floors above and large basement. Apply to RICHARD G. MAGEE or F. W. BLISSARD. 12-2-11.
STORES TO LET—Large well lighted stores, 83 and 85 Germain street, suitable for her benefit the trade of the three continents. Europe, indeed, seemed to him to be destined to become the tributaries of the English. Baron Mohrenheim towards the end of his embassy.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

FOR SALE—Farm, 45 acres, Gondo Point Road, near Armstrong's side and boat. Fine house, furnace heater in kitchen. R. G. MURRAY, Canterbury street. 12-2-11.
FOR SALE—A Turkish Sofa, rose wood finish, will sell half price. Address A. care Star office. 12-2-11.
FOR SALE—Horse, double seat carriage and harness. Apply Star office for information. 12-2-11.
WANTED—Old mahogany furniture will give highest cash prices. W. A. KAIN, 116 Germain street. 12-2-11.
FOR SALE—A great variety of cheap wall paper at McGRATH'S Toy and Furniture Store, Near Wilson's Foundry, Brussels street. Iron bedsteads. 12-2-11.
WANTED—Parties having old mahogany furniture to sell. Address FURNITURE, care of the Star office. 12-2-11.
FOR SALE—At Davall's Umbrella Shop, self-opening Umbrellas, 80c up ordinary, 90c up L. S. Cane. We use no other in our chair-seating. Perfectly made, of Chatham, Ont. Dark Umbrella recovering and repairing. Waterloo street. 6-12-11.
FOR SALE—About twenty new second-hand delivery Wagons, coaches, and 4 horse carriages, different styles, ready for use, glass front coach, new trimmings, well painted. First class coach very cheap; also three outboard canoes; best place in the city for painting and greatest facility for carriage repairing. A. G. EDDIE COMBE, 115 and 119 City Road. 12-2-11.
GASOLINE ENGINES—The Toronto Gas & Gasoline Engine Company, having consolidated with The Dolans Iron Works, of Chatham, Ont., maker of the Defence Marine Engines, and now known under the new name of The Canadian Gas Powers & Launches Ltd., are in a position to fill orders for stationary, portable and marine engines. Stationary engines for dough mixers, cement mixers, grain grinding, threshing and other uses. Parties wishing to purchase a Marine Engine will please call and inspect our Solid Brass Engines, especially adapted for salt water, at 57 Water street, St. John, N. B.—CANADIAN GAS POWERS & LAUNCHES, LIMITED.

ROOMS AND BOARDING.

FURNISHED ROOMS TO LET, 45 Horfield street. 12-2-11.
BOARDING—Room with board at 99 Elliott Row. 12-2-11.
BOARDING AND ROOMS—MRS. SHANKS, 156 King St. 12-2-11.
TO LET—Furnished rooms at Tremont, suitable for light housekeeping, at very moderate rates. 22-2-11.
BOARDING—GUILD HOUSE. First class board can be obtained by day or week. Apply at 19 and 13 Charles street. 12-2-11.
BOYS WANTED—Who have the desire to learn the dry goods business. To come at once. F. W. DANIEL CO., Charlotte St. 12-2-11.
WANTED—Young man to clerk in hardware and stove store. A year or two of experience preferred. Good position for right man. Apply in own handwriting stating age. Address STOVES, care Star Office. 12-2-11.
WANTED—Bell boy at CLIFTON HOUSE. 12-2-11.
WANTED—Paint makers, steady employment, highest wages. First-class hands. C. B. PIDGEON, corner Main and Bridge streets. 12-2-11.
WANTED—Young man having two or three years' experience at type setting. Apply SUN PRINTING CO., LTD. 12-2-11.
WANTED—A man with good business experience, wants a partnership in an established manufacturing or wholesale business. Can furnish capital. Apply to "PARTNER," P. O. Box 17, Saint John, N. B. 12-2-11.

MEN AND BOYS WANTED.

WANTED—At the Royal Hotel, a clean girl. Also bell boy. 11-3-6
WANTED—Maid for general household work, in family of three. Must understand plain cooking. References required. Apply 104 Carmarthen street. 2-2-11
GENERAL GIRLS, Cooks and Housemaids can always get best places and highest pay. Apply MISS HANSON'S Employment Office, 193 Charlotte street.
WANTED—AT HOTEL EDWARD, Dining Room Help at once. 22-2-11

PORTRAIT SUPPOSED TO BE THAT OF WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE

LONDON, March 16.—This painting supposed to be a portrait of William Shakespeare, has recently been discovered at Bridgewater Arms, Winton, and if the supposition is right, it will be the earliest portrait of the great dramatist, representing him at the age of twenty-four.

Going Out Of Business!

ENTIRE STOCK OF
Furniture, Carpets and Oilcloths.
At Less Than Manufacturer's Prices.
If you have the smallest Furniture need to fill, come to our Store, for the money savings are most remarkable.
Come Here and Profit by them.

George E. Smith, 18 King St.
Furniture, Carpets and Oilcloths.

They're All Here.
As there is no standard shape of face and figure, so no shape of hat will fit all men. That is only one reason why we have in stock HATS of all different shapes, styles, grades and prices.

.B. Bardsley, THE HATTER, 179 Union St
ISH FOR LENT Haddock, Halibut, Salmon, Mackerel, Smelt, Herring, Cod, Goshawk, Flounders, Gasparreux, Lobsters and Clams. Smoked and Salt Fish of all kinds. Wm. THE OLEBAN STORE
SMITH'S FISH MARKET
PHONE 1704. 25 SYDNEY ST

CONDENSED ADVERTISEMENTS IN GENERAL.

HAVE YOUR PAPERING, PAINTING AND WHITENING done early, and looking orders for spring work ready. Very moderate prices. F. EDDLESTON, 53 Sydney street, care, 10 Market Square, Telephone 11.
FURNITURE REPAIRED AND MADE TO LOOK LIKE NEW at McGRATH'S Toy and Furniture store, 116 Brussels street, near Wilson's Foundry. Prices right. Articles sent for and delivered. We also buy your household goods. 12-2-11.
W. M. L. WILLIAMS, SUCCESSOR M. A. Finn, Wholesale and Retail Fine and Spirit Merchant, 110 and 112 RINCE W.M. ST. Established 1878. Write for family price list.
GEO. ATKINS, Piano and Organ tuner, 126 Germain street. Special attention paid to restoring Pianos and Organs to their original tone.
MURRAY & GREGORY, LTD., St. John, N. B., manufacturers of everything in wood that enters into the construction of a house. Out the trees in the forest and deliver the finished product to the consumer. 8-2-3m
JAMES G. MCGIVERN, Agent, No. 5 Mill street, sells coal, good coal, hard and soft, and delivers promptly. Tel. 48.
ST. JOHN FUEL CO. can give you cheaper dry wood than any other fuel company in St. John. We also keep in stock the celebrated Springhill Coal, especially adapted for cooking stoves, and also both Scotch and American Coal. Prompt delivery with our own teams. Telephone 1204. 8 July-1 yr.
WILLIAM H. PATERSON, Graduate Doctor of Optics, 16 Brussels street. Glasses perfectly right, two years ago, may be far from right now. We will examine your eyes FREE and only recommend a change if absolutely "needed." 2-2-11 yr.
A. FITZGERALD, 25 Dock street, Boots, Shoes and Rubbers repaired. Also a full line of Men's Boots and Shoes at reasonable prices. Rubber heels attached, 35c.
F. C. Wesley Co., Artists, Engravers and Electrotypers, 59 Water street, St. John, N. B. Telephone 982.
E. L. LAW, Watchmaker, 3 Colburn St.

REAL ESTATE.

TENEMENT HOUSES for sale and to let. Apply J. W. MORRISON, Ritchie Bldg., 59 Princess street. Ring 1643.

SITUATIONS WANTED

STENOGRAPHER AND TYPEWRITER, with six years' experience, wants trustworthy position. Apply "TYPIST," care Star Office.

ARTICLES LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—Portion of gold locket with photo on one side. Finder will be rewarded on leaving at Star office. 12-2-11

FAMOUS ACTRESS TRIED TO COMMIT SUICIDE

Took a Dose of Laudanum and Then Jumped into the River.

PARIS, March 16.—Mlle. Martine Bellanger, the famous actress of the Odon Theatre who jumped into the Seine a few days ago after drinking laudanum is not pronounced to be out of danger. Mme. Bellanger and her two elder daughters had always believed earnestly in the genius of young Martine, and from her childhood the three devoted women sacrificed themselves to provide her with the education and training necessary for the career of an actress. The elder girls became dress-makers and the mother helped them in their work. Mlle. has a very highly strung temperament and the mother's sudden death after her long self sacrifice preyed on her mind.

WHY HE QUIT.

"For the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty." "I figured out years ago," said a prosperous farmer, "that with very moderate drinking I'd drink an acre of good land every year. So I quit."

Wanted at Once

1,000 Laborers for Railroad Construction. Must pay transportation to Winnipeg. 1 First Class Painter. 1 Hotel Waitress. Apply to D. J. McRAE, Globe Building, St. John, N. B.

HOLDING HIM OFF.

"The head of the firm," said the superintendent, "insists upon our employing his son in this department, and it's as much as we can do to keep him idle."
"Hill! You mean busy, don't you?"
"No, I don't. If we kept him busy it would keep three or four other men busy correcting his mistakes."

RELATED TESTIMONIALS.

If the testimonials of love and faith on our tombstones were uttered in our daily life, how often would they have helped us over the briery fields and rocky roads of existence.

JOHN N. B. SATURDAY, MARCH 16, 1907.

FOUR

Just Received!

ROUNTREE'S PASTILLES, MENTHOL and ENCALYPTUS, HARD AND SOFT.

ROYAL PHARMACY, King Street.

A. E. HAMILTON, Contractor and Builder.

Jobbing of all descriptions promptly attended to. Shop 180 to 188 Brussels St. Phone 1023.

Buy Your Coal From The GARSON COAL CO. Best quality, good weight, and satisfactory delivery, lowest prices.

WOOD—When you are thinking of Wood—Hard, Soft or Kindling—call up 468.

City Fuel Co., City Road.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any seven hundred section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 28, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally, at the local land office for the district in which the land is situated.

The homesteader is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans: (1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of the homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

W. W. CORY, Deputy of the Minister of the Interior, N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

NEWFOUNDLAND IS ABLE TO SHOW A SURPLUS

Trade Has Doubled in the Past Seven Years—Bank Tax Proposed.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., March 15.—In presenting the budget to the assembly today, the finance minister of the colony quoted exhaustive statistics showing the colony's financial stability, and he pointed out that the aggregate trade had nearly doubled in seven years.

The budget shows the revenue for the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1906, to have been $2,660,000, and the total expenditure $2,580,000. Of the surplus amounting to $80,000, the minister devoted $10,000 to augment the colony's reserve fund which now amounts to $450,000, another $10,000 appropriated for harbor lights, and $50,000 for roads and marine works.

For the year ending with June 1907, the minister's estimate is for a revenue of $2,685,000 with a surplus of $30,000, and for the year ending with June, 1908, a revenue of $2,715,000, with a surplus similar to that of 1907.

The finance minister proposes to tax the Bank of Montreal $5,000; the Bank of Nova Scotia $3,000, and the Royal Bank of Canada $2,000. The changes proposed in existing import duties are trifling.

LIFE PENSION GRANTED FOR MOSQUITO BITE

Court Awards Workman Who Lost Arm Forty-Five Per Cent of Wages.

BERLIN, March 16.—A curious case has been decided in Augsburg in connection with the German employers' liability laws. A workman named Glaser, employed in a color and varnish works, was bitten on the arm by a mosquito. The bite festered, blood-poisoning set in and the arm had to be amputated.

He brought his case before a mixed council of employers and workmen's representatives, which decided against him, on the ground that this was an accident to which any one might have been liable, and was in no way connected with Glaser's work. Glaser appealed to the arbitrators, which the law provides, and the case was finally decided in his favor. He will be paid for the rest of his life an annuity amounting to 45 per cent of his wages.

The arbitrators decided that mosquitoes in point and varnish works in all probability were more poisonous than other mosquitoes, and that the ordinary rule applying to mosquito bites did not apply in Glaser's case.

Continuous advertising stands for continuous prosperity.—Nath'l. C. Fowler, Jr., Boston.

THE ST. JOHN STAR is published THE SUN PRINTING COMPANY (LTD.) at St. John, New Brunswick every afternoon (except Sunday) $3.00 a year.

TELEPHONES:—BUSINESS OFFICE, 3 EDITORIAL and NEWS DEPT., 1

ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., MARCH 16, 1907

THE BRITISH ARMY.

In a recent issue of the Militar, German military paper, Lieut. General Von Janson is the author of an interesting criticism of War Minister Haldane's army scheme. On the whole, his remarks are favorable, but he admits that at the present time any detailed criticism would be out of place because national conditions in Britain will undoubtedly affect to a great extent practical development of Mr. Haldane's scheme for the re-organization of volunteers and militia. He discusses generally the position of the British army which he explains is unique in two respects. It still retains the recruiting system, which the majority of other European countries gave up many years ago, and it also carries on a scheme of organization with the utmost publicity. This latter he feels is but an instance of the English quality of self-confidence which in the long run enables it to exercise a certain moral influence abroad. The colonial empire of Great Britain, Gen. Von Janson says, not only justifies but requires an organization different from the ordinary army corps arranged by Mr. Haldane. It is justified in a regular army consisting of six or seven divisions. Such intermediate commands would not be maintained even on the continent in the case of a similar number of troops and their removal makes for simplicity and for clarity of command. The general thinks that the numerical strength of the British army destined for foreign service shows that it is intended for war on the continent of Europe just as much as for service in other parts of the globe. The army itself is of course much too small to carry on a continental campaign even with the aid of the great navy of Britain, but will always be able to find an ally on the continent no matter what the quarrel may be. It is worth of note that Gen. Von Janson, like most German writers, pays but little attention to the so-called neutrality of nations, but speaks throughout his criticism of benevolent neutrals.

NO ONE WANTS IT.

The Star has spoken with many citizens in regard to the proposed change in the electoral system. These have included some who in their turn have discussed the question with others. All have met the same expressions of opinion. Not one man has yet been found who does not stoutly oppose the increase in the number of aldermen; a few have been discovered who are in favor of the ward system pure and simple, and of these practically all—the exceptions being very rare—feel that a plebiscite should be taken, as was done when the present system was adopted. In some cases the expressions heard have been more forcible than polite, and in no way could they be regarded as complimentary to the proposal to go before the legislature. It will be noticed that all those who were in any way connected with the compromise measure recently approved are disclaiming the responsibility; they do not care to be under when public sentiment in St. John knocks the bottom out of the scheme. The members of the legislative committee insist that several of the aldermen urged the change; the aldermen deny this and state that the proposal came from the committee. When these declarations are made it is difficult to understand who advocated the measure, and since no one seems to be in favor of it, why should it be forced on the city? The idea of increasing the aldermanic board to nineteen is ridiculous. Much more to the point is the plan endorsed by members of the Royal Arcanum, and the Star ventures to assert that if, instead of the present proposal, a plebiscite were taken on the question of conducting civic business by commission there would be an overwhelming majority in favor of such a plan.

Public meetings will in all likelihood be arranged for the first few days of next week when this matter may be discussed, and the legislature will no doubt be influenced by the opinions of such meetings.

PASSENGER EXPRESS RAN INTO AN OPEN SWITCH

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 15.—An east-bound Rock Island passenger train, the Hot Springs and Memphis flyer, ran into an open switch at Cummins, Ark., today. Engineer Killcoyne and Fireman Furrier were killed and two mail clerks, an express messenger, the porter and four negro waiters were injured. At the Rock Island general offices it was said that an investigation disclosed that the wreck was the work of a train wrecker. None of the passengers were injured.

SATURDAY SERMONETTE

Robert Lewis Stephenson says of one of his characters, "She was devoted to her husband for her own sake, not his." "She was imperturbably good-natured but had no idea of self-sacrifice." Thus, with two strokes of the sketcher's pen we see the picture of the woman we have all met, sometimes she is a young woman who married her old husband because she loved his money, and when she sews a his buttons, brushes his clothes, oils after his comfort and sends him on the street as well groomed as though a faithful valet had done it, she does it all because of her devotion to her husband, and she expects large dividends in her outlay and even the kiss she gives him at the door is down in the bill, and she hopes whether she will or not that she will get more than her hire.

It is not bad business to be "dedicated" to a husband, pays to give up in little things, for you can get on after a while.

It is not only a simple, selfish, little man who gives a little lip service to you, for something she values, there are men—many of them—of the same. Some business men it. All politicians do it. "Your obedient servant, gentlemen," want your votes not for my sake, gentlemen, but for yours, "It is because I love my country I offer to represent it." "It is in a great sacrifice I give my business at this time, gentlemen." And so a little flattery, and as are bought as surely as though they were paid for them.

Uninterestedness and self-sacrifice are as rare as any other jewels. When you find a man or woman who gives you as your mother did just for your simple self, thank God for your friend.

Thaddeus

It's YOUR LIVER. If your tongue is coated and your complexion is muddy or sallow, your liver is out of order. Headache, indigestion, and all the troubles which result unless you help the liver. You can help it quickest and most thoroughly by using Brown's Cascara Tablets.

25c. a Box. SOLD ONLY BY

CLINTON BROWN, DRUGGIST, Cor. Union and Waterloo Sts.

Dr. C. Sydney Emerson, DENTIST, 24 Wellington Row.

Office hours from 9 a. m. to 12 m. and from 2 p. m. to 6 p. m. Phone 128.

YOUR COOK WANTS

1st Tiger Tea.

2nd 5 lb Bag Gritz.

3rd Golden Eagle Flour.

DEATHS.

BROWN—In this city at his late residence 45 Rock Street, Thomas Brown, aged 64 years, leaving a wife, two sons, George W., Clinton T., and one daughter, Eva M., to mourn their sad loss.

FUNERAL at two o'clock Sunday afternoon.

STOCKTON—At Ottawa on March 15th, Alfred Augustus Stockton, in the 68th year of his age.

RAFFERTY—In the city in the 14th ward, James Rafferty, in the 10th year of his age, leaving a wife, two sons, and one daughter to mourn their loss.

FUNERAL from his late residence 228 Waterloo street, Sunday at 2:30 p.m. Friends invited to attend.

STEWART—On the 14th instant, in the sixty-second year of his age, John Stewart, at his home, 29 rear Leinster street.

FUNERAL from his late residence at 2:30 p. m., Sunday, the 17th instant. Friends and relatives requested to attend. (Boston papers please copy).

HUGGARD—Suddenly at his home at Norton, March 15th, Joseph A. Huggard, in his 70th year.

FUNERAL from his late residence at 10 o'clock.

CUDLIP—Suddenly, at Forty Mile Creek, Yukon Territory, on March 15, Albert J. Cudlip, brother of J. B. Cudlip, manager York and Cornwall Cotton Mills.

ROME, March 16.—A recent photo of "the most beautiful princess of Europe," little Princess Yolanda, daughter of the King of Italy.

AS SHE IS WROTE. (Hartland Chat.)

There are several MSS which came to this office for publication but had no name signed to them. Few we are glad to publish any article sent in by the people on the different questions of the day, but the writer's name must accompany each article, not necessarily for publication but to show the good faith of the writer. We cannot publish items that we don't know who the writer is. Bear this in mind.

On account of the lack of cars all along the line are stacks of hay waiting shipment, and even if there were plenty of cars the engines are so antiquated that six loaded cars and a caboose is about all that there is any surety of reaching their destination without delay.

Our schoo has been shut down for the winter but we that it is soon going to start again.

TEMPERANCE MEETING. There will be two temperance meetings in the hall of the Every Day Club tomorrow. William Patterson, of Fairfield, St. John County, will address a meeting at four o'clock in the afternoon, and Turner Howard will speak at the evening meeting at 8:30 o'clock. There will be music at both services, and ladies as well as gentlemen are welcomed.

THOMAS BROWN. Thomas Brown died yesterday at his home Rock street, after a lengthy illness of asthma. He was 61 years of age and is survived by his wife, two daughters and one son.

Exclusive Jewelry, Etc.

In new goods, and an endless variety from which to choose

Remembrances.

FERGUSON & PAGE, Diamond Dealers & Jewelers, 41 King Street.

Estimates Furnished and Contracts Undertaken

All Kinds of Electrical Work

Best material and superior workmanship.

The VAUGHAN ELECTRIC CO., LTD. Phone 819 94 Germain Street.

REMOVAL

I shall remove on or about the 15th of March to 73 and 77 Sydney St.

Chas. A. Clark, Grocer, Market Building.

WE have now arranged to handle more

PLUM BROWN BREAD on Saturdays. Try a loaf this week. You will have no other.

Ask your grocer for it, if he's wide awake he has it.

McKIBBEN'S BAKERY 194 Metcalf Street, Branch 66 Wall Street. Also at 585 Main St. Phone 1825.

BIG SALE IN JEWELRY STORE!

Moving Day is quickly coming, and in a short time I will remove from Main St. to my big new store on Mill St., next to Rankin's Bakery.

Bargain Watches Bargain Jewelry Bargain Silverware Bargain Clocks Bargain Novelties

A. POYAS, 545 MAIN ST., Near Fort Howe.

SHE IS KNOWN AS THE MOST BEAUTIFUL PRINCESS IN EUROPE

ROME, March 16.—A recent photo of "the most beautiful princess of Europe," little Princess Yolanda, daughter of the King of Italy.

AS SHE IS WROTE. (Hartland Chat.)

There are several MSS which came to this office for publication but had no name signed to them. Few we are glad to publish any article sent in by the people on the different questions of the day, but the writer's name must accompany each article, not necessarily for publication but to show the good faith of the writer. We cannot publish items that we don't know who the writer is. Bear this in mind.

On account of the lack of cars all along the line are stacks of hay waiting shipment, and even if there were plenty of cars the engines are so antiquated that six loaded cars and a caboose is about all that there is any surety of reaching their destination without delay.

Our schoo has been shut down for the winter but we that it is soon going to start again.

TEMPERANCE MEETING. There will be two temperance meetings in the hall of the Every Day Club tomorrow. William Patterson, of Fairfield, St. John County, will address a meeting at four o'clock in the afternoon, and Turner Howard will speak at the evening meeting at 8:30 o'clock. There will be music at both services, and ladies as well as gentlemen are welcomed.

THOMAS BROWN. Thomas Brown died yesterday at his home Rock street, after a lengthy illness of asthma. He was 61 years of age and is survived by his wife, two daughters and one son.

Shoe Factory Outlets Under Market Prices.

Sacrifice Sale of Shoes!

Without peer or precedent this Sale stands out as the greatest value-giving event ever presented to your attention.

$5.00 Men's Genuine Patent Colt Goodyear Welt, made by Hart Boot & Shoe Co., Frederickton, N. B., and one of the best shoes on the market, width C to E, at the astonishingly low price of $3.00.

D. MONAHAN, 32 Charlotte Street.

BIGGER BARGAINS Than Ever at Our

Going Out of Business Sale!

Tomorrow (Saturday) we will offer the balance of our Boys' and Girls' Footwear at unheard of low prices. We wish to clear the balance of our stock by April 1st, and to do this the prices have been cut deeper than ever, so those who buy now can secure some of the best goods at prices that will make them glad.

SANBORN'S SHOE STORE, 339 Main St.

Nestor's God Liver Oil Compound.

An invaluable preparation in all wasting diseases, positively cures obstinate coughs. The best tonic. $1.00 a Bottle.

W. J. McMILLIN, 625 Main Street, Phone 980.

Good for Sunday Meals.

ROBINSON'S very good Brown Bread, Jelly Rolls, Loaf Cakes, Rich Cake, Washington Pies, Cakes by the dozen, Pies and Tarts.

Saturday Specials. All Taffees 10c per lb., at 173 Union St. Cream Mixture, with Chocolates, 10c per lb., at 423 Main St.

Ask your grocer for ROBINSON'S, or at 173 Union St., Phone 1161; 423 Main St., Phone 550-41.

Easter Sunday, 31st March

SPRING CLOTHING, READY-TO-WEAR....

SPRING SUITS More attractive patterns than those in our array of SPRING SUITS have never been shown here. Better fitting and more stylish suits would be difficult to produce, and the linings and tailoring are on a par with the finest custom clothing. The prices start at $10 but we direct particular attention to $12, $15 and $18 suits and you will find fine selections of these qualities. "The finest" at $20, $23 and $25.

RAINCOATS—His most luxurious, beautiful Spring Coat, indispensable for all kinds of spring weather. The materials are treated by a chemical process which renders them waterproof. Beautiful Scotch effects, handsome greys, and mixtures, in graceful and comfortable garments full of style and common sense. $8.50 to $25.

WASH VESTS—A fast-growing department—nearly doubled our sales last year. We want to double them again this year, and the way we propose to do it is to show you a big variety and prices regulated by "small profits and quick sales." Keep your eye on our window, or better still, drop in and look over in our vest showcase—scores of patterns to be viewed in a few minutes. Think of the prices! $1.00 and up. Many men buy several at a time.

TROUSERS—Perhaps the ones you have are beginning to look a little worse for wear. We are prepared for emergencies of this kind by having a well selected stock full of stylish patterns. At $3.50 to $5.00, a most desirable selection well cut, well tailored, with trimmings as good as fine custom made. Other qualities as low as $2.50 and as good as $5.50. We finish them to your measure.

MAKE YOUR EASTER SELECTIONS EARLY.

A. GILMOUR, - 68 King St. Fine Tailoring and Clothing.

Good Rubbers Cheap!

New Goods, fresh from the factory. Now to be seen in my windows.

Men's Rubbers, sizes 6 to 10, - 75c. Pair

Boys' Rubbers, sizes 1 to 5, - 65c. Pair

Youths' Rubbers, sizes 10 to 13, - 50c. Pair

Ladies' Rubbers, sizes 2 1/2 to 7, - 50c. Pair

Misses' Rubbers, sizes 11 to 2, - 40c. Pair

Child's Rubbers, sizes 4 to 10 1/2, - 35c. Pair

PERCY J. STEEL, 519-521 Main Street. SUCCESSOR TO WM. YOUNG.

SATURDAY

The Star

SUPPLEMENT.

ST. JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY MARCH 16, 1904

POLISH MINERS FLOCKING TO SCOTTISH COLLIERIES

Scotchmen Find it Hard to Obtain Employment Near Their Own Homes—The Underground Telegraph Service—Scottish Universities.

GLASGOW, March 16.—One of the most menacing forms of alien immigration is little known outside Lanarkshire and Ayrshire. The invasion of the coal mines by Lithuanian and Polish colliers—they are known indiscriminately as John Pole, in Scotland—began about ten years ago, and is growing every month, and although the native miner may seek for work for weeks it is stated that John Pole is sure of a job within twelve hours of his disembarkation. His methods are simple. He arrives at Leith with a luggage label tied round his wrist bearing some such address as "Pasquale Demotritus, 636, Edlewood-rows, Hamilton." An idle dockyard labourer sees him into a Hamilton train for the price of a drink, and at his journey's end a policeman sees that he reaches his destination. Demotritus presents him next day to the over man at whose feet the pair grovel, and whose grimy hand they kiss when the newcomer is given a start. He next comes under the notice of the checkweighman who rechristens him, and for the remainder of his stay in

FIRST OFFICIAL PHOTO OF THE NEW SHAH OF PERSIA

LONDON, March 16.—This is the first official photo of the new Shah of Persia, who was crowned on January 19 last. He is here shown wearing full coronation dress, the value of which is estimated at $2,000,000. It is more than likely that Mohamed Ali will come to America next year to pay his respects to President Roosevelt.

Scotland he becomes Paddy Cassidy or something easier to remember and pronounce than his own name of Anthony Bultrivitus. Flights of fancy on the part of the checkweighman are responsible for the appearance on the pay sheets of Lithuanians bearing such names as Robert Bruce, William Wallace, Robert Emmet, Napoleon Bonaparte and even Julius Caesar. The army of 7,000 Lithuanian miners who has settled in the western coalfield—for some unknown reason Fifeshire is comparatively immune—has its Lithuanian stores, its Lithuanian bakeries and even its native weekly Lithuanian newspaper. John Pole invariably joins the miners' union, but it is seldom that he receives the standard wage. In many places the representative of the union is at the mercy of the interpreters when he tries to find out the amount of wages paid. The Lithuanians are docile, however. The miners' leaders tried to bring them out at one colliery which was worked almost entirely by them, because it was ascertained that they were grossly underpaid. John Pole refused to come out, and moreover, when a strike arises he is always ready to "black-leg." The alien miner is a source of much trouble to the police. He solves every possible excuse for an orgy, and is so regular in his patronage of the police and sheriff courts that it is necessary to retain interpreters at handsome fees. Frequently on Monday morning more aliens are charged than English, Scottish, Irish and Welsh miners together. So long as John Pole is faithful to his favorite lager beer he is fairly amenable, but when he has reached a certain point in a carouse he turns to the "Hoffman drop"—a concoction of ether and rank Scotch whisky—and this

COUNTING THE VOTES AFTER THE ELECTION OF THE NEW RUSSIAN PARLIAMENT

ST. PETERSBURG, March 16.—Photo shows the counting of the votes for the Duma, which met Tuesday, March 15.

COMPETITION BETWEEN AUSTRALIA AND CANADA FOR BRITISH IMMIGRANTS

LONDON, March 16.—The great Technological College in London, on the lines of the famous German institution at Charlottenburg, which Lord Rosebery so strongly advocated in 1893, is at length to come within practical limits. Mr. McKenna, the new president of the Board of Education is framing a bill dealing with the scope of college so far as London University is concerned. The government is to give the land at South Kensington and will make suitable grants of money. The institution will have the active co-operation of the great business firms and technical industries throughout the empire. Lord Rosebery in his letter to the costly council asked that body to provide the annual maintenance of $100,000. The cost of the erection and equipment was put at about $1,000,000. The late Mr. Alfred Beit subsequently bequeathed towards the scheme $1,200,000. Sir Ernest Cassel and Lord Strathcona were among those who were prepared to give financial aid. "It was little short of a scandal," said Lord Rosebery, "that our young men eager to equip themselves with the most perfect technical training should be compelled to resort to the universities of Germany or of the United States." According to the bill which is being framed the senate of the London University will have merely general powers of control. The governing body will consist of forty members appointed as follows: Six by the crown; four by the Board of Education; five each by the University of London, the London County Council and the council of the city and guilds of London Institute; four by the teaching staff of the new institution; two by the Exhibition Association; one each by the Royal Society, the Institution of Civil Engineers, the Institution of Mechanical Engineers, the Institution of Electrical Engineers, the Iron and Steel Institute, the Institution of Naval Architects, the Society of Chemical Industry, the Federated Institution of Mining Engineers and the Institution of Mining Metallurgy. The college building will be erected on three sites in South Kensington. One belongs to the government and is at present used by the Solar Physics Observatory (which is to have a new home) and the other two belong to the Exhibition Commissioners. A keen struggle is going on between Canada and Australia for the British emigrants who leave those shores every year. Both colonies proclaim their need of men, and their agents are equally alert in endeavoring to paint the prospects of their respective lands in the most favorable light. Mr. Walker, chief of the Canadian Emigration Office is authority for the statement that the construction of the new Grand Trunk Railway which is to stretch across the continent, and will be 4,000 miles in length will take at least seven years to complete. "Sixty thousand men will be wanted as soon as they can be had," he said. "But they must be resolute workers. An idle man who falls here will fall in Canada if he is idle." work were removed from the curriculum leading to graduation. Although the student has still to pass an additional test before he can enter and be allowed to reckon attendance at other essential classes, he might for example, be qualified and not allowed to take mathematics, but not Latin. This means that the student is in only part of university standing; his preliminary education is not yet completed. That this is a real weakness is said to be shown by the fact that during the current winter season out of 600 beneficiaries that had nominally passed the whole preliminary examination in Arts actually 145 have not completed it. The Carnegie Trustees have dealt with the situation by passing resolutions which will come into operation next winter.

A MUTINY OF MODERN DAYS WHICH READS LIKE ROMANCE

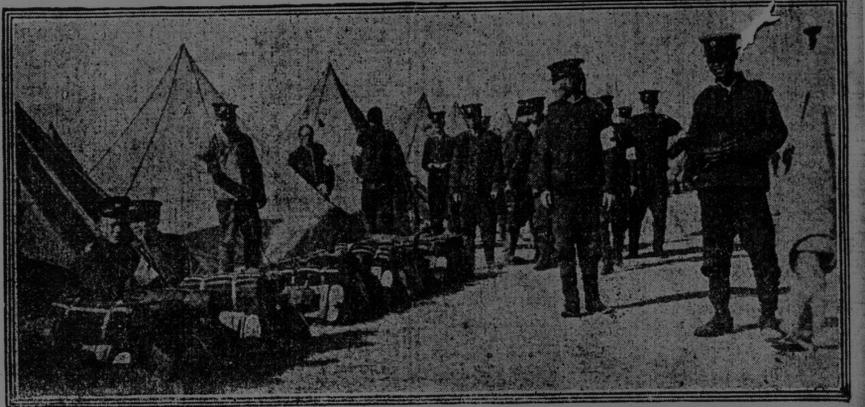

Australian Provincial Officials Want to go to the Colonist Conference—Repatriation of the Kanakas Who Went to the Fiji Islands.

SYDNEY, March 16.—Australians are discussing with a great deal of energy the right of the various states to be represented at the Conference of Colonial Premiers to be held in London in April. Lord Elgin has despatched an invitation to the prime minister of the Commonwealth only and the officials of the different states feel that they have a very real grievance. One paper bluntly says that the states cannot both have their cake and eat it too, and having voluntarily merged themselves in the Commonwealth can no longer be expected to secure the treatment of independent colonies. Some of the Kanakas who have been deported from Australia have been induced to go to Fiji to work in the sugar plantations there instead of returning home to their islands in the South Seas. The great majority, however, have been taken back to the New Hebrides and landed at the places from which they were recruited. The work of repatriation has not been without incident for there was more than a chance that if the returned Kanakas were not landed amongst friends they would be killed. One of the repatriation steamers, the Leueneua, landed an elderly man and his wife and two children at Quarrie, Malaita, a place which has a particularly evil name among recruiters. These children, aged seven and twelve were both born in Queensland and attended school there, the elder, a girl, speaking and writing English as well as an average child. What their fate will be in being sent to live among savages is only a matter of conjecture, but they wept bitterly as they left the ship. Orders had been given that the family was not to be landed unless friends from the old man's village were there to receive them. As the boat neared the shore the Kanaka's face broke into smiles and he repeated again and again as he recognized people, "Him all right." He and his family were landed amidst a hundred natives. Half a dozen Kanakas who returned by another steamer, the Tambo, were equipped with uniforms, instruments and a big drum. The idea is to extend the Army work throughout the islands. A tale of a sensational sea voyage, just told here, is so romantic that it is being made the basis of a tale of sea life by an Australian story writer. The incident is founded on the report made by the captain of the Canadian mail steamer Moana, of events which occurred on the British barque Don, a vessel well known in all of the Australian ports. During the voyage from London to Victoria, B. C., the crew of the Don barached the cargo and thus obtaining unlimited quantities of liquor soon became riotous and eventually mutinous. When the Don was off Cape Horn, however, in rough weather, the drunken crew attempted murder. They seized an unfortunate Spaniard, named Hope, whose only offense was that he refused to join in their orgies, and were in the act of throwing him overboard when Captain Roach, at the point of the revolver, saved the man's life. For thirty-six hours Captain Roach sat at the fore-castle door with a six-chambered revolver in his hand, announcing that he would shoot the first man that again attempted to procure liquor from the hold. Meanwhile the sailors in their intoxicated state were singing ribald songs, shouting and fighting. During this time the Don narrowly escaped shipwreck on what is known as Horn Island. The clause in the New Victorian Gaming Suppression Act which prohibits the making of wagers on a race

MAY PRAY "GIVE US EACH DAY OUR DAILY COTTON"

LONDON, March 16.—The British East African corporation gave a complimentary dinner recently at the Hotel Cecil to Colonel Hayes-Sadler, C. B. His Majesty's commissioner in British East Africa, Sir Ralph Moore, chairman of the corporation presided. Mr. Hannay Greenwood, M. P., in the absence of Mr. Winston Churchill proposed "The trade and development of British East Africa." He said that one-fourth of the people of that country depended for their living on cotton, and that instead of "Give us this day our daily bread," they would soon have to pray, "Give us cotton," because there were no cotton there would be a bread. The great British cotton growing association was doing more now than all the speeches in the House of Commons in drawing the colonies closer to the Mother country. He believed there was a growing feeling in the House of Commons and the country that one of the first functions of any governor was to develop the trade of the protectorate. Sir Alfred L. Jones in responding to the toast of "The British Cotton Growing Association," which was given by Mr. H. E. Miller said if Lancashire could not get cotton except from America she would become bankrupt. He believed we should get cotton up the British flag and he did not hesitate to say at a price which would enable us to supply America.

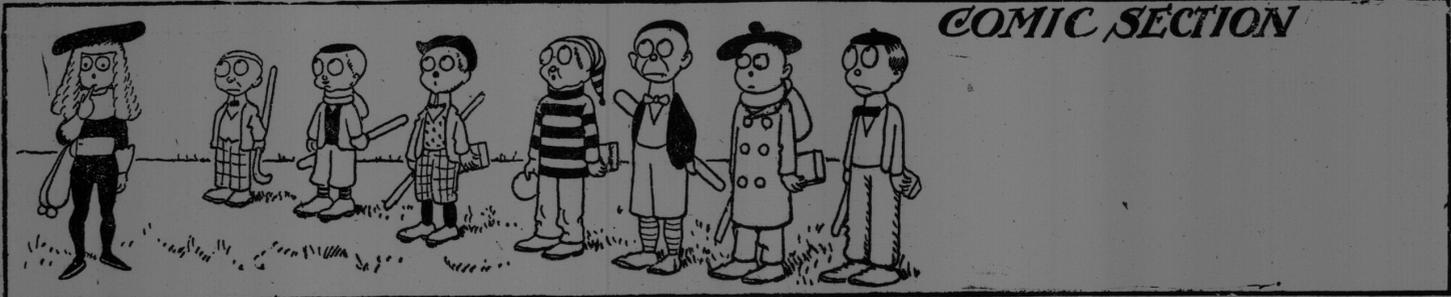

UNDER JAPANESE INSTRUCTORS THE CHINESE ARMY IS RAPIDLY BECOMING AN EFFECTIVE BODY

BERLIN, March 16.—To prove that the Yellow Peril is no imagination and that under the guidance of Japan China is rapidly organizing a thorough military army, photographs like the one shown here are being printed in all parts of China report that Japanese secret agents are inciting the Chinese to hatred against the white Americans and Europeans alike.

THE ST. JOHN STAR

COMIC SECTION

BUSTER BROWN

1 GO ON, JUMP! I'LL HOLD THE CHAIR.

2 BING

3 ONE, TWO,

4 TIG! LOOK OUT FOR THE CEILING

5 POOR TIG! HE MISSED THE MATTRESS

6 HOLD FAST NOW THIS WILL BE A LONG SHOT GEE! THAT'S A SPRINGY OLD IRONING BOARD

OUCH

GRANPA GROUCH GOT THERE JUST IN TIME. POOR BUSTER WOULD HAVE GONE THROUGH THE DOOR.

RESOLVED THAT THE CHAP WHO SAID 'LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP' MIGHT HAVE SAID 'LOOK BEFORE THE OTHER FELLOW LEAPS AND THAT WILL KEEP YOU BUSY. BUT WHY LEAP AT ALL? IT'S THE SLOW PLODDING FELLOW WHO GETS THERE. ALL SAME HARE AND TORTOISE RACE. WHAT DO YOU CALL 'GETTING THERE'? I KNOW WHAT I CALL IT, I CALL IT BEING HAPPY. THAT'S OUR DUTY I'D BE ASHAMED TO FACE MY MAKER AND TELL HIM I HADN'T BEEN HAPPY

R.V. Outeault

SOCIOLOGICAL EXHIBIT

By M. McCulloch-Williams

(Copyrighted, 1907, by E. C. Parcella) If Josefa had not had the Morris nose, things might have happened. The Morris nose, understand, was more than a feature—a hall-mark...

It would take managing, of course—but the Widow Clayton, she that was Anna Morris, was a born manager...

What wonder that Cousin Anne, who never without an asked for anything—advised least of all—was well liked and wholly respected throughout the whole family connection?

What wonder that Cousin Anne, who never without an asked for anything—advised least of all—was well liked and wholly respected throughout the whole family connection?

Before the assembly broke he had met Josefa, and talked with her a good half hour. Next week he called on her—and the next, Mrs. Dalton was early taken into his confidence...

Keeler stepped aside to let her pass, and the girl favored him with a smile as she acknowledged his courtesy. He noted the smile of the girl across the hall...

Jack Melvin listened, yearning to grip his teeth. He was not the first to be in love—Josefa was not pretty, for all she was so fresh and wholesome...

Woman disposes, man proposes, sometimes fate intervenes. Josefa stood with fate in this particular respect. She said "No" again—and in a way that told Jack Melvin, at least...

Obstinacy, pure and simple—that was what all Josefa. So said her two elders in conclusion. There could not possibly be anybody in Melvin's way...

be at the country fair next fall, he hoped she would look at his saddle horses, Muggins and Milly Boy, as he was sure they would win the blue ribbon...

At fair time, with Josef still obdurate, Mrs. Clayton had doubts as to going, but Mrs. Dalton, of course, she had quite wanted his presence in the crowd...

She slipped the ring on her finger and looked at it. It was a perfect fit. He breathed silent vengeance on "T. H." as he held the door open for her...

After that when they met on the stairs they exchanged greetings, and several times he went in to borrow a rubber or some material, and once she had shown him her studio...

There was a scuffle to the roof, and from there an emergency ladder led to the top of the next building a climb of twenty feet. Desperation lent him strength...

"I'm thinking of an old tradition of the ring," he said. "It's too new to have traditions," he replied. "It's a quarter of an hour later that a blue shirted freeman tolling over the roofs with a hose discovered them."

When the construction gang took possession of Sackett Junction Kitty O'Reilly took possession of the construction gang. Kitty's father read the daily papers, and she followed the movement of the current events...

When the construction gang took possession of Sackett Junction Kitty O'Reilly took possession of the construction gang. Kitty's father read the daily papers, and she followed the movement of the current events...

When the construction gang took possession of Sackett Junction Kitty O'Reilly took possession of the construction gang. Kitty's father read the daily papers, and she followed the movement of the current events...

So Kitty and her winning ways had tripped blithely across the wash to where the tents of the construction gang showed on the slope of the hill...

He would eat any old thing he gives us. Tell him to feed us hearty. "I do the cooking," said Kitty, and the way of her smile and voice was so good...

Two months the gang were to pitch their tents on the hillside and Mike O'Reilly made it pleasant for them. He had the largest and coolest house at Sackett's, and Saturday night he would throw it open for a dance for the boys...

Standing near the veranda steps was Grandma Kirtledge, slender, erect and dignified in her mourning. Her sweet old face was so staid and so courageous, as she watched her precious furniture go under the hammer, piece by piece...

When the construction gang took possession of Sackett Junction Kitty O'Reilly took possession of the construction gang. Kitty's father read the daily papers, and she followed the movement of the current events...

When the construction gang took possession of Sackett Junction Kitty O'Reilly took possession of the construction gang. Kitty's father read the daily papers, and she followed the movement of the current events...

When the construction gang took possession of Sackett Junction Kitty O'Reilly took possession of the construction gang. Kitty's father read the daily papers, and she followed the movement of the current events...

When the construction gang took possession of Sackett Junction Kitty O'Reilly took possession of the construction gang. Kitty's father read the daily papers, and she followed the movement of the current events...

When the construction gang took possession of Sackett Junction Kitty O'Reilly took possession of the construction gang. Kitty's father read the daily papers, and she followed the movement of the current events...

manion up on the hill before him, and even the new trolley line that cut across the front lawn in the interests of modern improvements had not taken the beauty and dignity away from the old place...

"Going, going, gone—to Miss Podmore for five," Billy's voice broke in on her reverie. "Better take that glass right off, Miss Podmore, and the marble, too, so as it don't get smashed. Dick here will help you. And you might as well bid up on the rest of the set, it's a shame to break it."

"Land, I don't want that heavy old stuff," exclaimed Miss Podmore, staring blankly at the big old bureau. "My ceiling's too low for that top pulling on it's so heavy to lug around. I only bid up five because it did seem such a pity. I felt as if we were fairly insulting the old thing, cheapening it so. But I don't want it."

"Don't want it, when it was worth its weight in gold to her, Grandma Kirtledge crossed over to where Dick Lane was trying to take the screws out of the mirror, the screws that had not been loosened for fifty-two years, and came out hard."

"It's fearful hefty, Miss Kirtledge," he said, tipping it up against a tree to get at the back better, and then something happened—something so amazing that it stopped the whole Kirtledge household in its tracks...

When the construction gang took possession of Sackett Junction Kitty O'Reilly took possession of the construction gang. Kitty's father read the daily papers, and she followed the movement of the current events...

When the construction gang took possession of Sackett Junction Kitty O'Reilly took possession of the construction gang. Kitty's father read the daily papers, and she followed the movement of the current events...

When the construction gang took possession of Sackett Junction Kitty O'Reilly took possession of the construction gang. Kitty's father read the daily papers, and she followed the movement of the current events...

When the construction gang took possession of Sackett Junction Kitty O'Reilly took possession of the construction gang. Kitty's father read the daily papers, and she followed the movement of the current events...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had never been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much, or what was left. The judge was the judge, that was enough. His father had owned the big, white colonial...

GONE AT FIVE

By E. M. Erriffeld

"And, now, ladies and gentlemen, we have this fine old piece of black walnut. Must have cost at least $75 twenty years ago. Just observe the hand carving, will you. It's a fine specimen of the old-fashioned work."

Standing near the veranda steps was Grandma Kirtledge, slender, erect and dignified in her mourning. Her sweet old face was so staid and so courageous, as she watched her precious furniture go under the hammer, piece by piece...

When the construction gang took possession of Sackett Junction Kitty O'Reilly took possession of the construction gang. Kitty's father read the daily papers, and she followed the movement of the current events...

When the construction gang took possession of Sackett Junction Kitty O'Reilly took possession of the construction gang. Kitty's father read the daily papers, and she followed the movement of the current events...

When the construction gang took possession of Sackett Junction Kitty O'Reilly took possession of the construction gang. Kitty's father read the daily papers, and she followed the movement of the current events...

When the construction gang took possession of Sackett Junction Kitty O'Reilly took possession of the construction gang. Kitty's father read the daily papers, and she followed the movement of the current events...

When the construction gang took possession of Sackett Junction Kitty O'Reilly took possession of the construction gang. Kitty's father read the daily papers, and she followed the movement of the current events...

PAYING THE PRICE

By Louis J. Strong

As Orday dodged through the stream of traffic at the crossing, merry greetings saluted him from a crowded auto that just missed him as it charged by. He bowed gravely to the smiling occupants, observing that she was of the number, and then he passed on to the business appointment...

When the construction gang took possession of Sackett Junction Kitty O'Reilly took possession of the construction gang. Kitty's father read the daily papers, and she followed the movement of the current events...

When the construction gang took possession of Sackett Junction Kitty O'Reilly took possession of the construction gang. Kitty's father read the daily papers, and she followed the movement of the current events...

WEIGHED UPON HIS FATHER

By Louis J. Strong

When Mr. Finnerty returned after a day's outing with Michael, the only son, his face was long and doleful and he quickly drew inquiries from the mother. "I'm afraid Mickey is not long for this world," said Mr. Finnerty, with a deep sigh. "I mistrust there's a spell over him already, and he'll not be long with us."

When the construction gang took possession of Sackett Junction Kitty O'Reilly took possession of the construction gang. Kitty's father read the daily papers, and she followed the movement of the current events...

THE ST. JOHN STAR

A PRACTICAL AND STYLISH PARISIAN NOVELTY

THIS is to be a season of stripes. Every fabric from the sheersiest chiffons and nets to heavy cloths shows this influence, and some of the most stylish and striking costumes to be seen this spring, if not made entirely of striped stuffs, have them either in the trimming or as a separate part of the gown.

Silks, lawns and ginghams are striped in the most attractive guise. The tiny pin stripe is a reigning favorite, though a close second are the broader stripes at intervals of varying width from a half-inch to two or three inches apart. For the woman who, by reason of too much or too little flesh, must rigidly eschew a boldly striped gown, there are broken and blended lines that are not noticeably trying, yet are a change from perfectly plain fabrics and permit a pleasant variety in one's clothes.

Most attractive among the new suit materials are the striped serges in both fine and heavy weaves. The white serge suit, which enjoyed such a vogue last summer, will be more than ever popular, and in addition many interesting stripes are shown. One of these, which is particularly cool-looking, is of a very heavy white serge, and has a quarter of an inch broken stripes in a warm gray at intervals of half an inch apart. Another very fine white serge has alternate half-inch stripes of navy blue and gray between white spaces of equal width. Fin lines in red on a white ground are in favor once more, sometimes so close as to look almost like the old-fashioned mint-stick, again a half inch and more apart. Often two or three different colors are harmoniously combined, while black and white in ever-conceivable width of stripe and spacing are much used.

As every woman who has ever tried to know, the making up of a striped material is not easy. If the stripes do not match perfectly, if they are at the wrong slant, or the cut of a suit is bad, the results are painful in the extreme. Exercise the greatest care in the matching, especially. Never be tempted to make up a striped gown without the most careful measuring and close basting; then be sure, as a further precaution, to turn the goods on the right side before stitching to see that no slips have occurred.

There are many interesting and novel ways in which the striped materials are being made. Sometimes the coat is straight, while the skirt is cut on the bias; again, both are very much bias, with the stripes meeting in a seam in the center of the front and back, or, occasionally, the coat is on the bias, while the skirt is perpendicular, with self-trimming of bias or horizontally striped bands.

A striking yet really practical adaptation of striped materials has just been introduced by Paquin as his latest Parisian novelty in suits. Last season, indeed, more or less for many seasons, we have been accustomed to the plaid skirt and plain jacket, but this spring the noted Frenchman has reversed the order of things and has introduced a striped jacket to be worn with plain skirts.

Not often has such a decided novelty as this the merit of being practical for the woman who cannot afford to change her suits often, but this new style is specially useful to just such persons. There are comparatively few girls or women who have not in their wardrobe a white serge, flannel or etamine skirt. If one selects to wear with this material not too much of a contrast, which has a tiny stripe, and has it made up either as a long coat or as a short, dressy jacket, she has a whole suit that is not only very good style, but is most useful for cool or damp days through the entire summer.

These novelty suits are being shown in several styles. Most of the skirts are long, but Paquin is making some short ones, which are either pleated or else the nine-gored circular. The pleated skirt is the most favored for wearing with the short jackets, all of which have the Japanese sleeve and the Empire look at the waist line.

Long skirts, as a rule, are cut circular, sometimes with two seams, again with four, two being at the sides to prevent sagging. With these skirts the long cutaway coat is almost invariably worn.

An interesting feature of these suits is the trimming, which is quite elaborate. Bits of bright-colored silk, embroidered in silver or gold to match the buttons, are used, and all are braided in silk braids. The braid is usually of the same color as the suit, but it can also match the stripe.

By the way, in choosing the material for these jackets the spin stripe and very inconspicuous effects are most correct, and should as nearly as possible match the tone of the skirt. Otherwise one is very apt to have that ugly cut-in-half look that every one nowadays is trying to avoid.

The woman who makes her own clothes can easily have one of these latest Parisian novelties in suits by shade of red. The whole jacket is braided in a fancy soutache silk braid in white. The large buttons are of gilt with a scarlet enamel design in them.

Another interesting and extremely stylish combination would be to have a rather heavy white cheviot skirt, with the jacket of white striped in gray. Bright apple-green silk is used for the vest and cuffs. It is embroidered in silver to match the large silver buttons.

With this red-and-white jacket was worn a small black leghorn hat with ribbon bows in three tones of red.

The other suit is also of white cloth, the coat having dark green and black stripes. The long skirt is circular, with a seam down the front and back. As the drop silk lining is cut in round length the skirt is very easy to hold up. Dark green silk is used for the revers, collar and pockets, which are ornamented with quite large silver buttons. Dark green braid forms a novel trimming down each side of the front.

With this suit is worn a very stylish turban in black chips, adorned with a huge green and white reproduced in such cheap materials and are so widely worn by the masses that they have lost their attraction for women of exclusive taste in dress.

SOME PARIS NOTES

EXQUISITE sets of antique jeweled buttons are still in high favor, and sometimes cost startlingly large prices. One unique set is in dark tortoise shell, with a small diamond trefail in the centre, and another in smoked pearl with a golden fleur de lis.

The end of the glittering stuffs that have known such a decided vogue this last season is in sight. Gold and silver tissues, frosted flowers and foliage have been reproduced in such cheap materials and are so widely worn by the masses that they have lost their attraction for women of exclusive taste in dress.

Pastel tints will mark many of the new cloth suits for visiting dresses. This coloring is, if anything, more vague than formerly. The preference seems to be with the pastel greens, blues, pink and grays. Some of the newest materials have a white sheen; others are faintly shot with another pastel tint, and still others show glints of dull gold or silver.

Period gowns will characterize many of the spring and summer models for evening wear. One will see costumes on the lines of those worn in the day of Louis XV and Louis XVI. There will be Empire and semi-Empire, and even the classical princess robe.

The "Bal de la Couturiere" is an occasion where exquisite creations can be counted on. At the last one the sensation of the evening was a princess dress in pink satin, springled down the front and round the square décolleté with small simili diamonds. The effect was softened with a broad flounce of pleated and ruffled pink tulle at the hem and a drapery and short puffed sleeves of the same transparent material. One huge crimson rose at the bust line and a wreath of white holly with frosted leaves in the hair gave a charming finishing touch.

For visiting dresses the princess shape is very fashionable. Lace and embroidery to match the toilettes are used as trimmings.

A short bolero, with Japanese floral revers and worn over a chemise of mousseline de soie, is a pleasing little novelty.

A new yellow that resembles a tan with a dash of mustard thrown in is much liked for hat trimming just now. It is one of those colors that must be used with great discretion not to be garish. A mere touch of it is often quite enough.

Though feathers are never so popular for spring and summer hats as flowers, they will be much worn this season. Many of them will be massed at the back. An exquisite hat is a mole gray straw with a huge taffeta bow of the same shade of gray across the front, and at the back a cascade of soft feathers, shading from gray to brown and on to bronze and emerald green.

Horizontal bands of contrasting materials, embroidery or braid are seen on many of the new skirts.

The fad for mandarin and other Oriental coats still lasts. Some very wonderful kimono effects are shown in shimmering satins, silks and crepes. One of these Oriental coats is in gold-colored satin, almost covered with embroidery in brown, gray and gold. It is fastened with ornaments in dull silver set with topaz, and has a touch of chinchilla on the sleeves and down the front.

copying either of the charming models shown today.

If the short skirt is indispensable to one's comfort—and certainly where a white suiting is in question it seems more sensible—choose the model on the left with its jaunty little jacket and round length skirt that just clears the ground. The skirt is of white cloth with a kilt-pleated skirt stitched well below the hip-line. The jacket is of white cloth, with a tiny and rather undecided stripe of scarlet running through it. It has the inevitable long-shouldered, mandarin-sleeved effect with a three-quarter sleeve underneath. The vest, pointed revers and cuffs are of scarlet silk, or they could also be made of linen in a rich

A FEW OF FASHION'S VAGARIES

TUNICS and peplums of lace are seen on many of the evening and reception gowns. Lace tunics on underskirts of soft materials, such as crepe de chine, soft satin or mousseline, are charming in their effect. Long coats to imitate tunics are favored for afternoon dresses.

There is with us once more the frequently recurrent rumor of the revival of the ermine. It is more than doubtful if modern women will tolerate the awkward hoop-skirt, but already are seen flounces of blonde lace such as were used so extensively in the ermine's former era of high favor.

Mousseline de soie, thin and filmy as it is, has been used for visiting and reception gowns this last winter, and will continue to hold sway during the spring and summer, which are certainly much more suitable seasons for the use of so airy a fabric.

Heavy dotted nets, either in black or white, are used for evening coats. So are chiffons and tulle. It goes without saying that coats of these delicate materials must be well supplied with interlinings.

The new three-quarter length coat sleeves demand gloves neither short nor long, but of about the "eight-button" length.

While cloth and light wool street gowns are without doubt longer than for several seasons past, there are, strangely enough, many ball gowns being made to literally clear the ground. Often these skirts are destitute of all trimming but three flat graduated tucks around the hem of the skirt. Soft Oriental satins and radium are much favored for this style of frock.

Simple tailored suits are showing almost invariably some sort of pleated skirt—often a genuine kilt. There will, however, be gored circular models as well.

Coats to be worn with these skirts are severely tailored. They are almost without exception single-breasted, with collars and cuffs of velvet, often in a contrasting color. Both hip and half length are seen. Sleeves are long and cut on plain coat-sleeve lines.

For lighter weight materials such as voiles, marquisettes, crepes and silks, fussy short-coat models are in demand, with the sleeve just below the elbow more than holding its own.

The long-drooping shoulder line is seen everywhere. Often it extends into a loose cap over an underleeve. Frequently the shoulder and upper part of the sleeve are undivided.

Scotch mixtures of a loose coarse weave that look heavy, but are in reality light weight, are much in demand for the strictly tailored suit.

Striped and checked effects in exquisite combinations of color, with broken, softly blended lines, are to enjoy an unwonted popularity in both wool and cotton stuffs this season. For the comfort of the woman too stout to trifle with over conspicuous novelties it may be said that plain colors are equally good.

Long crepe de chine scarfs with broad bands of solid embroidery across each end are finished with a nine-inch silk fringe. These are attractive, either as a light wrap for the neck and shoulders, or as a dainty head covering.

Many of the new gauze and mousseline scarfs show broad borders in rich Persian colorings or exquisite floral effects in soft pastel tints.

Some long gloves have a button-hole or loop at the top to fasten them to the sleeves, thus eliminating a common annoyance.

THE STAR ST JOHN N. B., SATURDAY, MARCH 16, 1907.

FIVE

Regal Shoes in St. John

REGAL
The Shoe That Proves.

GOADY & CO'Y
61 Charlotte Street

1-4 Sizes

Ladies' Fancy Collars, new styles, 15c to 25c.
Neck Ruchings in great variety.
Fancy Belts, Novelties in Neckpins

A. B. WETMORE, - Open Evenings - 59 Garden St

FEATHER PILLOWS!

We are showing Feather Pillows in great variety.
Have your Mattresses Re-Made before the busy season begins.

HUTCHINGS & CO.,
101 to 105 GERMAIN STREET

"SILENTS,"

The Parlor, non-odorons MATCH, made by the
E. B. Eddy Co., Ltd. Sold by every grocer.
Just ask for them—'tis enough.

SCHOFIELD PAPER CO. LTD.
SELLING AGENTS - ST. JOHN, N. B.

BUTTER! BUTTER!

100 Tubs Choice Butter in small and large packages, from 20¢ to 24¢ per pound.
Big reduction in groceries. Give us a call. No trouble to show goods and give prices.

ROBERTSON & CO., 522, 524 Main Street, St. John, N. B.
Telephone 541 A

GLAD THAT THE END OF THE TRIAL IS IN SIGHT

NEW YORK, March 15.—"Thank God, the end is in sight." This was the fervent whisper of District Attorney Jerome at the Thaw trial yesterday, uttered loud enough for the reporter to hear, following a favorable decision by Justice Fitzgerald regarding the Hummel affidavit.

The strain on those attending the trial has been severe. Justice Fitzgerald has shown the effects of it, as have the lawyers for the defense and the district attorney. When Mr. Jerome asked for an additional fifteen minutes yesterday at the usual hour for adjournment, Mr. Delmas protested, declaring that his endurance had been stretched to the breaking point. He would not consent to another minute of extra session.

Mr. Jerome did his best to get from Mr. Delmas an estimate of the length of time that would be required to complete the re-argument, but Thaw's lawyer declined to give any suggestion on this line. It is generally believed, however, that the close of evidence and Wednesday and Thursday will be used in summing up. There is every reason to believe that Friday will put the fate of Harry K. Thaw in the hands of the jury, unless some unexpected development occurs.

The sensational affidavit which Mr. Jerome fought so hard to get into the evidence, will probably be read in court on Monday. Lawyer Hummel testified only as to its tendency, and through other witnesses Mr. Jerome established the fact that photographic carbons of the affidavit were in existence. He then asked that the affidavit be read, but Lawyer Delmas objected as time for adjournment had come.

It is thought that he will object to its reading on Monday. The affidavit gives Evelyn Nesbit's story of the wanderings of herself and Thaw on the continent, during which time the affidavit says Thaw beat her several time because of her refusal to sign papers charging White with drugging and assaulting her when she was approaching a satisfactory settlement.

First Opening Spring Hats.

An early Easter this season means with us an early show of lovely hats. The days appointed are Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Every effort has been made and no expense spared to make this a banner opening of dainty millinery. Our milliner, Miss Trafton, spent some time in New York making a study of the season's styles, and attending the principal Millinery trade openings.

Every indication points to a far finer display of pattern hats than any season here-to-fore.

We would extend a hearty invitation to all who are interested in pretty hats to come and see this collection, even if you do not intend to buy.

There are so many unique designs and such vast changes in shapes and trimmings that from the point of view of curiosity alone you will be repaid for any effort made to attend on these opening days—Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Invitation Extends to the Ladies' New Spring Costumes.

When you are here on Tuesday or Wednesday next to see the Spring Hats, do not pass through the mantle department without looking at the new tailored Suits and spring Coats.

There are many remarkably pretty costumes in fancy tweed mixtures as well as fine plaid venetians and broadcloths.

Costumes, $10.95 to $28.00
Spring Coats, 5.00 to 19.00
Misses' Coats, 2.50 to 9.50

Then Don't Forget all the New Things Down Stairs.

Before you pass out on coming down stairs from Millinery and Mantles take a look at the new Silk Waists at the centre counter. There are some mighty pretty waists and the prices make them really leaders in the city trade. You would also be interested in the new "Saxony" laces that come with allovers, Wide laces and insertions to match—a thing so hard to find, and just in the daintiest of designs.

There are a hundred of the newest veilings to show you, too. You may like to find something out of the ordinary.

F. W. DANIEL & CO.,
London House, Charlotte St.

RUSSIAN WORKMAN MAY BE WANTED FOR MURDER

MONTREAL, March 15.—John Griffin, 35 years of age, of 385 Letourneau street, is dying in the general hospital here from a fractured skull, the result of a blow given him over the head by a Russian who was employed along with him in the premises of King Warden & Co. The affair took place on March 14, and the Russian has since disappeared. The police are at work on the case.

A NATIONAL FUNERAL FOR THE IENA VICTIMS

TOULON, France, March 15.—The victims of the explosion on board the battleship Iena, March 12, were given an imposing national funeral today. All business was suspended; the public and many private buildings were draped in black; and the lighted street lamps were covered with crepe.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 15.—The audience which Ambassador Leishman had of the Sultan yesterday mostly concerned the recognition of the American schools and missions in the Turkish empire. The question appears to be approaching a satisfactory settlement.

HEIRLOOM PICTURES CUT FROM THEIR FRAMES

English Country Mansion Raided and Many Objects of Art Stolen.

LONDON, March 15.—Following the robbery of valuable old masters from Park Lane, and a few days later from an art gallery at Fyfield, comes news that a similar theft of heirloom pictures has taken place at Lydiat Hall, near Ormskirk, a mansion belonging to Charles Weld-Blundell.

In addition to the paintings, the thieves took away some beautiful carved paneling work, which formed part of the ornamentation of the principal rooms. The house has been unoccupied for some time, and is unfurnished, but the pictures, being family heirlooms, had to be left in the house under a clause in the will of a previous Squire of Ince Blundell. Lydiat Hall stands in a secluded part of the country, and the thieves seem to have gone about their work with great deliberation.

Entrance was obtained by a window. The stolen pictures were cut out of the frames with a sharp knife. The police have the matter in hand.

Mr. Weld-Blundell is a member of an old Lancashire family. He has spent large sums in acquiring works of art, and is not from Lydiat Hall, which has European reputation for its art treasures, which comprise by far the largest private collection of antique masterpieces in the country. Mr. Blundell spends a great part of the year at Lulworth Castle, in Dorset, where he entertained the king some years ago.

TRAIN RAN IN OVER TWO FEET OF WATER

Passengers on the Chicago Flyer Given a Refund of Passage Money Because Train Was Late.

CHICAGO, March 15.—Thirty-four passengers on the Pennsylvania eighteen hour train reached Chicago nine hours late yesterday after varied experiences, including a rebate of $5 each from the railroad company for inability to make its schedule. The train came over the Panhandle route from Pittsburgh. Its troubles began sixty miles east of Pittsburgh where a freight wreck was encountered. It reached Pittsburgh in the midst of rising waters. Ten miles west of Pittsburgh it ran through water eight inches deep. Ahead was a stretch of five miles of deeper water which was rising rapidly. A second engine was used for and the train pulled back to Pittsburgh through twenty-six inches of water.

Early in the morning the train started for Chicago over the Panhandle route.

A MILLION DOLLAR FIRE IN LONDON THIS MORNING

Three Big Warehouses in the Industrial Centre Destroyed.

LONDON, March 15.—Three big warehouses in the Finsbury district, London's busiest industrial district, were destroyed by fire this morning, causing damage to the extent of about a million.

Starting in Featherstone street, in the premises of Cox & Co, hat manufacturers, the flames, fanned by a strong wind, jumped the street and enveloped the establishment of the Maxin Co., wood turners, and spread to the adjoining warehouses of Green & Co, shoe manufacturers, owing to the strength of the wind it appeared for a time as though the whole block of adjoining property would be devastated, but after three hours of hard work, the firemen gained control of the situation.

AMBASSADOR PUT HIS FOOT IN IT THAT TIME

HAVANA, March 15.—The French minister to Cuba, M. La Falvire, went on board the French steamer La Champagne yesterday to pay a visit. When he came to leave the vessel he was told she was in quarantine and that he could not go ashore. Efforts were made to get into communication with Governor Magoon, but it was so late when he was found that M. La Falvire was compelled to spend the night on board. It is said that the steamer had not been declared in quarantine.

TRIED TO SHOOT A MAN WHEN HE WAS IN BED

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 15.—Several shots were fired into the bedroom of J. D. Watson, son of Thomas E. Watson, the former presidential candidate of the Populist ticket, at their home at Thomas, Ga., early today and while it was later claimed that the investigation indicates a plot against Thomas E. Watson or his family, no definite clue was obtained.

Several shots were fired late last night in the backyard of Oscar Lee, the former presidential candidate's son-in-law, but none of the shots were directed at the house. At 2 o'clock this morning two loads of shot were fired through the younger Watson's room but did not go near the bed. Watson immediately summoned Sheriff Hayes and the premises were searched but without result. The affair caused considerable excitement.

Tonight at the Queen's Ballway after the tenth band there will be two races. Dearborn and Olive, two evenly matched boys, will skate a half mile, and the first of a series of three one mile races between those two fast boys Olive and Hunter will be skated.

S. L. CHURCHILL
WOODSTOCK, March 15.—Word has been received of the death in Butte, Montana, yesterday of S. L. Churchill, formerly of this town. He was 74 years of age.

Fine Cloth Caps

Our showing of Cloth Caps for men and boys' spring wear far exceeds any previous season. We've the very best from English and American makers. Plain Golf—Motor and Yacht shapes, in neat Tweeds. Light, medium and dark shades; also, Blue cloth. All well lined and finished—some with sweat leather bands. They are light, cool and comfortable for travelling or street wear.

50c., 75c. and $1.00 each.
We've one to suit you.

D. MAGEE'S SONS,
Manufacturing Furriers, 63 King Street.

COMMERCIAL RICH

WALL STREET.
NEW YORK, March 15.—Prices continued their upward course in the opening dealings. While the rise was violent in many of the prominent issues, there was a scattering of losses among less conspicuous stocks. The report followed the opening dealings, running to 1 to 1-4 in several of the active stocks.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The European crop report of the department of agriculture, which has just been issued, shows that throughout the greater part of Europe the autumn sown crop have lain during February under a covering of snow. Widespread injury is believed to have been thus averted, the weather having been everywhere more or less severe.

The report adds: "Unofficially it is reported that in the United Kingdom the condition of winter cereals is fairly satisfactory. In France and Germany, however, no little anxiety has been felt over the frequency of reports of winter killing from unprotected localities."

"In Austria-Hungary and the Baltic states confidence is felt that ample snow protection has saved the plants. In European Russia the crops are reported to have wintered under snow, but late reports indicate some deterioration in conditions."

"Official reports on crop conditions speak of cold in many countries this spring with more than ordinary anxiety."

STOOD THE SHOCK WELL
NEW YORK, March 15.—Men in the financial district were still marvelling today over the way the "Street" had stood the shock of the past two days of the worst liquidation the Stock Exchange has known for years together in prices. Not a firm is reported in difficulties. This is attributed to the long period of prosperity which the country has enjoyed.

The cheer that was heard at the close of the session on the Stock Exchange yesterday afternoon, following a day of substantial rally was echoed across New Street, for the "little board" too had weathered the storm. The consolidated could not claim the proud record of the "big" exchange, since there was one failure on Thursday, but, as every broker met his obligations yesterday at the clearing house. President Ogden C. Budd insisted that the smaller exchange, like the larger, had displayed an endurance and resistance unprecedented in Wall Street's history. There were many reports, however, that the source and backing of yesterday's rally, some credited it to E. H. Harriman, others to the Rockefeller, and so on. It is known pretty definitely, however, that those of the Ryan and Morton Trust Company put very close to $4,000,000 in the purchase of securities. Mr. Ryan, it is said, had not previously been in the market for three years. E. H. Harriman, the speaking of the market's aspect last night, said:

"I think the worst is now over. It has probably left a good many lame ducks in the street, but I anticipate no failures. I used to say, when I was in the street, that the first failure after an event of this kind is likely to be a bear failure."

NEW YORK STOCK QUOTATIONS.
Chicago Market Report and New York Cotton Market.

Published by D. C. Clinch, Banker and Broker.
St. John, N. B., March 15, Fri. Sat.

Amalg. Copper	94	95	96 1/2
Anacosta	64	64	65
Am. Sugar Refs.	121 1/2	122	123
Am. Smelt. and Rfg.	123 1/2	124 1/2	125
Am. Car Foundry	58	58 1/2	59
Atchafalaya	90 1/2	91	92
Am. Locomotive	65	65 1/2	66
Brook. Rfd. Trst.	51	52	53
Balt. and Ohio	101 1/4	101 3/4	102 1/4
Ches. and Ohio	42 1/2	43	43 1/2
Colo. F. and Iron	32 1/2	33 1/2	34 1/2
Consolidated Gas	119	120	121
Erie	29 1/2	29 3/4	30 1/4
Ill. Central	145	146	147
Kansas and Texas	38	37 1/2	38 1/2
Louis. and Nash.	117 1/2	118	119 1/2
Mexican Central	29 1/2	29 3/4	30 1/4
Missouri Pacific	70 1/2	71	72
N. Y. Central	173 1/2	174 1/2	175 1/2
Nor. and Western	113 1/2	114 1/2	115 1/2
Ont. and Western	67 1/2	68 1/2	69 1/2
Pacific Mail	21 1/2	22 1/2	23 1/2
Peo. C. and Gas Co.	85 1/2	86 1/2	87 1/2
Reading	105 1/2	106 1/2	107 1/2
Republic Steel	25 1/2	26 1/2	27 1/2
St. Paul	51 1/2	52 1/2	53 1/2
St. Louis	122 1/2	123 1/2	124 1/2
Southern Ry.	21 1/2	22 1/2	23 1/2
Southern Pacific	31	32	33
Texas Pacific	125 1/2	126 1/2	127 1/2
Union Pacific	56	57	58
U. S. Rubber	47	48	49
U. S. Steel	30 1/2	31 1/2	32 1/2
U. S. Steel, pfd.	99	100 1/2	101 1/2

Total sales in New York yesterday 1,775,200 shares.

CHICAGO FLYER RAN INTO AN OPEN SWITCH

DURAND, Mich., March 15.—The Atlantic express on the Grand Trunk Railroad, due here at 5:55 this morning, en route for Port Huron and Sarnia, Lake, ran into an open switch at Bancroft, five miles from here, and struck a freight train. Five persons were badly injured, two of them fatally. Engineer A. B. Schram, and fireman Frank Cuffen, both of Bancroft, Mich., suffered broken limbs.

If advertising did not pay advertisers would not keep on expending thousands of dollars per year for it. All the people cannot be fooled all the time. If advertising did not pay, its demerits would have been exposed long before this. The best proof that advertising pays lies in the fact that advertisers continue its use year after year.—Advertiser.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. C. Leonard Smith of Sussex, are spending a few days at the Royal. Walter E. Stockton left on the steamer Calvin Austin Thursday morning for Portland, Maine, where he will visit his brother, F. C. W. Stockton. Before returning to St. John he will visit Boston and Providence, R. I.

POOR DOCUMENT

MARCH 16 1907

EIGHT

THE STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B. SATURDAY, MARCH 16, 1907

A CUSTOMER'S REASONABLE WISH IS THIS STORE'S PLEASURE

Spring Coat Time Is Approaching

And we are prepared to meet the wants of our patrons with a well selected stock of jaunty up-to-date coats. The prices are such as will be appreciated by ladies who wish to get value for every dollar.

SHORT PONY AND BOX COATS at $4.95, $5.00, $5.50, $7.50 $9.25. These are made from the fashionables smooth finished tweeds in different qualities according to price. Every garment is perfectly tailored and good style.

THE LONGER LENGTH COATS at $5.65, $8.25, $9.50, $11.00, $11.95 and up. These garments all show originality of design, are prettily trimmed with braids, strapping, buttons, etc., each coat being trimmed with a view to make it a stylish and select garment.

SUITS IN THE POPULAR LIGHT GRAY TWEEDS. The prices are $9.75, $15, $16.60 and up to $20. Why not save time, money and annoyance this season by buying your Spring Suit all ready to wear. We can guarantee perfect fitting suits, and save the uncertainty which usually attends getting a suit made. The trimmings are the newest and materials are of the best.

F. A. DYKEMAN & Co.,
59 Charlotte St.

Do You Keep Lent?

We have Large Fancy Salt Herring at 80c per doz. Special Labrador Herring, in Falls, at $1.25. Salt Labrador Salmon at 15c per pound.
EPICURE Boneless Herring at 15c per package.
Scotch Herring, in drums, $1.75 each.
Shredded, Boneless and Jelly Roll Cod.

Telephone WALTER GILBERT, 143 Charlotte St. 812, Corner Princess

A "Walk Over" SPRING STYLE

VELOUR CALF,
JUNIOR LAST
PRICE $5.25

The Junior Last is especially adapted to those who do not like the extreme style. It is a medium shape and very attractive.

A GREAT FITTER

Shoe Fitters McROBBIE 94 King Street.

Easter Post Cards

Easter Cards and Booklets.
Also a full assortment of Tuck's Souvenir Post Cards.

E. G. NELSON & CO.
Cor. King and Charlotte Sts.

It is Just as Easy

and as satisfactory to buy goods over the telephone of us as at our store personally. Try it.

GEO. E. PRICE,
Druggist.
127 Queen Street.
303 Union Street.

GROCERY STOCK and STORE FIXTURES

FOR SALE
BARGAINS.

MEGARITY & KELLEY
Hay Market Square.
TELEPHONE 330.

Whitewear Sale.
Corset Covers, 12c, 18c, 25c to $1.50 each.
Drawers, 25c to $1.00 per pair.
Night Gowns, 60c, 90c, $1 to 2.25 ea.
Skirts, 60c, 75c to $2.25 each.
White Lawn Waists, 40c, 60c, $1 to $1.65 each.
Wall Paper Bargains—20,000 Rolls beautiful designs, 2c, 3c, 4c, 5c, 7c to 20c roll.

ARNOLD'S DEPARTMENT STORE.
Phone 1555. 83-85 Charlotte St.

STUEBENVILLE, Ohio, Mar. 15.—Six to ten members of two foreign families are reported to the officials at Mingo Junction to have been drowned today in the flood. The houses floated away with their occupants.

THE WEATHER

Forecast—Moderate to fresh westerly winds, generally fine. Sunday, fine and mild.
Synopsis.—Light local snow falls occurred in Maritime Provinces. Otherwise the weather has been fair. Winds to banks and American ports moderate to fresh, mostly westerly. Sable Island north west, four miles, snow. Point Lepreau, north wind, 20 miles.

LOCAL NEWS.

Coadjutor Bishop J. A. Richardson will preach in Trinity church on Sunday evening.

R. D. Gunn, K. C., of O'Neill, has been appointed Justice of Carleton County, Ont., in place of the late Judge O'Meara.

The funeral of the late Francis H. Woods took place at 2.30 this afternoon from St. Paul's church. Revs. Hooper and Sutherland and internment was in Fernhill.

At Chubb's corner today Auctioneer Lantulum sold at public auction the house and property on Paradise Row, belonging to Rev. W. S. Pittford. John F. Gleason bought the property for $2,510.

Fred Worden reported by I. C. R. Police Smith for violating the I. C. R. rules at the station, today pleaded not guilty. It was shown by evidence for the defense that the date of violation was incorrect, but although Worden was not fined he was given a warning and allowed to go.

Rev. Scovil Neales of Sussex went to Woodstock today. The services at Sussex tomorrow will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Jones, who has lately been doing duty at Trinity church. Rev. W. O. Raymond will preach at the morning service in Trinity tomorrow, Rev. Mr. Stewart going to St. Mary's.

A message received from Halifax today stated that the Battle Line steamer Sellasia had put into that port with steering gear damaged. The Sellasia is from Savannah for Rotterdam with general cargo. Capt. G. N. Purdy is having the gear made, will effect repairs and proceed.

Advertising activity is increasing as the columns of the Star tonight clearly indicate. Last night's issue contained a number of new announcements and tonight S. W. McKelvie, of North End, dry goods man, and W. Tremaine Gardiner the lists. That business men fully appreciate the value of this bustling evening edition is unmistakably demonstrated by the large number of new contracts signed of late with conspicuous advertisers, and the liberal use of extra space by those who had already been its patrons. The Star is no braggart, it prefers that every merchant should use his own judgment in selecting it as a medium, for the fact is very apparent that aside from 250 papers only, the whole night edition, nearly 6,000, goes into city homes—not homes in outside places.

BROTHER OF J. B. CUDLIP DIED SUDDENLY IN YUKON

Was a Sergeant in the Northwest Mounted Police and Had Served in Africa.

Mr. J. B. Cudlip, the manager of the Cornwall and York Cotton Mills, received a telegram this morning stating that his brother, Albert J. Cudlip, had died suddenly at Forty Mile Creek, in the Yukon Territory. No particulars were added but will follow later. The despatch was from the late Mr. Cudlip's wife.

Albert J. Cudlip went to western Canada in 1881 and enlisted in the Northwest Mounted Police, with which force he remained until a year or two before the African war, when he was detached to the African war, where he became foreman with the Burns Ranching Co., of Calgary. Later he enlisted in the Northwest Mounted Police, and on returning after the war re-enlisted in the Northwest force. For the past few years he has held the rank of sergeant and has been in charge of the post at Forty Mile Creek. Recently he resigned and returned down to ranching.

Mr. Cudlip had married a Miss Tauliffe, of Berlin, daughter of a German clergyman who was stationed in Dawson City. His father-in-law was about to give up active work and intended to leave for Portland, Ore. Mr. Cudlip had some intention of going down there to live so that his wife might be near her friends.

Mr. Cudlip was 43 years of age. He is survived by his wife, two brothers, J. B. Cudlip of St. John, and William H. of New York, and two sisters, Miss Emily Cudlip, of New York, and Mrs. Davy, of Montreal. His mother is also a resident of Montreal.

Sergt. Cudlip was mentioned in despatches during the African war, and has been complimented on several occasions by the commissioner of the Mounted Police for faithful and well directed effort in the West.

GOT A FREE TRIP TO THE JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION

The friends of Mrs. Ida Hopkins are interested to learn that she was one of the successful members in district No. 5 of the Fargo Forum contest. Mrs. Hopkins gains by the contest a free trip to the Jamestown (Virginia) exposition to be held in the early spring and summer. The contest was a hustle and fight to the finish. Mrs. Hopkins won the trip with 1,329,720 votes and was about 500,000 votes ahead of the nearest second. Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins both intend to make the trip. Preparations are being made for it. The date of the trip has not been fixed but it will probably be in the late spring or early summer—Dickinson Press, North Dakota.

Mrs. Hopkins a few years ago while in the newspaper business paid a visit to St. John. She visited the different papers and during her brief stay made a number of staunch friends here.

PUBLIC MEETINGS TO TALK WARD SYSTEM

Feeling is Strong in Favor of a Plebiscite

Aldermen Vanwart and Sproul Have Something to Say—Two Mayors Suggested to Boss the Nineleen.

Ald. Sproul, who when the proposed ward system was under discussion at City Hall made a motion—rejected by the other aldermen—that a plebiscite be taken on the question, has not receded from his position. Although Ald. Sproul has not said much since returning from Fredericton, he has stated that he is still distinctly opposed to the passage of this measure in such a way. "People ask me," he said, "why I am afraid of the ward system? Why I object to it? I am neither afraid of it, nor in opposition to it. If the people of St. John want the change let them have it, for there are numbers of reasons why the present system is not satisfactory. But I certainly do object to half a dozen aldermen forcing on the city a scheme which the people may not want. A plebiscite was taken when the ward system was dropped. The same should be done now, and if the electors show that they desire the reversion I will most heartily support the bill. But at the same time I will oppose such a clause as that providing for so many additional aldermen."

Ald. Vanwart also desired to express an opinion. In view of Ald. Baxter's explanation as to the source of what has been called the compromise measure, Ald. Vanwart remarks that those who appeared in favor of the new bill could agree to an amendment providing for additional aldermen even though this was not endorsed by the council, but could not pay any attention to a petition against the change signed by five hundred of the heaviest taxpayers in St. John. It has been suggested that if nineteen aldermen are added to the city it will be advisable to elect two mayors instead of one, for no one man can keep so many in order. As an instance of such inability it is set forth that the aldermanic members of the last delegation to Ottawa may not be entirely ignorant as regards the disappearance of a portion of Mayor Sears' railway. No one could keep these aldermen in order.

Some of those citizens who oppose the passing of the bill and the introduction of the ward system without a plebiscite being taken, are holding a private meeting this afternoon. It was the original intention to have a series of public meetings during the next few weeks to discuss matters of civic interest, but in view of the latest developments, public meetings will likely be arranged for Monday and Tuesday evenings and the ward system bill discussed. The legislature has been asked to take no action on this bill until Thursday.

A NEEDY FAMILY'S THANKS.

Heartfelt Gratitude of Helpless Family for Kindness Shown by Citizens of St. John.

If the kind people who have so promptly sent their cash and provisions to the Star office in aid of the needy family of a sick father, mother and seven small girls—including twin infants—only knew how much real good they have done and are doing they would be greatly gratified. The Star is spending the cash in staple provisions, and has received bills to show those interested. It is quite possible the family may be plied through the remainder of this rather rough weather without having to again experience the pangs of hunger or stint of fuel. Although her family is large and young the brave little mother in the case is doing what outside work she can without neglecting her babies, but the father is a confirmed invalid. One daughter has been given a home in a comfortable household much to the relief of the parents. Altogether, the family is in a much better state than a week ago when kind people answered the suggestion made in the paper and the grateful parents feel they can never fully express their thanks. So far cash contributions from men, women and children have been sent the Star, including some dollars from guests at the Royal, a Dorcas Society, an English Immigrant and two widows. Provisions have been sent by big-hearted commercial travellers and others.

The body of the late D. A. A. Stockton arrived in the city on the Montreal express today. Undertaker T. F. Ford Powers who has charge of the funeral arrangements, met the body at the train and had it conveyed to Dr. Stockton's late home. A large number of citizens were also at the depot.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION. CARLETON.

LOWER FLAT, 183 Guildford Street. Six rooms. Or upper flat, nine rooms. Patent closets. Apply Mrs. Young upstairs, or F. E. DeMILL, Bay Shore. 16-3-6.

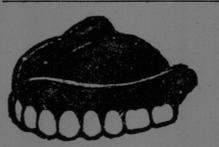

WANTED—Young man 18 or 20 years, willing to work nights. References. J. ALLAN TURNER. 16-3-6

TO LET—183 Guildford street, lower flat six rooms, or upper flat nine rooms. Apply MRS. YOUNG, up nine rooms, patent closets. Apply Mrs. Young, upstairs, or F. E. DeMILL, Bay Shore. 16-3-6

MORE PROTESTS IN THE STANLEY CUP GAMES

MONTREAL, March 16.—The Kenora hockey team, holders of the Stanley Cup, have protested to the trustees of the trophy against Hern and Stuart playing for the Wanderers, alleging that these two players were imported expressly for the purpose of helping the Montreal team defend the cup against Kenora early in the winter. This action by Kenora is a result of the Wanderers protesting against the playing of Alf. Smith and Harry Westwick for Kenora against the Wanderers in the coming Stanley Cup series.

In the police court this morning three drunks were fined the usual amounts. One of the number Charles Kane went to jail in default of payment. His face was badly marked. His explanation of his condition was that his brother came home last night and beat him while in bed. The prisoner says he was not to blame but his sister gave him in charge instead of the brother who, he says, was the drunk and the one to do the beating.

Teeth Extracted Without Pain, 15c.

We make the best $5.00 set of teeth in this city.
We make the best $1.00 gold crown in this city.
Gold filling from $1.00; Silver and other filling from 50c; plates repaired from 5c.
Boston Dental Parlor, 527 Main St.
Dr. J. D. Maher, Proprietor.
Office Hours—9 a. m. until 9 p. m.
Telephone—Office, 482; Residence, 725.

AUCTION SALE!

The balance of the Dry Goods Stock of J. Corkery will be sold at Auction Friday and Saturday, at 7.30

WILCOX BROS

Meat Department Chickens, Fowl, Duck, Turkey, Tender Roast Beef and Stew
WILLIAMS' Sugar Cured Hams and Bacon acknowledged the best on market. Use our Phone, 543.
F. E. WILLIAMS & CO., LTD.,
Phone 543. Cor. Charlotte and Princess S

KID GLOVES FOR EASTER.
Fowne's and Dent's make, in dark and medium tans, at $1.00 and $1.25.
WETMORE'S, The Young Men's Man.
154 MILL STREET.

The 2 BARKERS, Limited.

A 5 lb. pall of Jam. 35c
One pound of Fresh Ground Coffee. 25c
Gold filling from $1.00; Silver and other filling from 50c; plates repaired from 5c.
10 Cakes Toilet Soap. 10c
1 lb. of Regular 40c Tea. 25c
One pound of good Chocolate. 25c
4 pkgs. Jelly Powder. 25c
1 lb. Cream of Tartar. 25c
4 of the Leading Cigars. 25c
2 bottles of Barker's Liniment. 25c
1 dozen Jamaica Oranges, sweet and juicy. 25c

At THE 2 BARKERS, 100 PRINCESS STREET, 111 BRUSSELS STREET

New Carpets, Curtains, Etc.

We invite you to inspect our Spring showing of Carpets, Oilcloths, Curtains and General Housefurnishings. If you want to enjoy every tenet of good taste in arranging the house, our stock will help you. Distinctiveness and simple elegance are the salient features of every piece of goods in our stock.

Tapestry Carpets, 38c to $1 Yd	Rugs $1 to $4 25 Each
Wool Carpets 50c, 55c Yd	Fancy Door Mats 25c up
Union Carpets 35c to 55c Yd	Rubber Door Mats 50c, 90c, $1 20
Hemp Carpets 20c, 22c, 28c Yd	Rubber Door Mats $2 25
Floor Oilcloths 14c to 35c Yd	Stair Oilcloths 9c up
Tapestry Squares, 2 1-2x3 yd. $6 50	Lace Curtains 28c to $4 50 pr
3x4 yd. $8 50	Window Blinds, best rollers 35c, 40c, 50c, 65c, 80c Each
Wool Carpet Squares, 2 1-2x3 yd. $7 25	Portiers in a variety of makes and colors $2 25 to $5 50 Pair
3x3 yd. $7 75

WE SEW FREE ALL CARPETS OVER 50c PER YARD. CARPETS STORED UNTIL REQUIRED

No. 335 Main St. J. W. Mackin Phone No. 606

COLONIAL BOOKSTORE

NEW BOOK—The Port of Missing Men, by Meredith Nicholson, author of "The House of a Thousand Candles." Cloth $1.25.
Read review elsewhere in this paper. Messrs. McLeod and Allen are rated among the leading publishers of Canada. So far all of their books have been first-class. This is issued by them.

T. H. HALL'S, Colonial Book Store, 57 King Street.

...FLOOR COVERINGS, 1907...

LOVELY NEW STOCK FOR SPRING.

THE WISDOM OF AN EARLY SELECTION in buying Carpets, Oil Cloths, Rugs, Squares, is just now more apparent than ever. The weather is very cold yet and all conditions quite unspringlike, still barely a month will pass before household folks will be busying themselves about floor coverings. Our immense stock includes:—

WILTON CARPETS,
AXMINSTER CARPETS,
BRUSSELS CARPETS,
TAPESTRY CARPETS,
WOOL CARPETS,
UNION CARPETS,
SQUARES and RUGS

in popular sizes, and in every quality.
Most recent patterns and colors.

Measurements Taken and Orders Stored!
CONSULT OUR CLERKS ON COLOR SCHEMES!
GERMAIN STREET.
MANCHESTER ROBERTSON ALLISON Limited.