INTERVENTION WOULD BE WARMLY WELCOMED

All Parties Ready to Talk Terms to End Present Condition of Affairs.

This is the first of a series of four articles by Mr. Ackerman...

By CARL W. ACKERMAN. Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Co. London, July 9.—Ireland today is either on the verge of peace...

In London I have dined with Sinn Fein members of Parliament...

If mediation can be brought about by some individual American citizen...

Then there are the disintegrating Irish railways. Day by day the trains are run, and the hour is rapidly approaching when all traffic will be at a standstill...

Outstanding Facts in Situation. The facts about Ireland today are these:

There are two governments, Sinn Fein and British; there are two armies, republican and royal. The south and west of Ireland, as the Times admits, are solidly Sinn Fein.

Dublin is the heart and soul of the republican movement. While I was in the capital, the Daily Freeman was meeting with but few available members present. Where this underground Irish Parliament was meeting...

Illustrating this underground war psychology, a friend of mine said he was coming out of his office one day when he heard several shots fired not far down the street.

OLD CABINET FOR FEW MONTHS

Maritime Provinces Will be the First to Test Popularity of the New Leader.

Ottawa, Ont., July 9.—Hon. Arthur Meighen will be sworn in as First Minister tomorrow but it is not probable that he will announce his cabinet until Tuesday.

"We do not ask your agreement to the penalties, we reserve the right to take in case of non-execution of your engagements. We simply warn you of our intentions. It is notification we have given you, purely and simply, of the measures you may expect if you do not disarm under the conditions specified."

The Maritime Provinces will be first asked to test the popularity of the new leader and if the Government is successful there other cabinet changes will follow with elections in Quebec, Ontario and Alberta.

Hon. N. W. Rowell, leaves tonight for his home and next week will go to England on a long vacation. Hon. Martin Burrell, the other retiring minister has taken over his duties as parliamentary librarian.

GERM BOMBS PREDICTED FOR THE NEXT WAR

American Doctor Says Planes Will Drop Bacteria Capsules on Enemy Cities in Future Conflicts.

TRIBUTE PAID TO GENERAL GORGAS

Work of American Hospital Highly Praised by Speakers at Banquet.

Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Co. London, July 8.—Doctor Charles H. Mayo, of Rochester, Minn., last night astonished a select group of prominent British and American scientists and officials by predicting that the next war would be one of bacteria dropped from airplanes over enemy cities. Speaking at a dinner in honor tendered by the officers and board of governors of the American Hospital in London, and in the presence of Ambassador Davis, Lord Reading, Lord Bryce, Arthur James Balfour and other distinguished citizens, he said that as medical science advanced "it would make it almost impossible for armies to fight. In the future what will be like? It will be a war of invisible organisms; it will be a war of dropping capsules of bacteria over cities which will have the most destructive effects."

Doctor Mayo's speech was in the nature of a review of the progress of medical science. He declared that the next advance in civilization would be in medicine, that group medicine and not individual work was the future of medicine and that medical men, especially those of England and America should devote their efforts "in the line of humanity," because while the next war might be one of bacteria, it would be the task of doctors in the future to prevent casualties from the germ bombs of enemy powers.

One of England's noted physicians, who sat beside your correspondent, added that doctors would be the field marshals of future wars.

Power Co. And The Local Union

Negotiations Still Going on Regarding Wages and Hours and Operation of One-Man Street Cars—General Manager McCauley Talks.

"That negotiations were still going on with a committee representing the Local Union, No. 261, of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, regarding wages and hours and the operation of one-man street cars," was the statement by Thomas H. McCauley, General Manager of the New Brunswick Power Company...

"I had a meeting with the representatives of the men Thursday evening," said the manager, "but," he added, "No agreement was reached so far as the operation of one-man cars are concerned, but I am convinced there was a better understanding all round, when the boys left the office."

"The committee submitted a proposition to operate new fully-equipped cars of the single door type, but as they would not be suitable for St. John during the winter and the excessive ice settlement was made in this connection."

Mr. McCauley said he explained to the representatives of the men that the company would be willing to install air-brakes for reconstructed cars necessary to be operated on the main lines, with all the appliances and labor-saving devices, equal in every way, to cars operated by members of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America in scores of cities throughout the United States and Canada, including Spokane, Calgary, Seattle, Lehigh, Edmonton, Moose Jaw and many other cities with hills and grades for more dangerous than in St. John.

Mr. McCauley expressed the hope that the men would decide to operate the one-man car, and avoid the necessity of having to cut down the service "the company," he said, "did not want to inconvenience the public, but it would be impossible to meet the demands of the men and the high cost of material, in fact everything that enters into the operation of a street railway system and continue the same service at the present fare which cannot be raised until July 1st. The non-productive hours, he said, would have to do with less service which would mean a reduction of employees and less maintenance."

"I have received many letters regarding the operation of one-man cars in other cities and they are at your disposal," said the manager, "if you care to make use of them."

Among the letters favoring the one-man car system are those from J. J. Woods, editor of the Calgary Herald; A. J. Graves, Commissioner of Public Utilities, Calgary; S. J. Hamlin, Mayor of Moose Jaw; J. G. Rutherford, Commissioner Board of Railways, Ottawa; D. T. Campbell, Secretary Calgary Board of Trade; J. S. Ryan, Secretary, Calgary; C. E. T. Richardson, Manager Calgary Exhibition; F. R. Freeze, Manager Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association, Calgary; E. S. Kerby, former President Local Council of Women, Calgary; J. O'Connor, Barrister, Calgary; W. G. Murray, Assistant General Manager, British Columbia and Local Union, No. 235 Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, Calgary.

"We are very grateful to you for having provided us with the best wages and conditions of any street railway employee in America," Mr. McCauley said he had received an illuminated address from the members of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, which he appreciated very much, and the declaration by these men that they had obtained the highest wages and best working conditions in America should be convincing evidence that one-man cars could be operated in St. John as well as in Calgary. The men in Calgary, he said, operate cars weighing 20 tons, seating 78 passengers. When the cars were remodelled the men were receiving 42 cents an hour, but as the service prospered they prospered with it, with the result that they openly declare that they are the best paid men in America."

St. Michael's Band rendered a much enjoyed programme during the evening. COLLIERIES IDLE AT WATERFORD

Men Quit Work in Protest at Refusal of Superintendents to Meet and Discuss Grievances.

Sydney, N. S., July 9.—Two collieries at Waterford were idle today when the men held a mass meeting of protest, owing to the refusal of the Superintendents to meet them and discuss certain grievances. A strong delegation was sent to Glace Bay to confer with H. J. McCann, president of the Dominion Coal Company. Other locals in the mining areas have taken up the same question. The Phoslog local at Glace Bay has taken up the same question, stating that the executive of the United Mine Workers in interviews with the Superintendents can not take up local grievances and give the proper satisfaction, not having on the ground details to explain to the officials. However, it is thought that a three-cornered compromise will possibly accompany the executive of the United Mine Workers in interviews on such matters with the head officials of the Dominion Coal Company.

A splendid supper was served a large number of patrons, and the refreshment, ice cream and other booths were accorded a liberal patronage. St. Michael's Band rendered a much enjoyed programme during the evening. A social dance on a large pavilion erected on the grounds was arranged as the closing number, but owing to the weather conditions this was held in the Town Hall. There was a large number present, and a most enjoyable time was spent.

A. N. McKay, whose resignation as Town Superintendent was accepted by the Town Council on Monday night, left yesterday for Amherst, N. S., where he has accepted a position in the Public Works Department of that town. Mr. McKay has been Town Superintendent for the past twenty years, and much regret is felt at his departure. Citizens generally are commending McKay for his position. T. J. Carroll has opened a vulcanizing shop in the Marquis building, Water street. Mr. Carroll recently finished an eight months' course at this work.

Harbor Commission Act Discussed

City Council Spent Considerable Time Over the Matter Yesterday Afternoon and Adjourned Until Wednesday for Further Information.

The city council spent considerable time yesterday afternoon in a discussion of the Harbor Commission Act and the agreement of 1911 and finally adjourned to meet on Wednesday morning next at 11 o'clock when further information regarding the revenue and expenses of the harbor and the opinion of the recorder re the validity of the agreement of 1911 in view of the Act of 1913.

The section regarding boundaries was first taken up and Commissioner Bullock contended that under that section, taking in as it did from Green Head to below the Island, the harbor would be charged with 3 1/2 per cent interest on the breakwaters as well as wharves although Hon. Mr. Carvell had expressed himself as of the opinion that such works were not a part of the harbor and did not come under the scope of the Harbor Commission Act.

Mayor Schofield thought the section made it plain that only wharves and elevators were included in the things on which interest was to be charged. Section seven in regard to the control and administration of the harbor was another section discussed.

The mayor asked how much good it was going to do the city if they kept control and whether there was any money to keep up the harbor if it was not sold to the government.

Commissioner Bullock contended that the agreement of 1911 made ample provision for the extension of facilities and no more wharves were needed on the west side anyway unless the C. P. R. was double tracked from Montreal and that so far as capital expenditure was concerned there would be very little increase as in the next ten years many of the bonds would be falling due and be paid off.

In answer to a question Mayor Schofield said the revenue for the government wharves for 1917-18 was $69,000, the capital investment in wharves and elevator was $3,865,000 and this at 3 1/2 per cent would call for a revenue of $135,000.

Commissioner Jones suggested that a table showing the receipts and expenditures of the harbor for the past ten years be prepared and this would show the people whether it was worth hanging onto the harbor or not.

The mayor asked how the C. P. R. felt about the matter but no one could say where they stood on the matter.

Commissioner Frink suggested that the present Act and the agreement of 1911 be considered together and see which was the best for the city. He pointed out that practically all the east side wharves were private property and quite a lot of the west side frontage had been handed over to the government already. While he did not think the government would exact payment if the receipts were not sufficient to pay the interest on investment, nor believe they would make the charges high enough to drive away trade, the subject would be carefully considered before action was taken.

Personally he was not wedded to harbor commission but he did have an open mind on the matter and wanted all the facts before deciding.

He had taken a part in the drawing of the agreement of 1911 and still believed it was a good one. He also raised the question as to whether the Harbor Commission Act invalidated that agreement and suggested the recorder's opinion on that phase of the matter be secured.

Commissioner Jones thought there was not sufficient information on which to vote and pressed for a statement of receipts and expenditures for the past ten years.

Commissioner Bullock did not think this would be fair as the figures would show a deficit but the story in the future would be different.

Mayor Schofield said he could prepare the statement asked for and also in his report tell of the future.

On motion it was decided to defer action until Wednesday when a meeting will be held at 11 o'clock at which the information asked for by Commissioner Jones will be available and the report of city solicitor, Baxter on the validity of the agreement of 1911.

Assyrian Colony Welcomes Bishop

Large Number at Depot Early This Morning to Welcome Vice-Patriarch of the East, Archbishop Khouri, of Mount Lebanon.

The Vice-Patriarch of the East, Archbishop Khouri, of Mount Lebanon, Palestine, arrived in the city on the Boston train early this morning. Despite the hour a large number of the men and women of the local Syrian colony were on hand to greet the distinguished prelate and offer him their homage.

In addition to the delegation which met the Archbishop at the train a committee of three were sent by the Syrian Protective Association to meet him at McAdam and extend the welcome of the Syrians of St. John. The committee was comprised of Arthur Wakeham, John B. Shails and Thomas Stevens.

St. John is the first Canadian city to be favored by a visit from the archbishop. During his stay here he will be a guest at the Bishop's Palace. Father Allen and Father McCarty represented Bishop LeBlanc at the station this morning and conducted the archbishop to the Palace.

It is probable that after his visit here His Grace will tour the rest of the Dominion in a visit to all the Syrian colonies in Canada.

Police Court Cases Yesterday

Number of Drunks, Non-Support Case, Having Liquor in Possession, Theft and Assault Cases Made up the Docket.

In the police court yesterday afternoon William Guthro, charged with being drunk and having liquor in his possession was fined $200 or eight months in jail. Two other drunks were fined $58 or two months.

A charge of non-support was preferred against Frank Buck by his wife. She stated that her husband had left home on the 28th of June without telling her where he was going. From then until July 8th she knew nothing of his whereabouts and had nothing to support herself and two year old son but her husband's pension of $6 a month. She also complained that her husband when drunk swore at her and abused her. The accused admitted having left home. He went to the races in Woodstock, he said, and back to his old home. He had always supported his wife in the past and promised if the magistrate would be lenient with him, he would do better, and made up his mind to quit drinking in the future. The magistrate was about to dismiss the case when the sister-in-law of the accused wanted to know what was going to be done about her dress. On being questioned by the magistrate she stated that her sister's husband while drunk had torn a piece out of her dress. She valued the garment at $25, and did not think it could be repaired. The accused promised to make good the damages, and was allowed to go after promising to try and do better and leave drink alone.

James E. Verrier was charged with the assault of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Hatty, in her home on Brussels street. The case was taken up in the morning court, the accused pleading not guilty.

Mrs. Hatty stated that her son-in-law while under the influence of liquor took her by the shoulders and shook her, he also threatened to kick her, and said he would murder the family and burn down the house. She did not wish to send him to jail, but wanted him bound over to keep the peace. The case was settled to the satisfaction of all concerned when it was resumed in the afternoon, and the defendant was allowed to go. L. A. Conlon appeared for the complainant.

One case before the morning court might be taken as a revelation of the woman in the home in the present enlightened age, it was that in which Florence Mary Prince, was charged with assaulting her husband, Thomas Prince. The husband said that for the last few weeks he had a great deal of trouble with his wife: that she had kept bad hours and had been exacting in her demands for money. One night, the witness said, as he was in bed his wife came over to the side of the bed and struck him continually until he was forced to stop her. He said in consequence of information he went to Seaside Park where he found his wife with another. He said he asked her to go home with him and she did after a few minutes, but when they were going to the car she struck him in the face. Cross-examined by Roy A. Davidson, counsel for the accused, the witness said he had never used threatening language nor physical violence to her. He also said he never used a revolver or threatened her in any way.

Florence Mary Prince, the wife, said that her husband said if anything happened between them he would ridicule her and somebody else with bullets. She said he produced a loaded revolver at the time. On the night of the alleged assault she said she took hold of her by the arms and forced her up to her room. She pleaded not guilty, and the case was postponed until her mother could be summoned as a witness.

After withdrawing the plea of not guilty, and pleading guilty to the charge preferred against them, that of stealing five cases of whiskey from the store of George K. Bell, Charlotte street, Lewis and William Doyle, William Alexander and George Haynes, were allowed to go on suspended sentence. Edward McGarrigue was exonerated from all connection with the theft, and the charge against him was withdrawn.

Four drunks pleaded guilty and were remanded.

Leonard Phillips was reported for exceeding the speed limit in Main street. The accused said he was in a hurry and did not realize he was going so fast. He was fined $10.

Five juveniles were reported for riding bicycles on the sidewalks and were allowed to go with a caution.

ST. JOHN BOY IN MISSION WORK

At the annual meeting of the Canadian Methodist Mission held in Arima, Japan, recently, the Rev. E. C. Hennigar was elected president and Rev. M. M. Whiting, secretary, for the coming year. Reports from each station were read setting forth a record of the year's accomplishments of the mission workers. All the families of the missionaries including the children were present at the meeting. This was a new departure and promises to be the rule henceforth.

Rev. E. C. Hennigar mentioned above is a St. John boy and has been engaged in mission work in the Far East for some years. During the war he secured his release from his field of labor there and served in France with a Chinese labor battalion. He returned to the East about a year ago after the cessation of hostilities.

Leonard Phillips, who was reported for exceeding the speed limit in Main street, the accused said he was in a hurry and did not realize he was going so fast. He was fined $10.

Five juveniles were reported for riding bicycles on the sidewalks and were allowed to go with a caution.

James Ireland, aged forty-five years, an employe at the Courtenay Bay Works, was killed by a ten ton rock which slipped from the sling of a hoisting derrick on which he was working. Clarence Porter who gives the signals to the men in charge of the hoist was the only witness of the accident. He shouted a warning to Ireland of his impending danger but even as he spoke the ponderous rock fell, striking Ireland on the back and hurling him to the ground. Dr. T. E. Bishop was called but the man died a few minutes after the doctor arrived. The deceased lived with his sister on the Sandy Point Road.

Coroner Horace A. Porter was notified and he viewed the remains yesterday afternoon, deciding that an inquest was necessary. He will probably empanel a jury today and the inquest will be held Monday evening.

VOTE TODAY

For Light Wine and Beers

REMEMBER you have the right to say whether you want the government of this province to permit the sale of Light Wine and Beers.

More than 75 per cent of the adult population of New Brunswick want Beer and Light Wine. They won't get it unless they go to the polls today and vote for it.

YOU ARE IN GOOD COMPANY

With The Church

REV. E. B. HOOPER, Chaplain of the Famous "Fighting 26th," writes:

"My own judgment is that this Act has failed in its purpose. I am D. V. going to vote against it, and for 'light wines and beer.' My chief hope is that there may be at least a majority in favor of light wines and beer."

REV. R. H. H. BULTELL, Assistant Priest in Christ Church Cathedral (Anglican), Fredericton, speaking from the pulpit Sunday evening, said:

"That as far as prohibition is concerned, he endorsed Major Rev. E. B. Hooper's letter, and stated that from what he had seen of the way the act is working here he considered it a failure. He intended, he said, to vote opposing the act and for light wines and beer."

With The Doctor

DR. J. S. BENTLEY, President of the N. B. Medical Society: "The use of light wine and beer has much to recommend in preference to the adulterated and poisonous liquors which are on sale today."

DR. G. A. B. ADDY, "I am prescribing for one hundred per cent more dope feeds today than before Prohibition came into force. The way the act is being carried out is a criminal outrage."

DR. J. W. ROBERTSON, scientist and food expert, is reported to have attributed the saving of the British nation from an epidemic of scurvy during the war to the drinking of beer.

THE LONDON MEDICAL JOURNAL declares that the medical profession is not convinced of the desirability of total prohibition.

With The Worker

MR. TOM MOORE, President of the Trades and Labor Council in Canada, says:

"The prohibition measures introduced in Canada have caused a feeling of injustice to the workers of Canada. I make this declaration, feeling that the workers of Canada want to be able to have beer and light wines as part of the social enjoyment they are entitled to."

The A. F. of L., representing 4,000,000 workers of the United States, has gone on record as in favor of the manufacture and sale of light wine and beer, a stand which is endorsed as well by the T. and L. Congress of Canada.

With The Press

(From the London Times, the World's Greatest Newspaper, Jan. 22, 1919.)

"In this country, where we have followed a more moderate policy (permitting the manufacture and sale of beer), there has been wrought the greatest change in the habits of the people ever recorded and the greatest reduction of drunkenness ever accomplished in any country."

(Saturday Night, Toronto, Jan. 1919.)

"By a skilled use of all the arts of the corrupt and autocratic political boss, and by availing themselves of every constitutional technicality, the prohibition party of the United States has undoubtedly won a great tactical victory, but to pretend that there is anything 'moral' about it is SHEER HYPOCRISY."

These gentlemen will be out in force to take "Bone Dry" voters to the polls in their cars today. It is a fact that the "King of the Boot Leggers" in St. John has a large number of cars corralled so that they can be used for no other purpose than carrying voters to the polls to vote for Prohibition.

Grand Circuit Races Yesterday

Feature of the Week, Ohio Stake of $5,000 for 208 Trotters, Went to An Ohio Driver, Columbus Won With Peter Coley.

North Randall, Cleveland, July 9.—The Ohio stake of $5,000 for 208 trotters, the feature of the week on the Grand Circuit programme, went to an Ohio driver today, when Peter Coley, driven by Charles Valentine, Columbus, won in three straight heats, all hotly contested.

E. Colorado, driven by W. R. Cox, was second, and Peter June, driven by Ed. Geers, was third.

Peter Coley won the first heat in a slashing drive from Peter June, took the second from E. Colorado in a stretch sprint and won the third from Golden Spier, in a hard drive. Brustloff, equal favorite in the auction betting with Peter Coley, was a keen disappointment to his backers. He was never prominent, finishing eighth in the first and third heats and fourth in the second.

The Tavern stake for 14 class trotters, another $5,000 purse event, was won by Alta Donovan, driven by Tommy Murphy, which took the second and third heats after finishing third in the first.

Arion McKinley, driven by Erskine, was second and Ed. Geers' Wiki Wild was third.

The 218 class trot went to Walnut Frisco when he captured the second and third heats after finishing second to Norman Dillon in the first. All three heats were hard fought between Walnut Frisco, Norman Dillon and Alcola, the latter finishing second in the second and third heats.

Ethel Chimes, second choice in the betting, won the 214 class race in straight heats; James Albert, the favorite, finishing second.

The St. Peter's Team Won From Moncton

After Returning from Amherst and Truro the St. John Ball Players Won from Team in Railway Town Yesterday.

Moncton, N. B., July 9.—St. Peter's team, of St. John, on their return from playing a series of games in Amherst and Truro, defeated the Veterans five to three. King and Dever were the visiting battery, and McEellan and Cummings were the battery for Moncton.

Both teams scored a run in the first inning, and St. Peter's tallied again in the third and fifth. In the eighth the Veterans scored their second run. St. Peter's put two scores across the pan in the ninth. The Veterans had a strong rally in their half of the ninth, scoring one run, but good pitching by King stopped the comeback.

Moncton and St. Peter's are now even, both having won a game each. Two games are to be played here tomorrow.

France Leads With 350 At Antwerp

Antwerp, July 9.—It now appears that France will have the largest representation at the Olympic games. The French team will comprise 350 persons. The United States will be a close second, with 320. The number of entrants from Sweden has not been completed, but it is believed they will be in the neighborhood of 300.

OLYMPIC BOXING BOUTS

Present indications are that both the Riverside and Classic Clubs will be represented by large strings in the Olympic boxing trials next week at the Arena. These well-known clubs have produced many champions in the last few years, having practically monopolized the honors in the local tournaments, but they will be hard put to it to corner the titles in the coming Ontario tests. The University of Toronto intercollegiate champions are in active training for the big fight affair, and Sgt. Major Blake predicts that he will put the gloves on more than one winner on July 9 and 10. It will be remembered that in the city championships the only open competition that 'Varsity' had entries in the students won four classes.

GAME THIS AFTERNOON

A league game will be played this afternoon at 2.30 on the East End diamond between the G. W. V. A. and the Alerts.

Motorists From United States

Many Touring Automobile Parties Are Daily Arriving, Passing Through to Different Points in the Province.

The fine weather with which we have been blessed this Summer is daily drawing numerous motorists from across the border. Yesterday there emerged from out a cloud of dust on Douglas Avenue a handsome big eight cylinder car bearing the Massachusetts name plate. Hardly had the lovely vehicle passed out of sight when another sand storm was seen coming over the desert and out of the dust came another car, a merry jingle announced its coming and bearing the Rhode Island tag "the little old Ford just rumbled right along." Later in the day two cars came in from Illinois. Both cars had tents strapped to their running boards and it was evident that the tourists were not worried about the taxed hotel accommodations they might encounter on their trip.

FULTON TO MEET WILLS

New York, July 9.—Heavyweights Fred Fulton and Harry Wills will meet in the first bout of importance under the new law permitting boxing contests in New York. This announcement is made here by the International Sporting Club, which has matched the pugilists for a 15-round contest. The date will be made public later. Under the terms of agreement Fulton is to receive $25,000 and Wills $10,000, without any percentage or bonus arrangement. While no definite date has been announced, it is understood the contest will be held about the middle of July. It is intimated that the winner will be given an opportunity to face Champion Jack Dempsey later in the year.

MISS UHL'S RECORD SWIM

Riverton, N. J., July 9.—Miss Eleanor Uhl of the Meadow Brook Club of Philadelphia, not only romped away with a big victory in the three-mile swim in the Delaware River from Bricesburg to Riverton yesterday, but in addition she set up a new record of the three-mile course of 43 minutes and 15 seconds. By the victory she makes a strong bid for the distance place on the American Olympic team, for pitted against her were some of the foremost mermmaids in the East.

RECORD SWIM

Miss Uhl won by 150 yards, the previous record was 44 minutes 15 seconds, made last year by Miss Ethelda Bleibtrey of the New York Women's Swimming Association. Eighteen girls started and all finished. A strong tide helped in the fast time. Little Helen Walwright of New York finished second and Katherine Brown, the ten-year-old daughter of Alfred Brown, the veteran New York distance swimmer, finished fifth in 46 minutes 20 seconds.

WRESTLING AND BOXING TRIALS

Winnipeg, July 9.—There will be no Western Canada Olympic boxing and wrestling trials here tomorrow as scheduled by the Olympic committee. The Manitoba branch was to handle the affair but decided at the last minute not to go ahead with it, that any prospective Western entry must travel East for the trial in order to get a chance for the Antwerp trip.

POPULAR HORSEMAN HERE.

Frank Boutilier, the successful horseman of Halifax, was in the city today enroute to Woodstock, where his money-getters are entered in the races next week. Mr. Boutilier has a string of five fast ones this season, and he intends to stick to the Maritime Circuit with them.

WESTERN CANADA'S ADVANCE GUARD

Toronto, July 9.—The advance guard of Western Canada's Olympic representatives arrived in the city today. They are John Cameron, all-round champion of Canada, who is going in for the Olympic decathlon; Archy McDermid, a 56 pound weight man and John Murdoch, a hammer thrower all from Vancouver.

Eastern Semi-Final Boxing Trials

Montreal, July 9.—The following entries from the Maritime Provinces have been received for the Eastern semi-final boxing trials to be held here on Monday next.

145 lbs.—J. McKill, Glace Bay.
158 lbs.—A. McAdam, St. Mary's, Halifax.
Heavy—J. Hector Nolan, Glace Bay.

THE ST. STEPHEN RACING MATTER

St. Stephen, July 9.—The announcement appearing in the press today that the July Circuit meeting at St. Stephen had been abandoned proves to have been premature. There is every indication at present that every class will be filled splendidly. It is expected that official notes in the matter will be given tomorrow. The 213 mixed class has been changed to 222 trot.

TODAY'S VOTE.

Whatever may be the result of the polling today, it is most earnestly to be hoped that the largest vote obtainable will be cast out. It is most essential that the latest possible expression of opinion should be forthcoming in order that the course to be adopted with regard to the future of the liquor traffic may be satisfactorily settled. There is this to be said about it, interest in the question appears to be pretty thoroughly aroused, something that usually did not happen in elections conducted under the old Section Act. It seems to be generally conceded that the hopes of the Prohibition party, who set the outset expected to sweep the province, are not likely to be fulfilled to anything like the extent that was anticipated; indeed there are those—and they are in a good position to form a reliable opinion—who say that the beer and light wines proposal will most probably carry, as a compromise between the two extremes of "liquor as usual" and "bone dry." There are thousands of people who want hard liquor suppressed, but who are strongly opposed to absolute abstinence.

THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION.

Two newspaper publishers contending for the presidency of the United States is the unique tribute which is paid to the newspaper craft by the action respectively of the Republican and Democratic national conventions. As though to make the situation more interesting, these newspaper men come alike from the State of Ohio. Each is the head of a newspaper having no extraordinary qualities. One is a publisher at Marion, the other at Dayton. Both are keen men of affairs; neither is an extremist.

Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio, the Democratic nominee, had a strong opponent in William McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury and confidant of President Wilson. Party four ballots were necessary to decide the issue, and then it was made unanimous. The more conservative element within the party went for Cox. The McAdoo award to railway men, which industrial chiefs very generally blame for many of the labor troubles of the country, caused the capitalist interests to stand aloof from McAdoo, probably to a surprising extent, while it attracted to him vigorous labor support. Governor Cox, as a friend of labor and capital alike, could receive the support of both and finally did receive it.

The choice of Governor Cox will be generally satisfactory outside of the United States, since he, like Senator Harding, is regarded as "safe and sane." A man of domestic habits, albeit a man of affairs, as must be the case where his duties combine those of publisher and governor, the Democratic candidate, should be elected, will bring to the White House a temperament characteristic of that of the silver masters of the United States. Ohio is pleased with his services as governor, why should not the nation at large expect that a good governor will make a good president?

President Wilson is credited with having had all due recognition at the convention. The party platform is Wilsonian. But the selection of Governor Cox will go far toward saving to the Democratic party a large element of electoral strength that has been stigmatized more or less by the President's course. That is to say, Governor Cox may have the Wilson blessing without bearing the Wilson stigma. Had the nominee been Mr. McAdoo, despite his admitted strength, he would have had to meet the fact of the Wilson family relationship in a nation that is extremely jealous in such matters.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Some rather pointed remarks were made by Miss Annie Bock, formerly one of the most active female suffrage leaders in the United States, in the course of a letter to a member of the Tennessee legislature, which now has the question of female suffrage before it. Miss Bock says: "I was one of the prominent workers who helped to bring suffrage to California and I regret it. A year in politics has taught me that women are intolerant, radical, revolutionary and more corrupt in politics than men; also this so-called reform leads to the socialist co-operative commonwealth.

"Since suffrage there has been an alarming increase in immorality, divorce and murder in California. "Woman suffrage has made cowards and puppets of men. It has coarsened and cheapened women. Were the men to vote on woman suffrage in California today it would not carry. "Suffragists asked suffrage that they might put only good men in office; now they clamor for a fifty-fifty show for all offices. "I shall do penance forever for the part I played in bringing suffrage to California."

MEDICAL MEN AND THEIR PATIENTS.

English newspapers just to hand bring reports of a discussion which took place recently at a representative meeting of the British Medical Association regarding the obligation as to secrecy which is incumbent upon the medical profession to observe. The discussion arose out of the following incident.

A medical man was slowly poisoning his wife with arsenic. She was attended by another medical man who knew well what was being done. He discussed the position with the faculty and was told that he could make no disclosure. It was pointed out that if he did, the husband would stop administering the poison, and he himself would inevitably be involved in an action for slander. He doctor told his tongue and the woman died.

It is obviously not so easy as enthusiasts of the British Medical Association may have supposed to settle the question, "Should a doctor tell?" It is certainly disconcerting to find a mild word for it—to hear of a doctor who, on advice from the local faculty, allows another doctor to do his wife to death rather than speak and face a slander action. This sort of story leaves an unpleasant taste in the mouth. It may be right for doctors to protest against a want of secrecy which would undermine the patient's confidence. They must not forget that public confidence is founded also on their resolution in doing their duty as citizens—and as men. Honor, decency, and respect for the future generation may compel a doctor to "tell" in circumstances less sensational than those of attempted murder. Fortunately, the medical profession as a whole is manned by upright and high-principled men.

There is one very serious and, in our view, decisive objection to the demand for privilege under all conditions: it is that the ends of justice, in the case of persons charged with offences of the gravest kind, could not be met if the professional knowledge of doctors were made a sealed book. The innocent might be made to suffer unjustly and the guilty might escape punishment if a doctor were forbidden or could not be compelled to disclose his secrets in a court of law.

That is, however, the only occasion on which a doctor should be under the necessity of opening his mouth. Discretion in all other circumstances should be forced upon him by the regulations of his profession, and nothing that the British Medical Association may do to this end will be regarded as too drastic. To gossip is human, and, doctors being human beings, there is a regrettable tendency in many of them to make the ailments of their patients, particularly the technically interesting ones—a subject of discussion, thereby revealing much that ought to remain hidden. But a "confessional" for doctors goes too far.

Count Bernstorff, former German Ambassador to the United States, says that he himself was convinced after the first battle of the Marne, in 1914, that "victory was impossible." Out of the mouth of the enemy himself the truth is spoken.

The current issue of the Campbellton Graphic editorially endorses prohibition, and recommends that it be sustained. The Graphic's readers will probably agree with the editor, after trying to read the article.

"My heart is in the grave with our cause, and I must pause until it comes back to me," says William J. Bryan. Which sounds like a line from some of the deathless works of Laura Jean Libby.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

What is Man?
Man is a living being, intrinsically and properly one and individual, not compound and separable, not, according to the common opinion, made up of and formed of two distinct and different natures as soul and body—Milton.

Land and Freedom.
(Frederic C. Howe in "The High Cost of Living")
What we are most in need of is freedom; freedom of access to the hundreds of millions of acres of land that are held out of us.

For Proportional Representation.
(Manitoba Free Press.)
The moral of the Winnipeg election, contrasted with the results in the other constituencies noted, would seem to be that the Winnipeg system ought to be extended to the whole province without further delay. It might not be possible for minority candidates to sit in the legislature exercising an authority which, morally, is not theirs.

Inn or Suburb?
(Manchester Guardian.)
Chicago's amenities, it is said, will shortly be increased by the existence of the largest hotel in the world—a labyrinth whose guests will have a round four thousand rooms to get lost in. It is a good figure. New York—which claims the existing champion—can only put up half the number, and London's most complete continental has but a mere thousand apartments. It is all evidence of the very long way that some of these contemporary establishments have travelled from the inn which was their starting point. The inn was for the wayfarer a temporary resting-place for man and beast. The hotel, when it begins to approach the scale of Chicago's projected masterpiece, seems to have set itself out to achieve an argument against travel of any kind except trade—its and down illimitable corridors.

THE LAUGH LINE

It Sounds So Well.
Blue blood was the only thing Mrs. Newbridge had been able to buy; but she made up for the lack of it by ceaselessly hunting up acquaintance with the noisily and estray.
At an afternoon party she met a friend of similar social ambitions. "Oh, Mrs. Turfhunter," she exclaimed, "such good news! You'll be so busy!"
"Well out with it!" the friend sneered.
"Why, my dear," said Mrs. Newbridge, "Clara has caught the flu from the dear duchess!"

Obliging.
"Have you an opening here for me?" asked the assertive young man as he stood at the open door.
"Yes," answered the capitalist. "It is right behind you."

"No carb so economical as the dress-making gown," said "Prout." "Would that our suits were like it. For it rarely gets worn out."

IN THE EDITOR'S MAIL

St. Martins, July 8, 1920.

Dear Sir,—As so many of the good citizens are airing their grievances in your columns, may I be permitted space to tell your readers of our St. Martins roads, more particularly the western section. St. Martins is known as the "Coke Capital" of the province. Every year more and more motorists come to spend a few weeks or months with us. Let us look at the prospect ahead of them. Coming into the village by auto we drive down what is known as Chapel Hill, at the foot of this hill a bad landslide took place some two months ago, carrying away about half the road in width. At present there isn't room for two cars to pass. Continuing west past Whitney's Corner to the West Quaco post office, there is and has been since April, a bad hole extending half across the street, at the present writing, ornamented by several poles, upright, surmounted by an old pump (the hole known locally as the "Pump Hole"). A couple of rods further there is a hole which would delight a dealer in auto fixtures. It is an ideal place in which to smash a spring. Continuing we come to Oak Creek Bridge. This bridge needed a new covering last year, so far it still needs it.

Last Fall we were promised repairs to our sidewalks. They haven't been touched in the past three years. In fact the only work done on the extreme western section, was to spill the best bit of roadway in the village by digging deep gutters on both sides. This work was done in the first year of the Foster administration. Do you blame us for feeling sore. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for space in your valuable paper.

I remain,
A DISGRUNTLED VOTER.

NEWSPAPER MAN UNDER ARREST

Charged With Theft of $600.—25—Released on $20,000 Bail.

Victoria, July 9.—Griffith R. Hughes proprietor of the Victoria Times, was arrested here last night on a charge of stealing $600.25 from Messrs. David Spencer, Limited, a local department store. Application for bail was refused on account of the large sums alleged to be involved.

The Times will say in part today: "Griffith R. Hughes appeared before Magistrate Jay in police court this morning and was remanded until Tuesday morning. Mr. Hughes was released on $20,000 bail. A plea of not guilty was entered by Mr. Hughes' attorney, H. A. McLeod. The warrant read in court against Mr. Hughes charged that on the 22nd day of November, 1919, in the city of Victoria, did unlawfully steal $600.25, the property of David Spencer, Limited, contrary to the criminal code."

This afternoon as fellows was sitting on my front steps wondering what to do, and Pus Simkins sed, I feel you wa', fellows, lets have some kind of a athletic contest, lets see who can make them self the reddest in the face by holding their breath the longest.

Aw we all know you can hold your breath longer than anybody else, thats the only reason you want to play that, nothing doing, sed Sid Hunt.

I tell you wats a good contest, lets see who can wank along the curbstone the furthest without losing their ballents, sed Shinary Martin.

Shinary being the best carbstone wawker of embody, and we all sed, lsko back its a wonder you wouldnt pick out your own wank, lets see who can wank the furthest without losing their ballents, sed Shinary Martin.

G, fellows I tell you lets wats, lets see who can stand on their hands the longest, sed my cousin Artie. His being the longest handstander in the crowd and always standing on his hands when he cant think of anything else to do, and I sed, O yes, like fun we will, just to give you a chance to beat us, like art.

I know a good one, fellows, lets put a little piece of paper down and see who can make it move by standing the furthest away and blowing at it.

Me being the best blower of any of them, and they all started to make farre noises as if I had insulted them or something, and after that Sid Hunt made a suggestion to see who could wank the longest 2 fingers the longest on account of him knowing its would be the one, and after that Ed Wer-nok wanted us all to go around to Smalls meet store and see who could chin theirself the most times on the thing that holds the evening up, on account of him being able to chin himself 5 times, and the result was we just keep on setting there without trying anything.

BRITISH TO LIQUIDATE DEBT

Buenos Ayres, July 9.—Arrangements have been made by the British Government to liquidate its debt of $100,000,000 to Argentina. It is proposed to make this payment by meeting periodically the interest on Argentina's external debt held in London. The July 1 payment has been made and Great Britain has already liquidated half of her debt which was for payment for cereals, by paying off obligations amounting to $50,000,000 which Argentina owed United States banks.

Vote FOR Prohibition TODAY

Election Information

The Act in Brief
The present Prohibition Act legislates against the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes, and only allows it for manufacturing, sacramental and medicinal purposes.

The Act also provides for enforcement of the law and penalties for violation.

This Act was a war-time measure and the Government now wish to know from the electors whether they want Prohibition or not.

We Know Its Faults
The Act is weak in that it allows too much latitude in the case of doctors, druggists and vendors who have practically the dispensing of liquors within their own hands.

Further Legislation Depends on You
Application has already been made by the Temperance people to have the Act amended in regard to the recognized weaknesses and the Government is sympathetic — But Note This — the Government put off the granting of these improvements to make the Act more effective until the result of this election proves that the people want Prohibition, and by the majority of the vote the Government will know just how badly the Electors do want it.

Your Vote
at this Election may have very important influence on the future action of the Government.

Are You Aware of This?
In 1919 an Act Passed the House, providing that the Government shall take over the entire liquor business within the province, for the three purposes contained in the Act, and also giving them more stringent control over the sale of extracts, essences and tinctures — But Mark You, the Government has refused to take action on this amendment until the voice of the people has been heard at the coming election.

Stop Importation Our Next Move
Authority to Prevent the Importation of Liquor into the Province does not rest with the Provincial, but with our Dominion Government, which has already stated that a vote may be taken on the question in New Brunswick, on the recommendation of the Legislature. If the result at the coming election satisfies them that the people actually want Prohibition — we are sure to get it.

WHAT YOUR BALLOT CAN DO TODAY

- FIRST — Provide the way for necessary Amendments to the Act that will make it really effective.
- SECOND — Show the Government that the people Demand Prohibition, and want the laws enforced.
- THIRD — Hasten the election that can shut out the importation of liquor into the Province.

IN THE EDITOR'S MAIL

St. John, N. B., 9th July, 1920.
To the Editor of The Standard:
Sir,—It seems to me to be a matter for the deepest regret that the public spirited citizens who are promoting the cause of prohibition in anticipation of the impending plebiscite should limit their endeavors to their present narrow bounds when there are so many other things besides wine and beer which might be prohibited. How much mental stress might these gentlemen avoid if, instead of endeavoring to find a Biblical justification for prohibition of liquor, they were to organize a campaign for the prohibition of profanity, for which their authority could be found in the ten commandments? How many poor human sufferers and victims of over zeal might they not save from ruin and disgrace should they succeed in obtaining legislation to prohibit lying? Consider the incalculable benefits of such a law at a time such as this when facts are distorted, truths are pressed and prominent citizens haled to the courts for libel.

I hesitate to suggest the prohibition of the manufacture of flavoring extracts, but merely mention in passing that it appears to have assumed the proportions of one of our most prosperous local industries and as such should be fostered and encouraged for the financial betterment of the community.

I feel called upon on this the first occasion that I have broken into print during the present campaign, to express the intense degree of pleasure afforded to my aesthetic nature by the Prohibition Art Gallery appearing daily in the Press. This remarkable collection begins with a photograph of five children, concerning which legal proceedings have since been instituted, posing to a shocking likeness of Chief of Police Finley, concerning which, if the Chief possesses any personal vanity legal proceedings ought to be instituted, proceeds to a caricature of the Police Magistrate which, whatever the effect upon the feelings of the original (or should I say victim) offends the taste of every member of the community who is familiar with His Honors genial countenance and ends (I trust) this morning with a photograph of the man who says he prefers the bootlegger to the legally authorized dealer, namely none other than Chief Rideout. The worthy leader of the Moncton police force is quoted in the press from a communication to Mr. Donald Fraser in the following sapient words: "Much as the bootleggers are to be despised, still I am of the opinion that it is better for the sale of liquor to be confined to bootleggers than sold openly and given sanction of the law." As an ardent advocate of temperance I need hardly comment upon the depth of thought, wisdom and zeal for human welfare expressed in this profound utterance. I have heard that some of the licensed vendors are contributing to the Prohibition campaign fund. Surely no one will tell me that the honest, hardworking bootlegger has also been obliged to part with some of his earnings.

I have been deeply pained and grieved to observe that the liquor inspectors have so far prevented the obvious purpose of the Prohibition Act as to take steps resulting in several members of the executive of the Prohibition Committee being fined for violation of the Act. I may not be an abstemious myself, but I nevertheless feel that if I were on the executive of a teetotal society and were found guilty of breach of such a sacred law, I would withdraw at least temporarily from the society, or at least be placed to a higher court. Alas, however, I momentarily overlooked the fact that the accused under the Prohibition Act has no appeal, hence some frantic application to the government, who have no authority to cross a T or dot an I in the Act. However let the lemon extract dealers stew in their own gravy.

Yours, etc.,
IN VINO VERITAS.

St. John, July 9.
To the Editor of The Standard:
Dear Sir,—One of the chief topics of conversation on the streets today was the astounding statement of Chief Rideout, of the Moncton police force, whose cut and remarks regarding the "Prohibition Act" appeared in the morning papers as an advertisement of the "Prohibitionists." Here is what the officer of the law says, a man whose oath of office requires him to uphold and defend law and order: "Much as the bootleggers are to be despised, still I am of the opinion that it is better for the sale of liquor to be confined to bootleggers than sold openly and given sanction of the law." Mr. Rideout speaks with considerable authority, and his experience of many years suggests respect for his opinion in this matter.—Advt.

Was there ever a more flagrant violation of true citizenship than this? Was there ever a more damaging statement made against "Prohibition?" This is just my opinion, and the reason of thousands of others for voting against such an impudent act. The death rate in this province as the result of the blood sucking bootlegger since "Prohibition" now numbers nearly twenty, nearly twenty murders, the result of the bootleggers' wood alcohol concoctions. What do the mothers of growing families think of this? The St. John Globe, while publishing an advertisement tonight the cut of this marvellous gentleman omits the above damaging statement. I presume these "Prohibitionists" have at last seen the error of their low down fanatical campaign. I respectfully submit to the Moncton Police Commission, for action, a statement so un-British and so un-Christian. In the name of Heaven let us respect the laws of our land or abolish them.

Yours truly,
DECENCY.

We have received a somewhat lengthy communication from a correspondent at Wolford, but owing to the lateness of its arrival and the press of other matters on our space today, we are obliged to omit it. We would have been compelled to omit certain portions of it in any event, as we are unable to decipher some words without which no sense could have been made of the sentences in which they occur.—Ed.

To the Editor of the St. John Standard:
Would you please give space in your valuable paper for the following:

To the G. W. V. A. Members,
Comrades:—The Rev. Com. Kuhring, at our last monthly meeting, has threatened to do all in his power to destroy and disband our association and take our home away from us. The aims and objects of the association is to protect and look after the widows and orphans of our fallen comrades.

While Com. Kuhring can see his side of the question, other members see the opposite and it lays to the near future to see which side is right. If the Com. Kuhring seems so bitter towards the question that made him resign and threaten our home, why does not Com. Kuhring tell the Rev. Marshall, or the chief inspector and let them deny the charges made against them that same evening.

It lays with you comrades now, come forward quickly, pay your dues, and let us hold our home together in spite of this threat.

Yours,
W. C. PINK.

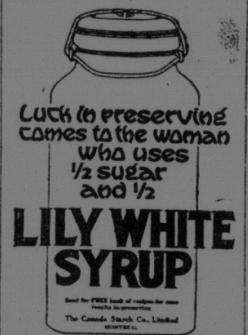

To the Editor of The Standard:
Dear Sir,—In common with most of your readers, no doubt, I read with considerable interest the letters in your valuable paper today from Rev. Mr. Hutchinson and Mr. McDonnell. I don't know just what conclusion your other readers may have come to regarding them, but to my mind, as an empty bluffer Mr. Hutchinson is in a class by himself.

Yours, etc.,
F. C. BRADLEIGH.

Mr. Editor,
I notice in this afternoon's Globe that Magistrate Ritchie, speaking of the evils to be found in the city, declared that women were worse than drink in St. John. How would it be to hold a plebiscite to decide whether we should do away with them? It seems to be the logical thing to do under present circumstances.

Yours,
ADAM.
North End, Friday evening.

Nursing Sister Honored By Kin

Miss A. Sutherland Yesterday Received the Distinguished Service Order from His Majesty King George.

Friends of Miss A. Sutherland, one of the nurses at the Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis will congratulate her upon a high honor received yesterday. This is the Distinguished Service Order from His Majesty King George. The announcement reads as follows:

"Nursing Sister A. Sutherland, No. 3 Canadian Stationary Hospital, N. S., mentioned in dispatches by Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, 8th November, 1918. I have it in command from the King to record His Majesty's appreciation of the services rendered by you."

It is signed by the Secretary of State. Questioned as to the reason for this special mention, Miss Sutherland, like all other brave soldiers would not talk about it or take any personal credit for bravery, but said she was at No. 3 when it was bombed and during the big push of 1918.

Miss Sutherland wears the ribbon of the Royal Red Cross as well as the service ribbon, one for general service and the Victoria ribbon. She also has the Oak Leaf Emblem indicating that she was mentioned in dispatches.

Before going to France Miss Sutherland was in St. John, returning here last May and taking up the anti-tuberculosis work.

MY LADY'S CLUB LIMITS.

As women's clubs run like board- ing schools? asks the London Daily Express. One exceedingly select London establishment has lately started turning off the electric light at the main at 10:30 o'clock every evening. Another boasts of two elderly members on its own committee who are proud to reiterate that neither of them has ever tasted a drop of wine in her life. A third well-known club allows each of its members one rough cotton towel a week and no more, and has lately adopted the custom of chaining boxes of matches to the smoking-room table. "Our bridge stakes have been cut down to tenpence a hundred," grumbles a member of a club not far from Dover street. "Men guests are not allowed in our reception rooms after 11:30, so that if we are entertaining our men friends we are humiliated by their being requested to leave by the hall porter."

Much of the winter's study for proficiency badges has now been put to practical use and the girls have proved upland comrades and useful members of their corps.

POLICE CHIEF AYERS GIVES HIS TESTIMONY

"My Only Regret Is That I Didn't Meet Up With Tanlac Years Ago," Says Popular New York Officer.

"My experience with Tanlac had been remarkable and I feel that I would be dodging my duty not to come out and tell my friends about it," was the statement made by W. E. Ayers, Chief of Police of Montour Falls, N. Y., in an interview a few days ago.

Mr. Ayers has been Chief of Police of Montour Falls continuously for thirty-four years, and although now seventy-five years of age, he performs the duties of his office with the same alertness and vigor that has been characteristic of him ever since he received his first appointment.

Mr. Ayers is not only widely known as an officer, but is also prominent as a man and citizen. In 1863, at the age of eighteen, he volunteered for service in the Civil War, engaged in many of the fiercest battles, and after the struggle ended he returned to his people and his home town, Montour Falls, unscathed.

"For a good many years," said Mr. Ayers, "I have been subject to frequent and distressing attacks of indigestion, and have tried about everything known in the way of medicine, but always with the same disappointing results until I got Tanlac.

"When these attacks came on me I had such terrible pains in the pit of my stomach that I would just double up like a jack-knife, with both hands folded around me holding a hot water bag to my stomach. These spells with my stomach were the one thing I dreaded above all else because they meant the worst of misery and torture to me.

"About a month ago I began to read about Tanlac and was so impressed with what others said the medicine had done for them that I concluded to try it myself. Well, in my case it has come up to every good word I read about it. I had hardly finished my first bottle when I could tell it was doing the work.

"It is by far the best medicine I have ever come across. Why, I can now eat what I want without fear of indigestion, for Tanlac has put my stomach in fine condition. Tanlac has built up my whole system, adding to my weight and giving me strength I never thought possible for a man of my age to have. It has proved to be such a wonderful thing in my case that I am telling all my friends about it.

"I am back at my desk every day with energy and strength to tackle any task that may come up. They say a man is only as old as he feels and if that is true I am just about forty-five and I can't find words to fully express just how wonderful I think Tanlac is. My only regret is that I did not meet up with it years ago, as it would have saved me so much suffering and unhappiness.

"If the rest of the people who are in poor health don't try Tanlac they'll certainly be the losers. I believe it will help anybody who gives it a fair trial."

WOMEN CAMPING ON COX'S TRAIL

After Him to Secure Franchise for Women in Tennessee—Threaten to Picket if He Hedges.

Washington, July 9.—The National Woman's party it was announced tonight will turn its guns upon Governor Jas. M. Cox, Democratic nominee for the presidency, in an effort to insure ratification of the suffrage amendment in Tennessee so that all the women in the United States may vote at the November election.

A telegram was sent today to Dr. Gillette Hayden, of Columbus, state chairman of the party, asking that an appointment be made at once if possible for a delegation of women from every state in the union to determine Governor Cox's attitude on the question of suffrage. Picketing will be resorted to if the candidate's response is not favorable.

"Governor Cox, as the acknowledged leader of his party, has now the opportunity to procure for his party the enormous prestige of giving to the suffrage amendment his thirty-sixth ratification," said Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the National Woman's party tonight. "Women will judge his candidacy largely according to the use he makes of his party leadership completing that enfranchisement."

"All national Democratic leaders from President Wilson down have used their influence to make Tennessee the thirty-sixth suffrage state. Governor Cox by adding the weight of his power to theirs can insure suffrage victory. We ask that he use this influence at once."

Another plan of the suffragists announced tonight was the sending of Mrs. Abby Scott Baker, political chairman of the National Woman's party,

GORGEOUS AIRSHIP FOR DESCHANEL

Space for Six Persons—Beautifully Furnished and Supplied With a Dressing

Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Co.

Paris, July 9.—President Deschanel may seek restored health in the pure air of a high altitude, for it was learned today that in addition to the residential limousines attached to the Elysee Palace there has been fitted out a de luxe Farman airplane in which the President may tour about, either alone or with his whole family, as there are places for six in the inclosed compartment, beautifully furnished, with electric lights, silk shades, a thick woolen carpet, bouquet holders, a mirror and with six windows around the cabin.

The presidential baggage can be kept near the pilot and mechanic, and near the fuselage is a tiny dressing room for the pilot and mechanic.

While the President has not used this new idea in the way of a state coach, he at least has the satisfaction of knowing he has put one over on the old Bourbon kings, who, for all the luxury of their gift carriages, had to rumble along close to the ground. The plane is driven by a 275-horsepower motor, and followers of aviation now wait for flying among the notables of society. If he comes from Rambouillet, let Chateau for the 14th of July, it is noted by a French newspaper, he could regain popularity by flying to Paris, because he has not been seen publicly since his unfortunate fall through the window of his train at Montargis.

A special Act by the Federal Parliament has removed all obstacles which would have delayed payments for another two years.

TUXIS BOYS AND TRAIL RANGERS BY FIRELIGHT

Firelighter has been kept bustling this week at Camp Galahad, St. David's Church Boys' Camp at Holder's Point, trying to keep up to the pace set by the 25 boys there. What with base ball, swimming, sports, rowing, canoeing, over night hikes, competitions for the various campcraft, sports, first aid, life saving, wild flowers, etc., C. S. E. T. badges is seen several boys trying for ten or more.

The camp fires have been built every night the weather permitted and the entertainment furnished by each tent group in turn has been much enjoyed. The different items or events being interspersed by rounds and choruses.

The camp paper "The Round Table" under the editorship of Douglas Davidson, ably assisted by his assistant, Alton Nobles, and reporters from each of the four tent crews, has kept up its reputation for reliable inside information on all the happenings and mishappenings of the camp. Poetry or jingles has been quite prevalent. The following was inspired by visitors' keenly at the supper table.

Only when he was with us
He was engrossed with a little girl,
And also the movements of her curl.
He looked at her, she looked at him,
He turned around with a foolish grin,
And I can't find words to fully express
Just how wonderful I think Tanlac is.
My only regret is that I did not meet up with it years ago,
As it would have saved me so much suffering
And unhappiness.

If the rest of the people who are in poor health don't try Tanlac they'll certainly be the losers. I believe it will help anybody who gives it a fair trial."

HOW TO OVERCOME NERVOUS TROUBLES

A Returned Soldier Tells How He Regained Health and Strength.

Nervous troubles of all kinds, particularly nervous debility, work a remarkable transformation in the patient. The change is both physical and mental. The sufferer loses weight and strength, and frequently becomes irritable and fault finding. Troubles that were once thrown off without any difficulty assume exaggerated proportions. Other symptoms of this nervous condition are poor appetite, headaches, exhaustion after little effort, and frequently distress after meals.

The cause of this debility is generally starved nerves. The blood, which gives the nervous system its food and power to work efficiently, has become thin and weak, and the blood regains its tone and strength there can be no improvement in the condition of the nerves. In cases of this kind Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be found the very best medicine. They make rich, red blood, which feeds and strengthens the starved nerves, and in this way restores the sufferer to full health and strength. Proof of this is found in the case of Mr. Fred Sander, London, who says: "While in service with the Imperial forces in Africa I completely lost my health through continual hardship and shock. I was sent back to the base hospital suffering so the doctor said, from nervous debility. After spending some time in the hospital I was invalided back to England as unfit for further service. After spending a long time in Netley Hospital, I was given my discharge, but was still weak and nervous, and absolutely unfit for work. I had neither the strength nor ambition to do anything. In London I doctored for three or four months with a civilian doctor, who finally advised a change of climate. I was terribly nervous, suffered from sleeplessness, smothering and sinking spells, and pains in the heart; my hands and feet were always cold and clammy. At this time I decided to come to Canada, and shortly after reaching this country was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After I had taken the pills for some weeks I found myself improving. I continued taking the pills for several months with the result that they fully restored my health. My nerves are now as steady as a rock; my appetite the best, and my eyes and skin, which had turned yellowish, are clear and healthy looking. I feel like a new man in every way, and fit for anything. I have since recommended the pills to several friends, and know of many cases where they were beneficial in the influenza epidemic. I can't find words to express any of my returned soldier comrades say Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for shell shock, they would be a great help to them."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Druggists and Doctors Astonished

At Wonderful Power of Nicotol To Stop the Use of Tobacco To Detect Harmful Effects of Tobacco Try These Simple Tests

New York—Mr. Tobacco User, any druggist will tell you that a remedy to be successfully sold must, above everything, possess merit, otherwise failure is inevitable. Nicotol, the famous remedy for the tobacco habit, was a success right from the start, simply because it quickly does the work promised. We publish a few letters from some of the best known druggists in the country to give you an idea of what they think of Nicotol, and you may rest assured that they would not permit the use of their names unless Nicotol was something out of the ordinary. The Peoples Drug Stores have five of the best stores in Washington, D. C. They write: "Since we have handled Nicotol the sale has been greater than that of all the rest of the articles of this nature which we have ever sold. The demand was so great that we were compelled to order it locally pending receipt of a shipment from your direct. Schramm-Johnson, who have six stores in St. Luke's City, say: "We take this opportunity of expressing ourselves relative to Nicotol. We have enjoyed a very large sale on same and it has given entire satisfaction to our customers." Jacob Brothers, of Philadelphia, Pa., have this to say: "Our sales of Nicotol have passed our expectations. Our first order was placed late in March and we were forced to re-order before the end of April; the sales have kept up well ever since. There is no doubt that we are receiving many repeat orders from our customers and many expressions of opinion regarding the merit of this article have been very favorable." Dr. Conner, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital, tells how to detect the harmful effects of tobacco. Here is what he says: "Many men who smoke, chew or sniff incessantly and who are seemingly healthy are suffering from progressive organic ailments. Thousands of them would never have been affected had it not been for the use of tobacco to excess, and thousands would soon get well if they would stop. The chief habit forming principle of tobacco is nicotine, a deadly poison, which when absorbed by the system slowly affects the nerves, membranes, tissues and vital organs of the body. The harmful effect of tobacco varies and depends on circumstances. One will be afflicted with constipation, indigestion, headache, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of memory, lack of will power, mental confusion, etc. Others may suffer from heart disease, bronchial trouble, hardening of the arteries, tuberculosis, blindness or even cancer or the common affliction known as tobacco heart. If you use tobacco to excess in any form you can easily detect the harmful effects by making the following simple tests: Read about one full page from a book. In the course of reading your voice becomes muffled, hoarse and indistinct and you must frequently clear your throat, the chances are that your throat is affected by catarrh and it may be the beginning of more serious trouble. Next, in the morning before taking your usual smoke, walk up three flights of stairs at a regular pace, then stop. If you find that you are out of breath, your heart beat is forced, trembling or irregular, you may be a victim of functional or organic heart trouble. If you feel that you must smoke, chew or sniff to quiet your nerves, you are a slave to the tobacco habit and are positively poisoning yourself with the deadly drug. Nicotine in either case you have just two alternatives—Keep on with the self-poisoning process irrespective of the dangers and suffer the consequences; or give up the habit and escape the dangers. You can overcome the craving and stop the habit in a very short time by using the following inexpensive formula. Go to any drug store and ask for Nicotol tablets, take one tablet after each meal, and in a comparatively short time you will have no desire for tobacco—the craving will have left you. With the nicotine poison out of your system, your general health will quickly improve."

Note—When asked about Nicotol tablets one of our leading druggists said: "It is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit, away ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer, and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol tablets are sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists.

MONTREAL MARKET BROADENING OUT

Great Transactions of the Week Have Been Surprising to All Brokers.

(P. R. McCURDY & CO.) Montreal, July 9.—The Montreal stock market is broadening out into a great big exchange. From time to time during the past year there have been indications that the market had become very much larger than ever before, but it remained for the exhibition of the past week to establish just how far the trading had been broadened out. On two days during the week the daily transactions exceeded 55,000 shares, and the record of over 50,000 for July sixth was by far the biggest day in the history of the Exchange. Such activity came as a surprise even to brokers, as a few weeks ago it was rather expected that owing to tight money conditions the market was in for a somewhat quiet summer.

Right along, however, the public have been very bullish on stocks and when there came an improvement in the supplies of money for brokers the market simply jumped forward. The paper stocks, of course, were again favorites, owing to the special developments that are occurring in this industry, but the volume of business was added to very materially by the activity in Quebec Railway.

The paper stocks, of course, were again favorites, owing to the special developments that are occurring in this industry, but the volume of business was added to very materially by the activity in Quebec Railway.

This was a low priced stock and was easier to handle, even without large amounts of money. On this account, traders showed a preference for it. There was also a very big popular demand for Breweries and almost every house on the street participated in the demand for it.

Breweries is a favorite with French Canadian traders. One of principal factors in the increase in activity has been the business that has been done each day by in and out traders, who previously devoted their attention almost entirely to the Montreal market.

Latterly the Montreal market has given them more opportunities for their special line of activity than has the New York market, and this has a tendency to greatly increase the daily turnover on the local board. A number of surprises to everybody as to how the many stocks continue to advance all the time, with scarcely any reaction. Recently a good deal of the buying of paper stocks was reported to have come from the States and much of this represented by investment buying by interests who are already holders in different companies.

"3450" Insulators Resist Knocks, Shocks, Heat and Expansion to a Wonderful Degree

They are so hard and tough that they stand up under treatment that is never experienced even in emergency use in a motor or engine.

You can heat them white hot, then douse them in water—knock them with a wrench—drive them through a cake of lead—drop them on the floor—and you won't find even a chip or crack in the glaze.

Dependable Spark Plugs

all have "3450" insulators. Any dealer in motor supplies can supply you with the correct plug for your engine—insist that "Champion" appear on the insulator as well as on the box.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

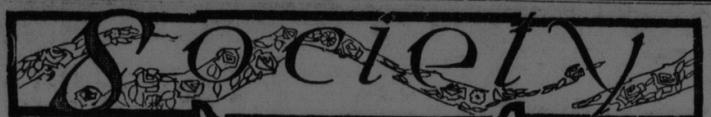

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach troubles, cholera, infantum and diarrhoea carry off thousands of little ones every summer, in most cases because the mother does not have a safe medicine that can be given promptly. Baby's Own Tablets relieve these troubles, or if given occasionally to the well child will prevent their coming on.

The Tablets are guaranteed by a government analyst to be absolutely harmless even to the newborn babe. They are especially good in summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Regular Saturday Page for the Kiddies

Weekly Chat

Dear Girls and Boys:— So glad to hear all the nice things about our page on doggies which you all read last Saturday, some liked one story better than another some liked the chat best, while other thought the verses just dandy, so I take it that you all know a little more about dogs than you used to, and that you all have the same weakness or liking for the dumb friends.

Indeed we have other friends too for the serial story which finished last Saturday was contributed to the Children's Corner by one who is a friend to the boys and girls and we start another story sent by the same kind friend. There are several others to follow too, and I am sure you all are very grateful for such thoughtfulness from one who proves his interest in such a practical way.

Friends are very valuable in every stage of life, kiddies, and I trust you will never feel the real need of them. You can even go in and out of your imagination in such a way that you will be able to make so many times more pleasant. They become more valuable and necessary to you as you grow older and you have often heard that the belief of being without friends causes one to feel more wretched and distressed than if suffering from physical pain.

So while we pledge ourselves to be friends to the dumb life, we also be friends to one another. During these beautiful summer days I can picture many of you picking berries, others are playing on the beaches, and some are more fortunate enough to enjoy beautiful rides and drives while others are doing many duties and having many pleasures each day. Whenever you may be I hope you will be happy and gay enjoying the summer freedom and among good friends, hoping to be always one.

UNCLE DICK

GIMCRACK THE ELF.

Gimcrack the elf, said turnips to cottage people because his next neighbor was collecting three penny bits to make plates for her fairy dinner-party. She had only got twelve, and she wanted one more because she had invited twelve fairies to dinner that night under an oak tree.

So Gimcrack harnessed Bianco, his white rabbit, to the cart, and drove off through the wood to the cottage below. When they were passing the last tree before they reached the lane, "Good-for-nothing, turnips and blackberries, respect round the trunk and look at the turnips till his mouth watering. All at once Bianco felt something pulling at the cart behind and stopped because he guessed what it was.

"Get up!" squeaked Gimcrack. "Do you want the stick?" "Not me, master—somebody else does!" said Bianco. "Don't answer back!" squeaked Gimcrack, and snatched Bianco's stick, and as the white rabbit galloped as fast as he could, good-for-nothing turned round and leaped right on to the turnips, which made the cart tip up so suddenly that it sent Gimcrack heels over head into the top of the tree, and he was right on the top of the black rabbit's head.

"Good-for-nothing, settled away with a badly bumped nose, while Gimcrack pecked up the turnips and him-self and told Bianco he was sorry, and Bianco said he too was sorry for his bad brother's bad conduct. Then they drove slowly to the cottage and said the cartload for his fingers. "You—you," said Mrs. Pearly Gimcrack, "you should never find him." "He found himself!"

He had. A small boy, who was sitting next to a very beautiful woman in a crowd of car, kept sniffing in a most annoying way, until the woman could stand it no longer.

"Boy, have you got a handkerchief?" she demanded. The small boy looked at her for a few seconds and then, in a dignified tone, answered: "Yes, I have, but I don't lend it to strangers."

BETTY D.—So you are among the lucky ones to have a nice trip to the lake. Hope you enjoy every day of it and am sure you will when you get back and how nice for your cousin, to have him to play with besides giving a good home to a dog when he needs one. Well will be glad to hear from you and to know of your doings while away.

MATILDA R.—What a nice neat little letter you sent me and you are quite a stranger too, for I don't recall your name for a long while. You have certainly used your eyes for hunting, for you report finding so many names for a long while. You have certainly used your eyes for hunting, for you report finding so many names for a long while.

MAX G.—With such a big family of new chicks and turkeys to feed and care for I am sure you will be kept on the jump. Especially if the latter takes as many wandering trips as they usually do. You will be earning for yourself with your duties as a boy, and as you say there is no part worth about them.

ELLA M.—So glad to hear of your recovery and to know you are all well again. Don't worry about missing the school, but think how much you have to be thankful for. Glad you enjoy our page so much.

MAY B.—Your little letter was very neat and very written. It was good to hear from you again after so long a silence. "You are a very nice letter indeed." "You are a very nice letter indeed." "You are a very nice letter indeed."

Moses the Leader. You have sometimes played Follow the Leader, have you not? Suppose you had to travel through dark woods and over deserts, and your leader had never been there before. He would go to some one who had been there, and know the best paths, and he would ask him to tell you all his secrets. Yes, all him the way to go. And when he was leading the others through dark woods, or travelling at night, he would need something to make him able to see the path. What would he need? A light. I am going to tell you about a man named Moses, who was a leader, one of the greatest ever lived, when I have finished their lives and you will see how you must tell me who showed Moses the way to lead his followers, and what he had for a light.

THE WESTMOUNT BOYS' CLUB STORIES

THE LOST IS FOUND.

On the bank of the St. John River, in the valley of the same name, is situated the little country town of Westmount. Quiet and peaceful, and offering few attractions, it is spoken of as "the quiet town" by the district people, but ask one of the young people, especially a boy, and he will answer "some town." And he is right for Westmount is veritably a boys' paradise.

The broad river offers excellent skating in winter, and swimming and boating in summer. The high hills about the town are made expressly for coasting, and the woods near by offer the boys many chances for an all day hike, or a hunting or fishing excursion.

On one winter day, the afternoon session of the Westmount High School was drawing to a close, and the pupils already anticipating the coming hours of freedom were growing restless under the restraint of study. At last the welcome sound of the dismissal bell was heard, and after a hurried scowling away of books and papers, the boys and girls marched out to the entrance hall where they quickly scattered.

The town had been in the grips of a driving snow storm the night before, and a deep mantle of snow covered the ground to a depth of several inches. As a group of the boys were ploughing their way through the snow to the street, they were hailed by Larry Evans, a stockily built youth, who came hurrying across the school yard.

"Say, what's your hurry boys?" he enquired, as he approached them. "Anybody would think that you were hiking out to a fire somewhere." "Oh no," answered Tubby Williams, a stout, good-natured chap. "You know we haven't got much to do since that storm last night upset our skating plans."

HOW A TELEPHONE "HEARS"

If you unscrew the end of your telephone receiver you will find first a thin sheet of soft iron called the diaphragm. This is held in its place by the force of two permanent magnets that bent at all times. These magnets are surrounded by long coils of very fine wire. These wires are connected through street lines and exchange boards with the transmitter at the other end of the line. The transmitter is a device that varies the force of an electric current with the movements of sound waves. This varying current is made to flow around the magnets of the receiver. It changes their force and hence changes the strength of their pull against the diaphragm.

People who take all things literally are apt to tread on other people's toes. The man who walked in where he saw a sign, "Walk in," and who was ordered out, was a literal man; because there was a placard in the window that read, "Look at this watch for 40c."

The most amusing incident we have heard of is that the countryman who, while sauntering along a city street, saw a sign, "Please ring the bell for the caretaker." After reflecting for a few minutes he was wakened up and gave the bell a pull that nearly drove him out by the ears. In a few moments an angry-faced man opened the door, the countryman asked, "What's the bell-puller?" "Yes; what do you want?" "I saw that notice, so I rang the bell and now I want to know why you cry and name to help them, so he hears us when we help to him, and watches over us, day and night. We do not see a shining cloud in God's eyes, and no harm can come to us while we trust Him as our Leader."

Next time I will tell you about something which happened at the beginning of the journey.

Uncle Wiggly and Lulu's May Basket

Uncle Wiggly Longear, the nice old rabbit gentleman, who could twinkle his pink nose like a sunflower, went one day to call on Grandpa Goosey-gander, who was ill with the epizootic, Lulu, the duck girl, told Nurse Jane, a little while afterward, that she would take Grandpa some flowers.

Now all this while Uncle Wiggly was at Grandpa Goosey's house, and the rabbit gentleman was doing his best to cheer up the old gentleman goose. But Grandpa felt very badly from the epizootic. Nothing the bunny rabbit uncle did seemed to cheer his friend.

"I know what I shall do," said Uncle Wiggly at last. "I shall sing for you—I shall sing a funny song."

"I don't believe even that would make me laugh," quacked Grandpa Goosey. "But when Uncle Wiggly set his tall silk hat on the floor, and then stuck his red, white and blue striped tie, his mouth crumpled up, and then he looked at himself in one ear or top of his crutch—say, I just wish you could have heard Grandpa Goosey laugh then."

"She must be bringing them to you," said Uncle Wiggly. "Well, I'm sure that's very kind of her," spoke Grandpa Goosey. And then the two friends were very much surprised to suddenly see the bad old Pipitewash hop out from behind a stump and make a grab for Lulu.

"The bad chap took a long snifty sniff and then, as quick as a blink, he turned a somersault over backward and a front peppercorn and away he ran holding his paw to his nose.

"Lulu looked at him, sort of laughing under one wine, and then she paddled one to Grandpa Goosey's house with the basket.

"Here are some flowers I brought you," said Lulu. "But what does the Pip it so funny when you let him smell them?" asked Uncle Wiggly.

"Oh," said Lulu, "you see these aren't real flowers at all. But they look real, and when I put some of the sharp ends that are the smell, they smelled real. So I brought them to you."

THE FIRST TEE GOLFER.

It takes all sorts of men, I know, to make the golfing clan. And who pursues the Royal Game meets every kind of man. I think that I have met them all, and most of them are fine. It makes no difference how they play, I call them friends of mine. But there's one golfer that I shun, he holds no charm for me. The golfing shark who wins his games right on the starting tee.

Some men there are will play for fun, and some for exercise. Some hold that in a battle crown the joy of going lies. But there's one in every crowd who finds no thrill within. The Royal and the Ancient game unless he's sure to win. And so he argues long for strokes, from 18 down to three. And has the match decided ere a ball has left the tee.

He's always sadly off his play, or very tired or ill. With him it is a game of strokes, and not a game of skill. "How many do I get today?" his rivals bear him roar. And if they offer it for seven, he wrangles long for more. He will not take a chance himself, his right for victory is never made upon the course, but on the starting tee.

Tiberius was one of the few Roman emperors who succeeded in living out his term of office. In eighty times it was a very difficult thing to become a Roman emperor and live long enough to collect two instalments of taxes, but Tiberius excelled in this feat and enjoyed the distinction of dying in bed and entering the bottomless pit at one and the same time. From all accounts Tiberius was one of the meekest persons who ever sat on a throne in the Roman throne. He had a low forehead and a high temper, which would explode every now and then with a noise like a blow-out in a 39 c. tire. Whenever Tiberius exploded in this manner the members of his immediate family adjourned to some quiet retreat and felt of their windpipes. It was considered dangerous to argue with Tiberius when he had been fully ignited, and few people attempted to do so without being impaled on a fence post or drowned in a vat of linseed oil.

Tiberius was a married man, but his wife was a great disappointment to all concerned, as she was of a giddy nature and would rather flirt with perfect strangers than do housework and make jell. She treated Tiberius with the utmost contempt and doted on a young man named Calpurnia, who was a great rival of Tiberius when he was a divorcee at the October term of court.

THE FRIEND WHO STANDS BY

By William T. Ellis.
The International Sunday School Lesson For July 11 is, "Jonathan Befriends David."—1 Sam. 20.

"I had a friend," was the celebrated answer of Kingley, when asked the secret of his success. A friend is the best fortune. In a western city a lonely old millionaire, made notorious by the marriage of his daughter to a foreign nobleman, sits day by day in an aristocratic club, repining bitterly to all who will listen about his hard lot in life. He has retired from business, has no taste for literature or cultural pursuits, and is now without home ties or friends.

He has nothing but money. Rightly, he calls himself the most miserable man in the city, and openly laments that he has not the courage to end his own existence. For he has not learned to live in other lives. In youth, he had no high order of friendship; he was too busy making money to bother about idealistic concerns, and now he is a pitiable and friendless old millionaire, who would give a fortune for a friend, or for a real friend in his day.

David and Jonathan, whose friendship in Sunday School millions today study, are history's most notable instance of friendship between men. They represent the childhood glow of youthful ardor and unselfishness which fulfilled to the second generation its pledges of devotion. All the great qualities of friendship were in this ideal union of two knightly hearts. The story is the best of starting points for a consideration of what Dr. H. Clay Trumbull called "Friendship, the master passion."

A Romance of Youth. Usually the best part of a college education is the friendships made between students, so-called "budding" throughout life. It is in youth that hearts take fire most easily, and glow with the noble impulses of love and patriotism. When a young person finds a friend, a kindred spirit, it like tasks and interests and ideals, and keeps that friendship in repair throughout the years he has made the richest of all investments. To carry into age the friendships of youth is one of the wisest man's rewards. No later fellowship can take the place of those shaped and cemented in the plastic years.

David and Jonathan united in a covenant of friendship when they were young. It was a case of hero worship upon Prince Jonathan's part. His first vision of David was the young champion of Israel stood with Goliath's head on his hand. His heart leaped with youth's idealistic admiration of great courage. David became his hero, and he "loved him as he loved his own soul." What a tremendous capacity for affection and admiration youth possesses! Jonathan even divested himself of his raiment, including his sword, that David might wear it; for the surest mark of love is that it delights in giving and serving.

A dramatic element entered into this friendship between David and Jonathan. For by all practical considerations the two should have been rivals. David was more popular with the people than even King Saul, and it was plain to all that the crown of Israel was destined to go to him. Prince Jonathan, however, was too royal a soul to harbor jealousy. He was greater than his father in this; for Saul was openly and falsely jealous of the young hero whom the nation so loved. His son, however, cared more for his friend David than he did for a throne; he was the sort of whom poets sing a friend to whom friendship meant more than any other prize of life. The lofty passage in Tennyson's tribute to his friend, Arthur Hallam, well described Prince Jonathan, a prince indeed.

For a friend one who is a true friend will unquestionably do anything within his power even as Jonathan jeopardized his own life to save David's. No nicely balanced considerations of self-advantage or of convenience or of worldly wisdom enter into the things of friendship. During the war there was an important service to be done in the South for the allied cause. I chanced to be consulted by the British representative concerned, who himself has no contacts in the southern states. After hearing the case and the need, I telegraphed to a friend in Winston-Salem, N. C., the one man in the country who, in my judgment, could meet the emergency. It was inexpedient to state any particulars of wire; I merely asked him if he could meet me and another man on a given day in Washington. At once came an affirmative reply. After twenty-four hours of hard travel my friend appeared, not knowing why he had been summoned, but swiftly, loyally obeying the call of friendship. As a result, he did a unique and valuable service in the allied interest. And also warmed my heart with an instance of the unquestioning, self-sacrificing loyalty of a friend.

In these days of sag and slump, when sorrid, seasonal sentiments seem prone to displace the sublime passions, we do well to recall the loyal friendships, the noble devotions, the shining self-sacrifice of spirits all about us. Still there are myriads who live by love's royal law. In life, as well as in Scripture, we find that "A friend loveth at all times; And a brother is born for adversity." Whosoever has seeing eyes may behold on every side, despite disheartening reports from the divorce courts, that "many waters cannot quench love," for "Love is strong as death." There are multitudes who practice what Browning preached, that

"Life is just our chance of knowing love."

They use the days, which to others seem drab and dreary and drudgery, deadened, for the high offices of friendship. Consciously, definitely, deliberately, they keep up their ideals and practice of friendship, and Splendid Prince Jonathan had no concern about the count equal to his solicitude for the safety of his friend to be patient, sympathetic, tender; to look for the budding flower and the opening heart; to hope always; and to love always—this is duty.—Amiel.

I envy—how I envy him, whose soul turns its whole energies to some one end; To obtain an aim, procure success. However mean! —Browning.

If ye, be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you.—St. Peter.

There are some moody fellows, not a few, Who, turned by Nature with a gloomy bias, Remoulded black devils to adopt the blue. And think when they are dismal they are pious. —Hood.

Things which never could have made a man happy; develop a power to make him strong; strength and not happiness, or rather only that happiness which comes by strength, is the end of human living.—Phillips Brooks.

THE BEDSIDE OF FREEDOM
Dying, did you say? No, No he lives And from his storehouse of strength It gives us life. Choice and decision to you and I But you speak as tho you wish him to die.

Dr. Prohibit, just stay your hand You cannot kill freedom in this land Would you operate to try your skill At the risk of killing man's free will?

You say his heart is full of disease And you'll take it out, if the law decrees And you will be law in the empty shell While people shriek, The fires of Hell, And so you sharpen your knife at length But freedom fights for life on the TENTH. —LEONARD FOX.

Discretion, Better Part of Veracity. "Do you always tell the truth in your speeches?" "Yes," replied Senator Scorgium, "but not in excess. I'm a fearless orator, but I'm no gossip."

FREE TO MEN

Manly Vigor—Something New

Here is a little free pocket compendium in book form illustrated with 40 half-tone photo reproductions, and containing 8,000 words of easy to read private matter, which I gladly send to any man anywhere in the world absolutely free of charge, and enclosed in a perfectly plain, sealed envelope, so it is received as if you like an ordinary private letter. I take all this special precaution in sending my free book because, where the health is concerned, and especially with reference to debility and nerve weakness, people everywhere prefer to keep their matter entirely to themselves. For this reason I seal the envelope and prepay full letter postage. I have mailed over a million of the books to men all over the world who requested them.

You, reader, will like this little book immensely, and can grasp the full meaning of its special advice from one or two careful readings. It contains a great deal of heretofore unpublished information of interest to all men, young or elderly, single or married, and may really be of value to you throughout your entire lifetime. In one part of the book I describe my little mechanical VITALIZER, which was invented by me to assist men to regain lost vigor. However, you are not to think of getting this VITALIZER at the present time, but first send for the advice book and read up on the subject of self-preservation of your blood, nerves, organs and muscles while you free, sealed, by return mail.

Reader, did you ever stop to consider that it is not looks which make the real man? Nor is it necessarily a large man who wields the most power in his community. However, whether big or small, young or elderly, we invariably find that vigorous manhood stands behind all of the world's greatest achievements and successes. In this respect, I give it as my honest opinion, based upon over 30 years' experience, that no man need lose hope of his self restoring his full manly power if he be willing to make a fair, square effort, and will lead a decent, many life, free from excesses and free from dissipation. My free book gives you all the desired information. According to my belief, lost manly strength is no real organic disease in itself, and, for that reason, should easily respond to any mode of treatment which puts new vital force into the weakened nerves and blood. The little VITALIZER mentioned above was designed by me to render aid to the man who really is willing to make a reasonable effort to get strong, and who desires to regain his manly vigor. To the man who persists in living an unnatural life of excess and dissipation, no hope can be offered, but for the other man there is every hope and encouragement, because in regulating his habits he has taken the first grand and necessary step, which prepares the way for the action of any natural treatment which may re-supply his body with the FORCE which it has been drained off.

With respect to my VITALIZER, you simply buckle it on your body when you go to bed. This, while you sleep, it sends a great, white, sparkling power (which I call VIGOR) into your blood, nerves, organs and muscles while you sleep. Men have said it takes pain or weakness out of the back from one application; that 60 to 90 days use is sufficient to restore normal, manly strength.

With special attachments, which carry the FORCE to any parts of the body, my VITALIZER is used by women as well as men for rheumatism, kidney, liver, stomach, bladder disorders, etc., and I have had some most remarkable cures in respect to its almost miraculous effects in individual cases, where every known treatment had failed.

Therefore, first get the free book of general advice to men, which also describes my VITALIZER. Then, if in the future you feel you would like to use one of these little appliances in your own case, I will make some special proposition whereby you may have one to wear. If you happen to live in or near this city, I would be pleased to have you call. Otherwise, just use the coupon and get the free book by return mail. Once you have it to 6.

Book, 8,000 Words Free
Remember, I will send you, as stated above, my little book or pocket compendium, containing 40 illustrations and 8,000 words of private advice free, sealed, by mail.

Dear F. SANDEN CO., 140 Yonge Street, Toronto, Ont.
As Sirs—Please forward me your book, as advertised, free, sealed, by mail.

MOTORMEN AND CONDUCTORS AT A MIDNIGHT SESSION

Came to Decision at Early Hour This Morning to go Out on Strike Monday Evening at Six O'clock in Event of Power Company Management Refusing to Sign Agreement Drawn Up And Agreed to by Both Parties.

The motormen and conductors of the St. John Street Railway will go out on strike Monday at six o'clock in the event of the management of the New Brunswick Power Co. refusing to sign an agreement drawn up by the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Employees Local 663 and which was agreed to by the president and directors of the company.

The decision to strike was determined on by a unanimous vote at a special meeting called at 12.30 o'clock in the Oddfellows' Hall, Union street, with the first vice-president T. Trot in the chair.

The manager of the company has refused to sign unless the men agree to the insertion of a clause binding the conductors and motormen to agree to operate any type of car recommended by him.

This the men absolutely refuse to consider on the grounds that the two man car being constructed for one man operation is not in any way satisfactory or a safe conveyance for the travelling public.

Calcutta that she would arrive in the harbor on Saturday evening at six o'clock and asking that all official visits be postponed until Monday. The mayor and commissioners will, however, call and pay their respects when she arrives.

The communication also expressed the wish that a dock might be arranged for as they did not wish the vessel to lay in the stream. The cruiser is 450 feet long and draws 17 feet of water. It is expected she will be placed at the Pettingill Wharf.

Saturday night the officers will be the guests of Lieutenant Governor Pugsley and Monday at noon the guests of the city at luncheon.

North End Corps Growing Nicely

New Salvation Army Officer Has Revived Interest.

Since Envoys and Mrs. Goodwin took command of No. 2 Corps of the Salvation Army on Main street the congregations have increased greatly and interest is manifested in all the meetings, especially Sunday night. The corps has been a world wide traveler and only recently concluded a 40,000-mile voyage around the world in the merchant marine.

He is a young man with a varied experience and during the Great War served King and Country, taking part in the Gallipoli campaign. He very earnestly but humorously tells his congregations that he has come from chasing the Turks in the Dardanelles to chasing the Devil in the North End.

Photographic Competition

This is Last Day on Which Amateur Photographers Are Permitted to Send in Entries in Standard's Competition.

This is the last day on which amateur photographers are permitted to send in their entries in The Standard's photographic competition. The only restriction is that the pictures must have been taken during the week ending July 3rd, and that the materials have been purchased or the films developed and printed by one of those firms whose advertising announcement appeared in The Standard in the original outline of the contest.

Employers Favor Prohibition

Many employers have expressed themselves to the Prohibition Executive the last few days in a manner something like the following: "It would be an unfortunate happening for the business interests of this city if Prohibition is defeated. Many mothers and children who had difficulty in securing comfortable clothing and good food in pre-prohibition days have enjoyed happiness and comparative prosperity during the past three years." By studying the advertising columns a display advertisement will be found which contains very plain election information. Be sure and vote early.—Adv.

Impersonators Will Be Prosecuted

While impersonations have not been uncommon in past elections, the Prohibition interests have taken steps to have punished any offenders in today's contest to the full extent of the law. This item is the result of certain rumors, and it is hoped that no difficulties will arise which will cause either election trouble.—Adv.

Voters, Watch Your Ballot

It is so easy to lose a ballot by marking it wrongly. To vote for Prohibition one must simply mark a cross on the right hand corner of the first and last spaces. Vote early and remember polls close at 5 p. m.—Adv.

Don't Leave Town Without Voting

The attractions offered for the Saturday Half Holiday are numerous, but by all means do not let that keep you from voting for Prohibition. This is doubtless the most important election in a generation, and to say the least, well worth the sacrifice of a few hours' pleasure. Be sure and vote early.—Adv.

Election Day At Last

Those who fail to exercise their privilege to vote for Prohibition today may realize too late just what the omission will cost.—Adv.
