THE VOLUNTEER COUNSEL.
 A TALK OF JOHN TAYLOR.

We copy the following from the New York Sunday Times. The subject of it, John Taylor, was licensed when a youth of twenty-one to practice at the bar of Philadelphia. He was poor, but well educated and possessing extraordinary genius. The graces of his person combined with the superiority of his intellect, enabled him to win the hand of a fashionable beauty. Twelve months afterwards the husband was employed by a wealthy firm of that city to go on a mission as an agent to the west. As a heavy salary was offered, Taylor bade farewell to his wife and infant son. He wrote back every week, but received not a line in answer. Six months elapsed, when the husband received a letter from his employers that explained all. Shortly after his departure for the west, the wife, and her father moved to Mississippi. There she immediately got a divorce by an act of the Legislature, married again forthwith, and to complete the climax of cruelty and wrong, had the name of Taylor's son changed to Mark—that of her second matrimonial partner. This perfidy nearly drove Taylor insane. His career, from that period, became eccentric in the last degree, sometimes he pleaded at the bar; until at last a fever carried him off, at a comparatively early age— [Cleveland Plain Dealer.

At an early hour on the 9th of April, 1840, the Court House in Clarksville, Texas, was crowded to the overflowing. Save in war-times past had never witnessed such a gathering in Red River county, while the strong feeling apparent on every face throughout the assembly, betokened some great occasion. A concise narrative of facts will sufficiently explain the matter.

About the close of 1839, George Hopkins, one of the wealthiest planters and most influential men of Northern Texas, offered a great insult to Mary Elliston, the young and beautiful wife of his chief overseer. The husband threatened to chastise him for the outrage, whereupon Hopkins loaded his gun and went to Elliston's house, and shot him in his own door. The murderer was arrested, and bailed to answer the charge. This occurrence produced intense excitement; and Hopkins, in order to turn the tide of popular opinion, or at least mitigate the general wrath, which was at first violently against him, circulated reports infamously prejudicial to the character of the woman who had already suffered much wrong at his hands. She brought her suit for slander. And thus two cases, one criminal and the other civil, and both of the same tragedy were pending in the Circuit Court for 1840.

The interest naturally felt by the community as to the issues, became far deeper when it was known that Ashley and Pike, of Arkansas, and the celebrated S. S. Prentiss of New Orleans, each with enormous fees, had been retained by Hopkins, for his defence.

The trial on the indictment for murder, ended on the 5th of April, with acquittal of Hopkins. Such a result might have been foreseen, by comparing the talents of the counsel on either side. The Texan lawyers were utterly overwhelmed by the arguments and eloquence of their opponents. It was a fight of dwarfs against giants.

The slander suit was set for the 9th, and the throng of spectators grew in number as well as in excitement; and what may seem more strange, the current of public sentiment now ran decidedly for Hopkins. His money had procured pointed witnesses, who served most efficiently as powerful advocates. Indeed, so triumphant had been the success of the previous day, that when the slander case was called, Mary Elliston was left without an attorney—they had all withdrawn. The pigmy pettifoggers dared not brave against the sharp wit of a Pike, and the scathing thunder of a Prentiss.

"Have you no council?" inquired Judge Mills, looking kindly at the plaintiff.

"No sir, they have all deserted me, and I am too poor to employ any more," replied the beautiful Mary bursting into tears.

"In such a case will not some chivalrous member of the profession volunteer?" asked the Judge glancing around the bar.

The thirty lawyers were silent as death.

Judge Mills repeated the question.

"I will, your honor," said a voice from the thickest part of the crowd, situated behind the bar.

At the tones of that voice many started half way from their seats; and perhaps there's not a heart in the immense throng which did not beat something quicker—it was so unearthly sweet, clear, and ringing and mournful.

The first sensation, however, was changed into general laughter, when a tall gaunt spectral figure, that nobody present ever remembered to have seen before, elbowed his way through the crowd, and placed himself within the bar. His appearance was a problem to puzzle the sphinx herself. His pale high brow, and small, nervously twitching face, seemed alive with the concentrated essence and cream of genius; but then his infantile blue eyes, hardly visible beneath their massive arches, looking dim, dreary almost unconscious; and his clothing was so exceedingly shabby, that the court hesitated to let the case proceed under his management.

"Has your name been entered on the rolls of the State?" demanded the Judge suspiciously.

"It is immaterial about my name's being placed on your rolls," answered the stranger, his thin bloodless lips curling up into a sneer. "I may be allowed to appear once, by the courtesy of the court and bar. Here is my license from the highest tribunal in America?" and he handed Judge Mills a broad parchment.

The trial immediately went on.

In the examination of witnesses the stranger evinced but little ingenuity, as was commonly thought. He suffered each one to tell his own story without interruption, though he contrived to make each one tell it over two or three times. He put few cross questions which, with keen witnesses only serve to correct mistakes; and he made no notes, which in mighty memories, always tend to embarrass. The examination being ended, as counsel for the plaintiff he had a right to the opening speech, as well as the close; but to the astonishment of every one he declined the former, and allowed the defence to lead off. Then a shadow might have been observed to fit across the fine features of Pike, and to darken even the bright eyes of Prentiss.— They saw that they had caught a Tartar; but what it was or how it happened, it was impossible to guess.

Col. Ashley spoke first. He dealt the jury a dish of that close dry logic, which years afterwards rendered him so famous in the Senate of the United States.

The poet, Albert Pike, followed with a rich strain of wit and half torrent of caustic ridicule, in which you may be sure neither the plaintiff nor the plaintiff's ragged attorney were forgotten or spared.

The great Prentiss concluded for the defendant with a glow of gorgeous words, brilliant as a shower of falling stars, and with a final burst of oratory that brought the house down, in which the sworn jury themselves joined, notwithstanding the stern "order!" of the bench. This wonderfully susceptible are the south-western people to the charms of eloquence.

It was the stranger's turn. He had remained abstracted during all the previous speeches. Still straight and motionless in his seat, his pale, smooth forehead shooting high like a mountain cone of snow; but for the stern twitch that came and went perpetually in his shallow cheeks, you would have taken him for a mere man of marble, or a human form carved in ice. Even his dim dreamy eyes were invisible beneath those grey, shaggy eyebrows.

But now at last he riss—before the bar railing, not behind it—and so near to the wondering jury, that he might touch the foreman with his long bony fingers. With eyes half shut, and standing rigid as a pillar of iron, his thin lips curled as if in measureless scorn, slightly apart, and the voice came forth.

At first, it is low and sweet, insinuating itself through the brain, as an artless tune, winding its way into the deepest heart, like the melody of a magic incantation; while the speaker proceeds without a gesture or the least sign of excitement, to tear in pieces the argument of Ashley, which melts away at his touch like frost before the sunbeam. Every one looked surprised. His logic was at once so brief and luminously clear, that the rudest could comprehend it without effort.

Anon, he came to the dazzling wit of the poet lawyer, Pike. The curl of his lip grew sharper—his shallow face knitted up—and his eyes began to open, dim and dreamy no longer, but vivid as lightning, red as fire globes, and glaring like twin meteors. The whole soul was in the eye—the full heart streaming out in the face. In five minutes, Pike's wit seemed the foam of folly, and his finest satire, horrible profanity when compared with the inimitable sallies and exterminating sarcasms of the stranger, interspersed with jests and anecdotes that filled the forum with roars of laughter.

Then without so much as bestowing an allusion on Prentiss, he turned short on the perjured witnesses of Hopkins, tore their testimony into atoms, and hurled in their faces such terrible invectives that all trembled as with ague, and two of them actually fled dismayed from the court house.

The excitement of the crowd was becoming tremendous. Their united life and soul appeared to hang on the burning tongue of the stranger. He inspired them with the power of his passions. He saturated them with the poison of his malicious feelings.— He seemed to have stolen nature's hid hid secret of attraction. He was the sun to the sea of all thought and emotion which rose and fell and boiled in billows as he chose.— But his greatest triumph was to come.

His eyes began to glare furively at the assassin—Hopkins, as his lean, taper fingers slowly assumed the same direction. He hemmed the wretch round with a circumvolution of strong evidence—and impregnable argument, cutting off all hopes of escape. He piled up huge bastions and insurmountable facts. He dug beneath the murderers and slanderer's feet ditches of dilemmas, such as no sophistry could overleap, and no stretch of ingenuity evade, and having thus, as one might say, impounded the victim, and girt him about like a scorpion in the circle of fire he stripped himself to the work of massacre!

O! then, but it was a vision both glorious and dreadful to behold the orator. His actions, before graceful as the wave of a golden willow in the breeze, grew impetuous, as the motion of an oak in the hurricane. His voice became a trumpet filled with wild whirlwinds, droning the ear with crashes of power and yet intermingled all the while with the sweet under song of the softest cadence. His face was red as a drunkard's, his countenance looked haggard like that of a maniac; and ever and anon he flung his bony arm on high, as if grasping after thunder bolts! He drew a picture of murder in such appalling colors, that in comparison, hell itself might be considered beautiful. He painted the slanderer so black that the sun seemed dark at noon day when shining on such an accursed monster—and then he fixed both portraits on the shining brow of Hopkins, and he nailed them forever.— The agitation of the audience nearly amounted to madness.

All at once the speaker descends from his perilous height. His voice wailed out for the murdered dead, and described sorrows of the widowed living—the beautiful Mary, more beautiful every moment, as her tears flowed faster—till men wept, lovely women sobbed like children.

He closed by a strange exhortation to the jury, and through them to the bystanders.— He entreated the panel, after they should bring in their verdict for plaintiff not to offer violence to the defendant, however rich; he might desire it; in other words "not to lynch the villain Hopkins, but leave his punishment to God.

This was the most artful trick of all, and the best calculated to ensure vengeance. The jury rendered a verdict for fifty thousand dollars, and the night afterwards Hopkins was taken out of bed by lynchers, and beheaded almost to death.

As the court adjourned, the stranger made known his name, and called attention to the announcement—"John Taylor will preach here to night at early candle light!"

The crowd, of course, all turned out, and Taylor's sermon equalled, if it did not surpass the splendor of his forensic efforts. This is no exaggeration. I have listened to Gay, Webster and Calhoun—to Dewey, Ting and Bascom, and have never heard anything in the form of sublime words even remotely approximating the eloquence of John Taylor—massive as a mountain, and wildly rushing as a cataract of fire. And this is the opinion of all who have ever heard the marvellous man.

A JOKE—The Montpelier (Vt.) Freeman says that at a social gathering in that vicinity, recently, a young gentleman had the task of "getting a wife" imposed upon him during the evening's amusement, and with a young lady went through a mock ceremony, as they both supposed, of being married; but after the motions had been gone through with, it was discovered that the person who married them was a real justice, and the matrimonial knot could not be untied! The parties are satisfied with their bargain, but are considerably nettled at the manner in which they were launched upon the sea of matrimony.

LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.
 New Orleans, May 14.

The steamer Empire City from Havana, brings dates from San Francisco to the 21st of April, received at that port.

The George Law, from Aspinwall, takes nearly $2,000,000 to New York.

The news from San Francisco unimportant—Markets were quiet; Flour improving.

The Oregon war continues. A body of regulars had been defeated at Rogue River by the Indians, and 25 killed.

It was rumored that 1000 Indians were approaching Dallas from the north. Several other fights had taken place, in which the whites were victorious.

In Washington Territory, the Indians were attacking the settlements in every direction. Col. Buchanan had defeated the Indians at Rogue River, and relieved the citizens in that direction.

Nothing new from Nicaragua. Panama papers are filed with correspondence between the officials of New Granada and the commander of the St. Mary's relative to the recent riots.

It was at Aspinwall that Colonel Sch-leighter had been captured and would be shot.

The George Law arrived at New-York on the 16th, but, with the exception of the news of a terrible railroad accident at Panama, the details of which are published elsewhere, brings nothing of importance.

RECEPTION OF PADRE VIJIL.—Washington, May 14, P. M.—Padre Vijil was received to-day as Minister from Nicaragua, by the President of the United States. Padre Vijil addressed the President in the Spanish language, expressing the desire of President Rivas of Nicaragua to cultivate friendly relations with the United States. The President replied, expressing his solicitude for the prosperity of Nicaragua. Padre Vijil was presented to the President by Secretary Marcy. The event created great sensation. The intelligence was immediately telegraphed to New Orleans, and it is believed a steamer will at once leave for San Juan, with material aid for General Walker. Cabinet consultations are now going on with the President with respect to the case of the British Minister.

PROTEST FROM M. MARCOLETA.—Washington, May 15.—Yesterday afternoon Secretary Marcy sent for M. Marcoleta, the Nicaraguan Minister, and informed him, as an act of courtesy, of the determination of the administration to receive M. Vijil as the accredited Minister of Nicaragua. Marcoleta complained of the proceedings as a violation of the law of nations; entering his solemn protest against the proceedings, and informed Mr. Marcy that he should prepare an exposé of all the facts, to be communicated to the diplomatic corps, near this government.

Death of the Rev. Dr. Beckley.—The last English Mail brought the painful intelligence of the death of the Rev. Doctor Beckley, Senior, Secretary to the Wesleyan Missionary Society, and President of the Eastern Conference. The Doctor expired on the 22d of April. Many of our readers will remember he visited this City last June, his mission being the organization of the Eastern American Conference, and while here preached in the Wesleyan Centenary Chapel. His loss will be deeply felt by the Wesleyan body, of which he was one of the most eminent and zealous Clergymen.—Tem. Tel.

The Masons.—Forty-one subordinate Lodges of Free and Accepted Masons, within the Provinces of Canada, having, for causes set forth in a circular addressed to the different grand lodges of the world, separated themselves from the grand lodges of England, Scotland and Ireland, and formed an independent grand lodge, were, on the 6th inst., recognized by the Grand Lodge of this District, by a unanimous vote, and the right hand of fellowship in the family of grand lodges fraternally extended to them. We understand, also, that the Grand Lodge, at the same meeting, determined to celebrate the anniversary of St. John on the 24th of June next, by a procession, oration, and Masonic banquet.—[Washington paper.

An idler, meeting with one of the strolling organ players was inclined to engage in conversation with him, and asked him, "What part in the grand drama of life do you perform?" "I mind my own business," was the pointed reply.

"Children," says Mrs. Grant, "are first vegetable, then they are animals, and sometimes come to be people. But now-a-days, not many get beyond the second stage."

Rheumatism.—Mr. Charles Sidney, of Charlestown, P. E. I., was a very severe sufferer from this complaint, and he was frequently confined to his bed for months together, so severe were the attacks; he resorted to numerous remedies, but his disorder only increased, and he was compelled for a time to suspend his valuable public services.—Knowing several parties who had derived signal benefit from the use of Holloway's Ointment and Pills, he resolved to give them a fair trial; after he had used these remedies a few weeks he felt himself considerably better, and in two months he had entirely recovered, although he had despaired of ever deriving any relief to his sufferings.

Omar Pasha, notwithstanding his three-score years has just married a young lady fifteen years of age, the daughter of the unlucky General, Nazir Pasha. The bride and her family were strangely opposed to the match, and only yielded a reluctant assent in consideration of certain influences that were brought to bear upon them in high quarters. This is the tenth or twelfth marriage that Omar has contracted since he abjured Christianity.

European Intelligence.

The Steamer Canada, which sailed from Liverpool shortly after one o'clock, P. M., on Saturday, May 10th, arrived at Halifax, at 4 past 8, p. m., on Tuesday, the 20th. The mail from Halifax, with the letters and papers by this steamer, reached this city at an early hour yesterday morning. From our files we make some extracts of news, additional to the telegraphic summary already published. — [Morn. Couper.]

THE NEWS OF THE WEEK.—The present has been a week of felicitations—every body "merry as a marriage bell." The Queen held a grand state ball at Buckingham Palace on Thursday, on which occasion the new apartments, of which elaborate descriptions appear in the morning papers of yesterday, were thrown open. The guests numbered 1900, and comprised the elite of London society, with a sprinkling of the commonalty. Literature was personified in the person of Mr. Charles Dickens, and poetry in that of Mr. Alfred Tennyson. This may be said to have been the "Pease Ball," and to mark her appreciation of the occasion, her Majesty has given a free and full pardon to all persons under sentence for political offences. This will, of course, extend to the chartists who were transported many years back—Frost, Jones, and Williams, if they be still living; and to another and still more celebrated offender, Mr. William Smith O'Brien. The last named gentleman has been for some years past residing on the continent. With a return to his native land he will find great changes there, and as he will come back wiser and sadder, there is every reason to believe that the experience of the past will not have been lost upon him. Sweet are the uses of adversity.

The Queen's Ministers were at the Mansion house the previous evening, enjoying the Lord Mayor's hospitality, and the occasion was opportune for indulging in the reciprocal compliments which follow the cessation of a great war. All the foreign ambassadors were present, with the exception of the representative of the United States, who was enjoying himself at a celebration not less interesting; and the number of titled and untitled beauties grouped around the board of the Lord and Lady Mayores imparted to this civic feast an additional charm. The principal speeches of the evening were, of course, those delivered by Lord Palmerston and the Earl of Clarendon—the one in his capacity as the head of the Government, the other the director of the foreign policy of the country. Both were very appropriate, and considering how frequently both speakers had been compelled in public to travel over the same ground, recently, wonderfully diversified. Lord Clarendon's allusion to the brave General Williams was pointed and happy, and his lordship's eulogy on that distinguished but ill-supported officer has since been ratified by the Sovereign and both Houses of Parliament. General Williams for his services at Kars, has been created a baronet, with a pension of £1,000 a year—a sum hardly adequate to his services, if we compare them with those of others who have fared peculiarly better. But the compliment, nevertheless, is a handsome one, which has been hailed by the public with pleasure.

Lord Palmerston has also been "doing the amiable" for the army and navy in the House of Commons, and Lord Panmure a similar duty in the House of Lords. Every body is pleased, past blonderings are forgotten, and the animosities of political strife are for the time buried in the general oration. The eulogies on the bravery of the troops and the military events of the campaign were in very good taste, for certainly the sterling qualities of British soldiers, after so long a peace, deserve all praise. It seems that our loss by death and casualties of all kinds in the course of the war, did not exceed 22,000 men, whereas, the loss of the enemy amounted to half a million of souls—an enormous disproportion. For the navy the encomiums of the Premier were more subdued. They had less to do, he contended, as the enemy would not come out to fight, but they rendered excellent service in various ways to the land forces. If they had had a chance of encountering the Russian fleet in the Baltic or the Black Seas, the navy, his Lordship showed, would have maintained their ancient prestige. Not to lack generosity on this interesting occasion, Mr. Disraeli seconded the motion to our naval and military heroes in the House of Commons, and the same day was well and gracefully performed by Lord Derby in the House of Lords.

The tide has turned in favour of Lord Palmerston. The Kars should, on which he was to have gone to pieces, has been in reality his saviour, and it is believed—nay, positively asserted—that the war being over, some of the Peelite party who deserted his Cabinet in the hour of need will return to it. As they are the ablest administrators in the kingdom in the time of peace, such an accession of moral power will give Lord Palmerston a new lease of Downing street.—Sir George Cornewall Lewis has been a failure as Chancellor of the Exchequer; and as Mr. W. E. Gladstone, during the time he filled that office, was one of the most popular financiers of our day—as he had won the confidence of commercial men, by combining prudence with a daring originality, the business men of the city would be glad to see him restored to the position which he so ably filled; while Mr. Cardwell, Sir James Graham, Mr. Sydney Herbert, the Duke of Newcastle, and others, would form excellent substitutes for men every way inferior who now hold leading positions in the Government.—If this arrangement be carried out, Lord Palmerston will be in the position of a theatrical or an operatic manager who has more first-rate performers than he can find first-class parts parts for. This may be embarrassing in a personal sense to the first Minister; but the country will have no reason to complain that there is a superfluity of the highest order of statesmanship in the market. The Peelites, too, are great favorites in Parliament. Their eloquence and their practical ability are acknowledged by all, and as their sympathies incline more to the Whigs than to the Derbyites, they would materially strengthen and uphold the existing administration. What is wanted now is a series of excellent domestic measures to follow the course of the war, and although it may be too late to introduce such measures during the present session, the bringing of them forward in the early part of next year—the last year of the present Parliament—would be a master stroke of state policy. If defeated in the carrying of such needed reforms, the Administration could appeal to the nation with the certainty of receiving a hearty response. Lord Palmerston was always regarded as an accomplished tactician, and he seems to be in a fair way, not only of sustaining, but of adding to his laurels in this phase of political life.

The foreign news of the week is unusually scanty. The most important event is the publication of a Ministerial pamphlet in France, which reviews the war, shows how it has elevated France, advocates the continuance of the English alliance, and glorifies the Emperor. Second in interest to this is a proclamation issued by the Czar of Russia, relative to the mismanagement of his hospitals in the Crimea. The Emperor censures the offenders, and calls for a court-martial on their conduct, with a view to severe punishment in the event of conviction. [Abridged from the European Times, 10th.]

ENGLAND AND THE UNITED STATES.—The answer of Lord Clarendon, on the part of the Government, to the despatch of Mr. Marcy, dated the 25th December last, in which he announced that Mr. Crampton had become an unacceptable representative of her Britannic Majesty, and requested his recall, is amongst the papers presented to Parliament on the 2nd instant.

The Daily News' comments as follows upon the subject:—"That which Mr. Crampton did was done openly and frankly, he announced to the Cabinet of Washington, that the Queen's Government would be glad to receive recruits in Halifax for a foreign legion; for months and months he explained all his plans to Mr. Marcy, showed Mr. Marcy Lord Clarendon's instructions on no account to run any risk of infringing the law of the United States. He remained in the most confidential communication with Mr. Marcy on the subject, and as soon as it became apparent that the United States Government were averse to the scheme it was abandoned, and the depot at Halifax was broken up. To ask under such circumstances for the recall of Mr. Crampton is really to invite the English Cabinet to disgrace itself for the amusement and gratification of the Government of Washington; and we trust that the good sense of the American people will see the matter in this light."

THE PENSION TO GEN. WILLIAMS.—In the House of Lords on Friday, the 8th instant, the Queen's message inviting their Lordships to concur with the Commons, in conferring upon General Williams a pension of £1,000 per annum, was brought up by Earl Granville, who recapitulated the services of General Williams and the officers who acted with him in the defence of Kars, referring especially to Col. Lake. The message was unanimously agreed to.

In the Commons, on the same day, the House went into committee on the subject of the Queen's message in reference to the pension to Gen. Williams, and Lord Palmerston proposed a resolution for carrying into effect the wish expressed by her Majesty. The noble lord remarked General Williams was a native of Nova Scotia, and it must be a subject of gratification that in his person our transatlantic brethren had been participants in the late war. Sir John Pakington seconded the motion. Referring to the services of General Williams in the defence of Kars, which he observed would stand out in the page of history the most conspicuous of those glorious deeds of which there were so many in the records of the late war. He thanked her Majesty, and her Majesty's Government for the prompt and generous recognition of the services of the gallant officer. Mr. J. Fitzgerald urged that the generosity of the Government should extend to the brave band that stood by the gallant officer in the defence of Kars. Colonel North followed to the same effect. Mr. Stafford enquired Dr. Sandwith, whose attention to English and Russian sick had led to his liberation. Mr. S. Wortley made reference to Lieut. Teesdale, observing that he had acted more like a general than a lieutenant, and suggesting that he should receive promotion proportionate to the duties he had performed. The resolution was unanimously agreed to.

Vote of Thanks to the Army, Navy, Marines, &c.—On the 8th instant, the following resolution passed both Houses of Parliament:—"That the thanks of this House be given to the officers of the navy, army, and Royal Marines, who have taken part in the operations of the late war, for the meritorious and eminent services which they have rendered to the Queen and the country during the course of the war."

"That this House doth highly approve and acknowledge the services of the petty and non-commissioned officers and men of the navy, army, and Royal Marines who have taken part in the operation of the late war; and that the same be communicated to them by the commanders of the several ships and corps, who are respectively desired to thank those under their command for their exemplary and gallant behaviour.

STEAMER SUNK IN THE UPPER ST. JOHN.—We learn from the "Head Quarters" that the steamer Reindeer, which plied between Fredericton and the Grand Falls, struck a rock just above Woodstock, and was run ashore, when she sunk. This is the second accident which has happened this season on the upper waters of the St. John, but fortunately it was not accompanied with such melancholy results as attended the loss of the J. D. Pierce, the boat which was blown to pieces. The only steamers now running on the river above Fredericton are the Richmond and the Bonnie Doon, both stern wheel boats. — [New Brunswick.]

The Standard.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 28, 1856.

It is with unalloyed satisfaction we have, this week to record the resignation of the Fisher administration and the consequent determination of His Excellency the Lieut. Governor to dissolve the House of Assembly and thereby afford the people an opportunity to express their real sentiments on the important questions, which have for months past, agitated the public mind. We say advisedly "the consequent determination of the Governor to dissolve the House" because, as we will presently show, the resignation of the Executive took place before the Governor expressed any opinion or came to any determination on the subject; and although, since the cards are now in our own hands, the principle to which we should all turn our attention—even if it were true, as is alleged, by the supporters of the now defunct Executive, that it is only by an arbitrary abuse of the Royal prerogative that the Governor has given them to us—is to play them, right so, that we may secure for our Representatives, not merely such men, as are true and honest, but such as by their standing, influence and education are fit and capable to take upon themselves the task of legislation; yet as we have no doubt that great stress will be laid upon the so called unconstitutional exercise of the prerogative by His Excellency, for the purpose of attempting to create an interest in favor of the Incapables of whom we are so happily rid—it is just as well—before we proceed to enlarge upon our views of the steps that ought to be taken to secure the return of fit and proper men—that the country should know the real facts which have so suddenly caused the downfall of the Cabinet, and which have come to our knowledge from an authority on which the greatest reliance may be placed.

It is well known that Petitions have been pouring in to the Lieut. Governor from almost every County, praying for a dissolution of the House of Assembly. At a meeting of the Executive Council which was held last week, His Excellency, as in duty bound laid these petitions before them for their advice and consideration, but without himself expressing any opinion or intention respecting them. On the fourth day of the sitting, a message was addressed to His Excellency requesting to know what were his intentions, and stating that if he intended to dissolve the House, the Council would resign in a body.

A more impertinent and improper communication we hardly ever heard of. Instead of a respectful intimation of their opinions which it was their bounden duty to give—but to the expression of which, they were in this matter afraid to commit themselves—the constitutional advisers of Her Majesty's Representative in the Province hit upon the luminous idea of trying to make His Excellency commit himself by a threat of their resigning.

They must indeed be more shallow pated tacticians than we had believed them, to have supposed for a moment so weak an artifice could have been successful; and we really feel that it is almost unnecessary to add that the Governor was too good a statesman to be led to forget his own position and their duty by such familiarity. He returned the only reply such a message deserved; informing his Council—without condescending to make any statement of his own opinions—and for which they were not entitled to ask—that he would be ready to accept their resignations.

We can readily conceive the consternation so dignified and well deserved a rebuff produced amongst these greedy hangers on to office; their chagrin and disappointment, however, we cannot stop to consider; we can only advise them, in the obscurity to which they will now return, to chew the cud of experience they have gained, and never again to aspire to positions they are unfit to occupy.

We would now earnestly impress upon the Constituency the expediency of calling meetings in each Parish to select and determine on four men to be returned for this County; let committees be organized in each Parish to meet and confer with a central committee in the Shire town—let all these committees then cordially unite to procure the return of the four men so selected, and little fear need there be entertained, but that we shall secure good and efficient Representatives. All that is necessary is for the people to hang well together, and not to split themselves up into separate parties either for private or sectional interests.

We are ready to give insertion to any communications which may assist the voters in coming to a just conclusion on the merits of the Candidates who may appear.

THE ALEXANDER FAMILY of Bell Ringers and Vocalists, performed here, on Friday and Saturday evenings last, to large audiences in the Town Hall, and gave much satisfaction. The execution on the Bells was rapid, correct, and harmonious, and called forth frequent plaudits. The Misses Alexander and the boys are clever artists. The vocal part of the performance was also very creditable and was well sustained. At the conclusion of the entertainments they played and sang the National Anthem, after which three hearty cheers were given.

QUICK TRIP.—The sch's Henry Goldsmith, Capt. Taton, cleared from this port on the 21st inst. for the Joggins, and arrived here on the 25th, with a full load of seals. Smart work and sailing.

NAMES OF CANDIDATES.
The following are the only names we feel authorized in publishing; we have heard of others, but have no authority to place them before the public:—
James Boyd, Esq., for St. Andrews.
Geo. D. Street, Esq., for the Islands.
Robt. Thomson, Esq., M. D., for St. George, &c.
Wm. Porter, Esq., for St. Stephens.

We learn from reliable sources, that our respected friend, Dr. Thomson, has been urgently solicited by the most influential freeholders of the Eastern section of the County, to come forward as a Candidate, and that he has consented to do so, with the most flattering promises of support from all parts of the County. This will be sufficient grounds for placing his name in the list.

St. Andrews, May 6, 1856.
JAMES BOYD, Esq.
SIR,—I have the honor to enclose you herewith, a Resolution passed at the General Meeting of the Stockholders of the Saint Andrews and Quebec Rail Road Company, as also a copy of the Report of the Directors for the past year.

Your obt. Servant,
S. H. WHITLOCK, Sec'y.

At the General Meeting of the Stockholders of the Saint Andrews and Quebec Rail Road Company, held at the Company's Offices in Saint Andrews, on Tuesday the 6th day of May, 1856:—
(Extract from the Minutes.)
On motion of GEORGE D. STREET, Esq., seconded by Mr. THOMAS BERRY:—
Resolved, That the Thanks of this Meeting be given to JAMES BOYD, Esquire, for his able exertions during the late Session of the Legislature, in obtaining the passing of the several Acts alluded to in the Report now read; and that the Secretary furnish Mr. Boyd with a copy of this Resolution.

S. H. WHITLOCK, Sec'y.

The Coroner's Jury which sat over the body of Mrs. Johnston, at Fredericton, have returned a verdict of Manslaughter against Montgomery, the Engineer. They also remark:—
"We beg to add that the steamer J. D. Pierce was sailing under the Provincial Inspector's license; we are satisfied that this officer has efficiently done his duty with respect to the inspection of the boat and boiler; his application to the Government sometime back to be furnished with an hydraulic press, in order to carry out his duty more efficiently, is a proof of his diligence and competency."

"We would suggest that at the next meeting of the legislature, some law be passed, requiring that all persons seeking employment in the capacity of steamboat engineers, should be subjected to a rigid examination by some appointed board or body empowered to grant licenses, and that a heavy penalty be imposed upon all steamboat owners, employing engineers not thus legally qualified."

Perhaps it is not generally known throughout the country that there is no money in the Treasury, and that the Central Bank (where Government orders were formerly cashed) will not advance a single shilling upon the credit of the Province. Such, however, is the case. Not a clerk, door-keeper, messenger, sergeant-at-arms, reporter, or stage-driver, has yet received a penny of his winter's wages; nor have the contingencies been paid! This is all chargeable to the rash policy of the set who now rule the Province. The Provincial credit is not so low but a few thousands, could be raised, and the Executive should have foreseen and prepared for the emergency. Surely we are in a fine position to build railways, when the men at the head of affairs cannot manage to pay the hired servants of the Legislature.—Head Quarters
This is a most untoward state of affairs, but it is only a foretaste of the poverty and degradation into which the Province would have been plunged had not His Excellency wisely exercised his prerogative, and dissolved the Legislature.—[New Brunswick.]

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.—It is a real pleasure to us to speak favorably of this article known almost universally to be a good and safe remedy for burns and other pains of the body. It is valuable not only for colds in the winter, but for various summer complaints, and should be in every family. The casualty which demands it, may come unawares.—[Christian Advocate.]

E. D. SPEAR,
INDIAN DOCTOR,
15 Kneeland-st., Boston, Mass.
THE great success which has ever attended the Indian Practice of Medicine, as perfected by E. D. SPEAR, M. D., excites envy in the hearts of the many advocates of Mercury. Many of his remedies, as the public have already learned from newspapers of the day, are prepared from recipes which are believed to have originally been received from the Indians one hundred and seventy years ago. No other remedies deserve the name of Indian.

Physician") to be had, free, at his office, or sent Stammering Cured!

DR. BRONSON, AND C. C. BEERS,
ARE happy in announcing that STAMMER-ING can be PERMANENTLY CURED by Medicine and Vocal Gymnastics. It is first treated as a Nervous Disease, (like St. Vitus' Dance, Epileptic Fits, etc.) and then the habit, incident to the disease, is corrected by exercises in Eloquence. Mr. Beers has been an intractable stammerer for thirty-five years; has attended many institutions for the cure of stammering, and expended hundreds of dollars without any permanent benefit, but cured himself, 18 months ago, and has ever since remained so. With the same means, we have cured others, to whom we would gladly refer any applicants—not having failed in a single instance. Being satisfied from reason, experience, and observation, that stammering is the effect of a Nervous Disorder, and can be perfectly cured by the above means in the course of two or three weeks, we assure all interested of these gratifying results, and guarantee a permanent cure, or refund the small fee paid in advance. Those desiring further information on these subjects, (including terms, guaranty, etc.) can obtain it from our New Work, just issued, on Stammering, its Effects, Causes and Remedies. Illustrated by One Hundred Engravings: Price, One Dollar; on the receipt of which the Book will be sent without expense, and the money this is paid will be credited in the bill for Treatment. Board, etc, forwarded on reasonable terms.—Address BARNES

LET US REASON TOGETHER.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

WHY ARE WE SICK? It has been proved by the human race to be weighed down by disease and suffering. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are specially adapted to the relief of the WEAK, the NERVOUS, the DELICATE, and the INFIRM, of all climates, ages, sexes, and constitutions. Professor Holloway personally superintends the manufacture of his medicines, and offers them to a free and enlightened people, as the best remedy the world ever saw for the removal of disease.

THESE PILLS PURIFY THE BLOOD. These famous Pills are expressly combined to operate on the stomach, the kidneys, the lungs, the skin, and the bowels, correcting any derangement in the system, purifying the blood, the very fountain of life, and thus curing disease in all its forms.

DYSPEPSIA AND LIVER COMPLAINTS. Nearly half the human race have taken these Pills. It has been proved in all parts of the world, that nothing has been found equal to them in cases of disorders of the liver, dyspepsia, and stomach complaints generally. They soon give a healthy tone to these organs, however much deranged, and when all other means have failed.

GENERAL DEBILITY. ILL HEALTH. Many of the most despotic Governments have opened their Custom Houses to the introduction of these Pills, that they may become the medicine of the masses.—Leading Colleges admit that this medicine is the best remedy ever known for persons of delicate health, or where the system has been impaired, as its invigorating properties never fail to afford relief.

FEMALE COMPLAINTS. No Female, young or old, should be without this celebrated medicine. It corrects and regulates the monthly courses at all periods, acting in many cases like a charm. It is also the best and safest medicine that can be given to children of all ages, and for any complaint; consequently no family should be without it.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following Diseases:—

Ague	Jaundice
Asthma	Liver complaints
Bilious complaints	Lumbago
Blisters on the skin	Piles
Bowel complaints	Rheumatism
Colic	Retention of Urine
Constipation of the Bowels	Scrofula, or King's Evil

Dropsy	Secondary symptoms
Dysentery	Tic Douloureux

Female Irregularities	Ulcers
Fever of all kinds	Veneral Affections
Fits	Worms of all kinds
Gout	Weakness, from whatever cause

TESTIMONY.—Mr. Editor: Seeing an advertisement that the Deaf might be relieved by applying to DR. BOARDMAN, 201, Washington street, corner of Suffolk Place, BOSTON, I was induced to leave home and test the Doctor's skill. I was so deaf that I was unable to hear ordinary conversation: To my astonishment, in twenty minutes my hearing was perfectly restored. I recommend all persons to try the Doctor's new method of cure.

A MARVELLOUS REMEDY FOR A MARVELLOUS AGE!

Holloway's Ointment.

THE GRAND EXTERNAL REMEDY.

By the aid of a microscope, we see millions of little openings on the surface of our bodies. Through these this Ointment, when rubbed on the skin, is carried to any organ or inward part. Diseases of the Kidneys, disorders of the Liver, affections of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Asthma, Coughs and Colds, are by its means effectually cured. Every housewife knows that salt passes freely through bone or meat of any thickness. This healing Ointment far more readily penetrates through any bone or fleshy part of the living body, curing the most dangerous inward complaints, that cannot be reached by other means.

ERYSIPELAS, RHEUMATISM AND SCORBUTIC HUMOURS. No remedy has ever done so much for the cure of diseases of the Skin, whether form they may assume, as this Ointment. Scurvy, Sore Heads, Scrofula, or Erysipelas, cannot long withstand its influence. The inventor has travelled over many parts of the globe, visiting the principal hospitals dispensing this Ointment, giving advice as to its application, and has thus been the means of restoring countless numbers to health.

SORE LEGS, SORE BREASTS, WOUNDS & ULCERS. Some of the most scientific surgeons now rely solely on the use of this wonderful Ointment, when having to cope with the worst cases of sores, psoas, ulcers, glandular swellings, and tumours. Professor Holloway has dispatched to the East large shipments of this Ointment, to be used in the worst cases of wounds. It will cure any ulcer, glandular swelling, stiffness or contraction of the joints, even of 20 years' standing.

PILES AND FISTULAS. These and other similar distressing complaints can be effectually cured if the Ointment be well rubbed in over the parts affected, and by otherwise following the printed directions around each pot.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:—
