Local persons closely in touch with the Six Nations believe that the story is made up out of whole cloth. They point out that the war record of the Six Nations was better even than that of Brant Gounty, which claimed leadership in yoluntary enlistments. They also point to the proverbial loyalty of the Indians to the British crown, of which they are not subjects, but allies, bound by treaty still in existence, and never repealed. Thus during the war in ounced from Syracuse.

The feeling here is that never would the Six Nations leave the British flag for they left the United States after revolutionary days to keep under its olds, and have ever proved most loyal to the British regime. They would indeed protest, and have protested, the Indians to the British crown, of which they are not subjects, but allies, bound by treaty still in existence, and never repealed. Contention Upheld.

Hon. Mr. Ferguson's contention that Magistrate Hastings was quite justified in giving to the press the letter of the attorney-general suggesting his resignation, thereby announcing to the public the necessity for his temporary withdrawal from court proceedings, was most emphatically upheld by H. H. Dewart, the Liberal leader.

"I take issue entirely with the attorney-general's suggestion that he may treat the magistrates of this province as officials of this province," declared Mr. Dewart. "When he makes that" suggestion we know why he holds to the police magistrates, and will not give appeal to the county judge."

Lady Henry Somerset was the daughter of the third Earl of Somerset. She married Lord Henry Somerset in 1873. In addition to her deep interest in the temperance movement, Lady Henry for many years had looked after the welfare of women and children. She maintained a home for the training of workhouse children, and also established the Children's Village at Duxhurst for the purpose of saving child life. In 1895 she also founded at Duxhurst the first industrial farm colony in England for inebriate women.

Woodstock, March 11.—Norman Garfield will be hanged on the morning of June 2. His brother Denton is given twenty years in Kingston Penitentiary. These were the sentences passed this afternoon by Mr. Justice Kelly on the brothers who took part in the murder of Ben Johnston.

Norman Garfield was brought into court first. He was in charge of W. C. Killings and John Robley. The prisoner was pale, but chatted with his counsel and smiled at some friends. At 5:47 Crown Prosecutor Ball moved that the sentence of the court be passed on Norman Garfield. A deep silence fell over the courtroom, which was not overcrowded with spectators owing to the uncertainty of the hour of sentence. This move was theroughly discussed at the executive meeting of the commission on Friday afternoon, It has not been definitely decided what course will be taken to have the boys get the tickets, although in all probability several prominent businessmen will be approached, asking that they undertake to supply memberships to all boys who are under the ago of ten years.

It was intimated that this project has been under consideration by both the Y. M. C. A. and the commission for some time, I. M. Houlding, local boys work board secretary, has been cooperating with Secretary Ed Lance, and further steps will be taken next Wednesday evening, when, as guests of the S. A. WALL STREET REVIEW.

New York, March 12.—The week in the stock market was one of almost continuous reaction in more active dealings. Important shares lost 5 to almost 20 points, last year's low records being duplicated or exceeded in several noteworthy cases. Heaviness of rails, due primarily to the prospective scaling down of wages and working forces on a very drastic scale was the most disconcerting feature. Some of the gilt-edged transportation with unbroken dividend records, notably Pennsylvania, were among the more reactionary stocks.

Although trade reviews took a more hopeful view of general conditions, rehopeful view of general conditions, re-turns made by producers of the more necessary commodities were hardly reasnecessary commodities were hardly reas-suring the February tonnage report of the United States Corporation being a the United States Corporation being a case in point.

The money market, so far as it affected the financial district, recorded no material alteration from firm conditions, but commercial accommodations and bank acceptances were included to stiffen, with the offerings save for the very short maturities.

According to trustworthy reports, foreign selling contributed to the week's setback, offerings of Canadian Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio and several other issues of that class originating abroad. International credits were again a state of deadlock because of the allied invariances.

The boller in the East Marsh drainage scheme blew out on Friday, putting the pumps out of commission. With the break-up of spring and rising water in the dykes, quick action was necessary to prevent the lands from being flooding and to allow the onlon growers to begin operations at the accustomed time. Reeve Wilson, therefore, called a meeting of onlon growers which was held in the Meresa council chamber Tuesday afternoon. Therewas a representative attendance, and after a full consideration of the matter it was decided to install two 40-horse-power oil engines to run the pumps. These have been ordered, and until they can be installed a traction engine will probably be used to run the pumps. About 50 businessmen attended the board of trade dinner at the Red Cafe last night, when steps were taken to put new pep into the organization, which has been languishing for some time with the object of better perfroming its duty in assisting the development of Leamington. It is the intention to hold a luncheon in connection with each monthly meeting, at which seakers will give brief addresses on special subjects.

BANDITS BEATEN OFF BY KITCHENER MAN

KITCHENER, March 11.—Bleeding profusely, but still in possession of $176 which bandits tried to take from him early today. Norman Kellerman, a local liveryman, reported his case to the police, after he had chased the two robbers for almost half a mile. Mr. Kellerman was returning to his home after answering a late call, when two men attacked him from the rear, but he turned on them and put up a fight. Surprised at their victim's sudden aggression, one of the bandits fied and the other stayed to fight long enough to administer a few blood-letting blows, then he also ran. Kellerman gave chase, but in vain. He claims he can identify his assailants.

When they returned to their home today after being out of the city, Rev. and Mrs. C. N. Good found that their home had been broken into and thoroughly ransacked. The burglars got away with $4.50. ## GUIDE IS NAMED

Multi-Millionaire Banker Accuses Half-Breed Indian in Divorce Case.

NEW YORK, March 11.—(By Canadian Press.)—Fred Beauvais of Three Rivers, a guide, has been named by James A. Stillman, multi-millionaire, president of the National City Bank, as co-respondent in his action for absolute divorce from Mrs. Stillman, formerly "Fifi" Potter, and a famous beauty. An extraordinary feature of the case is that Mr. Stillman has named as co-defendant with his wife the boy, Guy Stillman, who is only two years and four months old. The complaint in the divorce case states that Beauvais is a "half-breed Indian guide." and that Mrs. Stillman referred to him as "Apolio Belvidere" and "a bronze statue."

The crux of the bitter legal struggle that appears inevitable if the case goes to trial will be the right of the boy Guy to inherit a great fortune. Many millions are involved.

According to evidence already adduced before the referee in the case at Poughkeepsle, "Apollo Belvidere" and Mrs. Stillman met in the summer of 1917 at the Stillman's camp, "Stillness," near Three Rivers, where Peauvals was employed as a guide. He is 26 years old, six feet tall, handsome and stalwart. According to the reports available, he was an unusual guide in that he was well educated and took the position for the summers only.

and took the position for the summers only.

During the summer of 1917, it is stated, Mrs. Stillman was at the camp with her two children, Anne and James, but Mr. Stillman was away most of the time. A number of witnesses from Three Rivers have already been heard by the referee.

OLD AGE

Do you know a man or woman getting on in years, whose life is made a torment by swollen joints, gravel, stone, painful urination, backache or sciatica? If so, you can perform a charitable act by telling them that Gin Pills will surely bring relief and a healthy old age.

A prominent consulting engineer writes us: "Your remedy, I find at 60 years of age, to give me perfect relief from kidney and bladder troubles. I urgently recommend them to friends of my age as being the only thing that does me good." You don't have to buy Gin Pills to try them. ## Listowel, March 11.—One of Listowel's best-known citizens was laid at rest yesterday afternoon, when William Bright, who died on Monday in his 83rd year, was buried with Masonic services. A private service was held at the family home by Rev. J. M. Nicol of Knox Church, after which the members of Bernard Lodge took charge. The band headed the cortege playing the dead march, followed by the members of the lodge on foot. Mr. Bright was town clerk for over forty years, and for more than twenty years was clerk of the division court, which position he resigned two years ago. He is survived by three daughters at home, one out West, and Mrs. William Shearer and two sons in Yale, Mich. The experience of building 70,000 motor trucks is behind the

MODERN PUBLIC HEALTH

BY H. W. HILL, M.B., M.D., D.P.H. Director, Institute of Public Health of Western University, London, Ontario, Canada.

A Column Devoted to Public Health In All Phases Questions Addressed as Above Will Be Welcomed.

Many times have I been asked if all school children should not have a glass of milk during the morn-

This depends entirely on the 'weight for height" of the child. "Over weights" should not have milk in school hours; "under weights" should; in the case of "normal weights" it does not matter, so far as the child is concerned.

WEIGHT FOR HEIGHT." At the risk of repeating what everyone knows already, the age of a child in years (chronological age) does not always, or even often, correspond exactly with the age of the child in physical developments. open the physiological age); or with the child's mental age either. So there are at least three "ages" to be considered in answering the familiar question "how old are

Of course, in ordinary life, anyone who asks that question expects the answer "five, going on six" or 'eight las' birfday" or "oh, around fifteen" according to the youngster he asks. But really, the youngster who was entirely up to date would answer "I am six years old, measured by the passage of time since was born; five years old as measured by the development of my mentality" (although if you really received such an answer you would probably put the child down as 147 instead of only 7 mentally!)

If every child developed physically and mentally at exactly the same rate, we should never have to ask the question: "How old are be quite clear at a glance. But children vary so much, due to heredity, to nourishment and to obscure causes dependent on the dethe brain and another one in the neck that guesses as to age based on development are likely to be quite far off; vice versa, if you know the age of a child, you still are far away from being able to give his exact mental or physical

STANDARDS FOR WEIGHT. "How much should a boy of five weigh?" That is a common questo it is "First tell me, how tall is the boy?" What he should weigh at five years old depends upon his height, not his age, primarily. By weighing and measuring enormous numbers of children tables have been compiled which show jus what these "weights for heights" all ages can be had—we carry them at the institute. The schools also are securing these tables: and in a short time it will be considered just as necessary to place on the school report to parents the weight of the scholar (together with what he ought to weigh) as it is now put on the percentage he secured in arithmetic and geography, together with what percentage he ought to have had.

HEIGHT AND WEIGHT CARDS. These cards tell some very interesting things; for instance a 5year-old boy may be anywhere from 39 inches to 46 inches tall (that is three feet three inches to three feet ten inches) and his respondence with his height, from pounds for the 46-inch boy. Girls run pretty close to the boys at this age, in weight for height, averaging only about one pound less at each height. But while a 39-inch boy at five weighs 34 pounds at six he should weigh 35 pounds.

and at seven, 36 pounds. At ten years old a boy may be 47 to 60 inches tall; that is from almost four feet to five feet; and height for a 10-year-old boy from 54 pounds for the short ones to 91 for the five-footers.

Girls at ten years old are likely to be a pound lighter height for height: although the tallest girls more than the tallest boys at this

GIRLS AND BOYS AT FIF-TEEN. . The boys at fifteen may vary in height from 57 inches to 76, that is from under five feet to a good deal over six feet. The weights of the boys, corresponding to height, at fifteen run from 86 pounds to 174 pounds the shorter girls weigh about the same as the shorter boys. height for height; the taller girls weigh decidedly less than the taller boys at this age, however. Thus a boy of fifteen, 65 inches tall, should weigh 123 pounds and a girl of fifteen, 63 inches tall, should weigh 122 pounds; but a boy of fifteen, 70 inches tall should weigh 144 pounds, while a girl of the same age and height ought to weigh only 136 pounds. We recognize this in our ordinary descriptions of

RATE OF GAIN. This is all explained by the rate gain which boys and girls should age both boys and girls should gain about six ounces per month or about 4½ pounds a year. So also from eight to eleven both boys and girls should gain about eight ounces a month or about six pounds a year. But from twelve to sixteen, boys should gain sixteen ounces a month or twelve pounds a year, while the girls' schedule is quite different—from eleven to fourteen, twelve ounces a month or nine pounds a year, from four-teen to sixteen back to eight ounces a month or only six pounds a year, at an age when the boy sho gain twelve pounds a year. From gain twelve pounds a year, From sixteen to eighteen both boys and girls slow down in gain, boys to six pounds a year, girls to three. YOU CAN'T "FEED" HEIGHT, BUT YOU CAN "FEED"

WEIGHT.
The height of a child cannot be controlled by feeding, except down-wards. Let us see if this point can be made clear in this way. Suppose you start out with two child-ren one of which by heredity, nationality, etc., ought to be tall (say a Swede) and one that by the same tokens should be short (say a Jap). You may stunt both of them by under-nourishment, so that neither reach the height they might have reached, although the height the Jap might have reached would under the best circumstances of course be much less than that of the Swede. On the other hand by liberal feeding you would allow both to reach their full height limit. This would be greater for the Swede than for the Jap. But in neither case can you increase that limit by feeding. Suppose now you underfed the Swede and overfed the Jap. You would stunt the former, but you wouldn't get the other to grow any more than his normal height. If you overfed the Swede and stunted the Jap by underfeeding, the Swede would be as tall as would be normal for him, the Jap would be shorter than normal for him Within limits, however, you can affect weight by feeding, especially in children, pushing it up or pulling it down quite readily—much ore readily than you can in the case of adults. WHICH IS BEST, OVERWEIGHT

OR UNDERWEIGHT? This is a hard question to answer for children; but if the over-weight is not too great, it is probable that overweight is better underweight. At all events, defects are not found so commonly in overare not found so commonly in over-weight children—one to three for an average in overweights as against five to twelve in under-weights. Surely overweight is bet-ter, then? Well, perhaps—but it must be remembered that the over-weight may be a result of the leck weight may be a result of the lack of defects, rather than the cause of it; and that the underweight also may be the result of the defects rather than the cause of them. In other words the child without defects perhaps tends to become average of the control of the defects of the child without defects perhaps tends to become average. fects perhaps tends to become over-weight, the child with defects per-of course there are other things also—over-exercise, and loss of sleep, as well as improper food or not enough food. Most people dealing with an under-nourished child will think of the course of the will think of lack of food as the chief matter. But ability to breathe freely, proper exercise, and proper rest are quite as important in their WHAT TO DO WITH AN UNDER-

NOURISHED CHILD. First of all, weigh and measure and so find out how much undernourished the child is. Then have the child carefully examined medically for any disease (possibly tuberculosis for instance) that may be the real cause of the trouble; or any defect, such as enlarged tonsils or adenoids, etc. Of course if any of these are found, appropriate medical or surgical treatment should follow. But if there be no disease or defect to account for the under-nourishment, diet, sleep and exercise must be corrected, and then the advice of the hygienist is

The diet perhaps is off in some The diet perhaps is off in some minor respect; candy between meals prevents the child eating the proper growth-foods (eggs, meat, milk, fish, etc.) at meals. The child may not be sleeping enough (nine to eleven hours at school ages) or is working at school or at play, mentally or physically, beyond the amount of food they get will warrant. How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a 16-oz. bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make 16 ounces—more than you can buy ready-made for $2.50. It is pure, good and pleasant—children like it. You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat aliment. Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs. Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute astisfaction or noney refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW

Actually, the play is a decidedly bitter satire on nine parts of the governing classes of England, with the topmost tenth left entirely out of the picture. It had been partly written before war loomed far enough above the horizon for any but the very topmost tenth to see it. And the biggest truth that it brings home to us is not—it seems to me—that Europe is rotten to the core; but that it is crying out for someone big enough to convince it. But that the biggest brains are so busy thinking and doing that they have no overtime in which to express them. So in words of one syllable, so that the rest of the world can understand, too, take hold, and avert their doom.

Your grocer will tell you frankly that he makes less profit on Red Rose Tea than on other teas. The only object he has in recommending it is to see that you get the best quality possible.

of that. The picture becomes a cari-cature. That is true. But caricature or that. The picture becomes a caricature. That is true. But caricature's sometimes show a more striking likeness to the original, than an R. A.'s portrait of the same person.

I would like to think that this was the first of a series of three plays, of which Horseback Hall would be the second. Anybody who has been lucky enough to tread the enchanted neutral ground between the house and the hall, with some of those "who could make the best of both worlds" longs for the other side to be pictured; so that the two, in juxtaposition, might immortalize forever that sacred Tom Tiddler's ground from which the war—like a glant man-in-the-middle—has swept everybody for all time.

And then I would like to see Mr. Shaw's outline—in a third play—of how the remains might be amalgamated.

G. B. S. has given us an indelible object lesson. But if he cannot give us constructive criticism—who can? He has the noblest, subtleat power of explain what he expresses. If he can produce even the skeleton outline of the scaffolding of the new house—it is possible that one of the gods may be found Graham, responding to "Canada." dwelt upon sport in its relationship to the future responsibilities of Canada among the great nations because of her splendid war effort, and urged British sportsmen as the models upon which would be founded broader and better imperial relations and better national ideals.

E. R. Dennis said that the Alert Club and the team had furthered the arena sproject splendidly, and assured the club that plans they might have in this direction would find support from all the organizations in the city who recognized its need as never before.

Connie Mack Thinks He Sees Light Filtering Into the Cellar Berth

Elongated Pilot Is Nourishing Secret Hopes This Year of Better Fortunes For Once-Famous Athletics.

As one has been accustomed for the at six years to speak of the Philaphia Athletics' either in terms of y or ridicule, it is surprising, if not artiling, to go into Connie Mack's lining camp and find a spirit of timing camp and find a spirit of this athletes, from the strongest to the shiring everything in the American League flat and copping a pennant. It is not that Connie or that any of his athletes, from the strongest to the last place, which is more than any one could have counted on since the old days when Mack had his bleckamplons and many penants. It is becamplons and many penants. Connie himself, who also given to beasting, or his boys. It's a bit early than any one could have counted on since the old days when Mack had his bleckamplons and many penants. Connie himself, who also given to beast many penants. It is becamplons and many penants of the fact that at last they might be able to beat some one out in the flag rince. But Mr. Mack, always considered one of the wise men of baseball, realizes it and couldn't help but talk with a spark of enthusiasm even in his customary guarded way.

Manager Mack Optimistic,

"You know, I don't like to make any predictions in the early spring," he ventured, "but I actually feel that at last we are almost on the verge of making a bail club. I still may need players for a couple of positions. That I will not know until I see the team under fre.

"This is the first time since 1914 I have come south for spring work with practically the same team I had on the field at the finish the previous year. Of sourse, this team did not get anywhere last year, but I feel certain that I at last have some real big league ball players, or men who will be big leaguers when they flaish their development.

"The boys are all, with one or two completes the propositions, very young. But I think they are made of the right stuff and will prove it. Perhaps I wouldn't feel certain that I at last have some real big league ball players, or men who will be big leagues when they flaish their develo

Last year's hastily-staged race meets at Queen's Park led quite a number of local horsemen to believe that something would be done this spring to put London on the Western Ontario short-ship circuit for the 1921 campaign. The men who might get together and boost for a return of the trotters and pacers to London must be all in sound-proof rooms, for nothing has yet been heard that would indicate anything has been done, or is even being contemplated.

Once started, there is no doubt but that racing could be successfully brought back to London, but the man to undertake the task or oganizing the lovers of the horse has not yet put in an appearance.

The two meets staged by John Coventry of Woodstock last year were the condensate of the condensate well overprized but of The two meets staged by John Coventry of Woodstock last year were not huge financial successes, nor were the cards well organized, but at each there was sufficient attendance to justify the belief that London could quite well handle a couple of short-ship dates.

London has had a part in some of the most interesting periods of trotting and pacing history of the province. In the city and adjacent to it there have been raised and bred horses such as The Ace, Harold H., The Eel, and some of his products, which made much of modern turf history. And yet the city has forsaken the sport, or the sport has forsaken the city, except for the meets run in conjuction with the Western Fair. The latter meets bring forth an unusually high-class card, and has at least kept sport at a stage where signs of life can still be discerned with good eyesight and a mirror.

Racing in London is like a good many other sports. Everybody is enthusiastic—in agreement. Go to a man who avidly follows the various tank meets the season through and ask him what he thinks of a return to the old days when London had meets and weekly matiness, and he'll fairly glow with enthusiasm. "Fine! Bully! Great move!" he'll enthusiastically agree.

And the same gentleman will go on enthusiastically agreeing most thusiastically agree.

And the same gentleman will go on enthusiastically agreeing most tolubly until something is mentioned about somebody "starting something," whereupon the modest violet looks like a painted, loud-voiced hussy beside the dumb-stricken race-follower.

It's the same in every line of sport. Any citizen of London will agree the city ought to have an artificial ice arena, trotting and pacing races, and many other things the city doesn't possess along sport lines, but all the action that results is with the jaw. ADD SPRING FAMILY PURCHASES

Stratford has won another junior title, and the Midgets this year were rot as good as the team that last year went into the finals. Last year Stratford had built up what looked like an unbeatable aggregation, but T. C. C. had built up a better machine, and closer to the over-age edge. Junior titles often hinge more on the aggregation than they do on painstaking effort in building up a team. The Midget victory, right or wrong, will be the occasion of another howl at the inconsistency of the O. H. A. rule thi year.

The pitchers are being stopped in all the training camps now—the over-eager ones who are liable to pitch their arms out. Later in the season they won't be able to get a lot of them started at all.

Dominion Livestock Commissi oner Tells of the Future Needs of Europe — Tremendou's Markets Will Be Open To Canadian Products.

[Special To The Advertiser.]
PARIS, Ont., March 11.—Sheep raisers from all parts of Brant County gathered in the Y. M. C. A. hall here tonight and participated in ohe of the greatest gatherings of the sort ever heid in this district. There were some 175 sheep men at the "lamb banquet," which was given under the auspices of the Provincial and Dominion departments of agriculture. Prominent live stock experts addressed—the banquetters, and the features of the market for Canadian mutton and wool were hammered home in a convincing manner.

The banquet followed a three-day course in sheep and swine breeding and marketing. Wednesday representatives for the Dominion Department of Agriculture, who gave a demonstration in the selection and preparation of select cuts. Other points, docking, castrating, feeding, killing and dressing were all emphasized, and motion pictures of correct methods were shown.

Practical Pointers.

Yesterday afternoon was allotted to education of shearing and dipping methods, Provincial Reprisentative R. Schuyler conducting the class. A. A. McMillen, their of the Ottawa Sheep and Swine Division, took charge of the class in swine breeding Friday afternoon, and he spoke largely on the inethods of marketing good hogs.

CAYUGA, March 11.—Friendly repartee between Commissioner John A. Paterson, K.C., and David Hastings, former police megistrate at Dunnville, who was on the stand in his own behalf in the investigation of charges against him, marked the close of the suspended magistrate's testimony here today. After the cross-examination was finished the commissioner asked Hastings if, after hearing the testimony regarding the dissantisfaction at his administration of the Ontario temperance act at Dunnville he could ascribe any motive or give any explanation for them being made to the department, and none being registered with him direct; also, if, in, view of these statements he fell it proper for lim to continue to administer the law in the police collisatisfed.

Mr. Hastings replied that he did not believe the majority of the people of Dunnville were opposed to his filling the position, or were dissatisfied with his work. The complaints, he was satisfied, were based nearly altogether on imperfet information, rossip and hearsay, and were circulated by persons who took no steps to secure accurate information or any explanation from him. It is from statements such as the above that Canadians have learned to know Dodd's Kidney Pills in the house."

The same rule applied to members of parliament, and appointments were made under the old system, while unsuitable appointments were made under the new. The member of parliament, being responsible to the people; was obviously the man to be consulted in making appointments to the civil service commission with absolute fall-ure, which he coupled with an annually soaring cost of maintenance.

In defending the appointments of the civil service commission was virtually duplicating the work of the members, with the difference that the commission was "irresponsible." In his attack on the commission's record he stressed more particularly the calling in of two American firms of efficiency experts, whose bills to the Government aggregated some $200,000 within two years for work which the commission itself was originally destined.

Many novel features will be introduced in connection with the presentation of Maurice Tourneur's screen version of Neil Burgess' famous rural racing drama, "The County Fair," at the Grand Opera House all next week. These include a thrilling horse race scene, in which four thoroughbred horses will compete in an actual race on the stage of the theatre, while a big midway with all its freaks and fakirs, will provide an outside extra of much attractiveness. In addition, Sawyer's Corner prize huskin' bee silver band will render two free concerts outside the Grand Opera House each day. To top off the program there will be daily aeroplane flights over the city at noon by Jack Lindsay and Teddy Dobins, two noted aviators, who will perform many thrill stunts, and at the same time drop from the machine complimentary tickets for the various performances and also tickets entitling the holders to free trips in the aeroplane. It will be a week of surprises and of rare enjoyment, capped by a very attractive film, one which has made a tremendous hit wherever shown, featuring Wesley Dinty Barry, the famous new kid star. In the 56 years I have bred Light Brahmas I have seen a great many changes. The Brahma I first bred was a very tall, slow-feathering, slow-maturing, awkward chicken. As cocks they were very large and grand. I rememer a cock I saw in one of E. C. Comey's breeding pens that weighed 18 pounds, not over-fat, very active and vigorous. These early day Brahmas were very light in color. The hackles, talls and flights were the only sections in which black was allowed. Heavy striped hackles and nice laced tails would have disqualified them there.

They were the most popular breed of all the fancy at that time. Everything was sailing along fine and nearly everybody bred Brahmas Some scheming ass introduced cocky

Flax is one of those plants which for tunately is not very seriously affected by disease-producing fungi and bac-teria, although it is subject to a number of diseases which may, under cer-tain conditions, cause considerable loss tain conditions, cause considerable loss through reduction of the yield and quality. The most important of these diseases in Canada is the flax wilt. The fungus causing flax wilt lives in the rungus causing flax wilt lives in the soil, and attacks young plants chiefly, causing them to wit and die. It may also attack older plants, which turn yellow and die slowly. If flax is continuously grown in an infected field the fungus spreads to such an extent as to make the crop almost worthless. This fungus not only lives over in the soh, but is spread by its spores clinging to ungus not only lives over in the solution in the second plants.

It takes about one-half gallon of this solution to treat a bushel of seed, and it is most advantageously applied by spraying it on the seed as it is being shoveled over until the entire surface is damp. The seed should then be frequently raked over to aid in thoroughly drying. Second, by adopting a system of rotation, which would eliminate the growing of flax on the same land in successive years. Miss Long was injured December 4, 1918, when a Wyandotte car on which she was a passenger struck a heavily-loaded truck. The crash threw her to the floor, injuring her.

Attorney Philip McHugh, who is associated with Charles O'Nell in the trial of the case, put the lengthy question to Dr. David R. Clark, called as an expert. He started reading the question at 3 o'clock Wednesday and finished at 11 o'clock Thursday.

The question related the symptoms of Miss Long's condition since the accident, and the physician was asked what, in his opinion, brought about this condition. He replied: "The street car accident."

Loudon, March 10.—Canadian Associated Press.—Sir Robert Horne, president of the Board of Trade, announced today in the House of Commons an export credit scheme in a new form to be extended to dominions.

Instead of advancing 100 per cent of the cost to the manifacturer or exporting agent here, as has been done up to the present, "we propose guaranteeing up to 85 per cent of the invoice price of the goods on approved security. The government felt that the scheme ought not to be confined to derelict countries of Europe, but similar facilities ought to be given in trade with our own dominions. The security there is much safer, and business in every respect is quite as good."

Building Schedule of Order in 1921 Runs Into Millions of Dollars.

Washington, March 11. — The new year promises to witness a continuation of the remarkable development of interest in the construction of impressive new buildings dedicated to fraternal uses, and in this movement the Masonic fraternity is taking a leading part. Among the temples to be erected or well started on the way to completion by local organizations of Masons during 1921, are several which will take rank among the world's outstanding architec tural achievements.

One now in the course of constru at Detroit will cost $4,000,000, another at Denver will represent the expenditure of a great sum of money, and one to cost $3,000,000 is being discussed a

The Case for Daily Newspaper Advertising

The question has been asked: What are the Advantages of Daily Newspaper Advertising by contrast with all other forms of advertising?

In setting out these advantages, Daily Newspaper Publishers do not discount supplementary forms of publicity. But the area of Canada and its distribution of population are such, that Daily Newspaper Advertising has been and must be the basis of all the pointedly successful Canadian advertising campaigns.

1. UNIVERSAL APPEAL.

(a) Enters the home intimately.

The newspaper enters the home and has a more intimate appeal to all members of the family than any other reading matter!

(b) Reaches all classes.

The newspaper appeals to all literate members of the community, without distinction of race, class, creed, sex, income or occupation.

(c) Thorough distribution.

The newspaper finds its readers, whether they are at home or not; if they are not at home, it reaches them when traveling, on trains and cars, in hotels, clubs and libraries.

(d) Reaches the business man.

The newspaper is to the business executive the most necessary medium of information. (e) Minimum duplication.

Because of the completeness of the service of each newspaper, there is a minimum of duplication between newspapers.

2. IMMEDIATE APPEARANCE.

(a) Impulse to immediate action. Because the newspaper deals with the immediate fact and the opinion of the day, its columns give an impulse to immediate action; results are often felt even before the presses are silent.

(b) Quick insertion.

Through the newspaper the reader may be reached within a few hours after copy is prepared.

(c) Quick change.

Advertisements in a newspaper may be changed or even cancelled up to a few hours before going to press.

(d) Quick repetition.

A newspaper advertisement which proves successful can be repeated promptly before the conditions favoring success have altered.

(e) Timely copy. Newspaper copy can be adapted to the day on which it appears, or to current events, and can avoid untimely references.

3. FREQUENCY OF APPEARANCE.

(a) The choice of the day.

The newspaper advertiser has his choice of the precise day of the week most suitable to his advertising.

(b) Intensive campaigns.

Newspaper advertising permits any intensity desired, up to daily insertions.

(c) Serial campaigns.

In the newspaper it is possible to use serial copy with any desired interval between insertions.

(d) Cumulative effect.

A newspaper campaign may be planned to obtain a maximum cumulative effect, through the flexibility of space and intervals.

4. LOCALIZED CIRCULATION.

(a) Close to place of purchase.

The reader of a newspaper advertisement can go directly to the place where the article advertised is on sale.

(b) Spotty distribution.

The advertiser with spotty distribution can, by using newspapers, advertise exclusively where his goods are on sale.

(c) Concentrated territory.

The newspaper offers the maximum concentration of circulation in any community.

(d) Strengthening weak territory. The newspaper may be used to strengthen weak spots in the distribution with the exact degree of force desired. (e) Progressive zone advertising.

Newspaper advertising may be extended progressively by zones, hand-in-hand with and aiding the extension of distribution. (f) Seasonable by territory. Seasonable variations in the demand in different territories may be taken into account in newspaper advertising.

(g) Price variations. When necessary, different prices may be quoted in different territories through newspaper adver-

(h) Localized copy. Newspaper copy and illustrations may be made to meet precisely, and take advantage of, local

(i) Traceability. The effect of newspaper advertising may be traced by observing the course of sales in each community.

(j) Try-out and test campaigns. At low cost, tests may be made of the medium, the product, the selling plan or the copy approach at typical points before embarking on a costly general campaign.

The Daily Newspaper is the medium of the moment—the axis of opportunity; flexible, powerful and instantaneous in its ability to create Sales.

Advice as to the best ways and means of using it will be given to those who inquire of us; or, consult any recognized advertising agency—a list supplied on request.

OF DATO'S ASSASSIN

MADRID, March 11.—The apprehension of Premier Dato's assassin, it is reported, is likely to result from the arrest of a youthful syndicalist at Vical yaro, four miles from Madrid, who has confessed that he was chosen to kill the premier. But his courage falled and he fled from the vengeance of his fellow members in an association called the "Justiciaries," the object of which, the prisoner explained is "to rid the world of these opposed to its aims."
