SECRETARY TURLEY OBJECTS TO PROPOSED BONUSES

Would Involve Nearly a Billion Dollars

SAYS CANADA CANNOT FINANCE IT TORONTO, May 10.—I am opposed to the request emanating from Calgary for $2,000 for each fighting man and $1,500 for each man who has proceeded overseas, and 1,000 for each man discharged in Canada, for very practical business reasons, stated W. E. Turley, Provincial Secretary of the G.W.V.A., to-day. "A good deal of attention has been called to the sentimental reasons for my opposition, and my critics have been accorded a great deal of space in that connection. "The practical business reasons against acceding to the demand for a cash compensation for services rendered are in brief as follows: It would cost the country $635,000,000 to meet the claims of the 417,000 volunteers and a total of $830,000,000 to pay off the 595,441 men who have served in the Canadian forces during the war. Well over 300,000 of them would be entitled to the $2,000 gratuity. "Canada should not shoulder such a burden, for the following reasons: Hon. F. B. Carvell, in a recent statement estimated that the Dominion's debt would total $2,000,000,000 before the end of the year. This he said would entail an annual expense to Canada of $110,000,000, as long as the present generation of Canada lives. "The cost of pensions in 1919 will amount to $30,000,000, and eventually to $50,000,000. The working cost of Soldiers' Civil Reestablishment will come to $25,000,000. These, in addition to war gratuities, pay and allowances, up-keep of military hospitals, etc., will create a toll of $185,000,000, which will have to be met this year as a result of war activities, in addition to $125,000,000 which will be required to run the affairs of the country. "In income to meet this large amount totals $195,000,000, which is made up of $140,000,000 from customs receipts, $25,000,000 from excise and $30,000,000 from income and business profits taxation. The problem for the acting premier Sir Thomas White, during the present session of parliament, will be to find the extra $115,000,000. "If this agitation were successful, it would be impossible for Canada to meet her obligations to the widows, orphans and disabled men who have served. The present pension scale is inadequate. We cannot get an increase for these men in need if we demand a cash compensation for service rendered. "The Toronto machinists, including the Toronto machinists on strike. In addition to this, the other unions, moulders, boiler-makers, metal polishers, pattern-makers and blacksmiths, in Toronto have all called upon the various local unions in the province to take action. The strike is going ahead. At this moment there are, according to estimates, over 10,000 members of the metal trades on strike in the province. The international unions are being requested by the local metal trades council to grant sanction to all metal trades unions in Ontario as soon as they request sanction. There is no doubt that the metal trades council is endeavoring to first call a provincial strike of the international unions in the metal trades, and then afterwards a Dominion-wide strike will come up. The amalgamated associations of engineers have arranged for a provincial strike of their members. Action is being taken at the call of the metal trades. The Toronto metal trades are in touch with Winnipeg, Calgary and other western points. They have received wires from western points asking them to stand firm for the eight-hour day. This has never been such a situation in the history of Canada, say officials of the union. It is likely before long that some of the international officers from headquarters will arrive. There is a move to place all the international organizations possible into the industrial field in Ontario, to take care of the provincial situation. There is not the slightest sign among the metal trades of any disposition except to extend the fight provincially first and then throughout the Dominion, and, according to Secretary J. Merrick of the Employers' Association, there is no sign of negotiations commencing between the employers and the men. The executive committee of packing house men have sent to the Labor Department their application for a board of conciliation. Monday morning will be the real test of this situation, when the employers return to work at the packing houses and the abattoirs. The slogan of the employees is: "We came out on strike together and we will go back to work together." The packing house employers are expected to name their representative on the board of conciliation next Monday. The employees have named Fred Banerott to represent them on the board. The letter-carriers are very decisive and may strike at any moment. The officials of the men are unable to account for the long delay at Ottawa, in bringing in the legislation to deal with their case. The report of the Civil Service Commission has been delayed much longer than the men expected. While the situation has been relieved to the extent of over 3,200 packing house employees agreeing to report for work on Monday, pending adjustment of the board or a settlement, the industrial situation is rapidly growing more cloudy and taking on a provincial aspect.

Conditions Are Satisfactory as Learned in the "Cleanup"

Period is Extended Until May 15th. Public is Cooperating With Authorities.

The first week for "clean-up" as requested by the Fire Department and the Board of Health ended today. It has been a success despite the fact that the weather has delayed the work. In order to give further opportunity to do the work the time has been extended until May 15th. Fire Chief Guerin this morning stated that the inspection of the factories has been completed. All were found in excellent condition, only a few points were found which might be remedied. In a few cases there was an excess of gasoline stored on the premises. In one or two cases also fuses were burned out which were bridged with any kind of wire. As both these are against the bylaws and make the owners liable to a fine, when this fact was pointed out to them the owners agreed to discontinue the practice and have the arrangements made to have him give his entire time and experience to the development of the affairs of the company. Conditions generally are good and satisfactory. One thing which was noticed is the fact that in some instances the electric wiring is not up to the standard but in all cases the owners or tenants are willing to cooperate in order to put the same into better shape. Regarding the alleys which were found in a deplorable condition in the majority of cases the respective parties willingly agreed to clean the same. Chief Guerin is pleased to find conditions so commendable and is gratified with the promise of the public generally to cooperate with him to put everything into good shape. German nation. The German government will put forth every effort to secure for the German people the same national unity and independence and the same freedom of labor in economical and cultural respects, which the Allies want to give to all the peoples of Europe save only our people. "Every thought and the entire will of the nation ought to be turned to labor for the preservation and reconstruction of our fatherland. The government appeals to all Germans in this hard hour to preserve with it in mutual trust, in the path of duty and in the belief in the triumph of reason and of right." The proclamation, which was issued by imperial president and the imperial Government bears the signature of President Ebert.

The lower photo gives a view of the American Naval Flying boat No. 3, which reached Halifax on Thursday last on first lap of ocean flight from New York, covering distance of 525 miles in slightly less than 9 hours. The plane has a wing spread of 126 feet, a height of 24 1/2 feet, a length of 68 feet and a gap between the wings varying between 12 and 18 feet. The maximum speed, a speed which cannot be reached with the full load, is 95 miles an hour.

PERTINENT REMARKS BY SIR ADAM

We can make Hydro railways a success. Railway control will destroy our water-powers. Only effective way of dealing with huge profit-seeking corporations is public ownership. The Hydro Commission is merely composed of trustees of the people. We are entitled to the co-operation of the Government at Ottawa. Sixty-four municipalities are enjoying the benefits of Hydro-licentials, covering 325 miles. Real public ownership by municipalities is more sound, more lasting and much safer from political interference than Government ownership conducted by politicians. I welcome criticism and never resent it, but I claim the right to answer. I maintain the water-powers of the St. Lawrence river belong to Ontario. They are worth millions to us. We will cooperate with Hon. Dr. Reid, Minister of Railways and Canals, in doing justice to the people of Ontario.

30-MINUTE SERVICE FROM HERE TO GALT

To be Introduced on G. P. and H. Ry.

NEW RAILS TO BE LAID As soon as the Grand River Railway can obtain labor it will relay its track from here to Preston. It has purchased and distributed along its right of way $60,000 worth of new steel. When these rails have been spiked down, it is the Company's intention to give a 15-minute service to Preston and a 30-minute service to Galt. The present run to Galt consumes an hour.

CONDITIONS FOUND IN SASKATCHEWAN BY INVESTIGATORS

MOOSEJAW, May 10, (By Main Johnson)—Saskatchewan has now been covered by the Industrial Relations Commission, which passes next to Manitoba. Outwardly, Saskatchewan is quieter than Alberta and idyllically placed compared with British Columbia. There is practically no unemployment in any of the three cities, Saskatoon, Regina or Moosejaw and only one strike was brought to the Commission's attention. Farming is the great industry of the province. Industrialism plays only a small part in the life of people. In reference to farming, Hugh McKellar, the publisher of a Farmer's paper in Moosejaw, emphasizes the difficulties agriculturists were experiencing in getting help. It was almost impossible. Wages of seventy and eighty dollars a month with board were offered. Tom Moore asked a series of leading questions, trying to find the reason for the shortages. Employment is not permanent; housing conditions are none too good and wages in fact were still too low, especially for men with families. The city workmen of Saskatchewan, with exception of Saskatoon, which seems to be comparatively satisfied with present conditions, do not appear to be contented, despite the absence of unemployment and of really bad conditions. The most distinct unemployment of unrest both in Regina and Moosejaw. This pessimistic statement was calmly made here by James Somerville, chief representative in Western Canada of the machinists. As time passes, he said, he was losing faith that present situation could be settled quietly, but although he himself was averse to any such thing, he was beginning to believe he would be "swept into the mainstream."

However he was up and around as usual until yesterday morning when he took a sudden turn for the worse and he was taken to the hospital where in spite of the very best of medical attention end care he passed away four hours later. The deceased was born in Teetwater and about 15 years ago he removed with his parents to this city where he has resided ever since. COL. USHER'S HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE

FAMILY HAD A NARROW ESCAPE. (Special to The Record.) TORONTO, May 10.—Escaping from a burning home with only a few trinkets, which were caught up in haste, J. F. H. Usher and his family escaped death by a narrow margin at York Mills last night, when the family home took fire about 2 o'clock in the morning. Colonel Usher has only recently returned from the front after being a prisoner. The family returned to rest last night at the usual hour. At 2 o'clock in the morning they discovered that their home was on fire. The fire came from a small garage in which there was a gasoline engine, used for pumping water. The fire spread very fast and within an hour the home was reduced to ashes. The family made their escape in their night clothes and the neighbors when they arrived could do little but attempt to save the surrounding property.

PRESIDENT EBERT LAMENTS TERMS OF PEACE TREATY

Says it Will Later Breed Wars. WILL PRESENT COUNTER PROPOSAL. COPENHAGEN, May 10.—Germany's reply to terms of peace presented at Versailles on Wednesday will be a proposal "for a peace of right, on a basis of the lasting peace of nations," according to a proclamation to the German people, issued here today by President Ebert. The proclamation says the present treaty would "deliver German labor to foreign capitalism for the indignity of wage slavery and permanently fetter the young German republic." Ebert's proclamation says, "The German people, having laid down its arms honestly observed all the obligations of the armistice, hard as they were. Notwithstanding this our opponents have, for six months, continued war, by maintaining the blockade. The Allies have now given us peace terms which are in contradiction to the promise given. From such an imposed peace, fresh hatred would be bound to arise between nations, and in course of history there would be new wars. The world would be obliged to bury every hope founded on the league of nations liberating and healing nations and insuring peace. However the fact was learned that in her two years experience overseas the most thrilling time was when the No. 1 Canadian Hospital was bombed. Miss Detweiler is enjoying good health and is glad to get back home again. The trip was made on the Baltic and was uneventful. Lt. W. Burnham of 41 Tuerk street also arrived on the same train and was tendered a similar welcome.

U.S. WILL BUY WHEAT IN CANADIAN MARKET

WINNIPEG, May 10.—Julius Barnes, United States Grain Administrator's statement, that his government will import into United States 4,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat makes the amount 3,000,000 more than was announced a few days ago. It was learned from local grainmen that all of this wheat that is to be exported to United States, is of a low-grade variety that is not in demand by Canadian millers, and for which there is a demand in the United States, where a lower grade of flour is manufactured. DIRECTORS TO ARRIVE AT THREE O'CLOCK. Notice came this morning that the F.W.D. directors would arrive here at three o'clock this afternoon. A local committee, including the Canadian directors went to Galt to meet them. The earlier arrival of the directors will make it possible to begin the banquet earlier than had at first been thought possible. Many citizens have signified their intention of attending. There are no invitations. They are expected to come there. Tickets are available at the door in the Walper dining rooms. Every body who has been forgotten in the hurry up calls was expected to govern himself accordingly.

LITTLE FIGHTING IN SIBERIA

SAY RETURNED CANADIANS (Special to The Record) WINNIPEG, May 10.—Speaking of the work done by Canadians at Vladivostok, Captain J. King, of Toronto, one of the 250 members of the Siberian force on the way east, said there was practically nothing in the way of actual fighting so far as the Canadian force was concerned. There was trouble now and again in the interior, chiefly because of the activities of Bolsheviks and Canadian detachments would be sent along with British, Japanese and other allied forces to restore order, which generally would be speedily done. From one base of the Canadian force, the returned men had little to say of a favorable nature. "The dirtiest place on earth. Pigs were more common than dogs on the main streets," declared another. ### THE WEEKLY MARKET.

In spite of the unfavorable weather there was the usual large crowd at the weekly market held this morning. The rain detained many of the farmers from arriving early and as a consequence some did not arrive until 8 o'clock and citizens who were there when the doors opened at 7 o'clock had quite a wait. However, the supply of produce was equal to the demand with the exception of apples and what was offered was quickly bought up at 35 to 40 cents per bushel. Eggs were plentiful the ruling price being 42 cents per dozen although in some instances 44 cents was asked with few buyers. Butter dropped 3 cents selling at 55 cents per lb. All kinds of vegetables such as onions, carrots, turnips, beets, etc., sold at the usual prices.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT

EMPLOYEES GIVEN 5 PER CENT ADDITION FOR PUNCTUALITY

It is indeed pleasing to note that, apart from the fact that our Manufacturers have given their employees a 9 hour day with ten hour's pay there is one firm of which we know who have gone just a little farther and have made it a rule to be commended. As an incentive to have the whole staff of workmen on the job every day of the week the firm has decided that every man who puts in full time every week or is not late on any occasion will receive in addition to his regular pay an addition of 5 per cent. The period covers every two weeks and it sure makes it worth while to the workman to be punctual.

GENERAL DEBILITY FOLLOWS INFLUENZA

Health Can Only Be Restored Through the Use of a Blood-Making Tonic

Debility is a loss of vitality not affecting any one part of the body particularly, but the system generally. It is dangerous because it reduces the body's resistance to disease. When debility follows acute diseases, convalescence is slow and one's strength does not return as it should. An attack of influenza often results in debility that persists for months. Every body recognizes that the remedy for debility is to build up the blood because the blood goes to every part of the body and any improvement in its condition is quickly felt throughout the system.

In cases of simple anemia or debility following acute diseases, such as fevers, or influenza, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be found valuable because they really build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. There is no other medicine as valuable for growing children, and for men and women whose nervous energy has been overdrawn. They are worth a fair trial in every case where thin blood and weak nerves have started the trouble. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills has been proved in the home of Mrs. John Fram, Owen Sound who says: "My daughter Mabel was troubled with a bad cough; she was pale, weak and her appetite was very poor, indeed I feared that she was going into a decline. A friend advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after taking eight boxes she was again enjoying the best of health. Again last autumn Spanish influenza attacked our home and after the acute symptoms were past both myself and another daughter were left very much run down. My daughter was so weak that she could not walk to school and would tremble when she got upon her feet. I was so weak myself that I could not do my housework. Again we resorted to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and in each case we took five boxes when we were as well as ever we had been. I never enjoyed better health than I am now doing and am able again to do my housework. After our experience it is not possible for me to say too much in favor of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. Brookville Ont.

ORPHEUS DANCE

The Orpheus Hall was the scene of another large crowd last night the occasion being the regular weekly dance held under the auspices of the Society. As on former occasions the music was of the best Krug's orchestra being at their best. These dances have become very popular and will be continued from week to week.

BRANT FARMERS ARE AGAINST THE TARIFF

BRANTFORD, May 9.—A rousing presentation of the farmers' views on the tariff question was given at Victoria Hall this evening. E. C. Drury, of Barrie, vice-president of the United Farmers of Ontario, was chief speaker for the farmers, with W. C. Godd replying to the address recently given here by Dr. F. Cocksbutt, M.P. Mr. Drury declared that the free trade bill implements in itself would help, but little in freeing the burdens of the farmers for what they wanted was a general reduction all along the line. He urged that the manufacturers reduce the high cost of living by reducing the cost of production so that the wage earner could live on less money than did the laborer of England. Real, not nominal value of money, was what counted.

The gathering was opened by Rev. G. A. Woodside, who acted as chairman.

Mr. Good, Brant County, then replied to Mr. W. C. Cocksbutt's recent address, emphasizing that the tariff was not alone for taking of the tariff off agricultural implements, but also the taking off the duty on all machinery and raw materials.

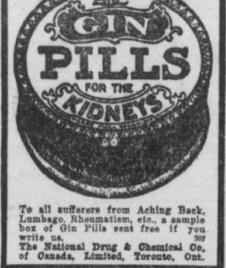

Entering into the manufacture of such implements for the result of free trade, Mr. Good pointed to a local binder twine factory, which was prosperous and continually expanding despite the removal of protection. Protection, he contended, resulted in a production at a loss in the case of industries which had no basis on the natural production of the country. The tariff he likened to a highway.

HEART FLUTTERING EASILY CORRECTED

Good Advice to Folks Bothered With Palpitation, Weakness, Etc.

If you heart flutters, be careful. An attack is liable to come one at any time. Excitement, over-exertion or emotion may cause it.

If blood rushes to the head, if palpitation and short breath are noticeable, there's cause for alarm.

If you want a good honest remedy try Ferrozone. We recommend Ferrozone because we know it's just right for heart trouble. It cured A.F. Beattie who lives at Allen Hotel, A.P. City, Mich. See if your symptoms resemble these:

Some Symptoms of Weak Heart
Nervousness, Palpitation,
Trembling, Dizziness,
Sinking Feeling, Heart Pain,
Short Breath, Weakness.

Mr. Beattie says:
"I was weak and miserable. I was subject to heart palpitation and dizziness."
"As I grew worse I began to have trembling and sinking sensations. Ferrozone strengthened my heart, gave vigor to my nerves, soon made me well. It's a great builder!"

By strengthening the muscles of the heart, giving proper circulation and causing a general rebuilding of the whole system, Ferrozone is bound to do grand work in heart trouble; try it 50c per box or six for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct by mail from The Cataracton Co., Kingston, Ont.

ANOTHER FLYER TO TRY OCEAN FLIGHT

COL. PORTE ARRIVES AT ST. JOHN WITH FLYING BOAT

St. John's, Nfld., May 9.—With unfavorable weather still preventing the Transatlantic flight of the British aviators here to-morrow is expected to heighten local interest with the arrivals of the steamer Digby from Liverpool bringing Col. John Porte's flying boat for entry in the air race for the London Daily Mail's $50,000 prize. This giant plane a Handley-Page designed for the flight by Col. Porte and named by him the "Pelitown Fury" will attempt the "big hop-off" from Harbor Grace 60 miles down the coast. She will be unloaded here and shipped to her airbase as soon after the vessel's arrival as possible.

Reporting reports of the weather in mid-ocean were received today. Harry Hawker the Australian flyer predicted again that the full moon scheduled for May 14 would see the start of his flight with Raynham his British rival probably hoping off at the same time.

Still at Halifax.

Halifax, May 9.—The two U.S. Navy airplanes which arrived here on Tuesday from Rockaway Beach, N.Y., on the first leg of their proposed Transatlantic flight to-day postponed their start from Newfoundland in the second leg of the journey. The N.C. 4 the third airplane which failed to arrive here was forced to land on the ocean near Chatham Mass., and was towed into that port. She has resumed the journey.

Still Another.

En route to St. John Nfld., from where they expect to attempt flight across the Atlantic Capt. John Aleck Lieut. Brown and mechanic arrived today on board the Mauretania. They include a Vickers Vimy bombardier plane will come out on a later steamer.

KEENAN'S SPLENDID ART

In "The Silver Girl," which was shown at the Ontario Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, Frank Keenan adds to his gallery of vivid characterizations a portrait of splendid dramatic value. This great romance is notable from the fact that it is the last of the "Extra Selected Star Photo play" in which Frank Keenan appears. The management of the theatre is proud of this achievement and it is rich in promise of high achievement to come, for it was personally directed by J.P. Keenan, now an independent producer and actor, who is making his own pictures. It marks a fine dual achievement of the distinguished character actor.

Keenan, however, as is customary with this veteran, gave a finished performance, marked with rugged strength and an underlying tenderness and pathos, and yet there were some errors while yielding him some credit, still thought that a man with the strong, dominant personality of Frank Keenan, with his gift of tenacity and tenacity, might perfectly fill the part, according to their final analysis of it. So it is now that two masterpieces have been given to the stage and the other to the screen, but differing essentially in personality and expression of high light, tone and shadow.

People, on seeing a screening of his story pronounced it perfect in the spirit of the romance and heartily declared that Mr. Keenan was ideal in the part of Jefferson Hunter, the rugged Nevada miner who had two interests in life his "Silver Girl" mine and his "Silver Girl" wife, who came perilously near losing both.

Dear Mr. Schultz:

Signed the Employees of the Globe Furniture Co. Ltd.

Mr. Schultz was completely taken by surprise and in a few well chosen words thanked his co-workers for their kind expressions and beautiful remembrance. ### COMMISSIONER WELL IMPRESSED

Mr. J.K. Ross, trade commissioner to China left for Brantford this morning after investigating the local possibilities for trade with China.

As the Commissioner visits to the city he has gained information which will be of use to him in handling the export situation for Canada in China. He was delighted after the visit that he came here.

Among the products of this city which he is convinced will find a good market in China are those of Mr. J. Walker and Sons, fibre products manufacturers.

This was one of the places among several that were visited yesterday. The Trade Commissioner was pleased with the high class articles made by the firm and he was emphatic in the statement that they would be good export products.

In regard to the boots and shoes Mr. Ross will keep in touch with the manufacturers after he reaches China. He is of the opinion that there may be an opening for a higher grade boot at work in the eastern country. This at present is supplied by an American firm but the price is high. He believes that there is a real successful competition with this firm.

SALES DEPARTMENT MOVES INTO LARGER QUARTERS.

The local offices of the sales departments of the Dominion Rubber, System Sales Department of Ontario have been removed from the old quarters on West King street to the handsome new location on the same street where were formerly the Red Cross rooms.

The new offices are splendid quarters. They have been transformed completely. The finishing, the furnishings and the lighting are and ventilating facilities are features. They also are spacious, therefore answering the purpose of the change, which was necessitated by the growth of the business. At the rear of the offices is an ample storage room where considerable quantities of tires is retained in order to fill the orders from this district. Mr. R.G. Dillen is the sales manager in charge of the offices and this district.

Passengers on the K. & W. street railway going to or coming from Waterloo cannot help but comment on the many miles of tan bark and the artistic way in which it is piled on the Lang tanning Company property on King street. They resemble one-story houses, more than anything else, and it undoubtedly requires some workmanship to pile the tan bark so uniformly.

IMMIGRATION BILL AGAIN AMENDED

GOVERNMENT MAY DEPORT UNDESIRABLE EVEN AFTER FIVE YEARS' RESIDENCE

Ottawa, May 9.—Friday is usually a day devoted to clearing up odds and ends of business and to-day was no exception. In addition to passing the immigration bill was passed out of the committee and several minor bills were given second and third readings.

Three amendments were added to the immigration bill before it was finally passed. One provided that no immigrant should bring into Canada concealed weapons. Another provided for dealing with immigrants who are over the overthrew by force of constituted authority. Hon. S.W. Jacobs objected to this amendment but he got no support and the amendment was carried.

Another clause gave authority to deport an undesirable immigrant who had lived five years in Canada and had acquired a domicile provided he had not become a Canadian citizen.

Mr. Atune Cronyn withdrew his amendment which provided for the restriction of immigration for five years from certain European countries.

Hon. J. Calder said that the officers of the department regarded it as difficult to work out. Mr. Cronyn said he realized it was radical and would not press it.

POWER DEVELOPMENT ON SAUGEEN RIVER

SERVICE FROM EUGENIA FALLS ALSO URGED

PORT ELGIN, May 9.—The Associated Municipalities of Northwestern Ontario is the name of the new organization formed at Port Elgin yesterday for the purpose of laying before the Hydro Commission in a strenuous way the case that 33 municipalities comprising 20 townships and 13 towns and villages are organizing strongly for the purpose of obtaining hydro-power. The territory concerned is about 75 miles in length with towns extending from Southampton to Wingham, across to Mildmay.

Delegates were present from practically all the towns and some of the townships. The feeling of the men present was that this portion of the province had been neglected and that while other portions of the province surrounding them were glorying in the reduced rates the northwestern municipalities were being handicapped agriculturally and industrially through lack of consideration from hydro headquarters. The meeting here was called by the Port Elgin Board of Trade and there was a fine attendance. Mr. H.H. Stevens president of the Port Elgin Board of Trade presided at the meeting.

IF YOU BUY OUT OF TOWN AND I BUY OUT OF TOWN WHAT WILL BECOME OF OUR TOWN?

"THE DOLLAR YOU SPEND IN KITCHENER WILL COME HOME TO BOOST." The News Record "Buy-in-Kitchener" Campaign

Read with care the series of articles which the News Record is publishing in this department each week. They may present to your mind and heart something you have not thought of before. Patronize the people whose advertisements appear here. They are your friends and ours. They will circulate the dollars you leave with them and are helping to build up our town and community. THE MONEY YOU SPEND WITH THEM STAYS IN CIRCULATION IN KITCHENER.

TAXES RAISED BY HARD TIMES

Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union) Taxes are always heavy—to the man who has to pay them—but taxes in some communities are much higher than in others. If you have ever stopped to investigate the matter you have discovered that the lowest taxes are found in the most prosperous communities. And there's a reason. The prosperous community has the lowest taxes because there is a large amount of wealth in the community against which the taxes may be assessed. There are prosperous merchants with large stocks of goods upon which taxes are levied. Property values are high and there are thriving industries which pay a large proportion of the taxes.

The higher the property values and the greater the wealth of the community the lower are the tax levies, for a lower tax on each hundred dollars of valuation is required to produce the necessary revenue for the administration of the city and county governments.

On the other hand, take a dead town. Property values are low. Merchants' stocks are small and they have little money in the bank. Industries which ordinarily pay a large part of the taxes of a community have closed down. There are vacant store buildings which were formerly filled with stocks of merchandise upon which the owners paid heavy taxes. Who pays the taxes that were once paid by the merchants, the manufacturers, the bankers and the men who had large holdings of high-priced property? The taxes to conduct the city and county governments, to maintain the schools, to build and repair the roads must be collected from someone. Who pays them? The man who owns his little home or the vacant lot or two upon which he has been planning to build his home must pay double or triple the amount which he paid in the times when the town was prosperous, to make up for the taxes which are not paid now by the merchants, the bankers, the manufacturers and the big property owners who bore the heaviest burdens of taxation when times were good.

The farmers in the country surrounding the town are also among the heaviest sufferers from the ebbing of the town's prosperity. A certain amount of money must be raised by taxation to provide for the expenses of the country. Roads must be built and kept in repair. Bridges must be built and maintained. Salaries of county officers must be paid. County institutions for the care of the sick and the poor must be maintained. In counties which contain one or more thriving towns, a large proportion of the taxes for the county are paid by the towns. The greater the wealth of the towns and the higher the property valuations, the lower the tax levy for the entire county. When the tax levy is low the burden placed upon the farmer is light.

When the county contains no prosperous and wealthy towns the greater part of the burden of taxation for the county falls upon the farmer. The value of the farmer's property does not fall in proportion to the value of the property in the town and the higher tax levy that results from the lower property values in the towns makes his taxes higher. The farmer forgets at times that he is vitally interested in the prosperity of "his town." He thinks that it is up to the town to take care of itself and that it is up to him to take care of himself and he overlooks that fact that the prosperity of the town means as much to him as it does to those who live in it. The farmer who is inclined to overlook this fact has only to think of the matter of taxes and he is likely to change his point of view for taxes are one thing that neither he nor anyone else can escape, and they are one thing in which the farmer ordinarily takes a very lively interest.

There is just one way in which the farmer can best promote prosperity in the town near which he lives and that is by spending his money in that town instead of sending it away to the far-distant city. Every time the farmer sends an order to a mail order house he helps to destroy the prosperity of his own community and to boost his own taxes. When he sends a dollar away from home he gets none of it back. When he spends a dollar at home, a part of that dollar comes back to him in some way. It helps the town where it is spent to provide a profitable market for his products and it helps the town pay a large part of his taxes. The farmer is the one man in the community, above all others, who should have no love for the mail order houses for they are doing more to add to his troubles than any other one agency.

UNITED FARMERS AND PROTECTION

All of the farmers of Western Canada are not opposed to protection. The United Farmers' Organizations of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba are ranged against the tariff but the British Columbia branch of the U.F.A. have lined up for it.

Late in April it assembled and placed itself on record as being opposed to the demands formulated by the Canadian Council of Agriculture and to the spread of the impression that the farmers of Western Canada are unanimously for free trade, or its next of kin, a low tariff. This impression, the B. C. farmers declare, is not in keeping with the facts, and it is to the best interests of a large section of Western farmers that such an impression should not be accepted by the Government and the Public. Thoroughly convinced that B. C. farm products, including fruit, require protection and that this can be demonstrated, they recommend the immediate appointment of a parliamentary committee, on which there should be a fair representation of farmers, to make an investigation of the customs tariff, with a view to preparing legislation that will best serve the interests and welfare of the whole nation. It is gratifying to observe that the U.R.O. of B.C. is willing to live and let live and perceives that the retention of the home market for Canadian farmers, manufacturers and workmen is of more benefit than the removal of the duty on a self-blinder. The home market is and will under a tariff remain the farmers' best market.

It confers a daily benefit whereas the purchasing of a piece of farm machinery occurs perhaps once in five years. It is not necessary to buy farm machinery in the States. Canadian-made implements are quite as good as quite and cheap.

Under the tariff, the money expended for a Canadian-made article remains in Canada, is mostly paid out to mechanics, who expend a large proportion of their wages for goods. When the Canadian farmer buys a harvester, he helps both himself and the Canadian mechanic. It is a mutually beneficial transaction. The United States is a great agricultural as well as manufacturing country. Both of these interests were built under a protective tariff, much higher than Canada's. Their farmers are not asking for free trade or a revision of the tariff downward in order to encourage the importation of cheap manufactures from Europe. Were they not convinced that the foundation of their prosperity is based on the home consumption of farm products, they could, with greater force, argue for free trade.

Many Western farmers are envious of the 100,000,000 U. S. market. They cannot well get entry to it, excepting they sacrifice the industrial welfare of Canada, an interest fully as important as their own. The proper and self-reliant course is for Canadians to labor together to make their home market as valuable to themselves as is the American market to the American farmer.

This does not alone depend upon population. There are probably fourteen farmers in the United States for every one in Canada. Yet the one Canadian farmer may have as many customers as his American cousin. The value of a customer both in Canada and the States depends upon his being steadily and remuneratively employed in manufacturing or related occupations.

A moment ago it was stated that the farmers of the United States are not demanding free trade. On the contrary all American interests seem to be agreed that more protection is needed. The electors have placed the Republicans in power. Speaking before the Manufacturers' Club of Philadelphia, Senator Primrose, who will be chairman of the finance-committee in the new senate, said:

"Once again we must take up the task under new and unprecedented conditions, of framing a protective schedule which will provide adequate protection for American capital and labor, and secure the industrial independence of the United States; a protective tariff which will very largely secure the Mexican market to the American producer, thus enabling us to maintain the high scale of wages required by our living standards, and start the country once more upon a triumphal march of development and progress."

"We must prepare for it, not as heretofore, against foreign competition from nations which were either free traders or largely had merely a protective tariff, but as against industries of nations aided in every conceivable way by government, subvention, subsidies, contracts, regulations, and tariffs. In other words, a protective tariff system is more vitally necessary to the United States in the immediate future than ever before in its history. Without its proper enactment, distress and perhaps ruin, will stare our people in the face. We must proceed in a heroic way."

When the Republican leaders frame a new tariff the interests of the farmers of the United States will not be overlooked. Few loopholes will remain. It will be difficult for Canadian farmers to sell any of their products in the U.S. market. Then how foolish it would be to open our doors to the free or easy entry of American manufactures.

When Australia, Argentina, India and later Russia, are able to ship their wheat to Liverpool, the Canadian farmer will place a higher value upon his home market, which will if not limited run from 80 to 85 per cent. of its products.

The U.F.O. of British Columbia asks for a parliamentary committee to investigate the tariff. This is good, but only a half-measure. It would be better to appoint a permanent tariff commission, to study not only our own tariff and how it affects us, but those of other countries, and to report thereon. The foundation has been laid for such a body. The tariff should be generally understood by the people, and the government should be held responsible for its maintenance.

apart by all civilized lands, as a day of kindly deeds in memory of the MOTHERS OF MEN.

How long would the race last without the family relation, the church, and mother love?

Mightier far for good than all other known forces in human society is the patient, tender, abiding influence of mother!

No man ever became great who had a bad mother. All great men acknowledge their debt to mother. No man ever can become wholly bad who is the son of a good mother.

Shortly after Bonaparte's elevation to the imperial throne of France, meeting his mother in the gardens of St. Cloud, half playfully, half in earnest, he held out his hand for her to kiss. Indignantly she flung it back, and offering her own in the presence of the imperial suite, said, "It is your duty to kiss the hand of her who gave you life!"

Napoleon took the proffered hand, and kissed it affectionately. A son does honor to himself in honoring his mother.

"The bravest battle that was ever fought, Shall I tell you where and when?"

On the maps of the world you will find it not; 'Twas fought by the mothers of men."

The official slogan for Mother's Day is, "The Best Mother Who Ever Lived." It was the purpose of its founders that on Mother's Day every mother should receive some thoughtful attention at the hands of her children—a letter, or telegram, or flowers, or a box of confections, or some slight remembrance which will gladden her unselfish heart and cheer her on her way. When you send or present your token on Mother's Day, do not hesitate to manifest tenderness, do not fail to use the official slogan. Write across the package, "To The Best Mother Who Ever Lived!" It will compensate for some of the things she did for YOU in the years that are gone!

BUY IN CANADA

Urging development in the home market, the Canadian Labor Press in a special article in its May issue, says:

"There is an obligation upon all Canadians to buy domestic products, just as there is an obligation upon manufacturers to supply commodities equal in merit to those of foreign competitors. Every dollar spent for goods produced by Canadian labor means better conditions for Canadian workers, and no goods purchased abroad are cheap that take the place of our own labor and our own raw material. The Canadian Trade Commission has estimated that for every $1,000,000 retained in Canada by a refusal to buy other than Canadian goods, a year's continuous employment can be given to at least 1,000 people."

DELAY IS GREATEST DANGER

The United States Labor Department has received a report from the Employers' Industrial Commission, which recently visited Great Britain, to the effect that commercial and industrial leaders in the United Kingdom maintain that the greatest danger confronting business in the period of reconstruction lies in the tendency to await a reduction in the prices of materials and labor. These leaders doubt that wages will be appreciably lowered and they state that whatever might be gained by a later reduction in the cost of raw materials will be more than offset by the benefits accruing in the immediate manufacture of needed commodities.

MUST CULTIVATE LAND

According to the Neue Freie Presse of Vienna, February 4, the Hungarian Minister of Agriculture has ordered that every landowner be compelled to cultivate land hitherto farmed, and that every individual hitherto an agricultural laborer or engaged in agriculture, be compelled to continue to devote himself to agricultural pursuits. Should any landowner not be in a position to cultivate his land himself he is to be compelled to surrender it wholly or in part.

"IN THE DAY'S NEWS"

Sir Thomas J. Lipton, the famous merchant and sportsman who has been in America to discuss preliminaries for an international yachting contest, enters upon his 70th year to-day. The man whose two chief desires have been to feed the world and to lift the America Cup, began life as an errand boy in a store in Glasgow, the city of his birth. The life did not suit him, so he ran away from home and came to America as a stowaway. First he went to South Carolina and worked on a plantation. Then he located in New York. He could find little to do in the metropolis, so he went home, traveling again as a stowaway. His father had saved a little money and with it the boy was enabled to set up a little grocery business. It prospered, for while in America Lipton had studied the American way of displaying and selling goods, and he used his knowledge to such advantage that he was soon able to open other stores until he had a line of them all over the United Kingdom, and had built up the greatest system of food supply in the world.

WOMEN AS BRAVE AS THE MEN

Their Struggle Shows a Remarkable Spirit.

Talk of the bravery of men, but where can you find a finer spirit than among the half-sick women who are fighting and struggling to do their duty against the terrible odds of ill-health and who will not give up.

One woman in every three is struggling against weakness. Most of them are not exactly sick, but, oh, how miserable.

The burden and misery of it all has its foundation in the blood which is thin and watery. The red cells are too few. The very stream of life is reduced in vitality. Weakness, and inevitable ill-health are the certain result.

Every ailing or weak woman can quickly regain her health in this very simple way. By filling the system with the nutrition that comes from rich red blood, a quick change for the better will result. To accomplish this, take two chocolate-coated Ferreroze Tablets after each meal. You'll feel better immediately for the simple reason that Ferreroze renews the blood. It gives you vim, vigor, endurance, restores a tired, worn-out system very quickly.

You'll feel like new all over once you get Ferreroze working through your blood. It puts color into faded cheeks, brightens the eyes, quickens the step, brings back that wonderful feeling of youth.

One of the finest things Ferreroze does is to make you eat lots and digest it as well. With keen appetite, sound sleep, strong nerves and lots of nourishing blood you're bound to regain robust health. Any sickly girl or ailing woman that Ferreroze won't make well must be incurable. There is a secret power in Ferreroze and it is worth a trial at all events. Fifty cents per box, six for $2.50. At all dealers in medicine or by mail from The Catarthozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Comb Sage Tea in Faded or Gray Hair

If Mixed with Sulphur it Darkens so Naturally Nobody Can Tell

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Tells why everyone should drink hot water each morning before breakfast.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy dull and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness.

If we all would practice inside-bathing what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anemic-looking souls with pasty-muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women whether sick or well are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate mix as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material waste, sour bile and toxins thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Under-Currents

By The Duchess

"Seaton, Seaton!" he shrieks almost as the door is almost closing on the young man, as the last moment of grace is expiring "don't leave me, don't desert me! Don't go like that!"

Seaton unnered by that sharp despairing cry, pauses and finally turns to the room, closing the door behind him. Reluctantly he lifts his head and casts a most unwilling glance at his father. The old man huddled in his chair, his chin falling on his chest, his arms hanging loosely at his sides—he looks dying.

"Don't leave me in anger—whom have I but you?" he gasps, the words coming with difficulty. "Oh the iron of it. All I do, all I plan is for you, for your benefit alone, yet you are the one to thwart and oppose me!"

"What I desire to know is," says the young man, "why do you speak to me, though still with a frown 'why it is not so strangely desirous of seeing me married to my cousin'?"

"Strange? Why should it be a strange desire?" says Dysart recovering himself as if through the influence of some mental shock. A dull colour flames into his cheeks, and his fingers clutch more tightly the arms of his chair. "There is surely nothing strange about my desire to see my only son married to the daughter of my only brother?"

"Your only brother was hardly so specially dear to you."

"You argue from the accounts learned of later years; I from the memories of the days when you were not, and my brother and I were boys together. But let that pass. If I say there are other reasons, a thousand reasons" throwing out his hands "why I should regard this marriage with a favorable eye, help me to the consummation of it."

"That is beside the present question. You say there are a thousand reasons why you would see me Vera's husband. Give me one!"

"You are getting on in life, you are twenty eight—or nine is it—you are no longer a boy; before I die I would see you with a home an estate of your own."

"As Vera is penniless you can hardly hope to see me with an estate before your death—you see I am frank with you I do not spare myself, I do not spare you—that reason is insufficient!"

"I would fain see you with my grand children on your knees" says Dysart, with a careful but ineffectual effort to look patriarchal.

"There are many other women in the world who could gratify that fancy of yours besides Vera," says Seaton coldly, his glance fixed on the carpet "and—you will pardon my saying so but I find a difficulty in believing that your prospective grandchildren would influence you in any way."

"You would prove me" said the old man with a dangerous scowl. Then he controls himself and goes back to the former gravity of his manner. "Have you forgotten?" he says turning his bright, eager eyes upon Seaton "that Vera is the only woman I now know? Excluded as I am from the world, she alone presents herself to me as a woman who might make you a suitable wife. Doubtless there are many others but she alone I can see and judge of for myself. She is well-born, well-educated, not one to be ashamed of the head of one's table."

"You have studied her" says Seaton with a rather pite smile.

"And she is pretty too eh?" with a contemptuous leer—"pretty in the mining way of which fools approve, handsome enough to drag to her feet a score of idiots. What would you more boy? Have I not given you reasons 'plenty, as blackberries' is it that you are bent on disbelieving me—that you would call me liar?"

He is trembling with some secret agitation and has grasped the arms of his chair with both hands and with his death-like face peered out is regarding his son with a menacing expression. Fear largely mingled with a fiery anger dominates his features. He is evidently working himself up into a second fit of passion the bare idea of which alarms Seaton.

"Pray be calm. Let us discuss this matter if it must be discussed, leisurely" he says with sharp appeal in his tone.

"My reasons—my reasons you would have them?" gasps the old man feebly "I tell you boy, there are none—none—save a longing for your well-being."

A sudden thought rushes through Seaton's mind. Has his father guessed his fatal attachment to his cousin? Was it to see him, Seaton, united to the woman he loved—the woman who had been the former gravity of his manner. ## With Fingers! Corns Lift Off Doesn't hurt a bit to lift any corn or callus right off. Try it!

For a few cents you can get a small bottle of the magic drug freezone recently discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone. Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching corn or callus and instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you lift it off with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also hardened calluses on bottom of feet, shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is almost magical.

Ladies! Keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.

and man was thus working early and late to bring about his marriage? Oh if he had wronged him, if indeed only at the very last he had lit upon this truth! A great wealth of remorseful tenderness springs up within the young man as this thought enters into and finds a dwelling place within his heart, and bending over his father he smooths his pillows, and ministers to him with a mind filled with regretful memories.

CHAPTER XXXI.

I have of late (but wherefore I know not) lost all my mirth, foregone all custom of exercises. And indeed it goes so heavily with my disposition, that this goodly frame the earth seems to me a sterile promontory.

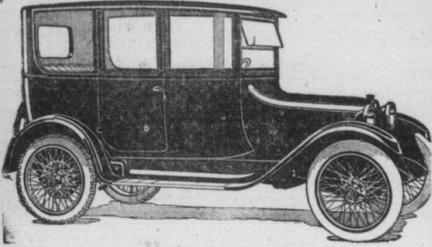

Four long days have crept languidly into the past four of the fullest days Griselda Dysart has ever yet endured as she is compelled to acknowledge even to herself. Oh, with what a relentless sluggishness each of the fifteen waking hours that go to make up her day has dragged itself to its close! There is no chance now of any one's breaking in upon her monotony, no vaguest hope of gaining a breath from that outer air that lies beyond her prison.

GRAY DORT

For Many Reasons

ONE owner praises the economy of the Gray-Dort. The low consumption of fuel. The long mileage from tires.

Another finds in this car the power and speed he needs without costly weight.

A third talks constantly of value. A staunch, handsome, roomy five-passenger car is unusual value at the Gray-Dort price.

Women, particularly, appreciate the easy driving and comfortable riding of the Gray-Dort. Its beauty, too, attracts their admiration.

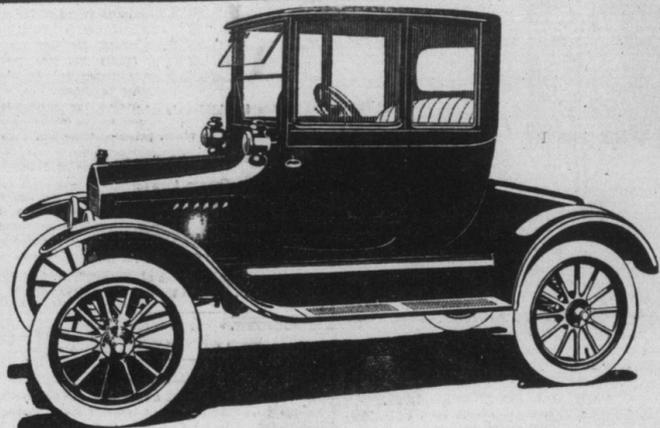

You have already heard much of the Gray-Dort. Go now and ride in one. Ask the Gray-Dort dealer for a demonstration. He will gladly give it.

The touring car is $1245; the Gray-Dort Special—the car with added refinements and extra equipment, is $135 extra; there are also a coupe, and a sedan. All prices f.o.b. Chatham and are subject to change without notice.

Chevrolet

The Chevrolet SEDAN represents a noteworthy achievement in automobile design and construction. In its mechanical efficiency, comfort refinements and convenience and beauty, this model reaches a standard not heretofore associated with cars of this character. This Sedan is really two cars in one, for in a moment the body becomes either an open or closed model, and in each position the beauty is not diminished in the least. The body is fitted with two doors, one on the left-hand side of the driver's seat, and the other on the right-hand side, opening into the tonneau.

The front seats of the Sedan are divided, affording easy passage way into the tonneau. The right-hand seat is reversible with hinged back that swings over the seat, permitting it to be used with the back facing either the tonneau or the front.

The chassis of this closed car possesses all the sturdiness and dependability incorporated in Chevrolet construction. The motor provides ample power. The valve-in-head construction insures minimum use of fuel.

FUTURE TO FAVOR LIGHTNESS IN CARS

More Acceleration Must Be Gained Says Robert Gray.

There will be but little new in the automobile field within the next twelve months, says Robert Gray, president of Gray-Dort Motors, Chatham. When the new cars do come through they will not be radically changed from what we have now, but rather will be replete with retained refinements which tend to make performance better and the car more accessible.

If there is any tendency in general design it will be toward lighter cars, in which the lightness is secured by more scientific design and better utilization of less space. In other words, the car of the future will get better performance and have more room for driver and passenger although mounted probably on a shorter wheel base than the average car of today.

A question often asked automobile engineers is what effect is the war going to have on car design. The war is not going to have any material effect on car bodies or the general appearance of cars, although there is no doubt but what the lessons learned in the strenuous war service will leave their imprints on a number of details.

Probably the most important lesson that can be learned from the war is the necessity of accessibility. The time should come very soon in which it will no longer be necessary for a man to pay a bill of $3 or $10 to reach some part of his car which costs 50 cents to replace. The cost of automobile labor is so high that it is very hard efficiency to have an inaccessible car. Every car is bound to wear in certain parts and the car should be so designed that the parts which wear quickest can be most easily reached. There are numberless cases where enormous bills have been paid for replacing some small part which should have been designed so as to be accessible in a few minutes instead of requiring several hours of work perhaps by two men to reach it.

Some of the things which are coming in the future are more scientific chassis lubrication which the troublesome grease cup will be eliminated as a system of chassis oiling devices that will not require the use of overalls every time the car is to be lubricated. The lighter weight of future cars will give even better acceleration than we have at the present time, and better performance on hills. They will be economical from the fuel standpoint, and will use less oil. Furthermore the lighter weight and increasing use of cord tires will make 10,000 to 15,000 miles an average instead of the exception on one set of tires.

Engines Must Be Redesigned. Low grade gas is about the most serious problem confronting the motorists today. Yet eminent engineers all agree that there are more thermal units or power in low grade kerosene gas than in high test gasoline. The big difficulty is in getting an engine that will extract this power. Two years ago a famous engineer said that automobile engines would have to be redesigned to use to advantage present-day inferior gas. The Chalmers Motor Co. was the first to adopt the policy. They have already built in two new features, the hop spot and ram horn manifold, specially designed to cope with the low grade gas situation. That these devices have been a success is proven by the increased demand for the Chalmers car. Dealers all assert that it is the hot spot that is responsible

INSPECT YOUR BRAKES

The brakes stand between you and danger, possibly between you and death. Keep them in good shape. The first sign of looseness have them tightened and replace linings when they are badly worn. When you start upon a drive you can test the brakes at the first open stretch of road by speeding up and then applying first one brake and then the other. If the car has a tendency to swing to one side you will know that one brake fails to take hold. Unevenly adjusted brakes cause severe skids.

Brakes may slip because of worn linings, improper adjustment or grease on the brake bands. In tightening brakes do not overdo it. A tight brake drags on the engine and wastes power. If the brake band is very hot after driving you will know that it is too tight.

Never apply brakes except when they are really needed. Checking momentum kills power which has cost you money to produce. Foresee, your stops, shut off the motor in advance and coast to a stop. Jamming on the brakes ruins tires and puts a severe strain on the entire mechanism.

In going down hills you will avoid burning up brake-linings by leaving the clutch in, retarding the spark lever, and letting the motor hold the car back, adding slight pressure from the brake as it may be needed.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT AUTOMOBILES.

In 1899 automobiles were excluded from the public parks of Boston from 10.30 a.m. until 9 o'clock p.m.

The United States army made its first experiments with armored motor cars in the summer of 1899. In September, 1895, there were on file in Washington over 500 applications for patents on automobiles. Three hundred different types of motor vehicles had been built, or were in process of construction at that date.

The first automobile insurance company was started in New York in 1899.

In April 1900, a large automobile company announced that they were manufacturing automobiles at the rate of almost two a day.

Maxwell—a car improved each day

More miles per gallon
More miles on tires

THERE is nothing like doing one thing year after year because it always results in doing the thing well.

This is the underlying thought in every Maxwell.

It is why 300,000 Maxwells have been built on the original chassis plan. Each day this car grows better. Each day it is improved somewhere.

There never has been a radical change in design. There never has been a departure from the original idea.

Still there have been more than 1000 improvements made in this car since the first one was built.

Every time a chance was seen to make it better the improvement was made.

That's why a Maxwell runs on and on in almost endless mileage; why it grows better as it grows older; why it stands the moods of the careless driver.

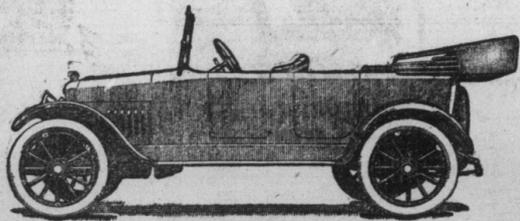

No one has ever criticized the Maxwell on the grounds of reliability.

No one can criticize it on the grounds of good looks.

For there have been 24 recent improvements in its appearance.

See the Maxwell today and then get your check book ready.

If you want to be among the satisfied car owners you cannot do better than invest in a Studebaker. ## HAYAKAWA HOLDS SAMURAI SWORD OF HIS ANCESTORS

Famous Japanese Motion Picture Star Custodian of Most Precious of His Family's Possessions
Sessue Hayakawa, star of emotional drama, who is featured in a new Haworth issue, "His Birthright," in which the famous sword of the Samurai is involved, uses a sword in the production which has been in the Hayakawa family for 400 years. Hayakawa belongs to one of the oldest families in Japan, one whose traditions involve the succession of the oldest son to the family troubles and guardianship of the family honor. He is also custodian of the family sword—most precious of family possessions.

"Time was—not so long ago either"—remarked the actor a few days ago, "when a man's honor consisted in his preservation of certain traditions that in some instances were not worthy of preservation. Among these was a too ready use of the sword to avenge insults, sometimes imaginary ones."

"Now we take our troubles to the courts, just like Americans. The sword of the Samurai is a noble tradition, but we don't use it with old time indiscriminacy. It hangs on the wall in the place of honor among the portraits of our ancestors who were good old fighters of a different regime." Star, Mon., Tues., Wed.

CARPENTER'S PLAY IS PICTURED FOR MARGUERITE CLARK
"Three Men and a Girl" Made Hit in New York a Year Ago
A delightful story in every respect "Three Men and a Girl" Marguerite Clark's latest Paramount picture which will be shown at the Allen Theatre Mon. Tues. is based upon Edward Childs Carpenter's stage success, "The Three Bears," which was produced at the Empire Theatre New York in October 1917.

The theme deals with three men, all of them woman haters, and a vivacious girl who to escape an odious marriage finds refuge in the summer camp where the men had gone to escape women. One of these Christopher Kent, is pursued by a woman while Julius Vanneman, a violinist hates women kind because he was jilted. Dr. Henry Forsyth the third of the bears as Sylvia Weston the girl calls them is the self-constituted guardian of the others.

When Sylvia escapes from her home to avoid wedding an old man she despises she flees to the woods and finds refuge in a summer camp where the three woman haters are living. When they return, they find her asleep curled upon a couch. They are extremely annoyed and Sylvia terms them bears and leaves them to take up her residence in a nearby house with her nurse.

A dead line is established between the two habitans but strange enough the haters of women seek to cross the dead line continually to talk to Sylvia whose beauty charms them. So it happens that she falls in love with Kent the "little bear." The support is excellent.

IS THERE A BABY IN YOUR HOME?

Is there a baby or young children in your home? Baby's Own Tablets are not without a box of Baby's Own Tablets. Childhood ailments come quickly and means should always be at hand to promptly fight them. Baby's Own Tablets are the ideal home remedy. They regulate the bowels; sweeten the stomach; banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers—in fact they relieve all the minor ills of little ones. Concerning them Mrs. Moise Cadotte, Makamik, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets are the best remedy in the world for little ones. My baby suffered terribly from indigestion and vomiting, but the Tablets soon set her right and now she is in perfect health." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Gladys Brockwell who has become famous for the emotional characters she has put on the screen will be seen next Mon. Tue. Wed. at the Star Theatre in the new William Fox production "The Forbidden Room" No role she has enacted has pleased so severe a test upon Miss Brockwell's ability as does the character she assumes in this play, if one may judge by an outline of the story. Her part is that of an innocent young stenographer who is put in a trying predicament by men who hate her employed the District Attorney. To save her own reputation and that of the district Attorney she devises and executes a scheme whereby the corrupt "framers" are framed and are forced to confess their guilt.

Miss Brockwell had a new director for this picture. He is Lynn F. Reynolds who previously had made some very excellent pictures with Tom Mix as the star. The cast is an especially good one, including William Scott J. Barney Sherry and Harry Dunkinson.

FAMOUS FUN-MAKERS IN CHARMING COMEDY

Excellent Comedians Seen in "The Village Smithy"
Perhaps the best known film comedians are identified with the Paramount-Mack Sennett comedy productions. The comedians referred to here are well known abroad as they are in this country. For humor is universal and its votaries are recognized everywhere. Three of the celebrated stars of this great producing organization—Louise Fazenda, Chester Conklin and Phyllis Haver will be seen in "The Village Smithy" the latest Paramount-Mack Sennett production at the Allen theatre Wed. Thurs. This is a delicious comedy in which this trio of fun-makers appear to find advantage. Miss Fazenda is seen as a lovely girl with an immense bank account—though nobody knows of it—while Chester Conklin is a husky backsmith whose weakness is female loveliness. When he throws down Louise for Phyllis, he makes the sad mistake of casting away a great bank roll and

GLADYS BROCKWELL RESCUES HER MOTHER

Gladys Brockwell had an exciting experience recently in Los Angeles Cal. One evening while she was at home studying the next day's work on a new picture she was making her mother who had been on a couch in another room call to her: "Gladys, I'm on fire!"

When Miss Brockwell appeared in the room she saw the couch ablaze and her mother's hair and robe burning. She immediately wrapped her mother in a blanket and smothered the fire. She then turned her attention to the couch which needed a number of buckets of water.

As a result of the incident the star's fingers and arms were scorched and her pretty bangs singed and she spent the next day in bed trying to calm her nerves.

This damage, however, has been repaired and is not visible in "The Forbidden Room" the William Fox production in which she appears next Mon. Tue. Wed. at the Star Theatre.

GERALDINE FARRAR SLASHES HER WAY OUT OF APACHE DEN

A fight to free herself from the clutches of a band of Apaches in their underground den is but one of the thrilling tasks assigned Geraldine Farrar in "The Stronger Vow," her latest Goldwyn Picture which comes to the Roma Theatre, beginning Friday and Saturday.

The international celebrity has the role of Dolores de Cordova, a Spanish beauty, who, while scouring Paris in search of her brother's slayer, whom she has sworn to kill, meets, is wooed by and later marries the Marquis de Valera. An hour after her wedding she is informed by a distant cousin, Pedro Toral, that he is the bride of Juan Estudillo, the very man she has set to kill. Toral, let it be known, has coveted Dolores ever since childhood but always she repulsed him. Toral's parting shot after informing Dolores is a warning that she must carry out her blood vow that day.

Enraged by her failure to kill her husband, Toral and two of his Apache band seize her and drag her to their den, where Toral introduces her to a man who is soon to reign over his pack of human wolves. There she learns that it is Toral's plan to bring her husband to the den and have her brother's murder in sight of Toral and his henchmen. Toral sends a messenger to Juan informing him that his wife has been taken sick and is being cared for by some kind family and asking him to accompany the messenger to the place. Scouting an Apache trick, Juan first makes known his fears to the prefect of police.

Arriving near the den, Juan is seized and bound by the outlaws and brought before Dolores and Toral, the latter handing her a dagger with which to slay her husband. She feigns willingness to do as Toral bids with: "The blood vow is stronger than the marriage pact. I will keep my oath." As she looks toward Juan there is no sign of tenderness or hesitation in her face, so well does she play her part. She suddenly bursts into a torrent of denunciation as she places the point of the knife against his bed, Juan, amazed, stares at her through terror-stricken eyes.

Still holding the weapon close to Juan, Dolores backs him across the room toward the foot of the stairs, as Toral and the rest look on tensely thrilled. From the avenging goddess, she is suddenly transformed into a woman fighting for her mate. She slips quickly around Juan, rapidly cuts the bonds and, pushing him toward the stairs, cries: "Quick, beloved—save yourself."

POLICE AID SOUGHT

The entire Los Angeles police department aided Priscilla Dean in getting atmosphere for her role in "The Silk Lined Burglar" her newest crook melodrama which comes to the Roma Theatre Mon. & Tues.

The star entertained the police reporters of the Los Angeles dailies at dinner and they took her to the police station and city jail and gave her the benefit of their years of experience in writing of crime.

She was introduced to shop lifters, burglars and yegman and other offenders who were being detained for trial, but was disappointed not to find a real honest-to-goodness safe croaker in the bunch. There was none who could tell her exactly how nitroglycerine "soup" was made nor how long a fuse should be timed.

Priscilla has many friends on the police force who told her of their experiences with master criminals and with the knowledge acquire the star was able to give her director John Dillon much valuable assistance. In the staging of the crook melodrama. The play is based on Jack Bo

NUKOL STOCK AT 50 CENTS

Is recommended to you--Because--

THIS year's output of Nukol fuel is practically sold now, before being produced. This calculation is based on numerous daily requests, during the past 4 months, for Nukol fuel. Each unit of machinery recently purchased will turn out 10 tons of Nukol nuggets per hour at a good profit. Other units of machinery will be added as rapidly as required. This estimate of production is based on the calculations of our Technical Expert. His figures are based on production of fuel similar to Nukol in Pennsylvania. With Nukol selling much cheaper than coal when coal this winter will be about $14, the market is tremendous with never a doubt about dividends. The first Nukol factory in Toronto is expected to be operating this summer. Other factories for other cities and towns in Ontario are planned. Nukol is the biggest thing in Canada today. It is the need of the hour--and the investment opportunity of the hour--For You.

Not Made of Garbage or Refuse. It Earns While It Burns. Made of Coal Dust, Black Loam, and Fuel Oil.

You will do well to act promptly and get Nukol stock now at 50 cents. The price has doubled during the past four months and will go to 75c--then $1--$2c. A client who recently bought $5,000 of Nukol at 50c hesitated when Nukol stock could have been bought four months ago at 20c. It could have been bought at 10c. Don't hesitate. Nukol is proven beyond doubt to be a wonderful fuel. Get it now before the stock rises out of your reach. Call--phone--or write--but don't put it off. Do it now.

ASPARAGUS IS BIG FAVORITE

At this time of the year most persons have a natural hankering after salads and all sorts of succulent green things. Often when we imagine that we have spring fever and that we have lost our appetites, it is the matter is that we need more fresh things and fewer heavy viands.

The early Romans were particularly fond of asparagus, and during the time it was in season it was served daily as the principal dish. This plant is a native of Europe and is grown extensively over the entire continent. The roots are planted from six to ten inches below the level of the ground. The sprouts or the stalks are permitted to grow but three or four inches above the ground and then they are cut and tied in bunches. The average length of the stalks of asparagus requires to mature is about two years, and it will then produce good-sized spears for about seven years.

Asparagus is marketed under two classifications, namely green and white. The green asparagus comes in sizes and qualities varying from bright green to a greenish purple. The white is usually tinted purple especially the large sizes. Throughout the South and in New England the green asparagus is a big favorite, while in the West and Northwest the white is very much in favor. In New York ready-made for both varieties can be found, asparagus is abundant in valuable mineral elements. It is diuretic in its properties, and it acts freely upon the liver and kidneys. It is low in food value, but this can easily be overcome by methods of preparing and serving this delicate, succulent vegetable.

To cook asparagus cut the tough pith ends, discarding them. Scrape lightly the remainder of the stalk to within four inches of the tip. Soak well in plenty of cold water to remove the sand. Tie in bunches and then place in a deep saucepan containing sufficient boiling water to cover the stalks half their depth. Cook until tender, usually about thirty minutes. Lift, then drain and serve with cream, hollandaise or butter sauce.

Asparagus should never be thrown away. It is water to cook. Always stand it on end. This method steams the delicate tips without breaking them. This will require a pot sufficiently deep so that the lid will not break the tips. Do not add soda or salt to the asparagus. Salt will kill, by neutralizing, the valuable mineral content. Asparagus Omelet.

Three eggs.
Two tablespoonfuls of water.
Two tablespoonfuls of bread crumbs.

When ready to serve add one cupful of cooked asparagus cut in half-inch pieces with a sharp knife. Season with salt and paprika and then fold and roll. Serve on a hot platter. Cover the omelet with one tablespoonful of parsley butter. Serve at once.

Asparagus Mold.
Prepare one pint of plain gelatin, season with salt and paprika. Coat a plain mold one-half inch thick with the gelatin. Line the mold with the asparagus, placing them closely together. Use sufficient gelatin to hold in place. mince.
Three hard-boiled eggs fine and add

One teaspoonful of grated onion.
One green pepper, minced fine.
Six olives, minced fine.
Six tablespoonfuls of mayonnaise dressing.

Four tablespoonfuls of celery, minced fine.
Mix thoroughly and then fill into the centre of the mold. Cover with the remainder of the gelatin. Set in a refrigerator until firm. Serve on a bed of lettuce leaves as a cold dish for luncheon.

Finely minced hearts of lettuce may be used to replace the celery.

Asparagus Soups.
Prepare the asparagus as for boiling. Cut in half-inch pieces. Cover with cold water and then bring slowly to a boil. Cook for twenty-five minutes and then rub through a fine sieve. Measure and then add equal amounts of milk. To every two cupfuls of the above mixture add one-tablespoonful of corn starch.

Dissolve the starch in cold liquid, place on the stove and bring to a boil. Cook for five minutes. When ready to serve beat in one teaspoonful of butter, one-half teaspoonful of finely chopped parsley to every two cupfuls. Serve with oasted corn bread.
Two cupfuls of asparagus cut in one-inch pieces; one small onion, grated; pepper, minced; mince; two tablespoonfuls of salad oil; one-tablespoonful of vinegar; one teaspoonful of salt; one teaspoonful of paprika. Place in a bowl and toss gently to mix. Xerve on a bed of crisp lettuce with mayonnaise dressing.

WANTED INVENTIONS

AN interesting and encouraging thing about these fortune producing inventions is that most of them are of ordinary or minor value in themselves. If you have a notion that you must invent a big thing to make money, get rid of it at once. Many of the Patents that have made their inventors millionaires are those which contained very few entirely new ideas. The simplest ideas have earned fortunes for their patentees. The safety razor, the sanitary drinking cup, the bump hairpins, the demountable tire rim--any of these could have been invented by a man of average ability. In your every day life, at home, at your office, in your shop you handle any number of articles that are subject to improvement. If you can think of a way of improving some article or process already in use, or if you can invent a new useful device or process or article of manufacture, you are on the road to fortune. ### PARLIAMENT TO DISCUSS PEACE TREATY

Ottawa, May 8.—In the Commons to-day, Hans Craythorn, London, inquired of the Government as to when the procedure was to be for ratification of the peace treaty. Sir Thomas White replied that the signing of the peace treaty was an executive act. After the signing the treaty would be submitted to Parliament for consideration and legislative sanction. The treaty would become binding on the powers upon the deposit of the ratifications in Paris. In reply to Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Hon. N.W. Rowell stated that the Canadian representative in Washington would when appointed have powers very different from those of an agent. The prime minister was taking up the matter with the Imperial Government.

SAIS THAT THEY HAVE ASKED ABOUT 15 PER CENT REDUCTION ON FARM IMPLEMENTS AND WORKERS' COMMODITIES

Ottawa, May 8.—Western members supporting the Unionist Government have presented to the Minister of Finance their views as to what should be done with the tariff at the forthcoming session. Some of them speak of the proposition as an "ultimatum" and an "irreducible minimum" Others, while wishing that their requests be met do not characterize them quite so strongly. The Westerners have it all figured out and as they contend what is asked will affect the revenues to an extent of only $7,000,000. The reduction they seek is on the ordinary tariff and not on the tariff and the extra 7 1/2 per cent. war tax combined. About 15 per cent.

While some secrecy is maintained on the subject it is understood that the reduction sought is around 15 per cent and that it applies not only to things in use by farmers, such as implements but to commodities used by laboring classes in the cities. The proposed brief asks reduction in duties in a number of commodities that are necessities of life such as boots, shoes and other articles of clothing. There are proposals for grading the duties for instance to cut down the tariff on boots of the price usually purchased by the masses, but not to interfere with it on those styles that cost up to $1

The proposals as framed have had in view not only the farmers and their demands for free implements but also the working classes generally. No answer was expected and none had been given. Tariff announcements come only with the budget speech and it is apparent that it will not be delivered before the end of the month. Depends on Budget.

The attitude of the Western members will depend upon what is done in the budget and also on the members themselves. Some are prepared to go much further than others, though it is realized that if certain of the low tariff leaders take a course it might be rather uncomfortable for those who do not follow. There is no proposal and no chance for an alliance between the present Opposition in Parliament and any Liberal Unionists who might be dissatisfied with the Government's course. The former are regarded by the latter with a considerable measure of suspicion. What is possible however is that some of the malcontents if such there are after the budget will go to the gangway in the middle of the House between the right and the left support the Government on general policy, but exercise the right of dissent on the fiscal policy.

It is not to be surmised that the Western men are having it all their own way in getting their views before the Government. The manufacturers are carrying on an active campaign against any tariff changes this year invoking the argument that while the tariff is not inviolate, the present period is inopportune for dealing with

The result of all this campaigning and ultimatums and the possible political effect therefrom will be known only after the budget is delivered and its meaning is sized up.

From all that can be learned the question at least as regards the tariff, has not yet been before the Cabinet.

BRITAIN BEST BEEF MARKET

OTTAWA, May 8.—H. S. Arkell, Dominion live stock commissioner, addressed the agricultural committee of the Commons to-day upon the prospects and markets for the live stock industry for 1919. He said there was a great future for Canadian beef in Great Britain, but it would have to be finished better.

A good trade could be done in Canadian horses, dairy cattle and heifers in devastated Europe, but they would not buy anything except absolute necessities. There was a large demand, he said, for both heavy and light horses in the United Kingdom and Europe, and indeed, for all agricultural produce.

BRITISH USING GUNBOATS

 Brantford, May 8.—A communication was forwarded to-day to the titles committee at Ottawa stating that the Council resented the attitude of W.F. ### What Color Of A Tune Do You Like Perhaps you don't realize there are pink pieces of music, red rags, violet jazz, and blue melodies. Those who know best about music say so; and undoubtedly we have heard topical songs with a dash of lavender.

Color crops out everywhere. When Goodrich brought forth Black Tread rubber, the color caught; and soon a lot of tires were singing the black song in treads.

Of course it is quality, not color, that makes Goodrich treads outwear others.

The distinctive coloring of Silvertown Cord Tires, and their graceful modeling make them much sought by motorists to dress smart cars.

But Goodrich would make them ugly as an old shoe if ugliness would add another mile to their durability.

What You Get for the Last $10

WHAT is it worth to you that your C.C.M. will be running more smoothly after long use than many ordinary wheels do when new—that it will still be giving sturdy service years after an inferior wheel is played out—that fewer repairs are needed owing to C.C.M. sincerity of workmanship in every part—that in case of accident, you can get C.C.M. service almost everywhere in Canada?

Twice as easy as walking—Three times as fast

Imagine getting all this extra service for the last ten dollars you pay! Spread over the much longer life of your C.C.M., the cost to you is but a trifle!

C.C.M. Bicycles

Every running part of a C.C.M. bicycle is made true as a watch. And it keeps true. Every rider of an ordinary wheel has felt the hard pedalling caused by inaccuracies in the crank-hanger—the power plant of a bicycle. He feels an alternate looseness and tightness, indicating friction and loss of driving power. In C.C.M. bicycles the parts subject to wear are not stamped out but are accurately machine ground. Not a whit of driving power is lost.

And the "Hercules" Coaster Brake! All C.C.M. bicycles have it. It is the only brake without a side arm. Lightest and simplest of all brakes, the Hercules is sensitive, sure and powerful. The clutch engages with utmost smoothness. We back this brake with a hard and fast guarantee.

Look at a C.C.M.! After years of hard use its graceful lines are still enhanced by the sparkle of its brilliant enamel. The handle bars, and all bright parts, defy the rain—these are nickelled over a heavy coat of copper—and copper can't rust.

HUNGER YEAR IN CANADA IN 1790

Crops Failed; Half-Starved Children Dying—Raw Potatoes—Wolves Almost Annihilated Deer

How many in Canada know the real history of the "Hunger Year"? The late Henry Ruttan, Esq., in an address once gave his experiences of the great hunger strike of 1790, he says: "I remember the time when, as Bishop Berkeley observes, a man might be the owner of ten thousand acres of land in America and want sufficient means to buy himself a breakfast. One-half of the land in the Bay of Quinte, the garden of Canada, could, within my remembrance, have been purchased for five pounds a two-hundred-acre lot. This cannot be a matter of wonder when I tell you that a great scarcity of provisions prevailed for two or three years consecutively, in consequence of failures in the crops and what brought on the famine or scarce year (about the year 1790, if I am not mistaken), was the almost entire destruction of the deer by the wolves in two consecutive years. The snow lay upon the ground from December until April at the depth of four to five feet.

Horses Were Eaten
"In the month of February of the last of these years, a near-relative of mine sent all the way to Albany in New York State, more than 300 miles, for four baskets of Indian corn. And this was brought all that distance by two men on snowshoes. It took them about eight weeks to accomplish this journey. The few cattle and even horses which the settlers had collected at great trouble, were killed for food. The faithful dog was, in several instances, sacrificed."

Children Almost Starved
Another resident of the Bay of Quinte district tells of a farmer in Adolphstown, who planted the potato eyes and seedlings, and adds that some children were so hungry that they dug up the pieces of raw potato and ate them, to the great detriment of the succeeding year's crop. But Providence about the year 1791, and about seven years after, began to smile upon the efforts of this small band of heroes. The winters began to assume a somewhat milder aspect. The wolves in their turn became a prey to the famine which their own devastation among the deer had caused.

MYSTERIES OF NICKEL

Many and Wonderful Properties has "Devil's Copper"

Nickel may well be called the mystery metal. Chemical research has endowed it with a power to bring about the ruin or the triumph of the greatest nations. By itself it does not possess qualities that compare with a score of other metals in long use; but when alloyed with other metals it becomes that wonder-working stone which the ancient alchemists believed would transform base substances into the most precious and magical minerals. No known alloy imparts to the metals of commerce qualities so new and distinct as nickel, and while these new qualities bestowed by nickel are capable of adding so much to the physical comforts of the human race and to its range of knowledge of the earth's material, yet the main uses to which such mixtures are actually being put have brought more pain and degradation to the world than at any time in history—for most of us know that nickel has made modern armament what it is. Not because of its capabilities, but because of its actual applications, the original German word nickel has been well derived—Devil's copper.

AIR BOARD WAGES

LONDON, May 8.—In the Commons, replying to Col. Malone, member for Leyton, Gen. Seeley contradicted the report that the air ministry had recently interrogated prospective Atlantic flyers regarding the reasons for their delay in starting.

The attitude of the air ministry, far from urging on the attempt, was to enjoin caution. Nevertheless every possible information was afforded them also, every assistance regarding navigation and wireless instruments which can make the venture safer.

The record of each of the British competitors was such that they could well afford to decide the merits of the flight without fear or cavil.

GERMANY PLANS TO SPEED UP WORK IN THE FACTORIES.

PEOPLE OF GERMANY OPPOSED TO SIGNING

REPORT CLAIMS THAT MASSES ARE FOR REJECTING PROPOSALS NO MATTER WHAT COMES.

BERLIN Thursday May 9—The people, though fairly stricken dumb by the peace terms are now recovering sufficiently to declare that Germany cannot and will not sign the compact, no matter what comes. Strikes are increasing and Bolshevism and the Spartacist uprising of the past two months have in anything made Germany immune to the possible horrors which are to be anticipated if they are again plunged into war according to the best opinion here.

There exists a small group of Germans, chiefly Conservatives who prefer to see the entente occupy the whole country than to have it Bolshevized but they are in the dwindling minority. Leaders Silent.

The Parliamentary leaders of all factions who are in Berlin to attend committee meetings admit that they were stunned by the severity of the proposed peace terms. Beyond casual comment, however, they declined to discuss the entente's conditions or details or to forecast the assembly's probable attitude.

A leading member of the Independent Socialist declared the peace offered was wholly dictatorial and that its rejection is possible only through a world revolution.

The German National Assembly has been called to meet in Berlin on Monday May 12.

VERSAILLES May 9—The question whether Germany will sign the treaty or not is the pressing one of the hour. It is impossible as yet to gain an indication of the attitude of the German plenipotentiaries here, but information coming from German sources goes to show it is quite possible the Ebert-Scheidemann Government is considering if it should accept such a drastic treaty. It may choose to sign the treaty and go down in a blaze of patriotic glory.

According to this information the greatest shock to the Germans was given by the formula establishing the frontier of Poland fixed, as it does a great part of West Prussia and a considerable sea coast. In addition to large coal fields in Upper Silesia. When the German delegates left home they expected to hear rather more moderate proposals regarding the Polish frontier and Danzig.

The delegates also question the possibility of Germany paying reparation to the extent laid down by the treaty and they doubt whether they should sign clauses which they are said to regard as impossible of fulfillment. They object to the surrender of their entire mercantile fleet also arguing that this would force them to pay an additional indemnity to England in freight for every ton of raw material imported manufactured and exported under the virtual British monopoly of ocean tonnage which they assume would soon follow the elimination of the German mercantile fleet.

To influence Negotiations. Due consideration is naturally given to the fact that the declaration that Germany would refuse to sign the peace pact unless conditions were greatly modified in her favor may possibly have been put out just now with the object of influencing the negotiations and that it is not necessarily conclusive.

Experts attached to the interallied conference who have just returned from Germany where they endeavored to obtain material for a definite verdict on this subject believe, however, that a refusal by the present Government to sign is impossible.

They expect that in this case the existing Government would fall immediately and be succeeded by an Independent Socialist Government which would sign any treaty presented without however, any intention of binding itself by its signature or of observing the condition if the opportunity arose to disregard them.

Despite the decision that no oral discussions should be permitted it is expected that verbal discussions of some phase of the treaty may take place and rooms at the Trianon Palace Hotel are being held in readiness for a possible session of interallied and German commissions.

Berlin May 9—Official circles in Berlin learned the terms of peace yesterday and a lengthy session of the Cabinet followed at which the action Germany is to take was discussed.

It was considered in some quarters that Count Von. Brookdorff-Rantzau would refuse to sign the peace treaty and resign but the opinion is general that Germany must accept since she is helpless.

The resignation of the foreign minister would only delay a settlement of the question for if his Cabinet left office with him, independents, it is believed would surely take up their positions and their first act would be to accept the terms.

Call it Slavery—In a review of German opinion on the terms of peace telegraphed here, Reuter's Berlin correspondent says that a remark heard on all sides in Berlin is "rather anarchy than such slavery" and that all of the people are discussing the consequences of a refusal by Germany to sign the treaty.

"President Wilson" continues the correspondent "is particularly the object of criticism his so-called weakness evoking indignation although there are still many who base their hopes upon him."

According to the Zeitung Am. Mittag all the parties from the extreme left to the extreme right regard the treaty as impossible of acceptance. The president of the Berlin Chamber of Commerce Franz Mendelssohn says the first impression is a crushing one, but he is hopeful that the entente may be fully convinced that Germany can only discharge her obligations if she remains economically sound.

Director Guttman of the Dresden Bank expresses himself as convinced that the peace proposals unless they are altered means Germany's absolute ruin.

PRISON SCENE IN NEW HART PICTURE MOST ELABORATE

One of the most elaborate sets ever constructed at the Willam S. Hart studio was built for "The Poppy Girl's Husband" a new Arctost production which will be shown at the Allen Theatre Wed. Thurs. It shows three tiers of cells in a State's prison. The gloomy corridors of the prison are admirably represented with stone flagged passages, the "iron" gratings and platforms rising above to the roof of the studio structure.

Each cell contains a white iron bed and when a hundred or more extras dressed as convicts did the bookstep down the corridor, the effect was highly realistic and painfully reminiscent to those who have witnessed some of the penal institutions in the country.

This picture is said to differ materially from anything in which Mr. Harlowe Hiberno made his appearance. Juanita Hansen in the role of "Poppy Girl" is declared to have a part that suits her well and to which she has done full justice. Among others in the cast appear Capt. Long, late of the U.S. Artillery, and one of the best known "heavy" actors in the business.

A Shell-Shocked Soldier Tells of His Remarkable Experience with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

MR. FRED K. SAUNDERS, 66 Euclid Ave., London, Ont., writes: "After having returned from the front with shell-shock, and while still in a nervous condition, I met with a painful accident due to a fall from the top of a ladder, striking my back on the edge of a desk, which confined me to bed for three weeks. After the sprain had been reduced and the pain ceased so that I was able to be around, I was obliged to return to bed, suffering a complete nervous breakdown. My regular physician attended me until the middle of September, without results being in any way satisfactory.

"My nights were spent in tossing about the bed worrying about the future, which looked so black. The continual loss of sleep caused me to become light-headed, so that I would say and do things quite irrational. My heart action became quite deranged, together with my stomach and digestion. My skin and the whites of my eyes became yellow. My kidneys were deranged, and when I would try to get up everything would go black in front of me with dizziness, and I would fall if nobody was near. Following these dizzy spells I would become so weak, and a sickening feeling of faintness would creep over me, so that for two or three hours afterwards I would be helpless, and my head would ache almost to the point of splitting. Nothing seemed to help these weak spells. I became so irritable that to speak to or chaffer anyone, even my wife, in a decent manner seemed almost impossible.

"About the end of October someone recommended Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and my wife got some for me. After taking only a few doses I thought I felt a little hungry and better in several ways. The weak, dizzy spells were gone after taking two boxes. About that time I noticed my yellow complexion, and decided to get Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which I took occasionally at night. After taking seven boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and two boxes of Kidney-Liver Pills I was able to get up and be around the house, gradually taking more interest in life.

"My heart action gradually became normal, my digestion good, and the dirty, muddy, yellow color of my skin and eyes disappeared. My hands and feet were no longer cold and clammy, and my weight increased at the rate of four pounds a week. I was quite normal and fit for work after using eleven boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and four boxes of Kidney-Liver Pills, and felt just as good as new, but in order to safeguard myself continued to take this treatment for some time afterwards. I really think—in fact, I know—that Dr. Chase's medicine saved me from the asylum or even paralysis, perhaps even saved my life. These are my reasons for saying that I swear by Dr. Chase's goods. I am never without them in the home, and recommend them to anyone as a safe and reliable medicine to those who will give them a fair trial. One or two boxes would work any miracle, but I do believe in praise when praise is due, and I praise them to every poor soul who is in poor health. I shall be glad to answer any correspondence on these valuable remedies from anyone doubting their value as reliable and safe medicines."

The conditions so well described in this letter are experienced by many people who will appreciate Mr. Saunders' thoughtfulness in writing so fully of his case and pointing the way to cure. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c a box, six for $2.75. All dealers, or Edmansson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

A Startling Difference in Maintenance Cost

Figures recently tabulated by the Toronto and Hamilton Highway Commission throw valuable light upon the cost of maintaining the Concrete section of the Highway, in comparison with the cost of maintaining the stretch of surface-treated macadam, over a three-year period.

THE TORONTO AND HAMILTON HIGHWAY COMMISSION
COST OF MAINTENANCE

	1916	1917	1918
Concrete—	16 Miles	31 Miles	36 Miles
Chiselling Joints	$512.34	$948.28	$381.14
Tarring Cracks and Joints	377.05	767.70	1,614.45
Total	$889.39	$1,715.98	$2,195.59
Average cost per mile	55.59	55.35	60.99
Surface-Treated Macadam—	1.17 Miles	1.70 Miles	1.70 Miles
Average cost per mile	$1,256.16	$6,140.36	$9,726.98
Average cost per mile per year—	1,073.63	3,611.97	5,721.75
Surface-Treated Macadam		$3,746.93
Cement Concrete		57.84

The statement of the Commission shows that labor and materials cost 30% more in 1918 than in 1917, so that the quantity of materials and the hours of labor required to maintain a mile of the cement concrete has actually decreased each year.

This decrease is the more striking when considered in relation to the remarkable increase in traffic. The census shows an increase on this highway from 526 vehicles per day in 1914 to 5,674 in 1918.

The economy of permanent construction for main highways is very evident when it is realized that with money worth 5%, the difference between $3,746.93 and $57.84 per year justifies an additional construction cost per mile of more than $73,000.00. The difference in 1918 maintenance costs justifies more than $133,000.00 per mile. If the saving in haulage costs on the even surface of the concrete over the costs on the other surface could be added, these figures would be even more startling.

FARM LOANS for SOLDIERS

How Returned Men Can Become Farmers

EVERY returned man who wants to become a farmer and is qualified for that vocation can get real, practical help through the Soldier Settlement Board.

The Government's programme includes—

- (1) The securing of land.
- (2) The loaning of capital needed to purchase equipment and live stock, and erect buildings.
- (3) Agricultural training and farm supervision.

The Loans Granted

Loans may be approved by the Loan Advisory Committee, according to the needs of the settler, on the following basis—

- (1) Up to $4,500 on the purchase of land.
- (2) Up to $2,000 on the purchase of live stock, implements and other equipment.
- (3) Up to $1,000 on the erection of buildings and other permanent improvements.

The first and third are repayable in twenty-five equal annual instalments; the second in four equal annual instalments beginning the third year, no interest being charged for the first two years.

On all these loans the low interest rate of five per cent. will be charged. A cash payment of ten per cent. of the purchase price will be required on the land—but this may be waived by the Board in special cases.

Qualified settlers on Dominion lands may secure loans up to a maximum of $3,000 on a plan similar to the above for farm equipment, live stock, and erection of buildings, provided security offered justifies the loan.

To Whom Granted

To be entitled to these privileges a man must have served with an honourable record in the Canadian, Imperial, or British Colonial forces in an actual theatre of war or outside of the country in which he enlisted (service in U.S. or Bermuda not included). Others eligible are:

- A British subject who lived in Canada before the War and who was on active service with the Allied Forces in an actual theatre of war.
- A member of the Canadian Expeditionary Force who served in Canada only, but is in receipt of a pension for disability occasioned by such service.

These benefits are also granted to widows of such men.

A Broad Policy

All soldiers whose best interests will be served by taking up farms will be assisted. Only suitable land will be approved. That is (a) land that is near to existing railways or organized communities; (b) land that will make money for the soldier; (c) land that will provide a first-class home.

In addition to these advantages the Board has planned a system of collective purchase, so that it can guarantee settlers the best value obtainable anywhere in live stock, implements, lumber, and other needs. It will also assist soldier settlers with advice and supervision, if necessary, in the management of their activities, so that the best results will be obtained.

REPORT COUNTY BUILDINGS REC'D

Inspector Helen McMurchy Finds All Satisfactory.

The report of the Inspector on the County Jail made last month by Dr. Helen McMurchy Assistant Inspector has been received and is real gratifying indeed.

The Inspector made a thorough inspection being very particular in every respect. The report in full follows.

An official visit of inspection was paid to the County Jail at Kitchener on April 10th, 1919. The number of inmates at this date was 19. The number of cells on the men's side was 20 and one corridor in addition for women. The number of commitments during the past year was 84.

The general condition of the building in regard to cleanliness was excellent. The spring cleaning was being done at the time of inspection, walls were being whitewashed and everything being put into excellent order. The beds and bedding appear to be clean and comfortable and it is said there has been no trouble with women. The corridors and toilets were inspected and found in good order. The yards were also in good order.

The goal appears to be secure as a place of restraint. The water supply and drainage are satisfactory.

The Ventilation was good.

The inmates all appear to be well but one of the men is a returned soldier, who is suffering from shell shock and it is thought, by the Governor Mr. Cook that his condition may have contributed largely to his breaking the law. Mr. Cook has requested this man's lawyer to write to the Minister of Justice and bring the case finally before him.

The clothes of the inmates are fairly satisfactory but attention is drawn to the fact that while the supplies of summer clothing are sufficient, the supply of winter clothing applied for a considerable time ago have not yet been arranged for special attention is drawn to this matter. The number of complete suits in stock is about 12. So far as it can be done the inmates appear to be kept separate and properly classified.

The inmates are bathed every week and are kept employed in the cleaning and caretaking of the grounds and buildings.

Supper was being prepared at the time of inspection, oatmeal porridge was being properly cooked and the bread and other articles of diet appear to be satisfactory.

There were no complaints in regard to the quality of food supplied or in regard to any other matter. The cost of rations per day is 17.92 cents.

The supplies are purchased partly by contract.

The register is properly kept and the entries in all the books up-to-date.

The Governor of the goal is Mr. J. Cook and the matron Miss Cook. The Turnkey is Mr. Frank Ludwig. Signed,
Dr. Helen McMurchy,
Asst. Inspector.

The Sensible Rabbits

THE two little white rabbits were now several weeks old. They had come on Easter Day to the Futzman family, bringing with them such quantities of lovely eggs. Janet had adopted one and brother Paul the other. Janet named hers Twitch Nose because its nose twitched so. Paul named his Itch Ear because the first time he saw it it was scratching its ear with its long hind foot.

"Last year our Easter bunnies didn't live long," Janet said, "so this time we must be very, very careful."
"Fresh air and exercise is the best medicine, Mummy says," Paul replied. "We'll take very extra care of our rabbits this year."

The old rabbit house was cleaned out spick and span, nice leaves were spread out for the bunnies to nibble and Twitch Nose and Itch Ear were put into their new quarters. Every day when it wasn't raining Janet and Paul took them for a ride in their basket, up the road to Aunt Bessy's house or down the road to Grandma's.

One day as they were skipping down the road carrying their pots between them, Willie, the neighbor's boy, stopped them and asked: "What you got in that basket?"

"Rabbits," replied Paul. "Where'd you get them?" Willie wanted to know.

"They came to us on Easter," replied Janet. "What're you going to do with them?" Willie asked.

"I'm just giving them an airing," Paul replied. Willie asked if he might go along and he was told he might so the three of them went down the road to Grandma's.

Next to Grandma's house was a meadow where her old red cow munched and munched the clover all day long. Willie said: "If you want real healthy rabbits you oughter let 'em run a little and get exercised."

"That's right," said Paul, "Mummy says fresh air and exercise."
"But s'pose they run away?" said Janet.

"We'll watch 'em!" Willie cried. "We won't let 'em run away!"
So they went into the meadow and set down.

"You watch on this side," said Paul, "and Janet watch that side and I'll watch from here and the bunnies can't run away."

Then he lifted the rabbits out of their basket. At first the little creatures sat still and looked around as if surprised to find such a very big green world spread before them. Twitch Nose stood on his hind feet and sniffed the air and then Itch Ear stood on his hind legs and sniffed the air. Then they both nibbled a little clover.

"We'll have to go home now," said Janet, seizing her rabbit, "we're getting too venturesome."
"Oh, we're watching," cried Willie. "He can't get away."
"So Janet put her rabbit down and Twitch Nose sat up and sniffed the air again.
Now when Twitch Nose sat up what did he spy in the raspberry thicket close by but a pair of long brown ears which belonged to Mother White Tail, who was sitting at the door of her house taking the air? Foxes are tame white rabbits.

"I'm going to run!" thought Twitch Nose, and run he did!
His mistress made a grab for him, but Willie sprang up to help and so did Paul.
"Aha!" thought Itch Ear. "I saw that mother rabbit too!" And off he scuttled before anybody thought about him.

Both little rabbits reached Mother White Tail's door at the same time and both darted into the warm brown hole.
"Oh, my bunny!" screamed Janet. "Never mind," said Willie, "we'll dig 'em out. I'll run and get some spades."
Meanwhile the rabbits ran down a long dark hall which turned and twisted and twisted and turned so that nobody who was not a bunny born could ever have found the way at all. Pretty soon they came to a nice airy room where Mother White Tail and her five little bunnies sat.

The two little rabbits bowed most politely and the other little rabbits cried: "Come in! What nice white fur you have! Don't you find it hard to keep tidy? Shall we show you our play room?"
Twitch Nose and Itch Ear said: "Yes, please!"
Well, they were having the greatest fun playing tag up and down the long hall when suddenly they heard a thump, thump, thump! It was only Paul and Willie trying to dig into the rabbit house but how scared those little rabbits were! They went rushing to their mummy.

Every Day Janet and Paul Took Them For A Ride.

"Oh Mummy, is it a fox?" they cried.
"Only the cow stepped into the door, I guess," replied Mother White Tail, "but we'd better move to the other side of the thicket. Come, little ones."
Off they raced all underground, on and on and on through the winding halls till they came to another room.
"Now sit down and get your breath, my dears," said Mother White Tail, "spade scars!"
"What's a fox?" asked Twitch Nose. "You don't know what a fox is?" cried the mother rabbit. "Why you poor little innocent thing! Foxes are great ugly beasts that eat bunnies. You must watch out for them and for dogs and weasels and hawks and owls—they all eat bunnies."
"Dear, dear!" cried the little rabbits.

Willie and Paul worked away a long time but they never did reach the bottom of that rabbit hole and no wonder! Mother White Tail had dug it full of criss-cross passages that wound away through the woods.
"Well, no use," said Paul. "Let's play catch. I got a ball."
Willie was willing to play catch but Janet sat down by the rabbit hole and mourned for her pet.
Meanwhile Mother White Tail was talking about traps and dogs and foxes till the little bunnies were shaking with fear.
"Maybe we'd better go home," whispered Twitch Nose to his brother. "It's safer at home."
"I think so too," said Itch Ear. "Good-bye, kind Mrs. Rabbit. Good-bye, little rabbits!"
And off they ran through the winding hall. When they came to the door and stuck out their little noses, there sat Janet and she gave a cry of joy when she saw them.

"They've come back, good little rabbits!" she cried. "Get into your baskets!"
"Hurry!" shouted the boys. "We knew they'd come back!"

all that they could make. A boy can make a number of these toys in a short time, this is the main reason for making the boys desirous of working on the toy.

The materials needed for making the toy are a piece of broom handle, an empty spool, an eight penny nail, two one inch No. 16 wire brads, a piece of tin 1 1/4" x 3 1/4", and a piece of good strong string.

Cut the broom handle according to the dimensions on the drawing and with a knife and sandpaper work to form, rounding one end nicely and cutting a shoulder on the other.

Bore a hole in the end of the piece of broom handle on which the shoulder was cut, large enough to receive the 8d nail. Next drive the two brads in one end of the spool 1/4" apart. File the heads off the brads and round the ends. Now place the spool on the nail and drive the nail into the hole bore in the handle. Do not drive the nail too far in the handle, the spool must work freely on the nail.

Layout the propeller pattern on a piece of paper to get the size. After laying out the 1/4" squares a pencil compass will be found convenient for making the curves on the ends but the rest will have to be done free hand. Trace the pattern on a stiff piece of tin or galvanized iron with a sharp instrument such as a sharpened markingawl, or one leg of a pair of dividers.

Bore two one-eighth inch holes with a hand drill if you have one or punch them with a nail. If the latter method is used the burr will have to be filed off. Cut to line with a pair of shears and bend the ends as indicated by Figure 2.

This toy should not be operated in the house or near a crowd because when the propeller leaves the spool it leaves with considerable force as it is liable to break anything fragile. It might strike or cut a rash if it should strike anyone in the face.

To operate place the propeller on the brads with the string about 1/2" tightly, hold the handle in the left hand pulling the string with the right, at the same time the string being pulled raise the left hand with a jerk.

Drop spinach lightly into kettle, cover at once and cook till tender. The fire should be very moderate so that the cooking will take about 35 minutes. Hard cooking spoils the flavor and requires more water which spoils the food value of the spinach.

The water should have about boiled away so that the spinach can be served at once without draining.
Add one-half teaspoon salt just before serving.
Garnish with slices of hard boiled egg if desired.

MOTHER'S DAY is a National holiday, made so by the issuing in 1914 of a Mothers' Day Proclamation by President Wilson. That busy man had much to do, but he realized the great good that would be realized by setting aside at least one day in the year on which sons and daughters, big and little, should honor and show by some special kindness the great love which they feel for Mother.

Many are the white carnations, the emblem of this holiday, that one sees on the second Sunday of each May, but few know in whose heart and mind originated the idea of the Mothers' Day movement. The founder of this holiday is a Philadelphian, Miss Anna Jarvis, who felt that some expression should be given to the love for Mother that glows in every child's heart. She worked hard to have her idea spread, and once the thought grew it was heartily endorsed, for who does not love Mother, who is not glad of a chance to show that love. One of the ideals of Miss Jarvis was that the home ties should be strengthened by having one day of the year when the thought of Mother should be the dominant one in the minds of all.

Absent sons and daughters were to convey their love through letters on that day, if it was not possible to travel to visit Mother and spend the day with her. Family reunions are frequently planned for that day. The second Sunday in May is marked by many deeds of kindness and thoughtfulness performed in an effort to carry out the teachings and ideals of a loving Mother. Simply wearing a white carnation is not sufficient. The expression of love must be deeper and more lasting than the outward symbol of a gift, a letter, a visit prompted by love should be tendered to Mother or Father on that day which is set aside for her.

Since the issuing of the first Mothers' Day Proclamation by President Wilson, many of the Governors of the different States have issued similar proclamations setting aside the day for Mother and asking that all join in the spirit of the day in every possible way. One Governor even went so far in carrying out the spirit of Mother's Day that he made it a practice to free a number of prisoners on Mothers' Holiday.

Of course, your Mother is the most wonderful and best Mother in all the world, but history has noted other wonderful mothers.

You all know the story of Cornelia, the Roman mother, who though she had lost all her money, thought herself the richest woman in the land. When asked how she felt without any jewels in her possession, she answered: "But I have two of the most precious jewels in the world, so precious that no money could buy them," and she called to her sons whom she presented to her visitor. "Mother," she said, "these are the jewels that the boys grew up to be the greatest powers in the Rome of their day."

Another famous mother of whom I shall take my sword and cut the baby in two, then you can each take one-half of the child and be satisfied."

"Wise King," said the woman who had spoken first, "your way is good. Divide the child." But the other woman flung herself upon her knees before the King and cried in great grief, "No, no, spare the life of the baby, give him to the other woman, but do not hurt him." Then said the wise Solomon to her, "Take the baby for he is yours, and by your words do I know you to be the true Mother. For Mother-love is so great that it could not see its own child harmed. Be a good Mother and your child shall reverence you all the days of his life."

WHO CAN IT BE?
WHO was obedient till death? Nor broke his word once given. But stood alone upon the deck When chopped the crew had driven? Who whenced his father's favorite tree And then confessed his crime? In the name of the Lord, then Still live in prose and rhyme. Casa Bianca (the boy of the Burning Deck). George Washington.

POT AND KETTLE
WELL, you ever slapped by anyone as big and strong as our mother? Well, if so once was enough to teach you to mind every word she said without other ear. Since that day, whatever mother says in our family, goes. I had just as soon stand up and advise a cyclone not to blow so hard, as to suggest anything to mother. But we have long since found out that she is the one that does not know things, and are the ones that don't. So we mind every word she says, and are mighty glad we have her here to say them.

When she tells us to go up a tree we have long since found out that she is the one that does not know things, and are the ones that don't. So we mind every word she says, and are mighty glad we have her here to say them.

Wilson As A Writer

CHE, carefully, explicit, able style in his correspondence with Germany, Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey.

"I begin with a list of topics I want to cover," he informed an interviewer. "I arranged them in my mind in the natural relation, that is, I fit the bones of the thing together; then I write it out in shorthand."

The President finds his knowledge of stenography and the use of a typewriter invaluable as a means of speeding the work of a busy man. As he copies his speech or paper on the machine, he makes additions, omissions and corrections. This invariably is the final copy.

The nation's leader, of all careful writers, is probably the most rapid. His father's strict instruction, his experience as an authority on historical matters, his shorthand, his typewriter and his intimate knowledge of words with their shades of meaning have made him a wizard in the efficient use of the English language.

Until 1903, when his father died, Woodrow had the benefit of his wise counsel. He was severe in his standards of scholarship, but it is from such teachers that real assistance comes.

Great writers have various methods of composition. President Wilson, as an author of many textbooks on history, demonstrated his orderliness; he Everything is on the upward trend but Tungsten Lamps at Lookhart's. Any size up to 50 Watts 25 Cents, Case lots 23 Cents while present stock lasts.

Clerks Want to Close at 9 o'clock Saturday Evenings
 Shorter hours on Saturday evenings is the aim of the clerks in the stores of the city. It has been decided by them to circulate a petition among the merchants in order to secure their decision to bring the desired hours into effect. A number of the merchants, although the petition has only been started, have already signed and the prospects for the clerks securing the elimination of the late hours on Saturday evenings is bright.

Period Extended
 While clean-up week had been set for one week and would have ended with to-day the time allotted for cleaning up has been extended. Many citizens have complied with the request to remove objectionable refuse from their properties thereby assisting the movement for better fire-protection and better health in the city. There are still some instances where the law has not been complied with. It was learned to-day that while no second notice ordering a clean-up would be given yet a further opportunity to do so would be given before the machinery of the law will be put into operation in order to enforce the order in cases where it is absolutely necessary.

Putting in Sewer Connections
 The city engineer's department these days is busy preparing for the work of laying permanent pavements this summer. Yesterday Street Foreman Zettel had a staff of men begin laying sewer connections from the street to the private property line on Rose Street before the pavement is put down. A tarpis pavement is to be laid on this road. Other streets which will secure such a construction are Hohner Avenue, Louisa Street between Waterloo and Weber, Wellington between King and Waterloo, Margaret Avenue between Maynard Avenue and Queen. Petitions are also out for other streets which may be in before very long.

Face Peeling Habit Becoming Fashionable

Women of fashion and refinement seem to have been acquiring the moribund wax habit, depending less and less upon cosmetics for their complexion difficulties. It does seem a lot safer to just peel off the worsted skin when it loses its youthful color and appearance—now that this can be done so easily, safely, painlessly and economically.

O.B.A.A. Wants a Denial Published

BY BRANTFORD TO THE EFFECT THAT THEY DID NOT SEND IN A NOMINATION. "Anyone who thought the O.B.A.A. Executive would seek the easiest way out of the squabble over the March 1st residence rule received a pleasant surprise. The baseball moguls not only upheld the action of the annual gathering in adopting the rule for this year, but also insisted that the Brantford delegates have published in their daily papers of today a denial that they sent in a nomination for the office of secretary-treasurer. The meeting showed clearly that the adoption of the March 1st residence rule at the annual meeting was quite legal. It was a separate motion from the regular amendment and was not put in the constitution but stood on the books for this year. The Hamilton City League sent a letter to the meeting questioning the legality of the rule. With this settled the association has cleared up a ticklish up, was worth $76,000 in 1908, when Mr. Vanderbilt's North East won; $72,030 in 1910 when Nunge was first, and $71,030 when Sardanapale defeated La Farina and Durbar in 1914 over the Longchamps course.

These are the largest prizes of the turf in any country. Established in 1863, it has been won by other such great horses as Gladateur (1865) Robert the Devil (1880), Foxhall (1881), Minting (1886), Separant (1906) and Verdun (1909).

BASEBALL STAR ADEPT AT GOLF

Heinie Zimmerman of the Giants, has the best golf swing among all ball players. He hits a corker in his budding youth where the first acquired the knack. He has a combination of both grace and power, hitting the ball with terrific force and yet with an absence of effort. He will carry fully as far as Ouimet, Kirkby, Guilford or any of the long-distance class.

THE GAME WAS A GOOD WORK OUT

Beavers Win by Big Score Over Toronto.

A good workout was enjoyed by the Beavers yesterday afternoon. It was the game with the Toronto Athletes. The result of the exhibition was never in doubt. The score was 12 to 0. While the figures are one-sided they were interesting from beginning to end which came in the eighth inning in order to give the visitors plenty of time to catch the train to go back to Toronto. From the critics standpoint the contest showed that the Beavers are gradually getting into shape. An improvement over the preceding day was noticeable. Several of the men who were off color the previous day were there with the goods and figured in the hitting and scoring end.

The Beavers hit well through the seven to their credit. Their fielding was superb. Not an error was noticed against them. One home run was registered by Wade, whose hitting showed a great improvement over the first game. It was in the third with the score 2 to 0 that he swatted the ball to the end of the left field, bringing home Nicholson at third and Beatty at second besides himself. The contest was running pretty even except for the spas in the third and the sixth inning when the locals scored five runs. The occasion was when Burns of third base and Smith, the regular hurler changed places. In the next inning the Toronto nine went back to the field with Smith again in the box. During the last three innings Harrison of the Beavers assisted behind the bat and his catching was a strength to the battery.

As to the Toronto while they secured three hits, four hits they failed to get anywhere with the same. The fielding of the Beavers interrupted them from time and again to the admiration of the local admirers of Manager Beatty's team. In fielding the visitors also were weak. Six errors were suffered by them. Several of them cost runs. Their battery as the score would indicate was not working all the time but only in spasms as compared to Ledestro of the Beavers. Ledestro it might be stated showed up well and has the markings of a real tower of strength.

The Toronto men however appeared to be a strong team but probably were a bit off color. Their reputation as such is known and with the exceptions of the two or three bad periods in the game they played good ball.

Of interest it is to note that their second baseman, Oscar Hett, is a former local boy. He was there with the goods.

Which blade is yours?

You shave with the first blade—unless you use an AutoStrop Safety Razor.

Shaving causes the edge to become saw-like, and the blade becomes dull. Stropping re-aligns the edge and brings the blade back to its original keenness. That's why the AutoStrop Razor has such a large sale. Because men realize that no razor can do good work without constant stropping.

Stropping—shaving—cleaning are done without removing the blade from the razor.

Drop in at the nearest dealer's and ask to see the AutoStrop Razor. There is no obligation to buy; and no obligation to keep an AutoStrop Razor if it doesn't please you. Everywhere—razor, strop and 12 blades, complete, $5.00.

Consequently, they point out it may occur that citizens who should be at the banquet may be forgotten and missed. In such cases it is desirable that the parties telephone the secretary of the Board of Trade, notifying him that they will be present at the affair.
