AT THE PARIS DOG SHOW.
There was a large attendance at the Paris Dog Show held in the Tuileries Gardens. Despite the hot weather an unceasing stream of visitors admired the numerous exhibits, the prize winning dog attracting special attention, for the judges awards had been duly posted up.
An interesting side show in the open air on the terrace close to the Place de la Concorde was the dog market, where all sorts and sizes of dogs were offered for sale. Although the public thronged to the terrace, prices apparently were deemed rather high and comparatively few purchases were made.

LONDON'S FLOWER
DIET CRAZE

THE ingenuity of this season's London hostess is taxed to the utmost to meet the demands of the fads and fancies of to-day. The gastronomic art is looked at askance by the weary society hostess, whose main business in life is to entertain two or three fashionable functions every afternoon and evening. The truth is that his nerves and his digestion both want a rest, though he will not admit it.

The most up to date hostesses now provide not only the ordinary buffet or hot supper for those who grace their balls, rooms and reception rooms, but vegetarian tables and nutriment for the votaries of the latest craze, flower eating.
At a recent ball in Belgrave square a guest told how his supper consisted of a plate of specially prepared chrysanthemum petals with a sauce piquante—a salad of lettuce of the valley, and a mixture of mashed peas, an Oriental, arranged with a delicious syrup, and violets in marshmallows. The latter was really an innovation, and a trifle too strong for the strict flower eater.

Princess Bariatsky first really set the fashion of flower diet some months ago, but it is only within the last few weeks that the demands of her followers induced the society hostess to provide these delicacies. The Princess lives on raw vegetables—baby carrots by preference; hay soup, which is very nutritious, and flowers and fruit. The flower eaters look astonishingly well, and not at all wan or too ethereal. Perhaps a bit of sunshine enters their blood with the consumption of nature's jewels.

FORTY-FOURTH YEAR

GREAT RALLY
FOR WESTBROOK
HELD AT PARIS

Hypocrisy of Rowellism
Roundly Scored by Candidate.

Big Majority in Town is Assured for Whitney Government

The flagrant hypocrisy of the Liberal leaders in their present Provincial campaign, their utter disregard of the progressive measures enacted by the Whitney Government, their suing of the pulpit and the sanctuary through Liberal clergymen to beguile church members to the supporting of their platform, erected as in the night to slide into power on the morning of June 30th were all shown up and thrown into the glare of the searchlight at the Conservative rally held in the Conservative club rooms at Paris on Saturday night. The meeting was the second of a series of Saturday night smokers, held in the interests of the candidature of J. W.
Westbrook, Conservative candidate for the riding of North Brant in the coming Provincial general election.
Dr. Lovett, President of the Paris Conservative Association, occupied the chair, and with him on the platform were the candidate, Mr. Westbrook, John Fisher, M.P., and Jas.
A. Seace, councillor of Brantford Township, Messrs A. J. King, R.
Morgan, W. Hearst, and A. J. Kilm-an formed a four piece orchestra that played several selections at the commencement of the program and also between the addresses. Their playing was much appreciated and did much towards making the evening an enjoyable one. Dr. Lovett was detained for a few minutes, and will be argued by Mr. John Fisher, M.
P., acted as chairman. He denounced the Conservatives were never better organized, and that the feeling throughout the riding was most optimistic. Mr. Fisher told men not teetotalers, who had been causued by Liberal social reformers, told that they had really nothing to fear, as their liquor would not be cut off completely, and that they could still get all they wanted.

County Councillor Seace made a splendid address, in which he touched particularly on the great benefits from the hydro electric scheme of the Whitney Government, and also of the Workmen's Compensation Act.
Mr. Westbrook threw the searchlight on the campaign of hypocrisy being carried on by the Liberals in regard to the temperance question, and also referred at some length to the abolition of the numbered ballot by the Conservative Government, this doing away with one of the chief weapons of warfare that the late Ross Liberal government had so long held power by.

South Brant's Candidate For Good Gov't

Whitney's Regime
Shows Progress of Real Temperance

Realizing that they have not a leg to stand upon, the Rowellites are making a desperate effort to depict the present Ontario fight as one of the abolition of the bar versus its retention.

It is nothing of the kind.
The point at issue is as to the best method of giving effect to temperance sentiment.

The Rowellite policy is to abolish the bar and to leave the liquor shops open.

The Whitney Government policy has been, and is, to give the strictest possible enforcement to Local Option and Canada Temperance Acts where adopted (shops included), and to continually frame more forward temperance legislation.

It is vitally essential that a sufficient majority should be back of abolition in any community, or else the enactment becomes more or less of a farce and liquor selling and duplicity exist in the worst possible form.

Suppose Rowell's Abolish-the-bar policy carried in some constituencies. What possible binding effect would that have upon other constituencies which rejected the same? The result would be disastrous and prove a setback for years to true temperance. In any event, Rowell's plan, as before related, leaves the shops open everywhere.

What the Whitney Government has done is to make for permanency, something which cannot be accomplished in a day.

The results thus achieved have been remarkable, as these among other figures which might be given will illustrate:

MR. T. F. BEST MAKES
SECOND DECLARATION
FOR WHITNEY GOV'T

Mr. T. F. Best, Y. M. C. A. Secretary of Hamilton, and formerly of Brantford, had an alleged letter of repudiation of statements attributed to him in the Expositor Saturday. Mr.
Best says in effect that he believes in putting principle before party, but is not anxious for a change of government in Ontario at the present time.
Here is what Mr. Best says:
"Who does not appreciate the great assistance the temperance cause has received from the Whitney government, and the splendid progress of local option under its rule? Surely all fair-minded temperance men do not regret the four piece orchestra of government at the present time, but on the other hand, my interest in young men and boys and our country generally compels me to take side with every forward movement in temperance legislation, and I would like it distinctly understood that personality and principle mean much more to me than party interests."

CONSERVATIVES MADE
BIG GAINS ALL OVER
CITY IN REGISTRATION

There never was such a registration in the history of Brantford, as was closed Saturday night at 10 o'clock. When the registration booths closed it was found that a total of 2247 new voters had been put on the list. There is said to be a large number of appeals, the Liberals having resorted to this brand of tactics in a vain effort to turn down what certainly proved an avalanche against them at the different registration places.
At one registration booth, the Liberal organizer in charge, frankly admitted two votes to the Liberals one.
In other districts the same was reported, and the Conservatives having had a splendid organization behind

Ward 1 499

The appeal court will be held Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock at the Court House, the board consisting of Judge Hardy, Magistrate Livingston and Registrar Graham.

FOUR CANDIDATES
IN PRESCOTT CO.

Evanturel and Dr. Derby Will Be Two Independent
Contestants.

PLANTAGNET, June 15.—There promises to be a merry contest for the Ontario legislature in Prescott county, a straight party candidate and an independent, being in the field for both parties. At the meeting of the Conservative Association, held here Saturday, George Pharand of L'Orignal, was chosen as the Conservative nominee, winning out in the meeting over Dr. W. F. Derby, of Plantagnet, by 75 to 25. Dr. Derby then announced that he intended to be a candidate even if he was not the choice of the convention and that he would run as an independent Conservative.

A CHALLENGE
THROWN OUT
TO ROWELL

Why Doesn't He Speak
On Bilingual School
Question.

Hon. I. B. Lucas Scores
Insincerity of Liberal Professions.

WOODSTOCK, June 15.—"Mr.
Rowell has appealed to you temperance Conservatives to turn out the Whitney government because the temperance Liberals turned out the old government for not giving temperance legislation. I admire the nerve of the man who can make that appeal in the circumstances, because everyone knows that this moral reformer, this leader who says that the temperance issue transcends all else, was not one of the temperance Liberals he speaks of who helped to turn out the old government. He was one who did his level best to keep the old government in, notwithstanding his broken temperance pledges. The situation and the facts are not the same, but even if they were Mr. Rowell should be the last man in Ontario to make that appeal."

With biting sarcasm Hon. I. B.
Lucas addressing a big meeting in the City Hall here Saturday night in the interests of Mr. Butler, the Conservative opponent of X. W. Rowell and Co. in North Oxford, turned the searchlight upon the insincerity of the Liberal leader, and his championship of the temperance policy. The Provincial Treasurer was following on the heels of Mr. Rowell, and while he dealt largely with the general issues and the record of the Whitney government, he took some time to pillory Mr. Rowell upon his stand with regard to temperance and bilingualism.
He charged that Mr. Rowell's temperance professions here, the mark of his politics written all over them. The Opposition leader was trying to ride into power by turning the temperance sentiment of the people to his own advantage without regard to whether what he proposed was practical or sound. On the other hand, the Whitney Government had practised and not preached. It had made no fond professions. It had gone forward realizing that men held different opinions and endeavoring to meet these varying views and put forward reforms that would have behind them the full force of public opinion.

Backed by Public Opinion.
"Notwithstanding what Mr. Rowell says, I believe, as a temperance man, that the Whitney government in their legislative programme are in full agreement with the most progressive body of public opinion in the province," declared the Minister. "It is a government responsive to public opinion, determined that there shall be full opportunity for public opinion to make itself effective. In the Local Option Act and the Canada Temperance Act the people have in their own hands the power to wipe out not only the bars, but the shops as well."
Since the present campaign opened Mr. Rowell has been handling the bilingual situation with gloves, but he will find it difficult to leave it alone after the challenge Hon. Mr. Lucas threw at him here last night.
"I ask you to-night, Mr. Rowell," said the minister, "to be just as honest and frank on this question as your friends say you are on others. The Ontario Government has been attacked for its English-French regulations, particularly regulation 17. Are you for or against it? Will you repeal it if returned to power? Will you answer the question or will you dodge it, as you have in the past? Are you for or against the position taken by your candidates in West

GRIT MACHINE TAKES
UNDERHAND CRACK
AT BRANTFORD SOLDIERS

There was scarcely ever a time in the history of South Brant when the amenities of political warfare were so flagrantly disregarded as during the past week by the Grit machine in Brantford.

This was evidenced on Saturday, when over 200 appeals were entered against registrations made, and included in the list of appeals were practically all the members of the Brant Dragoons and a large percentage of the Dufferin Rifles, who returned to Brantford Friday in good time to register.

In practically every case it has been found upon further enquiry that not the slightest objection could be raised to these men securing their inherent right of the franchise, and that they fulfilled all the qualifications necessary to entitle them to vote.

The reason that the Grit machine has adopted such deplorable tactics is to inconvenience the soldiers, who have been already off work a week at camp, on the supposition that they will not be able to leave work on Wednesday to appear personally at the Appeal Court. In this way they may lose their franchise.

Needless to say, great resentment is felt in military circles.
Men who volunteer to train and drill and undergo the rigors of camp life are not to be allowed to vote and take part in their country's affairs, according to the Grit dictum, which would even banish the militia, if possible. Defenders of the flag are not to be allowed to vote, eh?

June 29 will tell the tale!

England's Team Put It All

Saturday.

(By Special Wire to The Courier) LONDON, June 15.—The totally unexpected victory of Baron Wimborne's polo team over the Meadowbrook four Saturday afternoon has given intense satisfaction on this side of the ocean and numberless congratulations have been cabled Baron Wimborne on the outcome of his plucky efforts. King George's keen interest in the contest is well known and it is an open secret that His Majesty was largely responsible for the decision of Baron Wimborne, who is a king's lord-in-waiting, to endeavour to bring back the international polo trophy from the United States.
The editorials in this morning's newspapers in commenting on the game played Saturday give the fullest credit to the Americans for their fine sportsmanship in agreeing to postpone the independent Captain Leslie St.
G. Cheape had recovered from the accident sustained by being struck by a tponement alone made Saturday's victory possible. The readers of the newspaper are warned against over-confidence in the final outcome of the

NEW RECTOR Of St. Paul's Church Was Ordained at London on Sunday.

(By Special Wire to the Courier) LONDON, June 15.—His Lordship, Bishop Williams, officiated at an ordination service at St. Paul's Cathedral yesterday at which six gentlemen were made deacons. They were A. S. H. Cree, who will be stationed as curate to Dean Davis, at St. James Church, South London; H. C. Light, who will go to St. Paul's, Brantford; W. Williams, who is to be at Dungeness; J. Stretton, whose location is to be Merlin, and A. Hunt and J. Johnston, who are to be in other parts of the diocese.

The Rev. H. C. Light, B.A., who was ordained to the Diaconate yesterday in St. Paul's Cathedral, London, will have charge of St. Paul's church. For the past six months St. Paul's has been under the care of the Rev. H. A. Wright and during that time the church has made such rapid progress that it has become independent and practically self-sustaining.

STRIKE OF GOLD.

HAILEYBURY, Ont., June 15.—What is claimed to be the biggest gold find of Northern Ontario, was uncovered in Massonville township, near Sesikimika station on the T. and N. O., a few days ago. Three veins between eighteen and thirty inches of quartz with heavy tellurides, were found on the Labine claims. Assays gave thirteen hundred dollars in gold and one hundred and thirty dollars in silver to the ton, with a most spectacular surface showing. The find has caused more than ordinary interest among mining men. The claims lie fifteen miles northwest of Kirkland Lake and are owned by Haileybury men.

WHAT THE PEOPLE GET BACK.

It has been the policy of the Whitney Government to return much more to the people than was the case under Liberal rule.

The former grants on behalf of building roads, in supporting their schools, in providing for the sick and the poor, and in reducing municipal taxation have been increased thus since the Whitney Government took office:

Table with 2 columns: 1904 and 1913. Rows include: From railway taxes, From license fees, For the schools, For roads, For colonization roads, For hospitals and charities.

Total grants... $1,015,128 $2,190,806 Less the Ross Gov. grants... 1,015,128 Increase under Whitney Govt... $1,175,788

The Whitney Government returned to the people $1,175,788 more in a year than the Ross Government did.

IN NORTH BRANT.

In the north riding Mr. Westbrook and his friends continue to put up a winning fight, and the prospects are excellent.

A young man, not personally known to any extent except in his own portion of the constituency, he went into the fight last time and won out by the respectable majority of 176.

He is generally and thoroughly well known now, and his rapid advancement in public life and future prospects are generally recognized and appreciated.

He has most emphatically made good on behalf of good legislative measures and in looking after the legitimate interests of his constituents, and he is thoroughly entitled to hearty and continued support.

That he will receive it goes without any question, and the issue in reality is simply the size of the majority if the good work is kept up, as it will be.

FINE WORKERS.

No city could have had a finer or more enthusiastic band of workers than those who have pitched in on behalf of the Conservative cause in connection with the registration vote.

It is at such a period that for instance is either lost or won, for even a small amount of apathy would help to spell defeat on election day.

A candidate may have a hundred men cheering him, but if they are not on the list they do not amount to anything, as far as a ballot is concerned.

That the supporters of Brewster and good government should have warmed to the task in such magnificent style spells certain victory on June 29th.

With the same amount of enthusiasm—and there will be for the balance of the campaign, there will be a magnificent majority for the Conservative standard-bearer.

HYDRO ELECTRIC IN LONDON

A report just issued from above hydro-electric department shows a profit of more than $30,000 for the first six months of the current year, an extraordinary figure.

Last year the profits amounted to about $37,000, and the Utilities Commission, at the suggestion of the Hydro-Electric Commission, made a reduction of from 15 to 25 per cent. In spite of this cut the enterprise shows a profit of $5,000 a month, and the business is increasing all the time.

The receipts amounted to $124,000, a growth of over $30,000 for the same period of 1913. The operating expenses were but slightly increased, although the power bill was somewhat higher, as one would expect.

The figures were made public by Chairman Pocock, of the Utilities Commission, who was highly delighted with the showing. It was better than he expected, and makes it certain that next year there will be a still further reduction in the price of power.

"The profits are much higher than we anticipated," said Mr Pocock. "As we are not in the business to make money, but to give the people energy at a price as near cost as possible, we will have to give another reduction next year. When we reduced last year we figured that we would have a little surplus, but here we are with but half the year gone and still we have a credit balance almost as great as we had all last year. The business is growing very rapidly and the cost of management is not increasing to any appreciable degree. It is a showing of which we should be proud, and I am more than delighted. We can guarantee a substantial reduction in the price of power next year, which will be good news to the citizens generally."

This is the system developed by the Whitney Government. Brantfordites have not completed a full year of it yet, thanks to the fierce opposition of the Expositor and its friends, but already prices here have been cut in half. Without doubt the first year will show a profit with still further reductions in charges.

A vote for Brewster or a vote for Westbrook is a vote to endorse that splendid policy.

Whitney's Regime Shows Progress of Real Temperance

Fort has been made to drag the churches and the sanctuaries and the ministers into a political fight. True and lasting temperance progress is taking place, and this "Abolish the Bar" cry is intended as a political slogan by a party which during years of office played and betrayed most disgracefully temperance adherents.

Once more it is a temperance and not a party issue, and one with reference to which the Whitney Government has made abundantly and steadily good. To adopt haphazard, Rowell's sudden cry, born of the desire for office, would put back the interests of true and lasting reform for very many years.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Both Brants!

They are both going to stay as they are.

The result of the registration suits local Conservatives in tip-top style, thank you.

Two weeks from to-day the Whitney Government will be handsomely sustained.

Twenty years of broken promises in temperance reform. Do you want to return to it?

True temperance people will abolish the bar by banishing Rowell, and that is the sensible view to take at this election.

The question just now with some ministers is whether to use the pulpit for political purposes or not. In this regard experience and history make wise teachers.

Only two places in Ontario have repealed local option where it was carried on a three-fifths vote. Under Grit regimes there were 22 appeals, also an enforcement which was a joke.

Local Grit manipulators seem to have been working last week on the assumption that those who would defend our country are not entitled to a vote. Some Liberals never have shown a great liking for soldiers.

The questions asked by the Brantford Liberal Women's Association in a circular published in the Expositor, read very plainly, "If you are not going to vote Grit, why not?" In fact the circular reflects woman almost in a real militant mood.

The same Rowell who defended the worst government Ontario ever knew in 1905, the very night before the enraged electorate of the province drove Ross from power is hardly the man to step forth at this stage and be heralded as a great moral purist.

On and after June 29th Mr Joseph H. Ham will again be referred to as Brantford capitalist and the workingman's cry will be put away in cold storage for use at the next election. Wonderful what a lot of interest the Grits take in the workingmen every four years.

Ontario had 27 municipalities under local option when Sir James Whitney came into power. At the present time there are 347 under local option and in 158 others no licenses are issued. This is a pretty fair temperance record for a government which did not promise one-quarter as much as the Liberals and which has accomplished ten times more.

If Mr. Ham is such a great friend of the workingman why doesn't he do his mite in helping Brantford workingmen get a reduced electric light rate, something which follows the more users of Hydro there are. Mr. Ham is still contributing to the same old monopoly which bled Brantfordites to death for years and did so with the advice and consent of that great public ownership journal, The Brantford Expositor.

There were few grains of comfort in the letter of Mr. T. F. Best published in The Expositor. Mr. Best's praise of the temperance record of the Whitney Government even although he was misquoted in one or two particulars by a Hamilton scribe, must have been bitter hemlock to the Grit organ which has been indulging in nothing but scandalous reference to anything and everything accomplished by the Whitney Government.

The people have the power in their own hands of abolishing the bar without electing Rowell as premier of this province. It will be the latter consideration which will drive many otherwise temperance people to turn their backs on what is being used as a merely political war-cry and which will set back the dial of true temperance in this province for many years to come.

Members of the Brantford Ministerial Alliance when they meet next Friday should turn over the pages of the Dominion Alliance records and see what the old Mowat-Hardy-Ross did for temperance. If the same were compared with what Whitney has accomplished by a glance at the map of "Dry Ontario" of 1914, Brantford ministers could not fail but be satisfied with the honest achievement in the last eight years in making this province dry.

Conservatives as well as Liberals are agreed on temperance reform, and the Conservatives point with pride to their record in Ontario in the past eight years. The difference between all Conservatives and some Liberals just now is merely one of method. The election of Rowell as Premier is one method to which any Conservative can rightly raise objection, when it comes to reforming the province. The last occasion Mr. Rowell and his friends had a chance in this direction they didn't do any reforming but spent all their time in scheming how to keep office against the people's will. It is little wonder they are not to be trusted now.

It would surprise a great many Brantford temperance people if they knew what kind of a hypocritical campaign the Grit workers were putting up in Brantford just now. It is a case of anything to get votes, temperance or otherwise any old kind of a yarn suffices. In Brantford the fight has developed into one purely for office, on the part of the Rowellites and along the sidelines temperance principles are thrown to the winds. Foreign voters are being told, for instance, by the Ham canvassers that only one or two of the bars will be banished, if they vote Grit. There never was a time when hypocrisy stalked so bravely among the people of Ontario, as at present, but the people of the province are not being fooled any.

PARIS TEAM WON FROM THE SONS

Good Football Match Was Played on Saturday—Score 3 to 0.

(From our own Correspondent) PARIS, June 15.—In the football match on Saturday evening, one of the best games played off here took place, and although the score does not indicate it, the play throughout was evenly divided, but the visitors seemed to fail to reach the nets. In the first half the Brantford goal keeper ran into the posts while stopping the ball and was so severely injured as to necessitate his removal from the field. His name was W. Short, and apparently he knew his business, for he kept the Paris shots pretty "short" of the goal. In the second half Paris seemed to freshen up and pile shots on the Brantford goal, and before the close had scored three goals. Ernest Chaplain scored two for the home team, while Eley took the third. There were fully 300 spectators on the field. The teams were:

Paris—Brier, goal; Parker and Carl, backs; Boxall, Nebin, and Beachey, half backs; Peberdy, Eccles, Chaplain, Eley and Smith, forwards. S. O. E.—Short, goal; Smith and Westlake, backs; Melchell, Short and Mathias, half backs; Bubb, Smith, Clay, Landers and Johnson, forwards.

Referee, Farnsworth of Brantford, did excellent work and kept the teams down to square business.

In the game of cricket quite a number of supporters assembled on Riverview Park, but were disappointed as the St Georges team of Brantford for some reason, did not show up.

Senator W. J. Macdonald, the senior by appointment, having been absent from the Senate for two years, his seat becomes vacant.

Birthdays of Note

MONDAY, JUNE FIFTEEN.

This is the fifty-first birthday of the Hon. Aulay MacAlay Morrison, puisne Judge of the Supreme Court of British Columbia. Mr. Justice Morrison was born at Baddeck, N.S., the pretty little Cape Breton village overlooking the Bras D'Or Lakes and received his education at Sydney and Pictou Academies and Dalhousie University. He went to British Columbia about 1880, where he entered on the practice of law in New Westminster. He enjoyed quite a notable career as a lawyer and even went so far as to plead before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in England. For two Parliaments he represented New Westminster in the House of Commons, being elected in the Liberal interest. He went upon the Bench just ten years ago and was transferred to the Admiralty Court soon after.

STEAMER SANK

HAILEYBURY, Ont., June 15.—The steamer Meteor of the Temiskaming Navigation Company, ran on the rocks at North Temiskaming and sank in nine feet of water Saturday afternoon. All the passengers and crew were easily landed.

James Mooney fell from the "Joy Ride" at Hanlan's Point and was drowned in the bay.

GARDEN SASS.
 Oh, luscious greens! Young beets and beans, fresh peas and new potatoes! With fork and spoon, morning and noon, we push them in our plates! The pale was bean is good, I've seen, and succulent and tender; the carrot red is thoroughbred, the onion's clothing in splendor. When morning comes my stomach hums—at least I have that notion; as as I throw the greens below it trembles with emotion. Sometimes it stalls at codfish balls, and balks at beef or mutton, at corn beef hash and kindred trash, and hints that I'm a glutton. But I may pass down garden sass until I'm tired of chewing; my stomach makes no cranky breaks, it still is up and doing. Too much we eat of you and meat, the doctors of inform us; in summer days we stupid jigs devour the things that warm us.
 Fresh garden sass, good sparrow grass, the onion, beet and lettuce—these are the things to eat, by jings! then health will not forget us. So let us sweat the garden plot, and rob it of its treasures; oh, let us feed on yarb and weed, and taste the simpler pleasures.

Garden Party.
 A garden party will be held at the Villa on Wednesday, June 17, in aid of the Anglican Church building fund.

Exit for Convention.
 Messrs Van Someren, Strong, Stiles, Roberts, Stanley, Stiles, and others have left for the C. O. F. convention at Quebec this week.

Daylight Saving.
 In order that their employes may get off work an hour earlier in the evening, the Kitchen Overall Company, Queen street, starts operations an hour earlier in the morning during the summer months.

Eight Were Baptized.
 Yesterday the services at the First Baptist Church were largely attended. Four received the rite of baptism at the morning service, and four at the evening service. Rev. Lewellyn Brown preached at both services.

Died at Stratford.
 The death occurred in Stratford on Saturday of J. Birch, brother-in-law of the late J. W. Buck of this city.
 The funeral will take place from Stratford to-morrow with interment in Greenwood cemetery here on the arrival of the 6 o'clock train from Stratford.

To Judge the Umps.
 There will be a meeting of the executive of the softball league tonight at the Y. M. C. A. to discuss the protest of the Duffs against Umpire Lytle's decision in the game between Ham and Notts and the Duffs in which the umpire ordered Braggs back to 3rd base, thus losing a run for the Duffs.

May Build Rectory.
 Rev. H. A. Wright, of St. Judes Church, said this morning that the congregation had plans for the erection of a rectory in the parish, but they had not materialized as yet. No suitable site had been found, but property was being looked over so as to be available for future needs.

Flags Must Fly.
 Militia orders have been issued cancelling all previous orders with respect to the flying of the Union flag from drill halls, armories and forts, and ordering that the flag hereafter is to be floated daily from all military stations, forts, armories and drill halls in the larger cities and towns of Canada.

Purchased New Steeds.
 Chief Ten Eyck of Hamilton and Aldermen Hopgins, Burrill, and O'Connell of that city stopped off at the Belmont Hotel on Saturday evening on their way back from the Galt horse show, where they purchased a new team of horses for the Hamilton brigade. They called on Chief Lewis while here, and paid him their respects.

Died in California.
 Word has reached this city from Bloomington, Cal., of the death of Mrs. Chas. F. Gregor, daughter of Mr. William Forest, a resident of the Governor's Road, east of Woodstock. The late Mrs. Gregor was a former resident of Brantford, where her husband was for many years a well known resident. She had been in poor health for some time. One sister, Mabel, and two brothers, William and James, reside on the Governor's Road. Interment is being made at Bloomington.

To Teach Indian Girls.
 The matter of teaching and instructing Indian girls in domestic science is being taken up by the Board of Agriculture and this morning Mayor Smith received a letter from the Secretary, G. A. Purman of Toronto, on the question. It asked for suggestions with regard to the proposed scheme, which will include the teaching of the girls, personal Hygiene, Sanitation, how to deal with contagious diseases, and methods of preserving fruit, etc. All expenses of the scheme will be borne by the Department of Indian Affairs.

A BUSY DAY IN POLICE COURT

Theft of Livery Rig Investigated—Armenian Fight in Park.

A sixteen-year-old boy Willie Holder, had a pleasant jaunt around the city in a rig during the visit of the circus Friday and meeting an Indian he drove with him to Hamilton where he endeavored to sell the horse and rig to a horse dealer. As he had obtained the outfit from Osborn's livery stables this course was unlawful and resulted in his appearance before Magistrate Livingston this morning. He pleaded guilty and said he got drunk and did not know what he was doing. He was told to mind his ways and was allowed to go on account of his youth. The liveryman who went to big expense to trace and recover his property had no redress, however, and is a loser of the expenses incurred.

Two little girls, Florence Wilkes and Margaret Kennedy told a story at the Police Court this morning which was relevant of the great danger of children being allowed to be on the streets late at night. They had been to a theatre on Saturday night and returning home after the show they waited for Margaret's father at Gibson's coal office on Dalhousie street. While there they were accidentally by Robert Staats who asked the girls to go with him to some dark place and he offered money to the little girls who are 13 and 14 1/2 years of age respectively. Fortunately a man was standing near and he called the girls and told them to tell an officer and they told Sergeant Donnelly the story and he with P. C. Cox arrested Staats who said he was asked for a ride in the buggy by the girls. This morning before the bench the girls gave their evidence clearly and it was to the effect that defendant had accosted them and offered them money which they indignantly refused. His story differed somewhat and he kept to his version of the affair with regard to the buggy and added that the girls asked for a nickel for peanuts.
 The magistrate said the case was either very slight or very serious and in view of defendant's denial the case was adjourned for the evidence of the man who was a witness of the scene and is supposed to work at Hunt and Colter's.

Four little fellows appeared before the bench to answer a charge of shoplifting, which was really a boy's prank. The love of candy had induced them to visit Paterson's factory where they stole chocolates to the extent of 42 lbs. Two of the boys had paid previous visits and taken freely of the sweetmeats. They admitted the charge and the magistrate thought that a spanking would do them all good and serve the ends of justice.
 He then let them go on suspended sentence with the exception of the ringleader who bore a rather bad reputation. His case will be dealt with later. The parents of the other three travelled to the guard room where their offspring were chastised as justice demanded.

A mistake landed a man in the police court when he was charged with theft this morning. He took a grey overcoat from the garage of Mr.
 Herod where he worked thinking it was his own. There was a great similarity between the coats and when the defendant's brother testified to this effect the magistrate decided that there was no intent to steal and he therefore, discharged the case.

Victoria Park Affair.
 The inside story of the desperate fight which occurred on Friday night in the Victoria Park, was revealed at the court when Khoven Papazian was charged with assault by Chamus Sarkisian, a fellow Armenian, after an arrest of a police court case a week ago when an insult charge was investigated. Defendants boarded with Sarkisian and his wife and he had given the woman some trouble and she was on her way to lay a complaint at the police station when Papazian stopped her in the park and asked her what she was going to do and said he wanted to talk matters over with her.
 The husband came up and a discussion followed which ended in a free fight in which all three took part. It resulted in a badly damaged face for Sarkisian and police intervention.

Defendant alleged that complainant's wife started the affair by striking him in the face and she denied this and said he began the affair by threatening her and striking her husband.
 Witnesses for both sides gave evidence one contrary to the other and the magistrate decided that the case should be one of disorderly conduct against both parties and for the offence be fined each five dollars and costs.

"Fine Old Port"
 Lord Ilkeston, the Birmingham stipendiary, on Thursday gave his decision in a case against Thos. Stinton, wine merchant, of Birmingham, who was summoned for having attached a false description to a bottle of wine.

The stipendiary said the label on the bottle read: "Finest British fine old port produced from finest imported grapes." Witnesses for the complainant had shown that what was known as "port" was wine from grapes grown in Portugal and shipped from Oporto.
 The wine was not of that description.

A SUCCESSFUL DESPATCH RUN

Boy Scouts of Brantford and Paris Had Busy Time
 on Saturday.

On Saturday afternoon a highly successful field day was held between the Boy Scouts of Paris and of this city, the latter were carrying through despatches and the Paris men were out in force to stop them.

The Brantford force consisted of 27 men drawn from the headquarters, Y.
 M. C. A., Grace Church, Trinity, Brant Avenue and Zion church troops.
 The invading force left the Brantford
 "Y" at 2 o'clock sharp, moving in small parties in the direction of Paris the defensive pickets were very far flung in the direction of Brantford for the opposing forces came together in the neighborhood of Moyle's school house where two of the Brantford scouts were captured and very thoroughly searched.

Although an advanced patrol is extremely useful this far advanced line was perhaps the chief source of weakness in the Paris defence as it necessitated a large force to cover such a wide front and the Brantford men grooved experts in finding the gaps in the line wice as if the pickets had been held closer in to Paris the various approaches could have been guarded better. As it was twenty-one despatches out of twenty-seven were handed in to the Paris Y.M.C.A. before six o'clock. To the Grace church troop belongs the honor of handing in the first despatches, moreover their whole patrol got in safe as did the Headquarters and Brant Avenue contingents.

One party while turning the left flank of the defensive pickets observed a large and apparently savage dog sitting at the foot of a spruce tree, the upper branches of which concealed one of the enemies lookout; however, as he was not in a position to interfere with the advance the Brantford men passed on leaving the dog in possession of the ground and the enemy up a tree.

Several parties were compelled to ford the river. The fact that as many of the despatches were safely delivered is nothing short of marvellous for the country seemed to swarm with the Paris pickets, and in several cases they proved their running abilities to the satisfaction of some of our best men, one of our S. M's. being hotly pursued for half a mile through the streets of Paris reaching the "Y" with less than ten yards to spare.

Many other close calls were experienced, two Scouts lying in the long grass while a patrol of the enemy passed within a few yards of them and crawling along damp ditches populated by mosquitoes and thick with net-moving in a shuffling manner, and sent William Brown into the field.

 He found Sanders being dragged along the ploughed land, the teeth of the harrow having pierced Sander's trousers and legs.

Dr. Clark was of the opinion that Sanders had been dragged 500 yards.
 The jury returned a verdict of "Accidental death."

OFFICIALS of the marine department are still serving witnesses with subpoenas, and it is thought that when the commission opens over 60 officers and crew of the Empress and Storstad and survivors will be in attendance. As each of these witnesses is liable to examination at least four times, once by E. Newcombe, deputy minister of justice, who acts for the Government, once by Bastier Assinart, K.C., the British Admiralty lawyer brought over by the C.P.R. for this enquiry, once by Humphrey Melish, K.C., Halifax, who is said to have been retained by the Storstad owners, and once by a legal representative of the British Seaman's Union, the proceedings are likely to be protracted.

A NOVEL IDEA

CALGARY, June 15.—The Dominion Commission investigating the high cost of living in Canada has entertained most favorably the suggestion from the president of the Calgary Consumers League that all school children should be uniformed, the boys in khaki and the girls in denim suits of the same style, color and material. This, advocates of the scheme believed, would do away with social distinctions, reduce the cost of clothing, and result in the better health and sanitation of school pupils. The

LINERS

"Babe" Roth of the Orioles got even with Comstock of the Grays for a recent defeat by beating the ex-Detroit-er 4 to 3. Roth has been twirling sensational ball and is one of the players who will be sold by Manager Dunn in an effort to offset his losses in Baltimore.

Those alluring Federal League offers have evidently upset Walter Johnson. The Washington pitcher was beaten yesterday by a Cleveland recruit named Bowman. It was Johnson's seventh loss of the season. He lost only seven games all told last year.

Although Herbert and Gilbert gave evidence of having returned to form at Jersey City yesterday, the Leafs got a little of the luck that their opponents have been getting of late. One of the games at least was handed to the Kelleys by the shaky fielding of the Jerseys.

ENQUIRY IN THE COURT HOUSE

Lord Mersey Arrived at City of Quebec This Afternoon—Much Interest Taken.

QUEBEC, June 15.—Preparations were completed to-day for the enquiry by the commission appointed by the Dominion Government into the wreck of the Empress of Ireland on May 29 near Father Point in the St. Lawrence when over 1,000 unfortunate lives were lost. The inquiry will take place in the court house, which was this morning crowded with newspapermen, telegraph operators and government officials making arrangements for the handling of their various duties, which begin at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Lord Mersey, the British Admiralty judge, who is to be chairman of the commission, was this morning on his way to Quebec on the Montreal harbor commissioners' steamer Sir Hugh Allen. He was accompanied by Sir Adolphe Routhier and Hon. Ezequiel McLeod the two Canadian admiralty judges who will sit with him, and Hon. J. D. Hazen, Dominion Minister of Marine, to whose department the details of the enquiry have been referred by parliament.

The trip down the river was taken in preference to the speedier journey from Montreal to Quebec by rail at the request of Lord Mersey, who was anxious to enjoy the scenery en route. The Sir Hugh Allan left Sorci at 9 o'clock this morning and was due to arrive in Quebec around three o'clock. The exact scope of the enquiry is to be decided on this trip. It will have to do of course primarily with the responsibility for the accident, whether it was avoidable or not, and whether more lives could have been saved, even in the short space of time the Empress remained afloat after being rammed by the collier Storstad. Evidences upon which may be based legislation for the better and safer navigation of the river St. Lawrence during fogs may also be taken.

Officials of the marine department are still serving witnesses with subpoenas, and it is thought that when the commission opens over 60 officers and crew of the Empress and Storstad and survivors will be in attendance. As each of these witnesses is liable to examination at least four times, once by E. Newcombe, deputy minister of justice, who acts for the Government, once by Bastier Assinart, K.C., the British Admiralty lawyer brought over by the C.P.R. for this enquiry, once by Humphrey Melish, K.C., Halifax, who is said to have been retained by the Storstad owners, and once by a legal representative of the British Seaman's Union, the proceedings are likely to be protracted.

BRANTFORD PLAYERS IN AUTO WHICH STRUCK AND KILLED AN OLD MAN IN OTTAWA

Pitcher Chase, However, is Only One Who Will Have to Remain at the Capital to Give Evidence at Inquest

Manager Deneau arrived in Toronto this morning from Ottawa along with all the team with the exception of Chase, who had to remain over in Ottawa to give evidence at a coroner's court to-night in connection with the death of an old man. It appears that a scout from the Washington American League team arrived in Ottawa to look the various players over, and Thursday night took some of the Brantford players out for an auto ride, included in the party were Chase, Ivers, Deneau and Secretary Bert Walsh. While making the trip an old man, according to Deneau, stumbled and fell directly in front of the car and received such injuries that he died Friday morning. The players were in no way responsible, nor was the driver, as it was purely a case of accident. However, the Ottawa authorities summoned the entire party to give evidence at the inquest to-day, but Manager Deneau succeeded in getting permission for himself and Chase to leave, while Chase remained behind to testify.

The Ottawa Free Press has the following in connection with the accident: Charles Paquette, a man of 71 years of age, living at 91 York street, was struck last evening by a taxicab on the Victoria wharf, died in the hospital this morning about 9 o'clock. The old man started to cross the road, apparently for no reason, as there are no houses near and there is no sidewalk on the side of the road to which he was crossing. He saw the automobile coming and stopped. It is thought that the driver of the automobile, thinking Paquette intended to remain there, went to pass him, but the old man, evidently becoming confused, walked right in front of the car. He was huried to Water street hospital, and in spite of all that could be done for him he expired this morning.

Coroner Baptie was notified and this morning he viewed the remains and the spot where the old man was struck. He decided that an inquest was necessary and immediately empanelled a jury.

It is thought that the occupants of the car were members of one of the professional baseball teams in town to-day, but nothing definite could be learned as to this.

Another Report. The Ottawa Journal's report is as follows: Mr. Charles Paquette, aged 71 years, boarding at 91 York street, was run over and killed by a taxicab on the new government driveway, near the Royal Mint, last night. An inquest will be opened to-day and the police department has interested itself in the case. An arrest may follow.

It appears that Paquette was walking along the driveway and had shortly before stepped off the sidewalk on footpath that runs alongside of it. The cab struck him, injuring him badly, and three minutes later he was brought to the Ottawa General Hospital, Water street, where he died at an early hour today.

After hitting the man, the driver of the taxi is reported to have stopped his machine and brought the injured man to the hospital.

Coroner Baptie was notified to-day and will open an inquest this afternoon. The relatives of the deceased have not yet been ascertained.

Maple Leafs Defeat Paris

Good Game Played on Saturday—Cleator Pitched Good Ball

In a close and exciting game the Maple Leafs of Brantford defeated the Paris team in the latter town on Saturday afternoon. The Leafs took the lead in the first inning by pounding out four runs and were never behind, adding four more at later stages of the game. The home team notched two in both the third and fourth and one in the sixth and eighth. Gibbs was hit opportunely by the Leafs, while Cleator kept his hits scattered pulling out of a number of bad holes. Wilkinson was the star hitter of the game, getting four hits and five times at bat, while Gibbs secured three safeties out of five. The Maple Leafs played excellently at Recreation Park on Wednesday evening and would like to hear from some other city team for a game on Saturday afternoon.

HIT GERO HARD SENATORS WIN

Deneau Had Home Run—Errors Played Usual Part.

OTTAWA, June 15.—Ottawa made three out of four from the Brantford Red Sox by winning yesterday's game at Dupuis Park, Hull. The score was 3 to 2. Kubat and Gero handled the pitching reins and Kubat had the better of it, holding "Rube" Deneau's team to five hits, one of which included a home run over the left field fence by Deneau himself. The Senators batted Gero for thirteen safeties into which were bunched a home run by Lage. Ottaway played errorless ball, Snykal starting at short, while Ried, who replaced Bullock at third had a perfect day, three hits and a walk in four times up. Bullock, who split a finger may not be able to play for a week. He was out only for one night on their long road trip and will also have to leave Rogers at home, so they will be crippled by the absence of two of their hardest hitters.

Notes of the Games

Pitcher Worfel has not arrived. Gero got a good lacing on Sunday in Hull. It was a sore lacing that score board result on Saturday. Second to last doesn't look very good for Brantford. Brantford is 6 1-2 games behind the Canadian League leaders. Ottawa with 75 games at home again look like champions.

Peterboro plays here Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. Deneau and Ivers both collected home runs on their Ottawa trip. Infielders Barney and Nelson will be on the Brantford lineup this week.

The Red Sox apparently threw Taylor's game away from him Saturday. Send out that distress signal pretty quick and land us some new players. Fans are expecting Brantford to show but the returns are disappointing.

Asher will get his fourth chance at Toronto today to show something for Toronto. Asher's bad innings at Ottawa on Thursday was all caused by a wild throw by Roth which let in 10 runs.

Manager Deneau denies that any advertising was sought by the Red Sox in the auto accident at Ottawa. It was purely a case of accident.

International League moguls are headed New Yorkward. Matters of importance are engaging the attention of the magnates at present. It is about time that the Montreal situation and the conditions in Baltimore and Buffalo were fully discussed. In this connection the old story is being revived to the effect that the Montreal club will be transferred to Pittsburg and the Jersey City club to Brooklyn. Montreal is a good enough town under popular management.

LOST FINAL GAME TO ST. THOMAS

Saints Score Only Runs of the Game in First Inning.

TORONTO, June 15.—Inability on the part of the Beavers to make a hit when a hit was needed resulted in St. Thomas winning the last game of the series on Saturday afternoon by a score of 2 to 0. Both runs were made in the first inning, and though in the following periods each team had opportunities to score, these were nipped in the bud by smart fielding and the absence of effective hitting. The game which was played at St. Thomas was a very good exhibition of the field it was a very good exhibition. The ground at the gasoline speed course is far from perfect. There was not a vestige of grass anywhere and the clay was hard and rutted. That each team was only one error under such conditions is high compliment to the fielding class of the players of the Canadian League. Graham, the Don Flats graduate, who worked on the mound for the locals, was never in trouble after the first inning. His work was excellent and had the game been played on a good diamond he would in all probability have been credited with a win, for owing to the rough nature of the ground the members of the local nine were unable to use any speed on the paths, and with the exception of twice, were caught when attempting a steal. Wilkinson, the lanky twirler for St. Thomas, was also in form and kept the Beavers hits well scattered. The crowd, as usual, was small, only about 150 witnessing the contest.

Kopp started off with a hit which was amplified by McNellis, the second man up. Both advanced a base on Hadley's sacrifice and came home on Kadling's two-base hit to the track behind left field. The Beavers had a chance to score in the sixth. Hurdl was out, shortstop to first. He went to third on Ott's high fly to left. Kililea was given a charity and a man on first and third, Schultz fouled out to the catcher. Score: St. Thomas 2; Toronto 0.

Peterboro Down. Yates Made Costly Errors at Critical Periods of the Game. PETERBORO, June 14.—The Reds made it two out of three with Hamilton by winning Saturday's game by 8 to 4. The pitchers were hit hard and Dr. Yates gave way to Dolan after the fourth. The visitors' errors helped the locals around the paths. The score: Peterboro 8; Hamilton 4.

LONDON BLANKED ERIE. Only One of the Visiting Team Got as Far as Third Base. LONDON, June 15.—Pitcher "Bobby" Heck led the London crew to another victory over Erie Saturday afternoon, the Yankees being blanked 5 to 0. Only one of the visitors reached third base, Scott having tripled with two out in the first round. He was left at that station. The Tecumseh rattled the Yanks in the fifth round by a series of bunts which, coupled with a pair of errors, and a couple of two base hits, netted four runs.

LONDON WON SUNDAY. Defeated Erie by the Score of 6 to 2. ERIE, Pa., June 15.—Fitzpatrick's clever pitching went to waste yesterday when Erie put up a miserable exhibition of fielding—seven errors—allowing London to win 6 to 2. Fitzpatrick struggled along gamely for eight innings with two hits and three runs against him, but in the ninth he broke, two hits and two errors giving London three runs. After the fourth inning Erie could do nothing with Sciger. The score: Erie 2; London 6.

Saturday's Results. Scots United vs. P.S.A. P. S. A. 0, Scots U. 2. Holmedale vs. Coekshurt. Coekshurt 1, Holmedale 0. Goals were plentiful in the Brantford and Paris League games on Saturday, an average of six goals per match for the three games played being the average for the day. The winners scoring 14 goals to the combined opponents solitary one. Perhaps the most surprising result was at Melville Park where Holmedale Tiger were entertained by the weakest Coekshurt team and administered six goals defeat to the astonishment of the onlookers. Coekshurt were in poor form and could not get going against the ever victorious who pressed home their advantage. With the loss of their injured secretary and the strain of several players on the bruised list, Coekshurt appear to be in a really bad way and will need to pull it soon if they are to have any say in the final players.

Scots United had a day out at the expense of P.S.A. when they reaped a harvest of ten clear goals, which will make their average as good as any in the league. P.S.A. are expected to lose even more of their exhibition, but proved ineffective in combination, while their shooting was poor. They were expected to perform better seeing that they kept the Scots to one goal last week on their own end.

Paris made a three goal margin over the S.O.F. at Paris on Saturday and according to reports they were worthy winners. Parisians are evidently playing good football, and are getting stronger as they proceed. Tutela and Wanderers match was not played as it was rainously and windily and Duffs had a bye. The league standing is, therefore, not greatly affected.

Scots v. P.S.A. Saturday saw a pretty fair game between the Scots and P.S.A. Both teams started off in fine style and in about five minutes play, Holmedale opened the goal scoring for the Scots by putting through a dandy shot. This time the Scots did not go out to let their opponents away with a 1-0 score as they did the previous week, but to play their usual game and show the P.S.A. what they could do. Their THANKS! I desire to thank the people of Brantford for their patronage during my great Re-organization Sale.

The results have been indeed gratifying, for I have more than realized my most sanguine expectations. That Brantfordites appreciate a real genuine bargain has been fully exemplified.

We had too much stock on hand, and decided to turn it into cash in as quick a time as possible, so all prices were cut to a point where the public could not resist buying.

New fresh stocks are now arriving, and I am prepared to offer the latest exclusive novelties in Men's Furnishings, Hats and other toggery at our usual moderate prices.

Hundreds of new customers have taken advantage of the sale, and to them, as well as to our regular patrons, I give a very cordial invitation to call again and inspect the new goods being shown, assuring you of courteous treatment and prompt attention.

When the Iceman Played Host to the Guests of the Banker

By Winifred Black

Copyright, 1914, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

YESTERDAY was Sunday and we had dinner with the Iceman.
 I wasn't invited to the iceman's house to dinner, but I went anyway, and I never had a better time for a better dinner in all my life. This is the way it happened:
 We were all going to dinner at the banker's, all four of us, two men and two women, and we hated it and hated it.
 Nobody ever hated anything as we four hated going to the banker's to dinner—except probably the banker having us to come to dine with him.
 On Wednesday I met one of the men. "It will be fair Sunday," he said, "show about a walk down the beach and a luncheon at the Log Cabin."

I gazed at him with horror and repulsion. "On Sunday," said I, "we dine with the banker, and we have to eat the way to do it." The man frowned and fared. The other women called me up on the phone about it. She said she was awfully sorry and she hated the disappointment, but she had neuralgia—no, it was an ulcerated tooth—and by Sunday she knew it was going to be worse, kind of— "No, you don't," said I. "There are four of us, and if we die we die together."
 On Thursday night at the little restaurant the other woman said she was going to get revenge, and she proceeded to do it.

At the Iceman's Home.
 "Do you know my iceman?" said she, "the big, tall one with the white teeth and the black eyes—well, I did something for the baby when he was ill last winter, and the iceman can never stop talking about it, and yesterday he said his grandmother had come from Italy and they were having a grand feast dinner, and wouldn't I come on Sunday."
 "And I told him that I was going with friends to dine with the banker."
 "And the iceman said 'Bring your friends.'"
 "And I said, 'Oh, if I only could.'"
 "And the iceman said: 'Why not, only he said it this way' and the other woman raised her shoulders in a delicious shrug and sparkled her eyes and showed every tooth in her head, and put an A on the end of the "not," so that it sounded as if she was singing grand opera.
 And so we all sat and stared at each other and were very miserable.
 On Saturday one of the men called us.
 He began to sing over the phone:
 "We're free," he caroled, "free as a mountain bird."
 And then he said that we weren't going to the banker's at all; we were going to the iceman's, for the banker had had more sense than any of us, and had been called to Portland for a conference.
 So on Sunday we went to the iceman's.

The iceman lives in the most delicious house you ever saw—four rooms off a squatted down in a little hollow with vines all over the place.
 We sat on the porch till dinner was ready, and the children played over us as if we were so many about the chutes.
 Angelo could sing. Angelo was 3, and he was dimpled and rosy and his eyes were pools of black glory.
 Maria could sew. Maria is 5.
 Tony can whistle. Tony is 11; he whistled for us.
 Teresa is 16. Teresa helped her mother set the table.
 And the twins rolled over and over everywhere; whenever you looked there was a twin rolling.

A Merry Feast.
 And the iceman got out his accordion and played "On Marie"—and we all laughed and laughed and some of us sang and some quoted poetry and some just grinned amiably.
 And the dinner. You never ate such a dinner.
 A kid scathed in milk, chickens, broiled brown and flaxey—every vegetable that ever grew, two kinds of spaghetti, ravioli enough—for once—oh, well, what's the use!
 We were at the table for hours. Nobody ever thought of going away while there was a thing left to eat; and we toasted the iceman and every pound of the ice he ever carried; and we toasted the iceman's pretty wife, and every baby she'd ever held in her dimpled arms; and we toasted the iceman's grandmother and every white hair in her mass of tangled silver; and we toasted the iceman's uncle, who was there with his family, and when the in-laws began to arrive, with their accordions and their mouth harps, we toasted them. It was 1 o'clock in the morning when we left.

We had been there since 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and nobody was bored, and nobody was polite, and nobody was tactful—and we walked down to the little garden gate in a procession, with the iceman and the twins at the head of it, and the iceman's wife was crowned with roses at the gate, and the twins rolled along just as if it was 1 o'clock in the afternoon.
 When we were alone in the starlight, one of the men said in a hushed voice of awe:
 "What do you suppose the banker did with the things he'd ordered for our dinner?"
 And we were very sad, for waste is a terrible thing.
 I kept wondering whether the banker really was called to Portland for a conference, or whether—
 But why peer into the kindly mysteries of a benign Providence?
 What a lot of worrying we do—over the things that never happen, and that never were really going to happen at all.

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

Miss Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of feminine interest from young women desiring this paper and will reply to them in these columns. They should be addressed to her, care this office.

Dear Annie Laurie:
 Where I work there is a woman employe and I quit speaking to her. After this she said she didn't want to talk to me except on business. Shall I insist on an apology for things she said or did some time ago in case she tries to talk again, or let the thing go without an apology? Or just ignore her as I am doing?

 How should a man act with such a woman?
 GEO. M.

THERE'S just one thing for you to do, Geo. M., and that is to pass that woman by on a very cool side of the room.
 I wouldn't refuse to speak with her—that is childish as well as unmanly. A man must speak when a woman speaks to him, but I wouldn't say one word more than I had to.
 No, you can't insist upon an apology. A man cannot make a woman apologize, any more than he can force her to take her hat off to him when she meets him in the street.
 If she's sorry for what she has said or done she'll say so and be done with it. If she isn't sorry, why, let the matter go.
 Don't think about the woman at all, or whether she speaks or doesn't speak. She is nothing to you, and you are nothing to her; she's just a wheel in the great machine of business and you are just another.
 If she talks along about your own business and forget the woman. She'll soon forget you.

Reason Not Cullinary.
 "Does he go to Paris because he likes the French cook?"
 "No, the French nursemaids."

IN LOVERS' LANE :: By Michelson

Do you know where it is? If you pretend that you don't, you're a gross deceiver. Everybody knows a lovers' lane, either as a spectator or as an explorer. Lucky people count it on the rosary of their sweetest memories.
 This chap is steady on a hold-up. His marksmanship is simply appalling. Most of the people who have these affairs discovered have been HIT.

Three-Minute Journeys

A Land of Reformed Cattle Thieves—By TEMPLE MANNING

LESS than a quarter of a century ago, in the heart of the Punjab, one of the most productive provinces of India, there lay an immense wilderness of sand covering several millions of acres. Nothing that would sustain life in man or beast grew there. Scarcely any living thing was seen on the waste, no human being, not even a skulking beast; nothing but drifting sand, furnace-hot under the blazing Indian sun, was visible.
 Around the edge of this desert thousands of nomads, half-nude, half-barbaric, struggled hard to keep body and soul together by breeding cattle and bartering them for food and grain. So hard did these miserable creatures find the struggle for existence that they grew, in a short time, to be out and out cattle thieves. They made no pretences of respectability, fighting successfully with many expeditions sent against them to protect their stolen herds and their avenues of trade.
 The British government finally decided to try irrigation, cut many canals from the Chenab river, and sent agricultural experts to the district. I saw a veritable garden of grain and fruits and flowers when I visited there last year. There remains no vestige of the burning desert sands. Everywhere about prosperous farms there are flourishing farms. Here now is the centre of the grain and cotton production of India.
 From this spot we, in America, are shipped every year tons and tons of cotton and wool seeds.
 But even a more radical difference is to be seen in the people, the war-like barbarians who spent their days and nights in thieving forays and bloody combats. Today the former nomad is clothed in civilized garb, his manners and tendencies, in less than a generation, have been tamed; he is a respectable, responsible citizen, distinguished himself as a breeder of fine camels, horses, bullocks and milch cows, and as a husbandman, growing bumper crops.
 He has changed in other ways, too. Once of a morose, stolid, bellicose character, he is now full of life, bright-eyed, ambitious and happy. The men affect vivid-colored turbans white muslin shirts with the tails worn on the outside, waistcoats of brilliant blue silk or velvet and red shoes. The women also dress most picturesquely. Silks and satins of gay colors are used for their garments, and they are bedecked with jewels from head to toe.
 Most of them, or at least their parents, but a few years ago were content with ragged loin cloths. And now, instead of spears, they carry staffs, emblems of their freedom and respectability.
 There are few more interesting, more Americanized places, I may say, in India than here. The garden spot of the Punjab is well worth a visit.

HOW to Grow Hardy ORCHIDS

THERE is so much of the aristocratic in the word "orchid" that all plants answering to the name are popularly thought to be only suited for culture in specially constructed hot-houses, and to be the monopoly of those with big balances at the bank. This is not so. While many gorgeous species and varieties need skilled care and commit their owner to much expense, there are dozens of beautiful types amenable to ordinary treatment in ordinary greenhouses, while a number of pleasing species are quite hardy and can be grown out of doors or in pots and pans in a frame.
 All the hardy orchids are what are known as "terrestrial" species—that is, they grow in the earth in the ordinary way, and have no thickened stems or pseudo-bulbs, as have the epiphytal

A mulching of cocoanut fibre will help to conserve moisture. In winter a thick covering of straw, tree leaves, or pieces of board will help to keep the soil in an even state as to wetness and temperature. Severe cold is not harmful; it is a quick-change climate that troubles them.
 If grown in pans or pots, in a frame, it will be found the former give the best results, allowing a bigger group of plants. If only one or two tubers of a kind are on hand pots can be used. Drain well, cover the drainage with rough turf or soil, and then fill up with the special mixture for each. The pans should be of the deep variety, not shallow ones. Watering must be carefully attended to, and it will be found helpful during the growing season to plunge the pots and pans in sifted cold water. Frequent ventilation should always be given; in fact, the lightest breeze is most beneficial during the greater part of the year.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Hurried, Heavy Breakfasts Reduce Your Efficiency

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

OF the many modern follies, that of eating your self hastily each morning out of haste and haste with a hop, skip and a jump, is the worst. Unquiet meals make ill digestions, but a gulp-down breakfast of red-hot rolls and steam-heated coffee, of pork-chops and rich meat, is an annihilation to man's best interests.
 Famed people must be both slowly and wisely nursed and fed upon spoonfuls else they're apt to hurt. Furthermore, to throw a lot of heavy fodder into an empty stomach and then to jingle it in a demoralized rush to be on time is more than mortal man may stand.
 The morning incense, like the evening meal, must not be made of "the roast beef of England, the merry and saucy sausages, eggs and chocolate for the morning meal."
 The breakfast food habit has really been a saving grace with respect to the abridgment of gluttony after a night's fast.
 Cereals, such as rice and the multitude of advertised substitutes, are not only nutritious and easily garnered by the indolent, indigestible stomach, but even with the modicum of cream and sugar added they are more economical, as well as better tasting, than eggs, meat, eggs, hot breads and greasy fritters.
 Who lives without folly is not so wise as he thinks, and the doll boy who packs in legions of victuals as his work over and over again, himself upon his day's work is as poor in wit as he is in digestion.
 Too much breakfast is almost as wicked as too little. There is a limit at which forbearance ceases to be a virtue. Just as the first years of life are used physically, thoughtfully and morally to make provision for the last, so a sane, but not too solemn, breakfast prepares for the day's duties.
 The breakfast in the hayday and the weeds to grow then, before many digestive hours have passed they will overgrow the garden and choke the tissue soil, despite firm husbandry.
 Shallow draughts, such as a more cup of coffee and bits of bread interspersed with a venomously as does a susceptibility of food and drink.
 Therefore, in the matter of breakfasts, avoid extremes, and aim the fact of such who still are planned too late or too much. Be the gastrically excited and contented man who said:
 "Neither wait, nor get ahead, breakfast a day, content is served. I fail not to breakfast when I wake. I take not the great in excess. I prize a plain meal, and I prefer to eat when I am hungry. This, this is all my choice, my cheer. A fast content, a conscience clear."

Answers to Health Questions

G. R. M.—Give me a tonic after tonifolia.
 Try the compound syrup of hypophosphites, a teaspoonful or two before meals in water. Green vegetables are particularly good.
 G. T.—Am bothered with a kind of itch whenever any heat or warmth strikes me.
 Try this application: Carbonate of zinc 25 drams. Glycerine 2 drams. Phenol half a dram. Rose water 1 ounce. Lime water 3 ounces.
 A. B. G.—A friend of mine has a can of an electric brush, "Ducto," which has been advised against as dangerous.
 If she has been thus advised, it is a murderous advice, for an operation complete and promptly done is the only hope for cancerous invasions.
 S. E.—My hair falls out very rapidly.
 Try massage with the fingers and the use of an electric brush. "Ducto," 10 drops, 2 drams, resorcin half a dram, sulphur half an ounce, castor oil 3 drams, is useful in preventing loss.
 Dr. Hirschberg will answer questions for readers of this magazine, weekly, applicable and suitable subjects that are of general interest. He will not undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is not of general interest letters will be answered personally if a stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed. Address all inquiries to Dr. J. K. Hirschberg, care this office.

ODD and INTERESTING FACTS

The curious case of the New Jersey boy who sees upside down has been paralleled by a freak of nature in a dachshund puppy owned in San Diego. The dog's sense of distance is reversed. When called he will back away from his master, although obviously desirous of coming to him. A scientist, because interested, and discovered that the canine was suffering from astigmatic myopia. A special pair of spectacles was made for it. After becoming accustomed to the glasses the dog became normal, though its unusual appearance caused much comment.
 The smuggler's ingenuity is inexhaustible, as M. Gernez, a customs inspector at the frontier station of Foligno, has recently discovered. He was inspecting a goods train, one of the wagons of which was filled with stacks of potatoes when his suspicions were aroused, and on taking out some of the supposed tubers he found that they were masses of tobacco cleverly done up in wrappers closely imitating potato skins.

Useful Hints for the Housewife

By Ann Marie Lloyd

TIME in cooking is a problem which puzzles many inexperienced housekeepers who have dinners in which the roast is overdone and the vegetables underdone, and only the salad redeems the meal from total failure.
 The first and best investment the young housekeeper can make is an up-to-date cook book by some culinary authority. I would like to give you as a wedding gift to every bride. The next thing is to have a kitchen scrub book in which she may jot down recipes, or household hints which will save her no end of trouble at some particular time. Also there are constantly printed articles that are full of help and information, and there should be some definite way of preserving them and having them on call when needed. Memory plays the funniest tricks when one tries to cook by it.
 Here is a hint. All meats should be served over to keep in the juiciness, whatever the manner of cooking, with the exception of meat intended for soups or beef tea, where the object is to draw out the juices.
 Baked meat should be treated with patience in cooking. It will usually yield to slow, long cooking.
 Baked beef should be cooked an hour to each pound, just at the simmering point.
 Boiled beef, if desired to be done moderately well, needs from 12 to 15 minutes a pound in a hot oven, and should be frequently basted.
 Broiled beefsteak takes about 12 minutes over a very hot fire, and should be turned frequently.
 For veal allow 20 minutes to the pound in a hot oven and baste every 10 minutes. Of all meats veal must be well cooked to have it palatable or digestible. Give boiled mutton at least 15 minutes to the pound. If it is placed in the kettle of boiling water.
 From 10 to 15 minutes a pound is required for roast mutton, and the pink intended for mutton.
 "Why did she finally conclude to marry him?"
 "She discovered that they agreed on a plan to end the war quickly."
