

GREATEST BATTLE OF WAR ON

All of Captured Territory Consolidated Successfully by the Entente Troops

Present Offensive Likely to Result in Shattering of Teuton's West Line

No Let Up in Sweeping Offensive on West Front

Battle of Flanders, Now Launched in Earnest, Expected to Prove Decisive Struggle of the War; May Endure Months, But Will be Productive of Far Reaching Results

By Courier Leased Wire.

Paris, Aug. 1.—The battle of Flanders has begun and the indications are that it will be the biggest battle of the war. The offensive of the French and British allies had been expected for some weeks past, for although the French and British official communications gave no inkling of it, the German reports showed clearly a large scale operation was preparing.

The French public, however, did not know that French troops had been dispatched to share in the assault. Originally the front from the North Sea coast to Ypres had been held by the French in the Nieuport region, then by the Belgians as far as Elverdinghe and then by the British. The British troops later relieved the French and part of the Belgians along the coast.

It is thoroughly recognized here that the operation is only the beginning of a battle that will last weeks, perhaps months, but it is also hoped and believed that its effects will be in proportion to the extraordinary care and vast scale on which it has been prepared.

The first part of the program has been carried out with complete success and in a way which augurs well for its accomplishment as a whole. A glance at the map is sufficient to show the importance of the operations now under way. What has been effected fully justifies the German apprehensions and the French jubilation. French military observers say it is not too much to hope that the Germans may soon be cleared out of French and Belgian Flanders if things continue to go as well as they did yesterday.

The situation was rendered still more difficult by the presence within the saucer of a large number of waterways that must be crossed by means of bridges which might at any moment be destroyed by gunfire. This difficulty however, was overcome by a brilliant feat of the British engineers, who threw seventeen bridges across the waterways for the advancing troops, in the face of terrible gunfire. Similar and equally remarkable work was done by the French engineers who were forced to bridge the Yser for the attack. The Germans little feared apparently that the battle would be in the direction of their right wing. It was early in June that rumors of the impending attack began to find their way to German ears and were voiced in Berlin. Gradually the rumors assumed certainty and the Germans began feverishly to strengthen their lines, pouring large numbers of fresh forces into Flanders and bringing up all available guns. The surrounding country was evacuated of civilians and stripped for the conflict.

The Germans knew they faced an offensive. They were unable with all their cunning to gather more than a fragmentary idea of the story of these preparations, which is in itself a marvellous one. Day after day the building of new armies continued under cover of a unique concealment in plans.

FIGHT FOR CERNOWITZ NOW RAGING

Russian Resistance To Advance of Austro-Germans Is Increasing

By Courier Leased Wire.

Copenhagen, Aug. 1.—A despatch to The Berlin Vossische Zeitung, says the Russian resistance for the defense of Cernowitz is increasing. Fresh troops are fighting with great energy and without faltering, in strenuously opposing the Austro-German advance on Kirlibaba. Fighting is most sanguinary, but the defenders are unable to prevent the Austro-Germans occupying positions favorable for further operations, including Kimpoling. The writer predicts the Russians will be soon forced to abandon Cernowitz.

WEATHER BULLETIN

Toronto, Aug. 1.—Showers have occurred in many parts of the western provinces and heavy rains have been fairly general in Northern Ontario, while from southern Ontario eastward, the weather has been fair. Extreme heat has prevailed over the greater part of Ontario.

Moderate to fresh southwest winds, fair and very warm to-day, thunderstorms in some places during the night. Thursday, Moderate to fresh west and northwest winds, fair and cooler.

English to Fore London, Aug. 1.—According to reports from special correspondents, the great majority of British troops engaged in the latest assault, are English, although there are some Scotch, Welsh and Australians. It is said the Germans are employing a new scheme of defence which apparently depends principally upon organization for counter-attack. They now diminish their garrisons and by the same amount increase the strength of their supports and reserves who hold rear lines in force and who are organized for immediate attack.

As an instance of the terrible pounding by the British artillery, it is said to be known that the crew of one German battery had to be replaced nine times and the guns thereof five times. Copenhagen, Aug. 1.—The Ger-

Allied Forces Withdraw From Old Greece, Thessaly and Epirus

GREECE TO GREEKS

Action Follows Decision Reached at Allied Conference in Paris

PREPARING FOR WAR

Greece To Call Out Some 60,000 Additional Troops

By Courier Leased Wire

Athens, Monday, July 31.—Withdrawal of the allied forces from old Greece, Thessaly and Epirus in accordance with the decision of the Balkan conference at Paris, is being rapidly carried out. The last Franco-British troops left Piraeus today. The withdrawal from Corinth and other occupied points was previously executed. The Italians are similarly preparing to leave Janina and other sections of Greece, retaining only a small triangle near Avlona in Albania.

The unanimity of the allied action is a source of satisfaction, as the Italian aspiration desired a wider field, but yielded in the interest of the united action to withdraw all and leave Greece to the Greeks. Preparations are under way to call out the classes of 1916 and 1917, aggregating 60,000 men. The Greek government is highly gratified at the result as showing the allies are recognizing the territorial integrity of Greece.

ground in Flanders into a sea of mud, had forced a comparative lull in the operations this morning at most points within the zone of the Entente allied offensive begun yesterday. Generally speaking, the situation early to-day was unchanged along the British front. Several German counter-attacks were repulsed in the course of the night and the heavy artillery duel continued, but the movement of big guns has been rendered most difficult by the rain.

The German artillery to-day actively shelled the trenches which were wreathed from them yesterday in No Man's Land about the salient, and the British guns continued to pour a steady stream of shrapnel and high explosives.

Torrential Rains Yesterday Did Not Prevent Consolidation of Allied Gains; Heavy Counter Attacks Launched in Vain by Teutons on French Lines

By Courier Leased Wire.

Paris, Aug. 1.—After the magnificent success of the French and British in Belgium yesterday, says the official statement issued today by the French war department, the Entente troops in a torrential rain storm consolidated the positions which they had captured.

Enemy Attacked

After several days of artillery preparation, the Germans this morning attacked the positions on the left bank of the Meuse River, in Verdun region, which the French had captured from them on July 17. The French official statement says the Germans were only able to reach certain advance elements of the French first line where they were stopped.

Text of The Statement

The text of the statement reads: "In Belgium after our magnificent success yesterday our troops under a torrential rain storm, consolidated the positions which they had conquered. The artillery bombardment on our front in Aisne region was continuous. East of Cerny a vigorous counter-attack permitted us to make progress at several points and to take prisoners. On the left bank of the Meuse in the region between Avocourt and Hill 304, the Germans after artillery preparation which lasted several days attacked this morning the positions which we had conquered from them on July 17. The enemy was only able to reach certain advance elements of our first line where he was stopped by our fire. There was nothing to report on the rest of the front.

London, Aug. 1.—German counter-attacks last night and this morning against the new British positions at La Basseeville and Ypres-Comines canal in Belgium were successfully repulsed, says the official statement issued to-day by the British war office. Another German counter-attack further north in the neighborhood of the Ypres-Roulers railway was crushed by the British artillery. Heavy rain has been falling since early yesterday afternoon, the statement adds, and the weather continues unfavorable for operations.

The text of the British announcement says:

"South of the Ypres-Comines canal, British minor operations during the night resulted in an improvement of our new line. "Hostile counter-attacks yesterday afternoon and evening against our new positions at La Basseeville and immediately north of the Ypres-Comines canal were successfully repulsed.

"Further north in the neighborhood of the Ypres-Roulers railway another German counter attack was crushed during the night by our artillery. "The weather continues unfavorable for operations. Heavy rain has been falling since early yesterday afternoon. We made a successful raid last night east of Boesgrenler." Guynemer Again Paris, Aug. 1.—Captain George Guynemer, one of France's leading aviators, has brought down his fifth German airplane. The French aviator has been sick in the hospital in the latter part of July, after scoring his forty-six, forty-seven and forty-eighth victims, but on July 28 he returned to duty half cured with the famous "stork squadrilla" and on the same day brought down one machine north of Ypres, Belgium, and another, the fiftieth, close to Souhulet forest.

Elements Incentive

London, Aug. 1.—Wet weather, which has prevailed over western Europe since Sunday, and which continues without intermission, prepared the British public for General Sir Douglas Haig's report to-day that the weather had hindered the British operations in Flanders. The downpour of rain has been one of the most severe and most persistent experienced in recent summers and which the Teutons considered invincible of the ground over which the fighting has been taking place has led commentators to warn their readers not to expect too much.

The achievements of the Anglo-French forces, however, are considered of good omen for the future, the allies having proved that they are more than a match for the Germans and are able to take positions which the Teutons considered impregnable. By the advance made yesterday, which was all that had been planned for one day, the Entente Allies are in a better position for the next stroke.

Besides, the counter-attacks which the Germans have been compelled to undertake and all of which have been repulsed are proving very costly for the Germans, who, already, are hard put to it to supply the necessary drafts for the various fronts where they are fighting.

The defeat of the Germans also is expected to have a good influence on Russia, while the attack, when an improvement in the weather makes it possible to continue it, will tend to outflank the Lille district from the north and threaten the enemy's line of communications between Germany and the Belgian coast.

It is recalled by military observers that the Somme offensive forced Field Marshal von Hindenburg to retreat for a distance of from fifteen to twenty-five miles on a wide front and it is possible the new offensive is destined to achieve a greater result in the same way.

BACK FROM ARCTIC

By Courier Leased Wire. Quebec, August 1.—Reports reaching here to-day from the north shore of the St. Lawrence, state that Capt. Bernier's vessel, returning from the Arctic, is in that region.

BANK CLEARINGS

By Courier Leased Wire Montreal, Aug. 1.—Bank clearings for July were $381,480,370; 1916, $326,715,007; 1915, $211,147,708.

CHARGES BY MICHAELIS ARE DENIED

No Special Declaration By Russ Foreign Ministry To France

By Courier Leased Wire.

Petrograd, August 1.—Foreign Minister Terestchenko denies absolutely the declarations attributed to him by Dr. Michaelis, the German chancellor. He issued a statement saying: "The Russian foreign minister does up no protests or made any special declarations to the French Government beyond a general declaration by the Government respecting war aims, which was generally made known on May 18. This declaration so sympathetically received, will be thoroughly examined by the next inter-allied conference. Geneva, July 30.—(Delayed) —The alleged plans of the Entente allies for conquest, as revealed in the statement of the Imperial German chancellor, Dr. Michaelis, were obtained from The Berne Tagwacht. They afford amusement to the Swiss people because The Tagwacht is an obscure Socialist and Germanophile journal, edited by Robert Grimm, who sometime ago achieved notoriety and was expelled from Russia for his connection with Germany's efforts to effect a separate peace with Russia.

The Swiss newspapers say that if Dr. Michaelis bases his information on such a feeble source as a virtually unknown journal, his cause already is lost in neutral countries, especially in Switzerland.

NEGRO KILLED

By Courier Leased Wire. Rochester, N.Y., August 1.—Henry H. Kingston, Jr., advertising agent of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh Railroad, shot and killed an unknown negro early this morning who tried to rob his home in East avenue, Brighton. Mr. Kingston was awakened by noises on the landing and between second and first floors he met a stranger. Mr. Kingston requested the intruder to halt, and when he refused opened fire upon him. A bullet was later found to have passed through the negro's left lung and to have resulted in his death instantly.

SWEEPING DRIVE BY RUSSO-ROUMANIANS ON EAST FRONT

Enemy Front Penetrated to Depth of 20 Kilometres, Together With Capture of 4500 Prisoners; Fresh Treachery in Russ Army

By Courier Leased Wire.

Petrograd, Aug. 1.—A telegram from Jassy says the Russo-Roumanian advances between the Casin and Putna valleys resulted in the enemy losing between July 24 and 28, ninety eight guns and about 4,500 prisoners. The enemy front of sixty kilometres was broken to a depth of between 17 and 20 kilometres.

Petrograd, July 31.—Premier and Minister of War Kerensky has returned from the front. A "battalion of death," consisting of 300 Royal sailors, forced four lines of enemy trenches on the western front, instead of two, as had been ordered. They then asked for reinforcements in order to consolidate the captured positions. Instead of reinforcing them, however, the soldiers fired on the sailors, who, between two fires, began to retire. Only fifteen of the men escaped unharmed.

The commander of the force died as the result of thirteen wounds, and a sub-lieutenant and two midshipmen shot themselves rather than retreat. The maximalist leaders at Helsingfors, Finland, have been arrested. Their official newspaper has been confiscated.

THE SITUATION

The signs of a big Allied offensive on the Western front have now materialized in the commencement of what may well prove to be the most tremendous onslaught of the war. British troops assisted by the French have as the initial performance smashed through the German lines along a twenty mile front on both sides of the Ypres. As the result of the first rush many villages were taken and thousands of prisoners.

Trench after trench was taken but at last accounts the enemy were offering a stiffer resistance. From present indications the foe will have to bring up all of his available resources to avoid disaster. It is recorded that among the prisoners there are a number of mere boys, an incident which goes to still further prove that the man power of the foe is not nearly what it once was. In short though still able to put up a fierce argument he has passed the zenith of his power while Great Britain has yet to approach hers and Americans in large number will soon be added into the bargain.

The French have been subjected to further attacks on the Aisne front but have not only withstood them but taken more ground in counter attacks.

The Russian troops are commencing to show more stability but nothing yet to boast of.

THE DUTY OF THE HOUR.

At the "win the war" convention to be held in Toronto one of the propositions to be advanced will be the avoidance of a general election at this time. Ontario Liberal editors in a conference have announced the same idea. That such a contest during such a crisis is most undesirable, not to say unwise, will be quite generally agreed but the trouble of it is that Premier Borden has already been thwarted in the House with regard to said proposal.

He told the members very plainly before the vote was taken that unless there was a marked affirmative he could not feel that the British Parliament should be approached in the matter of an extension of time.

As a matter of fact the majority was small, most of the Liberal members who voted against Laurier in the matter of a referendum on Conscription, supporting him when it came to the matter of forcing a general election.

On what basis is such a position of affairs to be remedied?

There does not seem to be any ancestor will not have to take its course. In such an event, and it would appear to be inevitable, the main object for the consideration of the convention would clearly seem to be that of devising some plan whereby the desire of all loyal citizens can best be brought into co-operation in the matter of Canada's continued and unabated help in the prosecution of the war.

The French-Canadian vote, the Teuton vote and the slacker vote will be against that, and it behooves all others no matter what their politics, to get solidly together as an offset to that circumstance. If this is not done the anti-conscription element will succeed, and this Dominion abased in the eyes of the world while the Hun looks on with sardonic glee.

NATIONAL GOVERNMENT

By Courier Leased Wire
Winnipeg, Aug. 1.—The general Ministerial Association of Winnipeg, comprising clergy of several denominations, adopted unanimously a number of strong resolutions yesterday dealing with the public affairs of Canada. Dealing with war conditions one resolution passed by the association regrets the failure to initiate a national government at the outset of the war, instead of attempting to conduct the war on party lines to the alienation of a huge proportion of the people by party patronage. The resolutions passed will be presented to the resolutions committee of the Western Liberals' convention to be held in Winnipeg next week.

BYRNE RELEASED

By Courier Leased Wire
St. Louis, August 1.—Robert Byrne, an infidel, was released outright here today to the Philadelphia National League Club. Byrne said he thought he was through with baseball and would go into business in St. Louis.

CHANGES NAME

By Courier Leased Wire
Glen Cove, L. I., July 31.—George V. S. Michaels, whose father and grandfather were officers in the United States Army, has changed his name to George Woodbridge because he does not wish to bear the same name as Dr. George Michaels, the German chancellor.

UNION GOVERNMENT TALK

It is reported from Ottawa that Premier Borden is still a determined advocate of a government representative of those advocating war measures irrespective of party, and that he stands by his original proposal of giving equal representation in a union cabinet.

In this respect he is stated to have the hearty co-operation of his colleagues enough of whom are willing to give up their portfolios in order to attain the desired end.

The statement is further made that the greatest obstacle to an amicable understanding has recently arisen because of the attitude of certain of the war Liberals towards Sir Robert.

Recently the Toronto Star, (Liberal) frankly admitted that the days of Sir Wilfrid Laurier as leader of that party were ended—that he had selected Quebec for his kingdom and must abide by that choice. At the same time the Star made a most unwarranted attack on Borden, alleging that he had failed in every particular and that some other man should be found to take his place.

The assault, quoted with approval by other Liberal sheets is the most unwarranted ever made upon any public man in this country. Day and night since the commencement of hostilities Sir Robert has been steadily on the job and no one who has watched his course can doubt that he has rendered most efficient and patriotic service.

Who is there, as a matter of fact, who can begin to measure up to him for the arduous post of First Minister during this crisis, and where in the name of all that is reasonable would the country have been had Laurier unfortunately held the reins?

Any union government which may be formed must assuredly have him at the head for he is without the slightest shadow of a doubt the one outstanding man for the task.

MUST SPEAK

By Courier Leased Wire
Toronto, August 1.—According to the judgment of Mr. Justice Sutcliffe given today, Chairman Samuel M. Genest, of the Ottawa Separate School board, together with four Christian Brothers, must answer questions asked them upon examination to determine whether there has been a contempt of the injunction granted by Mr. Justice Lennox, restraining the board from paying qualified teachers in the English-French schools. In default of answering they must go to jail. The injunction has arisen from the decision precipitated by R. Mackall and other English-speaking supporters of the separate schools of Ottawa, who have insisted on the board to compel that schools should be conducted in conformity with regulation No. 17.

AVIATORS KILLED

By Courier Leased Wire
Camp Borden, Ont., July 31.—One aviator of the Royal flying corps killed another in the hospital with a broken leg is the toll of an aeroplane crash this morning in the district of the village of Lisie, which is about five miles to the west of the camp.

Cadet J. H. Pearson, whose home was at Comber, Ontario, was the young aviator whose body now rests in the camp morgue. Cadet Archibald of Victoria B. C., sustained a fractured leg. He was attended to at the camp hospital and will recover. He was unable to give any connected account of how the accident occurred.

JOE TO FIGHT

By Courier Leased Wire
Vancouver, Aug. 1.—Interest in political circles in this city has been quickened by news from friends of Joseph Martin, K. C., that "Fighting Joe" on his return here in a couple of weeks, will proceed to take a hand in unravelling the situation in the Dominion. Mr. Martin, it is said, has tired of London life and has decided to quit his seat for East St. Pancras and seek re-election to the Canadian House of Commons. Now that the Liberals of the city are casting about for names of candidates for nomination in the forthcoming federal election, it is hinted that Mr. Martin, who has already sailed for Vancouver, will be available.

ADHERE TO PLAN.

By Courier Leased Wire
Denver, Colo. July 31.—Placards announcing the determination of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company to continue to operate under the so-called Rockefeller plan of industrial representation for adjustment of differences with its employees and not to recognize the United Mine Workers, were posted today in all the coal companies of the company. Notice that the United Mine Workers would call a strike in the company's mines was filed with the state industrial commission a month ago. Union officials asserted Saturday that the men would be called out in a few days, efforts to settle by a conference having failed.

Executive Member of I. W. W. Hanged By Band of Masked Men

By Courier Leased Wire

Butte, Mont., Aug. 1.—Frank Little, member of the executive board of the Industrial Workers of the World, and leader in labor troubles in Arizona, was taken from a lodging house early today by masked men and hanged to a railroad trestle on the outskirts of the city.

The body was cut down at 8 a.m. by chief of police Jerry Murphy, who identified it. Little, a recent speech here, was a supporter of the I. W. W. and was known to United States troops as "seabs in uniform."

TWENTY SIX DIE OF HEAT IN NEW YORK

Metropolis Swelters In Grip Of a Merciless Heat Wave

By Courier Leased Wire

New York, Aug. 1.—New York continued to swelter in the heat wave which has held the city in its grip for the past two days. There was no relief in sight, according to early reports. Countless thousands spent the night in the parks or at the beaches, while many flat dwellers made beds on fire escapes and even on the sidewalks in an effort to escape the torrid air of their cramped quarters.

Reports from various sections of the greater city indicated yesterday heat victims at 14 dead and 188 prostrated.

This morning twelve deaths and 31 prostrations occurred between 2 and 7 a.m. as reported to the police. The minimum temperature recorded during the past 24 hours was 84 degrees at Cortlandt street, where the mercury again began to go up and at 9 o'clock it had reached 89 degrees, one degree higher than the same hour yesterday and the humidity was greater.

SUBMARINE INTERNED

By Courier Leased Wire

Madrid, Aug. 1.—The German submarine UB-23, which entered the roadstead of Corunna Monday in a seriously damaged condition, has reached Ferrol, 12 miles northeast of Corunna, escorted by the Spanish torpedo boat Audaz. It will be interned there.

Premier Dato told the press that the recent decree regarding the navigating within Spanish territorial waters will be strictly enforced. He added that the government was satisfied at having adopted the Hague convention. The Germanophile press protests against the strict application of the decree, but is not so violent as formerly.

A. R. CLUB GROWING

The newly formed A. R. Club, composed exclusively of men rejected from active service, is allowing no grass to grow under its feet in the matter of paying its dues.

A general meeting has been called for Friday night of this week, when a large attendance and enrollment of rejected men is looked for. At the band concert the Dufferin Rifles on Monday night an invitation was extended to all men of the regiment who are ineligible for active service to become members of the association.

No pains will be spared to exclude from membership any not duly qualified, and in the near future a board of prominent men is appointed to examine the credentials of all candidates for entry into the association, in order to prove that they are bona fide rejected men.

NO PLANS OF CONQUEST IN FRENCH WAR AIMS

Premier Ribot Replies To Charges Made By German Chancellor Last Week: No Secret Treaty With Russia To Annex German Territory

By Courier Leased Wire.

Paris, August 1.—Premier Ribot replied in the Chamber yesterday to the declaration made Saturday by Dr. Michaelis, the German chancellor, that there was a secret treaty between France and Russia having in view plans of conquest. Premier Ribot said:

"I wish to reply to the singular speech which Dr. Michaelis thought it well to make in the Chamber. The German chancellor publicly commanded the French Government to declare whether in a secret sitting June 1, the French Government had not made known to the Chamber of Deputies, the terms of a secret treaty made before the Russian revolution, whereby the Emperor or his successor had granted concessions to German territory on the left bank of the Rhine.

"The chancellor's version contains gross inaccuracies and absolute lies, notably regarding the role he attributes to the president of the republic in giving an order to sign a treaty unknown to Premier Briand. The chamber knows how things passed. M. Doumergue, (ex-premier and foreign minister) after a conversation with the emperor, demanded and obtained M. Briand's authorization to make any policy of conquest and to support our claim to Alsace-Lorraine and to leave us free to seek guarantees against fresh aggression. The chancellor knows how things passed, but he is trying to hide the embarrassment which he feels in defining German's objects of war and conditions whereon she would make peace. He is trying especially to turn aside attention from the terrible responsibility weighing on the conscience of the Kaiser and his councillors.

"It is on the morrow of the publication of decisions made July 5 at a council held at Potsdam at which all consequences of the ultimatum to be sent to Serbia were discussed and from which he is bound to spring that the chancellor is trying this diversion. There is something shameful, when one has such responsibilities, in demanding our intentions. "Assuredly it is not to Germany that we address ourselves but to all who are witnesses or actors in the struggle which we have been maintaining for the past three years and who know that there is in the depth of the French people's soul a deep attachment to the principles of justice, respect for people's rights and I may add at the risk of not being understood by our enemies, true generosity.

"The declaration was frequently applauded. It was not followed by any debate.

HEAVY FLOODS IN QUEBEC PROVINCE

District of St. Mary's Cut Off From The Outside World

By Courier Leased Wire

Quebec, Aug. 1.—With all means of communicating with St. Mary's, Beauce, cut off with all telephone and telegraph wires down in that region, the outside world is without news of the population of the submerged town since yesterday noon when reports indicated that the rise of waters was still going on and that scores of families were marooned in their homes on hills already surrounded by water. No definite news of fatalities has yet been received.

Definite information has been brought here today by two reporters for LeSoleil, who were despatched to the scene of the disaster yesterday. They confirm in every detail the reports given yesterday and the gist of the situation today is that one more railway bridge has been swept away by waters, that of the Quebec Central Railway at Scotts, Beauce. The Quebec Central Railway's bridge at Valley Junction has already been reported gone and this is confirmed by reports from the foot bridges at Scotts, Valley Junction and St. Marys have been washed away, the bridge from St. Marys down the Chaudiere River, stranded in clover fields at Scotts. One of these houses is that of Edward Gagne, of St. Marys.

There is no way of communicating with St. Mary's and Valley Junction, the stream at Scotts from a width of seven hundred feet has been spread to a width of a mile and one quarter, over houses, factories, stores, etc. and the current is so fast that not one single boatman would venture across. There would be a possibility of reaching St. Marys if one could go by way of the back ranges of the upper parish, but the roads have been damaged to such an extent by the recent rain that no traffic is possible there.

As it is, three parishes in Beauce are known to be under water, they are St. Marys, the most severe hit, Valley Junction and Scotts.

BOGUS CHEQUE

A local jeweller was the victim of the "bogus cheque" game yesterday afternoon when a stranger walked into the store and, after making several purchases, tendered a cheque for $50 on the Royal Bank, in payment. He received his change and walked out, and since then no trace of him has been found. When an attempt was made to cash the check, it was found to be worthless. The fraud was communicated to the police, who are now working on the case.

WITH LEAF.

Pitcher Allen of the Dominion Steel Products team reported to the Toronto Internationals on Monday afternoon and after a short workout, he was back on the mound for his two weeks trip on the road. Being in poor condition, "Smoky" Joe refused and came back to Brantford. He will report again in about two weeks when the Toronto return to the Island stadium at the conclusion of their road trip.

POLICE COURT

This morning's session of the police court was an unusually profitable one. Two fined $200 and costs for having liquor in their possession on West street, late Sunday night. Two juveniles each paid $5.00 for riding their two-foot-power, 1917 models, on the sidewalk in the township.

RIOT IN MONTREAL

Montreal, Aug. 1.—The racing at the Mount Royal Jockey Club track yesterday terminated in a riot. Following the placing of the horses in the seventh race recording Jerry as the winner over Oscar Prince, the public choice, so far as the betting went, an angry mob crowded about their jeering by pelting gravel and rocks at the stewards and judges as well as the windows in the coop. With the air full of fists and stones, the scene was a stormy one while it lasted. No one was seriously hurt, but more than one of the officials emerged from the fracas with marks of the stone throwing. One of the stewards was knocked down by a stone which struck him in the neck, but most of his confreres escaped with nothing worse than scratches.

FUR WORKERS STRIKE

Montreal, July 31.—Five hundred union fur workers are on strike in Montreal over a decision of the Montreal Furriers Association, supporting A. J. Alexander, Limited, in employing a non-union cutter.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Understand we wish peace founded on the right of people. The conclusion of peace would thereby be singularly facilitated.

Finally the chancellor passed over in silence the resolution unanimously voted after the June secret session.

Here Premier Ribot read from his speech in the Chamber wishing to spread the conviction that France was seeking conquest and read the terms of the resolution adopted by the Chamber at that time declaring that peace sooner must include the return of Alsace-Lorraine to France, the liberation of territories occupied by Germany and just reparation for damages caused by the invader. The resolutions also favored the creation of a league of nations for maintenance of peace.

"Who now are say to the world that we wish annexation?" continued Ribot. "Such manoeuvres are too crude to deceive anyone, especially the convulsed masses of the Russian empire, who it is vainly being tried to separate from their allies by deceiving them as to the true sentiments of French democracy. What is the chancellor seeking? He is trying to hide the embarrassment which he feels in defining German's objects of war and conditions whereon she would make peace. He is trying especially to turn aside attention from the terrible responsibility weighing on the conscience of the Kaiser and his councillors.

"It is on the morrow of the publication of decisions made July 5 at a council held at Potsdam at which all consequences of the ultimatum to be sent to Serbia were discussed and from which he is bound to spring that the chancellor is trying this diversion. There is something shameful, when one has such responsibilities, in demanding our intentions. "Assuredly it is not to Germany that we address ourselves but to all who are witnesses or actors in the struggle which we have been maintaining for the past three years and who know that there is in the depth of the French people's soul a deep attachment to the principles of justice, respect for people's rights and I may add at the risk of not being understood by our enemies, true generosity.

CUSTOMS
The Custom returns at Brantford port still continue to show a tremendous advance. For the month of July the receipts were $86,815.63, as compared with $53,380.89 in July, 1916. Increase, $33,434.72.

LOTS OF WATER
There was an average of 1,000,000 gallons per day more water pumped at the waterworks during July of this year than was the case for the corresponding month of 1916. For the month of July 1917, 109,240,115 gallons were pumped, a daily average of 3,523,874 as compared with 78,239,956 gallons for July of 1916 a daily average of 2,523,870.

LIBRARY BOARD
Routine business chiefly was transacted at the meeting of the finance and management committee of the public library board, held in the library yesterday afternoon. A number of applications for the vacancy on the staff were received, but no action was taken regarding an appointment, which will be further considered at a future meeting of the committee.

SOFTBALL
The first of a series of three games to decide the championship of the Sunday school softball league, was played at Agricultural Park last evening, and turned out to be a closely fought and bitterly contested game. The West Brants were finally defeated by a score of 12-10 by the Eagle Place Dodgers. The decisions of Empire L. Whittaker did not always meet with the approval of the players, but his work was on the whole satisfactory. The next game will be played on Thursday evening at Tutela Park.

VITAL STATISTICS
The vital statistics of the city for the month of July are as follows: Births, 65; Marriages, 21; deaths, 22; Cause of death, still born 1; Heart Failure 2; Asthenia 1; drowning 2; Arterio Sclerosis 1; Pneumonia 1; Premature Birth 1; Whooping Cough 1; Unkown 1; Eye 1; Senility 1; Stroke 2; Old Age 2; Exhaustion 2; Peritonitis 1; Respiratory Failure 1; Effusion base of brain 1.

ALLEN IS MISSED
Regarding the departure of Joe Allen from the Sarnia Imperials to come here to play with the Dominion Steel Products, a dispatch from Sarnia this morning says, "The baseball game scheduled to take place at the local diamond last night was defaulted to the Tigers by the Imperials it is altogether likely the Imperials will drop out of the league for the season. With the departure of Allen, their peerless southpaw, the old men seem to have lost heart, losing several games since Allen went away. With Allen here the Imperials had to have the Free Press trophy clinched. The old men have been playing rather indifferent ball in their last few starts, having considerable trouble in securing a box performer."

A RESCUE
Another drowning fatality was narrowly averted yesterday afternoon not far from the scene of Monday afternoon's accident. Pauline Day, an eleven year old girl who resides at Echo Place, was bathing in the waters of the canal, near the Canada Glue Company factory, yesterday afternoon and ventured too far from the shore, out into the deeper waters of the stream, where she was soon out of her depth. The girl was unable to swim and had gone down for the second time when Fred Waring, a youth who happened to be near, dived after her, and after heroic efforts, was successful in bringing her to shore.

HENDERSON'S MISSION TO PARIS IS UNKNOWN
British Parliament Roused By Journey of Minister To French Capital In Company With Pacifists; Strange Change of Heart

By Courier Leased Wire
London, Aug. 1.—The fact that a member of the cabinet, Arthur Henderson, minister without portfolio in the war council, had gone on a mission to Paris with the pacifist, Ramsay MacDonald, M.P., George James Wardle, chairman of the Labor party in the House of Commons, and Russian delegates aroused great irritation among the members of parliament, and seems to threaten trouble in the government. The purpose of the journey is to confer with French Socialists in regard to the proposed conference of allied Socialists at London and the subsequent international conference at Stockholm. The crux of the matter lies in the fact that Mr. Henderson, since his return from Petrograd, reversed his attitude on the question of the British Labor party and Socialists meeting the German representatives at Stockholm, and now advises them to rescind the former resolution against joining the conference with enemy delegates. Mr. Henderson has not publicly explained his change of views, but it is known to be the result of his visit to Russia. It is stated that the heads of the Labor party officially accepted his advice, which nevertheless seemed to have caused a crisis in the party which

TRIPLE PLAY BY BOSTON BRAVES

Three Ply Killing Against Cubs Engineered By Eddie Fitzpatrick

GIANTS WIN BRACE
Phillies and Cards Split—Dodgers Beat the Reds

Chicago, July 31.—Boston and Chicago divided a double-header today, Chicago winning the first game 9 to 6, and losing the second, 1 to 8. The second game furnished a triple play in the second inning. Williams was second and Zeider on first, Wortman lined to Fitzpatrick, who threw to Konechey, doubling Zeider. Before Williams could return to second base Konechey threw to Rawlings for the third out. Scores:—

COLONEL MACKLEM AND HIS WIFE
In less than three years Col. Macklem rose from a private to a colonel, won the D. C. M. for bravery, invented the new British hand-grenade and a very useful shell 'detonator' and was made the recipient of a $100,000 honorarium from the British government. Forty Canadian cities and towns have claimed him as their native son. He comes from Tilbury, Ont.

BOSTON OUSTS THE WHITE SOX

Red Sox Nose Chicago Out of Lead in American League
A DECISIVE SERIES
Freak Home-Run By Hooper Gave Bean Eaters The Victory

Boston, Aug. 1.—Boston took the lead in the American League race yesterday by defeating Chicago 5 to 2. Cicotte was hit hard, and the game was practically decided in the first, when Hooper made a freak home run with two on bases. Hooper's hit was down the right-field line. The ball struck J. Collins' glove and glanced into the right-field bleachers. Leonard pitched good ball after the first. Lewis was the hitting star of the visitors, with three hits, one a double, out of four times up. Score:—
Chicago . . . . . 200000000—2 7 0
Boston . . . . . 30010010x—5 13 0
Batteries—Cicotte, Williams and Schalk; Leonard and Thomas.

At Washington
Detroit took the second game of the series from Washington yesterday, 8 to 4. Both teams fielded poorly, only four of the twelve runs being earned. Score:—
R. H. E.
Detroit . . . . . 020001131—8 11 4
Washington . . . . . 200200000—4 7 5
Batteries—Daus, C. Jones, Ball and Stange, Yelle; Ayres, Golla and Ainsmith.

At Philadelphia
Hard hitting gave Cleveland the victory here yesterday, 8 to 5. The visitors knocked Seibold off the rubber, and his successors, Buch and Dugan, were forced to leave the game, owing to the intense heat. Score:—
R. H. E.
Cleveland . . . . . 100231100—8 12 2
Philadelphia . . . . . 003020000—5 8 3
Batteries—Klepper, Gould and Billings; Seibold, Bush, Anderson, R. Johnson and Meyer.

At New York
New York again defeated St. Louis here yesterday, 4 to 1. The Yanks won in the fifth inning after two were out, on singles by Walters, Caldwell, Beaman and Peckinpaugh, and a base on balls to High. Score:—
R. H. E.
St. Louis . . . . . 000010000—1 7 2
New York . . . . . 10003000x—4 6 0
Batteries—Davenport, Wright and Severoid; Caldwell and Walters.

DEMARÉE GOES TO GIANTS.
Chicago, Aug. 1.—Al. Demaree, of the Chicago Nationals, was traded yesterday to the New York Nationals for Peter Kilduff, a recruit infielder, purchased from Omaha last fall. Demaree came to Chicago from Philadelphia in a trade.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

LEAFS ONCE MORE DOWN THE BISON

Buffalo Gained Three Run Lead in First, But Could Not Hold It
LEAKE PITCHES WELL

Toronto Twirler Held Opponents To Three Scattered Hits

Toronto, Aug. 1.—The Leafs seem to have acquired a new habit in all its entirety, for yesterday they again went into a battle with Buffalo, and after almost giving them the game came through and won out by 7 to 4. The habit of spotting the visiting team a few runs early seems to be growing in popularity with the locals in view of recent contests, and although it may in a soon attract the fans, still for those who write the obituaries of contests it does not look wise. The last game of the series was played yesterday, and Toronto, by winning, made it three out of four and one hit, it should have been five straight, but crying over spilt milk never gets one anything.

Just to be consistent and get the contest started in the regular groove the Leafs spotted the Bisons three runs in the first inning, later came from behind, tied the score, and then went out in front by the same margin as they had spotted the visitors. It was a good game, and the most pleasing feature of the whole was the way Leake returned to his own. Since his arrival with the Leafs he had only won one start, his first game with the club, and he looked as if the discard would soon claim him, but yesterday after taking most of the heart out of the contest in the first inning, he pitched superb ball. Incidentally he reversed the tables against Buffalo and Manager Donovan, who were credited with not having given him a fair trial. His victory makes the second reversal of form against the Herd during the series, for Justin did the same trick on Saturday.

International Scores
Baltimore, Aug. 1.—Richmond overed the count against Baltimore yesterday, 4 to 3. Poor base running by the home team was a big factor in the defeat of the home club. The score:—
R. H. E.
Richmond . . . . . 110000200—4 8 1
Baltimore . . . . . 000003000—3 11 3
Batteries, Eibel and Kerr; Reynolds; Tipple, Newton and McAvoy.

At Montreal
Montreal split yesterday's double-header with Rochester, the visitors winning the first game, 5 to 2, and the locals taking the second, 5 to 4. Scores. First game:—R. H. E.
Rochester . . . . . 201300000—6 8 1
Montreal . . . . . 00001001—2 6 4
Batteries, Lohman and Sandberg; Hoyt and Howley.
Second game:—R. H. E.
Rochester . . . . . 000030100—4 5 2
Montreal . . . . . 00500000x—5 7 6
Batteries, Schacht and Wendell; Stryker and Madden.

Toledo Signs Russell Ford
Toledo, Aug. 1.—The services of Russell Ford, formerly pitcher on the New York American League club now with Denver, have been obtained by the Toledo American Association club.

MACK MAY GET BACON
Word has been received from the South that Bacon, the young pitcher of the Chattanooga team, of the Southern Association, had been purchased by Connie Mack, of the Athletics.

Manager Mack, however, stated that, so far as he knew, no deal for Bacon had been closed. Connie said he had a man scouting for him in that section and it was possible he had been looking Bacon over, but had sent no word about signing him, or making him an offer. Pat Flaherty, the veteran southpaw pitcher, who was with the Athletics' pitchers at Fort Pierce last spring, is one of Mack's scouts in the South and it is likely he has been talking business with the Chattanooga star.

Mrs. Ann Chambers died suddenly at Guelph just as she returned from a visit to her son in Toronto.

Mrs. John Elder, a farmer's wife, of South Lake, was killed when her buggy was struck by a train on a level crossing at Chesebro.

QUEER FIGUREHEADS OF YORE REVIVED BY SHIPBUILDING BOOM

Once Characteristic Emblem and Personification of Identity, Figure Head Has of Late Years Passed to Disuse

In answer to the war cry for tonnage, a strange procession of sailing vessels is plying up and down the American coasts these days, a company of old-fashioned craft whose noses have long been in the mud and whose commercial value seems to have vanished says the New York Tribune. But now with brave front the old century ship, with its heroic figurehead, is again seen in New York harbor after many years.

The figurehead at the prow of a sailing vessel, once the necessary and characteristic emblem of the vessel, the personification of her identity, is to-day retained only in the German navy. The Deutschland and the Imperator have well known emblems; the carved imperial eagle and motto "Mein Feld ist die Welt" of the latter were criticized mildly only a few years ago by Colonel Cyril Field of the British navy, as being a bit previous.

But the figurehead died hard among other nations. As an expression of the poetry and superstition of seamen it has lived since the Egyptians and Phoenicians decorated their prows with the carved figure of an ibis a lotus and Phoenix or sometimes a gigantic and all-seeing eye, and then confidently set sail under its protection. For these thousands of years the figurehead has been the seaman's god. He has trusted the figurehead no less than his compass or his captain, and there is not a sailor to-day of the old school who would not welcome its return to modern vessels.

The Seaman's God. Particularly have the sailors been fond of the beautiful lady who breasted the waves as the ship's guardian angel. They used to spend hours painting and retouching her hair, lips and eyes, and they treated her with all the gallantry and tenderness that ladies on land receive. In 1779 a British sailor wrote that "the British fleet had died before the enemy and that the seamen hung their hammocks before the Victory's head that, she might not see such days." Captain Basil Hale tells of one gilded lady who furnished the captain of the ship with an odd means of getting action out of his crew. The ship was sailing in company with several others of the same class and when they all came to rest topsails together she was beaten on the first occasion. As they were setting about a second trial the captain called out to the sailors aloft: "Now I'll tell you what it is, my lads, unless you are off the yards and the sails are hoisted up again before any other ship in the squadron, I'll paint your figure head black!" This dire threat had its effect, and from that time on the ship was the first in the fleet. The figurehead, if not representing a deity or an animal, was often the figure of one of the royal family. Sir Charles Hardy in 1777, under orders from the admiralty, declined an engagement with the French fleet. A lieutenant aboard the Royal George busily lashing his hammock around the head of the king. "What are you doing there?" he asked. "Only securing his peepers, sir. We aren't ordered to break the old man's heart, are we?"

Feeling Still Evident. And even now you don't find the Antipolis midshipman passing lightly by Tecumseh, the old figurehead of the Delaware. Indeed, they are in the world, for every midshipman has ever tried defying him yet has fumbled his examinations.

But along with the love and reverence for the figurehead there was a fear among nations, too, of other navies' figureheads. The Icelanders, for example, would not allow a vessel to come within sight of the island until she had removed her figurehead. All because the Icelandic king himself used to offer human heads as sacrifices to the gods, thus calling the curse upon Norway, and usually the ship would bear the name of the woman he had so honored. In other cases the figurehead is supposed to represent some water nymph or other heroine of local tradition after which the ship is named. Braaboch is an obscure Norwegian fjord. Like all such bodies of water it has a tutelary deity, a plump Scandinavian nymph who is supposed to live in its chilly depths and have benign influence over the tides and the run of fish. Perhaps she has never been seen, but her image on a bark hailing from near her home has visited the four corners of the earth, and was in New York the other day.

An Ocean Tailsman. Many are the superstitions which cluster around the figurehead—probably more than around any other single thing on shipboard. Any injury to it bodes bad luck, both to the ship and to all that are on her. And the bad luck will last until the damage has been repaired. So great is the fear of this that there have been cases where, when an arm or a leg has been broken off in a storm the crew has performed rough surgery in the midst of its fight for life, and that time the fire had progressed so that the would-be rescuers could see the bodies of the victims within, apparently not then disfigured. It is thought that the occupants smothered without waiting for their sleep. The house was a frame structure, and was completely destroyed. The charred remains of the victims were removed about noon on Friday from the cellar, where they had fallen when the floors gave way. The cause of the fire is unknown. Dr. Johnston, of Burford, coroner, was summoned, but no inquest has been held.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm had been residents of Hatchley for about thirty years, coming here from Kelvin. Mrs. Malcolm, before her marriage, was Miss Elizabeth Patterson, of Kelvin. Mr. Malcolm was employed as a section-man on the Grand Trunk. They had many friends in this district, and their sudden calling had caused deep grief to many friends. Eleven children survive. The family have the sincere sympathy of the community in their three-fold bereavement.

Private interment of the remains took place on Saturday, at 10 a.m. in the Hatchley cemetery. A memorial service will be held in the Hatchley Baptist Church, on Sunday afternoon, August 5th, at three o'clock. Rev. T. Doolittle, pastor of the church, and Rev. Mr. Saunders, of Burford, will speak.

would be a welcome addition on all vessels.

In the merchant marine the figurehead has been an object both of sentiment and reverence. Often the owner or builder of a ship would have a likeness of sweetheart, wife or daughter carved to put on the bow of his best vessel, and usually the ship would bear the name of the woman he had so honored.

In other cases the figurehead is supposed to represent some water nymph or other heroine of local tradition after which the ship is named. Braaboch is an obscure Norwegian fjord. Like all such bodies of water it has a tutelary deity, a plump Scandinavian nymph who is supposed to live in its chilly depths and have benign influence over the tides and the run of fish. By day the woman worked the fields, while the little boy to school in a convent cellar where the good nuns had difficulties, were teaching the ren of France. At night mother son slept in the basement of ruined home. Spudhole and his mates slept in the ground.

About 10 o'clock on Christmas night the good woman of the billeted the little boy, whose name Jean, from the firestorm, had been asleep, and carried him head of the cellar stairs. "Good night!" she called. "Soldiers who were deep in a slumber, "Good night!" they chorused in reply to the woman the stair-head. Little Jean was "Bon soir!" he called. "Bon Spudhole."

"Petit Jean, bon garcon," Spudhole, getting to his feet coming over to the child. He the little boy on the cheek and "Now, little Jean, you get to be a good boy."

The child snuggled into his mother's breast, then suddenly to his eyes up to her, he asked: "My boot. Where did you get it?"

"Your boot! Ah, yes. I found it." "I'll put it out," he said, wriggled out of her arms on to

VICTORY DRIVE LAUNCHED; GREATEST BATTLE OF THE WAR NOW RAGING

First Three German Lines Seized by British on Opening Day of Offensive; Epoch Making Drive May Result in Total Annihilation of Enemy Front

(Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press.) British Front in France and Belgium, July 31.—An epoch-making offensive, launched by the British and French against the German lines between the River Lys and Bessinghe, has, with few exceptions, accomplished all that had been planned for the first day of this battle, which in its early stages, gives promise of being the greatest conflict of the war. Roughly speaking, the British penetrated positions held by Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, between Bessinghe and Warneton, and at the time of filing this despatch, were in possession of the first three lines of the German trenches at most points throughout this front. Reports received from the French troops, which are attacking on the difficult territory between Dixmude and a point near Bessinghe, say that they have forced their way across this marsh-studded and partly inundated region and captured the first two lines of German trenches. The casualties of the Entente allies have been surprisingly light and the morale of the men continues at the highest pitch. The contact between the British and French armies has been constant and excellent. Late to-day it was reported that the Germans had begun a heavy counter-attack at the point where the allied forces join.

The German front line trenches which had been torn to pieces by the preliminary bombardment, offered little resistance, but once the allied forces had penetrated beyond them they met with fierce resistance at many points. Directly east of Zillebeke and again to the north the British were temporarily held up by a heavy machine gun fire, but only temporarily, for the troops charged through the rain of lead and forced the Germans from their positions in hand-to-hand fighting. Again at a redoubt which was strongly held in the German line and defended by concrete fortifications, the British were brought to a standstill by machine gun fire. But they charged with bayonets and dislodged the Germans. Charged Through Their Own Barrage One of the most striking and spectacular events of the day's fighting occurred at the so-called Menin Tunnel, a great underground fortification constructed by the Germans on the Menin road opposite Hooge. The British preliminary bombardment had forced the Germans to hold the French line thinly here, and the British division, which was to attack at dawn by out all night in shell holes within 25 yards of the German line, waiting for the signal to advance. When the time arrived for the charge, and the British guns had dropped a protecting barrage on the German front trench ahead of the British troops, it was seen that the Germans had taken to their heels and were fleeing.

The British, seeing their prey escaping, went mad and charged directly through their own barrage, fortunately without heavy casualties. The Menin Tunnel, which was expected to be occupied by several hundred Germans, was found to be held by only 41, the rest having retreated. It was only at the second line that the British met resistance, and here, after sharp hand-to-hand fighting, they forced the Germans to withdraw. No check has yet been made on the number of German prisoners captured, but they are flowing in a steady stream back of the British lines. Many of those captured at the Menin Tunnel and other points are mere boys. Part Played by Tanks. The tanks again played a prominent part in the opening battle and reports from all sections of the British front say that their work has been most satisfactory. Large numbers of these monsters were employed, and in many cases pursued their destructive and uncheckable way to a distance far within the German lines. Further information obtained from German prisoners concerning the effects of the British preliminary bombardment indicate that the effect of this unparalleled expenditure of ammunition were disastrous in the extreme, both in damage and to the morale of the German troops. Within the past few days six Bavarian divisions were withdrawn from the line and replaced by fresh troops, because they were so thoroughly demoralized by the inferno of fire which they had undergone. Photographs taken by aviators back of the German lines show that there was scarcely a square yard of territory along their front which was not devastated by the high explosives. It is small wonder.

British Headquarters, Aug. 1.—The great battle began yesterday. The main British attack was directed at a front of about 14,000 yards round the circuit of Ypres salient from near Bessinghe on the north to the neighborhood of Warneton on the south. North of the British, however, the French are taking part. We have broken the German line on the whole front attacked, and captured and over-run successive lines of trenches. Prisoners in considerable numbers are already coming from the back. Our casualties seem almost universally to be remarkably light. Two units have both taken prisoners in excess of 100. Heavy casualties. The destructiveness of our artillery both in the repeated shelling of the last days of the bombardment and preceding and in the course of the battle have been terrific. Though hampered the last 24 hours by unfavorable weather our airmen have done splendidly. At present we hold the complete supremacy of the air in our battle area. The tanks helped largely to our success. The great majority of the troops engaged are English, though both Scotch and Welsh are bearing a noble part and some Australians. It is too early yet to talk of victory because this one day's fighting may be no more than the beginning of operations, the development of which no one pretends to be able even to guess. But the beginning is splendid.

Against the British attack alone the Crown Prince Rupprecht had 13 divisions in line, of which four were Bavarians, namely, the Fourth, Sixth, Seventh, Tenth and Sixteenth; one division of Guards, namely the Third. Not one division, not one regiment or one brigade was captured at the first or second line trenches against us and even for a perceptible time. Our prisoners come from every German regiment of the line, from none better numbers than from the Third Guards division, which only came in late in the night. They were as fresh as troops could be. Not only did we break them and take prisoners in plenty from them, but we broke through them and took prisoners also from the Twenty-third reserve division they had barely relieved.

STAMP OUT NORSEA SUB WARFARE, AMERICAN PERTS THINK Washington, Aug. 1.—The British assault on the German flank has made a profound impression here, because in the judgment of many American army officers is directed at the most vulnerable point on the entire German front. Complete success for the sweeping the German line back to the sea would be an immediate answer to the U-boat warfare in the main North Sea bases for operations would be stamped out that achievement then stand the possibility that the German line in France could be endangered by a flank attack. This question here brought out strong fact that many American officers who have studied the situation believe the German right flank is the only real opportunity to bring struggle to a decisive issue in a campaign. Short of that, they can foresee a continuing repetition of the business of frontal attack, in time would wear down the German resistance, since the Allied powers have the greater resources in men and supplies. Must Check U-Boats How long the wearing-down process would require no official ising to suggest, however, and pointed out that if U-boat activity is not sharply checked, time will work strongly against the Allies. Recent German operations produced the impression among some observers that the assault on the right flank has been expected by the German General Staff, surprise attack some time ago of a small sector of the British front which swept the Allies back to the Yser Canal, materially advanced that sector for the Germans. In renewed German assaults on the Verdun front observers read also an attempt to prevent allied concentration upon the right flank. In diplomatic circles the Verdun attack is coupled also with German advances in Galicia to fish the stage setting for the renewal of peace suggestions through German and Austrian chancellors. The type of warfare which German officers strongly believe to be a great part of the German success heretofore has been due to the fact that the Allies have been forced to accept the type of warfare which German high command elect. When the Germans early in the fall back to the Aisne and dug the trenches in, the Allies followed suit, the chance for field operations was quickly lost. The game was mapped out as the Germans wished it to be played. There are officers who believe that with the Allies greater forces and more powerful artillery, they could be certain of fairly quick success if trench fighting could be abandoned for the shift and strategy field operations. The Germans, the officers say, also know this, has no intention, if he can help it, permitting any change in the battle scheme he has forced upon his enemies. If severe pressure is exerted on the right flank, therefore, the German commanders are expected to seek relief by an assault of a mass of assaults, elsewhere, along the line. The only answer to such tactics would be to ignore enemy successes of this nature and keep pressing home with every available man or ship the drive at the right flank.

STAMP OUT NORTH SEA SUB BASES

Allies' Answer To U-Boat Warfare, American Experts Think

Washington, Aug. 1.—The British attack on the German right flank has made a profound impression here, because in the judgment of many American army officers it is directed at the most vulnerable point on the entire German front.

Complete success for the Allies, keeping the German line back from the sea along the entire Belgian coast, would be an immediate answer to the U-boat warfare. The main North Sea bases for U-boat operations would be stamped out behind that achievement and would stand the possibility that the entire German line in France could be endangered by a flank attack. The discussion here brought out strongly the fact that many American officers who have studied the situation believe the German right flank offers the only real opportunity to bring the struggle to a decisive issue in a single campaign.

Short of that, they can foresee only a continuing repetition of the deadly business of frontal attack, which in time would wear down the German resistance, since the Allied powers have the greater resources in men and supplies.

Must Check U-Boats

How long the wearing-down process would require no official is willing to suggest, however, and it is pointed out that if U-boat activity is not sharply checked, time will work strongly against the Allies.

Recent German operations have produced the impression among some observers that the assault upon the right flank has been expected by the German General Staff. The surprise attack some time ago upon a small sector of the British front, which swept the Allies back beyond the Yser Canal, materially strengthened that sector for the Germans.

In renewed German assaults upon the Verdun front observers have read also an attempt to prevent an allied concentration upon the right flank.

In diplomatic circles the Verdun attacks are coupled also with the German advance in Galicia to furnish the stage setting for the renewal of peace suggestions through the German and Austrian chancellors.

The Type of Warfare

Some officers strongly believe that a great part of the German success heretofore has been due to the fact that the Allies have been forced to accept the type of warfare which the German high command elected. When the Germans early in the war fell back to the Aisne and dug themselves in, the allies followed suit and the chances for field operations were quickly lost. The game was mapped out as the German staff wished it to be played.

There are officers who believe that with the Allies' greater forces and more powerful artillery, they now could be certain of fairly quick success if trench fighting could be abandoned for the shift and strategy of field operations. The Germans, these officers say, also know this, and as no intention, if he can help it, of permitting any change in the battle theme he has forced upon his enemies.

If severe pressure is exerted on the right flank, therefore, the German commanders are expected here to seek relief by an assault of a series of assaults elsewhere, along the line. The only answer to such tactics would be to ignore enemy successes of this nature and keep pressing home with every available man the drive at the right flank.

CANADIAN PACIFIC FIREMAN TESTIFIES

"Jack" Thompson Had To Lay Off From Work About Two Days a Week

"Tanlac is certainly a railroad man's medicine," said John Thompson of 1826, Dundas Street, Toronto, a few days ago, and since taking it, I'm feeling better than I have at any time during the past twelve months."

Mr. Thompson, or "Jack" as he is familiarly known by his many friends in Toronto, has been in railroad service for years and is now firing on the Canadian Pacific. He belongs to the Brotherhood of Firemen and Engineers and is well known especially among the railroad people of the city.

"I had been suffering with a number of troubles," continued Mr. Thompson, "and at the time I began taking Tanlac I was just about 'all in' and getting worse every day. I had no appetite at all and my stomach was in such a bad fix that nothing agreed with me. My food would sour after eating it and I would turn so sick at times I could not retain a thing I had eaten. I was constantly belching up sour gas and what I forced myself to eat seemed to me little or no good. I lost over twenty pounds in weight and my clothes just hung on me. Actually my pants would almost go round my waist twice. I had a haggard, sallow complexion, and simply felt all run-down and fagged out all the time. I had a terrible pain under my ribs on my left side which extended clean around to my stomach. My kidneys were out of order and I had such an awful hurting in the small of my back at times I could hardly stand. I kept getting worse in spite of all I could do, and all last winter and spring I lost two days work out of every week. I would come in at night so tired and worn-out I would just flop down in a chair and never felt like eating a bite of supper. I was just not fit for work at all, and got so when I would come in from my runs I would have to stay in bed for two or three days. Sometimes my head ached all day, my tongue was coated and I hardly felt like getting out of bed in the mornings. I was in a serious condition and had about decided it would take an operation to get me out of my trouble.

"But had been reading so much about Tanlac I decided first to see if it would help me, and I certainly struck it right. I have just started on my second bottle and can tell that it has done me a world of good already. My stomach trouble seems to be almost entirely gone and my appetite is fine. I can eat what I want now without suffering from gas or other signs of indigestion and my tired, worn out feelings have left me completely. The pain has disappeared from my side and back and my kidneys are in fine shape. I have no more headaches or bad taste in my mouth and I get up in the mornings feeling rested and good. I am beginning to fill out my clothes and my friends are talking about how much better I look. I am certainly delighted with what Tanlac has done and is still doing for me and several of the boys I work with are now taking it on my say so.

Tanlac is sold in Brantford by M. H. Robertson; in Orillia by Mr. H. Cooke; in Elmville by W. J. McGuire; in LeROY by R. Ardill; in Stayner by N. B. West.

DUFFERIN RIFLES

DAILY TALKS

No. 9. "Saluting."

A question which sometimes causes a certain amount of heart-burning especially among men in a manufacturing centre such as Brantford, is the question of saluting, and the address of officers.

These men are inclined to say "Why all this saluting?" "What is the good of it all?" "It is a mark of servitude and a badge of slavery," he demeans one." It is no mark of servitude. Do you think that the subaltern officer in a Grand regiment, who may perhaps be a Duke, feels he is confessing his inferiority because he salutes his Captain, who may have no title of nobility? Not a bit. The sense of inferiority lies in ourselves and our own feeling. Those we serve are entitled to our respect. We show it by that we submit to proper authority. The fact of service does not demean us. It is far more demeaning for a man to accept wages and not to acknowledge the receipt by even "Thank you," or to accept money for which he has rendered no service.

Do you imagine any officer thinks less of a private soldier because he is saluted by him, or because he addresses him as "Sir"? Not a bit of it. On the contrary, he would think a great deal less of him did he not do it. Any soldier, whether officer or private, when he joins the Militia submits himself voluntarily to properly organized authority.

By his salute to an officer he acknowledges that he is bound by his oath of allegiance, and is ready to obey the orders of those in authority over him, and whose duty it is to issue orders and see them obeyed. The officer, in acknowledging the salute, shows that he recognizes the submission to authority, and that he is prepared to do his duty. Moreover a salute is the soldier's way of saying "Good morning or good evening." It takes the place of the nod of welcome. Recruits are taught that in saluting, the compliment is not only to the officer himself, but to the commission this officer holds from the King; and the respect due to the King's uniform he is wearing. Sergt. Major Geggie, recently writing from the front says—"There are some of your own splendid Canadian lads who will tell you that they see now why it was so necessary to learn first how to march correctly, to handle the rifle smartly, and to place the

ELECTION ASKED BY LABOR PARTY

Arrangements Completed Last Night For Election of Committees

A well attended meeting of the executive of the Brantford Independent Labor Party was held at the Trades and Labor Hall last night for the purpose of making arrangements for the election of ward committees and committees, and the systematic and intensive organization of the wards of the city on behalf of the Party. The following resolution was unanimously carried:—

WHEREAS the period of office granted to the Government and Parliament of Canada by or through the electors expired nearly one year ago, and that such government and parliament remain in office by virtue of an authority other than that which elected them.

AND WHEREAS since the election of the said parliament and the appointment of the present government many grave questions have arisen for attention which were not contemplated by the electors when such election and appointment were made and such questions are of fundamental importance to the electors and to the future of Canada.

AND WHEREAS a conspiracy is on foot having for its object the continued usurpation of the constitutional authority of the electors of Canada and the subversion of their democratic rights and liberties by vesting the government and parliament of Canada in the hands of a bi-political oligarchy without an appeal to the electors.

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED that the executive of The Brantford Independent Labor Party enter a strong and earnest protest, against such political misconduct, and urge upon the government that it shall, without delay, show respect for the statute law of the country by holding a general election.

Of course you will—if you live.

—But supposing you die, what's to become of the lad? Will he, at four, ten or earlier, be forced out into the world to earn his living?

Or will you give him the chance of his lifetime, anyway?

You can do it, whether you live or die, by means of an Imperial Endowment Policy. Let us tell you more about it.
