"THIS FREEDOM"

Dr. MacDonald Gives Interesting Lecture on Most Talked About Book

It was a fine and responsive audience which gathered in the Lecture Room of the Baptist Church on the evening of Nov. 30th to hear a lecture by Rev. J. H. MacDonald, D. D., C. B. E., F. R. G. S., on Mr. A. S. M. Hutchinson's latest book, "This Freedom". The lecture was under the auspices of the Social and Benevolent Society of the Church and, like all functions with which that society has to do, was well managed. Mrs. M. R. Elliott occupied the chair and introduced the lecturer in graceful and happy terms. A vocal solo was rendered by Mr. H. W. Collins, of the University, and as it was St. Andrew's day, the song had in its accents a flavor of Old Scotland.

For the sake of those who had not read the book, Dr. MacDonald briefly outlined the story sketching the leading characters and stating the salient problems under consideration. He characterized the book as strong, clean and vital, one from which the everlasting triangle of modern romance is happily absent. It deals with problems which lie close to the springs of life and therefore it was that he thought it worthy of a lecture.

The book was one which had received a great deal of adverse criticism, in fact it asked for criticism. Mr. Hutchinson, the author, brought some of it upon himself, particularly when he brought tragedy after tragedy upon the family which could, by no stretch of imagination, be traced to the mother. But the book receives its severest criticism from those who do not understand its problems. It is not whether a married woman can have a career distinctly her own and at the same time do her duty to her family. The heroine of the book takes the view and insists upon it that her place in the home shall be exactly like that of her husband. She will have a career like his. That is her right. She will see to it that her family are in no sense neglected, but will be cared for and educated by competent hands. "But I will not sacrifice. Sacrifice will not be written on my tombstone." That is her declaration and in that determination she lived her life. "That," said the speaker, "is the real tragedy, for no home can be built and no family can be reared apart from sacrifice." Had nothing in the way of calamity come to the family it would have been a joyless and barren home apart from the love which issues in sacrifice.

Dr. MacDonald devoted the major part of his lecture to a consideration of the problems affecting womanhood, arising out of the story. He feared there were too many women, like the heroine of Mr. Hutchinson's romance, who believed they would find a larger place and ampler liberty in the domain pre-empted by men. Today every avenue of life stands open to women. He expressed the hope that some of his women hearers, preparing themselves for life's work, might find a seat in parliament like Viscountess Astor, or fill a pulpit like Maude Roydon, or a place in the realm of song like the Divine Sara, or come to a field of missionary activity as great as that occupied by Pundita Ramani, or do as noble a service on behalf of the neglected as Jane Addams. But whatever calling they entered—whether married or single—let them cultivate the motherly instinct which is the crown and glory of womanhood. He took particular pains to say that not all the mothering was done by married women and paid a fine tribute to the real mothering done by teachers, nurses and single women in other callings who were continually nursing stray cats or helping lame dogs over a stile. No woman in these days need envy a man his career. Her's can be made a far more important one. While man deals with material things, woman has largely to do with things spiritual and imperishable. Whatever faults "This Freedom" may have, it stands as an indictment of selfishness. It exalts sacrifice without which there is not much worth while.

A vote of thanks to the lecturer of the evening was moved in a brief but appropriate address by Mrs. Ingraham, seconded by Dr. Rhodenizer and unanimously passed, after which the singing of the national anthem ended a most enjoyable and instructive entertainment.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

At the regular monthly meeting of the School Board on Monday evening the members were present with the exception of Commissioner Bars. The program of business was rather meagre. Miss Rosamond Archibald addressed the Board with reference to a lecture demonstration on her method of teaching English. Permission was given for holding such a lecture at the first of the coming year, and the Board agreed to provide for any deficit that might occur in connection with the expenses of the same. The lecture will be arranged for by Miss Archibald and Principal Silver, the pupils of the schools from Grade 7 up to be included in the demonstration.

CLINIC NOTES

Tuberculosis Clinic at Clinic Room, Weaver Block, Kentville, Friday, Dec. 15, commencing 2 p. m., specialist from N. S. Sanatorium in attendance.

The child, before he acquires confidence to walk erect, is often termed a "ground living animal". Five out of every ten children dying from tuberculosis under five years of age, are infected from some man, woman or child. When playing on the ground or floor, he soils his hands with peoples spit, which we may track into our houses on our shoes. His hands are, figuratively speaking, either in his mouth or on the ground. Spitting is a very serious menace. Mothers, sisters, and fathers having the disease, should have nothing to do with the care of the child or its food. The bad habit of tasting the baby's food from his bottle, spoon or cup often transfers germs to the baby from the lip of the adult. Lip kissing is especially dangerous. The French Graucher system of removing children from tuberculosis homes at birth, to non-infected homes until school age, is the surest method of prevention. From publication by Canadian Tuberculosis Association.

Coun. Young submitted a resolution for authority to remove eleven ornamental trees in front of the residences of Judge Ritchie and Mr. H. E. Calkin, so as to provide for poles and wires of the Electric Commission, but on motion of Coun. Whidden this was laid on the table for investigation and report. For the same purpose it was decided to remove the tree in front of Porter Bros. store on Main street.

On the recommendation of Coun. Young it was decided to purchase from Superintendent Johnson the horse which has been kept at the town stable and hired by the street authorities for some time, together with wagon, harness, sleigh, etc. The price asked was $340 and it was decided to offer Mr. Johnson $310.

A letter was read from Mr. W. D. Withrow re Mr. Baker's claim for damages on account of obstruction in brook adjoining his property, to the effect that in his opinion no responsibility attached to the town.

The matter of the present fire equipment of the town was discussed informally and the Committee on Fire and Water was instructed to go into the matter thoroughly and report at the next meeting of the Council. The committee was also requested to ascertain if a switch for fire alarm can be arranged for at the telephone exchange.

Considerable time was spent in discussion.

EDITORIAL NOTES

It seems scarcely possible that the Christmas season is only a little over two weeks away. The glad time always comes with a rush at the end and the wise will not longer delay in making necessary preparations for the festival. Our adv. columns indicate that some of the business-places at least have taken time by the forelock and are prepared for Christmas shoppers. All will need to be alert if they wish to reap the harvest that the yuletide-furnishes the enterprising merchant. THE ACADIAN will gladly render every assistance in its power and is in a position to be of real use as its columns during the next two weeks will be eagerly scanned by those who seek suggestions for holiday gifts. Shop early and buy where you are invited to buy in our advice and good-advice top.

Wolfville's fire-fighting force requires additional equipment which should be furnished without further delay. At a public meeting of the citizens held nearly two years ago an amount for this purpose was voted which should be sufficient for present needs if judiciously expended and most of this yet remains to the credit of the department. The most pressing requirement at present appears to be some means of getting quickly to the scene of the fire with sufficient material and men to fight a small blaze before it has had a chance to get headway. An inexpensive motor-vehicle equipped with chemical and other fire-fighting appliances added to our present outfit would appear to be sufficient to provide efficient fire protection for the present.

While the street department was carrying on its regular fall cleaning-up a few weeks ago loads of partly decayed leaves and similar material were hauled to the dump by town teams. This appears like a waste that some of our enterprising farmers ought to get after without delay. Containing practically all the elements that make for plant growth this material should well repay the gathering. It is certainly worth more than commercial fertilizer and could be readily procured at a minimum of cost. Some day this fact will be adequately recognized and the man who gets wise to it first will be the richer.

Advocates of diversified farming, even on the five or ten-acre orchard, are having their innings this year. The fruit grower with a cow or two, a flock of hens, a pig, yes, and a few bees, is feeling the pinch of low fruit prices less than the man who depends solely on his trees.

In the western province of British Columbia they have what is known as "apple week" when every body is expected to do the utmost to promote the sale and use of this fruit which is one of the chief products of the province. The idea is a good one and might be adopted with profit in Nova Scotia. In fact there are many things which we might learn from the younger provinces if we were not too wise to be taught. Co-operation between producer and consumer in Nova Scotia should be as active as it is in British Columbia and not for a week, or a month or a year, but all the time. That such co-operation does not exist is adequately shown by the fact that in the menus of our leading hotels a first place is given to all manner of tropical fruits while the apple is rarely given a place. The Nova Scotia apple is not a product of which any hotel chef need be ashamed. It offers culinary opportunities which would tempt the palate of even the most blasé traveller accustomed to the exotic feshpots of any land.

GERMANS PLAN WAR OF REVENGE

London, Dec. 1.—That the Germans are actively planning a war of revenge, chiefly against France, for which purpose they have concluded a secret military agreement with Russia is the main point of "a memorandum by a person in close touch with the best-informed German circles in Berlin and Munich," communicated to the Daily Mail which displays it under big head lines.

The paper claims to have made exhaustive inquiries into the memorandum's accuracy in Germany, London and Paris, with the result the Mail says, that it has been very largely supported thereby. Except for precise details, the Mail's story does not differ materially from similar statements printed from time to time in anti-German papers.

The memorandum particularizes with respect to alleged arrangements to enable Germany to utilize Russia's resources including complete international re-organization which will make Russia capable of supporting both herself and Germany, so that Germany may ignore any sea blockade.

It says that German armament firms will establish factories in Russia, whose armies will be equipped thereby and submarines and mine-layers will be built in Russian dockyards under German guidance and manned by Russian crews under German officers.

Poland is to be crushed and annexed by Russia, so as to give Russia and Germany a common frontier.

The Mail claims that its inquiries regarding the memorandum have elicited the fact that 500 German officers are now in Moscow carrying out the conditions of the secret agreement: that many engineers from Krupp's have begun the reorganization of Russian munition works while German engineers are reconditioning the Russian railroads to the Polish front.

LESS "BOOZE"; MORE AUTOS

Coincident with the recent increase in the expenditures of national income for automobiles, there has been tremendous release of expenditures from drink. In 1911 when there were only 199,500 passenger cars produced, there were 2,170,000,000 gallons of wines and liquors consumed in the United States. In 1920, when there were 1,883,000 passenger cars produced, there were only 326,000,000 gallons of wines and liquors consumed. Car production increased in the ratio of 9.1-2 to one; liquor consumption decreased in the ratio of 6.1-2 to one. Many a man who once drank more than the full price of a medium priced car each year can now apply those funds to the purchase of a car and its cost of operation. In 1918 the wholesale value of passenger cars produced was about $800,000,000; in that year the total revenue taxes collected on booze amounted to $444,000,000 and, of course, the expenditures of drinkers were far above the sum. In 1921 the wholesale value of passenger cars produced was over a billion dollars, and the booze tax bill less than $100,000,000.

If prohibition has done nothing else for the folk in the United States, it has at least released funds in many a family budget for paying off automobile installments and gasoline bills, instead of liquor tribute and "gold cure" bills. Forbes Magazine.

TWO SILVER KEYS

In the castle of Smiles there are two closed doors. Behind which, waiting there, are beautiful gifts for every child, Useful, lovely, and fair. But the two closed doors are locked quite tight. Each with a silver key. As each little lad and each little lass Can very plainly see. And no matter how hard they tug and pull, The doors will not unclose Without the two little silver keys, As every good child knows. NOVA SCOTIA SCHOOL BOOKS

A writer in a Halifax paper says: The rising generation of Nova Scotia going regularly to school, in many instances provided with necessities by ceaseless struggle and self-sacrifice of parents who are under pain of heavy fines for neglect, is likely to emerge from the "halls of learning" with some very remarkable ideas and archaic knowledge implanted in minds that should be fed with useful knowledge. Some of the text books, in the purchase of which the unfortunate parents are forced to sink a considerable portion of their hard earned capital, are curiosities. The Geography in use in the public schools of the province, for example, puts before the young and plastic mind, pictures and information concerning the world in general and the Dominion of Canada in particular not as they exist today, but as they possibly existed in the early history of the country. The city of Winnipeg is shown as a little prairie town of shacks and plank sidewalks. In not a single instance does any vehicle more up to date than a horse-drawn tramway car appear on the streets of any city pictured in the book. In the information given regarding Cape Breton there is no mention of the great industrial enterprises of the island, such as coal mines and steel works. But there is an illustration of the Bras d'Or Lakes picturesque, only dotted with Indian teepees. These are only a few items of the wonderful contents of the ancient book.

The man who tries to succeed in business without newspaper advertising will get ahead about as fast as the man who rowed his boat all night forgetting that he had not untied it before starting.

DEFECTIVE METHODS OF TAXATION

(From Yarmouth Times.) In a speech at Wingham, Ont., Mr. John R. Shaw, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, condemned our present methods of taxation as vexatious and prejudicial to business. In this he is correct. We have, as a matter of fact, no definite, scientific method of taxation at all. The war developed a sudden and enormous demand for money, and Canadian finance ministers took it where they could get it most easily, regardless of anything else. Some of these methods, like the luxury tax of 1920, were so obnoxious that they had to be abandoned, while others were greatly modified. But the Dominion taxation methods are still a hodge-podge of inconsistency, unnecessary inconvenience, and injustice. They are casual in their nature and not thought out on any very definite principles nor has their effect upon business and the country generally been carefully considered. The tariff needs adjustment. The income tax is right in principle but needs simplification. It should not be made to hamper industry and should be applied only to the part of the income that actually reaches the pocket of the individual. The sales and excise taxes are not yet upon a sound basis and the annoying and picayune stamp taxes ought to be abolished entirely. The whole field of taxation ought to be surveyed with a view to the adoption of a fair and permanent basis of obtaining the national revenue. Overlapping as between provinces and the Dominion should be corrected. For example, we have the extraordinary situation that the citizen of Quebec pays only one income tax, that imposed by the Dominion government. The Ontario man pays two income taxes one to the Dominion, the other to the municipality, while in some of the western provinces, the harassed citizen pays three income taxes, one to the Dominion, another to the province, and a third to the municipality. In Nova Scotia the rapacity of the local government reaches the climax. All sorts of bothersome taxes are imposed on the people, and the perquisites of the municipalities are fleeced from them in a shameful manner. The Dominion government might well appoint a parliamentary committee to survey the whole field of possible taxation and then recommend to parliament some well thought out scheme for the collection of necessary revenues.

DAYS TO COME

There would be less of discontent in our hearts if only we would let the present move forward instead of trying to turn it backward. The old days, like old fashions and old methods were suited to the place they held. They would not do for us now though. We cannot live in the past. We must put our best effort into the days that are with us, and allow the younger generation to do the same.

This winter we will all be singing the touching little ballad entitled: "Oh, where has the coal bin?"

"SMILIN' THROUGH" NORMA'S MOST AMBITIOUS PICTURE

Two Great Studios with Day and Night Sets Used for Remarkable Double Exposure Photography

Norma Talmadge's production, "Smilin' Through," which will be the first National attraction at the Opera House next week, is said to be the most costly, elaborate and artistic photoplay yet made by that star.

New York, Long Island and California furnished backgrounds for the filming of Allen Langdon Martin's famous play, in which Jane Cowl appeared on the speaking stage.

In the East Norma used two great studios, one of which contained a day set and the other a night set, the company frequently working at fourteen hour stretches under the direction of Sidney Franklin.

Remarkable moonlight scenes were obtained in the night set at Norma's New York studio, while exceptional exteriors were filmed within the day studio on Long Island, in which the replica of an English village, with a beautiful garden, a house and winding roadway was constructed. To these were added several picturesque "shots" in California.

Double exposure necessitated the taking of most of the exteriors in interiors. Two leading cameramen were used. One was Charles Rosher, Mary Pickford's cameraman, loaned to Miss Talmadge during his employer's recent vacation; the other was Roy Hunt, Norma's regular camera chief.

Harrison Ford, Wyndham Standing, Alec Francis, Miriam Battista and other screen notables appear in support of Miss Talmadge in "Smilin' Through," which was adapted for the screen by James Ashmore Creelman and Mr. Franklin.

The story is laid both in the present and in 1864 and necessitated the building of the English village. There are also scenes in Ireland and France.

Much interest was manifested in the bye-elections held on Monday in Lanark county, Ontario, and Halifax. In the former the Conservative candidate, R. F. Preston defeated the Liberal candidate by a majority of over 1,400. In Halifax there were three candidates, R. E. Finn, K. C., Liberal; J. J. Power, K. C., Liberal; and J. J. O'Connell, Labor. Mr. Finn won with 8,900 votes, Mr. Power secured 4,868 votes and Mr. O'Connell 2,432 votes.

Mr. Frank H. Beattie is now sole editor and manager of the Bridgetown Monitor. Mr. Stratton, formerly of Sydney Mines has retired from the partnership in that paper.

LUSITANIA CARRIED NEITHER GUNS NOR TROOPS

New York, Dec. 3—The Canard liner Lusitania, sunk by a German submarine in 1915 off the Irish Coast, carried neither guns, troops nor explosives, but did carry 5,400 cases of ammunition, the official report of the vessel's cargo made public by Dudley Field Malone, Collector of the Port at the time shows, according to a copyrighted story in the New York World.

The cases of ammunition, the report stated, were carried by specific permission under the rulings of the Department of Commerce in force since 1911.

APPLES—WHAT THEY ARE

An apple humorist thus dissertates on the fruit: "Apples are born on trees, spend a large part of their lives in barrels and are buried in pies. One variety is known as the Pippin. These have a rosy skin and frequently look better than they really are. Apples, unlike melons, are eaten from the outside in, instead of from the inside out, but sometimes, when green, produce an inside-out sensation. The only part of an apple that can not be eaten is the core; on reaching that part of the apple you may want more, but are compelled to stop, hence the origin of the familiar 'Encore'. The apple is said to have caused the first fall of man, but since then the banana has given it a hard race. The three personages who have done the most to make the apple famous are Adam, William Tell and Applejack."

THE CARE OF THE FEEBLE-MINDED

The havoc wrought by the non-care of mentally deficient is terrible and is coming to be widely known. They are the cause of half the crime in general, two-thirds of prostitution in particular, two-fifths of venereal disease, and a large proportion of illegitimacy and of sexual vice.

The cost of caring for the fruits of this havoc in maintaining courts, gaols, prisons, reformatories, industrial farms, and rescue homes is a heavy burden on the taxpayers and on private charity.

Prevention is always more worth while than cure even where cure is possible, and feeble-mindedness cannot be cured, though in time it can be prevented.

Let us consider first what to do with mentally defective children of school age.

They cannot be trained in the same classes with normal children. They lag behind, become discouraged, and get no benefit themselves. They retard the normal children. They become a nuisance to the teacher taking far more than their share of attention and all to little purpose. They are the source or occasion also of demoralizing school discipline, and usually also of abominable lewdness and vice among the other children.

What then is to be done? In cities and other large school districts there is no serious difficulty. They should be examined and tested by a capable doctor who has had special training in dealing with mental disease and deficiency, and sorted out into classes that may be called "special" or "industrial" or "auxiliary" by way of human camouflage. There should not be more than about fifteen in one class or room. The teachers of these classes require special training of course, the teaching has to be concrete, to a large extent manual, and more or less of the Kindergarten type.

Such classes are popular with the children. They solve the problem of truancy. Many of the normal children pleased to be allowed to attend. Vancouver deserves the credit of having established these classes in a systematic way. When the writer last heard they had some two dozen of them. Many of the children mentally below par can in these classes get training enough to enable them to be self-supporting.

But this method cannot meet the need of such children in the country, and in smaller centres. For these special provision must be made in one or more Provincial Schools established for this purpose.

The Child Welfare Department of the Province should have power to discover, examine and arrange for the specialized training and permanent care of mental defectives. Manitoba's new and constructive Child Welfare law gives such authority and provides the necessary machinery: a Director of Child Welfare, a specially trained medical Examiner, and a Board of Selection to determine what is to be done with each child.

A plan of this kind systematically and well worked for a generation will enormously reduce if not eliminate the problem of the feeble-minded.

Second, the adults also should be discovered, examined, and the worst of them segregated and so prevented from multiplying their kind.

On industrial farms they can be self-sustaining. The large home at Waverley, Mass. with 2000 inmates, is practically so. And the inmates of both sexes and all ages are happy and contented, and though neither walled nor bolted, nor barred in, never run away. The Spring City, Penn. one with 1000 inmates is altogether self-sustaining. So are many others.

Every Canadian Province should have at least one such institution, one or more.

Wouldn't it be great if we bragged about our town while in it as we do when we get away?

THE CARE OF FARM IMPLEMENTS

The annual loss due to ignorance or negligence in the care of farm implements is appalling. Figures have been published from time to time showing depreciation on implements from lack of shelter and care, still many farmers winter their implements in the field where they were last used, or scattered about the arm yard. A manufacturer, if he is to prosper, must keep his production cost at the lowest possible figure. The same applies to the farmer, who is no less a manufacturer, and one of the ways in which he can materially cut down his expenses is in the proper care of his implements and tools.

All implements when not in use should be under cover, and not left exposed to the influence of the weather. A machine or implement should need not be an elaborate affair. If it can be wholly closed, so much the better. It should be conveniently situated, and the front should consist largely of roller doors, so that any implement can readily be obtained. As to the arranging of the various implements, a binder being used practically at one season of the year, may be stored in a far corner, leaving space nearer the door for mowers, ploughs and other implements used at various times throughout the season.

A stitch in time saves nine, and many an expensive repair item might be saved by repairing a machine at the first appearance of trouble. When implements are taken out they should be looked over carefully, nuts tightened, adjustments and triva repairs made, which if left might develop no end of trouble. Far too little machine oil is used, causing excessive wearing on bearings and castings, and working untold injury on the machine. A coat of paint not only adds to the appearance, but greatly prolongs the life of both wood and iron. Polished surfaces, such as plough shares and mould boards, should be smeared with grease or painted with kerosene and lamp black when not in use.

A good farmer must be a good mechanic, more especially if he operates tractors and other large machinery, otherwise his repair items will be high, and the usefulness of the tractor or machine greatly impaired. If possible avail yourself of some course at a tractor school, and become familiar with the intricacies of your motor. In this way, you will obtain better service, and the repair items and mechanics' bills will be reduced to a minimum.

A work shop, with a small forge and anvil, and some good tools for both wood and iron, is a great convenience, and indeed a necessity on many farms. Having this, many repairs and adjustments can be made, plough shares pointed and sharpened, and a host of other things done that would necessitate a trip to the local blacksmith or machine shop.

No one takes more pride than the owner of a well-ordered and cared-for farm where there is a place for everything and everything is in its place.

WE WONDER

City Boy—"What's that, pa?"
 Father—"That's a cow, sonny."
 "And what's that on his head?"
 "Those are horns."
 They turned around and the cow moaned.
 Boy—"Which horn did he blow then, dad?"

DOMESTIC REPARTEE.

He—"You told me before we were married you would try to economize."
 She—"Yes, and when I did you assured me that you would work so hard that economy on my part would not be necessary."

FAIR PLAY TO THE NEWSPAPERS

(From the Sackville Tribune)

Quite a number of people seem to think that the newspapers run for the sole purpose of publishing notices of public entertainments of one kind and another. They forget sometimes in their ardor for boosting some sort of affair that the newspaper has to live and pay its bills; that it cannot give away its space and still remain solvent. The Tribune is always willing to do its part in aiding a worthy cause but some people seem to have the idea that the newspaper can give away its space and when the collector comes around the newspaper men are supposed to "come across" with real money, just the same as if the newspaper and those behind it had previously given nothing.

One pet scheme seems to be for the workers to prepare home-made posters and then expect the newspaper to boost the affair, giving the notice prominent position, for a trifling sum.

Now we do not want to offend anybody but The Tribune has certain rights which must be respected. Our publishing business has been built up through many years of hard work and while we do not wish to be nasty we do want others to respect the rights which rightfully belong to us.

Sometimes people ask us to insert notices about some entertainment and then fail ever to send us tickets of admission to the show. Subsequently they want a good report inserted concerning the success of the entertainment. Just how they expect us to get the report is more or less of a mystery to us.

We are prepared to give good service to the public. We are striving to get all the news of our local field. We don't want an exorbitant profit; we are content with very modest remuneration but the members of our staff have to live and pay their just debts. If a thing is worth advertising then it should pay a reasonable amount for publicity. Space in The Tribune is our farm. If we give away all the produce of the farm to philanthropic enterprises how are we going to pay our taxes and the bills incident to a cold winter?

It is worthy of note also that public entertainments are to some extent conducted in competition with Mr. A. A. Ayer of The Imperial Theatre, who is easily The Tribune's biggest advertiser and one who pays his bills without protest. When we give free publicity to a rival entertainment then we are not fair to The Imperial Theatre and to those behind it.

All this is intended to convey the idea that in future The Tribune will scan free notices with greater care than ever before, and our policy henceforth will be that all entertainments must pay at regular rates no matter whether they be philanthropic, religious or otherwise.

TONSILS

Most every disease that begins to show, by the howl of pain or the tale of woe—be it nutmeg liver, orpest-house itch, or weepin' janders—I don't keer which—we can jugalate 'em, beyond a doubt, by simply clippin' the tonsils out!

You mebbly have heard of Melindy Crane, who was borned with softenin' of her brain. . . . So, when she developed the craze fer verse, we jedged a 'relapse would fetch the hearse. . . . but she whooped with joy, an' hollered fer kraut—the minnit they jerked her tonsils out!

And of course—you knowed old Sandy Beggs, which had paralysis in his legs,—an' when the old feller commenced to bloat, we seen right off, it was all his throat! And jest afore she run into gout, they cured him, by whackin' his tonsils out!

The feller that's skeered of a death of days, can dodge it—by joining the tonsil craze. . . . He can set down, an' let 'em rim out his neck, an' get up again—like new, by heck!

"Would Wake Up Screaming"

"The Least Sudden Noise or Loud Talking Would Startle Him."

"Up to the age of eight, my boy was a strong, healthy lad, full of life and energy. While playing leap frog one day with some boys of his own age, and, while in a stooped position, a big boy jumped on his back and in falling my boy caught his foot in an iron grating and dislocated his hip. The pain was so great that he fainted and the other boys were so frightened they ran away. For hours he suffered terrible pain and when found and brought home was very weak, with his thigh and leg swollen twice its size. The doctor set the bone but the pain and exposure were too much for the poor boy and he became unconscious. A high fever set in and for weeks he lay between life and death raving for hours at a stretch. One day he opened his eyes and murmured 'Mother,' but this is the only word he could utter he was so weak, but I knew the worst was over. He got stronger but for months was in a nervous condition. The least sudden noise or loud talking would startle him and he would begin trembling. He was quite lame and the swelling still remained. The doctor gave him a tonic and told me to rub the leg with olive oil. This reduced the swelling and took away the lameness, but the nervousness remained. The poor child would waken in the night screaming at the top of his voice. The doctor gave him several different tonics but they were no use. I found a circular about Carnol and it seemed so different from other tonics I had heard of, that I thought I would get a bottle. Three bottles were all that was needed to make my boy like his own self again. It is hard to convince my friends that the change in him now is entirely due to Carnol. Of course I still have to watch him and give him Carnol occasionally but I know that he will soon be as strong again as ever he was."

Mrs. P., Montreal.

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money.

PORT WILLIAMS AND VICINITY

Mrs. Kirwin, of Canning, was the guest of her sister Mrs. Wm. Meek for several days last week.

Mrs. D. C. Collins and Mrs. O. Chase are in Halifax for a few days.

Mr. David Sutton has been confined to his bed for several weeks from a sore foot.

The Women's Institute will hold their regular meeting in Citizens Hall on Thursday 14th, the Roll to be responded to by a familiar quotation. A birthday social will be held among the members a penny a year representing the ages. Each member to invite a friend to enjoy the program and refreshments.

Gordon Avery, who has been for several weeks at the Children's Hospital, Halifax, for treatment on the ear and throat, returned home much improved in health.

Mrs. K. Gates is spending the week in Falmouth with her daughter Mrs. (Rev.) J. W. Meisner, who are getting settled in the Parsonage. The Upper and Lower Palm uth churches are to be congratulated on securing the services of Rev. John Meisner, who has so far regained his health as to enable him to return to the work of the ministry.

An interesting Birthday social was held in Parish Hall on Thursday evening. A good program was given and about $40.00 raised for church purposes.

Another case of thieving took place on Monday night, when 50 bushels of oats was taken from the barn of George Gates Jr. at Town Plot. This vicinity has suffered a number of similar happenings during recent months, including the loss of three drums of gasoline by Mr. J. W. Harvey. Barns and cellars have been visited and meat and other goods stolen. It is full time that steps were taken to apprehend and punish the sneak-thieves who are frequenting our neighborhood.

HAPPY AFFAIR AT CHURCH STREET

The pretty new home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newcombe, Church Street, was the scene of an exceedingly pleasant occasion on Wednesday evening, when friends from the surrounding sections and as far distant as Medford gathered to celebrate the twelfth anniversary of their marriage. About seventy guests were present and a most enjoyable time was had. Mr. and Mrs. Newcombe were the recipients of a handsome dome electric-light shade and a beautiful fire screen. The presentation was made by Mr. John Donaldson, who in fitting terms referred to the regard in which the host and hostess of the evening are held and their interest and help in every community activity. He was followed by Mrs. David Sutton, who expressed in well constructed verse the appreciation of neighbors and friends. A well rendered reading was given by Mrs. Fred Wood, and with dainty refreshments, songs and social intercourse the evening passed very pleasantly and came all too soon to a close.

WHY WILL NOVA SCOTIA BE THE GREATEST APPLE GROWING COUNTRY IN THE WORLD?

(Prize winning essay at Port Williams School exhibition, written by Ross G. Graves.)

Nova Scotia already is one of the greatest apple growing countries in the world, and as the years pass will become greater still.

Let me try to give some reasons for this statement.

Nova Scotia, being in the temperate zone, has a climate suited to apple raising, much better than countries to the North, or South.

The soil is naturally fertile, and being so carefully cultivated, as it is in the wonderful Annapolis Valley, causes the trees, as well as fruit, to grow very large. Many trees reach a height of forty feet, and may have from fifteen to twenty barrels of apples on each.

Large warehouses are found all over the country where apples are raised, and there they are packed and shipped to England and Europe.

As we have many shipping ports for schooners, as well as our rail-roads, it is an easy matter to get sale and ship our fruit at the proper time.

The apples of Nova Scotia are packed in barrels, while those of British Columbia are packed in boxes, and come East to the Prairie Provinces.

Because our valley fruit growers realize what might be done, and are willing to give their time and money towards bettering the quantity and quality of the fruit, this part of Nova Scotia, in particular, is rapidly going ahead.

Hints For Santa Claus

Make It A Laun-Dry-Ette Christmas

HUNDREDS of men and women know the Laun-Dry-Ette and its wonderful labor-saving features. They believe that the wringerless washing machine delivers more in comfort, convenience and safety than any washer obtainable.

Perhaps you are one of these people, or perhaps you haven't investigated it. You can't really appreciate what the Laun-Dry-Ette will do until you see it.

Why not make it a Laun-Dry-Ette Christmas? Many of our customers are reserving Laun-Dry-Ettes for Christmas delivery. We have a convenient payment plan. Stop the next time you are near our store or, phone us. Why not settle your Christmas problem right now and decide upon a Laun-Dry-Ette?

By the time this advertisement reaches the reader, we will have the greater part of our Xmas goods on display. We have confined our holiday buying this year chiefly to practical gifts. You will surely be pleased with our display tables full of useful gifts put up in attractive boxes.

A FEW SPECIALS ADDED TO OUR GROCERY LIST

RAISINS. Not-a-Seed and Sunkist. We are glad to announce the arrival of a large consignment of choice raisins. We have been rather embarrassed by this delayed shipment, but they have at last arrived, and choice stock they are too!

PEAS. "Simcoe" new pack 16c.

We have an idea that Santa Claus is going to be a very practical old chap this year. Here are some suggestions he cannot fail to appreciate.

An electric washer! The very name of it evokes thoughts of happiness. What appliance invented for the home could ever save more downright drudgery.

What gift will bring with it such lasting satisfaction! Joy it brings on Christmas day, and every day it is used the year around, for the remainder of a lifetime.

Come right in Mr. Santa and come early so you can take your pick.

White Cap Electric Washer

Is easier to operate, washes faster and lasts longer. More sold in Canada than any other three makes combined.

A high-class washer, the best that can be made, but stripped right down to the bare essentials of a washing machine. Made for the kitchen or the laundry and not for the parlour, but to do a real big, real dirty washing, in double quick time, we'll back it against the rest of the world. Simple in construction and easy to run, but strong, powerful and efficient. Practical! That's it in a word. And, so reasonable in price, you'll be surprised.

Just whichever suits you best, we have it. And each is the best of its kind.
