Town and County News.

THE CHEAPEST GOODS. - The Postal Works of Sir Walter Scott, complete, illustrated, only 30 cents, mailed to any address from Anderson's Bookstore, on receipt of price.

MEN'S MEETING. - A children's mass meeting, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, will be held at 4.30 this afternoon in Nelson Crescent. Rev. Mr. Bone will conduct the services. Parents and children are cordially invited to be present.

THE VESSEL SISTERS. - We had a call to-day from Mr. Henry L. St. Ormond, Treasurer for the Vessel Sisters, who states that this great musical trio will revisit Guelph about the middle of October. We doubt not they will be greeted with a full house.

THE CHOPS IN LUTHER. - Fall Wheat will average from 30 to 40 bushels per acre. Spring wheat and oats are good, and barley is beyond all former years in quality and yield. Farmers are beginning to get up their heads, and Luther bids fair for being one of the best grain-growing townships in this County. Frost, the great enemy to the farmers in this township, has of late years almost entirely forsaken us, owing, I suppose, to the farmers having their land in a better state of cultivation, and also to the swamp fires, which have been so plentiful for the last two or three summers.

RUNAWAY AND ACCIDENT. - About ten o'clock this (Friday) morning a boy of 14 or 15, named William Birmingham, living on the York Road, was driving a light wagon belonging to Mr. Reuben Green across Allan's bridge, when some part of the wagon got loose and frightened the horse by striking his heels. The horse ran away, and the boy was thrown out of the wagon near Mr. Moon's house, on the York Road. He was carried home and Dr. Herod sent for. The doctor arrived in about ten minutes after the occurrence, and found that the boy had sustained a slight concussion of the brain, which is not likely to have any serious result. The horse ran until reaching a field from which he had been drawing hay, where the wagon struck the gate and was considerably damaged. The shock released the horse, who was soon afterwards secured all right.

A STANDARD WORK. - Mr. Day has sent us a copy of the bound volume of "Good Words for the Young." We have a personal knowledge of this excellent work, as we possess a previous volume of it, which has been well thumbed by the juveniles of the household, and contains much to interest older folks. We can safely say that a more entertaining and instructive book for young people than this one of George Macdonald's is rarely published. The contents of the volume before us have been selected with great care, and the contributors are some of the best writers in Great Britain. It is bound in strong blue cloth, gilt edges and sides, containing 67 pages, and 129 illustrations. The usual price is $1.75, but it is only 85 cents now at Day's Bookstore.

DELEGATES attending the Y.M.C.A. will be allowed 20 per cent discount on all purchases made at Day's bookstore.

IMPORTED THOROUGHBRED STOCK. - On Tuesday John S. Armstrong, Esq., of Bramosa, arrived home from Britain. While away he brought from the most celebrated breeders in Aberdeenshire nine very superior thoroughbred short-horn cattle - one bull and eight heifers - most of which are first prize animals, some of them having been awarded prizes at the Highland Society's great show, and others at the Aberdeen County Show. They had a very nice passage, and landed not only in excellent condition but without having sustained a scratch on the whole journey. Mr. Armstrong has displayed great enterprise and liberality in importing, as well as judgment in breeding stock, and now possesses some of the finest herds in the world. We understand that while away he suffered very severely from rheumatism; and regret to learn that he is suffering still from the same painful complaint.

POLICE COURT.

(Before the Police Magistrate.) Friday August 29th. CHANGE OF FURIOUS DRIVING. John Newton was charged by the chief constable with furious driving on Wednesday last on Wyndham-st. The case was dismissed.

Jeremiah Connors was charged by P.C. Turner with being drunk on Macdonell st. last night. Fined $3 and costs, and committed for twenty days in goal in default of payment.

A Sunday School picnic in connection with the St. George's congregation, Harrison, was held on Thursday last. Wet weather interfered somewhat with its enjoyment.

W. H. Lowes, of Rothsay, has taken a contract for supplying a firm in Hamilton with 20,000 bushels of ashes.

Large consignments of lambs are being sent from Harrison to the United States.

Mr. John Kilpatrick, who was so seriously injured in the neighborhood of Galt last week, is progressing favorably.

It is rumored in Galt that W. K. Muir, Esq., is about to close his connection with the Great Western Railway.

The Montreal detectives are on the hunt for a young Englishman named Daniel C. Arthur, who is wanted on a charge of bigamy.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sandy arrived safely in Fezjus last week after enjoying a brief but exceedingly pleasant trip to Britain.

Young Men's Christian Association.

Sixth Annual Convention.

THE REPORTS of the working of various Associations were then taken up.

BOWMANVILLE. - Mr. Trebilcock - Was pleased to report this Association in a prosperous condition. They had obtained new rooms, which would soon be opened. Members about same as last year. They held prayer meetings - one on Sabbath morning, one at 4 p. m. Meeting of Association on Monday evening. Prayer meeting on Tuesday evening, and one on Saturday evening. Had funds on hand.

BERLIN. - Mr. Rothwell - They had three meetings - Thursday and Friday evening, and an open air service on Sunday evening. Tracts, English and German, were distributed. Four or five lectures had been delivered last year. On the whole in a prosperous condition.

FERGUS. - Mr. Cremer - Said the number of members was about 40. The Bible class had been discontinued for the present but would be probably be commenced again soon. He would like to have seen some member present from the Douglas Association. When he was there some time since, the room in which they held their prayer meeting was quite full. He went on to relate his experience in the work in the old country.

Rev. Mr. Mullan - They had no Association in Fergus two years ago, but after some correspondence with the St. Catharines and Hamilton Associations, Messrs. Sinclair and Young, of Hamilton, paid them a visit, and the result was the organization of the Fergus Association, the whole committee were thankful that it had been established.

GALT. - John Kay - Held their regular meeting on Monday evening. Saturday evening prayer meeting - well attended. Sabbath afternoon prayer meeting at 3:30 - well attended.

Mr. Higginson - Said many had left Galt, but were working in other Associations.

Mr. C. M. Smith - Said they had up-hill work. The Sunday-school had 70 scholars, and were deeply impressed with their need of a fresh baptism from above.

INGERSOLL. - Mr. McBride - The members were 52. When the fire occurred they were $122 in debt; the whole had been swept off, and they had paid almost for their new meeting-house. Two meetings were held - one on Sabbath evening, and one on Tuesday evening for business.

GUELPH. - Mr. S. S. Bates - Had 250 members, 120 active; about 12 died of the work. Cottage prayer-meeting on Monday; Tuesday, Bible class; Thursday, literary meeting; Saturday, prayer meeting, not so well attended. Had one on Sabbath morning; after which tracts were distributed. They had a Mission School, which was held on Sunday afternoon for those who did not go to any other place. Sabbath evening prayer-meeting, 50 attended, 200 being present sometimes.

Mr. Morse, of New York City, said there is a non-church going people, which the Y. M. C. A. ought to reach.

HAMILTON. - Mr. Sinclair - Had about 200 members. The young men are gathering up other young men by trying to make a debating society. The day work is a means of doing them all good. Three young men of the Hamilton Association were studying for the ministry. Sent to each member a card - 45 active.

Montreal. - Mr. Patterson - Said that in seven districts services were held. They had hospital services, which were well received. The ladies had a flower association for the purpose of distributing flowers to the poor. Regular meeting on Tuesday evening; about 50 attended. They had open their new rooms in October. Bible class conducted by the Rev. Mr. Dawson. Mission Committee very active. At the harbor the ladies visited the vessels, and the sailors treated them kindly. They would have an awning spread, and decorated with flags, and go into the cabins and rooms and get seats and cushions for them to sit on. It was a means of increasing the interest taken in the meetings, and usually attended by 200 or 300. Ten districts were worked by 30 or 40 young men who distributed tracts in different languages. Work very well. 7,000 to 8,000 copies distributed per month. The new Association Building would cost $80,000, and were not in debt. Members 1,100; active 540; not 100 really active.

DISCUSSIONS. The first topic for discussion was taken up, viz.: "The Work of Organizing Associations." - How can it be best presented?

Mr. R. C. Morse spoke for twenty minutes; he said we wanted to get true statements of the working of Associations. Conventions were for the dissemination of good ideas, and to stir up young men to more activity in the Christian work. He instanced the visit of two delegates from Montreal to the Convention at Poughkeepsie, whose voices were seldom heard previously in the Association meetings, but who since could talk for an hour - one of whom they had just been listening to. In 1866 Conventions for the Provinces and States were commenced, and this was the 19thth convention held on this continent, since that time. In constant use of this talent in his service. We should bring everything to his service and presenting of this work.

Rev. Mr. Watt, of Trenton, said he was acquainted with the working of Associations both on this and the other side of the Atlantic, and had been connected with them for a number of years. It did not always answer for ministers to take too prominent a part in forming and working these Associations, but young men and laymen should take hold themselves; he instanced where a good Association had commenced with only two.

The young men should have more zeal, and Associations would soon be in every village and town in the land.

Mr. D. A. Sinclair, of Hamilton, said we did not want literary Associations; we wanted real religious work. We wanted the ministers to direct, and young men to do the work.

John Rogerson, of Walkerton, said visits were very important to stir up the interest and feeling in the work, and did a great deal of good. Should not be discouraged if not so numerous in small places, for if really alive and active they might be doing more in proportion than larger places. Should be friendly and assist each other.

The Convention adjourned at noon, to meet at two o'clock.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON SESSION.

The session opened at two o'clock with singing and prayer.

DIAGRAMS - INVITATION.

A motion was made by Mr. Cremer to the effect that the Executive Committee be empowered to obtain diagrams or such similar apparatus as they may deem fitting for the use of bona fide associations, on these paying a borrowing fee. Referred to the Committee on Associations.

The Association of Montreal extended a cordial invitation by letter to the Convention to hold the annual gathering for 1874 in that city, promising that every thing should be done to render the occasion one of interest and pleasure. Referred to Committee on Associations.

DISCUSSION.

A topic was then taken up for discussion - "How can the mercantile class of our young men be reached and benefited by our organization?"

Sheriff Thomas, of Hamilton, was the first speaker. He said that the whole life of man is a struggle to the grave, other set of arrangements so as to lay hold of these young men? He said yes. If by means of billiards, games, cricket clubs, or thing of this kind, under the auspices of Y. M. C. A.'s, they could lay hold of these young men he said let us do it. The great thing was to attract them from places of evening resort where they were being led to sin and destruction. They went out in the evening to seek amusement - pure if possible, but still amusement. Surely it was possible to provide recreation apart from sin; and where could this better be provided except by the Y. M. C. A.?

Sheriff Thomas, of Woodstock, said they must remember there were different grooves in which persons moved, and very different classes of persons who yet were Christians. His own social experience was in the world and of the world, and he could not see how in most cases it could be otherwise. A grandson of his had sometimes ago to leave home and live in Toronto, and he was very anxious to have him connected with the Toronto Y. M. C. A.; but the young man had no inclination, no taste, for the lecture, the prayer meeting, or the Bible class; he found nothing to interest him there, and consequently spent his evenings elsewhere. If at the time there had been the same social influence connected with the Toronto Y. M. C. A., that there had been young men like his grandson would connect themselves with the institution, and after a while would not doubt be led to take an interest in the religious operations of the association.

Rev. Mr. Bates, of Woodstock, differed from the two preceding speakers. He never knew anyone to be spiritually benefited by billiards or cards; he had never known persons to be converted by them. Our Saviour had said "And I, when I be lifted up, will draw all nations unto me; but we would get no good by lifting up billiards and cards. Let them rather turn their efforts, to earnest prayer and earnest work for the conversion of young men. (Loud applause.)

Rev. Mr. Morse said that he did not for a moment wish this religious work slackened; he would rather have it increased; but the influences he had named were needed in addition.

Rev. Mr. Morse said that this was a matter for experiment - thoughtful, careful, prayerful experiment.

Mr. Wilkie spoke of the experience of the Toronto Association. He counted those present one night lately; there were 30 at the prayer-meeting, seven or eight in the parlour, 45 in the reading-room, and 30 in the gymnasium. If they had not had their large new building, with these social elements, the music and the gymnasium, there would not have been ten young men present. Their monthly entertainments were sometimes attended by 1,400 people. Many were brought to the Association by this social element, and they must make it more and more subservient to the work of the association. Professor Wilson and others in Toronto thought the Association ought to go further, and have a large room, with a band of music, and little tables where young men could sit and talk. That might be done if some of the leading men of Toronto would come there in the evenings, and by their presence and influence keep in check all unruly spirits who might introduce themselves into the assembly; but he and his friends could not undertake this task. Were this done, they could have hundreds, nay, thousands of young men there at nights, kept away from influences which were leading them astray.

Mr. Peterson, of Montreal, and Mr. Wood, of Brantford, spoke next. The latter took the ground that the Y. M. C. A. ought not to be on a lower spiritual level than the church, and then asked what they would think if one of the Guelph churches were to have a billiard-table or a bowling alley connected with it. "What was wrong for the church was wrong for the Y. M. C. A. What was needed was more boldness in presenting the gospel to young men. They must not lower the standard of these Associations.

Rev. Mr. Keefer, of Brantford, in an eloquent speech, controverted Rev. Mr. Wood's position, arguing that a more secular element must necessarily be embraced in Y. M. C. A.'s.

Mr. Muir closed the debate in a brief speech.

INVITATION.

Mr. Wilkie read a communication from Port Hope, inviting the Association to hold its next meeting there.

DISCUSSION.

"How far can we make the social element useful in our institutions?" was the topic for the fourth discussion, opened by Mr. Muir, of London. He believed the social element was much lacking in our homes, and especially in our churches. Young people should have more opportunity of associating in their homes with others of their own age, attainments and standing, and should not be compelled to look outside their home circle for these amusements which all must have.

who are healthy in body, mind and heart.

Evil tendencies could be far more kept in check than at present, simply by introducing the social element more largely in our homes and christian societies. He did not, however, recommend or countenance dissipating and expensive social entertainments. Young men accustomed to proper home influences and innocent social enjoyments would not when leaving home, readily or knowingly place themselves under influences appealing only to their lower natures. Such homes were few, however, and it was peculiarly the duty of the Y. M. C. A. to provide in their rooms some, at least, of the comforts, conveniences, and silent restraints of a "home," and to throw around young men a moral and religious atmosphere, which would counteract and offer these practical suggestions - Members should be more ready to bring others to their rooms; some of them should be about the rooms in the evening, to meet and converse with visitors; opportunity should be given for forming new acquaintances before the closing exercises at each meeting; one evening a month should be given to an entertainment with reading and music; in large cities a good visiting committee should be appointed to visit young men in their boarding houses, which were often cheerless and uninviting; meetings for the practice of part music in conjunction with ladies were good.

Rev. Mr. Moxon, of Toronto, said that Young Men's Christian Association meetings did not reach the mass of young men in the cities. They attracted only those who least needed their influence, and those the Young Men's Christian Associations were most anxious to reach escaped them altogether. Could they not engrain upon their associations another set of arrangements so as to lay hold of these young men? He said yes. If by means of billiards, games, cricket clubs, or thing of this kind, under the auspices of Y. M. C. A.'s, they could lay hold of these young men he said let us do it. and the company gathered in the basement, which was soon filled to its utmost capacity. Addresses were delivered by the Rev. Messrs. Wardrop, Brown, Manchie, and Kessler; Sheriff Thomas, of Hamilton; Messrs. Morse, New York; Jenkins, Buffalo; Wilkie, Toronto; Paterson, Montreal; and Gray, Port Hope, either up-stairs or in the basement. The music and singing was contributed by the Misses Cossitt, Miss Jones, and the choir of the church.

A piano was very kindly lent for the occasion by Messrs. Rainer & Co. The instrument was a fine-toned and excellent one, and contributed greatly to the pleasure of the evening.

Although the arrangements for the evening had to be hurriedly made, all passed off well, and the audience dispersed well pleased about ten o'clock.

FRIDAY MORNING'S SESSION.
The Convention opened this morning with devotional exercises. Minutes were read and approved.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.
A report was brought in that the Treasurer's books had been examined and found correct.

The report of the Committee appointed to consider the Executive Committee's report was then taken up clause by clause, and considerable discussion ensued. The only subject of public interest was

THE NEXT CONVENTION.
A lengthy discussion ensued on this subject, in which a number of delegates took part.

It was ultimately decided by the meeting that if the Executive Committee could arrange for a Dominion Convention it be held in Montreal; if not, that the next Provincial Convention be held in Port Hope; and a resolution was carried to this effect.

A LECTURE BUREAU.
Rev. Mr. Wood, of Brantford, moved, seconded by Mr. Rainer, of Woodstock, that a bureau be formed with a view to provide lecturers for the use of the various associations.

DISCUSSION.
The fifth topic was then taken up. It was—"Personal consecration to Christ, and our individual responsibility to work for him." The discussion lasted to the adjournment at noon, and will be continued this afternoon. Rev. Mr. Wood, of Brantford, opened the subject, and other speakers followed.

Guelph Evening Mercury
FRIDAY EVENING, AUG. 29, 1873

The Reform banquet to the Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, at Halifax, came off on Wednesday night in the skating rink. The rink was handsomely decorated with flags, bunting, evergreens and flowers. Upwards of 200 gentlemen sat down to dinner. The company included representatives of every class in the city, and many of the leading farmers of the country. Mr. Annand, in replying to the toast of the Local Government, strongly denounced the conduct of the Dominion Government at the late meeting of Parliament. He expressed a high personal regard for Mr. Mackenzie, and a belief that he and those associated with him were disposed to do more for Nova Scotia and all other Provinces. Mr. Mackenzie spoke for two hours and a half, and was enthusiastically applauded. The banquet was one of the most successful political demonstrations ever held in Halifax.

Seven thousand people attended the Reform picnic at Drummondville on Tuesday. A large stand was erected in the grove, on which were the orators of the day and many white-headed old veterans who have seen Canada grow from a wilderness to a thickly populated country. Three fine bands furnished music, and every arrangement was made to insure comfort, pleasure and instruction. Hon. E. B. Wood was the principal speaker. Dr. Haney, and Messrs. Frazer, Paterson, Thomson, and Hon. G. Currie also spoke. The whole affair was a great success.

The Western Union Telegraph Company reports that their wires were badly damaged by the recent severe gales in New Brunswick.

Terre Haute, Ind., August 28.—A collision occurred to-day on the Vandallia railroad, near here, by which six persons were badly injured.

San Francisco, August 28.—A man named Irving, in jail here, confesses that he is one of the murderers of Nathan, in New York. He says the housekeeper's son got them to do the murder at the suggestion of Washington Nathan. He thinks the name of his confederate was McNally. He details the manner of committing the murder, and says he obtained $7,000 from the safe. He came here on Tuesday as a sailor on a British ship. He confessed to the second mate, and gave his name as Brown. He was thought to be insane. A commission of lunacy could not determine, but he appears sane.

New York, August 28.—Arrived, steamship America, from Bremen, and Australia from Glasgow.

New York, August 28.—The Secretary to the Panama Railway Company says the loan of $500,000 has been made to the Pacific Mail Company on the terms mentioned yesterday, viz., a guarantee bill of sale on six of the Pacific Mail Company's best steamers.

A fearful accident was prevented on Thursday morning by the pluck and presence of mind of the fireman of the Lachine train. A child was on the track and would have been cut to pieces but for the fireman clambering to the cow catcher just in time to push the imperilled youngster from the rails.

The Reason Why.

The reason why the magnificent Retail Grocery Establishments in the Alma Block and on Lower Wyndham Street, belonging to John A. Wood, are so very popular with the intelligent public:—

Because the Goods are all of the best quality.
Because the Prices are invariably the lowest.
Because the Clerks are courteous and obliging.
Because the Stock is the largest to select from.
Because the goods are always clean.
Because the Weights and Measures are always correct.

Because, in fact, the proprietor understands his business, desires to please his customers, makes good use of his capital, and buys for cash in the best markets, and always deals liberally with those who honor his stores with their custom.—These and many other weighty reasons have contributed very largely to make the name of John A. Wood, as connected with the Grocery trade of Guelph, so well known, and his stores so very popular.

ANNABEL

THE TEMPTATION.

CHAPTER XXXVI.

A WILD BEWILDERING HOPE BURSTS ON PHILIP WESTON—HE AND JIM TAKE A JOURNEY AND MAKE DISCOVERIES.

"Well," grasped Philip, with an aspect of breathless intensity; "go on, for pity's sake go on. What happened next?"

"Have a moment's patience, sir. Why, of course, after he told us that, we drew back. If she was mad, it would have been folly to do anything."

"Oh, poor thing, she cherished the idea that most intensely, and vehemently protested that she was perfectly sane, and held the delusion that she was not his sister but a young lady, the heiress to an estate, who had been put under confinement in that man's hands in order that they might seize the property."

"Has she heard her say that?" cried Philip, bounding to his feet. "God of Heaven! 'twas she—'twas Annabel."

"Annabel!" echoed the amazed postmaster. "That was the very name she said. But—but—my gracious!—you don't mean to say her story was true—that she was sane, and was being kept imprisoned for a fraudulent purpose?"

"Yes," yelled Philip; "I do say it. But proceed; oh, if you would see me go mad proceed."

"Heaven! is it possible? No, no; it cannot. I had never seen the man before, but neighbour Brooks recognised him as one Dick Mattocks, who had been brought up in the neighbourhood, and he recognised his sister too, though he did not say she was sane, only both of them had been several years away, and—"

"'Twas a resemblance only," shouted Philip, "a marked and unfortunate resemblance, by which the damnable fraud was rendered successful. Dick Mattocks' sister died, and was buried under the name of Annabel Leighton and the real Annabel was sent here as his sister, and confined under the pretence that she was insane."

"Sir—sir, is this really the case?" faltered the horror-stricken official. "Is it possible that such horrible cruelty has been perpetrated?"

"Go on—go on with your tale," groaned Philip, on whose brow the large sweat-drops were bursting. "What followed? Did the wretch regain possession of her?"

"He did."

"Oh, my poor wronged darling. And no one would help or succour you?"

"Do not blame us, sir. We were ignorant of the facts, and believed his statement. How should we have imagined anything so wicked?"

"He seized her again, you say?" added Philip, with a rapid wave of the hand, as if impatiently to cast aside his excuses; "he carried her off?"

"Yes, but not before she made a dart to the window and dropped the letter into the slit of the post office. This made him furious, and he demanded it back. As I told you already, I refused and could not understand his rage. But I can understand it now if it be as you say."

"It is as I say," answered Philip in a shrieking excitement. "And where did he take her—know you that?"

"To the place from whence she escaped—an old solitary house four miles away, called Dugden, which is Mattocks' own property, and where he and his sister were born and brought up."

"And is she there still—tell me, is she there still?" roared the panting youth making a gesture as if he would rush away.

"It is understood so by all the—"

"He stopped, for Philip was making a rush toward the door, when Jim caught him by the arm and restrained.

"Don't go for to do anything hasty, sir," counselled the latter. "If I might make bold to say, this is a very ticklish business, and requires cautious going about."

"But there cannot be a doubt now, Jim; you don't doubt it, do you?"

"Not a bit o' me, sir. Miss Annabel is alive sure enough."

"Alive! Yes, and in a cruel imprisonment, which every moment increases in misery. Oh, Jim, what she must have suffered what she may be suffering now. I dare not think of it; but I go to save her. Hinder me not, Jim—in mercy to us both hinder me not."

"Don't be rash, sir," said Jim, earnestly; "for Miss Annabel's sake, don't be rash, or you may do her a mortal injury."

"I—I do Annabel an injury?"

"By not being cautious, I mean. Our measures must be well taken, or it may be worse for her."

"Your friend is right, sir," said the postmaster. "This man Dick Mattocks is, to my mind, a desperate fellow, who would stick at nothing, and if he got to know that you had got an inkling of his dark game, he might do his prisoner some deadly evil. A day longer in the old house won't add greatly to the sufferings the young lady has already endured, and by calm and cautious working you will serve her much better than by impulsive precipitation."

"But who knows that even now she is not in dire extremity?" returned the youth, his every limb and face quivering with agony. "He may be starving her, or—oh—the thought that for all these weeks she has been in the power of that wretch—alone, helpless, defenceless—"

"Not alone," rejoined the official, "not entirely alone. The man has a woman living with him, probably his wife, and she will not allow the lady to be subjected to personal violence. No, my impression is that, beyond being kept in safe custody and strict seclusion, she has not harmed her. I happen to know also that once or twice a man has come to the village to see him, no doubt regarding her."

"A man!" cried Philip. "As I live that must be Bernard Hayes. Is it so?"

The postmaster paused as if hesitating.

The recent dismissal of the Brooklyn Chief of Police has been the occasion of starting a story that Kate Stoddard's pretended confession of the murder of Goodrich was really concocted by the police, to put Roscoe, who is said to be the real murderer, off his guard. It was intended to have kept the arrest of the woman a secret; but when the newspapers found it out the police hit upon a scheme of giving out a confession purporting to come from her, while they went to work with new vigour, so as to get hold of Roscoe. This is a surprising case in all its aspects, and will be followed by the public with keen interest until after Kate Stoddard's trial.

Old Scotch Lady: "Take a sniff, sir?"

Gentleman (with large nasal promontory indignantly): "Do I look like a snuffer?"

Old Lady: "Well, Joanna just say you do, though I maun say ye hae grand accommodation."

Iron in the Blood

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damage, and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of its wonderful success of the remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhoea, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass. Pamphlets Free.

THE GREAT GALE.
Destruction at Cape Breton.
Despatches received from Sydney, C.B., say that a terrible storm of wind and rain had been raging there since Monday, the greatest known in Cape Breton for years. All the harbours were filled with vessels. Thirty vessels were driven ashore in Sydney. The loss to farmers is heavy; many buildings are blown down, and the crops throughout the country devastated; bridges have been washed away and destroyed. The storm commenced at 12 noon, blowing fiercely from the south-east, barometer 29; the wind changed suddenly to the east, sending a great wave of sea on shore sweeping in towards the docks and wharves, the wind blowing with frightful ferocity. Nine vessels are total wrecks. There were 50 sail of vessels in Cow Bay, and all of these, with the exception of the steamers, are ashore. The Cunard ss. "Alpha," from Sydney, put in there for a harbor, and with steam up and anchors down she succeeded in holding on. The breakwater at Cow Bay is badly damaged, and Belloni's wharf is destroyed. The destruction to shipping in the Bay is frightful. There is great excitement in Halifax over the accounts from Cape Breton.
Along the western coast of Nova Scotia the gale was severely felt. At Kitch Harbour a store was blown down and a schooner driven ashore. A number of fishing boats were wrecked at Portuguese Cove, and at Island Cove there were several collisions of vessels, and in three much damage was done to fishing boats, and wharves were driven ashore and smashed at Herring Cove. Along the Gulf shore the ravages of the gale were severe. Wharves were very much shaken and injured, and the destruction of stores and dwellings near Sydney, put in there for a harbor, and with steam up and anchors down she succeeded in holding on. The breakwater at Cow Bay is badly damaged, and Belloni's wharf is destroyed. The destruction to shipping in the Bay is frightful. There is great excitement in Halifax over the accounts from Cape Breton.

POVERTY IS BAD, but the worst kind of poverty is poverty of the blood; this makes a man "poor indeed," for it takes away his strength, courage and energy; but enrich the blood with its vital element, Iron, by taking the PERUVIAN SYRUP (a protobide of iron) and you will feel rich and "as good as anybody." Try it.

A DISTINGUISHED PHYSIOLOGIST has said that Neuralgia is the cry of the hungry nerves for their special food, which is the Phosphorus contained in the blood. This painful disease is usually followed by general prostration on account of the great waste of nerve tissue in the attempt to supply the nerves to maintain the functions of the vital organs. The cause of Neuralgia and Rheumatic Pains is depraved Nutrition arising from derangement of the Stomach, Mal-assimilation of Food, and Poor Blood. Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calceaya supplies Phosphorus for the nervous system, Lime as an excitant of nutrition, Iron for the Blood, and Calceaya for promoting strength. No preparation in existence is so reliable to maintain the vitality of the body as this. It is the only medicine that cures all the organs of the body.

which can be cured by a timely resort to this standard preparation, as has been proved by the hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors. It is acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most reliable preparation ever introduced for the relief and cure of all Lung complaints, and is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years. When resorted to in season it seldom fails to effect a speedy cure in the most severe cases of Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Asthma, Colds, Sore Throat, Pains or Soreness in the Chest and Side, Liver Complaint, Bleeding at the Lungs, &c. Wistar's Balsam does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.
