At a special meeting of sportsmen in London it was unanimously decided to ask the government to increase shooting, hunting and trapping licenses for non-residents from $25 to $50. It was pointed out that hundreds of Americans come across at Windsor and other points and ruthlessly kill birds and animals. The government will be asked to make deer hunters carry animals killed by them to the place from which they obtained the license, and not send them to Toronto packing houses. It was shown that big cold storage plants by hundreds of licenses in the names of their employees, mail them to lumbermen, and receive thousands of deer.

JUNE 3rd, the birthday of His Majesty, King George, and June 22nd, Coronation Day, will be proclaimed as statutory or legal holidays in Canada. Some time ago His Majesty instructed through the Colonial Office that he would prefer to have his birthday celebrated on the actual anniversary of his birth, instead of adhering to the precedent set by the late Sovereign, King Edward, whose birthday was officially celebrated on Victoria Day, instead of on November 9th. Victoria Day and Dominion Day are now statutory holidays, and with June 3rd added as a fixed holiday from now on and Coronation Day made an extra holiday this year, the Dominion will be well served with public holidays.

MANY friends were shocked on Saturday morning on hearing that Mrs. Race, wife of Mr. W. B. Race, principal of the Sault Ste. Marie Collegiate Institute, and formerly of the Watford High School, had passed away. It appears that on Wednesday evening there was an open meeting of the literary society of the Institute at which Mrs. Race was present. Towards eleven o'clock lunch was served in the science room. Mrs. Race was drinking coffee and talking to several lady friends when she fell on the floor unconscious. Two doctors were called but they could not at the time diagnose the case. Mrs. Race was taken in the ambulance to her home and remained unconscious until she passed away at 9:15 Good Friday evening. The cause of death was hemorrhage at base of brain. The funeral took place on Monday. Besides her husband she leaves two sons and two daughters who have the sympathy of many friends in and around Watford.

Post Office Reforms.

The Postal World makes out a good case for a classification of Canadian post offices such as is found in other postal union countries, and for extension of the civil service regulations to all or most post offices in the Dominion. In the United States all assistant postmasters and clerks have been brought under civil service rules. The introduction of a similar reform in this country would entail the classification of from 15,000 to 20,000 government employees, but thoroughly tested by over fifty years of use, have been proved a safe and certain cure for constipation and all kindred troubles. Try them.

Constipation is the root of many forms of sickness and of an endless amount of human misery.

the size of the undertaking should not deter the government. The welfare of the officers and the efficient conduct of the offices are at stake. It has been proposed to make all city offices, all accounting or money order offices second class, and all non-accounting offices third class and to place the first and second class under the civil service commission. Postmasters of the non-accounting or third class offices do not generally give their whole time to their offices, but have these offices in conjunction with local stores, offices, etc., etc., but the second class comprises a large body of postmasters who give their whole time to their task, and have no other occupation. These men work hard as a rule. There is no insurance scheme in which they can join, or any provision for their superannuation on an allowance. Any arrangement that would add to their sense of security would tend to improve their work, and there seems to be no reason why they should not be brought under the civil service commission. The postmasters' association which are working to this end have the sympathy of the public for which the postmasters labor. Occasionally the petty interference of the patronage committee in post office appointments and promotions is aired in parliament. The day for such abuses has surely gone. It will be in the general interest when the conduct of the service is removed from politics and when the best posts go to men who have spent their lives at the work instead of to party favorites.

Save the Birds.

The spring birds are here and making the crisp morning air melodious with their varied songs.
With spring birds, unfortunately comes the boys with the catapult and other instruments of slaughter, and the charming summer visitors become more shy of man and less numerous with each recurring season.

What Canada needs is a stringent Wild Birds' Protection Act such as they have in Britain, in which all the species are named that come under the operation of the law. Over there the order is renewed and published in the newspapers at the beginning of each year, so that bird butchers and harriers may have no excuse to plead ignorance of the provision of the law. Unless some stringent measures are taken to save Canada's summer feathered visitors the groves will soon be silent.

One of the duties of parents is to instill in their children a love of the birds, with a desire for the protection of the nest's offspring. The majority of boys seem to be the enemies of the birds, and many adults are moved no less by the lust of rapine and destruction.

Where the Horse Fails.

Bone and sinew, says J. T. Stirrett, in an article on Motor Trucks, in MacLean's for April, cannot match a machine. During the last few hours of a busy day the efficiency of delivery horses decreases almost to a minimum. But the big truck is not so rugged as the beast. The former is in the hands of the garage expert more frequently than the horse is under the care of the veterinary surgeon. The great virtues of the horse, in comparison with the truck, are his cheapness and his reliability. He can usually get home. The motor truck often refuses to return, and remains stranded at the other end of the route. Then another truck has to be sent for it. If the second breaks down, a faithful steed must be dispatched to tow them both home.

The World Hates a Quitter.

So long as you won't acknowledge it, you have failed. Suppose one thing has gone wrong—make something else go right. This is such a busy world that we haven't time to recall unimportant things, and if you don't keep reminding us we'll forget all about the incident.

But if you walk around with the badge of despair in your face and reference to the past in your walk, how can we help remembering? Your greatest trouble is your egotism. You overestimate your status in the scheme of life. You imagine that your misfortunes are just as fresh in everybody else's thoughts, but if you want the truth, we don't know that you are living except when you force us to realize that you are alive.

The fact that all creation has made up its mind that you are done for does not settle your fate one jot. You are the only man who can decide. The world does not condemn you when you fail trying, so long as you don't fail crying. It does hate a quitter.

A prize fight is not a pretty thing, but it is a man's lesson. No matter how many knockdowns a pugilist gets he has not lost so long as he is not knocked out. If you want to see how your fellows judge you, watch them hiss the man who throws up the sponge when his fighter still has a chance.

We all fail, even those of us whose careers have seemed to be unbroken successes, but we kept the secret tightly locked in our own bosoms and managed to laugh to the world until we had it laughing with us instead of at us.

How to Live Long.

With healthy kidneys, one has a good chance to live long; but weak kidneys afflict old age with great discomfort. The back becomes bent and lame, rheumatism is chronic, eyesight fails and too frequent or involuntary passages of the urine cause embarrassment by day and loss of sleep at night.

Kidney Pills bring new strength to old backs and quick relief to weakened kidneys. They banish backache and rheumatic pain, regulate the bladder and urine.

Booth's Kidney Pills are for sick kidneys in old or young and are guaranteed by the proprietors, the R. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont. Sold everywhere, 50c a box. Free trial sent on request.

The Bald Headed Man may Look Wise

But If He Had Been He Would Have Hair Now

You do not want a scientific treatise on the hair follicle—you are not particularly interested in the name of the German scientist who isolated the bug that is said to cause baldness. What you do want to know is how to save the hair you have and make it strong and lustrous.

Nyal's Hirsutone will do it better than anything else. It is not claimed that Hirsutone is a wonderful scientific secret—but it is the concrete result of all that is proven in the scientific treatment of sick and diseased hair and scalp.

It is a happy combination and you will notice a prompt improvement in the feeling of the scalp and the look of the hair.
Hirsutone loosens and removes all scaly and matted deposit on the scalp—stimulates the hair bulbs and gives new life and vigor to the hair itself.
Nyal's Hirsutone gives back to the hair and scalp just what it has been robbed of by your neglect and abuse. It is time to start right. Use Hirsutone.
It is one of the Nyal remedies and no higher recommendation can be given it. They are all good. Ask your Nyal Druggist. He recommends it.

The Indian Census.
 In no part of the British Empire is the task of census-taking so arduous and difficult as in India. This happens not on account of the number and density of the population and its many differences in race, religion and language, but of the prevailing ignorance and prejudice regarding the character and purpose of process. This has been usually associated with the intention to increase taxation or in some other way to herald an interference with cherished customs and beliefs. It is therefore satisfactory to learn that this year the census has been taken in record time, and with unusual completeness. The provisional returns give the population as 315,000,000 an increase of upwards of 20,000,000 since the 1901 census. That they were furnished only ten days after the taking of the census is a striking tribute to the efficiency of its staff organization, and has elicited the commendation of the governor-general. The population of Bombay is placed at 972,992, and but for a local trade depression, which caused the temporary absence of many of the usual residents it would probably have reached the million mark.

Hair Beautifier.
 Refined Women the World Over Use It.
 Every woman knows that there is nothing so good for hair and scalp trouble as Parisian Sage. It Parisian Sage is used two or three times a week it will keep the scalp nice and clean and remove dandruff. It makes the hair lustrous and fluffy, and keeps it from falling out. We urge every woman who loves radiant and fascinating hair to go to T. B. Taylor & Sons to-day and get a large 50 cent bottle of Parisian Sage. They guarantee it to cure dandruff, falling hair and itching scalp, or money back.

"FEEBLE STOMACH"
 Causes Digestive Weakness and Poisons the Entire System.
 "No one can have suffered more than I did with stomach trouble," writes Phil E. Pascolar, well known at St. Andrews Corners. "My doctor told me my indigestion and sleeplessness were due to poisons in the blood. Certainly my condition was desperate, and it seemed from the despondent feelings that swept over me that I would lose my reason. I happened to read about Dr. Hamilton's Pills and bought five boxes from the drugist. Such body-cleansing pills I never used; they were mild and yet quite strong enough to drive all the humors out of the blood. My stomach gained strength rapidly with Dr. Hamilton's Pills and I improved so much that in eight weeks I could eat and digest all ordinary food. Depression and weariness passed away and I am, thanks to Dr. Hamilton's Pills, enjoying robust good health."
 No remedy for biliousness, indigestion, headache, sick stomach, or constipation that compares with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Refuse substitutes. Sold in 25c. boxes. All dealers, or The Catarthozos Co., Kingston, Ont.

 R. J. Campbell, Wawota, Sask.:—"We have had a very cold winter here, especially the month of January, the thermometer was all the way from 20 to 50 degrees below zero, with a strong wind blowing all the time, which is something unusual when it is so cold. The snow was about three feet deep on the level but it has been fine weather since about the middle of February and if this weather continues seeding will be general in about another week. There is going to be a big rush of settlers from the States to this country this spring. They have been coming since the first of February."

SITUATION UNPRECEDENTED IN PIANO TRADE

What are we going to do With Our Big Stock of High-Grade Pianos?

We can store them—yes, at heavy expense for cartage and storage, damage, time, tuning and repair. We have weighed the situation thoroughly, and tell you frankly that we have determined to deduct all these expenses from the piano prices and CUT OFF ANOTHER BIG SLICE AS AN ADVERTISEMENT, and Pass Our Pianos on to You at $100 to $175 Savings

In fact, orders have gone to our Sales Department to forget entirely cost figures and cut every instrument down to a quick sale figure, no matter how high the quality of the representatives of 25 of the world's greatest pianos on our floors. Every instrument must go at less than the cost of the cheapest unguaranteed "commercial" instrument. Think what this means.

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR THE SPRING. Do not use Harsh Purgatives—A Tonic is all You Need.

Not exactly sick—but not feeling quite well. That's the way most people feel in the spring. Easily tired, appetite fickle, sometimes headaches and a feeling of depression. Pimples or eruptions may appear on the skin, or there may be twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order; that the indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you and may easily develop into more serious trouble. Don't dose yourself with purgatives as so many people do in the hope that you can put your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken instead of giving strength. Any doctor will tell you this is true. What you need in the spring is a tonic that will make new blood and build up the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the only medicine that will do this speedily, safely and surely. Every dose of this medicine helps to make new blood—which clears the skin, strengthens the appetite, and makes tired, depressed men, women and children bright, active and strong. Mr. B. Martin, Deux Rivieres, Que., says: "About a year ago I was all run down. I was pale, weak, and had but little appetite. I also suffered from a severe pain in the back, and though I tried several medicines nothing helped me until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and these soon fully restored my health. I can strongly recommend these pills to every weak person." Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Denmark's Dairy Industry

There are, says a writer in Hoard's Dairyman, 1,100 co-operative and 300 private creameries in Denmark. These manufacture over 200,000,000 pounds of butter a year, eighty per cent, of which is exported to Great Britain. In summer the milk is delivered twice a day and in winter once.

It will be interesting to Ontario dairymen to know that stringent rules are laid down in regard to cooling the milk on the farm and in not mixing morning's and night's milk. All foods which may impart an objectional flavor to the milk are forbidden.

The creameries are compelled by law to pasteurize all skim-milk by heating to 180 degrees before it leaves the creamery, to prevent the spread of tuberculosis through this medium. The loyalty of the Danes makes it rarely, if ever, necessary to impose the penalties. The skim-milk is converted into bacon hogs and the bacon exported to England.

The secret of the Danish butter-makers' success lies largely in their habits of thoroughness. They first construct a sanitary building and then keep it clean by daily scrubbing. This applies equally well to all the machinery and apparatus in the creamery. They have milk delivered to the creamery in almost ideal condition. Another secret is that they study their business thoroughly, becoming very proficient, as they expect to remain at this occupation for their life work. Thus they turn out a product of uniformly high quality which is the chief factor in their success with an export trade.

SPRING SKIN TROUBLES.

Pimples, Eruptions and "Spotty Complexions"

At this season, scores of people—girls and young women especially—find their faces disfigured by pimples, dark spots, eruptions, etc. The skin needs attention—needs renovating after the time it has passed through during the winter.

Just think what it has gone through! You have been out in rain and sleet and snow. You have been at one moment perspiring from skating, or some other exertion. Then you have stood to "cool off." You have spent hours of the day indoors at a temperature equal to summer heat. Then you have covered up your skin—except your face—and gone out into a temperature away below zero! No wonder that, with all these changes, the skin of the face and neck shows signs of needing attention.

Zam-Buk and Zam-Buk Soap are the remedies. Smear Zam-Buk lightly over the spots, the eruptions, the sallow patches, at night, and wash with Zam-Buk Soap (only 25c. per tablet) each day. Then notice how quickly your appearance improves. As the rich refined, herbal essences sink deep into the tissue, the hard scurf-like patches are removed. Better color results. The cells of the skin become transparent. The blood beneath is able to impart its proper coloring to the tissue, and the delicate bloom of health replaces the sallowness and pallor of disease.

Zam-Buk is also a sure cure for skin injuries and diseases. Eczema, ulcers, ringworm, yield to its use. For cuts, burns, bruises, children's rashes, etc., it is unequalled, and for piles. Mothers will find Zam-Buk Soap best for baby's bath! All druggists and stores at 50c. box for Zam-Buk and 25c. tablet (or 3 for 70c.) for the Soap. If you have any difficulty in obtaining, order from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, and send price.

How to Catch Monkeys.

The Filipinos catch monkeys in a very funny way. Monkeys are very fond of the meat of coconuts. They are very lazy, though, about gnawing through the outer bark, and will only do so when very hungry. The Filipino takes advantage of this greed and indolence by cutting a small opening through the shell, just large enough for Mr. Monkey's long, thin hand to penetrate. When he once gets inside he gets his hand full of delicious dainty meat, and his hands are naturally wider when in this position when it was thrust through the opening. Finding his hand will not come out, the monkey chatters and scolds, plainly shows his indignation at the way he has been trapped, but never thinks of loosening his hold on the coconut meat and withdrawing his hand as easily as he would if it were his own. There are thousands, an angry monkey, until the native who sets the "coconut trap" comes and takes him captive.

SCORFING WHAT SHOULD BE RUBBED IN.—Whenever pain is felt in the limbs or face take De. Thomas' Electric Oil; pour a little in the hand, and applying it to the aching member, which the pain lies, rub briskly. If the first application does not afford relief, which is not usually the case, keep rubbing. The Oil will gradually penetrate to the affected part and relief will come.

Catarrh and Bronchitis

The Bane of Thousands, and has hitherto baffled the Skill of Medical Science.

Catarrhazone

Dry air treatment is the one treatment that will cure these diseases. What stomach medicine has ever been known to cure Catarrh or Bronchitis?

Catarrhazone is not a stomach medicine, but an air medicine, that carries to the remotest parts of the throat, lungs, and air cells little drops of healing so curative that whenever it touches germ life it kills and eradicates them from the system. Thousands of doctors and patients have been disappointed by using stomach medicines for coughs and colds. Have you not found it a rather roundabout way to reach the diseased portion of the throat and lungs? Why not use Catarrhazone, which is breathed to the very root of the disease and heals so quickly and perfectly that every spot is rebuilt with new healthy tissue?

Catarrhazone is the only medicine that will cure. Thousands have testified.

Think for a moment, is it not sense? Little drops of healing—the air carries them just where disease exists. That is why

A New Year House Party

The Trick That Resulted In a Wedding

By JOHN C. GASSOWAY
 Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

"Papa, tell us a New Year story," said my oldest daughter, Grace, aged fourteen.

"Do?" chimed in all the rest.

"A New Year's story? I don't know any stories at all, much less a New Year's story."

"You must know a New Year's story," said little Ben. "This is New Year's eve, and we must have a New Year's eve story."

"I know something that happened to me at a New Year's house party before any of you children were born, but it isn't a story. Stories are something that are made up, you know. This incident really happened."

"Oh, that's the best kind of a story!" cried Grace.

"I like 'em better than any other kind," said Susie, climbing up into my lap. "Go on, papa."

"Go on!" chimed all the rest, so I went on as follows:

"When I was a young man I was invited to the country place of my friend Mr. Beach—you all know Mr. Beach, the bald gentleman with mutton chop whiskers who often comes here—to spend the first week of the new year. I found a merry party, I assure you—half a dozen boys and half a dozen girls, all ready for a frolic. What makes such parties pleasant is that those who make them up throw off the conventionalities of society and give one another a lot of leeway in everything. Besides, every one is ready for any kind of a prank and no offense taken. We were constantly playing little tricks on one another, each trying when sold to appear unconscious of having been sold. I remember one of the girls at dinner gave one of the fellows an imitation cream cake filled with cotton instead of cream. He bit

"TOSSED THE STICKPIN BACK TO ME." It unsuspectingly, but rather than admit the sell he ate the cake with well feigned relish.

"New Year's eve we saw the old year out with a lot of merrymaking, singing 'Auld Lang Syne' hand in hand standing in a circle. At 1 o'clock in the morning we all went upstairs to our rooms. When I got into bed I discovered that I couldn't get my feet more than halfway down in the sheets. It at once occurred to me that they had been scotched—that is, the upper sheet had been folded halfway down in the bed, and it was this fold that I was trying to get into.

"We were playing so many pranks on one another that I knew at once some of the girls had played the trick on me. I fancied some of them might be in the hall listening to hear any expressions of vexation I might give way to, so I uttered never a word. Instead I slipped out of bed and groped in the dark for a bath robe, which I put on and trod noiselessly in my bare feet to the door.

"We were not used to locking our doors; at least I didn't lock mine. I only shut it. Finding it ajar, I was sure some girl or girls were outside listening to enjoy my wrath at not being able to get my legs down between the sheets. Suddenly throwing the door wide open, I ran right into a figure which I knew by her apparel was a girl. Both my arms went around her neck, and I rained kisses all over her face. She struggled hard and suddenly gave vent to an 'Ouch!'

"Thinking that I had hurt her, I released my hold, and I heard her running along the hall and down to the floor below where the girls slept, my young fellows all occupying rooms above. Going into my room, I lighted the gas in order to fix my bed so that I could

The Children's Hair
 A Little Extra Care Now May Save After Years of Regret

Children play so hard that the head perspires and the hair has a tendency to mat and get sticky on the scalp. Soap and water doesn't seem to remove it but the hair must breathe to be healthy. Just try Nyal's Hirutone. Rub it into the roots of the hair with the balls of the fingers. The children like it and will ask you to use it. Hirutone loosens up the accumulated dust and perspiration and the hair and scalp can then be easily and thoroughly cleaned. After it is dried give another application of Hirutone. After you have used it for a while you will admit it is the best you have ever used. Your Nyal Drug Store will cheerfully guarantee Hirutone to do all that is claimed for it.

sleep in it. I noticed a drop of blood on my bath robe. Presently I went to the door again, and on the floor just beyond the sill something glittered. Reaching for it, I picked up a stickpin with a pearl for a head. I inferred that it had pricked the girl I had held in my arms and drawn a drop or two of blood.

"The next morning at breakfast what was my surprise to see six girls, each with a bit of court plaster on her neck just below the ear.

"Aha, my beauties! I exclaimed to myself. You have formed a union in order to prevent my knowing which one of you scotched my sheets and got kissed and scratched for the trouble.

The stickpin evidently left its mark on the culprit and, like the girl in the 'Arabian Nights' entertainments, who, rearing a door chalked and suspecting some villainy, chalked all the other doors, you have all put on court plaster. Well, I have the stickpin, and now the battle turns on which one of you owns it!

"After breakfast I showed the pin to each one of the men, asking him if he had noticed it the evening before on any of the girls. But men are awfully stupid about women's dress, and not one of them could give me any information. There were none of the girls who did not know the ownership, but I might as well have applied at a government circumlocution office for the settlement of a claim as ask any one of them. I should have been sent round the circle indefinitely.

"That evening at dinner I wore the stickpin in my scarf. It was great fun to watch the girls as they caught sight of it. Not a girl betrayed anything more than a slight change in expression; but, since they all showed that, I was no wiser as to the ownership.

"We fellows had carefully examined the jewel at the head of the pin and agreed that it was a real pearl of considerable value. I thought of a way to force the owner to declare herself. During the dinner I asked the party, 'Who in history dissolved in vinegar a pearl of great value?'

"Cleopatra!" cried one of the girls.

"I don't believe the story," said one of the fellows who was in the secret of what I was about to do.

"Why not?" I asked of him.

"No one would do such a thing."

"I wouldn't mind doing it myself," I replied.

"I'd like to bet you won't."

"How much?"

HORSE'S LEG SWELLED

Animal Was Too Sore and Lame to Work—Quickly Cured by "Nerviline."

"I'll go you a tanner you don't dissolve the pearl you wear in your scarf."

"I take the bet."

"Half the men at the table made side bets, and, pouring some vinegar from a cruet into a wineglass and taking the pin from my scarf, I put it in head down. I knew the pearl couldn't have cost less than $50, but besides the bet I have mentioned I made several more to win about half the cost of a new pin. But girls were not likely to take that into consideration, and the owner of the pin was forced to see her jewel put in jeopardy without knowing that if it were injured she would get another. Nevertheless she looked on with apparent indifference.

"This is carrying a joke too far," exclaimed one of the girls in a protesting voice. "Lou, you're silly to let him ruin that beautiful pearl!"

"The moment the name was spoken and the girl named Lou blushed I took the pin out of the wineglass, dropped it in a glass of water, then wiped it with my handkerchief. It did not appear to have been in the slightest degree damaged, but it had not been in the vinegar half a minute. Then I handed it across the table to the owner, and every one except herself burst into a laugh.

"The trouble in such pranks is that those who come out ahead enjoy them immensely, but those who come out behind don't see it in the same light. Lou, with a very sober face, tossed the stickpin back to me, saying that she had no use for a pearl that had had the gloss taken off it by being steeped in vinegar. I told her that an exact duplicate would be furnished her and she was also welcome to the one she claimed had been damaged. To this she replied that the 'damaged' one had been given her by a very dear friend and prized especially on that account. 'No,' she added, 'you have ruined my keepsake and you can't replace it. All I ask of you is to drop the subject. I don't wish either the old pin or a new one.'

"Here was a pretty kettle of fish. Instead of coming out of the affair triumphant I was in a hole.

"The rest of that New Year's gathering was very hard on me. All the girls treated me coolly, saying that I had spoiled the pleasure of the party by retaliating for a harmless joke with a serious one. Some of the men seemed to think that the girls were assuming all this common sense, that Lou wasn't miffed at all and the whole thing was a put up job to turn the tables on me. These arguments didn't make me feel any better. Lou would scarcely speak to me, and every girl gave me to understand that I had treated her shamefully.

"If a girl wishes to make a young man fall in love with her the quickest way to accomplish her object is to make him think he has injured her and treat him accordingly. Lou's contemptuous treatment of me set me wild. I couldn't eat. I couldn't sleep. Finally I went to her and told her that if she wouldn't forgive me—for something I hadn't done, mind you—I would blow my stupid brains out. She forgave me, and the effect was so delicious that I blurted out that I loved her and couldn't live without her. She tumbled to this at once.

"The most aggravating part of it all was that before the party broke up I overheard one of the girls saying to the other, 'I knew Lou would get him; she played the part beautifully!'

I paused in my story and waited for criticisms. I always like to hear when I tell children stories what they are going to say about them. I would rather have the criticism of a child on any tale a child can understand than that of the best literary critic.

"Papa," said Susie, "isn't it funny that Lou's name was the same as mamma's?"

"It is kind of queer," I replied, "isn't it? And they both had the same faculty of getting ahead of me in the end. One Lou did it in the beginning and the other has done it ever since!"

Nerviline is a Trusty Liniment

"I have had a long experience in treating horses, and I can safely say that I know of no liniment for strains, sprains, and swelling that is so useful around the stable as Nerviline." Thus writes Mr. Joshua E. Murchison, from his home, Crofts Hill P. O. I had a fine young mare that wrenched her right fore leg, and from the shoulder down she was stiff, sore and swollen. I applied Nerviline, and it worked like a charm; in fact, that mare was in shape to work a day after I used Nerviline.

"We have used Nerviline on our farm for twenty-five years and never found it wanting. For man or beast it is a wonderful liniment."

We have received nearly five thousand letters, recommending Nerviline as a general household liniment, as an all-round cure for aches and pains. One million bottles used each year. Try it yourself. Large bottles of Nerviline 50c; trial size, 25c. All dealers, or The Catarrhzone Company, Kingston, Ont.

Toronto Markets.
Toronto, April 18.—Receipts at the city cattle market were: 48 cars, with 605 head of cattle, 560 sheep and lambs, 500 hogs, 420 calves and 12 horses.
The market has hardly yet "come back" to normal conditions, after the active trading of the past two weeks, prior to the holidays. To-day's offerings were very light, consisting of only about 600 head of cattle. Owing to such a light run there was a moderately active demand, and prices held steady to firm at yesterday's quotations. A few extra choice selected butcher steers sold around the $6 mark, two or three steers topping the market at $6.10.
The general run of medium choice loads of butcher steers and heifers were steady at $5.25 to $5.80, and good cows and bulls at $4.50 to $5; common to good mixed butchers, $3.75 to $4.75.
Sheep and lambs, unchanged.

OBITUARY.
Donald McLean passed away at his home on lot 20, con. 12, Brooke, on Tuesday morning, April 18th, 1911, in his 81st year. During his long life he had always enjoyed good health and was only ill for a few days before his death. The funeral took place on Thursday afternoon, service being held at the home by the Rev. J. U. Stewart, of Naspier, pastor of the Presbyterian church, a very large number of relatives and friends attending, notwithstanding the disagreeable weather and bad state of the roads. The pall bearers were D. McGugan, M. McNicol, W. A. McDonald, Dun McLachlan, H. Holbrook and W. Styles. The remains were laid to rest in the Alvinston cemetery. Deceased was a native of North Uist, Scotland, and came to this country with his parents in the year 1849. He was one of Brooke's pioneers, having settled there in 1850 and resided continuously on the one farm until his death. In those days of sixty years ago, farm work was all done by hand, and what is now a smiling landscape, a then virgin forest, consequently all the trials and drawbacks of the early pioneer were his. Mr. McLean took an intelligent interest in everything that tended for the welfare of the township. In religion he was a staunch Presbyterian, and in politics a Liberal. He took a deep and kindly interest in all matters that he considered for the good of his fellow-man. For many years he occupied the position of elder in the church. Just and upright in all his dealings, quiet and unassuming in his demeanor, he was an example to those around him, and he never neglected an opportunity of doing all in his power to promote God fearing and loving principles and to do all that a kindly disposed person and good neighbor could do for the welfare of the community in which he lived. His wife, who was Miss Rachel McLean of McGillivray township, predeceased him some twenty-one years ago. From the union four children were born, but only one son, Lockie, survives him. Another son, Roderick, died just two months ago. Deceased also leaves two brothers, Hugh of the 12th line, and Alexander, of London, and one sister, Miss Mary McLean, who resided with him.

Taylor—Lucas.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lucas, 12th line, Brooke, was the scene of a very pleasant event on Thursday, April 13th, it being the marriage of their youngest daughter, Olive Louise, to Albert H. Taylor, one of Brooke's most prosperous and popular young farmers. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. P. Irwin, B.A., of Watford, in the presence of 100 invited guests. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Pearl Saunders, Watford, while Frank Lucas, cousin of the groom, as ringbearer, looked beautiful in a white silk frock trimmed with valenciennes lace insertion and carried the ring in a basket of pink geraniums. Promptly at the appointed hour the bridal party took their places under a beautiful arch of evergreens and carnations to the strains of the bridal chorus from Lohengrin, played by Miss Mae Lucas, cousin of the bride. The groom's presents to the bride and bridesmaid were chipped diamond brooches, the groomsmen a pearl stickpin and to the ringbearer a gold bracelet. After the usual congratulations the company sat down to a bountiful repast. The bride, who was one of Sutorville's most highly esteemed young ladies, received a large number of handsome and costly presents among them being a $100 check from the father of the groom. The evening was spent in music and dancing. The selections given by Mr. J. Inc. Davis with his gramophone were loudly applauded. The happy young couple left Friday morning for Toronto and other Eastern points amid showers of rice and confetti to spend several days and on their return will take up their abode in their comfortable residence, lot 2 con. 12, Brooke. With them goes the best wishes of the community. Guests were present from Branford, Petrolia, Glencoe, Forest, Warwick and Brooke. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will be at home to their friends after May 1st.

Committed Suicide.
Residents of the Enniskillen township were greatly shocked last Saturday morning, upon learning that John Armstrong, a well-known farmer, residing with his father, on lot 27, con. 14, Enniskillen, had committed suicide by hanging. The unfortunate man had gone to the barn that morning to attend to the chores. These duties he performed and it is supposed he then secured a rope and hanged himself. He was found by Mr. Morningstar, a Wanstead grocer, who called to take the family orders. Mr. Armstrong, Sr., not knowing what brand of tobacco his son smoked, said he would go out and enquire, but Morningstar, being the younger, volunteered to go. Upon going into the barn he was almost overcome by the sight that met him. He called to the elder Armstrong and later the body was cut down. Coroner Calder, of Petrolia, was summoned and decided that an inquest was unnecessary as it was a clear case of self-destruction.
