Huerta's Formal Acceptance of Mediation Sent to the Spanish Ambassador at Washington

HUERTA ACCEPTED MEDIATION TEXT OF MESSAGE WITHHELD PEACE ENVOYS IN CONFERENCE

Way is Now Paved for Direct Negotiations to Bring Peace to Mexico — Both Governments Will Be Asked to State Their Demands as Initial Step.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Formal acceptance by the Huerta Government of the offer of Argentina, Brazil and Chile to use their good offices to bring about an amicable settlement of the difficulty between the United States and Mexico, was cabled to Spanish Ambassador Riano here tonight by Portillo y Rojas, foreign minister in the Huerta cabinet.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Senor Rojas' note was transmitted at once to the three South American diplomats, who began a conference which lasted far into the night, discussing the next move in their peace plans. Secretary Bryan, on the part of the United States, having accepted the offer of the good offices when tendered Saturday, the first step now is completed and the way paved for actual negotiations looking to a peaceful clearing up of the situation.

Neither Ambassador Riano nor the peace envoys would make public the text of the Huerta acceptance. It was said, however, that Senor Rojas replied briefly, accepting the offer and thanking the South American plenipotentiaries and the Spanish ambassador for their good offices, with a reference to "the real spirit of solidarity between people of the same race."

Request for Statements.
No conditions are imposed in an offer of good offices, consequently the reply from Mexico City was not expected to deal with conditions. That stage will be reached when the peace-makers formulate their plans and make known how they propose to use the good offices which have been accepted. It was suggested tonight that they probably would ask the Washington and Mexico City governments tomorrow for statements as to what each would demand in the event formal mediation were undertaken, and that upon the nature of the responses to this request would depend the proposals next to be submitted.

Outlook Much Better.
White House officials let it be known that they were earnestly desirous of aiding the South American diplomats in every way possible, and that no announcements as to points that would be insisted upon by the United States (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1.)

PORFIRIO DIAZ MEXICO'S HOPE

Former President of Colombia Asks Belligerents to Call in Ex-Ruler as Arbitrator

Canadian Press Despatch.
PARIS, April 27.—Gen. Rafael Reyes, former president of the Republic of Colombia, today sent the following cablegram to President Wilson, Provisional President Huerta, Venustiano Carranza and Francisco Villa:

"The cause of America and of humanity obliges me to indicate to you how urgent it is to have recourse to the undoubted moral authority of the great Porfirio Diaz, author of the progress realized by Mexico, for solving the crisis."

"I had proposed this last year, at Havana and the principal chiefs of Mexico had accepted it before the assassination of President Madero."

"Gen. Porfirio Diaz is strong both physically and intellectually. The hour has struck to save Mexico in this way."

Gen. Reyes had been in communication with Gen. Diaz at Monte Carlo, but whether the former Mexican President is aware of the sending of the telegram is not known. Gen. Reyes sent it after consultation with prominent Mexicans and South American citizens residing in Paris. He says he hopes the suggestion upon its own merits will find acceptance at Washington and with the Mexican leaders.

STARBUCK FLAG IS FLYING OVER VERA CRUZ

Formal Occupation of Port Indicated by Salute and Dress Parade — Funston's Troops Arrive — Rebels Side Strongly With U. S. Forces.

Canadian Press Despatch.
VERA CRUZ, April 27.—With all ceremony, the raising of a salute and dress parade, the American flag was raised today over the division headquarters of Rear-Admiral Frank E. Fletcher. Over the customs house the flag has been flying since the landing of the American forces, but until now there had been no ceremony indicating the formal occupation of Vera Cruz.

The transports with Brig.-Gen. Funston's command aboard were off the port this afternoon, but there has been no indication that the military forces will be sent ashore at this time. If the army lands, the bluejackets now on duty here will board their ships, but the marines will be left for land service.

Expelled Americans.
Five Americans, who arrived by train from Mexico City today, were virtually expelled by President Huerta. They had been arrested at Pachuca for no known cause. They are: Dr. Hoskins, R. Chaffin, J. Punnett, G. G. Smith and Mr. Maddox. Dr. Hoskins was subjected to rougher treatment than the others because in his pockets were found papers indicating that he had once served as surgeon in the United States army of volunteers. These men were sent to the capital (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4.)

LABRADOR COAST ISSUE RAISED BY "ALL RED"

Ancient Dispute as to Whether Canada or Newfoundland Has Sovereignty Over Barren Shores Given New Life by Railway's Application.

By a Staff Reporter.
OTTAWA, April 27.—There was a brief discussion in the house this afternoon over the incorporation of the All-Red line railway, which involves some explanation of the long-standing dispute between Canada and Newfoundland over the Labrador Coast. The All-Red line railway as first projected was a transcontinental starting at the port of St. Charles in Labrador, running thru the Canadian far north and via the Peace River to a port on the Pacific. In the railway commission the project was considerably cut down so that the bill as it came before the house today provided for a railway from the Labrador port to the City of Quebec.

Newfoundland's Sovereignty.
Hon. J. D. Reid, acting minister of railways, said he doubted if the road would be built for many years, and Mr. E. M. Macdonald (Pictou) feared that the bill might recognize the sovereignty of Newfoundland over Labrador. He thought it most important that the Dominion of Canada should own and control all of the mainland of the continent north of the United States, and pointed out that the control of the Labrador coast was important in connection with the coming development of Hudson Bay. The prime minister pointed out that (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4.)

ULSTER POLICE WILL ARREST ARMED MEN IN MOTOR CARS PARLIAMENT TO BACK ASO WITH

Other Great Issues Joined Up With Home Rule Government Has Already Set Force at Law at Work and Liberals Stand Ready to Vindicate Crown's Authority to the Full — Troops Still in Action But Warships Are Off Bangor.

The World desires to lay before its readers what it conceives to be the situation in Great Britain today, and the dangers that threaten consequent on legislation providing home rule for Ireland.

The people of the North of Ireland are Protestants before anything else; they believe that they represent the last word in that movement for religious freedom which began with the Reformation five hundred years ago, reinforced by the execution of Charles I. by Cromwell and his army, and still further sealed by the expulsion of the Stuarts two hundred odd years ago. These three great movements established Protestantism as the dominant religious force of the British Isles, outside of the three Catholic provinces of Ireland, which have always been Catholic and are Catholic today; and it is these Catholic provinces that have fought a long and weary battle for home rule. The Protestant minority in Ireland are fighting against home rule; their attitude is a protest against any change in their present status or condition as regards religious liberty; and this change in status or condition means to these people, who believe themselves to be the heirs of the Reformation in more recent times, that they and Ireland are to be put under the rule of a majority that is Roman Catholic in religion, and who, these Protestants say, will once more put them under Catholic subjection. Religious liberty is to them more than life. Their plea is a strong one from the historic side, and appeals to Protestants generally. This is a bold, but we believe, accurate statement of the condition of mind of the Ulstermen.

But there is a question of at least equal importance to all the people in the British Isles at this moment, and that is the fate of what is called the Parliament Act, which has deprived the house of lords of its veto on political and social reforms when supported by the house of commons; that any proposal in parliament changing the constitution of the country if carried by the house of commons in three successive sessions becomes the law, and effective in spite of the opposition of the house of lords, and the loss of the aristocracy, of the established church, of the landed interests, and of many of those who have recently acquired great wealth. Shall this minority rule as it has more or less in the past?

A third significant fact in the situation is that the great bulk of the people of the British Isles, including the Irish, are in favor of progressive and radical legislation looking to the uplift of the great mass of the population of those islands, involving radical changes in the land laws, in the poor laws, in school law reform, in the drinking habits of the people, and the sale of intoxicating liquors, of social betterments in a score of ways, and these radical movements in England for all these betterments, which are supported by the great majority of the people, are more or less opposed by the aristocratic and landed interests already mentioned, and who up to the present have found themselves entrenched in the house of lords, and powerful and dominant for that reason. The people who are for these reforms—and among these reforms also comes up the question of representation by population instead of pocket constituencies, of doing away with plural voting, of elections all held on the one day—these progressives find themselves more or less opposed by the aristocratic and landed interests of the Protestants of Ireland, and their own demands for widespread social and political reforms throughout the kingdom. If they side with the Protestants, and home rule is defeated, it may mean the defeat of the Parliament Act, it may mean the restoration of the veto power of the aristocracy and landed interests, and it may mean, by equality in legislative power again secured by the house of lords, the defeat of the progressive measures that the millions of progressive voters of the kingdom have in hand at the present moment! And this must be secured without nullifying the new charter of popular government involved in the Parliament Act, and without blocking the passage of further laws for social uplift and social betterments. The hands of the clock must not be put back. And Ireland must have some kind of home rule, as England, Scotland and Wales will sooner or later have it. Yet Ulster! must be coerced!

For the time being, the Protestant party of Ireland find themselves supported in the strongest possible way by the house of lords, by the aristocracy and landed interests of the kingdom, in fighting home rule. It may be that the aristocratic party take little stock in home rule as such, that if they could a law even more radical than the bill now in parliament, and perhaps, by the support of the Nationalists of Ireland; but as a matter of fact, the landed interests and aristocracy and established church, the liquor interests, and the opponents of educational reforms are lined up with the Protestants in resisting home rule.

And so we see the country in a ferment, perhaps the military occupation of Ulster immediately at hand, civil war not far off; the question therefore arises, what shall be done in order to avoid civil war, to avoid any surrender of rights that have been secured against the aristocrats, and to prevent the return of the domination of the house of lords, and also not to stop the great current of social reform that is now under way in Britain?

To us there seems but one door open, and that is that Ulster, or, at least, Protestant Ulster, be absolutely excluded from home rule until such time as the people, thus excluded, of their own motion see fit to come under it.

The British Isles are at the moment at the top of another of the great crises that have marked their history, and out of which her people have emerged with a greater prestige than ever, and with their liberties further widened. But such a crisis calls for courage, for consideration of one another on the part of all, for statesmanship, for the upholding of equality as against privilege, for democracy against rule by a minority, however able.

Canadians have already traveled over a part of this road, and we know that the last thing to import into such a situation is religious passion, even though the end may be the attainment of another step for common betterment, for the uplift of the people who make up the British Empire, and for the improvement of a political system that is the hope of the world at large.

And who is the Canadian to say that local self-government under some system of devolution of the necessary power thereto from the supreme parliamentary authority to a secondary legislature is not a desirable thing, or that a federal system for national affairs and a local system under it for local affairs has not been the safety valve in our country, in the United States, in Australia, and in South Africa? But is it necessary to that end that the Ulstermen must be forced under home rule? A way out that will not force Ulster, that will give home rule to all the parts of the kingdom must be found.

DENVER, Col., April 27.—In a clash between strikers and mine guards late today at the McNally mine of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co., one mile west of Walsenburg, the camp was taken by the strikers, one person was shot and several buildings burned. The charge likely will be launched shortly after the opening of the house this afternoon.

ENVOYS DOUBTFUL ABOUT MEDIATION

Few European Diplomats at Washington Believe in Its Success.

NEXT MOVE NOT KNOWN

Support of Britain, Germany and France to Peace Proposals Popular.

Canadian Press Despatch.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—European diplomats in Washington, it was learned today, are pessimistic over the successful outcome of the mediation proposals by South American governments to prevent war with Mexico. While the action of Great Britain, Germany and France in urging Huerta to accept the good offices proffered by Brazil, Chile and Argentina has had an encouraging effect upon officials here, there are few who believe that success can be attained from the undertaking.

At 2 o'clock Ambassador Da Gama and Ministers Suarez and Naon ended a protracted conference as to future procedure in the mediation proposals. The no announcement was made it was reported that no definite plan for the next move had been determined.

Diplomatic Experts Gloomy.

Diplomatic experts not directly concerned in the negotiations were also far from sharing optimism manifested by some state department officials in the issue of the tender of good offices. No basis on which the negotiations were to go forward once a settlement acceptance from General Huerta had been received, had become known in diplomatic circles, where the belief was prevalent that such a basis had not yet been evolved, and that the South American envoys would find the formulation of the further plans by far the most difficult part of their task.

The utmost goodwill toward the mediation plan was displayed. It has, in fact, been tangibly manifested by the representations undertaken by the representatives of three great European powers to Huerta to induce him to accept the tender.

Huerta Agrees to First Steps.

Conferences of the Latin-American diplomats representing Brazil, Chile and Argentina, who offered their good offices to compose the Mexican situation followed quickly today, furnishing assurances from Mexico City that General Huerta had agreed to the first steps in the intermediation negotiations.

The Spanish ambassador, Mr. Riano, was in early conference with the Argentine minister, Mr. Naon, concerning the next move to be made by the mediators, and Ambassador Da Gama of Brazil with the Chilean minister, Suarez and Mr. Naon held a lengthy conference. Mr. Da Gama following this conference called upon Secretary of State Bryan, and a statement was expected later in the day relating to the next move to be made in the mediation.

Feared Fiasco Wilson.

Soon after Secretary Bryan informed President Wilson of the advice from Mexico City that Huerta had accepted the preliminary acceptance in the mediation proposals, further encouragement in the situation came in the form of a dispatch from Germany, France and Great Britain, which urged Huerta, thru their diplomatic representatives in Mexico City to yield to the American demands. When this was communicated to the president he was greatly pleased.

Later, the German ambassador, Mr. Von Bernstorff, informed Secretary Bryan that his government would support the mediation proposal.

Refugees to Leave Capital.

Another cause for optimism among Washington officials was the assurance from Admiral Badger that thru the efforts of British and German officials in Mexico apprehension over American dispatch from Admiral Badger, an official representative declared that the authorities in Mexico City had agreed to provide transportation for all Americans from Mexico City as far as Soledad, the Mexican controlled end of the railroad to Vera Cruz. It was announced that the first train with 2000 American refugees would leave Mexico City today. The conclusion of negotiations in this connection was gratifying to the president and Secretary Bryan, as well as the war department officials.

Announcement also was made today that Mexican refugees who are being held by the United States Government at Fort Bliss since the battle of Olimpa would be transferred to Fort Wingate, New Mexico, in order to get them away from the border where trouble may be expected. It is believed that Brigadier-General Bliss will start the movement of the exiles as soon as possible. Mexican soldiers and camp followers at Fort Bliss number 5,600, and some difficulty may be experienced in procuring transportation facilities.

Activity continued at the war department during the day, word being expected before night that General Funston and the troops en route to Vera Cruz, to reinforce the naval forces there, had reached their destination.

Success of the first step toward mediation, coupled with the apparent effort of the big European powers to prevent war and secure a settlement of this problem, removed from the situation some of the elements of tension which has gripped it for several days.

Chairman Stone of the senate committee on foreign relations, who conferred with the president, said that members of congress would generally approve of the mediation efforts.

The adding of European influence to the generally sympathetic attitude which practically all Latin-American diplomats here have assumed toward the mediation idea gave many administration officials a confident feeling that after all Huerta might be disposed of and the present crisis in a way satisfactory to all concerned.

GERMANY PROFFERS AID.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, informed Secretary Bryan that his government would exert its influence thru its embassy in Mexico City to have General Huerta accept the proposed mediation of the controversy between the United States and Mexico. Count Von Bernstorff called at the state department and held a brief conference with Bryan.

In the latter character, J. A. Davidson was very successful, his fine tenor voice being heard to the best advantage in "Sweetheart." The play will be repeated on Thursday next. It is the intention of the society to tour the province in the autumn with "Nautical Knaves," "The Drum Major" and "Sylvia."

PERMITS REFUGEES TO LEAVE CAPITAL

Huerta Allows Another Trainload to Start for Vera Cruz.

AVIATORS ARE ACTIVE

Prepare Machines for Service and Study Plans of Country.

Canadian Press Despatch.

VERA CRUZ, April 27.—There was rejoicing here today when word was received from the British minister, Sir Lionel Carden, in Mexico City, that Gen. Huerta had agreed to permit another trainload of refugees to leave the capital and that 250 foreigners, including Americans, would arrive in Vera Cruz tomorrow.

Previously the British minister, Sir Lionel Carden, had had information which led him to hope for the early arrival of more American refugees from Mexico City, for the better treatment of all Americans there and possibly for their eventual release.

Next in importance to these developments was the expected arrival of the brigade of troops commanded by Gen. Frederick Funston. The soldiers were expected before dark and the sailors on the line of battleships rimming the city from beyond the breakwater eagerly scanned the horizon for the smoke of the battleship Louisiana and the transports she was conveying.

While Admiral Fletcher refused to give the nature of his reassuring information from Mexico City, it was strongly intimated at headquarters that the consistent policy of lenient treatment accorded Mexicans in Vera Cruz has brought a change of heart in the capital.

May Not Extend Lines.

Because of the delicate nature of the negotiations and the number of lives which may depend upon them, it is considered probable here that no extension of the lines already established by the Americans will be attempted while the negotiations are pending. This will become a matter for Gen. Funston's consideration, since since Admiral Fletcher has already been advised that the general is to have supreme command ashore.

There was great activity today about the aviators' camp near the bathing beach, where the smooth water of the inner harbor affords every facility for arising and landing. Should the machines be required later, the aviators are ready for service and are busy studying maps of the surrounding territory.

The American aviators here are unable to predict just what disposition will be made of the first troops to land but it is supposed that the infantrymen will be used in patrolling the streets and in the vicinity of the picket lines beyond the city limits.

Cosmopolitan Gathering.

About the central plaza of the city, where the small park, brilliant with tropical growth, is surrounded on two sides by sidewalk cafes of Parisian appearance, the scene is an animated one from early morning until late at night. The tables are thronged with refugees and women of nationalities from interior points, and the discussion of the probable fate of friends and acquaintances is a never-ending one. The gathering represents every activity in the interior of Mexico in which Europeans have had a part, and many of the British subjects still wear a little Union Jack pinned to coats or dresses, which were put on when they made their way to the coast.

Anxiety knows no nationality. The British and Germans fear the wrath of the Mexican mob will make no distinction that all will share the common fate as Americans.

High Prices Prevail.

Vera Cruz stores are doing a thriving business supplying those who fled leaving everything behind. The cafes are reduced to meagre bills of fare to meet the needs of the refugees. The rum and restaurants, with truck gardeners are flocking to the southward. Peons are flocking to the city daily, their arms laden with live chickens, eggs, carried for miles to get the unusable prices which are now being offered.

Urges Women to Go.

City hotel accommodations are limited to the limit to care for the influx of refugees and the military officials continue today their efforts to induce the women at least to go to the United States. The steamer Mexico, carried over 500 when it sailed for Galveston last night, and when enough consular papers had been gathered together another ship will follow.

Capt. Stickney of the Prairie, now captain of the port, is making good progress in straightening out the customs house tangle. He found desks rife with many papers, presumably by departing federal officials, but believes they were taken in order that the officials might clear their own accounts rather than to embarrass the Americans.

Among the duties of the port captain is the overseeing of the affairs of the ancient fortress, San Juan de Uloa. There the Mexican flag is still flying and the Mexican commandant is still in control of 30 armed soldiers and 200 prisoners, many of the latter most desperate criminals. A narrow causeway connects the fortress with the shore, and this is constantly guarded, being covered by a field piece, and a machine gun, making a guard in the fortress unnecessary.

Capt. Stickney said today that it soon would be necessary to feed not only the prisoners, but the Mexican soldiers, who still bear arms in service under their own flag.

STILL ATTACK TAMPIOCO.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Constitutionalists at Tampico are continuing their attack on the city, according to a despatch from Adolfo Mayo, received at the navy department today. "The American consul at Tampico," the despatch continues, "is now on board the Dolphin with the consular force on the Des Moines. The North Dakotas had arrived at Tampico and general conditions are reported as unchanged."

FOUR MEN REPORTED KILLED.

WALSBURG, Col., April 27.—It was reported by Sheriff Jeff Farr of Huerfano County, tonight that four men had been killed in a battle between 75 mine guards and an unknown number of strikers at the Walsburg mine, two miles south of here.

Newest Cotton Weaves in "Crazy Quilt" Patterns

By MADGE MARVEL

AUNT MINERVA'S bed-quilt must have furnished the inspiration for the weavers of cottons this year. Nowhere else in the memory of the present generation have such colorings and patterns been found.

There is the identical orange with the queer leaf design in yellow and green on the cotton crepe and "povely fabric" of today that Aunt Elizabeth wore when she was a girl, and which is sprinkled sparingly over the family quilts of her day.

The design has always proved a fascinating puzzle. One way it looks like a conventionalized palm leaf. From another angle it resembles a ground. Unless you have slept in a four-post bed beneath one of these quilts, in some old village mansion, the description means nothing to you. If you have, you have recognized the repetition of the patterns in the materials of today.

"A Linen Season."
Summer clothes are a lovely problem. The looms have been so beautifully generous. Unless one has the financial resources of Sheba's queen, or the wisdom of Mrs. Solomon, she finds herself quite lost in the oceans of fascinating linens and cottons and similar fabrics which are offered for her choosing.

Bordered Goods Popular.
The bordered goods are in great demand, and the cotton chifons in black and white stripes with borders of pink and roses or panicles or primulas are being very many of the rattles and linens show the black and white checks and stripes. The linens also are exulting in the damask effect which is similar to the brocade design.

Peter's Adventures in Matrimony
By Leona Dalrymple
Author of the New Novel, "Diane of the Green Van," Awarded a Prize of $10,000 by Ida M. Tarbell and S. S. McClure as Judges.

The truth about "the girl in the case" distinguishes this new series by Miss Dalrymple. Her character studies will not appear unfamiliar to the majority of readers, who will follow the fortunes of "Peter" with growing interest.

Who is Boss?
THERE have been a great many humorous anecdotes about the head of the household, or to put it a little more brutally, who is the "boss" but I have recently had an experience which determined my status in such brief and positive terms that I shall always feel quite sure just what position I actually fill in my little household.

I have always talked a lot of idyllic stuff about partnership. I never saw any actual necessity for a "boss." I like the notion of a man and his wife talking domestic problems over amicably and adjusting them with an eye to each other's comfort and inclination.

It took a very simple thing to teach me my place—nothing more than the floor of a cold storage cellar. Mary had talked a great deal about somebody or other's cold storage cellar, and, although we had been spending entirely too much money, I eventually decided to have one end of my cellar made into a cold storage place merely so my nightly game of solitaire and my perusal of the newspaper might be uninterrupted by irrelevant and significant reference to storage facts. When a topic begins to come up every night, I will pay attention to it. I begin with a mere anecdote relating to somebody else and seem entirely impersonal, but if that anecdote is repeated several times with varying inflections to accent certain phases of it—if it begins to form an integral part of the evening's conversation—then it's pretty sure vital bearing upon your own existence.

For instance, the cold storage affair began in this way: "Mrs. Wayne," said Mary on Tuesday, "has a wonderful cold storage cellar." "Yes," said I. "Mrs. Wayne," said Mary on Wednesday, "has a wonderful cold storage cellar." "She has about everything she wants," said I. "She's lucky," said I. "Mrs. Wayne," said Mary, Thursday, "has a wonderful cold storage cellar." "Friday," said I, "has the right idea. I'm sure she saves money by it." "Very well," said I on Sunday, "we'll have one, too."

I made but one alteration in duplicating Mrs. Wayne's famous cellar. There was such a difference in cost—and my purse was so sticky—that I decided to have the floor made of sand instead of cement.

Coming home early one Saturday—before lunch, I recall—I decided to go around the back way and inspect my cellar. There were voices below discussing something with considerable energy. I heard them distinctly as I passed the window.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Neglect of Aching Feet May Lead to Many Ills

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG
A. B. M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).

JUST the other day you read in the news dispatches that a young girl who had been irritable and cross became a changed child when two distinguished orthopedic surgeons corrected the flat foot with which she had suffered for years.

This is no sensational, exaggerated or "fake" story. Despite the fact that several medical societies have thus gone on record, this is absolutely true. I do not know the surgeons, but I went out of the way to investigate carefully the accuracy of the account. It is true. Now, it may be said of the child:

"A foot more light, a step more true
N'er from the heath-flower dashed the dew,
Even the slight harebell raised its head,
Elastic from her airy tread."

If the feet play such a series of rat-a-tat-tats upon the thoughts, feelings and sensations of the individual, as seems to have been the case in this little girl's experience, it is high time that the orthodox medical associations and malaria experts interest themselves in the problem.

The small estimate placed upon the feet by most clinical professors and specialists is illustrated by the apologetic introduction to a certain volume on the form of the shoe.

The writer says, with excuses, that he scarcely dared to make public a work on the feet, and the book really originated in a jest.

Although it is a cruel dictum which should be modified a bit, Lord Palmerston almost hit the mark when he said that all shoemakers should be made "to walk the plank."

It would indeed be a happy earth if innocent, unshod feet trod as lightly upon it as does the dew. Such lightness of foot would not wear out the brain, the brawn or the body of the owner.

The language of the eye, the lip, the cheek, and the nose is no better than that of the foot. The very stairs that stride foot treads upon salutes it in friendship. While both the floor and the shoes when worn have and green and creek in almost intelligent agony.

The mental havoc caused by deformed or painful feet should be plainly apparent to physicians from those tango and blunder has been incited by the spasm, cramps, tics, agitations and galling anguish of the imperious corn.

Like the laws of the Medes and Persians, those of the Egyptians and Philistines of the fashionable world, the shoe-makers seem to be unable to change. A wide foot, a canvas-covered foot would cause neither anguish, droopy spirits, strabismus or spots.

For treading would not be a blade of grass, or shake the dewy kiesel from its slaty bed. And where she went, Sowers took tango as she had sowed them with her fragrant foot.

The Brooklet
Whispering low as it kisses the grasses,
'Ere could imagine it, lazily creeping,
Angry setting the willows a-shiver;
None could imagine it, swollen and weeping.

Over its banks, as in fury it dashes—
Lifting a plaint to the rains of the season,
Setting the dew-laden rushes a-quiver,
Pausing the shade of a moment to reason,
Hurrying, scurrying on to the river,
None who has sat on its bank in the hay-time,
Lulled by the voice of the stream as it passes,
None who has harked to its song in the May-time,

Swollen and angry it eddies and splashes;
Breaching the peace of the meadows and sweeping
Over its banks, as in fury it dashes—
Lifting a plaint to the rains of the season,
Setting the dew-laden rushes a-quiver,
Pausing the shade of a moment to reason,
Hurrying, scurrying on to the river,
None who has sat on its bank in the hay-time,
Lulled by the voice of the stream as it passes,
None who has harked to its song in the May-time,

Daddy's Good Night Story

By GEORGE HENRY SMITH

It was growing late in the hen yard, and the Big Red Rooster was winking and blinking and trying not to go to sleep.

"Cher-cho-oo!" went the Bantam Rooster so loud it made the big fellow jump.

"Pardon me. Was that sneeze intended to wake me up?" asked the Big Red Rooster.

"Well, I had to sneeze, anyway, and I thought I might as well sneeze near you," replied the Little Rooster.

"What do you want?" asked the Big Red Rooster, stretching himself.

"I wanted to ask you a question," began his companion. "What makes you so sleepy all the time? I am not sleepy all the time. I have been working hard today digging worms, and that is why I have to close my eyes and take a little snooze."

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the Bantam Rooster. "That makes me laugh. Why don't you get on the roost if you are so tired?"

"I will tell you—it's this way: The older a rooster is, the earlier he goes to bed, and you know I am quite young, and I don't want to look old. You see, Mister Plymouth Rock has gone to bed long ago, and so I look up," said the Big Red Rooster.

"My! But you are proud!" exclaimed the little fellow.

"I am not trying to tell you how proud I am. I want you to know how observing I am, that is all. You ought to have known that the younger a chicken is, the later he stays out," said the Big Red Rooster.

"I have noticed that the little chicks always come out first in the morning," replied his companion.

"That's right—use your eyes," said the big rooster.

"I have learned that long ago," said the Bantam, hopping away.

TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 28

TORONTO'S CLEAN-UP DAY.

On the first of May Toronto will have a general clean-up day. The decision is good, but in a city of this size it might have been more effective had it included a longer period. Nevertheless much can be done if the citizens prepare in advance to make the appointed day not so much the day of clean-up as that for removal of the results of the anticipatory work. Similar campaigns are in progress in various United States cities, including Chicago, Cleveland, Jersey City, Albany, Philadelphia, St. Louis and other centres. But to be effective it means organization, determination and industry.
In every citizen supports the movement for a clean city, but all do not bring home to themselves that to achieve it means individual responsibility. That should be brought home by the civic authorities acting through the various departments, and every force available should be enlisted to make the process thorough for the time being. But it must not be forgotten that even in the effort after elimination of all external causes of disease, eternal vigilance is the price of safety. Civic cleanliness should be cultivated until it becomes a habit and an instinct.

YEARS AND DAYS.

Whatever may be thought of the absence of city hall officials last week on the day of the sitting of the Dominion Railway Board, it is clear from the remarks of Chairman Drayton that when the date was set for the meeting he was under the impression that the city had been already supplied with the new station plans. As this was not the case, and it was unreasonable to suppose that the plans could be examined on such short notice, the meeting was properly and reasonably adjourned. The mayor and the commissioner of works had left the city on civic business on Tuesday, and the plans were not on hand till Wednesday.

After waiting ten years it is not too much to ask for a few days in which to examine plans which, presumably, it has taken a larger part of the past ten years to prepare. Even Rome was not built in a day, and the portentous structure which, one might judge from the preparations, might be decorating the Toronto of the twenty-fifth century, need not be unduly hastened at this early stage.

EUTHENICS.

The Hamilton Spectator charges us with coining a new word, the word euthenics, and asks for its derivation. If we coined it, it is so long ago that we have forgotten the incident, and little things like that do not stick in our mind. We should be glad to be able to claim credit for the word, which is quite a useful one and has been doing duty for the last ten years or more. Dr. Hastings used it in that familiar way with which the city experts dazzle country editors, but if the "Spec" would buy an up-to-date dictionary it might be able to spell thru the Toronto papers.

SCOTTISH HOME RULE.

In the earlier part of the current month the annual convention of the Royal Burghs of Scotland met at Edinburgh. This very old assembly, which, of recent years, has taken on a new lease of life dates from remote antiquity. Its representative capacity can be judged from the fact that there are now on the roll over two hundred Scottish burghs, and of the city population of Scotland, numbering 3,141,631, no less than 3,139,698 participate, thru their delegates in the convention. This is far more than half the total population of the nation, and the convention, without exaggeration, may therefore be characterized as a reflection of the opinion of the vast majority of the Scottish people.

Among the reports submitted was that of the committee on local self-government presented by ex-Provost Keith of Hamilton. In submitting it he said that for many years complaints had been rife in regard to the difficulty of getting Scottish legislation thru parliament, even of the most obvious type. This remark is thoroughly justified. Scotland, in many respects one of the most advanced and progressive in the world, has been continually held back for no other reason than that England was less progressive and that the legislative Scotland desired might have an educative influence on English opinion. The convention is not a political organization and, in point of fact, steers clear of controversial politics. Nevertheless the committee was constrained to report that "the federal system of local government affords a possible means of relieving the imperial parliament from the weight of local legislative detail. It should be applied to suitable divisions of the kingdom where the inhabitants have racial and national instincts and traditions." The committee also indicated its opinion that "such a system will broaden the basis of imperial government and prepare the way to world-wide federation of the empire—if not to world-wide federation of the English-speaking races."

These latter consequences may be more or less remote, certainly they are not yet within the range of practical politics. But the fact that the committee report was adopted shows that Scottish opinion as voiced by the burghs of the nation is distinctly favorable to national self-government. This is not surprising, for although Scotland has in the end had its way, its progress has been hampered and obstructed by political influences originating outside of Scotland. It is also significant that the issue of woman franchise was introduced into the discussion, and the recommendation was finally adopted with the addition that the franchise under local self-government should be as wide as the existing municipal franchise which concedes the principle of the equal franchise.

CONTRAST IN POLICY.

After an absence of four years, Sir George Reid, the high commissioner in London, for Australia, recently returned from an extended visit to the commonwealth. Interviewed on his arrival in the imperial metropolis, his remarks on the Australian situation are noteworthy if only because of the way in which they illustrate the wide difference between it and that of Canada. Without attempting to forecast the result, that whatever it may be, will afford material for valuable comparison in days to come. The Dominion and the commonwealth are both British self-governing states with their distinct but allied problems, but they have faced these in a widely divergent way.

In Sir George Reid's opinion the Australian states are now in a stronger position financially than they ever were before. Their public services and utilities, which represent by far the larger part of their borrowings, have proved themselves splendid investments. Not only have they added to the public wealth, but they have quietly increased the rewards of private enterprise in other departments of national activity. In spite of the frequent reductions in freight rates, Sir George Reid is reported to have said, the Australian railways, run in the public interest, pay their way and show a handsome surplus. Some of the Australian states, he added, are the greatest landowners and landlords in the world, only seven per cent. of the three million square miles of Australian territory having been sold into private land.

SEALING DISASTER DEATH OF MANY

Losses in Newfoundland Accident Total Two Hundred and Fifty.

OTTAWA, April 27.—W. B. Nicholson, Canadian trade commissioner at Newfoundland, that the total loss of life in the recent Newfoundland sealing disaster will run to 250. In view of the extent of the calamity the government has under consideration an increase of the grant made to the Newfoundland Government for the survivors. Mr. Nicholson reports that there is no doubt now that the Southern Cross, which had 175 men on board, has gone down with all on board. A letter is expected daily giving full details of the loss of the Southern Cross. The first ship lost was the Newfoundland. Sixty-nine bodies from this ship were brought in by the Bellissima. Eight men were missing, who it was supposed had walked off the ice. The mourning when these 89 men were brought in was almost indescribable. CANADIAN CLUB IS STILL BOOMING

Membership Now Over Fifteen Hundred—C. Leslie Wilson Elected President

John R. Bone, retiring president, congratulated the members of the Canadian Club at the annual meeting at McConkey's last night on the most prosperous year of its history. The membership shows a net gain of 286, raising the total to 1544. The finances are in excellent condition, having a surplus of $2000.

George Wilkie, past president, reviewed the history of the club, contrasting conditions of 17 years ago with the present. At that time trade and population were stagnant and meetings in favor of annexation were being held in various parts of Ontario. He believed the future duty of the Canadian Club was to educate the public of Ontario in the good qualities of the people, both of Western Canada and of Quebec, and to make a sympathetic study of the problems which menace the fellowship from the east and the west.

The following officers were elected: President, C. Leslie Wilson; vice-president, George H. Locke; Prof. E. J. Kytke; hon. sec., Percy Brown; hon. treas., F. D. L. Smith.

CABLE TELLS HOW CAPT. BROWN DIED

Detailed Account of Shooting Affray on Indian Frontier Received in Toronto.

Further particulars in regard to the death of Capt. G. Brown were received by the despatch agency yesterday. Capt. Brown, parliament buildings, yesterday. The despatch says: "On the evening of April 12 Major Dodd and Capt. Brown were sitting outside the parliament buildings, near the Indian Mission, when a party of five men, armed with a five-shot Mauser magazine rifle, firing soft-nosed bullets, in the pursuit of the culprit, who was finally shot by the constabulary, Lieut. Hoke was mortally wounded; two chowkidars were wounded also."

"Major Dodd is progressing favorably, but I deeply regret to report that Capt. Brown died on the 13th. The only motive that appears for the crime is that a railway check, value Rs. 250 (Rs. 25), due to the murderer's cousin, was stopped pending the restoration of some stolen property."

ODORLESS SEWAGE DISPOSAL PLANT

Toronto to Benefit by Trip of Officials to Atlanta, Ga.

Toronto has now the assurance that an absolutely odorless sewage disposal works will hereafter be placed at the outlet of every trunk sewer. Mayor Hocken and Commissioner Harris returned from Atlanta, Ga., yesterday and report that the sewage disposal works there is absolutely odorless. It is the Imhoff tank system.

"After the sludge has been treated you can hold it to your nose and it has no more odor than clean dry earth," Mayor Hocken stated. "Everything putrescent is taken from the sludge and the material is like baked earth. It is utilized for filling in hollows. Here it can be used for filling in Ashbridge's Bay."

"At Atlanta the sewage is deposited in the Imhoff tank, which is uncovered, and the sludge is treated without a covering. Although the weather was very warm when we were there we could detect no odor at the works. The effluent from the trickling filter went into a creek. On account of the winter the tanks here will have to be covered. We will replace as soon as possible the sewage disposal works at Ashbridge's Bay with the Imhoff tank system, and there will be no more nuisance from odors."

"The sewage disposal works that will be placed in the Don Valley at the two outlets of the North Toronto drainage system will not now be offensive to anyone."

STATION PLANS NOT HELD UP BY CITY

Mayor Points Out That Notice Came After He Had Left for South.

"Toronto has not held up the plans for the new Union Station and viaduct," Mayor Hocken declared last night. "Legally, we are entitled to ten days' time for considering the plans submitted last Saturday by the Toronto Terminal Co."

"As I view the situation, those who submitted the plans on 24 to 48 hours' notice to the city, and expected approval forthwith of the plans, do not seem to be careful of the city's interests in a three million dollar proposition."

Notice that the plans would be submitted to the city on Saturday was given to the city after Mayor Hocken and Commissioner Harris had left for Atlanta, Ga., to be away a week. Corporation Counsel Geary, who was in Washington, did his utmost to return in time on Saturday to be at the sitting of the Dominion Railway Board, but was prevented by a wreck on the railway.

As it turned out, the plans were strongly objected to by the postoffice authorities, and may be held up for a considerable time on that account. The plans are to be submitted to the city officials on May 5.

COL. FRANK MOSBY ON GETTYSBURG
 Greatest Living Irregular Cavalry Leader Addresses Local Officers.

DEFENDS "JEB" STUART
 Ex-Confederate Officer Refights Famous Battle of Civil War.

The Battle of Gettysburg was described to Toronto cavalrymen by Col. Frank S. Mosby at the Military Institute last night, in a manner which should make it live forever in their memory.

The speaker, who is a man of exceptional physique for so great an age as 81, spoke for 90 minutes and never once did his voice fall him when describing the great conflict which was the turning point of the campaign between the northern and southern States.

He dealt in detail, yet in a manner which did not weary his listeners, the commencement of the march to Gettysburg to the final struggle.

A considerable part of his speech was taken up in defending the actions of his friend and superior, Gen. Stuart, who was accused of disobeying orders, but who, the speaker claimed, had carried out the exact orders received.

He declared that had Gen. Meade delayed his start from headquarters two hours in order to receive certain despatches, "the greatest of all world's battles" would never have been fought.

The colonel compared many of the actions of the various leaders with those of great European generals in other big fights.

One point which was noticed throughout the lecture was the complete modesty of the speaker. Never once did he refer to any action of his own; in fact, as the evening wore on, he seemed to be one of the chief actors in the battle.

In proposing a vote of thanks to the speaker, Col. George T. Denison paid Col. Mosby the highest compliment by referring to him as the greatest of all cavalry leaders.

At the close of the evening the American consul was introduced to the members of the institute.

FRENCH ELECTION REMAINS IN DOUBT
 Result of Second Balloting Must Be Awaited—Government Loses Ground.

Canadian Press Despatch.
 PARIS, April 27.—Altho 351 deputies were definitely chosen in yesterday's general election for the French Chamber of Deputies, the country will have to await the result of the 351 second ballots on May 10 before it can tell whether the present government will obtain a majority.

The known results do not indicate any remarkable change in the composition of the Chamber. The combination of groups led by former Premier Aristide Briand and Louis Barthou, known as the Bloc National, and the Bloc of the left, was more favored by the voters than the groups forming the present government's majority.

This may undergo a change at the second ballot, and it may be necessary to make a test vote in the chamber itself before it can be known with certainty whether the government will stand or not, as the 602 deputies are divided into thirteen groups.

HOIST CREW SHOULD HAVE USED MORE CARE
 Jury's Opinion After Investigating Death of Man Killed in Elevator Shaft.

"We are of the opinion that the crew of the elevator should have exercised greater care." This is a rider that was added by Coroner Dr. C. W. Brand to the verdict in the case of the death of Louis Prior, who was killed on April 20 by having his head crushed in an elevator shaft at the Dominion Bank building.

The crew of the elevator were John Jones and Joe Claxie, and previous to the accident they started one floor and a half above where Prior was placing doors on the shaft, to come down to the basement.

When giving evidence at the morgue last night they swore that they rang a song twice and hollered "Heads in below" before starting. Several other witnesses called, swore that they did not hear any warning.

League baseball is well under way, with the new Federal organization showing a healthy stride. It came regardless of the opposition of those who claimed proprietorship of the whole field and notwithstanding the much-vaunted reserve clause that was supposed to nullify a player down for ever if once signed a contract.

The Chicago Federals are also beating the old majors as an attraction in about the same proportion as at Baltimore. In fact, the latest information is to the effect that the Federals are thriving handsomely everywhere except Kansas City, which club is likely to be shunted on short notice to some other city.

LIBERAL POLICY WAS DENOUNCED

Hon. Geo. E. Foster Gave Address at Conservative Association Banquet.

NO TARIFF JUGGLING

Sane Retrenchment Will Restore Former Financial Condition.

Hon. George E. Foster ridiculed and denounced the Liberal party's attitude toward the Dominion Government's tariff policy in his speech before the Toronto (Riding) Liberal-Conservative Association at the Carle-Rite Hotel last night.

It was in telling what the opposition at Ottawa was doing that Hon. Mr. Foster spoke of the tariff. "For two and one-half years," he said, "the opposition has been brooding, planning to reach a point where they can again express themselves on the tariff. And now we have it."

"Put it before you and you will decide it isn't free trade, for there isn't a word in their resolution that would show it. Neither is there talk of a doubled British preference until free trade with Great Britain is reached. Nor is there reciprocity. That is absolutely cast aside."

Not Consistent. Six weeks ago Sir Wilfrid Laurier had declared himself for "free food," yet no mention was made of this either in the Liberal resolution. "So nineteenth-twentieths of the tariff regulations stand as we brought them down, and the remainder do not lower the cost of living or bring free food," he said.

Mr. Foster also spoke of the so-called national depression. This was the only thing the opposition agreed on. There was no use blinking at this depression, if such it could be termed, yet it was characterized by healthful increases in financial returns. No tariff juggling would restore former conditions, but the remainder of the tariff would be international.

He also blamed the senate for holding up Canada's "naval debt to Great Britain," and the good roads appropriation.

W. K. McNaught, M.L.A., dealt with provincial politics, Ontario Conservative and the resignation of the late premier, and he expressed his support for the party again.

The vice-president of the association, R. G. Sturges, president among the speakers, were F. W. Ellis, Col. George Sterling Ryerson, Mayor Hocken, ex-Ald. M. Rawlinson and Sir John Willison.

B. S. Campbell of Montreal has resigned on an agitation for the relaxation of existing regulations. This matter was up before the Dominion Senate at night out that, on the contrary, the regulations along these lines should be more stringent. Another resolution passed regarding the executive committee of the record committee, William Simard, M.P., be empowered to select a committee of Canadian thoroughbred breeders to appear before the senate committee to give evidence.

The purchasing of the French-Canadian records about the year 1906, the inspection of horses in Quebec for foundation stock and the agreement alleged to have been entered into by Hon. Sydney Flavel, ex-minister of agriculture, allowing stations of other breeds to be admitted, was brought up and a resolution declaring that the record board would not tolerate such an action in the future, was passed.

FRANCE VOTES TO STRENGTHEN ARMY

Barthou, Author of Military Bill, Easily Re-Elected—Federation Endorsed.

PARIS, France, April 27.—An examination of the completed returns in the general election for the chamber of deputies shows that France wants neither revolution nor reaction. The new chamber will differ little in its composition from the old.

The political leaders consider that the country has given a clear indication that it favored the program of the Briandist federation. A large number of Cautious Radicals threw over the official program of the party adopted at the Pau Congress and substituted many articles of the Briandists. The principal interest centered in the country's verdict on the armament question, and the electorate accepted the additional military burden. Ex-Premier Barthou, who was responsible for the passage of the bill increasing the period of military service to three years, was re-elected by an overwhelming majority, as were also Louis L. Klotz, minister of the interior in the Barthou cabinet, and Alexandre Millerand, ex-minister of war.

By Ed. Mack

A charmingly picturesque and amusing musical comedy fresh from Daly's Theatre, London, was produced at the Princess last night. "The Marriage Market," as it is called, has a good book and a brightly written score which is superior to the average opera. The company is not too strong in vocal talent, but is satisfactory and May de Souza and Carroll McNamee acquit themselves very pleasantly. There is a story to the effect that in California an old Spanish custom had established a marriage market where people got married for a day. The sheriff decided that the marriages on this occasion will be genuine and several people who have no business there except for comic opera purposes get hitched up in fun. The rest of the comedy is devoted to getting them to love with each other and the links removed. One of the girls is a senator's daughter, and the senator had tricked the hero's father out of all his money. These facts prolong the singing and dancing and exquisite costumes and gorgeous scenery thru three acts. The first is a lovely view of a California mountain district. The second act is a dazzling appointed yacht scene since the original "Marriage Market" was set on the sea and bridge took the place of the yacht. The third carried the audience to the senator's palace for the purpose of exhibiting some special dancing by Donald Brian and Cleve Sewell in "The Futurist Twist," the "Hesitation" waltz and the "Maxie."

A succession of costumes by Lord and Taylor of London begins with cowboys and Spanish girls in the first act. In the yacht scene the naval uniforms mingle with exquisite gowns, and a troupe of misadventurers made a dainty back drop for a fine hornpipe. At night fall the electric lights flash out on a dazzling and effective tableau. Percival Knight, as Lord Hurlingham, sings a lot of good humor, which arises out of the stage situation, and is not tugged in by main force. Some of the songs are of the "Covey" type, but there was constant laughter. Hurlingham was a constant source of merriment to the audience. In an explosion of the "One I Love," by Mr. Brian and Miss De Souza, the "Erease" romance's sing, "All the Little Ladies," Mr. Brian, "Oh, How Near!" Mr. Brian and Miss De Souza, Miss De Souza's whistling numbers in the second and third acts. The "Duet" by Miss De Souza and Mr. Knight were the favorites and frequently encored.

The chorus was good and their songs were pleasing. Just before the intermission "Big Jim," a brown bear, was introduced. After dancing the tango and the mazurka, he engaged in a wrestling bout and came off victorious. A travesty on "Within the Law," entitled "Without the Law," was staged.

"The Call of the Heart," which opened at the Grand Opera House last night, is an unusual and acceptable offering. "Rained In" is a bright act between Lesley and Harney, in which, during a shower of rain, a dinner is cooked under quite exciting conditions. Josie Heather, who is a very pretty dressmaker, and who recalls some very pretentious situations, evoked rounds of side-splitting laughter. The number is doubtless clever, but rather hard on English taste. There is some skillful juggling by Kip and Kippy in their act with the balls, plates, umbrellas and other vehicles of their art. This is one of the cleverest features of the bill.

"Rained In" is a bright act between Lesley and Harney, in which, during a shower of rain, a dinner is cooked under quite exciting conditions. Josie Heather, who is a very pretty dressmaker, and who recalls some very pretentious situations, evoked rounds of side-splitting laughter. The number is doubtless clever, but rather hard on English taste. There is some skillful juggling by Kip and Kippy in their act with the balls, plates, umbrellas and other vehicles of their art. This is one of the cleverest features of the bill.

COMMITTEE DEALS WITH FREE TOLLS

Senate Will Take Some Time to Dispose of Canal Question.

Canadian Press Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, April 27.—Hearings on the bill to repeal the free tolls provision of the Panama Canal Act were closed tonight and the senate committee tomorrow will begin consideration of a report to the senate. It is said tonight to be about evenly divided for and against repeal.

Chairman O'Gorman thought the executive deliberations must last two days, but it seemed practically certain that a majority will favor some sort of report, so that the measure may be brought before the open senate during the present week.

Senator Simmons, who has been prominent in the fight for repeal, said the committee might report with an amendment which would declare in substance that the United States waives no rights over the canal.

Others suggested that being in the division in the committee a report without any recommendation whatever would be looked for. In any case, the big fight on repeal will be made on the senate floor, where the debate is expected to last several weeks.

Nine Aldermen Resign From Committees Owing to Method of Choosing.

Canadian Press Dispatch.
MONTREAL, April 27.—As a protest against the manner in which the special committee of the city council were formed by the alleged reactionary majority, nine members of the council today resigned from the various committees. They are: Ald. Boyd, O'Connell, Macdonald, Bastien, Narcisse, Lapointe, Blumenthal, Hushion, Weidman and Rubenstein. Heated scenes followed the reading of the letters of resignation, which were received with sarcastic comment from the reactionaries. It is charged that the committees were framed up at a caucus in which the English-speaking and a few of the progressive French-speaking aldermen were not invited.

Ald. L. A. Lapointe, leader of the council, who played a leading part in the arrangement of committees, accused the English-speaking members of forming a conspiracy. This was combated warmly by the reactionaries, who pointed out that long-standing French colleagues like L. Bastien and N. Lapointe, refused to countenance the insulting method by which the committees were fixed up.

RAIN BRINGS JOY TO WHEAT BEARS

Moisture in Winter and Spring Crop Belts Improves Outlook.

CHICAGO, April 27.—Beneficial rains throughout most of the winter and spring crop belts had more influence in making the wheat market bearish today than the assumed outlook for peace. The price, which was comparatively steady, moved up to 1/2 cent decline. Other leading staples, as well as wheat, all finished at a loss—corn 1/4 to 1/2, oats 1/4 to 1/2, and provisions 1/4 to 1/2.

Weather and crop news almost monopolized attention in the wheat pit, especially after trading was fairly under way. Flour speculators nearly without exception lined up on the selling side, and also did a number of commission houses. Another set of buyers, however, had a good many resting orders to buy on a break. The May option in particular received support of this description, seemingly the result of elevator interests taking action with a rather firm hand.

Corn Also Lower.—Corn values ranged lower in sympathy with wheat, and as a result of the failure of cash demand to follow the recent upswing. Cash concerns and shorts were active buyers on the decline.

In the provision crowd, selling by tongue and padlock made quotations suffer from the start. Ideas of profits from a war surge seemed for the time being to vanish.

CATTLE PRICES WERE HIGHER

Sheep, Lambs, Calves and Hogs Were Unchanged.

Receipts of live stock at the Union yards yesterday were 64 carloads, comprising 1181 cattle, 779 hogs, 30 sheep and 98 calves.

The quality of the fat cattle was fair to good, with a few choice lots. Mixed thruput.

Trade was active at an advance of 1/2 to 3/4 on the steers and heifers, and in one or two instances, for extra choice last Thursday. Any cattle weighing over 1200 lbs. did not seem to have the call, steers and heifers in prices for choice beef steers, $3.60 to $3.75; good beef steers, $3.50 to $3.60; extra quality baby beef steers, $3.40 to $3.50; that were at $3.50 per cwt., but this isolated case was not registered as a criterion of the market values.

Cow prices advanced fully 25c per cwt. over the close of last week. Stockers and feeders were firm at Milkers and springers were unchanged. Year calves, sheep and lambs were firm on account of light Canadian supply. Spring lambs were scarce and sold at $1.25 to $1.40 per head.

MILKERS AND SPRINGERS.
Receipts were not large, and more than twelve or fifteen being offered. These sold from $5.00 to $5.50 each.

The run of calves was light, only 98. Prices were firm; choice calves sold at $9 to $10 per cwt.; good, $8 to $9; common, $6.25 to $7.

Sheep and Lambs.
Receipts of sheep and lambs were not as large as last week. Choice sheep, $3.50 to $3.75; good to choice, $3.25 to $3.50; medium, $3.00 to $3.25; common, $2.75 to $3.00. Spring lambs at $7 to $7.50; good, $6.50 to $7; medium, $6.25 to $6.50; common, $6 to $6.25.

BIRDMAN CIRCLED BAY IN HYDRO BIPLANE
T. G. Macaulay Made Two Aerial Flights From Sand Bar to Water Front.

T. G. Macaulay, the aviator, skimed over the surface of Toronto Bay from the island sand bar and back twice in the new Curtiss hydro-biplane yesterday morning. He did not attempt to reach any altitude remaining within ten feet of the water's surface throughout the flight and often skimming along on it. Five minutes was all that was required to make the journey from the city to the island and back. He is to continue the flying experiments on the bay for some days yet.

MONTREAL CATTLE PRICES ARE STEADY

Supply and Demand About Equal—Day's Range of Quotations.

MONTREAL, April 27.—Offerings at the C.P.R. live stock market were 550 cattle, 50 sheep and lambs, 1500 hogs and 900 calves.

There was no actual change in the market for cattle as compared with this day week, the feeling being steady because of the fact that the supply was about equal with requirements, but the feeling impression was that prices were generally better than at the present prices as the supply was fairly large and the gathering of buyers was fairly large and the weather was fine and cool the day before yesterday.

Prices for choice steers were $3.25 to $3.50; good to choice, $2.75 to $3.00; medium, $2.50 to $2.75; common, $2.25 to $2.50. Choice cows, $2.50 to $2.75; good to choice, $2.25 to $2.50; medium, $2.00 to $2.25; common, $1.75 to $2.00. Choice calves, $4.50 to $4.75; good to choice, $4.25 to $4.50; medium, $4.00 to $4.25; common, $3.75 to $4.00.
