Must Preserve for Borden Promises Support

Following Adoption of Patriotic Resolution by Representative Gathering, Minister of Militia Receives a Deputation.

(From the Sunday World.) Moved by Principal Burwash and seconded by C. A. Brown— That in the opinion of this meeting the preservation of these historic grounds should be considered a sacred trust, not merely for the citizens of Toronto, but for the people of the province and Dominion at large.

The lieutenant-governor and other industrial citizens made powerful speeches Saturday afternoon against the proposed sale of the historic fort. It was the occasion of a protest meeting convened by the Ontario Historical Society held in the fort.

The ladies, many of whom represented the Women's Historical Society, included Lady Edgar, Miss A. Fitzgibbon, Miss S. Mickle, Miss M. Hill, Miss Livingston, Miss J. A. McMillan, Miss Moore, Miss Morris, Miss James Woodward, Mrs. Bolton, Mrs. Hedley, Mrs. Josephine MacCallum, Mrs. J. G. Smallpiece, Miss Mary Leeson, Mrs. J. F. Smith, Miss Scott, Miss Merrick, Mrs. Chancellor Burwash, Mrs. MacKellar, Miss Cox, Mrs. Howitt and Mrs. Chalmers.

"This old fort," said Lieutenant-Governor Clark, in opening the proceedings, "is one of the landmarks of Toronto. It dates back to the time of the American occupation. It is a scandalous thing to find that bodies of these men, who fell in the service of this great empire, are to be made to make way for the killing of pigs."

"Now we are to be invaded again and partially destroyed by the attack of the company of officers of the City of Toronto to prevent that invasion and to encourage the citizens will be encouraged in a resolution for the preservation of this sacred landmark."

RARE FIND IN AN OLD BOX PICKED UP AT AUCTION SALE Bought Haphazard for $2.50, It Contains Irish Relics and Chinaware Worth in the Hundreds.

Frank Walsh, a bricklayer living at 514 East King-street, struck luck on Friday afternoon when he bought a large box, the contents of which he did not know, from Charles Henderson, the auctioneer. He paid $2.50 for the box, which was found to contain about 400 worth of antiques, gathered and sent to this country from the Emerald Isle.

Even Walsh did not think enough of his purchase to open it until he had removed it to his home. On the top he found three moth-eaten blankets. Then there were a number of Irish black-thorn cases, some of the thorns being extremely hard and sharp.

One of them, labelled "an officer's", was invaded by our neighbors to the south. This fort played a very important part in the protection of Toronto, not merely as a matter of defence and deep regret if, for commercial purposes, this fort should be allowed to be destroyed.

HOSE WAGON BY ONLY 10 FEET ESCAPES FAST-MOVING TRAIN IN DASHING TO FAIR GROUNDS Close Call for Fire Fighters at Dufferin-street Crossing—Hose 2 Also Meets With Accident—Threatening Fire Well Handled and Loss Slight.

(From the Sunday World.) In galloping down Dufferin-street, in response to an alarm of fire from the exhibition grounds Saturday afternoon, a hose wagon, just got across the railroad tracks in time to avoid a collision with an east-bound freight train.

The freight was east-bound and was running at from 20 to 25 miles an hour. The driver did not notice it in the excitement of getting to the blaze, which looked from a distance like a bad one, owing to the exhibition buildings. Some of the men on the wagon saw the train, but none attempted to jump.

"Oh, it was nothing," was the nonchalant answer when the train was asked about the incident. "We just didn't see the train. We were going pretty good. How close was the train? Oh, about ten feet, I guess," and that was about all the sensation they could see in an adventure which to bystanders was a hair-raising episode.

Deputy Chief Noble, who witnessed the incident, declares that the escape of the men was miraculous. He also pointed out the continual danger which the firemen are under, and especially, as is often the case, when they are called out at night to that locality. Portland-street ladder truck, which was following Brockton hose wagon, might just as easily have been mixed up in a collision.

NEW TUBERCULOSIS CURE NO POSITIVE RESULTS YET

Prof. Behring Explains His Principle—Congress to Meet in Washington in 1908.

Paris, Oct. 7.—The international tuberculosis congress closed to-day. It was decided to hold the next congress at Washington in 1908. Prof. Von Behring made a statement relative to his new cure for tuberculosis. He said: "In the course of the last two years, I recognized with certainty the existence of a curative principle completely different from the anti-toxic principle. This new principle plays an essential role in the operation of the immunity derived from my ovo-vaccine, which has proved effective against animal tuberculosis during the past four years. It reproduces upon the impregnation of the living cells of the organism with a substance originating from the tubercle bacillus, which substance I designate 'T.C.'"

The professor expressed confident belief that his researches would permit similar curative results in human beings. He was unable to say how soon positive results would be obtained. American delegates were interested in the science of the professor's statement. Later they were asked whether the present state of medical knowledge regarding tuberculosis, Dr. Lawrence Officek of Philadelphia, on behalf of the American medical science holds out a good prospect of a permanent cure of tuberculosis in its early stages. This, however, is not a specific remedy, but by proper ventilation and open air life, with exercise duly restricted. If the present knowledge concerning the means of preventing tuberculosis was generally applied, it is safe to say that tuberculosis would be stamped out of civilized countries within twenty-five years."

SIBERIAN LAND FOR VETS. From 135 to 1000 Acres and Loan of Money to Colonize.

Even Walsh did not think enough of his purchase to open it until he had removed it to his home. On the top he found three moth-eaten blankets. This fort played a very important part in the protection of Toronto, not merely as a matter of defence and deep regret if, for commercial purposes, this fort should be allowed to be destroyed.

CONVICT WAS IN A PLOT TO ROB RICH AMERICANS

Turns King's Evidence and Testifies Against Gang Charged With Forgery.

London, Oct. 7.—Charles Fisher, an American convict, serving a ten-years' sentence of imprisonment in England for burglary, was the principal witness for the crown at the Westminster police court to-day in a case against Talbot Bridgewater, describing himself as a medical specialist, Lionel Peyton Holmes, William Edw. Shackell, and Elizabeth Foster, said to be Bridgewater's wife, charged with conspiracy and forging the name of Marshall Fox, an American resident in London, to a cheque for $4000.

Fisher said he was born in New York, and that he had served several sentences in America. He broke jail in Cincinnati in 1892, and escaped to England, but was rearrested and returned to the United States on an extradition warrant.

The case against the defendants dates back to the summer of 1901. Bridgewater, it is charged, was the originator of the plot. He is alleged to have paid attention to a lady, the secretary of Mr. Fox, and to have installed Fisher as a boarder in her house, at Streatham, a suburb of London. Fisher, it is said, secured wax impressions of the keys of Fox's safe, and the conspirators had a key made from this and got Fox's cheque book. Later Fisher was arrested in connection with an office-breaking affair and sentenced to ten years.

He testified that he was an accomplice of a gang working in London and shadowing rich Americans, and it transpired that he was indirectly connected with the recent robbery of a pearl necklace from Christie's. Fisher said he never moved about London carrying wax for the taking of impressions of locks, and while not admitting that he was connected with other big robberies, it was evident that he knew much about them. He said he had turned King's evidence because he wished to lead a new life.

Bridgewater asserts that Fisher is hired by the police, and that the whole of his alleged confession to a police plot.

57 FICTITIOUS TEACHERS ON ONE MONTH'S PAY ROLL

Dougherty's Peculations Being Unearthed by Wholesale—222 Indictments Already Returned.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 7.—With more startling disclosures in the grand jury room to-day, and with the loss of public confidence in the local banks, Peoria is in a ferment of excitement over the Dougherty school fund scandal.

Evidence was presented to the county inquisitors indicating that Dougherty stuffed the teachers' pay rolls to the extent of $3000 or more a month for an indefinite period. On the showing of steals thus perpetrated in a single month, 114 new indictments for false billings and forgery were voted, making the total number of true bills, so far, 222.

The accused man is having difficulty in finding sureties. Friend after friend has taken alarm at the gravity of the charges against him and turned a deaf ear to his entreaties. With his son, Horace, he went from office to office to-day seeking assistance in his distress. Friends who stand by him are mostly teachers who are proverbially poor in the item of real estate, which is necessary as surety in court of law. As a last resort the desperate man wired to a number of wealthy and influential scientists in various parts of the state, begging their aid.

Peoria people are beginning to wonder how long Dougherty has been in the city, and how long he has been in the city. Apparently scarcely a day has passed in the last three years, at least the time he has been in the city. He has not been in the city for three years, at least the time he has been in the city. He has not been in the city for three years, at least the time he has been in the city.

There were 19 cartloads of cattle at the Union Stock Yards to-night. Rev. Mr. Moore, provincial secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, fastened on a horse and dashed down the street and tore down John Boylen's orchard there was nothing left of the buggy but the wheels, and the harness was wrecked.

The Rugby match between the Technical School and Collegiate, which was played on Saturday, resulted in a victory for the former by 28 to 5. There were two Association football matches on the town park Saturday afternoon. In the Presbyterian League Victoria and Wychowich played a tie game, 1 to 1. In the Methodist League Queens of Toronto defeated Annette by 1 to 0.

About thirty houses are now under erection in the town, and the mayor expects that with the present rate of growth the population should increase to 5000 within the next five years.

The annual meeting of the Toronto Milk Producers' Association will be held in the Albion Hotel on Saturday afternoon. A resolution was passed that the wholesale price of milk be fixed at 10¢ per gallon, with a minimum of 9¢ for one year beginning Nov. 1. Heretofore the contracts have been made for six months, and the price fixed means an increase of 5 cents a can for the year over the last year's price, but in the same as ruled two years ago. About thirty members of the association were present.

The new steel bridge at the Peel-York junction is ready for its concrete flooring.

The Pioneer, in reference to temperance campaigning, thus discusses the situation in East and North York: "Centering at Stouffville is a group of municipalities in which temperance sentiment is very strong. Some years ago Stouffville carried a local option bylaw, but the vote was declared void on a legal technicality. The temperance cause has been carried on foot to bring on voting in half a dozen contiguous municipalities, and the prospects are good. This group of municipalities will extend over to the North York group mentioned in another item."

There are a number of townships in North York in which local option is allowed to vote upon it. Last year the council of East Gwillimburgh refused to submit a bylaw. The council of Wiltchewick took a fair course and submitted a bylaw. It is proposed that North Gwillimburgh, East Gwillimburgh, West Gwillimburgh and King should go before active mining is again commenced. If the prices only remain the same as they are, the success of the present mining law are about right.

There is one thing, however, which would better conditions for the prospectors. They should show up a property by doing development work and not make sweeping assertions before any work has been done. It is due to this fact that the mining in this district has been identified by Mrs. Cochran of 47 McCaul-street, where the young fellow lived. She stated that he was in the middle of the street one morning he left the hotel without giving notice, and nothing more was heard of him.

He is thought to have come of a good family in the vicinity of London. He came out to this country about eight months ago.

“WARD” EVANGELIZATION IS BEGUN ITALIAN MISSIONARY INSTALLED

Agnes St. Church Was Crowded Yesterday Morning When Rev. G. Merlino Held His First Service.

The Agnes-street Methodist Church, which has been closed for some months, was re-opened yesterday for Methodist mission work amongst the Italians and other foreigners of "the Ward." The service, which began at 10 o'clock in the morning, was largely attended, the congregation including not only a large number of well-known Methodist workers of the city, Rev. G. Merlino, who comes from Springfield, Mass., with the best of credentials, conducted the service. A native of Messina, Sicily, Rev. G. Merlino, crossed to America sixteen years ago, when a lad of fifteen. Some three or four years later he was "converted" thru attending a great mission meeting in Boston. Then it was that he resolved to devote himself to the work of preaching the gospel amongst his countrymen abroad.

DESPONDENT YOUTH SUICIDES

Herbert Feverson, an Englishman, Takes Carbolic Acid.

Despondent because of illness, Herbert Feverson, scarcely 21 years old, committed suicide on Saturday by taking carbolic acid in a small clump of bushes at the base of the cliff near Victoria Park.

The body lay exposed to the sun for five or six hours without any person near. Then a man, thinking that the prostrate man was intoxicated, tried to shake him, only to find that life had passed away. A copy of a Saturday morning paper was clenched tightly in his right hand, while the left held the cork of a two-ounce bottle which had contained the acid. The bottle was found empty under his body when moved by Dr. Britton, the coroner. No inquest will be held.

The body was identified by Mrs. Cochran of 47 McCaul-street, where the young fellow lived. She stated that he was in the middle of the street one morning he left the hotel without giving notice, and nothing more was heard of him.

He is thought to have come of a good family in the vicinity of London. He came out to this country about eight months ago.
