COLD MEDICATED VAPOR!

A MOST EFFECTIVE CURE FOR

Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Clergyman's Sore Throat, and all Chronic Diseases of the Throat and Lungs,

BY INHALATION.

Used by the late P. E. Molloy, M. D., (London University, and Member of the Medical Society of Nova Scotia,) with the greatest success, who, after an experience of more than thirty years in the full practice of his Profession, adopted it as the most reliable Cure for the above diseases, and observed: "No remedies conveyed to the Stomach can produce so certain or favorable a result in Consumption as INHALATION OF MEDICATED VAPOR, which is brought directly to the diseased parts by means of an Inhaling apparatus.

The Medicated Vapor used by the late Doctor Molloy, is now prepared by his WIDOW, with the most accurate exactness from his receipt (SHE BEING THE ONLY PERSON IN POSSESSION OF IT,) and who, during her husband's lifetime, was in the habit of assisting him in compounding Medicines for it.

The Medicated Vapor and Inhaler may now be obtained from

MRS. P. E. MOLLOY,

AT HER RESIDENCE,

CORNER OF PRINCE AND BARRINGTON STREETS, HALIFAX.

"The Medical Treatment by Inhalation, consists in administering in the form of Vapor, Medicines Chemically compounded, which, uniting with the air, come in contact with the most minute air-cells in the Lungs at each inspiration. Its Chemical composition possesses the power of dissolving and rendering easily expectorated the secretion in the air-cells, and by being brought to bear directly upon the disease, establishes at once a new condition of the parts. Another advantage is, the effects of the remedies are immediate, the patient experiences a rapid relief from shortness of breadth, the cough is lessened, and the pains in the Chest subside. "No medicine is given into the Stomach for the disease of the Lungs." Several persons in this Province who have used the Cold Medicated Vapor prepared by Mrs. P. E. Molloy, from her late husband's, Dr. P. E. Molloy's receipt, can testify to its wonderful superiority in the treatment of Pulmonic disease over medicines taken into the Stomach, some of whom have been snatched almost from the jaws of death.

Persons residing at a distance, by sending a minute description of their case in writing, can have suitable remedies with full directions sent them.

LOVELL'S SERIES OF SCHOOL BOOKS.

HAVING long felt the necessity existing for a SERIES OF EDUCATIONAL WORKS, prepared and expressly adapted for our COLONIAL SCHOOLS, the Publisher was induced to attempt the supply of this want. His efforts thus far have been crowned with success; his books having been most generally welcomed in the Schools, and most favorably noticed by the Press, of British North America.

LOVELL'S GENERAL GEOGRAPHY has met with entire success, having been already introduced into almost every School throughout British North America. The General Geography, however, being considered too far advanced for young beginners, a new and elementary work has been prepared, entitled, EASY LESSONS IN GENERAL GEOGRAPHY. This book is intended as introductory to the General Geography; and a reference to the accompanying "Opinions" will show how fully it meets the object aimed at.

He takes great pleasure in calling attention to the following list of the SCHOOL BOOKS already issued by him; and to which he will add, from time to time, such new works as may be of use to the youth of the Provinces.

1. LOVELL'S GENERAL GEOGRAPHY, with 51 Colored Maps, 113 Beautiful Engravings, and a Table of Clocks of the World. By J. George Hodgins, LL.B., F.R.G.S.

PERCY M. DOVE, Manager and Actuary.

"ROYAL" INSURANCE COMPANY.

IT is indispensably necessary that every Company which undertakes to replace the Loss occasioned by FIRE, or to provide by a specific sum, or by an Annuity, the means of subsistence to the Widow and the Orphan, should be able to show its Undoubted Ability to perform these engagements. As ample evidence of the Standing and Position of the "ROYAL" Insurance Company, it may be stated that its

SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL IS TWO MILLIONS STERLING.

THE CAPITAL ACTUALLY PAID UP AND ACCUMULATED AMOUNTS TO UPWARDS OF EIGHT HUNDRED THOUSAND POUNDS.

It cannot be too strongly urged on the attention of the Assurer that SECURITY is the First Desideratum in all Insurance Transactions, and that his object is not attained unless the event or contingency against which he wishes to guard is provided for,—from the moment he has paid his Premium,—under all possible circumstances.

It is therefore manifest that the Capital of an Insurance Company should be sufficiently large to meet all possible demands, and that its amount should be distinctly stated, in order that its entire sufficiency to meet all claims may plainly appear.

REPORT by the AUDITORS to the Annual Meeting in August, 1861.

"We have, in reply to the summons of your Manager, inspected every Document connected with the Company. We have again passed under examination EVERY VOUCHER, "EVERY DEED, and EVERY SECURITY. It is a matter of no light moment to go through "all these in the case of a Property representing something like £850,000, and we found "everything in the most perfect order, and entirely correct."

EXTRACTS FROM REPORT FOR YEAR 1860.

THE GENERAL PROGRESS OF THE COMPANY will be found to equal, if not to surpass, any expectation which could have been formed of it.

FIRE PREMIUMS for 1860 equal Total Fire Premiums for the Seven Years—1846 to 1853.

LIFE PREMIUMS for 1860 EXCEED the Entire Life Premiums for the Eight Years ending 1852.

PURCHASE OF ANNUITIES in 1860 LARGELY EXCEEDS the similar receipts for the first TEN YEARS—1845 to 1854.

FIRE.

INCREASE of FIRE INSURANCE DUTY in the Year 1860 over 1859.

As shown by a Return made to Parliament, and ordered by the House of Commons to be printed, 7th June, 1861.

The following Table exhibits the Increase of Duty paid to Government by the different Insurance Offices, and proves, on the authority of Public Documents, that the Royal Insurance Company is increasing its Fire Business far more rapidly than any other Insurance Office in Great Britain.

The above statement exhibits more clearly and on more conclusive authority than any other that could be produced the high estimation in which the "Royal" is held by the Public.

The Increase of the "ROYAL" is more than double that of any other Company, and more than 30 per cent. of the Entire Increase of all the London Offices combined. The Increase of the "Royal" is also more than 30 per cent. of the Entire Increase of the other 28 Country Offices combined.

GREAT FIRE IN LONDON, 22nd June, 1861.

Within three days of the announcement of the fire to this Office, measures were taken that the London Branch should be in possession of ample funds to meet every loss. Before the expiration of a week from the date of the fire, immediate payment was ordered to such of the claimants as were enabled to give a statement of their respective claims.

No new Fire Insurance Company hereafter to be established will meet even with partial encouragement if it have not a full sufficiency, not of Subscribed, but of Paid-up Capital. No prudent Capitalist will embark in such a new enterprise, and yet ignore the possibility that, until an ample Reserve Fund is collected which requires several years to accomplish, his investment, and it may be a large portion of his subscription, might at any moment be required to meet some unexpected loss of an equal or even greater magnitude than the recent one. The amount to the Credit of the Reserve and Profit and Loss Accounts of this Company would be sufficient to pay its Loss sustained by this hitherto unexampled calamity, were it thrice the amount it proves to be.

LIFE.

The Rapid Progress and position of this Branch will be best shown by the following Statement of the new Life Business effected for the Year.	No. Policies.	Sum Assured.	New Premiums.

Whilst for 1860 the amount received for

New Premiums reached £15,079 17s. 10d.

The ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY published late in the last year an account of the investigation into the Assets and Liabilities of its Life Department, under a novel form, and in as plain and intelligible a manner as the abstruseness of the subject admitted, together with the entire statements and valuations necessary for that purpose

From the extensive Notices of this Pamphlet and its accompanying Diagrams, which have appeared in the Periodicals of the day, it has largely attracted the attention of vast numbers of persons in all parts of the United Kingdom, as well as in other parts of the World. A most satisfactory and conclusive evidence that such is the case, is afforded by the fact that the Sum Assured on New Policies in the six months to 3rd June of the year 1861 is actually 50 per cent. in excess of the Sum Assured in the corresponding months of the year 1860, although the latter amount in itself exceeded the Sum Assured in any like previous period of time.

Amount of Policy, with Bonuses, at the present moment, and subject to future additions at subsequent valuations 2,560 0 0

Or, A Policy would be issued in lieu, without the payment of any further Premiums, for 1,172 6 0

The Total Premiums already paid being only 910 0 0

The Directors invite attention to a few of the Advantages the "Royal" offers to its Life Insurers:—

I.—The Guarantee of an Ample Capital, and Exemption of the Assured from Liability of Partnership.

II.—Moderate Premiums.

III.—Small Charge for Management.

IV.—Prompt Settlement of Claims.

V.—Large Participation of Profits by the Assured amounting to TWO-THIRDS of their nett amount, every Five Years, to Policies then two entire years in existence.

VI.—Days of Grace Allowed, with the most liberal interpretation.

THE ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY,

NORTH JOHN STREET, LIVERPOOL, and 29, LOMBARD STREET, LONDON, E.C.

THE EXTRAORDINARY SUCCESS OF THE COMPANY,

AND THE

PERFECT SECURITY its GREAT RESOURCES afford to INSURERS,

Have been commented upon by most of the leading Newspapers both in Great Britain and abroad.

The following are Abstracts of a few of these Notices.

THE "TIMES" MONEY ARTICLE

At the Annual Meeting of the Royal Insurance Company to-day, the Report for 1860 stated that Premiums in the Fire Department amounted to £262,977, showing an Increase of £34,663 over the preceding year, and of £66,829 over the Premiums for 1858, being an Increase of 34 per Cent. in Two Years. The transactions of the year in the Fire Branch give a Profit of £41,067. In the Life Department the Premiums for the year on New Policies amounted to £15,079, being an Increase of £1,993 over the former year.—AUGUST 3, 1861.

DAILY NEWS.—These Tables prove the experience of the Royal to have been HIGHLY SATISFACTORY.—DECEMBER 28, 1860.

LEEDS MERCURY.—It will be seen how very much less the mortality of the Royal has been than the mortality for which the Office was prepared.—SEPTEMBER 8, 1860.

Atlas.—Of the Reserved Fund the Manager has every reason to be proud, as it enables him to make the fair boast that in three days after the overwhelming catastrophe adverted to (the Great Fire in London), the Royal was in a position to pay, and did pay, its claims on presentation, thus vindicating its well-earned character for promptitude and liberality in loss settlement. The value to the general and commercial community of such honourable and timely promptitude as the Royal Insurance Company displays to us, cannot be too strongly insisted on.—AUGUST 10, 1861.

Bristol Mercury and W. Counties Advertiser.—The increase in the new duty of the Company last year was more than double that of any other Fire Office in the Kingdom, and equalled one-third the increase of all the London Offices put together.—AUGUST 10, 1861.

Edinburgh Evening News.—The Royal Insurance Company has in some essential respects distanced all competitors.—AUGUST 10, 1861.

Glasgow Examiner.—If further proof is needed of the extraordinary resources of this Company, we may state that its London branch was provided with sufficient funds to meet every claim caused by the late terrible fire in London, without calling on the Shareholders, or trenching on its paid-up capital.—AUGUST 10, 1861.

Halifax Guardian.—The report for the year 1860 was of a most gratifying nature, and most satisfactory to the shareholders.—AUGUST 10, 1861.

Liverpool Mail.—The Directors are fully justified in anticipating the time when the Company will be placed, with respect to the amount of its new business, at the head of all the Life Assurance institutions in this country. Nor has the progress of the Fire Branch been at all less remarkable.—AUGUST 3, 1861.

London Commercial Record.—The judicious expansion of the Reserve Fund has been attended with the happiest results. It has ever been our opinion that no Fire Insurance Company can long maintain its ground without having a large positive Capital available any moment for extraordinary contingencies; and this opinion is confirmed by the many failures that have taken place of public companies constituted on the unsound basis of a nominal capital.—AUGUST 9, 1861.

Manchester Examiner and Times.—In three days after the commencement of the fire, measures were taken to supply the London branch with ample funds to meet all calls that might be made upon them.—AUGUST 17, 1861.

Waterford Mail.—An accumulated fund of £800,000, and an annual revenue of £400,000 are features which might command confidence in any Insurance Company that could boast them; but they are not the best features in the character of the Royal Insurance Office.—AUG. 12, 1861.

Thacker's Overland News.—Here we have the secret of the power and resources by which, in the case of this Company, it was enabled to liquidate at once its heavy quota of £75,000. This secret is simply the comprehensive prudence that in years of prosperity was not tempted to encourage a mushroom growth of business by bait dividends and speculative bonuses, but held to the common sense of providing steadily from year to year a reserve fund, and one of such magnitude that we are not astonished to hear that, had the loss been thrice as great as it was, the Company could have met it without trenching on a farthing of their capital. In a business where security is the first and grand desideratum, this single fact is worth a volume of commentary.—AUGUST 10, 1861.

Calcutta Phœnix.—The Royal Insurance Company is one of the soundest and most secure means of effecting Life Assurance in the world.—DECEMBER 4, 1860.

Calcutta Englishman.—The Royal Insurance Company has been noticed by the leading London journals in very favourable terms.

Indian Field.—We are of opinion that the methods adopted by the Royal Insurance have been devised upon sound principles, and the success of the Company, as attested by the increase of business, the diminution of expenses, and the falling (unexpected, according to ordinary actuarial computations) in the per centage of claims, may be accounted for by the close adherence to those principles manifest in the proceedings of the Society.—DECEMBER 8, 1860.

Falmouth Post, Jamaica.—The Company is in a thriving condition.—APRIL 23, 1861.

Montreal Gazette.—The Royal Insurance Company is an instance of almost unparalleled, and, we believe, of most deserved success. Last year it lost heavily in South America; this year still more heavily (to the extent of £70,000 to £75,000 sterling) in London. By prudent management it had accumulated funds to meet these heavy losses, and has met them with the utmost promptitude. This is the true test of a Company's stability.—AUGUST 22, 1861.

Montreal Herald.—The prudent and cautious management of the Directors has enabled them, after paying a handsome dividend, to increase the Reserve Fund to upwards of £200,000.—AUGUST 22, 1861.

Hamilton Daily Herald.—The Royal Insurance Company has distanced, in the increase of its business for the past year, all other Companies in the United Kingdom. Advices received by Mr. Bellhouse, Manager of the Hamilton Branch, dated July 4th, state that the "Royal" had already commenced to pay losses incurred by the Great Fire in London, and that the Metropolitan Board was prepared, within four days of the catastrophe, to settle every claim the moment the amount was ascertained. Such promptitude cannot fail to be a most convincing proof of the great advantages to be derived from dealing with a company, whose ample means and high position enable them, without even the slightest temporary inconvenience, to grapple with a calamity almost unprecedented; in the present case payment will be made, without a moment's delay, of claims, the magnitude of which would be sufficient to embarrass weaker institutions, and, in some instances, to extinguish them altogether.—JULY 23, 1861.

Hamilton Times.—The advantages offered by this great Company cannot fail to be appreciated by all who take the trouble to make themselves familiar with them.—JANUARY 22, 1861.

Toronto Globe.—We hope that the business will as largely increase as the enterprise displayed richly merits.—MAY 29, 1861.

Canadian Freeman (Toronto).—The steadily increasing importance of the Royal marks it as one of the most reliable and safe Companies in which to insure against loss by fire.—AUGUST 8, 1861.

Toronto Leader.—The increase in the business of this Company is one of the best standards by which to judge of its popularity and soundness.—AUGUST 14, 1861.

PREFACE.

The gradual but steady increase in the population and business of this Province has given rise to a want, especially in the more active business communities—in the shape of a complete PROVINCIAL DIRECTORY, and this want the Publisher has, by the accompanying work, endeavored to supply. The labor and expense attendant upon the proper carrying out of the undertaking were of no light nature; while the exceedingly large number of places within the Province, together with the want of facilities for reaching them in the winter months—during which the work was performed—presented a formidable obstacle to its speedy canvass.

To those who, by their subscription and liberal advertising patronage, encouraged and supported the enterprise, his thanks are most especially due.

Where assistance has been so generally and cheerfully rendered, it may almost seem invidious to particularise, yet the Publisher cannot refrain from an expression of his acknowledgments to A. WOODGATE, Esq., Postmaster-General, for his most valuable assistance. Indeed, the courteous spirit which animated the head of the Department appeared to pervade all its branches; and the Publisher would also tender his thanks to the Postmasters generally throughout the Province, for valuable aid rendered him.

While only claiming the title of DIRECTORY, the reader will discover, upon reference to the General Index, that the work before him contains a much larger fund of useful matter than its name imports. The Publisher would call attention to the Post Office Directory given in this work, and corrected up to the present date, which was also kindly furnished by the Postmaster General.

Notwithstanding that extreme care has been exercised in its publication, a few errors will, doubtless, have crept into the work. These errors the Publisher will endeavor to avoid in subsequent editions, it being his intention to publish the work at intervals of two years. He may, however, be permitted to observe, that neither pains nor expense have been spared to render the work complete in every particular; and he trusts that it will prove as useful and acceptable as it has been his study to render it.

HISTORICAL SKETCH OF NOVA SCOTIA.

ACCORDING to the most authentic accounts, the earliest discovery, by Europeans, of what is now the Province of Nova Scotia, was made by John Cabot, or his son, Sebastian Cabot, in June, 1497. If this account is to be relied upon in all its particulars, Nova Scotia was the first part of the Continent of America ever seen by Europeans, unless it is true that it was visited by the Icelandic mariners about the beginning of the 11th century. The Cabots sailed under a commission from Henry VII, King of England; but no efforts seem to have been made by that monarch to profit by their discovery. Nevertheless, the great wealth of the fisheries upon the coasts of Nova Scotia and Newfoundland soon became widely known, and attached to those coasts numerous private adventurers,—English, French, Spanish, and Portuguese.

Towards the close of the 16th century, the French began to make some claims upon this country, so long neglected by the English monarchs. At length, after some other ill-managed and futile attempts at colonization, Monsieur De Monts made his appearance upon the coast of Nova Scotia—then called Acadie, or Acadia—holding a commission from Henry IV, of France, as Governor General of a large extent of territory which included this Province. In June 1604, De Monts entered Annapolis Basin. He returned to the same place the following year, after wintering upon an island on the North side of the Bay of Fundy, and commenced a settlement there, naming the place Port Royal. The uninterrupted history of Nova Scotia as a colony commences with the arrival of De Monts in the country; and Annapolis—formerly Port Royal—is the oldest town in America, North of St. Augustine, originally founded by the Spaniards, in Florida.

For many years subsequent to the founding of Port Royal, its history may almost be considered synonymous with that of Acadia. In 1613, a raid was made upon the peaceful and flourishing little settlement, by Captain Argall, from the still newer English Colony of Virginia. The acting Governor and many of his people were taken prisoners and sent to France; but as Argall did not attempt to hold the place, the French resumed possession immediately after his departure, and carried on their efforts at colonization both at Port Royal and other parts of the country.

In 1627, the country was taken possession of by an English expedition sent out by Sir William Alexander. He had previously obtained a grant of it with a view to its colonization on a large scale. The order of Knights Baronets of Nova Scotia was founded by Charles I, about this time, to aid in the same object. It was in Sir William Alexander's grant (10th September, 1621) that Acadia first formally received the name of Nova Scotia. The results of Sir William Alexander's efforts at colonization were not at all commensurate with the brilliant demonstrations with which they were commenced; and, in 1632, Nova Scotia was ceded by Charles I, to France.

For the 80 years that succeeded this event, the history of Nova Scotia consists mainly of that of a succession of petty, local wars, unimportant as to their general and ultimate results, but embracing many episodes of an interesting, and even romantic, character. Any attempt to sketch in detail the events of this period would be quite beyond the scope of so brief a summary as this. Both England and France, whilst pretending to exercise dominion over the country, were in the habit of apportioning it amongst proprietors, who usually obtained their grants on condition of making certain efforts in the way of colonization, but who, almost invariably, confined their attention to the object of profiting to their utmost by the fisheries and fur trade of their possessions. The rival interests of these proprietors brought them into frequent collision. In such cases, when they happened to be French, some one of them would find a ready ally in the English Colonies of New England and Virginia, or they were all objects of the unsuppressed hostility of those Colonies. Thus, even in times of pretended peace, Nova Scotia was a scene of almost constant, open hostilities, carried on with such vigor as the means at the command of these little powers would admit of; in times of avowedly open war between England and France, a more important and powerful element entered into the strife. At length, in 1710, Port Royal was, for the fifth time, wrested from the French by an English force, and this time, never to be restored. By the treaty of peace of 1713, Nova Scotia—but not the island of Cape Breton—was confirmed to the English, and has been held by them ever since.

We now come to a new phase in our history. Both England and France had begun to attach a much higher value than they ever had before, to Nova Scotia and the other North American territories which had so long been objects of contention between them; and both seemed roused to act energetically upon that conviction. From 1713 to 1763, there raged fierce and sanguinary struggles between those powers, for supremacy in North America; and, during the whole of that fifty years, whatever was the mutual attitude of the mother countries in Europe, it happened that the contest was kept up, almost uninterruptedly and with but little abated vigor, by their respective colonies in America.

Until almost the very close of this struggle, the position of Nova Scotia as an English colony, was perilous in the extreme. Down to this period, the English, during their many brief temporary occupations of the country, had not made, had not even attempted to make, any permanent settlement therein. The little nucleus of French population which existed as early as 1606, had, on the contrary, continually and gradually increased, and now formed large and thriving settlements in those districts of the country most favoured by nature. Now, in 1713, the English residents were a mere handful, consisting of the little garrison of Port Royal, now named Annapolis Royal, in honour of Queen Anne, and their few dependants: the French inhabitants already numbered several thousand, mainly congregated in the vicinity of Annapolis, in Minas, now Horton, and Cornwallis, Pesiquid, Windsor, Cobequid, Colchester, and Chiegnecto, Cumberland and Westmoreland, N. B.

The latter immediately evinced a consciousness of their numerical strength. In accordance with the express terms of the capitulation of Port Royal, and with the spirit of the treaty of 1713, they were bound either to leave the country, or to take and observe the oath of allegiance to the English Crown. The former they did not do. As to the latter course, they temporised for a time; then, when their refusal seemed to betoken danger, a portion of them took the oath; but almost immediately afterwards, intimated that they took it with a reservation which, if recognized, made it really no oath of allegiance at all. Their conduct was suspicious and alarming from the very first, and continued to become more so as subsequent events developed themselves.

In the meantime, France, which still retained the islands of St. John, now Prince Edward, and Cape Breton, commenced to make of the latter, practically the key of the St. Lawrence, a standing menace to Nova Scotia. The town of Louisburg was founded upon this island and strongly fortified by the French Government at an enormous expense. During periods when England and France professed to be at peace, the Indians of Nova Scotia, who had always been the active allies of the French, were made the instruments of harassing the English; and it soon became well known that their frequent raids upon the few infant settlements of the latter, were instigated by the French authorities at Louisburg and Quebec; whilst the French inhabitants of Nova Scotia itself, who called themselves "Neutrals," not only always connived at these hostile movements, but frequently gave important aid to the savages. This alarming state of affairs effectually prevented British subjects from settling in the colony.

In 1744, war was again declared by France against England. In the following year, an expedition fitted out by the New England colonies, and placed under the command of colonel, afterwards Sir William Pepperal, achieved the astonishing feat of capturing the French stronghold of Louisburg. In the ensuing year (1746,) France fitted out an armament, under the Duke D'Anville, more formidable than had ever before sailed for these shores. Had it not been for a concurrence of fortuitous circumstances beyond the control of man, this force must have utterly annihilated the English in Nova Scotia; and would probably have given France the mastery on the North American continent for subsequent ages. But the French fleet was delayed by adverse winds; disabled, scattered, and partially destroyed by frightful tempests; some of its ships captured by English cruisers; and only a small fragment of this great armament ever reached Chebucto Bay, the appointed place of rendezvous. The men of this small portion of the fleet brought with them a virulent contagious disease, of which thousands of them died. The Indians who flocked to their encampment on the Western shore of (now) Bedford Basin, to aid and co-operate in the objects of the expedition, caught the contagion, and a number of them, variously estimated at from one-third to three-fourths of the whole aboriginal population of the colony, fell victims to it. D'Anville first, and then his second in command, D'Estourville, in utter despair at the disastrous failure of the expedition, committed suicide. A few bold spirits still persisted in making an attempt to capture Annapolis; but disaster attended their efforts to the end, and the shattered remains of this once mighty armament returned to France, having accomplished nothing.

At length, in 1747, peace was concluded between France and England; and to the great annoyance of the colonies, Cape Breton was ceded back to France. The perils so recently escaped in Nova Scotia now induced the English Government to make some strenuous effort towards securing themselves in this country, and colonizing it. Accordingly, in 1749, the town of Halifax was founded upon Chebucto Bay, and immediately became the seat of Government.

Although England and France were now for a brief period ostensibly at peace, there was no peace in Nova Scotia. Nothwithstanding the settlement of Halifax, the French population of the colony, to say nothing of their fast allies, the Indians, far outnumbered the English. The Indians were stirred up to renewed vigor in harassing the English settlers incessantly and in every possible way. They were supplied, assisted, and often commanded by the French. The self-styled "Neutrals," whilst thus indulging, with attempted secrecy, in their hostility towards the English, still refused to come under allegiance to the English Crown; and, in some instances, set the English authorities openly at defiance. Meantime, avowedly French subjects made bold encroachments upon Nova Scotian soil; and these "Neutrals" assisted them to build forts, to supply them, and to defend them against the English. The latter were kept in constant terror. If such was the conduct of the "Neutrals" in what was called a time of peace, what might be expected of them in the event of open war breaking out between England and France? Such a war was renewed in 1755; and at its very commencement, the English met with serious reverses on the Ohio and Canadian frontiers. In this season of gloom and doubt, the Governor of Nova Scotia determined upon a bold, novel, and as the sequel proved, effective scheme, for removing one of the greatest obstacles to the tranquillity of this country. He determined upon utterly expelling from the colony those French who, ever since 1710, had trifled with the English authorities whenever the latter happened to be in sufficient force to make their power felt, and had evinced an alarming degree of hostility when they were not. The English being by far the weakest force of the two, it was necessary for their success to mature their measures with secrecy, and to execute them promptly and simultaneously in the several French districts. This in many respects painful duty was discharged by them as effectively and as mercifully as the limited means at their disposal would admit of. A large proportion of the so-called "Neutrals" were seized and transported to the other various English colonies, from Massachusetts to Georgia. Those who escaped this fate, did so by abandoning their homesteads and betaking themselves to the island of St. John's (Prince Edward,) to Canada, to the previously unsettled gulf coast of what is now the Province of New Brunswick, or fled to the woods and shared in the savage life of the Indians. The English were thus freed from one of their greatest causes of anxiety and sources of real danger in this portion of their American colonies; whilst France was deprived of one of her main inducements to persevere in attempting to recover the colony of Nova Scotia. This decisive step on the part of the English Colonial authorities, has been severely censured by many historians, who seem to have regarded it from an exclusively French point of view; but an impartial investigator of the matter, availing himself of unquestionably reliable information which is now available, must arrive at the conclusion that the step was politic and just; and that, if these Acadians were victimized, they were the victims only of their own folly and of the machinations of the emissaries of France.

In July, 1758, the town of Louisburg, after a vigorously prosecuted siege, surrendered to a British force under command of General Amherst and Admiral Boscawen, and with it, the whole islands of Cape Breton and St. John's (Prince Edward). It was also during this year that the first House of Assembly of Nova Scotia was convened. It consisted of 22 members—16 elected by the Province at large; 4 by the township of Halifax; and 2 by the township of Lunenburg.

In the following year (1759), Quebec, the principal stronghold of the French in Canada, was captured by the British under General Wolfe, who had distinguished himself the previous year at the siege of Louisburg. A few months later, the whole of Canada surrendered to the British arms, and the French power thus became almost annihilated in North America. Nova Scotia was now freed from that fear of open enemies from without, and treacherous foes within, her borders, which had hitherto retarded the settlement of the country. In fact, with the exception of the small settlement of Halifax and the still smaller one of Lunenburg, no progress had yet been made in the colonization of Nova Scotia by the British. The whole country was yet an almost unbroken wilderness, traversed by no highways except those which nature had provided; and its total white population, in 1760, could not have exceeded 6,000. But Nova Scotia now entered upon another new phase. The Province was divided into counties; several townships were laid out in various parts of the country supposed to be most eligible for immediate settlement; and a steady influx of immigration commenced—first, from the New England Colonies, and then from the North of Ireland. What may be called the first "great road" of the Province was commenced about the same time, connecting Halifax with Pesiquid (Windsor) and the other young settlement immediately beyond it.

The inducements held out by the Provincial authorities to immigrants were so tempting that, in 1764, the population had already more than doubled within four years; and the country continued to increase rapidly in wealth, prosperity, and population.

When disaffection began to manifest itself in what were known as "the old colonies," eventually developing itself into open Rebellion, appeals were made to the Nova Scotians to co-operate with their fellow-colonists further West. The appeal failed to meet with a favorable response Open disturbances indeed, took place in Cumberland, and a large majority of the inhabitants of Truro, Onslow, and Londonderry, having relatives among the revolted colonists, with whom they naturally sympathized, refused to take the oath of allegiance when required so to do. But the few Cumberland insurgents were compelled to fly the Province; the members for Truro and Onslow townships were refused admission to the House of Assembly; and the Legislature and the people generally testified their loyalty by many and unmistakeable acts. Towards, and at the close of the Revolutionary War, a number of Loyalist Refugees, more than equalling the whole previous population of the Province, came and settled in Nova Scotia. In 1770, Prince Edward Island was severed politically from Nova Scotia; and in 1784, New Brunswick and Cape Breton were set off as two distincts Governments, the latter, however, to be re-annexed to Nova Scotia in 1820.

From that time to the present, the history of Nova Scotia is marked by few striking events calling for special mention in so brief a sketch as this. It is a history of the settlement of the country; of the gradual development of its natural industrial resources; of its general progress in all that relates to civilization, without any notable fluctuations. We have seen that the settlement of Nova Scotia as a British colony, really commenced in 1760. Within the 25 years ensuing, nearly all the old Township grants were issued; and by their means were formed the various nuclei of what have since become the most densely peopled districts of Nova Scotia proper, not however, of Cape Breton. These earlier settlements, as we have seen, were for the most part made, first, by people from the old New England colonies, many of whom had themselves previously come from Ireland to those older colonies; secondly, by immigrants coming from the North of Ireland direct; and lastly, by loyalists from the revolted colonies. The immigration from these three sources continued from 1760 to about 1785. Then there was a falling off in the current for some years. The next notable influx of immigration commenced about the close of the 18th century. These later immigrants came for the most part from Scotland—especially the highlands and islands of that country,—and settled in the island of Cape Breton and in the north-eastern portion of the peninsula of Nova Scotia. Even as late as 1770, the whole of Cape Breton does not appear to have contained 50 freeholders; and for many years afterwards, this fine island was regarded as a worthless and troublesome possession, which Great Britain retained only to prevent its falling into the hands of France. This Scottish immigration continued, with some fluctuation, until about the close of the first quarter of the present century. Since then there has been no immigration to Nova Scotia, worthy of mention, from any particular quarter; nor until within the past year (1863,) has any organized effort been made by the Provincial authorities to promote immigration.

The growth of Nova Scotia in population will be seen by the following statements and census returns:

Population of Nova Scotia in 1760,	6,000
" " 1764,	13,000
" Peninsula of Nova Scotia alone in 1818,	78,845
" " " 1828,	123,848
" all Nova Scotia within present limits in 1838,	208,181
" " " " 1851,	276,117
" " " " 1861,	330,857

These figures afford a fair index of the progress of Nova Scotia in every other respect during the period over which they extend.

Previous to 1837, the council, or Upper House of the Legislature, was also the Executive Council, or Cabinet, of the Governor. The Legislative and Executive Councils were that year made distinct and separate bodies. Up to that time the casual and territorial revenues of the Province were paid into the Imperial treasury; but during that and the following years, arrangements were perfected for their surrender to the Province, on the latter pledging itself to a civil list to the payment of which these revenues had previously been appropriated. Within the few succeeding years, the system was introduced of making certain members of the Executive Council heads of Provincial Departments, and of rendering the whole of that body responsible for their acts to the House of Assembly.

At the present time Nova Scotia is in the enjoyment of tranquillity and prosperity; and was probably never at any former period, making more rapid, and at the same time, healthy progress, in all that conduces to political security and social comfort and happiness.

CHEBUCTO

MARINE RAILWAY,

HALIFAX, N. S.

Directors:

R. BOAK, G. A. McKENZIE, P. ROSS.

Secretary and Treasurer:

J. T. WYLDE.

THE CHEBUCTO MARINE RAILWAY COMPANY of Halifax, N. S., wish to inform Masters and Owners of Vessels that they have now in complete working order

Three Marine Railways,

With four Cradles—one of 1500 tons, another of 700 tons, and two of 200 tons capacity each.

These structures are of first class character, and being operated by steam power (raising vessels in a few minutes,) afford the very best facilities for repairs, &c. Vessels sustaining damage will find the port of Halifax, with its unrivalled harbor, a place for repairs most desirable, as charges are moderate and workmen and materials are always to be found in abundance.

ANNAPOLIS COUNTY DIRECTORY.

ANNAPOLIS.

This county contains the site of the first settlement made by Europeans in British North America. After the expulsion of the French colonists in 1755, it was occupied by immigrants from the "old colonies" —now the United States—whose descendants comprise the greater number of its present inhabitants. Annapolis is celebrated for the quality and excellence of the products of its farms, orchards, and gardens, in the cultivation of which its inhabitants are almost exclusively engaged. It also possesses at Clements and Nictaux, rich iron mines. Population in 1861, 16,953.

ANTIGONISH COUNTY DIRECTORY.

ANTIGONISH.

In 1863 the name of this county was changed from Sydney to Antigonish. It is perhaps more nearly an exclusively agricultural county than any in the Province. Our first notice of Sydney County is in 1784, about which time it was set off from Halifax. Its earliest British settlers were American Loyalists; but a very large majority of its present inhabitants are descendants of Scotch Highlanders. In its more Eastern section there are some large settlements of French origin. The total population of the county in 1861, was 14,871.

CAPE BRETON COUNTY DIRECTORY.

CAPE BRETON.

In 1784, the island of Cape Breton, which, since 1760, had been part of Halifax county, was set off under a separate Provincial Government. In 1820 it was re-annexed as a county of Nova Scotia. In 1835, it was divided into the three counties of Richmond, Inverness, and Cape Breton. The county of Victoria was subsequently set off from the latter. The present county of Cape Breton comprises the South-eastern part of the island. It is a large county, singularly rich in coal mines. Agriculture, mining, and the fisheries, divide the attention of its inhabitants in not very dissimilar proportions. In 1861, its population was 20,866. Louisburg, formerly the stronghold of the French in these maritime colonies, is now a mass of deserted ruins.

COLCHESTER COUNTY DIRECTORY.

COLCHESTER.

Until 1835, Colchester was a part of Halifax County. It consists most wholly of a very fertile soil. After the expulsion of the French Neutrals," who had thriving settlements on the rich alluvial lands about e head of Cobequid Bay, its earliest settlers were immigrants from the l colonies of New Hampshire, Massachusetts, and the North of Ireland, ge settlements being subsequently made in its north-eastern part by otch Highlanders. Its population in 1861, numbered 20,045, by far e largest proportion of whom were engaged in agricultural pursuits. is country contains rich iron mines; also valuable deposits of coal, e of which, however, have yet been worked to any extent.

CUMBERLAND COUNTY DIRECTORY.

CUMBERLAND.

The population of this large county, which, in 1861, amounted to 19,533, is of mixed origin. It is a fine agricultural county, being noted—especially its Northern section—for large and rich tracts of marsh, or marine alluvium. It also contains rich deposits of coal and freestone, which are worked to some extent. Its grindstones are among the most valuable of their kind in North America, or even in the world. Lumbering and shipbuilding are pretty extensively carried on in this county.

DIGBY COUNTY DIRECTORY.

DIGBY.

Until 1836, this was a part of Annapolis county. The inhabitants of its Southern portion—the township of Clare—comprising about half the population of the county, are the descendants of a body of the old Acadian "Neutrals," who with others, were expelled from the Province in 1755; but who subsequently, returned by permission, and settled on this coast. The total population of the county, in 1861, was 14,751.

GUYSBORO' COUNTY DIRECTORY.

GUYSBOROUGH.

All the earlier permanent settlements in Guysborough were made by American Loyalists—principally from what are now the Southern States—in 1783 and 1784. In 1836, it was separated from Sydney, (now Antigonish) county, of which it had formed a part ever since 1784. In physical characteristics, Guysborough is very similar to Halifax county; and it is equally celebrated for the number and excellence of its harbors. Portions of the county are well adapted to agriculture, but the fisheries afford subsistence to the majority of its inhabitants. The population in 1861 was 12,713.

HALIFAX COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HALIFAX COUNTY.

Halifax County is the largest in the Province. Its land is, for the most part, too rocky and sterile for agricultural purposes; although the valley of the Musquodoboit is one of the finest farming districts in Nova Scotia. A new value has of late been attached to the more rocky districts of the county, from their having been discovered to contain rich deposits of gold and other valuable minerals. The first settlement made in this county was that of the Town of Halifax, in 1749—incorporated as a city in 1841. By the census of 1861, the population of the whole County was 49,021; of the City alone, 25,026. According to calculations based on actual enumeration made in preparing this Directory, the population of the City of Halifax cannot now (1864) be less than 35,000.

KING'S COUNTY DIRECTORY.

KING'S COUNTY.

King's County closely resembles Annapolis in its history—first, under French, and then under English rule—its topographical features, natural resources, and the pursuits of its inhabitants. A portion of it was formerly the French settlement of Minas, which in its day, was almost as celebrated for its agricultural and horticultural productiveness as the same district of country now is. The population in 1861 amounted to 18,731.

LUNENBURG COUNTY DIRECTORY.

LUNENBURG.

The first permanent settlement made in Lunenburg was in 1753, by a body of Germans and Swiss, whose descendants now comprise nearly the whole population of the county. Its inhabitants, who, in 1861, numbered 19,632, are largely engaged both in the fisheries and in agricultural pursuits. Although rather rocky, it contains much good soil; and the deep islanded bays and coves which indent its shores, present some of the finest scenery on the Atlantic coast.

PICTOU COUNTY DIRECTORY.

PICTOU.

Pictou contains, next to the metropolitan county, the largest population of any in Nova Scotia. In 1861, it numbered 28,785 souls. These are almost exclusively the descendants of Scotch Highlanders; and agricultural pursuits form the prevailing occupations of the inhabitants, for which the fertile soil of the greater part of the country is admirably adapted. Pictou also possesses a large coal field, the product of which forms the principal export of the county. It is rich too in deposits of iron ore, freestone, and other mineral substances. Like Colchester, Pictou was in 1835, separated from Halifax, of which it had previously formed a part.

QUEEN'S COUNTY DIRECTORY.

QUEEN'S COUNTY.

The southern part of this county is, for the most part, rocky and sterile; the northern portion is much more cultivable. Its population in 1861, was 9,365. The prevailing occupations are farming and lumbering. Liverpool, one of the most enterprising towns in the Province, is situated in this county. Lake Rossignol, also in this county, is the largest body of fresh water in Nova Scotia.

RICHMOND COUNTY DIRECTORY.

RICHMOND.

Richmond was erected into a separate county in 1835. The majority of its inhabitants are descendants of some of the former French colonists of Cape Breton. Most of the remainder are of Scotch origin. The fisheries and the carrying trade furnish occupation for most of the inhabitants; but some thriving agricultural settlements have of late years grown up in the interior. In 1861, the total population of the county was 12,607.

SHELBURNE COUNTY DIRECTORY.

SHELBURNE.

Shelburne was erected into a county in 1783, when a large number of Loyalist refugees from the United States settled there. They were unfortunate in their selection of a home; and after enduring much hardship and privation, the greater number of them removed elsewhere, within a few years' time. In 1784, its population, which was then almost confined to the town of Shelburne, was stated to amount to 10,000. In 1861, that of the whole county was only 10,668. Its present inhabitants are engaged almost exclusively in the fisheries, ship-building, and the carrying trade.

SAINT JOHN, N. B.

Would respectfully inform the Public that they have resumed the business of Chemists and Druggists, at the Old Stand, Foster's Corner, King Street, and respectfully solicit their patronage.

The stock has been selected by Mr. JAMES FELLOWS, in the markets of London, Glasgow, Paris, and other places, so that every precaution has been used to obtain goods of the best quality, and having been bought from first hands, peculiar advantages may be expected by purchasers.

Being deeply impressed with the responsibility attached to preparing Prescriptions, only the purest Drugs and Pharmaceutical preparations of the London, Edinburgh, and Dublin Colleges of Physicians will be used for that purpose.

Prices will be found as low as is consistent with the employment of genuine medicines.

FELLOWS' ORIGINAL

WORM LOZENGES.

We can with pride and confidence point to

FELLOWS' WORM LOZENGES,

As the most elegant and perfect Remedy for those troublesome pests

INTESTINAL WORMS.

After many years' careful study and experiment success has crowned our efforts, and we now offer to the

WORLD

A Confection without a single fault, being Safe, Convenient, Effectual and Pleasant.

SAFE,

Because no injurious result can occur, let them be used in whatever qnantity. They contain no Mineral Drug or Poisonous ingredient, and bear in mind, not a particle of Calomel enters their composition.

CONVENIENT,

Because they may be used without further preparation and at any time.

Pleasant:

Because children will eagerly devour all you give them, and ask for more..

Effectual:

Because they never fail in expelling Worms from their dwelling-place, and they will always strengthen the weak and emaciated, even when he is not afflicted with Worms.

With the above facts before them, who can fail to acknowledge that

FELLOWS'

WORM LOZENGES

Are all that can be desired by the most fastidious? They are becoming known throughout America, and are prescribed by many unprejudiced

PHYSICIANS.

Dr. Clay says, "I was induced to try Fellows' Lozenges, having had a number of children under my care, whose stomachs were so irritable that the ordinary medicines could not be retained a moment, and the success that followed their use was so complete, that I can recommend them as one of the most pleasant and safe medicines that can be administered!"—Edward Clay, M.D.

Dr. Hayes says, "I have analyzed the Worm Lozenges prepared by Messrs. Fellows & Co., and find that they are free from Mercury and other metallic or mineral matter. These Lozenges are skilfully compounded, pleasant to the taste, safe, yet sure and effective in their action."—A. A. Hayes, M. D.

☞ Fellows' Worm Lozenge is the only Worm Remedy in existence combining harmless qualities with delicious taste and amazing power.

Do not be persuaded to take any other medicine in their stead, but should your Apothecary not have

FELLOWS'

Worm Lozenges,

We will forward a Box to any part of the Province, on receipt of TWENTY-FIVE CENTS IN STAMPS.

A liberal discount to the Trade.
