Frederick Says Unlikely That Liberals Will Contest It

DIVORCE COURT

St. Stephen Case Heard and Judgment Will Be Given This Month—Rev. J. C. Berrie's Anniversary—Progress on the C. T. P.

(Special to Times)

Frederick, Nov. 1.—The names of F. C. Taylor, of Ellerslie, Council George Peay, of Masseyville, Lewis H. Blain, of St. Mary's, and R. B. Hanson, and P. A. Gauthier, are mentioned as conservative candidates for the Sunbury vacancy in the local house. Parker Glaser, sitting member, favors Blain, but feeling in the county is against a non-resident. It is unlikely that the Liberals will contest the seat.

Judge McKewen presided at an adjourned sitting of the divorce court here this morning. Hearing in the Charlotte county case of Flora Ella Stewart vs. Eldridge Stewart was proceeded with, George J. Clark is proctor for the plaintiff, and the case is undefended.

They were married in St. Stephen in 1896, and lived together until 1902 when the defendant went to the United States. Divorce is asked for on statutory grounds. The plaintiff was the only witness, and at conclusion of her evidence, the court adjourned until November 29 for judgment.

George W. Foster, who has been postmaster in Marystown for twenty-five years, has resigned and will remove to the United States. James S. Inch will likely be his successor.

Satisfactory progress is being made with work on the round house and machine shop being constructed at Napadogan for the Transcontinental Railway. The machine shop is 137 feet long and the round house eighty-seven. They are being built of brick with concrete foundation. The steel girders are being placed in position. Work on the new union station at McGivern's will begin this week.

It is reported from Napadogan that Italian work in that vicinity is being done by the local contractor, Gans Warden Harley is investigating.

Rev. J. C. Berrie, pastor of the Maryville Methodist church, has completed forty years of service as pastor in Canada. He is a native of the old country and was engaged in the ministry before coming to Canada.

The Dominion Bridge Co. have completed work on the steel bridge for the Transcontinental over the North Branch of the Miramichi River, and the bridge over the main river at Hill Moon Cove will be completed this week.

BARBER'S POLE TAKEN. It was reported today by the police that last evening was one of the most quiet 'Hallowe'en in many years, probably due to the fact that the weather was more tooting for outdoor pranks on the part ofchievous urchins. Beyond a few wood-as being upset, peas being shot, or other minor pranks, there was little to require police attention. A North End barber, however, this morning had cause to remember that last night was 'Hallowe'en for he went to his store today he could not find the striped pole which designates his line of business. Later on it was found broken some little distance down the street.

ITALY PLANNING A DECISIVE STROKE TO PUT END TO WAR

Turkey Must Submit, They Say, or Valuable Islands in Mediterranean Will Be Seized—Understanding First With the Powers

(Canadian Press).

Chiasso, Switzerland, Nov. 1.—With a view of bringing the war with Turkey quickly to an end, the Italian cabinet has decided that the Porte must either accept peace or lose more territory. This means that some of Turkey's valuable island possessions in the Mediterranean will be seized unless she submits to her fate. This decision was reached at a series of secret conferences on Monday between Rear Admiral Aubrey and members of the cabinet.

Aubrey arrived in Rome suddenly and secretly on Monday morning. Lengthy interviews with the premier and the ministers of war, navy and foreign affairs followed. Definite arrangements were made for sending the Italian fleet into action against Turkey's Mediterranean possessions. It is understood that the new plans will be set into action as soon as the Marquis Di San Giuliano, minister of foreign affairs, can reach the necessary understanding with the interested powers.

It is expected that Italy will continue to share the Albanian effort to avoid complications along the Adriatic, and in the Balkan Straits.

(Canadian Press).

Peking, Nov. 1.—Yuan Shi Kai has been appointed premier of China, and he will organize a new cabinet as soon as he assumes his post.

Prince Ching has been made president of the privy council and Na Tung and Hsu Shih Chang vice presidents.

Wei Kuang Tao, formerly viceroy of Kwang Tung province, becomes viceroy of Hu Pei and Hu Nan provinces to which office Yuan Shi Kai was elevated when he was recently recalled from official banishment to restore the imperial authority in the southern provinces.

This much of the programme has been constructed by the throne in the hope of appeasing the rebellious Chinese and ending the movement of the imperial troops, and to open negotiations with the rebel leader, general Li Yuan Hong for peace.

THE APPLE SHOW

C. N. Vroom of St. Stephen Elected President of Association

There were quite a few visitors at the apple show in St. Andrew rink this morning. At ten o'clock Prof. W. S. Blair delivered a lecture on the planting and care of an apple orchard, and at eleven o'clock A. McNeil, chief of the Federal Fruit Division, delivered a short address.

Both were very instructive and were listened to with a great deal of interest. At 2.30 o'clock Prof. T. W. Macoun, of Ottawa, was to speak, and at 3.30 o'clock there was to be a general discussion on spraying. At 7.30 o'clock tonight Prof. P. Shaw will be the speaker. The show will be open tonight and all day tomorrow, and will be brought to a close tomorrow night.

Prof. Saxby Blair, horticulturist at the Macdonald College, P. Q., spoke upon the planting of orchards, and briefly outlined some of the best practices. It did not make much difference in his opinion, where nursery stock was raised, provided it was of hardy character. He did not find much difference in the ground between trees while they were small. He believed that only in some parts of New Brunswick should a man depend exclusively upon apple growing, but he thought any farm might have 10 acres or so of orchard, which would add greatly to the income and value of the farm.

There was an interesting discussion at the close of the lecture, and the meeting then proceeded to the election of officers. These were chosen: President—C. N. Vroom, St. Stephen. Vice-president—S. L. Peters, Queens-town. Secretary—A. G. Turney, Fredericton. Treasurer—Henry Wilnot, Fredericton. County Directors: Albert—W. A. Colpitts, Mapleton. Carleton—Tappan Alder, Woodstock. Charlotte—G. E. Martin, Fair Haven, Deer Island. Kings—H. W. B. Smith, Grandville. Queens—N. W. Eveleigh, Sussex. Northumberland—Geo. E. Fisher, Chatham.

Queens—W. P. Fox, Lower Gagetown. Restigouche—J. E. Stewart, Dalhousie. St. John—W. R. McFate, Golden Grove. Sunbury—J. W. Clark, Manguerville. Victoria—Donald Fraser, J. Piaster Rock. Westmorland—Ben. Charters, Chartersville. York—W. B. Gilman, Fredericton.

SALVATION ARMY MAKE OFFER TO MANAGE IT

Meeting in Mayor's Office Consider Detention Home for Children, Juvenile Court and Legislation to Carry Out Plans in Mind

Methods of dealing with the problem involved in the care of children who through their own fault, or the lack of proper home influence, require the attention and care of the state, are being considered at a meeting held in the mayor's office in City Hall this morning.

The need for some better machinery than the present is being considered. At that time the necessary legislation was explained and officers of the Salvation Army expressed their willingness to become responsible for conducting a detention home for children under the new arrangement.

Children's Aid Act. What is chiefly needed is the authority to take children from surroundings which are injurious to them and place them in some other place, where, also, some better method of dealing with delinquent children than the present court procedure. To attain these ends it was suggested that as soon as a plan for caring for the children is worked out, the provincial government be asked to pass a children's aid act and to proclaim the dominion act for delinquent children operative in this province.

For this purpose it would be necessary to have a detention home where the children could be kept while their cases were being investigated and until some permanent arrangement could be made for them. At the meeting this morning Mayor Frink presided and there were present County Secretary Kelly, Aldermen Hayes, J. B. Jones, Potts, Colner, McGoldrick, Elkin, Green and McLeod. Commissioner Brown, Colonel Mapp, Colonel Pugmire, and Knigh Duncan of the Salvation Army.

The mayor explained the object of the meeting and called upon Colonel Mapp to describe what is needed here. Colonel Mapp outlined the modern method of dealing with children of the classes named and told of what is being done along this line in Vancouver, Lethbridge and Winnipeg.

Mr. Kelly said that at the last session of the legislature the New Brunswick Society for the Prevention of Cruelty and the Home Council had asked for the passage of the children's aid act, which, among other provisions, would give authority to take any child or woman from surroundings where he or she was being ill treated and make a transfer to some public or private institution. At that time the attorney-general, although in favor of the purposes of the bill, did not wish to commit the province to it until some provision had been made for caring for the children so dealt with.

Winipeg, Nov. 1.—Reports received at Trades Hall from several western points indicate that the machinists and boiler-makers through the entire C. P. R. and C. N. R. western systems are preparing to support their brothers on the Grand Trunk Railway who have been locked out on the strike.

Locals which have held meetings and took definite action during the last week of the strike, are Mr. Richardson, Mr. Linnell and Mrs. Linnell to take lunch together on Saturday afternoon on which the deadly drug was taken by Mrs. Linnell, and that Mrs. Linnell had planned not to return to her home in Hyannis until Saturday night.

It had been admitted by the members of the Linne family that Mrs. Linnell, who knew from what Avis had told her, that her mother was coming up from the home in Hyannis on Saturday afternoon, and that all three met at the South Station in Boston, as had been prearranged. Mrs. Linnell has admitted the truth of this statement.

Mr. Richardson, she says, was very jealous of her welfare, and asked her particularly about the time she had planned to return home to Hyannis. It has also been stated by members of the family that Mrs. Linnell had told them that Mrs. Richardson wanted to take them to luncheon. They also say that Rev. Mr. Richardson told them that he had a funeral to attend, that he was very busy, and that he was going out of the state on Friday.

They decline to discuss whether Rev. Mr. Richardson did actually take luncheon with them Saturday afternoon, and they will not discuss the other essential features of the case.

A reputable resident of Hyannis, who with his wife had been spending a week in Boston prior to the death of Avis Linnell, on his return to this town told friends that while shopping in a Boston store they met Mrs. Linnell and Avis on the Friday before the death of Avis. At that time Mrs. Linnell had assumed her present proportions of public interest, the Hyannis man refused to talk about seeing the Linnells, and, in fact, would not shed any light on the case.

NEW LEADER OF LIBERALS IN ONTARIO

The Party Chooses N. W. Rowell, Prominent Lawyer in Toronto

(Canadian Press).

Toronto, Nov. 1.—Ontario Liberals will enter the provincial campaign under a new leader, N. W. Rowell, K. C., of Toronto, having accepted the proffered position last night, at the second meeting of the General Reform Association of Ontario. After a discussion lasting all day Mr. Rowell was chosen to lead the party.

Some delegates present complained that Mr. Rowell was practically unknown to the rank and file outside of Toronto, and that he had no seat in the house. One Toronto Liberal said that West Middlesex was the proper constituency for Mr. Rowell to contest as Liberal candidate, but doubt was expressed as to whether J. C. Elliott, sitting member, would retire in favor of Mr. Rowell.

During the day and evening sessions, many suggestions were made regarding plans upon which to build a platform. The liquor question was discussed, and argued at length, being finally left to the committee on resolution.

President-elect Mackenzie King said that there was such diversity of opinion regarding the adoption of prohibition, as a fundamental plank of the party platform, that it might be necessary to call a special convention to consider that issue alone.

Mr. Rowell said he could not assume the active leadership for ten days yet, because of professional engagements. Mr. Rowell briefly advocated the fuller development of Northern Ontario and spoke of more advanced measures along the lines of social and moral reform.

The new leader was born in Middlesex county, just forty-four years ago tomorrow. Educated in London, Ont., he studied law and was called to the bar in 1891. In 1892 he was created a King's counsel. He has been a prominent corporation lawyer and played an important part in the reorganization of the Lake Superior Corporation in 1903. He was a strong opponent of Sunday cars in Toronto in the local campaign of 1893 and 1897.

A leading Methodist and temperance advocate, he has taken part in many religious movements, and is a member of the international committee of the Laymen's Missionary Movement. Mr. Rowell is senior partner of the legal firm of Rowell, Reid, Willie, Wood & Gibson.

SAYS ABOIDEAU WORK NOT ALL WELL DONE

Engineer Will Report to Water Board Tonight—Cost $400 to Improve Fernhill Conditions

At the monthly meeting of the Water and Sewerage Board in City Hall this evening at eight o'clock the Marsh Bridge abutment will again receive consideration. The engineer reports that the work has not been satisfactorily completed and that there are some defective parts. It is estimated that the work can be completed for a sum inside the $1,000 retained by the city from the contractor.

With regard to the leak in the water main in Fernhill the engineer recommends that the culvert be extended to connect with the fifteen inch pipe at an estimated cost of $400.

The bill for the four inch cast iron pipes ordered for the Marsh Road to supply the new warehouse of L. G. Crosby will be submitted for approval. The engineer recommends a catch basin for the eastern side of Elgin street.

PETITIONS IN ONTARIO

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 1.—No new election petitions were filed yesterday before the time limit, although A. J. Beaton, of the Liberal organizing department had sixteen signed petitions, and W. H. Prior for the Conservatives had a larger number ready. This leaves the situation with two appeals from each party, and one extra cross appeal in Norfolk by the Liberals, all of the other ridings where petitions have been filed are East Elgin, Haldimand, and West Kent.

SENDS UP NEW YORK RATE

Increase Attributed Chiefly to Making Salaries of Women Teachers Equal to Men's (Canadian Press).

New York, Nov. 1.—The total budget of the New York city government for 1912, is $187,200,000. The tax rate will be for 1912, 1.85 and 1.88, an increase of from twelve to fifteen points over the rate for the present year.

The increase in the budget is approximately $15,200,000, and is due in a great part to the fact that the salaries of the women teachers in the city schools is to be equalized during this coming year with salaries of the men teachers.

NEWSPAPERS AND THEIR CRITICS

(New York Times.)
It is rather discouraging, or at any rate it is not encouraging, that though the rate for the publication of all the news by newspapers have been so often and so carefully given, there should still persist in a small but well-intentioned and respectable fraction of the newspaper-reading public a belief that the papers should print little if anything except the news of noble deeds and pleasant happenings.

To entertain this belief one has to ignore so many things, among them the nature of news and the interests of humanity. The essential characteristics of news seems to be unimagination. At any rate that alone, in innumerable instances, gives to actions and events what everybody recognizes as importance—not necessarily intrinsic importance, of course, but an importance that demands, receives and in one way or another receives, attention.

A critical reader whose letter appeared on this page yesterday had taken a copy of the Times and written out a partial table of its contents. In our opinion, his table, though partial, proved that the Times that day was an unusually good newspaper. Even its critic had commendation for about half of what his list contained, because it was exactly what he thinks newspapers should print, but to the other half he objected because, fourthly, he objects to murders and attempted murders, to minor crimes, to suicides, to railway accidents, to divorces, to wars.

Concerning these matters, apparently, he would have nothing said. Apparently, too, he thinks that if nothing were said about the public, it is the very best remedy now or ever known for these evils. Of course there is a wrong, as well as a right, public, and the effects of publicity are not all or always good. It can hurt the hero or the philanthropist as well as justice, imitate the bad, and make the good, but in a manner and to a degree justifying the giving of publicity to anything, just as they can condemn the giving of publicity to anything.

This truth is the very best remedy of journalism keeps in mind, and he judges a newspaper less on what it prints than on how and why the printing is done.

There is nothing wrong in the fact that the horse trotting quietly along the street is drawn a crowd if he falls down, and creates intense excitement if he runs away and nothing wrong in the fact that in the one case he makes no news and in the other two "gets into the paper."

Edith.—Yes, he is to marry that rich widow. His debts were looming up fully, and Edith—Lee. His marriage will be the finished product of the loom.

FOUR IN ONE HOME DIED IN A WEEK

Strange Epidemic in Family of James Gibson, Near Annapolis

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 31.—A fatal epidemic has occurred in the family of Jas. Gibson, near Annapolis. Of his six children, four have died during the last week, apparently from paralysis. Their ages range from sixteen to twenty-six years.

There had been several cases of infantile paralysis here. The symptoms at first in the Gibson family were chills and head-ache, followed by paralysis of the limbs. The first death was a son of twenty-three, then a girl of seventeen, and afterwards a son of twenty-six died. Today the fourth child died. Yesterday, in pathetic tones he asked the doctor: "Am I to go too?"

These left of the family are in a terrible state. The undertaker came today and rolled up the body of the last victim, putting it in a coffin for burial without further ceremony. The doctors say that the disease resembles more the epidemic of cerebro-spinal meningitis in its fatality, but the symptoms in most respects are more like those of infantile paralysis that has become more prevalent each year, but in no outbreak has the death rate been so great as in this instance.

Quarantine has been established. Proposals have been made to destroy the house to prevent possibility of further contagion.

Daily Hints For the Cook

TOMATO JELLY AND EGG SALAD.

Soften three fourths of a box of gelatin in one-fourth cup of cold water. Heat water. Cook one pint of tomatoes, one half an onion, a stalk of celery, a bay leaf and a few cloves about ten minutes. Press through a sieve and add a tablespoonful of tarragon vinegar, a few grains of paprika and the gelatine which has been melted over hot water. Stir well and pour into a ring mold set with slices of hard-boiled egg, or turn into a plain mold and cut into cubes for serving.

COCOA FRAPPE.

Stir together one quarter pound of cocoa and one half cup of sugar. Pour over the mixture one cup of boiling water and cook until smooth and shiny. Add a scant two quarts of milk, to which a stick of cinnamon has been added. Boil ten minutes. Beat the white of an egg with a little sugar and add to the hot cocoa mixture. Cool, add a scant half teaspoonful of vanilla and freeze. Serve in glasses and with a spoonful of whipped cream on top.

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

Headaches is a symptom of many diseases in itself. It acts as a dull signal to warn you of serious trouble. By reading Mr. Donner's letter you will be satisfied that there is no treatment to be compared to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a means of building up the system and removing the cause of headaches, sleeplessness and indigestion. Mr. Charles Donner, Kleinburg, Ont., writes: "I wish to communicate to you the great cure which I received from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. For over two years I suffered from fearful headaches, my appetite was always poor, and the stomach bad. I took medicines from physicians, but the headaches persisted, and I was rarely free from them. "Reading about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I began using it, with little idea that I would be benefited. I had become thin and weak, but the very first box helped me, and with continued treatment, I have been cured and feel like a new man. The headaches have disappeared, my appetite is good and digestion excellent. I write this letter in hope that other sufferers from headaches may use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and be cured." DELEGATES FROM HERE INVITED

American Good Roads Men Want Representatives at Important Congress in Rochester

The American Good Roads Congress, in conjunction with the Eighth Annual Convention of the American Road Builders Association, is to be held in Rochester, N. Y., from November 14 to 17 and an urgent invitation to send delegates to this important gathering has been received by the St. John Board of Trade.

The gathering will include men interested officially and otherwise in the scientific and practical construction and maintenance of improved highways. Experts in road making and those who have studied the subject from all angles have applied their theories in practice will give others the benefit of their experience.

During the sessions, the congress will discuss important questions connected with highway and street improvement but it is proposed to confine the deliberation especially to three topics—organization, construction and maintenance.

An attractive and distinctive feature of the convention will be an exhibition of modern machinery, tools, appliances and materials used in building and maintaining city streets and country roads. An adjunct to the exhibition will be moving pictures and stereoscopic views which will give a practical idea of construction work.

In addition to the invitations sent out by the Road Builders Association, His Excellency John A. D. Stewart, governor of the State of New York, has sent special letters of invitation to the governors of the other states and to the lieutenant-governors of the Canadian province.

The Board of Trade has not found it possible to send delegates but in consideration of the importance of the gathering and the valuable information which will be available there, the hope has been expressed that the city, municipality or the province will take the matter up and arrange to have representatives present.

PLAN BIGGEST POULTRY SHOW

Spokane, Wis., Nov. 1.—Brevelers in Spokane have organized to claim the first national championship poultry show, early in 1912, for this city. Officials of the American Poultry Association have endorsed the plan and promise to assist in every way. It is proposed to invite breeders in all parts of America to compete for prizes and trophies in every class, which will be free and open to all, and give an exhibition designed to eclipse the famous events in Madison Square Garden, New York. The acceptance probably will be $1,000 in gold.

The best birds in the United States and Canada will be brought together. It is believed also, that breeders in Australia will be invited to make special exhibits. J. W. G. Handford, who is identified with the movement, says the exhibition will be the largest and most complete of its kind ever attempted in America.

PARISIENNE DREADS THE CRINOLINE

A Word On Fashions From City Where The Dame Resides

NEW DANCES OF YEAR

Business Man Sues to compel Parents of Grand-child to Let Her Visit Him—Treachorous Act of Girl Against Her Former Employer

(Times' Special Correspondence).

Paris, Oct. 19.—Frivolity is said to be the dominant note in the Parisienne's composition, but those who say this know nothing of the strenuous life of the average woman in the gay city. It is not merely dress and other women's husbands that interest her, as some of the modern novel-writers would have us believe. The Parisienne is essentially feminine. She lives to please, in the large sense of the word, follows the movement in literature and art, and knows as much about politics as the majority of her sisters in other countries; reads the reviews, attends the fashionable lectures by well-known academicians, and in a dull country like this is known as an intelligent man, bright, witty sometimes, invariably womanly.

The Crinoline

She has returned to town terribly concerned about the rumors of the approaching crinoline that have reached her in the country. Between the hours spent at her "broderie Anglaise" and in the modern novel-girl and will still be seen in the Tuilleries Gardens, where the midwinters cluster and share their luncheon and their gossip, she is not to be dressed in the fashion of the higher grades of women. The revival of lace has made the social boundary more distinct.

With a feeling of relief the Parisienne orders a couple of taffeta gowns in a vivid blue and Egyptian pink, with rows of shining fringe and sleeves of beads and reaching to the wrist, to tide over the next few weeks.

The Year's Dances

Dancing masters in France and a contingent of their foreign colleagues have just been holding their annual congress, and it is a fact that may be worth remarking, that the German element was in a considerable force. Very polite, indeed, was a speech delivered by a gentleman from Berlin, who generally is regarded as the society of any leading towards the Apache dance. Quite equal to the occasion, however, was one of the representatives of the French capital, who more than hinted that performances of that description had not originated in his native land.

In fact, was the order of the day, as an English delegate claimed that boys and cursties of the most elegant description were still held in high honor at His Majesty's court, as witness the veto against hobble skirts and the lord chamberlain's circular to the dressmakers of the west end. During the congress several novel dances were introduced, including variations of the mazurka and the waltz, and a "five-step Argentine."

In the opinion of these high authorities on matters pertaining to dancing, at least in good society, is becoming more simple. Gavottes, sarabands, and intricate country dances were succeeded by the waltz. Then followed the Boston, and now the Argentine dances appear to be the most in vogue.

When, argued a professor, people of a certain amount of suppleness take part in them they present an ensemble "less shocking to the eye" than a badly-executed waltz or Boston. A simple movement is carried out with more facility, and therefore with more grace and ease than a difficult movement, and this remark applies particularly to the Argentine dances, which, as a delegate from South America gallantly declared, are executed with perfect grace by the Parisiennes.

And while such acknowledged authorities, as the gentlemen assembled at this congress, regard these Argentine dances as at least an agreeable variation from the waltz and the polka, they certainly hold out hopes for people who have not been very successful in round dances, as, if they still possess some amount of suppleness, they may yet figure to some advantage in the Argentine, or at least will present an ensemble "less shocking to the eye," which means they will not look too awkward and uncouth.

A remarkable legal point has been raised in a French court of law. The question at issue is whether grandparents have the right to see their grandchildren when they are at variance with their daughter and son-in-law. M. Ferland Perier, founder of the banking house of Perier & Co., and a descendant of a minister of the second empire, has brought a suit to obtain an order of the court directing that his granddaughter, aged three years, shall be brought to his house on certain days in order that he and his wife may have the consolation of her society.

M. Perier's daughter is married to M. Marchal, formerly a mining engineer, but now a director of Perier & Co.

Owing to certain differences of opinion on financial matters between M. Perier and his son-in-law, M. and Madame Marchal refuse to allow their little daughter to visit her grandparents and M. Perier now seeks the aid of the law in order that he may have an opportunity for displaying his grandparental affection. M. and Madame Marchal on the other hand, plead that affection for the child has nothing to do with the case, and that the desire of Grandpere Perier in wishing to compel them to bring Denise to his house is merely to cause them annoyance.

To this the grandparents have entered the counter-plea that they are moved by pure affection, and also by the hope that the presence of their little grandchild at their house occasionally may be the means of effecting a reconciliation with her parents. There the matter rests for the present, as the case has been adjourned to await the convenience of the lawyers engaged in it.

At the Tenth Correctional Chamber a few days since a young dressmaker named Martha Leon was sentenced to six months imprisonment for a horribly treacherous outrage upon her employer, Madame Tachenet, whose establishment is in the Avenue des Ternes. From the evidence given at the trial it appeared that Mlle. Leon was of a very nervous and irritable disposition, and was occasionally subject to attacks of neurasthenia, which were so severe as occasionally to deprive her of the power of speech. She caused much annoyance in the workroom, and finally Madame Tachenet had to discharge her.

Several times the girl tried to obtain admittance to the shop, but was always refused. She then conceived a stratagem by which to give it to Madame Tachenet, and she succeeded in her purpose. Buying a very handsome bouquet of flowers, she presented herself at the shop, and said she wished to give it to Madame Tachenet and thank her for her kindness. Madame Tachenet came forward to receive the flowers, and was broken by the blow, and threw the bouquet in her face. A bottle of hydrochloric acid concealed among the flowers was broken by the hand which held the bouquet, and was hurled against the face, neck and hands by the girl. At the moment of the treachery of her act, and when sentenced seemed much more surprised than repentant.

NOT THE ONLY CASE
Attention Directed to Thoughtless Behaviour of People at Entertainments

To the Editor of the Times-Star:
I noticed a reference in yesterday's issue to a supper and entertainment given in a North End church on Monday evening. As one of the patrons of the entertainment I feel inclined to make a protest against the disorder that prevailed during the time the programme was being rendered. There seemed to be no desire on the part of a large number present to give any attention to the performers. Conversations were carried on all over the church in voice so loud that persons four or five paces away could follow them. This was unpleasant enough for those who wanted to hear the programme but how much more unpleasant and disconcerting must it have been for those taking part in the entertainment. Persons at entertainments should be temperate and accustomed to an attentive and sympathetic hearing would be utterly unfitted for the part they were taking by such discourteous treatment on the part of their auditors. That sort of thing may be due to thoughtlessness, but it is a thoughtlessness that the rudiments of good manners should prevent.

ONE INTERESTED.

NOT SO MANY LOGS DOWN THIS YEAR

Bangor Raftsmen Handed About Ten Millions Less Than Usual TOTAL IS 55,000,000

The Rafting Season Will be Ended in About Two Weeks—New System Being Employed Under New Manager at The Bangor Booms

Bangor, Nov. 1—In two weeks from now the last log of the approximately 55,000,000 feet of lumber that will have gone through the sorting gap. The season will see about 5,000,000 less go through the boom than the Bangor mills than last year's number, which was the same number under the average, so that this year the number of feet that will make up the total for the season will be about 10,000,000 less than usual.

At the boom there are about 1,500,000 feet of logs, extending over five or six miles of river front. Half the river from the Eastern Maine General hospital down to Merrimac street, is completely filled with these products of the Maine forests. Estimating each log at 30 feet in length, there are 50,000 logs in the boom or on the river.

In the method of rafting there has been a radical change since Mr. Carlin assumed management. Formerly the logs were rafted in a string across the river; now they are rafted lengthwise of the river, which makes the rafting a great deal easier and allows of more work.

Besides the fifty men at the boom, the Bangor Boom Company has forty-five men on the drive. The drive left the Trip, just above Milford, on Monday. There are about 200,000 feet of logs in the drive, and what remains of the raft to be done.

NAE WONDER. In a rural district of Forfarshire a young ploughman once went courting on a Saturday night. In vain he raked his brain for some interesting topic; he could call up no subject at all suitable for the occasion—no one sentence could he utter, and for two long hours he sat on in silent despair. The girl herself was equally silent; she, too, could not utter a word. At last, John suddenly exclaimed: "Penny, there's a feather on yer apron!" "I wish she wondered," replied Jenny. "If I've been sitting aside a goose 'n' a chick."

THAT HE WAS THERE. Pathfinder—Reporter—I have a good description of the dresses, pressed and hair appearance. Now, what shall I say about the bridegroom? Bride—Oh, I suppose he was among those mentioned? Just say he was among those present.

EASTERN STEAMSHIP COMPANY EARNINGS

Net to Dec. 31 Expected to Show Two Per Cent More on Stock Than Last Year

Eastern Steamship Co. has now entered the period of the year in which operations do well to come out even without showing a deficit above operating expenses, says the Boston News Bureau. Up to September 1 the company had enjoyed a most satisfactory year's business with a gain of 15 per cent. in net profits, the increase in net for the eight months being equal to close to two per cent. on the $3,000,000 stock. September and October to date have been rather poor months. It has been entirely a weather proposition and earnings for these two months can hardly do more than break even with 1910.

Bad weather began the middle of August and has held fairly continuously ever since. As a result Maine hotels emptied themselves and people went home by train instead of by boat. Furthermore there was no late August and early September rush to the Maine coast as in most years. Officials of Eastern Steamship estimate that bad weather has cost them net far from $60,000 in net profits. The fiscal 12 months to Dec. 31 are however, very likely to show a gain of at least $80,000 in net, equal to two per cent. on the stock.

Eastern Steamship has this year expended about $25,000 in repairs to its two important Boston wharves. This has put them both in splendid shape and somewhat increased efficiency. In addition two small steamers for service along the Maine coast have been finished and put in service. They cost $84,000 apiece and are all paid for without issuing new securities. A little time money was borrowed to finance their construction, but this has all been paid off and the company has about $130,000 cash in hand.

In addition to the fleet are contemplated for another year or will any other large property expenditure be needed. The Bangor Boom Company has forty-five men on the drive. The drive left the Trip, just above Milford, on Monday. There are about 200,000 feet of logs in the drive, and what remains of the raft to be done.

WHY I LOST MY JOB

Reasons Why Thousands Like Me Cannot Satisfy Their Employers

I believe my fate is not unlike that of thousands of other workers who daily lose their places for reasons they do not know, and probably would not believe. When their last pay envelope comes along, it is usually, "Your services no longer required."

That was my trouble. I was full of troubles. That's why I lost my job. My stomach in the first place was always out of order, and I was worrying about it and my mind grew cloudy and slow. I made mistakes, and grew grouchy. That was the end.

There are thousands like me, gone about with "quick lunch" faces, dyspeptic manners, and repulsive habits. No employer wants such a creature. Take my advice. Get Sturt's Dyspepsia Tablets. They will keep your mind clear, and your body healthy and strong.

I started to take Sturt's Dyspepsia Tablets when I was told were good for the worst cases of indigestion and dyspepsia. The first two tablets made a wonderful difference in my condition.

One ingredient of Sturt's Dyspepsia Tablets digests 3,000 grains of food. The stomach doesn't have to work at all. The Tablets do all the work, no matter how heavy your meal.

Sturt's Dyspepsia Tablets cure brash, eruptions, burning sensations, bloating, flatulency, loss of appetite, nausea, heart burn, lack of energy, loss of memory and dyspepsia and indigestion in their worst forms.

No other little tablets in the world can do so much. You should carry them around with you wherever you go, and take them regularly after meals. Then you will realize what it is to be freed from stomach trouble, and have a clear mind, a quick memory, a happy disposition, comfort and rest.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package free. Write to: P. O. Sturt, 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Halsey Corwin, Who Went Through Fortune, Takes Tickets at Moving Picture Theatre

New York, Oct. 31.—Crowds passing into a moving picture show in Fortieth street, off Broadway, the other night, gave their tickets to a modestly dressed man at the door.

"Who is that man?" someone asked. "I have seen him before."

"It's Halsey Corwin," a man near answered. "That's the same Halsey who inherited $800,000 from his father, Halsey Corwin, ex-controller of Brooklyn. His money is all gone now and he is working for $12 a week."

"How did you like his sort of a job?" Corwin was asked.

"I never was as happy in my life, and I never was better," he answered. "Now, please don't ask me to make any statement or give advice to rich young men," he laughed. "I know that is what will be expected of me, now that I am down to hard-pan. My present position doesn't warrant my giving advice to any one."

Corwin is many pounds heavier than he was when he was buying out Broadway restaurants nightly. He was told that business seems to agree with him.

"It certainly does," he answered.

A NERVOUS IRON WORKER

Used Morrissy's No. 14 Blood Tonic. No Fear of Dizzy Heights Now.

WINNIPEG, MAN., June 14, 1911. "One day last winter while exposed to the weather I contracted a very severe cold, and I was several months getting rid of it. It left me in a weakened condition, and I became very nervous and worn out. Things went from bad to worse, and it was not until I was obliged to stop work, in fact, I was suffering from a shaky, nervous condition, and I was unable to do any work on hand. I was obliged to stop work for two or three times, but all without success. Finally, I happened to meet a friend, who claimed to have Morrissy's No. 14 Blood Tonic, and I bought a box of it. I used it for a few days, and I began to feel better. I was able to go to work again, and I was able to do my work as usual. I am now in a state of perfect health, and I can do any work I wish to do. I can do any work I wish to do. I can do any work I wish to do."

HORSEFLESH COMMON FOR FOOD AS MUTTON

High Prices Lead Germans To Great Consumption of Equines.

Berlin, Oct. 31.—The prices of all kinds of meat have risen to such an extent throughout the empire that horse-flesh has become an article of common consumption.

In the first six months of this year 38,777,485 pounds of horse-flesh were sold as against 45,488,883 pounds of mutton.

In view of the great agitation for a decrease in import duties on food-stuffs and the abolition of the export bounty system, which raises the price of fodder, the Prussian minister of agriculture has issued a decree in which he points out the great difference between wholesale and retail prices, especially in regard to pork, which is the favorite meat of the Germans, forming more than half of the total of meat consumed.

The minister enjoins the cities to endeavor to bring about an understanding with the retailers and if they are unable to do so to take effective action by selling meat, vegetables, fruit and more especially fish, themselves, and to this end he promises to arrange that reduced railroad freight tariffs shall be accorded to municipalities which provide retail food stores for the benefit of their citizens.

Wilmerdorf and other suburbs of Berlin have already started municipal food stores, which are a great success and Berlin has just decided to open 70 stalls for a similar purpose in the public markets. Many provincial cities are following suit.

CAUSES MUCH DISEASE

Advice About Stomach Troubles and How to Relieve Them

Do not neglect indigestion which may lead to all sorts of ills and complications. An eminent physician once said that ninety-five per cent of all the ills of the human body have their origin in a disordered stomach.

My experience with Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets leads me to believe them to be among the most dependable remedies known for the relief of indigestion and chronic dyspepsia. The ingredients are soothing and healing, the flavored membranes of the stomach are rich in pepsin, one of the greatest digestive aids known to medicine. The relief they afford is very prompt. For a short time I used them for a short time to bring about a cessation of the pains caused by stomach disorders.

DR. BELL IN CITY LAST NIGHT

To deliver an address before the Society of Telephone Pioneers at Boston, Prof. Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor of the telephone, passed through the city last evening on route from Bedouque, Cape Breton. Dr. Bell has been spending the season at his summer home at Bedouque and went to Boston in answer to a request from the officers of the new society.

The first meeting of the society will be held in Boston tomorrow and Dr. Bell has consented to deliver an historical address covering the invention and the development of the telephone system.

Dr. Bell was accompanied by two of his grandchildren, little Miss P. Fairchild and Alexander Graham Bell Fairchild. They are the son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fairchild of Washington (D. C.), and are returning to their parents during the summer. Dr. Bell had the company of eight of his grandchildren at Bedouque (C. E.), but they have not returned to the homes of their parents.

In order to become a minuscule you have only to lunt up a grievance.

Mrs. Louisa Witter, a nurse, said that Powers went home last night and pulled his sick wife out of bed and struck her. He had done this on another occasion. Mrs. Powers is an invalid and the witness said that she would never be well enough to go to court.

Policeman Witter said that when he called at the house last night Mrs. Powers was terribly frightened, and asked that her husband be arrested. She told the witness that he had struck her with his fist.

The prisoner was remanded. In sending him to jail the court said "There is altogether too much of this wife beating going on. I will look into this case thoroughly and if the evidence warrants it you may probably be sent to the higher court."

Bernard Holm, reported for obstructing the sidewalk in Douglas Avenue, gave a satisfactory explanation. William Fudge, reported for assaulting Joseph Boland, was taken to go as the complainant failed to appear.

NOT UNTIL SPRING

River Glade Sanitarium Will Not Be Opened This Winter

Dr. David Townsend, the new superintendent of the provincial sanitarium at River Glade has postponed his visit to River Glade for a few days. He was expected to have a conference with Hon. J. K. Fleming here before leaving the city and as the premier has not yet arrived in St. John he will wait for a day or two to hear from him.

The idea of opening the institution this winter on a small scale has been abandoned owing to the difficulties that would make the experiment likely to be unsuccessful. Instead the energies of the superintendent and the commissioners will be devoted to completing the plans for the opening in the spring and for making the sanitarium a model institution.
