CARTER GOVERNMENT IN DELICATE POSITION

Government Caught with All Standing and Confusion Abounds.

Special to The Standard.

Fredericton, May 30.—Somehow a sensation was created in the House this afternoon when Hon. Mr. Baxter questioned the right of two members on the government side to sit in the legislature, raising the point that they occupied positions of emolument in the government. The members in question are the Hon. Mr. Murray, provincial secretary-treasurer, and Allison A. Dysart, the junior member for Kent county. The government is in grave danger of losing both supporters. In fact if Hon. Mr. Baxter's contention is sustained the retirement of both members is inevitable. Falling in that the provisions of the election law, which operate to disqualify them will be brought into force.

Asleep At The Switch.

While the Carter-Foster government was thrown into consternation when the objection was taken by Hon. Mr. Baxter, there is a general feeling on both sides of the House that the new administration has been caught napping, and it is expected that the government will see the futility of attempting to adopt any other course than to stand by the existing law which, of necessity, disqualifies the members.

The administration is deeply perturbed over the unexpected turn of events and has already awakened to the seriousness of the matter. Losing two members at this particularly juncture when the other troubles of the administration are countless and difficult will be a hard blow to the government whose existence is daily becoming imperiled.

Hon. Mr. Baxter.

Hon. Mr. Baxter brought the matter to the attention of the House after the routine business had been disposed of this afternoon.

He said he desired to speak on matters embodied in the answers to his inquiries which had been presented in the House yesterday and the day previous, one of the answers also being referred to by the Hon. Mr. Byrne when the House was in the notice of inquiry stage this afternoon. He regretted to speak of the matter when the gentleman involved (the Provincial Secretary) was not in his seat, owing to illness, but nevertheless it was essential that he should do so. The question of privilege which he raised was that by the answers furnished by the government to inquiries 33 and 34, it was shown that his honorable friend the Provincial Secretary-treasurer occupied an office of emolument in the gift of the government, being a master of the supreme court, while his honorable friend from Kent, Mr. Dysart, also held the position of parish court commissioner, for which he received remuneration, thus operating to disqualify him under the provisions of the election law from occupying a seat in the House.

Both Not Members.

The former attorney-general said that the House should have due regard to the provisions of the election law which were wise and well founded. He did wish to make a motion

McGill University Honors Mr. Balfour, Conferring Degree

Refers to Canadians as "Our Countrymen."

Montreal, May 30.—Right Hon. Arthur J. Balfour, the British Secretary for Foreign Affairs, and head of the war mission, whose labors in the United States have just been concluded, was given a hearty reception when he arrived in Montreal today from Ottawa, and he spent a busy afternoon here. He delivered an address at a luncheon of the Canadian Club held in the Windsor Hotel shortly after his arrival; at a special convocation of McGill University in the Royal Victoria College, in the presence of a large gathering of prominent people, the degree of doctor of laws was conferred on Mr. Balfour and two of his distinguished associates, Rear Admiral Sir D. R. S. De Chair and Lieut. Gen. G. T. M. Bridges, and upon Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador to the United States. In all his utterances he dealt with the Motherland and the dominions not as separate powers, but as one in "our common work," referring to his visit as "to our countrymen—la Canada."

CARTER PARTY DOING SOME THINKING

Took Early Adjournment to Consider Where it is At—Still Slow in Replying.

Fredericton, May 30.—The government's dilly-dallying in bringing down the answers to inquiries presented by opposition members was referred to in the House today. Nearly three weeks ago Hon. Mr. Smith made inquiries into public works matters but the answers have not yet been tabled, an unprecedented delay. The former minister of public works wants the information for the budget debate and the government should not withhold it any longer. Hon. Mr. Murray, leader of the opposition, agreed with Hon. Mr. Smith that the information should be forthcoming, and that the present minister should have his staff compile it. If more help was required in the department he was in favor of employing it. The information sought would take only a few hours to complete. The House and country are entitled to it without any delay. Today's proceedings in the House have accentuated the worries of the government. The opposition expected that when the House took recess at 7 o'clock an evening session of some length would be held, but the government preferred to adjourn after scarcely half an hour's session and the members betook themselves to solve some of their perplexing difficulties.

"ATHOL FORBES" DEAD

concerning the matter, but he felt that his honorable friend the Premier would appreciate the fact that it was his duty to refer the matter to the committee on privileges, Section 33 of the act, clearly rendered the members he had mentioned disqualified.

"However unpleasant it is for me to raise this point," said Hon. Mr. Baxter, "I feel the House will agree that the first thing we must do ourselves is to observe the laws we have enacted."

Hon. Mr. Foster said he could not give his answer at the present time. "But I agree with my honorable friend Mr. Baxter that if there is anything wrong it should be righted," said the premier.

The government having furnished the information that both members were appointed to positions of emolument it is hardly expected that they will become so inconsistent as to endeavor to repudiate their previous admission. Certain it is that the members' action in continuing in the positions contravenes the provisions of the election law which specifically states that persons holding positions of emolument shall not be eligible as candidates or to occupy seats in the legislature.

MR. BYRNE DESIRES AN ASSISTANT

Government Anxious to Add to its Numerous Official Staff.

OPPOSITION STRONGLY OBJECTS TO THE PLAN

Think the Attorney General Should Perform His Own Work.

Fredericton, May 30.—A government bill to provide for the appointment of a deputy attorney-general was jammed through the committee stage of the House this afternoon despite the vigorous protestations of the members of the opposition. The bill is certainly surrounded with mystery. There is no intimation in the measure as to the duties which the new office will involve, while the salary of the new office is likewise not stated. The government also remained mute to the questions of the opposition as to the name of the proposed appointee, apparently feeling that the man decided upon for the position is either devoid of the necessary qualifications or realizing that the divulging of the name might create the impression among the people of the province that the position was created to satisfy the demands of another hungry partisan.

There can be no doubting the fact that such a new official is not needed, the opposition made that fact undeniable during the discussion of the provision of the bill today.

REV. CANON COGSWELL, NOVA SCOTIAN, DEAD

London, May 30.—Rev. Dr. W. H. L. Cogswell, Canon of Chester Cathedral, is dead.

Rev. William Henry Lawrence Cogswell, D.D., was born at Halifax, N.S., Dec. 11, 1845, the son of Rev. William C. Cogswell, of St. Paul's Church, that city. He was educated at the Halifax Grammar School, Halifax Academy, Kings College and Wadham College, Oxford. He was ordained to the diaconate in 1868 and ordained priest in 1869, becoming curate at Steveson, Herby. From 1872 to 1879 he was vicar of St. Helens, Oxford, vicar of St. Oswald's, Chester from 1879 to 1880, warden of the special service clergy from 1890 to 1895 and rector of Walsley, Cheshire, chaplain to the Bishop of Chester and canon of the cathedral. His wife was Miss Alicia Harriet Unlake. He received his degree of Doctor of Divinity from Kings College.

SIR WILFRID CONFERS WITH SIR LOMER GOUIN

Special to The Standard. Montreal, May 30.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his lieutenants in this province held council this afternoon but maintained a rigid silence as to the subjects discussed or the decisions reached.

"Sir Wilfrid was here to feel the pulse of the province towards a question of coalition government," said a prominent Liberal this afternoon. This Liberal added: "Sir Wilfrid was told that the people were decidedly against a coalition at present, and further, Sir Wilfrid did not compromise himself on the subject one way or the other."

Sir Wilfrid arrived in Montreal shortly after noon and he was met by Sir Lomer Gouin, prime minister of Quebec, and many other Liberal leaders.

Liberal opinion, and that taken from generally good and fair sources, is that Sir Wilfrid came to Montreal to gain a more personal idea of the situation in this province.

No Annexations, No Indemnities, Socialists' Plan

Peace Programme Drawn Up at Stockholm.

Stockholm, May 30, via London.—The peace programme of the Austrian and German delegates to the Socialist conference to be held here, as formulated in a group conference, provides for no annexations and no indemnities.

The six chief points of the programme are enumerated as follows: First—No annexations. Second—No indemnities. Third—The south Slavic lands and Austro-Hungarian crown land to remain in the dual monarchy, but Socialists should support the efforts of their inhabitants to gain autonomy.

Fourth—Finland and Russian Poland to be independent states. The people of Galicia to have autonomy under the sovereignty of Austria.

Fifth—Restoration of freedom of commerce on land and sea, modification of the protectionist system, the establishment of "international administration" for all maritime routes and inter-oceanic canals; internationally built and administered railways.

Sixth—Return to the maritime principle established by the Paris peace treaty of 1856.

The delegates go on record as opposing the annexation of Belgium, and declare themselves as "being friendly to Serbia's independence."

MURDER SHIP TORPEDOED

Boston, May 30.—The schooner Margate B. Rouss, formerly the barkentine Herbert Fuller of Harrington, Me., has been torpedoed in the Mediterranean. The crew were saved.

The Fuller became notorious twenty years ago when she put into Halifax with the bodies of the captain, his wife and the second mate on board. They had been murdered, an axe being the weapon used.

Mate Thomas Bram, formerly of Yarmouth Co., N. S., was convicted of the crime, but he was released a year ago, his innocence being practically certain.

THE ITALIANS CAPTURE NEW STRONGHOLDS

Right Wing Closer to the Duino and Triest Railway Line.

ONLY MINOR CLASHES IN NORTHERN FRANCE

Russians and Austrians Fighting in a More Lively Fashion.

The battle front from Gorizia southward toward the head of the Gulf of Trieste remains the only theatre where for the moment hard fighting is in progress. Even here, however, the intensity which characterized the operations last week is lacking.

On the front in France, where Field Marshal Haig's forces are facing the Germans the operations by neither side have risen above minor attacks for several days, consisting mainly of hostilities or an artillery duel of a moderate degree of strength.

Wednesday also passed without infantry engagements between the French and Germans, although their respective guns took part in spirited artillery duels to the south of St. Quentin and in Champagne.

Russians and Austrians.

The Russians and Austrians in the eastern theatre are fighting in more lively fashion than has been the case for months. This is particularly true as the Russians began an offensive. As yet the Petrograd war office has made no comment on the situation as it now exists in this region, nor has the Austrian official communication given any idea as to the extent of the hostilities or an intimation of the exact zone where the fighting is going on.

The anticipated commencement of hostilities by the Russians and Roumanians in Roumania has not yet materialized.

Italians Again Win.

Between Janina and the head of the Gulf of Trieste the Italians have again cut into the Austrian lines and occupied positions west of the village of Medesazza, thereby bringing their right wing closer toward Duino and the railway line leading toward Trieste.

The Austrian war office reports the repulse of Italian attacks near the Julian front.

The weekly report of British vessels sunk by submarines or mines shows that eighteen vessels of over 1,000 tons—the same number as recorded the previous week—went to the bottom, but that only one vessel of less than 1,000 tons met with disaster, a decrease of eight over the record of the previous week.

CANADIANS IN U. S. CAN ENLIST THERE

Expenses Will Be Paid to Nearest Army Centre in This Country.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, May 30.—A plan has been agreed upon between the American and the Canadian governments to handle Canadians and British subjects in the United States who desire to enlist in the Canadian expeditionary force. Persons who are not natural born or wholly naturalized American citizens may, upon application to the nearest American recruiting office, after passing physical tests, have their transportation paid to New York, if they wish to join the British army, and to the Canadian army.

Brigadier General W. A. White of the British recruiting mission, is the head of this work in the United States.

British Steamer Washington Sunk In Italian Waters

Nearly Half Hundred Lives Lost on Spanish Ship.

New York, May 30.—Officers of the former American steamship Virginia, who arrived at an American port today, brought word of the sinking of the British freight steamer Washington by a German submarine on May 3. The Washington was torpedoed, they asserted, only seven miles from Genoa after the naval convoy had left the steamer, believing her safe from attack. The explosion was heard by persons ashore they declared.

The Virginia's officers said the U-boats operations in the Mediterranean have become so bold that they go almost into harbors planting mines. They declared the German submarines are equipped with net cutting apparatus, a "sort of wire device like a booz saw," they described it, which cuts a net "like a hot knife through butter."

148 Lost. Madrid, May 29, via Paris, May 30.—The Spanish steamer C de Elnaizque with thirty-nine passengers and 106 sailors has been lost. There were only twenty-four survivors. The cause of the disaster is not known.

U. S. SLACKERS HIKE OVER TO THE DOMINION

Take Advantage of Opening of Racing Season in Canada—Arrests Likely.

New York, May 30.—Word has reached the department of justice officials here that between 150 and 200 military slackers—race track touts and hangers-on for the most part—were fleeing from the Canadian border in government-sealed box cars loaded at Jamaica, Long Island.

Telegrams were dispatched to the Canadian authorities asking them to search all such cars before permitting them to cross the international boundary line. U. S. slackers found aboard will be arrested and brought back to New York as federal prisoners.

The stock cars are loaded with race horses designed for service on the Montreal tracks and after that on the coast at Ottawa, Port Erie and Windsor.

A number of the racing men who are to compete in the Canadian meets had obtained permission from both this and the Canadian governments to cross the line, with their belongings. No permit, however, was issued to any applicant of conscription age, between twenty-one and thirty years, inclusive.

Hard To Cross Border. Racing men of all sorts and descriptions who are of the ages liable to conscription may experience trouble in entering Canada for the continuation of the season on the big tracks in the Dominion.

United States Attorney Knox said that while American officials were not likely to detain the men, it was probable that Canadian officials would. All Americans of military age have been stopped at the border recently, and admission to Canadian soil has been refused them.

312,503 CANADIAN TROOPS OVERSEAS

Ottawa, May 30.—(Leased wire)—The total number of officers and men of the Canadian Expeditionary Force who had sailed for England up to May 1st last, was 312,503, according to information furnished to Hon. Frank Oliver in the Commons today. The total number who were on duty in Canada on May 1 was 25,475. Mr. Oliver was told there was no record of the number of officers and men sent back from England as unfit for Retiring Ministers.

(9)—It has not yet been decided what ministers in the present cabinet will be dropped. Sir Robert Borden, Hon. C. J. Doherty, Hon. Arthur Meighen and Hon. Dr. Reid are all practically certain to be retained.

(10)—The new ministers, the proposals carry, will stand for constituencies though by-elections will likely be voided by arrangement between the two parties.

(11)—The final draft of the conscription bill is ready. It is not likely to be put into effect for a couple of months. It will take at least that time to register the manhood of the country. In the meantime the voluntary system will get what is equivalent to a new trial. As soon as the register is completed the bill will be brought into force, and the first selective draft taken by order in council.

(12)—If the proposals of the Prime Minister fail, or if, in the event of coalition being brought about it should prove unsatisfactory, a general election will come immediately.

It may not be known for some days yet whether the Liberal leaders invite or to be invited to enter the government will accept. The success of the whole scheme rests with their decision.

Sir Lomer Gouin, Premier Murray and Hon. N. W. Rowell May be Members.

SIR WILFRID CONFERS WITH PREMIER OF QUE.

Not Yet Known if Laurier Will Be Included in the Government.

FINAL CONSCRIPTION BILL DRAFT READY

Measure of Registration Likely to Become Effective Immediately.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, May 30.—Canada will have a coalition government within a fortnight or a general election within a month. The Standard correspondent is enabled tonight to give the following summary of the political situation, which though unofficial, is based upon facts that may be accepted as reliable:

(1)—Sir Lomer Gouin, Premier of Quebec; Hon. G. H. Murray, Premier of Nova Scotia, and Hon. N. W. Rowell, leader of opposition, Ontario; Liberals all, are to be invited to enter a "win the war" government.

(2)—Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. P. F. Pardee, chief Liberal whip, are in Montreal placing the whole situation before Sir Lomer Gouin.

(3)—Mr. Pardee will leave Montreal tonight for Toronto to confer with Mr. Rowell.

(4)—It is not yet known whether Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be included in the proposed coalition. He is thought to be working to assist the Prime Minister in carrying out his proposals.

(5)—Sir Robert Borden will be the leader of any combination of the two parties that is formed.

(6)—It is understood that the proposed new cabinet will be three-fifths Conservative and two-fifths Liberal.

(7)—The new government will not deal finally with questions of party controversy including the fiscal question only in so far of course as the measure may be needed for additional revenue. Some such arrangements as exists between the two parties in Britain may be adopted.

(8)—The new cabinet will confine itself to questions affecting the prosecution of the war, including greater food production, shipping, raising of armies, etc.

(9)—The railway question, however, will likely be brought under its review.

(10)—It has not yet been decided what ministers in the present cabinet will be dropped. Sir Robert Borden, Hon. C. J. Doherty, Hon. Arthur Meighen and Hon. Dr. Reid are all practically certain to be retained.

Pugaley on Wrong Track.

Hon. Frank Oliver, started the attack but it was mildness itself compared with Hon. William Pugsley, who asserted that he had been told these rails were for light narrow gauge railways.

But Mr. Pugsley saw nothing of all this. He denounced the action of the minister as the final blow to a railway that the government disliked and did not desire to see prosper.

Ottawa, May 30.—(Leased Wire)—Hon. Frank Oliver moved the adjournment of the commons this afternoon at the opening of the rails of the Grand Trunk Pacific west of Edmonton. These are being sent to France for war purposes.

Mr. Turf—"That is what the government has done from the start?" Mr. Cochrane—"No, they have not. We had a lot of second hand rails in the I. C. R. and Transcontinental, but we want to send over rails of the same kind as we sent before. We propose to take care of every interest along these different roads. If we cannot do it altogether then the British government have agreed that they will look after any damage that may occur."

Hon. R. B. Bennett. Mr. R. B. Bennett of Calgary told the story of the rails as he had learned it. The authorities overseas required the Dominion of Canada to furnish 500 miles of rails of a given weight with 1,300 turnouts or switches. They were to be of great weight for they were to bring up the heavy artillery.

Mr. Bennett concluded by declaring that nothing could be more tragic than Mr. Pugsley's attitude on this question in the midst of war.

During one of the coldest spells last January he was driven into Canada from the States crossing at Niagara Falls in such a hurry that he left his baggage behind him. This was afterwards recovered but with some difficulty.

The story of the fugitive's escapades running through so many years, chased through the United States and Canada in almost a continual flight of over 146,000 miles reads a good deal like a detective story.

The "Wandering Jew" is not in it. The fugitive is actually driven from city to city. He takes refuge wherever it is offered to him.

He may be in St. John now; or in some other locality not far away, for it is certain he is somewhere in New Brunswick.

In a heavy snow storm and with a large travelling bag in his hands "The Fugitive" was discovered on a Grand Trunk train at Suspension Bridge January 19. He got off at the Falls station on this side under the observation of one of the immigration officers. He appealed to a personal friend in the customs service in Niagara Falls, Ont., to answer for his behavior while in the Dominion; and otherwise make it plain to the border officers that he was not trying to "pull anything over" on the immigration bunch. His small baggage required little time to investigate and was readily cleared. The head porter watched the bag that he had checked below for several hours. The fugitive escaped just in time to avoid being put under the hammer by the Chateau's force of excited clerks, porters and bell hops.

On February 19, just a month after his arrival in Ottawa the fugitive registered at the Queen Hotel, Montreal, and three days later disappeared. On a Friday night he was comfortably installed in one of the palatial sleepers on the Ocean Limited leaving Montreal for the Maritime provinces. He was advised that fugitives were not needed in Canada during this war and he had better slide back so as to help the States as soon as they should be ready to fight for civilization. It is probable he is going to take that advice.

From all of which it is assumed that this untiring and sleepless fugitive is headed for the States and is coming through to St. John in hopes of getting back along the most sensible route of travel.

The last previous flight "The Fugitive" made into Canada was in September 1912, beginning at Yonkers, N. Y., and making by stages the Hudson river towns to Albany and Troy. A few days later he got cover in St. Johns, Quebec. His approach to Montreal at that time had been heralded ahead of him. He had been advised that he would be "nailed" as soon as he left the train if he dared to return to that city. So in St. Johns, Quebec, he laid over to watch his chance.

When the Farnham local jeter in the day stopped at Westmount station two women and a man were the only passengers that got off. One of Captain Williams' sleuths keenly surveyed the three passengers passing him, but said nothing. The next day Ladd the Fugitive (his alias on that and the first that the officer, a jolly good fellow, knew that he had had the fugitive in his power was when he saw the same picture the readers of The Standard are looking at today. "Uncovered" after fifteen days hiding in Toronto, "The Fugitive" fled to Montreal and in seventeen days was driven from that city and pursued for four weeks through the province of Quebec; apprehended in some of the small and large towns where he sought cover. In Richmond, Que., he was discovered by a Church of England clergyman. Indeed it was his wife and not the clergyman who discovered the fugitive. Very properly she turned the burden of picking up the reward over to her "hubby." Then he did put on airs. In twenty-eight hundred miles flight in that province the fugitive had many interesting adventures.

In Brockville, Ontario, the lady in the public library unconscious of his identity concealed him in the privacy of a side room and left him under lock and key which, after the chase outside had died down enabled him to board a train and safely get away. In Cornwall, J. R. Herdman, a prominent merchant and his wife kept "The Fugitive" under cover night and day and introduced him around among their neighbors as Mrs. Herdman's cousin. Personally they smuggled him out of town.

A physician in a Saskatchewan town drove him in a lively ride behind a fast horse to get him seven miles down the line and placed him on the train at a neighboring station. A physician in Souris, Manitoba, picked him up on the road out of Winnipeg and took him under his protection in his own town.

This is the sixth time "The Fugitive's" flights have led him through Canada and this is the first of his flights to bring him into the Maritime provinces. There is nothing like this "man chase" covering so many years of constant flight that has appeared in newspaper print, so far as is known. His misdeeds have been kept accurately.

It is proposed to run him down and drive him out of this part of the country if he is discovered in St. John or vicinity. The Standard requests that anyone advised of the presence of a suspicious character about here communicate with this office. "The Fugitive" must be headed off. He must be turned back if he is directing his course across the line. Telephone! Step into The Standard office! Let it be known that you have seen a suspicious person prowling around, as soon as one shows up in your neighborhood.

To Go to Alresford, N. S.

An advance party of the Forestry Unit will probably be leaving Sussex next week for Alresford to make the necessary preparations for the arrival of the unit, which is to follow soon after. The establishment of the unit calls for 350 men of all ranks. The muster roll at present totals nearly three hundred men and with the announcement that the unit is soon to proceed to summer camp it is expected that the final fifty men will be recruited with the signal success.

U. S. VOLUNTEER PLAN ADMITTED HUGE FAILURE

Daily Recruiting Figures Keenly Disappoint War Department Officials.

Washington, May 30.—War department officials are pointing to the daily recruiting figures as proof anew that the volunteer system again has broken down in time of national emergency. In one day regular army recruiting brought in 2,227 men, making a total of 87,518 since April 1. But army officers declare that a great drive for volunteers to fill the army and national guard to the new war strength will be necessary unless there is to be serious delay in organizing the newly authorized regiments.

That's it! Clean and—Free from Dust

These of course are for the regular army and quite a part from the army to be raised by selective conscription.

Small Figures.

Despite the fact that the nation is at war and American regulars are under orders for the fighting front in France, less than 200,000 men have enlisted since April 1 in the regulars and national guards. The present rate of enlistment—1,200 to 1,500 a day—officials say must be increased to 10,000 or 20,000 a day if the forces which in all probability will be among the first to follow Major General Pershing's division to Europe are to go forward promptly. An appeal to the country from the president may be necessary to get the men. The most striking fact in connection with the recruiting rate for the regulars, officers say, is that even the announcement that General Pershing would lead a division to France without delay, failed utterly to stimulate enlistment.

C. P. R. SUBURBANS.

On Saturday, June 2nd suburban will leave St. John at 1:10 p. m. Atlantic, for Welsford. Returning will leave Welsford 8:15 p. m. Will leave St. John again at 10:15 p. m. On this date the 6:10 p. m. suburban will be cancelled. Effective Monday, June 4th, full Canadian Pacific suburban service will go into effect.

"A ONE SIDED DEVELOPMENT."
Although our city has hundreds of manufacturing concerns employing thousands of people who produce millions of dollars' worth of products each year, the amount is not proportional to our population—it does not equal the record of other cities. It is not fair to our possibilities. Why does our city show a smaller proportion in her relation between population and industrial output than other cities?
This condition should be changed. We are certainly in a favored locality; raw material in abundance, cheap power, unexcelled transportation facilities, good living conditions are ours.
The biggest lesson we have to learn—the lesson we must religiously practice and preach is this: Patronize local industries—Buy goods made at home. If we unite in this effort, increased progress and prosperity for our community as a whole cannot fail to be the result.
We, as individuals, wherever possible should encourage excellence in our community by giving preference to home products. Let us each one make it a point to buy something made at home today. You will find something in every store you visit.

NOT CERTAIN WHY WE WON'T WIN WAR

Hill and Hart Pair of Pronounced Pessimists — Description Favored.

New York, May 30.—David Jayne Hill, former ambassador to Germany, in an address to the trustees of the American Defense Society, warned that Germany is far from defeated and discounted the theory that the Hohenzoellerns alone are responsible for that country's imperialistic ambitions. He asserted that the present war is a struggle of political systems.

Germans Imperialists.

"The people of Germany," declared Mr. Hill, "are more loyal to the Emperor than the Democratic party is to Wilson today. The President has said that we have no hostility toward the German people but the German people support the Imperial German government to a man. Did not a wave of general rejoicing go through Germany when the Lusitania went down? How may Germans in Germany can you find who are not imperialists? I have never found one."

Hart Pessimistic Also.

Prof. Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard in an address to members of the executive committee of the National Security League sounded a similar warning. The danger confronting the United States is as great as that of 1776, he said "and not one-third of the people realize it."

The "need" added Prof. Hart, "is very grave for immediately impressing upon the people of this country the reasons for our entrance into the war and the fact that the life of democracy—the very life of the nation itself—hangs upon our victory over Germany."

NERVOUS CHILDREN

From early spring until July is the time that St. Vitus Dance usually develops, and nervous children should be carefully watched during that time for symptoms of the disease. Irritability is one of the first signs noted. The child frets, is quarrelsome and does not sleep well. The jerky movements that characterize the disease come a little later. The patient becomes pale, languid, and often constipated. The limbs and sometimes the whole body jerk spasmodically, and in severe cases the power of speech is affected. Such a child should not be allowed to study, but should be kept quiet, given a nutritious diet, remain out of doors as much as possible, and above all things give a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. Without this treatment St. Vitus Dance may become chronic, and the patient a life-long sufferer. Mrs. W. A. Squires, Cannington, Ont., says: "A few years ago my only daughter was troubled with St. Vitus Dance. She was so bad she would lose control of her limbs and her face would become contorted. We had to take her from school and had her under a doctor's care, but it did not help her. After the trouble had gone on for some time we finally decided to give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and by the time she had taken five boxes she was completely cured, and has had no sign of the trouble since."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

U. S. COLORS PLACED ON ALTAR OF OLD ST. PAUL'S.

London, May 30.—At St. Paul's today the colors of the American Legion in the Canadian contingents were placed beside the altar to remain there until after the war. There were five flags, one from each battalion—the 67th, 211th, 212th, 213th and 237th. They were escorted to the cathedral by 600 Canadian soldiers.

OMINOUS CALM PREVAILS ON THE FRENCH FRONTS

Armies of Britain, France and Germany May Be Preparing for Another Terrific Chapter in the Bloody Struggle—Italians Gain.

There has come such a pronounced pause in the major activities of the great war as to give the impression that preparations for a new phase in the development of the conflict may be in progress.

Only on the Austro-Italian front, where General Cadorna is determinedly pushing his campaign for Trieste, is any sustained offensive movement going on. The great battles which developed last month on the front in northern France have come to a halt. Even counter-attacks by the Germans have virtually ceased along the British front, while on the French front they have lessened in number and violence. The recent pronounced aerial activity also has subsided. When the next blow is to be delivered can only be surmised.

Look for New Development.

Indications are multiplying that the Germans are looking for some new development. They have mentioned the Russo-Rumanian front as the place of expected attacks. The trend of the news from the Entente side of that front, however, has not been such as to lead to the belief that an effective stroke could be delivered upon the Teutonic lines there at present.

The French Report.

Paris, May 30.—Violent artillery firing occurred on the French front, south of St. Quentin, during the night, according to an official statement issued by the French war office this morning. A German attack at Mont Blond, in the Champagne, was repulsed, the Germans leaving dead and wounded on the field. Two German airplanes were brought down yesterday.

British Statement.

London, May 30.—"Hostile raiding parties were repulsed last night in the neighborhood of Fontaine-Les-Croisilles and west of Lens," says today's war office report.

The Italians Gain.

Rome, via London, May 30.—Further gains by the Italians on the Trieste front are announced. The Italian line has been extended west of Medoazza.

UNION OPPOSES WOMEN AS ST. CAR EMPLOYEES

"Organized Labor Would Protect Women Against Themselves."

Boston, May 30.—The proposed employment of women as conductors on street cars in this city to fill the places made vacant by men called to the colors was opposed in resolutions announced by the Boston Street Car Men's Union.

"Organized labor," the resolution said, "would protect women against themselves, that their labor may not be exploited by the captains of industry who, under the guise of patriotism, hide their real motives and purposes which seek to deny to those at present engaged in this occupation any serious collective effort to petition for a little more in wages so that they will be able to maintain the American standard of living."

"This kind of patriotism is the kind for the overthrow of which our nation is today taking up arms. The placing of women on street cars as motormen and conductors will never win a battle for there are men enough in the country to keep the machinery of civilization moving and conduct all necessary warfare without forcing out women into objectionable employment."

THREE COMPANIES ARE INCORPORATED

Fredericton, May 30.—The Royal Gazette today contains notices of the incorporation of the Kennebecasis Contracting Company, Limited; Thomas Gorman, Limited, and The Vanbuskirk Hot Air Heater Company, Limited.

William J. McLean, Francis Kerr and William Sourley, all of the city of St. John, are incorporated as the Kennebecasis Contracting Company, Limited, which is empowered to do a general contracting business. The head office is at St. John and the authorized capital stock is $48,000.

Mrs. Elizabeth T. Gorman and Kathleen M. Gorman, of St. John, have been incorporated under the name of Thomas Gorman, Limited, with a capital stock of $24,000, and office at St. John, to carry on the wholesale grocery business on the South Wharf. Millidge Vanbuskirk, of Moncton, and Walter W. Leonard and William T. McCuskey, of St. John, are incorporated under the name of The Vanbuskirk Hot Air Heater Company, Limited, with capital stock of $24,000, with head office in St. John.

BURNING MRS. MARY BAKER EDDY HOME

Concord, N. H., May 30.—Pleasant View, for many years the home of Mrs. Mary G. Eddy, founder and head of the Christian Science church, is being destroyed in accordance with the terms of the trustee agreement under the will, said one of the trustees today in a statement tonight. The principal timbers and parts of the house are to be used in the erection of a memorial to Mrs. Eddy, he said. The remainder will be burned. The site of the proposed memorial Mr. Fernald refused to divulge. Mr. Fernald's statement was made in connection with the action of the police authorities today in preventing further burning of the Pleasant View property. No permit for fires had been obtained, it was said. After explanation by Mr. Fernald, however, a permit for regulated fires was granted.

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine a mother can give her little ones. They are a gentle laxative—mild but thorough in action—and are guaranteed by a government analyst to be absolutely free from opiates and other injurious drugs. Concerning them Mrs. Auguste S. Brieux, Sask., writes: "Enclosed find twenty-five cents for another box of Baby's Own Tablets. I find them the very best medicine a mother can give her little ones." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FUNERALS.

Woodstock, May 30.—The funeral of George H. Read, who died in the Fisher Memorial Hospital yesterday, aged forty-two years, took place this afternoon with burial in the Methodist cemetery, by the Rev. A. S. Hazel. The Amherst, N. S., was well known in insurance circles all over the province and recently was agency inspector for the Merchants' Casualty Co. Harold D. Buchanan, the district manager of the company, came here from Moncton to attend the funeral. Having no relatives in this province the members of L. O. No. 38 turned out in a body and took charge of the burial. The pallbearers were L. C. Church, H. P. E. Berryman, James T. Montgomery and George Adams.

The funeral of the late Hon. H. A. Connell was held this afternoon. Services were held in St. Luke's church by the rector, Rev. A. S. Hazel. The weather was disagreeable, nevertheless the procession was a large one. The blinds were down in the stores in Main street as the cortege passed through to the cemetery. The pallbearers were J. N. W. Winslow, Duppah Smith, George McPhail and Wallace Hay.

THE WAR LORD CANNOT SEE HIS FINISH

Amsterdam, via London, May 30.—According to the Deutsche Tageszeitung, Emperor William concluded his recent speech to the soldiers on the Arras front, with the following words: "We will continue to fight until we secure a complete victory against those who have attacked us. May the God of Armies give us blessing in the war which has been forced upon us, so that our children and grandchildren may live free in the German Fatherland."

APOHAQUI

Apoahqui, May 30.—A very impressive funeral service for the late Col. McKenzie King was held at the home of Mrs. M. P. Ogilvie at eight o'clock on Tuesday evening. Rev. R. H. Stavert of Norton Presbyterian church conducted the service and preached an inspiring sermon containing many words of comfort and hope for the grief-stricken relatives and bringing out most vividly many thoughts which are of vital interest to all and left a lasting impression on the minds of his hearers.

The choir softly rendered "Jesus Lover of My Soul," "Lead Kindly Light" and "Abide With Me." On Wednesday morning the body was conveyed by the Sussex train to Norton and from thence to Stewarton Presbyterian church, where a large concourse of sorrowing friends were awaiting. Service was held in the church of which deceased was a member and interment took place in the family lot in Stewarton cemetery. Theasket was laden with beautiful flowers, which were silent tokens of love and esteem. Most conspicuous among them was a wreath from the O. R. T. to which deceased belonged. This beautiful piece was composed of American beauty roses and sweet peas intermingled with fern and palm foliage. A beautiful wreath of white flowers and pink hydrangeas from the immediate family and quantities of cut flowers and several sprays were among the profusion of floral tributes. Among those from outside places attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Stirling King and Rutherford King of the Scotch Settlement, George King of the C. G. R. office, Moncton, Miss Lillian Phillips of St. Stephen, and Miss Florence Muir of Fredericton.

Carter-Foster-Carter Satisfied with Assistant Attorney-General's Report.

(Official Report.)
Fredericton, May 30.—After business the house went into committee on the bill to amend the bill to enable the house to provide a witness with Mr. LeBlanc in the agreement to the bill relating to the point of county audit and to change the name of Edward Barry McKeon with certain amendments. The house again went into committee with Mr. Leger in the bill to amend the Succession Duties Act.

Major Tilley on consideration 2 said he knew of cases where executors had not prepared inventories because of lack of time. He thought it would be wise to double the amount of time in such cases, where it was shown that the executor had been willfully withheld from doing so. The bill should be amended to the effect that the executor should be liable for the amount of the bill if he failed to do so. Hon. Mr. Foster said that the intention to impose an estate duty on the estate of a person who had been willfully withheld from doing so would seem necessary. The bill should be amended to the effect that the executor should be liable for the amount of the bill if he failed to do so.

Hon. Mr. Foster said that the intention to impose an estate duty on the estate of a person who had been willfully withheld from doing so would seem necessary. The bill should be amended to the effect that the executor should be liable for the amount of the bill if he failed to do so.

ECONOMY IN A WORD THE GOVERNMENT'S DICTIONARY

Carter-Foster-Carvell-Veniot Administration Not Satisfied with Enlarged Cabinet but Must Have Assistant Attorney General as Well.

(Official Report). Fredericton, May 30.—After routine business the house went into committee with Mr. Young in the chair and agreed to the bill to enable the town of Milltown to provide a water supply. The house again went into committee with Mr. LeBlanc in the chair and agreed to the bill relating to the appointment of county auditor in York and to change the name of James Edward Barry McKee and others with certain amendments.

The house again went into committee with Mr. Leger in the chair and took up the further consideration of a bill to amend the successions duty act.

Succession Duties. Major Tilley on consideration of section 2 said he knew of cases where the executors had not prepared a proper inventory because of lack of information. He thought it would be a hardship to double the amount of succession duties in such cases, but in cases where it was shown that information had been wilfully withheld such action would seem necessary. He thought the bill should be amended to provide exemption of the penalty in cases where no guilty intent was shown.

Hon. Mr. Foster said that it was not the intention to impose an undue hardship upon an estate where there had been no wilful misrepresentation of facts. He thought the bill might be amended along the lines suggested by the hon. member from St. John.

Hon. Mr. Robinson said the present act was retroactive and could go back to the year 1892. Perhaps it would be well not to make the bill too drastic.

Hon. Mr. Byrne said that while the present act went back to 1892 the proposed one would only be applicable from the date of its passage.

Hon. Mr. Baxter said that every succession duty act was now retroactive. Succession duty means wealth and an estate should be compelled to pay the tax imposed upon it. Power should be retained by the bill to deal with cases of gross negligence. He had no sympathy with those who did not take the trouble to look up particulars of an estate. He was satisfied to leave the bill in the hands of the attorney-general and hoped he would discuss the matter with the law committee.

Mr. Potts said it seemed to him that the bill proposed to make excuses for those who did not do right, whereas the ignorance of law is in reality no excuse.

Mr. Campbell said that the hon. member had drawn no distinction between ignorance of law and ignorance of fact. A man should be punished for not knowing facts.

Progress was reported. The house went into committee with Mr. Leger (West) in the chair and took up consideration of the bill relating to shorthand reporting in certain courts.

Hon. Mr. Baxter expressed approval of the provisions of the act providing for the assignment of stenographers and also of the section which made stenographers available for work in chambers. He felt that remuneration of court stenographers was none too liberal and when attorney-general had under consideration the advisability of making an increase. He considered the staff a most efficient one and in this connection special mention might be made of Mr. Simmonds, who was now the dean. He hoped the attorney-general would carefully consider the claims of the stenographers.

The first 29 sections of the bill were agreed to with very little discussion.

Hon. Mr. Baxter suggested that some means be taken to provide prisoners in criminal cases with a copy of the evidence without charge. The bill was agreed to.

Deputy Attorney-General. The house again went into committee with Mr. Leger (Westmorland) in the chair and took into consideration the bill to provide for the appointment of a deputy attorney-general.

Hon. Mr. Byrne said that the bill was something of a new departure. For the information of the house he would say that when the bill was proposed to create a new office it would not entail any extra expense upon the province. It was proposed to pay the salary of the deputy attorney-general out of the commissions now allowed for the collection of succession duties and the balance, which would amount to a considerable sum, would go into the treasury.

Hon. Mr. Murray (Kings) asked if it was proposed to increase the salary of the attorney-general to compensate him for loss of commission on succession duties.

Hon. Mr. Byrne said the salary of the attorney-general was $22,000 and it would continue to perform the same duties, the collection of succession duties excepted.

Hon. Mr. Baxter regretted to learn from the hon. attorney-general that he was to be no increase in his salary. He wished to go on record as saying that the salaries paid the members of the executive are inadequate for the duties they perform and he was prepared to support any proposal for an increase.

Mr. Morneau—"How about the members?"

Regardless of Politics. Mr. Baxter continued, saying he always found hon. members able to speak for themselves and the new government would find this out as the former government did. He approved of the action of the government in abolishing the commission of five per cent. collecting succession duties. On several occasions he had discussed this matter with his former colleagues and had a change of administration not taken place there would probably have been legislation this session abolishing the commission and using the amount to increase the salaries of the members of the executive. He believed that the services of the minister were worth $2,500 or $3,000 a year to the province and the matter should be dealt with regardless of politics. In regard to the bill to create a deputy attorney he was not impressed with it.

Many men of ability had filled the office of attorney-general in the past. The late Mr. Blair, who stood at the top of his profession, was called upon to deal with many constitutional questions during his term of office and got along without a deputy. There had been successive attorney-generals who had done the same thing without assistance. In regard to criminal prosecutions it was impossible for the attorney-general to attend to this while the house was in session, but he could do so during the remainder of the year. His honest conviction was that if a deputy attorney-general was not appointed the criminal business in outside counties his services were not necessary.

It would not take more than a fortnight of his time in a year to collect the succession duties. It seemed that the proposed new official was to do only the work which successive attorney-generals had carried on for years and holding that view he did not consider that the appointment should be made. In his connection he would point out that the salary of the attorney-general was fixed by statute and there was no reason why that of the deputy should not be fixed in the same way.

Hon. Mr. Byrne said he could not agree with the attorney-general in his own short experience in that capacity himself he found that there were very many duties which fell to the attorney-general's lot and he had no doubt that his hon. friend had gone up against them too. There were repeated applications from assessors for legal advice. It was the duty of the clerks of the peace to assist the assessors and also to conduct prosecutions when they lived within 25 miles of the court house but it often happened that applications were made for assistance from outside. It was impossible for the attorney-general to be always on the spot to attend to the duties himself and therefore it was proposed that he should have a deputy who should always be at the office to attend to anything that might arise. One qualification was that he should be a barrister of at least ten years standing.

Hon. Mr. Murray (Kings). Hon. Mr. Murray (Kings) said that prior to the election his hon. friend's opposite had made many promises in the way of reduction of expenses and retrenchment all round, but he could not see much sign of any intention to carry out these promises so far. On the contrary they seemed to be making increases all round. They had increased the personnel of the government till now the number was larger than almost ever before and the premier while he filled no portfolio found he needed a private secretary to help him and whose salary so far had never been fixed and was therefore without limitation.

Now the attorney general wanted a deputy to help him. He agreed with the policy of the government with regard to the attorney general's commission for collecting succession duties. The previous government had had that under consideration and would have attended to the matter had it remained in office. Instead of increasing the number of members of the government they should have been reduced and their salaries increased to such an amount as would have made it possible for them to have devoted all their time to their offices.

If a deputy attorney was to be appointed it should be insisted that he devote the whole of his time to his duties. The idea he presumed would be for the attorney general to spend his time in Bathurst leaving his deputy to look after the work of the department in Fredericton and such a system would not rebound to the credit of the government.

Mr. Pinder said it appeared to him that it was a most humiliating position that was disclosed. The government consisted of nine members and there were several more having amongst them a clever man at that and if the attorney general had not sufficient confidence in himself and his ability to conduct the public business he should get one of the other lawyers to do it for him. It was very humiliating to have the hon. gentleman get up and state that he was not able to attend to the duties of his office.

Hon. Mr. Byrne Objects.

Hon. Mr. Byrne rose to order and said that he did not make any such statement and the hon. gentleman speaking must have known he did not make the statement and that in stating that he did he was saying something that was deliberately and knowingly untrue.

Mr. Pinder, continuing, said the attorney general admitted every time he held a fact that everybody in the House had noticed as well. It was very humiliating indeed to see a man wanting a deputy to take his duties and responsibilities off his shoulders and the premier should see that some one should be got who could attend to the work.

Motion Voted Down.

A motion by Hon. Mr. Baxter to report progress was lost, 22 to 17. The bill was then taken up section by section.

Mr. Tilley said he was glad to hear the premier declare that the province was going to be a gainer by the saving of the attorney general's fees. He noted that last year they were going to pay a deputy $2,500 a year to do the attorney general's work there would be a saving of $2,500.

He agreed that a smaller number of government members would have been far better. Nova Scotia with a population of 450,000 was governed by three paid members of the executive. In this province with 370,000 population there were six salaried members, the attorney general should attend to all the criminal business of the province and be paid an adequate salary. He (Tilley) did not believe in paying other lawyers to do the attorney general's work.

Hon. Mr. Robinson Agrees.

Hon. Mr. Robinson agreed with the last speaker that the members of the government were underpaid, the salaries being the same as in other provinces in the Dominion. It was idle to expect to get proper service for such inadequate salaries but if the attorney general was willing to sacrifice the amount of his salary and get a few more men to help him in this work he thought the public would approve.

That was the proper principle. The members of the government should live in Fredericton but they could not do it on the salaries they were paid.

Hon. Mr. Baxter.

Mr. Baxter said there was no excuse for not fixing the amount of the salary to be paid the deputy in the bill. It was necessary at times to readjust the salaries of officials already appointed but there was no reason why they should not be fixed to begin with. The ten year qualification was useless. A man might have fifty years experience and yet be so ignorant that no one would go to him. On the other hand there might be young fellows of only five years experience to whom people would flock. Possibly the government in the choice of a deputy would not be so influenced by qualifications as other circumstances. There were many who were disappointed in the late election who had to be looked after. In looking through the bill they could not find out what the salary of the proposed official was to be and they could not find Government Economy?

Hon. Mr. Potts said that his hon. friends would probably agree with him that the way of the reformer was hard. When his hon. friend the late premier said that he was in favor of a reduction he did not act on that principle. Instead of doing so he added two members to it just before the election. The appointments proposed by the bill were in the way of economy. Since 1908 the $23,800 had been paid to attorneys general for collection of succession duties and it was his intention to appoint a high salaried officer who would be paid such a big sum as that. He would not be called upon to devote the whole of his time to his duties. He approved of the system of government in Nova Scotia, but the time was not ripe at present to make the change in this province.

Mr. Potts of St. John.

Mr. Potts thought that when the premier rose to address the House he would at least have given them some information. He had thought that when the government changed and his hon. friend succeeded to the position he now occupied that the province would have a leader but he had been sorely disappointed. He looked upon the bill as simply a means to find some man a soft job on the pretense of saving money.

Drinking Tea Upset Nerves

Mr. Burroughs Compares Canadian Customs With Those in Old Land, and Tells How Nerves Were Set Right.

Orillia, Ont., May 30—"How to be well and strong" is the question many are asking at this time of year, and in this letter you will find the answer.

It tells something of the blood-forming, nerve-invigorating influence of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great restorative which is causing so much talk here just now.

Nature's way of curing disease is by building up the vitality of the body, and this is exactly what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food does. The blood is made rich and red, and it nourishes the exhausted nerves back to health and vigor.

The experience of Mr. Burroughs as described in this letter is similar to that of hundreds of others in this community who have recently put this well-known food cure to the test.

Mr. George Burroughs, 22 Peter street, Orillia, Ont., writes: "A few years ago, after coming out to this country from England, the change of customs seemed to have some effect on me. In the old country the habit of drinking strong tea was prevalent, and after arriving here I suffered very much from nervousness. If I put my arm down on the table it would shake very noticeably, and while performing my work I went easily tired, and had to sit down and rest. A friend recommended Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, so I secured some and took a treatment. It built me up and made me strong and healthy. I have not had a trace of the nervousness since. I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment also, and find that it heals the skin very quickly. In fact I find all of Dr. Chase's medicines good."

out what his duties were to be. It was true that the attorney general was often applied to for advice and assistance but his own experience was that the work was not more than that of the attorney general could attend to himself without interfering with his own private business. He quite concurred as to the necessity of a law clerk. The province had one once in the person of Hon. Wm. Pugsley whom he would not hesitate to say was one of the ablest and most astute law clerks in Canada. When he was law clerk the legislature did not pay him any $1,800 a year, not directly anyway, why therefore pay the deputy attorney general any such sum. If the proposed deputy was not to conduct criminal prosecutions nor argue succession duty cases there was no reason for his appointment. It was desired to appoint an assistant to the attorney general why not revive the position of solicitor general who appoint some man on the floor of the House and answer for himself for what he did.

Hon. Mr. Smith (Carleton) rose to continue the discussion when the chairman said that it was now seven o'clock they would take recess until 8:30 o'clock.

On resuming at 8:30 o'clock Hon. Mr. Smith (Carleton), as the former government had never found it necessary to appoint an officer of that kind. It should be remembered that the revenue of the province was stationary, and in view of the many demands from all sections there were no necessities for this appointment. If the government intends to jam the bill through they should consider the question of salary, and they might also consider combining the office with the clerkship of the executive council, as a capable man could perform the duties of both. He approved of the action of the government in abolishing the commission on succession duties, and he could tell them that the old administration had planned to do the same thing and increase the salaries of members of the executive. He did not believe the province would ever have the service the people demanded until they had ministers who would remain at their posts in Fredericton. When minister of public works he (Smith) had stuck closely to his office, and because of this he was sure the people got better service than would otherwise have been the case. He would suggest that the money to be saved on succession duties be used to increase the salaries of the ministers, or if this was not done the offices of deputy attorney-general and clerk of the executive council should be combined.

Major Tilley regretted that a statement as to the amount of salary to be paid the proposed new official was not made to the House. They had been told, however, that the five per cent. commission on such succession duties would in future go to the funds of the attorney-general's office. He contended that if the money was saved on the one hand and paid over to a new official with the other the province would be just about where it started, in so far as saving was concerned.

"We are fighting for a worthy purpose, and we shall not lay down our arms until that purpose has been fully achieved."—H. M. The King. TO THE PEOPLE OF THE EMPIRE—Every fighting unit we can send to the front means one step nearer peace.

THE QUEBEC SITUATION.

Reports from Ottawa, Montreal and Quebec are to the effect that the demonstrations against conscription, which have been promoted by Liberal clubs and other organizations having for their purpose the advancement of the Laurier brand of Liberalism, are losing their violence despite the fact that agitators like Marsil and Lavergne continue to indulge in their ravings. This may be taken as evidence that the rank and file of the French-Canadians in Quebec are coming to their senses, that they realize the complete absurdity of the canvasses against compulsory service and that they place less dependence in the perfidious utterances of fanatical demagogues.

This is well, for it is decidedly unfair to judge the sentiment of the whole province of Quebec by the actions or utterances of Montreal corner-loafers or back street toughs. Agitators will find temporary hearing in practically any centre of population, but if they continue to hold forth it will be found that those who listen and applaud night after night are seldom the sane and sane citizens. Quebec, in common with other provinces in Canada probably possesses its full quota of slackers, lily-fingered gentlemen who have too much respect for their own skins to risk them on the battlefields of France and Flanders. These men fear conscription, and they have reason to do so, no matter whether domiciled in Quebec, or Montreal, or Toronto, or St. John—and this city has many of them—for they will be the first taken.

However Quebec is not all made up of slackers, or agitators and it is no more right to judge the spirit of that province by the ravings of Marsil or Lavergne than it would be to judge the spirit of England by the sublimated nonsense of Bernard Shaw, or the United States by the pacifist twaddle of William Jennings Bryan. It has been said that Quebec has not contributed as liberally to the Canadian armies as other parts of Canada. In general that is true, but it should also not be forgotten that the western provinces, particularly where the best recruiting showing was made, contained many residents of English birth, naturally the first to rally to the flag. The parts of Quebec where recruiting is at its lowest contain practically no English population but the shortage there is charged against the whole province.

The French-Canadians should be expected to bear their full share of the burden of this war in common with their English-Canadian brothers. As yet there is no evidence that they will not cheerfully do so. The fact that demonstrations have occurred, and that cranks have found audiences willing to listen while they indulge in foolish and untrue canvasses may reflect upon the character of the speakers and the intelligence of their audiences but cannot be construed into a wholesale charge of disloyalty against the whole province. This newspaper is not without hope that Quebec will rise to its opportunity and that, in the future as in the past, its sons will be found in that army which has won the praise of all humanity not as being from Quebec, or Ontario, or the Maritime Provinces, or the West, but as "THE MEN FROM CANADA AND THE FINEST FIGHTERS IN THE WORLD."

CREATING ANOTHER OFFICE.

The Carter government is not to be commended upon the haste with which it rushed through the bill providing for the appointment of a deputy Attorney-General for New Brunswick. Not does the fact that it considered the proposal at all show it to be possessed of a zeal for economy. Gentlemen who have held the office of Attorney-General in the past have not found it necessary to have a deputy, although they have employed counsel to represent the province in cases coming up for trial during the period of the legislative sessions.

There will be general agreement in the suggestion that cabinet ministers as well as men in less exalted stations feel the pinch of the increased cost of living, and consequently, a measure to increase their remuneration might be reasonable. Particularly would a hold good in the case of the Attorney-General, and more especially he is to be deprived of the fees attaching to the collection of succession duties. But, in war time, it should be the aim of any government to increase the number of public officials unless there is urgent need for such a measure. If the Carter government can give no better reasons for the creation of the office of deputy Attorney-General than appeared in the debate was not good for about a year, and he had an attack of paralysis in January but he was about the city as late as Monday last and his sudden demise was unexpected. The late Mr. Pender was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him. James Pender was born in Peterborough, Ontario, in 1848. When he came to St. John he started as a clerk with Messrs. T. McAvity and Sons. He spent six years with Messrs. L. and F. Burpee in the iron business and in 1873 went into partnership with E. R. Moore in the making of cut nails. In 1877 he went into the manufacture of horseshoe nails on his own account and a few years later took the late W. O. Purdy into partnership. The firm of James Pender and Co., Ltd., was organized in 1892 and Mr. Pender remained at the head of the firm until his death.

For many years he was an active member of the Board of Trade. Mr. Pender was married in 1872 to Miss Charlotte E. Homer, by whom he has survived. One daughter, Mrs. Chas. W. Baillie, and one son, J. Vance, now in the United States, also survive. In religion Mr. Pender was a Presbyterian. The funeral will take place at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon from his late residence, 256 St. James street.

And everybody started to help him look for it, the Park Wonders catcher saying, "Ware did you put it, Sam?" I throo it rite down heer alongside of this heer tree, sed the Park Wonders catcher. Meening the tree that Lobster was tied to, and he looked at Lobster, and Lobster looked back at him, and everybody kept on hunting around, and atfir a wile the Park Wonders captin came back and looked at Lobster agen, saying, "Darn it all, I bet that there goat went and ate up my cap."

Aw, wat wood he want to eat your cap for, with all this grass and evering around? sed Artie. And the Park Wonders captin kept on hunting another little wile and then he came and looked at Lobster agen, saying, "There you are, there you are, therea the button from it on his wiskers, hes a lock of a mascot, he is."

And the Park Wonders captin pulled the button off of Lobsters wiskers, Lobster jest standing there looking as if he woodnt know a cap if he saw one, and Artie sed, "Well, wat of it, jest because hes got the button that dont say he had the hole cap, does it?"

Sure it does, yelled all the Park Wonders. All of them having put together to buy the uniforms, and they got so mad about it that the invisibles took up a collection of 11 sents and gave them to the Park Wonders captin.

cerned. He quoted from the auditor-general's reports to show that the total commissions paid for the collection of succession duties in eight years had amounted to $18,764.55, an average of $2,345.57, during the same period the sum of $12,645.55 had been paid to outside lawyers for criminal prosecutions, being an average of $1,580.69 per year.

Hon. Mr. Byrne said that over $4,000 had been paid out between October 31st of last year and May 10th of this year. Major Tiley continuing stated that the two averages he had made out totalled $3,918.23. Presuming that the deputy attorney-general was paid a salary of two thousand a year, as heretofore, criminal prosecutions were to be conducted by legal friends of the government, there would be an actual saving to the province of just $338.00 per year. He thought it no more than right that the matter should be placed before the public in its true light. The bill was agreed to. Fugitive Chased Over Mileage that Would Circle the Globe Six Times Wanted if in St. John.—See Page 3.

MARITIME MANUFACTURERS IN THE MOST INTERESTING SESSIONS

Meetings Here Yesterday Morning and Afternoon at Which Matters of Importance Were Considered—Association Approves Principle of Employing Returned Soldiers Wherever Possible.

What was termed the most successful meeting to date of the Maritime Branch of the Canadian Manufacturers Association, was held here yesterday. Representatives were present from all parts of Nova Scotia, and wick and Nova Scotia, and many matters of interest to the manufacturers were brought up and disposed of. The gathering placed itself on record as favoring the increase of food production movement, aiding shipbuilding and Workmen's Compensation legislation.

After registering in the morning the delegates paid a visit to the factory of T. S. Simms, Ltd., before the first business session, which was held in the Board of Trade rooms at 10:30 a.
m. The party adjourned to the Manor House where luncheon was served and the second session convened at 4 o'clock.

Chairman A. McColl, presided and at the opening of the morning session called on Mayor Hayes who extended a welcome on behalf of the city.

The report of the secretary, H. R.
Thompson, showed that the total expenditure for the fiscal year ending April, 1917, was $1,298. During 1917, 151 members were listed, with a receivable revenue of $2,325. In 1916 there were 147 members, with a receivable revenue of $2,655. There were seven applications for membership this year and three resignations.
Chairman McColl reported for the executive. It had been found necessary to appoint a permanent secretary as the work had grown and required all of a man's time to attend to it. He referred to the proposed Workmen's Compensation legislation in New Brunswick and suggested the formation of a Safety Association and the following were appointed a committee to take up the matter: C. M. Crockett, A. G. Robb and R. H. McKay.

Some of the resolutions adopted were: That the association recognize the urgent need for increased food production, and particularly the increased production of foodstuffs, and cooperate in every way possible with the farmers of the country in their efforts in this direction. Adopted.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Export Trade.

The chairman brought up the matter of export trade, and asked for suggestions from the association.
S. E. Elkin moved that a committee of five be appointed to collect information regarding exports and supply matters to the members. This was seconded by T. H. Estabrooks.

Other Matters.

A. D. Ganong and George Henderson were elected to attend the annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at Winnipeg. The appointment of the third representative was left in the hands of the chairman of the executive.

On motion of L. W. Simms it was resolved to leave the appointment of local executives in the hands of the executive.

J. A. Christie, Amherst, brought up the question of prepayment of freights required by the R. M. S.-P. Company and asked if the gathering could take any action looking toward the cutting of this out and returning to the old method of payment of freights at point of delivery.

L. W. Simms, St. John, said some of the St. John manufacturers had taken the matter up with the Minister of Trade and Commerce when the report was first issued and found that the R. M. S. P. Co. were quite within their rights, and were only meeting their competition from New York in this action. No action was taken by the association.

C. N. Vroom brought up the appointment of a bureau of scientific research and suggested that the government be asked to organize such bureau.
It was pointed out that action along this line had already been taken by the government and T. H. Estabrooks

SCOTIA STEEL STRONG CARD IN MONTREAL

Some Activity During Short Session—All Markets in United States Closed—Holiday.

Special to The Standard. Montreal, May 30.—The Dominion Iron and Steel Corporation's net profit in the record-breaking year ended March 31st last represented earnings at the rate of 26.71 per cent. on the corporation's $32,097,000 common stock, according to the official figures issued this afternoon, against 9.39 per cent. earned in 1915-16, previously the best year in the corporation's history.

After paying off a year's dividend arrears on the subsidiary Dominion Iron and Steel Co's preferred stock and making a distribution of one per cent. on the corporation's common stock in the final quarter of the year, there remained from the year's earnings a net surplus of $7,900,188, or equivalent to $24.69 a share on the common stock, to be added to profit and loss balance.

This balance thus rose to $11,537,577 and in place of carrying $3,000,000 as a special reserve to provide for construction expenditures and war tax for the past year, and also another sum of $2,899,295 to be applied as a write-off against an old balance of $2,899,295 carried among assets as discount on bonds sold.

After writing off $22,500 for discount on securities sold and paying the regular quarterly dividends on the corporation's preferred stock and the subsidiary's preferred stocks, there was a net surplus of $8,571,165 representing as already noted earnings at the rate of 26.71 per cent. on the common stock. This surplus profit compared with the previous record of $9,915,225 in 1915-16 and with $1,375,167 in 1912-13, the best of the pre-war years.

Heavy Shifting of Money Results in Borrowing from Bank of England.

Special to The Standard. London, May 29.—Heavy shifting of money in connection with war loan necessitated borrowing from Bank of England today.

Discount rates were firm. The stock market was quiet and firm. Quite good business was done in shipping shares and improving prices. Spanish and Chinese bonds were the best of foreigners and mining and rubber stocks were featured in the speculative section.

Oil shares and gilt edged securities were steadily supported by investors, but Argentine rails continued weak, American securities dull and uninteresting.

THE U. S. PROFITS BY CANADA'S EXPERIENCE

New York, May 29.—In gauging the probable effects of our entrance into the war, attention has been turned to Canada's experience, as in some points her position is more nearly like our own than that of any other nation.

When the war broke out, however, Canada had been borrowing heavily for some years and her imports largely exceeded exports, whereas we have been reaping the benefits of very large profits from the European war for two years and have long since passed the period of uncertainty of nearly a year, which followed in Canada after the war broke out. The May circular of the Canadian Bank of Commerce compares the situation in the two countries:

By 1916 Canada had reversed the excess of imports, which were in 1913, $309,000,000, and in the fiscal year ending March, 1916, exported $249,000,000 in excess of imports. This excess had increased for the 1917 year to $333,000,000. Higher prices are, of course, to some extent, responsible for this increase.

Bank deposits in Canada increased from $993,000,000 on December 31, 1913, to $1,893,000,000 on December 31, 1916, and in a similar period bank exchanges increased from $9,000,000,000 to $10,557,000,000. In this increase in deposits, the savings bank section showed the most growth, from $650,000,000 at the end of 1913 to $845,000,000 at the end of 1916, reaching $888,000,000 at the end of March, 1917. This growth was steady and showed that thrifty Canadian workers were taking advantage of the high wages to put by a good share of the increase.

HEAVY BLOW AGAINST THE ENEMY FORCES

$2,000,000,000 Loan of U. S. Huge Success—Greatly Increased Business in Prospect.

New York, May 30.—The machinery for placing the $2,000,000,000 loan is set up and the wheels are beginning to turn, with successful results, as expected. The energy and ability of the American financial and business community is turned on full heat to complete this operation, with every prospect of a large over-subscription—even an overwhelming one.

This is the first decisive blow against the enemy forces, and American citizens can be depended upon to make it a telling one. The United States is never cheerful when the stock market is depressed, and the market is doing its share to create a feeling of confidence among all classes, whether they are investors or not.

This change in the attitude of Wall Street from pessimism to confident optimism has not been a produced effect for the purpose of bettering the outlook for the loan. On the contrary, the splendid prospects for the loan which have opened up, have created a change of feeling in Wall Street, which is itself throwing the weight of all its influence towards success, and in line with all the other great forces that work for the same purpose, is doing it without charge or hope of reward.

Undoubtedly, too, the rising prices in the market are a forecast of the great increased business which is coming to the country and of continued and enormous profitable prosperity. All the earmarks show that the right people are buying stocks, and every indication points to an advancing market which, with the usual necessary and reasonable reactions, looks like continuing its upward trend for a considerable period.

J. S. BACHE & CO. LONDON MARKET FIRM.

London, May 29.—The stock market was cheerful but inactive today. Home funds and most of the foreign issues maintained their strength on investment buying, and shipping and rubber shares received attention. Americans were easier. American securities hardened with Wall Street and closed dull. Money is in increased demand for payment of the final call for the war loan tomorrow and distribution of dividends amounting to about £40,000,000 Friday.

Oil shares and gilt edged securities were steadily supported by investors, but Argentine rails continued weak, American securities dull and uninteresting.

Consols for money 55, 58, bar silver 38a per ounce. Money 4 to 4 1/4 per cent. Discount rates short bills, 4 1/16 per cent., three months' bills, 4 3/4 per cent.

THE UPWARD TREND OF HARDWARE CONTINUES

Metals Stronger and Bolts and Nuts Score Advance—White Lead and Oil Firm.

Toronto, May 30.—Hardware and Metal says:—The markets show the usual heavy weekly list of price changes, mostly all upwards. The continued increasing strength of the iron and steel markets are constantly reflected in the prices of manufactured products. Bolts of all kinds, and nuts have scored advances this week, the former to the extent of 12 1/2 per cent. and the latter 1.50 per 100 lbs.

Binder twine prices have advanced 2 to 3c. lb., and one large company has stopped booking orders for future delivery. Among many other lines on which prices have advanced this week are screen doors and windows, rim locks, door knobs, shot, padlocks, carpet felt, horse clippers, tackle blocks, post hole augers, alarm clocks, range boilers, galvanized sheets. The iron metal markets all show a firm tone. The iron and steel markets show increasing firmness. In the sheet market the problem is now one of delivery rather than price. Advances on galvanized sheets will undoubtedly be followed by further advances on both black and galvanized white lead in oil is firm at the recent advanced prices. Linseed oil shows firmness.

Oil shares and gilt edged securities were steadily supported by investors, but Argentine rails continued weak, American securities dull and uninteresting.

Consols for money 55, 58, bar silver 38a per ounce. Money 4 to 4 1/4 per cent. Discount rates short bills, 4 1/16 per cent., three months' bills, 4 3/4 per cent.

CASE AGAINST U. S. STEEL WILL BE RE-ARGUED

(McDOUGALL & COWANS.) New York, May 29.—The whole world looks to America to make good the inability of Europe to meet requirements. The short interests in the rails has not yet covered to any important extent. The floating supply of the standard rails like U. S. P., Atch., N. Y., C. Nor. Pac. and Southern Railway Pfd. is smaller than generally supposed. Heavy profit-taking for account of the cotton crowd in the common stock of U. S. Steel is reported. Offerings are declared by brokers around the steel post to have been absorbed with ease, outside buying being an outstanding feature. Baldwin Locomotives are being strongly recommended as a purchase for an important advance. N. Y. F. B.

FELT LIKE A NEW PERSON

After Taking Only One Box Of "Fruit-a-Lives"

It is with great pleasure that I write to tell you of the wonderful benefits I have received from taking "Fruit-a-Lives" for years I was a dreadful sufferer from Constipation and Headaches, and I was miserable in every way. Nothing in the way of medicine seemed to help me. Then I finally tried "Fruit-a-Lives" and the effect was splendid. After taking one box I feel like a new person, to have relief from those sickening Headaches.

Stripped of your power and all alone, Standing at God's own great White Throne; Waiting for judgment, as judged you'll be— A judgment to last through eternity, With the ghosts of women and children, too, Tortured and starved and slain by you. Oh, I would not want to have God judge me As He'll judge Willhelm of Germany!

Willhelm of Germany, we shall meet in God's good time at His judgment seat! —E. D. Gibbs, in N. Y. Herald.

IMPERIAL.

The More Excellent Way. Vitaphone has given the story of Cyprus Townsend a very fine setting. Charles Richman shines in society parts and as John Warburton his age does not detract from the part.

With a repeat of "A Romance of the Red Woods," a Pathe bird picture colored, a "Florence Rose" fashion show and some exquisite colored views of Japan; also one of Pathe's productions, the programme at the Imperial was certainly splendid.

GEORGE MAJERONI HAS TO BE A VILLAIN.

George Majeroni, who as one of the arch villains supports Mrs. Vernon Castle in the International patriotic photoplay serial "Patria," released by Pathe, was being congratulated by his friends on his success in the part after a private showing of "Patria."

"I don't know whether to be pleased with your congratulations or not," he said, rather mournfully. "I have been on the stage full twenty years and have been trying for the greater part of that time to quit being a villain, but it seems without success.

Mr. Majeroni comes of a noted family of actors. In addition to this, he is a nephew of the famous Adelaide Ristori, the Sarah Bernhardt of Italy in her day.

Hon. T. W. McClary, provincial treasurer, announced, says the Toronto Mail and Empire, that S. C. Johnson, who for many years has been connected with the Department of Agriculture, had been appointed director of the Provincial Motion Picture Bureau, which is a new institution of the provincial government and a branch of the provincial treasurer's department, intended to carry on an educational campaign by means of the projection of motion picture films throughout the province. All departments of the government will contribute material for the films, which will depict the most approved methods of agriculture, give instruction in forestry, disseminate in graphic fashion knowledge calculated to correct and conserve public health and cover many other subjects of an interesting and educational character. The projecting machines to be used are of a type which may be operated in any building and by almost any person. The film is made on a non-inflammable material and the apparatus depends only upon an ordinary electric light socket for its lighting efficiency.

THE URGENT NEED FOR A SYSTEM OF VOCATIONAL TRAINING IN DOMINION

If Canada is to Get Her Share of the World Trade After the War—Prof. Sexton Tells the Manufacturers How Technical Education Will Solve Their Problems.

The members of the Maritime Branch of the C. M. A. and some few of the citizens gathered in the High School assembly hall last night to listen to an address by Prof. F. H. Sexton, of Halifax, on Vocational Education as a necessary part of the school system of this country, if Canada was to get her fair share of the world's trade after the war.

On rising to speak Prof. Sexton expressed his appreciation of the opportunity afforded him to address a body of men so vitally interested in the subject as he was to speak on. He said in part: "Vocational education is specialized training the controlling purposes of which are to fit for useful occupations."

"There is no doubt but that our educational system in Canada should be broadened and widened and supplemented by vocational training. This has been recognized for a long time by both workmen and manufacturers."

"When boys and girls were able to learn enough about the occupations to whom they were apprenticed, vocational training was not necessary in the school. Now, however, when the apprentice system has broken down and the home no longer serves its old instructional purposes, the scope of the school work must be enlarged to make up for the radical social changes and industrial development. Technical education must be added in a thoroughly going generous way if the parents of today would render justice to their children."
