WARM DEBATE OVER ABOLITION OF ALL TITLES

The Report of Titles Committee Recommending Abolition of All Titular Distinctions Brings Forth Orators.

THE QUESTION WAS NOT PARTY ONE

The Debate, in Which Unionists and Oppositionists Were Badly Mixed up, Was Sharp, Spirited and Witty.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, May 22.—The report of the titles committee recommending abolition of all titular distinctions in Canada, medals for military service alone to be accepted, came under an exceptionally heavy fire in the Commons today. Two months ago the House appeared to be in a super democratic mood, prepared to abolish titles without any qualification whatsoever. But today it was in a much more conservative mood and, while still antagonistic to hereditary honours, produced strong support for the retention of knightships and other lesser distinctions. The debate was sharp, spirited and generally of high class of wit and eloquence. Sir Thomas White added interest and independence to the discussion by declaring that the question was not a party one, and that members were free to vote and speak without regard to the whims of party whips. This he proceeded to do with a vim. Unionists and Oppositionists being badly mixed in the fight for and against the report, in the forefront of the fight against the abolition was that sturdy radical Mr. Michael Clark, of Red Deer, who declared the report to be an "embodiment of democratic cant and logical nonsense." Dr. Chas. Fisher, who sided with Mr. D. D. McKeown, who, although opposed to hereditary titles, saw no harm in knightships and other honours and said frankly that he was opposed to any petition being sent to the King. After the debate had ebbed and flowed for and against the report an amendment was moved by Mr. Nicholson of Alberta, the effect of which would be to abolish hereditary titles only. The discussion continued around the amendment until late in the evening when a vote was taken. The report of the committee recommending abolition of titles was carried by a vote of 56 to 41.

THREE TRANSPORTS DOCK AT HALIFAX WITH CANADIANS

It Required Seventeen Special Trains to Take Returning Soldiers to Different Dispersal Areas.

Halifax, N. S., May 22.—Three transports that arrived at Halifax today had 1,401 returning soldiers landed and were forwarded to their dispersal areas. The Minnedoula arrived last evening with 367 soldiers. The Cunard liner Caronia was the first to enter port, coming in this morning with 1,030. The Nordland was the second to arrive, her list numbering 2,859.

The men left on seventeen trains. 12 took eight trains to transport the men from the Caronia, four for those from the Nordland and five for the men who came by the Minnedoula. The last was scheduled to leave at midnight. The dispatch given by the Canadian National Railway was excellent, averaging about fifty-three minutes apart for the seventeen trains, but this included elapsed time between the arrival of the steamers.

FINANCE EXPERTS GATHER TO AID GERMAN-AUSTRIA

Berlin, May 22.—(French Wireless) —Josef Schumpeter, the Finance Minister of German-Austria, will shortly be sent to join the Austrian peace delegation at St. Germain, according to a Vienna telegram. Herr Langsdorfer, who is in charge of the Austrian financial interests at St. Germain, demanded the assistance of an expert, and it is reported that he asked that Dr. Paul H. Hensler, former governor of the Austrian credit institute, be sent. The government, however, preferred to send Herr Schumpeter.

Sympathy Strike Is Spreading

Large Industrial Centres of the West Are Teeming With Unrest and Face a Tie-up in Their Activities.

CITIZEN'S COMMITTEE CONTROL WINNIPEG

Mayor Who Was Elected by Labor Vote Is Now Bucking the Strike Committee and Is Swinging Affairs Back to Normal.

Winnipeg, Man., May 22.—In a statement this morning Mayor Gray said: "The constituted authorities are determined to stamp out the Bolshevik or red element in Winnipeg. The town is open; all business may go ahead as in the past."

"No one section of the public has any right to dictate food terms to any other section of the public. This principle will be strictly adhered to by the constituted authorities."

Mayor Gray polled a heavy labor vote at the last municipal election. Train Service Resumes. Duluth, Minn., May 22.—Charles Sior, divisional freight and passenger agent for the Duluth, Winnipeg and Pacific railroad, on his return today to Duluth from Winnipeg, said: "We are advised today that baggage could be again accepted for Winnipeg, which means resumption of necessary passenger travel and no further inconvenience on transcontinental trips."

R. R. Men Quit.

Brandon, Man., May 22.—The mechanical round house men and the carmen of the Canadian Pacific Railway walked out yesterday in sympathy with Winnipeg. It was generally known Tuesday evening that such a strike would take place. In the afternoon meetings were held in the Trades Hall by various organizations at which strike votes were to be taken and it was expected that Thursday would see some definite line of action decided on by labor unions at Brandon.

The civic union today served an ultimatum on the Parks board that unless the board is prepared to go into the question of conditions on the schedule, civic employees in Brandon would walk out at nine o'clock Thursday morning.

The demands of the teamsters were discussed at a meeting of the employees held Tuesday, but nothing definite is known as to what was done. The employees have until Thursday night to decide on what they will do.

Calgary, May 22.—About 88,000 workers will walk out if a general strike is called. The result of the strike will be announced Friday night or Saturday morning.

Fort Arthur, May 22.—The strike of the shipyard is still in progress. The company made an offer to institute the eight hour day with nine hours pay, August, but the men unanimously voted it down. They demand the eight hour day.

Calgary, Alta., May 22.—It is understood Mayor Marshall and the city commissioners are actively at work endeavoring to open negotiations with union executives in an effort to avert a sympathetic strike in this vicinity. Lethbridge, Alta., May 22.—Arrangements are being made today by officials of the Trades and Labor Council to call a meeting of the executive Friday night to consider action in answer to a sympathetic strike vote in connection with the Winnipeg strikers.

Saskatoon, Sask., May 22.—A mass meeting of Labor Unions is being held here this evening to discuss the Winnipeg situation. Lethbridge, Alta., May 22.—Local unions, to the number of 1,200, go on strike Saturday afternoon at three o'clock as a result of a strike order sent out Wednesday by district 19, union officials. Seven mines in Lethbridge field will be deserted.

IRISH SINN FEIN LEADERS APPEAL TO CLEMENCEAU

Paris, May 22.—Premier Clemenceau, president of the Peace Congress, has received a letter from Edward D. Valery, Comte Flaminio and Arthur Grimes, Irish Sinn Fein leaders, in which they declare that Ireland will be bound by the action of the British delegates on the question of peace. They ask recognition on behalf of Ireland.

DELVING INTO CIVIL SERVICE CONDITIONS

Commission of Enquiry Hearing Witnesses Relative to Workings and Appointments Under Civil Service.

SOME GOV'T DEPTS. IN STATE OF CHAOS

Assertion Made That in the Past Many Persons Had Been Appointed for Purely Political Purposes.

Ottawa, May 22.—Mr. Thomas Mulvey, under secretary of state, was the first witness today examined by the committee of the Commons which under the chairmanship of Dr. Michael Sior, is conducting an inquiry into conditions in the civil service with a view of testing the civil service commission in the re-organization of the service.

Mr. Mulvey said the condition of affairs in his department was "somewhat chaotic," but unavoidable at present. This was due to the necessity of having temporary employees, and the fact that they had been waiting for nearly a year for the report of the Civil Service Commission. They would not fill vacancies until they knew what the organization was going to be.

Mr. Mulvey said the department was now in a tenuous position than ever before, and he believed that the new Civil Service Act would approximate business lines. It was an undoubted fact that in the past many persons had been appointed by ministers for purely political purposes.

Mr. Mulvey said that he had been waiting for the report of the commission, and he had to submit to it, commented Mr. Boyes, and Mr. Mulvey agreed.

Mr. D. G. Desbarates, deputy minister of the navy service, and the various departments had been organized on fairly up-to-date lines. He had the advantage of organizing it from the beginning. No minister had made appointments. The War Purchasing Commission had made no purchases for the department although acting in an advisory capacity. The purchasing by the Naval Department had been exceedingly satisfactory.

He thought the service was in great need of superannuation and there should also be a pension system for dependents.

Mr. Desbarates said the department was undermanned at the present time. The department would be benefited by the replacing of a certain number. It was most discouraging for some men in some cases to be left at the work, and a senior officer getting all the credit and the salary.

GOVERNMENT NOT TO INTERFERE WITH FLIGHTS

It Has No Right to Say to the People They Shall Not Undertake Daring Air Flights.

London, May 22.—(Reuters.)—In the Commons the government was asked if it was considering the possibility of further attempts to fly the Atlantic, in view of the desparately hazardous conditions. Major-General Seely, Under-Secretary of State for Air, stated that the matter had been given the most careful thought by the government, who considered that it has no right to say to our countrymen that they should not undertake this daring flight and these risks.

ITALIANS BECOME QUITE OFFENSIVE

Their Presence in Bulgarian Territory Causes Friction Which May Lead to Troublesome Events.

Saloniki, Tuesday, May 20.—The Italian Government of Saloniki has made a statement to the Athens agency that Italian troops, who were guarding Bulgarian prisoners in Macedonia and Bosnia, have permitted eight thousand of the nine thousand Bulgarians in their charge to escape. In commenting on this report, the Serbian despatcher argues that Italian troops should be removed from Bulgarian territory. It says that there is no reason for the Italians to remain there and that their presence only causes friction, which may lead to troublesome events.

Canadian Mounted Troops Praised By Prince Arthur

London, May 22.—(By Canadian Associated Press Cable.)—On Friday Prince Arthur of Connaught presented the regimental standard at Beauséjour Camp to the Royal Canadian mounted troops. He said it was the proud boast of the regiment to be the father of the Canada mounted troops. The Duke of the Canadian cavalry brigade proved they had inherited the true cavalry spirit. In March, 1918, when they restored the British line, they proved the value of cavalry forces, despite the cranks who maintained that old-fashioned cavalry fighting was a thing of the past.

Conference of 'Prohibs' at Toronto

Delegates at the Inaugural Session of the World Prohibition Conference Pleased With Progress Made in Prohibition Legislation.

Toronto, Ont., May 22.—Representatives of thirteen countries addressed prohibition delegates at the inaugural session of the World Prohibition Conference here this morning, referring particularly to the progress made in temperance legislation. Among the countries represented were Australia, Canada, Denmark, England, France, Ireland, Japan, Italy, New Zealand, Scotland, Switzerland, and the United States.

The conference is preliminary to the great meeting to be held in Washington on June 24, and the various delegates on leaving the city tonight will tour various parts of this country and the United States, ultimately arriving in Washington for the final conference.

Representing New Zealand prohibitionists, Rev. John Dawson submitted statistics showing that liquor licenses had been reduced in the Dominion from 1,750 to 1,200. He said that of 70 restaurants, 13 were now "bone dry." Convictions for drunkenness had been reduced from 17,000 to 6,000, and great headway had been made in reducing the hours during which the selling of liquor is permitted. Dr. Minesaki Yamaguchi, representing Japan, stated that 2,600 members of the temperance league of that country are Christians. He was sure that before very long Japan would be Christianized and that his country would make a remarkable advance in prohibition legislation.

MANNHEIM FEARS THE ALLIES WILL OCCUPY CITY

Become Panic-stricken and Storm the Municipal Savings Bank — Many Have Fled from the Place.

Bulletin—Mannheim, May 22, (By The A. P.)—Alarmed by the belief that Germany will not sign the peace treaty, and that the Allies will occupy Mannheim, citizens became panic-stricken today and stormed the municipal savings bank. Many persons have fled from Mannheim.

Large crowds later gathered and held protest meetings and other demonstrations which added to the general confusion in the town. An official expression of regret has been issued in Berlin that the people of Mannheim "appear to have lost their heads."

Dutch Object To Any Tampering With Territory

The Hague, May 22.—Jonkheer Van Karneboek, the Dutch Foreign Minister, in a statement here today, on the subject of the conference in Paris, regarding the revision of the treaty of 1829, declared that Holland was ready to be a party to the revision, under a strict reservation that no attempt would be made to alter the territorial status quo which was founded on historical rights and in keeping with the wishes of the population. The discussions were necessary, he added, to re-establish mutual confidence between the peoples of Holland and Belgium.

INDUSTRIAL COUNCILS ARE NOT FAVORED

Hamilton Witness Before Royal Commission Refers to Councils Proposed as "Three Strong Cats and Three White Mice."

PRODUCTIVE INDUSTRY CURE FOR UNREST

Commission Informed That Working Men Were Exploited by Certain Doctor, Who Bled the Pocketbook as Well as the Veins.

Hamilton, May 22.—When the Royal Commission on Industrial Relations continued its sessions here today H. O. Foster, an officer of the cigar makers' International Union, declared that among the unskilled laborers there was a realization of helplessness and it was among this class that the one big union movement was making progress. The trouble with industrial councils was that they were generally formed of three strong cats and three white mice.

He advised the provincial government to go into productive industry, such as hydro electric, with a view to lowering the cost of living and absorbing the unemployed.

Mr. Foster also called the commission's attention to the way the working man was exploited by certain doctors, and cited an instance of where a man receiving $20 a week was called upon to receive a medical bill of $100 for one month's treatment and two major operations. Another man was charged $850 for an operation on his wife and four months' treatment. He suggested the state provide medical treatment for those desiring it and not as charity.

The eight hour day should be fixed by law. "Broken promises on the part of the federal government and employers generally is the reason for the great unrest," declared A. Boyd, a union blacksmith, who said he was unemployed on account of his union activities. Housing conditions were also much to blame, forcing families to couple up and lowering the moral standard.

Mr. Boyd said that the "open door" of the Steel Company of Canada referred to by the manager, generally let out the men who went in with a company's money. Housing conditions that kept many blacksmiths in the plant from joining the union.

H. C. Beckert, of W. H. Gillard and Company, spoke of trade conditions in Ontario. The tendency was towards centralization and monopoly, which was bad for the country as a whole. His suggested remedy was industrial decentralization and monopoly, which was bad for the country as a whole.

Gen. H. Douglas, of Thornton and Douglas, discussed conditions among clothing trade and told of voluntary concessions that had been made. Like many manufacturers and labor men who have testified, he thought the eight hour day should be fixed by law.

Elections In Quebec June 23rd

After a Series of Meetings During Past Two Days Gouin Cabinet Issues Writs Calling for Provincial Elections.

ANNOUNCEMENT WAS EXPECTED

Government Wants Their Action Confirmed by Being Returned to Power Before Attempting New Work.

Quebec, Que., May 22.—After a series of meetings during the past two days the Gouin cabinet, late this afternoon, issued writs calling for provincial elections, and fixed the day of the nominations for Monday, June 16, and the date of the voting for Monday, June 23.

In making the announcement this evening, Sir Lomer Gouin stated that, in order to undertake the work of reconstruction which was felt to be the remedy to the growing uneasiness throughout the country caused by post-bellum conditions, it was deemed advisable that an appeal should be made to the people and the government's mandate renewed.

"Nobody will be taken by surprise," he said. "Everyone has been talking elections for weeks." Although much had been done during the war to keep the provinces in a recon position, and to prepare for the development of great public services when peace was restored, there still remained a great deal to be done for colonization and agriculture, as well as in the stimulation of education. Roads would have to be built and improved, water powers developed, manufacturing and production increased and the cost of living lessened.

"We have endeavored, the statement continued, of the last parliament, to put provinces with steadfastness, thrift and economy have been our motto and today, at the close of the war, our province is in a sound position financially and economically. Now, however, reconstruction and progress must be added to our motto.

"The war is over. We must be ahead. We must progress. No opportunity must be allowed to slip. "We had a war mandate; we want a peace mandate.

"Before beginning on the great undertaking of reconstruction, which will take time and money to carry out, we want a sufficient mandate to go ahead and carry on. "We do not want to begin the work and be told by reactionaries and pessimists, or by our opponents, that we have no mandate to wait for a mandate. Why should we not now, when on the threshold of a new period, be allowed to forge ahead uninterrupted, with the knowledge that we have the confidence of the electorate.

NEGATIVE REPLY TO GERMAN NOTES SENT BY ALLIES

Germany Are Reminded That It is Right They Should Make Good to the Utmost of Their Capacity, Damage Done.

Paris, May 22.—A categorical note on the economic effect of the peace terms was sent by the Allied council to the German delegation today. The reply characterized the German note as exaggerated, and says that it indicates failure to appreciate the enormity of the German responsibility.

AMHERST STRIKE SITUATION SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Amherst, May 22.—The strike situation in Amherst improved somewhat today when the men employed by the street department of the town were granted their demands of thirty cents and a half cents per hour for an eight hour day. The Robb factory and the Amherst Planes are still running. The town remains quiet and there has not been the slightest disturbance thus far, nor is there expected to be any. A meeting was held this evening in the Winter Fair Building and the members of the Federation of Labor were addressed by their leaders.

SOME FRICTION ARISES IN THE PEACE COUNCIL

The Big Three Demanded of Premier Orlando the Reason for Italian Troops Being Landed in Asiatic Turkey.

SPIRITED WORDS PASS AMONG THEM

American and Allied Troops in Zone of Occupation Getting in Readiness to Advance into Former Empire.

New York, May 22.—The Associated Press tonight issues the following: "While time is virtually being marked by the Peace Congress at Versailles with regard to Germany with the Allied and Associated Powers awaiting the coming of next Thursday when the Germans are to make known their answer to the Allied demands for peace, the Council of Four is at work daily deciding questions which have arisen through the presentation of notes by the German plenipotentiaries.

Protests against the Sarre Valley award and the question of reparations by Germany were discussed by the council Thursday, and a reply was returned to Versailles by the Allies to the note dealing with the repatriation of German prisoners. The indications are that German prisoners guilty of crimes will be held for trial and punishment.

Prior to the receipt of the German reply, it is expected that the Austrians will be handed the peace treaty they are expected to sign. The belief in Paris is that this will occur early next week. Meanwhile, the Turkish and Bulgarian peace delegates have arrived in Switzerland, where they are awaiting a summons to France by the Peace Congress.

There has been some friction in the Council of Four owing to the Italians having recently landed troops in Asiatic Turkey without notice to the Allies. The United States, Great Britain and France requested of Italy the reason for this move.

During a session of the council, which was attended by Greek Premier M. Venizelos, Signor Orlando, the Italian Prime Minister, entered and was asked by President Wilson if his reply was ready. Orlando demanded the withdrawal of Venizelos before he replied, notwithstanding the insistence of President Wilson that the Greek diplomat remain. Venizelos finally withdrew and the council later expressed its regret to him.

Opposition continues in Germany to the signing of the peace treaty, while everywhere in the zone of occupation the Allied and American troops are ready to advance into the former empire if this step should be necessary. Large numbers of motor trucks have been moved into the occupied area east of the Rhine for use in an emergency.

The offence called for a fine of from $200 to $500 and the magistrate imposed the full penalty.

HALIFAX PRODUCES AN ALIBI FOR POOR SHOWING IN EXPORTS

Realizing That Comparative Tables Show the Port of St. John Putting it All Over Halifax They Try to Figure Out How it All Happened—The Versatile Secretary of Halifax Board of Trade Has a Reason.

(Staff Correspondence.)
Halifax, May 22.—"St. John can put it over Halifax when it comes to making up comparative tables of exports," said S. A. Saunders, secretary of the Halifax Board of Trade. "But we can't blame St. John for that. It took a great war to wake us up to the fact that the returns of exports given by the customs authorities did not give Halifax a square deal. We noticed that the customs figures placed the value of horses exported through this port at only a little over two hundred thousand dollars, which seemed strangely low considering the number of horses we knew had been shipped through here. We found out that the value should have been over $3,000,000, and that most of the horses shipped had been entered in the customs at Montreal. A very considerable quantity of the exports shipped through Halifax do not figure on the customs returns of this port, being cleared at Montreal, Toronto, or even Winnipeg. In a statement recently issued by the St. John Board of Trade we find the exports from St. John during 1918 given as $150,000,000 while Halifax is only credited with about $30,000,000. Mr. Armstrong has taken his figures from the customs returns, and we cannot very well blame him for that. They give St. John the appearance of having a big lead over Halifax in the winter export business and St. John is entitled to the advertising it can get out of customs returns. Nevertheless this comparison does not do justice to Halifax. We have taken this matter up with the customs authorities, and according to the figures they have supplied to the export business through the port of Halifax in 1918 amounted to $127,642,512. That is a much better showing, and the business may have even brought them there. The customs people say it is very difficult to get the valuations of all business going through the port of Halifax, as so much of it figures on the customs books of the places where it originated. In St. John the situation is different. Most of the export traffic through St. John is brought there by the C. P. R., which maintains a staff at St. John, and enters most of its through traffic at the customs there.

"The ship tonnage entered and cleared at Halifax during the past six years was as follows:

|------|----------------|
| 1913 | 3,901,094 tons |
| 1914 | 4,289,228 " |
| 1915 | 4,471,346 " |
| 1916 | 6,465,188 " |
| 1917 | 17,092,911 " |
| 1918 | 15,836,654 " |

"A portion of this tonnage was brought here for examination purposes, but it included a very considerable tonnage which took freight here. Our enquiries showed that 8,900,000 tons were cargo tonnage last year, taking more or less freight from this port. In the fiscal year 1916-1917 the port of Halifax handled a total of 1,455,382 tons of freight, including both domestic and foreign business. "A fair proportion of the export business through Halifax originates in the province," said Mr. Saunders. "In 1917 the exports of fish through this port were valued at $6,200,253. This includes fish shipped to Great Britain, West Indies, South America and other countries. It is a growing business which contributes to the prosperity of the whole province. Our pulp export in 1917 was valued at over one and a half millions, and practically all of it was manufactured in the province, a business which should increase when shipping returns to normal conditions. Our lumber shipments through Halifax amounted to a little over $3,000,000 but this port ships mainly to the United Kingdom, whereas the province as a whole ships lumber largely to the American and West Indian markets. Exports of manufactured products, not a few of which were of provincial manufacture, amounted in that year to $12,000,000. "Imports show the following valuations:

|------|--------------|
| 1913 | $12,104,298 |
| 1914 | 13,648,564 |
| 1915 | 10,718,586 |
| 1916 | 9,873,779 |
| 1917 | 12,838,663 |
| 1918 | 14,560,000 |

"These figures are not much below the imports at St. John, and indicate a healthy business here, considering that while St. John has practically two transcontinental railways, Halifax up to the other day only had a road running as far as Montreal. We hear talk of rivalry and feud between St. John and Halifax, but that is only in other towns. Halifax is not conscious of any jealousy of St. John, and only wishes success to the sister. We believe the trade of Canada will develop as fast as we can make provision to handle it and that there will be sufficient business for both ports. We believe, too, that there is plenty of room for co-operation on the part of Halifax and St. John, not only to the Canadian but to the American channels, but in assisting the development of the agricultural and industrial resources of the whole Maritime Provinces and the problem equal in importance to the development of our ports."

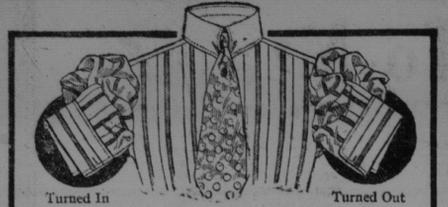

Secretary Armstrong when asked about the matter said the St. John Board of Trade had no intention of trying to put anything over the port of Halifax. Mr. Saunders' statement that the customs returns did not show the whole value of the exports through Halifax was quite correct, and neither did they show the whole export through St. John. In one case a steamer had sailed from St. John with a million dollars worth of meat, but not a cent of that cargo was credited to St. John by the customs returns. Mr. Armstrong is firmly of the opinion that if Halifax is a bit slow there is nothing slow about Mr. Saunders when it comes to utilizing figures to advertise the port of Halifax. Mr. Saunders had cheerfully added the tonnage of ships taken into Halifax for examination, and thereby lifted that port to first rank, so far as the figures for ship tonnage are concerned. Brother Saunders was quite capable of getting a bit of his own back; he was telling a fair tale when he said it took a great war to wake him up, though that might have been the case with Halifax.

NATIONAL MOTOR TRUCKS

You Find Them Everywhere

In every part of the Dominion you find manufacturers, merchants and farmers increasing their haulage and delivery efficiency with motorized equipment, and "always" you will find that the "National" is in favor.

National owners appreciate the importance of having a truck that does not call for constant mechanical attention—a truck that will meet every stress and strain put upon it, in all kinds of weather, on all conditions of roads. They recognize that these are dominant advantages of the National.

The outstanding difference in the National is not only a matter of structural detail, but one of fundamental principle, backed by an organization that is competent, trustworthy and inspired by a willingness to serve.

Compare National construction with trucks of similar capacity, and you will find built into this truck the strongest lineup of standardized units that the best engineering talent of the world has produced.

The National is built in six sizes—1 ton, 1½ ton, 2 ton, 3½ ton, 5 ton trucks and 6 ton tractor. Write for illustrated catalogue.

The fact that an Overland Model 90 stock car recently broke the world's non-stop high gear record in Oklahoma, U.S.A., does not add to the pride of Model 90 owners.

Their pride is a deeper thing. It has developed through weeks and months and years of wonderful personal experience with Model 90 cars, under the trying conditions of every day's demands.

To really know how well a car can be built for so economical a price you must know Model 90.

GUM TENDERN — A TOOTH

It is true that four or five over forty suffer from toothache, or Pyorrhea, or Gum Tenderness. But many under thirty have Pyorrhea particularly after the age of 20. It is peculiarly subject to at such times they are careful about their teeth.

Pyorrhea commences with gum-tenderness, or with gum-bleeding, or with gum-inflammation, or with gum-sponginess. They in turn decay at the base of the teeth, and the teeth become loose in the gums, becoming places of disease, infecting the joints—or to other ailments.

Beware of that first sign! Try Forhan's toothpaste. It positively prevents Pyorrhea in time and used consistently as an ordinary tooth paste will.

And Forhan's cleanses the teeth as well. Brush with it. It keeps the teeth white and healthy. If gum-discharge has started using Forhan's toothpaste immediately for relief. It is sold in 30c and 60c tubes.

YOU CAN'T RUB RHEUMATISM OUT

It is Rooted in the Blood and Must be Treated Through the Blood.

The pain of rheumatism is something that you cannot rub out. Every sufferer from rheumatism has been advised to rub this liniment or that on the affected part, but after all the rubbing the pain remained. Rubbing did not cure it and can't cure it. This blood and rheumatism come together and if they are properly treated they will go together. Rheumatism is rooted in the blood, in poor watery blood. Sometimes cold, damp weather starts the aches and pains, but it is the condition of the blood that is at fault, and only by correcting this, and making the blood rich and red can the rheumatic poison be driven out. This is exactly what is done in the treatment of rheumatism with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Acute and muscular rheumatism show improvement as the thin blood is built up, and when the blood has been restored to its normal condition the rich and red. There is no part of Canada in which some rheumatic sufferer has not been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and they do not hesitate to express their thanks for what this medicine has done for them. As an example, Miss Annie S. Dedrick, R. R. No. 2, St. Thomas, Ont., says: "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured me of rheumatism after a great many other remedies had failed. The pain in my arms and shoulders was so great that I could scarcely sleep. I could not raise my arms to comb my hair, and could not dress myself without help. In this condition I read of a cure of rheumatism through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to try them. I got half a dozen boxes and I am thankful to say they not only cured my rheumatism, but that my general health was greatly improved. My appetite was increased and I gained in weight. Since then a number of cases have come under my observation in which cures have been made by this splendid medicine. As for myself, I shall always speak a good word for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail, post paid, at $6 a box or six boxes for $25.00 by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

GUM TENDERNESS - A TOOTH-MENACE

It is true that four out of five people over forty suffer from gum-shrinkage, or Pyorrhoea (Riggs' Disease). But many people even under thirty have Pyorrhoea. Women, particularly after the baby comes, are peculiarly subject to Pyorrhoea. At such time they cannot be too careful about their teeth.

Pyorrhoea commences with tender gums, or with gum-bleeding, at tooth-brush time. Gradually the gums become spongy. They inflame and then shrink. The teeth become exposed to decay at the base and tiny openings in the gums become the breeding places of disease germs which infect the joints—or tonsils—cause other ailments.

Beware of that first gum tenderness! Try Forhan's for the gums. It positively prevents Pyorrhoea, if used in time and used consistently. No ordinary tooth paste will do this.

And Forhan's cleans teeth scientifically as well. Brush your teeth with it. It keeps the teeth white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment. Six and a half cents. All druggists.

What Vocational Training Means

Public Meeting to be Held in Board of Trade Rooms Next Monday Evening to Further Interests of Vocational Training.

A public meeting in the interests of vocational training for St. John will be held in the Board of Trade rooms Monday night.

Vocational training means giving every boy and girl in St. John a square deal for a better start in life's work, and the same privileges that are being extended to other boys and girls all over the United States and in many parts of Canada.

Means that many boys and girls will take more interest in their school work. Many who now leave school will remain through the big school course, and they will have a better general education than they otherwise would get.

Means that St. John will continue to grow, and with the growth of shipbuilding, plants, dry dock, and other industrial enterprises, the St. John boys and girls will get the highly-paid technical positions rather than being forced to seek general education that they otherwise would get.

Means that the girls in St. John will be taught to do the things that are essential to the economy and the essential lines of merchandise, so that St. John homes will get better values for money expended.

Means that St. John will keep pace with the world movement for greater efficiency in the home and in industry, and means a more prosperous and happier community.

Means that every boy and girl in our community will be able to get a training in whatever subject of value that is best adapted to his or her interests, and a development that will bring out latent ability and capacity in the individual. The following subjects are some of those that will be taught in both the day and evening schools:

English, history and civics, book-keeping, arithmetic, shop mathematics, surveying, general physics, electricity, industrial design, cooking, housekeeping, home economics, home nursing, sewing, dressmaking, laundry, millinery, applied mechanics, general chemistry, industrial chemistry, metallurgy, mineralogy, mechanical drawing, machine drawing and designing, architectural drawing, machine shop, wood work, wood working, pattern making, physical culture.

TELLING BLOW ADMINISTERED TO THE BOLSHEVIK

Allied Troops on the North Russia Front Have Carried Out a Successful Turning Movement.

London, May 22.—The Allied troops on the north Russian front have carried out a successful turning movement against the main Bolshevik position, forcing the enemy to retreat southward, according to a north Russia official communication received here this evening. Several towns were captured and many prisoners taken, and the enemy also suffered heavy casualties.

A communication says the turning movement was carried out May 20, north of Medvedyagora, six miles south of Lumbushki, on the railway, that the enemy was expelled from his position and is in full retreat.

This towns of Lumbushki, Ostrecha and Kolodari were taken.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulled coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulled coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Why Do Most "Ready-Made" Clothing Merchants Have Their Clothes Tailored-To-Measure

WHY is it that the most Ready-Made-Clothing-Merchants and the Upstairs Clothes Shop folks have their own clothes Tailored-to-Measure?

One of the reasons is they want style, fit and individuality in the clothes they wear. The fact is these clothing gentlemen are a great deal like a magician who when he wants to do a trick with one hand gets the audience to watch the other, the only difference is that the Ready-Made-Clothing-Merchant Wears Tailored-to-Measure Garments. The more they know about Clothes, styling and fabric quality, the more ardent these "Ready-Made-Clothing-Gentlemen are to have their own clothes Tailored-to-Measure the English and Scotch Woollen Company way.

You cannot blame a limited clothes allowance if you accept a "Ready-Made" substitute for genuine Custom-Tailored Made-to-Measure Clothes.

We wish to assure our good friends, the Ready-Made Clothing Merchants, that we are not seeking a monopoly of the clothes trade. But with all good feeling for our contemporaries we must insist upon this point:

That no man can wear a Ready-Made Outfit this spring without paying a big premium for it.

SHEDIAC for P. E. Island. The Shediac band was in attendance to do its bit, and was playing a patriotic selection when the train pulled in, but to the disappointment of the citizens it made no stop, and there was scarcely time to give the brave boys a cheer. A number of motorists went at once to the Point to see the soldiers before they took passage on the S.S. Northumberland for their island home. Among the cars to get there in time was the one occupied by Dr. Somany and party, including Miss Evans, President of the Shediac Red Cross Society. Dr. Somany had the opportunity of a short talk with the commanding officer, to whom he handed cigars for the men from Shediac friends, who were not able to greet the boys en route. The gift and demonstration at the Shediac depot as the train passed through was much appreciated by the soldier boys.

SHIPBUILDING.

While considerable opposition to the programme of the Dominion government respecting the development of a Canadian merchant marine has developed during the present session of Parliament, Hon. Mr. Balfour appears to be standing by his guns, and strong support is coming from the Navy League and other quarters. Whether or not the original programme will be adhered to in its entirety may depend on circumstances not yet foreseen, but it is highly probable that the government will be persuaded to abandon the shipbuilding side of its programme in the immediate future.

Under the stimulus of war needs, fortified by the promise of the government to make contracts for the construction of 200,000 tons of shipping per year for a considerable period, shipbuilding in Canada has grown into an important industry. The amount of capital which has been invested in the industry is variously estimated at anywhere from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000, and 25,000 workers are said to be dependent upon shipbuilding or the allied marine equipment industries. Only about a dozen yards are capable of the construction of large steel ships, but it is estimated that there are nearly 350 small yards, mostly engaged on the construction of wooden ships.

An Ottawa paper advances the argument that the government should abandon its shipbuilding programme, because it says that ships of a class which cost over $200 to build in Canada could have been built in Great Britain before the war for $25 per ton. This is probably misleading in more ways than one. No such ships were ever built in Great Britain for $25 per ton. It is stated that Canadian shipyards are offering to take contracts at from $185 to $190 per ton, which is from five to ten per cent. higher than offers by British yards, where under war conditions wages have in some cases increased beyond Canadian rates. Ship construction costs in Canada have been on the average much lower than in the United States. Naturally under the emergency conditions Canadian shipbuilders sought to recuperate themselves for the large outlays on plant which they had to make in a hurry, a charge which would not arise for the great majority of British yards where plant development has been a growth of years. They can doubtless afford to largely reduce their contract prices in future, especially when the new plate mills get in operation and raw materials of all sorts are less difficult to obtain.

Moreover, it is not necessary that Canada should be able to build ships as cheaply as Great Britain in order to have a merchant marine, flying the Canadian flag. Most of the great fortunes in Great Britain are founded on shipbuilding or ship-owning, and Canadian companies have operated Canadian-built ships of inferior types and managed to leave bankruptcy a long way under their lee. Between the great profits made by British ships and a reasonable profit on Canadian ships there is plenty of sea-room. Ship-owning and shipbuilding are two of the most profitable industries in the world today, and in view of the determination of other nations from Switzerland to China to develop their own merchant marine, opposition to the programme of the Canadian government is not in the best interests of the country. The government will hardly yield to it, because it has entered into a contract with the Dominion Steel Company to purchase a large quantity of steel plates over a term of at least five years, and it cannot profitably utilize such plates except in shipbuilding.

And there is the phase of the question which touches, or ought to touch, the national pride. Only about one-fifth of the export business of Canada is carried in Canadian ships. When the Canadian government recently arranged to grant France and Roumania credits to the amount of $50,000,000, it also provided non-Canadian ships with an opportunity to earn $15,000,000 in freight on goods that may be bought here. And if we do not have Canadian ships for Canada to use the widest part of the World Canal, on which Canada has spent a vast amount of money, may be of more benefit to American ports than to our own ports. Americans are already asserting that with their new ships and big barges they will be able to utilize the Welland Ship Canal to divert the grain trade to their ports.

THE NEW CONGRESS.

The United States Congress assembled on Monday last in an extraordinary session, for the first time in the history of the Republic with its President on foreign soil. This Congress will of course deal with the peace treaty, with the league of nations plan and with the many important problems arising out of the war. After a break of eight years the Republican party controls the House, and after six years the Senate. Its majority in the House is thirty-nine and in the Senate only two, a narrow margin in the latter body which it is believed will do away with the possibility of arbitrary partisan control. Even among new-papers of a distinctly Republican flavor there is found the admission that the sentiment of the country has now swung to the support of that party not because of any distinctive merit on the part of its leaders but rather in opposition to the make-up and policy of the Democratic administration which now passes out of existence. Dissatisfaction with the old regime rather than a desire for Republican control has thus been largely responsible for the turnover. In the brief sessions which have already marked this Congress there has been ample evidence of unyielding opposition to the policies of President Wilson and it is really amazing to learn to what this opposition prevails throughout the entire country. The Republican majority appears fixed in its resolve to have nothing to say in favor of a peace treaty in which Mr. Wilson has played a leading part, but that it will accept such a treaty only with amendments in accordance with its now already announced views, or a league of nations covenant in which the ideals of the President are not recognized as the foundation.

The reply of Sir Thomas White to a question in Canada's Parliament does not apply to the United States. Sir Thomas, when asked what would be the outcome if Parliament refused to sanction the terms of the peace treaty to which Premier Borden and his ministers had given their assent, replied that he could not by any possibility conceive of such a situation. In the United States a very different view is taken, for there, under the Constitution, the President and his counselors have not the right to expect from an adverse Congress the support accorded a Canadian administration in a Parliament which that party controls. And Mr. Wilson will be faced with very bitter opposition before he succeeds in securing the endorsement of the House and Senate to the Peace Treaty and the League of Nations Covenant to which he has pledged his support. Yet it is felt that any display of partisanship in opposition to those measures of importance must inevitably wreck the prestige of the Republican control in creating dissatisfaction with a party which plays politics instead of dealing moderately with matters of great moment.

MAJOR KEEFFE GOES.

Yesterday morning Military Headquarters received official instructions from Ottawa to the effect that Lieutenant-Colonel Snow was to immediately take over the duties of Organizer and Inspector of Cadet Corps for this military district. Major Keeffe, who has held the position since November, 1918, is thus dismissed from that office. He offered a clerical job in one of the departments, and Lieutenant-Colonel Snow takes office.

The cadet movement in Canada is under the control of the military authorities, although it is only a semi-military organization. The intention of this movement is to train boys attending schools and colleges in the preliminary branches of military knowledge. Those eligible for membership in the various corps must be between the ages of twelve and eighteen years. Corps are organized in all public schools in which, in the opinion of the inspector, there is sufficient encouragement to justify the expectation of success and, as a rule, a minimum of thirty members is required before a corps is established. This being done, rifles, any kind that may be in stock, are furnished free of charge to the members of the corps for drill purposes, together with sufficient ammunition for target practice. Uniforms are also supplied, these being all of one style, but members of the corps are required to alter them to fit, while other corps which desire to adopt uniforms different from the regulation issue are permitted to do so at their own expense.

There are in New Brunswick today twenty-five or thirty cadet corps. Rothesay College perhaps holds the record for efficiency, and there are, in addition, such units as Fredericton, Moncton, St. Stephen, Woodstock, Sussex, Sunnybrae, Newcastle, Chatham, Milltown, Hampton, Dorchester, Sackville, Dalhousie and St. John, this city having ten such corps with a membership aggregating possibly five hundred. The movement was originated back in 1911, but during the past two or three years has not advanced very rapidly in this province, due to the difficulty of obtaining instructors, this being caused by the absence of so many men of military ability overseas and the increasing scarcity of male teachers in the public schools, who might otherwise be available for cadet training. There was something of renewed interest of late and the prospects have seemed bright for the advancement of this movement in New Brunswick.

Lieut.-Colonel Snow, who has now been appointed Inspector for this district, feels very badly over the matter, as he has not sought the appointment, realizing that by being placed in this position he is the unwilling cause of the dismissal of a local officer who served overseas, who was severely wounded and who was acceptably filled the position of Cadet Inspector for some time. The Great War Valerans, too, are up in arms about this affair, which they regard as only another indication of the contempt in which New Brunswick officers are held by the authorities at Ottawa. While no official action has been yet taken, it is reasonable to suppose that the incident will be given attention at the regular meeting of the association to be held early next week.

WHAT THEY SAY

Boston's Quieting Influence.
New York World—While there was no disorder in connection with the great New England telephone strike, a lesser strike of telephone operators in an Indiana town accentuates the calling out of the militia. Is it to Boston, after all, that the difference is due?

Join the Home Club.
Berkeley Eagle—It hasn't occurred to some of those who are working day and night trying to think up a "substitute for the saloon" that it is possible to make a fairly decent club out of the average home. Too many people encourage the theory that home is a good place from which to stay away except at meal and bedtime—a sort of place to go when every other place is closed. Why not a back to the home movement?

Comfort of Tight Skirt Wearers.
New York Globe—Women who feel that the tight skirt dictated by the fashion of the day is an irksome restriction on the constitutional right of free stride should consider its obvious advantages over the various skirts of yesterday. In the matter of beauty alone the tight skirt seems to have the advantage. Compared with the flaring skirts of Queen Elizabeth's time, for instance, or the hoop skirt that was worn in the early part of the last century, the tight skirt seems like a trim and close-fitting slipper alongside a lumbering galeon, or a racing motor boat beside a clumsy freighter. As for utility, nothing can be compared with the tight skirt. It is so useful in a crowd that one might suspect it had been invented by the fashion expert of the fashionable room to permit of increased standing room on a subway and elevated.

Education in Canada.
Montreal Herald—It is not to be supposed for a moment that Dr. Edwards of Frontenac, imagined that a resolution moved in the House of Commons by a private member would lead to an amendment of the British North America Act, "so as to secure the establishment of a non-sectarian school system throughout the Dominion of Canada." In moving such a resolution on Wednesday Dr. Edwards might be likened to the man who beats the big drum on the Twelfth of July. His main aim is to stir up the Protestants of Quebec province who have a grievance which needs his championship he is mistaken.

WINE, LOVE, WEALTH AND WRATH.
Translation of Chinese Poem.
O wine and love and wealth and wrath
Are often wicked things!
Behold the sorrows each of them
On human beings brings.
The alcohol bewitches man,
His thoughts are not his own;
And love is like a knife of steel
Which cuts him to the bone.
And wealth's a mighty tiger wild
That leads a selfish life;
And wrath makes man with man to fight
And bothers them with strife.
But see the same four wicked things
With an impartial soul:
See both sides ere you quit them quite,
For both sides make the whole.

Better for Her.
"How's your husband getting along, Mrs. Fogarty?"
"Well, sometimes he's better and sometimes he's worse, but from the way he growls and takes on with his better, I think he's better when he's worse."

Another Mess.
Proprietor (just demobilized)—
"Yes, I've been through it—officers' cook two years—wounded twice."
Tommy (tasting the soup)—
"You're lucky, mate. It's a wonder they didn't kill yer."

Knew The Signs.
"That young fellow looks furtive. Let's be apt to try to pinch something!"
"Now," said the experienced jeweler, "he wants to buy an engagement ring."

Such Is Luck.
Clerk—"We can't pay you the twenty-five dollars on this money order until you are identified."
Man—"That's tough! There's only one man in town who can identify me and I owe him twenty."

Little Benny's Note Book

BY LEE PAPE.
I was getting dressed and yawning this morning, feeling more like yawning than what I did like getting dressed, thinking, O, I wish I didn't have to go to school today, I wish I could go back to bed and stay there indefinitely.
With just then I had a deer, and I went in my sister Gladie's room with one stocking on and on off, and Gladie was still asleep looking at it she was glad of it, and I snuck over to her bed and put some powder on my face and kept on rubbing it in till I just looked pale without looking like powder, and then I went back to my room and layed down again, and just as I was almost asleep ma came in, saying, Well for goodness sake, do you realize what time it is?
Meaning it was late, and I said, I don't think I better go to school today, ma, I feel pale.
My goodness, you write as a sheet, wats the matter? sed ma.
I feel pale, I sed.
Well you scorty look it—ill hurry and get you some spirits of ammonia, sed ma. Me thinking, Spirits of ammonia, O. And I sed, No ma, I don't think I need spirits of ammonia, I think I need a rest, that all I think I need.
You need a good stiff dose of spirits of ammonia, I know wat you need sed ma. And she quick went out and came back with it in a glass, me thinking, G wits, spirits of ammonia, hohy smoke, spirits of ammonia.
Drink it down fast and you won't notice it, sed ma, and I sed, Maybe all I need is a little more circulation, ma, maybe if I rub my face a while it'll be all rite. And I quick took one end of my blanket and rubbed it over my face and kept on rubbing it in till I just looked pale without looking like powder, wats on the blanket? Meaning the powder that had come off of my face, and she looked at it close, saying, Well, upon my word, sutch a boy.
Meaning ma, and she made me drink the spirits of ammonia anyway and then get dressed and go to school just as if nothing was the matter with me, wich nothing was.

THE BEST QUALITY AT A REASONABLE PRICE
Diamonds
Quality not price should be your first consideration in buying Diamonds.
A Diamond is not a necessity—it is bought simply because of the pleasure that may come from its use, and no pleasure can come from the use of an article that you know or suspect to be of inferior quality.
We carry only the better grades of Diamonds and the purchase of such a stone will be a source of continual satisfaction.
We make a specialty of stones at the price most people want to pay—$35 to $100.

THE POLICE COURT.

Two youths, charged with discharging firearms while in the city limits and with breaking a window, were up before the judge yesterday morning.

Some evidence was taken and the lads remanded.

Four other juveniles, charged with breaking into a house at Mispe, three of the party being also charged with stealing a gun from the house of Mr. Daisell, Rod Head, were heard and one allowed his freedom on suspended sentence. The others were remanded.

When I arose this morning I got a wet foot—yes—I stepped in the spring of the bed.

"I Wonder If It Would Help Me"

"NEARLY every place I go I hear someone talking about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. My friends advise me to try it, and yet I never have.

"I wonder why.

"Perhaps it is because I have suffered so much from nervous trouble and found so little benefit from the use of medicine.

"But they tell me that the Nerve Food is different. They say that it is not a mere relief from pain, but a restorative treatment, which will build up the depleted nerve cells and make me well and strong again.

"Goodness knows I have suffered enough from headaches, sleeplessness, hysteria and dread of the future. I want to get away from all this.

"Why cannot I enjoy life like other people do? Perhaps I have not tried to get well. Perhaps I have been discouraged, and thought there was no use trying.

"Well, I am going to begin trying right now, and Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will have a thorough test in my case.

"The future has been all black to me. I have thought at times that I would lose my mind. But while I have been suffering and worrying others have been cured, and I can now see my mistake.

"If Dr. Chase ever had a faithful patient I shall be one, and believe that his Nerve Food will do for me what it has done for so many thousands of others."

Common Council Met in Committee

At the committee meeting of the common council yesterday morning a request was received from the New Brunswick Power Co. for permission to install a switch at the Golden Ball corner. They propose to run the West Side cable up to the head of King street, around the King Square and Union street and back down King. It was decided to go over the ground with Manager Hopper before coming to a decision.

Commissioner Fisher referred to the necessity for renewal of water mains in Douglas avenue, City road, Haymarket square and Brussels street, before paving was done. Commissioner Jones said he was ready to ask for a bond issue to do this work whenever the council would favor such a move.

Commissioner Bullock read a request from the trustees of the Firemen's Park, Fairville, for a renewal lease for ten years. It was decided to inform them that a lease would be issued from year to year.

The following communication from the St. John Policemen's Protective Association was read. It was addressed to His Worship:

"Whereas it has been three months since the board appointed to settle the dispute between the corporation of the city of St. John and the Policemen's Federal Protective Association did give their decision; and

"Whereas, the common council have been lax in taking any action on the finding of such board in regard to the by-laws of our association.

"We the members of said association do demand that the committee appointed to deal with said constitution and by-laws get in session and have this settled on or before Monday, May 26, 1919. And would also recommend any one of the following men as an independent chairman for such committee: Rev. Mr. Robinson, Edward Scully, James Pullen and W. F. Hatheway."

(Sgt.) J. M. COLWELL, President

Commissioner Fisher said he did not like the tone of the letter and Mayor Hayes thought it was altogether out of place. Common Clerk Wardroper said he had notified the association of the names of the rep-representatives appointed by the city. Commissioner Jones presented the following resolution which passed unanimously:

Whereas there is a possibility of pollution of the water supply from Loch Lomond and Spruce and Ladgate lakes in consequence of the drainage, especially during the summer months, from cottages erected on the shores of such lakes; and

Whereas, it is of the utmost importance that the purity of the water supply of both the eastern and western sides of the harbor should be conserved and maintained at all seasons; and

Whereas, the continued occupation of such camps and cottages abroad endangers the health of the community.

Be it therefore resolved, that the common council does hereby agree to co-operate with health authorities in every way possible in preventing contamination of the city's water supply.

Commissioner Jones spoke of some precautions that would be necessary and spoke of the matter of boating and swimming.

MODERATE TRADE ON NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

The Bond Market Participated to an Unusual Extent in the Day's Less Speculative Operations.

New York, May 22.—For the first time in several weeks, trading on the stock market today was marked by an absence of excitement and violent fluctuations. Dealings were comparatively moderate, falling considerably under the heavy daily totals of last week.

The bond market participated to an unusual extent in the day's less speculative operations, various domestic issues, notably low-priced rails and several of the foreign debentures denoting a confident inquiry.

Does the Treaty Violate Wilson's Fourteen Points?

The latest and bitterest blow to German hopes, successively disappointed in the Zeppelins, the submarines, and the Kaiser, is the discovery that President Wilson and the American people have not secured for Germany a "soft peace." German leaders and German papers angrily protest that America has "betrayed" the German people.

THE LITERARY DIGEST AN IDEAL MENTAL BRACER

Even the wisest of us are more or less prone to get into grooves as regards our thinking on the great questions of the day. We tend to read the same papers, to listen to the views of the same people, to cling to the same ideas. A novel thought or a fresh conception on any subject of real importance to us finds many barriers of habit and personal bias to break down ere it can find lodgment in our minds.

VON HOETZENDORF'S MEMOIRS THROW LIGHT ON WAR'S START

The Events Surrounding the Drafting and Despatching of the Austrian Ultimatum to Serbia Which Inaugurated the War Given Their First Amplification.

Berlin, April 8.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The events surrounding the drafting and despatching of the Austrian ultimatum to Serbia which inaugurated the world war are given their first amplification in the forthcoming publication of the recollections of Conrad von Hoetzendorf, the former Austro-Hungarian Field Marshal.

The advanced proofs of the volume which is entitled "The Road to the Catastrophe" indicate that it will prove a significant parallel to General Ludendorff's memoirs because of its dramatic and intimate revelations of Austro-Hungarian diplomacy and war policies and because of the candor with which it discusses Emperor Charles, the co-operation of the German and Austro-Hungarian general staff, the relations of the former Emperor Francis Joseph and the German Emperor William, the social and political intrigues of the Austrian Empress Zita and the whole hierarchy of the Austrian grand dukes.

The volume is compiled by Karl Nowak, an author and journalist and formerly war correspondent of the Cologne Gazette, who for two years was assigned in a personal capacity to Marshal von Hoetzendorf's headquarters. Nowak reported the war on all the eastern fronts and while his name nominally appears on the title page, the volume is known to be von Hoetzendorf's authorized and personally revised recollections.

Discussing the events immediately following the assassination of Archduke Frederick at Sarajevo, Nowak states that few, if any people knew the plans of Count von Berchtold, then Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister. Not even the high military officials were informed nor was it known whether he was communicating with Berlin, according to the writer.

"Indignation in political and diplomatic circles ran high as a result of the murder," reads the memoirs. "Military leaders quoted von Moltke's words, 'we know the catastrophe will come some day; the sooner the better for us.'"

This was the situation Marshal von Hoetzendorf found on his return from a four-day holiday in the Tyrol, where he went after the killing of the Archduke at Sarajevo, in order to create the impression that the situation was not menacing to the peace of Europe. Nowak describes the episode of the ultimatum to Serbia as follows:

"The ministers were summoned to the chancellery (Foreign Office) by Count von Berchtold, then chief of the general staff, who hurriedly recalled from Tyrol where he was on leave granted him after the Sarajevo shooting. Count von Berchtold conducted the deliberations consulted the general in purely military matters. His opinion was sought only in connection with the military proposals. The diplomatic situation was not mentioned nor was any reference made either to the Serbian ultimatum or to any other ultimatum."

"Von Hoetzendorf frankly analyzed every possible hostile constellation and did not conceal his conviction that the Austro-Hungarian monarchy was unequal to the demands of war on three fronts. He referred to similar views previously expressed in the preceding years, in which he had pointed out exactly such complications and entered upon minute consideration of every emergency growing out of a possible military clash."

"Count von Berchtold asked him whether the proposals for the monarchy would improve the course of the war. He answered that the military expert spoke of Hungarian opposition to huge armament credits and the speed with which other nations were arming. He declared that he would be guilty of lying if he said the chances of the monarchy later on would be more auspicious. On the contrary, he believed they were bound to grow worse in the face of the prevalent disinclination to grant war credits and the growing nationalistic propaganda. His advice represented the frank judgment of a military expert given solely in reply to the Minister's demand. Count von Berchtold sought no further information and the conference disbanded."

"For a decisive conference on the ultimatum the ministers were summoned three days later to Count von Berchtold's residence. Emperor Francis Joseph was not present but Count Tisa, the Hungarian Premier, Count von Sturgk, the Austrian Premier, Marshal von Hoetzendorf, Minister of War and Count von Balthasar were present. Count von Berchtold again conducted the deliberations. Two ministerial officials were called in to assist in the technicalities of drafting the note. Von Berchtold read the ultimatum. Nobody objected. Count Tisa alone wavered for a moment. The computations which might threaten to affect the national problems of Hungary made him appear ill at ease but he too finally gave his consent."

"The note contained averities. It was plain to everyone that the monarchy would insist its representatives be permitted to attend the Belgrade investigation of the Sarajevo murder because suspicion was very pronounced that not only Premier Pachitch but the royal house of Serbia was implicated in the assassination."

"That the note should receive drastic formulation was to be expected in view of the prevailing attitude that the monarchy thus was broadly challenged could not do otherwise than demand complete satisfaction and a guarantee that Serbian machinations should stop for good."

"The conference of then proceeded to give the ultimatum its final textual formulation. The diplomats present discussed this phase thoroughly before two experts rendered the note in the French language. The soldiers present had no part in the decision. The final official version was once more read aloud and the conference promptly adjourned."

Nowak describes the scene in the Belvedere, (Imperial palace) shortly after the conference as follows:

"The old Emperor never for a moment lost self-control. He now was fully aware that the monarchy had been undermined and that its fate was in the balance. He asked von Hoetzendorf concerning the state of mobilization and whether everything was in order. The Chief of Staff reassured the aged monarch. Without outward signs of emotion, Francis Joseph, in the presence of the Foreign Minister signed the declaration of war."

According to Nowak, he believes that the men in the Ballhausplatz actually expected the Belgrade government would accede to the Austro-Hungarian bluff or that if it resisted, the issue would be decided by a swift military campaign which would be carried out with such speed as to accomplish mobilization of the war and prevent other European powers from intervening.

Middle Aged Women

Women should take warning from such symptoms as heat flashes, shortness of breath, excessive nervousness, irritability, and the blues—which indicate the approach of the inevitable "Change" that comes to all women nearing middle age. We have published volumes of proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the greatest aid women can have during this trying period.

Read About These Two Women's Experiences

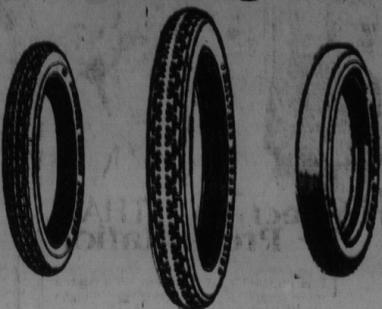

Worcester, Mass.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-five years of age and had all the symptoms incident to that change—heat flashes, nervousness, and was in a general run-down condition, so it was hard for me to do my work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my condition, which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared."—Mrs. H. Gossard, 612 Napoleon St., Worcester, Mass.

Orlando, Fla.—"During Change of Life, in addition to the annoying symptoms I had an attack of grippe which lasted all winter and left me in a wretched condition. I felt so tired that I would never be well again. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it did for women passing through the Change of Life, so I told my doctor I would try it. I now begin to gain in strength and the annoying symptoms disappeared and my Vegetable Compound has made me a well, strong woman as I do all my ordinary housework. I cannot recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly to women during the Change of Life."—Mrs. H. Hagan Hagan, 1216 South Orange Street, Orlando, Fla.

WILSON REQUESTS THE END OF WAR TIME PROHIBITION

Believes Their Should be Beer and Light Wines at Any Rate
—Cabled Message to Congress Also Recommends Return of Railroads, Telegraph and Telephone Systems to Private Owners, and Revision of Taxes.

Washington, May 22.—President Wilson, in his cabled message to Congress Tuesday, recommended repeal of the war time prohibition law so far as it applies to wine and beer only; announced definitely that the rail systems and telegraph and telephone lines would be returned to private ownership; urged a revision of war taxes and outlined generally a program respecting labor.

He again urged enactment of the woman suffrage constitutional amendment, recommended that the tariff laws be supplied with teeth to protect American industry against foreign attack; spoke for legislation to facilitate American enterprises through the expansion of shipping and backed Secretary Lane's program for land for returning soldiers.

On the peace conference and the league of nations he merely said it would be premature to discuss them or express a judgment. He also avoided discussion of domestic legislation at length because of his long absence from Washington.

Congress heard a unique document, the only one of its kind ever transmitted across the ocean from a President on a foreign shore. For the first time in six years it heard a Presidential message read by a reading clerk instead of assembling to hear the President deliver an address in person.

The recommendations for the repeal of wartime prohibition and for return of the rail and wire systems, while not unexpected by some, contained the greatest element of surprise and provoked the most widespread comment of the many tasks set before Congress by the President.

In his reference to prohibition he said that demobilization had progressed to such a point that it seemed "entirely safe now to remove the ban upon the manufacture and sale of wine and beer." This ban, laid several months ago to become effective on July 1, could only be removed, he said, by Congressional enactment.

His recommendation regarding return of the railroads and wire lines was the first authoritative declaration by the administration of its future policy and greatly surprised many members who had interpreted the developments of the past few months to mean that he eventually would propose some form of permanent government operation. On the contrary, the directness of his declaration on that point left no doubt that he was through with any possible scheme of permanent retention.

"The telegraph and telephone lines," said the message, "will, of course, be returned to their owners as soon as the transfer can be effected without administrative confusion. The railroads will be handed over to their owners at the end of the calendar year."

In the case of each the President asked the legislation to make easier the adjustments necessitated by the change.

In his recommendation for readjustment of taxes the President made it clear that he did not expect a fundamental readjustment of the Democratic tariff rates that have been operative for the past six years. Changes were urged in war time profit taxes and the recent taxes on retail sales, the President thought, could be dispensed with entirely.

What would be the reply of the Republican Congress to these proposals became at once the topic of discussion everywhere. It is generally conceded the Republican leaders will readily give the President their co-operation, but as to prohibition and tariff and internal revenue taxation the case is more doubtful. These are problems on which no very clear sentiment apparently has been formed in either of the great parties.

The recommendations regarding labor were general, but the President called attention to the need for a partnership between capital and labor and a genuine "democratization of industry."

On tariff revision he said the United States should have the means of properly protecting itself when there was danger of discrimination against it by foreign nations.

"Though we are as far as possible from desiring to enter upon a course of retaliation," he said, "we must frankly face the fact that hostile legislation by other nations is not beyond the range of possibilities and that it may have to be met by counter legislation."

"Although the United States will will gladly and unhesitatingly join in the program of international disarmament, it will nevertheless, as a policy of obvious prudence, to make use of the successful maintenance of certain well equipped chemical plants."

300,000 Persons Who Value a Dollar Drive a Maxwell

ONE reason—and the main one—why persons change from one car to another after a year's use is this: the cost is too much to keep it running.

A Maxwell possesses the prized virtue of staying out of the repair shop and running and running. This is why:

Raw materials are purchased in large quantities and for cash. Economy No. 1.

There are no engineering kink-knacks in a Maxwell. Economy No. 2.

The road testing engineer who spends 12 months a year testing Maxwell cars for weaknesses, and who has driven a motor car further than any living man finds the "mistakes" before they get into production and are therefore not passed on to you. Economy No. 3.

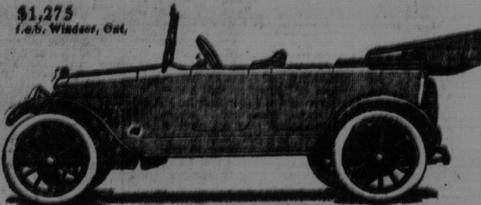

Maxwell cars are built on the original chassis plan laid down 5 years ago. 500,000 have been built to date. Doing one thing always results in doing it well. Economy No. 4.

All "temperament" is taken out of the car by the engineering department so that it is well nigh impossible to find a Maxwell with an "uneven disposition." Economy No. 5.

There are 25 others. These fortify you against after-trouble in a Maxwell. That is why you can be doubly sure on a Maxwell if you value highly a thrifty dollar. Most persons do, and 300,000 of them drive Maxwells.

FARM LOANS
for SOLDIERS

Cheap Implements, Livestock and Harness

THE Soldier Settlement Board has arranged with manufacturers of implements and harness to give soldier settlers a wide choice of first class implements at prices substantially below those quoted to civilians; and in the Prairie Provinces the United Grain Growers, Limited, will give soldier settlers special prices on implements, wagons, and other commodities.

By collective buying in large numbers for cash, it can also offer soldiers the lowest possible prices on horses and other live stock.

It can supply a good harness set for approximately $31.50 at point of manufacture.

All these concessions are in addition to the Board's offer to secure for the soldiers good land, conveniently located, and to give financial assistance in the way of loans to establish them on the land.

Land and Loans

With certain exceptions, a soldier who has served with good conduct in the Canadian, Imperial or Allied forces in an actual theatre of war or outside the country in which he enlisted (or widow of any such man) may secure loans to purchase land, live stock and equipment and erect buildings—

(1) Up to $4,500 to cover the cost of the land and discharge encumbrances.

(2) Up to $1,000 to erect buildings. Both these loans to be paid on the instalment plan. Payments extending over 25 years.

(3) Up to $2,000 to buy implements, live stock, and equipment. The soldier will begin to pay off this loan in the third year, and will have four years to pay.

Only five per cent. will be charged on these loans.

A cash payment of one-tenth the price of the land will be required, except in special cases.

Qualified settlers on Dominion Lands may secure loans up to a maximum of $3,000 on a plan similar to the above for farm equipment, live stock, and erection of buildings, provided security offered justifies the loan.

If you figure you have more than a fifty-fifty chance to make good as a farmer, write to your Provincial Superintendent at P.O. Bldg., St. John, Main 578

LARGELY ATTENDED MEETING WAS HELD LAST EVENING

Jewish and Other Citizens Who Assembled in the Synagogue Passed Strongly Worded Resolution Protesting Against Persecutions and Massacres of Jews—Call on Civilized Governments at Peace Conference to Take Action to Suppress Inhuman Treatment.

A strongly worded resolution protesting against the persecutions and massacres of Jews by the Poles and Roumanians, and calling upon the civilized governments at the Peace Conference to take action to suppress the inhuman treatment of the Jews was adopted by a standing vote at a big meeting of Jewish and other citizens held in the synagogue last evening.

Rabbi Amdur, who acted as chairman, briefly explained the objects of the meeting, and complained bitterly that after millions of men had died to make the world safe for democracy and human freedom, the Poles, who had achieved their own freedom by grace of the armed forces of the Allies, should celebrate their assumption of nationhood by murdering the Jews wholesale. The Rabbi declared that 478,000 Jews had served in the forces of the Allies, and about half of these had given their lives for the cause of freedom and human civilization. Their reward was to have their co-religionists butchered and persecuted.

Mayor Hayes said all citizens of St. John would sympathize with the object of the meeting. They had given their sons to free all mankind from tyranny and wrong, and it was an intolerable thing that the Allied governments, having set up the new nation of Poland in the name of freedom, should not be able to compel the government of that nation to allow the Jews to live in peace and amity. His Worship said the Canadian papers, and particularly the St. John papers, had not kept the people very much informed as to what was now going on in some parts of Europe. If the citizens of St. John knew how the Jews of Poland and elsewhere were being treated, he felt they would unite in making an emphatic protest against such a gross betrayal of the cause for which the Allies had fought and suffered.

Rev. W. R. Robinson said he had read many stories of the atrocities committed against the Jews in reliable American journals and one or two Canadian papers. He did not know why the Poles, having but recently been granted their freedom, should turn upon the Jews and slay them, but it was probably because of their industry and frugality. He supposed the Jews of Poland and Roumania were very much like those of St. John, and he wished to say that during his childhood, or a Jewish girl to be his wife or children, or a Jewish girl to be his wife or children. He believed in the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, and could not conceive of a civilization which was founded on religion. In view of the religion and civilization owed to the Hebrew race, the world could not be expected to see the Jews persecuted. Every nation that persecuted the Jews had perished. It was a mockery of the efforts of the Allies for a nation given

Report of Interest Is In Circulation

Said Officials of Canadian National Railways Are Planning Steamship Service Between St. John and Vancouver.

An interesting report was in circulation in local shipping circles yesterday to the effect that the officials of the Canadian National Railways are planning a steamship service between St. John and Vancouver in winter, using Montreal and Halifax during the summer. Important railway officials were said to be now looking into the possibilities of getting traffic for such a service. It is said that there is strong opposition to the government using the boats now being built for it by Canadian shipbuilders to complete with existing lines in the proposed trade, and that it is proposed to use the government fleet of merchant ships which are to be operated in conjunction with the National Railways to open new trade routes to South America and between the Atlantic and Pacific.

Shipping men here say there is every prospect of a service between St. John and Vancouver materializing in the near future. It is pointed out that some time before the war there were steamship services between Canada and Mexico on both the Atlantic and Pacific sides, and that by transhipment over the Mexican railway across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec a very considerable trade between the east and the Pacific Coast had developed. Large quantities of British Columbia salmon were brought by this route to St. John either for consumption in eastern Canada or for shipment here to Great Britain. The biggest part of the business was west-bound. Whole shiploads of canned products, fruits, vegetables and breakfast foods, were sent by Ontario and Quebec to St. John, and loaded here for the roundabout route to British Columbia.

Now that boats are able to pass through the Panama Canal, the business which was being developed through Mexico could be handled much more economically. Vancouver has ambitious to handle a portion of the grain crop of the prairie provinces, and it is said that if no other freight offered boats trading between Vancouver and our Atlantic ports could be utilized for a portion of the year, where it could be transferred to trans-Atlantic boats in very little time and with very little expense.

Fatal Accident on Waterloo Street

Three Year Old Verdun Landry Run Over by Automobile and Killed—Sad Affair Was Purely Accidental.

A particularly sad accident happened last evening about eight o'clock on Waterloo street, opposite St. Mary's church, by which little Verdun Landry, the three-year-old daughter of John Landry, lost her life, being crushed under an automobile driven by William Hatch. People passing, who saw the accident, stated that it was entirely unavoidable and Mr. Hatch not in any way to blame. As he and his party were going down Waterloo street at a moderate rate of speed the little one ran in front of the wheel and was caught by the brakes, but before the car could be brought to a standstill one wheel had passed over her chest, crushing her ribs in. The child was carried into the office of Dr. McCourt, who did all he could, but to no avail, as she breathed her last in a few minutes. Dr. Kenney was summoned, and, after hearing the facts, gave permission for the removal of the body to the street. It was said the child started across the street after her brother. The coroner will empanel a jury today and view the body and adjourn the inquiry until after the holiday.

Mrs. Annie Boyle Was Badly Injured

Woman Becoming Bewildered Stepped in Front of Automobile—Suffered Shock and Few Cuts—Street Lighting Complained of.

Mrs. Annie Boyle, 47 Gilbert's Lane had a very narrow escape from death last night, when she was hit by an automobile owned and driven by O. J. Killam, and only Mr. Killam, who is a very careful driver, was going at a slow rate of speed and brought the car to a stop at once. Mrs. Boyle was crossing the street and she had stepped under the car but the wheels had not passed over her. She was carried into a drug store where it was seen she was unconscious. A call was sent in for the ambulance which made a quick response to the scene. Mrs. Boyle was then taken to the General Public Hospital where an examination revealed that she had not suffered any serious injuries. She had some cuts around the face and had received quite a shaking up, but no bones were broken and it was expected she will be all right in a day or two.

The street lighting at that point is very bad and autoists claim this makes it more dangerous as they cannot dim their lights at that point owing to the darkness. Mr. Killam and some friends were coming in from Glen Falls and the corner of Waterloo and Brunsels streets, was running very slowly. He saw Mrs. Boyle crossing the street and she had stepped under the car but the wheels had not passed over her. She was carried into a drug store where it was seen she was unconscious. A call was sent in for the ambulance which made a quick response to the scene. Mrs. Boyle was then taken to the General Public Hospital where an examination revealed that she had not suffered any serious injuries.
