

Why You Should Advertise.

When people are so unfortunate as to lose any article belonging to them, they should always resort to The Advertiser, with a notice of the loss. This is not always done, and in many cases the finder never returns it, article simply because no advertisement is inserted. A sharp and quick finding of a lost article, was that of Miss Harding's, at 3 1/2 Dundas street, who advertised a pair of gold spectacles and chain in Monday evening's Advertiser. Early Tuesday morning they were brought to the office by Miss Annie Milroy, 195 John street. The advertiser has returned hundreds of lost articles to their owners, and continues to be the best aid to the unfortunate in recovering their losses.

The smoke and brilliant lights from the shipping, said Pilot Beaudette, this morning, "were very confusing, and prevented me observing the light-house, which was the always-peculiarly chosen at Quebec to bring the steamer Duval up the river to Montreal, which was going down to Quebec. It notified me to take the left, but I found on investigation that I was already on the left, and that if I kept on that course the boats would come into collision. The situation revealed itself to me in a flash, and at once whistled back I am taking the right, keep on your course." This was done, but the boats passed within twenty feet of each other. My heart was in my mouth until the danger was passed, and I never felt so happy in my life as when I saw the boats of the Montreal. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, after the experience, the danger of which he fully realized, congratulated me on the narrow escape. I myself, considering the crowded state of the river and the constant light-bells, the escape from disaster to have been positively miraculous.

BASEBALL.

WON HANDS DOWN.

Yesterday's game between Guelph and London traveled slower than a horse car. It never once got a move on. It was weary state, to persevere for at no time did the Leafs awake from their slumbers. Meek tried to galvanize a little life into the business with his Bannister coaching, but he gave it up in disgust.

Charles Crowe, Esq. had it all his own way, and the Londons had really little necessity for hustling. The Leafs fanned the air with monotonous regularity, and though they are credited with 13 hits, some of them singles, harmlessly scattered over nine innings like this:

1 1 1 1 2 2 1 2

One of the stars was a bunt, and one in the ninth might have been fielded. On the other hand, Jordan was hit opportunely by the Londons—generally when the Leafs were bases—and he was pounded a good deal harder. Sippi lambasting him for a triple and Cockman for a double.

The London infield played an almost errorless game. Cockman, in particular, is doing good work at short; and it was hard to believe that it was the identical combination which hustled Jordan Hamilton the day before. Late John Egan, the local pitcher, umpired by mutual consent, and the visitors were perfectly satisfied. Any kicking—there was very little of it—came from his own team. Late, the generous-hearted fellow, saw the Leafs were doomed, and was not inclined to exact the pound of flesh. His down-east Yankee tons rang loudly in a singing cadence, quieted by harmony with the sleepy nature of the game.

Cockman opened for London with a double, scoring on Keenan's single. Singles by Ward, Reid, Cockman and Sippi, and a home run by Crowe, made up the London's offensive. In the fifth inning, Crowe, pelted up four more, and the Leafs were downed, and the London completely buried the Leafs. In the fifth Ward's triple and Reid's sacrifice followed the agony, and the Londons were down enough to give the two more runs in the seventh, when Sechrist was hit by the pitcher and Reid and Crowe singled.

The Guelph's first lonesome run came in the fourth, Dark getting a base on balls in a scoring position. In the fifth Sechrist dropped Moore's fly, and Lowrey scored Moore with a single. In the sixth, Crowe's home run came in on Sheppard's more isolated whiff by Lowrey and Dark. In the ninth, after Sheppard had been retired, Lowrey singled, scored on Boyce's grounder which managed to evade Cockman. Dark struck out, and Boyce crossed the plate on Buse's single. Score:

NOTES.

Now for the Hams. There will be more life in today's Crow has won four games and lost one. Cockman's batting average is .405. He is increasing it in every game. Walsh made his first yesterday after striking out twice, and he was dejectedly cheered. Walsh was always a good hitter before he came here, and his friends say that he will yet surprise the fans.

Cockman has evidently struck the position that suits him. Strowger's work yesterday made a large target that London had lost last night. Rev. Mr. Ward, father of Capt. Ward, was a spectator, and will also be a day or two here. He is a baseball enthusiast. Mr. Ward thinks Sunday is a very pretty place.

St. Thomas will pitch today, and Kerwin tomorrow against St. Thomas. London fans should go to St. Thomas tomorrow in large numbers to see the team.

Keenan is a funny boy. Moore ran down to St. Thomas to consult him as to the best means of fooling Jo-Jo, who was at bat. Jo-Jo ran to the pitcher's box behind the whispering pair, and overheard their remarks, whereupon Moore chased him away.

The Londons' poor showing on Monday hurt yesterday's attendance. London has won six games and lost twelve this season by one run, six of which were going to the Leafs and six to the Hams. The Maple Leafs have won only two games from the Hams by one run, while to the same club they have lost four. The lucky Hams have taken eleven games by one run, one being from Toronto.

Notwithstanding the retirement of the late management the team will remain intact during the balance of the season, finishing up its scheduled games.

HAMILTON HERALD.

And where, oh where, is London? Hockey is doing fairly well at third corner.

Walsh is a good fielder, a fair batsman and a good runner.

The Cockneys were sadly in need of something to cheer them.

The Bleachers called for Manager Holman to go in and pitch in the fifth.

After he had made three or four strikes of Phillips' terrific drive in the fifth, he called out: Look at me. I'll be in the big league next year.

The scorers were exceedingly generous to Doc Sippi in that awful second.

The Londons were like a bunch of game from the press box.

Pierre Ward's father witnessed the game from the press box.

London loses Meek.

Meek, the first baseman of the Londons, will play at Stratford today and leaves tomorrow to join the Kansas City team at Detroit.

He had been touched up for six hits, including a three-bagger in the fifth, but he had been given the kind of support calculated to unnerve the best pitcher in the business.

JOHN CAMERON, President and Prop.
God's in His heaven,
All's right with the world.
—Seymour.

London, Wednesday, Sept. 1, 1897.
The man in the harvest moon looks down upon an inspiring scene in Canada.

"Is John Shaw Mayor?" asks the Toronto World. Well, John has been acting as if he were for a week or two past.

Despite the high duties, Canadian cattle are yet being bought for the United States markets. The other day $5,000 worth were shipped from the neighborhood of Kingston for New York.

A curious famine existed at Juneau, by way of Chilkoot Pass, when the last steamer left. Horse-shoe nails were much required, but there was no store that they sold at 1 1/2 cents apiece. If the famine continued, the nails bade fair to be worth their weight in gold.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, accompanied by Lady Laurier, will arrive in Ottawa this evening. There will be a civic demonstration, as was the reception in Montreal. It promises to be equally hearty. Sir Wilfrid says he cannot attend Toronto Fair, as he has engagements up to Sept. 24. It can easily be understood that there must be a large accumulation of public business, necessitating the early attention of the Premier and his colleagues for some time to come.

The Quebec citizens who welcomed the Canadian Premier back from Britain with so great enthusiasm, voiced the popular conception of the effects of his participation in the Queen's jubilee. "Your mission to England, Sir Wilfrid," said the address, "has revealed a new Canada to most of those that you have met in England and in France. It is a most effective and wide-spread advertisement which has ever been accomplished for the benefit of our country."

Mr. Ganson Dewey, of Buffalo, who accompanied the Goodyear party on his trip through the West, pays the following well-deserved compliment to the Canadian Pacific Railway: "The Canadian Pacific is, I think, as far as scenery is concerned, the finest railroad in the continent. I have been over most of the railroads, claiming grand and beautiful scenery, including Mexico, but the Canadian Pacific for 900 miles, for grandeur and variety exceeds them all."

The following table of the average price of wheat per annum since 1871 will be read with interest at the present juncture:

Table with 4 columns: Year, Price per Bushel, Year, Price per Bushel. Data points range from 1871 to 1884.

London's Lake Port.

Our city contemporary, the Free Press, referring to the Advertiser's discussion of London's enviable position as a trade center, takes the ground that this journal is altogether too optimistic in its views with regard to our lake port connections. It points out that as early as 1857 Port Stanley was regarded as a valuable harbor on Lake Erie, but that so great has the neglect of the port been in recent years that "everyone who visits the harbor of Port Stanley can note the decayed and broken-down condition of the piers, and the gradual filling up of the harbor."

To remedy this condition of affairs, our contemporary says, the late Government in 1884—two years before it was defeated, by the way—promised to put the port in proper condition. But it did not do so. And this neglected duty was left to the new Government, which acted promptly, placing an appropriation of $22,000 as an instalment for the needed works in the estimates of the current year. Our contemporary's complaint is that the work has not yet been done, and it apparently assumes that we are contented to have it remain undone! By no means. Our interest in London and in its shipping facilities are greater than our interest in the Ministers at Ottawa, and we shall be delighted to see the work completed, as it doubtless will be, at an early date.

The present Government is a progressive and energetic body of men, but it might occur to the Free Press that it is somewhat unreasonable to expect the new Administration to accomplish in one year what its predecessors failed to do during the eighteen years that they continuously held office.

The Mail and Empire Talks at Random.

The Toronto Mail and Empire says that great quantities of Wheat, Flour, Cattle, Ham, Bacon, Beef, Mutton, Cheese, Butter, Lard, and Eggs are imported constantly into Great Britain; that Great Britain proposed to Canada to let these articles in on a tariff preference—in other words, that Great Britain had proposed to charge other countries a duty on food products, while letting Canadian products in free of duty—and that Canada had refused the preference offered.

Will the Mail and Empire kindly state any occasion on which Great Britain offered to impose on herself a duty on wheat, flour, cattle, ham, bacon, beef, mutton, cheese, butter, lard and eggs, entering her markets, while admitting these articles from Canada free of duty?
As it will be time enough to refuse or accept any such offer of a tariff preference when it is made by Great Britain, the only point of immediate importance is the question of fact. Has any such offer as the Mail and Empire alludes to been made to Canada by Great Britain?

Will the Mail and Empire kindly produce day and date?
It has taken from the day of Canada's discovery till the year 1897 to secure Great Britain's consent (by the abrogation of preventing treaties) to complete tariff freedom on the part of Canada. Does our contemporary think the whole fiscal system of Great Britain can be overturned in a day in Canada's favor?

But, once more to the question of fact, will the Mail and Empire tell us specifically when, and where, and by whom Great Britain has made offer to Canada to tax food products from other countries in order to give a tariff preference to Canada?
Prosperity Paragraphs.

The Orangeville Cement Company has been formed to manufacture Portland cement from a deposit of marl in Caicedon. At Eugenia, Grey county, there are very extensive deposits of the same material, and the Fisherton Advance advocates their working.

A shipment of 536 Canadian-made bicycles was made recently to Australia. The shipment was valued at $31,500.

The Dartmouth, N. S., Weekly says: "Large quantities of binder twine are being shipped to the Northwest. This is unusual at this season of the year, and it is owing to the immense crop of grain in that region. There are over 1,500 tons of twine left over last year, owing to the small crop and overproduction; that has all gone and hands are working full time to keep up with the demand."

Not only is the prospect brightening for the farmer, but in the commercial, manufacturing and mechanical world there are unmistakable signs of improvement. These statements can be verified in almost every business center. Unmistakable signs of them are to be found in this county and in this town. The re-erection of the Malleable Iron Works; the large addition to the McLaughlin Carriage Factory, the scarcity of help, the lively movements of business generally, all go to make good the very encouraging statement at the head of this article. Prospects are brightening—Oshawa, Ont., Reformer.

Some of our woolen mills are running overtime, and others report that their orders now in hand will keep them steadily employed for the next two months. The wholesale drygoods trade is experiencing much more than usual activity at this season, and says that the retail men are not only ordering freely, but are meeting their liabilities more promptly than at any time in the past five years.—Canadian Journal of Fabrics.

Mr. James S. Loughhead finding the facilities at his command quite insufficient to handle the increasing volume of business that is crowding the hub and spoke factory, is putting up an important addition to the works. The addition is being put to the north end of the main building, and is a substantial fire-proof structure of 30 by 20 feet, two stories, solid brick veneer. The main shaft will be extended through the lower story, which will be filled with additional machinery. The upper part will be fitted up as an office and store-room, and the space now occupied by the office will be thrown into the manufacturing department.—Sarnia Canadian.

Business at the woolen stock mill of Messrs. H. Baker & Son, corner of Front and Milton streets, is brisk at the present time, as the machinery is kept running beyond the regular hours, and last night it was necessary to work all night. In order to provide the necessary power for the machinery a large boiler is being erected.—Stratford Beacon.

Things are booming in the Seaforth foundry lately, so much so that the men have to work overtime.

The town of Simcoe is evidently feeling the effects of the incoming tide of done than has been the case for some time. Two new business blocks are in course of erection, and several new brick dwellings are just completed and more in contemplation.

William Apps, master car builder of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who is in Detroit in connection with a car building contract with the Michigan Peninsular Car Company and his road, says that orders for 1,500 cars have been placed with different companies throughout the Dominion. Six hundred cars are also being made in the shops of the company at Montreal. "Times are getting back where they used to be," said Mr. Apps. "During the last five years we have had no difficulty in making all the cars for which we have use. The crops awaiting shipment along our route are heavier this year than they have been for a long time. An immense number of cars will be used to handle the traffic."

The Living Age copies Quasitor's caustic arraignment of the colonial office, "The South Africa Bubble," from the Contemporary Review, James Fyfe's "On Conversation," from the Nineteenth Century, and "The Restoration of Paintings," by M. Q. Holyoake, from Chambers' Journal. The most notable of the half-score of selections is Paul Bourget's critique-biography of Gustave Flaubert, whom he calls "the most accomplished master in French prose that has appeared in the last half of the present century." (Boston: The Living Age Co.)

St. Nicholas brings to its embellishment some of the best work of our best artists, and always offers a literary menu that is a feast for the young people. Virginia Cabell Gardner's story of old England, "A Girl of Winchester," is of the Latin verse the little maid recited to Mary of England and her bridegroom. The boys will be delighted with "Stories of Elephants," and there are stories and poems and pictures that are adapted to every era of childhood. For St. Nicholas caters most acceptably for its large clientele. (New York: The Century Company.)

THE NEW ROAD SKATE.
The new pneumatic, ball bearing road skate which were invented some time since have come into the market. They are built on the plan of a bicycle. Each skate has two wheels provided with pneumatic tires and ball bearings. With a pair of these clamped tight to his feet the wearer skates along the track instead of pedalling. It requires naturally considerable practice to maintain one's balance on the swift rolling things, but after this has been mastered the rest is easy, so it is claimed that a bicycle skater can outstrip a tandem and that he can travel on clay and dirt roads with skates where the bicycle rider cannot.

THE OTHER WAY.
Victoria, B. C., Colonist.
The Laurier government first makes sure that it is right and then goes ahead—a reversal of the policy of the late government, which in nearly all its great undertakings blundered without seeing the end, and found out when it was too late that it had blundered.

THE SAFETY OF FREE SPEECH.
[Philadelphia Press.]
If a hundred tons of gunpowder are exploded in the open air no one is harmed; there is a great flash, a huge volume of smoke, that is all; but if a hundredth part of this amount, confined within walls of granite, were exploded, something must give way. There is not much danger in error if it only be freely expressed. Men's minds will work themselves clear if they have a chance. If one man is free to proclaim his error and his neighbor is free to proclaim his truth in the long run, the experience of mankind will reach a solution of the question. Truth asks only to meet error face to face; if it cannot conquer then it is not truth.

DOLLAR WHEAT AND DYSPEPSIA
St. Louis Post-Dispatch.
Possibly more stale bread will be eaten if high prices for flour prevail. Stale bread, however, is healthful. It is the soft, spongy bread that is every year adding to the list of dyspepsias. An ostrich might thrive on the food that many of us put into our stomachs, but certainly the average human system is not adapted to it. The Englishman, who is a hearty eater, takes care not to eat fresh bread.

Car Works Running Night and Day.

Car Famine in Kansas—A Woman as Section Boss.

The Sheffield Car Company, at Three Rivers, Mich., is running night and day to keep pace with orders. Working force has been increased and the company has a long list of orders to fill.
The Detroit, Grand Rapids and Western has added two new Schenectady locomotives to its equipment. They have been working for two weeks, giving excellent satisfaction, climbing the steepest grades without the least trouble.

Spring troubles in store for the new mileage bureau of eastern lines. Upon the very eve of its becoming effective, the Moon has withdrawn and given notice that it will have nothing to do with the new interchangeable mileage ticket, which was expected to prevent the demoralization of the past.

There are now employed on the Wash lines 25 collectors, and the conductor has only to look after his train. In this connection it is stated that there has been no perceptible increase in cash returns collected from the passengers since the new mileage bureau results followed when General Manager Greene placed collectors on the Big Four trains.

A car famine is upon the farmers of Kansas, despite the efforts made by the railroad companies to supply enough cars to ship out the wheat. For many days dozens of trains of empty grain cars have passed through Topeka for the grain belts of Oklahoma and Kansas but the demand far exceeds the supply. Wednesday and Thursday at many places farmers were unable to unload their wheat, and the Northern Pacific Railway has just added 22 engines on the main line, which are among the heaviest ever made. These engines and other improvements set free a number of the Mogul engines on the main line, and these will be transferred to the branches to take the place of the lighter standard engines in use there. Sixteen of these Moguls will be put on the Manitoba division, to help in rushing out the wheat crop.

The Duluth and Winnipeg Railroad has given the modern woman a trial, and put Mary Shannon, a young widow in charge of a section gang. She has filled the position nearly a year, taking the place of her husband when he died. The roadmaster asserts that she is the best section boss he has on the line. This is a description of her at work: Dressed in a pair of bloomer overalls, with the bottoms tucked around the tops of cow-hits, and her head adorned by a broad-brimmed slouch hat, the woman section boss may be seen any day, except Sunday, in all kinds of weather, standing beside the track in the midst of a gang of laborers, directing the work of the men, taking the place of her husband. Every morning at 7 o'clock Mrs. Shannon kisses her two babies and leaves them to the care of her mother-in-law to the day's work on the railroad. The men are waiting for her at the track, and she has her hand-car loaded with tools and dinner-pails. " All ready, boys; let 'em go," she says, and they are off down the line to the day of toil. After ten hour's work, when the "boss" looks at her watch and shouts, " All back to the camp," there is a scramble of hungry toilers, a clattering of shovels and bars as they are thrown upon the hard-car, a rattling of dinner-pails, and away they go homeward.

Near Boise City, Idaho, 400 feet below the earth's surface, there is a subterranean lake of hot water of 170 degrees temperature. It has pressure enough to ascend to the top floors of most of the houses, and will be piped to them for heating purposes.

EIGHT YEARS AGO.

A London Lady Speaks Strongly in Regard to the New Medicine for Heart Trouble Which is Causing So Much Favorable Comment in This City.

Miss Lizette Jones, when interviewed by our reporter, spoke as follows: "Eight years ago I had rheumatism, which left me with weak nerves and serious heart trouble. Just at that time, when I was convalescing, my dear mother died, and this threw me into a complete state of nervous prostration, thus aggravating my heart difficulties, which have since been growing serious. "My blood was so impoverished that I had no color in my face, I lost flesh and became very weak. The condition of my heart frightened me, as I suffered from sharp pains and palpitations. It was impossible for me to get restful sleep at night, and on this account I was unable to walk even a short distance, as the slightest exertion made me so short of breath that I could scarcely move. "It was easily started and mentally became very dependent, thinking that I was going to die shortly. I had to give up my painting, which was my chief pleasure. Last November I gave up treatment with the doctors because their medicines seemed of no effect. Then I commenced taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which I got at Strong's drug store. From the time I commenced their use a radical improvement took place. My nervous system was completely restored to its usual strength and vigor. I have now taken four boxes, and am strong and well. They have restored healthy blood. "The color in my face has returned, and I sleep as well as ever I did in the past. I do not suffer now from heart or nerve trouble. I can walk any distance today without inconvenience or weariness. All my friends remark the wonderful change for the better in my case."

Local Market. Reported by A. M. Hamilton & Son. London, Wednesday, Sept. 1. Wheat, white fall, per bu. 30c to 34c...

WEEKLY REVIEW. This week's receipts of grains have been moderately good, oats, wheat, rye and peas being the principal kinds offered.

Wheat sold from 31 1/2 to 34 1/2 at the beginning of the week; receipts were fairly good; buying was done by the shippers mostly, but it was hard to find out for speculative account of immediate consumption.

Wheat sold at 70c to 75c per 100 lbs. mostly the latter. A few loads of new wheat were marketed at 70c.

Receipts of honey were good. Sales ranged at 7c to 10c for extracted and 12c to 15c for comb.

Beef sold at 4c to 5c by the carcass. Fat cows and calves live for choice and from that down.

Lamb was quiet at 7c to 8c. Hogs, dressed, sold at $7.25 to $7.50 and live at $5.50 for choice.

Only changes in the fruit and grain market occurred in lambkins; they sold at 40c to 50c.

In fruits, the principal offerings of some stuff were muskmelons, apples and plums. Prices as given are for these only.

Potatoes a little lower at 50c a bag. Tomatoes a little slower at 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 a bushel.

The rest of the vegetable list is unchanged. Hay sold at $5.50 to $7 as a rule, but one load of remarkable good quality sold at $8 on Monday.

Live chickens, young pigs, etc. were unchanged. Quotations: Wheat, white fall, per 100 lbs. 1.10 to 1.35...

GRAIN. Wheat, white fall, per 100 lbs. 1.10 to 1.35. Wheat, red fall, per 100 lbs. 1.05 to 1.30. Wheat spring, per 100 lbs. 1.10 to 1.35...

MEAT, HIDES, ETC. Beef, quarters, per lb. 30 to 40. Calf, quarters, per lb. 25 to 35. Veal, quarters, per lb. 20 to 30...

VEGETABLES AND FRUIT. Apples, bushel, 1.00 to 1.25. Peaches, per bushel, 1.75 to 2.25. Plums, per bushel, 1.00 to 1.50...

Up the Yukon. The River Now Reported as Running Dry. Steamers Unable to Reach Dawson for Sandbars.

San Francisco, Sept. 1.—The position of the Klondikers on the Yukon River is far worse than has been imagined, as shown by private letters received by the Alaska Commercial Company.

At St. Michaels it is said that the steamer P. W. Weare and Bella are stuck on sandbars near the rapids of the Yukon.

Without the aid of these boats the 4,200 tons of food at St. Michaels cannot be carried up the river.

President Nibbaum, of the Alaska Commercial Company, called today. "No works are strong enough to condemn the transportation companies and syndicates that have conspired to take passengers to Dawson this fall."

ED. BARREL ACQUITTED. Charge of Assault Preferred by Hostler. Rollins Dismissed—An Arva Case.

Edward Barrel, hotelkeeper at Arva, was acquitted this morning by Judge Wm. Elliot, on the charge of assaulting Thomas Rollins on Saturday, July 31.

Rollins was employed by Barrel as hostler, and claimed that on the afternoon in question he was very roughly used by the employee.

Barrel said that he had driven to London on that day, and when he returned about 5 o'clock Rollins did not as usual come to take the horse.

Barrel's little boy went to the barn to find him. Shortly afterwards Rollins appeared in the doorway of the barn, evidently very drunk.

"Let her come," he said, meaning by "her" the horse, but Barrel thought it better to unitch the horse himself, as the hostler was too drunk.

While in the act of unitching, Rollins resented being told that he was drunk, and kicked his employer in the knee.

Barrel then struck him with his open hand and he fell on the floor. After this witness went to the house, and got the amount due Rollins as wages.

The hostler, Barrel, ordered him down, but Rollins would not go. Then Barrel dragged him with a rope to the ladder, forcing him down.

The evidence as to what occurred afterwards conflicted. Mr. Hawkins, Jun., miller at Arva, said he saw Rollins going down the floor with his open hand about an inch thick around his neck, and Barrel was striking him with the short post.

Mr. Fraleigh, another witness, told of a conversation with Barrel afterwards, when the latter said he was glad to have killed Rollins.

Mr. Husband, a painter, living at Arva, who had driven to Arva with Barrel, corroborated the latter's evidence as to the first part of the trouble.

Mr. Love, counsel for the defendant, argued that in the first assault Rollins was all to blame.

Prosecuting Attorney Coleridge held that the assault by Barrel was excessive, but the judge said there seemed to be ill-feeling between the parties.

The following special to The Advertiser has been received from Detroit: "The T. G. Seabrooke Opera Company successfully produced Goodwin, Burne & Furst's new opera, 'Papa Gou-Gou,' under the direction of F. C. Whitney, here last (Tuesday) night, before one of the largest and most fashionable audiences in the history of the Detroit Opera House.

The scene of the opera is laid in Normandy, in 1830, and the three acts present the exterior and interior of Papa Gou-Gou's home, and a square in Normandy village, Seabrooke, as Nesmah, Wis., and Miss Agnes George, of Strathroy.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker, of Byron, are entertaining this week the Misses Grigg, of Mich.; Mr. Grigg, of Grand Rapids, Mich.; Mr. Ivan Jenkens, of Nesmah, Wis.; and Miss Agnes George, of Strathroy.

The water commissioners evidently do not think the city is in immediate need of more water. When meantime the sale of the Redmond ponds property with the commissioners yesterday, Mr. F. Walsh expressed his willingness to allow the question of price to be settled by arbitration, but the offer was declined.

FAITHFUL TILL THE END

The moments fly and still they remain so, not moving, not speaking—securely thinking. Presently Stairs stoops over her; the movement disturbs her and she looks up to him. 'Take off your glove,' entreats he softly. 'I want to feel your hand in mine again.'

Had Cecilia heard the sound of her soft footsteps? She has sprung to her feet, at all events, pushing back Stairs as he attempts to help her. 'Oh—no! Don't come near me! I had forgotten—forgotten!' she says. Cecilia is only remembering, she remembers the sadly.

CHAPTER XXXIII. Today has waked most fair and sweet. A little storm shower had descended awhile ago—but it had been too short in spite of its childish anger to mar the glory of the day. and from the late roses comes a sigh or two. It is delightful here in the porch, but out there the sun is shining hotly, and the heat seems beyond all control. But here, slender and pale, delicate, crown-like, she has her head with a huge hat that makes her look like a mushroom, and smiling at a big white umbrella, she walks forth, and speeding quickly across the gravel, where the sun shines hottest, gains the shade of the avenue almost immediately.

Her way to the wood leads her past the kitchen garden, and over the wall the warm perfume of the strawberries reaches her—delicate, enchanting. Far over there the corn is ripening for the sickle, the grass for the scythe and farther still lies the ocean, swaying, glistening in the white light. She is in the garden, the shadow of the wood now, and taking off her hat, lets the light wind blow upon her forehead. Her thoughts, confused, uncertain, stray always to one point—to Cecilia.

She has not forgotten the rather availed her mind which he had answered her last night, and now she throws up her head a little, and when he is mechanically holding out his hand to her in greeting, she puts her own behind her back. In a letter this morning, she says, 'The wind has been playing havoc with her hair, and she has not been able to wear it as she looks are flying. Her mother suggests that she should have a wig, but she is not inclined to do so. She is not inclined to do so. She is not inclined to do so.'

Christ in the Ship. He Can Alone Quell the Storms of Life. And Bring the Tempest-Tossed Voyager Into the Haven of Eternal Rest.—Dr. Talmage's Sermon.

Washington, Aug. 29.—This sermon by Rev. Dr. Talmage, will be of great solace to people who are finding their life a rough voyage. 'To-day, August 29—'And there were also with him other little ships, and there arose a great storm of wind, and the vessels ceased and there was a great calm.'

From the western shore a flotilla pushing out, a flotilla bearing messengers of life, and light, and peace. Christ is in the front of the boat. His disciples are in the smaller boats. Jesus, weary with much speaking to large multitudes, is put into somnolence by the rocking of the sea.

STEVE HILLY'S, 382 Richmond Street. MOSTLY FAIR—SOME SHOWERS.

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 31—11 p.m.—A very pronounced trough of low pressure extends from British Columbia southward across the Northwest States, accompanied by heavy local rains. This will probably cause unsettled weather over the western portion of the lake region, but it is doubtful if it will extend to Erie and Ontario.

In Canada, from Manitoba to the Gulf of St. Lawrence, the weather is fair and pressure about normal. Minimum and maximum temperatures: Esquimaux, 41-62; Kamloops, 61-68; Edmonton, 42-73; Prince Albert, 39-50; Qu'Appelle, 48-70; Winnipeg, 36-72; Port Arthur, 42-68; Toronto, 50-72; Ottawa, 41-70; Montreal, 52-68; Quebec, 50-65; Halifax, 60-70.

PROBABILITIES. Toronto, Sept. 1—1 a.m.—Probabilities for 24 hours for lower lake region: Easterly winds, showers in a few places, but mostly fair weather.

LOCAL TEMPERATURES. The highest and lowest readings of the thermometer at the observatory yesterday were 72 and 42.

In the Dining-Room.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 2. BREAKFAST—Melon, iced, Wheat-cakes, cream, Meat omelets, Fried potatoes, Popovers, Coffee.

LUNCHEON—Scalloped fish, Stuffed potatoes, Butters, toast, Peaches, Jumbles, Iced tea.

DINNER—Veal broth, Braised lamb, Mashed potatoes, Succotash, Tomato salad, Steamed blueberry pudding, Coffee.

Cut out these recipes and paste them in a scrap-book. Meat Omelets—One cup cold beef, or veal, finely chopped, one cup bread crumbs soaked in one cup of milk, two eggs, salt, pepper, and if veal is used a small pinch of sage or marjoram.

Mix thoroughly, having the bread soft and fine. Add last the beaten eggs, and drop by the spoonful into hot beef drippings, and fry a delicate brown.

Stuffed Potatoes—Select six potatoes of even size. Cut a thin slice from one end, that they may stand firm, and put in the oven to bake. As soon as thoroughly done remove from oven, and with sharp scissors cut a lid from the upper end and scoop out the potato in the bowl quite light with two teaspoonfuls of cream, a teaspoonful of butter and the beaten white of one egg. Salt. Then fill the skins with the mixture, heaping it high on top. Set the potatoes carefully on end and return to the oven for ten minutes to heat. Serve on a platter with sprigs of parsley.

Braised Lamb—Take a fore-quarter of lamb weighing five or six pounds, and have the butcher remove the shoulder blade. Put in a braising pan one spoonful of butter or beef drippings. Add one onion, sliced, and half a small turnip. Brown these well and heat in the pan. Add the lamb, dredging it with flour. Brown on one side. Then turn and brown the other. Then add one pint of water, bouquet of sweet herbs, and sprinkle with a heaping teaspoon of salt and a saltspoonful of pepper. Cover the pan perfectly close and cook one hour and a half in a moderate oven. Dish the meat, thickening the gravy with a spoonful of flour rubbed smooth in a very little water, let it boil up on top of the stove, then strain over the meat.

Succotash—One dozen ears green corn, one pint shelled beans, butter the size of an egg, salt and pepper. Cut the corn from the cobs, scoring through each row if the corn be large. Scrape lightly with the back of the knife, and pat beans and cobs on to boil an hour before dinner, with not more than a quart of water. Twenty minutes before serving remove the cobs and part of the water. Add the cut corn and boil very gently that it may be firm. Add the butter, a saltspoonful of pepper and a teaspoonful of salt, and dish. The water should be evaporated by the time the corn is done.

Steamed Blueberry Pudding—One pint of flour, one pint of berries, washed and drained in a sieve, two slightly heaping teaspoonfuls cream of tartar, one level teaspoonful of soda, one-half teaspoonful of salt, milk to mix—about one cup. Sift the soda, cream of tartar and salt into the flour and stir well, then add the berries and just enough milk to mix the whole to a stiff batter. Put in a well-buttered tin mold or pan, which set into a sauce-pan half-filled with boiling water. The saucepan must have a tightly Simple consciousness is reached at the age of 3, so that the first year of a child's life, in which he has developed many of the mental faculties referred to, represents hundreds of thousands of years which the race took to acquire and force them back, as it were, into child-life existence. As Mr. Barker says Geiger, was acquired by the race about 20,000 years ago, but it is known by a child of 8 now. Human nature appears from the study of history to be about 10,000 years old. It is not obtained by the individual at the age of 15.
