Robs the Farm. "One of the greatest reasons of the drift of men from the farms of Ontario is the system of taxation." said Mr. Elliott in moving his amendment. "To make men stay on the farm it is necessary to penalize to the least possible extent their labor. A better system of taxation would stem the tide from the land. In this Province there is much dissatisfaction with the tax system. Why did Toronto citizens a little over a year ago vote as they did on the matter?"

A Middlesex Example. A concrete example of unequal taxation was taken by Mr. Elliott from his own riding in the two townships of East and West Williams. In West Williams the land assessment was $27.50 per acre and the buildings $5.82 per acre. In East Williams the land assessment was $32.46 per acre while the buildings was $2.72. It was a well known fact, said Mr. Elliott, that the land values regulated to a great extent the building value. It is absolutely impossible by any other system known to get a more checkerboard system of assessment than the present

Cause of Increased Value.

Mr. Elliott also referred to the Toronto assessment, declaring that the enormous values had come, not through the efforts of the property holder, but because the people came to Toronto and property increased and the man who got the benefit was the one who did nothing, had nothing to do with the drift from country to city. He thought assessment could be improved.

Z. Mageau (Sturgeon Falls) spoke earnestly of the demand in New Ontario for some measure of relief from the present assessment law. He showed by apt illustrations how the business tax was handicapping progressive merchants, who erected large buildings to accommodate their business and invested large sums in the enterprise. R. J. McCormack (East Lambton) said he had the honor of presenting the largest petition for tax reform that was ever placed before the Legislature.

Adelaide, Australia, Feb. 26. -Following is a summary of the work accomplished by my expedition to the Antarctic, which arrived here today on board the Aurora:

First-The successful negotiation by a ship of Antarctic pack ice in a fresh sphere of action where conditions were practically unknown, resulting in the discovery of new lands and Second—The establishment of two Antarctic wintering stations, separated by an airline of 1,000 miles, both on lands never before sighted. At these stations, scientific programs have been conducted, in one case for a period of one year, and in the other extending over two years.

Third-Journeys made over sea ice and a plateau in regions never before sledged over, at a main base aggregating 2,400 miles, and a western base of 800 miles, which figures do not include journeys, supporting parties or relay work. The land has been followed through 33 degrees of longitude, 27 of which were sledged over.

Two Years at Macquarie Island. Fourth—The establishment of party at Macquarie Island, a sub-Antarctic possession of the Australian Commonwealth. where two years were spent mapping and investigating the island and acting as a wireless connecting link with the Antarctic in the main base and communicating weather conditions daily to the Commonwealth's meteorological office for immediate use in preparing fore-

Fifth-Oceanographic investigations, chiefly of the nature of soundings and trawlings, prosecuted from the ship in depths between Australia and the Antarctic and along the Antarctic continental shelf. Trawlings have been successfully conducted to a depth of two miles by soundings. The continental shelf has been indicated through 55 degrees of longitude.

Regarding the party I led: The Dash East.

My companions were Lieutenant B. E. S. Ninnis of the Royal Fusilliers and Dr. Xavier Mertz, an expert Swiss ski-runner, The object of the dash as far east as possible was to ascertain the nature of the land in that direction. We were assisted by sixteen dogs in dragging a load of over 1,700 pounds.

The morning of December 14 found us in latitude 68 degrees 53 minutes south and longitude 151 degrees 35 minutes east, having covered a distance of 311 miles. The track had lain over plateau heights and crevassed glacial depressions, three of which were encountered aggregating 9,000 feet in ascents and as much in descents. All were in high spirits. All trouble seemed then at an end as we had arrived at an unbroken plateau with a clear sweep of coast to the east and it was intended to keep the track at a safe distance to the south of the crevassed costal downfall.

Overtaken by Calamity.

It was a beautiful day. We were just revelling in it when calamity overtook us. Metz, on his skis as a trail breaker, was a quarter of a mile in advance of myself and the first dog team. Close behind came Ninnis with a select team of dogs dragging a sledge, on which was packed most vital necessities. This arrangement had been adopted because it was thought that if any was lost in the dangerous revasses it would be the first sledge. Believing we were outside the danger one I was greatly surprised to observe the faint outline of a crevasse crossing. Mertz had crossed without regarding it as specially dangerous. My team was on top of it before being aware of the fact, but I was not specially anxious, as I had already negotiated scores of them. However, as was the custom, I called back from the crevasse to put Ninnis on his

Some other fragments were also observed at the same spot, out no trace of our comrade. He must have gone down to where we knew not, but certainly to instantaneous death.

We called for hours without getting any answer. The dog ceased to moan, and an eerle stillness rose from the depths, all the rope left was of no avail to reach gave out daily, and soon none was left.

Why do some New York people send to London and Paris for clothes? Toronto and Montreal people to New York; Strathroy and London people to Toronto? Why? Because they are Free Traders and sentimental right out to their clothes. Afraid they might lose caste, etc., by having things made at home. Isn't it funny! Why, you hear of people going to London to buy celery, and you have heard of the Grand Rapids man who paid a fabulous price for some antique furniture, to have the maker at home show his brand on it after it had gone over the ocean and back. EVANTUREL, M. P. P. OF the dramatic downfall of Gustav Evanturel, M. P. P. for Prescott, there is something more to be heard. When this marked-down legislator wrote to the Hotelkeepers' Association for Ontario, offering to sell himself for $10,000, did he receive an answer, or did the association simply ignore the demand and place the letter in the archives of the party with which it is alleged to be associated?

It seems unlikely that the liquor men would have been after such small game as the weakling Evanturel. It is time to ask why Mr. Ferguson concealed the letter until an opportune moment? Had the liquor interests demanded that he should withhold it for strictly political purposes? Did he not owe the people of the province a service in making known the character of one of their public servants? For Evanturel was treasonable, not only to Mr. Rowell and the Liberal party, but to the Province of Ontario. In seeking to make a contract to represent any interest for a cash consideration, he was selling out his constituency and his country.

THE ORIGIN OF A FAD.

[Judge:] Marcella who had been gazing out of the window, suddenly began to laugh hysterically.

"What in the world is the matter, child?" asked her mother. "When I finished my carpet rug." Mar cella explained. "I folded it across my lap and carried it that way down street to show it to Rosemary."

"Well, what of it?" "That was only three days ago," gasped Marcella, with a renewed outburst of merriment, "and now nearly every girl in the block is wearing a carpet-rag muff.'

With the weather we have at present and have had for a few weeks, a person is not apt to be very much in the mood for studying seed catalogues. However, spring is not very far off. It is less than a month to the 21st of March, when it is due by the calendar. It may arrive a little sooner or it may arrive a little later. In this connection the increased interest taken in the Horticultural Society this year is gratifying. Regarding this quotation I beg to ask two questions: (1) What proof is there that one attack of measles will render one immune from a second attack? (2) If "smallpox vaccination" renders a person immune from a second attack (this "smallpox vaccination being considered the first), why does Mr. Hill drop the word immune in the last paragraph, and say that "vaccine from the arm. . . is better than cow vaccine, because it protects fifty years instead of five." What does he mean by the word immune? nd. What authority has your con-

Dr. Ogle, a vaccinist in England, admitted that one death occurred in 14,159 cases. Further, many fatalities occur from vaccination which are not credited to vaccination. Mr. Henry May, a doctor of Aston, England, said some years ago: "In certificates given by us voluntarily, and to which the public have access, it is scare 'y to be expected that a medical man will give opinions which may tell against cr reflect upon himself

Taking this into account it has been estimated by Mr. Alfred Milnes that you may multiply by twelve the official number of fatalities. That would give one fatality in 1,600 cases. Railway fatalities in the United Kingdom in 1894 were one in 56,000,000. Further, what of all the cripples and diseased? How many of

1. Is it a breach of etiquette to fold your table napkin after you have fin-Ished eating? I was at an oyster supper recently where paper napkins were used. 2. In reading over your column I see the meaning of names given. I have often seen the name May used as a diminutive of Mary, meaning unpleasant. My name is May, and I have always associated it with the month of May. Now the month of May is generally warm, bright, sunshiny and pleasant, and I have always wished to live up to what my name seemed to imply, and am hoping it really doesn't mean unpleasant. What do you think about it?

2. About two-thirds of the "Mays" one meets have really been christened "Mary," and of course in such cases, their name being derived from Mary means the same. Mary is an ancient grated, one cup white sugar, white of one meant "bitterness." Read about "The Waters of Marah," Exodus 15:23, and together. again the saying of Naomi, Ruth 1:20. Of course If you are named after the month of May, by all means continue your pleasant association of the name

ONE INSERTION BROUGHT

A BUYER FOR AN INCUBATOR "Kindly take my advertisement out. I sold my incubator a short time after the ad appeared in your paper for the first time. Your paper certainly does what you claim for it." The foregoing is what a voice said through the telephone Monday morning after its owner's advertisement had appeared in Saturday night's paper. Something to brag about, don't you think? But we receive so many similar statements from pleased advertisers that we are beginning to think that every one of our readers reads the Want Ad Page. And it is an excellent thing for them. Not only are some of the spiciest bits of news-contained in the For Sale or Barter and Exchange columns, but there are many chances for bargains contained in the small advertisements. Why don't you try one? The cost is little, but the results large. Phone 3670 or drop a card to the Want Ad Department.

An Easy Way to Get Fat and Be Strong

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new scientific discovery, it is now possible to combine into simple form the very elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert fool into rich, fat-laden blood. This master-stroke of modern chemistry is called Sargol, and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through its regenerative, reconstructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to every starved, broken-down cell and tissue of your body. You can readily picture the result when this amazing transformation has taken place, and you notice how your cheeks fill out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappear, and you take on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. Your druggist has it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee has it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

Caution.—While Sargol has given excellent results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles, it should not be taken by those who do not wish to gain ten pounds or more.—

What Dyspeptics Should Eat

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. THE NEW

A Radical Change

The incoming styles of Suits and Dresses are utterly unlike any that have been in vogue during the present generation. They are inspired by some of the most picturesque costumes of history-those of the Louis XV., the Directoire, and the Second Errire periods.

The change in the fashionable silhoutte, forecasted in our advertising last November, has come to pass, and is affecting the outlines of all the new Spring garments.

"PICNIC" AT SPRINGBANK

Inspectors, conductors and motormen of the London Street Railway Company and their lady friends to the number of 45 enjoyed a winter outing at Springbank last evening. By permission of Manager C. B. King, car No. 25, which was a large Springbank car, but has been remodelled for a pay-as-you-enter car, was pressed into service to carry the winter picnickers to the park, where, with toboggans, bobto the park, where, with toboggans, bobsleighs, snowshoes and skis, a very delightful evening was spent. On the return trip the party stopped at the home of Mrs. Bloye, of 462 Dundas street, who provided thoroughly appreciated refreshments for the picnickers. The evening's entertainment was increased by the music provided by several members of the Highland Pipers' band, who were present.

It is proposed to use car No. 25 to transport similar pleasure parties to

Tries to Include Party.

G. Howard Ferguson (Grenville) evidently afraid that his bomb of yesterday had only proven a squib, sought by a devious method to link the Liberal party to the whole unsavory affair as an attempt to secure a campaign fund from the liquor interests. While this was unequivocally repudiated by Mr. Rowell it served to lend zest to the proceedings for There was a slight uproar, cries of "rotten" were heard across the floor of the House, and the Speak-er intervened, only to make matters by Mr. Foy to take his seat and the matter proceed. Likely To Be Expelled.

The situation as it now stands, is that Mr. Rowell, it is understood, has asked Mr. Evanturel for his resignation as member for Prescott; the at-torney-general has hinted that some-thing will be done, and the next 24 hours may produce results. It is generally assumed that no prosecution will be laid under the sections of the criminal code that might apply. if Mr. Evanturel does not voluntarily resign he will probably be expelled, disqualified from further holding any public office. Immediately before adjournment

Hon. J. J. Foy made the first state-Statement by Acting Premier.

"With reference to the letter written honorable member from Prescott the Opposition says he made a statement to caucus, but has not given any explanation to this House. It was publicly stated that he would do so today. We would like to have heard this explanation, but in default of any I wish to say on behalf of the Government that the serious matter involved in that letter has engaged the attention of the Government and they will take such steps that they deem necessary after calm and careful consideration to deal with it properly and to save the dignity of the House, whose dignity has been insulted by that action.'

Mr. Rowell's Statement. Mr. Rowell followed: "With reference to the observations made by the honorable member the acting Prime Minister, I had expected the honorable member from Prescott to have been here today, and presume he still quite concur in the remarks of the acting Prime Minister that the matter is one of such great importance and seriworse and to be diplomatically told our importance to receive the attention brought before the House.' Before speaking to Dr. McQueen's tax reform amendment Mr. Rowell made the following statement of the position of the party to Mr. Evanturel: First Impression Stays.

"I desire to briefly supplement the statement I made in the House yesterday in reference to the letter read in the since he admits writing the letter, and House by the honorable member for Grenville. I regret to say that the explanations given me by the honorable member for Prescott have not removed the unfavorable impression created on the minds of my colleagues and myself ty the reading of the letters in the

"I am sure the honorable member for this House yesterday, the leader of Prescott in applying for the position of organizer for special interests outside the House could not have realized what he was doing when he promised if he secured the position at the salary mentioned that he would represent these interests in the House and carry out their desires, a position which no honorable member in this House can approve or

Barred From Party Caucus.

"I desire further to say that the Hon. Member for Prescott came to the Liberal caucus this morning and made a statement in reference to the letter read in the House yesterday by the Hon. Member for Grenville. After making his statement the Hon. Member retired. It was unanimously decided that the Hon. Member should not be again invited to attend caucus or to be resognized as one entitled to take part in the deliberations of the Liberal members of the Legislature, and this decision has been communicated to will make a statement to the House. "It is a painful duty to be compelled to make such a statement, but we on this side of the House feel it is a duty we owe to ourselves and the House and the Party which we represent to sever the relations which have hitherto existed between the Hon. Member for Prescott and his colleagues of this side of the House.

Mr. Ferguson Surprised.

Mr. Ferguson took advantage of Mr. Rowell's remarks to add further comment on the incident. Mr. Rowell's statement had surprised him, and he was not inclined to think that the Liberal leader could entirely disassociate himself from the position he had assumed. "What are the facts as they will be viewed by the public? The Hon. Member from Prescott was nominated as the recognized candidate of the Liberal party in that county, he was recognized as such, as he was elected as such, and his election was acclaimed all over this Province as a great

I remember only yesterday the enthusiastic applause with which the leader of the Opposition received the remark of the Hon. Gentleman from Prescott when he referred to him as my beloved leader whom I am proud to follow. He went arm in arm with his leader in advocating his policy of moral reform and the abolition of the bar, and all the time he had expressed a desire to make an official connection with the liquor interests with the Liberal party to get a large contribution from the liquor party no doubt to be made ase of in the interests of the Liberal party." (Cries of "Oh, Oh.")

A Question of Fact.

"I must rise on a question of fact," question of taste my Hon. Friend him-self must be the judge. The Hon. Mem-ber should be aware of the facts before elled through the Province with me. Mr. Bowman Explains.

C. M. Bowman (North Bruce) explained with regard to the record of the vote in 1912, that the day the vote was taken Mr. Evanturel had left the chamber, leaving a message with a member that he did not wish to be paired. That message was not conveyed to him. "The next day I received a strong letter of protest from the Hon. Member for Prescott for having done so and he spoke bitterly to me as whip and the position I had assumed in pairing him with the Hon. Gentleman from Manitoulin." He thought the attitude now taken by Mr. Ferguson was one of great disappointment, and the bomb he tried to explode on

Ash Wednesday, the day upon which the season of Lent begins, was fittingly observed in the city by many of the religious denominations, particularly the Roman Catholic and Anglican churches. Special services, and the celebration of Holy Communion, marked the occasion in the Anglican churches, while high mass was celebrated in the Roman Catholic churches. The origin of Ash Wednedsay is extremely ancient, the name being derived from the custom that prevailed in the primitive church for penitents at this time to express their humiliation by lying in sackcloth and ashes. It is the beginning of a fast lasting forty days, which is called Lent, the word in the old Saxon, signifying spring. School Trustees Considering Advisability of Having Civic Official for Preparing School Plans-A. E. Nutter May Be Man

There is every possibility that the payers a handsome amount. board of education will appoint a permanent architect to look after all its construction and improvement work. There is a firm feeling among the next meeting of the board to engage a that a great saving can be effected in this way. The matter was discussed at a meeting of the building committee yesterday afternoon, and will come up again at the next session of the board. A. E. Nutter, former city architect and building inspector, may be asked to take the position.

Wait for Board of Control.

The committee had plans from five or six architects for the proposed new South London public schools, but they will be gone over later. Until the trustees discover what attitude the board of control will take toward their proposals, they are, to a very large extent in the dark. They dislike the idea of accepting any plans or making the board liable for an expenditure, the funds for which may later be refused other public school needed will be certain percentage on all work over a stated amount. Other members of the committee exressed themselves as being in complete sympathy with the suggestion advanced, and Trustee Rowe said it had always been a puzzle to him why the city had dismissed an architect, and had then only filled in the place of

In beginning his address, he referred to the appointment of the commission in 1910, after an agitation by boards of trade, manu-

Terrible Experiences Endured With Great Courage-New Lands Visited.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Feb. 27 .- A cable to the Tribune from London says: "A dispatch from Sydney to the Daily Telegraph says that the Aurora, with Dr. Douglas Mawson and party, arrived at Adelaide yesterday afternoon, thus terminating work begun in December, 1911, when Dr. Mawson started on his first Australian Antarctic expedition.

Dr. Mawson's arrival is undoubtedly being received with intense pride and gratification throughout Australia. His perilous journeyings in the frozen south, including a heart-breaking interval of thirty days spent in absolute solitude, have not been undertaken without a death toll, and while Australia mourns the loss of two such worthy members of the expedition and brave men as Lieutenant Ninnis and Dr. Mertz, the fact of their tragic ends merely adds to the sincerity and warmth of the welcome home given to the other members of the expedition. Fuller particulars of the events culminating in the death of Ninnis and Mertz in-dicate that the former's end and his disappearance in a crevasse :.. ust have been terrible in the extreme. Dr. Mawson's dogged march of three hundred miles, though nearly starving and blinded by a blizzard, was one of the finest acts of personal courage ever recorded in Polar

"After picking up her party from its ase the Aurora made an extended cruise to the west, pushing into the pack whereever possible in attempts to discover new land, and at the same time taking soundings and doing deep sea dredging. Asked as to the character of the disoveries he had made, Dr. Mawson stated: 'Nearly everything we got is new to science, and on the whole it is really a splendid collection. I have no hesitation saying that the scientific results of the expedition will not lose anything by comparison with any other that has ever gone into the Antarctic. There is no place in the world with a climate as bad, yet not even the terrific storms which occurred stopped our scientific study. Still there is not one man who came back after that long and sensational sojourn there who would not commit suicide rather than not have participated." Asked for particulars of his achievenent when, after the death of Ninnis and Mertz, he travelled for many lonely and hungry weeks, Mawson replied: "I would rather not say too much about that. I was for thirty days absolutely and had a most marvellous escape. In the end I was reduced to the last stages of starvation, and was tramping along through deep snow, when I noticed something black in front of me. It was a bit of food that had been dropped by a search party sent to ascertain my whereabouts. By the luckiest ac-cident I saw it, and at that time was within twenty miles of the hut, in a place to which no previous expeditions had ever been. The questions asked by the examiners were mainly about discretion and was fortunate. These two died like very fortunate. Those two died like neroes. Nobody ever lived a braver life than either of those two men. Taking into account the number of deaths and the number of men in the field, no expedition suffered fewer losses than ours, except two that came through without oss of life at all, namely, those of Shackleton and Amundsen. When you come to consider the risks which men take in these regions, it is not surprising that disaster and death occur. "The health of the whole party was remarkably good, indeed, wonderfully so. Our experiences in Adelieland demonemphatically the need ment, there was very nearly some loss of life at the start on this occasion." Dr. Mawson stated that he purposes to visit England shortly in connection with the scientific results of the ex-pedition. Regarding the winds in the

"It is abominable!" cried Hetty, standing before them with flashing eyes. "I know she did not..."
"Hetty, my dear!" cried Sara sharply.

The girl looked at her for a moment in a frenzied way, and then turned aside, biting her lips to keep back the actual confession that had rushed up to them.

"It is blackmail!" repeated Mr. Wrandall miserably.

"In the most diabolical form," augmented Carroll. "The worst of it is, Wrandail, we can't stop his tongue unless we fairly choke him with greenbacks. All he has to do is to give the confounded yellow journals an inkling of his suspicions, and the job is done. It seems to be pretty well understood that the crime was not committed by a person in the ordinary walks of life, but by one who is secure in the protection of mighty influences. There are those who believe that his companion was one of the well-known and prominent young matrons in the city, many of whom were at one time or another interested in him in a manner not at all complimentary. Smith suggests—mind you, he merely suggests—that the person who was to have met Wrandall in the country that night was so highly connected that she does not dare reveal herself, although absolutely innocent of the crime. Or it is possible on innocent of the crime. Or it is possible en the other hand, he says, that she may

"What is to be done?" groaned Mr. Wrandall, in a state of collapse. He was sitting limply back in the chair, crumpled to the chin.

sitting limply back in the chair, crumpled to the chin.

"The sanest thing, I'd suggest," said Booth sarcastically, "is the capture of the actual perpetrator of the deed."

"But, confound them," growled Carroll, "they say they can't."

"I shall withdraw my offer of reward," proclaimed the unhappy father, struggling to his feet. "I never dreamed it could come to such a pass as this. You do believe me, don't you, Sara, my child—my daughter? God hear me, I never—"

"Oh," said she cuttingly, "you, at least, are innocent, Mr. Wrandall."

He looked at her rather sharply.

"The confounded fellow is coming to see me tomorrow," he went on, after a moment of indecision. "I shall be obliged to telephone to the city for my attorney to come out also. I don't believe in taking chances with these scoundrels. They—"

"I was opposed to the idea," declared Mr. Wrandall with some heat. "Not that I was content to give up the search, but because I felt sure that the guilty person would eventually reveal herself. They always do, sir. It is the fundamental principle of criminology. Soon or late they falter. My son Leslie is of a like opinion. He has declared all along that the mystery will be cleared up if we are quiescent. A guilty conscience takes its own way to relieve itself. If you keep prodding it with sharp sticks you encourage fear, and stealth, and all that sort of thing, without really getting anywhere in thing, without really getting anywhere in the end. Give a murderer a free rope and he'll hang himself, is my belief. Threaten him with that self-same rope, and he'll pay more attention to dread than to conscience, and your ends are defeated." Sara was inwardly nervous. She stole

"Can you be sure, Mr. Wrandall," she began earnestly, "that justice isn't the antidote for the poisonous thing we call a conscience. Suppose this woman to have been fully justified in doing what she did. does it follow that conscience can force her to admit, even to herself, that she is morally guilty of a crime against man? I doubt it, sir."

I doubt it, sir.

She was prepared for a subtle change in Hetty's countenance, and was not surprised to see the light of hope steal back nto her eyes.

She interrupted him. "You will do nothing of the kind, Mr. Wrandall," she said levelly. "Do you want to convince him that I am guilty?"

[Special to The Advertiser.] Brantford, Feb. 27 .- A natural gas explosion, not unlike those which have occurred in Hamilton of late, occurred at an early hour this morning at the home of William Rice, 42 Strathcona avenue, and did considerable damage. The strange part of the occurrence is that the house is a new one, and while a not yet been turned on.

Mr. Rice arose shortly before five o'clock, and lighting a coaloil lamp, started for the cellar to get some things for breakfast. He did not notice any odor of gas as he opened the cellar door, but as he started down the stairway the explosion occurred.

After a supper, at which a number of businessmen sat down, Mr. McDermid called upon Dr. A. G. Studer, secretary of the Detroit Association, to address the Opportunity Unexcelled.

After explaining that he has gone over

New Residence in Brantford the property in the short space of time permitted, Dr. Studer said that he believed the opportunity unexcelled in the history of any association to secure a property that will be creditable to the city and to the association for many years to come. He questioned if another city could be found on the continent which had the chance to secure so admirable a location. The location was just sufficiently removed from the business district to be away from the hustle and bustle. "I do not like to come here and act like a visitor of two weeks picking your city to pieces and saying unkind things, but I am not afraid to tell you this, that meter had been installed the gas had the front of your building is the only part of it that is a credit to your city," said Dr. Studer. "The building is insanitary and wholly unfitted for the Y. M. C. A. needs of a city of this size. In Detroit we have raised in all one million dollars for building purposes and this has all been done on short-time campaigns. Unless you secure a modern building and at once you will have some independent organization taking your business away.

Growth of Association.

Secretary Ward confined his remarks almost entirely to the business aspect of the proposal. He related the wonderful growth of the association in the last 20 years and told of the wonderful whirlwind campaigns that had been held in many cities. Today the buildings of the Y. M. C. A. for the world reached the total of $80,000,000. He described campaigns in various American cites and in Ottawa and Toronto, in addition to Montreal. Everywhere there were doubts when these movements began, but once under way, they revealed the latent sentiment in favor of Y. M. C. A. work.

Mr. Ward said he had gone over the convent property and was convinced that in all his travels he had never seen a better opportunity for enlargement than was offered the London Y. M. C. A. He counselled that there was the utmost necessity of starting the project in a proper way, and that once plans had been made there was no doubt as to the success of the project.

Mr. Ward made it plain that the present building was lamentably lacking in requisite facilities for a modern Y. M. C. A. Growth of Association.

Mr. Ward made it plain that the present building was lamentably lacking in re-quisite facilities for a modern Y. M. C. A. He expressed confidence that the cam-paign could be undertaken and that the paign could be undertaken and these time was ripe.

A number of business men present gave brief addresses, all of which were favorable to the furtherance of the scheme. Colonel Gartshore thought that the plan should be thoroughly investigated and that men competent to give definite information as to land values should be secured. He suggested the name of J. G. Richter.

No One Saw Fatality.

The accident was not witnessed by any person and just how it happened will probably never be known.

Other witnesses to testify were Dr. Seaborn, Harry Morley, John Spencer, Thomas Williamson, Thomas Evans and Constable Edgar Fowler.

Jury's Verdict.

The coroner's jury rendered the following verdict: "That the late John Mann came to his death by being struck by Grand Trunk yard engine 1317 at the Wellington street crossing last Saturday evening. While no blame can be lated the surgested the name of J. G. Richter.

One of the rousing addresses of the evening was given by W. R. Yeandle, of the Richard-Willcox Company, who recently came to London from Aurora, Ill. His remarks were particularly opportune in view of the fact that Aurora had been said for years to be unable to construct a new Y. M. C. A. building until several who were determined that the work should be advanced took hold and raised the money required in a few days. Aurora had been one of those towns that did not advance as it should until that time, but since then it had taken a different attitude towards matters of civic pride, with the result that it had gained in prestige and population remarkably. and population remarkably.

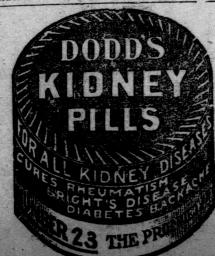

And population remarkably.

Hope For Results.

Messrs. T. P. McCormick, W. G. Young, Fred Daly and others spoke briefly, all expressing the hope that the plans would bear fruit, and that London would secure a building that would do justice to a growing city of its size and spirit.

The conference adjourned without taking action. The sentiment was plainly in favor of advancing the scheme at once. The board of directors will consider the advisability of launching the campaign immediately.

The sale or use of the properties on the outside would leave a space approximately 300 feet square in the centre of the block to be used as an athletic grounds. A considerable amount could be realized

The trouble began when Emmanuel Devlin brought the matter forward as a matter of privilege. He had stated that he had a matter which affected the honor and dignity of the House and the veracity of a minister. He started to read from Hansard, when Speaker Sproule interrupted and declared the matter out of order on the ground that the statement referred to a person not now a member of Parlia-

I took him to a doctor in St. John, N.B., and he lanced it, and told me it would get well in a few days, and wanted me to keep it squeezed out. It did not seem to get any better, so my wife took him back. The Doctor told her to take him home and it would soon get better. BIG EATERS GET

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The Canadian men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys will then act fine. An effort was made to launch the starboard lifeboat, but it was useless in face of the heavy sea. It soon became a case of every man for himself, and we watched our opportunity to drop over the side and swim for a small island we could see in the distance off the port quarter."

Mr. Stackhouse in an interview said: Grahamsland Avlator Will Help.

"Here I propose to land a party of fif-teen men about Dec. 20. Their great task will be to determine a doubt as to the insularity of Grahamsland. The existence of a strait behind Grahamsland would explain the great accumulation of ice between that land and the Great Barrier. In this important work they will have the assistance of an airman, whose name am not yet at liberty to disclose. Returning, after wintering in the ice, we shall pick up the land party about January, 1916, and then endeavor to make Charcot Land. Here we shall winter again, and in the following spring go down the coast of King Edward VII. Land to McMurdo Sound, charting and sounding en route. We shall leave Mc-Murdo Sound early in 1917 for New Zea-

New Land for Britain. "Apart from the scientific value of this work there are two excellent reasons why o degrees west and 80 deg proclaimed dependencies of the Falkland Islands in 1908."

STARVATION WILL NOT CURE DYSPEPSIA

But a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet Will Enable You To Eat Your Meals Without Suffering After Doing So.

Every person knows that to live in a healthy, happy manner we must eat. Diet, starvation, predigested food, etc., are not the correct methods of eliminating digestion disorders.

Many dyspeptics know that they must eat and so they go to their meals in a half-hearted manner. When they see food before them they are made miserable. Their judgments tell them idea and so whatever food they consume does them more harm than good.

To understand what Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are composed of is to realize that when they reach the stomach they dissolve into digestive juices just as desired by Nature. They hold ingredients which the healthy stomach is supplied with and the unhealthy stomach lacks.

These natural qualities have a great digestive influence upon all food. One grain of one ingredient contained in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is sufficient to digest 3,000 grains of food. When you have given this a single thought consideration you will then understood why it is that Stuart's Dys-

Engineer Talbot Believes Government Will Change County Road Regulation.

County Engineer Charles Talbot, Warden L. L. McTaggart, and Councillors Frank Boyes, J. W. Laidlaw, John Mc-Gugan and James L. Robson returned last night from Toronto, where they attended the convention of the Ontario Good Roads Association and were also a deputation to wait on Hon. W. J. Reaume, asking that the county roads laws be amended so that when a road is constructed according to the government specifications and regulations, the county cannot be held liable for accidents, and also that the law be changed, only restricting the laying of given by the patrol. gravel on county roads when the snow is on the ground. The first amendment, it is claimed, would have obviated the liability of the county in the keenly contested sociation will be held probably next Tues-day night, following the meeting of the pealed. Engineer Talbot stated last night that the Middlesex deputation received a favorable reception by Hon. Mr. Reaume and confidently expect to secure the amendments asked for.

SNAPPY PERFORMANCE

Crowd of Over 1,000 Delighted With Program—Visitors Banquetted.

More than one thousand persons witnessed the performance given in the Masonic Hall, Queen's avenue, last night, by the Windsor Lodge Minstrel Club of Windsor under the auspices of the Arab Patrol of Mocha Temple of the Mystic Shrine, and more than one thousand persons left the building at 11 o'clock delighted with what they had seen.

There have been minstrel shows and hen some in London, but last night's production, for an amateur affair. was probably the best ever put on in this city. Many professional shows have had far less talent in their general composition, and no professional minstrel show ever secured more applause than the Mocha

A Snappy Performance. The show was open to the public, and the public availed itself of the opportunity to witness business and professional men disporting themselves in burnt cork and fine feathers a la George Primrose. From start to finish the performance went off with a snap and vigor that called for much favorable comment. The jokes were sprightly and up-to-date, the solos artistically rendered and well sung. and the costuming and scenery pleasing and in conformity with all the traditions of minstrelsy.

The opening ensemble was all that could be desired. The chorus men were ranged in tiers on the stage, and a huge velvet curtain formed a deep, rich background for the scene. As the curtain rolled up, 50 strong voices swelled out in a medley of songs, including, "Sweet and Low," "You Can't Stop Me From Loving You," and "On

Really Funny End Men. Then the fun began with Interocuter Hall Cowan at the helm. The six really and truly funny end-men came in in sections and there were solos and jokes, more jokes, and then choruses, for upwards of an hour. A pleasing feature of the program was a solo by Verne L. Hewer, a former London man. Mr. Hewer was in excellent voice and his beautiful rich voice was heard to splendid advantage The other numbers were of a high order. Fred Lodge's solo, "To Have, To Hold, To Love" was easily the vocal triumph of the evening.

The end-men got off a number of ocal hits that were received with great applause. Dr. Roy Routledge, of Lambeth, the London police force, and that ancient pile, the Grand Trunk station, were among the persons and things coming in for a sally of wit and Public School Sites Are Proposed.

If expenditures advanced by the board of education are ratified by the poard of control, it will mean the addition of about one mill to the amount set aside for school purposes. The board of education at the present time uses about eight and a half mills of dell; Forest, Mayor Pettypiece and the total amount of taxes collected, and it was figured at a meeting of the amateur and no one connected with it building committee yesterday afternoon that this amount would be increased by the extra one mill if the new building program outlined is gone

The trustees present at Thursday's

The proposals, it was pointed out, are all absolutely necessary, and it seems a question of facing the music or continuing with school conditions that are far from desirable, and a positive detriment to teachers and pupils. To Issue Debentures.

The chairman of the board, chairmen of the several committees and Inspector C. B. Edwards were named as a committee to wait on the board of control, probably this morning, with reference to the request which will be made for the issue of debentures to cover the expenditures planned. The trustees will endeavor to show the controllers that the proposals made are reasonable in every respect, and entitled to very thorough and favorable consideration.

Princess Avenue School. The plan to erect a new Princess avenue school is off for the time being at east. The committee had a report from Prof. H. H. With the secretion of bile by the liver, constipation and biliousness are Prof. H. H.
