entire furniture consisted of four wooden posts without curtains which she termed a bed, a mutilated chair, and a low wooden stool.

Early on the following day he proceeded to the counting-house of Mr. Davison, who received him with a hurried sort of civility—glanced over the letter of introduction—expressed a hope that Mr. Douglas was well—said he would be happy to serve him—but he was engaged at present, and if Mr. Brown would call again, if he should hear of anything, he would let him know.

FATHER AND SON.

In the town of Galway, in Ireland, there is a very ancient stone house, over the door of which is very coarsely carved a death's head and cross bones. The circumstance which caused this emblem is curious.

About the time of Henry VII, or perhaps earlier, the town was in itself a palatinate, and all the law proceedings ran in the name of the mayor, who had also the power of pardoning or condemning criminals.

The young De Burgh, tempted by this wealth, with the assistance of two or three of the crew, the vessel being his father's, threw the young Spaniard overboard, and on his return appeared greatly distressed by the loss of his friend, who he pretended had died of sea fever.

On Thursday she came from her residence, No 1 Whitcomb-crescent, with her husband and children into Bath, where, after proceeding to make purchases at various shops, she was seen walking along the bank of the canal, accompanied by her children, as late as three o'clock in the afternoon; she then, it appears, returned home, and desiring the butler to give her a decanter of sherry, took her children into a summer-house in the garden, saying she was going to give them a treat.

The father immediately resigned his office; and after his death, which speedily followed that of his son, the citizens fixed over the door of the house a skull and bones, which remain there to this day.

MISCELLANEOUS EXTRACTS.

The English, Scotch, and Irish.—It has been well said, I know not by whom, that an Englishman is never happy but when he is miserable; that a Scotchman is never at home but when he is abroad; that a Irishman is never at peace but when he is at war.

Man and Woman.—Man is strong; woman is beautiful. Man is daring and confident; woman is diffident and unassuming. Man is great in action; woman in suffering. Man shines abroad; woman at home. Man talks to convince; woman to persuade and please. Man has a rugged heart; woman a soft and tender one. Man prevents misery; woman relieves it. Man has science; woman taste. Man has judgment; woman sensibility. Man is a being of justice; woman of mercy.

Conversation.—Conversation should be pleasant without scurrility, witty without affectation, free without impudence, learned without conceitedness, novel without falsehood.

Education of Children.—The education of a child is principally derived from its own observation of the actions, the words, the voice, the looks, of those with whom it lives.

Comforts of the poor.—The poor man has his wife and children about him; and what has the rich man more? He has the same enjoyment of their society, the same solicitude for their welfare, the same pleasure in their good qualities, improvement, and success; their connection with him is as strict and intimate, their attachment as strong, their gratitude as warm. I have no propensity to envy any one, least of all the rich and great; but if I were disposed to this weakness, the subject of my envy would be a healthy young man, in full possession of his strength and faculties, going forth in a morning to work for his wife and children, or bringing them home his wages at night.

Time.—There is no saying shocks me so much, as that which I hear very often, that a man does not know how to pass his time. It would have been but ill spoken by Methusalem in the nine hundred and sixty-ninth year of his life.

Source of Cheerfulness.—No man's spirits were ever hurt by doing his duty. On the contrary, one good action, one temptation resisted and overcome, one sacrifice of desire or interest, purely for conscience' sake, will prove a cordial for weak and low spirits beyond what either indulgence, or diversion, or company can do for them.

The Humble-minded.—They who are truly humble-minded have no quarrels, give no offence, contend with no one in wrath and bitterness; still more impossible is it for them to insult any man, under any circumstances.

EXTRACTS FROM ENGLISH PAPERS.

The city of Bath was thrown into consternation on the 25th of January, by the tidings, which proved too true, that Mrs. Tagwell, the wife of the senior partner in the Bath Bank, had killed herself and two of her children, in a moment of insanity. She was but 31 years of age, amiable, accomplished, and universally beloved. The details are painfully interesting.

On Thursday she came from her residence, No 1 Whitcomb-crescent, with her husband and children into Bath, where, after proceeding to make purchases at various shops, she was seen walking along the bank of the canal, accompanied by her children, as late as three o'clock in the afternoon; she then, it appears, returned home, and desiring the butler to give her a decanter of sherry, took her children into a summer-house in the garden, saying she was going to give them a treat. Having proceeded there, she mixed some prussic acid with the wine, which she administered to the whole of the three children, and then took some herself.—Fortunately the eldest boy, 15 years of age, did not like the taste of the wine and drank only a small portion, which, as he says, caused him to sleep, and upon awaking he saw his mother sitting apparently asleep, with his two brothers, who were twins of eight years of age, one lying at her feet and the other across her breast.

Finding himself very ill, and having in vain tried to awaken them, he rushed to the door, which he found locked, but at length succeeded in alarming the house, when the servants found their mistress and the children dead. No cause can be assigned for this melancholy act, but the lady must have been for some considerable time meditating upon it, as she had procured several bottles of prussic acid, and taken the precaution to destroy the labels; a portion of one of the labels remained, which, from its dirty state, indicated that it had been some time in the house.

The Penny Magazine, began under the auspices of the Society for the Diffusion of Useful Knowledge, circulates about 200,000 of each number; and pays for contributions at the rate of £1 15s. per page—perhaps the highest in periodical literature.

In London during the last year 18,833 christenings have taken place—burials 18,266. Of the number of deaths 2235 were from age and debility.

UNITED STATES.

We have no idea of ridiculing the feeling which prevails in Maine in relation to the boundary question. A portion of that is perfectly natural, proper and patriotic; but the fussy and bombastic part of it deserves nothing better than to be laughed at. The following from the Bangor Whig shows us that the Mainiacs cannot help laughing at the nonsense, themselves:—

Mr. Sheriff Strickland arrived in this city about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, having travelled 160 miles between that time and 12 o'clock the day before. This is certainly extraordinary speed, considering the flight was in the woods, but there is no calculating a man's velocity when he's sleek!

It is a fact that after the memorable battle of the Aroostook, the conquered, defeated, and discomfited trespassers proposed an exchange of prisoners. Mr. Cushman who is now a prisoner of war, it is said, was offered in exchange for a yoke of steers captured by us, but Commander Strickland broke off further negotiations by demanding fifty dollars to boot.—N. Y. Gazette.

It appears by the report of Col. Bamford, Chief of the Ordnance Department, that during the year 1838, the United States Government have caused to be made, 143 cannon for field artillery, 71 cannon for garrison service, 1526 percussion cannon locks, 52,700 small arms, 347 gun carriages—and for the militia 64, other 800 cannon for field artillery, and 16,900 small arms.

LOWER CANADA.

From the Montreal Herald. Montreal, March 12.—Yesterday morning, the remains of the late Hon. Mr. Justice O'Sullivan were committed to the narrow house appointed for all living. The funeral was one of the largest we have seen in town, and was attended by the Judges and Members of the Bar in their gowns and bands, by the Members of the St. Patrick's Society, of which the deceased was the first President, by Major General Clitherow and the Officers in the army, and by most of the respectable inhabitants. The deceased having been a Roman Catholic, the funeral procession proceeded to the Cathedral, where the solemn and imposing ceremonies of that religious persuasion were witnessed by an immense concourse of spectators, of whom the great majority were ladies. The Cathedral was about half full, so that about five thousand individuals must have been present. The coffin was raised on a flight of steps in the centre of the church, around which was a frame work with a coronal top, containing nearly four hundred lighted wax candles, which, with about a hundred more in silver candlesticks on the steps, would have presented a most magnificent spectacle at night. The late Mr. O'Sullivan was about fifty-three years of age, and had suffered great pain in consequence of a wound he received in a duel with the late Dr. Caldwell, twenty-one years ago this month. During his life the ball could not be extracted, but after death it was found in the spine, and must have caused constant and excruciating agony.

COURT MARTIAL.—The case of the Terrebonne prisoners terminated yesterday. The prisoner's Counsel addressed the Court at some length, attempting to prove that their assembling at Terrebonne was entirely free from any treasonable intentions and unconnected with the late disturbances. We understand, however, that the case was sufficiently made against them.

There are still about fifty prisoners in goal, to be tried for high treason, among whom an individual charged with the murder of Mr. Walker at La Tortu. The sitting of the Court will probably continue for another month.

Nothing is yet known in regard to Perrigo, and the others who figured at Baker's camp. MONTREAL, (Thursday) March 14.—Yesterday morning, about 5 o'clock, a fire broke out in the attic story of a house in St. Joseph-street, in this city; the property of Mr. J. Mathewson, and occupied by Mr. Logan Fuller. The fire was discovered by the Policemen on duty. It is thought to have originated either through the carelessness of a servant maid, or the stove pipes having taken fire. The Grenadier Guards, Police, and a large number of volunteers, were very active in rescuing and preserving the property, and from the exertions of the engine and fire companies, together with the calmness of the morning, the flames did not communicate to any of the adjoining buildings. Mr. Mathewson was insured, but, we regret to say, Mr. Fuller was not.

With these impressions on my mind, I shall swerve from adopting that course which I have hitherto pursued, should events demand it. We

THE TRANSCRIPT.

QUEBEC, SATURDAY, MARCH 16, 1838.

Lieut. Hamilton of the Quebec Volunteer Artillery, arrived from Fredericton this morning, and communicated to the Exchange a letter, of which the following is an extract:— "There has been a serious difference already in the American camp. They were, it appears, practising firing at two targets, the one representing Queen Victoria, and the other St. Patrick and the Cross. Some 150 men, composing the militia, immediately turned out, and an engagement ensued, in which many lives were lost."

Mr. James George arrived from Fredericton yesterday morning, with dispatches from Sir John Harvey, and proceeded immediately to Montreal. He reported at the Exchange that all was quiet at Houlton, on the Aroostook; that about 2000 Yankees were making black-houses, and practising gun and musket firing. The 11th Regt. with the Artillery, &c., had all arrived.

Lieut. Bruce of the Quebec Volunteers arrived from Fredericton on Thursday evening.

It is said with confidence that Mr. Calhoun is to be the special agent to be sent from the United States to England, on the subject of the boundary.

The steam-ship Liverpool sailed for New-York, on Saturday last. She carries out 25 passengers, among whom are several military officers from Canada. It appears that there was no truth in the report that the Royal William would sail from Liverpool on the 15th ultimo.

It appears from the Upper Canada papers that the accusations put forth against Colonel Prince in the anonymous publication entitled "The Battle of Windsor" have been made the ground for instituting a Court of Enquiry. The members of this Court are, Colonel Arey and Major Deeds of the 34th Regiment, and Major French of the 85th Regiment. The accusations were formally made in a letter to the Lieutenant-Governor, signed by the thirteen authors of that publication. A portion of the charges it is said have already been related by Col. Prince, and it is confidently believed that he will be completely exonerated.

In the mean time Col. Prince has received numerous complimentary addresses from different parts of the Province. In his answer to one from Toronto, signed by 116 of the most influential and intelligent inhabitants, he made the following remarks:—

Gentlemen, believe me, I know the character of the American Brigades full well.—The excessive lenity, or the usage of civilized warfare toward them, is worse than useless, it is more child's play to humanity, gratitude, and kindness, they are fiercer strangers. Their nature is not susceptible of either of those virtues. Terror alone can check them, Terror, and Terror only can operate with effect upon their savage, but cowardly disposition and hardened hearts; and the terror of immediate death on being captured, has I think, already in them passed a while in their unobscured crusade.

With these impressions on my mind, I shall swerve from adopting that course which I have hitherto pursued, should events demand it. We

The Toronto Examiner states that Mr. B. has been publicly whipped by Col. Prince. It is probable that this circumstance gave rise to the report that the former had been killed in a duel.

The following is a specimen of the noisy nonsense with which a great portion of the American papers is filled. It is copied from the Boston Mercantile Advertiser, and is said to be written by a senator of the State of Maine:

"I speak advisedly, when I say that if the contemplated visit of General Scott to Maine, is only to persuade a withdrawal of our troops from the disputed territory, or a relinquishment of our present position, he might as well stay away. I repeat that I speak advisedly when I say this. It may appear as strong language, but I say from my heart, that I had rather see our State deluged in blood, and every field bleached with the bones of our citizens, than that we should retract our footsteps and submit to British arrogance. Yes, the "glorious stars and stripes" must wave on the line, and we must speak, if necessary, with the cannons mouth to the British minions," thus far shall thou come, and no farther."

We apprehend that the "caannon's mouth" which this hero talks of will never speak more terribly or strike more terror to a British arrogance" than does his bluster and balderdash, which he may be assured is not very good.

The Ami du Peuple of Wednesday last gives some account of the present places of residence and circumstances of several of the prime movers in the late rebellion. Dureway, the late proprietor of the Miner, has been residing in a state of desolation, bordering on starvation at N. York; he has since removed to Burlington, for the purpose of printing the Canadian Patriot, which is intended to diffuse its incendiary doctrines on both sides of the lines.—Desrivieres holds a situation as clerk in a French mercantile house at New York, and has abandoned his patriotic pursuits. Several others are at Philadelphia, living in taverns on the money which has been raised by subscription in aid of the cause, but which is nearly exhausted.

A series of lectures on highly interesting and important subjects is advertised to take place in the Rooms of the Mechanics' Institute on the evening of the 19th, 22d and 26th instant. The first by Dr. James Douglas, on the principal organ of digestion; the second by the Rev. Dr. Cook, on the influence of habits; and the third by the Rev. Mr. Clugston, on the government of the world by a particular Providence. These are to be followed by a lecture, from Dr. Fremont, on the nervous system. Members of the Institute will be permitted to take their friends.

The non-commissioned officers and privates of the Highland Volunteer Company yesterday presented to Sergeant Barber of the Coldstream Guards, a handsome silver watch, with guard, chain and seals, as a testimonial of their esteem for him as their drill sergeant.

A letter from Lieut. Colonel Taylor has been received by Mr. J. Simpson, acknowledging in very complimentary terms, the receipt of £7 2s. 11d. the amount of one day's pay contributed by the Fourth Company of Quebec Light Infantry in aid of the Charitable Fund for the relief of the widows and orphans of the Volunteers who fell at Odelltown.

Charles S. Rodier, Esquire, has been appointed Commissioner to investigate the claims of certain loyal inhabitants of this Province, for losses sustained during the late unnatural rebellion, in the room of Pierre E. Leclerc, Esquire, resigned.

SAINT PATRICK'S DAY.—Sunday next being the Anniversary of Ireland's Patron Saint, a Sermon will be preached in St. Patrick's Church, by the Rev. Mr. McMahon, after which a collection will be taken up in aid of the funds of that establishment. Divine Service will commence at the usual hour of ten o'clock.

A letter has been received from the Grand Falls, dated the 10th March, which states that 110 men of the 33rd Regt. were stationed there and 20 men of the Royal Artillery.

The remainder of the 36th were at Woodstock and at the Aristook River. The 69th Regt. had arrived at St. John and Fredericton. All the Canadian settlers were in droves returning to Lower Canada.—G. Gazette.

MORISON'S UNIVERSAL MEDICINE.

NOTICE.
 THE Subscribers, general agents for Morison's Pills, have appointed William Whittaker, Sub-Agent for the Upper Town, No. 27, St. John Street.

LEGG & CO.
 That the public may be able to form some idea of Morison's Pills by their great consumption, the following calculation was made by Mr. Wing, Clerk to the Stamp Office, Somerset House, in a period of six years, part only of the time that Morison's Pills have been before the public; the number of stamps delivered for that medicine amounted to three million, nine hundred and one thousand.

The object in placing the foregoing powerful argument in favour of Mr. Morison's system, and to which the public attention is directed, namely, that it was only by trying an innocuous purgative medicine to such an extent that the truth of the Hygeian system could possibly have been established. It is clear that all the medical men in England, or the world, put together, have not tried a system of vegetable purgation to the extent and in manner prescribed by the Hygeists. How, therefore, can they (much less individually) know any thing about the extent of its properties.

BALDNESS.

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD OF HAIR is the grandest ornament belonging to the human frame. How strangely the loss of it changes the countenance, and prematurely brings on the appearance of old age, which causes many to recoil at being uncovered, and sometimes even shun society to avoid the jests and sneers of their acquaintances; the remainder of their lives consequently spent in retirement. In short, not even the loss of property fills the generous thinking youth with that heavy-sinking gloom as does the loss of his hair.—To avert all these unpleasant circumstances, OLDRIDGE'S BALM OF COLUMBIA stops the hair from falling off on the first application and a few bottles restores it again. It likewise produces eyebrows and whiskers; prevents the hair from turning gray, makes it curl beautifully, and frees it from scurf. Numerous certificates of the first respectability in support of the virtues of Oldridge's Balm are shown by the proprietors.

Read the following:
ROBERT WHARTON, Esquire, late Mayor of Philadelphia, has certified, as may be seen below, to the high character of the following gentleman:

The undersigned do hereby certify that we have used the Balm of Columbia discovered by J. Oldridge, and have found it highly serviceable not only as a preventative against the falling off of hair, but also a certain restorative

DR. BRANDETH requests a perusal of the following article—

LIFE AND DEATH,

Every thing has two distinct principles to its nature; one

THE PRINCIPLE OF LIFE

THE OTHER
THE PRINCIPLE OF DEATH.
 So long as the principle of Life predominates, Health is enjoyed. When the principle of Death, Sickness takes place. How is this accounted for? By the principle of Death, I mean the principle of decomposition or decay, which is each hour going on in the human system from the hour of birth, to that of our final exit. While the natural outlets—the pores—the bowels—and all other directories of the body, discharge these decayed particles as fast as they are generated, we are in a state of health; we are free from the presence of the disease.
 When, from breathing an impure atmosphere, living in a vicinity of swamps, or when we are in the constant habit of coming in contact with bad smells—effluvia arising from obnoxious accumulations of animal or vegetable bodies in a state of putridity, being infected from a living body under the influence of disease in a malignant state; or sedentary occupations; or, in short, any cause which promotes decomposition faster than the stomach and bowels and the other excretories can remove, naturally; we are then in a state of disease. And should the cause which produces this state of the body remain, and nothing be done to drive the accumulated and accumulating impurities out of the body, the principle of death or decomposition, will become paramount, and the last glimmering of life depart from the once animated clay.
 How then, shall we counteract these death disorganizing influences? How?

PURGE!—Yes—I say Purge! The logic in that word shall yet be understood, if this hand or brain can accomplish so mighty an explanation. Yes, purged be that pain in the head, the back, the bowels, the foot, the stomach, the side, the throat. Does it arise from internal or external cause? I still say purge!—For know this self-evident truth, that pain cannot exist, save by the presence of some impurity—some deposit of decomposed particles upon the organs or part where the pain is seated. And purging discharges this impurity by the bowels and continuing the practice daily will cure every complication of disease; and will prevent any one from becoming seriously indisposed; even when in constant contact with the most malignant fevers which cannot by possibility seriously affect the body, if we are continually careful to preserve it in a pure state, by frequent and effectual purgation. Hippocrates says, "Purgation expulses what must be expelled, and patients find relief; if on the contrary, they are tormented by purgation, it is a proof there are yet matters which must be expelled."

The subscriber of this has resided in every variety of climate, and by always urging on the first appearance of sickness, has enjoyed for the last ten years, uninterrupted health. For we may call such the state of him who is never sick more than 6 or 8 hours, about the time it takes to secure the effect of a purgative. The purgative I make use of is my grandfather's pills, and they are, to my certain knowledge, the most judiciously balanced purge in existence. I have used them for 8 months daily, a dose of from 2 to 16 pills per day, to satisfy myself as to their innocency. It therefore, cannot be doubted. It is my opinion, that any person, be he ever so prostrated by disease, provided he is capable of taking exercise at all, may lengthen his life to 60 years, by continuing to assist his natural functions with the BRANDETH VEGETABLE PILLS. Death never can take place until the Principle of decomposition puts out the lamp of life. And that would seldom be before 60 or 70 years, was this principle of purgation always resorted to on the first appearance of sickness. It is the hope that these remarks may be of some service, I am the public's obedient servant,
D. BRANDETH, M. D.

Great caution is required to procure the genuine Brandeth Pills.
 Druggists and Chemists are never in any place appointed Agents by Dr. B. All his authorised Agents have an engraved certificate of agency, signed by himself; unless this certificate can be shown, do not purchase. This caution is absolutely necessary to guard the public against spurious Pills.

CALEDONIA SPRINGS.

TESTIMONIALS.

I HEREBY certify, that I have been acquainted with the medicinal virtues of the Caledonia Springs, for the last ten or twelve years, during which period I have known numerous instances of the efficacy of those waters in various kinds of disease. In particular, the most obstinate cases of dyspepsia have been radically cured by the use of those waters; of which my own individual case is a striking example; and I have not known a single case of failure in this particular.

These Springs also possess powers of the highest order, in renovating impaired constitutions, and restoring the tone of the system where it has been deranged by warm climates, improper diet, or any other injurious cause.

It is with the greatest pleasure that I can testify to the inestimable qualities of the Caledonia Springs, at which place I arrived on the 1st of August 1837, completely crippled with the Rheumatism and suffering for several weeks previous to my leaving Montreal the most acute pains and prostration of strength. I have used the waters freely, both by drinking and showering for fifteen days, and the result has been satisfactory in the highest degree. I therefore recommend them to suffering humanity, as being in my humble opinion, (from what I have seen and experienced) the most valuable medicinal waters in America; and I have only to my regret, that they are not known to thousands of invalids, who by visiting the waters, or partaking of them, might be restored to health as I have been.
