THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., JAN. 7, 1910.

The Old and the New.

The winding sheet is wrapped around the dead year, and it has joined the dim procession of the countless ages, to become history, fable, oblivion, and all that we have to mark its reign are memories of the past. Memories of its joys and its sorrows, of its hopes and its fears; of friendship formed and friendship broken; of meetings and partings; of love that came and love that went; of voices whose music was our life, now hushed to silence; of hands we never shall clasp again; of good resolves accomplished, and failures over which we sorrow. Such is the legacy the old year has left us, and each thoughtful individual will pause beside its bier and question: What have I lost? what have I won? what have I learned in the year that is past and gone? and each heart will answer to itself.

We trust, however, that no reader of THE ACADIAN shall count it a year lost; that none will view it as a barren waste, that might, but for neglected opportunities, have bloomed into a harvest of golden deeds or ripened with the golden grain of duty well and wisely done.

On the contrary, may each view it as a year wherein, despite of losses and crosses, they have won rich reward; wherein they have striven to ill better up to best; in themselves and in others; wherein failure has but brought clearer insight, and so strengthened the higher, nobler purposes of their lives. That each has learned that life in its grandest, noblest sense is not living for self alone; and have recognized and grasped the eternal truth, that which we give alone is gain, and that the kindly word, the cheerful smile, the open hand that ministers to the needy, the sympathetic heart that comforts the afflicted are greater, richer than houses and lands or hoarded gold.

To such the year that is gone will not have been a wasted opportunity, but rather a time wherein they have laid up treasures which shall be beautiful pictures on memory's wall to beautify and gladden their lives, and which shall eventually change into jewels which shall shine when time shall have ended and the years have no death. Farewell 1909.

And now the New Year is here. 'Bithe and bold,' like a Prince he stands, with steps arrested on the bridge that links the past with the future. Silent as some moss grown sphinx, none may solve his riddle, none may read his purpose. In his hands he holds the destiny of each, of all. Gold cannot purchase his secret; beauty cannot touch his heart or stay his hand; nor for the pleading eyes of love will he lift the veil of what is to come. To him alone it is given to read the horoscope of our future, and foretell the events that shall mark his reign with his realm of unending change.

But in our lives part of the past to all the present cleaves, and though there be regret, almost remorse, for what we have done or left undone, in the past, though there be sorrows that the merciful hand of time has not yet healed, yet happiness is born of hope,

'Hope that will rise.'

With new love in her eyes, and so we may anticipate that the young year that now stands smiling at the door will hold for each, for all, 'tis wisest and the best of gifts.

Town Council.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Council on Wednesday evening, Mayor Harvey was in the chair and all the Council was present except Cous. Burgess, who was out of town. The Finance Committee reported receipts for the month of December $3805 67 and disbursements for the same time $1631 56. The debit bank balance $1537 69.

A petition was read from the permanent assessor, asking that an extension of time until Jan. 8th be given for completing the assessment roll. This request was, on motion, granted.

The Reviewer.

W. T. STEAD AND THE SPIRIT WORLD.

As a yellow journalist, W. T. Stead is in a class by himself. W. R. Harriet is not fit to be named with him. Let anyone who wishes to test this statement look over his history of the past twenty years, and he will find hardly six months in that period in which Stead has not been doing something or saying something that made him the object of general attention. He has the born newspaper man's gift of interesting the public. He with rastes unerringly on the subject and makes, for the moment, an irresistible appeal, or he treats an unimportant subject in such a manner that it has a new fascination. Then, as editor of the Review of Reviews, and several other publications, he has at his command exceptional means for shouting in the world's ear, but lacking his newspaper genius, he would have much more speedily become a bore. Even those who have little sympathy with W. T. Stead will admit that he is not a bore.

Using the word in its technical sense, it may be said that Mr. Stead's latest fake is spiritualism. As a fake it has been overdone of late, but Mr. Stead, by the freshness of his treatment, has without using his own pen, induced sophisticated writers to cable to all parts of the world concerning his dealings with departed spirits.

His latest scheme is the establishment of a spirit bureau, or a place where the shades of dead friends may meet the living and hold converse with them. There are salons of this description already in existence pretty nearly every city in the world. They are usually located on the third floor of a boarding house, and presided over by long-haired professors or doctors, who charge 50¢ to $1 for putting the credulous in communication with spirit land. The distinctive feature of the Stead Spook Saloon is that each has learned that life in its grandest, noblest sense is not living for self alone; and have recognized and grasped the eternal truth, that which we give alone is gain, and that the kindly word, the cheerful smile, the open hand that ministers to the needy, the sympathetic heart that comforts the afflicted are greater, richer than houses and lands or hoarded gold.

To such the year that is gone will not have been a wasted opportunity, but rather a time wherein they have laid up treasures which shall be beautiful pictures on memory's wall to beautify and gladden their lives, and which shall eventually change into jewels which shall shine when time shall have ended and the years have no death. Farewell 1909.

And now the New Year is here. 'Bithe and bold,' like a Prince he stands, with steps arrested on the bridge that links the past with the future. Silent as some moss grown sphinx, none may solve his riddle, none may read his purpose. In his hands he holds the destiny of each, of all. ## AS WE BEGIN 1910

WE desire to express the sincere wish that for one and all it may contain 365 happy and prosperous days.

We also wish to thank those who by their patronage and commendation have made 1909 one of the most successful years in the history of our business. We shall try to merit them by endeavoring more and more a drug store to which everyone can come with confidence in the quality of goods, the carefulness of its service and the reasonableness of its prices.

THIS ADV. MAY MEAN DOLLARS FOR YOU.

Our special sale of pianos and organs during the month of December was very liberally patronized, but owing to delays in shipments we find that our stock is still too large and will continue to give the same indications to our customers during the month of January that we gave during December.

Our sales of Musical Instruments during 1909 were many thousands of dollars greater than for any previous year.

This offer is genuine and is worth immediate investigation.

Don't forget to write 1910.
Public schools re-open on Monday next.

The grocers of Wolfville have agreed to close their stores every evening except Saturday, during the winter months.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be dispensed at St. Andrew's church next Sunday at the morning service, on which occasion Rev. Robert Johnson, of St. Andrew's church, Halifax, will officiate.

Money to loan on mortgage. Apply to H. S. Crawley.

The lecture by Prof. Patterson, which was to have been given in College Hall this evening, has been postponed until Friday evening of next week, so as not to conflict with the union prayer meetings being held in the different churches in town.

G. O. Gates & Son, practical piano and organ tuners, will be in Wolfville soon. Orders care of Miss Flo. Morris' Book store, or through the mail will be attended to. Manufacturers' agents for the sale of High-class Pictures and Organs. Intending purchasers will do well to consult them. Information furnished free.

Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Creighton, in the loss of their infant son, who died last Saturday of congestion of the lungs. The funeral, which was held on Monday in St. John's church, was well attended by personal friends of the parents. The services were conducted at the house and the church by Rev. R. F. Dixon. The floral offerings were abundant and very pretty.

For Bronchitis and Asthma, try Allen's Lung Balsam; the best cough prescription known.

A Colonial Training School has been established at Waterville, N. S., with Miss Bunting Watts as principal. The object of the school is to give women with capital who desire to buy land, a thorough knowledge of the country and its customs before settling in Canada. The course will include horticulture in all its branches, poultry, agriculture, dairying, forestry and many other subjects, a knowledge of which is necessary on the farm.

The first big game of hockey for the season will be played in Evansville next Monday evening between the team of the Wolfville Club and the D. B. C. A. of Dartmouth. This will also be the first game of the series of the Western Nova Scotia Hockey League and a great deal of interest will naturally be taken in it. The contestants in this game are the teams which played off for the trophy last year, and good hockey may be expected.

Reindeer Condensed Coffee is coffee, milk and sugar, combined ready to use, and equal to the best home brew.

A very pleasant surprise was given Miss Ethel Brown at her home "Elmwood," Church Street, on New Year's Eve, being the eve of her departure for the United States where she intends taking a course in nursing, when the members of St. John's choir, of which she has been a valued member for quite a long time, called upon her and presented her with a beautiful work-box and jewel-case, combined and a clock, accompanied with a most appropriate address. She was also the recipient of a handsome lady's companion, accompanied with an address from the Bible class, of which she was also a member. Miss Brown was very much surprised and expressed her gratitude and thankfulness in a very feeling manner.

Those indebted to this office will help us greatly by making prompt payment.

Newtonville Notes.

We have had some very cold weather. Last Tuesday evening the thermometer stood at twelve degrees below zero.

Mr. Owen Nowlin and family have moved into their new residence.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Norman have gone to Port Greville, Cumberland county, to spend the winter with their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Charles Doran.

To a looker-on our young people seem to be enjoying their holidays. Among those visiting their houses here are Miss Ethel Nowlin, teacher at North River, and Mr. Lewis Coldwell, teacher at Summersville, Hants county.

Miss Alice Coldwell, teacher at Tenny Cape, Hants county, visited friends here last week, returning to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Coldwell, New Minas, last Monday.

Mr. Watson Bishop, of Port Arthur, Ont., who is spending a short time with his family at Hantsport, with Mrs. Bishop, apart Sunday at the home of Mrs. Bishop's brother, Fred J. Coldwell, returning to Hantsport on the afternoon express Monday last.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Spurr Woodworth on Christmas evening, when their second daughter, Grace Adelaide, was united to Mr. George Macumber, of Scotch Village, N. S.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Crowell.

A watch night service was held in the Upper Baptist church on New Year's Eve, conducted by Rev. Mr. Hookin and assisted by Rev. Dr. Crowell.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Wilson was the scene of a very interesting wedding on Wednesday, Dec. 20th, when their eldest daughter, Stella Ellis, was married by Rev. Arthur Hookin, to Mr. Leander Macumber, of Caudia, Miss Annie Eaton, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and the groom was attended by his brother. The bride, who is one of Canning's most popular and charming young ladies, received a great variety of beautiful presents, among which was a handsome clock, the gift of the Methodist Sunday School, of which she was a valued teacher, and a silver meat-tart or a dainty luncheon the happy couple were driven to Wolfville, where they took the afternoon express for Halifax to spend their honeymoon.

Miss Jessie Redden returned on Saturday to her position as teacher of violin and cello in Stanstead, Quebec.

Mr. Fred Eaton, of Halifax, has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Starr Eaton.

Much sympathy is felt for Dr. and Mrs. Brett Loomer in the loss of their infant son, who died early Tuesday morning.

The marriage of Mr. Scott Black, born in Canning, and Miss Georgia Pelton took place at the home of the bride's parents, Coldbrook, on New Year's Day. After the ceremony the bridal couple took the morning express en route for Deloro, Ontario, where the groom has a good position as mining engineer.

W. L. Barnes, Esq., barrister, of Halifax, spent New Year's in town visiting relatives.

Mr. R. H. Harris was a passenger by the s.s. Eribula for Cuba, and will be away during the cold weather.

Mr. R. Earl Burgess has gone on a business trip to New York and the south.

Mrs. and Miss Murray, who have been visiting in Halifax, returned on Wednesday.

W. L. Barnes, Esq., barrister, of Halifax, spent New Year's in town visiting relatives.

Mr. R. E. Harris was a passenger by the s.s. Eribula for Cuba, and will be away during the cold weather.

Miss Nellie Tweedell has returned from Boston, and is spending a vacation at the home of her mother, this town.

A Few Ideas on the Proposed New Road.

Recently a petition has been prepared and circulated and largely signed by the ratepayers in the vicinity of Greenwich Ridge and Gaspareau, to be presented to the honorable body of the Municipal Council which convenes for business Jan. 11th, 1910, praying that a road be granted 40 ft. wide and one mile long to connect the main road with the Ridge road at a point opposite the Dug Road, so called, leading to West Gaspareau.

The said road and ground having been viewed and examined and marked off and laid out and damages appraised—said damages amounting to the total of $170.95. The reason the damages are so low is because the road is chiefly through very low priced land and the owner of more than half of the land has given the use of half of his land gratis, also $10.00 towards the construction of the road.

I want to point out some advantages, also disadvantages. First, it will be a great convenience to the residents in the vicinity and the public generally, as the present road past Baptist church is very steep, and at times the mud is very deep and mucky, and drifts badly in winter. Secondly, it seems specially designed by nature for a road through Gaspareau, as at a glance it is a gradual climb all the way. A few years ago the farmers of Gaspareau were in the habit of drawing salt hay from the Cornwallis river home through the woods at this place, hence the name—Salt Hay Road.

Last spring W. O. Bishop drew from Mr. Black's tenement house many loads of manure and other things by this way to his place on the Ridge. So it won't cost much to construct a good road. Most of the land adjacent to this road is nearly worthless, being covered with ferns and small bushes, but if plowed will make good orchard land, and might, in a very few years, increase nearly a hundred fold, thereby making a greater revenue for this county.

A few months ago the writer took a pair of horses and plowed two acres of this land for the first time, preparatory to planting an orchard next spring, and found no difficulty and a sandy soil nearly free of rocks. Mr. Bigelow has an orchard one mile long, commencing at the railroad on the north, extending southerly parallel to this road, only a few rods to the east, and the trees are thrifty and growing fine.

D. B. Shaw, a short distance to the west, has a large young orchard parallel to the new road and they are doing remarkably well. He planted a bushland. About 40 years ago when the boys of 40 years were going to the Academy, they took a short cut across a short pasture, barren, and scarcely any grass grew. Then the late Clas. Fritz bought a few acres out of the middle, and built a house. After a few years he grew a ton to the acre, and, prize vegetables and planted trees that now bear fruit bountifully. East of Fritz's house a road has been opened, and there are at present nine fine houses with fine gardens, and orchards, and lawns.

W. C. Archibald bought a part of this barren pasture, and planted thickly with trees which yearly bear immense crops. He sold several lots, one of them of 4 acres bought by E. B. Archibald, bore 400 bushels apples last year. One lot of nearly one acre covered with some 300 trees, etc., he sold for $1200. Then it was twice sold for $1000. It now yields a good percentage for the outlay. There is a remarkable similarity between this place and where the new road is to go as to soil and situation, etc.

This new road will be a desirable residential place, as it is less than one mile from Acadie College, an institution that is growing and improving and increasing in popularity.

The fruit growing possibilities of Nova Scotia are attracting the attention of Great Britain, and indications are being used to turn the attention of British immigrants to Nova Scotia. Just here I will quote from an able article from the pen of Prof. Cummings, published in the first page of The Family Herald of Dec. 29th, 1909, entitled "New Lease of Life for Nova Scotia Agriculture." The author of Nova Scotia are in a more prosperous condition than for many years. There is a more buoyant spirit and more evidences of improvement than for some time. The result is that the erstwhile heavy emigration to the United States and to the western provinces has been reduced to a minimum, and the people have been considering more seriously the development of their own farm lands, and which means that Nova Scotia is coming to her own to a greater extent during the past two years than for many previous years.'

Another reason in favor of the road is that it would make more work and put money in circulation; consequently makes times better. It would also mean progress. If the Dominion of Canada produces the best apples in the world, and if Nova Scotia is the best part of the Dominion, then Kings County and this part of it near Wolfville produces the best apples in the world.

The fruit—apples, pears, plums and peaches, which take most of the first prizes at the various exhibitions, is grown in the west part of Wolfville and immediate vicinity. One objection to the road is that it would cost a great deal of money and be no benefit to any one. Well, I think the community can stand the cost, and it will be money well invested. I know men who are wanting to buy sites and build thereon if the road goes, and another who will plant an orchard and build two cottages, as soon as the road is being built.

WOLFVILLE, N. S.

The manager of the counter particularly reminds me of the dog in the story. He claims that this road cuts two rows of trees in his orchard, against the road, which statement is easily exaggerated. In reality, one and one-half of these trees need to be removed, and the other one is a small tree that can easily be transplanted. There is a row of these broad acres on both sides of this new road, that with their orchards, woods, etc., have not any sons to inherit their possessions, and when in the near future "Father Time," the "Great Reaper," shall have gathered his harvest, their broad acres will pass into the hands of strangers, who will, we hope, use them to better advantage than the former owners have done.

We hope, honorable members of Council, you will carefully consider this question, and sanction the new road.

Yours truly,
A. FARMER.

The Gadfly.

We read in the St. John daily newspaper of last week that Miss Helen Knowles, of Acadia Seminary, Wolfville, would sing a solo in the Main St. Baptist church on Sunday evening, and this week we learn of the large audience and the singer, Happy St. John, with her musical advantages. Wolfville people are not permitted to hear such a sweet singer as Miss Knowles without paying 25 cents or 50 cents for the opportunity.

Montreal will have another winter carnival this year, even though the last one was a failure, and the railroads are again opposing it. Unless something is done to check the typhoid epidemic there the carnival is doomed to failure already.

A happy New Year to ACADIAN readers, near and far. Don't forget that happiness is a condition, which we ourselves may create or prevent. Be a true optimist and refuse to believe that things are so bad that they cannot be any worse. Be happy that things are not worse, and busy yourself in the effort to improve things. Make your happiness, don't wait for someone else to manufacture it for you.

We notice that the uneasy politician, whose generosity is only exceeded by his public beneficence, is again interested, in some interest, in the voters' list. People are being interviewed as to whether their taxes are paid or not. This party got so completely elated out of shape a year ago, we would recommend that experience is called a good school master.

The smallpox is around our sister town, Wilmot, is said to be of a new and very peculiar type. The disease suffers no inconvenience, has no feeling of illness, often walking about the street until discovered by the health officer, and showed into quarantine. Windsor which has spread throughout the world, we have our suspicions that this smallpox is of

"I understand that she is separated from her husband." "Yes." "Oh, tell me all about it. What did she do?" "Nothing; just died."

We thank the Japanese for Menthol, which when applied in Davis' Salve is unequalled to soothe and heal insect bites and stings, sunburn, etc., a tin at druggists.

"I wonder why so many business men marry stenographers?"

"Probably under the mistaken assumption that they can dictate to them as easily after marriage as they did before."

For Rheumatism it is not necessary to go to Hot Springs. Just use the D. & L. Menthol plaster and results will be satisfactory. 50c. at druggists. Davis' Salve, manufacturers.

"Do you know that I got an awful right the day I was married?" said Jones.

"Yes; I know you did," replied Robinson. "I was right there in the front pew and got a good look."

A couple have appeared in a New Jersey court in search of a divorce. The man is said to have told his wife that her conversation was nothing but hot air, and it is understood that she retaliated by pouring hot water on him.

How Croup is Dreaded.
It is always a warning to Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine to prevent the terrible struggle of the little one for breath. If you know of any of this trouble comes cause of the child in your family, send for Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine frequently in small doses to prevent repeated attacks. This syrup is wonderfully effective in curing croup and bronchitis.

This bill for $500 is altogether too high," said the client. "But didn't I pay you that you were insane and get you acquitted?" responded the lawyer. "Yes, you did; but you haven't paid that I am insane enough to pay this bill yet."

The Heart a Great Worker.
When a wonder in the heart, Day and night works in the saving loss of blood through the body and never tires. It is supplied with rich, red blood such as is formed by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. While it is working, it gives the power of the body the heart receives and reburies its own cells and so retains health and strength.

This one comes from Missouri where one editor "showed" them why: "An evangelist asked all the men present who were honest and paid their debts to stand up. All arose but one. He said he was the local editor, and couldn't pay his debts because the men standing were his delinquent subscribers."

Ferrovin, the invigorating tonic, contains Beef, the most strengthening food, in the least bulk, Iron, which makes rich red blood and gives strength and vitality to the whole body, and just enough pure Spanish Sherry Wine to stimulate the digestion and thus aid the assimilation of the Iron and Beef. $1.00 per bottle at Rand's Drug Store.

Retain Their Confidence.

Mothers are not infrequently grieved that their daughters, as the girls grow older, keep them from their thoughts and ambitions, giving confidence to others. In most cases this is the mother's own responsibility, because she tries to exert authority or pressure when others give only sympathy. To sympathize is not to agree; it is to understand the other side. Mothers should bear this in mind and meet their daughters on a common moral basis even when trying to make the younger see that her attitude is mistaken.

Confidence between mother and daughter is to be maintained at all costs on the part of the former, and a test of her success as a parent is the ability to strike the right note of sympathy with such gentleness and understanding as to influence the girl to a right way of thinking, even when the younger is inclined to differ. It is not by failure to agree that sons and daughters are alienated; but by a total lack of toleration from the father.

If your Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys are weak, try at least a few doses of Dr. Shoop's Restorative. In five or ten days only, the result will surprise you. You will find your appetite good again and you will have much more energy.

Dr. Shoop doesn't drug the stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. Dr.

Shoop's Restorative goes directly to the weak and failing nerves. Each organ has its own controlling nerve. When these nerves fail, the depending organs must of necessity fail. This plain yet vital truth, clearly tells why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is so universally successful. Its success is leading druggists everywhere to give it universal preference. A test will surely tell. Sold by A. V. Rand.

Lived on his Family.

It is related of the Queen of Denmark that she once paid a visit to the Danish colony of Iceland, where the good old blabber exposed himself to the utmost in his entertainment. His most successful effort in that direction was a writing in the Montreal Standard, followed upon the explanation of a mistake which at first greatly scandalized the royal mistress.

The queen paid many compliments to her host, and having learned that he was a family man, graciously inquired how many children he had.

It happened that the Danish word for "children" is almost identical with the sound of the Icelandic word for "sheep," and the worthy bishop promptly answered, "Two hundred."

"Two hundred children!" cried the queen. "How can you possibly maintain such a number?"

"Easily enough, please your majesty," replied the prelate, with a cheerful smile. "In the summer I turn them out upon the hill to grass, and when the winter comes I kill and eat them."

Stomach Troubles.
If you have any trouble with your stomach you should take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Mr. J. P. Klotz of Edina, Minn., says: "I have used a great many different medicines for stomach troubles, but find Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets more beneficial than any other I've ever used." Sold by Rand's Drug Store.

A Lesson for Our Boys.
Here is a little lesson in courtesy for our boys:

General Lee was in the car going to Richmond one day, and was seated at the end farthest from the door. The other seats were filled with officers and soldiers. An old woman, poorly dressed, entered one of the stations and found no seat, and having none offered her, approached the end where the general was seated. He immediately arose and gave her his place.

Instantly there was a general rustling, each one offered his seat to the general. But he calmly said: "No, gentlemen, if there was no seat for the infirm, old women, there can be none for me."

The effect was remarkable. One after another got out of the car. The scene seemed to be too hot for them, and the general and the old lady soon had the car to themselves.

Fever.
Fever sores and old chronic sores should not be healed entirely, but should be kept in healthy condition. This can be done by applying Chamberlain's Salve. This salve has no superior for this purpose. It is also most excellent for chapped hands; sore nipples; burns and diseases of the skin. For sale by Rand's Drug Store.

The Double Chin.

Nothing makes a woman look old before her time like the double chin. Half of the trouble is caused by the wrong position in which she lies when asleep. Women who keep the pillow high will never have a pretty neck, as this allows the head to sink on the chest and causes wrinkles around the neck. Besides the folds of fat which cause the much hated double chin, the chin should be thrown up in sleeping, and the fat will not accumulate under it. Another cause of the double chin is the high, tight collar and the very tight waist. The fat is pushed up out of position and creeps by the first chance it has over the collar. Probably the only care for the double chin is the rubber bandage which is a tedious affair. It consists of a rather bandage fitted over the head and worn like a sling at night.

What are you crying about, dear?" inquired the sympathetic husband.

"Oh, George, the mice have got into the pantry and eaten up a beautiful custard pie I made myself!"

"There, there, my dear, don't cry over a few mice!" was the doubtfully complimentary rejoinder.

"The bear scolded in this story say I am a harr!" scolded the village bully, approaching a group of men he thought he knew, where the guilty parties, maybe it was we, were really injured, angry, strong, etc., were really fully dressed and poised to be stronger than 200, and pulled on the coat and powdered with the dust of the earth, that all

GENUINNESS GIVES POWER.

There is nothing which will add so much to one's power as the consciousness of being absolutely sincere, genuine. If your life is a perpetual lie, if you are conscious that you are not what you pretend to be—that you are really a very different person from what the world regards you—you are not strong. There is a restraint, a peremptory fighting against the truth going on within you, a struggle which saps your energy and warps your conduct.

It is mud at the bottom of your eye, you cannot look the world squarely in the face. Your vision is not clear. Everybody sees that you are not transparent. There is a cloudiness, a haze about your character, which raises the interrogation point wherever you go.

Character alone is strength; it is weakness; sham and shoddy are powerless; only the genuine and the true are worth while.—Success.

You have a weak throat? If so, you cannot be too careful. You cannot begin treatment too early. Each cold makes you more liable to another and the last is always the harder to cure. If you will take Ch. Leopold's Cough Remedy at the first sign of a cold you will save much trouble.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is a topical system, seeking the repair of all nerve endings, securing the removal of all disease.

Jones — Did you deliver my message to Mr. Smith? "No, sir, his office was locked." Jones — "Well, why didn't you wait for him, as I told you?" Johnny — "There was a note on the door saying, 'Return at once, as I came back.'

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is an absolute cure.

John v. Digby, and Boston via Yarmouth. Bears the signature of Fletcher.

Little White — Say, pa, did you ever see a mummy? "Yes, son."

White — What did it look like?

Pa — Like a dried apple on a large orange."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is not a common, every-day cough mixture. It is a meritorious remedy for all the troublesome and dangerous complications resulting from cold in the head, throat, chest or lungs. Sold by Rand's Drug Store.

Chamberlain — How did you enjoy yourself at Mrs. Hamilton's last night? "Cynical." Pa — "Then there wasn't a song or recitation sprung up during the entire evening."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a very valuable medicine for throat and lung trouble, quickly relieves and cures painful breathing and a dangerous sounding cough which indicates congested lungs.
