

DAMAGE IN THE TENS OF THOUSANDS

Damage Caused by Yesterday's Gale Was Widespread--Another Workman Injured.

MISCHIEF THAT THE STORM DID.

House of Edwin Thoms, Wilson street and Stirton avenue, almost completed, which was wrecked by the wind yesterday. Mr. Thoms, who was working on it, was severely injured.

This morning the bright and smiling sun, the gentle breeze and the clearing away of most of the wreckage during the night made the windstorm of yesterday seem like a bad nightmare. With one day's work the wind has resulted in the death of one man, disabled two others, one seriously, and done damage to the extent of tens of thousands. That at least $25,000 damage was done is certain. The house being built by Thoms, on Stirton avenue near Wilson street, is about the worst wreck of the lot, but Alfred Young, Trolley street, is picking up pieces of his house in his back yard to-day. It was a new brick house, and the way the wind went through it was a good imitation of the engine and cars going through Windsor station at Montreal. So great was the force of the wind that cars were almost stopped when travelling against it on King and Herkimer streets, and the Brantford and Radial cars were affected by the speed of Boreas. The whole city was in darkness last night, for a time, owing to the storm. Street lights and house lights were all out, and the street cars travelled by fits and starts. Several times the power was off for a while, but the company had all their men out repairing and watching the line right through to the generating station outside the city. There was great danger from the live wires, which were crackling and spitting around the ground, but luckily no person ran up against one. In front of the Terminal Station a big feed wire broke and burned through the pavement, and the same thing happened with a heavy cable in front of the E. N. W. Telegraph office. That two thousand chimneys were blown down is a conservative estimate made by the police. In the west end of the city the damage to chimneys and houses was very great. Asken, the boat builder, was watching his boat house, to see that it did not leave its moorings, and while he was doing so the veranda on his home, a block away, was blown across the road. The brick parapet, surmounted by iron grillwork, which decorates the top of the new Normal School on Sophia street, was blown down, over 100 feet of bricks and iron-work landing in the road below. Many street lights and house

A YOUNG ATHLETE VICTIM OF STORM.

John Jamieson, Wrestler and Football Player, Swept Clear Across the Bay and Into Lake.

JOHN JAMIESON, The local wrestler and football player who was drowned yesterday.

The turbulent waters of Hamilton Bay, which thrashed the eastern shores and the Beach all yesterday, claimed a victim, the first of this season, when John Jamieson, wrestler and spare scrimmage man for the senior Tigers last season and regular player on the intermediates, went to his death. Jamieson's end was wrapped in mystery till this morning, and even yet his last struggles against the waves can only be surmised. Jamieson's body is now floating some place in the waters of Lake Ontario, or resting beneath the waves. It passed through the canal at 7.30 last evening, it is believed, and since then has not been seen. His death was the result of an attempt to save a hat which was blown into the water from the city dock. Jamieson was a moulder, and through the present trouble with the Mosses, was out of work. Yesterday afternoon he was uptown with three friends, and as late as 1.30 was talking to Constable Gibbs at King and James streets. They walked north, about 3.30, and were at the city dock with many others watching the angry water as it dashed down the bay, lifted in sheets by the wind. There is a dredge tied at the city dock, and the crew of the dredge were having hard work to keep all the movable stuff from blowing into the water. Suddenly one of the workmen lost his hat. It blew into the water and started on a ride to the east end of the bay. The owner of the hat shouted out that he would give any person a quarter who would get it. He shouted this more in a tone of banter, and to draw the attention of the watchers to the fury of the water. In a spirit of bravery Jamieson offered to face the waves and rescue the hat. He went over to Jutten's boat house, got a small ordinary row-boat and started for the hat. He managed to pull out to the end of the re-vent wall, but as soon as the full force of the wind struck him around the end of the structure he was fighting against odds several times too great for him, and the boat went at terrific speed down the bay. None of the men around at first supposed that Jamieson was serious in his undertaking, and had not watched him very closely. After he got out into the open and spray it was almost impossible to see him. When the storm started to abate an hour or more later the man who had lost the hat and some others thought of Jamieson and his plight, but could see no sign of him. They did not think that he had been drowned, but later in the evening his brothers, William, who is employed at the Times job room, and Charles became alarmed, and enquiry by them revealed his foolish attempt to reach the hat. When he had not returned home at a late hour all doubt as to what had happened to him was swept away, but his mother was not told of his fate. This morning he was still missing, and his brother William was, and enquiry was started. It was learned from Captain Lundy at the Beach lighthouse that a boat had been washed up on the bay shore just north of the pier, but that it was in a terrible state. The side was crushed in and long strips torn out of it. Men on the bridges last night saw what they

CITY WON ON TWO IMPORTANT POINTS.

Street Lighting Case Taken Up by Judge Snider Again This Morning.

This morning in Judge Snider's private chambers, the street lighting arbitration was begun over again. His Honor's decisions will be restricted, to a certain extent. The lawyers interested, Mr. Hugh Rose, K. C., and Mr. Frank Waddell, for the city, and Mr. George Lynch-Staunton, K. C., and Mr. W. W. Osborne, for the Cataract Power Company, met before his honor to arrange for the conduct of the case. His honor made out two important orders that have been strenuously objected to by the company. The first was for an examination by the city's experts of the company's plant, and the second was to allow inspection by the city's experts of the company's books regarding the cost of production. Judge Snider said that the question at issue between the company and the city was to find out how far back the award should be dated, and what the reduction per light, if any, the city was entitled to. The city contends that the dating of the award goes back to 1906, when the matter was first started. The company argues differently. His honor has the right to decide that point. In granting the order for the examination of the company's books as to the cost of production, the latter must show the cost of production in 1906, and up to the present time. The city proposes to examine the books and the plant before giving evidence. The company reserves the right to supplement its evidence, after the city has put in its case. Judge Snider does not believe that the decision of the Court of Appeal was a black eye to the city, as has been said. In limiting him to naming the amount of reduction per lamp, if any, it simply means that the city will have to present a statement to the company showing the amount of overcharges, and if the company will not pay, then suit will have to be entered. "And you know they are good fighters," remarked his honor, with a smile. The evidence at the time of the last award was largely of a theoretical nature. The Court of Appeal has decided that it would like to get facts. No date was set upon for the hearing of evidence, and the parties will decide upon that among themselves. His honor will enter into a reconsideration of the case and will give the evidence already in, and that which may be submitted.

FOR MAY 24. Little Chance of a Brigade Gathering at Niagara.

Col. Logie has received a letter from Gen. Cotton in regard to the proposal to have the fifteenth brigade go to Niagara from May 22 to 24. It is to the effect that it would be almost impossible to get the Toronto contingent to do anything that being the time of the spring races. The fact that the Daily Mail and other empire shooting matches are also to take place then would make it rather awkward also. Col. Bruce, of the 91st Regiment, has received a couple of invites from out-of-town for the 24th, but as yet he is undecided what will be done.

TO IMPROVE THE FORCE. Commissioners Will Likely Make a Few Changes.

Large Hole Made in the Appropriations Already. Site for Mountain Pumping Plant Has Been Selected. One of the things the Police Commissioners will insist upon hereafter is a strict enforcement of the probation rule. They say that apparently little attention has been paid to it. This rule provides that new constables are to be given a six months' trial and those who are not likely to make good officers wereeded out. It is not improbable that some of the methods adopted in Toronto will be followed here. In Toronto the men have examinations on points of law and are regularly instructed in their duties until they become efficient officers. The new men are not permitted to carry revolvers until they have been on the force a year, and no man is permitted to start out on his beat until one of the officers inspects the squad and satisfies himself that they are looking smart and tidy. At least one of the Commissioners is not satisfied with some of the men who have been on the force more than a year. He thinks some of them are badly in need of drilling to give them a smart appearance. It has been suggested that Sgt.-Major Gilmour, the new instructor of the Ninety-First, be engaged to drill the men when they attend their monthly parade at the armoury. Sgt.-Major Gilmour spent five years on the Toronto force and later joined the permanent force. He was regarded as one of the most efficient officers at Wolsey Barracks.

WAS KILLED. William Smith Fell From High Bridge at Lethbridge.

Word has been received from Lethbridge, Alta., of the death of William Smith, a former resident of this city, who was killed by falling from the top of a bridge the C. P. R. Company is building near there. He fell a distance of 300 feet, and was terribly mangled, both arms and legs being broken, and his body crushed. He was about 28 or 30 years of age, and leaves a widow and four children in this city. He was a member of the local fire department about three years, was well known as an athlete, and a clever boxer. The bereaved family have the sympathy of all. Deceased was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, 16 Tiffany street. The remains will be brought to this city for interment.

DUCK SHOOTING. To Prosecute Those Shooting Out of Season.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Toronto, April 8.—Owing to many complaints of duck poaching last year, Superintendent Tinsley, of the Fisheries Department, has issued stringent instructions to game wardens to push prosecution of persons shooting ducks out of season. CASTRO'S PLIGHT. Will He Go to Danish West Indies or Turn Back?

Paris, April 8.—It is presumed here that the Government of the United States, which initiated the exchanges with foreign Governments to prevent Cipriano Castro from establishing headquarters close to the Venezuelan coast, will prevent him making his way to the mainland on a sailing vessel. This course will leave Castro the alternative of taking refuge on one of the Danish West Indies Islands or returning to Europe. The French line steamer Versailles touches at Port de France on April 10 on her way back to Europe.

BRADLEY'S CASE. Col. Logie has forwarded a petition to the Minister of Justice, asking for the release of James Bradley, who, a few weeks ago, was found guilty by Magistrate Jells of aggravated assault on P. C. Gravelle. The assault took place at a dance. Col. Logie said this morning that he had declarations from many who attended that Bradley was not the aggressor. Col. Logie had received word from Ottawa this morning acknowledging the receipt of his petition. The matter will be brought to the attention of the Minister of Justice in a few days.

—At St. Andrew's Church, Grimsby, on Good Friday evening the sacred catafalque, "The Way of the Cross," by Tozer, will be given by the choir. Miss Adelaide Smith and Mr. George Clark, of this city, will assist. Miss Counsel, of this city, is directing the work.

Fruit Not Injured

Great Storm of Yesterday Spared the Niagara Fruit Trees. Beamsville, April 8.—(Special.) It is extremely difficult to get any adequate idea of the enormous damage done throughout the middle district of the Niagara Peninsula to-day. That it is enormous there is no doubt. The blowing down of poles and the intermingling of telephone and electric light wires has the former service in a state of chaos. The few reports that come dribbling in from the back districts seem to show that the worst is yet to come. Big barn roofs, cattle and church sheds are down nearby. At Jordan Station a new concrete driving shed just finished lately at a cost of over $2,000, collapsed. The major portion of the east side of the drill shed here is torn off. A large barn in South Grimsby Township was utterly demolished. The weather boards and shingles being scattered to the four winds. The frame alone is standing. Hot houses and hot beds got a drubbing, over 300 panes of glass being broken in one fruit grower's outfit, and the story is the same all down the line. The Cataract Power Co. kept its men in ceaseless vigil on both the north and south lines, and they had a hard day and night of it. The big steel towers of the Toronto Power Co. swayed and trembled in the 80-mile gale and the heavy wires strummed and sang in the wind. Fruit trees have not suffered, the wind blowing rather high to effect them, and the light, willow trunks bending easily to the blasts without any visible injury. The velocity of the storm was more severe to the south, and here its effects are standing out on every side line.

TOWN SITES. New Department to be Organized by Government.

A New Job for Fred Dane, Toronto Tory Favorite. (Special Despatch to the Times.) Toronto, Ont., April 8.—That legislative journal, the Votes and Proceedings of the House, does not as a general thing contain very much of interest, but this morning the following resolution is contained in it: That it shall be lawful for the commission, with the approval of the Lieut.-Governor-in-Council, to establish a Land Department to administer town sites and do such other work as shall be designated by the commission, and it shall further be lawful for the commission, with such approval as aforesaid, from time to time, when deemed advisable, to appoint one of the commissioners to take the charge and oversight of such department and to pay to such commissioner, while in charge of such department such remuneration in addition to the honorarium aforesaid as the commission shall see fit, not exceeding at the rate of $1,500 per annum. The commission referred to is the T. N. O. commission and the proposed resolution signifies the creation of an important post, which it is understood will be filled by Mr. Fred Dane, one of the present commissioners. Up to the present Mr. Dane has been occupied chiefly in looking over the new territory. This position means, of course, greatly extended authority to Mr. Dane.

THE MAN IN OVERALLS

Good Friday. No paper to-morrow. If this had been March I wouldn't have been so surprised at that storm. What's that? No money for the Jolly Cut! Get out. Another thing Mrs. Fay might tell me: Who shot Constable Smith? I hope the churchwardens have all their reports ready for the vestry meetings. The temperance people are beginning early this year to worry the poor hotel men. It's enough to make 'em sell out. I hope we are going to have something new in the line of Easter music next Sunday. Without bothering much about anything else, the Mayor will have his work out for him seeing that $140,000 is spent to the best advantage. The newspaper that supports Whitney in giving away 2,000,000 acres of land need not put forth the claims of independence, for nobody would believe it. But what preparation does a green policeman get before he is put on the street? Some of the young chaps look as if they had lost their way up town. If Mrs. Fay would tell me the name of my future husband I would be ever so much obliged to her. Little London narrowly escaped another calamity yesterday. Didn't it have some mishap with one of its school buildings before? Is there a building inspector or city engineer in the place? With all that money to blow in we should be able to finish the year without an overdraft. Mr. Studholme is growing altogether too chummy with Whitney to suit me. I don't hear of anybody being run in for cutting corners. The shinglers and glaziers are agreed to-day in saying that it is an ill wind that blows nobody good. It doesn't always pay to peer into the future. You remember what it cost D'Orville. Who will control the Board of Control? The Temperance Federation has its own opinion of the License Commissioners, and it is not a very flattering one, Mr. Callaghan. Perhaps Britain will be permitted to count in the French Dreadnoughts as an offset to Austria's. In the meantime root for Hamilton. Help Hamilton Hum. Buffalo to-morrow? There were no investigations of departments when the Tories were in power. They took good care to keep the lid on. A Twentieth Century Pipe. The Peterson patent pipe has a guaranteed bore and up turned bent hole. It is guaranteed to smoke cool, dry and clean. They are sold in all sizes and shapes at peace's pipe store, 107 King street east. Easter Monday is a bank holiday. Business people who keep open that day should bear this in mind and prepare for it.

SIX MONTHS IN LOCK-UP. Freely Guilty of Stealing From a Drunken Man.

Fine of $10 in Sunday Tobacco Selling Case. Greeks Fined For Wheeling Carts on Sidewalks. This morning at Police Court Thomas Freely, Kent street, was sent to jail for six months for stealing from the person of Harry Holden in an alley last Tuesday afternoon. Freely pleaded not guilty, and elected for a summary trial. Constable Gibbs said that he saw Freely standing over Holden, who was lying drunk on the ground, in an alley behind a blacksmith shop at Vine and MacNab streets. He saw the prisoner take something out of Holden's pockets. The constable arrested Freely, who said he was trying to get Holden into a dry place, as it was raining. Holden said he had started drinking at 8.30 that morning, and he didn't remember anything that happened as late as 1.30 in the afternoon. He identified a purse and a match case as belonging to him, and the policeman swore these were found on Freely. Freely took the stand and denied guilt. He said he was trying to get Holden out of the wet, and he picked up the purse off the ground. "I can't find him guilty of assault and robbery, as charged in the indictment," said Magistrate Jells, "but I do find him guilty of stealing from Holden's person." Turning to the prisoner, he said: "You saw him drunk and saw a good chance to steal his property, and took it. You are sent to jail for six months." Charlie Robbins, King street east to backstreet, was arrested early this morning before he had risen from his bed on a warrant charging him with selling tobacco last Sunday. Charlie failed to obey the summons yesterday morning, and the warrant was issued. Constables Brannon and Tuck got into Charlie's private room and allowed him to dress. He was in a cold cell for an hour, and then was marched to the court and placed in the dock. When the indictment was read over to him, he could not say guilty quickly enough, and the desire to plead guilty was to get it over with and get out of limbo. He was fined $10, paid the money and quickly hurried away. The similar charge against Edward Edwards, James street north, tobaccoist, was laid over again, as Edwards is still out of the city. Harry Holden, Orchard Hill, the complainant against Freely, was held until this morning on a charge of being drunk and allowed to go after giving his evidence. John Machin, Market street, paid $2 for driving his wagon across the side-walk on Homewood avenue without first laying planks. J. Bemmeritto, Sam Paris and Joe Gilande, Greeks from a King street east establishment, were fined $1 each for running their carts on the sidewalk. They said the road was too muddy, but that didn't go.

OPEN MAY 10. New Ferry Service on the Bay Will Start Then.

People who have experienced for years the inconvenience of travelling to Holy Sepulchre Cemetery in large vans over dusty roads or going across the bay in small boats will, no doubt, appreciate the service which the Hamilton Ferry Company will give them this year. A dock is to be built at the cemetery, and that will be one of the regular calling points. This is something that the Catholic population have long clamored for, and they had little hope of relief until the Ferry Company made its announcement. Mr. James Woodman went to Kingston this week to inspect the large excursion boat which will be used for pleasure parties and moonlights on the bay, and he expresses himself well satisfied with the way the work is progressing. The boat will be here in time to go into commission on Victoria Day. The company announced to-day that the service to the north shore will be inaugurated about May 10. At least four trips will be made every day from the dock at the foot of Hughson street, and on Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays as many trips as possible will be made.

GIRL KILLED. (Special Despatch to the Times.) Brantford, Ont., April 8.—A sad accident occurred at Norwick yesterday during the high wind storm. Miss Irene McCauley, employed at the Oxford Flour Mills, while walking through a covered passage way, between the office and the elevator, was buried in several feet of bricks and debris which were blown off the gable end of the elevator. The falling mass crushed in the roof, killing the unfortunate girl instantly. Employees at the mill, missing her from the office, had fears that she had been caught and after a strenuous half hour's labor, discovered the remains of the victim in the debris. The town people are greatly grieved over the unfortunate affair.

Silicium. The strenuous life for me. Cynicism—Ah, going to get married, eh?

NEARLY ASPHYXIATED. The family of Mr. John Dodson, 312 Wellington street north, had a narrow escape from being asphyxiated yesterday morning. Mr. Dodson arose early and after throwing some coal on the furnace went out for a short time to attend to some business. When he returned he found the house filled with gas, and the family, who had inhaled a considerable quantity of it before becoming aware of the trouble and opening the windows, very sick. Dr. Carr was telephoned for and as a consequence of quick medical aid no ill results followed.

PUTTING ON A DIVING SUIT

As Complicated a Matter as the Arrangement of a Lady's Toilet.

A greenhorn who had never put on a diving suit persuaded the crew of a lighter to let him go below while they were waiting for the regular man to come on duty, and in Motor Boat he gave an account of the experiences likely to accompany a first descent of that sort.

Quickly divesting himself of his coat, hat, shoes and cuffs, but still wearing his collar, tie and watch, the novice donned a heavy sweater, thick socks and a knit skull cap, and the process of inserting him in the diving suit began.

The heavy suit was drawn on the ends of its legs being the same shape as rubber boots; the ends of the arms were rubber boots; the ends of the neck were wrists tightly; the opening at the neck was wide. A pair of brass shoes of about ten pounds each, and similar to a Chinaman's, were slipped on and strapped to the ankles; then woollen mittens, for it was the latter part of January, and then the diver's rubber gauntlet mittens, which had long waterproof leathers.

Within an inch of the top of the gauntlets were lashed to the arm by six turns of fishline, each half turn being drawn as tight as a strong man could pull it. The thickness and strength of the suit prevented pressure on the arm. The heavy plate which protects the breast, shoulders and back from water pressure was slipped over the new diver's head, great care being taken not to bark his nose during the passage.

The top part of the suit was pulled up smoothly inside the armor, and a broad heavy band that is attached to the suit, with holes in it to correspond with screw bolts projecting from the lower edge of the armor, was forced up on the outside and the holes slipped over the bolts. A strong metallic band in sections was slipped over the bolts and the whole fastened air tight by thumb

MOTHER'S STORY.

Mrs. Sampson's Parents Testify as to the Tragedy.

Lyons, N. Y., April 7.—The father and mother and two brothers of Mrs. Georgia Sampson, charged with the killing of her husband, Henry Sampson, were called to the witness stand today by District Attorney Gilbert to give evidence on which the State is depending to convict Mrs. Georgia Sampson of murder.

The defence presented several material points to-day through the testimony of the members of the Allyn family. It was established notably that shortly before Harry Sampson staggered into the Allyn dining-room and fell dead Mrs. Sampson was seen on the second floor of her home.

Through Mrs. Allyn, the State's attorney brought out the fact that Robert Manson, of Niagara Falls, had written to Georgia, inviting her and a friend, Miss Mildred Cervos, to spend a few days in Niagara Falls. Harry quarrelled with his wife over the letter. Mrs. Sampson's lawyers state that Manson had written asking Mrs. Sampson to act as a chaperone.

A sensational bit of testimony was offered by John Ebert, a neighbor, who declared that Harry Sampson had smoked powder cartridges in his possession on the day of the shooting. The defence contends that this explains why no powder marks were visible on Sampson's shirt.

EXPOSING A FALLACY

The Insurance "Argument" of the Militarist Party.

(Philadelphia Record.)

One argument in favor of the ever-increasing expenditures for armaments is that these outlays should be regarded as premiums paid by the nations in order to insure their integrity and safety.

The popular formula in England just now runs as follows: "War with, say, Germany would cost £1,000,000 a day; Dreadnought costs two millions, or the same as two days of possible war."

This sounds very smart, and makes a rather pretty epigram. The statement, however, is epigrammatic only because it leaves out so much. If one adopts the militarist line one must also have regard for actual principles. In the quoted quip the doubtful contingency of war is assumed to be an imminent actuality; no account is taken of the let us say, ten chances to one—fifty to one might be nearer the truth—that the war will not occur. All men are sure to die, but not every house is sure to burn down, nor every ship sure to sink; therefore, life insurance premiums are relatively higher than fire or marine insurance premiums. The militarist would exact the same rates for fire risks.

But the militarists are not logical; they are not even fairly good at common arithmetic. The cost of one Dreadnought is but a small part of the insurance premiums which they consider necessary to insure the nation against the possibility of war. In the estimation of the British alarmists, one hundred Dreadnoughts would not constitute an extravagantly large fleet. Wars have become shorter in these days of rapid mobilization and arms of precision. A period of hostilities extending beyond one year would be abnormally long. Two hundred days would probably suffice to fight out an issue between neighboring European nations. At the assumed rate of expenditure a war of this length would cost £200,000,000; and this is exactly the price of one hundred Dreadnoughts. The argument of the military insurance agents should therefore read thus: In order to save the remotely possible expenditure of £200,000,000 for war it is necessary to incur the certain expenditure of £200,000,000 for Dreadnoughts. And this is not the whole story. Counting the manning and officering of a Dreadnought, the repairs, fuel and provisions, and writing off 15 per cent, for deterioration, the upkeep of each vessel per year would amount to about as much as her original cost. A navy of one hundred Dreadnoughts would cost £100,000,000 per year, and in fifty years this would be equivalent to the cost of twenty-five wars. The logic of the militarists is the logic of Bellam.

DISTINGUISHED ARCHAEOLOGIST.

The lecture of Prof. J. L. Myers, professor of Greek in the University of Liverpool, to be given in the museum of the Hamilton Association on Saturday evening, promises to be one of unusual interest. Mr. Myers even as a young man won distinction in the field of archaeology by his work in Cyprus, and this reputation has grown with increasing years, so that he is regarded as an authority on the Mediterranean civilization. Everyone who is interested in history should hear this lecture on "Cyprus and the Pre-historic Age of the Mediterranean," which is given on Saturday evening in the museum under the auspices of the Archaeological Institute of America, a branch of which is about to be established in this city with several influential citizens as members.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

Mr. C. McQuesten, B. A., of this city, has passed his second year at Knox College. Among the others who were successful are M. Cree, B. A., and H. B. Duckworth, both of whom were at Chalmers Church, this city, and who have passed the second year; G. A. Little, B. A., and H. M. Paulin and H. R. Pickup, both of whom were at Knox Mission, and who have passed their third year. Messrs. Cree and Pickup figure in the scholarship list.

CENTENARY CHOR.

The rendition of Spohr's grand oratorio, "The Last Judgment," by the choir of Centenary Church, at their annual concert to-morrow (Friday) evening will be preceded by a miscellaneous programme of unusual interest. In addition to several attractive choruses by the choir, Mrs. Ida McLean Dilworth will sing the aria, "With Verdure Glad," from the "Creation," J. H. Hollingshead will sing an aria from Mendelssohn's "Hymn of Praise," and Arthur Bright, baritone, will sing an excerpt from Dubois' "Seven Last Words."

Farm Help in Demand.

Winnipeg, April 7.—Farm laborers are much in demand here. At present the Department of Agriculture has applications for 550 men on file, which cannot be filled readily. There are a number of idle men in town, but it is difficult to get them to go to the farms.

Talent is generally a more negotiable asset than genius.

Residence Sites on High Ground Increase in Value

Any one familiar with the trend of growth of this and other cities will realize that all the elevated portions will be sought for residence purposes. Those who have slightly homes do not give them up, and come down town to the lower or flat land.

DELAWARE PARK SURVEY

Hamilton's Choice Residential Location.

40 lots have been sold in this survey since the last day of February last. The remaining lots will all be sold within a few weeks.

All the lots on Eastbourne avenue, between Main street and Delaware avenue, have been sold.

Only 4 lots on Westmoreland avenue, between Main street and Delaware avenue remain unsold. The price is now $17.00 per foot, but they will be $20.00 per foot on the 10th of April.

4 lots on Main street, 100 feet deep are still unsold. Present price $28 per foot; on the 10th April the price will be $30.00 per foot.

14 lots on Delaware avenue, 100 feet deep, are now for sale. Present price $25 per foot; on 10th April the price will be $29 per foot. Adjoining properties are already quoted at $40 per foot.

8 lots on north side of Cumberland avenue, 100 feet deep, remain unsold. Present price $12.00 per foot; on 10th April price will be $16.00 per foot.

Eastbourne and Westmoreland avenues, between Delaware and Cumberland avenues are now being graded and sidewalks will be laid at once. 9 lots have already been sold. 19 of the remaining lots will be offered for sale at $15.00 per foot and 25 at $16.00 per foot until 10th April, after which date the price will be advanced $1.00 per foot per month.

All increases in price are based on development. See for yourself. Streets and driveways are laid throughout. The soil of all lots between Main street and Cumberland is sandy.

Delaware avenue is 15 feet higher than Main street and Cumberland avenue is 15 feet higher than Delaware avenue and the drainage is unexcelled.

All lots, save a few odd ones, are 40 feet in width and only one house is allowed on each lot; other conditions also spare the survey. Terms to suit. YOUR OPPORTUNITY IS NOW.

FAY SOCIETY.

Spokane Society Takes the Name of the Entertainer.

With the names of ten of the foremost citizens of Spokane, Wash., as its incorporators, there has been formed and duly incorporated under the laws of the State of Washington in that city a society composed of psychics and those interested in the psychical science, and in their choice of a name they did great honor to Mrs. Eva Fay, who plays at Bennett's this week, for they named it the Thaumaturgic Society, and stated the purposes as follows: For the purpose of investigating and systematizing the various forms of mental and spiritual powers. Other objects of the society are to disseminate knowledge concerning manifestations, telepathy and allied subjects among those who doubt the actuality of disincarnate existence and supernatural powers. It is also empowered to acquire, hold and exhibit antiquities, relics, lace, coins, portraits and other historical and numismatic articles for psychic research and subjective experiments in occult analysis. The society, concludes the despatch, is not troubling itself about capital stock.

This is a direct tribute to Mrs. Eva Fay, as she has but a short time prior played all through the coast section, Spokane being one of her successful points, and, furthermore, thaumaturgy, and its derivations, such as thaumaturgic, thaumaturgist, thaumaturgical, etc., have never been used by anyone else.

How Dickens Learned to Write.

When asked by one of those wisecracks who are convinced that in order to write good English a man must be taught to write bad Latin where his son's education that equipped a young man of twenty-four to preside at the banquet of literature at an unprecedented age, to make his best speeches in Latin, to go into the best society, to set the table in a roar, to lead every company in which he mixed, to travel, acquire French and Italian with ease, and write the most animated letters known to the modern world—London's Times.

MILITARY.

Good Turnouts of Highlanders and the A. S. C.

The second parade of the Ninety-first Highland Regiment this season was held last evening. The regiment made a good showing and, although the number of men out was not as large as last Wednesday, this was easily accounted for by the big storm. Thirty-five recruits were on hand, anxious to join the regiment. No street parade was held on account of the wind, which played havoc with the kilt. Lieut.-Col. Bruce briefly addressed the men, thanking them for turning out in such rough weather. The parade state was as follows:

Lieut.-Col. Bruce, Majors McLaren and Roberts, Capt. Bell, adjutant; Capt. Somerville, quartermaster; Capt. Chisholm, paymaster; Major Drummond, chaplain; staff sergeants 10, A 33, B 29, C 28, D 31, E 24, F 37, G 32, H 30, signallers 2, recruits 35, total 399.

A long service medal was presented to Color Sergt. Thudner by Col. Bruce.

The Army Service Corps held another good parade last night, there being about fifty officers and men out. After an hour's drill in the old armory they were dismissed with a few words of congratulation from Captain Lawson for the enthusiasm shown in turning out in such rough weather.

A Poor Salesman.

Carey Johnson Ludlam, the Southern philologist, said at a dinner: "I hope that the salesman who accosted me on my way here this evening will take in one of the many schools of salesmanship in eight or nine years' time. I'm sure he needs it."

"This salesman, a shabby young man, laid his hand on my arm and said: 'Say, friend, lem sell ye a box of this here patent cement.' 'I shook off his filthy paw. 'Cement!' I sneered, annoyed at his familiarity. 'What do I want with cement?' 'Why,' cried the man, in apparent surprise, 'ain't ye broke? Ye look it.'"

KILL THIS MEASURE.

The Toronto News takes strong ground against the passage of the so-called "Municipal Association's" amendment to the Municipal Act, relieving councils from liability for keeping the roads in safe repair.

Why should not a city engineer and his inspectors be held responsible for the proper condition of the streets? Substitute a similar clause in an agreement with a private corporation—and imagine the result.

Fact is Sir Wilfrid Laurier is a good deal of an unexploded bluff. All he needs is a few men to go at him as George E. Foster went at him—Toronto Telegram.

The temperance men do not look for much in the way of license reduction from the present Board of License Commissioners. They accept its declarations of the past as indicating that it is frankly hostile to any movement aiming at reduction of licenses or minimizing the drink traffic.

The high wind of yesterday caused a good deal of damage to property throughout the city, but fortunately, no great catastrophes resulted. This city appears to have enjoyed comparative immunity when the havoc wrought in some of the towns and cities of the country is considered.

THE WORLD'S BANK.

According to the London Economist the demand upon Great Britain for new capital in the first quarter of 1909 has been greater than in the first quarter of the last two years.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Now let Allan Studholme beware. When Whitney beseechers him with praise, then he is truly in danger.

After yesterday's elemental disturbance people may be able to imagine the pother made when the Ottawa Opposition gets windy.

There is a rumor of a big coffin manufacturers' combine being on the cards. Are further "death duties" to be levied on the bereaved?

Hamilton's Board of Control measure will go through this session, and the chaps who aspire to be controllers—with salary not to exceed $1,500 a year—may take heart.

May wheat was quoted in New York on Tuesday at $1.26 1/2. In Chicago May wheat reached $1.23 1/4. These are speculative prices, of course, and there is no immediate necessity for the raising of the price of bread in Hamilton.

Castro, the former president of Venezuela, is greatly annoyed because the British Government declined to make him welcome at Trinidad. Of course Castro doubtless thinks Great Britain is under obligations to him for courtesies in the past!

Since January 1 United States railroad and industrial stocks to the amount of $375,901,880 have been issued. Many millions more have been authorized.

Whitney's friends exult much over their ability to set principle at defiance and to disregard utterly the Opposition in the Legislature. They should bear in mind that Belshazzar and his lords indulged in similar mockeries and jeers once upon a time.

A correspondent has made the mistake of attempting to argue with the Toronto Telegram. As if logic was respected by that sheet! The Telegram's equipment is entirely made up of reckless assertion and petty party prejudice, to which argument does not appeal at all.

Fact is Sir Wilfrid Laurier is a good deal of an unexploded bluff. All he needs is a few men to go at him as George E. Foster went at him—Toronto Telegram.

The Government majority in the Legislature last night again reaffirmed Whitney's policy that in the matter of temperance the minority should rule in the liquor interest, and that a three-fifths vote must be obtained in order to carry local option.

In his annual report Dr. R. W. Bruce Smith, inspector of hospitals, passes some very severe strictures upon the Toronto institution. He says it is not fair to the other hospitals of the Province, which have been forced to obtain a proper standard of equipment in order to receive the Government grant.

In 1869 the cost of the Prussian army was 40 cents a head of the population. In 1816 it had increased to $1.82; in 1874 it was $1.90. In 1880 when it was the German army the cost was $3.15, and in this year the cost is $3.90, estimating the population at 63,020,000.

As to the form in which the Government is offering aid in the present instance, it is possibly the least objectionable of any yet devised. Spectorator.

The obtaining of $237,000 of money without the "say so" of the ratepayers does not seem to have had the effect of satiating the appetite of the would-be spenders. They still urge the adoption of the frontage tax system for paving.

The Tory organs are making much of the cost of underwriting, brokerage, etc., of a "five million" Dominion loan. None of the organs, so far as we have noted, mention the fact that the loan was for $5,000,000, while some of them, notable among them the Mail and Empire, display the figures as $5,000,000, making the borrowing charges appear as 12 per cent. of the amount borrowed! This is rather petty trickery.

Rumor has it that a block of 300 Suez Canal shares has been purchased by the German Government for $500,000. It is the intention of the Suez Canal Company to build a second waterway parallel to the existing canal. The company's franchise is to be extended for 45 years. The capital for the new work will be offered for subscription to the present shareholders only at a price of from 2,000 to 2,500.

Apologetically discussing Whitney's 2,000,000-acre gift of public lands to the C. N. R., the senior local Tory organ says: "It is not likely that there will, for very many years, be unanimity of opinion in this province on the subject of government aid to private railway enterprises." Alas, alas! And so soon after the lavish praise of Whitney for stopping "forever" the evil practice of granting lands to railways and unsparingly denouncing the Liberals for making such grants in bygone times when railways were so much needed!

There is considerable feeling in New York and some other of the United States cities against the Beef Combine, against which retailers and customers appear to be powerless. It is suspected that much of the recent increase in price is not due to actual cost of production. Two lines of procedure to secure relief are mentioned; public control, and public ownership. It would seem that the people should be stronger than the Beef

Combine. The craze for public ownership, while neglecting the power and the duty to control trade and commerce, is so great, however, that it should astonish nobody to find an agitation arising for "municipalizing" beef production. If electricity, why not beef? And if beef, why not pork, and bread, and wheat and potatoes?

The churches are not to have a monopoly of the individual cups used for communion purposes. The Lackawanna Railway furnishes to its passengers individual paper drinking cups. By each water cooler stands a nest of a hundred, or more dainty white drinking cups, which once drawn forth and used, cannot be replaced, but must be discarded or carried away.

Nineteen additional counties in Michigan have gone Prohibition. It is quite natural, come to think of it, for Michiganders to take to water.

That's a shocking story that comes from Ottawa about payments for ladies' houses. Although it's only a natural sequence of wine, women and graft.

Our people do not suffer as much from the rapacity of the landlord as your poor people do in Toronto. I visited one shack of three rooms, where we would be ashamed to house our cattle, and I was told that the family living there paid $8 rent a month.

The Government majority in the Legislature last night again reaffirmed Whitney's policy that in the matter of temperance the minority should rule in the liquor interest, and that a three-fifths vote must be obtained in order to carry local option.

Mr. Adam Brown, Postmaster of Hamilton, has completed his eighty-third year. For nearly sixty years he has lived in Hamilton. He was active in the pioneer railway era.

If the clay belt were Premier Whitney's own property, and he were to propose giving two million acres to Mackenzie & Mann along their prospective line of railway, his relatives would apply for a commission in lunacy and have the property taken out of his hands.

One of the recent by-elections in England is responsible for this story: "Can you tell me, my dear madam, whether your husband is Liberal or Conservative?" "Yes, but—between ourselves—what is he at home?" "Oh, at home! He's a perfect nuisance."

If your store front, residence or fence is dingy, order it painted. If your awning is old, torn or faded, get a new one. If your sidewalk, gate or fence needs repainting, fix it.

Organize a block improvement society, and allow no weeds to grow on sidewalk, area or vacant property in your block. Respective of the size of your house, make your lawn the finest. Illuminate the front of your store in the business section.

A peculiar machine case came before Judge Monck yesterday. It was Young vs. Stewart. The defendant had sold a machine to Mrs. Young on the installment plan. She had paid $48 and then, having decided to take up residence elsewhere, she asked defendant to create the machine for her, to be sent away. He, however, sold it to another party. His honor gave judgment for $40 and costs.

More About Mary.

Mary had a little good. A Billy goat you know. And everywhere that Mary went The goat was sure to go.

Mary followed her to church one day. Which didn't look just right. The sexton tried to put him out. And then there was a fight.

The bad boys quickly gathered round. They raised a lusty cheer. When Billy charged that good old man in front, and flank, and rear.

In vain, the sexton yelled, "Get out!" And jumped and dodged and kicked. For Billy bore right in, and soon He had the sexton licked.

And still he wasn't satisfied. He still kept boring in. He rammed, and jammed, and hummed and slammed That good old man like sin.

"What makes him butt the sexton so?" The bad boys asked. "Cause why?" The sexton bawled first you know? Poor Mary made reply.

Inherently Improbable. "I didn't believe that story, anyhow, about an attempt being made to assassinate ex-President Roosevelt; did you?"

"Not at all, sir," interrupted the old subscriber, with a frown. "It doesn't fit her pantry shelves. She says, it's our duty to take the paper to help you along."

ON A PINCH. "For the present," said the political magazine, "you will have to be satisfied with filling some temporary vacancy from time to time."

"I'll be more than satisfied," faltered the despairing officeholder, "with anything that will fill the vacancy in my stomach from time to time!"

GERMANY IN A HURRY. Wants a Commercial Treaty With Canada at Once. Berlin, April 7.—The statement that there is a possibility of a commercial treaty being concluded between Germany and Canada comes as an agreeable surprise to German business men, who deplore the fact that they are losing ground rapidly in Canada. The Tagelblatt points out that a settlement of the conflict with Canada will pave the way for the regulation of commercial relations with Britain, and urges that an agreement of a permanent nature should be arrived at as soon as possible. There is all the more necessity for an early conclusion of such an agreement on a sound basis, it says, as there seems to be every prospect of the idea of tariff reform being realized in Britain.

A proposal to place barley on the free list was voted down in the House of Representatives at Washington on Wednesday. It will come up again.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA

Those members of the congregation of James Street Baptist Church who braved the elements last evening to attend the sacred cantata, "Christ the Victor," by the choir, were well repaid for their efforts. The work, as presented, proved a surprise and a delight, the choir, not only handling it with splendid interpretation, but sang with artistic intelligence, that brought forth encomiums from the audience. The work is by Dudley Buck, the master of sacred music, and is one of his latest offerings in the way of cantatas. In "Christ the Victor" there is much fine harmony, and the full choruses are powerful. No attempt has been made by the composer to introduce much dramatic work, the cantata being of the quiet style. Nevertheless, the choir fully realized the idea of the piece, and the volume of tone that Mr. Chester Walters was enabled to get from the chorists was excellent. In one or two places the attack might have been a little firmer. Mr. Walters is to be congratulated for the successful manner in which the whole work was sung. The choir of James Street Baptist may now step to the front as one of the leading choirs of the city. It is scarcely necessary to say that the cantata being of the quiet style, the choir should continue in giving forth good music. The solo work in the cantata was taken by Mrs. Chas. H. Lamson, soprano; Miss Jessie A. Coutts, soprano; Miss Annie Sutherland, contralto; Miss Georgia Stafford, contralto; Mr. S. Swartz, tenor; Mr. Roy McIntosh, baritone; Mr. Frank Hendershott, baritone, and Mr. Robert Stevenson, basso.

S. Hart, as the Virginian, and the original Trampas, Frank Campan. If you wish to spend a few hours in the heart of the cowboy country, full of thrilling adventures intermingled with comedy and pathos, go and see "The Virginian." There is no dull moment in the play; it holds the attention of the audience from the start to the finish. In its dramatized form "The Virginian" is displayed in four acts: the first at Uncle Hwey's, the second at Judge Henry's ranch, the third at the camp of the horse thieves, and the fourth in Medicine Bow, Wyoming. The opportunities afforded for stage settings are fine, and the author has succeeded in procuring scenery typical of western life. The first act opens at Uncle Hwey's with a dance and christening. "The Virginian," an invited guest, tries to become better acquainted with Molly Wood, a school teacher from New England, whom he has

Who Will Take Part in the T. M. A. Benefit at the Grand on Friday Afternoon, April 16th.

There being many soloists the work was well divided, and for that reason one could hardly judge as to the merit of the singers. Mrs. Charles Lamson, one of the city's coming sopranos, re-created a beautiful legato tone in her short recitative, while Misses Annie Sutherland, Jessie Coutts and Georgia Stafford sang well. Messrs. Simon Swartz and Roy McIntosh had the principal parts for the male solos, but Frank Hendershott and Robert Stevenson upheld their end well.

Mr. F. W. Howard presided at the organ, and played well, too. Mr. Howard gave an excellent rendition of the overture to "William Tell," by Rossini, preceding the cantata, and Miss Ella Howard played Viennese "Reverie" exquisitely.

The choir was entertained for a social hour by the Ladies' Aid Society in the school room, where light refreshments were served. Following this were speeches by Rev. J. C. Symore, William Somerville, William Barlow, F. M. Howard and Chester Walters. The choir was as follows:

Sopranos—Miss Coutts, Miss Combes, Miss Dryland, Mrs. E. D. Echlin, Miss Gerome, Miss Hammon, Mrs. F. M. Howard, Mrs. Charles H. Lamson, Misses Plain, E. Plain, Purdom, Renwick, Taylor, Townsend.

Altos—Misses Boniface, Booker, Cook, Elder, Faulkner, Gillies, Hendershott, Irwin, Presnell, Renwick, Sutherland, Stafford.

Tenors—Harry J. Allen, George Challen, Warner Howell, S. Swartz, J. Skidmore, Wm. Smith, Chester Walters, Ernest Venn.

Basses—Joseph Baxter, Frank Hendershott, Herbert Hutchison, Roy McIntosh, John Manship, Gordon Mayhew, Herbert McMichael, Robert Stevenson, G. Wallace Weese.

"WIZARD OF OZ" TO-MORROW.

"The Wizard of Oz," that most pleasing musical extravaganza, with its famous Scarecrow and Tin Man creations, charming Dorothy, mischievous Ingene, the helper, and all the others, will be at the Grand to-morrow afternoon and evening. The company embraces sixty people, and carries the original production. "The Wizard of Oz" is one of the most entertaining of musical comedies, comprising beautiful and novel scenes, unique comedy characters, and charming music. It is now in its seventh year, and bids fair to hold its popularity for several years to come. The company is headed by George Stone, who plays the famous Scarecrow character, and Wm. Baker is the Tin Man.

"THE LAND OF NOD."

Speaking of "The Land of Nod," which is being presented in Toronto this week, and comes to the Grand here on Friday of next week, the Toronto Star says: "The whole play is just one long string of songs and jokes, and they all please the audience."

Knox Wilson, as April Fool, makes a big hit with his concertina and saxophone solos, and "The Same Old Moon" sung by the Man in the Moon, gets half a dozen encores.

"Hello! A maiden shedding tears" says Man in Moon to himself. "Then me to the shed."

The Chorus Girl gives a new definition of a Welsh Rarebit. She says it's a cross between Paris green and a cheese sandwich.

"No," says she, "a chorus girl ain't a saint, but then a saint don't work like a chorus girl."

GREAT PLAY "THE VIRGINIAN."

"The Virginian," as dramatized by Owen Wister and the late Kirk La Sells, from Mr. Wister's novel of the same name, and one of the most successful dramas of western life, will be presented at the Grand on Saturday, with a company of exceptionally clever artists, including that sterling actor, W.

discerning, and with a capacity for understanding many of the little niceties of the roles that would escape a casual observer. He has assumed a wide range of parts during the many weeks he has been here, playing everything from high tragedy, to a great favorite with players of the city is attested at each performance when he is given an occasion on his first appearance. He is doing splendid work this week as the art-pupil Norton, in the beautiful English drama "As a Man Sows," but it is said his best performance will be that of Rassendyll, the dashing hero of "The Prisoner of Zenda," in which he will make his farewell appearance. The fact that it will be the last week of their wonderfully successful engagement, Mr. Selman is desirous of making it a gala presentation. Van Horn will furnish the handsome military costumes required, and Du Bois has been instructed to spare no expense as regards scenery and electrical effects. An extra matinee will be given Easter Monday. As a souvenir for the farewell week, a series of photographs of the beautiful young acting woman, Miss Rose Curry, will be given.

HIT WITH AXE.

Fight at Belleville May Have Fatal Result.

Belleville, April 7.—What may turn out another murder or manslaughter case occurred here this afternoon. About 1.30 Joseph Bolster, a well-known character, and William Babcock, a fight on Pimlico street. Both men were under the influence of liquor. Bolster claims Babcock struck him with an axe, and his condition almost proves the statement. His right jaw is broken, with a big gash, his right ear almost cut off, and both eyes closed from the blows. When brought into the Police Station, having walked there, he presented a pitiable sight. His wife appeared shortly after. The ambulance took him to the hospital. Babcock is in jail.

MENARY WON.

At the monthly meeting of the Hamilton and Westworth District Council, R. T. T. last evening, a resolution was unanimously passed endorsing the course of the Hamilton Temperance Federation in refraining from interviewing the License Commissioners, and concentrating effort on the election of temperance aldermen. The oratorical contest proved exceptionally interesting, three contestants appearing, and the winner being Robert J. Menary. All three did well indeed, but the judges were unanimous in their decision.

QUEEN FEAST OF THE YEAR.

Origin of Easter and Some of Its Customs.

To-morrow, Good Friday, commemorates the crucifixion of our Lord. In England Good Friday and Christmas are the two days when all business is suspended. With us it is also a holiday of growing importance. The name Good Friday, as it is called, is derived from things secured to us by his death. That it is a corruption of "Godde's" or "God's" Friday, is another plausible explanation for the origin of the name. It has been kept from the earliest ages, a day of the strictest fasting, abstinence and prayer. The majority of the Roman and Anglican churches and some of the other denominations have a three-hour service on that day, from 12 to 3—the hours our Saviour was on the cross, or "The Passion," as it is called.

GOOD FRIDAY CUSTOMS.

Early-day superstitions were busy with Good Friday, as they were, in fact, with all the set days. It was thought that bread baked on Good Friday was a specific for an ill. After baking it was put away and kept throughout the year. When the need arose a little was grated into water and given to the person to drink. Blessing rings on Good Friday, to be worn as a prevention of cramp, was an old custom of the Kings of England. At the ceremony was attended with much pomp and solemnity. Probably the most familiar secular custom of Good Friday in England is the cry of "Hot cross buns." All over England, particularly in London, the early morning of this day is ushered in to the well-known cry:

"One a penny bun, after baking it is changed to 'Hot cross buns' from the good. If you have no daughters, give them to your sons, but if you have none of these merry little elves, then you may keep them all English for yourselves."

No breakfast table is complete Good Friday morning without a plate of hot cross buns. As in our blizzard snow-storm, men, women and children early turned out to shovel away the snow. If you have no daughters, give them to your sons, but if you have none of these merry little elves, then you may keep them all English for yourselves."

EASTER.

After Good Friday follows Easter even, when what are called Paschal tapers are lit in the churches. The following day is the queen feast of the year in the church, in commemoration of Christ's resurrection. It is only called Easter among English and German-speaking people, after the heathen Saxon goddess Ostara. Ostara, or Easter, the goddess of the morning of spring. Among the primitive Christians this queen of feasts, as they called it, was so highly esteemed that it was solemnized fifty days successively, but as devotions abated this feast was shortened. For a long time afterward a whole week was observed as a holiday at this season. Now, although the strict church service provides for a season of eight days, popularly only Good Friday and Easter day itself are kept. The Christian festival is the successor of the Jewish Passover, and these two were identical in date in the early church.

A Chance for McCurdy.

London, April 7.—The Daily Mail offers £1,000 as a prize for the first aeroplane flight of one mile in the British Isles. The machine must be invented by a British subject and be entirely of British manufacture. The aeroplane must also be a British subject.

AT THE SAVOY.

A great deal of satisfaction is derived from being able to say a good word for Joseph Selman, of the Selman Stock Company. Mr. Selman has been the leading man at the Savoy Theatre, since the opening of the season, and his company is one of the most popular and successful organizations ever in Canada. He is painstaking and earnest, intelligent and

Mr. J. Gregson moved from the tenth concession to the house vacated by Mr. Wilkinson.

Mr. H. Organ moved into the house vacated by Mr. Gregson.

Mr. J. V. Threlker moved from Mr. J. Adamson's farm to Mrs. Allison's, on the tenth concession, and Mr. J. Adamson, who has been occupying the farm owned by Mr. W. Harbottle, Lovville, has returned to his own farm on the tenth concession.

Mrs. Edward Gastle is seriously ill with pneumonia, but is gaining a little for which her friends are very thankful.

Master Lloyd Fuster is laid up with chicken-pox; also Mary Mitchell and Olive McCartney.

Miss Winnie Cairns spent last week in Hamilton.

As this is the time for the children to color Easter eggs, it is no wonder there is so much chicken-pox around.

Summit

The death of Mr. M. Shingles occurred on Friday evening at his home here. He had been ill some months, and his death was not unexpected. He leaves to mourn his loss a widow, two sons and four daughters. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon and was conducted by the Rev. James Aude. The sympathy of the community is extended to the family.

Miss Ora Bonham, who has been quite ill, is improving.

RAILWAYPHOBIA'S END.

(From Kansas City Journal, Friday, March 12, 1909.)

It must be obvious to any reflecting mind that Judge McPherson's decision in the Missouri rate cases is the beginning of the end of the insensate and hurtful legislation that has been enacted in many States in the past two years or more. Legislation designed to force enormous reductions in freight rates, already the lowest in the world, and to substitute a 2-cent passenger rate for a 3-cent rate, in the teeth of overwhelming proof adduced in court, that not one of the great railway systems operating west of the Mississippi River was earning expenses on its trans-Mississippi passenger business at the 3-cent rate. Under the circumstances it was inevitable that the courts would find the 2-cent rate confiscatory and the wholesale reductions in freight tariffs unreasonable.

As a consequence, the courts will undo the unconstitutional work of the legislatures and State Railway Commissions as fast as the cases are heard, and the only tangible results of all this frenzied legislation will be the tremendous burden of expense bills which the taxpayers will have to bear, including not only the salaries and expenses of legislators and commissions which have wasted their time, but the physical valuation of the railways in the State to be used as a basis of establishing railway rates. The Supreme Court of the United States has plainly intimated, if not actually declared, in Judge Brewer's decision last year, that a physical valuation is not a reasonable basis for determining the fairness of a rate, but that a number of other features of the subject must be taken into consideration in reaching such a conclusion. As a matter of course it will throw out all such cases, and the physical valuation has been used according to the idea which is sought to be enforced in Kansas, and the taxpayers will pay the costs as usual.

Instead of this suicidal policy of railway phobia, which it could be enforced, would lay prostrate the prosperity and paralyze the development of the west, it would seem high time for sane and sober thought to prevail, and for the progressive business men of Missouri, Kansas and other States to get together as the Chamber of Commerce recently done, through a State federation of commercial bodies to resist the disastrous demagogues, whose only object is to secure fat political jobs and high office for themselves by playing upon the prejudices of the unthinking masses against the railroads and all great combinations of capital.

STRANGE EASTER RITES.

In no corner of this whimsical old world of ours can be found more naive traditions of Easter than those treasured in the heart of the Macedonian race on the border between Europe and Asia.

Even before the forty days' fast is quite over, the rejoicing that is to follow full-blown at Easter begins, crocuses, to push its bright way upward through the gloom of abstinence and vigil, says a writer in the "House-keeper."

Holy Thursday, radiant with red sashes from every balcony—fluttering symbols of the brightness of the spring—is the great egg-day. With the first egg dyed by the mother forms the sign of the cross upon the face and neck of her dear, we nestling, saying: "Mayest thou grow as red as this egg and strong as a stone." Then gently she places it in the hands of the child of the Virgin where it remains during the coming year—perhaps for a tender reminder to the holy image of the wish that the earthly mother has just uttered that the divine Mother may grant its fulfillment.

At 12 o'clock Easter Even a midnight mass is celebrated. The gospel is read in the churchyard "beneath the silent stars." There follows the joyous hymn

Collided With Steamer Off the Coast of Kent.

London, April 7.—The British torpedo-boat destroyer Blackwater was sunk at midnight last night off Dungeness as a result of a collision with the steamer Hero. The crew of the Blackwater was saved. The Hero had her bows stove in.

The Blackwater had a displacement of 550 tons and was 225 feet long. She had a complement of 70 men and was capable of steaming 25 knots an hour.

House With a Wrong Tablet.

A curious example of the mistakes of history comes from Paris. For more than half a century a house of the Quai Conti has borne on the front a tablet with this inscription: "Historic Memorial. In 1783 the Emperor Napoleon Bonaparte, officer of artillery, on leaving the school of Brienne, lived at this house in the fifth story." Then follows that the tablet was placed in position by his Majesty Napoleon III. on October 14, 1858.

After this great length of time it has been discovered that Napoleon never lived in the house, so the tablet has been removed. Only another instance of how our most cherished beliefs are shattered. —London Globe.

MONEY LOST.

Package Containing a Thousand Dollars Missing From Wreck.

Brandon, April 7.—Several weeks ago the C. P. R. express was wrecked on the Estevan branch of the C. P. R., and the baggage and mail cars were smashed badly. After the wreckage was cleared away the mail matter was transferred, and between that time and the arrival of the train at Napinka a package of money, containing between one and three thousand dollars, consigned from a bank in Osborne to the head office in Winnipeg, disappeared.

When the bag was taken off at Papinka it was found that the registered sack had a hole in it, but it is impossible to say whether it was cut during the wreck or afterwards. The express company officials and the postoffice inspector are conducting a rigid inquiry, but so far have found no trace of it.

TO ENTER WINNIPEG.

J. J. Hill's Road Will be There by September, He Says.

Winnipeg, April 7.—The Great Northern Railway filed plans for its entry into this city, and President Hill to-day made a positive declaration that his road would run into Winnipeg by September 1 next. "This is one of the most important commercial incidents that could well be imagined, if the new line affords competition, which now is lacking under the joint freight arrangements. Many big firms will save thousands of dollars, provided the Great Northern will give through rates from the east on the same basis as now prevails to St. Paul."

Kingston, April 7.—Judge Hodgins, of the Admiralty Court, who has for the past three days been hearing evidence in the case of the Lake Ontario & Bay of Quinte Navigation Company vs. Mrs. Mary Wilder Fulford, of Brockville, for damages over the collision of her yacht with the Caspian in Kingston harbor last August, reserved judgment. The case closed this afternoon.

A NATION THAT ADVERTISES.

The London Telegraph Refers to Canada's Methods.

London, April 7.—Referring to the Prince of Wales' advice to England to advertise, the Telegraph takes Canada as an instance, "which is a nation that is being built up largely by a unique method of using advertisements to promote the political and economic interests of the State. Canada is getting people because she has adopted every means to spread the knowledge of her capacities."

COAL IN EASTERN ONTARIO.

Ridge Runs Through the Township of Emly, Said to Carry Coal.

Omemee, April 7.—Coal has been found on the farm of Mr. George J. Winn, 38th concession of Emly Township, and as a result there is considerable excitement in the community. Mr. Winn noticed a strata of what looked like dark rock protruding from the earth on a path along a ridge of land running through his farm. The formation strongly resembled coal, and pieces of it, when placed on a fire, burned, leaving cinders similar to those produced by coal.

THREE-FIFTHS CLAUSE STANDS

Some Conservatives Voted Against the Government.

Liberals Score Again—Hon. Mr. Mackay's Speech.

I. B. Lucas' Intention to Vote Against Government.

Toronto, April 8.—The Provincial Government is beginning to realize the embarrassment of great riches. On two successive divisions, on two successive nights, the Administration has witnessed the spectacle of a "bolt" from within its ranks on votes carrying with them the import of want of confidence resolutions.

Following the defection of the two Conservatives from Kent on the question of the land grant to the Canadian Northern Railway on Tuesday, the division on the three-fifths local option clause at 11 o'clock last night gave the Liberal minority another occasion for a prolonged period of desk-thumping and shouting. Mr. I. B. Lucas (Centre Grey), Chairman of the Private Bills Committee and high in the councils of the Government party, was paired with Hon. Adam Beck, Mr. W. D. McPherson (West Toronto) was balanced against another Government follower in the person of Mr. A. A. Mahaffy, and Mr. J. S. Gallagher (Frontenac) and Mr. J. Thompson (East Peterboro') recorded their votes with the Opposition, and Mr. R. E. Trux (South Bruce) voted with the Government. The Clerk announced the result at 69 to 18, a Government majority of 51.

The House went into committee on the Premier's bill to grant land to the Canadian Northern for its Sell-Work-Fort-William extension. Mr. Sam Clarke (West Northumberland) wanted to know why the Legislature could not fix at once the price at which the company should dispose of the lands granted to the settler. Sir James Whitney explained that at the present time no one could accurately assess the value.

"That's just the point," observed the Opposition leader. "The Premier has confessed that the Government doesn't know the value; therefore we don't know what we're giving." (Liberal applause.)

FOR TWO-CENT FARES.

Mr. Valentine Stock (South Perth), in a thoughtful address, pointed out that some effort should be made, if at all possible, in the agreement with the Canadian Northern to regulate rates. He submitted the following amendment:

"The passenger rate upon the said railway within the Province of Ontario shall not exceed at any time two cents per mile, and the freight rates of intending settlers along the said line of railway shall not exceed one-half of the ordinary rates."

Sir James Whitney moved, seconded by Mr. Foy, that "all questions of rates should be settled by order in Council with reference to specific distances and routes and with reference to connecting lines." It was impossible to say, he contended, on a transcontinental road what the rates should be here and there.

DOMINION CONTROL.

Hon. A. G. MacKay—The point which comes to mind is the question of the jurisdiction of the Dominion Railway Commission. Dominion charter, Dominion road and Dominion jurisdiction is the rule. It does seem to me that if a through road is subject to the control of the Dominion Board it would be ridiculous to put the amendment in the bill.

Mr. Sam Clarke (Northumberland)—But we can make an agreement with the company.

The Premier—I suggest that the amendment is out of order.

Mr. Ross (Middlesex)—Surely we can make an agreement as to the controlling of certain rates.

Hon. Mr. MacKay—We can make certain things conditional upon the receiving of the grant and enter into an agreement outside the bill.

The Premier—If he inserted this in the bill it is just possible that the Dominion Railway Board would tear it out by a decision.

The chairman (Mr. I. B. Lucas)—In view of the expression of opinion from both sides of the House I rule both amendments out of order.

Mr. Stock—I am willing to leave it to the Railway Commission to tear out. In the meantime I have done my duty. Five years ago a resolution was debated in this House that no land grant should be made to any railway unless a two-cent rate was given.

OBJECTED TO LAND GRANTS.

The bill was reported, as were the other railway bills, to the Bruce Mines & Algoma Railway Company and the Central Ontario Railway Company, to which cash subsidies of $3,000 a mile are to be granted, and to the Bruce Mines & Algoma Railway, six miles, and the Lac Seul, twenty miles, Kenora & Kenora Railway, twenty miles, to which 1,000 acres per mile is to be given as a land grant. Hon. Mr. MacKay took exception to the proposal. He contended that for such short lines the Government should not mix up money and land grants. If a subsidy were to be granted it would be better to give cash only and keep the land.

THE THREE-FIFTHS CLAUSE.

In moving the second reading of his bill to amend the liquor license act by repealing the three-fifths local option clause, Mr. Proudfoot traced the history of the clause and its working since its inception. The sole defence for it, so far as he had been able to learn, was that a large predominance of public sentiment was necessary to the successful enforcement of local option. The three-fifths clause was not, Mr. Proudfoot maintained, an issue in the late general election, because the Government had held that they were not wedded to the clause. The true test was the character of the vote taken in districts where local option had been adopted, and where the law was again submitted. Almost invariably the majority increased.

"There is," declared Mr. Proudfoot, "enough temperance sentiment in this country to enable doing away with this unfair clause."

THE MINISTER'S REPLY.

Hon. Mr. Hanna, in reply, said the three-fifths clause was a main issue in the campaign in his riding of West

Lambton. But that clause was a small matter compared with the faithful administration of the liquor license law which the Government had given. For that reason certain gentlemen were unable to complete an alliance with the temperance party against himself. He contended that if there had been any change of public opinion it was in favor of the three-fifths clause. Even from among the ranks of the Dominion Alliance itself men had come to him urging that it should be retained. Mr. Hanna again drew attention to the statement made by Mr. Asquith in the British House of Commons, declaring that it was the intention of the Government in the old country should be carried out by a bare majority vote. In Ontario it was the three-fifths clause which had made for permanency for local option more than anything else, coupled with enforcement of the law. If the Government would in Ontario in 1909 or half a dozen Oven Sounds, he ventured to say that local option would not have been the respectable thing it was, and there would have been a very different result to that recorded at the polls last January.

Hon. Mr. Hanna concluded by advising the Liberals not to take the three-fifths clause as a plank in their platform. "It is not planks they want," declared the Minister, "it is life-preservers."

Mr. J. C. Elliott said of the Provincial Secretary that a good lawyer had been spotted to make brief politician. The Minister's speech had impressed him as looking not for the best interests of the Province, but for the best results on election day.

MR. LUCAS' INTENTIONS.

Mr. I. B. Lucas (Centre Grey) recalled that a year ago he had expressed himself as being personally in favor of the abolition of the three-fifths clause, but with the Government because they were then face to face with a general election, and any other action on his part might have been regarded as a vote of want of confidence in the Government. During the campaign he had expressed similar opinions, but he would not vote for the abolition of the clause. That he intended to do, although he regretted the attempt on the part of the Liberal party to build a platform on such a slim foundation.

Mr. C. E. McKeown (Dufferin) proclaimed himself a strong temperance man and a life-long abstainer. Personally he was opposed to the three-fifths clause, but when it was used to vote lack of confidence in the Government he stood by the Government.

Mr. James McEwing (West Wellington) argued that the position taken by the Opposition was one of principle, not of politics.

Captain Machin (Kenora) commended the license administration of the north (Hastings) followed briefly. Mr. Sam Clarke (Northumberland) took exception to the attack on the Liberal party for making the temperance question a plank of their policy. It was, he said, the Liberal party which had given the Province the right of temperance legislation, but they had not taken from the people the right of majority rule. Mr. Clarke was followed briefly by Messrs. A. H. Musgrove and Allan Studholme.

THE LIBERAL LEADER.

Hon. A. G. MacKay, in a vigorous concluding address, repudiated any allegation of making a party football of a great and serious moral question. The Liberal leader explained that he did not oppose local option because he thought people should determine all such questions for themselves—but he did not understand the moral or mental makeup of a man who urged the taking of a local option vote where he recognized that there was no opportunity of its principles being endorsed by Mr. MacKay. He instanced as samples of sound temperance legislation which the Liberal party had advanced during the past two years the principles of the present bill and those of that measure prohibiting a license commissioner from entering into business contracts with the licensee, over whom they held a whip hand, which had been voted down by the present Government.

"The success of local option," declared the Liberal leader, "is not dependent upon the percentage of the vote by which it is carried. The efficiency of the act depends ever upon its enforcement." (Liberal applause.)

The principle upon which the Liberals stood, their leader concluded, was the fundamental municipal principle of democracy, that a majority shall rule.

THE PREMIER'S VIEW.

The Premier, speaking in the darkness, alluded to Mr. Proudfoot's intention to bring in a resolution to abolish the bar. "But," he added, "Peter the Hermit had 'petered' out into the three-fifths clause." Sir James alluded to the various measures and departments of life which a license commissioner was required to administer, he said, that the Government referred to British precedent was because it was said that the three-fifths majority was un-British in its principle.

MR. PROUDFOOT CLOSURE DEBATE.

Mr. Proudfoot concluded the debate. He pointed out that the Premier had misquoted him farther than the three-fifths clause. He had not declared his intention of bringing in a temperance measure, but had declared his readiness to support such a measure, no matter from what party it came.

"I had been directing the Liberal party at the last election I would be gone much farther than the three-fifths clause," declared Mr. Proudfoot. "I am prepared to join with the Conservative party on an abolish-the-bar platform if they dare go that far. To my mind such a policy is the one to best grapple with the evils of which I have spoken, and I am personally prepared to support it, no matter from what party it comes. This is not a party issue—at least it should not be. It is a great moral problem, and public men should take it seriously and seek honestly to solve it."

The vote was taken at the conclusion of Mr. Proudfoot's address.

Following the division the House went into committee on the statutory law amendment and the law reform measures. Adjournment took place at 11.15. The House will resume at 11 o'clock this morning in order to finish the business of the session by to-night.

Saturday Last Day.

We would impress upon the men of Hamilton that the last day of Treble's spring hat sale is on Saturday.

You have again set before you the exceptional advantages offered you to buy the very latest $2.50 hat for $1.99, and five dozen for the early birds at $1.50.

Treble's hats are known throughout the length of Canada for their fit and quality, so don't miss this exceptional opportunity.

COMPARTMENT MAUSOLEUM.

Local Company Proposes to Build One at Cemetery

And Has Applied For Land in an Unsurveyed Portion.

Promoters Lay the Proposition Before the Cemetery Board.

A special meeting of the Cemetery Board was held last evening at the City Hall to hear explanations from members of a new company being formed here with a view to building a compartment mausoleum. W. S. McBryne, solicitor of the proposed company, and Messrs. Curtis, of Toledo, Ohio, C. D. Blachford and S. McPhee, were present to explain the aims and objects of the new company. Their outline of a compartment mausoleum, such as many cities in the States are using, brought before the Board something that, they believe, has been long needed, and which will prove a boon to the people of Hamilton. The cost of a compartment mausoleum, including a burial and headstone, can be obtained. The mausoleum will be a thing of beauty inside and out, if it is built here, and it met with the general approval of the members of the Board who were present, but there is a provision in the local by-laws which will have to be considered. If the City Council or the Cemetery Board decide that the new company is buying lots in the cemetery on speculation the scheme is done for, as there is a clause in the cemetery by-law making this illegal. If the removal of the property to build a mausoleum is not looked on in this sense then Hamilton will have the first building of this kind to be erected in this country, and the promoters say it will be without doubt one of the best on the continent. It will be of the very best material, style and workmanship, and will be a forward move toward preventing competition in the cemetery.

Mr. McBryne stated that he wanted to explain just what the proposed scheme called for. It was for a mausoleum on a large scale. He and the other gentlemen of the company present had gone to the States to look over several of the mausoleums erected and in course of construction. They got the ideas, patented them in this country and were ready to make a start by building the first mausoleum in this city. Mr. McPhee had elaborate plans of the proposed building and photos of those in use in the States. He stated that the outer part of the building would be of reinforced concrete. The mausoleum would have a frontage of 150 feet and a depth of 75 feet, and around this a small space for shrubbery and grass plots. A site had been picked out in the cemetery which was not surveyed yet and which would likely suit the Board and the promoters. The mausoleum would be lined with a fine material, marble, granite or other fine stone, and would contain about 500 crypts, which would cost between $100 and $150 each. Family compartments with twelve, more or less, crypts, would also be sold, and separate grill work erected in front of them. The crypts would be on each side of a long hallway leading from the door to the crypts, and there would also be a chapel in the place. The idea in vogue in most of the mausoleums of this type was to have elaborate epigraphs and quotations, and have a uniform carving on the headstone, which would be simplicity itself.

For the cemetery, building a perpetual care fund would be turned over to trustees, but the construction proposed for the new building would not necessitate any great expenditure for upkeep, as it was to last almost eternally. The chapel in the building was explained as being entirely new, but the component thought it was almost a necessity and would justify the expenditure required by its usefulness. Mr. McBryne said the mausoleum was no novelty or experiment. Burial in catacombs had been tried before the Christian era. The whole novelty in the thing was the modern methods of working the ancient idea. When the crypts had all been sold out the scheme was to turn the mausoleum over to the cemetery as an asset, but to turn its government over to the people who had crypts in it and who would elect their own officers to look after their interests. The perpetual care fund being handed to them or the cemetery board in trust. "We are not philanthropists, though," said Mr. McBryne. "We expect to make money out of this and build many throughout the country."

Mr. Fearman, Chairman of the Board, mentioned the clause in the cemetery rules which provided that no lots can be built for profit, and said it was a question if this new scheme could get past this clause.

Mr. McBryne said that the company didn't want the funds, but merely wanted to build the mausoleum for the cemetery, but the money from the sale of crypts and all business in connection with it was to be left to the company.

Mr. Stewart McPhee explained his plan of the proposed building and said that as far as the idea had been dealt with it was decided to put up something more elaborate and of a better kind than had ever been erected before. He explained the construction of the mausoleum in detail, which was satisfactory in every respect. The crypts would be all separate and air tight, and pipes leading to each one and thence to quick lime receptacles and formaldehyde tanks to take care of any gases or moisture generated.

Mr. Blachford was pleased with what he had seen of the mausoleum, he said, and thought it was the very thing for this city. He explained several practical details. Mr. Curtis said that the mausoleum was an economizer of space and was something that the city could be proud of into the bargain. He had no fears for the opinion of the citizens when they saw the mausoleum or the prospect of the company. The gentlemen then retired to leave the board to consider the matter. Owing to the remarks of Mr. Fearman, it was decided, on motion of Messrs. Armstrong and Daly, to lay the matter over till the next meeting, a week from last night, and ask City Solicitor Waddell on the meantime to prepare an opinion on this point and any others which might affect the deal.

The members of the board expressed themselves individually as in favor of the idea, and it is likely the lots will be sold to the new company, if it is legal. W. D. Daly said that he was sure the company would lose money, but that the mausoleum would make an illustration of enterprise, "and we

To Pay for Australia's Defence, Says Mr. Deakin.

Sydney, April 7.—West Australia will join Victoria and West South Wales in offering a Dreadnought to Britain. Speaking at a large meeting to-day, Mr. Deakin said that, having regard to Australia's isolation, no price was too great to pay for defence. They should stand up beside New Zealand. (Prolonged cheering.) The Commonwealth must pay its share to prove the unity of the empire. Mr. Deakin predicted a deficit of £500,000 in the budget and the impossibility of paying old-age pensions without borrowing.

Mr. Fisher, the Premier, has declined to call the Federal Parliament at an early date to discuss the question of the offer of a Dreadnought by the Commonwealth.

ROYAL ASSENT.

Parliament Adjourns For the Easter Recess.

Dr. Sproule Anxious About W. L. M. King.

Ottawa, April 7.—Parliament closed the first volume of its sessional work this afternoon when a long list—thirty-eight bills, including one providing for supply to amount of over $48,000,000—received royal assent at the hands of the Deputy Governor-General in the Senate.

The House of Commons met at 4.15, and twenty minutes later received the summons of Black Rod to proceed to the Senate Chamber. The interval of waiting was filled in by a series of questions, some of them of a facetious character.

Dr. Sproule inquired as to the whereabouts of the prospective Minister of Labour. Had he been taken possession of by the Mikado?

Hon. Mr. Lemieux presumed that Dr. Sproule was referring to Mr. Mackenzie King. Mr. King had attended the sittings of the International Commission appointed to consider the suppression of the opium trade. The sittings were now at an end, and Mr. King was at present in Pekin. He would sail for home very soon, and report to Parliament. From what the department knew the commission had been highly successful, and there was every hope that the opium trade would be regulated in such a way that within a few years it would be completely suppressed in the far east. The limit allowed by the legislation passed last year had now expired and it was satisfactory to know that Canada was in the position of being the first country to stamp out the drug, except when used for purely medicinal purposes, were now Dr. Sproule—I was wondering whether Mr. Mackenzie King had fallen under the hypnotic influence of the drug.

Hon. Mr. Lemieux—Mr. King was never under hypnotic influence. The last election proved that.

All the members of the household were released to-night, as there was nothing to prove foul play.

Gossip and Comment

The wrestling hater of the Toronto Telegram is getting stronger. He almost threw a fit yesterday.

Have you got a sleeper for the King's Plate?

Much regret will be felt in local sporting circles over the untimely death during the past twenty-four hours of Jack Jamieson, the wrestler, all-around football player, and of Billy (Reddy) Smith, the boxer, both of whom had many admirers for their cleverness.

The Buffalo Express to-day publishes a challenge from Willie McMichael to Carl Russell for a two-mile race on roller skates. It is signed by McMichael's manager.

New York Herald: Bounding into the Herald office last night as lightly as a school boy on a holiday, Henri St. Yves, winner of the greatest Marathon ever contested in this country, furnished sound proof of his physical fitness. St. Yves was accompanied by "Al" Capland, his trainer, who had prepared a schedule for Saturday's race, which St. Yves followed throughout.

Rosy-cheeked and clear-eyed, St. Yves gave no evidence of having been put to a severe test of stamina and speed. The new Marathon wonder declares that he never was a waster, as reported, but that his occupation in France was that of chauffeur with the Renault Automobile Manufacturing.

Gov. Hughes has chased horse-racing to Mexico and Canada, and is now turning his attention to prize-fighting. When he gets rid of that, as he undoubtedly will, the Marathon must claim his attention, especially since there have been some well-contested bouts that the last Derby was fixed. New York will be a nice place to live in after a while.

BOXING TOURNEY IN DRILL HALL.

The athletic committee of the Army Medical Corps at a meeting held last night decided to hold an amateur boxing and wrestling tournament in the Drill Hall on April 23rd and 24th. The C. A. A. U. has granted a sanction for the tournament to Billy Carroll, with the great many boxers and wrestlers connected with the different regiments, a large list of entries is assured. The bouts will be for the city championship and will be open to all amateur boxers and wrestlers. Although the committee has been working on the scheme for only a week, it has been assured of the hearty support of the various athletic clubs in the city, and several Toronto boxers have promised to compete. Entry blanks will be ready to-morrow and can be obtained from Billy Carroll, with whom the entries will close on Wednesday, April 21st.

Part Your Hair in Middle.

"It will soon be the fashion again to wear the hair parted in the middle," said the boss barber in a down town shop, according to the Philadelphia Record. "For a good many years the style has been dictating a side part, but now the middle is winning its way back. Leading actors, I guess, are the cause of the change, although I am not sure of that point. Nevertheless, I notice that a great many stars part their hair in the middle. At any rate, we are getting a number of requests from young chaps to train their hair for a middle part, so I guess it is coming, all right. Only a year or so ago I can well remember that we used to consider a sissy and rather made fun of him. The well-groomed man during this period brushed his side part very much, but I fear that it is fated to go the journey when the parted-in-the-middle style gets popular. Another style that bids fair to be revived in the face of all this prize-fight talk of Jeffries and Jack Johnson getting together is the one-time famous pompadour, made famous by Jim Corbett—'Pompadour Jim,' they used to call him. However, that's further in the future than the part in the middle, which I think will be the rage in the very near future."

SANDY FERGUSON WINS ON FOUL.

Boston, April 8.—Sandy Ferguson, of Chelsea, won on a foul from Jim Barry, of Chicago, in the tenth round of their fight last night. The affair was a bout here, neither man showing science, poor one, neither man showing science. Barry sank some hard rights into Ferguson's body and whipped the left to the face wickedly on several occasions. The Chelsea man sent in several hard rights to Barry's jaw. In the second round Barry caught his opponent off his balance and knocked him completely through the ropes with a left hook to the neck.

JOHNSON AND KAUFMAN.

New York, April 8.—Unless Jack Johnson deliberately flunks, as he did in the match with Sam Langford, arranged for May 24 in London, he will probably be matched with either Al Kaufman or Stanley Ketchel for a battle of 45 rounds, to be decided at Colma, Cal., some time next summer. Johnson, having been completely ignored by the announcement that, as Kaufman had covered his $5,000 forfeit, the latter was in line for a bout. Johnson said that he intended to sail for England in about two weeks to fill some music hall engagements, but under no circumstances would he indulge in a fight with Langford for the reason given by the champion, that Langford is a middleweight, and must get into the heavyweight class before he is entitled to a match.

ON THE SUBJECT OF THE PRESENT LIFE OF JEM MACE, THE VETERAN PUGILIST, IN ENGLAND, A WRITER IN THE NEW YORK WORLD SAYS:

A reporter inquiring recently for the veteran was referred to a tavern in Islington—that decaying remnant of disappearing old London, where the old traditions still flicker. There, in the sawdusted parlor of the Bluecoat Boy, the old warrior may often be heard modestly recounting his exploits to a respectfully listening group.

Mace was not at the Bluecoat, however, as it is familiarly known, but pertinent information concerning his merits was to be obtained. A tall old gentleman of forcible manner in a wig hat introduced himself as "Jem's business manager." There was another friend who had been middleweight champion of England himself in days gone by and another who was also a champion, but the distinction of having hospitably entertained the veteran in recent emergencies.

The Blinnett was unanimously of the opinion that, despite the number of his birthdays, it was not old age that the old fighting man was suffering from. It was the world that had grown old and lost its youthful interest in fighting, and not Jem Mace.

Later on Mr. Mace himself was encountered. He had been taking his evening meal in the family circle of some professional friends in Cleary's road, was cleaning up his plate with what was left of the loaf of bread. A lithe, erect, handsome old man still, with fine eyes and wavy gray hair above a good forehead and strong, well-formed features.

"Since I lost my wife," he said, "punching has gone right. I always wanted a master," he added, "and since she died I have had nobody to tell me."

On the back of each hand below the wrist there is a big, bony swelling. Asked what caused that, he said: "Punching did that—punching men."

"Punching more than 500 of them. My memory is going, and I can't remember all their names. More than 500 I have battled with, and beat them all."

"And were you never beaten, then?" "Two of them beat me. Bob Brettle beat me and Tom King beat me, but they were accidents, and in other battles I beat both of them. I was a bit carried away, and beat them all."

"And you were never beaten, then?" "Two of them beat me. Bob Brettle beat me and Tom King beat me, but they were accidents, and in other battles I beat both of them. I was a bit carried away, and beat them all."

Henry Butt, of Wallcose Villa, West-Super-Mare, England, the English sportsman who took such a keen interest in the touring Canadian trap-shooters that he donated gold medals to the Parkdale Gun Club, is to the front with a trophy for lawn bowling.

A letter to George Anderson, of Toronto, explains the conditions of the gift. The cup is to be a perpetual challenge trophy for teams representing the Dominion, Western and Ontario Bowling Associations.

The letter in part is as follows: "The visit of the Canadian Bowlers to Great Britain last year enabled us to realize more fully the type of men who are our Empire-builders beyond the seas, and allowed us to grip the hand of those sturdy Britons who are doing so much for the ultimate good of our nation.

Tours such as these enabled Britisheers to create friendships of a long and pleasing nature, and to realize how much our colonies are doing for the mother country, and although we are a slow and somewhat indifferently people, we are beginning to see the value and importance of these rising nations who are adding lustre to the British Empire.

On the two occasions we have had the honor and privilege of playing with the Canadian bowlers we have found each member of the team such a truly sterling and patriotic member of the Empire.

I propose that the trophy shall be called "The Victoria Loving Cup"—in memory of our late good Queen Victoria—and also, after the name of the club on whose green you have on two occasions done us the honor of playing.

Empire, that I am desirous of giving you for competition a tangible token of an Englishman's esteem, by presenting to the Dominion, Ontario and Western Lawn Bowling Associations a perpetual trophy for matches between clubs in the two associations, a chased silver loving cup. This will serve as an expression of my regard for the Canadians I have met on this side of the water and of my gratitude for the kindness, consideration and hearty good fellowship which I have always experienced when travelling in the land of the Maple Leaf, and also as a little souvenir of your visit to West-Super-Mare. It will remind you that, although your visit has long since passed by, our esteem and regard for our colonial kinsmen still remains as warm as ever, and that we desire it to be known that although divided by thousands of miles of water space, you are as near to us to-day as when playing on the greens of the Victoria Bowling Club of West-Super-Mare months and months ago.

The conditions of the competition I leave entirely in the hands of yourself, Dr. Russell, of Hamilton, and my friend, W. H. Kelson, of Montreal. Whatever regulations you make will be quite satisfactory to myself.

I propose that the trophy shall be called "The Victoria Loving Cup"—in memory of our late good Queen Victoria—and also, after the name of the club on whose green you have on two occasions done us the honor of playing.

YESTERDAY'S GREAT GALE.

Immense Damage Done All Over the Province.

London School Children Hurt—Other Schools Struck.

Several People Hurt—The Storm in Toronto.

Toronto, April 8.—Attaining a velocity at its greatest height of sixty-six miles an hour, a terrific wind storm blew through Toronto yesterday and was responsible for an uncounted measure of excitement, especially on the downtown streets. It originated in the south-western States and blew into Ontario across Lake Michigan, accompanied by numerous thunderstorms, but the province got the benefit of only a few light showers. It sounded like the stiffest breeze on record, but at the Observatory it was stated that more violent wind storms have been known locally, although not for some years. The highest velocity reached by the wind was 66 miles an hour, off the eastern entrance to the harbor. Citizens were inconvenienced in many forms, chiefly by the stopping of the street cars several times during the day, and the temporary cessation of work in industrial establishments, the trouble being due to the havoc created by the storm at Niagara Falls or somewhere in that vicinity, and the consequent interference with the power wires.

With the stopping of the cars last night the electric lights went out on the streets and in the stores and places of amusement. Candles were brought into play at the Princess and other theatres, but after five minutes' delay the lights were going again and the plays proceeded.

The fearful force of the storm in the city and vicinity showed itself in a variety of incidents. One of the huge can-boys off the Hospital for Sick Children at the Island dragged its mushroom anchor 600 feet. The steamers Lakeside and Macassa came in at the usual time in the morning from Port Dalhousie and Hamilton, respectively, but their captains were advised by the harbor officials not to make the return journey. The water at the western gap is just about two feet lower than at this time last year, otherwise great damage might have been wrought. The wind tore away portions of the roof of the I. and O. oval grandstand, and a small part of the roof of the Armories. Two frame houses on Lakeview avenue, near Fairbank, in the county, were partly demolished by the force of the wind. One of the houses had the roof on and the other had been erected as far as the first story. The nearly-completed house was blown from its foundations, and will have to be rebuilt. The joists and beams of the other structure were scattered around on all sides.

Miss Olive Henderson, 9 Dale avenue, was struck by a falling sign-board, blown from its fastenings by the wind, while walking along Albert street at noon, receiving a slight scalp wound.

Stephen Dohoney, aged 50 years, of 150 Seaton street, was taken in the ambulance to St. Michael's Hospital last night, suffering from a broken ankle. Dohoney was about to enter his home when a gust of wind struck him, causing him to lose his balance. In falling he twisted and fractured his left ankle.

CHILDREN HURT.

Particulars of the Disaster to a London School.

London, April 7.—The gale that struck London today was one of the worst in the history of the city. The velocity of the wind as taken at the local observatory was several miles an hour. This was accompanied by a drop in the temperature of 12-15 degrees, the temperature at 8 o'clock this morning being 50 above and at noon 37-42. The damage is roughly estimated at $50,000, but is likely to reach higher figures. The most serious damage was the falling of the chimney of the Aberdeen School, the fragments of which crashed through the roof, injuring six children, several of them seriously. The most seriously hurt are: Mamie Leburts, 4 Inkerman street; Jack McNeil, 537 Simcoe street; Mabel McNeil, 241 William street; Ila Mottishaw, 514 Horton street; Harry Weinstein, 66 Maitland street, and Henry Shiley, 505 Hill street.

The disaster occurred at 11:30 a. m., when the children were busy at their lessons. Miss Munro was at the blackboard when the crash came. Miss Munro heard the ceiling crack, and shouted, "Run for your lives, children." They made for the doorway with great speed, but the tons of brick and debris caught six of them. The rest of the children hurried on and reached the corridor in safety. The awful crash alarmed the other rooms, and they fled out as if they were going through fire. There was no disorder, no confusion. Principal McRoberts sent in an alarm to the fire department and called the ambulance. The fire department were on their way from the Globe Casket Company and the work of rescue was carried on. Considerable damage was done in other parts of the city. About $1,000 damage was done to St. Mary's Church steeple, when four small spires on the top of the steeple were hurled to the ground, smashing in the stone stairway and ripping part of the gable out. At the C. P. R. roundhouse four of the smokestacks were thrown to the ground by the terrible wind. One of the stacks went right through the roof and landed on top of a locomotive that was awaiting repairs in the shop. The brick chimney on St. Matthew's (Anglican) Church fell, part of it crashing through the roof of the church. At the Canada Furniture Company a large chimney fell, breaking through the roof into the plate and engine rooms, doing considerable damage, but no one was hurt.

The London brass works also suffered the loss of a large chimney, while a galvanized iron shed near their building was blown down. Hobbs' glass works was damaged to the extent of about $2,000 by the large brick chimney being blown down. The boiler room is badly wrecked, as well as the planning room, and many employees narrowly escaped injury. Mr. George Hyatt had his leg broken at noon by being blown from the top of a car of lumber which he was unloading. A new frame house being erected at the corner of Pine and Elm streets was practically demolished. The wind blew over a fence at Policeman Taylor's residence, Piccadilly street. The fence, in falling, struck his four-year-old boy, breaking his leg.

ANOTHER SCHOOL COLLAPSES.—Chatham, April 7.—Upwards of thirty pupils at the Chatham School, Chatham Township, narrowly escaped being crushed beneath brick wall and ceiling, which gave way before the furious gale this morning. The pupils were studying when one, Clifford Baker, cried out that the wall was going to fall down. The teacher, Miss Mattie McLaughlin, instantly saw the danger, but to prevent a panic laughingly said that she would let the children out for five minutes to recover from their scare. The children were barely outside, some without hats, when the wall and ceiling collapsed.

ROOF BLOWN OFF A CAR.—St. Thomas, April 7.—The roof of a freight car blown off while a train was passing over the big Michigan Central bridge, and Brakeman A. T. Garrod, of St. Thomas, who was on top of the car, was carried with the flying roof. It fell, however, on the bridge just at the edge and did not go over. Garrod was badly injured and was removed to the hospital.

Another miraculous escape was that of Ernest Woodruff, employed in the Port Maitland Railway shops. He was crossing the company's bridge which spans Kettle Creek east, riding his bicycle, on his way home to dinner. He was blown off the bridge. He caught in the telegraph wires running a few feet below the side of the bridge, and managed to jump to the under supports of the bridge, getting down to the ground with slight injuries.

A large brick chimney at the Balclutha Street School fell, crashing through the roof into a class room below. This incident occurred while the pupils were at dinner about 12:30, otherwise several might have met death.

AT BRANTFORD.—Brantford and district suffered considerably from the storm. The roof was blown off the Baptist church in Holmdale district. The roof of an old soap factory was torn off. Ham & Scott's smoke stack was blown down. Part of the metal roof of the Barber-Elis company was destroyed. The Canadian Order of Foresters' brick wall at the head offices was demolished. Richter's barn, Terrace Hill, was turned completely over, while the roofs of other barns were blown off. Trees were either broken or torn up by the roots. Many windows were smashed, including some plate glass in the business district. Chimneys fell in all parts. High tension wires put the street railway and electric light companies out of business for a time. Telegraph wires were down.

Two accidents, one fatal, were reported. Alfred Cox, jeweler, was struck in the face with a slate blown from a roof at Colborne street and both lips were badly cut.

AT THE FALLS.—Niagara Falls, April 7.—A storm of unusual severity struck this city today, causing considerable damage to property. The wind at one time attained a velocity of seventy-five miles an hour. Roofs were torn off, great trees uprooted, telegraph poles leveled, plate glass windows shattered, and dozens of chimneys fell before the fury of the storm. About 300 trees were uprooted in the Reservation Park, and it was closed to the public. The roof of the Niagara Falls Cannery factory was blown off, and carried a distance of 250 yards, striking upon the roof of the shredded wheat factory. The roofs of the American Cyanide Company and the Loretto Convent were damaged. The smokestacks of the Grand Trunk round house were blown down, and a large portion of the roof ripped up. Along the river road the trees were uprooted, falling on nearby houses, damaging them. Damage in this section is estimated at over $10,000.

FIRE HALL TOWER BLOWN DOWN.—St. Catharines, April 7.—Metallic roofs were torn from the Standard office and Coy Bros' hardware store as though they were sheets of paper. A section of the B. M. E. Church on Geneva street was blown in. The top story of the W. H. and House also suffered to a considerable extent. A valuable house being constructed by Mr. Thomas Irvine, on Ontario street, was blown over, and the barns which met a similar fate are too numerous to mention. Probably the greatest damage occurred to the central fire station, the high tower for drying hose being completely overturned, causing some loss to John Carlson's blacksmith shop, upon which it fell.

Chief Early, noticing that the tower was swaying, had the horses, harness and trucks removed. No sooner were they out of the station than the tower toppled over with a mighty crash. The gymnasium and skating rink lost its large roof. Glass was broken in many windows throughout every section. The city was without car connection with Niagara Falls, Port Dalhousie, Welland, Merritt and Thorold all afternoon, but about 8 o'clock the power returned and traffic was resumed.

At Port Dalhousie some sixty feet of the roof of the warehouse of the Maple Leaf Rubber Factory was torn off, portions of it being carried hundreds of feet across the old canal. A large portion of the covering of the main factory was also carried away, and a portion of the wall was broken in by a large scantling striking it. Almost all the windows and eashes were broken. A portion of the iron away.

No less severe was the storm at Merritt, where three chimneys were torn from the Town Hall, a portion of the roof also being carried away. Chimneys were also taken from the Methodist Church, St. James' Church and the Catholic school. The loss at the wheel works alone will exceed $500. From the wheel works to the lower limit of the village there were twenty-seven chimneys destroyed, and in the southern end there were more than forty chimneys destroyed.

At Thorold there was not so much destruction, but the loss of chimneys, fences and the breaking of glass was quite as heavy as elsewhere throughout the district.

AT PORT COLBORNE.—Port Colborne, April 7.—Considerable damage has been done. The north side of the G. T. R. elevator was completely blown off. Roofs are off, wires are down as well as many fences and outhouses. Trees were torn up by the roots and a delivery wagon demolished. The harbor is packed with ice, driven down the lake by the westerly gale.

FACTORY WRECKED AT STRATFORD.—Stratford, April 7.—During a particularly heavy gust this afternoon about half the roof of the Stratford Manufacturing Company's factory on College street was blown off, and a part of the walls blown down.

SHIPPING KNOCKED ABOUT.—Belleville, April 7.—The schooner George Sufel, which wintered near the Grand Junction dock, broke loose from her moorings and drifted down the bay. She has not yet been secured. The schooner is presumed to be in a fettered up on a bar. She is in no danger. The big smokestack of the Belleville Hardware Company was blown down and fell on the Salvation Army barracks, doing some damage. Only one man is reported injured. He was struck by a piece of brick blown off a building.

AT PORT DOVER.—Port Dover, April 7.—The dock here was a scene of wild confusion, the waves being level with the surface of the pier. As a precautionary measure the high and public schools were closed. One of R. Fleming's barns was blown down and a lot of machinery stored therein damaged.

RAIN IN QUEBEC.—Montreal, April 7.—The Province of Quebec was evidently reached only by the tail end of the storm today. About 2 o'clock the sky suddenly thickened and rain fell in torrents. The rain was a heavy wind, but no damage was done, and the storm was soon over.

CHURCH CHIMNEY BLOWN DOWN.—Windsor, Ont., April 7.—This city was swept by a terrific storm. The chimney of the new Presbyterian church in Walkerville was blown down, and crashed through the roof, doing serious damage. In Sandwich a large pile-driving machine, anchored in the city, was blown over. One of Fleming's barns was blown down and a lot of machinery stored therein damaged.

WATERY BLOOD. Nerves are Weak. Face is Pallid. You Lack Strength. You Look Sickly.

Until You Ironize and Fortify the Blood There's No Hope of Cure.

Thousands of tired workers need the invigorating, strength, the nerve-force which Ferrozone can supply. Ferrozone imparts strength because it nourishes.

Nourishes is able to nourish because it supplies to the blood the elements it lacks.

Once the blood is vitalized, its tonic influence is circulated to every nook and corner of the body, carrying new life with it.

Cases on record prove that Ferrozone builds up when all else fails. Mr. Alonzo W. Douglas, of Woodbridge, Ont., says "I desire to state the results I derived from the use of Ferrozone. Two years ago I was stricken with pneumonia so severe was the attack and so reduced was my strength that my life was despaired of. I had the very best medical attention, but made no progress toward recovery. When reduced to practically a skeleton, a kind friend told me of the remarkable power of Ferrozone. An improvement began almost at once. I gained steadily in weight and strength until Ferrozone made me a new man. I will gladly answer inquiries from other sufferers if they care to have further particulars. Price 50c per box at all dealers.

When a man in Mr. Douglas' low condition can be quickly cured, aren't the chances good for you? Don't fail to try Ferrozone. Price 50c per box at all dealers.

PA MADE ME STEAL.

Little Girl's Pathetic Story to Brooklyn Detectives.

New York, April 7.—Patted reassuredly on the head by policemen and told in kindly tones that if she revealed the truth concerning herself she would not be the sufferer, ten-year-old Thelma Barrett, of No. 496 Sixty-sixth street, stood before the railing in Brooklyn headquarters and sobbed out:

"My papa, Angelo, made me steal. I stole a whole year—yes, a year, sir. He made me take lace out on my arm and make believe that I was selling them, and then when I got into a house he told me to steal. And I did it, sir."

The girl, tiny for her age, dark of complexion, with well-moulded features, broke down and wept on the arm of one of her captors, Detective Conway, who, with his colleague, Gleason, had arrested her at No. 122 Jerusalem street, where she had stolen pins and rings worth $1,000.

PUSHED TO HIS DEATH.—London Jury Blames Joseph Ward for Hotel Tragedy.

London, Ont., April 7.—That Alexander Warwick came to his death from injuries received by being shoved down the basement stairs of the Morkin House, by Joseph Ward, was the verdict of the coroner's jury tonight. Ward is held for murder, and appears on April 13.

GOVERNMENT GRANT WITHHELD.—Kingston's Collegiate Institute Has No Gymnasium.

Kingston, April 7.—It is reported that the Ontario Government has withheld the annual grant to the Kingston Collegiate Institute because that institution has no gymnasium, as required by the act. Some time ago the Board of Education asked the City Council for $4,000 to erect a gymnasium to meet the Education Department's requirements, but the council took no action, the Civic Finance Committee being satisfied to let the Government dare to withhold the grant. Now there promises to be trouble.

BRAKEMAN'S FAULT.

C. P. R. EMPLOYE FOUND GUILTY AT COBURG ASSIZES.

Tried for Criminal Negligence Resulting in Sandbank Tragedy—Denied He Heard Order Read—Admitted He Opened Switch.

Cobourg, Ont., April 7.—After an hour and a half deliberation the jury in the case of Charles J. D. Reade, of West Toronto, the C. P. R. brakeman, on trial at the assizes here for criminal negligence resulting in the fatal wreck at Sandbank on Nov. 23 last, this evening brought in a verdict of guilty with a recommendation to mercy. Judge Britton deferred sentence until to-morrow.

Reade was brakeman on a freight train No. 54, running out of Toronto that night. The crew had been given orders to take the siding at Sandbank and to wait there for a passenger and double-header extra freight to pass. Reade opened the switch after the passenger train went through, with the result that a freight coming from the east crashed into his freight and Edward Findlay, engineer on No. 55, Fireman William Conroy and Brakeman Sweet were killed.

Conductor E. C. Knapp, Reade's superior, testified that after the wreck he asked Reade: "What have you done; did you hear the switch?" To which Reade replied: "Yes, but thought we would follow on the passenger train's block."

Engineer Hazenfeldt said that he read the order aloud in his engine and Reade was present. He also swore that he told Reade as a fireman that they were waiting for 55, but could not swear that Reade heard him. He would not deny that after the wreck Reade said to him: "That's what comes of not reading the order to me."

Reade took the stand in his own defence. He swore that he had not heard the order read at Myrtle and that when he asked the engineer at Burketon what the orders were, he replied: "The same old thing; we take the siding at Sandbank for No. 6." He admitted opening the switch, but knew nothing of train No. 55.

U. S. SETTLERS.

Rush Into the West This Year Will Break All Records.

Ottawa, April 7.—Reports received by the Immigration Department from agents in the United States indicate that the rush of American settlers to the Canadian west this year will break all records. Today Superintendent of Immigration Scott received a telegram from W. J. White, Inspector of Washington, stating that the flood of American land-seekers from the Pacific States to Alberta and Saskatchewan is beyond all expectations. The office at Spokane is crowded with home-seekers and their families anxious to take up land in Canada. For the first three months of this year 1,360 left Spokane, an increase of 50 per cent over the corresponding period of last year. The increase in carloads of settlers' effects is over 100 per cent.

LOST IN WOODS.

Cardinal and King, Given Up Last Winter, May be Alive.

Port William, April 7.—There seems to be a strong probability that Cardinal and King, two shantymen who were given up as lost during the winter, are still alive. They lost their way coming from Smith's camp, but now the report comes in that since they disappeared two men answering their description applied to a house out there for a meal, saying they had been lost in the bush for a time, but were making their way to another camp.

SHOT IN THE NECK.

Combar Man Received Bullet From Friend's Rifle.

Comber, Ont., April 7.—William Frankfurth was accidentally shot in the back of the neck by E. M. Holson at noon to-day. Mr. Holson was shooting sparrows with a No. 22 hall rifle. He did not observe Mr. Frankfurth entering the former's stable until he had leveled the rifle and fired at a sparrow. The bullet entered the muscles of the neck, but could not be located. Apart from a stiff neck, Mr. Frankfurth complains of very little pain.

STABBED AFTER A FIGHT.

Man Cut Up in Toronto Salvation Army Metropole.

Toronto, April 8.—As the result of a fight with William Perkins yesterday afternoon in the Salvation Army Metropole, James McLaren is in St. Michael's Hospital with four knife wounds in his neck and shoulder. It is not known what the fight started over, but it appears that there were a number of men in the room when it took place.

Perkins was arrested, and when searched a knife was found in his pocket. It was dry and clean, however, and had not the slightest stain of blood on it. He says he knows nothing about the stabbing. McLaren is in a rather serious condition.

Serious floods are reported at Montreal.

Bronchitis More Than a Cold

Sometimes it becomes chronic and returns again and again, wearing out its victim.

At other times it develops rapidly into pneumonia—Cure is found in Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linsseed and Turpentine.

Any cold is serious enough when its dreadful possibilities are considered, but when there is soreness or tightness in the chest and a dry hard cough you can look for bronchitis, which is often confused with an ordinary cold.

It is usually known by aching limbs and body pains, chilly feelings, weakness and weakness, pain in the chest and a tight, tearing cough. Fever, dry skin, thirst, coated tongue and constipation are other symptoms.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linsseed and Turpentine seems almost like a specific for bronchitis because it is so successful in loosening up the cough, aiding expectoration and preventing the inflammation from reaching the lungs.

Bronchitis is particularly dreaded because of its tendency to develop into pneumonia and even when this does not result bronchitis is likely to return again and again whenever a slight cold is taken until it wears out even the most vigorous system.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linsseed and Turpentine is so prompt in affording relief and so thorough and far-reaching in its action that it succeeds when ordinary cough medicines have no influence.

Mr. James F. Thompson, Yonge Mills, Leeds, Co., Ont., writes: "Last winter my two boys were so laid with colds on the chest or bronchitis that they coughed all night and could get no rest or sleep. Several cough remedies were tried to no avail until I was told about Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linsseed and Turpentine and this treatment soon cured them." 25 cents a bottle, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

HIS "CANDY" KILLS BABY.

Child Crams Handful of Strychnine Pills Down His Throat

Thinking They're "Goodies" and Dies Few Hours Later.

Mother Already Ill, and in Serious Condition.

Detroit, April 8.—Believing he had found some "goodies," William Weldon, jun., 18 months old, son of William Weldon, 124 Grammond avenue, yesterday afternoon swallowed a dozen pills, containing a large proportion of strychnine.

The child died in his home an hour and a half after he had crammed a handful of the medicine, which he had been left for his mother, into his mouth.

It was after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon when Dr. R. J. Palmer, 1730 Woodward avenue, left the house, after he had attended Billy's mother. With his most serious from the baby watched the physician depart. Then he wandered through the house. His mother was sick, his father hadn't returned from work, and altogether it was a dreary place.

"Um-m-m," ejaculated the child, as he looked eagerly at a small package on the table. "Candy," if anything, would brighten the somber aspect of his home, thought the babe, so he stood on tiptoe and extended his tiny hand for the pretty package. But his arm wasn't long enough, so Billy promptly dragged the entire table spread to the floor, and fumbled in it until he recovered the package.

The paper went flying on the floor, a cork rolled into his lap—and then Billy Weldon swallowed almost the entire contents.

Mamma Weldon found her baby lying on the floor, his face white and pale. She tried to breathe life into the mustard water down Billy's throat, but he closed his eyes, and couldn't tell those who gathered around him what pain he was suffering.

Dr. Palmer was recalled. When he arrived, an occasional gasp was all that indicated the babe was alive. For an hour and a half the physician worked, but about 7 o'clock Billy's "candy" proved fatal.

The mother is nearly frantic with grief, and her condition has become serious. Coroner Burgess decided an inquest unnecessary.

REPEL ATTACK OF CANNIBALS.

British and Germans Fight Shoulder to Shoulder.

Rout a Thousand Natives in Northern Nigeria.

London, April 8.—Remarkable details of the onslaught of a thousand cannibal natives upon the Anglo-German Boundary Commission in unexplored country in Northern Nigeria have reached London.

A feature of the action was that British and German troops fought together to repel the native attack.

At 5 o'clock on Christmas day the combined Anglo-German force marched out from Sonkwalla, an unmapped place on the frontier, and subsequently divided into two columns, the German commissioner, Lieut. von Stephani (Reuter's agency states) being in command of one, and Capt. Heathcote of the other.

Both forces soon became lost in the dense undergrowth and high elephant grass. The British heard the enemy shouting and calling in the distance.

They encountered the greatest difficulty, the track being completely blocked with trees, while the natives, had also dug pits sometimes as much as a hundred yards long and plentifully strewn the route with dangerous spikes, which pierced the soldiers' feet. Eventually the column came to an open ground, by which time two of the soldiers had been spiked through the feet.

The enemy at once opened fire, but were repulsed. The column then marched to an elevated position. The enemy now offered a splendid target for the Maxim, but the gun jammed, and was out of action for some time.

At this moment the rattle of the German's Maxim could be heard on the other side of the hills.

Capt. Heathcote having burned some houses to indicate his whereabouts to the German column, descended to the enemy in the open. There a brisk running fight was maintained, and the enemy was finally driven off. Meantime, a third force, under Lieut. Homan, which had been despatched from Sonkwalla, became engaged.

News of the German column was only received on the return to camp. Lieut. von Stephani reported that at noon a very large force surrounded the German column in the bush and opened a very heavy attack, in which Lieut. von Stephani was wounded in two places, one of his non-commissioned officers being also hit on the wrist, and two men being killed. For over an hour the column was desperately engaged. A second German non-commissioned officer was shot through the sleeve while serving his Maxim. As the column retired the natives made many attempts to rush it.

Although dangerously wounded, Lieut. von Stephani brought the column out of the bush with great gallantry, being assisted by Capt. Most R. E., who was attached to the force.

WHO IS HE?

Alleged Hamilton Man Sentenced in Buffalo.

Buffalo, April 8.—Charles Cotton, alias Arthur Holland, 21 years old, said to be the son of a surgeon of Hamilton, Ont., yesterday was sentenced to the penitentiary for 60 days by Justice Brennan, in police court. Cotton was arrested on Monday after he had visited employment agencies to procure girls to go to Canada.

Dining Room Suites

Golden oak is the most popular finish and Early English is steadily gaining in favor. The buffet, especially when accompanied by a China Cabinet is very useful as well as artistic, but the regular style high-back Sideboard continues to have a steady sale. Whatever may be your taste, we have styles that will appeal to you.

Round Pedestal Extension Tables are very much in favor just now. We have a good selection of these and a large assortment of leather seated diners to match. The dining room, however, is never complete without a nice China Cabinet. Sideboards, $10 to $150, China Cabinets, $12 to $100; Tables, $6 to $50; Chairs, per set of five small and one arm chair, $15.00 to $75.

Parlor Suites

Three piece, four piece and five piece Suites, in mahogany finish and solid mahogany. We do our own upholstery on the premises here, so that we know the most important part of the suite (the part the customer cannot see) is honestly made to stand wear and give satisfaction. The coverings are our own importation from Great Britain and France, Silk Brocades, Damasks and Tapestries.

We are selling two very handsome Parlor Suites, four pieces, consisting of large sofa, arm chair, arm rocker and reception chair, in mahogany finished frames, with real mahogany panels in the backs, covered in good silk cover. They are splendid value at $50, but we are able to sell the four pieces for $40. Other Suites in real or imitation mahogany, from $19.50 to $125.

Windows on two sides of the Central school were broken, and the children were given a half holiday. The fire department was one of the worst sufferers. Every line and alarm box was knocked out of commission. Chief Tom Eyck and his able assistants worked stringing wires most of the night, and this morning were still at it. An instrument on the relay line leading to Second Assistant Chief Cameron's house was burned out, and the big bell struck about five times a minute all day.

Ernest Hanlon, 384 Victoria avenue north, was working on a damaged chimney at the Sawyer-Massey Co's plant, when the remains of the chimney fell on him and injured him so that he had to be taken to the City Hospital. He is improving this morning. His injuries are superficial.

The fence surrounding Loretto Convent was flattened out, as were also the City Hospital and the West Avenue School fences. The workmen at Kingdon & Smith's iron works went out of the shop in a body, and the boss with them. The big chimney above the shop was swaying about a foot with every extra zephyr that came along.

The damage at the Ontario Lamp and Sauter Company's works was worse than at first reported. A large section of roof on the storehouse was raised about four feet, then fell, carrying part of a wall away and allowing the roof to slip into the yard. The sprinkler system was started and did some flooding.

IN THE COUNTRY.

In the country the damage was frightful. Many barns, windmills and fences were levelled to the ground, but none of the trees seem to have suffered. Adam Inch, who lives about a mile back of Eustace's hotel, lost a new windmill. J. Lyons, Dundas road, saw his barn stretched out flat. It was a new one erected to replace one alleged to have been burned by anti-temperance men a year ago, and will be considerable of a loss. His fences also went down.

From the cemetery for two miles west of the city on all roads all the telegraph and telephone poles are in the ditches. A straight mile of poles went down on York street, outside of the city. Passage across the high level bridge was very precarious, and the Dundas marsh was almost dried up by the wind forcing the water into the bay in a regular river through the canal.

Water in the Five Mile Creek was picked up and blown about the countryside. The roadbed was about all that remained of it.

ALONG THE BEACH.

While a lot of damage was done the storm does not seem to have been as severe along the Beach as it was in the city, and on the bay. The worst damage done there was to the city pavilion. It was completely demolished. Parts of it were carried right across the Grand Trunk track and a freight train came along before the debris could be removed. The gale was so great that the train men could not see far ahead of them against the windows of the stuff. It cut up the boards but did not leave the track.

At the Beach road some of the wooden poles were broken off at the ground and others bent over, but the wires kept them up. The station at the Beach road was blown down. A number of verandahs, store houses, sheds, shacks, chimneys and fences were blown down, and a good deal of glass broken.

The waves sent spray dashing right over the top of the Beach lighthouse, and thick spray from the bay carried right across the Beach, beating like rain against the windows of the lake side hotel. The water in the bay was many feet lower than usual this morning. The marsh was nearly dry, the gale having driven the water out into the lake. It went through the canal like a turbulent river.

MACASSA THROUGH IT.

While the lake was still in a fury the staunch steamer Macassa came through it this morning. She would have made the journey last night, at the usual time, but the gale had blown the water out of the western gap and vessels could not get through. She left at 3 o'clock this morning and, in the very teeth of the gale, made the trip home in less than two hours and 45 minutes, tying up at her dock here at 5:45, and going out as usual at 9.

AT MAPLE LEAF PARK.

Maple Leaf Park was not overlooked by the wind yesterday and the big colonnade building fell a victim to the pranks of the hurricane. Wonderful progress had been made on the building until yesterday, but Manager Robertson was not to be beaten, and this morning he doubled the staff of carpenters, so as not to cause any delay. The building is over 100 yards long and as the west side is open it proved a victim for the wind. The roof had been laid on the west half of the building, but this section was not damaged so much as the centre, which was blown into the road, resulting in a big loss to the company. So as not to be caught again the plans of the building have been changed somewhat. Large windows will be put in the south side, which can be removed at a moment's notice. The windows will in no way interfere with the beauty of the building as a promenade, and the illuminations will be arranged as planned.

While the wind did considerable damage at the park it also did some good, as it dried the ground so that it will be possible to proceed with a great deal of work that the deep mud prevented before.

A large barn five miles east of the city on the Stoney Creek road was blown down. The barn was almost new and the loss will be heavy.

The Hamilton and Holy Sepulchre Cemeteries suffered considerably, slabs being blown over and broken. The larger monuments were not damaged. Quite a few trees in the cemetery were uprooted, and the Dundurn trees were thinned out considerably. Half a dozen were blown over the hill and down nearly to the Grand Trunk tracks.

The house of William McLaughlin, of Gardner & Thompson's, suffered, the chimney being blown off and other damage being done.

The fence at the old patrol station on Napier street was blown down, and the shingles stripped off the roof of the house in which Harry Hedland lives, next door to the Police Court.

The flag pole at the residence of Mr. Charles Jolley, mountain top, was blown down.

DAMAGE AROUND DUNDAS.

Dundas, April 8.—(Special).—The storm here was very severe. A fine new barn on the Anaster road, owned by John Lyons, collapsed. Traffic on the H. & D. Railway was interrupted, a number of poles and wires being down.

A waste barrel cover was blown through the plate glass window of Wm. Hardy's harness shop. The verandah in front of John Douglas's house on Hart street was completely removed. The skylights on the V. M. C. A. building were lifted from their places and deposited in the yard of Mr. M. J. Sullivan, four or five hundred yards distant, but fortunately none of his children were there.

The large chimney on Mr. George Stonehouse's kitchen was blown down and deposited in the yard of Mr. M. J. Sullivan, four or five hundred yards distant, but fortunately none of his children were there.

The large chimney on Mr. George Stonehouse's kitchen was blown down and deposited in the yard of Mr. M. J. Sullivan, four or five hundred yards distant, but fortunately none of his children were there.

Mayor Lawrason's sign was caught in the cyclone and went flying through the air, but was captured before it did much damage.

The high chimney on Rev. Mr. Cameron's house, on the Hamilton road, was blown down and bricks were scattered far and near.

While driving up the mountain, and when near Block's Corners, in a covered market wagon, Matthew Roberts had a narrow escape, and Miss Roberts was hurt, the strong wind completely lifting the wagon and its occupants and upsetting them into the ditch. Mrs. Roberts was also in the rig and was considerably shaken up.

The windmill of Chas. Corbett, near Greensville, was also blown down, as was that of Mr. John Hall also, near Strabane.

The town fire alarm system was somewhat disorganized, but Chief Knowles soon had it working again.

A portion of the roof of Kerr's mill succumbed.

Society

About twenty-five friends of Miss Margaret Thomson, Bay street north, gave a most enjoyable surprise at her home last night. The friends who turned out to make the event a success showed the high esteem in which they held their friend. All received the heartiest welcome and the most courteous attention and kindest hospitality were received by Mr. and Mrs. Thomson. A number of pleasing games were indulged in, followed by singing and piano solos. At midnight the crowd dispersed, well pleased after the evening's enjoyment.

TWO-LEGGED CAT

Gets Around by Shoving Itself With Its Rear Claws.

Toronto, April 8.—Mrs. Ayers, of 1104 Bloor street west, is the possessor of one of Nature's freaks, a queer kitten. This time the whimsical dame cat took it into her head to manufacture a kitten with only two legs, and the little animal is compelled to get along with no front feet.

The kitten is one of a batch of four and was born on March 27. There is no hint of pedal extremities in the fore part of the body, and the kitten's fur is as smooth there as any other part of it. Locomotion is naturally a problem, but the kitten solves it by digging its claws into the carpet and pushing itself along on its chest.

It is quite normal in other respects and is healthy and as lively as a kitten usually is. Mrs. Ayers' ten-year-old daughter thinks the world and all of the "old little animal," and would not part with it under any consideration. It is a pure-bred Maltese, all grey, and quite intelligent. It is healthy, and in spite of its unusual deformity, will live.

WIND AND FLAME.

Saugus, Mass., April 8.—A northwest gale fanned a fire in a livery stable in the village of Giffordale today with such vigor that it spread to adjoining houses, and half an hour later three houses had been destroyed, and four others were on fire. Help was summoned from the near by cities of Lynn and Malden.

ALLAN'S LINE OF TALK.

(Guelph Mercury.) Zeppelin's airship landed at a place called Dingolfing. This sounds like Al-lan Studholme saying things to Joe Downey.

OBITUARY.

Funeral of Late Mrs. Snyder—Death of P. Crane.

The funeral of Penise Osier took place this morning at 8:30 o'clock from her late residence, 116 Cathcart street, to St. Patrick's Church, where services were conducted by Rev. Father Walsh, who also officiated at the grave in Holy Sepulchre cemetery. The pallbearers were William Magill, Thomas Mullens, James A. Reding, John Farrar, A. Schwendau and Mr. Delrick.

A large number of sympathizing friends and relatives attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Alexander M. Snyder, which took place from the residence of her mother, Mrs. Thomas Walker, to the Smithville cemetery. Rev. Beverley Ketchen conducted the services. The pallbearers were Messrs. William Robert, Thomas John, Hugh and Norman Walker. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful and included offerings from Mrs. H. Walker, Mrs. Thomas Walker, Mrs. Norman Walker, Mrs. John Walker, A. P. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. W. Snyder, Misses Edith and Jessie Snyder, Dr. and Mrs. Snyder, Ridgeway, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Snyder, Stoney Creek; Mrs. F. McLean, Roy and Mrs. J. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Miller, Miss M. Ford, and some newspaper friends. The bereaved family have sincere sympathy of all.

The funeral of Delour Bovard took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of his parents, 289 Bay street north, to Hamilton cemetery. Rev. P. W. Philpott officiated. The pallbearers were John and Thomas Finnigan, Percy Vollick and Gordon Maclock. Wreaths were sent by his Sunday school classmates and fellow employees of his father.

The death of Patrick Crane occurred yesterday at his home, Burlington Heights. Deceased was 72 years of age and had been in the employ of the G. T. R. for a number of years. He was highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends who will sincerely regret his demise. The funeral will take place on Monday morning at St. Mary's Cathedral. He is survived by a grown up family.

That happiness is largely a matter of imagination exempted by the man who pays 25 cents for a 10-cent cigar.

SORRY NOW.

Inspector Nicholson Apparently Thinks He Spoke Unwisely.

The License Commissioners held a meeting on Tuesday, when it was decided to make a personal examination next week of the hotels applying for licenses. Some objection was taken to the published report in the Times of Inspector Nicholson's remarks at the Local Option meeting last week.

It might have been well to have pointed out where the "sprinkling" of truth came in. As the matter now stands, the public have no means of determining what portion of the report the Inspector admits was correct.

The Easter Hat or, The Talk of the Town

Place—A swell residence in Hamilton. Time—The present. Dramatis Personae—Mrs. Smith and Miss Jones.

Mrs. Smith—O, Clara, I'm so glad to see you, I'm in a terrible trouble. Miss Jones—Indeed, Angelina! What's on your mind?

Mrs. Smith—Hats, hats, hats—the everlasting and indispensable Easter hat. I want a fine one, but they charge such awful prices, and really I am at a loss to know where to go and get what I want without having to fork over a small fortune.

Miss Jones—Is that all that's troubling you? That's easy. I can tell you just where to go and you can get just what ever you want and it won't cost you any small fortune either.

Mrs. Smith—Where, my dear Clara, where? Miss Jones—Why, at Mrs. Hinman's—the Hinman-Atkinson place, they call it now. I was there yesterday, and never before set eyes on such a wonderful display of choice millinery. It was more than beautiful. It was exquisite, superb, ravishingly lovely.

Mrs. Smith—Really, now, Clara, is that a fact? Miss Jones—Yes, there is everything imaginable there in the way of Parisian, London, Glasgow and New York novelties. And the best of it all was the prices, considering the quality and style offered, are exceedingly moderate. I lost no time in ordering my Easter hat there. You know George is such a connoisseur in hats, and I want to please—

Mrs. Smith (interrupting)—Yes, dear, you must do all you can to get that fine young fellow engaged and—

Miss Jones (blushing, and in turn interrupting)—Yes, yes, Angelina, I know, and—but as I was saying, the place for you to go to get the very best goods for the very least money is the Hinman-Atkinson place. As regards choice hats in all sorts of styles, shapes, trimmings, etc., at low prices, their display is the talk of the town. My advice is, go now before the rush sets in, and before the latest creations in the millinery art are snapped up.

Mrs. Smith—Thank you, my dear, I'll take your advice. The early bird catches the hat. I'll get ready and go now. The ladies kiss good-bye, and presently Mrs. Smith is on her way to THE HINMAN-ATKINSON MILLINERY PARLORS, 4 John St. North.
