Silver Question.

IN CONSIDERATION

Of the mutual agreement herein contained, WE, the undersigned, Merchants and Traders in the Town of Guelph, do severally agree, the one with the other, but not one for the others, that we respectively will not from and after the first day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, accept, or permit our agents to accept, in payment of any debt due to us, or to become due to us, or of any goods sold, or to be sold by us, or of any silver coin of the coinage of the United States of America, (when offered in amounts over five cents) unless there be at the same time paid therewith some other coin of the rate of fifty cents on each of said coins, under denomination or nominal value of a quarter of a dollar, and at the rate of four cents on each of said coins of the denomination or nominal value of a quarter of a dollar and upwards; the British shilling to be received at the rate of twenty-four cents, and the British sixpence at the rate of twelve cents.

AND, in consideration of the premises, we further severally agree, the one with the other, but not one for the others, that in the event of default being made by us respectively in the due performance of the above agreement, we will forthwith pay to John Hogg, of the Town of Guelph, Merchant, (party hereto), his executors and administrators as trustees for himself and the others, the sum of fifty dollars of lawful money of Canada, which is hereby expressly declared shall not be considered as a penalty, but as liquidated damages for each breach of the said agreement, which said damages may be recovered by him or his executors or administrators from any one or more of us who shall make default in the due performance of the said agreement in any court having competent jurisdiction in that behalf.

AND, it is hereby expressly declared and agreed that in the event of two-thirds in number of the undersigned at any time desiring withdrawal from this arrangement, it shall be competent for them at any time to give notice in writing to the said John Hogg of such intention, and at the expiration of one month from delivery of the said notice to the said John Hogg, these provisions shall ipso facto, cease and become of no effect, provided, nevertheless, it shall be competent for the said John Hogg to commence or continue any proceeding for the recovery of any damages, in virtue thereof, for any breach of the agreement herein contained, prior to the expiration of said month.

AS WITNESS our hands this tenth day of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight.

- Half Dollars 48 cents

Silver tendered in payment of all outstanding accounts due this Office will be received at the above discount after August 1st.

McLAGAN & INNES,
Mercury Office, Guelph, July 28, 1868.

Galt is about to adopt the Toronto rate of discount on silver. The bond has been signed and published.

A party of young men left West Flamboro, for Ontario in the far west, the number including Dr. Fraser and Mr. Cochenour.

The corporation of London is to be sued by Mr. Stewart, a loser by the late fire, for damages resulting from the neglect to have the water tanks filled.

The Hamilton Chief of Police has been finally dismissed and another appointed in his stead. The new appointment does not seem to be popular.

Silver is to be taken at par in Orangeville. What is the use of cities and towns employing agents to state the substance if Orangeville will not co-operate? It will be all vanity.

Mr. J. B. Bissette—an agitated compositor in Montreal made the announcement the other day that "Sir John A. is getting bad." He intended to say 'bad'.

THANKS! We have to thank Mr. Alex Thomson, who is now in England, for a copy of the London Times of the 15th inst. His numerous friends in this section will be glad to learn that he and his family have arrived safe at their destination.

QUOTING MARCH.—The annual competition for the medal by the members of the Galt Quoting Club was brought to a termination last week. After a keen contest Mr. Hugh Kay was at length the successful contestant and winner of "the Golden Quot" for the present year.

ACCIDENT IN ERAMOSA.—We learn that on Wednesday last, the 29th inst., Mrs. Richings of Eramosa, met with an accident of a very serious nature. She was picking cherries at the residence of Mr. Martin Dew, when, from some cause or other, the ladder on which she was standing gave way and threw her to the ground, dislocating her shoulder and breaking one of the small bones of the left arm. Dr. McGregor was promptly in attendance, and the patient is now doing well.

THE FENIAN ARMY.—The Dundee Reformer has the following: A friend of ours who lately visited Chicago saw the main body of the Fenian army assembled for drill in that city. It consisted of 12 rank and file. The parade and drill ground was in the gutter on one of the streets, where a red-nosed "General" exercised them in "right, left—right, left" for an hour. After drill the officer drew himself up in front of his ragged Fenian Army and delivered a few profane but emphatic sentences on the wrongs of Ireland, and dismissed them to forage on their neighbors, which no doubt they did, as next morning's Police Court showed.

MR. WALKER'S ACADEMY.—Mr. Walker gives notice by advertisement of the re-opening of his academy. We have before referred to this gentleman's abilities as a teacher, and would again suggest to parents that in this vicinity there is no institution of learning for the young that presents advantages superior to the academy under notice. Mr. Walker teaches soundly and endeavors to implant in the mind of his pupil the root of any subject that may come before him.

New Publications.

THE NEW TESTAMENT HISTORY edited by Wm. Smith, L.L.D., is one of the series of "Students Histories," issued by Harper Bros., and a copy of which has been sent us by E. Tunis & Co., Clifton. It is divided into three sections. Book I. gives the Connection of the Old and New Testament Histories and Secular History of the Jews to the Destruction of Jerusalem. Book II. The History of Jesus Christ, or the Revelation of the Gospel.—Book III. History of the Apostles, or the Founding of the Christian Church. This work is for sale at Day's Bookstore.

CAPE COD AND ALL ALONG SHORE STORIES.—This is the title of a volume which has just been issued by the Harpers, and a copy of which we have received from E. Tunis & Co. It is made up of a number of well told, interesting stories, which have at various times appeared in Harper's Magazine and the Atlantic Monthly. The author is Nordhoff, and the seven stories comprised in the volume will be found entertaining. Those who wish to make acquaintance with the habits and sentiments of the sea-going people of Cape Cod, will be able to do so by a perusal of the book. For sale at Day's Bookstore.

HARPER'S PICTORIAL HISTORY OF THE GREAT REBELLION.—This book is now finished. There are altogether thirty-five numbers of it, and the last three have been sent us by E. Tunis & Co., Clifton. If bound, two splendid volumes could be made of them. The writer and the publisher have performed their work with ability and care, and the illustrations are numerous, and executed with true artistic skill. The Pictorial History may be had at a very reasonable price by applying to Mr. T. J. Day, bookseller.

BLACKSTONE'S MAGAZINE.—The July number of this able Magazine has been received from the Leonard Scott Publishing Company, New York. Historical Sketches of the Reign of George II are continued, the subject on the present occasion being the brilliant Lady Mary Wortley Montague. The remaining articles and stories are: The Odes of Horace, conclusion of Grace Owen's Engagement, Peter Pindar, Motley's History of the Netherlands, Cornelius O'Dowd's Sketches, Marcus Antonius, Orestes, Shall we follow this Man. The magazine is for sale at the bookstores.

NEW DOMINION MONTHLY.—We have received from the publishers, John Douglass & Son, Montreal, the August number of this strictly Canadian Magazine. It has a varied table of contents, and nearly all the tales and articles are original. For good, pure reading in the family, this periodical would not be easily surpassed. The present number contains as a frontispiece a wood-cut of Major-General Russell, C. B., with a short biographical sketch.

WAVERLEY NOVELS.—We have to thank Messrs. Appleton & Co., New York, for another number of the Waverley Novels. The last issued is "The Monastery." Who would be without these splendid works of fiction, when the entire set can be had for the low sum of $6? For $10 the Messrs. Appleton will send the Waverley Novels and a complete set of Dickens' Works. No better offer was ever made to the public.

KNOCKED IN THE HEAD.—The cricket match which we announced yesterday was to come off to-day between the Hamilton and Guelph clubs did not take place, because the former advised the latter by telegraph last night that they would not play. Had this match been played it was to have been succeeded on Friday and Saturday by another at Dundas between the counties of Wentworth and Brant on the one side, and Waterloo and Wellington on the other. Hamilton's backing out has knocked the whole arrangement in the head.

THE TRACTION ENGINE.—The Globe of Thursday says: The Traction Engine lately sold by Mr. W. Sutherland Taylor, to Messrs. John Bruce and James Waterston, of Walkerton, was last evening shipped by the Great Western Railway from this city to Guelph. The proper waggon for attaching to the engine are now in course of manufacture at the wagon factory at Markham; the engine on its first trip to Bruce will therefore not carry a load after it, the object in making the present journey being simply to arrange for wooding and watering, and to afford the public along the route an opportunity of examining the engine. The arrival of the iron horse in Walkerton is, we understand, anxiously looked for by the people of Bruce, and Messrs. Bruce and Waterston are highly spoken of for their enterprise in supplying the people of that county with so great a desideratum. The engine will, in a short time, run regularly from Walkerton to Guelph, carrying freight. We hope it will realize all the hopes of the proprietors, who intend, if the venture proves successful, to purchase several others and establish a line of traction engines on the Walkerton and Guelph Road.

[In reference to the above we may say that we expected an exhibition of the Traction Engine in the streets to-day, but were disappointed, as for some cause it has not yet arrived.]

Malignous Injuries to the Person.

(From the Law Journal.)

It may be all very true that there are things more precious to man than the safety of his person, or even the preservation of his life, no do we at present intend to question the truth of this proposition nor to deny at this very improper sentiment; but it will scarcely, on the other hand, be denied that the right of personal security is not the least of the absolute rights of every Englishman.

The right of personal security consists in a person's legal and uninterrupted enjoyment of his life, his limbs, his body, his health and his reputation. This right most persons are prepared to accept without further reasoning either by the learned commentator or ourselves, but it is nevertheless astonishing that so many men have recently exceedingly small regard for the enjoyment of the life, limbs, body, health and reputation of others. And here we do not allude to those who maliciously or in moments of passion inflict injuries, but to those who are appointed by their fellows for the protection of the public the full enjoyment of those rights: This is a subject which has lately attracted the attention of some able writers in England. The principal ground of complaint there has been the leniency of judges and magistrates in the infliction of sentences for injuries to the person. Complaints of a similar kind have occasionally been made in Canada. Mr. Justice Hagar, during the recent session for the city of Toronto, is passing sentence on a prisoner who had been found guilty of a common assault where the evidence was of a most unprovoked and brutal attack with a murderous weapon, deplored the growing tendency of juries to treat the most aggravated and brutal attacks upon men and women as common assaults. In fact, it appeared to him, according to their frequent findings, that feloniously stabbing and wounding, and half-killing a peaceable citizen was that which the law of the land looks upon it, a very grave and serious crime, but simply a common assault.

So far as judges and magistrates are concerned, we may be pretty safe that they will not be guided by what mistaken or stupid jurymen may do. But the evil to be dreaded is of a more serious character, and one likely to spread amongst the masses, habitually seeing justice violated in this kind and leading them to imagine that the law looks upon depriving a man of the use of his limbs or members, or destroying his health, as an offence on a par with merely striking a fist in another's face or committing a petty larceny; and if this idea once becomes prevalent, who can tell what will be the end thereof. The words put into the mouth of a philosophic detective by a clever novelist, a lawyer, are so appropos that we may be excused in quoting them. In speaking to a forger he said, "You may smash a man's skull, so long as you don't quite kill him, for twelve months; but if you forge his name you catch it hot." The evil, however, is too serious for jesting, and requires that the public should be impressed with a sense of the injurious results arising from the frequent failure of justice in cases where not only personal injuries of a serious nature have been inflicted, but life itself endangered by the hand of some ruffian whose only punishment is often the mere infliction of a small fine or temporary imprisonment.

We trust that the remarks of the learned judge, who has thus by his timely and forcible remarks drawn attention to the evil alluded to, will not be thrown away upon those for whom they are intended, and that those who may be to be adjudged upon crimes of this nature will in future do so with a full appreciation of the right of personal security, one of those rights which are, as Blackstone proudly says, "in a peculiar and emphatical manner the rights of the people of England."

THE GUELPH POLICE COURT.

Before T. W. Saunders, Esq., Police Magistrate

THURSDAY 30th July. Command was charged this morning with selling liquor without licence. Defendant was not at home, and the case was adjourned till next Monday, when it will be proceeded with, whether he is present or not.

Over 70 of the leading merchants of Ottawa have signed bonds to take silver at the discount rates agreed at in Toronto.

The greatest bargains of the season are advertised by Mr. John Hogg, of the Golden Lion. See advertisement.

The smoky state of the atmosphere still continues throughout the country, and in consequence of the dense smoke on the St. Lawrence navigation is almost suspended.

FAKIR OF VISHNU.—This wonderful individual appeared for the first time before a Guelph audience last night. The attendance was much better than that which usually honors magicians in this town. The Fakir's reputation had come before him, and hence the alteration. Briefly characterized his exhibition of his own powers was very good, and we believe there are better things in store for those who attend him during the remaining nights of his stay in Guelph. We have all heard of things springing up by magic; last night we saw them do so. Plants grew and flowered instantaneously, and many other tricks were performed that struck with amazement those to whom the powers of the magician were entirely new. As the close of the performance gifts were distributed with lordly liberality and some abandoned rousing chairs, some a load of glassware, some a set of hoops, and some various other articles, and thanked him afterwards, reflecting that the Fakir of Vishnu was not the worst fellow in the world. The leading prize last night was a tea set, which became the property of a little ten years' old boy, born under a lucky planet. The leading present tonight will be a elegant couch, and we presume there will be a rush to get it. Besides the Fakir promises some astonishing feats to-night, and if he be true to his reputation his feats will not disappoint the audience.

Goodwood Races.

Goodwood, July 29.—The first race to-day was for the Goodwood stakes—a handicap of 25 stov; each, half forfeit, 100 stov. added; second horse to receive 100 stov. out of stakes; won by Tarbourton; Hum second; 17 horses ran. Second race for Findon stakes; won by Tenedos. The third race for drawing-room stakes was walked over by Crawford's Moleen, and winner of the 2000 guineas. The fourth race, a sweepstakes of 500 stov; walked over by Mr. Padwick's Palma. Fifth race—sweepstakes of 800 stov., won by Mr. Chaplin's colt, Strouman. Sixth race, Goodwood Derby, 25 stov. each, walked over by Marquis of Hastings' Naivea.

London, July 29.—The main points of the Act for the protection of American citizens abroad which was passed just before the adjournment of the United States Congress were telegraphed to London, and are published in this morning's journals. The Bill is sharply and unfavourably criticised by the English press. There is nothing in the general principle of the bill for England to deny or oppose. Irishmen who have taken out their naturalization papers in the United States may properly use American passports while travelling in Europe or serving in the armies of the United States even against Great Britain, so long as their new citizenship is a bona fide qualification made in accordance with American naturalization laws; nothing can be said. The real purpose is to Fenians to be protected by the new citizenship thus conferred upon them, to make war upon Queen Victoria of England and her realm; but here they must be treated as subjects guilty of treason; aliens and natives are on the same footing in such a case. Evidence obtained in the United States against these prisoners to prove that they were members of the Fenian Brotherhood was merely collateral. The real crime charged against these men was committed on British territory. The Times even accepts the rule that a naturalized citizen of the United States may come to England with impunity after plotting against the Queen in America, if he comes peaceably.

Dublin, July 29.—The Marquis Abercorn, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, is to be made a Duke.

London, July 29.—The mail steamer from South America has arrived out. Intelligence has been received from Brazilian sources that the President of Paraguay, General Lopez, had sent propositions for peace to the allied powers, through the medium of the American Minister to Paraguay, Mr. Washburn. Despatches had reached Janeiro from Buenos Ayres, via Montevideo, announcing that Senor Domingo F. Sarmento, formerly Ambassador to the United States, has been elected President of the Argentine Confederation.

American Despatches.

More Troubles in Mexico.

New York, July 30.—The Herald's Panama correspondent says the news is somewhat unfavorable for the revolutionists. Large bodies of Conservatives are assembling in the interior, which so alarmed the Provisional President that he is afraid to make a movement in any direction. General Mosquera is expected to return soon from his banishment in Peru, and as he has already a considerable party in his interest, it is probable that he will place himself at the head of the government again.

Affairs in Peru.

The Herald's Peru correspondent says the Peruvians seem likely to be spared the evils of another revolution for some months to come. The movement in favor of Prado has come to naught, and the people are bringing their attention to other matters than fighting. The monetary affairs are in a bad way. The treasury is nearly empty and the government is deeply in debt. Peru appears disposed to accept the mediation proffered by the U. S., and adjust her difficulties with Spain without regard to the wishes of Chile.

Activity in Chili.

The Herald's Chili correspondent says the Congress of Chili is actively engaged in perfecting measures of great public benefit. Business is active and increasing; the fortifications of Valparaiso are strengthened and the city is considered almost impregnable.

The Drought in England.

The London Correspondent of the Montreal Telegraph writes by mail as follows respecting the drought in England: "The whole country is in one anxious and stupefied by the long drought. I hardly remember, even in the hottest parts of America, seeing a country so burned up. Scarcely a green blade is to be seen. No dew falls in the evening to refresh the withered leaves. I have seen trees so blasted as to give the impression that blight had settled upon them—the ground is cracked. In many parts the root crops will be wholly lost, and in light soils there may be much depreciation of grain. The cattle are not driven to water because of the intolerable dust on the road, and water-carts are in use throughout the South-eastern counties. Distress of a serious character already exists in the face. The high price of fodder will put out of reach animal food. I pay one and sixpence sterling a pound for butter at midsummer in the country. It strikes me that no good trade could be done in this article by Canada through the weekly steamer. The Irish butter is in bad odour, both actually and figuratively. Were the attentions of owners in Canada of improved stock turned to the manufacture of butter—as well as cheese, which I see is now made in large quantities in Canadian Townships—of a good class and trustworthy brand, there is no limit to the business that could be done in it. To make it pay, however, perfect good faith, and an extensive consignment, would be necessary. The Irish have been so careless as to win a bad name for the brands of this necessary commodity.

The report is revived that Mr. J. M. Ferres is to replace Mr. MacDonnell as Warden of the Penitentiary.

PARTING WORD.

Bear with us courteous readers— We hope we are about to say our last say on the silver question, except to chronicle the success of the new movement when it shall have been fairly inaugurated and in full operation. We are going into no prolix disquisition. We have already exerted all the force of our logic in endeavoring to prove that it is just as erroneous to call four American twenty-five-cent pieces or two fifty-cent pieces a dollar as it would be to call a spade a shovel. But we return to the subject because it is the last time we shall have an opportunity of addressing our country readers before the agreement into which the merchants and traders of Guelph have earnestly and solemnly entered comes into effect. And we may tell the people in the rural districts tributary that what has been purposed with regard to silver will actually come to pass. It may be said the scheme will not be of long duration—this is a very common remark concerning it. Not having the gift of prophecy, nor even Mr. Baxter's powers of interpreting what prophets foretell, we cannot speak positively as to the permanence of the system about to be adopted, but being entitled to an expression of opinion we might be pardoned for asserting that we think those who judge the whole thing will go to pieces in a few days or a few weeks, will find themselves mistaken. And who will regret that the movement should be successful? Though some may suffer a little loss at first it will be better for all in the end, and the end when it will be better will not be long. One other fallacy seems to be cherished, namely, that the merchants will resort to some subterfuge, some equivocation in order to evade without impugning the contract. We scarcely think they will. They have tried "with rallied arms" what might be effected, and they know that if they waver now Hope will bid them farewell. But there is one other aid to firmness and uncompromising adherence to the terms of the agreement—that is, that the scheme is almost universal throughout the Province—Had Guelph stood alone, or supported by only a couple of cities or towns, the very thoughts of her own tamerity might have terrified her so that she would have made but a feeble effort to accomplish what she had taken in hand. But it is not so; her auxiliaries are numerous and powerful, and before another week passes over silver will find but few places where it can practise its old impostures. Rural friends, the case is before you, and it is one in which there is no hardship for you. Saturday next is the first of August, and should you bring produce to town on that or any succeeding day, remember that the merchants will only take large silver at four, and small silver at ten per cent. discount, and, as the proclamations say, govern yourselves accordingly.

THE INTERCOLONIAL.

The London Times of the 13th inst., says the estimated cost of the Canadian Intercolonial Railway is £4,000,000, of which £3,000,000 is to be raised under an Imperial guarantee, and £1,000,000 by Canada. It is believed that in the first instance the sum to be put forth will be about half the total amount. The London Canadian News says: We understand that the prospectus for this loan will be out in the course of a few days, and that it is not intended to place for the present more than one-half of the whole amount of £4,000,000. The loan will be offered to public competition through the financial agents of the Dominion of Canada as usual.

NEW LINE OF STEAMERS.

We mentioned a short time ago that an effort was being made by some American capitalists to start a new line of Ocean steamers to ply between New York and some of the European ports. At that time it was thought that Congress would not grant a direct subsidy, but make the proprietors a handsome remuneration for the carrying of the United States mails, in fact if we remember distinctly, it was proposed to give them the total amount of the postage for this service. The amount, however, has been fixed in a bill which passed the Senate a few days ago, and the new line is to receive the sum of $600,000 per annum for mail service to the United States. This subsidy is certainly a liberal one, and should contribute materially to the support of a line of steamers sailing under the American flag.

IT IS IMPOSSIBLE TO PLEASE EVERYBODY.

A French contemporary observes that the Hon. Mr. Tilly has proved in the most complete manner that New Brunswick receives more from than she pays to the Federal treasury, and that if this be true it is calculated to dispense the Canadians very much, and ought to be a reason for getting rid of the Maritime Provinces. It is supposed, however, that Mr. Rose on his return, will demonstrate that his colleague is a little sanguine, and that, on the contrary, the advantage is all on the side of the Canadian provinces.

PENTAN FURY.—General O'Neil, and some other equally worthy worthies, have been saying a good many blood and thunder things at Buffalo touching Great Britain and Canada, but winding up, as usual, with the request for a little more money. According to the resolutions made, they have plenty of resolution, plenty of men eager for the onslaught, but no funds! Well, was without money is impossible. If they have not a well filled exchequer, and more to come, they may as well stay at home. Canada is not boastful, but self-reliant, and is neither to be frightened nor bullied from the position she occupies. The latest accounts are that there is little cash coming, and few Fenians stirring.

WARRIAGES.

The Braes of Yarrow

An Historical Tale of the Sixteenth Century

These were the words Kirsty whispered to Mistress Mary—
"There's a man at the door wants to see ye."
"Who is it?"
"The same ye sent upon the errand to Kelso."
She was about to hasten to the door when the spaw-wife detained her, gripping her skirt.

"All ye speak the lady in surprise."
Kirsty seemed to be searching for something in the bonnet that she whereat lay all the fierceness of which her own haggard countenance was capable, only more subdued and more hidden by the beauty of the features.
"Well?" repeated Lady Mary.
"Dinna see him," said Kirsty in her whispering voice.

"I must; he comes from my friend, who may have tidings of deep moment for me."
Kirsty gave her high shoulders a jerk and released her hand. "There was no word of expression, but the movement made the lady pause."
"The movement?"
"I have warned you—take your own course. I care nothing what happens."
Overcoming her momentary hesitation she passed to the door where the man was waiting. He placed in her hand a piece of ribbon upon which were three knots.

"I was to give ye this token," he said, "and to tell ye frae your friend that him ye ken o' has fan ye out and will be here the night."
The friend alluded to was one of the Queen's ladies to whom Mistress Douglas had entrusted the secret of her whereabouts so that she might give her timely warning of any master of moment.

"The message she had now received alarmed her, for she had no time given her to seek concealment."
"Did ye receive no other message?" she queried breathlessly.
"None ava."
"No letter or packet?"

"None, for the lady was fearful that I might have been gratified on the way."
"How did she know they would be here tonight?" exclaimed Mistress Mary rather to herself than to the messenger.
"The latter, however, responded, 'I dinna ken, for the lady didna say. But what is't ye're expectin'?' 'Gin ye a band o' brae horsemen they're coming up the glen.' 'Coming up the glen?'

"Ay, can ye no hear the horses and the clink o' armour?"
"It's them, is't?" she cried, belying her breathless looking around bewilderedly, seeking some place of hiding or some means of escape.
The rage of her brother, the shame that in his passion he might heap upon her in finding her there filled her with dread, but it was a dread that would have been only momentary had she not flashed before her the sight of the bonnet in which lay the inner chamber whose life might be the forfeit of her being found under the same roof with him.

She became conscious that the burning eyes of Kirsty Hyslop were fixed upon her inquisitively; and in her confusion she resented the look as treacherous. She suspected her of having played traitor, and released the minute afterwards, but it was a minute she did not forget.

"Come with me and close the door," whispered Kirsty, "I can save you from them if they were a thousand strong."
"Gin ye gang but the house they're sure to find ye," said the messenger, who appeared suddenly to comprehend the whole position.
"Come wi' me, leddy, I ken a pass down the castr, and ye can hide safe i' the glen till they gang awa'."

"Ye, ye, that will be safest. Go on."
She had not followed her guide more than half a dozen yards when she regretted the suspicion that had caused her to lose faith in the wife of Merlin's Cairn; but she heard the tramp of horses' hoofs, the clink of armour—she fancied she could discern the steel plates glistening—she heard the door of the hut close behind her, and it was too late to turn back. So she went on after the man towards the pass.

Movement to the Red River.
A Brantford correspondent of the Toronto Leader says that a very extraordinary scheme is talked of in that town as being likely to be set on foot very shortly, and which appears certain to attract a great deal of attention in this Province and elsewhere. It is nothing more or less than the formation of a North-west Land and Emigration Company, for the opening up and settlement of the Red River and Saskatchewan territories. It is proposed not to wait longer for the action of the Imperial Government, but to "go up and possess the land." The correspondent believes that such a scheme, if properly organized and laid before the public, would gather strength and volume, and would ultimately and ere long become irresistible. Quite a number of gentlemen, some of them far advanced in years, would be found ready to leave Brantford and seek a home in the great North-West. All the promoters of this great scheme ask is that the Dominion Government will guarantee to the settlers the same pre-emptive rights which have hitherto prevailed in Canada on the prairie, becoming part and parcel of this Dominion. It is proposed to form a joint-stock company, who shall make proper surveys into township tracts and locate towns and cities. The erection of various kinds of mills and manufacturing is talked of as likely to form part of the project. It is believed that thousands would immigrate from Canada and form settlements under such an organization. Farmers would gladly avail themselves of this means of obtaining good farms for their sons and some-in-law in that splendid agricultural country and thus a new stratum would be opened up to our Canadian youth who are annually seeking homes in the western States.

In the British House of Commons on the 28th inst. Lord Ebury presented a petition from the widow of the late Mr. Snider, the inventor of the breech-loader bearing that name now used in the British army, stating that his husband had died insolvent, from an attack of paralysis, brought on by accident and disappointment; that the money paid by the State in respect of his invention had all gone to mortgages, patents, and other persons; and that the petition and her family, who were left without any provision for their support. No action was taken on the petition, but it was thought and hoped that Mrs. Snider's claims upon the government will not be neglected.

It is reported that Mr. Bell, the Reeve of York, and a standing candidate for Parliamentary honors, will be brought out as a successor to Mr. H. S. Howland, the ministerial interest, to contest the ding against Mr. Wright.

Hon. Mr. McDougall is the only cabinet minister at present in Ottawa.
