THE EAST END NOISE. - This case is set down for hearing to-morrow at 10 o'clock. A case of English on the Waterloo road on Sunday night, will also be investigated.

Wilson, the celebrated vocalist, was upset in his carriage near Edinburgh. A Scotch paper, after recording the accident, said: "We are happy to state that he was able to appear on the following evening in three pieces."

The editor of the Quincy, Fla., Journal after stating that there are twelve million of feet of the square acre in that place, calmly adds that "life is a mere dream." The wonder is how he can sleep, much less dream, with so many flies around.

Grace Greenwood relates as an instance of the extravagance of New England humor that when a young farmer and wife made her first boy's pants precisely as ample before as behind, "Goodness! he won't know whether he's going to school or coming home."

A. T. Stewart, by the will he made prior to leaving New York for England, shows him to be worth one hundred millions of dollars.

Nathan Burrows, the great curiosity, standing 33 inches in height, with hands and arms, is the guest of the Rev. Walter Hawkins, of St. Catharines. He was to speak in the British Methodist Episcopal Church on Tuesday evening on African manners and customs.

Two or three weeks ago diphtheria broke out in the family of Mr. Geo. F. Bellantyne, residing a short distance from Smith Falls. Four children have now fallen victims to the fatal malady.

SOMETHING LIKE AN EGG. - The ostrich is the prairie chicken of South Africa, but, unlike it, cannot be eaten except by fiddlers. The egg, however, is used very generally. It tastes like rancid butter tempered with an omelet, for when boiled it is rather strong. The shell of one of the egg itself is larger than a two pound loaf.

IN FACT the shell would hold the loaf and have room for butter and hard-boiled hen's eggs at each end; and thus you could carry your lunch, if not in a nut shell, at least in that of an egg. It possesses a very hard enamel. One day we had one, and wishing to preserve it in shape, concluded to bore into one end. But it defied pen-knives and pen-knives, so we took it to a carpenter near by, and with the finest bit he had, we just managed to graze it. Then taking the next larger we followed up the advantage, and made a small hole. In this we used up a complete set of bits - the last one went crash down into it, and splashed the yolk all over us! "Ugh," said Jones, as he wiped his face, "catch me boring into any more such eggs." - New Dominion Monthly for July.

BY TELEGRAPH.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES

Mont Vernon Deserted. $5000 Reward. The Spanish Navy Captured. Shot.

Desertion and Demoralization. London, July 22. - The rate of discount for three months bills in the open market is 3 per cent. below the Bank of England rate.

The weather throughout England is fair and favourable to crops. The thermometer stands at 85 degrees. Madrid, July 22. - In the Cortes last night, a motion of the minority, to ensure the Government for its decree declaring the insurgent crews of the Spanish frigates at Carthagea pirates, was rejected by a vote of 110 to 90.

Bayonne, July 21. - News received here through the Carlists concerning the insurrection at Carthagea throws additional light on the defection of the Spanish squadron in that port, which was made the subject of the Government decree and vote in the Cortes yesterday.

The insurgent, after gaining control of the city, seized the Castillo de las Galeras, a strong fort on the west side of the harbour, less than a thousand yards from the entrance, which it commands completely. This gave them control of the two lower batteries at the mouth of the harbour. They hoisted the red flag of the Commune over these fortifications, and summoned the squadron lying in the harbour to surrender.

The vessels fell into their hands without opposition. The chief command of the squadron is now entrusted to Posas, who led the insurrection in the naval arsenal at Ferrol, in the Province of Coruna, some months ago. The vessels thus taken by the insurgents are the Victoria, iron-clad, 24 guns; Memaria, iron-clad, 25 guns; Tetah, iron-clad, 40 guns; Almansa, screw frigate, 48 guns; and the steamers Fernando de Catolico, Ferralana, and Blasco Garay, not classified. The four vessels first named are among the finest in the Spanish navy.

Madrid, July 22. - It is reported that the Iberian regiment which the Government despatched to Carthagea to aid in quelling the outbreak there, had mutinied and joined the insurgents in a body. At Victoria there are 7,000 Republican troops in a complete state of demoralization and disorganization. Several of the municipal officers have been murdered by the soldiers.

The Republican troops at Cirangui surrendered to the Carlists on condition that their lives should be spared. In spite of the terms of surrender the Carlists shot a number of them, after they had delivered up their arms.

Don Alfonso has sent to the Spanish Government a formal proposition for the arrangement of an exchange of prisoners. Madrid, July 22. - The declaration of independence at Alicante was brought about by the arrival in the harbour of the insurgent iron-clad Victoria, from Carthagea. She soon afterwards sailed, when the city returned to its loyalty to the National Government. The Governor of Alicante has been arrested and will be tried by court-martial for the soldiers.

The minority have decided to withdraw again from the Cortes. Evansville, Ind., July 22. - Advice from Princeton, about 25 miles north of this city, report the cholera in that neighbourhood. Three or four miles east of Princeton, in Indian Creek, 10 persons died since last Friday and new cases are reported daily. Reports were current that the disease had broken out in Carmi and Mount Carmel, Ill., but it is believed the stories are unfounded. Advice from Mount Vernon state that there are only about fifteen hundred people left in that place, and that the surrounding towns are filled with Mount Vernon citizens who fled from the city. The Board of Health have requested all persons not to visit the place for the present.

New York, July 22. - Chicago mortuary reports give 149 deaths from cholera morbus last week, all among recently arrived emigrants. Chicago, July 22. - The Management of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific R. R. have offered a reward of five thousand dollars for the detection of the parties who attacked and robbed a train on that road last night.

Detroit, July 22. - The July Races of Hametrack Park Association commenced to-day. The first race for three minute horses was won by Chestnut Billy; Bay Billy second, and Quicksilver third; time 2:37, 2:38, and 2:39. The second race for 2:34 horses was won by Mambrino Gift, Little Mack 2nd, and Ruby 3rd. Six heats were trotted, the first being a dead heat; time 2:33, 2:32, 2:34, 2:36, and 2:34.

Washington, midnight, July 22. - Probabilities - For Middle and Eastern States, south east and west winds, generally cloudy weather. For Lake region increasing south-west winds and higher temperature. For North-west - southerly winds, increasing cloudiness, and possibly light rains.

New York, July 22nd. - Steamers arrived - Victoria from Glasgow, and Nevada from Liverpool. New York, July 23. - Weather fine. The steamship Russia from Liverpool has arrived.

The Toronto City Council on Monday night decided almost unanimously to accept the offer made of the Howard Farm property, at Humber Bay, for the purpose of a public park. When fitted up it will be reached by steamers and street cars.

Some of the Montreal Telegraph Company's messenger boys who got up a strike in Toronto have returned to their work, and the places of others have been supplied. Some of the boys were in the habit of earning as much as $24 per month.

THE LORD GORDON EXCITEMENT. - The Manitoba Free Press, just received, gives ample testimony to the interest excited by the report of the "proceedings" of the men of the "Chicago" style appearing at the express car in which were conductor William Smith, Superintendent Royce, the Express Messenger J. Burgess and three other persons, and commenced firing rapidly in the car, yelling, "Get out of there, d---n you, get out of there!" Two bullets passed through the clothes of the conductor; one grazed the skull of the baggage man, and one side of the head of express messenger. The inmates jumped out when they were ordered to. The rear was covered by half a dozen navy revolvers. Two of the robbers marched up and down the train threatening to shoot any person who showed their head in the train, saying, "Get down out of sight, d---n you, or we will kill you!" The robbers then took about $2,000 from the express safe, cut open the mail sacks, but took no letters, and mounted each a horse and rode off across the prairie in a southerly direction, the whole being done in less than ten minutes. They fortunately did not cut the telegraph wires, and Superintendent Royce at once hastened to the nearest station and telegraphed in all directions. An engine and posse of men were sent out from Council Bluffs on the Burlington and other roads to intercept the robbers. Their dress and voices indicated they were regular bush whackers. They evidently intended to secure the valuable express matter by this route on Mondays, but which went through on an extra train on Sunday night. The robbers during the day stole a spike bar and hammer from the hand car engine at the station, drew the spikes from one end of the rail and secreted themselves several rods away, and as the engine approached pulled the rail out of its place. The promptness of the engineer in reversing his engine and the use of the air brakes saved the passengers from harm, as not one was injured. The track was at once laid around the wrecked cars and the train resumed its trip, arriving here at 7:30 this morning, bringing the dead body of the engineer, who resided here, and who leaves a wife and three children.

WHEAT HARBESTING has begun in the neighbourhood of Galt. Fields that have escaped winter-killing will yield well, the grain being well headed and the berry plump and well sprung. Crops are all coming on well, and promise a good return.

On Friday last a bevy of boys and girls to the number of forty-five arrived in Galt, and soon found pleasant quarters and comfortable rest at "The Home." Elbits to be held at London in September next, from the 22nd to the 26th. A very large sum is offered in prizes in the various departments. At a meeting of the local committee, held on Monday evening, instructions were given to the promptness of the engineer in reversing his engine and the use of the air brakes saved the passengers from harm, as not one was injured. The track was at once laid around the wrecked cars and the train resumed its trip, arriving here at 7:30 this morning, bringing the dead body of the engineer, who resided here, and who leaves a wife and three children.

THE PROVINCIAL SHOW. - We have received the prize list of the Provincial Exhibition to be held at London in September next, from the 22nd to the 26th. A very large sum is offered in prizes in the various departments. At a meeting of the local committee, held on Monday evening, instructions were given to the promptness of the engineer in reversing his engine and the use of the air brakes saved the passengers from harm, as not one was injured. The track was at once laid around the wrecked cars and the train resumed its trip, arriving here at 7:30 this morning, bringing the dead body of the engineer, who resided here, and who leaves a wife and three children.

The Galt Reformer announces with regret the sudden death of Mr. Robert Reid, of that town. Mr. Reid had been in somewhat feeble health, and on Monday afternoon he took suddenly worse, and at 11 o'clock the same night passed calmly away. He was in his 66th year. In 1833 Mr. Reid went to the West Indies as superintendent of the British and Mico schools, where he remained twenty years. In 1853 he came to Galt, where he has since resided. He was a native of County Down, Ireland.

The Hamilton Times announces the sudden death of Mr. James Craigie, third son of the late Dr. Craigie, long and well known in Hamilton. Mr. J. Craigie was in the 41st year of his age. On Sunday afternoon he was apparently in the enjoyment of his usual good health, but in the evening hemorrhage of the nose suddenly set in, and notwithstanding all that the best surgical skill could do to stop the bleeding, he died from exhaustion on Monday evening.

SPARROWS are well known to be most active and insidious in the removal of wax from the nests of birds. They have been introduced into Quebec and Montreal with good effect, and also into many of the chief American cities. Mr. G. McMurrich has now brought some to Toronto, and though he was so unfortunately killed by the robbery of the train, the four which survived were let loose on arrival at the Union Station, and will, no doubt, increase and multiply.

ROBERT. - A navy named William Remmer, employed on the Credit Valley Railway, was on Thursday of the sum of $26, and then, in company with another navy of doubtful character, engaged a horse and buggy to go to Brampton. In the meantime, the robbery being discovered, Mr. Brown, the owner of the horse and buggy, and also Mr. Davis, the man who lost the money, started in pursuit, and succeeded in arresting Wm. Remmer in Toronto and recovered the horse and buggy, together with part of the money. The prisoner will be taken to Brampton for trial.

Mr. C. J. Brydges, who has just returned to the city from the sea side, publishes a letter in the Montreal Witness, in which he denies the accuracy of statements made by Sir Hugh Allan in the letters published by Mr. McMillen. He concludes his letter as follows: "No amount of stock was ever offered to me or spoken of at any of the interviews which I refer to, or at any other time, and when Sir Hugh Allan wrote to his association stating that 'my terms' would be 'very high,' and subsequently mentioned various sums of stock to be allotted to me, he did so solely upon his own responsibility, and without the slightest authority from me, either expressed or implied."

Last Sunday morning a young man named William Paeker, an employee at a stone quarry in Toronto, was drowned in the Humber by the sinking of a leaky old scow, in which he and a companion were crossing the river. Deceased was twenty-two years of age, a native of Wopley, Gloucestershire, England, and had only been a few weeks in this country.

Literary men can never be sure of having said a smart thing unless they see the "proof."

Railway Train Attacked and Robbed.

Chicago, July 22. - A special despatch to the Evening Journal from Des Moines to-day gives the following account of an attack on the train of the Chicago, R. I. & Pacific Railway last night. The train left Council Bluffs at 5 o'clock with four coaches and two sleepers in rear, the sleepers being filled with a company of aristocratic Chinese on their way to New England colleges. There were also two baggage express cars, in which was the through California mail and express matter, consisting of nearly $2,000 in the express safe, and three tons of bullion. When about 65 miles west of Des Moines, about 8:30 o'clock, at a sharp curve in the road and at an isolated spot with no house for several miles in any direction, the train moving at about 25 miles an hour, the engineer, John Rafferty, suddenly saw one rail moved from its place about 60 feet ahead of the engine. He instantly reversed the engine and applied the air brake, and while in the act bullets came pelting in the engineer like hail. The engine ran into the bank and turned over, throwing out the engine and fireman, the former falling on the latter dead. The fireman escaped unhurt. The train being very heavy ran about 100 feet and stopped. The baggage cars doubled and were badly smashed. As soon as the train stopped, the robbers masked in full K-K-K style appeared at the express car in which were conductor William Smith, Superintendent Royce, the Express Messenger J. Burgess and three other persons, and commenced firing rapidly in the car, yelling, "Get out of there, d---n you, get out of there!" Two bullets passed through the clothes of the conductor; one grazed the skull of the baggage man, and one side of the head of express messenger. The inmates jumped out when they were ordered to. The rear was covered by half a dozen navy revolvers. Two of the robbers marched up and down the train threatening to shoot any person who showed their head in the train, saying, "Get down out of sight, d---n you, or we will kill you!" The robbers then took about $2,000 from the express safe, cut open the mail sacks, but took no letters, and mounted each a horse and rode off across the prairie in a southerly direction, the whole being done in less than ten minutes. They fortunately did not cut the telegraph wires, and Superintendent Royce at once hastened to the nearest station and telegraphed in all directions. The chief topic of discussion in the village and township during the past week was the "Credit Valley Railway," George Laidlaw, Esq., President of the Company, finished his canvassing tour of the County at Erin Village on Saturday evening. On Friday afternoon at Mimosas, and in the evening at Hillsburgh, he addressed large and intelligent audiences, contending that the railway was necessary for the prosperity of the people in this section of the County, that competition was needed in the carrying trade to Lake Ontario, and that the intention of the Credit Valley Railway Company was to do away with the monopoly of the G. T. R. and the G. W. R. Companies' high tariffs. On Saturday forenoon he addressed at length a meeting at Opeingre. He said he sympathized with many of them in that section on account of their feeling that they would not be so much benefited by the road as many who were nearer to where it would pass. Still he thought that it would all be benefited more than the bonus would cost them. After laying the matter before them, and urging their deep consideration of it he left, having to address a meeting at Erin Village, and then to go to Toronto that night. The meeting continued for sometime after Mr. Laidlaw left. Mr. G. Tolton, miller, of Aton, read a paper which he had prepared against the road. He informed the farmers present that he gave more for wheat in the village of Acton than was given in Toronto. Messrs. Fresh, Martin, Johnson, McKinnon and others addressed the meeting against the road, and were replied to by Messrs. McLaughlin, Kirkwood, McMillan, McArthur and Millroy, Dr. McLaughlin, and others. At 6 o'clock Mr. Laidlaw addressed a large meeting at Erin Village. He stated that bonds would be given for stations and free-warehouses at Erin Village and Hillsburgh, that the gauge was 4 feet 8 1/2 inches, that the road would never be sold to, or amalgamated to any other Railway company, and never to be employed in carrying freight of any other country at a lower rate than that of Ontario; that being wholly a local road it would be confined exclusively to the trade of the country. Mr. Laidlaw is said to feel sanguine about the matter. Erin, July 21st, 1873.

Opening of the Midland Railway. The Midland Railway was formally opened on Tuesday. A special train left Port Hope at nine a. m., and arrived at Orillia between two and three o'clock from that place and Peterborough, having on board about 200 persons, amongst them, the President, A. Engle, the principal railway officials, the corporation and Harbour Commissioners of Port Hope, the Mayor and Town Councils of Peterborough and Lindsay, and the Reeves and Deputy Reeves of the various townships along the line. On their arrival a complimentary address was presented to the President and Directors through James Quinn, Reeve, from the corporation of the village, which was warmly responded to by Mr. Engle, after which the railway officials, with the members of the village Council and their friends, adjourned to the Queen's Hotel, where a magnificent banquet was prepared.

The East Ward Election.

Our statement that Mr. Davidson was in the field a considerable time before Mr. McCrae has been called in question. The point is not worth controversy, and being a simple question of fact, does not call for it.

The Great Scandal.

Our readers have now before them in a condensed form the facts relating to one of the most outrageous revelations of political corruption of modern times. We have endeavored to state fairly the evidence for the defence as well as for the prosecution; and we now wish to call attention to the salient points which have been developed.

It has been proved by Sir Hugh Allan, Mr. McMullen and Senator Foster that over $350,000 was spent corruptly during the elections of last year, with a view to obtaining the Pacific Railway charter. This is admitted.

Mr. McMullen states, and has documentary evidence to support his statement, that $40,000 of this money was advanced by the American capitalists who were associated with Sir Hugh, that money was advanced to Sir John A. Macdonald, Sir George E. Cartier, Sir Francis Hincks, and Mr. Langevin.

It is also proved that the greater part of the money was spent during the hottest part of the elections.

It is also a fact that none but the Government could give the charter; that after spending all the money to carry the elections for the Government, Sir Hugh did get the charter; and the published correspondence shows the deliberate intention of the Government all along to give Sir Hugh the charter, either as head of one company or the other. Is it not then an insult to any one's common sense to say, in view of all this, that Sir Hugh carried on a course of wholesale bribery on behalf of Ministerial candidates, and that the Ministry were not aware of it—that they were not either active or passive participants in the scandalous transaction?

The circumstantial statement of Mr. McMullen is backed up by documentary proof, under the hands of the accused Ministers themselves, and by the written statement of Senator Foster, a Conservative Senator of the highest standing, from Quebec. Against this we have the simple denials of Sir Francis Hincks, as to his own alleged guilt, and of a manifesto from the Ministry generally, so cautiously framed that it might be verbally true and individual Ministers yet be guilty of all that is charged against them.

Simple denials from accused persons must always be looked upon with suspicion, especially from such a veteran adept in corruption as Sir John acknowledges Sir Francis to be; and the Ministry have deprived their assertions of all force by their ingenious and successful efforts to delay the investigation. The indications now are that the despicable meanness of laying all the odium upon the dead Sir George Cartier will be resorted to; but we think that the connection between Sir George and Sir John was too close to allow of any such defence being successful. Every effort should be made by Reformers to checkmate the evident desire of the Government, as evinced by the tone of their organs, that the coming session of Parliament should be a merely silent, and formal one. What a spectacle for the representatives of the people to sit like a conclave of dumb idiots, in the face of a scandal that is a standing reproach to our national honour.

"Grip" on the Scandal.

Grip begs to offer to his friends of the Dominion Cabinet a few suggestions which he hopes may be found useful in some way when the trouble threatens to receive a fresh impetus in August. What is mainly sought for, he presumes, is a specific reason or two why the investigation should not or cannot go on. Intelligent and ingenious Ministers will at once see the force of the following:—

(1) Is it customary—or rather is it constitutional—for a Committee of the House of Commons to prosecute an enquiry while the Shah of Persia is absent from his domains? We cannot find a precedent for it. Hadn't you better wait till he gets home?

(2) It is parliamentary etiquette, or even common kindness, to require a number of respectable and inoffensive gentlemen to be cooped up in a crowded court room this hot weather, listening to lengthy and probably unpleasant details for several months together?

(3) If the charges preferred against the Government are capable of proof, the Government must of necessity be utterly humiliated; if the case falls to the ground, Hon. Mr. Huntington will as certainly be riddled with newspaper bullets and stump speeches for many months to come. In either case wouldn't it be better for the morals of this young country to forego enquiry? wouldn't the unplearant consequences outbalance any possible good? (4) If Parliament sees fit to order the evidence to be taken on oath, isn't there some way of bringing about another disallowment? (5) Can't Parliament be prorogued, dissolved, demolished, or something?

THE PACIFIC SCANDAL IN THE PULPIT.—The Rev. Dr. Wilkes preached in Zion Church, Montreal, on Sunday morning, from the text, "If the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness!" He alluded to the Pacific scandal in very strong terms, as most humiliating and mortifying to every lover of his country. Sad as was the spectacle presented by the recent exposure of wicked men in high places, a still greater calamity to this young nation was to be found in the quiet submission of the people to this iniquity without a strong protest on their part.

THE TEMPTATION.

CHAPTER XXIX.

JIM WAS FARTHER DANGER AND EXCITING ADVENTURES.

Nearer still they came till they were swarming all around him, and had reached the root of the tree under which he was hid.

Terrible was his suspense, however, as he watched the progress of the Indian along the trunk, and to the extremity of the branches till they bent low under his weight.

The fugitive began to breathe freely again when the savage disappeared and joined his companions, who were by this time continuing the search further up the river side.

But for the present only. In all likelihood they would soon return, and a closer search might reveal him.

Pausing for a few moments to listen intently if no sound could be heard in the neighbourhood, he silently quitted his grasp of the tree, and stepped down to allow the canoe to slide out from under the branches, then, using his paddle as a scull, with determined vigor he forced the skiff well out into the current, which this time fairly whirled it, and bore him away with great rapidity.

In less than a minute he was clear of the overhanging banks, and could dimly see the wooded slopes above them. The river now took a curve to the right, and on rounding a jutting point crowned with trees, he came in view of a group of his pursuers, who were squatted there in silent inaction.

At first they did not perceive him, for not having to use his paddle the canoe glided on without raising a ripple, and he fervently hoped that he might pass unnoticed.

Thus he lay, seeing nothing, but hearing the demonic yells of his adopted brethren, whose society he was so basely deserting, conscious of the arrows all around him, and feeling the canoe rushing swiftly down the stream.

How long this hope was justified, for the cries of the savages became fainter, receding into the rear, and the arrows no longer reached the canoe. When Jim was perfectly satisfied that this was the case he cautiously raised himself, or rather tried to do so, for to his surprise he found something fastening him down on every side.
