Battle of Lodz Develops Russians Get 'Advantage'

Great Victory is Persistently Reported, But Offi cial Statement from Petrograd Makes No Sweeping Claims—Berlin Does Not Yet Admit Reverse.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Russian Poland still holds the centre of the war stage in public interest, but as yet it is impossible to say definitely what is transpiring there.

Unofficial reports still maintain that the Germans have suffered a great defeat at the hands of the Russians in the territory ly-ed a great defeat at the hands of the Russians in the territory lying between the Vistula and Warthe Rivers.

Official Petrograd, however, has made no claim to a decisive victory won. "In the battle of Lodz, which continues to develop, the advantage remains secured to our troops," says the latest Russian official statement. This communication adds that the Germans are "making strenuous efforts to facilitate the retreat of their corps" from the vicinity of Brzeziny northward to the region of Strykow," under conditions very favorable for them." How many corps are in retreat here is not stated by Petrograd.

Berlin makes no acknowledgment of a defeat in Poland. On the contrary, the German war office says the forces of Emperoi William at Lodz and at Lowicz have inflicted heavy casualties on the Russians and in addition have captured 40,000 prisoners, 70 cannon, 160 ammunition wagons and 156 machine guns, and destroyed 30 cannon. It is added that the Germans have not been able to "bring this fighting to a close," owing to the fact that the Russians were bringing up strong reinforcements.

As to the fighting farther south, the Russians say that on the Austrian front they have captured two regiments aggregating 3000 men, together with their commanders and other officers.

Argentina, Chile and Uruguay have laid their suggestions before the Washington government, while Brazil is considering the advisability of taking a similar step. Practically all the Central and South American countries have been circularized by some of the principal nations, resulting in a series of diplomatic conferences in Washington and the capitals of South America, which are now in progress. While the proposals are different in character and scope, they all seek the same end—the restoration of the trade between North and South America between North and South America paralyzed by the European war. The movement also has for its object the removal of possible causes of serious friction between the countries of this hemisphere and the European belli-

Already Chile, Ecuador and Colom have had serious difficulties with the belligerents over the use of the wireless and the coaling of foreign warships, whose presence in the At-lantic and Pacific is growing obnoxi-cus to South American countries.

Explosion on Bulwark Probably Accidental, But Some Doubt Felt.

NEARLY 800 PERISHED

Eye-Witness Gives Vivid Description of Disaster Off Sheerness.

LONDON, Nov. 26, 11.25 p.m.-Fourteen non-commissioned officers and men were saved from the British battleship Bulwark, which was destroyed by an explosion while she was lying off Sheerness this morning. This was announced by the secretary to the admiralty tonicht.

There was no great upheaval of water, such as would have occurred if she nstead the ship was enveloped in moke and flame, and when this had cleared nothing could be seen but wreckage floating on the sea.

Houses Were Shaken.

Houses in towns seven and eight niles away were shaken by the exon, and even before men on ships red nearby could reach their own decks the Bulwark had disappe The neighborhood presented a terrible appearance, being strewn with an enormous amount of wreckage, while pieces of the ship were thrown six or seven miles onto the Essex shore. Considering the size of her navy, Great Britain has been singularly free from disasters of this character.

Former Flagship.

The no longer on the fighting line, the Bulwark was deemed a useful unit. In her early career she was somewhat of a favored vessel and for a long time was the flagship of Admiral Lord Charles Beresford in the Mediterranean.

The Bulwark was one of the lighter types of battleships and a sister ship of the London and the Venerable. Her keel was laid down October 18, 1889, and she was completed in 1902.

The Bulwark was 411 feet long, 75 feet wide and drew 28 feet. She carried four 12-inch and twelve 6-inch guns, so placed as to give her a broadside of four 12-inch guns, or two 12-inch and four 6-inch guns, ahead or astern. She had four submerged torpedo tubes, and a speed of 18.5 knots.

Bulwark said:

"I was at breakfast at about ten minutes to 8 o'clock this morning when I heard an explosion and went on deck. My first impression was that the report was produced by the firing of a salute by one of the ships, but the noise was quite exceptional. When I got on deck I soon saw that something awful had happened. The water and sky were obscured by dense volumes of smoke. been held by the Russians for three days, but apparently they still refuse to lay down their arms. Conditions are such, however, that it is only a matter of time when they must surrender or be annihilated.

Great Marching Power.

The magnificent marching power of the Russion troops is a feature not properly reckoned with by the Germans. Some foot regim nts have been in the fighting line, always on the alert, for 50 days consecutively, and have taken in that time ten strongly fortified positions and have covered over difficult roads, n.ore than 600 miles.

"The Russians are now pouring thru the easy passes of the Carpathians a' Dukla, Galicia. The capture of these passes is tantamount to a full command of the plains of Hungary up to Budapest."

"Sank in Five Minutes.

"We kept a vigilant look out for the unfortunate crew, but saw only two men. I don't know whether the other boats rescued anyone. One man we saw was dead. The dieaster was the result of an accident."

Another eye-witness said that when the explosion occurred a great volume of flame and smoke shot into the air. The ship seemed to split in two and then heeled over and sank. She disappeared in less than five minutes.

Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, said in the house of commons, in announcing the destruction of the battleship Bulwark:

"The loss of the ship does not sensibly affect our military oostion, but I regret the loss of life, which was very heavy. Only 14 men were saved. All the officers and the rest of the orew. which I suppose amounted to between 700 and 800 men, perished."

He said words would fail to adequately express their admiration for the brave soldiers and sailors who are fighting at the front. W. F. Maclean, M.P., responding to the tost, "The Dominion of Canada," declared that the Dominion Parliamen must be liberal with money for the maintenance of the Canadian soldiers at the front and also in taking care of their families at home. There was party opinion in this conflict; the whole empire was one, united and fighting for the liberty of the world and the cause of humanity. "We are going to win," he declared. "I know we will win, but we must all bear part of the sacrifice required, and at the termination of this war the world will realize new ideas. It was on Tuesday night that the French marines drove the Germans out from trenched lines, and, following up their success, pressed on into the town, sweeping everything before them with machine guns. The Germans are reported not to have stopped retreating until they had put an interval of seven miles between them and their pursuers.

There are still said to be signs that the Germans are in earnest about making another effort to break thru to Calais and Boulogne, altho what point they have selected for this is not known.

Military trains are reported to be constantly passing thru Belgium, conveying reinforcements from Germany with heavy artillery from Essen. It is inferred from the supply trains passing thru Lattern with pontoons that the attack again will be made in the region of the canals stretching from Arras to the coast.

WANT CIVIC MARKET IN EARLSCOURT DISTRICT

District Voters' Executive Pass Resolutions Regarding Civic Improvements.

The executive committee of the Earlscourt District Voters' Association decided yesterday to make direct application to the Ontario Railway Board for express and freight deli-veries in the Earlscourt district, and the board of control requesting that a market site be secured for the northwest section of the city, convenient to the Grand Trunk and C. N. R., to supply the needs of Earlscourt West Toronto and Dovercourt.

The meeting strongly endorsed the action of the Hillcrest and kindred ratepayer and other associations in their action regarding the St. Clai avenue civic line extension down Bathurst Hill, Clinton street and Lansdowne avenue. H. Claver, referring to the need for express delivery in the district, said that the civic authorities were not evidently aware of the conditions ores Wallace and Watson thought at present existing in the section.

The roads were good and there was no excuse to delay deliveries any longer. The merchants would push the matter until delivery limits were extended. "We are paying city taxes now," said Mr. Claver, "and we are not receiving city privileges. Mud roads can be the excuse no longer." he said.

Trenchant Reply of the Manager in Toronto in Explanation of the Closing Out of Toronto Store at 143 Yonge St.

"The wolf pack are after us—I knew they would be," sail Billy Hay, manager of the Toronto Semi-ready store. "In every town in Canada, by innuendo and half ruth, the clothing travellers are intimating that every Semi-ready store is to be closed, because this Toronto store is being disposed of.

"We could sell Semi-ready clothes to many merchants if we would permit them to mix up ready-made clothing with ours—for this method enables the merchant to get higher prices for cheaply constructed trash. "Naturally a man going into a store displaying the Semi-ready sign expects to get Semi-ready, but if the cheap stuff is there he is likely to be film-fiammed into paying twice as much as the garment is worth. He may think it a real Semi-ready: the seller will chuckle at getting a quality price for a poor article, thus getting a hand-seme profit.

Ontario Government Will Appoint Official to Probe Cases of Evasion.

It is learned from government sources that a special commission may be appointed shortly to bring into active operation the government bill of last session relating to evasion of succession duties. Two of the first cases with which he will deal are those of the late George A. Cox and Herbert A. Cox. The estates in both instances were very large, and the tax which should come to the provincial treasury would be of greater size than that usually collected in this way.

The name of Mr. Justice Middletor has been heard among others as that of a likely official to act in the new capacity. The cabinet have not yet made official announcement of their intentions, but the matter will be leared up within a few days. The bill in question was introduced in the legislature last session by Hon. B. Lucas as expressly intended to frustrate the attempts of moneyed persons to evade the scope of the succession duties branch by transferring the bulk of their property before death. The estate of Hon. George A. Cox partment is able to save several hundred thousand dollars a year in the buying of its supplies, and if New York by copying the C.P.R. has saved several million dollars in the same way. hen surely it would be wise for the City of Toronto to depart from its antiquated and slow method of buying and place its buying for all departments under a central control." This is the gist of the argument offered by Controller Simpson when he spoke before the Municipal Improvement Association at their weekly noon day luncheon, held at Dunning's Hotel yesterday. Controller Simpson showed that in the few instances where the city had bought its supplies in a careful and scientific manner great savings had been made. Coal had been reduced 73 cents a ton, stone sets 13 cents a hundred. He also believed that the $200 limi above which heads of departments may not purchase without calling for was too low, as it did no allow the buying at the lowest market rates in some cases. # How to be Sure Shopkeepers and merchants throughout the Dominion are giving magnificent support to the "Made in Canada", movement.

Occasionally a shopkeeper, through lack of accurate information, may express the opinion that a certain class of article is not made in Canada, or is made only of an inferior grade.

If you are conscientiously trying to give "Made in Canada" goods first call in all your purchases, do not be content to relax your efforts just because you happen to receive this answer.

The shopkeeper may be perfectly sincere in his opinion, but there are other people who are more likely to have full and accurate information.

Why not write direct to the Canadian Manufacturers Association, Montreal, Toronto or Winnipeg? They have agreed to constitute themselves a general information bureau for the assistance of those who are trying to live up to the "Made in Canada" idea, and a line to them will always bring you prompt and reliable information, as to how and where to obtain the article you desire most conveniently and most quickly. If it is not made in Canada they will frankly tell you so.

Canadian Laundries the Hope of the Workless

One half of the unemployed men and women in Toronto could earn good wages in the white laundries this winter but for one obstaclethere isn't the work for them to do-the Chinese have the monopoly. It would require over FOUR THOUSAND of our unemployed to do the laundry work the Chinese are prospering on.

Here are the figures: -336 Chinese laundries in the built-up sections of the city, averaging six workers to a laundry, equals 2016 Chinamen engaged in the busines. Each works night and day, thus doing twice as much as his civilized white competitor is able to do. The result is, a volume of laundry goes into Celestial hands each week that would give work to 4032 of our own unemployed.

What do you get for your patronage of the Chinamen? Do you get the satisfaction that comes from helping a fellow member of the British Empire? Are you doing Toronto any good? The white laundries all stand for sanitation, efficiency and service. You hold the key of the situation in your own hands-open the door to the workless by sending your next parcel to a CANADIAN laundry! They cost a little more, but they're worth it.

Patriotic Event in Aid of Relief Work Well At-

The bazaar of the Women's Conservative Club opened yesterday at 2 o'clock with a swing and vim that argued well for its success. Mrs. Hearst, wife of Ontario's premier, was introduced by Mrs. VanKoughnet, the president, to the ladies and gentlemen who had gathered, as an always interested member.

Mrs. Hearst speke of the pleasure she had always taken in the work of the club. Had she time she should like to have even a larger share. Women all over were doing great things at the present time, but now she thought they were doing more than those of the Conservative Club. She expressed a wish that the club had larger quarters.

That there is room for every Good Follow in Toronto is being more strongly emphasized ever day since those of the Conservative Club. She expressed a wish that the club had larger quarters.

A beautiful basket of Killarney roses and marguerites was presented to Mrs. Hearst as she opened the bazaar, and a sheaf of lovely roses to Miss Cornell, in whose house at 286 Simcoe street the sale was being held. Miss Violet Walsh played several selections on the piano and Miss Denny sang. All kinds of pretty and useful articles were for sale.

In the evening a musicale added to the attractions. Mr. Coucher, who possesses a fine baritone voice, sang with just the true spirit the song "Tommy Atkins," and Mrs. Lily Lorelle Howard, soprano, contributed the "Charms of Spring."

The receipts are to be given, to relief work.

RIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 27.

From the City Hall to Berlin With all the criticism that has en leveled at the city hall adminstration this year, even its enemies been unable to find any fault

It is in the mind of Sir James Whitney continually kept everyone who has considered the matter, but it is likely to slip out of the minds of the voters in general, see no unanimity among those who city treasury, and a state of affairs which threatened the city with the supervision of a sheriff's officer. One week it was touch-and-go whether the city pay roll would be met Nearly thirty millions of money has been handled since then, and under the circumstances, at highly favorable rates. One or two unfavorable results have been far more than offset by the many instances in which the city got the best of the money for active demonstrations among the gone into over and over again and suffragists. form an interesting page in the city's but of actual distress.

As it is, under the arrangements which Controller McCarthy was to a large extent responsible for, the business of the city has been carried on without a hitch, and with the slightest possible curtailment that could have been expected. Without this straightening out of the city's financial tangles there would have been a suspension of most of the public works not mean that it is a struggle to setin the program of the engineer's declosing down of some of the important departments completely for lack of funds, and the wages and salaries of city employes would inevitably replace it. Were that all there would This would have meant an almost inconceivable amount of distress in the city, besides striking a heavy blow at the city's credit. As it is, all this has been avoided the ordinary business of the city has been in no way interfered with, many large tworks have been carried on without interruption, and all other large and important works, such as the Bloor street viaduct, the funds for which had been voted, will be proceeded with fust as the the war had not occurred. Naturally there had to be some retrenchment for the future. and with respect to future undertakings; but the postponement is of the nature of a war measure, and not forced on by anything in the condition of the city itself. Large votes for the purposes of patriotic measures and home defence have been taken into account, and when the financial state of the city comes to be summed up for pre-election purposes, it will be found that Toronto has never been in so satisfactory a condition before. This is a cause of strength, not only to the city, but to the province and the country, and it is one of the ways in which solid help is rendered to the empire in a critical time. To carry on business as usual is the best way to carry the war into Germany. Mayor Hocken and Controller McCarthy have thus done their share in opening the road to Berlin.

What Might Have Been

There seems to be in the oriental mind a capacity for sardonic pleasure in the sight of suffering which differs from what we generally call cruelty. The occidental is cruel brutishly, furiously and without any, of that to believe that the German armies intellectual pleasure. When the French executed Dr. Guillotine with gates of Paris, but are practically his own machine they did unthinkingly what the Turks might have done with malice aforethought. The latter, like the mikado, would see something humorous as well as lingering in im-rsing a gentleman and his "too wel in bolling oll or molten lead.

Only the oriental could have conifie. General Hughes has been much nore closely identified in the public mind with that rifle than has Si Charles Ross himself. He stood by it against, his party until 1911, and finally imposed it upon his asso when they came into power.

The major-general is a brave man but would no doubt rather die like a oldier in battle than be shot down in ter misfortune had befallen him at London, Ont., and a Ross rifle had the famous lines:

Delaying "Votes for Women" President Harriet Dunlop Prenter of the Political Equality League has taken one way of showing why "votes for women" is not so successful a cause as many think it ought to be repeating that when women wanted the vote they would get it. He could when the present mayor came did want it. So he refused to give office two years ago there was votes to women, feeling sure, like an astute politician, that his opponents would eat each other up.

The Canadian Suffrage Associations have suffered from the same evil that other political organizations have suffered from, and if envy, hatred, malice and all uncharitabless are too strong terms to describe the sentiments that sometimes appear to exist, it is in that direction, evidently, rather than in the direction of good feeling, love, kindliness and charity that critics must look into the trenches and compelled to the world. The mere men of the existing political institutions may be pardoned for finding in Mrs. Prenter's attack a reason for still further postponing "votes for women." It is to be deplored that such an excellent cause suffers most from its own advocates.

British and German Ideas

This war is fundamentally a conflict between two ideas that are striving to dominate the world. That does to prevail. For in that case it would simply be reduced to a combat between two world powers, one seeking be no such rallying to the support of the allies on the part of the weaker nationalities as this war has already provoked. One or two have been held back because they fear and dread the possibility of German victory, and are culminating in the capture of a Gerproviding for that possibility. But in their heart of hearts every liberty- Russian manoeuvre by which the Germans were led into an inextricable loving people is praying that success may attend the allied arms.

That instinctive idea is a compelling tribute to the British Empire as it exists in the twentieth century. In earlier days it grew thru conquest, just as Prussia did. But the Briton abroad, just as the Briton at home, carried ever within himself the prinfought for it and died for it, and thru his individual devotion independent states have arisen, outside and inside tarists want to impose their notions on the world, and think they can do it had come up and they surrounded the thru the might of the sword. British Germans, thousands of is the root of loyalty. Had the British Empire rested on compulsion it would not be the unit it is today. Assistance spontaneously given, even from native races supposed to be peculiarly open to incentives to rebellion, is a magnificent tribute to the work done by the civil servants of the # motherland.

Germany in the Ditch One wonders what the German people will do when their eyes are opened to the true story of this war. To were progressing from which satisfacthem, apparently, a far more rigid censorship is being exercised than that which afflicts the British public. the turning back of the tide of Russian invasion. The people believe these statements because they believe that German arms are invincible. Preparation made them so, and prepara tion ensures victory. Modern war is not altogether a mat equipment. These have their value, but over and above the confidence bred by generations of careful anticipation stands the natural patriotism of a liberty-loving people. Driven British officers have testified, but the courage they possess depends on the touch of the comrades on either hand. That seems to be the fatal weakness of the stern discipline imposed under Prussian control. The very system that was believed to ensure victory has been, and will continue to be, the reason of defeat. Men are machines and morale suffers earlier than mechanism, and the damage is more Conter Will Be Absentee in Commission Meets in Ottawa Saturday's Big Fixture-Seats All Sold.

The total receipts of the Big Four Club were only about $1500, and a $1000 deficit will be shown. Last rear the receipts of the Big Four Club were $6000. The war, a losing team, and miserable weather for the home games were responsible for the worst financial slump that the local club has experienced in its history. The local club is financially embarrassed, and has not sufficient funds to make two western trips.

Montreal Herald: The coffers of the McGill Football Club are just $2853.94 richer as a result of the receipts of the play-off game with Varsity at Toronto. SOME SURPRISES AT HILLCREST PARK

Toronto Driving Club Matinee Well Patronized—Alcy D.

The Toronto Driving Club mat'nee at Hilberest Park yesterday drew a good crowd of horsemen to see the trotters and pacers perform. There were three races on the card and they proved to be stubborn contests in each event.

The first race had five starters, and it went four heats, and the winner was a surprise to the talent. Darr G. and Sanatel were looked upon as the contending horses, but the former was last thru bad breaks, and Sanatel was handicapped by the going being a little heavy. The winner of the race, Alcy D., showed a good performance under the good driving of Fleming. Ned Wikes, Al Collins' erratic trotter, took it in his head to trot the second heat, and taking the lead at the half-mile pole, they could never get to him. After that he refused to score and was out of it.

she made a had break and looked to be soundly beaten, but she gained on the leaders steadily. When the three-quarter pole was reached she was lapped on the leader. Royal Bell, but she seemed to weaken, and McBride's horse went away again and opened up a two-length lead to the middle of the stretch when he made a break and was beaten home by a length.

The pacing event was a hummer, as the finishes were very close each time. The Edmonton entry, Alphadell, got the long end of the purps, but Ed. Locondo was only beaten a head in two of the heats, and he beat Alphadell a head in the third. A blanket would have covered the first fhree horses in this heat as Geo. Locondo was right there and went a splendid race. Victoria Poem Pat McCarthy's entry, in this event was drawn after the third heat, being a little short of work. The owner stated that he would be ready for the next big derby.

The Russian population, the committee says, suffered most severely, less from natural consequences of war than from the cruelty of Austrian officials, who always suspected the loyalty of the Galician population.

S. Crowther, Lambton Mills, had eight turkeys at 18c per lb., 12 chickens at 16c per lb., as well as carrots and parsnips at 25c per 11-quart basket; onions at 20c per 6-quart basket.

Mr. Crowther sold his poultry by the only fair method, viz., by weight, carrying scales along to weigh them.

A Concrete Case.

Selling poultry by weight, and not at so much each, should be one of the laws of the market, as the purchaser then knows just what he is paying, and is not liable to be held up. For instance, yesterday The World reporter asked a butcher, who was on the market from one of the towns, with veal and chickens, and when told "he would have to sell at 12c per lb. today," remarked "it was yery reasonable," and "she would take a pair at that price." Then she asked him if he knew their weight, to which he replied "Yes," and picking up a pair said: "This pair will be $1.25." She thought they were small, and told him she would have them weighed, and doing so found she had paid a little over 15c per lb. to kickens were a little over 15c per lb. to which he replied "he was sorry he had made the mistake, and would make it all right next time," but she did not want a "next time" so gave the chickens back and had the money refunded. Now chickens were worth 15c per lb., but it was the principle she resented. Why did he say he was selling at 12c per lb. and then charge 15c per lb.
