Says He Pointed Out to England Ability of Canada to Make Supplies in Plenty and Promptly

Wilson W. Butler, of Montreal, vice-president of the Canadian Steel Foundries, Limited, and the Canadian Car Foundry Company, arrived in New York last week from Liverpool with a fat Russian contract in his pocket.

England has not treated Canada fair in the distribution of contracts for the manufacture of war supplies, he said, "but I think a better disposition will be manifested now that D. A. Thomas has been appointed by Lloyd George as the organizer of Britain's munitions contracts in America and Canada.

Mr. Butler declared that Lloyd George's confidence in the Canadian Pacific Railway and in Canada, if he handles Canada properly, England can get out of her shell on a greater scale than she is aware of.

Canadian Platoons Went Through Deadly Gaps in Orchard Hedge - Joked Amid Death

London, June 30-How the Canadians captured an orchard at Festubert, and with what remarkable coolness they accomplished it are told by a correspondent who writes from the British headquarters in France.

It was a square filled with fruit trees, and surrounded by thick hedges, with some buildings obscured by trees at the further end. The attack was launched at 7.15 p. m. One platoon was to attack it in front, which was swept by fire from German trenchers.

BLACK BOX AND FRENCH DETECTIVE STORY; IMPERIAL TODAY AND ON SATURDAY

In addition to the ninth chapter of the absorbing serial story, "The Black Box," Imperial Theatre announces for today and tomorrow the well-known detective classic by Emil Gaboriau, "File No. 113."

This is a standard work and is included in nearly all good private libraries. It is a profound mystery-story with plenty of real thrilling moments.

The Black Box goes week is especially strong. Following the inexplicable death of Lord John the plot thickens by the capture and abduction of Leonard Sanford Quest is now in his worst quandary and makes a heroic attempt to get at the bottom of the chain of crime.

Furious Crowd Attempted to Seize Him as He Left the Capitol - Result of Frank Affair

Atlanta, Ga., June 30-The feeling aroused by Governor John M. Slaton's action in commuting the death sentence imposed on Leo M. Frank for the murder of Mary Phagan culminated at the Capitol in a great demonstration against the governor when he retired from the executive office and the United States, of Macon, was inaugurated.

For the first time in the history of Georgia a governor has left office with a great crowd hurrying epithets at him and crying "lynch him!" and escaping bodily harm only through the protection of a large force of police and state troops.

Up to ten days ago it seemed probable that Slaton would retire as one of the most popular governors that Georgia has ever had.

Then came his decision commuting the death sentence of Frank. The strength and fervor of the outburst which it provoked must have surprised the governor for it surprised even those who opposed the commutation of Frank's sentence.

Two very enjoyable and successful receptions were held on Wednesday evening in honor of the graduates of the St. John and St. Vincent's high schools, the latter in Bond's cafe, Charlotte street, and the former in the school assembly hall. Both were attended by many and gave much pleasure. A pleasing address was given by Miss Jessie Lawson, president of the high school Alumni, welcoming the class of '15, and making reference to the work of the society and the activities of the members of late in patriotic causes. She spoke of donations of $200 to the Patriotic Fund, $100 to the Belgian fund, and $100 to endow two beds in the Duchess of Connaught hospital, besides several boxes sent to the front. LONDON CONCERNS GUARDING AGAINST AERIAL ATTACKS

Financial House in Court for Erecting Building Laws by Violating a Steel Framework on Roof.

London, July 1-Through a case in court where a prominent engineering firm was charged with violating the building laws, it became known today that many large financial houses of the city are taking elaborate precautions to protect their buildings against air raids.

The firm on trial had failed to obtain official permission to alter the roof of its building, over which a frame work and steel netting, weighing several and one-half tons, had been erected. A building inspector, by his testimony, said that many similar cases had been reported. The court imposed a nominal fine, amounting to about $125.

OF CANADIAN INFANTRY FIRST SENT OVER BUT FIVE THOUSAND REMAIN Toronto, July 2-(Willson cable)-London, July 2-The heavy tolls in the Battles of Ypres, Festubert and Givenchy have reduced the Canadian infantry to a mere skeleton of the splendid body of men who went to France last February. Of the 12,000 who left England five months ago, together with the additional thousands who have gone over since then as a reserve, less than 5,000 rifles remain to represent the Canadian infantry in Flanders.

Before going North he was assistant editor of the "Yokohama Companion."

CHURCH: BENT AND APPEAL

On N. B. July 2, 1915, the Evening Times and Star published an article on the church and especially on St. Philip's church—a month of finishing at which time we leave when I came the church. Since we have with the assistance of our Anglo-Saxon friends paid all outstanding legitimate debts. The church has credit and a good congregation. During these years we have received from the white friends as follows:

Total amt. $100.85
Of this amount $88 was handed to me as custodian for St. Philip's church—all of which was reported and went to the purpose for which it was solicited. I heartily thank those who contributed.

The church has been renovated and repaired to the amount of $800. All business is done through an official board organized when I took charge of the church, also a systematized order of services.

The congregation has not been diminished up to the point where they will support their church by giving systematically; thus our Sunday collections are from $150 to $80, averaging about $125 per month, which will not pay the expenses for coal, light and advertisements, especially in winter.

I am afraid unless the charitable disposition of the city remember us as well as the Belgians the church will not be able to keep open, especially should the conference send a minister with a large family here. A few of the congregation give liberally but the majority give but one cent each. There may be 150 persons at service, seventy-five of these will give a cent each, the other half will average about three cents each. This is ridiculous in the light of modern civilization. The strenuous times brought about by the war and meagre donations this year having received $7 from the white friends the result of which is that our church is again in debt. We are finishing our two years' work and doubtless the conference will send another minister and it is our desire to pay all indebtedness incurred under our administration and

WIRELESS TELEPHONE IS NEAR SAYS TESLA

New York, July 2—Nikola Tesla electrical expert and pioneer in the field of wireless telegraphy and telephony, sounded the death knell of wires as a means of communication last night. The wireless telephone is the instrument of the future," he said. "It is practical. A few mechanical details need to be improved, that is all. The day of the wireless telephone, and even the wireless photograph transmitter is not far off.

AUSTRIAN ATROCITIES AS BAD AS GERMANS

Rome, July 2—According to stories told by wounded soldiers returning from the front, the stories of Austrian atrocities dating from the time when other provinces of Italy were under Austrian rule are equally true of the present war. Soldiers who have arrived at Udine declare that the old torture of suspending the victim by his hands, with only the toe of the big toe touching the ground, is resorted to, and that sick men are compelled to work. On the simplest pretext men are dragged away from their families and are shot if they rebel. From prisoners it is learned that Austria has taken extraordinary precautions to prevent desertions, and that positions are surrounded by wire which must be kept by the Austrian soldiers in the Italian outposts.

LABOR CONGRESS CONVENTION CALL

Session This Year in Vancouver in September SOME OF THE SUBJECTS Conditions Growing Out of the War Likely to Engage Large Share of Attention—Call to the Unions to Select Delegates at Once

Ottawa, July 2—The thirty-first annual session of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada will convene in the Labor Temple building, Vancouver, beginning at ten o'clock on Monday morning, September 20, and will continue in session from day to day until the business has been completed.

The annual meeting of the congress held last year in St. John can be considered as one of the most successful in the history of the congress. It was in the centre of the maritime provinces and afforded opportunities for those who live along the Atlantic coast to become better acquainted with the progress and work of the congress.

1.—The conditions arising from employment in the industrial centres in Canada. 2.—Dominion and provincial legislation affecting labor interests.

3.—The time to elect your delegates is now at hand. Do not delay. Needless to say that the very dearest interests of the laborer are at stake. This intelligent and business-like members be chosen as delegates.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR GRAND BAY

An interesting and well contested baseball game was played yesterday at Grand Bay when the boys from Riverdale Club vanquished a visiting team playing under the name of the Shamrocks, 8 to 2. For several innings the game was close and exciting, but loose playing by the visitors towards the end of the sixth ended their chance of victory, especially as they were unable to land safely on Henderson. A large number of fans and fanses enjoyed the game. The line-up follows: Grand Bay—Lightford, catcher; Henderson, pitcher; Latham, first base; McGowan, second base; Somerville, third base; Wright, short stop; Nobles, left field; Albert Henderson, centre field; Deak, right field. Shamrocks—McIntyre, catcher; Hansen, pitcher; Howard, first base; Knudsen, second base; Kelly, third base; McBrearty, short stop; Hagerty, left field; McIntyre (Jim), centre field; McAllister, right field.

After the Game

Another victory for the Grand Bay Boys. Inability to swat the ball at opportunity moments was the reason that the visitors scored only two runs. Twice when there were men on bases Grand Bay advanced to the plate, but because of the warm applause from the grand stand, became flustered and batted punching a few holes in the air he did no damage.

He was ably seconded by McAllister who gave a wonderful exhibition of club swinging. When the game was nearly over he sneaked in a little hit past the unsuspecting opponents, who were confident that he would again repeat his wind jamming performance.

Haggerty gave the greatest exhibition of control that ever witnessed on the field. Once he actually walked up a tree eight feet tall and with a mighty leap appeared the soaring hero which came back nestling serenely in his arms.

Howard and Kelly were a big league team in themselves with their code of sign working in fine order. McBrearty and Knudsen were kept busy chasing granders around holes under boulder, or at least that was the excuse they gave a vain hope to escape the wrath of the mighty Jimmie McIntyre, who was so wrought up over the poor showing of his recruits that he actually quit chasing flies and instead started on his bloodthirsty trip after a lot of mosquitoes.

The Grand Bay boys were elated over their triumph and held a celebration and feast to top it off.

"Bob" Penlidon was the only friend the grandstand baseball aggregation had. He tried to cheer them up by a rare assortment of casts, which would do credit to the table of a king.

McGowan, Lightford and Latham took great delight in seeing who could lose the ball with the greatest good sport for them, but presented another phase to the ported fielders.

Somerville played a stellar game at third and is said to be aspiring to Baker's shoes if Connie Mack will give him the chance.

Just a word for the ump. If the visiting team had him in the city it is a question whether they would shoot him, hang him, or put him in an insane asylum. If it was possible to do all three he would certainly get his.

WILFRID McNEILL MET DEATH BY DROWNING

While bathing at Little River late last evening Wilfrid McNeill, aged seventeen years, son of Laughlin McNeill, was drowned. He and his brother, Herbert, had been in bathing, though neither was able to swim. It is supposed that Wilfrid was taken with a cramp.

Herbert heard his call for help, and went towards him, but he slipped into a hole and only with great difficulty was he able to get out himself. He was found unconscious on the river bank by Herbert Crighton, who immediately summoned others to his aid, including the boys' father, and Kenneth Venus and others. By this time Wilfrid McNeill had drowned. His body was recovered. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved parents and family. Two brothers, Vincent L. and Arthur J. survive at home besides Herbert. Wilfrid was an employee of the Atlantic Sugar Refinery, and had numerous friends.

GETTING READY FOR THE SHRINERS AND FAMILIES

Seattle, Wash., July 2.—Final preparations for the opening of the 41st Imperial Council session of the Mystic Shrine, the largest and probably the most important gathering in the history of the high order, have been completed here, and the city, gay with bunting, flags and Oriental designs, awaits the coming of thousands of nobles and their families.

The vanguard will arrive on Saturday July 10, and from that time on special trains from every part of the country will bring bands, patrols and delegations from the 187 temples until Monday evening preceding the opening of the session.

The Imperial council will convene on Tuesday morning, July 13 and will extend over three days. The shriners will be officially welcomed to the northwest by governor Ernest Lister of Washington, Mayor Hiram C. Gill of Seattle and other prominent westerners. The response will be made by the imperial potentate, Dr. Frederick H. Smith of Rochester, N. Y.

Many social events have been planned. Four huge balls, three on one evening and one on the closing night of the council—three luncheons at which 2,000 persons will be guests of the Seattle nobles, excursion trips, lawn fetes, barbecues and other features will comprise the programme.

After the council the majority of the delegates will tour the southwest and visit the California Exposition before returning to their homes.

A promissory note for ten cents, the instrument being dated Feb. 6, 1888, was found by the owner the other day in an old pocketbook at Polo, Mo. The signer of the note is alive and solvent, but the holder declares he would rather keep it for payment, even though he has figured that principal and interest amount to something like $817.

MUNITION PLANTS OF GERMANY WORK AT FEVERISH PACE

No Labor Troubles Because Men Fear They Will Be Sent to Front—30 Hours at a Stretch

London, June 30.—A "neutral" correspondent, just returned from Germany, in an article in the Chronicle this morning, describes the German organization for the manufacture of munitions as follows:

"It is in towns, particularly industrial towns, where one sees how entirely the German nation is organized for war. Into these towns an enormous number of men have been drafted from the country to work in factories, which are humming day and night with activity to keep up the supply of all things necessary for the fighting line.

"In general, the relations between capital and labor there have experienced notable amelioration. Indeed, the impression one gains in travelling about Germany is one of absolute settled industrial peace, but I know this has only been secured because all parties know that the first signs of dissatisfaction would be treated with the utmost vigor of the law."

"At some of the largest factories men are often at work fifteen, twenty and thirty hours at a stretch. It is said that though there are ample stocks of all kinds of ammunition, there is noted daily and nightly a feverish haste in factories where it is made.

"The government has not officially taken over the factories, but there is a clause in the contracts which fixes rates of wages for every grade of workmen, so that any questions of increases that the men might raise are out of the hands of the employer, and the workmen are in the hands of the state. Strikes are therefore unknown, a further deterrent being the knowledge that any man who does not do his utmost without murmuring will quickly be embodied in some regiment destined for the hottest places at the front.

"In factories where government work is being done, wages are high, and even

THE KING DEVIL AND CUT-WORM

They Are Both Summering up River—Amateur Gardening—The Holiday at Public Landing—Happy Days For Children

The King Devil is running riot at Public Landing. Being only a weed, however, it has not interfered with the work at Benah Camp, further than to invite a copious flow of language which does not bear the earmarks of early piety.

The King Devil grows to a height of one to two feet, has very conspicuous yellow blossoms, and spreads both by seed and runners, and the farmer who catches up with it is going some. It is honored with special mention in a government publication lately issued at Ottawa. When it settles down in a field, the grass and clover have no more chance than one of Charles Parker's little pigs when their mother gets at the trough where they are feeding. But a King Devil is always a King Devil, and there are others, mostly government contractors. Anyhow, the grass and clover stands no chance with the King Devil; and even our old friend the ox-eye daisy has its troubles. When these two settle down in the same field, the farmer who wants winter fodder for cows and horses may as well sell out.

It is a curious fact that the King Devil first appeared at Public Landing about four years ago. That was when the Borden government came into power; but Charles Parker, being a good conservative, obstinately refused to see any necessary relation between the two events, when it was pointed out to him by a Toronto man, although it is a considerable derailing this summer to put the King Devil out of business in about four years ago.

In extreme cases summer following is necessary to destroy this weed.

Also the Cut Worm

Mr. Parker was transplanting some thrifty tomato plants. He had more than he wanted, and put in a row for the Times man, who was also given some turnip plants and other things, along with a bit of garden, to interest the children, and enable their truthful parent, after week-end visits to tell cursive groups on the street corners in town how many inches in diameter his turnips had grown in a week, and what heavenly satisfaction there is in raising your own blisters.

Of course the tomato plants had to be visited in the morning, to see if they had developed any blossoms overnight. They had not, and one of them had been broken off. Victims of dogs, cows, and other marauders at once suggested themselves—also the need of a fence for the garden plot. The tale was told to Mr. Parker.

"Cut-worm," said that gentleman sentimentally, when he had examined the stalk, and after a moment's digging around the root he produced the destroyer, an insignificant little worm less than an inch long. It may be true, as a man on the Ocoee observed on the voyage up the river, that what a man sows, he shall also reap; but sometimes just to worry the philosopher, a perverse fate comes along with a cut-worm.

Visitors, Cottagers and Crops.

There were many visitors at Public Landing yesterday. A number of families went up on the Ocoee on Wednesday afternoon, to remain during the summer season. The weather yesterday was overcast but fine, and whether in the fields or woods, or by the shore, or in a boat on the river, or on cottage verandah, the city folk, and especially the children, thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The fields are bright with blossoms; strawberries are to be found here and there; the foliage of the trees is unusually rich and abundant, as a result of the recent rains; the crops are promising, and of hay the yield will be much larger than in most seasons. From the hills above the Landing the view is one of remarkable interest and beauty, and there are always the occasional motor boats, sailing yachts, wood-boats, tug-boats and steamers on the broad bosom of the river, to give life to the picture. There are the usual numbers of cottagers at the Landing, and the dancing pavilion is again in use this summer.

The Ocoee on Wednesday was crowded with people and jammed with freight when she left Indiantown. So much of the latter arrived late, because a train shunting at the I. C. R. depot held up traffic, that the steamer was later than usual in getting away. At every point along the river passengers went ashore, but the majority went beyond Public Landing. Groups of children, free for the holidays, were the happiest passengers. Now for two months, from St. John to Oak Point and beyond, the shores of the noble river will echo the calls and the laughter of the children, all unconscious of the meaning of the grim shadow of war that hangs above the world.

There was talk of the war at the Ocoee ploughed her way along the river, and one whose home is in Rhode Island told of many German-Americans he knew who were in sympathy with the cause of the Allies. One, he mentioned, a German in business in Boston, who came to America because of his hatred of Prussian militarism, and who is very outspoken in expressing the hope that it may now be crushed, and a better and happier Germany emerge from the great conflict.

SINK SUBMARINES WITH AIRCRAFT

Dirigibles To Be Their Destroyers in Future

FEAT PROVES THEORY

Will Take the Place of Scouting Vessels in Battleship Squadrons

Washington, June 30.—A despatch from Berlin relating how a Russian submarine was sunk by a German aeroplane, while hailed by the average layman as one of the remarkable accomplishments of the war, came as no surprise to American naval officers. In fact it was a source of some satisfaction to them to know that they had anticipated by a long period just this very thing. For months the navy has been proceeding on the theory that aircraft presented the very best possible offence and defence against submarines.

Formerly it was believed aeroplanes would be useful in discovering the presence of submarines. Now it is realized that the way to destroy a submarine and to guard large fighting ships from underwater craft is to use aircraft against them—not only aeroplanes, but dirigibles. The battle fleet of the future must be equipped with its regular complement of aircraft or run the risk of being seriously handicapped.

However, it must be explained, if the theories held by the aeronautical corps of the navy, of which Capt. Mark L. Bristol, U. S. N., is director, are correct, the aeroplane itself is not destined to be the chief instrument of destroying submarines. This part must be played by the dirigible, which can regulate its speed to suit that of the submarine and from its point of vantage in the air detect the location of the underwater craft and pursue it until an opportunity arises for attacking.

Necessarily, the aeroplane will be less useful in attacking a submarine on account of its great speed, which cannot be so well regulated, and on account of the inaccuracy of bombs dropped from it.

As the occupants of a dirigible can see submarines at a considerable depth under water and as it is proposed that these dirigibles shall carry bombs to explode not only in the air but under water, it will be seen that a submarine must go to a great depth to be immune from aerial attack. With the larger carrying capacity of a dirigible, the lighter aircraft should be able to bear bombs containing from fifty to a hundred pounds of explosive as compared with the lighter bombs carried by aeroplanes. The explosion of a large bomb within ten feet of the submarine would wreck it, it is said.

As at present contemplated the function of the aeroplane in naval warfare will be to scout and destroy the aeroplanes of the enemy. The real offensive must be taken by the dirigible, protected by its own aeroplanes against aeroplane attack.

To what extent the aircraft is destined to restrict the activities of submarines in naval warfare is a subject that naval experts are seriously considering. If expectations are realized the aerial

Old Ways Merely Quieted The Corn

The New Way Ends It

Some folks still cling to liquids, to inefficient plasters, or to merely paring corns.

They wrong themselves. Their own friends keep free from corns by using Blue-jay plasters.

They apply one in a jiffy, then forget the corn. In 48 hours, without pain or soreness, the entire corn comes out.

A famous chemist found this way which makes corns out-of-date. One can't prevent them easily, but to keep them is folly.

Millions of people know that.

DELIGHTFUL SUMMER DRINKS

Many Tempting Beverages From the Same Bottle.

One of the very pleasant features of a bottle of Montserrat Lime Fruit Juice is its versatility.

The ordinary Montserrat beverage is made with half a wineglassful of Montserrat, some sugar, broken ice and a glassful of water. This is delightful and quenches the thirst.

Another Montserrat beverage can be made by using soda water instead of plain water. It gives a little more snap. Gouffers like it.

Montserrat can also be used instead of lemons for flavoring frozen punches and ice cream.

Montserrat is not common Lime Juice. It is pressed from fresh cultivated lemons from the beautiful island of Montserrat.

HOW HICKS WON THE D.S.O. AWARD

Gallant Act Which Brought Honor to Member of Moncton Battery

Ainsley Hicks, a native of Joliette, Westmorland county, has brought signal honor to Anderson's 8th Battery. He was one of the Canadians who distinguished himself at the Battle of St. Julien (Ypres), and was one of those whom Field Marshal Sir John French recommends for distinguished service in the field. Corporal Hicks, in the face of what seemed almost certain death, saved one of the battery guns and retreated successfully. He was wounded and it is believed he is now on the road to recovery. Corporal Hicks is about twenty-four years of age and is a son of the late Clarence Hicks. His mother is also dead. From boyhood he liked the military life and went to Camp Sussex one year with Major S. B. Anderson, commander of the old 19th. As soon as war broke out he was very anxious to enlist and as a matter of fact his was the fourth name enrolled on the list with Major Anderson.

Corporal Hicks' distinguished gallantry is best told in a letter to his mother from Sergeant Percy (Butte) Grant, also a member of Anderson's Battery. His reference follows:—

We prepared to retire, and when the teams were brought in the horses of my gun and ammunition wagon were missing. The night was pitch dark, and the roads were crowded with horses and vehicles of all descriptions and hundreds of troops, many of whom were wounded, alongside the road. The bullets whistled and the sky was streaked with fire from the shells which screamed and burst overhead.

The remainder of the battery piled out, and three of my men stayed at the gun with me, waiting for the teams, or ready to put her out of action if the Germans surrounded us. After ten or fifteen minutes a man ran across the field to the gun. It was my corporal (Corporal Hicks), who had charge of the teams. He had been told that the gun was lost and it was certain death to go near her.

As we didn't have our major with us and were rather left to look after ourselves, I told the corporal that we had to get out ourselves and that we might as well get popped off getting out with the gun as without it. We were all huddled around the gun for protection, as the shells were popping around us like fire-crackers at a Chinese New Year's celebration in Frisco. I told the corporal to bring in the teams and that two of us would stand at the wagon, and two at the gun ready to hitch her in. The six drivers were all game to come in, and they came on the gallop, and it was only the work of a few moments to look in and mount away, the corporal taking the wagon out one gate while I took the gun out the other. We were now left behind the rest of the column. As we tore along the road a staff officer called, "What battery is that?" I replied, "A gun, 8th Battery, sir!" "Are you all right?" "All correct, sir!" "Thank God! Take the first road to your right!" This put us on our bearings, and after a gallop we caught up with the battery, much to the surprise and joy of everyone, as they had given us up for lost. Not a man was wounded, and only one horse on the gun team got hit by a bullet on top of the neck, which did not bother him much. Too much praise cannot be given Corporal Hicks, who ran to the gun after being told it was useless to try to get the gun out.

NEW CAREER OPEN FOR THE "TURCOS"

To Replace Germans and Austrians as Waiters in the Hotels

Paris, June 30.—The "Turco," who likes far better to be called by his proper title of "Algerian Rifeman," will have a new career opened up to him after the war. It has been proposed to utilize the Kabyles of the Atlas region of Algeria to make up for the lack of hotel, restaurant and cafe employees. They are quick to learn, are sober, clean, discreet and polite. Eighty per cent of the hotel, restaurant and cafe employes in France before the war were Germans, Austrians and Hungarians. They are preferred because the Frenchman, who is less fond of travel, was weaker in languages. He had also less general experience, for the Germans generally learned English and American ways, as well as the English language, before coming here to learn French.

French hotel men and managers of watering places are going after the trade of Carlsbad, Wiesbaden and other German resorts in earnest. In co-operation with the touring club they have published a handsome pamphlet for world-wide circulation, setting forth the virtues of well-known French resorts with many less fashionable and less known places where the waters are declared to have equally precious properties.

A circus man tells this one:

"We were doing Pottstown, Pa. The price of admission was 25 cents—Children under 10 years of age 10 cents."

"Among the first to arrive were a lad about 18 and his little sister. He laid down thirty-five cents and asked for two front seats."

"How old is the little girl?" asked the ticket seller.

"Well," said the boy, "this is her tenth birthday. But she was not born until six o'clock in the afternoon!"

Geography and Marriage

A teacher wrote to a little girl's mother asking her to see that the child studied her lessons. Next day the teacher inquired:

"What did your mother say about the ticket?"

The child replied—"Ma said she didn't know geography an' she got a husband; my aunt didn't know geography and she got a husband, an' you know geography an no one will have you."

GRAPHIC ACCOUNT OF THE FIGHTING

The following is a letter received by a Halifax lady from a friend recently wounded at the front. The writer of the letter is a lieutenant in the Canadian Signaling Corps and he gives a brief but exceedingly vivid account of his experience as a signalling officer.

It is some time since I have written to you, I think the last time was before I left for the front. Well I have been there and left again, wounded. I am getting along very well, but it is getting a little monotonous lying on my back all the time. It is now three weeks since I was hit. How I escaped with my life I do not know as a shell burst right in front of me and hundreds of bullets and splinters flew around me. Along with me was my commanding officer, Major... He was hit also, but could not walk, so I ran about 200 yards to get assistance and managed to get hold of some Frenchmen before I collapsed and fell into a ditch. We were both out in the open and no one near. When I awakened we were in the dressing station, the Major not badly hurt, but he thought I was dying, as I was gasping for breath and the blood coming out my mouth. He started to cry like a child, and kept saying "poor Nick, poor Nick." Then he was taken away. We were always together and had several mostly killed by bombs and all mangled. Well I got a few holes myself—one in the leg, two through my right arm, one through the muscle of my right side and one in the armpit which went through my lung and stopped up against my spine. Lucky for me it went no further, this is, of course, the most serious and I will likely be out of action for three months at least. It is very painful at times but on the whole I am fairly comfortable and well looked after. This is a beautiful place and the ward I am in was the reception room of the building (one time a residence). It is about forty feet long by twenty-five feet wide, the walls with panelled paintings. It is situated by the sea and the gardens are beautiful so I am told, I have not had a chance to see for myself. Well, I will not be sorry to see the war ended any time. It is surely a horrible business, but we have got to lick the Hun properly before we can hope for peace.

$500 FOR ELECTRIC WIRING OF HOG PEN

Winnipeg, June 30.—Addressing a Liberal organization meeting the Hon. T. Johnson intimated that there would be an early provincial election. Mr. Johnson remarked that any one who should suppose the work of cleaning up the province was complete, would be much mistaken. He said that, after the inquiry into the parliament buildings was concluded, an investigation would be started into the construction of the agricultural college, and he had been given to understand by those in a position to know that the revelations would be as grave as those in connection with the capitol. Thomas Kelly did not receive all the contracts for the agricultural college, but he had received his share of them.

Mr. Johnson said Kelly received $125,000 for the roof in addition to the price originally specified and also mentioned an item of $500 for the electric wiring of a hog-pen.

NOT THEFT CASE. Chief of Police Simpson stated yesterday that the automobile which is the property of a local garage and was being driven by a man from up country was located at Lewis (P. Q.). There is no criminal charge, however, placed against the man as it is purely a case of misunderstanding as to the ownership of the car. The man has it on trial but the dealer did not expect he would make such a long trip.

Capture Shield Presented by Times For School Boys' League Competition

The Winter street school baseball team has won the fine oak and silver shield presented as a trophy to the School Boys' Baseball League by The Evening Times. Until the playing season shall come again with next summer the shield will be in a place of honor in one of the Winter street school rooms. On one of the small plates arranged for the purpose, the name of the winning team is now being engraved.

The trophy was presented on Wednesday afternoon in the Times office just after the paper had gone to press. The news rooms were visited by twenty-five boys or more, composing the Winter street winning team and ardent supporters and with the boys came C. D. Howard, superintendent of the playgrounds work and the man who originated and carried the league to such success.

The boys were naturally jubilant over their victory, particularly the last game, which was captured from their closest rivals—the Alexandra school lads—only after an eleven-inning contest. They formed a fine group of sturdy youths keen for realization of reward well won. In the absence of Mr. Melding, the editor, who had gone up river an hour before, the making of the presentation fell to Frank McCafferty, the city editor. He expressed the pleasure the Times management had in encouraging the boys in their good sport and emphasized the difference between conditions in the present and the past in the matter of adult attention to the welfare of the youth in their sport.

There was not, in other days, the earnest valuable interest of the present. A well deserved tribute was paid to Mr. Howard and a word said for the other teams in the league; not all could win and credit must be given those who made the contest a good one, even though not victorious. Their turn might come in another season. The Winter street boys were congratulated on their victory and wished success in the future.

The shield then was presented to Ernest Till, manager; Chipman Seely, captain, and Harold Brown, assistant captain of the winning team. Then Mr. Howard called for three cheers for the Times; they were given with a vim the happy troupe left newspaper row proud in their new possession.

The league season was opened on May 22. Eight teams entered, from St. Mall's, Centennial, Victoria, Albert, King Edward, Winter street, Dufferin and Alexandra schools. The schedule comprised four games each Saturday morning and four grounds were used—Shamrock, Carleton, Peters and Dufferin. The management of the league was in the boys' own hands and they were fully encouraged to transact all matters themselves. Mr. Howard, of course, was the soul of the organization and presided at the meetings but his aim was to develop the boys along lines of self-responsibility and the result certainly was satisfactory. He is greatly pleased at the outcome of the league season. It is to be hoped will be here next year to continue the good work.

The following boys compose the winning Winter street team: Ernest Till, Chipman Seely, H. Chandler, H. Brown, J. Fleming, F. Strong, C. Comstock, W. McKay, R. Dean, M. Cuthbertson, Walter Evans, Herb Joselyn and Master Barton. Alexandra school team finished in second place.

SUDDEN DEATH.
William E. Dean died suddenly last evening while visiting at the home of Robert Douglas, Hickey road. Heart trouble was the cause of his death. He was engaged at Moore's mill as millwright for several years. He was a native of Cumberland County, N. S., and was in the sixty-first year of his age. His body was taken to the home of Mrs. T. McCann, Erin street, where he boarded. An endeavor is being made today to get in touch with some of his relatives.

An appeal for aid for the destitute people of Poland has been received by Mayor Frink from the central committee in Winnipeg, accompanied by a letter from the Mayor of Winnipeg commending the plea for the pitiable state of affairs in this ravished country. Donations will be received by any branch of the Bank of Montreal.

FAIRVILLE WEDDING.
On Wednesday evening the home of Mrs. Burton, Church avenue, Fairville, was the scene of a pretty nuptial event, when Percy Amers, daughter of Mr. and Miss Isabel McLoney, formerly of Belfast, Ireland, were united in marriage by Rev. Wm. Townshend. The bride looked charming in a dress of blue silk. She was given in marriage by Benjamin L. Wood. More than thirty guests were present and after the ceremony a dainty supper was served. Many useful and attractive presents were received, including checks from the groom's father and uncle. Mr. and Mrs. Amers will reside for some time with Mrs. Burton.

MESS BLANCHE NORTHRUP.
The death of Miss Blanche Northrup occurred last night in the General Public Hospital after a short illness. Another brother, Talbert is with the 6th Mounted Rifles at Valcartier. Her funeral took place this afternoon from 81 Brook street. Burial services were conducted by Rev. David Hutchinson, D. D., and interment took place in Cedar Hill.

CAME TO GRIEF.
A Western Union messenger boy is limping around nursing some painful cuts and bruises as the result of an impromptu circus stunt which he and another chap tried to pull off in Main street. The lad was peddling along on his bicycle when he picked up a passenger who rode on the seat while the owner stood on the pedals. This was not interesting enough, so the owner of the wheel climbed over and sat on the handle bars just long enough to lose his balance and pitch headlong over and land in front of the wheel. The other boy could not avoid him and continued on his way, which was right over the full length of his prostrate companion.

INTERESTING CLOSING OF SOUTH BAY SCHOOL

The closing exercises of the South Bay school were held on Wednesday afternoon in the pretty new school house, which had been tastefully decorated with ferns, wild roses and Union Jacks by the teacher, Miss Elinor Craig, and the pupils. A large gathering of parents and friends of the pupils were assembled. An appropriate programme of dialogues and patriotic recitations was given by the children. Saluting of the flag and the singing of "O Canada," "The Maple Leaf" were well rendered in chorus. Three prizes were given by the district: One for deportment to Mina Long, one for attendance to Blanche Long, and one for class standing to Georgie Steeves. Much credit is due Miss Craig for the good showing made by her pupils, who are all glad to know that she will return to them in the fall after spending a vacation at her home, Red Rock, Stanley.

LIEUT. LAMB OF THE 55TH BATTALION WEDS BRIDE DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. C. HERBERT BARBOUR OF ST. JOHN

A wedding of unusual interest, because of the fact that the bridegroom is an officer in the overseas force, as well as on account of the popularity of both the bride and bridegroom, was solemnized on Wednesday morning at 11:45 o'clock in Germain street Baptist church when Lieutenant J. Murray Lamb, 55th Battalion, was united in marriage to Miss Madeline Meric, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Herbert Barbour of this city. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by three friends, wearing a handsome costume of royal blue moire with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of flowers. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. S. Porter, pastor of the church, in the presence of some of the relatives and a few intimate friends. Mrs. J. M. Barnes, cousin of the bride, presided at the organ. The church was prettily decorated with the occasion with palms and marmosettes.

After the ceremony Lieutenant Lamb, accompanied by his bride, left on the noon train for Sussex to rejoin his Battalion. Lieutenant Lamb belongs to Perry's Point, Kings County, and before entering the overseas service was a member of the engineering staff of Newton Griffiths & Company. From his former associates on the engineering staff a handsome silver service was received, among the many other beautiful presents from other friends and relations.

MONCTON BUILDING WORK OF MILLION AND A HALF

While other parts of the maritime provinces are congratulating themselves on conditions that compare favorably with normal business, Moncton people say that they are actually experiencing a boom in spite of war times. As an indication of this R. M. Rive of this city, who is spending some months in Moncton this year, gave the Times a list of some of the building and construction operations now in progress in that flourishing city. The list, with estimated values, includes: Railway subway, $500,000; school building, $100,000; city market, $75,000; three churches, $225,000; Petitcodiac River bridge, substructure, $197,000; superstructure, $250,000; business block, $300,000; fifty dwellings, $135,000; total, $1,692,000.

With this money being spent in the city, in addition to the activities of the usual industries, etc., the citizens of Moncton are congratulating themselves on the situation.

TAKEN ILL

Friends of John B. Wilson, of the staff of the N. B. Telephone Co., will regret to hear of his being taken seriously ill on his way up river on Wednesday. When about opposite Westhead he was taken ashore and driven to Fairville.
