Woman In Case Is Accused of Complicity In Blackmail Plot MINISTER OF PUBLIC WORKS USES SIGNIFICANT WORDS ON EVE OF SIR HENRY THORNTON'S VISIT TO ST. JOHN

MYSTERY OF INDIAN POTENTATE IS STILL EXCITING LONDON

High Army Official Tells of Customs of Eastern Aristocracy.

NAME SECRET YET

Testimony of Witness Taken in Writing to Forestall Curiosity.

BY LLOYD ALLEN (United Press Staff Corr.)

London, Nov. 25.—Excitement was occasioned at the "Mr. A." trial today, when Major General Sir Richard Havelock Charles, G. C. V. O., took the stand and testified in writing the customs of Indian potentates when associating with women of inferior rank.

The court room spectators sat breathless on the edges of their chairs, hopeful that the testimony would reveal the identity of "Mr. A." Indian Prince, who fell to the charms of a pretty wife of a bookmaker and was forced to pay $1,500,000, half of which he subsequently recovered, to keep the matter quiet.

Claims Fraud.

Sir John Simon, former attorney general, who is representing the bank, contended today that "Mr. A." had been fished by that most terrible of menaces namely exposure.

The room in which the dusky prince was sleeping was suddenly invaded by acquaintances of the lady, to whom "Mr. A." paid $75,000 on the spot as soon as he had donned his clothes.

Sir John Simon quoted numerous authorities to support his contention that, under the larceny laws, a person demanding money by menaces is guilty of a felony and liable to a maximum sentence of five years imprisonment.

Says Woman Involved.

It is the bank's contention, moreover that Mrs. Robinson was in on a plot to blackmail the lady, to whom Charles Robinson, bookmaker and husband of the lady in question is suing the Midland Bank for $525,000 the balance of the money obtained from the potentate.

Sir Ritchie, who is now a member of the medical appeal board, was formerly professor of anatomy at the medical colleges of Lahore and Calcutta and lived in India for many years.

He was informed confidentially of the identity of "Mr. A." and then asked questions in writing. Justice Darling explained that these questions had to do with those asked Mrs. Robinson in writing Friday.

Spectators Disappointed.

The spectators were disappointed when the testimony was taken in writing. It was understood that the questions had to do with customs of Indian potentates of a certain rank when associating with women of inferior station and the court was checking up to see if Mrs. Robinson had answered correctly as to her compliance with the potentate's demands.

A famous woman doctor, Marie Schaeffle, followed Charles on the stand, and testified that she had practiced medicine in the country of this particular potentate for many years. Miss Schaeffle was shown the written questions and the answers made by Charles, and declared aloud, "I agree perfectly."

The purpose of this testimony it was understood was to ascertain from Mrs. Robinson's answers of last Friday whether she was probably telling the whole truth concerning her affair.

Kangaroo Puts Plumber To Rout

Leavenworth, Kas., Nov. 25.—Swinging his kit and whistling a gay tune, Norman Summers, plumber, stepped into the dark basement of the Fairy Hotel here to stop a leak, found a few mice and putter around generally. Summers, minus tools and gay whistle, Summers sped up the steps and into the open spaces with the look of a marathon runner. Closely behind crept Jimmy, trained boxing kangaroo of a boxing show. Jimmy mimicked his hops with swings at the fleeing Summers. Summers sprinted toward the Colorado state line. Then the kangaroo's keeper ended the race by lassooing Jimmy.

IBANEZ STRIVES TO SPREAD PAMPHLETS

Will Use Airplanes if Necessary to Get Manifesto Into Spain.

Paris, Nov. 25.—An army of volunteer smugglers is now engaged in attempting to get copies of the pamphlet written by Vicent Blasco Ibanez in denunciation of King Alfonso and Premier Rivera, across the Spanish frontier, the author said yesterday.

The printing of the Spanish edition of the pamphlet—about 2,000,000 copies—was finished Saturday night but up to yesterday Ibanez was uncertain whether a single copy had crossed the Pyrenees. Nevertheless, he affirms, that an attempt will be made soon to distribute the pamphlets by airplane. The author declared he had been astounded by the generous efforts of help which had been made to him since the announcement of the pamphlet's publication.

Regarding the plans for his projected Spanish republic, the novelist declared it would be inspired by the example of the French revolution. "But the only thing socialism would do," he declared, "would be to expropriate the great land holdings of the nobles and give to each peasant sufficient land for tillage purposes instead of permitting the vast tracts to be used for pasturage of wild bulls destined for the bull ring. You know a wild bull covers a lot of territory, and he must have plenty of leeway to remain wild enough for fighting. That land is perfectly capable of the cultivation of crops which would sustain life."

Three-Year Old Boy Drowns In Cystern

Woodstock, Nov. 25.—Billy Bean, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bean, met his death by drowning in a water cistern in the backyard of a neighbor's home late last week. Apparently the child had pushed the top of the cistern and had toppled in.

Ben Gale, a neighbor, secured a ladder and brought the boy to the surface, and strenuous efforts were made to revive him, but without success.

Rivalry Between Irish Labor Unions Causes Excitement in Dublin Streets

Dublin, Nov. 25.—The rivalry between the Irish Transport Workers Union and the new Irish Workers Union, founded by James Larkin, when he was ousted from the former organization, again caused trouble in Dublin last night. The Larkinites, defying police orders, posted pickets before various motion picture theatres, endeavoring to engineer a strike. Enormous crowds gathered making entrance to the cinemas difficult.

The police, finding themselves unable to cope with the crowds at two points, were ordered to fire their revolvers in the air as a warning. One gathering stood its ground, but the other broke and fled. The excitement lasted until a late hour.

BRITAIN RESENTS EGYPTIAN TANGLE GOING TO LEAGUE

"Hands Off Egypt," is London Press' Advice to Herriot.

EMPIRE AFFAIR

Newspapers Cannot See that Incident is Any Concern of Outsiders.

By HERBERT BAILLY. (British United Press.)

London, Nov. 25.—Fierce resentment has been aroused here by the suggestion of France that the Egyptian dispute should be submitted to the League of Nations and both in official and unofficial circles Herriot has been promptly warned to mind his own business for Britain does not intend to stand for any interference of her handling of the Egyptian question from any quarter whatever.

Both the Daily Express and the Daily Mail which are generally friendly to France cry out "No outside interference in Egyptian." "No meddling." The Daily Mail says "What happens in Egypt is the domestic affair of the British Empire and we may as well state quite plainly that the British Empire is not prepared to allow any outside interference."

The League Question

London, Nov. 25.—The contention by some foreign newspapers and publicists that the Egyptian trouble ought to be referred to the League of Nations is received with considerable impatience in those quarters here which support the British Government's action following the assassination of the Sirdar.

The Times, while holding that "no great good nor any particular harm" would be likely to result from reference of the matter to the League, strongly maintains that the British Government is acting within its clear rights and that the British case is "thoroughly sound in law, in justice, in the interests of Egypt and the world."

It further makes the point that "the declaration of Egyptian independence was explicitly limited from the first by a sort of Monroe Doctrine, safeguarding specific British interests, such as that which safeguards American interests in Cuba."

The Daily Telegraph remarks that, if the new Geneva protocol had been operative and ratified by Great Britain, the position would have been different and the question of indemnity would have been the subject of compulsory arbitration. "Indeed," it adds "if carried to its logical conclusion in practice, the protocol would have infringed the Monroe Doctrine. American critics of our action in Egypt should not discountage points."

The Daily Mail denounces the suggestion of submitting the affair to the league as "audacious" and "absurd" adding: "What happens in Egypt is the domestic concern of the British Empire, which is not prepared to allow any outside interference."

Commenting in a similar vein, the Daily Express says: "If any member of the League attempts to submit the matter to it as a subject for arbitration it will sound the death knell of the League."

It is noteworthy that the Laborite and a section of Liberal opinion here continue to insist strongly that the case should be put before the League.

U. N. B. Senate Reports Deficit in Year's Operation at Annual Session.

(Special to The Times-Star.) Fredericton, Nov. 25.—At the annual meeting of the senate of the U. N. B. today a conference with the members of the faculty took place. Present were Dr. W. S. Carter, Dr. W. W. White, Sir Douglas Hazen, C. McE. Sleeves, Dr. G. C. Jones, G. J. Marr, Miss Grace Fleming and Mrs. J. E. Page.

A deficit on the year's operation was reported. Chancellor Jones reported for the committee on the $25,000 from the province making a total of $75,000. The senate voted a grant of $2,000 for equipment of the engineering building. This amount is to be supplemented by contributions from private sources.

The appointment of Lord Beaverbrook as delegate from the university at an anniversary convocation of the University of Leeds, was confirmed. Authority was delegated to Chancellor Jones to name one of the engineering professors as a delegate.

Admits Baby Not Husband's Son

Mrs. Lydia Locke Marks (left), former wife of Arthur Hudson Marks, millionaire tire manufacturer, admitted on the witness stand in a New York court that the baby she said was Marks' son was one she had taken from an institution in Kansas City. The judge ordered the child returned there. The couple are seen here, with another baby, Paul Carew, they adopted in 1922. This picture was taken soon afterward.

DOMINIONS WARNED NOT TO ASSERT NATIONHOOD EQUALITY WITH BRITAIN

Sir George E. Foster Urges Consideration Before Prejudging Single Voice in Foreign Affairs—Lloyd George's Action is Criticized.

(Canadian Press Cable.)

London, Nov. 25.—In a discussion of the first links of the empire" by several speakers from the overseas dominions at the Colonial Institute, last night, Senator Sir George Foster of Canada declared that the dominions had a national status in policy if not in actuality. He hoped that the dominions would not make the mistake of asserting their equality of nationhood with Great Britain and that the latter would continue to be the dominant partner until the dominions appointed her population and the burden of her defence.

He said that, while Canada had taken a prominent part in demanding separate representation in Imperial matters, she had not taken the step to avail herself of it. He urged careful consideration before taking the first step prejudicial to a single voice in foreign diplomacy.

Lord Selborne, who presided, said he thought the Lloyd George government had launched the idea of separate representation without fully thinking out the possible consequences. Referring to inconveniences which might arise if every dominion appointed an ambassador to Cairo as well as Washington, Lord Selborne urged the dominion statesmen to realize the implications of the position before difficulties arose, which even the good will of the dominions might be unable to solve.

SIR DOUGLAS HAZEN IS LAW SCHOOL DEAN

The resignation of Hon. H. A. McKewen, Chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners, as dean of the Law School at St. John was accepted and Chief Justice Sir Douglas Hazen was appointed in his place.

Chancellor Jones was appointed to represent the University on the committee which is to confer with the Carnegie Corporation relative to the allotment of a grant from that body to Maritime universities. Dr. W. S. Carter represented the University at a conference held recently in Halifax on this matter.

Mrs. Harding Is Buried Beside Late Husband

Marion, Ohio, Nov. 25.—Under a leaden November sky, Florence Kling Harding was buried in Marion cemetery yesterday beside the mortal remains of her husband whom she helped raise from country editor to the President of the United States. Grouped around the gray vault with heads bowed to the chill wind, hundreds paid a last tribute to the widow of Warren G. Harding, twenty-ninth chief executive of the nation. The Rev. Jesse Swank, pastor of Epworth Methodist Episcopal church, read the regular burial service of his church. The Rev. George M. Landis, who had been President Harding's pastor, pronounced the benediction.

FIND EVIDENCE OF MURDER IN HOME OF OHIO MINISTER

Police Discover Stains, Believed to be Blood Spots, on Table Cover.

MAY EXHUME BODY

Undertaker Says Part of the Dead Woman's Skull was Crushed.

(By Canadian Press.)

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 25.—Evidence tending to show that Mrs. Addie Sheatsley, 35, found practically cremated in the furnace of the Christ Evangelical Lutheran church parsonage in Bexley, a week ago, was murdered, was unearthed yesterday in a minute search of the house by investigating officials according to a statement by county prosecutor John R. King.

Dark stains which may be spots of human blood, found on a table covering stuffed away in an upstairs closet, on a pair of blue trousers, on a floor rug, on the asbestos covering of a heat conduit directly above the furnace door and in other places, prosecutor King said, proves to him with other evidence he has in his possession, that Mrs. Sheatsley was a victim of murder and that her body was cast into the furnace in an effort to hide all trace of the crime.

Other discoveries, termed by the prosecutor, as "important" include the finding by Davis Shadrack, Bexley marshal of an upturned fruit jar lid containing about half an ounce of red fluid, which chemist C. F. Long said closely resembled human blood. Bits of tissue which might have been human flesh were found on a step of the cellar stairway.

May Exhume Body.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 25.—Possibility that the body of Mrs. C. V. Sheatsley may be exhumed was indicated here today following a conference late last night between county authorities and Edwin Abbott an undertaker, who removed Mrs. Sheatsley's remains from the furnace.

Mr. Abbott told county prosecutor John R. King that a portion of Mrs. Sheatsley's skull was broken. He indicated however, that this might have been caused by the intense heat of the furnace.

ST. STEPHEN KIDDIE IS NEAR TO DEATH

Four-Year-Old Boy Falls Into Water—Condition is Critical.

St. Stephen, Nov. 25.—(Special.)—About noon today a very sad accident happened when the four-year-old son of Frank Duplessis of this town, who was playing near the water's edge near his home, lost his footing and fell in.

When search was made he was found unconscious, and although every effort is being made to revive him, there is very little hope of his recovery.

Pittsburgh and London Converse in Big Trans-Atlantic Raido Test

London, Nov. 25.—The first attempt on a large scale at reciprocal broadcasting by North American and British and continental stations, made in the early hours this morning, was only partially successful, the sole American station picked up being KDKA, Pittsburgh, which was distinctly heard in London and retransmitted to the U. S.

New York, Nov. 25.—Numerous amateurs today reported having heard the radio programmes which were broadcasted from Europe last night.

London, Paris, Rome and Brussels were cities which amateurs reported they had heard. There apparently was confusion in the sending of the programmes, as shortly before the test began it was announced that only British stations would broadcast, whereas the continental stations broadcast their programmes as earlier arranged.

Speaks of Works At Courtenay Bay

BEAN KING IN TOILS; FLED A MONTH AGO

Sands Will Face Charges Concerning Collapse of Firm—Was in Canada.

Ablion, N. Y., Nov. 25.—William A. Munson, Orleans county prosecutor, today began preparation of the state's case against Lewis E. Sands, "world's bean king," arrested in Tampa yesterday, more than a month after he fled from Ablion, leaving his financial affairs in a tangle, and liabilities of nearly $1,000,000.

The statement made to Mr. Munson by Mrs. Grace K. Gerks, manager of Sands' bean business, it is understood, covers every phase of his transactions upon which prosecution can be based. These consisted chiefly of the use of spurious bills of lading and duplicate bills of lading upon which money is alleged to have been obtained from banks.

Mrs. Gerks said today that when the financial crash of the bean king occurred in September, Sands, Mrs. Sands and Mrs. Gerks went to Chateaufort, Ontario, where they stayed several days. Mrs. Gerks came back to Ablion and gathered some of her personal belongings from the Lone Star Inn, a Sands enterprise, which she managed.

During the stay in Canada the trio planned flight to Texas and Mexico, but the plans went astray.

SAYS FACILITIES AT COURTENAY BAY WHEN NEED SHOWN

Mr. King Intimates That Announcement Should Come From C. N. R. Head.

INSPECTS PORT

Speaks of Canadian Goods Going Through Our Own Ports.

That the Canadian Government was prepared to provide facilities when the need for them was clearly shown, was a statement made by Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, to a Times-Star reporter, when asked about the possible development of Courtenay Bay as the winter terminus of the Canadian National Railway.

Hon. Dr. King arrived in the city last evening from Chipman, where he had been visiting his father, Senator King, and this morning and afternoon made an inspection of the Federal works in this city. This evening he will leave on his return to Ottawa.

The Estimates.

When asked if there would be any money in the estimates this year for terminals at Courtenay Bay for the C. N. R., Hon. Mr. King said this was a question he could not answer at the present time. The estimates were just in the process of making and it was not customary to discuss them until they had been passed by Parliament. He also said he thought the first announcement of any development there should come from the railway authorities.

Hon. Mr. King said he was very glad to know that the action of the Government in making the British preference apply only to goods handled through Canadian ports had resulted in switching a large amount of traffic from United States ports to Canadian, and that St. John and Halifax had benefited from this legislation.

He said that so far as he knew there would not be anything in the estimates this year for the extension of the Negro Point breakwater to Partridge Island and this work would have to wait for a while longer.

The matter of removal of the rock at the Pettengill wharf had not yet been brought to his notice but the matter would be given consideration when presented to the department.

He expressed the hope that St. John would enjoy a large trade this winter and the building of the new conveyor to No. 16 would enable the handling of a much larger quantity of grain.

Hon. Mr. King was accompanied to the city by his brother, G. King, M.L.A., and Hon. J. E. Hefferington, provincial secretary-treasurer.

Mr. King recently returned from the Pacific coast. General business conditions in the West are improving, in fact, said Mr. King, they were very much better than he had seen them for some time.

The business of his department had nothing whatever to do with his trip to New Brunswick. His visit was concerned solely with his official duty. The department of Public Works was carrying on carefully so that there was nothing of importance to report in that direction.

Regarding the vacant senatorship in New Brunswick there was nothing new in Ottawa concerning it.

EXHIBITION MEN TALK OF MIDWAYS

If Revenue Thus Reduced, Extra Federal Grants Are Asked.
(Special to The Times-Star.)
Ottawa, Nov. 25.—The Canadian Association of Exhibitions, headed by D. T. Elderkin, of Regina, the president; J. G. Kent, of Toronto; S. K. Paisley, of Ottawa, and S. W. Jones, of Sackville, along with representatives from all the larger exhibitions, were here today discussing matters connected with the annual fair, with the Minister of Agriculture. The main questions dealt with were Federal grants, and the privileges which two different associations enjoyed. There have been some objections to certain forms of amusement carried on at the fairs, and possibly some of the midways. If they are curtailed, in any way, the association seeks compensating revenue in the form of increased grants from the Dominion government. The delegation made it clear that they ask no more than the churches enjoy in the way of amusement privileges. After seeing Mr. McArthur, they interviewed the Minister of Justice.

FOUR HUNDRED AT FIRST AID CLASSES

C. P. R. Employees Show Much Interest in the Instructions.
During the last eight weeks A. G. Shakespeare, first aid organizer for the eastern lines of the C. P. R., has been holding classes for instruction in first aid work, on the New Brunswick District, at St. John, Moncton, St. Stephen, Woodstock and Brownsburg. The classes were held in the homes of the employees and their female relatives and friends attended the lectures. Within the last week medical examinations at the various points have been conducted and a large majority of those attending have passed their tests and obtained a good working knowledge of what to do in case of accident or sudden illness. The knowledge thus obtained is of great value especially in the smaller towns where the services of a doctor is not always readily available, and the doctors who have conducted the examinations have expressed pleasure at the high standard of knowledge shown by the students and have spoken highly of the great work the C. P. R. is doing in forming these classes. The model paper copy for the benefit of the employees and their female relatives.

WEATHER MAKES AUTO RECORD

Run From St. John to Providence Made in Mid-November.
The continued mild spell is establishing a lot of precedents, not a few of them being in the realm of automobile transportation. Mr. and Mrs. William Kirkpatrick of Rothesay have received word from Providence, R. I., that their daughter, Mrs. James Sisson and her husband arrived safely home on Sunday after a forty-eight hour run by auto from the adjacent Kings county village. The Sissons were visiting the Kirkpatrick home on their honeymoon, Miss Ruth M. Kirkpatrick having married the U. S. citizen early this month in Bristol, R. I., a romance which originated during her term of nursing in the Providence Hospital. It was upon taking a post-graduate course that the Rothesay young lady agreed to surrender professional for domestic duties. She was a popular member of the hostess' society, her wedding was highly celebrated by her friends up there. Previous to leaving home Mrs. Sisson and her husband were in the Providence Hospital, the bride was showered with gifts, the affair taking on the character of a grand affair. The bride and groom were ten days visiting at the Kirkpatrick home. Mr. Sisson is a superintendent in a large manufacturing plant in Rhode Island.

CHRISTMAS SEALS SENT OUT TO AID DISEASE FIGHT

A. M. Peters, new president of the Anti-Tuberculosis Association, presided at a special meeting held yesterday afternoon to deal with the matter of the Christmas seals. A report on this activity was submitted by Mrs. A. K. Harvie. She said that more than 1,000 letters had been sent out, each containing 10 seals—dainty little Santa Claus affairs—to use on Christmas gifts, etc. In each envelope was another addressed to Mrs. Harvie and the recipient is expected to return $1 or the seals to Mrs. Harvie. This takes care of some 100,000 seals and there are 150,000 more who will be placed in stores for sale. It is hoped to net $2,000 for the work of the association and also that this plan will be so successful that the regular tag day may be dispensed with.

PLANS FOR DEBATING LEAGUE ADVANCE

Much interest is being taken locally in the formation of a debating league composed of the following organizations: St. Andrew's Y. M. A., Law School, German street Baptist Y. M. A., Y. M. C. A., Trinity Y. M. A., St. David's Stone church Y. M. A., St. Paul's Y. M. A., Elks and Queen Square Methodist Y. M. A. At a meeting of representatives in the Y. M. C. A. last evening plans were discussed and it was decided to elect officers and appoint committees at a meeting on next Monday evening. The matter of a constitution was gone into last evening. An alteration of shirred panels round and round. Choose Japanese panels or choose solid tiles. If you like a Blue exterior you'll thrill when the lights reveal the toning of the Red lining. Likewise the differing day and night hue with Gold outside Rose. Rose with and without for further choice. Completing this Plano Lamp that's equally a fountain of changing color, is the beaded Chenille fringe and occasional rosette tassels. $35 never bought so much. See eighty other new lamps here.

FINISHING STONE WORK ON HOTEL

The stone workers on the new hotel job are finishing their work by affixing the cornice trim, which is both cemented and tied with imbedded steel rods. It is a very pretty "dentil" pattern and will mark the dividing line on the structure between the two stories of reddish-tinted stone and the deep cream Scotch freestone with which the remaining six stories will be faced. By continuing their intensive day and night labors the E. G. M. Cape Co. has finally got the forms ready for filling on the final story—the roof structure. Under electric lighting at night these forms will be poured. Then the work of closing in the open structure will begin. Supplies of brick are now being hoisted to each floor as they arrive from the old country. The presence of the large hotel structure on the dufferin site will doubtless make considerable change in the wintering conditions roundabout. It will have a new influence upon drifting snowstorms, wind currents and other natural resists of cold weather disturbances. On the westerly side it will prove a shelter to adjoining buildings, though somewhat interfering with daylighting on several sides.

MANY CHILDREN HAVE THE MUMPS

If they are not gaining in popularity mumps are becoming more prevalent in the city and even grown-ups have not been able effectively to claim immunity while school children have shown great aptitude for catching the prevalent ailment. In at least two of the class rooms in the city schools it was reported yesterday that there were 24 children absent because of the epidemic. Absence from school because of mumps does not always mean that the absentee is suffering from that malady but frequently means only that the absence has a sister or a brother at home with mumps. Sometimes there are from two to four children kept out of school because they have had contact with a case of mumps and there is danger of their developing the disease. A number of the victims have made satisfactory recovery and nearly 800 children have received readmission permits from the office of the medical inspector of schools to allow them to return to the class rooms after an enforced home-staying period during which they have come through the various stages of mumps quite satisfactorily. Parents and children, too, are very anxious to get the excluded one back to school and the result has been that many children have presented themselves at the office of the medical inspector of schools at the Health Centre to ask for readmission certificates when they still were suffering from mumps. In all 55 children appeared for examination yesterday and quite a few had to be told that they must still stay at home.

YORK COUNCILLOR HAS CLOSE CALL

Fredericton, Nov. 24—By thrusting his hand through a pane of glass in an upper window of his residence and catching hold of the sash, thus preventing falling headlong to the ground, Councillor Emery Ketch, of Maudslayi, saved himself from serious injury about 1:30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon while he was fighting a fire at his home. Mr. Ketch was on the roof throwing water to keep the blaze from spreading, when he lost his balance and only for his presence of mind in breaking a pane of glass in a window and thrusting his arm through, thus getting support, he would have fallen to the ground. Strange to say, Mr. Ketch, although bare-headed, did not even receive a scratch. The house was quite badly gutted.

MISSION BAND WORKS.

The work and social meeting of the King's Messenger Band of Centenary church met yesterday afternoon. Miss Alice Henry, president, was in the chair. The band is making a quilt for Labrador and the old members helped themselves with this yesterday from four to five o'clock. The younger members cut out pictures for the scrapbooks they are including in the bale with the quilt. The children were given a treat before going home. Those assisting in leading the children in their activities were Mrs. Roscoe Bond, Mrs. Clarence Wetmore, their official superintendents, and Miss Mary Fulton, Miss Annie Broadbent, Miss Louise Adams, Miss Annie McAvour and Mrs. George Seely. Mary Hincliffe, secretary, one of the little girl officers, assisted the president in conducting the meeting.

MRS. FANNIE WHITE Woman Of Forty
 Victim Of Constipation

Mrs. Fannie White of 678 Marcy Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "Almost every morning, for the last five years I suffered with sick headaches. I felt this was due to nervousness, never dreaming that faulty intestinal elimination caused my suffering. I felt wretched, my appetite was gone, I lost interest in preparing my meals, life was not worth living. A few days treatment Carter's Little Liver pills worked wonders. They are small, pleasant to griping—and leave pleasant effects."

Get rid of constipation
 by internal cleanliness

HEADACHES, biliousness, sleepless nights, heaviness, are Nature's warning that intestinal poisons are flooding your system. If this is allowed to continue, you may become a victim of serious organic disease.

Laxatives and cathartics do not overcome constipation, says a noted authority, but by their continued use tend only to aggravate the condition and often lead to permanent injury.

Why Physicians Favour Lubrication

Medical science has found at last in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and thus hastens its passage through and out of the body. Thus, Nujol brings internal cleanliness.

Nujol is used in leading hospitals and is prescribed by physicians throughout the world. Nujol is not a medicine or laxative and cannot gripe. Like pure water, it is harmless.

Take Nujol regularly and adopt this habit of internal cleanliness. For sale by all druggists.

TO OPEN HOSPITAL IN KENT COUNTY

Repton, Nov. 24—A fairly representative body of ratepayers at a meeting recently unanimously decided to open a small hospital for Kent county. Judge Ferguson was chosen chairman and president of the executive, with Drs. Kenny and Jardine as first and second vice-presidents respectively. Miss Nan Dewolf was chosen secretary-treasurer. A ladies auxiliary consisting of Miss L. A. Burns, Estella Lanigan and Mrs. Wm. Martin were also elected. Miss A. McPhail, the government nurse, whose term of service for Kent county was extended until some action would be taken, strongly urged the necessity of a small hospital in Repton, the most central point of the county. Able speeches were delivered by J. M. Burn, H. M. Ferguson, Dr. Jardine and others. The meeting was adjourned until December 15, when more definite work will be taken up.

STEWART'S TRIAL

Judgment in the Barnard case will be delivered tomorrow. Evidence in the Stewart case today centred upon the investigations of Major A. E. Nash, financial expert, and Mr. Stewart's associations with the bank.

COUNTRY BOY WINS.

A very interesting debate was held last night for the literary evening meeting programme of the Main street B. Y. P. U., when the resolution debated was "Resolved, that the country boy is better fitted for life than the city boy." The affirmative was led by Allan Shields and the negative by Murray Cowan. The judge was K. C. Todd and the decision was given in favor of the affirmative. The arguments were well presented and the debate was much enjoyed. Miss Margaret Mitchell was in charge of the meeting and there was a good attendance of members.

ST. JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 25, 1924

THE PORT, THE GOVERNMENT, AND THE C. N. R.

The most he could say at the present time was that the Government realized the necessity of providing facilities in order that Canadian goods should be handled through Canadian ports, and they were ready to provide these facilities when the need for them was demonstrated.—From an interview with Hon. Dr. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, in to-day's Times-Star.

This significant pronouncement by the Minister of Public Works today comes, happily, upon the eve of Sir Henry Thornton's long-awaited visit to St. John. Let us, for once, be really optimistic, and let us expect with confidence, for the moment at least, that these somewhat cautious but really pregnant words from Hon. Dr. King foreshadow a most important, concrete, and definite announcement at last from Sir Henry Thornton.

It may be said plainly, without any intention to be prophetic, and with out entering the sphere of politics as such, that the people of the Maritime Provinces, and perhaps, we might say, the people of St. John, particularly, have far too long been held in disappointed expectation of some news, unmistakable in meaning—news that at last will give us all cause for a thunderous volley of cheering.

Well, as we have suggested earlier in these observations, we shall be optimistic for a few hours longer, at any rate.

The stage waits for Sir Henry Thornton!

"DRAGONS' TEETH"—MAYHAP.

The picturesque Ibanez, whose face is presented here to-day, is again in the news conspicuously this morning. It has been said in some ways he resembles D'Annunzio. The Italian is not only a famous pilot but he has given more than one startling proof of daring military leadership. How the author of "The Four Horsemen" will make out along these lines will soon be seen.

It is significant, at least, that he declares his plan for overthrowing the Spanish Monarchy and the Protectorate will be inspired by the example of the French revolution. That revolution was bloody enough. If Ibanez is solving dragons' teeth, the Spanish revolution may repeat the Terror.

There was a young Canadian officer, fresh from a military school, with all his reputation yet to make, who believed the way to deal with a sanguinary mob in Paris was, as he said, to give them a whiff of grape-shot. Afterwards he sprang quickly to immortal fame as Napoleon Bonaparte.

He was right. There is no other known method of dealing with revolution when, or before, blood begins to run ankle deep in the streets. Grape-shot then is the only medicine that will have the requisite effect. Too savage repression produces inevitably another revolution some years later. If Ibanez's leadership and inspiration turn the wolves loose to the tune of some millions in Spain, then the wine will be poured, and even though it be strong, nevertheless, it must be drunk.

Those who remember "The Four Horsemen" well, particularly those who have seen played or pictured on the screen, will have in mind some of the frightful developments which may now be before the more or less decadent Spain, which was once the proudest of nations and which had its far-fung possessions, producing millions upon millions in silver and gold, representing the sweat and the blood and the slavery of vast numbers of natives who were treated worse than slaves.

FRANCE AND SOVIET RUSSIA.

The recognition of the Soviet Government of Russia by France has been followed by the appointment of M. Krassin as Soviet Ambassador at Paris. M. Krassin has already established his reputation as a negotiator of trade arrangements by his work in England. It may be expected that the Bolshevik Government will be ably served by its representative in the forthcoming negotiations for a treaty with France which are to take place in Paris.

The resumption of relations with France must be conceded an important diplomatic success for the Bolsheviks. Alone amongst the Great Powers the United States has declined to recognize their status as the legal representatives of the Russian people.

Odds and Ends

"You never know what you'll find among the odds and ends!"—From "Notes by A. Waylaxer."

"Blood!"

Here is a picture of Blasco Ibanez, who is inspiring revolution in Spain, and who, of course, is best known to fame by his book, "The Four Horsemen."

WILL COME HERE

Str. Gracia Diverted to This Port—Charges Cut—One Reason.

A steamer, which was scheduled for Halifax, has been diverted to this port, according to announcement given out this morning by the Robert Reford Co., Ltd., representatives of the Anchor-Donaldson Line, which has routed the steamer Gracia here from Liverpool. This vessel, which sailed from Liverpool on Saturday, was booked for Halifax, but she will now come here, arriving about Dec. 4. The vessel will load here for Glasgow and Avonmouth. The reduction of the port charges here is a representative of the Robert Reford Co., Ltd., said this morning, was one of the causes, although not the only one, which added to the line's sailings to this port for December.

SENDS TRIBUTE IN VERSE TO THE CITY CORNET BAND

In connection with the recent celebration of the golden jubilee of the City Cornet Band there has come to James Connelly, the president, the following tribute in verse from William F. Higgins of St. Stephen. Mr. Higgins is a former St. John man and is a brother of David Higgins, a member of the band. His reference to Henry Dixon and "Every Land's My Home" will recall a former leader of the band and a march that the band often plays under his direction. Mr. Higgins' verses follow:

1874. BOUQUET 1924
Orpheus, god of all the sweeter sounds,
Cecilia, Christian Patron of the same,
Convene your courts—
For now an institution's sound—
The music of you the laurel wreath of fame.
If there be need of one to plead their
Let both your Courts ask question now of me,
For half a century their name did
The pages of that volume—Melody,
No idle boast have they of war-like things,
Nor are they trumpeters of petty
kings,
But to the Common People give their best.
How oft an exile from the land of hills,
As he in other climes is forced to roam,
Recalls to mind the music that yet
thrills,
With Henry Dixon's "Every Land's
My Home."
The children of the generations past,
Who marched with glee on that bright
summer day,
How many of them gather 'round?
Alas!
It is beyond the bounds of one to say.
So now Dear Christian Saint, and Mercy, no! That's gum. Bob (nonchalantly)—I expect that's why I can't get my hat off.

Bob (inquiringly)—Mamma, is it
hair oil in this bottle? Mamma—Mercy, no! That's gum. Bob (nonchalantly)—I expect that's why I can't
get my hat off.

CANADIANS ESCAPE IN LONDON BLAZE

London, Nov. 23.—(Canadian Press)—A party of Canadians had a thrilling escape from being burned to death early this morning in a fire in the annex to the British Empire Club, Piccadilly street, which is used as resident quarters for overseas visitors. The housekeeper, a woman, lost her life but all the visitors escaped unharmed, although the early editions of the London evening papers state that other lives were lost in the fire.

Canadians in the burning building who managed to get out in safety were: Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce in the Meighen Government; H. B. Thomson, former Canadian food controller now permanently engaged in business in London, and Herbert Otto Frind, Vancouver. B. C. Col. Sullivan of Newfoundland narrowly escaped injury or death.

Mr. Stevens was awakened by the roaring flames at one o'clock this morning. He found that the fire had enveloped the elevator shaft and the staircase. At once he roused the rest of the inmates.

Necessity Stevens and Thompson gathered up their chief belongings and made their way down the fire department's ladders.

The firemen made the bravest possible efforts to rescue the housekeeper but they were unable to get her out of her room on the top story. Before the fire was subdued the roof collapsed.

Some of the occupants of the building suffered from minor burns and bruises. Only one of them was injured severely enough to be taken to a hospital.

DR. GUTHRIE DEFIES NEW YORK BISHOP; INDIANS IN WORSHIP

Red men Beat Tom-toms, Sing and Tell Stories in Church

(United Press Despatch.)

New York, Nov. 24.—Differences between Modernists and the Fundamentalists in the Protestant Episcopal Church flared up anew today, with Dr. William H. Guttridge again in open defiance of Bishop W. T. Manning of the Episcopal diocese of New York.

Accompanied by the wild beat of the tom-tom, two full-blooded Indians in war regalia stood before the unadorned altar of Dr. Guttridge's church, St. Marks in the Bowery, and chanted their native hymns.

The entire service was frankly drawn from aboriginal American stories and the congregation was asked to join in invocations to the God of the Indians. Dr. Guttridge introduced the Indians as "good men, religious and Christians."

Dr. Guttridge, in explaining his defiance of Bishop Manning's order banning such forms of worship, said: "If you think you can treat religion like a bug and put it under a microscope you are wrong. Religion can only be found alive in experiment. If out of it comes a blessing for us, it is right for us. One reason they have wrangled about religion is because they did not see any religion to agree upon."

The leader of the modernists said people were fatigued and needed to be shown the old things in a new way. "And that is what I am trying to do," he added.

The two Indians opened the services by walking down the aisle rattling their beads and shaking their feathered heads. When the Indian religious ritual was finished the curtain was drawn over the altar and the two Indians took turns entertaining the congregation.

One beat his tom-tom and rattled his beads as his own accompaniment to several Indian songs. He repeated humorous legends that were neither Biblical nor Darwinian in the origin of the white man and the red man.

Bishop Manning's only comment when he was informed of the service, was: "I do not wish to make any statement about it."

(Canadian Press Despatch.) Kingston, Ont., Nov. 24.—One girl is dead and two are ill of ptomaine poisoning with which they were stricken on Saturday evening, apparently caused by some food they had eaten. Of the trio who became ill shortly after arriving at a dance, Margaret Morrison, aged 15, daughter of Dr. C. A. Morrison, died last night. Her elder sister, Mary, is in hospital critically ill but will recover. A girl friend from Toronto is less seriously affected with the same complaint. An investigation is being made.

RAILWAY CHIEFS NAIL PORTLAND PROPAGANDA

Thornton and MacTier Answer Contentions of Boston Agency.

A few days ago The Evening Times-Star was in receipt of a despatch from a Boston news agency which stated:

Very recent developments in the large railways in Maine indicate a business that will fix the capacity of the great State Pier in Portland. Agreements have been made between the Maine Central and the Canadian Pacific Railroad as to carrier charges from Canada to Portland.

Investigation has proved that a great saving in transportation can be made by shipping from Portland instead of the Canadian ports during the winter. Montreal is closed to traffic in the cold season and the ports of the east, particularly St. John and Halifax, are so distant that hauling charges mount to a high figure.

The pier is capable of loading and unloading seven or eight steamers at one time, the distance to European ports, insuring a saving in time, thus giving opportunity for at least one more transatlantic trip a year.

The Maine Central has been desirous for a long time to secure Canadian business, but had not been particularly successful in its efforts. Should the business now contemplated prove of substantial amount that road has sufficient water frontage to build its own ocean shipping facilities.

No change contemplated in handling export traffic during coming winter. Our regular lines will this winter continue to handle through West St. John our export and import business as in past, in spite of greater distance from and to Montreal as compared with Portland, although we only get same rates.

At the same time a telegram was sent to Sir Henry Thornton, quoting verbatim that part of the despatch referring to the capacity of the State of Maine pier at Portland, the comparison of wharfage charges between Portland and St. John, and the assertion that the mainstay of the shipping at Portland was the Canadian business in bond to and from English ports.

Dear Sir,—Having reference to your telegram of Nov. 18, in regard to quotation of the Boston news bureau, I beg to advise as follows: The Canadian National Railway has no control over nor association with the State of Maine Pier at Portland, as that was built by outside parties. I therefore cannot vouch for the accuracy of any of their statements. I should doubt, however, if the loading and unloading capacity is as great as indicated.

I understand that certain American lines through the southern gateways, via the Hudson River, are applying the Boston export rates to Portland. In this the Canadian National Railway has no part.

I also understand the terminal charges at the Maine State Pier will cost the railway two and one-half cents per 100 pounds.

The railway rates to Portland and St. John are equal, as are also the ocean rates from both ports to foreign ports. A combination of these two rates will not cost the shipper any more via one port than the other, the carrying company absorbing the wharfage charges.

As to the volume which will be done over the State Pier, this depends entirely upon the activities of the American railways. As to Canadian traffic, it must be borne in mind that the import tonnage through Portland last year was, and for the future will practically be nil, because of the 10 per cent preference in customs duties on traffic imported through Canadian river and ocean ports.

The distance from Portland and St. John to Liverpool is practically the same.

I hope this will give you the information you desire, and regret that matters from the office prevented a more prompt response.

SUSSEX FINANCE STATEMENT GOOD

Most Departments Have Surplus; Tax Collections are Better.

Sussex, Nov. 24.—There is at least one town in the Maritime Provinces which is not talking hard times and looking to Providence and governments to pull it out of the hole. Sussex feels that it has seen the trough of the sea and that things hereabouts are moving in the direction of the crest of the wave.

The statements in the above despatch were evidently of such a propagandist nature that a telegram was sent to A. D. MacTier, vice-president and general traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, giving the substance of the despatch and inquiring as to its correctness.

The Sussex Manufacturing Company has orders on hand which will keep it working at full capacity for at least eight months. It also looks as if this concern would be adding to the number of its employees in the near future. This is encouraging and the condition has been brought about simply by those interested in this concern getting after business, and it furnishes an example that other concerns in the Maritime Provinces might well imitate.

A water spout 800 feet high occurred recently off the coast of England.

Will be Dealt With at Meetings Next Month in Buffalo.

New York, Nov. 25.—Important constitutional changes affecting the 2,000 Young Men's Christian Associations of North America will soon take place, according to information supplied by Y. M. C. A. leaders.

The meetings at Buffalo are expected to bring to reality improvements in organization and policy in the planning of which are represented the experience and study of thousands of lay and employed officers of the various associations. These developments are directed to the problem of how the world's largest lay movement, while maintaining decentralization, may achieve greater unity and better meet increasing responsibilities.

COUNTRY GIRL BETTER. A humorous debate was much enjoyed at the meeting of the Epworth League of the Esplanade street church last night when W. L. Beville, chairman of the citizenship committee, presided.

The resolution was: "Resolved, that the city girl makes a better wife than the country girl on the average." The affirmative side was upheld by W. C. Panjor, R. Lawton and H. F. Hopkins of the League, and J. King Kelley, William McKeen and George Withers, Rev. E. E. Styles, Miss Rose Hopkins and P. M. Myles gave their decision in favor of the negative, but said that the two teams had been very evenly matched, as the score stood 10 to 8. Mr. Beville extended thanks to the debaters and to the judges for their part in the evening programme.

NEW EXTREME IN FRENCH FASHION

Chicago, Nov. 25.—(United Press).—Don't blame it on synthetic gin if in the near future you see a shamrock-green poodle peering out the window of some stately mansions bowing along the mall.

A sky-blue chow frolicking on a leash beside a fashionable matron need not make you think you have the heebiegees.

A crimson King Charles nestling in a dowager's arms will not be proof that you are going nutty.

Such hysterical sights may be expected soon on U. S. boulevards, according to a beauty specialist recently returned from abroad.

"Fashion across the pond," the expert said "has the delirium tremens. A society woman in Paris' gayest set was recently seen in the Champs Elysees leading a gaily colored poodle by a leash. The poodle which matched her frock in color, naturally created a sensation. The next day mademoiselle appeared with her Persian cat tied to the same color as the upholstery of her limousine, her great furry pet certainly the last word in feline splendor. Now all the women of the French capital are following her example and dyeing pets to harmonize with the gown is the latest trend in style. The fad may be expected in the United States before long.

"Discovery by a chemist of a new preparation which is harmless in action on the highly sensitive organisms of growing hair on account of lacking paraphenylenediamine, has made it safe for women to dye their pets. With an oil application one color may be removed and another applied, so that cats and dogs or monkeys and parrots may be tinted to match every gown in a woman's wardrobe."

FILM the worst enemy to teeth
You can feel it with your tongue

Please don't hide those pretty teeth you have, any longer

Make this unique test—see what dazzling clearness is beneath that dingy film. Your teeth are probably as glistening, white and attractive as anyone's . . . now find out.

THOUSANDS of us who go through life wishing for glistening, clear teeth already have them—yet never reveal them, or know how to have them.

Your own teeth may be gloriously clear, sparkling, enviable right today—but clouded and hidden by a simple film coat.

This offers you a test which will quickly help you to find out. A test that millions have made with some astonishing results. Send the coupon and make it.

It's only a dingy film—now easily removed

If your teeth are dull, cloudy, discolored, run your tongue across them. You will feel a film. A film that absorbs discolorations and hides the natural color and luster of your teeth.

Remove it, and your teeth take on a new beauty. Old-time dentifrices failed in successfully combating it. That is why, regardless of the care you take now, your teeth remain "off color," dull and unattractive.

How it invites tooth troubles, besides keeping your teeth ugly

Film is charged with most tooth troubles. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Germs by the millions breed in it. And they, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

You must remove it at least three times daily. And thus constantly combat it. You can't have pretty teeth, you can't have healthy teeth unless you do. For it is ever present, ever forming—a constant danger in your mouth.

New methods remove it, without scouring or harsh grit

Now new methods have been found. And embodied in a new type dentifrice called Pepsodent, different in formula, action and effect from any other dentifrice.

Its action is to curdle film, then harmlessly to remove it. No soap, no chalk, no harsh grit dangerous to enamel.

Most of the sparkling white teeth you see today are due to it. Largely on dental advice, it has changed the teeth cleansing habits of the world.

Results are quick

Mail the coupon. Then note results. Mark the glistening whiteness it brings; the amazingly clean feel it gives your teeth, the beautiful polish and luster. Don't hide your pretty teeth any longer.

CURRIE DENIES HE SAID 100,000 MEN WERE OF NO USE

Former Canadian Commander Expresses Readiness to Honor Soldiers

(Canadian Press Despatch) Ottawa, Nov. 24.—General Sir Arthur Currie has no intention of entering public life. "I am perfectly happy where I am," Sir Arthur told the members of the Professional Institute of the Civil Service at their luncheon here tonight in opening a two-day convention, which is the annual meeting of the institute. Sir Arthur made reference to an article he had written for a magazine and said that when he published that article a certain section of the super-sensitive press said he was about to enter public life. "Nothing was further from my thought," Sir Arthur told his audience.

Kirkton, Ont.—"I have found Doctor Pierce's Anuric Tablets to be an excellent medicine. I have been troubled with inflammation in the neck of my bladder for about eight years. I doctored but failed to get cured, so I decided to try Doctor Pierce's Anuric (anti-uric-acid) Tablets and they have relieved me greatly. "I also can recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for expectant mothers. I have a fine, big baby boy. My nurse asked me what I ate to make him so strong. He looked like a child four or five months old when only three. I certainly would advise every prospective mother to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."—Mrs. John Simpson, R. R. 1.

to say that 100,000 of the gallant men of the Canadian corps were of no use. No one knows better than I do what they endured, suffered, and what they did and I have always paid just tribute to their accomplishments."

Sir Arthur's address was a plea for a super-civil service by means of which public policy would be better informed and directed. Montreal, Nov. 24.—Sir Arthur Currie's remarks regarding the charges of "come of the press," have reference to telegraphic reports from Ottawa a week ago which announced that a Montreal member of Parliament intended to press for an inquiry into statements which were attributed to Sir Arthur in an address before the Citizens' Research Institute on Sept. 11, last. The report said that "charges made by Sir Arthur Currie in Montreal that at least 100,000 men were enlisted in the Canadian expeditionary force who should not have been enlisted, thereby entailing an unnecessary expenditure of millions of dollars, are due to be ventilated at the coming session of Parliament."

Sir Arthur was asked regarding this and emphatically disclaimed ever having any such statement. He also declined to be interviewed saying that he refused to be involved in any political issue. At the same time, Sir Arthur observed that his correct words were recorded in the proceedings of the Citizens' Research Institute. Record of His Address. The records of these proceedings do not represent Sir Arthur as having made the charge which has been ascribed to him. Sir Arthur was addressing the institute on the need of national administrative economy and the employment of expert advice as an aid to economy, and, according to the proceedings, he declared: "In illustrations what I mean I can refer only to the taxation of which I have most knowledge, and any reference I make must be regarded simply as illustrations of conditions which have existed in all departments of government. If there is one thing more than another that has been responsible for the increase in our national debt in our taxation, it is the expenditure due to the war, but it is my opinion that it cost hundreds of millions of dollars more than it should have cost or would have cost if expert advice had always been available and if such as was available had been listened to. I do not think I am exaggerating when I say that there were at least 100,000 men enlisted for the Canadian Expeditionary Force who never saw service in France and who

KORETZ SAID TO HAVE CONFESSED

(Canadian Press Despatch) Halifax, Nov. 24.—Leo Koretz, alias Lou Keyte, self-admitted perpetrator of swindles approximating two million dollars in Chicago, whose arrest in a local hotel last evening robbed this province of one of its newest and most spectacular residents, and added a fresh chapter to United States criminal annals, will remain another night at least in a cell in the local jail. When he will be taken back to Chicago has not been decided tonight. If Koretz had his way he would start today, according to statements he made this afternoon to the authorities. He is described as being weary of the chase and anxious to go through his trial. Shorn of his disfiguring beard and evidently suffering from reaction following his sudden change from freedom and affluence to the gloomy environment of a jail cell, he presented this afternoon a very different front to that to which his Nova Scotian acquaintances have become familiar. In another week, he declared, he would have been on his way to South America. His present visit to Halifax had been for the purpose of obtaining transportation and passports on a steamer going south and he was to have sailed this week, he told the authorities. Koretz is quoted as admitting that he conducted swindles in the United

C.N.R. Will Back Canada in Bid For More West Indies Trade

THORNTON ANXIOUS TO SEE BIG FLEET PUT IN OPERATION Sees Advantages for Both Countries in Trade Arrangement. LAUDS THE PRESS Thanks Papers for Support of Self and Road and for Honest Criticism.

Triangle Tragedy in Maine

Charles H. Fielding (noising lady), of Portland, Me., is charged with killing Alphonse Gato (inset), who was shot after fleeing from the killing (above) and Ralph Sanborn, her son by a previous marriage, are held as witnesses.

Charlotte, Nov. 24—The need for Canada to establish relations with the West Indies, the promise of the Canadian National Railways to support to the fullest measure of its ability any such trade programme, and a tribute to the newspapers of Canada for the support they have accorded him personally and officially since he accepted the presidency of the company, were the outstanding features of an address delivered tonight before the Board of Trade of Charlotte by Sir Henry W. Thornton, chairman and president of the National Railways system.

"I should like to see a fleet of fast vessels carrying the Canadian flag working the Halifax and St. John for the West Indies," said Sir Henry, "and we propose to be second to none in doing all we can to further such trade."

"One of the advantages I have heard attributed to the United States is that they form a continent of nations. They produce both the products of the north and of the tropics. We in Canada, adjacent to the United States, can produce everything produced in the northern part of the United States, but we are lacking in making ourselves self-contained. We lack tropical products but Canada and the West Indies, properly connected by transportation facilities, can make themselves as self-contained as the United States. It is our duty to increase our facilities and cooperation with our sister Dominions in the West Indies."

Reference having been made to the value of the newspapers to Canada by S. A. MacDonald, president of the Board of Trade during his speech introducing Sir Henry to the gathering, the president of the Canadian National Railways took advantage of the opportunity so afforded to express his appreciation of the service the press of the Dominion had rendered the company and himself during his tenure of office.

"I should like to take advantage of this opportunity," said Sir Henry, "to say something I have wanted to say for a long time, and that is to thank them for their splendid, honest and unprejudiced support and from time to time their valuable constructive criticism."

"What I have seen of the newspapers of Canada has caused me to believe that they represent a higher standard of patriotism, public service and honesty than exists in any country I have been in. There is no paper in the whole of the Dominion of Canada whose editorial columns can be so subsidized. If our press is honest and strict and expresses their opinions freely we have gone a very long way in awakening a national consciousness and in solving many of our national problems."

Dealing with some of the immediate needs of the Maritime Provinces Sir Henry expressed the desire of the National Railways to do something for Prince Edward Island, to assist in the marketing of the large potato crop. He stated that several parties desired to give this assistance are under consideration by the officers of the company and he hoped before long to be able to do something that would help Prince Edward Islanders to find larger markets at better prices for this staple product.

Sir Henry also dealt with the advantages which the three Maritime Provinces enjoy as centres of attraction for the summer tourists. In this connection he referred to some of the things the Canadian National Railways are doing, and propose to do, in promulgating information intended to increase tourist traffic to Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Among these he made mention of the new radio station of the company CNRA at Moncton.

"Our new radio station at Moncton," he said, "will be useful in sending out information with respect to the various resorts in the Maritime Provinces. It may interest you to know that our Moncton station CNRA has already been picked up in Farnham, England. There is an implement which has a great advertising value to the Maritime Provinces and that is the reason we constructed it. You have a great tourist field which as yet has not been sufficiently explored. It is our desire to help you explore it."

Sir Henry also sounded a note of optimism in touching upon business prospects in general by stating that there are unmistakable signs that the world is improving in many parts of the world and that it was his opinion that Europe and North America were entering upon at least a three-year cycle of better economic conditions. He referred briefly to the financial position of the Canadian National Railways, expressing himself as hopeful that in spite of depressed gross earnings, the net would approximate that of last year, and he pointed out that only a little extra effort and a slight betterment in business conditions was required to place the system in such a position that it would be able to meet all its interest charges.

NEW CLUB TO HUNT WILL GAME IN U. S.

California Preserve Will be Stocked With Lions and Tigers.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—(United Press).—Incorporation papers filed by the Pacific Coast Sportsmen's Club at Sacramento insure the establishment of a unique hunting preserve in California, according to an announcement here by the chairman of the board of directors.

The most interesting feature of the club will be a 20,000 acre park of Nevada land enclosed with a safety-fence of iron wire and stocked with African lions, Bengal tigers and other carnivorous varieties of dangerous big game.

A club house costing $250,000 with groups of cottages will be erected and the club will be equipped for golf, polo, tennis, archery, swimming, fishing, and shooting. The game will include ducks, geese, pheasants, wild turkeys, deer, elk, buffalo, bears, lions, tigers, leopards, and American mountain lions.

STAGE HOLD-UP IN A BEAUTY SHOP

New York Thugs Get $3,475 in Gem, Watch and Cash.

New York, Nov. 25.—Three men stopped at 850 Grand street, Essex street, New York, yesterday, and a battery of electrical wiring cutting machines.

After entering, the two men paused for a moment at Scholwick's, a shop of a series of pigments on a palette in one of the booths where unforgettable portraits are painted on the old walls. If a warrant is slipped on him, the reason for the arrest is that he is a "parole violator."

The restrictions placed upon Anderson when he is let out of Sing Sing on parole, must also be sufficient incentive for the trusty to run away.

Conditions of Parole. Before leaving Sing Sing Anderson, agreeing to observe all the rules for parole, must sign his signature to a written document specifying those conditions. The restrictions imposed upon the movements and conduct of the paroled, it was explained, are to enable the State Board of Parole to "test his ability to abstain from wrongdoing and lead an honest, upright and industrious life."

1. He must abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors of any kind and shall not frequent places where they are sold.

2. He shall proceed directly to the place to which he is paroled, to wit, 272 Van Cortlandt Park Avenue, Yonkers, and report to his parole agent to whom he is paroled.

3. Upon his arrival at the place to which he is paroled, he shall immediately write to the Superintendent of State Prisons at Albany, upon the blank furnished for that purpose, stating the time and hour of his arrival there and give his full address.

4. He shall not change his place of residence without the consent of the Superintendent of State Prisons.

COMMENCE INQUEST ON GIRL'S DEATH

CURBON ANDERSON DENYING HIS PAROLE

If He Resumes Attacks Against Enemies, Runs Risk of Prison.

New York, Nov. 25.—The first pledge required by William H. Anderson, former state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of New York, before he is released on parole from Sing Sing on Christmas Eve, is that he shall abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors and shall "not frequent places where they are sold."

The victim of public criticism by Anderson, in that event, would merely accuse him of making slanderous statements. With a charge of slander pending against him, Anderson would be thrust back into prison pending trial of the charge against him, according to Sing Sing authorities.

Must Report in Writing. For a year after he leaves Sing Sing on parole, Anderson must report in writing once a month to the State Board of Parole, describing his "surroundings, occupation and recreation, his successes and failures."

At a hearing at Sing Sing yesterday, Anderson denied the charges against him, and stated that he was a "parole violator."

WEMBLEY FAIR TO BE CONTINUED

Thought Practically Certain Canada Will Again Have Exhibit

(Canadian Press Despatch.) London, Nov. 24.—The British Empire Exhibition at Wembley will be continued another year and the existing board, with the addition of the Duke of Devonshire, will be authorized to take the necessary steps for its continuation, according to a resolution passed today at a meeting of the council of the exhibition.

It is regarded as practically certain that Canada will continue her exhibit at the British Empire Exhibition for another year. It is understood that the Government is still awaiting definite word from the British Government in regard to the matter.

On the same date Hatfield was indicted by a grand jury in Judge Bland's court, where John Chafin is prosecuting attorney, on charges of manufacturing, possessing and selling liquor. Witnesses in his case previously testified against Hatfield, who served an eleven months' sentence imposed in federal court.

While the Huntington term of Judge McCintie's court was still in session, he declared that the federal court would protect its witnesses from "persecution" and at the opening of the present term he repeated this assertion with the added declaration that this statement applied to "judges, sheriffs and prosecuting attorneys," as well as others.

SAYS HER HUSBAND WOODEN WITH A GAT

Frank Silva, 31, of New York, was arrested Friday, charged with wooing his wife with a revolver. His wife said Frank wooed her when they worked together.

She said that the second day after Frank met her he showed her a revolver and said: "This is for both of us, if you don't marry me." But after their marriage, Frank still threatened to shoot, she said. Frank is charged with assault and battery.

GOES TO PARIS

Providence, R. I., Nov. 25.—Mrs. Minta Arbuckle, who withdrew her petition for a divorce from Roscoe C. Arbuckle, former screen star, after it had been heard here in the Superior Court, has gone to Paris to seek a divorce in the French courts, according to Francis P. Dougherty, who appeared as her counsel here.

Mrs. Arbuckle's petition was granted last January, but the question of her legal residence in this state was raised later and she withdrew her petition and the decree was vacated.

80,000 PASSENGERS HANDED BY C. P. S. IN QUEBEC SEASON

Good Period at St. Lawrence Port is Brought to a Close.

Bonus System Increases Influx of British Immigrants to Canada.

(Special to The Times-Star.) Quebec, Nov. 25.—With the end of passenger steamship traffic in the port of Quebec, the immigration building in the harbor which has been the scene of a great deal of activity during the summer months, is now about to be closed until next spring, and only a few offices in the building remain occupied at present to wind up the season's activities.

The majority of the clerks and officials of the Canadian Pacific steamships have already left for St. John, where they will handle the company's first arrivals at the winter port, and it was learned yesterday that the office here would be definitely closed for the winter by Friday afternoon.

Had a Good Season. It was learned that the company had enjoyed a most successful season as regards the number of passengers carried to and from the ports of Quebec and Montreal. Inward cargoes had been good, and on their return trips, hardly a steamer had left this side without a capacity cargo.

Four months ago, in April of this year, 18 transatlantic liners of the Canadian Pacific fleet, engaged in the bonus system authorized by the Dominion government to encourage settlers to come to this country had undoubtedly influenced a large number of settlers from the British Isles to cross the ocean.

More immigrants than last year, the majority of whom were Britishers, came over in the third class quarters of the different steamers and passed through the immigration building. The bonus system authorized by the Dominion government to encourage settlers to come to this country had undoubtedly influenced a large number of settlers from the British Isles to cross the ocean.

COURT OFFICIALS ARE INDICTED

Are Held in $10,000 Bail Each on Charge of Interference.

Charleston, W. V., Nov. 25.—Don Chafin, sheriff of Logan county, Judge Robert Bland of the State Circuit Court which includes Logan in its jurisdiction, and John Chafin, cousin of the sheriff and prosecuting attorney of the county, were held by Federal Judge George W. McClintie under bonds of $10,000 each for a hearing on Dec. 11 on an indictment returned against them charging interference with Federal Court witnesses.

Charges against the Logan county officials came after Sheriff Chafin's trial before Judge McClintie, in which the sheriff was found guilty of conspiracy to violate the federal prohibition law. Tennis Hatfield, proprietor of a roadhouse in Logan county, was the chief prosecuting witness and declared that his profits were divided with the sheriff, who, he alleged, promised him protection. On Oct. 14, Judge McClintie imposed the maximum sentence, two years in the Atlanta penitentiary, and a $10,000 fine on Sheriff Chafin, but granted a stay of execution for an appeal.

On the same date Hatfield was indicted by a grand jury in Judge Bland's court, where John Chafin is prosecuting attorney, on charges of manufacturing, possessing and selling liquor. Witnesses in his case previously testified against Hatfield, who served an eleven months' sentence imposed in federal court.

While the Huntington term of Judge McCintie's court was still in session, he declared that the federal court would protect its witnesses from "persecution" and at the opening of the present term he repeated this assertion with the added declaration that this statement applied to "judges, sheriffs and prosecuting attorneys," as well as others.

GENEVA DISCUSSES EGYPTIAN TROUBLE

Question Replaces Opium as Main Topic of Delegates' Conversation

(Canadian Press Despatch.) Geneva, Oct. 24.—Egypt replaced opium at Geneva today as the topic of general interest. The delegates to the international opium conference in the corridors of the league place, all discussing the Egyptian situation and all wondering whether the league would eventually be called upon to extend its good offices.

No appeal has yet been received from the Egyptian Government, although Dr. Mohammed Gaidy, the Egyptian delegate to the opium conference, was strong in the belief that Egypt, notwithstanding she is not a member of the league, would dispatch some memorial to that body.

New York, Nov. 24.—The steamship Esperanza, of the War Line, is ashore near the Tampico Bar, according to wireless dispatches received today by the Independent Wireless Telegraph Company which intercepted SOS calls from the stricken vessel. Passengers and crew were reported to have been taken safely off the wreck.

LOOK FOR RECORD VOTE IN ONTARIO

Last Minute Organization Details Occupy Both Candidates in By-election

(Canadian Press Despatch.) Belleville, Ont., Nov. 24.—Last minute details of organization occupied the two candidates and their supporters today on the eve of the Federal by-election in West Hastings riding, for a seat made vacant by the resignation of E. Gus Porter, Conservative.

Nominations for civic offices in Belleville this morning temporarily eclipsed interest in the Federal issue. These disposed of, however, the electors returned to the consideration of the arguments put forward by the two parties in favor of their candidates. Mr. Porter is running for re-election on the Opposition ticket and he is opposed by Charles Hamilton on behalf of the Government party.

There will be several wind-up meetings in the riding tonight. The Prime Minister and the leader of the Opposition have both attended meetings in the last few days and the campaign which closes tonight is undoubtedly the hottest ever seen in this riding. The main issue is on the question of whether Mr. Porter is justified in bringing on a by-election to seek the approval of the electors of his riding in moving a vote of censure in Parliament on the Minister of Labor, Hon. James Murdock, or whether he should have accepted the report of the privileges and elections committee of the House, which exonerated Mr. Murdock. A record vote is expected tomorrow.

The eleven trucks I mentioned were all seized on the south shore roads of Long Island. In that number I did not include the seizures made on the north shore. Two motor trucks, with 1,100 cases of liquor were seized on Wednesday at Bayville, near Oyster Bay, and six men were arrested.

There is a big leak somewhere near Montauk Point and the amount of liquor coming in through Long Island is increasing so rapidly that conditions begin to look like they did last winter, but more than two or three truck seizures a week.

RUM RUNNERS FIND HOLE IN BLOCKADE OF LONG ISLAND

Contraband Flows Through Bad Leak, Says Dry Chief's Report.

CHAMPAGNE SEIZED

Eleven Motor Cars Confiscated on Roads of Long Island.

New York, Nov. 25.—The prohibition blockade of Long Island has sprung a leak.

Through an opening forced by the rum-runners liquor is flowing in such large quantities that the situation has just been called to the attention of the authorities in Washington by Romaine Q. Merrick, Prohibition Enforcement Chief for the State of New York and Northern New Jersey.

Mr. Merrick's report contained no recommendations, but he hopes that the facts set forth in the report will be sufficient to bring about some result. The exact place of the leak has not been determined. But according to Chief Merrick, an enormous quantity of liquor landed by smugglers is coming from the general direction of Montauk Point.

"The size of the leak," said Chief Merrick yesterday, "is indicated by the increase in the number of seizures recently. Last week we confiscated eleven motor cars and arrested thirteen men on the roads of Long Island. The cars, including trucks and closed automobiles, were loaded with from thirty to fifty cases of liquor each."

"The number of seizures and arrests made last week exceeded the average for any month since the inauguration of the Coast Guard patrol off the shores of Long Island. Most effective work was done by the speedy boats recently placed in operation by the Coast Guard. Since the Spring, when the first of the new patrol boats went into service, we have not arrested more than two or three truck seizures a week."

$2,000,000 IN GOLD TO BE SHIPPED, N. Y. TO LONDON; MAY BE FOR BERLIN

New York, Nov. 25.—For the first time in several years American bankers are preparing to send a large shipment of gold to England in compliance with instructions received yesterday from a London bank. The purpose of the shipment was not revealed, but it will consist of $2,000,000 in gold bars.

The shipment was regarded as significant since it showed a possible change in the trend of gold movement. Since the war the gold movement has been almost entirely from England and other countries in Europe to the United States. About six months ago this movement began to taper off and recently there were several small shipments to European countries. This new consignment will be the largest since the war period to be sent from New York to London.

For the first nine months of this year the total of gold shipped to London from the United States was $1,038,480, or little more than half the amount in 1921, none in 1922, $20,900, in 1923, none in 1924, and $2,091,066.

While bankers here have not been informed, they said, as to the purpose of the new shipment, there was said to be abundant evidence to show that it was destined ultimately for Germany. Thus far the German Government has not taken down any of its new $10,000,000 American loan money for buying gold for shipment to that country, although in recent weeks its gold reserve has been steadily mounting.

It was also being possible that either Holland or Sweden, whose foreign exchange bills have returned to par, might be making the purchase through London, but this was not considered likely. Great Britain was not regarded as the actual purchaser, but rather as an agent in the transaction, for the reason that Governmental debt funding payments and the discount of sterling lend a premium to that country to have gold in the United States.

Facilitating the modest beginnings of a gold movement from America, which bankers expect eventually will completely remove the threat of gold inflation here, has been the recent remarkable advance of foreign exchange bills. In yesterday's market this advance was continued in buying that the gold movement from America, which bankers expect eventually will completely remove the threat of gold inflation here, has been the recent remarkable advance of foreign exchange bills.

Swedish kroner also touched par and closed at 26.84 cents, a net gain of one point, while the new German mark held steady at its parity of 23.80 cents. Other important bills went higher. Sterling at $4.63-7.8 was up 7.8 points, French francs at 236.24 cents and Belgian francs at 4.84-2.4 cents were up 2.4 and 3.4 points respectively. Lire advanced one-half point to 4.33 3/4 cents, and Spanish pesetas moved up 31-2 points to 13.65 cents, despite reports of hard fighting by Spanish troops in Africa.

With their currencies at par, both Holland and Sweden are now in excellent position to buy gold abroad and to shift it to those markets where their foreign exchange bills may be selling at a discount. Sweden has been buying gold abroad, Holland in small measure, and Germany has been an active purchaser.

Scholwick's hands leaped above his head as his eyes were fixed in agony on a great diamond on his left hand. "Stretch it out!" The order was repeated and the revolver whirled and peated and the diamond dropped the hand with the ring, and it was snatched off. It cost $2,800, the beauty engineer told the police afterwards. He said he had sold the diamond for $1,750 and $500 in cash.

Scholwick and Vito Vita were then ordered to a rear room equipped with special apparatus for abolishing homelessness on a large scale. In order to retard pursuit, the bandits ordered the two men to remove their trousers, feeling quite certain that they would not run into the busy street until they were properly clothed. As they walked out the front door, the bandits threw back the garments and ran. Forty or fifty seconds later, Scholwick and Vita ran out calling for help, but the bandits were far away.

LOOK FOR EMPIRE COMMITTEE ON DOMINION PRODUCE MARKETS

(Canadian Press Cable.) London, Nov. 24.—It is understood that the Baldwin Government when it names its Royal Commission to investigate food prices will, at the same time, appoint an Imperial Economic Committee, on which the Dominions will be represented, to deal with the question of marketing Dominion produce. It is probable that Sir Halford MacKinder will serve on both committees as liaison officer between the two bodies.

OTTAWA, Nov. 24.—The Canadian Government, along with the Governments of the other Dominions, has agreed to the formation of an Imperial Committee to deal with the marketing of Dominion produce. Objections taken by Canada at the Imperial Conference to the formation of an Imperial Economic Committee, do not, it is stated here, apply to the proposed committee on marketing. The objections were to the creation of a committee with practically unlimited field.

Women Plan To Chart "Port of Missing Ships" And To Strip Sargasso Sea of Its Secrets

New York, Nov. 24—In the future it will probably be "Mlle. Columbus!"

For, although it caused the bones of Cortez, De Gama, Magellan, Marco Polo and all the rest to turn in their graves, it must be reported that a woman's hand will be first to record the secrets of one of the great romantic mysteries of all time: the Sargasso Sea.

And another woman's hand will paint for posterity the replicas of these new-solved secrets.

The two young women are Miss Ruth Rose, historian of the New York Zoological Society, and Isabel Cooper, artist, and they are part of the intrepid scientific crew that sailed away in the laboratory-ship Arcturion to strip the Sargasso of its legend and fable.

Heading the scientific party, which includes geologists, botanists, sculptors, photographers and what-not, is William Beebe who for 20 years has followed the trails of strange birds, rare insects, animals and sea life; who tracked the Darwin belt in Galapagos and who has written a half dozen authoritative works on his explorations.

What does he think of women in exploration?

"If it were feasible I would have my entire scientific party made up of them, just as readily as not," he smiles in reply. "Fine minds are as necessary in modern research expeditions as fine courage. It is easier to find fine women than fine men."

The modern young woman, it appears, is as well prepared for the scientific trail as are men—and some of them better. In the pursuit of butterflies and insects they are more patient; they have an inexhaustible enthusiasm and zest for discovery and a talent for accurate recording.

Also they go about their trips and work without fear.

"You know I never carry a gun. A

Butler net is my weapon," says Miss Rose, who already has been into Africa on an exploration venture and who, before the present trip is over, will have penetrated fever district and jungle.

In exploring the Sargasso Sea every implement of modern science will be employed.

Thus far the reports of this strange floating mass of seaweed and sea life have been extremely vague. It lies between the Azores and Bahamas, though the exact location is indefinite. "The extent of it, it seems, varies with the winds and currents," says Beebe. "It has been placed variously anywhere from Morocco to the Gulf and from the Equator to the temperate zone."

It is believed to be as large as the continent of Europe. Numberless tales of disasters and sea mysteries have been written about it until it earned the name of "Port of Missing Ships."

When the Arcturion returns the time-hidden secrets may be revealed.

ONTARIO AT GRIPS WITH BOOTLEGGERS

Police Have Closed 155 Blind Pigs in the Last Three Weeks.

Toronto, Nov. 25—At 19 sessions of the police court in the last three weeks 54 bootleggers were sent down "without the option of a fine." Many of these were at the same time fined $1,000 and costed the alternative of six months' imprisonment in addition to their jail terms.

Inquiry at the office of Magistrate Jones today elicited a reiteration and also a statement that both local and provincial police have been particularly successful in securing convictions under the Ontario Temperance Act this month.

There also have been in this period 101 convictions under sections in which direct imprisonment cannot be given out in most of these the maximum fine has been imposed. Those persons who are infringing the act are said to be in a state of nervous collapse. One of them on Thursday presented to be very ill in the corridor and carried his bluff upon a first examination by a doctor from one of the civic departments. A subsequent more careful examination proved him to be a faker.

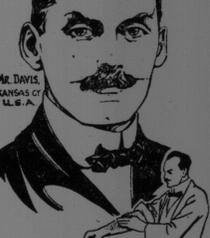

There has been a 10 per cent. decrease in the number of drunks over last year. Yesterday, Friday, there was only one case of breach of the O. T. A. on the list, with very few drunks.

According to information from Magistrate Jones records, a reiteration of Toronto's complement of "blind pigs" to the tune of 155 has been effected in the last 19 days, a substantial reduction, and a great step towards a complete clean-up.

According to Mr. Jones a prominent counsel, whose work in defence of hotels charged with breach of the O. T. A. should make his opinion worthy of remark, said that in his opinion the hotel men as a class were out of the hard liquor business because they could not stand the cost of $1,000 fines plus one or two months in jail.

"The police report," said Mr. Jones, "that it is increasingly difficult for persons to get the entire lot of 'blind pigs' as the proprietors are thoroughly alarmed as to their safety."

TRAVELLED THE WORLD BUT NEVER FOUND Anything to Equal Zam-Buk

Mr. Henry C. Davis, a widely-travelled railway engineer, now of South 17th St., Kansas City, U.S.A., writes that he has found nothing in any quarter of the globe that compares with Zam-Buk for healing. He says:—"As a first-aid I have used Zam-Buk in innumerable instances for cuts, wounds, bruises and similar injuries sustained in my engineering work."

A REAL ANTISEPTIC HEALER.

"I also tried Zam-Buk for a rather common trouble in this country—skin poisoning by poison ivy. Disfiguring sores appeared on the hands, and other parts of the body after being in contact with the poisonous plant. Zam-Buk speedily cooled the affected surfaces, drew the poison right out, and healed my skin perfectly."

"Another time, whilst travelling, I suffered from a virulent outbreak of eczema, contracted through careless use of a public towel. I had medical advice and tried in addition, many special remedies without finding the hoped-for relief. Zam-Buk treatment took away all the pain and burning irritation, and quickly purified and healed the deep troublesome sores. It made my skin quite well."

CANADA'S ENVOY BACK FROM JAPAN

Militia Staff Chief Says He was Well Received at Manoeuvre.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 24—Returning to Canada today on the Empress of Canada from Japan, where he was sent to attend the Japanese military manoeuvres by the Canadian Department of Defence, Major-General James H. MacBrien, chief of staff of the Canadian militia, declared that he was given a most wonderful welcome and that much valuable experience had been gained as a result of his observations.

"Never before have I experienced such a cordial welcome and such generosity, which took the form of numerous dinners, receptions and gifts. Upon leaving Japan, General Kawaji, chief of the general staff, made me a present of a beautiful sword, said to be nearly 800 years old."

"During my visit I was received several times by the Prince Regent and witnessed the Imperial birthday review at Tokyo, when 2,000 troops, including the Guards divisions, took part.

Attends Manoeuvres.

"The main object of my visit was to attend the grand manoeuvres in which four divisions were employed. These were intensely interesting from a professional point of view and also because they partake of the nature of a national festival. They were admirably planned and conducted by the general staff. One of the outstanding features was the splendid co-operation between the military and civil authorities in the manoeuvres."

"Though General MacBrien's visit was brief, he was able to inspect various military academies. He found the work of the Japanese force most interesting."

"The experience," said General MacBrien, "will be of great value to me personally and I trust I shall be able to pass it on to the Canadian military forces."

WILLING WORKERS MEET.

The Willing Workers of German street Baptist church met for a social and business meeting yesterday. After the programme, in which Mrs. Harold Macmillan gave a violin solo and Miss E. Climo had heard in a vocal recital, talent money for the summer was reported upon and arrangements were made for the preparation of Christmas bags for the Free Kindergarten. At the close of the business meeting refreshments were served.

The Great Breathable Remedy

Peps

FOR COUGHS, SORE THROAT, COLDS & BRONCHITIS.

As you dissolve a Peps tablet on your tongue, certain healing fumes are released which are immediately taken with the breath down into the furthest recess of the lungs where liquid medicines cannot penetrate. These Peps fumes on their way bathe the whole of the breathing passages with their healing potency, soothing the throat, allaying inflammation in the bronchi, and relieving the chest. Liquid medicines are simply swallowed into the stomach and cannot act in this direct Peps way.

INTEREST GROWS IN LONDON CASE

London, Nov. 24—Ever increasing interest is being shown by the London public in the action brought by C. E. Robinson, a former bookmaker, against the Midland Bank for £128,000 which he alleges the bank owes him on account of a settlement with a mysterious eastern potentate who had conspired in the past to defraud Robinson. It was over-friendly with Mrs. Robinson. Not in recent years has another case, not even the famous Russell Legitimacy controversy, aroused greater attention on account of the enormous sum involved and because of the anonymity of the eastern potentate whose name is being kept secret for political reasons.

Before adjournment of a session that was full of sensations today, Sir John A. Simon, counsel for the bank, submitted that on the evidence produced there was no case for the jury. He disputed that the bank had ever undertaken to be answerable to the plaintiff for the money and argued that it was the Prince's money, "taken from him by means of exposure."

Negligence, the defendant's counsel maintained, had nothing to do with the case and he said whoever the money belonged to it was not money about which Mr. Robinson could bring action against the bank.

On this particular point, Judge Darling, in the course of the day's hearing, had expressed the opinion that after perusing the signatures to the various checks involved and on the evidence before the court, it seemed that whoever had put the money into the bank had also drawn it out. It is "if that is the case," the Judge asked, "where is the negligence?"

NOVEMBER TO BE NO-ACCIDENT MONTH

This is Aim of the C. N. R. Safety Dept.—Visitors Address Meeting.

November, a no-accident month, is the ambition of the Department of Safety First and First Aid, from one end of the Canadian National Railway to the other. In this connection W. A. Booth, of Montreal, director of Safety First and First Aid, was in the city yesterday and addressed a meeting of the leaders in the Safety First clubs among the various crafts in the local territory. The meeting was held in the terminal agent's office yesterday afternoon and was presided over by C. S. Pughie, W. H. Toot, safety first engineer for the Atlantic region of the C. N. R., is accompanying Mr. Booth. In his address Mr. Booth dealt principally with the safety first measures which are slowly but surely entering into the system of every employee of the railroad, and which up to the present have done great things in cutting down the number of accidents.

In an interview later Mr. Booth said one of his chief worries was in educating the public and particularly that part of the public owning automobiles that it is the height of foolhardiness to try to beat a train to a crossing. The motorist who races parallel to a train, traveling at 40 miles an hour, and looks up and waves at the engineer, seemingly to urge him to greater efforts, was a case of very considerable worry to the engineer. He knows that both the train and the automobile are nearing a place where the road crosses the tracks, and that the train will be wrecked and the passengers who have entrusted their safety to the engineer may also be killed or injured.

If the motorists would think of these things, said Mr. Booth, there would be a great many less accidents at railway crossings. The work of the department was productive of much greater caution among the employees and it was his hope that the public would soon learn to co-operate more fully for their own safety. Mr. Booth went to Moncton last night.

HANDLED 3,355 CASES IN OCTOBER

U.S. Dry Agents Made 1,915 Arrests and Seizures.

Washington, Nov. 25—During October a total of 3,355 investigations were made by general prohibition agents, resulting in 88 revocations of licenses, 44 disapprovals and 105 approvals. Arrests totaled 1,915.

Fifteen cases were reported for conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws. Investigations of breweries resulted in seizure or recommendation for injunction proceedings in 19 cases. There were 1,242 transportation, sale or possession cases.

Seizures included 289 distillers, 298 stills, 200 still rooms, 3,801 fermenters, 314 automobiles, four boats and launches, 710,442 gallons of spirits and malt liquors, and 309,078 gallons of mash and pomace. The total appraised value of the property seized was $91,945.

"The co-operation of State officials," said Commissioner Haynes, is shown by the fact that in addition to the 1,215 arrests made by federal agents, 488 arrests were made by State officers, assisted by Federal officers.

"In some sections of the country the co-operation of state and local authorities is all that could be desired; in others it is not.

"Proper enforcement of this law depends largely on the assistance we receive from State and local officials, and prohibition is most popular where it is most nearly enforced. Public opinion many times reflects the attitude of public officials quite as much, if not more, than the officials and their conduct express the public wishes."

AUTOMOBILE ON FIRE

Last night about 9 o'clock a still alarm was sent in to No. 1 Chemical Engine, King street east for a slight fire in an automobile near the corner of Union and Georgetown streets. A short circuit under the car owned by Sydney H. Hutton, caused some oil to catch fire. A wet cloth extinguished the fire a few minutes before the apparatus arrived.

LARGE FUNERAL FOR YARMOUTH MAN

Yarmouth, N. S., Nov. 24—One of the most largely attended funerals seen in Yarmouth for a long period took place this afternoon when James Kilham Plett was buried in Mountain Cemetery. There was a great wealth of magnificent floral offerings, including massive pieces from the various fire companies, Curling Club, bowling league of the Y. M. C. A., and other organizations. The services were conducted by Rev. J. W. O'Brien, of the Union Tabernacle church, assisted by Rev. H. L. Haslam, rector of Holy Trinity church. The procession to the cemetery was headed by the Yarmouth concert band and a large contingent of firemen. Flags at the several fire stations were displayed at half mast and during the progress of the funeral the bells were tolled. The bearers were Hugh Cann, Roy Porter, Ernest Harding, Kenneth Horton, Alexander Fraser and A. M. Porter.

"Exhausted Nerves and Palpitating Heart"

Mrs. L. Whiting, 202 King St. West, Brockville, Ont., writes:

"I took very sick with my nerves and stomach, and seemed to be all run down. At times my heart would flutter and palpitate so and I would take such weak spells in the pit of my stomach that I sometimes thought I would never get better. I tried several doctors, but it seemed nothing they gave me helped. I had almost given up hope when a friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I tried it, and can say it certainly has done wonders for me. I did not stop until I had taken twenty-five boxes."

MARKET VALUE OF STOCKS UP 10 PERCENTS

Estimate of Gain Since the Election—Last Week Nearly Record.

It is estimated that since the election, the New York Times' market value of securities has appreciated by between three billion and five billion dollars. Stories of increasing confidence continue to circulate and increase. Wealthy individuals who are always in the market have benefited materially. Probably the largest paper profits have been made by the bankers who, during the summer, bought cheap railroad stocks. Until the public came into the market, it was guided by constructive banking and investment circles. Public participation, which has increased from 1919 to 1924, has increased the brokerage offices, since the election. The stocks last week totaled 17,679,389 shares, which has been extended to 17,679,389 shares in the week of May 1, 1925. All other recommendations made according to the week's volume of business.

SPORT NEWS GLEANED FROM WORLD'S CENTRES

ONCE A LEADING BOXER, NOW REAL ESTATE MAGNATE

Recalls Great Battles Between Leach Cross and Bud Anderson.

Occasionally letters reach New York from Dr. Louis Wallach, who is spending a pleasant and extended vacation in Paris. Dr. Wallach is a former dentist and is at present a real estate operator in Los Angeles, the owner of apartment houses and a man of wealth.

Incidentally he was once known as Leach Cross, lightweight pride of the East Side.

Up in the northern part of the State of Washington is a little truck patch cultivated by a broad shouldered, still youthful man, who wears faded overalls and a straw hat. He hasn't very much money and he seldom gets away from the grinding labor of his little farm. His name is Bud Anderson.

There doesn't seem to be much in connection between the wealthy cosmopolitan and the laborer, but there is.

Ten years ago it might have been hard to tell which would be the successful man of the future. It isn't very difficult to find the difference between their standings now.

A decade ago Cross was one of the finest lightweights in the east. He had fought the best of them, and the only black mark on his record was a forty-one round knockout that fighting Dick Hyland scored over him when he was a comparative youngster.

Anderson was the lightweight sensation of the Pacific coast. He was a magnificently developed young Viking with powerful, rippling muscles, speed and a terrific punch. The folks on the Sandown Slope thought that he was the certain champion of his class.

Cross and Anderson were matched. Bad was the blond handsome son of the outdoors. Cross was black-haired, wide-nosed, thick-lipped, a product of the Ghetto, who had been brought up in the teeming streets of the East Side.

These two widely different types of men stepped into the ring to oppose each other in a fight that each fondly hoped would bring him a step nearer the championship he craved.

Anderson was the better developed, the handsome physical specimen. Cross, strong and wiry, had far more brains packed in his skull. But for half a dozen rounds it was hard to say whether brains or brawn would emerge the victor.

In the seventh Bud landed his wallop. It was a bit high, but it sent Leach sprawling against the ropes, from which he slipped to the floor. He came up, dazed, blinking, gasping, apparently on the verge of a knockout.

Smelling victory, Anderson tore in, swinging wildly. And in that moment Cross, who had been feigning trouble, suddenly lost his own terrific punch that clipped Bud Anderson squarely on the button. It was all over in ten seconds.

The black Viking landed on the back of his head and scarcely moved while the referee was counting him out.

He was in a wild rage when he recovered, and insisted on another bout. It was arranged and Cross stopped him again. That ended his career.

Leach, with his brain that had been sharpened by contact with a deep younger of the streets, had hoped for a championship, but that was not to be all and the end-all of his ambition. He had seen clearly that prize fighting was only a step upward in the long climb to success; that the day would come when he would have to seek other contacts. To that end he had studied dentistry and equipped a fine office.

READY FOR BIG LIGHTWEIGHT BOUT

Terris and Vicentini Expected to Put Up Great Battle.

A lightweight battle of unusual importance is scheduled for Wednesday night in Madison Square Garden, New York. The contestants will be Sid Terris, the fast and clever east side youngster, who is regarded by many as the most promising prospect for class championship in his class, and Luis Vicentini, hard-hitting Chilean lightweight, whose pitching prowess has brought him to the forefront of contenders for the title now held by Benny Leonard.

They are to box twelve rounds in the feature engagement of an attractive card.

Terris will enter the ring favorite over Vicentini. The east side lad's supporters, however, will troop to the Garden prepared for many anxious moments while the fight is in progress.

In hitting power, however, Vicentini enjoys the advantage. In his battles around here the Chilean has proven himself one of the hardest punchers in the lightweight division. He has the reputation, too, of being more dangerous when stung by an opponent than under ordinary circumstances.

With all his boxing ability, however, Terris also boasts hard hitting strength. This was shown in his five-round knockout victory recently over Mel Coonan, rugged Brooklyn veteran, and has led some of Terry's core ardents to believe that the local lad is reported by his manager, Dan Caplan, primed for the battle.

Vicentini, too, is in condition, and is confident the is in the course of his scheduled 10-round bout here last night that the referee stopped the fight in the fifth.

Low Tender, Philadelphia welterweight, was awarded the English jockey, Fred Archer, the same jockey who rode the American-bred horse Iroquois when he won the Epsom Derby in 1881.

It was when Archer disappeared from the saddle that Murphy was starting on his amazing career in the sulky. As a winner of races the latter has never had an equal.

From 1870, when, as an apprentice to Matthew Dawson he received his first mount, until 1886 when he died, Fred Archer rode in 8,982 races, of which he won 2,747—more than one-third.

Archer topped the list of winners frequently being more than double that credited to his nearest rival.

The following is the record of Archer's career: Year. Mts. Tories. Year. Mts. Tories. 1870... 15 21879... 570 197

No record has been kept of the number of races in which Murphy has taken the word. The total, however, would not approach the number of Archer's mounts, as sometimes a jockey will ride in more races in an afternoon than a driver starts in during a meeting.

The amounts of Murphy's winnings from year to year has been compiled, however, and, as already stated, amounted from 1908 to the close of 1924 to $1,313,380. During this period Murphy topped the list of winning drivers each year except in 1910 and 1922, when he was second to Walter Cox.

The following are the gross amounts Murphy has won in each year: 1909... $66,400 1917... $83,170 1918... 43,000 1918... 104,903

PREMIER DRIVER WON BIG FORTUNE

Tommy Murphy Amassed $1,313,380 on Turf—Compared to Archer.

Thomas W. Murphy, in his sixteen years on the American trotting tracks, has won a total of $1,313,380. No one has ever approached the amount which stands to the credit of America's premier sulkyman and never has there been a prolonged run of successes credited to any other person connected with racing in any country with the single exception of the English jockey, Fred Archer, the same jockey who rode the American-bred horse Iroquois when he won the Epsom Derby in 1881.

It was when Archer disappeared from the saddle that Murphy was starting on his amazing career in the sulky. As a winner of races the latter has never had an equal.

BURNS STAR PLAYER FOR MANY SEASONS

Was Considered One of the Best Major League Outfielders.

George Burns, who was recently released unconditionally by the Cincinnati Reds, was one of the most popular as well as one of the oldest players in point of service in the two major leagues. The former star outfielder of the Giants was considered one of the steadiest batters in the game, as well as one of the star outfielders in the major leagues while he was in his prime.

Burns started his professional career with the Utica Club of the New York State League in 1909, as a catcher. He took part in 74 games that year and had a batting average of .251. In the following year he caught and also played in the outfield for the Utica Club. His batting average fell to .241 that year, but he raised it to .289 in 1911 while playing regularly in the outfield for the same club.

When the Utica Club finished its campaign in 1911 it sold Burns to the Giants. Between that time and the end of the major league pennant races in 1919 he compiled a batting average of .286. He also played in the world's series with the Athletics that year, but made only three hits in nineteen times at bat.

Burns continued to act as one of the Giants' regular outfielders for the next eight years. He batted .303 in 1914 and 1919 and compiled a batting average of .286. He also played in the world's series with the Athletics that year, but made only three hits in nineteen times at bat.

During the winter of 1921 Burns was traded to the Reds with Gonzales and Frisch was then moved over to second base and Johnny Rawlings, the hero of the 1921 world's series, was benched.

Burns has been one of the Reds' regular outfielders for the past three seasons.

NEWS NOTES GATHERED FROM THE WORLD OF STAGE AND SCREEN

"Yolanda" Shows Marion Davies at Her Best—Splendid Settings

"Yolanda," the newest starring production of Marion Davies, being shown at the Imperial theatre again today, is not only one of the most beautiful, as well as thrilling pictures ever made, but it has been called an educational force, depicting as it does, the history of that interesting period when Burgundy and France were combating for the political domination of the Continent.

Aside from sheer splendor and magnificence of settings, costumes and art objects and perfect acting, "Yolanda" brings into life historical truths that are interesting and lifelike. Historical facts that appear cold and tedious on the printed page are absorbed by the subconscious mind of the spectator through the medium of entertainment. In "Yolanda" we see some of the most important characters of the Middle Ages.

The strange creature, Louis XI, one of the most hated and yet one of the greatest kings that ever lived, with his strangely deformed face, soft, with the little religious images of lead or silver attached to it, all his cunning and his power is brought out most vividly and lifelike.

It was Louis XI who established unity of weights, measures and money throughout France, or always strove to do so. It was for him that one of his bishops invented the dreadful cage which is suspended in the air. And it was typical of Louis XI that he took that same inventive bishop, when he became displeased with him, and hung him up in one of his own cages.

With great accuracy and skill the striking character of Charles the Bold, Duke of Burgundy, who the French call "Charles the Foolhardy," is drawn. This fighting noble of ancient days and his wife, Margaret, sister of the English King Edward IV, live again on the screen.

His daughter, Princess Mary heroine of "Yolanda," portrayed so charmingly and vividly by Marion Davies, another character brought back to life from the bygone days of the fifteenth century.

It was Princess Mary who married Prince Maximilian of Austria, a small kingdom of Austria, who afterward became Emperor Maximilian I, and was grandfather of the great Emperor Charles V.

These figures live again on the screen in exact reproductions of the houses and sites they inhabited. In all history there are few characters more interesting than those of the fifteenth century, when Louis XI fought his long battle with Charles the Bold, Duke of Burgundy, the battle that established kings in place of a coalition of nobles as the ruling power in France.

This is the final day for "Yolanda," and it is well worth seeing.

An Eye-ful of Fashion at the Opera

By HEDDA HOYT

(Fashion Editor of the United Press.) New York, Nov. 25.—When the Metropolitan Opera House opened its Winter season this month, anyone looking for evening fashions as they will be worn by the "Four Hundred" this season—got an eye-ful!

Crowding the rear aisles stood the throng who probably know more about real music than they do about clothes and fashionable dress. Passing through them came the marvelously gowned women mingling their various perfumes with the more plebeian scents.

One always looks for the most prevalent colors worn at the opening night of the opera, for these colors are the ones which will lead during the winter season. This year more white was worn than in front. Real low-cut gowns of glittering mass of white jeweled gowns. Most of these frocks were very simple as to line, but were handsomely headed in pink and bright red brooks. Gold is still rather high rounding affair and only occasionally one sees a gown with the neckline cut lower in back than in front. Real low-cut gowns of other years are not to be seen. Perhaps this is because the higher neckline is more youthful.

Next in importance to the all-white gown are the green frocks, which were worn both by young girls and by matrons with silvery hair. The pink evening frock about which we have long been hearing was not in evidence. This seemed unusual as the opera has become famous the last two seasons for its pink and bright red brooks. Gold is a popular color this year, but in mentioning gold one should say that the gold cloth gown is not as popular as the gold lace one.

A few women wore gloves. These were long, white kid, of course. Younger women, however, have given up wearing gloves at evening entirely.

Head Dresses. In mentioning headresses we won't speak of the "glittering tiaras" which the ultra fashionables wear from season to season. Columns have been written of these costly jewels. But this season there are many new ornaments for the hair which are lovely though not costly. Firstly, there are those flat bandeaus of brilliants which come to a peak in the centre front and are worn flat on the forehead. They are more effective if the forehead is bare as they form a perfect frame for the face and are bound to be flattering to youth.

The brilliants extend just across the forehead and a band of narrow silver ribbon extends around the head hidden by the hair. Another youthful headress, if it may be called that, is the narrow ribbon velvet band with the huge silk rose attached to one side. This is particularly becoming to the bobbed head.

Evening Hats. Skirts are longer for evening than for daytime, being about ten inches from the floor. Silhouettes remain straight and slender and waists, if there be waists, are low.

Silver footgear leads above all others. One wishing to vary this, however, will find the new velvet or satin slipper in bright color good. Pump shapes lead with the single straps following in popularity.

Metal brocade capes are among the season's smartest wraps. They may be colored and bordered about the hem in fur, ostrich or marabou. Green and gold brocade mixtures are lovely.

Fans are the one feature of which the Horse-Shoe-Circle never ceases to tire. This season they may either match the frock or be of an entirely contrasting color. One charming woman carried a huge white ostrich fan with her white beaded frock whereas others in white used more colorful fans. There is a variety of shades of gold, rose, orchid and Nile green.

A New Note. A new note is the wearing of the corsage upon the left shoulder. Many women wore sprays of orchids on the shoulder arranging their Spanish shawls or wraps so that they fell off the shoulder. The orchid is literally worn on the shoulder and not just below it. It is fastened to the shoulder seam. Sometimes the imitation rose or cluster of silk carnations was worn in the same manner, although these were not nearly so effective as the corsage of orchid.

Spanish shawls were the dominate wraps despite the somewhat chilly evening. Black and white shawls embroidered in vivid colors were plentiful and the all white shawl worn over the white gown was well represented. Solid colored shawls in brilliant shades such as red, blue, and orange offer a suggestion to one who is tired of the colorfully embroidered shawl. Real silk shawls dye very easily and a shawl of solid red is really very lovely under the evening lights. Many younger girls are wearing them.

PATROLMAN SAVES BLIND MAN FROM DEATH IN WATER. New York, Nov. 25.—Policeman Victor Lax of Brooklyn, was on duty at Fulton and Furman Streets shortly before noon yesterday when three excited men accosted him and said a blind man had fallen from the pier at Fulton street. Lax ran to the pier and saw a man twenty-five feet away struggling to keep afloat.

Lax hastily took off his overcoat, hat, belt and revolver, but still wearing his heavy overcoat jumped into the water. He swam to the man, grasped him by the coat collar and began a struggle to get back to the pier. Loaded down as he was with his own clothes and the weight of the victim, Lax had to exert himself to the utmost.

Meanwhile one of the men who had informed him of the man in the water had obtained a rope. He threw it to the struggling patrolman. Lax grasped it, but as the man on the pier started to pull the man slipped from his rescuer's grasp and sank. Lax let go of the rope, dived after the other man and once more got a firm hold on him.

Meanwhile a third man obtained a ladder and called several rescuers from an adjoining pier to help him. The men lowered one end of the ladder into the water and with the aid of the others held the other end while Lax with the man he was rescuing on his arm slowly made his way to safety. As he neared the floor of the pier Lax passed his burden to the others and was himself aided up the last few rungs of the ladder.

ROBT. B. MANTELL AT PALACE THEATRE

Noted Actor Has Leading Role in "Under the Red Robe."

Stanley Weyman's famous historical romance of France in the time of Louis XIII and Cardinal Richelieu, "Under the Red Robe," is given a most vivid and realistic picturization in Cosmopolitan's feature film which was shown in the North End for the first time last night at the Palace theatre. It is one of the most lavish and picturesque of recent photoplays. Its settings are massive and gorgeous and the costumes, jewels, and ornaments, which glow with the richness of the Louis XIII room in Fontainebleau was built according to Rubens' paintings of that room. The monumental staircase in Cardinal Richelieu's palace, is copied from one of Jerome's paintings, "His Gray Eminence."

The cast too is very remarkable. It not only boasts notable screen actors but others who are just as notable on the stage. Heading them are Robert B. Mantell, noted actor in Shakespearean and other classic roles on the stage, whose fame has been gained as a screen star in this picture, and Alma Rubens, who has been acting better than he did for this screen interpretation of Cardinal Richelieu. John Charles Thomas, grand opera baritone, who makes his debut in the films in this picture, and Alma Rubens, who has been acting better than he did for this screen interpretation of Cardinal Richelieu. John Charles Thomas proved himself a capable film player.

Others in the cast who give excellent performances are Gustav von Seyffertitz, as Cochelet's dumb servant; William H. Powell as the Duke of Orleans; Rose Coghlan, famous stage actress, as Marie de Medici; Otto Kruger, as Cochelet and Genevieve Hamper as Madame Chevreuse.

Are You an Active or a Passive Merchant?

An active merchant is one who vigorously seeks business. A passive merchant is one who is satisfied with that which accidentally drifts to him. An active merchant expects his sales volume to increase substantially each year. A passive merchant is satisfied to take what he gets. An active merchant is one who advertises regularly. He is full of the spirit of progress—he is ambitious—he is up-to-the-minute with his merchandising and selling ideas. Advertising must be continuous just as salesmanship must be continuous. If you employ a sales force, you keep them working all the year round. You do not hire them for a week or two and then fire them. If you expect advertising to work for you, it should be published regularly the year round. The advertiser who "makes a flash" for a week or two and then quits is as short-sighted as the man who employs salesmen for just two weeks out of fifty-two. If you desire to be an active merchant, phone for an advertising representative.

TELLS POLICE HE CLIMBED SPOUT IN BURGLAR FEAT

Case of Ritchie, Taken in Robbery Matter, Up in Police Court.

Preliminary hearing in the case of Lewin Ritchie and Charles Christiansen was taken up in the police court this morning. The former is charged with breaking and entering several business houses and stealing goods valued at approximately $600, while the latter is held on suspicion of receiving stolen goods, knowing them to be stolen.

Detective Biddiscombe told a confession he said was made by Ritchie in which he gave a description of how he entered Estey & Company's store in Dock street. How an entrance had been forced in this building, the detective said, had been a mystery to them. He said Ritchie told him he had climbed up a water spout and then lowered himself down through a skylight by means of a rope. He said he had also entered the establishment of Robertson, Foster & Smith, Ltd. through a skylight. The detective said, also acknowledged forcing an entrance into F. S. Thomas' store in Main street by climbing down a rocky slope from Rockland road to the roof of a shed and then forcing a chisel on a window in Dr. Frank Thomas' dental parlors. When he was asked by the witness if he was the one whom a policeman had fired two shots at in Prince Edward street during the night prior to his arrest, he acknowledged that he was.

Tells of Find.

Detective Biddiscombe told of being summoned to F. S. Thomas' store on Sunday, Nov. 16, and in company with Sergeant Detective Power, making a search of the premises and ascertaining what goods had been stolen. He told of going to 408 Main street to a house occupied by a man named Christiansen. He was with Sergeant Detective Power, Sergeant Rankine and Policeman Gibbs. Policeman Gibbs was stationed in the yard in the rear of the house. Sergeant Rankine was placed at the back stairs and he and Sergeant Detective Power entered the building. They went to the third story and on entering a room ascended Ritchie, who was standing in his shirt sleeves and smoking a new briar pipe. As soon as he saw them he hid it behind his back.

The witness said he took the pipe from him. He then told of searching the house. In a room, which Ritchie said was his, they found many articles, which were identified by Thomas A. Armour, manager for F. S. Thomas. These included shirts, ties, collars, socks, hats, stockings, sweaters and other articles. In a room which Charles Christiansen was said to occupy, they found more articles, which included a rifle, which Ritchie said to be his, and a valise filled with goods, some of which were identified as belonging to F. S. Thomas.

While they were searching Charles Christiansen arrived and both he and Ritchie were placed under arrest. They were taken to the North End police station, where Christiansen told of Ritchie: "This is a nice fix you got me in." The witness said he warned both that anything they would say would be taken down and used in evidence against them and that they were not obliged to say anything. He then told of questioning Ritchie in an effort to learn where the stolen goods had been secreted. He said it was then that he confessed to breaking and entering several establishments. He knew the names of some but not others, although he was able to tell where they were situated. At the conclusion of Detective Biddiscombe's evidence Ritchie was asked if he had any questions. He asked where the witness found out where the stuff was located. The witness said no particular person had given him the information. It was a case of putting two and two together.

Sergeant Detective Power then took the stand and corroborated the evidence of Detective Biddiscombe. T. A. Armour testified.

Thomas A. Armour, manager of F. S. Thomas' fur, hat, cap and men's furnishing stores, told of locking up on Saturday night, November 15. Prior to doing so he had made an inspection of the premises to make certain that all doors were securely locked. The following afternoon he went to the stores to look after the fires and found one of the upper doors open, the drawer in the cash register open and evidence of goods being disturbed. He found that the place had been broken into and that change in both the cash register in the fur and hat store and the one in the men's furnishing department had been opened and approximately $7 in change stolen. He also missed shirts, collars, sweaters, socks, and other articles. He estimated their value at $75. He telephoned for the police and was with them while they made a search of the premises. When shown goods in the police court this morning he identified them as belonging to Mr. Thomas. On all of the articles he had tags which he had personally marked.

From Another Store.

James T. Driscoll, an employe of Robertson, Foster & Smith, Ltd., was then called. He told of arriving at the store in the morning and finding that the premises had been broken into. The gun case was open and tags were lying on the floor. A repeating rifle, a Winchester, flash lights, hunting knives, pocket knives and razors were missing. Two windows in the basement were open. He identified a rifle and other goods as being similar to those missing from the store.

Sergeant Detective Power told of finding the goods presented in court, in the Christiansen house. The rifle was found under Christiansen's bed. At the conclusion of the evidence the two defendants were remanded for three clear days with an understanding that, if the detectives were ready to go on with the case the next day, they would do so. Magistrate Henderson said he would like the case completed at the next hearing.

WELCOME GIVEN TO JUDGE BYRNE

Opens First Circuit in Saint John—Tributes are Paid.

With Mr. Justice Byrne presiding over his first circuit since his recent elevation to the Supreme Court bench, the November sittings of the Circuit Court opened here this morning, and, after the cases had been entered on the docket, adjourned until Dec. 2 at 10 o'clock. There were no criminal cases and consequently there was no grand jury. Fourteen civil matters were entered for trial but nothing definite was done regarding the fixing of dates owing to the conflicting sittings of the third story and on entering a room ascended Ritchie, who was standing in his shirt sleeves and smoking a new briar pipe. As soon as he saw them he hid it behind his back.

The witness said he took the pipe from him. He then told of searching the house. In a room, which Ritchie said was his, they found many articles, which were identified by Thomas A. Armour, manager for F. S. Thomas. These included shirts, ties, collars, socks, hats, stockings, sweaters and other articles. He asked where the witness found out where the stuff was located. The witness said no particular person had given him the information. It was a case of putting two and two together.

His Honor's Reply.

Judge Byrne, in a few well-chosen words, thanked the speakers and those on whose behalf they spoke for the kind things they had said and the good wishes expressed. He made reference to high standard of excellence of the work of his predecessor, Hon. H. A. McKewen, and expressed the hope that a feeling of co-operation and goodwill would always exist between himself and the members of the bar. He also said that he gave him great pleasure to hold his first circuit in St. John, the commercial centre of the province, and assured the members of the bar here of his appreciation of their good wishes.

The opening of court was largely attended, many of the local barristers being present to greet the new appointee.
