FIGHT TO FINISH NOW
IN RAILWAY STRIKE

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS BLOWN SKY HIGH;
MEDIATORS GIVE UP

Struggle to be Renewed With Redoubled Vigor—
Seniority Question Causes Break—Canadian Disputes to be Considered Next Week.

New York, Aug. 26.—The rail strike in the United States has developed into a fight to the finish, after peace negotiations had been blown sky high yesterday.

Heads of the five railroad brotherhoods acting as mediators between executives and striking shompen in a final effort to effect separate settlement with individual roads after the Association of Railway Executives as a whole had rejected the running trades' first peace overtures, reported to the representatives of seventy-seven roads at the Yale Club that the shop crafts had turned down a proposition made to them yesterday by the carriers.

Negotiations there were sharply broken off and executives, strike leaders and brotherhood chiefs picked up their bags and began leaving town, prepared for a test of endurance.

Labor leaders then dispatched telegrams to all parts of the country, calling upon strikers to renew the struggle with redoubled vigor.

SENIORITY STUMBLING BLOCK.

The latest peace proposal centering, as was the case with all the others, on the question of seniority, briefly was that roads interested in individual settlements would pledge themselves to find employment for all strikers not convicted of acts of violence; would not curtail pension rights "or other privileges"; and would agree to submit to a commission of ten brotherhood leaders and executives all disputes which could not be settled by direct conference.

Canadian Conference.

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—(Canadian Press.)—A conference between members of four boards of conciliation which are endeavoring to adjust disputes between employees and railroads operating in Canada will take place next Wednesday in the senate chamber. The evidence which is being submitted in the four disputes is along similar lines, and it was suggested to Alexander Smith, chairman of the board which is investigating the dispute between Canadian railways and their shompen, that a conference between the four boards might prove useful. This was agreed on. The other three boards, in addition to the presiding over by Mr. Smith, are engaged in investigating disputes between United States roads operating in Canada and their employees.

KU KLUX IS BIG ISSUE IN TEXAS
ELECTIONS TODAY

Democrats are Split on Question and Republicans Look for Victory in November
Ballot—Today's Vote is a Primary.

Washington, Aug. 26.—(By Canadian Press.)—The Ku Klux, night-riding organization which was a potent factor in the south in the years after the Civil War, and which has recently been revived in many states, both north and south, has become the great political issue in the state of Texas.

The Democratic organization of Texas is split wide open as to the result of this issue, which is a factor in the primary election in which the people of the state will today select candidates for the congressional election. The Republicans, who usually make little showing in Texas, are highly encouraged by the split among the Democrats and profess to think they see some chance to win at the November election.

Today's election in Texas is what is known as a "run-off" primary. Two primary elections are held. The two aspirants for the nomination of each party receiving the highest number of votes in the first primary are placed on the ballots for the second primary and the voters of their party in this second election choose between them. This second nomination contest is the "run-off" primary.

The big fight is over the Democratic nomination for the top. The two men who were at the head of the list in the election primary held some time ago were "Farmer Jim" Ferguson, former governor, and Earle B. Mayfield, Mayfield is now a member of the state railroad commission and has the complete and unqualified endorsement of the Klan. Ferguson has come out for beer and light wine and is against the Ku Klux Klan or, as they say, anti-Klan.

Ferguson ran second in the first primary and according to the prevailing political gossip is likely to be beaten by Mayfield. The Klan is strong in Texas and includes many prominent men in its membership.

Expecting Mayfield to win, the opponents of the Klan are casting about for some way to beat him at the polls. They are to get the aged Senator Culberson, who was beaten in the first primary and did not even get a chance in the "run-off" primary, to run as an independent Democrat. They are promising him the anti-Klan vote.

John H. Kirby of Houston is planning to run as an independent candidate. It is entirely unlikely, however, that Kirby can muster much of a vote. Should Culberson run as an independent, he would have a strong following, but he would be handicapped by the fact he is physically unable to make a campaign.

The Republicans have nominated E. P. Wilnot, a banker of Austin, for senator and have put an anti-Klan plank in their platform. The party is unable to hold a primary in Texas, as the law requires a certain percentage of the vote in the preceding election to have been registered by the adherents of the party as a requisite to the holding of a primary by that party. Texas' overwhelmingly Democratic and in the last election there were not enough Republicans voting to fulfill the legal requirements for a "recognized" party in the primary elections.

If Mayfield wins the Democratic nomination for the senate, it will be difficult to defeat him at the polls despite the split in the party. The reason for this is that Texas Democrats are loath to vote outside of party lines.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "I attended a vaudeville entertainment in a city theatre one night this week. The next night I attended one in another theatre. From each stage one or two alleged jokes were tossed out which marred the whole performance, because they bordered too close on the indecent. The jokes and the few who laughed at them ought to be sent to a fumigation plant. A young lady near me who was with a young man, lowered her head in embarrassment when one of these jokes came across. There are still young ladies of that sort, Hiram."

U. S. TOURISTS
SPEND $75,000,000

New York, Aug. 26.—(By Canadian Press.)—The Tribune believes that Canada, in opening wide the doors to the United States automobilists, has done something profitable as well as neighborly. After summarizing the changes in the regulations governing visiting motorists, the paper declared:

"All this is neighborly and makes for better acquaintance and improved relations. Likewise it makes for thrift, as far as Canada is concerned. A report issued by the dominion government's department of parks estimates that in 1921 American tourists spent $75,000,000 in Canada. It is also estimated that 100,000 American automobiles entered Canada last year. Probably automobiles hailing from every state in the union crossed the northern border in 1921. Canadians compute that this means upward of half a million American automobile tourists. The figures may or may not be accurate, but the fact remains that American automobile travel is an important item in the dominion's sources of revenue.

DOMINION TRADE
CONGRESS AGAINST
LOAN TO RUSSIANS

President Tom Moore Wins
Stiff Fight Against Radicals—
Resolution Passed
Against Cut in Wages of Nova Scotia Miners—Other Business.

Montreal, Aug. 26.—The Dominion Trades and Labor Congress today refused to back an appeal to the Dominion government to make a loan of a paltry $15,000,000 to the Soviet government of Russia.

President Tom Moore, in his fight against the loan to Russia, argued that when unemployment and destitution had been relieved in Canada; when the Russian government took its soldiers away from the workers' throats, then the Canadian government might consider making a loan.

Congress pledged its aid to the United States railway shompen now on strike and recommended to the delegates to send financial aid to the strikers to help them continue their fight against the railways.

The famous resolution which suggested that congress prevail upon both the federal and provincial governments to relinquish office, change the present constitutional system of parliamentary representation and copy the Soviet plan with a brief fate. A unanimous non-concurrence vote was registered, the sponsors of the resolution being without representation on the floor.

For the first time since the opening of the convention the more radical of the delegates appeared to have their say. First they succeeded in overthrowing a recommendation of the resolutions committee which asked that a resolution to permit labor free access to the books, records, and accounts of employers by their employees when questions of pay reductions arose, be thrown out.

The John MacDonell of Toronto, led the fight for the loan to Russia. He charged that the committee has been influenced in reaching its decision by the reports of yellow journalism on Russian conditions. Joseph Schubert of Montreal, pleaded for the support of the resolution on humanitarian grounds.

John MacDonell of Toronto, led the fight for the loan to Russia. He charged that the committee has been influenced in reaching its decision by the reports of yellow journalism on Russian conditions. Joseph Schubert of Montreal, pleaded for the support of the resolution on humanitarian grounds.

Both Schubert and MacDonell, however, appeared to have swung the convention which had previously cheered their pleas, when Tom Moore took the floor. Within a few minutes enthusiasm had chilled to zero and among the delegates were cheering Moore's attack against Russia and supporters of the loan.

"The $15,000,000 is only to be spent for grain and seed, as I see it," he declared. "I cannot see how that will start the wheels of industry turning and help relieve unemployment."

"Charity begins at home," remarked F. M. Draper.

The tide of opinion completely changed, and on a standing vote, the loan proposal was voted down by 147 to fifty-six.

PLAN COLLEGE
SERVANT PROBLEM

London, Aug. 26.—Britain hopes to solve the servant problem by establishing a college for the training of young women in domestic science and the useful arts. The government has set aside $250,000 for the purpose. The cost of training an unemployed girl so that she can take a situation in domestic service is $100.

BOOTLEGGERS AND THE EXCHANGE RATE

New York, Aug. 26.—(By Canadian Press.)—A novel reason for the favorable situation of Canadian exchange is suggested by the Herald. Commenting on the fact that the Canadian dollar is now virtually at par in the New York market, the Herald says:

"The most prominent cause for the rise in Canadian exchange is the amount of money sent over the border by American bootleggers."

GREATEST "RED" PLOT IN YEARS IS FRUSTRATED

Many Caught in a Midnight Raid in Michigan Hills

Leader is Captured - Pine Knots Lighted Conference in Lonely Valley - Eighteen Prisoners.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—In the arrest of William Z. Foster, head of the Trades Union Educational League, in Chicago, the seizure of seventeen members of the Communist Party of America, an underground revolutionary organization, and a nation-wide search for more than fifty other persons, including those Pastor Stokes of New York, federal and Michigan state authorities announced the breaking up of one of the greatest radical conspiracies of recent years.

The majority of those held were captured in a midnight raid in the hills of Berrien county, Michigan, twelve miles south of Benton Harbor, where the Reds had assembled for their annual convention in a lonely glade at the bottom of a heavily timbered valley. Pine knots furnished the light by which their business was transacted; there they heard the reports of personal representatives of Lenin and Trotsky of Russia; there, the federal officials avert, plans whereby the existing railroad strike was to be used as a means of spreading their programme of violence, were discussed.

For three days federal officials watched them, powerless to act without authority from Washington. Then came a tip to the radicals, and all but seventeen disappeared inside of an hour. The rest were surrounded by sixty deputy sheriffs, members of the Michigan state constabulary, and agents of the department of justice.

Foster, one of the escaping ones, was trailed to Chicago. He turned up at his office. He was arrested just after he had issued a statement denying his implication in the convention. He was taken to the detective bureau, thence to the Fifteenth street station, while warrants and extradition papers were awaited.

Mrs. Stokes was one of the escaping ones, federal officials say. She is particularly wanted; her home in New York city is being watched, it is said here, as well as the homes of her numerous acquaintances. The Communist Party of America was organized in 1919. During its early struggles, schism developed in its ranks, and later the Communist Labor Party was organized from the disaffected element. The remaining element was the ultra-radical group—those who openly avowed they believed that violence was the only method by which they would hope to overthrow the government of the United States. At first they were an open organization. Then, on New Year's Day, 1920, agents, under the direction of States Attorney Hoyne, swooped down on their quarters in a series of raids which netted virtually all their leaders. A few escaped. Many were convicted.

Worked Under Cover. Since that time the party has been working at all times under cover. Now and then pamphlets would appear from some mysterious source. In each case they were revolutionary in tone. "Hang the capitalists and seize the government" was their motto. Last year a convention was held in the hills of Michigan. The federal authorities appeared, but two days too late. This year the story is different. Last Thursday morning strangers began dropping from trains at St. Joseph and Benton Harbor, Mich. All later turned up at the Forest House, a resort conducted by Karl Wulfskel and his wife, an eighth of a mile from the village of Bridgman. By Saturday morning there were sixty of them, and on Sunday morning agents Spolanski and Edward Shanahan of the department of justice left Chicago on a mysterious mission. All Saturday night these two men lay in a drizzling rain on a hill top a mile from the Forest House watching the groups assemble and confer and disappear again. The rain did not bother these revolutionists. They built a bonfire and gathered around it, discussing their plans. "The first man I saw and identified was Foster," Spolanski said tonight. "The second was Boris Reinstein, personal representative of the Communist Internationale of Russia, sent here to aid Foster in his campaign of 'hooring from within.'" the Michigan state constabulary. Through the latter, Sheriff George Bridgman of Berrien county was notified. Some time Sunday the radicals became equipped. They began to leave. By midnight Monday only seventeen were left. Foster and Mrs. Stokes were among the absentees. Just before dawn on Tuesday, Sheriff Bridgman and the federal agents swooped down and the entire seventeen were rounded up. Chief among them was C. E. Buthening, once a candidate for mayor of Cleveland, one of the most widely known radicals in the nation. Arrested a number of times, he is still under indictment in Chicago for his activities with the party here in 1920. He is now the national executive secretary of the Workers' Party of America, a radical organization, and is the head of its activities in this country.

Equipment Seized. Following the raid the federal agents discovered a mound of fresh earth and below it two barrels. One contained five typewriters and a mimeograph machine. The other contained seventy-three bulky parchment envelopes, containing lists of membership of the Communist Party; opposite the name of each member were calligraphic markings to denote their standing in revolutionary work. Plans were found written by secretaries of Lenin and Trotsky in Russia, plans whereby the government of the United States might be supplanted by a government of Soviets. There were scores of pamphlets, some in English, some in Russian, all advocating the most revolutionary tactics. The story of how the army and navy and police system was to be overcome in the final battle between "the proletariat and the capitalist" was retold.

Warrants for Foster, who as the head of the Gary steel strike and later as the organizer of the Trades Union Educational League has achieved more actual publicity than any radical, were sworn out by the federal officers. When he turned up at his office he was immediately arrested. Foster declared his intention of employing the best of counsel to light not only extradition but the charges. "This whole thing is a frame-up," he declared. "They can't prove that I have ever advocated any revolutionary tactics in my life. I have not had anything to do with advocacy of revolutionary tactics, and they know it. This is a scheme to block the holding of our national convention in Chicago on August 26, that's all."

Foster was held incommunicado at a Fifteenth street station awaiting extradition papers from Michigan. The search for Mrs. Stokes and for others in the convention was well under way. It was rumored that six persons already had been arrested in Chicago, and that two more arrests were to be made later. These rumors could not be confirmed.

Three Chinese were brought to the city yesterday from Boston, and will start for Vancouver tonight, to be deported to China. Two immigration officers arrived last night from Montreal to take the trio in charge. The party includes a woman, her son and an adopted daughter.

SUPPRESS ILLICIT LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Efforts of Mounted Police Doing Away With Moonshine from Canadian Border Towns.

Windsor, Aug. 26.—That illicit stills have been practically eliminated from Canadian border municipalities as a result of the warfare waged against "moonshiners" by the Mounted Police, in charge of Sgt. A. Birtwistle, was asserted by Barrister William Egan, Federal Prosecutor here.

Heavy fines, in addition to jail terms in some cases, have had much to do with the success of the "Mounties," Mr. Egan said, in dealing with illicit distillers. How successful Mounted Police have been in their drive to wipe out "moonshiners" is shown by the number of stills that have been found abandoned at untenanted farms and on dump-heaps in the neighborhood of the urban districts. Co-operation by the city police was another factor, Mr. Egan says, in the results obtained during last winter, when as many as twenty stills, some of them of large capacity, were seized and broken up.

"Moonshiners" were trailed to their lairs by the simple practice of investigating intoxicated persons brought into border police courts. A majority of the prisoners, while still feeling the ill-effects of unaged liquor, readily gave Sgt. Birtwistle and other officers information that seldom failed to bring about the arrest of an illicit distiller, it is said.

COL. HAM'S JUBILEE.

Lt.-Col. George H. Ham, known in every part of Canada between Victoria and Charlottetown, was 75 years old yesterday. The author of "Reminiscences of a Raconteur" was in his office at the C. P. R. Windsor station and was congratulated by scores of old friends, who have always found Col. Ham the same genial, humorous, cheery good fellow. He was born at Trenton, Ont., in 1847, and is one of the oldest newspapermen in the Dominion. He "covered" the North-West Rebellion for the Toronto Mail, among other ventures. In 1891 he became advertising manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway and has, as Morgan's "Canadian Men and Women of the Time" puts it, "traveled extensively and is widely known."

Col. Ham last Saturday mailed a long article to the Manitoba Free Press, with a description of conditions in that city in 1875, when he worked there as a journalist. He is also busy writing further memoirs. His "Reminiscences of

The Fastest Selling Complete Car

The Chevrolet is the most satisfactory low priced, fully equipped, most economically operated automobile in the world today.

This year's motor car buyers have recognized this fact to such an extent that 1922 has seen Chevrolet become the largest producer of high-grade automobiles in the world.

The Chevrolet has many improved features. It has a new front axle assembly, a new rear axle assembly including spiral ring and pinion gears.

The clutch has been improved. In addition to its service brake, a hand-lever emergency brake has been provided. The front and rear springs have been re-designed to give easier riding.

With such improvements the Chevrolet is indeed superior—superior in first price because no car of similar equipment and quality can be bought for less—superior in maintenance cost because it has the lowest cost of operation of any car built.

KEEP THE RECORD CLEAR

Another week has passed without any action by the city council looking toward the completion of the contract for hydro.

In view of an artful campaign that is being carried on by the New Brunswick Power Company to confuse the public mind, it is well to set the facts once more before the people.

When the power company learned that its efforts to convince the people that there was no power at Musquash had failed, it adopted a new plan of campaign.

Nothing daunted, the power company came up smiling with an offer to take the Musquash current (which it has at last discovered is there) and relieve the coal shortage.

One result of this agitation is that some people favor making the company an offer for its plant. That, however, would not change the situation.

What has transpired since last April has strengthened the case for prompt civic action. Mr. Krebs has not only declared, as one who was a district engineer for Ontario hydro for over five years, that the Musquash proposition is all right, but that a civic distribution system can be installed for $600,000 as the outside figure.

Some names to be added for good measure will complete the recall petition. All talk about difficulty in getting signatures is merely indulged in to deceive the people.

The Nova Scotia miners' strike will no doubt end next week. The representatives of miners and operators have come to terms and there is every reason to believe the men will endorse the agreement.

THE MAYOR IS STALLING.

Mayor McLellan has been very insistent in declaring that there has been no delay in regard to hydro since he became mayor. How does he reconcile that assertion with his reply to the New Brunswick Electric Commission, which is printed in the Times today?

It is nearly two years since the Musquash development was begun. The city knew then that hydro-electric power would be available in due time at a cheap rate.

The provincial government, in response to a general demand, adopted a policy of hydro-electric development. It has the power to sell and to sell now.

For the sons of Canada, particularly those who formed a part of the great British army during the recent war, almost every day is an anniversary.

There are many today who will look back over the four years and marvel that they are here. They will also have a kindly thought for some staunch friend or comrade who started out at a "zero hour" with them, but fell in making the hour.

The petition for the recall of the mayor will be presented next week, when it is confidently expected a strong candidate for the mayoralty will also be in the field.

Congratulations to Mr. C. B. Foster, good railway man and son of New Brunswick, promoted to be passenger traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific.

Captain L. Butts, Chief Officer H. Cole and four others of the crew of the steamer Melmore Head, have been presented with a piece of plate, medals and diplomas by the King of Norway.

Lesson No. 88 POINTS TO REMEMBER.

REMEMBER THAT: Vacuum tubes are very sensitive electrical devices and should be screened from sources of electrical disturbances in order to obtain quiet operation.

Acid flux or prepared pastes should not be used in soldering connections for tuners, audio detectors, or amplifiers in receiving circuits.

Iron wire is not suitable for an efficient aerial. Solid or stranded hard drawn copper wire or phosphor bronze should be used.

A galena crystal is as sensitive a detector of radio signals as an audion tube.

A regenerative receiving set using one vacuum tube is, in general, the equivalent of a loose coupled set using a detector and one step amplifier.

Electricity takes the shortest path to a good ground. Be certain that adequate lightning protection is provided.

Old "B" batteries may be responsible for your present poor signals and frying static noises.

Wooden poles or masts are more desirable than metal poles for aerial supports as the metal pole absorbs a certain portion of energy.

Interference may be due to the design or improper adjustment of your receiving set instead of the design or adjustment of the interfering transmitting station.

RETURN

(Blanche Shoemaker Wagstaff in New York Herald) I have come back to the hills again From the city's toil and stress, I have forsaken the ways of pain To find my happiness.

I have come back to the hills again To God's great open blue, Where the winds sweep and the streams leap And the earth is good and true.

I have come back to the hills again To find my motherland, And to hear the bluebird's glad refrain Where the stately pine trees stand.

I have come back to the hills again To the peaks that pierce the sky, To the white birch singing in the rain On snowy summits high.

I have come back to the hills again, To find my peace and rest, For the world's ways are not my ways, And the love of the hills is best!

MISS LINDSAY'S FATE.

(Montreal Gazette.) Until a late hour last night no further news had been received by Robert Lindsay, 455 Sherbrooke street west, concerning the fate of his daughter, Marguerite Lindsay, who has been reported missing since August 4 from the Grenfell mission station on the Labrador coast.

Mr. Lindsay stated last night that he was expecting a telegram hourly giving more news of the disappearance of his daughter, concerning which but meagre details have been received.

Miss Lindsay was very well known in Montreal and in Vancouver, and always took much interest in social service activities here and in England, where she was engaged in welfare work for the soldiers during the war.

Last June Miss Lindsay volunteered to go as a worker to the farthest north outpost of the International Grenfell Association, at Cartwright on the Labrador coast.

Her family received letters telling of her work at the mission, but a few days ago a letter was received from Rev. Dr. Gordon of the mission saying that she had left the station to go swimming on August 4 and did not return. It was feared that she had been drowned, stated the letter.

WORK OF AN ACTIVE BOARD OF HEALTH

Much Less Infectious Disease—Campaign for Pure Milk and Good Meat.

(Halifax Chronicle)

Dr. C. L. Churchill, chairman of the health board was the speaker at the Gyo Club's luncheon, held in the Navy League Building yesterday.

The health of the city was never better, Dr. Churchill declared, and the board contributed it in a great measure to their house to house inspection. For this year there were twenty-five infectious cases as compared to 150 in 1920. Stables where manure was kept and which were breeding ground for flies, were very closely inspected and early removal of the manure was insisted upon. Eradication of the breeding grounds were thus effected. The board was condemning quantities of meat, some of which were found in cold storage. The quantities coming under their ban this year have been one ton of mutton, four tons of beef, three tons of pork, two tons of fowl, two tons of veal, and one ton of lamb, which were condemned.

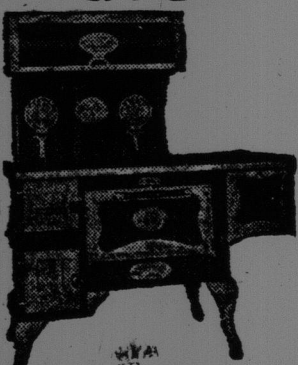

Dealing with the milk question Dr.

Churchill said "if you can get milk direct from the dairy within three hours after milking there would be very little cause to worry, but it is the handling and time that it is kept around the farm which makes the necessity for pasteurization. The time will and must come when all milk will be pasteurized as that process kills all disease creating organisms. The health board's efforts do not remove all disease creating conditions, but they do materially help in preventing development of germs. There is a large quantity of the milk coming to the city from tuberculous cows. In one case of thirty-two selected cows, with every outward appearance of perfect health, twenty-eight of them were found to be tubercular when butchered."

The health board was prosecuting many milk dealers who were not adhering to new milk regulations, and when all recalcitrants were brought into line the board of health will be thanked for their efforts to save the lives of children and prevent the growth and development of tuberculosis, was Dr. Churchill's concluding opinion.

GERMAN WOMAN DEMANDS FARM RENTAL IN BUTTER

Berlin, Aug. 26—A novel method of evading the uncertainties caused by the fluctuations of the mark has been adopted by a woman farmer in the small East Frisian town of Marienkirche. She leased thirty-five acres of pasture to another farmer for a yearly rental of 6,000 pounds of butter.

The income of this land before the war was about 4,000 or 5,000 marks a year, whereas the 6,000 pounds of butter correspond to present to about 400,000 marks.

A Glimpse at New Fall Styles

A very authoritative glimpse, too, is now ready for you in our costume department.

Top coats are decidedly interesting and are showing in big plaid backed tailored models fashioned with raglan sleeves, full backs, belts and roomy pockets. Velour coats with fur collars and cuffs are also featured and are as comfortable as they are dressy and good looking. Brown and fawn shades are prominent.

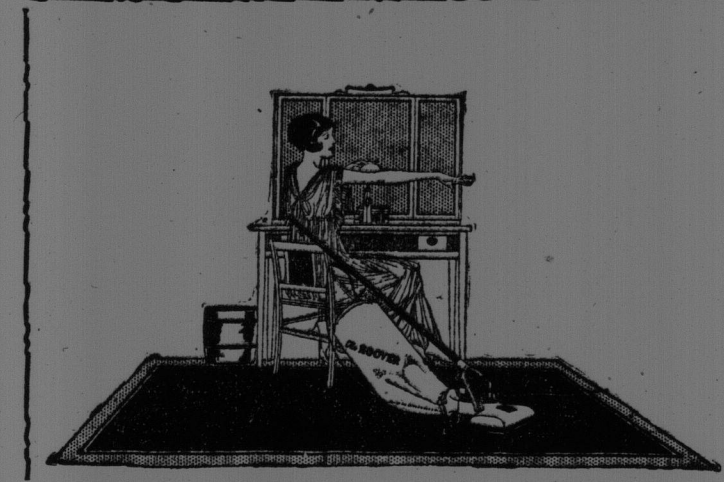

Separate skirts are in modest plaids made with pleats and long fringed girdles; or in striking stripes with contrasting color revealed between pleats.

Suits are showing in heavier weight homespuns or in plain colors. Some are strictly tailored in style; others are trimmed with touches of fur and embroidery. We would like to have you look them over.

Paris, Aug. 26—An agent of the German "consul" organization was arrested last night by the government secret service in the belief he is the man sent here to assassinate Premier Poincaré. The prisoner answers the description of a noted radical named Guenther, who is suspected of being implicated in the assassination a year ago of Matthias Erzberger.

LONDON WOMEN TAKE UP EXOTIC PETS

London, Aug. 26—The place long held by the dog as family pet and street companion threatens to be usurped by the monkey and other exotic creatures. A well known actress was seen on the street recently with a bald headed simian cuddled in her arms. Other women are carrying mannosets, mongooses, foxes, and even parrots. People are getting accustomed to the woman with a young white fox on a string, another with three cats and the chimpanzee that rides in a motor car.

But the most startling innovation was observed at a lawn party where a guest carried what appeared to be a sunshade with a highly decorative handle. The "handle" was a beautiful marked snake, perfectly motionless and carlessly twined over its fair owner's arm and around her sunshade.

PHILIP KERR URGES BROAD PATRIOTISM

Says Cause of War Lies in Each State Thinking of Itself Alone—Lloyd George's Adviser Deplores Narrow Nationalism.

Holding to his position that the "mechanical cause" of war is the division of the world into numerous States recognizing no law or force as above themselves, Philip Kerr, long one of Lloyd George's confidential advisers, described to the Institute of Politics in his lecture in Williamstown last week that he believes is the "psychological root" of war. This root, he maintained, is a too limited patriotism.

The speaker did not wish to be understood as belittling national patriotism or national feeling. "I hope I am a good patriot myself," he said. "I trust you are good patriots, too. My only quarrel," he explained, "is that this patriotic feeling stops short at the national frontier, so that the loyalty and benevolence citizens feel for such of their fellow human beings as live within a certain line on the map, turns to jealousy, suspicion or fear of other peoples who live on the other side of the geographical line."

"In my first lecture," said Mr. Kerr, "I ventured the opinion that so long as humanity, or its more advanced members, acquiesced in its division into States each owing loyalty to itself alone, and recognizing no law as above themselves, war would continue in the future, as in the past, to be the greatest curse of man. I wish in this lecture to carry the discussion a stage further and consider what changes in public sentiment are necessary before we can think of abolishing war from the earth."

"First Written Constitution."

"Nowhere has the idea which lies at the bottom of the process whereby war is abolished and peace established within a single community been more clearly set forth than in the constitution voluntarily framed by the Pilgrim Fathers in 1620 for the conduct of their new settlement at Plymouth. This document, sometimes called 'the first written constitution' contains no machinery. It simply sets forth the fundamental underlying idea which the Pilgrim Fathers, starting society in a new land, recognized as the necessary basis of their life, namely, that they would enact and obey laws framed 'for the general good of the colony.'

"From this basis, however, has been gradually built up the machinery of a modern democratic State, whereby without fighting or war, not only can every conceivable conflict be settled according to ideas of justice and reason embodied in law, but every question of policy affecting the progress or well-being of the community as a whole can be settled after debate and discussion, by constitutional means, by the votes of the citizens, from the standpoint of what they consider to be the 'general good' of the commonwealth.

"On every atom of the earth's surface inhabited by man disputes between individuals are settled and war between individuals is prevented on this same basis. The only difference is that the machinery for making and enforcing the laws and determining what is the general good is not as yet always controlled by the people at large, but by hereditary autocrats, oligarchies, or other minorities. Why is it that in contrast to this condition of affairs within the States, between States war still stalks brazenly?

"Primarily, of course, according to the thesis of my last lecture, it is because humanity is divided into about fifty different communities organized as states, with no common machinery for adjusting their disputes. If that, however, were all that were missing, the remedy would be obvious and easy. But there is something else missing, is it not that the basis as set forth in the Puritan constitution is not there? There is no sense at all of 'the general good' of humanity, and of the laws, ordinances, acts, constitutions, etc., for the purpose of protecting and promoting the welfare of the community as a whole.

"As a matter of fact, if you talk to any ordinary man or woman of good will about humanity, he will express interest in it and a desire that it should be happy. I doubt if there is anybody who does not cherish the hope and belief that humanity as a whole will progress, as an abstract proposition, or who would not view with distaste or horror the idea that any section of it should be condemned to stagnation or, still more, to extermination.

State Thinks of Itself Alone.

"But that sentiment only extends to the sociological or humanitarian field. When you turn to politics, it disappears. Politically, every state thinks primarily of itself and of nobody else. Its citizens acknowledge their liability to be taxed for the sake of one another, and their duty to die, if called upon, in defence of one another. They not only admit no such duty as regards the rest of humanity, but they regard it as right and natural that they should go to war with it, if the state of which they are members constitutionally decides that they should do so, whether they think the cause is just or unjust.

"It is this exclusive nationalist patriotism which causes the inhabitants of every state to be content with limiting their patriotism to their own fellow-citizens, and which prevents the growth of an effective sentiment that the general good of humanity must have precedence over the self-interest of any fraction of humanity.

"I do not want to be misunderstood into belittling national patriotism or national feeling. The love for one another expressed in the loyalty which citizens of the same country feel for one another, and the manner in which they are willing to subordinate their individual interests to the general good, whether in framing legislation or in sacrifice for self-defence, is entirely good. Patriotism is a higher manifestation than racialism. I hope I am a good patriot myself. I trust you are good patriots, too. My own quarrel is that this patriotic feeling stops short at the national frontier, so that the loyalty and benevolence citizens feel for such of their fellow human beings as live within a certain line on the map, turns to jealousy, suspicion, or fear of other peoples who live on the other side of that geographical line."

Unity of All Essential.

"Just consider how absurd that really is. Most people are really concerned to make things better. The natural friends and allies of the best citizens and the most progressive and sensible people in every community are people of the same type in other lands. The friends of civilization and progress ought to stand to-sign states is the mechanical cause of war.

"The hell through which the world has passed is the inevitable outcome of our having thought only of ourselves. Is it to take another world war to awaken us to the necessity of loving our neighbors as ourselves?"

CANADIAN GOODS BOUGHT IN CHINA IN BIG QUANTITY

That Country Becoming a Great Outlet for Dominion's Manufactures—Republic is Forging Ahead.

Ottawa, Aug. 25.—"The outlook in China is now better than at any time since the republic was first formed in 1911," said Dr. J. W. Ross, Canadian trade commissioner in Shanghai, to the Canadian Press. He believes China has great development immediately before her and that railroads will play a vital part in it. He says there are immense possibilities for Canadian trade with China, chiefly in manufactured products. Dr. Ross spent fifteen years in China and has seen great changes in the time he has spent there. His last visit to Canada was three years ago. On his present visit he made the trip from Shanghai to Ottawa in three weeks and he says the Dominion has wonderful steamship service across the Pacific.

"The history of the republic," said Dr. Ross, speaking of political conditions in China, "has been a long series of struggles between the 'Tuchuns,' or military governors, and now out of these has come a strong man, Wu Pei Fu, who, after overcoming the military governor of Manchuria, has turned his attention to Sun Yat Sen. The latest despatches indicate that Sun Yat Sen has thrown in his fate with the north, which will unify the country and cannot fail to be a benefit. Wu Pei Fu has made Li Yuen Hung president, and, with the power of China centralized in the strongest man, Wu Pei Fu, Li Yuen Hung and Chang Chung-Ming, the outlook is better than at any time since the republic was formed in 1911.

"For the past three or four years," Dr. Ross went on, "China has had practically no government that was powerful enough to function. But so industrious and peaceful are the Chinese that fundamentally there is very little difference in the trade and commerce of the country.

In fact, in spite of the world-wide depression the trade of China has been constantly increasing. China is rapidly becoming important industrially, her cotton spinning and weaving having increased greatly in the last ten years. In 1913 China imported nineteen million pieces of cotton goods and in 1921 only eleven million. The country also produces much wheat, and Shanghai has exported flour largely to South China, the Philippines, and even as far as Egypt. Indeed, China may not improbably become one of the most industrial countries in the world.

Financiers from other countries are considering the advisability of establishing manufacturing plants in China, and, considering the great advantages of cheap and efficient labor, if properly safeguarded, these projects may become paying propositions.

"Canada stands well in China and centres there is greater abundance than ever before. Canadian exports of lumber to China in 1921 were forty-one million board feet, a very great increase over any previous year. Many other lines of goods are in demand, notably paper, food products of various kinds, butter and manufactured goods of every description. Canada has the quickest and most efficient steamship service across the Pacific and there is no reason why eventually China should not be the greatest outlet for Canadian manufactured goods of any country in the world."

Public Health Nursing Service for Islands Off Penobscot Bay

American Red Cross Establishing Headquarters in Accordance With Bequest of The Late Jane A. Delano; Miss Bertha R. Steves Appointed For The Maine Service.

(Bangor Commercial)

The American Red Cross is this month establishing a public health nursing service on the island of Penobscot Bay section of the coast of Maine, to continue for a period of from three to five years, in accordance with a bequest of the late Jane A. Delano, who organized the Nursing Service of the Red Cross, directed by her and during the World War, and died after the Armistice while on duty in France.
 The dream of providing adequate public health nursing service in communities or localities where the need for health education and nursing services is paramount, in where obstacles to the maintenance of such service seem insurmountable, was dear to the heart of Miss Delano. She had learned of such needs through her own bitter struggles and privations as a pioneer in the field of public health nursing. In the hope of making her dream come true she stipulated in her will that the interest from a large fund be given to the American Red Cross for the purpose of public health nursing, to be known as "Delano Red Cross Nurses," as a memorial to her and her aspirations for carrying out her purpose have been carefully developed under the direction of the National Committee on Red Cross Nursing Service, and under the direction of a special committee appointed for the purpose. Now the appointments of Delano Red Cross Nurses have been made and one of Miss Delano's greatest ambitions is coming to realization.
 In beginning actual fulfillment of the terms of the will, the Red Cross is creating two Delano Nursing Services, one in Alaska, the other for the Maine coast islands, inhabited largely by descendants of a hardy New England stock. Impetuous, industrious, earning a strenuous livelihood from the sea, but for months in winter isolated from the mainland except for occasional mail boats and visits from the Maine Seacoast Mission, living a life unto themselves, denied the conveniences and services of those who live in the cities and towns of the mainland. Miss Bertha R. Steves has been appointed to the Maine island service by the American Red Cross.

Each of these services, and several others which may be created, will continue for a period of from three to five years, or until local interest is created and funds provided locally to carry on the work.
 The appointment of Miss Steves became active July 21, and she reported for duty that day at the headquarters of the American Red Cross, where administration of the service will rest. She will be established when winter closes communication with the mainland and the people of the island settle down for their months of isolation.
 Miss Steves, who is of course enrolled Red Cross nurse, has been appointed to the Eastern District of the American Red Cross, where administration of the service will rest. Steps are being taken to carry into effect a provision of the will of the late Jane A. Delano, director of the American Red Cross Department of Nursing, providing for the establishment of public health nursing in communities which otherwise would be forced to forego the services.
 In the near future three or four such communities will be selected and in them placed "Delano Red Cross Nurses," carefully chosen as possessing the qualities necessary to carry into full execution the humanitarian service envisioned by their great leader. The following statement in the Red Cross Courier, official journal of the American Red Cross and a subsequent article by Clara D. Noyes, director of nursing service is of interest in connection with the announcement of the establishment of the Maine service. Steps are being taken to carry into effect a provision of the will of the late Jane A. Delano, director of the American Red Cross Department of Nursing, providing for the establishment of public health nursing in communities which otherwise would be forced to forego the services.

No further distant than the islands of the mainland of the New England coast are scores of settlements, peopled by the oldest American stock, who are entirely cut off from any sort of nursing care except such as may be rendered by their own unskilled family, or by kindly but untrained neighbors, for months at a time as the rigors of the northern winters close in upon them.
 In the tidewater lowlands of the far south sickness is accepted by the poor whites, as well as by the colored population, an inevitable, a necessary evil, which it is almost fruitless to combat; and unskilled and untrained neighbors, for months at a time as the rigors of the northern winters close in upon them.

nurses will go, taking the gospel of health education, and waging war against dirt, ignorance and disease. They will be a labor of love inspired by the broad vision and the most profound sympathy and understanding of human nature. For the successful fruition of this enterprise a high degree of concentration, patience and devotion will be needed and a faith that looks not to the immediate future only, but to the safeguarding of generations yet unborn.
 Must Serve Three Years.
 Inasmuch as missionary work of this kind under such conditions must necessarily be of slow and deep-rooted growth, no service will be undertaken for a period of less than three, and possibly of less than five years. In no sense will the Delano Red Cross nurses be temporarily visiting nurses, making demonstrations for a given period and then withdrawing. Nevertheless it is part of the plan that after a reasonable length of time the qualities of initiative and self-help in the beneficiaries will have been so developed that local funds will be eventually secured for the perpetuation of the service.

 (New York Times.)
 In a big city like New York it is not strange that there should be odd ways of making a living. Some of these "jacks" of queer trades, such as the sleep-jack, who works at dizzy heights from tall cupolas or towers of great skyscrapers, are familiar enough characters. But there are others who are not so well known.
 For example, there is the "wake 'em up" man, and it is "dollars to doughnuts" you have never heard of him. He is employed by a concern which makes tables played by a concern which makes tables taken as a reflection on this gallant band of faithful monitors who through the night keep the city from sleeping peacefully in our beds.
 The majority of these guardians of property perform their duties, as their employers well know, in a manner that reflects credit and honor upon themselves. If you think that because they are alone much of the time they are likely to steal a few hours' sleep you know little about the trade. As is often the case with a watchman, a few sleepless nights are not business being a watchman sometimes gets into the job by mistake.
 Watchmen, like other workers, must account for their time. At intervals during the night, usually every hour, they have to "ring up" and report that all is well. It is when they fail to ring up that the trouble begins. The "wake 'em up" man appears on the scene. Mr. So and So, watchman in a building near the North River, is not heard from at the appointed hour. This does not necessarily signify that he has fallen asleep at his post. Unknown to the outside world, he may be defending himself against attack from a band of neighboring ruffians, or he may have discovered a bursting water pipe and is busy at work. In such cases the "wake 'em up" man does not waste time in unnecessary delay, but departs post haste for the scene. If on his arrival he finds that something has gone amiss, he is able to render assistance. But he sometimes finds that nothing more serious has happened than that the watchman had fallen into a doze.
 In certain sections of Brooklyn, just before the first faint flush of dawn begins to lighten up the sky, a boy on a skis through deserted, silent streets. He pauses long enough at each electric light post to encounter to turn off the current before proceeding on his journey. The sight recalls to an older generation the all but forgotten days of the old gas lamps, when grimy figures appeared on the highways, after the night had spent itself, to extinguish the feeble gas flames.
 The boy and his "bile" have their prototypes in sections of Manhattan where brilliant clusters of white lights proclaim the merits of certain brands of tobacco, soap or merchandise. Some such transparencies as are on the rooftops of commercial buildings are illuminated until the theatre crowds and late amusement seekers have gone home to bed, when they are extinguished. Men familiarly known as snuffers visit these buildings, turning off the lights from the signs by pressing an electric switch. When they are "on the job" the snuffers walk briskly from place to place because time is precious and candle power must not be wasted.
 Since the coming of prohibition the city has lost a picturesque character known as the bagpiper. He was known to many belated homegoers who used to frequent the corner saloons. The bagpiper was not a musician, but he was easily mistaken for one by the untutored as he entered the swinging doors. He was a grimy figure of a man, and he usually made his rounds between four and five a. m., when gin mills were pretty well deserted.
 It was the coils of rubber hose and a bellows-like apparatus slung about his shoulders that caused him to resemble a bagpiper at least to those disciples of Bacchus who had been hanging over the mahogany bar the greater part of the night. A good deal of responsibility rested upon his shoulders, for he prevented the pipes leading from the beer kegs in the cellar for a wholesale and satisfactory flow of that beverage.

 In other words, he cleaned the pipes, made them sanitary, and if customers complained that the beer was not clear and unpalatable, he was blamed by the saloon proprietor. He knew his trade from a long experience, and after finishing the job to his own satisfaction he hastened away to another saloon, as that the job would be completed before the advent of early morning customers.

Work of repairing Manawagonish road is reported to be progressing favorably. The repairs are being made by the N. B. There is still a section this side of Spruce Lake to be completed.

NOVELTY SHOWER.
A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mrs. E. L. Hughes, 2 Cunard street, on Friday evening, when about thirty friends of Miss Bella J. Taylor gathered and tendered her a novelty shower in honor of a happy nuptial event which is to take place in the near future. She received many handsome gifts, including cut glass and silver and a beautiful carved statue. The evening was spent in games and music and refreshments were served. The party broke up about midnight.

THE LIFEBOAT DEERING.
The Bay View station at Digby has been dismantled and the lifeboat Deering brought to St. John, to be transferred to Wood Island station, Grand Manan, when the Wood Island boat will be brought to St. John. The Deering has been overhauled here and was given a trial spin yesterday in the harbor and Courtenay Bay, with F. Whipple of the marine department at the wheel and W. Dashwood of the Fairbanks Company as mechanic. She is a very handsome boat and was much admired while cruising about yesterday.

A BAD LEAK.
A bad leak was discovered this morning in the twenty-four inch water main on the Hickey road, and Commissioner Wigmore at once dispatched a crew of men to make necessary repairs. The commissioner said the men were engaged locating the break today and he did not think it would necessitate shutting off the water. In event of having to shut off the water in this main he said he would not do so before tomorrow.

The work of installing a new eight-inch main in Wentworth street has been completed, and also a section of twelve-inch main in Queen street from Wentworth to Carmarthen streets.

Fredericton Downed by Auburn in Afternoon and Play Errorless Game in Evening—Away on Long Tour.

Fredericton, N. B., Aug. 26—Friday, August 26th, was an eventful day for the Fredericton Baseball Club. They lost their first game since Friday, July 24th, having meanwhile played a string of sixteen games. They were beaten 8 to 2 by Auburn, Mass., in the afternoon. They played their first errorless last evening since Friday, Aug. 4th, when they beat Auburn, 5 to 1, in the second game.

Incidentally they have a new playing manager in the person of Bill Dean, third baseman. He was appointed last evening when Ben Smith resigned. Definite decision from the other clubs in New Brunswick to play the proposed series for the provincial professional championship was received yesterday. The Fredericton team started away last night on their longest trip of the season. They play two games in Moncton today, meet St. Peter's at St. John on Monday and Tuesday and play St. Stephen there on Wednesday.

A New Record.
Fredericton, N. B., Aug. 26—Private advices received are to the effect that Roy Volo, 208 1-4, the Fredericton pacer, broke the track record this week at North Sydney, when he won the free-for-all race, the best time being 2:18 1-4.

Big Run of Sockeye Salmon Destroyed, Says Report of Fisheries Minister.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 26.—The famous Fraser river, the greatest river in the world for years in its yield of sockeye salmon, whose waters only a decade ago were so crowded at spawning seasons of the year that a person could literally walk across on a solid mass of fish, is now fished out of sockeye, according to the report on fisheries issued recently by Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines and commissioner of fisheries. The big run of sockeye is destroyed, the report announces with sadness. If the salmon run is ever to be built up again it will only be after years, perhaps generations, of patient endeavor and the most rigid control.

The Skeena river, for decades second only to the Fraser in its salmon production, has practically reached the same condition, according to the report.

BALL GAME DEPENDS ON WEATHER MAN

If Weather Clears St. Peter's and Auburns will Play Tonight—Big Series Next Week.

Whether or not local fans will be able to enjoy a baseball game this evening depends on the weather man. W. J. McMahon, manager of St. Peter's grounds, announced this morning that if there is any sign of the weather clearing he would put a crew of men at work this afternoon getting the grounds in shape for a game between St. Peter's and Eddie Carr's Auburns, which will start at 8:30 sharp this evening.

There is a big treat in store for fans next week when St. Peter's will clash with the fast Fredericton team on Monday and Tuesday evenings. On Wednesday evening Fredericton and St. Stephen will meet on St. Peter's park, and on Thursday evening St. Peter's and St. Stephen will clash. The meeting of these teams should give local followers of the game a good idea as to the prospective provincial champions.

NEW WHITE WAY PLAN HEARTILY RECOMMENDED

Taking further action towards securing the alteration of the proposed route of the "White Way" for the exhibition, F. Appleby, representing the merchants and business men of the south end yesterday interviewed the committee of the Retail Merchants' Association which planned the "White Way," Horace A. Porter of the Exhibition Association and Commissioner Frink, and in each case Mr. Appleby was assured of hearty approval of the alteration. The petition to have the route changed so as to continue along Charlotte street to Britain and from Britain to Sydney instead of cutting diagonally across Queen Square, is to be presented at the meeting of the common council on Monday morning at 11 o'clock and merchants of Lower Cove will appear to support the request.

Messrs. Everett and Vaughan, the members of the Retail Merchants' Association committee which was arranging the details of the "White Way" route gave to Mr. Appleby a written statement that they heartily approved of the route.

Mr. Porter also gave a written statement endorsing the proposed change. Commissioner Frink, who was representing Commissioner Thornton in his absence, when interviewed by Mr. Appleby said that it was the first time any route had been suggested because it had been the one always followed previously. He was in favor of the change as to crepe poles in Queen Square would mean the moving of rods and he was opposed to that because of the amount of money spent in beautifying the square. He did not feel that he could take any action on his own initiative but recommended that the petition be presented to the council on Monday morning at 11 o'clock.

BIG ATTRACTIONS FOR EXHIBITION

Midway Shows Should be a Big Feature in Themselves—Change of the Route of the White Way.

Horace A. Porter returned to the city yesterday from Bangor, where he had gone to see the midway attractions, which are coming to St. John. Mr. Porter will direct the midway shows. These include a merry-go-round, Ferris wheel, aeroplane swing, whip, over-the-falls and a motorhome. Mr. Porter said that he was greatly pleased with the appearance of these shows and thinks that a good brand of entertainment will be given to the exhibition patrons.

In connection with the matter of the proposed change of the route of the White Way to the exhibition grounds, J. F. Appleby, representing the merchants of the south end, yesterday interviewed Horace A. Porter and Commissioner Frink. Both of them were in favor of the change and advised Mr. Appleby to lay the matter before the council meeting on Monday morning. It was said that repairs were necessary to the sections of Sydney and Britain streets included in this proposed route.

SOUTH SEA NATIVES DISCARD CHARTS

Compass: Displaces Curious Navigation Devices Made of Shells and Sticks—Were Never Taken to Sea.

(New York Times) Visitors to the Museum of Natural History who are interested in the South Sea Islands are always attracted by a curious sea chart made of sticks and shells. Daring navigators of the Marshall Islands formerly used such charts as guides to ocean lanes. This particular chart, by the way, was the gift of Robert Louis Stevenson. Back in 1890, when he began the four years' residence in Samoa, which was to make up the last chapter of his life, Stevenson voyaged in the steamer Janet Nichol among the islands of the South Sea. Mrs. Stevenson and her son Lloyd accompanied him. In her "Cruise of the Janet Nichol" she refers as follows to the charts of the natives: "These charts are very curious things indeed, made of sticks, some curved, some straight, caught here and there by a small yellow covery. The coveries represent islands, the sticks both currents and winds and days' sailings. The distances between the islands have nothing to do with miles, but with hours only. These charts are very little used now, only one chief knowing how to make them, but the time was when each young chief must pass his examination in the charts, knowing them by heart, as they were never taken to sea but kept at home for reference and continual study." In spite of many differences of opinion regarding the correct interpretation of the charts, it is generally believed that the covery shells represent islands. Mr. Hall, of the University of Pennsylvania Museum, states, however, that while the popular explanation of the sticks is that they represent currents, as during the last two months, which manufacturers say has apparently made them averse to placing advance orders of any substantial size. Some manufacturers do not look for the period of real buying to set in until after Labor Day. About fifty per cent. of orders placed for German gloves has already been delivered, according to one prominent importer, and considerable delay is being experienced in securing the remainder. This is due to the fact that the types casiest to manufacture were made up first, with the more fancy ones being held up. It is said that prices on the later shipments are considerably higher than for the orders first placed.

EFFECTS OF COLD WATER.
Fatal Results From Drinking It Only Occur in Very Hot Weather.
Fatalities from cold drinks only occur when the temperature is 85 degrees Fahrenheit or higher, according to the New York Medical Journal and Medical Record.

There is a general belief, says the writer, that it is highly dangerous to drink cold water in warm weather when we are very warm, and in a much recommended book on dietetics of the present century the warning against this practice is down in black and white. If trace this teaching to its origin we find that the fatalities that occurred from this practice always happened when the temperature of the air was 85 degrees or upward. The symptoms described are those of sunstroke or heat exhaustion, and the clinicians of the day had confused, or rather, not yet differentiated, the effects of heat suppression and the very different experience of giving the interior of the stomach a cold bath. So long was the belief that the taking of a cold drink, and not the inability to rid of heat, was the cause of those pathological catastrophes of hot weather that in one of our largest cities a century since the Humane Society placed printed posters on the public pumps, warning the hot and thirsty to pause before imbibing and hold the cup in the hands until some of the dangerous cold was extracted from the water. Very different from what a humane society might be doing in this day, he says. While sudden deaths in hot weather were not so easily attributable to a plunge into cold water, this performance was and still is considered highly dangerous, perhaps because of the supposed connection between death and the drinking of cold water. That disabling cramps should follow a strong swim when one has been much fatigued before entering the water, has good grounds. Cramps of the muscles are not at all uncommon in factory workers and stokers exposed to high temperatures, especially if humidity is combined with the heat. Experiments of Lee and Scott have shown that the muscles of animals are in a condition of fatigue, and have neither the strength nor endurance of muscle in animals at ordinary temperature. Just what takes place in the muscles of the superheated or in muscles fatigued by work we do not know, the physician says. It is only a step from a condition of fatigue to one of tetanic contraction, so that the already heated muscles of a swimmer (it takes time to restore such a muscle to normal, even in cold water) may, if used with vigor required for swimming, result in muscle spasms which render the swimmer helpless.

Through elaboration these became too large to be conveniently taken into the canoes for the voyages. So they were studied at home until learned by heart by the chiefs and leaders of the fleet. But owing to the limitation upon their preparation and use to a small and privileged class, they became symbols of secret knowledge and power and were invested with a glamour of mystery which still remains. The Marshall Islanders, quick in all things pertaining to seamanship, have learned to use the materials and methods of the white man. Now their small vessels, built on European models, are guided by the compass and other European devices. The day has passed when the dauntless natives, setting seaward in open canoes, undertake long voyages guided only by one man's memory of a strange chart of sticks and stones. But on viewing such a primitive chart, one is filled with admiration and awe at the spirit and the confidence of the Marshall Island navigators of a few generations ago.

If the weather continues to postpone the opening until Monday evening and to carry the entertainment on during Tuesday afternoon and evening.

(Manitoba Free Press.)
The reorganized university to be established for the three maritime provinces is likely to have important and far-reaching results. For the union of the six or seven universities and colleges down by the Atlantic does not mean the absorption and extinction of small colleges and the setting up of one big central teaching institution. The proposal is to keep the old colleges and to group them around a single university so that each denomination may still retain vital connection with and responsibility for its student-body. Each college will retain its residence, chapel and classrooms where first and second year work will be done. Advanced courses, honor courses, and the science courses which involve costly laboratories will be in the central institution to be controlled by a joint board. Thus, each college may maintain the old esprit de corps. For obvious reasons these small colleges are denominational, in this differing from those of Cambridge and Oxford.
The reason for the great change is the ever-pressing economic one, and the adoption of the English system is recommended by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Learning, a benefactor of Canadian universities also. There appears to be unanimity and even urgent desire for the coalition, though there will probably be differences when the location is in process of decision. The name has not been chosen, but the "University of the Maritime Provinces" has been suggested, which is too unwieldy. At least it would be too unwieldy for the busy and hurrying west. The sum required for upkeep and revenue, according to the finding of the Foundation's committee of investigations, will be four-and-a-half millions, the Foundation to provide revenues above what is possible from the present sources. There can be no doubt about the wisdom of the experiment. It will be watched with interest by the rest of Canada.

NEBRASKA TO BURN CORN THIS WINTER

Omaha, Aug. 26—Nebraska is going to burn corn instead of coal this winter. And she is going to save money by doing so. Although this state does not produce a ton of coal, a cubic foot of gas, a gallon of oil, and scarcely a cord of wood, the farmers of the state are practically independent of the fuel situation. If the coal strike is not settled before frost and the stream of black diamonds turned into the prairie country, Nebraska farmers will simply load up their stoves with corn and will keep warm just as though they were burning the best Pennsylvania anthracite.
Seven million, five hundred thousand Nebraska acres are at work producing the state's fuel for this winter. It is true, however, that if Nebraska burns its corn and Iowa the corn produced in that state, and Kansas and one or two other western states follow the lead of Nebraska, some coal mine strikers may lack something to eat. There will be a shortage of bread and meat.
Last year, when a coal shortage threatened, the University of Nebraska made a scientific investigation of the relative value of coal and corn for fuel. The result was rather surprising. The university found that when soft coal is selling at $15 a ton, and corn is worth only fifty cents per bushel, it is just as cheap for the farmer to burn his corn as it is to sell the corn and buy the coal. In addition to which the farmer would not have to haul his corn to market and haul the coal from the railroad to the farm.
Coal at Any Price Lacking.
Today coal is not selling quite up to $15 per ton in the country towns. But there is no coal to be had at the prices quoted by the coal dealers. "We will take your order and fill it when we can," is the usual answer to the order for coal. Likewise corn is not selling quite up to fifty cents per bushel on the farm. Corn is about sixty cents per bushel in Chicago, and considerably less than that on the western farms. At the present prices of coal and corn, according to the university report, it is cheaper to burn corn than coal. And especially so since no coal is to be had.
One of the finest growing seasons Nebraska has ever experienced is on right now. With abundant and frequent rains and hot moist weather the Nebraska corn is growing so rapidly, it can actually be heard. Stand near a big corn field and the rustle of the unfolding blades of corn can be plainly heard. This is called "hearing the corn grow."
Nebraska is cultivating 7,418,700 acres of corn this year. The estimated yield on July 1 was 200,210,000 bushels. Since that estimate was made the corn plant has made vast improvements. Some experts unofficially estimate the yield as high as 250,000,000 bushels.

With 250,000,000 bushels of corn, seventeen cents per bushel. And coal went up to something like $16 or $18 per ton. During this period thousands of Nebraska farmers burned corn in their stoves instead of coal. In an earlier day, before the coming of the railroads, Nebraska farmers had nothing else but corn to burn, and practically no coal was used in those days. This condition existed for years. So to burn coal instead of coal is not new to Nebraska farmers. They know all about it.
Even should the coal strike be settled immediately, coal men estimate there will be a shortage of coal in Nebraska, since every ton must be brought from other states. It is considered certain that more or less of the 250,000,000 bushel corn crop will be used for fuel, coal strike or no coal strike.
A meeting of the ladies of the executive of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society was held yesterday to arrange for a tag day on Sept. 6 to raise badly needed funds for the work of the society. Preliminary arrangements for the day were made. Miss H. Sydney Smith presided. Others present were: Miss Katherine Bell, Mrs. Arthur Bowman, Mrs. W. H. Shaw, Mrs. A. W. Adams, Mrs. F. B. Ellis and Misses Essason and Melkiejohn.

GRAY-DORT

The Truth Spreads

The truth about the Approved Gray-Dort is being given by Gray-Dort owners with will- ingness and enthusiasm.

"My Gray-Dort car has given me much more satisfaction than I ever expected to get from a light car. Running through winter and summer, it has always met any demand I made on it. Adjustments have been practically nil and the cost of operating is very low. I am not likely to part with it until you produce a finer Gray-Dort," says E. W. Bickle, President of Electrical Systems Limited, Toronto.

Let us show you why the Gray-Dort can give this satisfaction.

The Ballot Battle of "Wets" and "Drys"

CONTINUES TO PROVIDE SURPRIZES

777,816 VOTES ARE SUMMARIZED IN THE MAIN POLL ON THE Soldiers' Bonus

After an extremely "wet" start in the metropolitan districts of the East, the special women's poll this week turns 1 1/2 per cent "drier" than the general poll, and 5 per cent "drier" than on the previous week, thus seemingly indicating that the women of the country are justifying the contention sometimes made that they are "drier" than the men.

The main poll now shows a high total of 787,475 recorded votes with but 19,813 separating the leaders on two of the three questions voted upon.

The special polls of women and factory workers on the Bonus bring forth some highly interesting comparisons with the Prohibition question, both as to tendencies and number of votes cast. In the main poll, the fact is brought out that more than 9,000 persons who were interested in voting on the Prohibition question did not care to vote on the Bonus.

Commenting on various criticisms of The Digest's poll, The Philadelphia North-American says: "Altho some partisans on both sides of these important issues (Prohibition and the Soldiers' Bonus) complain that the canvass is faulty and may be misleading, publicists and political students generally accept the figures as providing a fairly accurate index to public sentiment."

"Any suggestion from whatever source, that the test is not fairly conducted or that it is inspired by some ulterior motive may be dismissed at once. The character of THE LITERARY DIGEST is too firmly established to permit the slightest suspicion that it would act in bad faith or suspend observance of its high standard of editorial integrity."

Be sure to read THE DIGEST this week and see exactly how the women and factory workers are voting in their special polls, and how the main poll indicates the preferences of the people in every section of the country.

"THE DIGEST'S" NEW MOTION PICTURE SERIES

September 2, 1922, "The Literary Digest" will commence the release each week of a humorous motion picture to be known as "Fun from the Press." The Hodkinson Corporation will distribute it to theaters nationally. We anticipate that this new picture will find even more favor than the former short screen subject originated by "The Digest." "Fun from the Press" is clean, laugh-provoking, and ingenious in arrangement and presentation. Ask and look for "Fun from the Press" at your favorite theater, or upon request we will tell you where it can be seen in your locality.

TRAFFIC SCOUTS DOING GOOD WORK

Are Aiding Effectively in Protecting the Safety Zones in Bangor.

(Bangor Commercial) Efficient services is being given by three shifts of boy scouts in assisting the traffic policemen in regulating the heavy ebb and flow of fair week traffic through the newly instituted "safety zones." The shifts, eight scouts in each, work for two hours at a stretch and are then relieved. Wednesday noon the scouts were equipped with small megaphones with which to instruct automobilists who were coming too fast, as the boys' voices cannot carry very far due to the noisy traffic.

The members of the third shift went on duty during the middle of the afternoon and will be relieved late in the afternoon by the first shift.

Two aspects of the fine work done by the scouts are the preventing of parking of cars in forbidden areas, and the guiding of automobiles past electric cars.

Through the safety zones automobiles may proceed past a car that is loading or unloading passengers, providing the machines go at a slow and careful pace.

The scouts regulate this kind of traffic remarkably well for inexperienced boys. A typically feminine opinion of the scout traffic officer was expressed by two women Wednesday noon, when they said: "Aren't the scouts cute little dears?" The masculine view of the junior traffic policemen is that "the boys are doing mighty well."

MAYOR'S EVASIVE ANSWER TO THE N.B. POWER COMMISSION

Gives no Satisfaction in Reply to Request For a Conference to Deal With the Contract For the Musquash Current—Did He Consult Other Members of Council?

The New Brunswick Power Commission on Tuesday week sent to Mayor McLellan the following letter: August 22, 1922. His Worship, The Mayor, City of Saint John, N. B. Dear Sir—On the 11th day of May, 1922, your worship wrote the commission requesting that the commission reserve and supply for the use of the city of St. John electrical power and energy, the minimum to be ten million and the maximum fifteen million kilowatt hours per annum. On the same date the commission acknowledged the receipt of said request and stated that the commission was prepared to enter into a contract with the city to supply the power asked for. The receipt of this was acknowledged by your worship on the following day, May 12th. On the 15th of May your worship wrote the commission asking them to prepare plans and specifications of the necessary plant to distribute the electrical energy and an estimate of the cost of the same. On the same day the commission acknowledged the receipt of the request and stated that they were pleased to accede to it and they at once secured the services of Mr. Gordon Kitchin, an expert in high class technical knowledge and wide practical experience and on the 24th of July Mr. Kitchin handed his report and estimate to the commission. Whereupon a copy of same, also a copy of tentative contract between the commission and the city was handed your worship by Mr. Phillips, member of the Civic Power Commission. This commission has not received any acknowledgment of the receipt of these documents; nor has the commission been requested to a conference regarding the conditions of the contract, although criticisms of the document by the city solicitor have been published in the local press. The commission respectfully request that inasmuch as the question about the city taking the power, whether they purchase the property of the Power Company or build their own distribution system, the contract be discussed at once and executed at an early date. Will your worship please note the receipt of this was acknowledged by your worship on the following day, May 12th. Husband and Wife Nearly Dead With CHOLERA

The chief symptoms of cholera are vomiting, and purging occur either simultaneously or alternately, and are usually sudden and very violent, and the matter ejected from the stomach has a bilious appearance and a nasty bitter taste. On the first symptoms appearing, Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry should be taken, and the trouble checked before it becomes serious. Mrs. Isaac Smith, Campbellton, N. B., writes: "We have been using Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for cholera. My husband and I were pretty nearly dead with it until we started to use your medicine. Behind our eyes we found great relief, and are recommending it to all our friends." "Dr. Fowler's" reputation stands behind every remedy when you get it. Price, 50c. bottles put up only by The T. Is Now a Healthy Boy

"From a puny, delicate child, my little Johnny has become a strong sturdy boy." One mother writes:—"If you had seen my little Johnny four months ago and you were to see him to-day, you would never believe that he is the same boy. Then he weighed only 48 pounds. To-day he weighs 80 pounds, almost double what he weighed four months ago. His trouble first started with a cold, which we never noticed because he was strong and like all boys of his age occasionally caught cold. After a while we began to notice that his cough, instead of getting better, was getting worse, that he was looking pale and losing weight. He seemed to be tired all the time, had no energy to do any thing. Before he caught this cold he had no trouble with his lessons and remained at the head of his class without much study. But we began to notice a change. He didn't seem to care whether he knew his lessons or not and nothing seemed to interest him. He coughed so much and so hard at times that his face would become purple and he thought he was going to faint. He had a blood vessel, medicines and cough mixtures didn't do him any good. Finally, in desperation, we bought a bottle of Dr. Cassell's Food. In a short time his cough had almost disappeared. His appetite was returning and he was getting his strength back in his studies. And, thanks to Cassell, he has become as strong and healthy as he has ever been."

NEWER FORM OF IRON QUICKLY INCREASES "PEP" STRENGTH AND ENERGY

"You cannot be well and strong, and full of vigor, force, and power unless your blood is rich in iron," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician Bellevue Hospital (Out-Door Department), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital. "It is your red blood that enables you to resist and overcome disease and that nourishes every organ in your body. Without iron your blood becomes thin, pale, and watery. Poor blood cannot nourish your vital organs and as a result you may have pains in your heart, kidneys, indigestion, headaches, and feel all run-down and tired-out." When your blood lacks iron do not waste your time taking stimulating medicine or narcotic drugs, but directly increase your blood with newer form of iron sold by all druggists under the name of Nuxated Iron which is like the iron in spinach, and apples, and in form easily assimilated into your blood. SETTLING THE BRITISH EMPIRE

(New York Evening Post.) Great Britain, with unemployment still acute, has shown willingness to send the Dominions some of her surplus population by passing an empire settlement act which provides a maximum of 23,000 annually for the next fifteen years in promoting immigration. The expense of the dominions is slow. Premier Massey of New Zealand has flatly said that the time is unfavorable. The objections vary. In Canada men point to unemployment and the agricultural depression; in Australia the Labor party is invariably suspicious of immigration, and in South Africa the backveld Boer fears the submergence of the Dutch. Everywhere there is apprehension that the cities, already too large, will be swollen, and that it is the British failures who will be dumped on the dominions. But it is an essential element of the policy of the dominions is not exclusively to those who will go to the farms and to assist only high-grade applicants. Last month the first offer of co-operation came from Australia, which will supply half of a fund of 2,000,000 for transporting 16,000 settlers before next April. The empty island continent widely needed Lord Northcliffe's recent warning, and Western Australia alone has a plan for training 75,000 settlers beyond doubt fall into line.

This imperial settlement scheme is an experiment which, if well managed, should have a marked effect upon the future of the dominions and upon the immigration policies of other lands. To see people die of malnutrition in European slums while enormous areas of fertile soil in Argentina and Australia, and in South Africa the backveld, lie idle in other riches are lying totally unused, is to see the need for the application of a little planning to the flow of population. Nor does our good American method of dumping the immigrants into the East Side show up well by the Australian method of training suitable settlers for their new occupations.

A special meeting of the Trades and Labor Council was held last night in Trades and Labor Hall in Prince William Street to consider the matter of the recall of Mayor McLellan. F. S. McMullin, the president, was in the chair and the meeting was largely attended. There was a general discussion in which many took part but as the meeting was divided in opinion no action was taken.

WEDDING TAKES PLACE THOUSAND FEET ABOVE EARTH. New York, Aug. 26.—With the shrill cries of frightened gulls instead of a choral anthem, wisps of cloud instead of flowers, and the motor instead of a rising Helen Lent, a thousand feet above the city, Former Lieutenant Belvin W. Mannard, the flying parson, tied the knot. The seaplane FSL, which is owned by the bridegroom, left the waters of the Hudson River at five o'clock. With the groom himself in the driver's seat they rose and sailed circles about a thousand feet. The machine was traveling at sixty miles an hour when the Rev. Mr. Mannard began the ceremony. The plane splashed down twenty minutes later, and, as the bride and groom stepped ashore man and wife.

GIRLS! LEMONS BLEACH SKIN WHITE. Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quart of pink lemonade. Famous stage beauties use this lemon water, and it is the secret of their soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bane because it doesn't irritate.

PERHAPS THEY PLAY TROMBONES AT NIGHT. Montreal, Aug. 26.—Prominent musicians of this city are being terrorized by a blackhand gang which is sending them death threats. In most cases the threats came in characteristic blackhand letters which are pinned to the front doors of the musicians' homes.

MORE THAN THE REQUIRED NUMBER OF SIGNATURES

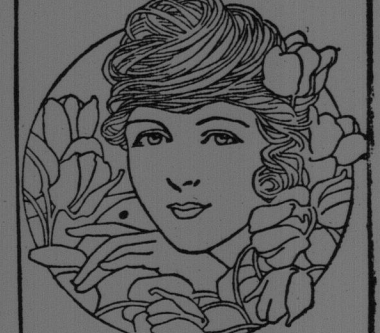

Eleven Hundred Names Now Signed to the Petition For the Recall of Mayor McLellan—More Will be Secured Before Papers Are Filed at City Hall.

More than the required number of signatures necessary to recall Mayor McLellan have been obtained, according to reports from the workers last evening. The legal number of names necessary in this case is slightly in excess of eleven hundred. The committee reported last evening that the mark now reaches nearly twelve hundred names. On Thursday night the report showed three hundred additional names being secured. As explained before, however, the workers are not taking any chances of delay and will carry on until many more names have been secured. Nearly ten workers have yet to report and, with these returns in, it is expected that early next week checking proceedings will begin. The papers will be sent to the common clerk in the very best possible shape in order that delay may be avoided.

A prominent worker declared last evening that the impetus given the work yesterday showed them plainly that the right thinking citizens were behind them in their efforts to recall the city. The splendid opportunity presented by the hydro development at Musquash to free itself from monopolistic rates for light and power. They realize the nature of the forces ranged against them, but are confident of the justice of their cause and that that cause will triumph in the end. The workers certainly have done well in the short time that has elapsed since the recall proceedings started. It was just a week ago that the recall work in recalling the mayor got under way, yet with only a small number working, the required number of signatures has been obtained in this short space of time. It speaks significantly of the feeling of the majority of the citizens with respect to any further attempt to rob them of the benefits to be obtained from cheap power resulting from the hydro development.

HARVEST TO BRING BUSINESS TO THE BUILDING TRADES

Steady Pace Struck by Western Construction Industry—Bumper Crop Permits Resumption of Much Work

It is at this time of the year that all the dominion looks to the west for signs of reviving prosperity. Building in particular is directly influenced by the success or failure of the harvest. With a bumper crop now in sight the prospect of much fresh construction work opening up all the way from Winnipeg to the coast is stimulating the building industry and the building trades throughout Canada. For the last four or five months now, the western territory has been yielding a steady monthly increment of slightly over five millions of fresh work. The totals of contracts awarded in Manitoba, Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia are, according to MacLean Building Reports, Limited, as follows:

Table with 4 columns: Month, B. C., Alta., Sask., Man. Total. Data for April, May, June, July, August, and Total.

The difficulty about adopting a fair standard by which to judge of the progress in building lies in the epidemic nature of all major developments which have ever taken place in that territory. The boom days of a decade and more ago are still fresh in the memories of many a real estate speculator. So fresh, indeed, that the west firmly refrained from any excess of speculative home building subsequent to the war, even at a time when a tendency was evident in other sections of the dominion. The west is at present getting into the steady stride it has ever exhibited in this industry. It has earned the economic evils of an over-rapid expansion, and is not likely to repeat, even under the most favorable circumstances, the speculative excesses of ten years ago. Building expansion in the west depends mainly on three factors: the influx of population, and internal prosperity based on successful crops. The two former conditions are now in a way to be realized in a measure which has not been possible since before the war. While, as regards this season's harvest, prospects have seldom been brighter.

Are You Fat? Just Try This

Thousands of overfat people have become slim by following the advice of doctors who recommend Marmola Prescription Tablets, these harmless little fat reducers that simplify the dose of the famous Marmola Prescription. If too fat, don't wait—go now to your druggist, and for one dollar, which is the price the world over, procure a case of these tablets. If preferable you can secure them direct by sending price to the Marmola Co., 4612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. They reduce steadily and easily without tireless exercise or starvation diet and leave no unpleasant effect.

Charmeuse More in Demand. There has been an improvement recently in the demand of charmeuses, and some factors in the trade look for a better fall season in this fabric than was anticipated. This is said to be due to the fact that the quantity of charmeuse that might be called "distress" merchandise has now been greatly cut down and the mills which stopped its production have not restarted their looms on this material. This, it is said, may lead to somewhat of a shortage later on, if the cutters-up are led to go into the market to a large extent, owing to better business from their end. Members of the Rotary club visited the boys of the south end in their clubroom last night and extended a hearty invitation to the boys to attend a Rotary club picnic on Tuesday afternoon. The invitation was enthusiastically received and a full attendance of the boys on Tuesday is assured.

RAPPINGS ON RADIO MYSTIFY MAGICIAN

Beings on Other Planets, or Departed Earth Spirits are Signaling, Says Thurston.

New York, Aug. 26.—Unexplained rappings that come like the dots and dashes of a telegraph code have been "picked up" through an apparatus invented by Howard Thurston, the magician, and these, he said, have convinced him that so-called spirit phenomena that emanate from an invisible, tangible. Either those in the spirit world have produced the rappings or he has, he believes, caught the first faint signals from some distant planet. Mr. Thurston said he was not ready to give a description of the machine he is using, but that electricity entered into its working. He has been unable to read the alleged messages, and Sir Conan Doyle, who witnessed some of the experiments, he added, also could not interpret them. Mr. Thurston said that what had convinced him more than anything else that spirits were the source of the knocking was that he sees visions of faces—silent faces that look wistful and weary. He said that he has seen a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon lozenges. The machine was traveling at sixty miles an hour when the Rev. Mr. Mannard began the ceremony. The plane splashed down twenty minutes later, and, as the bride and groom stepped ashore man and wife.

Music's Substitute. The discordant music rendered by the so-called orchestra had so upset one of the diners that he called the restaurant manager and remarked: "I note the paragraph on your menu wherein you state that the orchestra will play anything on request. Can you prove the assertion?" "Yes," replied the manager. "Their repertoire is very extensive. What do you wish them to play? I have finished my meal and I will be very grateful."—Everybody's Magazine.

CORSIKAN BRIAR

This is the Pipe of Peace

Why? Because it gives you a cooler, sweeter, more thoroughly enjoyable smoke than any other pipe under the sun. Note the crusted bowl—made from the finest quality Corsican Briar, treated under the famous Kola Process. In making this crusted bowl, a lot of the superfluous briar is cut away. This decreases its weight and greatly increases the air-cooled surface. You certainly will enjoy smoking a Kola Krust.
