

GAYNOR SWEEPS NEW YORK

The Tammany Candidate Wins in Fight for Mayorality, but Loses in Board of Estimates.

Draper Elected Massachusetts With Greatly Reduced Majority—Canada and Reciprocity.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Tammany elected another mayor of Greater New York today but lost its grip on city finances.

Whitman Elected. In addition, the Republican-Fusionists elected Charles S. Whitman, district attorney of New York county, who defeated George Gordon Hatfield, the Democratic nominee by at least 13,000 plurality and John S. Shea, for sheriff over Christopher D. Sullivan (Democrat) by approximately 10,000.

President of the Borough of Manhattan, George McAneny, defeating Joseph Haag by approximately 12,000. President of the Borough of Brooklyn, Alfred E. Sters, defeating John H. McCooney, by approximately 14,000.

President of the Borough of Richmond, George Cromwell, defeating McCormack.

The contest for these two last-named borough presidencies was very close but latest returns favored the Republican-Fusion nominees, while in Queens (Long Island) Lawrence Gresser (Independent-Anti-Tammany) was elected.

President of the Board of Aldermen, John F. Mitchell, defeating John F. Galvin by approximately 54,000.

President of the Borough of Manhattan, George McAneny, defeating Joseph Haag by approximately 12,000.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 2.—Although the Republicans won the state election in Massachusetts today, their customary majorities were cut to the narrowest limits, Governor Eben S. Draper being elected by a plurality of 8,382 over James H. Vahay, the Democratic candidate, compared with a lead of 40,156 last year.

The complete returns were as follows: Eben S. Draper, Republican, 190,045; James S. Vahay, Democrat, 181,663.

The fight for the lieutenant-governorship was even closer, the result for the entire state being as follows: Louis A. Frothingham, Republican, 134,570; Eugene N. Foss, Democrat, 129,661.

Frothingham's Plurality. Frothingham's plurality was 5,529, and compares with 36,307 which was Frothingham's plurality last year.

The balance of the Republican state ticket was also elected as well as the customary majorities in both branches of the legislature.

RED WIDOW TO ANSWER MURDER CHARGE TODAY

France Stirred Over Mystery—Black With Crime And Red With Love—Insanity Plea The Defence.

WOMEN TO BE BARRED FROM COURT

Paris, Nov. 2.—Mme. Marguerite Steinhell, the "Red Widow," whose name has been linked with the death of a president of France and with the execution of a king that still lives will be placed on trial for her life tomorrow, charged with the murder of her husband and mother.

At her trial no women will be admitted, according to the decision of M. De Valles, president of the court. This decree, which bars the women of Paris from watching the most-talked-of woman of France, has added to the rumors that envelop the strange "Red Widow" and her influence over men.

The story of the crime for which she will stand trial is but one of the lesser events with which rumor connects her name. On the morning of May 31, 1908, Adolph Steinhell, one of the best known artists in Paris, was found strangled in his bed.

In the next room lay his mother-in-law, Mme. Japy, similarly killed. In a third room—the room of Marthe, daughter of Mme. and M. Steinhell—was found Mme. Steinhell, gagged and bound.

The only other person in the house was Remy Couillard, the valet, who discovered the double murder and his mistress trussed up.

Never Solved. The mystery has never been solved. Mme. Steinhell at once declared that she had been bound by three men and a woman, asserting that she thought the latter was one of her husband's models. She said all their jewelry had been stolen by the murderers.

The police gave up the case, baffled. Mme. Steinhell took it up alone. She declared she found three Turkish ornaments, taken from a theatre on the outskirts of Paris the night of the murder, which were identical with those worn by the three murderers.

Soon into the murder mystery, was dragged the name of President Faure of France. He had died mysteriously some years ago, and there were plenty to say he had met his end in his apartment in the company of Mme. Steinhell as stolen by the murderers. Couillard.

This accusation was immediately followed by others. It developed without doubt that this mysterious woman

COY'S CASE BUT TWO WITNESSES EXAMINED Thus Far—The Dominion Coal Company And The Bay Of Fundy Trade.

SMALL GAIN MADE IN COAL COY'S CASE

Special to The Standard. Halifax, N. S., Nov. 2.—The Coal operators conspiracy case is dragging on in the police court. Today little actual progress was made. Up to the present William Roche and M. R. Morrow are the only witnesses who have been examined and the prosecution has not yet finished with the latter.

This morning General Manager Duggan was on hand. He was only called upon to produce a pile of correspondence between Mr. Morrow and General Sales Agent Dick.

The letters had to be admitted individually, the process taking a long time. The magistrate promised those selected by Mr. Duggan as having reference to the case and then handed the prosecuting counsel those bearing particularly on the points at issue.

The magistrate expressed the hope that the trial would conclude in time to enable Mr. MacDonald to attend the opening of Parliament.

Mr. MacDonald was apparently less hopeful. He trusted that he would get to Ottawa in time for prorogation. In the latter part of the morning B. A. Ritchie argued that conspiracy has been proved for the purpose of gaining permission from the magistrate to question the witness in regard to prices of coal.

The Price at Sydney. Mr. Morrow testified that the price of coal at Sydney water front this summer was about $2.35 and $2.45. It cost about 80 cents to land it in Halifax by the big colliers.

It transpired that there was an arrangement by which the Bay of Fundy trade was not sought by the Dominion Coal Company, the price for ports on the Bay being F. O. B. Sydney.

An admission was made that prior to 1901 the bunker trade at Halifax was largely that at present. This witness claimed was not attributable to the increase in the price of bunker coal, but to the fact that the dealer at Halifax would pay $2 a ton at the mine, now he would pay $2.50.

Adjustment was made until tomorrow at 11 a. m.

GOVERNMENT TO FATTEN GRANT TO OTTAWA CITY

CIVIL SERVANTS EXEMPTED AND PEOPLE MUST PAY

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 2.—A grant of a million dollars to the Ottawa Improvement Commission and $150,000 to the city direct, spread over a period of ten years, is the result of negotiations now practically completed as between a sub-committee of the government and the board of control representing the city.

The formal approval of the cabinet council has yet to be given. In consideration of this, the government will be given a free supply of water to all its buildings and grounds, be relieved of the cost of street sprinkling and snow cleaning, and furnished with fire protection, while all civil servants will be relieved of taxation in respect of income.

PROTESTS SENT TO OTTAWA OF NO AVAIL—STRICT ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAWS NEEDED.

Supporting his remarks by specific examples of Government wrongdoing in the Yukon and other parts of Canada, Rev. John Pringle, of Sydney, gave an interesting and fearless address last evening before the delegates attending the Dominion W. C. T. U. on the requirements necessary to arouse the high moral sense possessed by the people of Canada.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 2.—The most magnificent tribute ever paid to a public man in the west, it is the way in which Mr. George Bradbury, M. P., for Selkirk, describes the banquet tendered Hon. George E. Foster, in Winnipeg by 800 Conservatives. Mr. Bradbury estimates that Mr. Foster's tour has resulted in splendid progress for that party, which will mean much at the next general election.

He says that everywhere Mr. R. L. Borden has grown in the estimation of the people, and his name was as eagerly greeted with acclaim. Dealing with the reports of a Conservative revolt appearing in the Liberal press, Mr. Bradbury said they were all nonsense, and were manufactured for party purposes.

Mr. Bradbury said they were all nonsense, and were manufactured for party purposes. Mr. Borden has no warmer admirers or more loyal supporters than Premier Roblin and Hon. Robert Rogers," he said.

Zarl Grey has accepted the invitation to open the Winter Fair, at Amherst.

The greatest moral asset that Canada had today was the Yukon territory. The people of the east knew little about the west, and the west knew little of the east. We were still provincial but the spirit of nationality was beginning to pulsate through our veins.

For another generation to pass over the people would be taught to take care of themselves.

Of the present dangers was that the people had become too much attached to the material and as a result were apt to build up a wall to shut out God. The W. C. T. U. placed God first and for this reason they should be honored.

There was no question but that the people of Canada had a high moral sense, it was necessary however that this sense should be aroused. In order to do this four things were necessary: First it was necessary to have good laws and secondly it was necessary to have good leaders.

School for Political Crooks. In commenting on this speech the speaker said that for three years and a half a normal school for the education of political crooks had been kept up in London, Ont. by supporters of the government. The question to be decided by the electors in choosing their candidates was whether or not they stood for righteousness.

OPPOSED TO PROPOSED NAVAL PROGRAMME

Special to The Standard. Medicine Hat, Alta., Nov. 2.—At the annual meeting of the Medicine Hat Conservative Association last evening, C. A. McGrath, M. P., for Medicine Hat and John H. Erron, M. P., for South Alberta, came out in strong denunciation of Canada's toy navy and vigorously supported the principle of giving practical assistance to Great Britain. Mr. Erron declared the proposed Canadian navy would be nothing more than an expensive luxury and of little utility to either Canada or the Empire.

Cleveland, Nov. 2.—Tom L. Johnson, for four terms mayor of Cleveland, was defeated today for a fifth term, by Herman C. Bauer, Republican county recorder. Unofficial returns from approximately half of the city indicated that Bauer's plurality over Johnson is at least 4,000 and may run to 6,000.

At 10 o'clock Johnson conceded his own defeat by 1500. With him probably went the bulk of the Democratic ticket, those councilmen who have been conspicuous in their support of his street railway programme suffering most. A possibility existed at 10 o'clock that one member of the Johnson ticket, City Solicitor Newton D. Baker, had won over Gerhard M. Dahl, former La Follette supporter from Wisconsin.

CASE OF GUY VS. GUY CLOSED AT CAPITAL

No Defence In This Divorce Suit—Judgment Rendered—Executive Of Barristers' Society In Session.

Fredericton, Nov. 2.—The case of Guy vs. Guy continued in the divorce court this afternoon. Two important witnesses were examined and Mr. O. S. Crockett, M.P., acting for the plaintiff, announced his case closed.

There was no defence. His Honor said he would give judgment in a very short time. A meeting of the executive of the Barristers' Society was held this afternoon and all candidates who underwent the recent examinations were recommended for admission.

BEDFORD FORGETS HE MADE CONFESSION CHURCH OF ENGLAND SYNOD IS OPENED

Declares Now That He Only Heard Of The Kinrade Case Through The Medium Of The Newspapers.

London, Nov. 2.—The man Bedford, who has "confessed" to the Kinrade murder, came up in Bow Street police court again today and was remanded for eight days.

Bedford stated in an interview that he did not remember ever having made a confession of murdering Miss Kinrade. He had only read accounts of the murder in the Canadian newspapers. Bedford also told his sister today that he did not remember being in her house on October 11th. Before he gave himself up at Scotland yard, Bedford's sister told the interviewer she thought he had a strange look in his eyes and that he was insane.

Today Bedford recognized his sister, whereas last week he denied knowing her. Sergeant Cruickshank, who is in charge of the case, informed the magistrate that he had called today at the Canadian High Commissioner's office and was informed that no papers had yet arrived from Canada.

British Columbia Conservatives Confident Of Victory—Premier Opens Series Of Meetings Tonight.

Special to The Standard. Victoria, B. C., Nov. 2.—The provincial campaign is going ahead rapidly. Premier McBride opens his series of meetings at Revelstoke tomorrow and then with Mr. Bowers will address meetings throughout the province. He has accepted nominations in both Victoria City and Yale, his opponents being the Liberal leaders, John Oliver and Stewart Henderson. The Conservatives claim they have 27 safe seats. Vancouver Liberals last night nominated the five candidates for this city as follows: J. S. Carpenter, J. S. Senckler, J. E. MacDonald, coal merchant, F. C. Wade, K. C., and Aid Campbell.

DOUGAL GIVEN THREE YEARS FOR COAT STEALING

May be Released in Two Months If Conduct Good—Judge Forbes Pays Tribute To Dr. MacRae.

The last session for this year of the County Court opened at the court house yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, Judge Forbes presiding.

In addressing the grand jury His Honor said that he was happy to inform them that no one criminal case would be presented to them.

The grand jury then retired and shortly after 12 o'clock returned a true bill in the case of the King vs. James Boyd, charged with escaping from the chain gang on Aug. 27. They were then discharged.

The non-jury cases are: Harvey Ring vs. W. H. Andrews—Weldon and McLane. C. Frederick Black vs. A. M. Campbell—Mr. John B. Baxter, K. C. Hamm vs. Fawcett Haney Co.—Mr. C. F. Sanford.

A special session of the County Court under the Speedy Trials Act was held in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the purpose of trying Alexander MacDougall, a Scotchman, who was arrested on Monday night between seven and eight o'clock, on a charge of stealing a coat, the property of a German, Harry Perry.

Policeman James Semple told of finding the prisoner in an alley off Water street on Monday night between seven and eight o'clock. MacDougall was dead drunk and had to be carried to the lock-up. The coat was found on the prisoner.

His Honor found him guilty and sentenced him to a term of three years in Dorchester penitentiary, to commence after the sentence of two months imprisonment imposed by Magistrate Ritchie for drunkenness terminates.

Should MacDougall be a model prisoner while he is in jail, His Honor intimated that he would not enforce the penitentiary sentence.

Extensive preparations are being made for the congress to be conducted by Commissioner Coombs which will open here next Saturday, and the prospects are that it will prove one of the most far reaching in its results yet held by the Salvation Army in the Maritime Provinces.

In addition to Commissioner Coombs and his staff, more than one hundred officers will be present, also hundreds of Salvationists from the surrounding districts.

The many friends of the Army have kindly undertaken the entertainment of the officers during congress week, only a few more billets being required to meet the needs of the delegates.

The platform of gentlemen who will support the chair on Sunday afternoon on the occasion of Commissioner Coombs' lecture, promises to be a very strong and influential one.

BAND STAND MADE OVER TO CITY AT FAIR LAST NIGHT

Mayor Bullock Receives Gift From City Cornet Band—Many Interesting Features And Pretty Decorations.

The formal presentation to the city of the new bandstand erected on King Square by the City Cornet Band took place yesterday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the opening of the band's "Around the World Fair" in the Mission Hall, Wellington street.

In making the presentation, Mr. Conolly said that on behalf of the band he wished to extend their thanks to the citizens who had contributed so generously towards the work.

As Mayor Bullock arose to accept the deed of gift, the band played God Save the King. In a brief but eloquent speech, His Worship paid a glowing tribute to the band and said that the bandstand would remain as a perpetual monument to the enterprise of its members, and a public tribute to their worth as citizens.

Although the weather was unfavorable there was a very large attendance and many favorable comments were heard on the attractiveness of the different booths and decorations. On entering the first thing noticeable is a pretty decorated archway made of boughs and bunting covers the bandstand and in the rear of the stage is seen the pictures of the past and present members of the City Cornet Band.

Much Business Has Been Transacted—Resolution Protesting Against Bridge Whist Playing Defeated After Interesting Discussion—Superintendents Of Departments Appointed—Election Of Officers Completed—Resolution Of Thanks Passed—Next Meeting In Province Of Quebec In 1911.

Last evening the sixteenth convention of the Dominion Women's Temperance Union, which has been meeting in the city since Friday last, was brought to a close, and today the majority of the delegates who have been in attendance will leave for their homes.

During the convention many important matters were considered and much business transacted. The dispatch with which the business was conducted was largely due to the impartial yet tactful manner in which Mrs. S. R. Wright, the president, observed the rules of procedure in connection with the carrying out of the programme. Much regret was expressed that Mrs. Annie M. Baeson of Toronto felt obliged to retire from the office of corresponding secretary.

The only St. John lady to be elected an officer of the union was Mrs. T. H. Bullock, who was chosen as treasurer. At the session yesterday afternoon the superintendents of departments were appointed. The invitation of the members of Quebec union to hold the next biennial convention in their province was accepted.

The report of the resolution committee was accepted, but after some discussion the union refused to place themselves on record as concerning the playing of bridge whist. In the morning the most important business was the election of officers and reading reports.

Before the regular business of the day was taken a report from the executive regarding some proposed changes in the constitution was brought forward, and after some discussion it was decided to allow the changes to remain unchanged in this particular—that the meeting should continue to be held biennially. Mrs. Tait, Jean Clark and Helen Robinson were appointed pages for the election for provincial "Y" secretary resulted in a tie for Mrs. Gordon of Ottawa, and Miss Eleanor Smith of Windsor, Nova Scotia. A second ballot gave Miss Smith a majority.

At 12 o'clock it was moved and carried that the reports of the superintendents on Work Among Colored People, Mrs. R. D. DR. BAILEY LECTURES ON INTERPRETING NATURAL SCENERY Instructive Address Before Natural History Society Last Evening—Additions To Museum Reported.

The monthly meeting of the Natural History Society was held last evening, Senator Ellis, the president, in the chair. It was reported that the library had received the usual number of exchanges from other scientific societies and that the museum had been enriched by a curious tree formation from C. H. Lee, a fossil mastodon tooth found in the Yukon, and presented by Martin G. B. Henderson, African pipe from F. Caverhill Jones, an old U. S. coin from Kenneth Dymekman and a Cambrian fossil ripple mark from A. Gordon Leavitt.

The following new members were elected: Dr. J. P. McInerney, M. P. P.; Fred Goodspeed, Rev. J. J. McCaskill, regular; David Ballman, of Indian Point, corresponding; Miss Margaret Lindsay, Miss Margaret C. Jordan, Miss S. B. Vaughan, Miss Carrie Barnes, Miss Edith Cumming, Miss Nan R. Miller, Miss E. C. McDougall, Mrs. Fred. Goodspeed, Mrs. John H. Vaughan, Mrs. G. T. Buchanan, Mrs. J. W. Robb, Mrs. R. A. Corbett, Mrs. J. P. McInerney, Mrs. J. J. McCaskill, Mrs. Jas. O. Edwards, and Miss Rosalie Waterman, junior associate.

A hearty vote of thanks was ordered to be tendered to Dr. J. P. McInerney for his readiness in giving an address at the recent convocation. Dr. L. W. Bailey was the lecturer of the evening and his subject, "Interpretation of Natural Scenery." The lecturer showed that there were several modes of interpretation, such as the mythical, poetical, utilitarian and scientific, and explained that the latter was of course the most valuable as it went to the root of the matter and traced out the laws and whys.

Mountains, plateaus, plains, lakes, volcanoes, glaciers and coast lines were all referred to and their formation, etc., explained. With the aid of the reflectoscope over one hundred beautiful views of the subject referred to were shown, these included many of the most celebrated volcanoes, mountains, glaciers and falls.

The lecturer was most attentively listened to throughout and, at its close a hearty vote of thanks was given by Mr. W. F. Burditt and seconded by Mr. T. H. Estabrooks, was presented to Dr. Bailey.

At the meeting adjourned a large number of the delegates attended the reception in their honor given by the local branch of the Women's Council of the Y. C. T. The guests were received by Mrs. David McLeellan, Mrs. Jas. Dever, Mrs. J. V. Ellis, Mrs. C. B. Allen, Mrs. D. P. Chisholm and Miss Leavitt in the parlour which was prettily decorated for the occasion.

Refreshments were served in the assembly room on the second floor. Mrs. A. Austin and Mrs. John Burpee presided at the table and a number of young ladies of the St. Vincent's Alumni and the High School Alumni assisted in serving the refreshments.

The convention was brought to an end in the evening when a largely attended social was held in the church at which Rev. John Pringle of Sydney, N. S., delivered an interesting and outspoken address on the manner of arousing the high moral sense of the people by the use of the press. The president of the union presided and the opening exercises were conducted by Rev. C. H. Flanders, D. D. pastor of the church. After Rev. Dr. Pringle had concluded his address the convention passed a vote of thanks to all who had assisted in making their stay in the city an enjoyable one. The resolution read as follows:

Resolved that the Dominion W. C. T. U. assembled in St. John desire to feel at the cordiality of our reception here and to thank you for the hospitality which has been extended to us and for the uniform courtesy and kindness shown us. We would especially thank those who have helped at our meetings and have done so in the services by songs and recitations. The council of women, the Historical Society and the Natural History Society to the Mayor and Mrs. Bullock for donating plants, to the railway companies for reducing rates, to the press and all who have in any way helped in the success of the 16th annual convention we extend our heartfelt thanks.

had plenty of affairs—that M. Steinhil had been a more than complacent husband. Suspicion commenced to concentrate against the widow. Then came a telling blow. She had run down inoffensive people who had proved alibi. She accused Couillard, the valet. In his pocket Couillard was found a pearl taken from the ring in the list given by M. Steinhil as stolen by the murderers. Couillard vehemently protested his innocence.

A jeweler was then found who declared M. Steinhil had brought him the ring to have the pearl removed and the gold melted down. Confronted by the jeweler, she broke down, confessed that what the man said was true.

Couillard's Pocket. "I put the pearl in Couillard's pocket," she sobbed, "to shield another whose name I must not mention. I love him and he has shunned me. The man was Alexander Wolff, a native of Paris, means the reconstruction of the crime in its every detail in her presence.

Steinhil had the entrée to the immense circles of one of the most delightful groups of Parisian society. M. Steinhil, the granddaughter of one of the most estimable manufacturers of Bayonne, married her artist to get to Paris and its life of light and intrigue.

She immediately commenced her campaign for power. She passed the literary and artistic lights and became a notable figure in high judicial and political society at the French capital.

She started her own salon. Everybody came when M. Steinhil invited. Money was spent lavishly although M. Steinhil was poor. He mortgaged his home for the immense sum. Then came a change. M. Steinhil was introduced to President Faure. The first man in France fell subject to her charms. His visits to the Steinhil home continued after the portrait he sat for was completed by her artist husband.

Two years later Faure died suddenly. Cardinal Richard, Archbishop of Paris, and the Prince of Monaco, visited the president in the afternoon. They noticed that the president seemed distraught. M. Steinhil was all the time in the next room.

Two hours later she rushed from the house shrieking for help. M. le Gall, the president's secretary, rushed into the room. The President of France was dead. On his table awaiting his signature, was a paper that would have reopened the Dreyfus case. This fact aroused the anti-Dreyfusards as well as the Dreyfusards. Later, grave charges were brought against the police for shielding M. Steinhil. Men came forward with tales of her wild and their own capture. The King of Cambodia visiting Paris had fallen under her spell.

With the announcement that the defence will rely principally on a plea of seventeen passengers, ten were prostitutes and one day he read in the paper an advertisement stating that 30 fresh girls had just arrived. Last year after the Yukon had been for ten long years the Mecca of the scenic, the Government was induced to order the custom officers to enforce the law.

A number of years before the Mounted Police had started to enforce the law, but a petition was sent to Ottawa by the liquor men and keepers of dives, and the Government ordered this order was afterwards explained and it was learned that these men had contributed $50,000 to the Government's election fund.

The speaker knew of young men who could not afford, they said, to attend the receptions given by prominent citizens of Dawson, whose duty it was to administer the laws, as they said they would be bled at poker.

On one occasion the registrar of the Yukon and a number of Government officials went down to the wharf and two of these young men of good families in the east, were surrounded by a dozen prostitutes who before the boat left begged for money. Twenty dollars had been sent to the Government about the matter, but no action was taken.

Finally it was necessary that the laws be enforced without discrimination. Why should a woman be branded as a prostitute and her evidence declared inadmissible if the evidence of a man prostitute who had dishonored his family be accepted? Why should a house of ill fame be raided and the women arrested but the men allowed to get off? If there was one reason for giving the women the vote it was in order that there might be justice. The trouble was the men were afraid of giving the women the vote. Why should a poor wretch suffering from hunger be sent to the penitentiary for theft and a man who had stolen thousands go free?

Canada was a great land, but if the people forgot righteousness the country could amount to nothing. At the bottom the people were spiritual and moral beings, and Canada must become spiritual in order to grow into a great nation.

There was a large attendance at the quarterly meeting of the R. K. T. C. in the club rooms last evening when the prizes won during the season were presented and other important business transacted. Commodore Thomson presided and handed the prizes to the winners as follows:

PREPARATIONS FOR COMING CONGRESS OF SALVATION ARMY

Great Results Expected From Meetings Opening Here Saturday—Entertainment Being Extensively Provided.

Extensive preparations are being made for the congress to be conducted by Commissioner Coombs which will open here next Saturday, and the prospects are that it will prove one of the most far reaching in its results yet held by the Salvation Army in the Maritime Provinces.

In addition to Commissioner Coombs and his staff, more than one hundred officers will be present, also hundreds of Salvationists from the surrounding districts.

The many friends of the Army have kindly undertaken the entertainment of the officers during congress week, only a few more billets being required to meet the needs of the delegates.

The platform of gentlemen who will support the chair on Sunday afternoon on the occasion of Commissioner Coombs' lecture, promises to be a very strong and influential one.

Colonel Turner feels gratified, the progress being made and anticipates a record breaking series of meetings.

NEW RECORD FOR CITY COUNCIL AT CAPITAL

Transacts Business Of a Month In Twenty-five Minutes—Union of Municipalities' Stand Endorsed.

Special to The Standard. Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 2.—The city council established a record to-night in doing the business of the monthly meeting rapidly. It took but 25 minutes to complete the work. The auditor's report was adopted showing a total expenditure of $6,122.31.

Tenders for trap rock for street work at 90 cents and 80 cents per ton were considered high and the road master was authorized to purchase 1,500 tons at not more than 75 cents per ton.

The council endorsed the stand taken by the Canadian Union of Municipalities regarding cement work.

Portland Lodge, S. Of E. Concert. The concert in Alexandra Hall under the auspices of Portland Lodge Sons of England, last evening, proved to be one of the best of the season. The large hall was crowded and many were obliged to stand. The programme was as follows:—Songs, Mr. Gibson, Mr. Robt. Holder, Mr. F. Howard, Messrs. Simpson, Mr. Harry Noakes, Mr. Ed. Brittain, Mr. Wm. Oakes; readings, Miss Carrie Green, Mr. James, Miss G. Seely; sleight of hand tricks, Prof. Sanganer; bone solo, Mr. E. Bond; comedy sketch, Es- tate and Bailey. The Victoria Street Baptist Church orchestra was present, and rendered excellent music during the evening.

Lumber Expert Wants More Rigid Inspection

Manly H. Craig Has Several Suggestions to Offer On the Administration of the Lumber Areas of the Province--Demands More Careful and Accurate Scaling.

To the Editor of The Standard:

Sir,—The writer has had considerable experience in the handling of logs and lumber timber and timber lands in this province and in the province of British Columbia, and the State of Minnesota in the way of surveying, estimating and scaling of logs and timber lands, and also of scaling the logs and following them from the stump to the mill and to the lumber yards; and has watched with interest the New Brunswick Forestry Convention report of 1907, and having noted from the report on page 4 that some 421,000,000 sq. feet of logs had been shipped from the ports of N. B. Exporter Robert 123, referred in his speech to the alleged shortage in the log scale, etc., and it is said that not half the stumpage is being collected. From the Crown Land report of 1906, it appears that approximately 120,000,000 feet of spruce and pine saw logs, hemlock, hardwood and cedar is being paid for by the lumbermen and that the grand total paid into the Crown Land Department for stumpage and licenses for the year 1906 approximates $250,000.00, viz: $171,000.00 stumpage and $79,000.00 for licenses, on 9,875 miles of Crown land, or in other words there is being cut from the Crown Lands of this province about 12,000,000 feet per year from each mile, or less than 15 feet per acre.

Nothing Collected.
Now Mr. Robinson says in his speech, (Forestry Convention Report of 1907, page 123), that his estimate of the annual black spruce growth on the Crown Lands of the province should exceed the estimate of a prominent North Shore lumberman that he might cut 100 feet to the acre would be a larger estimate than the North Shore lumberman who put at 30,000 feet per square mile. As 100 feet to the acre is an estimate of 100 feet to the acre is nearer the mark, yet are not the figures as given above sufficient in themselves to convince anyone while conceding the stumpage is being collected. Having looked into these matters from the standpoint of the positions I am most occupied, as above stated, I am most thoroughly convinced that a most speedy remedy is needed.

1st.—I would divide the province of New Brunswick into two districts and the special purpose of scaling logs.
2nd.—I would make one district to cover St. John city, the mouth of the river St. John and all its tributaries, both the North and South Rivers, 3rd.—To make the 3rd district cover both the North and South Rivers, 4th.—To create two offices to be known as Surveyor Generals of logs and lumber and these offices to be centrally located in each of the above districts. The chiefs of these departments to be competent and qualified men, whose duty it would be to scale all logs cut from the Crown Lands of this province in their said districts, and with power to do all other surveying or scaling of logs and lumber lands, when requested to do so. And that the scale made by them to be the legal and final scale in this province.

Complete Set of Books.
That they should keep a full and complete set of books for the use of the scale made by them, which would include the axe mark or other marks on said logs or lumber, where laid by whom, and for whom cut and haul, and the description of lands from which they came, by whom scaled, with day and date of each scale. These Surveyor Generals also to be put on the logs cut by them.

And that all logs shall bear a stamp mark on each end of the log. And that particularly all logs being cut from Crown Lands should bear the stamp "N. B." three or four times on each end of the log.
5th.—That these Surveyor Generals should be paid a salary of not more than $2,000 each per year together with office and travelling expenses.
6th.—That these Surveyor Generals of logs and lumber should employ a sufficient number of competent and qualified men who would be deputized to do the work in their respective districts, and to keep these men employed of not more than $80 each, together with legitimate travelling expenses, and that the men should be under the sole control of the Surveyor Generals of their respective districts, and authorized to scale or survey all logs and lumber coming from Crown Lands, and to scale all logs and lumber upon request of the parties. And that these men shall keep a correct set of books for the safe keeping of the records of all logs coming from any lands. And that these books shall be delivered to the Surveyor General's office from time to time as often as is necessary for the progress of the work.

Inspector of Scales.
7th.—That there shall also be appointed an inspector of scales for each district whose duty it shall be to see that the scaling and other work assigned to the deputies shall be properly done.
8th.—That there shall be no averaging or taking account of logs, but that the Surveyor Generals and their deputies shall make a full and complete scale of every log. And that he shall place his scale mark on each and every log. That he or they shall scale no logs that are not properly marked, and both ends stamped with a stamp to be furnished to the loggers by the Surveyor Generals, who shall charge for their stamps.
9th.—That all settlements for stumpage, boomsage, contracts between all parties, shall be subject to the scale made by this Surveyor General's office and none other, but in case of a dispute over the scale the Surveyor General may order either of his deputies to re-scale the work in dispute or the contesting parties may select any of the deputy scalers to do the work, but such re-scale shall be paid for by the parties requesting same.

10th.—That the fee for scaling all logs landed in the woods, on the banks of streams, railways or other places, shall be five cents per thousand feet, payable to the Surveyor General of each district for which the logs are cut; and that the price of log stamps shall be $1.00 each. That the fee for registering each log mark shall be $1.00. Examining records, etc., shall be open to the free inspection of everyone interested.

11th.—That the fee for scaling logs in the booms or rafts shall be five cents per thousand feet, and one cent in addition where the scaler is obliged to roll logs in the water to find the marks.
To Patrol Forests.
12th.—Every surveyor General of logs and lumber shall also with his deputies be fire warden and it shall be their duty when not otherwise employed to patrol the forests at certain intervals to see that the forests are protected from fire. Each deputy shall be assigned to him by the Surveyor General during the summer months certain patrol limits, and it shall be his duty to carefully watch his district against fire.

13th.—I would appropriate the sum of at least $10,000 per year for the next ten years for the purpose of surveying into townships, ranges and sections in the places most needed each year, of our Crown Lands from which logs are being cut.

14th.—In summing up the management in this way of our 9831 square miles Crown Lands 6,387,840 acres I would say that the expenses of this system would amount approximately to the following fees:—
2nd. Two Surveyor Generals of logs and lumber per year and expenses . . . 5,000
3rd. A force of 30 Deputies at $1,000 per year including expenses 30,000
4th. Two clerks for Surveyor General's Office at $1,800 3,600
5th. Two Estimators or timber inspectors at $2,000 per year including expenses 4,000
Total expenditure per year . . . $50,800

This sum and force of men should provide a full and complete protection for our forests and also do a lot of other work for other parties who would require service from this office.

Receipts.
Millage as per other years $ 79,000
Stumpage on 12,000,000 ft. instead of present scale of 136,000,000 ft. at $1.25 per thousand 343,750.00
Scaling fee for boomsage &c., on 100,000,000 5,000.00
at 5 cents 12,750.00
Scaling for other parties and corporations say 100 million woods and boomsage at 10 cents 10,000.00
Expenses brought down . . . 451,500.00
Total receipts $400,700.00
Total receipts under old regime from tops and timber &c. $250,000.00

Which means an increase of $150,700.00
so our revenue each year over and above the old regime and in ten years would total one and one-half million dollars of a saving.

The above figures are approximately a correct estimate of what may be accomplished in other words a full and complete survey of all the crown lands of this province and a collection in full for full stumpage scale with a good force of competent and qualified men and making a saving above named.

Every Log.
I would with this system scale every log. I would have no averaging, and would have satisfied the people, satisfied lumbermen and contractors. The above plan is my plan and I come with it willing to defend it to the utmost as being worthy of honorable consideration. The only modification I would have put upon it, is that there should be more strict measures used in the scale. If necessary for a correct work I would have every log numbered, fast as scaled and a record kept of it, so that it holds as a complete check upon the scaler and all other parties concerned.
The 34 scalers employed in the past are paid as per Crown Land report of 1906, page 8, $11,328.21, or $332.18 each on an average. And the work performed by them being in the winter does not amount to four months for each man at the most. A scaler should easily travel from one camp to the other and scale 100,000 feet per day and be on every man's landing at least once a week. In doing this he would be able to scale 10,000,000 feet in four months being the winter. The logger should be compelled to land their logs in such a way that scalers coming to their landings once a week could see and scale every log, and if the scaler could not find or see the logs, to so report, but that in any event the logs scaled, to be bought and sold in accordance with the scale made by the office. The scaler should also be allowed to classify the logs. The logger should cut all his logs to the standard lengths—12, 14, 16, 18, 20 and 22 feet, and all logs 24 feet and over in length should be scaled and marked as now.

I might add that this system is now and has been in use in the State of Minnesota for many years, and has proved to be entirely satisfactory.

BOY QUAERED FOR ENIGMA TO PARENTS

What To Do With Leo Bryan a Problem--Rivals Famous Woovers of History, Declares Magistrate.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Leo Bryan 16 years old, presented his profile yesterday in support of the contention that he is eligible to admission to the Lovers' Hall of Fame. After Magistrate Krotel, in the West Side Court, had heard the testimony of the boy and his father, he said he thought young Bryan belongs to the Lovers' Hall of Fame or in a military school where the exists are closely guarded. His record rivals those of the famous woovers of history. Romeo was never so anxious to meet Juliet that he travelled to Canada on freight trains seven different times. Such was one of the achievements of Bryan's father, Alfred Bryan, of No. 122 West Thirty-sixth street, told Magistrate Krotel that it cost him $300 to equip rescue expeditions in search of his son.

"Since last Christmas," said Mr. Bryan, "my son has been madly in love with his cousin, Jean McGregor, a school teacher in London, Canada. She is 5 years older than he. Seven times has he run away from home and travelled to London by freight train to meet her. When he ran away the first time I didn't know where he had gone, and I advertised for him. After that I always knew that when the child was not at home he was in London. That's all he is—a child—and I want a stop put to this love nonsense."

Magistrate Krotel surveyed the young defendant with disapproval. "My boy," said he, "consider the lovers of the past. You are following in the footsteps of Abelard, who loved Heloise; Pelleas, who loved Meliadine; Ananias, who loved Despatra; Troilus, who loved Cressida; Paolo, who loved Francesca; Paul, who loved Virginia."

"When the matter with the judge" asked the probation officer anxiously. "Hush," said the clerk. "His Honor used to be in the district attorney's office. He's telling the names of some of the old crooks."

"Order in the court," said the magistrate. "I am addressing myself to this impudent young man, who is making a name for himself in love with the daughter of a judge." The defendant who had been gazing steadily out of the window into the poetic landscape of West Fifty-fourth street, suddenly roused himself. "There is nothing in the world like love," he murmured.

"What did I tell you?" his father asked. "He hopes like this all the time. He writes poetry and the girl's name all over everything in the house. He's quit getting his hair cut, and he'll catch his death of cold some night standing out the street in his long hair." There's a military school in Virginia where I hope they'll take some of it out of him.

"I can't sentence a boy to a military school because of his love with a lady five years older than he," said Magistrate Krotel. "Please have a policeman watch him until I can get the firming of the old Mr. Bryan asked.

"I can do that, Policeman Cunliffe, my probation officer, will keep an eye on him."

"Love laughs at locksmiths," sighed Leo. "I'm no locksmith, young man," said Policeman Cunliffe. "I'm an officer of this court, and laughing at me won't do you any good. You'd better wake up and begin laughing at yourself."

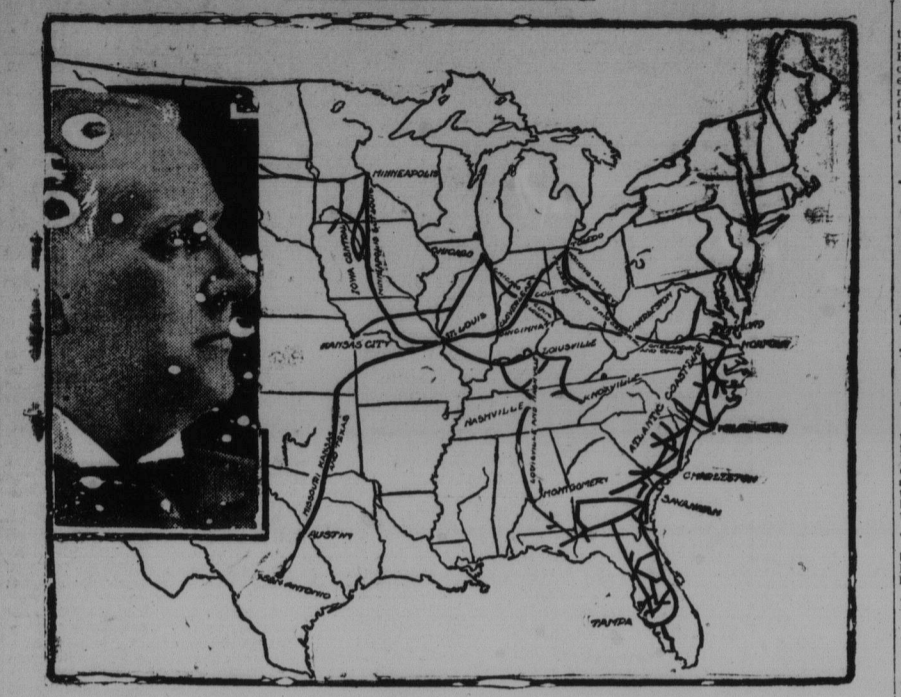

"It is my opinion," said the boy's father, "that the gentleness with which the policeman approached his delicate task, that this procedure may be efficacious."

"Leave him to me," said Cunliffe.

GREEK MUTINY HAS QUITE COLLAPSED
Leader a Fugitive Condemned to Death--Patriots Pursuing the Mutineers, Who Will Be Shot if Caught.

Athens, Nov. 2.—Capt. Mizoules, commanding a battleship squadron, has recaptured the arsenal. The torpedo boat Velos has returned to the arsenal without Lieut. Typlados, who is still missing. One hundred and twenty officers in mufti landed at Rianetto and hid themselves in a wood. Gardemars dispersed them while they were attempting to hold up a train bound for Larissa. Patrols are pursuing the fugitives, and they have been ordered to use their firearms if the mutineers offer resistance. The press severely condemns the mutiny and demands exemplary punishment for the culprits. The loyalty of the Military League and the firming of the Government are highly approved. It is stated that the Military League has sentenced Typlados to death. He is said to have deceived the sailors by saying he held orders for his action from the Military League. In the chamber Friday night a deputy suggested that the leaders of the mutiny be shot, whereupon two other members of the House shouted that the leaders of the former movement should also be shot. The Military League subsequently departed, leaving to arrange these two deputies but the House is taken as an indication that the power of the league is waning.

Edwin Hanley Succeeds To Mantle of E. H. Harriman

EDWIN HAWLEY BLACK LINES SHOW THE HAWLEY RAILROADS.

New Railroad King, With 20,000 Miles of Tracks to Watch Over, Started in Lowly Position, as Did His Predecessor--A Little Man With a Gambler's Keen Face, is the Way His Contemporaries Size Him Up--His Herculean Task.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 2.—"Harriman is dead; long live Edwin Hawley!" "Who's Hawley?" Wall street asked not so many years ago; Wall street, that maestro of finance which never knows a genius until he hobs up with the money that all the rest of the little geniuses have been after.

But Wall street once curious about the man, now takes its hat off to him. When the "wizard" died, people who are big in the railroad world naturally looked around for his successor. A few timid guesses were made. Hawley might be the man, but the guesses were squelched.

Then, the other day, the country was astounded to learn that Hawley had gotten control of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, the "Katy" railroad, right from under the noses of the men who thought they owned it.

This road, one of the most desirable properties in the southwest, provided Hawley at once with an outlet for his other roads to the Gulf of Mexico, and gave him the great and rich southwest to draw on for freight to the north and east.

Hawley is known to his friends as the "bachelor of Broad street." His office, high up in the Broad Exchange Building, has been a center of speculation and financial strife in the past. Hawley, himself, lacking sentiment, can see farther in business than any other big railroad man in the country. He is one of the few who, coming from the east, went out west to make a name for himself, then came back to New York as a master.

His Early Life.
Born in 1850 in Chatham, N. Y., he went at 16 to New York, with a carpet bag full of shirts and a strong determination to be a railroad man. He got a job as an Erie road messenger, worked up to be a bill of lading clerk with the Rock Island, and then Collis P. Huntington, of California, discovered him.

Thereafter Hawley was Huntington's right-hand man till the latter's death. He got into a controversy with Harriman over the Southern Pacific. Speyer and Hawley, fortunes together, he is able to do almost anything in the railroad world.

As it is, he controls nearly 20,000 miles of road, with a capitalization of over $400,000,000. Hawley is a little man—about five feet tall. His face is smooth, his eyes intensely bright, his hair steely gray. He speaks almost in a whisper; his talk is direct.

Looking at him on the street, one would be tempted to call him a typical successful gambler. His is the steel gaze that goes through one like the gaze of a race track speculator, like a man's who takes desperate chances and always wins.

Hawley knows what they don't know—that they are the gamblers and he is the profit-taker. So, no wonder Wall street says:—"Harriman is dead; long live Hawley!"

CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.
The Chesapeake and Ohio, which he got with the help of Henry E. Huntington, a son of his old chief, and several others who believed in him, gave him an ocean outlet.

Then a group of central western capitalists allowed him to get into the Hocking Valley, Toledo and Ohio Central, and the Chicago, Cincinnati & Louisville, the latter a strictly independent road.

THE ACQUISITION OF THE C. & O. gave him other alliances, which enabled Hawley to buy into the Atlantic Coast line and its controlled Louisville & Nashville. In both these railroads he is a powerful influence.

Then came the big "Katy" deal, which Wall street said must have taken a lot of money. Wall street looked around for the source of the money, and found that the tremendous power of the bank house of Speyer & Co. was backing the "bachelor of Broad street."

"What will he do next?" they ask now, because, with the Huntington, Speyer and Hawley, fortunes together, he is able to do almost anything in the railroad world.

As it is, he controls nearly 20,000 miles of road, with a capitalization of over $400,000,000. Hawley is a little man—about five feet tall. His face is smooth, his eyes intensely bright, his hair steely gray. He speaks almost in a whisper; his talk is direct.

DR. A. W. MACRAE.

The death of Dr. A. W. MacRae has produced a general feeling of grief and a common sense of loss. He had for years been concerned in public affairs of the city and seemed to be on the road to a larger career and greater opportunities. In all the activities in which Dr. MacRae engaged he took his place among the leaders. This was due in part to native ability, but not less to remarkable industry and persistence. As a student in early life he obtained distinction by earning it, and a hard student of books and of affairs he continued to be. He reached a prominent position in his profession, especially as a solicitor, by diligence, alertness and knowledge of law and business. In the city council he made himself thoroughly acquainted with municipal history and civic problems. He gave his mind to these questions and accomplished much constructive work by which he will be, or ought to be, remembered. Having a social disposition and an instinct for comradeship, Dr. MacRae became interested in several fraternal or national organizations, and in all of them attained to positions of trust and influence. One reason was that he came to be a high authority on all matters connected with these organizations. In politics, Dr. MacRae began early and took his share in all kinds of legitimate work, on the stump, in the ward committee, in the Junior association and clubs, in the general organization and as a candidate. He was not afraid of any kind of work. If he was of nomination or election, he was not discouraged or made jealous or bitter, and made none of these things an excuse or reason for inactivity. He was ambitious, but not impatient of delays and immediate disappointment, and did not expect to achieve without effort. In everything there was to do he was ready to take his share. Thus by force of his intellect and his ceaseless effort and energy, he worked his way steadily forward, fairly earning every promotion that came to him. Added to superior ability and wide culture, Dr. MacRae had the grace of a kindly and friendly nature. He could make a strenuous fight without exciting personal enmity, and engage in a contest among friends without detraction. Few men in the city had a wider circle of personal acquaintances, as he touched the life of the community at so many points. A generous and liberal-minded man, he would always help others rather than hinder them. Free from sectional and sectarian bigotry, he showed on a recent occasion, that he did not fear to express sentiments of toleration even to an audience, many members of which might dissent from his views. The life that has closed too soon was one of constant and effective industry, of much achievement, and of larger promise, and it is not surprising that there are many to share the grief of an afflicted family.

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC AND IMMIGRATION.

Mention has been made of the selection of Mr. A. Bowdler, a prosperous farmer of St. Mary's, to go to his fellow countrymen in Great Britain and point out to his fellow countrymen the advantages of New Brunswick as a home for British farmers. This is one step in the Government's forward policy in immigration matters. What it shall accomplish remains to be seen, but it is a practical move, and one from which we have a right to expect good results. It should be further stated that the Canadian Pacific Railway, with its usual enterprise and patriotism, is joining with the Government in the effort to procure good British farm settlers. The company is giving Mr. Bowdler free transportation both ways, and is making special passenger rates for all immigrants to this province who use its routes. The company's officers in Great Britain are instructed to give instruction and encouragement to settlers destined for this province just as they would for immigrants bound West. Moreover, the C. P. R. has prepared and issued an excellent and attractive book descriptive of the St. John River Valley and pointing out its advantages as a field for settlement. This literature the company is extensively circulating throughout the British Islands. In other ways, such as the encouragement of industrial enterprise in its New Brunswick field, and in the development of trade with Cuba, this company was quick to appreciate its opportunity and to assist the community knowing of course, that the railway and the province would profit together. The immigration movement will also be of mutual benefit and it is fair to make it known that this great railway company is ready to take its share in promoting the settlement and the trade of the province. The Canadian Pacific is a business organization. It is not surprising that such a public utility should not be operated in a way that will satisfy everybody. Even the railways operated by the people themselves fall far short of doing this. But wherever the Canadian Pacific goes the influence of the organization is used to promote activity in production and in trade. Whatever the people of St. John may think it should do, they admit that it has brought business to the place, and commerce to the port. It is something worth while for a port to be the terminus of such a railway system, and for a province to have the benefit of its co-operation for future development.

VICTORY FOR TAMMANY.

Tammany triumphs. Judge Gaynor is elected mayor of New York. He, of course, denies that Tammany will control him, and this declaration may indicate a sincere determination, but Tammany is satisfied and is not likely to be content with the name of victory. There is still some uncertainty about the election of the Board of estimates, a body which has a good deal of control of the purse. Judge Gaynor is reported to have said that he would not hold the mayor's position if a hostile board should be elected. This statement may be taken with proper seasoning.

While Judge Gaynor has a large plurality his vote is far less than the sum of the votes for the other two candidates. When Hearst threw himself into the field as a protest against the alliance of Gaynor with Tammany, it is probable that he did the thing which made Gaynor's success certain. Had Mr. Hearst and the Hearst press thrown their influence for Mr. Bannard, Republican or fusion candidate, his election might have been accomplished. Instead of dividing the Democratic forces and thus leaving the Republicans with a plurality, Hearst seems to have drawn from the Republicans about as largely as from his own party. Tammany of course stood solid, and gave the only united organization vote that was available. This is the situation as regarded after the event, but when Hearst took the field it was open to each of the three candidates to estimate that the split would be to his advantage. Gaynor might expect that he would hold the vote of the solid machine democracy, while the other elements would be divided between the two. Hearst, with his magnificent self esteem, could figure out that the opponents of Tammany would rally to him from both parties, while Gaynor would get only the Tammany Hall vote, and Bannard only the most bigoted Republicans. Bannard might look for the whole Republican vote leaving the other two to divide the democracy. A three-cornered contest is proverbially difficult to analyze either before or after the contest.

DR. PRINGLE'S REVELATIONS.

Rev. Dr. Pringle said some plain things last evening to the ladies of the W. C. T. U. and the others composing the large audience in the Centenary Church. No one can dispute his doctrine that good laws are needed, but that the best laws are worse than useless if they are not enforced. The illustrations given in support of these doctrines were startling, and would have been more sensational if they had been given by Dr. Pringle for the first time. Canada owes something to this militant preacher. The condition of affairs in the Yukon grew no better while he continued to make protest and exposure in private communications to ministers. Rather the situation grew worse in proportion to the number of people in the country. But when Dr. Pringle despaired of accomplishing anything by private remonstrance, and commenced his public exposure, reformation began. Some of the public criminals were removed, others were frightened into greater decency, and Dawson began to be more like other places. The statement of Dr. Pringle is that the gang of dealers who profited by the vice and shame of the Klondike, and whose influence at Ottawa, compelled the officers to keep their hands off the law breakers, sent $50,000 to the Brandon election fund. The Minister of the Interior was the member for Brandon. Dr. Pringle believes that the exposures he made last evening are among matters that ought to be known. Does any one think otherwise?

MR. GLADSTONE HEARD FROM.

Since Mr. Stead cultivated the acquaintance of "Julia," a creature who communicates with the elect of both worlds, he has steadily increased his intimacy with souls long separated from their mortal abodes. The interview with Mr. Gladstone shows that the grand old man is still quite confident of his own infallibility. Mr. Gladstone's verbosity has increased in his present surroundings. Precision of statement was never his strong point, and though he now advises it in others he does not set the example. But the fire and force, the picturesque rhetoric, the splendid invective which Mr. Gladstone used in this world is no more. He has become dull, his language is cumbersome. He has nothing interesting to offer. Has a spirit from the other world nothing more common to say than "the land proposals obtain my support, but with the licensing clauses I am only partially in sympathy." Some of the causes are too crudely constructed. Some compromise by the Government is desirable. I am distinctly in favor of a second chamber. Let the nation not be narcotized by the nostrum of tariff reform. It is interesting to know that Mr. Gladstone will as far as possible throw himself into the conflict, and it would be important to know how far he was permitted to precipitate himself into Bermondsey.

SIR JAMES WHITNEY'S DECLARATION.

Premier Whitney of Ontario has at various times rather annoyed the advanced temperance agitators by the abrupt way in which he has expressed his dissent from their views. He has stood by the three-fifths clause in his local option act, and still holds that it is in the interests of the temperance, as it requires a strong temperance sentiment to adopt prohibition, and an equally strong anti-prohibition sentiment to remove the prohibition when once proclaimed. But while adhering to his opinion on this matter, Sir James Whitney has now expressed a strong desire to do something that will be of permanent effect in reducing the evils of strong drink and ultimately of bringing these evils to an end. The Premier of Ontario is a sincere man who does not talk sentiment and vote machine politics. So when he says in this connection that there has come to him "a longing to do something that will be of lasting advantage," his words are taken seriously, and people are wondering what he proposes to do.

Mr. Graham holds the record for incapacity as Minister of Railways. He has not even made an effort to acquaint himself with the road or its needs or the requirements of the business public who give it traffic. Beyond a day or two he has spent no time on the railway, and his visits to the headquarters and terminal points were of the most casual nature.—Moncton Times.

Calgary has succeeded in raising the $50,000 required for Y. M. C. A. development. At the same time Boston raised $50,000 needed for new establishments. There is plenty of money in all countries for this kind of work if the people who have it can only be interested in the enterprises.

It is only in the western part of the province that the Canadian Pacific can derive much benefit from the closest settlement. The Government Railway gets the chief part of the traffic of eastern New Brunswick. The Standard does not need to say that the Intercolonial is making no special effort for provincial development or for the settlement of the eastern part of the province.

The Nova Scotia Mining Society proposes to perpetuate the memory of the late Mr. Hugh Fletcher of the Geological Survey. The memorial is to be a mining and geological library, to be placed in the new Technical College at Halifax.

While the official inquiry into the wreck of the Hestia is held privately, the third mate of the ship has made a statement of grave import. It is a statement that seems to call for public explanation.

Mr. Silas Hocking, the well known novelist, will be a Liberal candidate for Coventry in the Imperial general election.

KANSAS TREES ARE TRACED TO THE POETS

Catalpa Planting Inspired by School Lessons of the Sod House Era—A Coming Industry.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 2.—In no part of the United States perhaps has literature had a greater influence on the people than in the western third of Kansas. It seems certain that this region of 40,000 square miles, once in the heart of the great American desert and now a land of wheat fields and alfalfa meadows, is the beautiful with forests and groves of catalpa trees. The influences which have caused the people of the western third of this State to beautify the landscape with trees came from the public schools. The children in the sod schoolhouses of the plains twenty-five years ago were taught to read and recite the poems of Bryant, Whittier and others. Children who had never seen a grove or forest of great trees were delighted with the stories of Irving and of the tales of Bryant, Whittier and others. All they knew of the world was the broad expanse of prairie land in which they lived. In hundreds of these early schools Bryant's classic, "The Groves Were God's First Temples," was recited on each Friday afternoon. State Superintendent Fairchild and other educators of Kansas declare that it is owing to this class of literature in the schools of western Kansas more than any other cause that the children of twenty-five years ago, now grown to manhood, are turning to the practice of tree planting, forming a prairie country into a land of groves and forests. The growing of Catalpa trees is to become an industry of great profit to the region, besides beautifying the homes of the people. It has already advanced beyond the experimental stage and its success from a financial standpoint is assured. Land owners are this year, more than ever before, turning their attention to the cultivation of this tree.

ANOTHER QUEER TITLE FROM WM. DE MORGAN

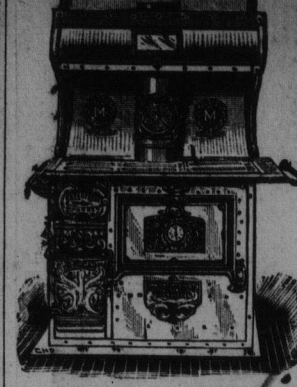

Famous Author's New Book Labors Under the Name "It Can Never Happen Again"—The Writers' Lineage. London, Nov. 2.—"It Never Can Happen Again," the title of Mr. William De Morgan's forthcoming new book, is a reminder that Mr. De Morgan has a liking for queer titles, as witness his "Alice For Short" and "Somehow Good." Mr. De Morgan's career as a novelist is an encouragement for the faint-hearted, who see the years go by and fear that if you would write well you must write young. He was sixty-seven before he published a novel, and he has written one a year since, all of which have been warmly received by the public. Mr. De Morgan, above all, really comes from a race of mathematicians and actuaries. His father was the famous Augustus de Morgan, whose mathematical works are still highly esteemed. But it is not so well known that his maternal grandfather, William Fend, who was expelled from Cambridge for heretical opinions, was second Wrangler and Smith's prizeman. His maternal grandfather, William Fend, who was expelled from Cambridge for heretical opinions, was second Wrangler and Smith's prizeman. PARLIAMENTARIANS A SHOCKING BAD LOT

London, Nov. 2.—The Book of Common Prayer of the Church of England prescribes a petition for the Houses of Parliament "at this time assembling." When only one house is sitting, as at the present moment, clergy-men who are sticklers for precision are apt to debate whether the prayer for the "Houses of Parliament" should be given. Dr. Brodrick, the late warden of Merton College, Oxford, used to tell a story of which the hero would certainly have voted for giving the one house sitting the benefit of the prayer. One Sunday morning Dr. Brodrick was attending service in a Yorkshire noorland church. When the proper time came for the collect on behalf of Parliament the parson paused, leaned over the old-fashioned three-decker reading desk and asked the clerk in a loud whisper:—"Is Parliament sitting?" "I don't know? Why do you want to know?" returned the clerk. "Shall I say the prayer for them?" rejoined the rector. "Well," said the clerk in a confidential tone, "able to the whole congregation. 'I think you had better pray for them. They are a shocking bad lot.'"

SARAH BERNHARDT OUT WITH A PLAY

Famous Actress Spends Summer Writing Play Instead of Resting as Friends Supposed—Title Not Yet Known. London, Nov. 2.—Last summer, as usual, Madame Sarah Bernhardt was supposed to be taking a holiday in her Brittany sea-girt castle of Belle Isle. But it now appears that this lady, who is an example of energy for present and future generations, rested at the seaside by writing a play, after having acted eight or nine times a week in other persons' plays steadily during the previous eleven months. The piece is in four acts, and comprises about forty characters. It is to be brought out at the Theatre des Arts. In the absence of his mother, who is indefatigably touring, M. Maurice Bernhardt gives these particulars of the play. The title has not yet been decided upon. The authorship will be back in a fortnight or so to superintend the rehearsals. Madame Sarah Bernhardt, who in her day has painted, sculptured, written memoirs, tamed tigers, and has in fact left no branch of human activity untouched, has composed plays before. "Adrienne Lecouvreur" in particular, in which she appeared in London, preferring her own version of the actress's history to the earlier one by Scribe.

Few smokers among THE ENGLISH WOMEN But One Firm of Tobacconists Knows of One Who Smokes a Pipe—Discards Cigarettes in Favor of a Briar.

London, Nov. 2.—A statement that the cigarette habit is fast being replaced by a general use of cigars in fashionable feminine circles in England is not confirmed by cigar merchants in the West End of London. The majority of them ridicule the idea that cigar smoking either is or ever will be general among women, as they are not fitted constitutionally for the practice.

A., Rhode scholar and noted athlete, lectured before the pupils in the High School yesterday afternoon, taking for his subject "English University Life." Mr. Porter made the basis for his remarks an "Oxford Student's Day Programme," and in an interesting manner explained the difference in university life in England and America. He paid a high tribute to the standard of fair play that is characteristic of English sport in referring to the high standard attained by the Rhodes' scholars from this country; the speaker said that three things were necessary in order to become eligible for a scholarship. A fellow must be a good student, he must be a good athlete, and must have a high moral character. A Cobweb Social. A cobweb social and entertainment was held last evening in Charlotte street United Baptist church under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. The object of the function was to call the members together previous to re-organization which will take place the first of next week. After the cobweb was unravelled and prizes distributed, Rev. M. E. Fletcher took the chair and an extensive programme, consisting of music, solos, and recitations, was carried out. Mr. Geo. A. Whittaker, Vice-president of the Provincial League, was then called to the platform, and gave an inspiring address on "Christian Friendship." Mr. Edgar Campbell, secretary of the League, spoke on "C. E. Officers' Duties." At the close refreshments were served and the entertainment closed with the singing of the National Anthem. There was a large attendance.

HESTIA'S SURVIVOR HERE TELLS OF IDENTIFICATION OF BODIES

Tragedy Of Wreck Came Home To John Mackenzie When He Saw Mutilated Remains Of Fellow Seamen—Personal Effects Of Victims Brought To City And Will Be Sent To Scotland—Ships Papers Not Recovered.

"I did not realize what a tragedy the wreck was until I was called upon to identify the bodies which were washed ashore," said John Mackenzie, the first survivor from the wreck of the Donaldson Line steamer Hestia to reach the city, who came across the bay in the steamer Yarmouth yesterday and was interviewed by a Standard reporter last evening. "He was the only survivor who was on deck when the steamer struck and the only one who could give a complete account of what occurred on board. He was taken to Yarmouth on the Lord Kitchener and assisted Second Engineer Morgan in identifying the bodies. "Ship's Papers Not Recovered. "They were our comrades," said Mr. Mackenzie "and it was hard to see their lifeless bodies, many disfigured and almost unrecognizable. The waves had beaten their faces terribly. Captain Newman was not mutilated though his face was discolored. The ship's papers were not found on him, and it is thought they were washed away. I attended the funeral service and I will never forget the lowering of the bodies into one large grave. Seaman Mackenzie brought with him yesterday in a big tin box all the personal effects taken from the bodies washed ashore and left them in the care of Mr. H. C. Schofield. There was an interesting collection of letters, pocketbooks, knives, pipes, etc., all significant of the latest tragedy of the sea. The articles will be returned to the bereaved families in the old country. Second Engineer Morgan has remained in Yarmouth for the purpose of identifying any additional bodies which may be recovered. Seaman Mackenzie so far is the only survivor who has been in the city. Salvage Work Difficult. An arrival on the water front yesterday was the schooner Ethel, from Grand Manan, commanded by Captain Lorne Wilson, who led one of the crews which took the six survivors off the wreck. Capt. Wilson's son said last evening that the work of salvage was not progressing very favorably when he left the island. All that was taken from the steamer on one day were some bales of wire. The seas are still running high around the wreck and Mr. Wilson believes that there was little use attempting salvage. He had taken off a keg of pickles, he said, and a few minutes later they were stolen by a Beherman from another dory. Captain Lugar is still in the city but will probably not open the inquiry before the last of the week.

MANY EXPRESSIONS OF SYMPATHY AT DR. MACRAE'S DEATH

News Came As Great Shock—Arrangements By Many Organizations Made Yesterday To Attend Funeral Tomorrow

Expressions of heartfelt sympathy at the loss sustained by the city and province in the death of Dr. A. W. MacRae were widespread yesterday. The news came as a great shock to a great many who had little idea his illness was of a serious nature. Though arrangements for the funeral tomorrow afternoon are not yet completed it has been decided that the body will be taken to St. Stephen's church at 3.30 o'clock for a short service and that the members of the various fraternal organizations of which Dr. MacRae was a member will march in the procession. Owing to his high standing in the order, the Orangemen will probably take precedence and may have Rev. A. A. Rideout, grand chaplain, to conduct the full grave service at the grave. The Royal Foresters and the Black Knights Preceptory will furnish a guard of honor. Meetings Last Evening. A meeting of the Orangemen of the city was called last evening by the County Lodge to discuss the arrangements for the funeral and it was decided to call all Orangemen to meet at the hall, German street, at 2 o'clock on Thursday. Headed by the Artillery Bandy they will proceed to St. Stephen's church where the procession will be formed. Col. A. J. Armstrong, Hon. Robert Maxwell, M. P. P., Mr. N. J. Morrison and Ald. J. King Kelley were appointed a committee to draw up a resolution of sympathy. The Orangemen will appear in full regalia and representatives of the Grand Lodge, County Lodges and District Lodge will follow the band. Havelock Lodge will lead the subordinate lodges with their banner and the St. John County Scarlet Chapter and the Trinity and Queens Black Knights Preceptory of Ireland will also be in line. The Royal Foresters also held a meeting yesterday and after deciding to join in the obsequies sent a communication to the Orangemen with regard to a joint guard of honor. This matter has not yet been finally arranged. Members of the subordinate lodges of the I. O. F. are also notified to turn out in regalia and the Knights of Pythias will be in line, though arrangements are not yet complete. Brethren of the Masonic order and Dr. MacRae's fellow members of St. Andrew's society will also march in the procession. A meeting of the Barristers' Society has been called for this morning at which a resolution of condolence will be passed.

PERSONAL. Mrs. Thos. F. Drummond (nee Knight) will be at home to her friends on Friday, November 5th, afternoon and evening, at 38 Hinch St. Grand Master Dr. H. S. Bridges and Grand Secretary J. Twining Hart, left last evening for Edmundston, where they will dedicate the new Bethel Lodge, F. and A. M., and install officers. Rev. John Pringle will speak in St. Stephen's Church school room this evening. Mrs. Daniel Mullin entertained at a large coming out tea for her sister, Miss Gertrude Debury yesterday afternoon. The guests were received by Mrs. Mullin and Miss Debury. Mrs. Wm. E. Vroom and Mrs. Wm. Hazen, presided at the tea table. On inquiry last evening it was learned that the condition of Mr. G. F. Barnes was much improved. Word reached the city yesterday that Col. H. H. McLean who recently underwent an operation in the hospital in Baltimore was very much improved. Mr. O. F. Clark who was taken to the General Public Hospital on Monday will undergo an operation today at 10 o'clock.

TO SERVE WRITS ON CRITICS OF POLICE COURT JUDGMENTS

Judge Ritchie Scores Attitude Of People Not Familiar With The Law—J. D. Driscoll Is Fined $100. In the police court yesterday afternoon James D. Driscoll, proprietor of the Hotel Edward, was found guilty of illegal selling of liquor and the magistrate fined him $100. In delivering judgment Judge Ritchie remarked that he heard that some people were criticizing his judgment in the vicinity of the bandstand the other day. They were people who were not familiar with, and perhaps had never read the law. "In the future," added His Honor, "any person I hear of criticizing my judgments, I will have a writ served upon, if I can find a lawyer to undertake the case."

FAVORS DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH TO CONTROL MEDICAL INSPECTORS

Dr. W. F. Roberts Gives Practical Address Before Centenary Y. M. C.—Resolution Urging Appointments. In Centenary parlors last evening Dr. W. F. Roberts delivered an address to the Centenary Young Men's Club on "Medical Inspection in the Public Schools." The chair was taken by Mr. H. V. McKinnon, president of the club. There was a good attendance. A resolution was unanimously adopted urging the importance of appointing public health officers to report on existing conditions and enforce such regulations as are available. Dr. Roberts in the course of an interesting and practical address, spoke strongly in favor of the organization of a department of health in the provincial government. "Under this system, he contended, medical inspectors could be appointed in every city and town in the province and in rural districts, each municipality could have a doctor appointed for the same purpose. Under the provincial government the same power could be exercised as with the existing department of education. A general discussion followed, in which Dr. G. G. Melvin, Dr. J. C. Mott and others took part. The Resolution. Before the meeting adjourned the following resolution was unanimously adopted: Whereas, under the existing system of civic administration, insufficient attention is given to the public health and by reason of this neglect conditions are developed which cannot be otherwise than injurious to the community; And whereas, in view of the importance of properly safeguarding the people in their homes and in institutions of a more public nature, it is important that a modern system of inspection be introduced; Therefore resolved, that in the opinion of Centenary Young Men's Club it is advisable that steps be taken as speedily as possible toward the appointment of such public health officers as may be required, and that duties shall be to investigate and report upon whatever conditions detrimental to public health may exist and enforce such regulations as are available in dealing with these conditions; And further resolved, that in this work the modern plan of medical inspection in the schools, which is of great importance, should have early and favorable consideration with a view to its introduction; And further resolved, that copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Common Council, the Board of Schools Trustees, and the St. John Medical Society.

With Your Mind on Winter Overcoats, Visit This Store Right Away. YOU WILL FIND WHAT INTELLIGENT TAILORING can do in producing Overcoats that most men want as soon as they slip inside of one. There is individuality and style in the Overcoat for this winter. One for instance, is an ample and long coat, with full and graceful box back—the sort of coat that will fit men of two or three sizes and look equally well on each of them. Others are made of heavy tweeds, button to neck with turndown collar. And, in all these coats, there is no frillsness. They are gentlemen's apparel. Prices for these ready-for-service Overcoats range from $10 to $35. GILMOUR'S, 68 KING STREET. "A GOOD PLACE TO BUY GOOD CLOTHES"

UNEEEDA BISCUIT. Biscuit are more than mere soda crackers. They are a distinct individual, food article, made from special materials, by special methods, in specially constructed bakeries. They are sealed in a special way which gives them crispness, cleanliness and freshness which "crackers" from the paper bag always lack. They are the nation's accepted. 5c. National Biscuit Co.
