

KILLED GIRL BECAUSE SHE REFUSED LOVE

Sensational Evidence Given at Trial of Newman Clark for Murder at Grand Falls.

"SEE WHAT I HAVE DONE" PRISONER SAID

"Why Did I Kill My Darling" He Wailed When Doctor Came to His Side.

Special to The Standard. Andover, N. B., Nov. 30.—Presenting a picture of indifference to his surroundings crouched in a chair, his eyes closed and apparently oblivious to all that was going on Newman Clark sat in the prisoner's dock today and listened to an array of evidence connecting him up with the murder of Phoebe Bell at Grand Falls on the afternoon of March 25th. The grand jury returned a true bill against Clark this morning, and at the afternoon session a jury was empanelled and the case taken up.

Eye Witnesses There.

The Crown case is a strong one and witnesses were produced who were practically eye observers of the shooting and the subsequent attempt of Clark to commit suicide. The story as revealed today finds Clark, Phoebe Bell, the victim, Claude Murphy and Mrs. Ida Carney, whose name was Miss Ida Pelletier at the time of the murder, celebrating a birthday party at the latter's home on the evening of March 24th. Clark was an invited guest and proceeded to the party were not strictly harmonious.

The following afternoon, March 25th, the day of the tragedy, the same four met at the home of Mrs. Herbert Woods, in Grand Falls.

The Fatal Quarrel.

From the story told on the stand today by Mrs. Carney, the jury learned that the party played baseball for a short time in the yard adjoining the Wood home. About three o'clock they entered the house, went into the setting room when they had music song and dance. After a short time Phoebe Bell went into a bedroom to dress. Clark followed and some words talking took place. Clark was heard to ask Miss Bell to become his wife. She said: "I will not." Previous to this the two had entered into a little quarrel because Miss Bell thought Clark was making fun of her and laughing at her she was heard to say "This is the last time you will laugh at me."

Admits the Shooting.

After her refusal to marry him the witness, who was in the adjoining room heard three shots in succession. She and one Claude Murphy jumped to their feet, near the door peered in the room and saw Phoebe Bell lying on the bed with a bullet hole in her head. Clark stood then with revolver in his hand. He came toward the two and said "Don't be afraid. See what I have done. I killed the girl because I could not have her as my wife. Now if you want to see me go, look at me," with that he rolled back his shirt exposing the gun to his breast. Witness said she then ran out, but heard shots two in all.

A Second Witness.

The story of Mrs. Carney was corroborated by the testimony of Murphy who revealed that after firing one shot at himself in the bedroom the accused ran out of the house and fired two more. Provincial Constable McLaughlin told of being called to the scene and described the position the body was in and also said that Clark was lying in a pool of blood on the kitchen floor. The officer also told of finding the revolver with two empty cartridges and one loaded. The previous witness had told of three empty cartridges having been picked up on the bedroom floor before the officer arrived.

ANGUS SHOPS LAY OFF OVER 1,100 WORKERS

Labor Leaders of Montreal Say Steel Workers of the City Have Little Work.

Montreal, Nov. 30.—Reports made to headquarters of the labor unions here yesterday stated that 1,100 workers had been laid off temporarily at the Angus shops. These reports were confirmed by J. T. He could not say how many had been laid off nor for how long a period.

Wilson To Mediate In Armenian Case By Moral Powers

President of U. S. Accepts Offer Made Last Week by League President.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—President Wilson has accepted the invitation of the League of Nations to act as mediator in the Armenian situation. Mr. Wilson already has consented to fix the boundary lines of Armenia and he now has before him special reports on that subject. There has been no indication, however, when he will complete this work.

DELEGATES INSIST UPON FAIR TREATMENT

Japs Say They Wish to Train Their Young Men to Take Part in World Events.

Geneva, Nov. 30.—Addressing the Assembly of the League of Nations today Viscount Ishii, head of the Japanese delegation, referred to the position taken by the Japanese delegation at the peace conference. "It was to the poignant regret of the Japanese Government and people," he said, "that the framers of the covenant were unable to accept the Japanese proposal that equality before the law should be assured to all men irrespective of their nationality, race or religion."

The Japanese View

The Japanese delegates declared they would continue their insistence for the adoption of their just demand by the League. In view, however, of present circumstances Japan is strongly persuaded that the League is as yet in a stage when the consolidation of its organization should be accorded greater attention than questions that might involve revision of the covenant.

Viscount Ishii referred to the great size of the Japanese delegation and said that this should be taken as evidence of the real interest of his country in the League. The Japanese, he said, desired not only to have all the needed expert advice, at hand but wanted to educate their young men for participation in the world's work.

A. J. Balfour, of the British delegation, pointed out an increase in the number of official languages, and he praised the course of the League in withdrawing as had been announced, its demand that the Spanish be put on the same footing as English and French in the League's proceedings. Narciso Soler, of Panama, followed with an explanation of the demand of the Spanish-speaking countries for the recognition of their language, which the Latin-American republics he said, regarded as granted as an inheritance from the mother country.

Biazes Are in Revenge for Kidnapping and Slaughter of British Officers.

Cork, Nov. 30.—The odor of charred or smouldering wood pervades Cork and Patrick street, the principal thoroughfare of the city, in unity with the bulging debris of fire-wrecked houses.

Since Friday the sky nightly has been lighted by the glare of incendiary fires, which have destroyed a dozen large business buildings, causing losses estimated at about $1,500,000.

Early today a second unsuccessful attempt was made to burn the city hall, which recently was badly damaged by a bomb explosion and fire. No less than five Sinn Fein clubs have been destroyed.

Fires and Reprials

The present series of conflagrations followed warnings that reprisals would take place until three army officers kidnapped recently from a train at Waterfall were returned unharmed. A report which has not been confirmed, is to the effect that the bodies of all three of the officers were found in a field near Waterfall.

The fire brigade, when responding to an alarm Sunday night, was fired upon by parties of masked uniformed men. Consequently the firemen felt to venture forth, and when a Sinn Fein club was set on fire today, they refused to leave their quarters until the protection of two lorries loaded with soldiers was afforded them.

Start With Bombs. The fires usually have been started with incendiary bombs and petrol in buildings, the owners or occupants of which are believed to be Sinn Fein. Not infrequently the fires have spread to adjoining property.

Explosions and fusillades from rifles and revolvers almost invariably result in a terrifying overtime and accompanying loss of life.

As a result of these fearful nightly deeds, Cork has become a city of nerves. Business is almost at a standstill, and many persons are afraid to travel abroad, even in daylight. Large numbers of the townfolk have left Cork for less troubled districts.

EFFECTIVE AT BORDER AFTER DECEMBER 15

Ocean Trade Will Not be Concerned With New Rule Until January 1.

(Continued from page 1) The new regulations come into effect along the international boundary on the fifteenth of December next, and at ocean ports on January 1. They do not apply to other classes of immigrants than those specifically mentioned, nor to tourists, travellers or returning Canadians.

At the Border.

New York, Nov. 30—Representative Isaac Siegel, of New York, a member of the House Committee on Immigration, declared in a statement here today that immigration laws go unenforced along part of the Canadian border and that they cannot be carried out rigidly until the inadequate, underpaid force of inspectors and other employees is bolstered up.

Low Salaries, Long Hours. "Employees of the Immigration Department are discontented because of long working hours, low salaries and other unpleasant conditions, and many are resigning," he added.

Stressing the importance of the gates to the north, he pointed out that 12,000,000 persons pass to and from Canada and the United States annually. Despite the law requiring each immigrant to undergo examination, there was only one doctor at Montreal to inspect 700 Italian, who recently arrived there, anxious to enter the United States. Mr. Siegel said, "The best examining them November 27 and is still at it."

PROHIBITION ONLY CONCERN OF ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

Are Not Behind the Movement for Partial Sunday Laws.

(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger)
Washington, Nov. 30.—The anti-saloon league of America is in no way party to the proposed nation-wide drive for the enforcement of laws for strict observance of the Sabbath and other moral reforms, Wayne B. Wheeler, attorney for the league, said today. His organization was confining itself strictly to prohibition, he added.

"We have 475 different varieties of tall ends to take care of now," Mr. Wheeler said. "We have lots to do without engaging in some other movement."

The sale of so-called patent medicines in which the alcoholic contents takes effect before the drugs therein, he said, was occupying the prime attention of league officials now.

ONE BULLET GOT TWO DEER

Swanson, N. H., Nov. 30.—The killing of two deer with a single bullet is reported by Marshall Hill, of this town. Hill fired at a large buck which immediately bolted. When he reached the spot where the buck had stood he found that he had killed a doe. Following the trail a short distance, the hunter came upon the body of the buck. The bullet had passed through the neck of the buck into the head of the doe.

FARMERS' PHONE COMPANY WILL CHARGE MORE

Public Utilities Permits Increase of Rate for Carleton County Company.

Fredericton, Nov. 30.—The New Brunswick Board of Commissioners of Public Utilities has authorized a substantial increase in the rates of the Farmers Telephone Co., Ltd., which operates largely in Carleton county. The company is the second largest telephone concern in this province, and made an application for an increase in rates soon after the New Brunswick Telephone Co., which carries on most of the telephone business in New Brunswick had taken similar action, and the commission's decision in the case is of particular interest, because of some of the principles involved.

For instance by the latest decision the Farmers Telephone Company are not permitted to continue allowing subscribers to carry on what is virtually long distance business without charging tolls, it having been formerly permissible for subscribers in Woodstock to call subscribers in Hartland or Florenceville without any additional cost. The company are now told by the commission in effect that they must conduct their business upon recognized principles and raise their revenue in the usual manner.

RUMANIA FAILS TO PAY CLAIMS ON WAR LOANS

Both Great Britain and Canada Fail to Secure Any Cash on Account.

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—The tangled skein of Rumanian affairs is now receiving close study at the hands of both Imperial and Canadian authorities for, from both Great Britain and Canada, Rumania has received large financial advances in the way of credits. What the commitments of Great Britain are is not known here. But in the case of both Great Britain and of Canada, Rumania is asking for extended time in which to meet her interest payments on credits advanced.

Interest Not Met.

The original authorized Canadian credit to Rumania was $35,000,000. Of this sum, Canada has actually advanced $20,571,822, the principal now due by Rumania to the Dominion.

TWO SURVIVORS OF BARGE "PIRE" ARE DISCOVERED

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 30.—Two surviving members of the crew of missing barge W. J. Pire, and the body of a third were found by an Indian searching party near Cape Johnson, Washington, last night, according to a telegram from Chatham Bay, Washington, to the Seattle Merchants Exchange, received today.

The Indians arrived at Chatham Bay today bringing the news of the finding of the two sailors, the message said. They were unable to find any trace of the barge, which when last seen carried 23 persons, including the captain's wife and babe.

In addition there is accumulated interest. The first interest payment fell due on October 1. The amount was $908,536, but the Rumanian Government has not met it, and interest due will amount to $1,475,234. Under the terms of the agreement both principal and interest have to be paid off by December 31, 1924.

Heavy Meat Eaters Have Slow Kidneys

Eat less meat if you feel Back-achy or have Bladder trouble.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so if no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Collegiate Hockey In The Provinces

After last year's defeat, Mount Allison looked for a strong "come back" this living up to an excellent hockey record—was hard hit by disability rules. Other colleges claim to have an excess of material this year.

That Collegiate hockey in the maritime provinces is about as fast as any played, if not faster, goes without saying. Last year Dalhousie's crack team defeated the Amherst Ramblers, one of the very fastest teams playing amateur hockey in the maritimes. At the play-off in Moncton between Acadia and U. N. B., a very fine exhibition of the winter pastime was also played. Acadia, the winner of this game, was defeated in the play-off with St. F. X. for the Maritime inter-collegiate title. St. F. X. must then have been playing fast hockey indeed.

Mount Allison won the respect of all sporting enthusiasts by the splendid losing game she played last year. She was especially hard "hit" by the intercollegiate eligibility rules which forbid students who have not reached a certain standard in their work to take part in intercollegiate athletics. This was indeed unfortunate for Mount Allison, for she had in the University residence, a team which, if allowed to play, would undoubtedly have been a most formidable contender for the big title. This fact was evidenced when she played this team in an exhibition game with Acadia, winners of the western section. Although the Mount Allison lads had had no practice in their work they easily tied the score. Last year was the first time in ten years that a Mount Allison hockey team did not succeed in defeating a team from Acadia. Conditions, however, are brighter in the Sackville College this year, and the outcome of the Christmas exams, will tell a big tale. Mount Allison is known to possess some "wonder men" on her line-up, and she is being watched with anxiety by the other maritime colleges.

Other Colleges.
Reports from Acadia, King's, St. F. X., and U. N. B. say that these colleges all have an excess of hockey material, and it would be most difficult to judge their respective strengths until they have actually met on the ice. Dalhousie has almost signified her intention to withdraw from the intercollegiate field this winter, claiming that the eligibility rules in respect to graduates will not permit her to play a representative team. At all events intercollegiate hockey in the maritimes will go forward with a rush this winter, and the outcome will be watched with keen interest.

WILL NOT COMPETE.
New York, Nov. 30.—Wm. Plant, U. S. seven mile walking champion, will not defend his title in the annual pedestrian championship contest at Yonkers on Dec. 5, he announced today. Business cares, he said, had prevented sufficient training for the event, and he decided to let it go by default.

N. B. A. A. Ambition May Be Realized

"Drive to the Right" is Being Taken up in Halifax and Looked on Favorably.

The "drive to the right" for the Province of New Brunswick has been requested of the Provincial Government by the New Brunswick Automobile Association for the past few years, and while it has never been made law, it has been the feeling of some government members to award the time when Nova Scotia makes the change. This time appears to be drawing near, according to the following article, which appeared in yesterday's Halifax Herald:

Halifax May Join "Turn to Right" Brigade

Nova Scotia may fall into line with nearly all other provinces of Canada at an early date, in the matter of "the rule of the road." At present traffic in Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and part of British Columbia, as well as the Yukon, turns to the right, which is the case in all the United States. Only the Maritime Provinces on this continent stick to the left side. British Columbia formerly used the left side, but under recent legislation the rule was changed, to come into effect in part of the province this year and in the remainder next year.

Efforts are being made, as was pointed out in the paper recently, to bring the annual convention of the Canadian Automobile Association, and the convention of the Canadian Good Roads Association, which usually meet together, to Halifax next spring, while the provincial legislature is in session. If these two conventions are held, it is expected that at least 1,000 delegates will attend, and that the movement to change the rule of the road in Nova Scotia will receive a great impetus.

It is also proposed, should these conventions come to Halifax, to mark the event by erecting a monument here to mark the eastern end of the trans-Canada highway.

New Brunswick has already passed a law changing to the right side of the road, but is waiting for similar legislation to be passed here before putting it into effect, so that the two provinces may have uniform legislation. Motor leagues everywhere in Canada and the United States are endeavoring to have uniform laws passed in all the states and provinces, not only in regard to side of the road rule, but in speed regulations and other important laws in regard to traffic. It is believed that the Nova Scotia Motor League will have representations to make to the Provincial Legislature at its coming session on this point also.

Police Inspector William J. Sprunt, in charge of traffic regulations in Halifax, says that a change in the rule of the road would be beneficial in this city, owing to the different altitudes of the streets. The difficulty now met with on Upper Water, at the foot of Buckingham, for example, where it was proposed to establish a one-way stretch, would be eliminated if the traffic went to the right instead of the left.

May Shift Big Fight To England

New York, Nov. 30.—In the event that no suitable place can be found in the United States to hold the fourth coming heavyweight boxing championship, between Jack Dempsey, world's champion, and George Carpenter, European title holder, the contest may be held in England, it was reported in generally well informed circles here today.

Neither Tex Rickard, one of the trio of promoters, nor Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, would admit that negotiations had been started to hold the contest abroad, but Kearns said Dempsey's formerly expressed antipathy to going outside the United States had been virtually overcome.

The proposition to shift the fight abroad was said to have been prompted by coolness exhibited by members of the state boxing commission toward holding it in this state. It was admitted that Charles B. Cochrane, the English co-promoter, is tentatively negotiating for a suitable site near London in case plans to hold it in the United States are not consummated.

WILL DEFEND TITLE.

New York, Nov. 30.—Joe Steacher will defend his title here against Ed. "Strangler" Lewis on December 13. It was announced last night. The match will be decided by one fall.

FIGHT SATURDAY NIGHT.

Pharburgh, Nov. 30.—Frankie Schoell, Buffalo, and Ray Fryel, Pittsburg, will box ten rounds here Saturday night, December 4, at Motor Square Garden. Both are lightweights.

Harry Grattan Goes To Woodstock

Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 30.—Harry Grattan, a bay pacer by Grattan Royal, sire of Lady Grattan, 2,094, and other noted performers, was a member of the racing stable of Arthur Faulkner, of Montreal, last spring when his trainer, Raoul Potvin, invaded the Maritime Provinces, but after one start at Moncton, early in July he was sold to J. W. Hall, of Edmundston, N. B. He was then a sick horse, but is now in rugged form again and was recently purchased by Jas. W. Gallagher, of Woodstock, whose horses are this winter in charge of Clarence Shuman, formerly of the Pearl Brook stock farm and last season with the P. H. & G. W. Reed stable of Port Fairfield, Me.

Fred Mitchell Goes To Boston Braves

Boston, Nov. 30.—The appointment of Fred Mitchell who has been leader of the Chicago Cubs for the last three years, as field manager of the Boston Braves was announced by President George W. Grant today. In taking the place of George W. Stallings, Mitchell returns to the team for which he acted as battery coach before going to Chicago.

As Stallings' "right eye" in the sensational rush of the Braves to National League and World Championship honors in 1914, Mitchell was accorded considerable credit for his part in the team's success by his chief. He left the Boston club to become coach of the Harvard Varsity nine, and later became manager of the Cubs. In 1918 Mitchell led the Cubs to the National League title, but the team lost the world series to the Red Sox.

Benny Boynton Scores Most Points

Quarterback of Williams Team Leads Eastern College Football Players.

New York, Nov. 30.—Benny Boynton, quarterback of the Williams team, leads the Eastern college football players in point of individual scoring with a total of 143 points accumulated in eight games of the 1920 season.

Boynton is the only player to pass the 100 mark during the season just closed. French of West Point comes second with 91 points. Mayer of Cornell third with 79 and Kay of Cornell fourth with 72.

Boynton scored 22 touchdowns, French 13, Mayer 11 and Kay 12. Lowell of Williams leads as a goal kicker with 27 goals.

While Boynton easily leads as individual this season he has not established a record. Gilroy of Georgetown scored 164 points in 1916, Ingram, Annapolis scored 162 in 1917.

ENGLISH WIN CRICKET.

Brisbane, Nov. 30.—The touring English cricket team defeated Queensland by an innings and forty-four runs today. The game began on Nov. 27th.

Heydler Will Aid Judge Landis

National League President is Out to Clear the Game of Dishonest Players.

New York, Nov. 30.—John A. Heydler, president of the National League, will aid in every way possible the efforts of Judge Landis, new head of organized baseball to clear the game of dishonest players, he announced in a statement today.

Mr. Heydler said the names of many players had been associated with gossip since the scandal of the 1919 world's series had been uncovered. He has made a list of the names, many of whom are National League players, as well as everyone who could connect with gossip.

"I intend to present them," he added, "as well as certain investigations I have made on the subject, to Judge Landis as soon as he assumes his new office. I am sure the American League and all the minor leagues will pursue a like course, at least, I think they should."

President Heydler mentioned the controversy between Rube Benton, of the Giants and Charles Horzog, of the Chicago Club, the former charging the latter with dishonesty.

"There was no way of arriving at the truth in this case," said Mr. Heydler, "as it was one man's word against another."

"One must be telling a lie," he added, "and that one should have no further part in the game."

ST. JOHN, N. B., WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1920.

THE NOTORIOUS CRAWFORD.

Mr. Lindsay Crawford is an individual who is getting his notoriety-seeking tastes pandered to to a much greater extent than is either necessary or desirable. Except that, perhaps, as a journalist, he is better educated and better informed generally, he really differs little from the ordinary soap-box orator who air their own peculiar views on political questions in parks and other public places for the benefit of all and sundry. An indigent public listens to them good-naturedly as a rule, and passes along with a smile. The advertising that this notoriety seeker has been getting lately has probably invested him with a degree of importance that he could never have achieved by any efforts of his own; it has had the effect of making him appear to be a somebody, when he is in fact the veriest nobody. He came down to these Maritime Provinces to lecture under the auspices of the Self-Determination for Ireland League, but he is no more dangerous a character than any other of the leading spirits in that League. He is engaged in the same seditious-mongering enterprise as they are, and there is not any more need to suppress him than any of the rest of them. They are all in the same boat, all rowing the same way, under the direction of Mr. Eamonn de Valera as skipper.

Last night, however, Mr. Crawford found it advisable to keep his seditious proclivities under control. He was probably warned beforehand that the citizens of St. John would only stand for so much, and he governed himself accordingly. Certain it is that he was extremely circumspect in his remarks. The most astonishing feature of his address is that he asked for nothing more for Ireland than the British Government is quite prepared to give that country. He said that all the people wanted was their Parliament back again. This they can have as soon as they have shown that they can agree among themselves. The Home Rule Bill now before the British Parliament provides for two Legislatures, one for the North of Ireland and the other for the South, with provisions for an amalgamation of these two Houses at the end of six years, if the North and South can adjust their differences so as to make one Parliament representative of all classes.

This, however, is not the programme or policy of the Self-Determination League, which is the creation of De Valera. This man styles himself the President of the Irish Republic, and it is his republican propaganda that the League is pushing. Either Mr. Crawford is at variance with the objects of the League, or he had more sense than to advocate them in this Loyalist City. The latter seems to be the true condition of affairs. What his real views are may be judged from the following quotation from his paper, the Statesman, of November 26th. He says: "To invite Irishmen to accept a partnership in the great Empire the world has even known, at the height of its power" is an insult to the intelligence of the Irish people. Such a partnership in the Union under another name, and to that Union Ireland will never yield a willing assent. What the British Government is offering Ireland now is its own Parliament. This is the "insult," for the Irish, as represented by the Self-Determination League, backed by hyphenated Americans, want a Republic, and nothing less.

Mr. Crawford seems to be able to couple the wisdom of the serpent with the harmlessness of the dove. He was wise enough to realize that if he wanted to avoid trouble here he must be very guarded in what he said. As a consequence his audience only heard half the truth, and doubtless many who were at his meeting went away convinced that he is a very pleasant-spoken, harmless individual. For this reason the efforts which have been made to prevent his speaking here have possibly done more harm than good. He is really a separatist, first, last, and all the time; but, owing to the restraint that he was compelled to put upon himself, he has probably deceived many into the belief that he is not really advocating what he is credited with. He showed his insincerity at any rate, and people should not be lulled into the belief that because he spoke under the auspices of the Self-Determination League, and was so very moderate in his demands, that the League is a comparatively harmless organization. Ireland, an independent nation, is the League's object, and their printed propaganda proves it. And, what is more, the members of the League are brazen enough to admit it.

THE THRONE OF GREECE.

Unless the action of France, Great Britain, and possibly other Allies, with regard to the question of the return of the traitorous Constantine to the throne of Greece, be of a character to strike the imagination of the people of the Hellenic Kingdom and give them pause in their expressed preference, the probabilities are that Constantine will soon be again seated on the throne. So far as the will of the Greek people is concerned, Constantine may consider himself only temporarily absent from Athens with his title to the Hellenic throne unimpaird.

The move is variously regarded throughout the world. The opposition of the Allies is based upon the view that they are not prepared to tolerate the exaltation of men who were the allies of Germany, and in that view they are right.

A prominent American journal sees in the movement a sinister attempt to make the world safe for kings. It says:

"From what is known of the tortuous character of continental strategy, the defeat of Venizelos and the virtual invitation to King Constantine to return to claim his crown and throne, may be interpreted as the first step in the movement to make the world safe for kings once more. Whether the old systems will be restored in their former completeness is immaterial. The one fact to be borne in mind is that restorations of monarchies is by no means out of the question. On the contrary the return of Constantine in what has every appearance of a triumphal entrance over the bodies of his political foes may be taken as the preliminary maneuver."

"The world that has just been made safe for democracy is being 'felt out.' If a little king in Greece can 'come back' there is no insuperable barrier to the return of the greater monarchs—Wilhelm of Germany, Karl of Austria, and one of the Romanoffs in Russia. The odds may appear to be too strongly opposed to such a programme at present, but lines can be changed overnight. Who would have said a week ago that Venizelos, by common consent among the foremost constructive statesmen of the world, would be on the scrap pile today, and King Constantine preparing for a triumphal march into the capital from which he was driven to save his life?"

THE WIGGINS ORPHANAGE.

The Governors of the Wiggins Orphanage have found it necessary to make an appeal to the citizens of St. John and the public generally for contributions to the funds of the institution. It is the first time in the history of the orphanage that such a course has been necessary, a fact which speaks very highly for the management. The cost of maintenance, however, as a result of the enormous increase in prices during the last few years, has unfortunately exceeded the funds available, and the consequence is that the governors find themselves faced with a considerable deficit. We feel that it is only necessary to draw the attention of our citizens to this regrettable condition of affairs for them to unite their purse-strings and help the institution out of its troubles. Few objects are more deserving of support and encouragement than this one, for it is doing an excellent work. Since it was started, a large number of boys have passed through it, and have received an early training that has enabled them to make a good start in life and become good citizens, without which training they, from the circumstances in which they were left, would in all probability have gone to the bad altogether. The sum asked for by the governors ($4,000) is not large, and there should be little difficulty experienced in raising it. Much larger sums have frequently been raised for far less deserving objects. We hope there will be a prompt and generous response to the appeal.

A MODEST PROGRAMME.

The proposed programme of the combined Farmers', Labor and Temperance parties which was laid before the meeting of the representatives of those bodies at Moncton yesterday, while modest, seems to be fairly comprehensive in scope. There are, however, a few trifling matters that appear to have escaped the attention of those who drew up the programme, and were consequently not asked for. They are:

- Houses for all married couples, rent free;
- Total abolition of taxation in all forms;
- Free board and lodging, with money allowance, for all men and women who are out of work;
- Automobiles for everybody; with full gasoline supply brought to the door every morning with the milk;
- All foodstuffs to be provided by the State, also men's clothing.

(Women are getting back to the fashion of the five period so rapidly that the matter of their clothing is merely a negligible quantity.)
 The use of tobacco to be banned, under prison sentence.
 There are also some other trifles that could be mentioned, but it would not be advisable to ask for too much at one time.

The Roman Catholic Bishop of Galway and Kilmacdonagh has written to Sir Hamar Gray, w. l. saying that his life and those of priests of his diocese have been threatened by Government supporters and that the house of one of his clergy had been fired on. A month ago this would not have been accepted. The murder of Father Griffin, of Oranmore, makes it possible to believe anything. That crime ranks with the worst from which men of either side have suffered in the present outbreak. It is because the bloody Sunday of November 21 suggests that sections of Ireland's people are sinking into savagery.

NEW PORTRAITS OF BRITISH STATESMEN

(Mail and Empire.)

A writer who calls himself "A Gentleman With a Dusty" has recently given his impressions of some of the leading British statesmen with whom, one gathers, he has been on rather intimate terms. It is because the story that when he surveys the idea that he is not giving second-hand impressions that his book is being more generally read and discussed in England than most books of the sort, which are free from scandalous revelations. But it cannot be said that his views are greatly different from those generally prevailing, except in some details. For instance, he describes Lloyd George as a man who has had greatness thrust upon him, and who has been given his impressions of some of the leading British statesmen with whom, one gathers, he has been on rather intimate terms. It is because the story that when he surveys the idea that he is not giving second-hand impressions that his book is being more generally read and discussed in England than most books of the sort, which are free from scandalous revelations. But it cannot be said that his views are greatly different from those generally prevailing, except in some details. For instance, he describes Lloyd George as a man who has had greatness thrust upon him, and who has been given his impressions of some of the leading British statesmen with whom, one gathers, he has been on rather intimate terms.

How Lloyd George Works.
 The writer relates an incident not hitherto published of the means by which Lloyd George sometimes gets his end, his ability to turn hard-headed men of affairs to his way of thinking. In the early days of the war there was a certain Mr. Whitehead of Government representatives and the great manufacturers of armaments. The Government wished them to pool their trade secrets in order to increase production. They refused, and it seemed hopeless to persuade them. Then Lloyd George leaned forward in his chair and in a quiet voice said: "Gentlemen, have you forgotten that your sons at this moment are being killed—killed in hundreds and thousands? They are being killed by German guns for want of British guns. Your sons, your brothers—boys at the dawn of manhood—they are being wiped out by life in thousands of German machine guns. Don't think of your trade secrets. Think of your children. Help them. Give me those guns!"

Asquith, after being reformed, says the writer. His voice broke, his eyes filled with tears, and his hand, holding a piece of newspaper, was not a man who heard him who was not deeply touched, and the result was that the trade secrets were pooled, and the supply of munitions hastened. But now we are told, luxury and cynicism have invaded Lloyd George. He is no longer the radical, the reformer. Some think of the same sort has happened to Mr. Asquith. He too, grew soft in power, we are assured. His Puritanism and singleness of purpose fell by the wayside after he became Prime Minister. He is represented as a man of impressive appearance, but moderate ability. "He never had an idea of his own." He would have made a noble judge; he might have been a powerful statesman; he could never have been a great man. It is not easy to understand a man with never an idea of his own could have been a powerful statesman, though it is conceivable he might have been a noble judge.

 Nor does Arthur Balfour impress the anonymous gentleman much more favorably. We are told: "He has said nothing, done nothing, written nothing which lives in the hearts of his countrymen." Politically, he is half fellow with the world, but in private life he sees to it that the world does not enter into the remotest of his long gates. Mr. Balfour is cold, aloof and without emotion. George Wyndham once said of him: "The trouble about Arthur Balfour is this: He knows that there's been one ice age, and he thinks there's going to be another." We do not believe that either "A Gentleman With a Dusty" or Mr. Wyndham does justice to Balfour. Both pass over his great strength of character and his strong sense of public duty and patriotism. It may be that these qualities are taken for granted with British statesmen.

The Knuckle Duster.
 He deals rather more gently with Winston Churchill, and quotes much more favorably. We are told: "You may not like Winston, but he has got the heart of a lion." The three things he loves are war, politics and himself, but he is by no means noisy, shameless, fractious and pushing person. On the contrary, he is at heart a modest man and a delicate and suffering. Lord Robert Cecil, is represented as a man of fine heart and intelligence, but too gentle for the fray. Kitchener is presented with just one great virtue—a stern conception of duty. In the War Office he found it impossible to live up to the legendary figure of himself. He looked almost every grace of the spirit, and in council meetings was reduced to stony dumbness by the brighter spirit of Lloyd George. Winston Churchill. We are told that even in his private life he was parsimonious, even to the point of hinting for pictures, (which are his) to the houses of his friends. It is in this unpleasant portrait that the author reveals himself as the "Gentleman With a Knuckle Duster."

Benny's Note Book

BY LEE PAPE

Yesterday morning pop couldn't find his new overcoat on the hall rack or anywhere else, and pop went down town mad without it and ma telephoned to the policeman station and a policeman without his uniform on rang the bell and rode down off great things, making a lot of mistakes and rubbing them out again with the rubber on the end of his pencil, proving it was a good thing there was one on there, and after he went ma sed, My goodness I hope this doesn't get into the papers, I simply can't stand notoriety.

Do you think if a reporter comes he'll put my picture in too, ma? I sed, and ma sed, Wat in the world for? Meaning he probably wouldn't, and this afternoon a man rang the bell with a expression like a reporter, saying, Mother in, sunny?

Yes, sir, I sed. And he went in the parlor and sat down and I ran up stairs like the dickens, saying, Ma, was you think, ma, there's a reporter in the parlor, will you give him my picture if he asks for it, ma?

O my goodness, this is terrible, well I simply won't tell him a thing, sed, ma. And she went down after her and taking my picture off of the setting room mantel piece in case he might ask for it, ma saying, its no use, I have nothing to say, and the man sed, But madam, and ma sed, Not a word, absolutely not a word, and the man sed, But madam, and ma sed, Im sorry for your trouble but I simply havent a word to say.

Well, Ill leave one of my cards, sed the man. With he did and went out, and ma looked at the card, saying, Wy Benny, the Moor, that was an insurants man, wat did he mean by saying he was a reporter?

He didnt say so, ma, he just looked that way, I sed, and ma sed, Well fortunately its all for the best, because I never would of dared to talk to an insurants man like that and maybe he would of sold me some insurants against my will.

And she went back to her room and I put my picture back on the setting room mantel pece.

"Mother has been at me to use the Nerve Food, but I never liked to take medicine."

"You won't mind using the Nerve Food, for it is so mild and gentle in action that it will not cause you any inconvenience, and you certainly will feel so much better after using it for a few days."

"How long will I have to take it?"
"Oh, you may have to keep up the treatment for two or three months if you want to get your system thoroughly built up. It slowly and certainly improves the quality of the blood so that the nerves and the system generally are nourished back to health and vigor."

"I will get half a dozen boxes to-morrow and go at it in earnest, for I don't want to have a nervous breakdown and spend weeks or months in bed. I am so glad you reminded me about this treatment."

OBITUARY.

Samuel Appleby.
One of the oldest, if not the very oldest of the residents of Wickham, Queens County, N. B., passed away when Samuel Appleby died in his ninetieth year. He was a member of the family cemetery, on his own farm. Services were conducted at his late residence and at the grave by Rev. D. Patterson. Five sons, Benjamin S. Johnson, Queens County; Philip J. of St. John; Joseph and Thomas of Springfield, Kings County, and Bert at home; sixteen grand-children and twelve great-grand-children represent his large family connection.

Mrs. Wm. Nairn.
The death of Mary, wife of William Nairn, occurred Monday night. It will be remembered that Mr. and Mrs. Nairn drove to St. John last summer by horse and carriage all the way from their home in New Jersey. Appeal Made For Wiggins' Orphanage

Four Thousand Dollars to be Raised to Meet the Present Deficit.

This institution differs from an ordinary orphanage as it provides for the training and education of male children. The endowment of Mr. Wiggins will provide:
To teach, clothe, and educate as many destitute male orphan children, born in the City and County of St. John, as the annual income of the said capital funds will admit, preference being in all cases given to the destitute children of mariners.

The power of the governors was by legislation enlarged so that children born in the province can now be admitted at four years of age, maintained and educated until arriving at the age of 17 years, or until suitable employment can be obtained for them.

The Wiggins institution is managed by a board of governors of citizens. The present members are:— J. T. Knight (president), Dr. W. W. White, Rev. H. A. Coady, J. Roy Campbell, K. C. H. G. Foster, K. C. H. Schofield, Hon. W. E. Foster, Hon. W. H. Thorne.

In the past no contributions from our citizens have been asked for, or required by this institution. However, owing to the great increase in maintenance, the board of governors find themselves faced with a large deficit, and are compelled to ask for additional support from the public. An appeal is now being made in order to raise at least the sum of $4,000, to meet the present deficit, caused by the great increase in cost of living.

For years the institution has had in training an average of about twenty-five boys, who were clothed, educated, and trained, and when reaching mature age, suitable situations are found for them, to enable them to make a start in life. The record of the boys turned out in the past has been most satisfactory, and several have had a very good war record.

The governors, in making this appeal, confidently feel that it will receive a generous response, and thus enable them to carry on a work which for many years has proved successful in caring for and educating the boys entrusted to their care.

It would give the governors great pleasure if those interested in maintaining this institution, should call upon the manager, Mr. Pierce, and personally inform themselves as to the methods and work that is being done there.

Subscribers may send their subscription to the treasurer, J. T. Knight, or the president, J. T. Knight.

Giant Eels.
It is said there are eels no one can land. Some years ago a giant conger was caught in shallow water off the shores of England. It measured 8 feet 8 inches in length and weighed 148 pounds. Congers half that size have been known to bite a man's hand in two and to have driven their teeth through the blade of an axe.
In 1913 Kakanamsku, the champion swimmer of Honolulu, was attacked by a giant eel, which dragged him under water and held him there for nearly two minutes. He escaped at last, but at the cost of a finger from his right hand.
Eels attain an immense size in the rivers of New Zealand and have been known to attack bathers. In fact, many cases of drowning have been proved to be where eels have dragged the bathers beneath the surface of the water.

LIVERPOOL KEEPS CLOSE WATCHES

Sinn Fein Attempts Against Lives and Property Are Very Numerous.

Specials Are Out. The Bootle Liverpool suburb which suffered from the incendiary attack of last Saturday night the special constabulary was called out today.

In Liverpool every possible precaution is being taken against a recurrence of the trouble. The docks and all other places which might be attacked are heavily guarded.

A report is being circulated generally about London that the government fears trouble not only from the Sinn Fein, but also from the thousands of unemployed who recently evidenced an ugly temper in the Downing street riot.

VICTORY BOND TRADE GROWS; OTHERS SLUMP

Utilities Are Easier and Increase in Newsprint Fails to Raise Paper Stocks.

Montreal, Nov. 30.—Increased interest in the Victory bond market today coincided with a decline in trading in stocks on the local stock market. The Victory issues showed a better trend, but the stock market continued to reflect the uncertainty of the commodity market. Groups moved in opposite directions, demonstrating that outside news was but a small factor in the market.

In the paper group, for instance, despite the announcement of the advance in the price of newsprint, Abitibi moved off a point to a new low for the year at 54 1/2, closing at 55. Weymack lost a point, Laurens held unchanged, Brimpton was up a point, and the Spanish Rivers up 1 1/2 and 3 1/4 points respectively. Richardson gained a point and Howard Smith three points. All these issues would be directly or indirectly affected by increased newsprint prices.

Utilities Are Easier. The utility group, favorably spoken of on all sides, were inclined to stocks were neglected. Steel of Canada was steady, and iron was up a point. Smelters showed some slight improvement, moving up 1 1/2 points to 17 1/2, and closed at the top with a turnover of some 800 shares.

Sugar was quiet and a fraction easier, and in the balance of the list, stronger stocks included Bell Telephone, which gained a fraction, Dominion Canners was up a fraction, and Bank of Montreal a point. Cement preferred gained 1 1/2 points at 90 1/2.

Weak issues included Asbestos common down two points; Cement common down a point, and Ogilvie Milling, which lost one point. Total sales, listed 10,002; bonds, $550,000.

STOCKS CONTINUED LIQUIDATION ON WALL STREET YET

New York, Nov. 30.—Regardless of the more hopeful feeling prevailing in banking circles and the absence of untoward conditions in the money situation, stocks were in process of further liquidations today. The irregular reversal being accelerated by an extension of the short interest.

The reactions, so far as it dealt with representative issues was relatively moderate, high grade rails, industrials, oils and specialties for the most part recording only nominal losses at the close.

Pressure on Rails. Pressure focussed in the independent rails and coppers, and secondary rails, as featured by Republic, Vancouver and Crucible, Chile Copper, American Smelting, New Haven, Seaboard Airline and preferred and most of the minor Western and Southwestern railway shares.

Gross recessions of 2 to 6 1/2 points were partly regained in the final dealings. Total sales amounted to 800,000 shares. In the money market the only obvious result of the turn into December was an advance of call money from six to seven per cent.

WHEAT DOWN FOUR CENTS WITH CLOSE FOR CASH LOWER

Fair Enquiry at Winnipeg for Early December Wheat Delivery and Oats Dull.

Winnipeg, Nov. 30.—Heavy selling of wheat on the local market today had a bearish influence on prices, and the future market closed three cents to four cents lower, with cash showing a loss of 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents at the close.

Demand for spot wheat was poor, indicating that November contracts had been well taken care of, but there was a fair enquiry for early December delivery.

The oats market was not active, the demand being only fair for certain grades, while the offerings were somewhat liberal.

CHICAGO

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Depression in wheat prices resulted today from continuance of rural bank failures and from the failure of a Seattle grain firm. The market closed unsettled, at the same as yesterday's finish to three cents lower. Corn lost half cent to...

$200,000 The Lounsbury Company, Limited

8% Cumulative Participating Preferred Shares

Dividends payable quarterly on 1st January, April, July and October. Dividend cheques payable at par at any branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia in the Maritime Provinces. Preferred as to both dividends and assets, callable as a whole or in part at the Company's option at 110 and accrued dividend on any dividend date, on thirty days' notice.

Commencing on or before the 1st October, 1922, an annual Sinking Fund of not less than 5 per cent. of the largest amount of Preferred Stock, which has been at any one time outstanding, will be set aside to buy or call Preferred Shares at an amount not exceeding the redemption price. All shares so acquired will be cancelled.

Some particulars of the Company and its history: 1. The Company was started originally in 1891 and is one of the largest dealers in the Maritime Provinces in farm machinery, furniture, and automobiles, having offices and stores at Moncton, Chatham, Newcastle, Bathurst, Campbellton and other points in New Brunswick. Proceeds of this issue will be used to finance the increased business of the Company.

The net earnings mentioned above, are most conservative, as liberal allowance has been made for depreciation, taxes, etc. Net earnings for 1920, it is estimated, will amount to well over three times the dividend requirements on the Preferred Stock issued.

After making full provision for depreciation, and all other contingencies and taking in the proceeds of this issue, net tangible, including liquid assets, will be in excess of $600,000—or over three times the Preferred Stock issued.

Reserves and undivided profits on December 31, 1919, amounted to $179,973.94. $125,000 of this amount is reserved for the payment of a dividend in the form of common stock, thus assuring the Preferred shareholders that this amount will not be distributed in cash dividends and strengthening the equity back of the Preferred Stock.

The Company agrees to maintain at all times, net liquid assets of not less than 100 per cent of the Preferred Stock outstanding, and net tangible (including liquid) assets of at least 200 per cent of the Preferred Stock outstanding.

No dividends will be paid on the Common Stock, unless all Preferred dividends have been paid and unless the Company has surplus undivided profits equal to at least two years' dividends on the Preferred shares.

All the Common Stock represents actual paid up capital and is nearly all owned by the officials and employees of the Company. During the present year, $50,000 par value of the Common Stock was sold at $100 per share to shareholders of the Company.

The Company carries the following insurance: Buildings, Plant and Machinery, $166,600; on Stock in trade, over $400,000.

We purchased this stock after complete investigation and offer same at $100 Per Share and Accrued Dividend, Yielding 8% and strongly recommend it as a thoroughly well-secured investment. Dividends exempt from Normal Income Tax. Special Circular on request.

FARMERS BEST ABLE TO FIGHT THE DEPRESSION

Crops, While Low in Price Represent Real New Wealth Created. UNEMPLOYMENT NOT PROBLEM FOR THE While Federal Reserve Ban Function They Have Worry Over Money.

By A. W. DOUGLAS. St. Louis, Nov. 30.—The constant and always unanswered question of the day, "How long will the present depression last?" is being asked with a simpler and less complicated phrasing in the South.

Then, too, again most fortunate we live in an agricultural country especially west of Mississippi, it is not in one overwhelmed by industrial life and its equally apparent difficulties. We have got to get by in the past, in the days of crop and low prices of agricultural products, as we found that they had a fashion of solving themselves most unexpectedly. Solutions, for they represent a man's newly created wealth. So ultimately it will be of service to those who produced it.

Constructive and Productive Work. It is true likewise that constructive work in the agricultural section goes on all the time of our nation as well as in all time of our prosperity. In southwest Missouri are completing the largest drainage enterprise in the country some 560,000 acres of reefer swamp lands in the Little River drainage district. Here and there the semiarid sections of the Far West there are irrigation projects underway, and the reclaimed desert is being transformed into fertile acres. Agriculture never shuts down, it goes on ceaselessly to more effective methods.

Nor are we concerned about money panic or the possibility of currency devaluation. The Federal Reserve Bank is in a job. Several things have been done that is readjustment has commenced, and that, in varying degrees, it will affect all industries. Some certainly will shut down, others, because prices have fallen to fall.

It is not likely that such readjustment will be speedy and soon over. It never has been in the past, but the present lack of financial conditions offers some hope for a so prolonged drag as in the series of depressions of times gone by. The real problem seems to be to do when the consumer will open and commence buying again. It is, buying something more than necessities. The apparent answer seems to be, when he thinks proper down to a reasonable level.

Many Purchase Bargains. There are several indications this is the real solution. Bargain sales and the buying again. No stiffer that have declined appeared and somewhat increased demand. Average retail dealer is gauging purchases by the demand of his customer. The consumer finds the story of the price in many lines in the dollar price and naturally waits till the price has fallen to a point where the dealer, who very naturally seeks to dispose of his stocks merchandise on the basis of what he paid for it, has a net on the placement cost. This will gradually change as goods grow cheaper, more normal relations of cost selling prices resume their normal readjustment is apt to go on through the winter, prices not always declining, but trending that way with occasional recoveries.

FARMERS BEST ABLE TO FIGHT THE DEPRESSION

UNEMPLOYMENT NOT PROBLEM FOR THEM

While Federal Reserve Banks Function They Have No Worry Over Money.

By A. W. DOUGLAS.

St. Louis, Nov. 30.—The constant always unanswered question of day, "How long will the present depression last?" has, to the West, a simpler and less complicated phase than it presents to those east of the Alleghenies. And for many reasons.

Primarily, and most fortunately, they do not live in a financial atmosphere that causes one to take counsel when the stock market slumps. Also, to many in the West, Europe and its apparently insoluble problems are still afar off, even though it is directly responsible for the low price of cotton and the consequent slump of business in the South.

Then, too, again most fortunately, we live in an agricultural country, especially west of Mississippi, and not in one overshadowed by industrial life and its equally apparently difficult problems. We have gotten by in the past, in the days of short crops and low prices of agricultural products, as we found that they often had a fashion of solving themselves most unexpectedly. Solutions, for instance, which do not come so readily to congested centres with idle mills and much unemployment. So we feel that we shall compass the present depression successfully. They, we have just harvested the greatest crops ever known. Prices are low, and the farmer is dissatisfied, but they represent much newly created real wealth. So ultimately it will be of service to those who produced it.

Constructive and Productive Work.

It is true likewise that constructive work in the agricultural sections goes on alike in all time of our tribulation as well as in all time of our prosperity. In southwest Missouri we are completing the largest single drainage enterprise in the country—some 650,000 acres of redeemed swamp lands in the Little River drainage district. Here and there in the semiarid sections of the Far West there are irrigation projects under way, and the reclaimed desert is being transformed into fertile acres.

Agriculture never shuts down, but goes on ceaselessly to more efficient methods.

Nor are we concerned about a money panic or the possibilities. Here the visions of 1893 and 1897 recurrences do not disturb us so long as the Federal Reserve Bank is on the job. Several things seem obvious— one is that readjustment has just commenced, and that, in varying degrees, it will affect all industries, some certainly more than others, because prices have further to fall.

It is not likely that such readjustment will be speedy and soon over. It never has been in the past, though the present lack of financial complications offers some hope for a not so prolonged drag as in the serious depressions of times gone by.

The real problem seems to be as to when the consumer will open up and commence buying again. That is, buying something more than just necessities. The apparent answer seems to be, when he thinks prices are down to a reasonable level.

Many Purchase Bargains.

There are several indications that this is the real solution. Bargain sales find many purchasers. Necessities that have declined apparently find somewhat increased demand. The average retail dealer is gauging his purchases by those of his customers. The consumer finds the story of dealers in many lines in the daffy press, and naturally waits till they filter down to him.

In this matter he can wait longer than the dealer, who very naturally seeks to dispose of his stocks of merchandise on the basis of what he paid for them. The dealer's replacement cost. This will gradually change as goods grow cheaper, and more normal relations of cost and selling prices resume their way. This readjustment is apt to go on through the winter, prices not always declining, but trending that way with occasional recoveries.

St. John Woman Tells of Good Tanlac Did Her for Benefit of Others.

"For the sake of others who may be suffering from the after effects of influenza, I am glad to tell of my experience with Tanlac," said Mrs. Lewis Gilliland, of 96 Sea St., St. John, N. B.

"Ever since I had the influenza year before last I had been in a bad run-down condition. I had no appetite, never dared to eat rich foods of any kind, and no matter what I ate I suffered terribly from indigestion. I also suffered from constipation, had blinding headaches and almost unbearable pains in my back.

"The noises of the children almost set me wild, and my nervousness kept me awake so much every night that I felt as tired in the mornings as if I hadn't gone to bed at all. To add to my misery I was badly crippled up with rheumatism which caused me intense suffering.

"Well, I have only taken two bottles of Tanlac so far, but I haven't had a headache since I began taking it, and I believe my rheumatism is gone completely, for I have never felt a touch of it. My appetite is splendid and I can eat anything I want without any bad after effects. I no longer suffer from constipation or nervousness, and just feel fine all the time. For those who suffer as I did I don't believe there is anything in the world equal to Tanlac."

New Cunarder Launched Saturday

Cable advice has just been received by the Robert Reford Co., Ltd., announcing the successful launching on Nov. 27th, 1920, of the new Cunarder "Samarra," from the yards of Cammell Laird & Company, Ltd., at Birkenhead, across the River Mersey from Liverpool, England. She is the largest vessel ever built on the Mersey. The "Samarra" is the fourth of the great post-war fleet of Cunarders to take the water, having been preceded by the "Scythia," "Albania," and "Tyrrenia." Like those vessels and the remaining nine yet to be launched, the "Samarra" is an oil-burner with a single funnel. Her dimensions are the same as the "Scythia." Her gross tonnage is 21,000 and she has accommodations for approximately 2,600 passengers, to be divided among 338 first-class, 340 second-class and the remainder third-class. The passenger accommodations are among the most modern lines and the vessel is equipped with complete wireless installation, gyroscopic compass and submarine signalling outfit.

"Truth, the Most Potent Weapon in the War" Subject of Rev. Dr. Macdonald

"Truth, the Most Potent Weapon in the War," formed the subject of an intensely instructive and interesting lecture delivered by the Rev. Dr. J. H. Macdonald of Wolfville, N. S., to the members of the German Street Y. M. A. in the German Street Institute last evening.

The speaker who was a former lieutenant-colonel in the C. E. F., and second in command of the Canadian Chaplain Forces, described the vast importance of the propaganda which the Allies used, and which proved one of the most important factors in winning the war.

The British propaganda service was directed, by Lord Beaverbrook, by means of it the true state of affairs was spread among the enemy troops and country. The result was that when the truthful reports were contrasted by the false reports of the German command, the people lost heart, and their morale became broken.

The doctor said that subsequent happenings showed that truth was greater than the sword, the most powerful explosive, and the most destructive weapon in the war, never at any time had as great an influence towards winning the war.

At the close of the address a vote of thanks was tendered Dr. Macdonald and unanimously carried. President Everett Hunt thanked the speaker. He said that the address had given great pleasure to all present.

Speaking as a returned man, he was sure that he, or any of his comrades present, had never before realized the great importance of the propaganda work and the large part it had played in bringing the conflict to a successful issue.

Collection of N. B. Minerals

Suitable Quarters Being Arranged in Natural History Society Building for Them.

A comprehensive collection of the minerals of New Brunswick arranged in an interesting and instructive manner will be shortly opened to the view of the public at the Natural History Museum on Union street.

The cases contain specimens of the economic minerals of the province, consisting of feldspars and sandstones from the Miramichi quarry, and the Sackville Freestone Co. Photographs are shown of the Parliament buildings at Fredericton and of the new building under construction at the Parliament buildings in Toronto.

Other minerals are limestone from St. John county, galena ore, with traces of gold and silver from La Pêche, tungsten ore from the south-west Miramichi, zinc ore from Campbell, molybdenite from St. Stephen, iron ore from Grand Lake, Dowd's Cove, Woodstock, and Bathurst; copper ore from Charlotte, Carleton and Albert counties, red ochre from Woodstock, and yellow ochre from Albert county, salt from Salena, Kings county; verde antique marble from St. John county. Verde antique is the most precious of all the marbles.

It is intended to make a further addition to the exhibit by adding coal and its by-products.

As there are over a thousand by-products of coal, the addition will represent a considerable exhibit in itself, comprising, as it will, such articles as perfume, fruit, flavoring extracts, aniline dyes, red ink, carbolic acid and picric acid, as well as a host of other by-products.

The exhibition has been assembled with the idea of having it available for any part of the province, where it might be desired for the most part of the present and will be steadily added to. It was made at considerable trouble and under numerous difficulties, and the result was well congratulated on the splendid result attained.

The rest of the new room in the museum will be taken up with other exhibits, which will all go towards making a complete exhibit of the natural resources of New Brunswick.

The collection will be somewhat similar to that in the last provincial exhibition and will be particularly appropriate to an already large collection of objects of provincial interest housed in the Natural History Society's museum.

Big Crowd Heard Lindsay Crawford

Said Trouble Between England and Ireland Not of Religion or Creed.

A big meeting of the Self-Determination League for Ireland of Canada was held yesterday evening at St. Vincent's Hall, Myles E. Agar, president of the St. John branch, was chairman for the occasion. The hall was packed for the occasion, including a number of returned soldiers, and many people were unable to obtain admission. There was one interruption only, and the person responsible was ejected by the police without being able to address his proposed remarks to the chairman.

Speakers introduced. Myles E. Agar in introducing the speakers for the evening, Lindsay Crawford, National President, and Thomas R. Donovan, National Secretary, stated that the members of the league claimed that Ireland should have the right to determine what form of government that country should have and the privilege of developing her natural resources.

England and Ireland. Lindsay Crawford said that the trouble between England and Ireland was not one of religion and creed, but a fight by the Irish for economic and political freedom, which had raged since the time of Edward I.

There was no hatred between England and Ireland, and only a struggle for independence on the part of the latter which had been going on since the day that Protestants were in the ascendancy in Ireland. He denied Sir Horace Greenwood's recent statement that there were two Irelands, stating that Ireland was divided only by industrial and agricultural forces as existed in Canada.

The vote of thanks to Messrs. Crawford and Donovan was moved by Major Cuthbert Morgan and Capt. R. J. Crofton.

K. J. MacIsaac arrived home yesterday after a business trip to Boston and New York.

Rather Strange State of Affairs

Commissioner Jones yesterday at the council meeting called attention to a rather strange state of affairs in his own department when the evidence given by the employees of that department was not borne out by the records on file in his office in regard to the entry of sewer by M. E. Grass sent in a bill.

Some few months ago Mr. Grass sent a bill to the council of $121.18 for material and work in making a connection to the new sewer laid in Douglas Avenue, claiming that he had been connected up with the old sewer and the men of the department had neglected to connect his sewer with the new one, putting him to the expense of doing so.

The matter was referred to the commissioner and he made an investigation. Mr. Ballantyne, who was in charge of the work, stated that no entry to the old sewer had ever been made, and that was the reason they had not made any connection with the new one, and under the circumstances he recommended that no action be taken.

Mr. Grass asked for another hearing, and on a search of the records the commissioner said he found that an entry in Mr. Ballantyne's own handwriting said the connection had been made.

Under the circumstances, the commissioner felt the only thing he could do was pay the bill, and his motion to that effect passed.

Recommendations Adopted. The appeals committee made the following recommendations, which were adopted:

To the chamberlain be authorized to refund the following rebates paid on assessments for the present year, the taxes having been paid before the appeals were considered in order to take advantage of the new rates:

To Sir Douglas Hanna, $25.31, error in rental.
To F. R. Taylor, $25.32, assessed on land not owned by him in years 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920.
To Robert Roberts—$4.25, overpaid on $100 valuation.

To H. G. Curry, $4.47, allowance on occupation of Bertha Curry.
To F. A. Dykeman, $14.15, difference between 41 and 46 lots on which he was assessed, Alexandra Heights.
To Joseph Roderick, $23.31, over-valuation for mill in general cargo.

To E. J. Hilyard, $11.33, assessed on income earned in the county.
To Gunn's Limited, $26.48, error of $200 in statement of general cargo.
To A. B. Wilmet, $29.73, who pays income in Fredericton, 50 p.c. of assessment.

To G. Harold Markham, $11.33, allowance on real estate of $1,000.
Over-valuation on real estate considered the appeals of The Saint John Real Estate Company and J. King Kelley from their several assessments for the present year, and they recommended that the assessment in each case be affirmed and the appeals dismissed.

Government Has Revised Schedule

Rate on Cargo Brought up to the Same Level as That of City.

Commissioner Bullock yesterday received notice that the Dominion Government had revised their schedule of rate on cargo and brought them up to the same level as that of the city, one cent per ton per day top wharfrage, fifteen cents per ton on lumber, five cents per ton on grain and twenty-five cents per ton on general cargo. These rates went into effect on Nov. 15 and is the result of two years' work on the part of the commissioner.

Under this rule, forty-eight hours is allowed before storage charges begin and the city regulations in this regard will be revised to correspond.

HARBOR REVENUE. The harbor revenue for the month of November, 1920, a about $1,400 more than for the same month last year, about $1,000 having been reported in 1919, as against about $5,400 this year.

UNUSUAL PRICES. To clear broken lines of ready tailored overcoats, Ulsters at $30; melton overcoats, ulsterettes and waist seam overcoats, regularly priced $35 to $50 at one uniform price, $25. Bargain prices truly, but every coat possesses the essential element—quality—Gilmour's, 68 King street.

A Sale of Silk and Serge Dresses at $22.90

A special purchase of new style frocks offered at practically one half their regular value. For evening parties or dressy afternoon wear they are ideal.

All-wool Botany Serge in Navy Blue or Brown, also pretty combinations of Silk Taffeta and Georgette. The serge frocks have mostly accordion pleated skirts with blouses in the short Bolero effect, finished with sash, giving a very stylish and youthful effect.
