Indictment sets forth that the defendant was called on to attend a boy for a broken arm, that through his blundering the boy's life was endangered, and that Ricardo then, to conceal his blunder, tried to kill the boy by prescribing overdoses, of morphine. There was a lively time in the Portland Civil Court this morning. Seventeen cases were on the docket, but nearly all were settled without trial. One of the causes tried was between Yeomans vs. Davis-a suit for wages due the plaintiff for labor at Courtenay Bay Glass Works, house rent, and money lent the defendant. They had one or two lively disputes, while the plaintiff was being examined, and Davis sat quiet until Mr. Alward made some reference to him and his frequent appearances in court, then he jumped up and threatene

The claim was for labor done after the company had closed the concern up and left Davis to fix up and dispose of the stock on hand, and to pay for such assistance as he required from the proceds.
