THE PREMIER HONORED.

A delegation representing the government supporters in the House of Assembly waited upon Premier Tupper at his residence last Wednesday afternoon and presented him with a pair of carriage horses. Mr. McCain has been in Carleton county since Monday to purchase the horses and it was hoped to have them here before the legislature prorogued. They will be forwarded to Hon. Mr. Tupper at his home in Chatham.

Mr. Todd, on behalf of these interested, read the following address: To the Honorable Leonard J. Tupper, K.C., Premier of the Province of New Brunswick: Dear Mr. Premier,—At the conclusion of the first session of the legislature of this province in which it has been your duty to fill the position of premier and head of the party which we have the honor to support the undersigned, your colleagues and supporters in the administration of the public affairs of this province, desire to express our hearty satisfaction at the manner, in which the honorable and energetic duties of your office have been performed.

As members of the legislature we cannot fail to be impressed by the difficulties surrounding the leadership of a party, and attendant upon the office which you so honorably fill. We beg to express our appreciation of the uniform courtesy which has characterized your dealings with us, as well as the readiness and willingness which you have ever evinced to meet the views of your supporters and to assist them in their legislative duties.

The attitude of expression and freedom of opinion which you have noticeably encouraged among your supporters in the house, in our opinion shows that you desire to be the leader of a party which, by the free expression of its views, enables the leader to keep in complete touch with the party, and thereby ensures harmony between the members of the party and its head. We have thought it and trust that it may not be unsatisfactory to you, to accompany the expression of opinion embodied in this address with the gift to you by the party within the legislature, of a pair of horses, which we hope will be fully up to the standard we have endeavored to obtain and which will give you satisfaction in their possession, both for the utility they may prove to be and as a reminder of the harmonious and satisfactory relationship which has heretofore existed and which we are convinced will continue to exist between you and your party.

Notwithstanding the fact that previous administrations within this province have had at their head men of ability and high standing, we desire to express our conviction that, in our opinion, no premier of this province has to a greater degree enjoyed the confidence and friendship of the party which he has led; and we consider that the position so worthily filled by those who have preceded you in the occupancy of your high and distinguished office, has now been entrusted into the hands of one, who, in your person, will perform to the satisfaction of the party, and with benefit to the country, the duties incident to the high office which you so worthily and satisfactorily occupy. Assuring you of our heartfelt good will and co-operation in your public labors, we are, Mr. Premier, Yours very respectfully, W. F. TODD, Chairman. Fredericton, N. B., April 3, 1901

NEW STEAMSHIP CO.

BEING ORGANIZED TO RUN BETWEEN SYDNEY AND NEWCASTLE.

At the coming session of the legislature of Prince Edward Island, an act of incorporation will be applied for to organize a company with the object of running a steamboat between Sydney and Newcastle and Sydney, calling at P. E. Island ports and at St. Peter and Malgrave in Cape Breton. The company intend at first to place on the route one steamer of 400 tons, suitable for the trade and of such draft as will permit her to enter any of the harbors at which she is proposed to call, such as Alberton, Malague, New London, Rustico, Souris and Charlottetown.

This boat will make fortnightly or tri-monthly return trips and will be provided with good passenger accommodations. The company expect to be ready for work at the beginning of the shipping season, of the present year.

The company is capitalized at $25,000 divided into 250 shares $100 each. Owing to the present conditions of trade with Cape Breton, the carelessness growth of Sydney and the market it provides for meats, produce, etc., are so very favorable as to make the company a safe and paying investment. The company will be known as the North Bay Steamship Company, Limited.

JAPAN PREPARING.

Russia Gives United States Assurance of Her Disinterestedness.

London, April 6.—The Pekin correspondent of the Daily Express says: "Japan is taking measures with a view to hostilities with Russia. She has entered into an agreement with Liu Kun Yi, Viceroy of Nankai, who is acting on behalf of the other friendly Viceroy and Governor regarding the course they will pursue in the way of aiding Japan against Russia. It is understood they have promised to place the telegraphic communication and transport facilities at the service of Japan."

Washington, April 5.—The United States Government has received a communication from the Russian Government bearing on the conditions in China. While there is an entire absence of authoritative information, yet it is understood Russia now takes occasion to give positive assurance of the disinterested statements which have animated her throughout the consideration of the Chinese question. As to Manchuria it is made clear Russia's course never has varied in the past; she leaves that province an integral part of China and to retire Russian troops as rapidly as safety would permit. But as a more signal evidence of Russia's purpose and in harmony with the czar's aspirations for peace and harmony between nations, the Russian government now gives the assurances of the most definite and satisfactory character as to the execution of this purpose. The extent of these assurances can be best judged, by the impression made in highest official quarters here that the threatened crisis over Manchuria has been completely averted.—Times.

Big Fire in New York.

New York, April 7.—During last night a fire, which broke out at two different times, did damage to the extent of $175,000 to stock of the Suburban Paper Box Company, and the machinery belonging to the company, as well as to the stock of Switzer, Pembroke & Co., both firms occupying the building at 83 White street. The fire first broke out at 10 o'clock at night and was supposed to have been overcome in a short time with a loss of $17,000. But at 2 o'clock this morning flames were again discovered on one of the upper floors and before the fire was put out the loss noted above was incurred.

WAR AND BUSINESS.
The introduction of the war into the world has been a great calamity. It has brought about a state of things which no one could have foreseen. It has caused a great deal of suffering and loss of life. It has also caused a great deal of business to be lost. It is a great pity that this should have happened. It is a great pity that this should have happened.

This is a business age. No one has foreseen national policies being so dependent upon the answer to the question, Will it pay? And seldom, if ever before, has there been such a decisive demonstration of the fact that war does not pay. The war in South Africa has been to statesmen what a "beautiful ulcer" is to the surgeon. It presents a social disease brought to a head and available for study in its most concentrated form. If we consider the wealth of the two South African republics before the war to have been equivalent to a thousand dollars for each one of the population, which is about a normal rate, both countries would have been worth something like two hundred and fifty million dollars. They are worth a good deal less now. Of course, the mines of the Rand have a special value, but when we consider them from the point of view of clear national profit, above the cost of extracting the gold and of working unproductive properties, their value certainly has limits. If anybody had proposed two years ago to sell the two republics outright to England, with all their property, public and private, for three hundred million dollars, the English would have thought that they were getting a poor bargain. And yet now they are spending six hundred million dollars, as well as a good many thousands and a good many billions of dollars' worth of national prestige, for the mere remnants of the property that they would once have thought dear at half the mere cash outlay.

But this was a case, in which war might have been expected to show its best side as a business proposition. Here was an empire of four hundred million people pitted against less than the population of Milwaukee. If war has proved an extravagantly losing business in such a case as that, what would it be if England had undertaken to get some advantage by similar methods over Russia? Is there any conceivable benefit, of a business nature, which would be worth one-tenth of the cost of such an enterprise?

We are often told the truth that the twentieth century will be an era of commercial wars. It hardly seems likely, unless nations take to choosing their rulers from their asylums. Commerce is business, and what business sense is there spending thousands of millions down for a possibility of obtaining scores or hundreds of millions in the distant future? Suppose a nation to be considering the possibility of war with another nation over some commercial question. It can certainly count on an expenditure of at least three billion dollars, and probably more. If it should take that money and apply it to the development of its own domestic resources, would it not gain more than it could possibly hope to gain by fighting for external commercial advantages? Of course, in the days when nations went to war for the ambitions of kings, or the sentiment of mobs, social considerations of profit and loss did not count. But we have entered an era now so businesslike that even an emperor does not think it beneath him to canvass

DERBY.

The funeral of the late Thos. C. Newman, Lower Derby, was held last Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services were conducted by the Revs. Brown and White. The large number of teams which followed the remains to the interment ground was in evidence of the high respect entertained for deceased by the community. The members of Nelson Division of which he was a member preceded their brother's remains with regalia which speaks well of that organization. The pall-bearers were as follows:
Allan Barron, Thos. Ye, C. Crocker, Robert Robinson, John Russell and L. R. Leighton. A flag was run up half-mast in the morning on the Temperance Hall remaining so all day.

OVER THE WIRES.

WIFE AND CHILDREN DROWNED.

MURRAY BAY, April 4.—Yesterday morning Alexander Terrien, of Tadoussac, had a happy family composed of his wife and five children. Today he is a widower and childless, the six members of his family having been drowned in the Saguenay river by the capsizing of his boat. Terrien was bringing his family down the river in a boat from above the Saguenay, when they had all spent the winter. High winds were prevailing and the sea was rough when the boat neared Tadoussac, the home of the family. In some manner it was capsized, throwing the occupants into the icy water. Mr. Terrien made every effort to save his family, but was unable to rescue any of them. They could not live in the icy water and soon sank from the father's sight. Mr. Terrien being thoroughly exhausted and chilled, reached shore with the greatest difficulty.

FIRST SMALLPOX VICTIM IN KENTVILLE.

KENTVILLE, April 6.—A. C. Moore died this morning. He was the first small-pox victim.

A Ghastly Sea Story.

London, April 8.—The Singapore correspondent of the Daily Express writes a ghastly story of cannibalism at sea brought to Singapore by two survivors of the Nova Scotia barque Angola, wrecked six days sail from Manila. On October 23 last, The correspondent says:
The survivors, Johansen, a Swede and Marticom, a Spaniard, assert that the Angola struck a reef. Two men were built. The smaller, bearing five men, disappeared. The latter, with 12, drifted for 10 days. The sailors ate barnacles, seaweed and finally their boots.
"On the 25th day two became insane and killed themselves. On the 26th day a Frenchman killed the mate with an axe, drank his blood and tried to eat his brains, but was prevented by the others. Next day the Frenchman was killed while attempting to murder the captain. The survivors, all of whom were now insane, ate the Frenchman's body.
"Cannibalism continued until only John and Marticom remained. On the 42nd day the raft stranded on Subi or Fiat Island in the Natuna group (northwest of Borneo). Johansen and Marticom were awfully emaciated. Friendly Malays sent them by junk to Singapore."
The vessel mentioned in the startling cable story is in all probability the Nova Scotia barque Angola, a vessel which has visited the port of St. John many times. That the vessel whose crew met such a terrible fate is the Angola is indicated by a brief Singapore cable published in the New York Herald last Friday. The cable states the barque Angola, Captain Crocker, from Manila for Singapore, was totally lost on a reef on the high seas. It adds that two men were saved and landed at Singapore.
The vessel was to receive repairs at this port before proceeding to Newcastle to load coal for the Philippines.
The Angola is a Windsor, N. S., barque and her managing owner is W. H. Mosher, of that place. Her commander, Captain Crocker, is known to all St. John shipping men, having made many trips from the port.

Quebec.

Quebec, April 6.—Lord Roberts has accepted the honorary colonelcy of the R. C. A. In a letter he adds: "I feel proud to be associated in so close a tie with the regiment which has already served under my command and which rendered so excellent an account of itself in South Africa."
At a meeting of the Victoria Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, a resolution was adopted protesting against the granting of permission to the Sons of the Revolution of Boston to erect in this city a monument in honor of the invader, Richard Montgomery.

The newsmen and editors of this city have decided to devote $150 weekly to the newsmen of the Aves Holden & Co., Montreal, during the preceding strike.

Big Pulp Mill.

Quebec, April 7.—Negotiations have just been completed between the Quebec Government and a party of New York capitalists, by which recent acquisition by the latter of the marvellous water power of Upper Saguenay, better known as the Grand Discharge of Lake St. John, will be utilized for operating the largest pulp mill in the world. The water power that can be harnessed is practically unlimited, and capitalists interested in the project, who will own and operate this mill, have decided to invest four or five million dollars in the undertaking. The mills they purpose to erect upon the Grand Discharge are to be much more than double the capacity of those at Grand Mere, which are principally controlled by General Alger and Mr. William Van Horne and friends. The latter have 24 grinders. The other will have 60 and will turn out 600 tons of wet pulp, or 30 carloads daily.

SOHR. WENDALL BURPEE WRECKED.

PORTLAND, Me., April 7.—The two-masted schooner Wendall Burpee of St. John, N. B., went ashore of Cape Elizabeth shortly before 12 o'clock this noon. The captain, cook and one sailor were on board, while the mate only was saved. The lost were Louis Merselberg, the captain; George Foster, the cook, both of St. John, and a sailor, known as "English Charlie." The mate, who is John Svensen, of St. John, managed to reach the shore, more dead than alive, but the others were less fortunate.

The Canadian Order of Forester.

This society was organized in November, 1879, with a membership of less than four hundred. At present the membership has increased to a portion of the Province of Ontario, but to-day it has Counties in every Province of the Dominion of Canada, to which its operations are confined, and has a membership of over 40,000. Since its organization the society has paid out in insurance nearly $1,000,000, and on the 31st of January last had a surplus in its Insurance Fund of over one million dollars. This surplus has been accumulated since the 1st of November, 1885, when the insurance rates were increased to the following, payable monthly in advance:

| Between the ages of | On | On | On | On |
|---------------------|--------|--------|--------|--------|
| 18 to 25 | $3.00 | $1.00 | $1.50 | $2.00 |

In 1900 over $183,000 were paid out in life insurance and over $144,000 were set aside for the reserve or surplus fund.

The limit of insurance on any life is $2,000. By confining the operations of the society to Canada, and with a rigid medical examination, the death rate has been kept very low. In 1899, the death rate per 1,000 of the membership was only 5.45; in 1900, 4.88; and the average death rate for the last twenty-one years is only 4.92 per 1,000 of the membership.

Every dollar of the surplus Insurance Fund is invested in gilt-edged securities of municipalities or loan companies, in Dominion Government bonds, or in deposits in the best monetary institutions of Canada. Not a dollar invested out of the country or in mortgages or buildings, which may depreciate in value.
Certificates of investments published in every issue of the "Canadian Forester," for the information of the membership.

The society also conducts a Sick Benefit Department, about 22,000 of the members participating in the benefits. The rates for the same, payable monthly in advance, are:
Between 18 and 25 years 25 cents
" 25 and 30 years 30 cents
" 30 and 35 years 35 cents
" 35 and 40 years 40 cents
" 40 and 45 years 45 cents
In 1900 over $83,000 were paid out in Sick and Funeral Benefits.

All physically and morally qualified males, between the ages of 18 and 45 years, who are not disqualified on account of occupation, are accepted for membership.

CARD

To the Electors of the Town of Newcastle.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

On the 16th of April instant you will be called upon to elect a Mayor and eight Aldermen to serve you at the Civic Board for the ensuing year.

At the request of a large number of the Electors we have consented to offer ourselves as Candidates respectively for MAYOR AND ALDERMAN FOR A SECOND TERM.

During the past year we have endeavored to discharge the duties of our office to the best of our ability.

As promised we have devoted our best efforts to the improvement of our streets and sewers which were practically worn out, and we decided to make permanent roads instead of partial repairs as was the custom in the past, and trust our effort in that direction have met with your approval.

Owing to the large outlay necessary to erect water works and install our electric plant, we felt we were not justified in asking you to authorize us to make this large expenditure during the past year and are still of the opinion that it is necessary to procure further information regarding these important works and will then lay the matter before you for your endorsement.

Alderman Malby having expressed himself as not wishing to run again with us for the coming term, Mr. F. L. Pedolin has taken his place on our ticket, and we ask for him as well as ourselves, your influence and support.

If elected the different interests of the Town will receive our earnest attention.

Soliciting your support we are your obedient servants.

To the Editor of the Union Advocate:
I have just received your issue of the 4th inst. and have read it with interest and pleasure. I am glad to hear that you are doing so well. I am sure you will continue to do so for many years to come.

When the dearest of the glad earth
Was the bloom of the violet's birth,
And the dew of the morning was fresh,
And the light of the sun was bright,
You loved me not as you loved the dead.

Pale is the bloom I have known,
And its light is dim and low,
The violet is as the drops her head,
And the dew of the morning is gone,
You loved me not as you loved the dead.

Handling of the most delicate
Is the quality of the work,
Its bright threads gleam in the autumn sun,
But its bloom has fallen one by one.

Ab, I know full well, for my thoughts will stray,
As I sit alone in the shadows gray,
Through the arbutus blossoms and sweetest
That every petal is gone from the rose.

IF YOU CATCH COLD.
Many things may happen when you catch cold, but the thing that usually happens first is a cough. An inflammation starts up in the bronchial tubes or in the throat, and the discharge of mucus from the head constantly irritates this. Then the very contraction of the throat muscles to the act of coughing helps to irritate so that the more you cough the more you have to cough. It is, of course, beyond question that in many cases the irritation starts in this way results in lung troubles that are called by serious names. It is in this respect that the cough is the germ of consumption finds lodgment and breeds.

Great numbers of people disregard cough at first, and pay the penalty of neglect. Cough never did any one any good. It should be dispensed with promptly. Adams' Bronchial Cough Syrup is a well known remedy, and it is the surest and quickest cough cure known today. It does not deceive by dragging the throat. It soothes the irritated parts and heals them, then the cough stops of its own accord. The action of this medicine is so simple that it seems like nature's own provision for curing a cough. Every drugist has it, 25 cents. Be sure to get the genuine, which has "F. W. Kingston & Co." blown in the bottle.

SONG THAT WAS INSPIRED.

When 'Sankey First Sang "The Ninety and Nine."

Mr. Moody and I went to England in 1873, intending to stay not more than three months, and give the key to a neighbor. We remained abroad that time two years. After we had been in Edinburgh three months, going there from the meetings in England, we went to Glasgow, and held meetings there for four months. In May, 1874, we were starting for the Highlands of Scotland, but the pastors and Christian workers of Edinburgh urged us to return there at least three days. There were many inquirers, and it was thought that Mr. Moody said that if one soul could be saved in Edinburgh, it would be well worth the journey, and the meetings.

Knowing that we had a ride of several hours before us, and being especially desirous of getting an American newspaper, or at least one that contained some news from home, for I was getting homesick, I went to a news-stand to find a paper. In looking over the list, I found one called "The Christian Age, or Light from Across the Water." That was what I wanted. I light from across the water—and I bought the paper. That day we travelled first-class. Usually we travelled third-class. Mr. Moody and I were alone in our carriage. Soon after we left Glasgow I began to read my newspaper, and, to my surprise, I found that it was made up chiefly of Henry Ward Beecher's sermons. I had plenty of sermons—three sermons a day for nine months.

After a while I picked up the paper again, to read the advertisements, and while turning it over I found in a corner of one paper a little poem beginning: "There were ninety and nine." I read it through, and said to Mr. Moody: "I have found a beautiful hymn." "Read it to me," he said, and I read, "There were ninety and nine."

When I finished this exquisite gem I looked up and found that Mr. Moody had been engrossed in a letter from Chicago, and had not heard a word that I had read. I was somewhat chagrined, but I said to myself: "You will hear that hymn some day."

Cutting the poem out of the paper, I laid it in a scrapbook, into which I had been pasting poems for years before I went to England. This scrapbook, by the way, was the basis of our earlier "Gospel Hymn Book." When we went abroad we had no idea of getting out a hymn book. That was afterthought.

We reached Edinburgh, and had five meetings in the Free Assembly Hall. The second day, at the noon meeting, Mr. Moody took "The Good Shepherd" as his theme, and after a brief talk he called upon Dr. Horatius Bonar to speak. What an address he gave! Dr. Bonar was the greatest hymn writer of the nineteenth century. Here was the man who wrote "I Was a Wanderer," "Come Unto Me and Rest," "He talked so kindly and so tenderly that before he finished the Good Shepherd, the Saviour, was in all our hearts.

Mr. Moody was deeply affected. Looking down from the pulpit, he said: "Mr. Sankey, have you anything appropriate to sing?" I could not think of a single hymn to sing as a solo. Mr. Moody, in those days, usually had the meetings open and close with solos. I could have had sung the 22d Psalm, but that had been sung twice already in that meeting, and then I knew that if I tried to sing the psalm as a solo the entire audience of 2000 voices would have joined in it.

Like an inspiration came the thought, "Sing the hymn you found in the paper—the hymn without a tone." I opened the old scrapbook, and I could feel every eye in the hall turned on me; then, in my moment of need, I closed my eyes, and said, in silence, "God help me to recite this in such a way as to deepen the impression made by the sermons." I laid my hands on the keys of the little organ and struck a chord in A flat, and the strain of the hymn floated through the hall. Then I started to sing, and God did help me; he gave me the notes as I needed them. When I reached the end of the first verse, I said, "Thank the Lord I got through that." Then it suddenly dawned upon me, "Can I repeat the same notes for the second verse?" I did the third, and well I have them for four.

It is equally good for internal as for external use—take it dropped on sugar, in a teaspoon. Sold in two size bottles, 25c and 50c. The larger is more economical. Write for a free copy of "Treatment for Diseases and Care of the Sick Room." I. S. JOHNSON & CO., 22 Custom House Street, Boston, Mass.

For the same hymn at a single sitting? Naturally, the same note came for the second, and third, and fourth verses, and by the time I had learned the time, the same one in every respect that I have used now for more than quarter of a century.

The singing of a new hymn so singularly appropriate produced a tremendous feeling. Mr. Moody came down the pulpit steps, and, leaving over the organ, with hands upon it, said: "Sankey, where did you get that hymn?" "That was the one I read to you on the train," I said. Then he dismissed the meeting, and we soon left the hall. When we reached Dundee, a few days later, a letter was handed to me from a woman, who said that she wished to thank me for singing her dear sister's poem without a signature, and until that time I did not know who had written it. The woman who had written me added that she was sitting in the gallery, and tried to reach me, but was unable to do so. In the correspondence that followed, I received 12 of Mrs. E. C. Clephane's poems, and one of them, "Beneath the Cross of Jesus," also became a favorite in our gospel meetings.
