

The British gunboat Rochester, on Nov. 6th, in the Bay of Humber, and the loss of 85 of her officers and crew.

Private letters from Savannah state that the destruction of the Rochester by the Alabama is a severe blow to Lee's army. Not less than 11,000 cattle per week were transported over it to Richmond from Florida and Southern Alabama.

Rebel papers are engaged in a bitter quarrel for and against Jeff Davis's policy in regard to approaching the British for protection.

The Richmond Whig says: "She has no ships that could equip the Yankee monitors with any prospect of success, and although the night blockade, yet the probability is that they could not cross the ocean."

Rebel papers confirm the advance of Sherman into South Carolina.

It is reported that Lee has been given Dictatorial power.

Gold 225.

N. Y. 10th.—Steamer blockade runner R. C. Lee was wrecked off the coast of the Rio Grande, and 22 of her crew drowned.

Governor Magnolia, of South Carolina, calls every able bodied man in the State between 16 and 60 to the defense of Charleston.

It is rumored that General Sherman has communicated to the President that the Georgia State authorities have failed to come back into the Union, and that Secretary Stanton's visit to Savannah is in consequence of this subject.

Recent severe rain storms in vicinity of Richmond prevent hostile movements by either army.

Gold 226.

N. Y. 9th P. M.—Reports from Gen. Davis's military expedition to the Mobile River, state that the destruction of about 90 miles of the line with many cars and army wagons.

Governor Johnson, of Tennessee, in his annual message recommends gradual emancipation.

Resolutions have been introduced into both Houses of the Legislature, declaring for immediate emancipation.

The Richmond Sentinel says, the masses in that city are absolutely starving.

The Legislature of North Carolina are discussing resolutions for the purpose of securing peace with the Federal Government.

Gold 225.

N. Y. 10th.—United States Senate yesterday passed a Bill, freeing the slaves and children of negro soldiers.

Advices from Grant's army report considerable advances between the lines on Sunday, but without important results.

A large number of deserters continue to come in from the rebel lines.

Governor Delaware, in his annual message, takes strong ground in favor of Negro Emancipation in that State.

Governor Lee has sent a special agent to Savannah to look after the cotton captured by Sherman.

It is reported that an immense amount of cotton will be secured in Georgia.

Advices from Colorado Territory state that a party of 1400 Indians attacked the overland mail and express coaches, robbing the mails and express.

They then made an attack on Station House near by and burned it.

A guard of 80 soldiers at the post after a severe fight repulsed and drove the Indians off, killing 30, including their chief; 10 soldiers and settlers were killed.

Movements in aid of the people of Savannah are being made in Boston, New York, and Philadelphia.

Gold 225.

N. Y. 11th P. M.—Steamship Maravian, with Liverpool dates to 30th ult., arrived at Portland to-day.

Gen. Dix's order to pursue the raiders into Canada, attracts much attention. The leading journals hope that it will not be acted upon, or trouble may ensue.

Provisions quiet and inactive.

Consols 89 1/2-8 5/8 for money.

Latest papers acknowledge that Sherman and Burbridge's raids in East Tennessee and West Virginia did great damage, and state that they have done all the harm they can do in that region.

Rebel Senate have adopted resolutions of thanks to their allies, the Cherokee Indians.

In the sharp discussion now going on between the rebel papers, in which President Davis is charged as the cause of all their recent disasters, some of them in his defense, assail Gen. Lee as a marplot.

A Quebec despatch states that Messrs. Emmons & Lathrop, of Detroit, who have been some days in communication with the Government regarding the passport system, have left for Washington on some business.

No special war news to-day.

Gold 222.

The Government organs persist in affirming that Western Extension will be built by a private Company with the Government aid.

It will be well for their employers if they can believe this, and hold the belief until after the approaching general election, as at this time of day few can be deluded by such statements and rumors. It will require two millions of dollars or more, besides the preferred bonus. This amount private subscription will never raise, and it is fully to expect that any American Company will be so stupid as to be so stupid as to be so stupid.

The road must be built as a Government work if it is to be built at all. It is time now that the public were quite satisfied of this, and that those who believe in the importance of the work determined to call on the Government to undertake it at once. If the Government is to be called on to build it, it must have a plan, and a plan that will be a success.

At the Annual General Meeting of the Saint John Gymnasium Company, held at the Saint John Gymnasium building, yesterday at 12 o'clock, noon, the following gentlemen were elected Directors of the Company for the ensuing year:—John W. Cudlip, John Boyd, Henry Fawcett, James L. Dunn, B. Lester Peters, Robert Barnes, R. Hupree. At a meeting of the Directors John W. Cudlip, Esq., was chosen President and B. Lester Peters, Esq., Vice President, and Mr. R. Hupree, Esq., Secretary of the Company.

WEEKLY FREEMAN FOR 1865!

It is hardly necessary to ask the many readers of the WEEKLY FREEMAN in this Province to renew their subscriptions for the next year.

What we do ask is that they should endeavor to extend its circulation by getting up CLUBS, and by every other means, in order that as many as possible may be enabled to read it on all sides about the great question of a Union of the Provinces, which must now be settled, and which concerns the people of this Province more than any question ever submitted to them for their decision.

It is to the FREEMAN in no small degree that they are indebted for the permission to pass judgment on this great question, so grudgingly accorded to them by those who were their masters, and those who read the FREEMAN will be able, when the time for the people to decide arrives, to understand the question and to judge what is best for their interests.

With this as well as other questions the FREEMAN deals fairly, candidly and thoroughly, seeking nothing but the public welfare, and never striving by any paltry tricks to gain a mere party triumph.

CLUBS will get the paper on the usual terms.

We hope our friends will set to work earnestly and actively, that information so desirable as that which the FREEMAN now contains may be diffused as widely as possible.

The term of Mr. John Hamilton's Newcastle Club expires on the 31st of January, 1865.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1865, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1866.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1866, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1867.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1867, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1868.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1868, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1869.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1869, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1870.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1870, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1871.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1871, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1872.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1872, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1873.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1873, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1874.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1874, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1875.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1875, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1876.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1876, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1877.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1877, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1878.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1878, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1879.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1879, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1880.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1880, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1881.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1881, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1882.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1882, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1883.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1883, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1884.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1884, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1885.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1885, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1886.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1886, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1887.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1887, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1888.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1888, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1889.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1889, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1890.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1890, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1891.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1891, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1892.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1892, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1893.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1893, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1894.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1894, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1895.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1895, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1896.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1896, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1897.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1897, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1898.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1898, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1899.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1899, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1900.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1900, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1901.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1901, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1902.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1902, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1903.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1903, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1904.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1904, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1905.

Mr. Hamilton's Club, for the year 1905, is now open, and will be continued until the 31st of January, 1906.

cheaper, and labour (cheaper and who sell cheaper) from cheap, leather cheaper, have a large market at their own doors."

But it is no use arguing with those who are determined to sport fancy in the realm of imagination.

The Freemans in its execrable attempt to excite sectarian strife, and resort to the most infamous means to accomplish its object.

On Monday, after preaching that Freemans was established in our midst, it made the following statement in proof of the truth of its assertion:

"It may be news to the Freemans, but it is a fact nevertheless, that one of the Sergeants of the 16th Regt., was placed under arrest last week for drilling men without leave of the Colonel commanding in this Garrison. He has since been released. Was not this sufficient to give rise to the reports in circulation? We may enlighten our very obtuse contemporaries a little more by and by, but enough for the present."

To this we replied:

"This fact of which we now hear for the first time, if it is a fact, proves the very contrary of what the Freemans allege, for it is very plain that if a sergeant of the 16th was guilty of drilling Freemans he would not be dealt with so mildly."

The News on Wednesday said:—

"The Freemans can easily ascertain from the papers of the 16th that the sergeant made a really 'a fact.' Had we not proof in our possession that it was so we would not so confidently have given it publicity. It is barely possible that the body of men that the sergeant drilled were not Freemans. If not, who were they? What legitimate body of men would drill a sergeant of the 16th without permission to engage his services? Perhaps the Freemans can tell."

Leaving this subject, to which we made reference only when we felt it to be our duty as a public journal to speak out and show the body of men that the sergeant drilled were not Freemans.

The malignity of this is positively mendacious. We have ascertained all the facts, and a more infamous attempt to make trouble by perverting facts never entered the News itself was never guilty of.

Capt. Maclean's Company of Volunteers was some months ago re-organized, a number of recruits invited by public advertisement, having joined it. The law and all regulations made under it were strictly carried out, and officers and men took the oath of allegiance.

One of the regular drill instructors was assigned to the Company, but as the Company is very large the services of Serg. Kennedy, of the 16th, were obtained—with the permission of the Colonel—to assist in drilling the recruits.

Some days ago the drill instructor was ordered to drill the recruits, and the whole of the Company were assembled on Serg. Kennedy, who asked Serg. Raycraft, of the 16th, to assist him.

This Serg. Raycraft did without having first sought permission of the Colonel, and for this was merely a military offence of omission—he was temporarily placed under arrest.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the facts, sought to create excitement, and to ill-feelings in the minds of some of the whole story were told even the most unfeeling would have laughed at the folly of the man who wanted to persuade them that this was any proof or symptom of danger; he therefore deliberately, wilfully, and most infamously suppressed such portions of the story as would have prevented its doing mischief, and now he has the impudence to say of men who he knows well are duly enrolled soldiers, that they are not Freemans, and that they are all Freemans, and that at all events they are evil doers whom it was his duty to warn. He is the person who would do evil if he could; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the facts, sought to create excitement, and to ill-feelings in the minds of some of the whole story were told even the most unfeeling would have laughed at the folly of the man who wanted to persuade them that this was any proof or symptom of danger; he therefore deliberately, wilfully, and most infamously suppressed such portions of the story as would have prevented its doing mischief, and now he has the impudence to say of men who he knows well are duly enrolled soldiers, that they are not Freemans, and that they are all Freemans, and that at all events they are evil doers whom it was his duty to warn. He is the person who would do evil if he could; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the facts, sought to create excitement, and to ill-feelings in the minds of some of the whole story were told even the most unfeeling would have laughed at the folly of the man who wanted to persuade them that this was any proof or symptom of danger; he therefore deliberately, wilfully, and most infamously suppressed such portions of the story as would have prevented its doing mischief, and now he has the impudence to say of men who he knows well are duly enrolled soldiers, that they are not Freemans, and that they are all Freemans, and that at all events they are evil doers whom it was his duty to warn. He is the person who would do evil if he could; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the facts, sought to create excitement, and to ill-feelings in the minds of some of the whole story were told even the most unfeeling would have laughed at the folly of the man who wanted to persuade them that this was any proof or symptom of danger; he therefore deliberately, wilfully, and most infamously suppressed such portions of the story as would have prevented its doing mischief, and now he has the impudence to say of men who he knows well are duly enrolled soldiers, that they are not Freemans, and that they are all Freemans, and that at all events they are evil doers whom it was his duty to warn. He is the person who would do evil if he could; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the facts, sought to create excitement, and to ill-feelings in the minds of some of the whole story were told even the most unfeeling would have laughed at the folly of the man who wanted to persuade them that this was any proof or symptom of danger; he therefore deliberately, wilfully, and most infamously suppressed such portions of the story as would have prevented its doing mischief, and now he has the impudence to say of men who he knows well are duly enrolled soldiers, that they are not Freemans, and that they are all Freemans, and that at all events they are evil doers whom it was his duty to warn. He is the person who would do evil if he could; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the facts, sought to create excitement, and to ill-feelings in the minds of some of the whole story were told even the most unfeeling would have laughed at the folly of the man who wanted to persuade them that this was any proof or symptom of danger; he therefore deliberately, wilfully, and most infamously suppressed such portions of the story as would have prevented its doing mischief, and now he has the impudence to say of men who he knows well are duly enrolled soldiers, that they are not Freemans, and that they are all Freemans, and that at all events they are evil doers whom it was his duty to warn. He is the person who would do evil if he could; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the facts, sought to create excitement, and to ill-feelings in the minds of some of the whole story were told even the most unfeeling would have laughed at the folly of the man who wanted to persuade them that this was any proof or symptom of danger; he therefore deliberately, wilfully, and most infamously suppressed such portions of the story as would have prevented its doing mischief, and now he has the impudence to say of men who he knows well are duly enrolled soldiers, that they are not Freemans, and that they are all Freemans, and that at all events they are evil doers whom it was his duty to warn. He is the person who would do evil if he could; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the facts, sought to create excitement, and to ill-feelings in the minds of some of the whole story were told even the most unfeeling would have laughed at the folly of the man who wanted to persuade them that this was any proof or symptom of danger; he therefore deliberately, wilfully, and most infamously suppressed such portions of the story as would have prevented its doing mischief, and now he has the impudence to say of men who he knows well are duly enrolled soldiers, that they are not Freemans, and that they are all Freemans, and that at all events they are evil doers whom it was his duty to warn. He is the person who would do evil if he could; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the facts, sought to create excitement, and to ill-feelings in the minds of some of the whole story were told even the most unfeeling would have laughed at the folly of the man who wanted to persuade them that this was any proof or symptom of danger; he therefore deliberately, wilfully, and most infamously suppressed such portions of the story as would have prevented its doing mischief, and now he has the impudence to say of men who he knows well are duly enrolled soldiers, that they are not Freemans, and that they are all Freemans, and that at all events they are evil doers whom it was his duty to warn. He is the person who would do evil if he could; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the facts, sought to create excitement, and to ill-feelings in the minds of some of the whole story were told even the most unfeeling would have laughed at the folly of the man who wanted to persuade them that this was any proof or symptom of danger; he therefore deliberately, wilfully, and most infamously suppressed such portions of the story as would have prevented its doing mischief, and now he has the impudence to say of men who he knows well are duly enrolled soldiers, that they are not Freemans, and that they are all Freemans, and that at all events they are evil doers whom it was his duty to warn. He is the person who would do evil if he could; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the facts, sought to create excitement, and to ill-feelings in the minds of some of the whole story were told even the most unfeeling would have laughed at the folly of the man who wanted to persuade them that this was any proof or symptom of danger; he therefore deliberately, wilfully, and most infamously suppressed such portions of the story as would have prevented its doing mischief, and now he has the impudence to say of men who he knows well are duly enrolled soldiers, that they are not Freemans, and that they are all Freemans, and that at all events they are evil doers whom it was his duty to warn. He is the person who would do evil if he could; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the facts, sought to create excitement, and to ill-feelings in the minds of some of the whole story were told even the most unfeeling would have laughed at the folly of the man who wanted to persuade them that this was any proof or symptom of danger; he therefore deliberately, wilfully, and most infamously suppressed such portions of the story as would have prevented its doing mischief, and now he has the impudence to say of men who he knows well are duly enrolled soldiers, that they are not Freemans, and that they are all Freemans, and that at all events they are evil doers whom it was his duty to warn. He is the person who would do evil if he could; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the facts, sought to create excitement, and to ill-feelings in the minds of some of the whole story were told even the most unfeeling would have laughed at the folly of the man who wanted to persuade them that this was any proof or symptom of danger; he therefore deliberately, wilfully, and most infamously suppressed such portions of the story as would have prevented its doing mischief, and now he has the impudence to say of men who he knows well are duly enrolled soldiers, that they are not Freemans, and that they are all Freemans, and that at all events they are evil doers whom it was his duty to warn. He is the person who would do evil if he could; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the facts, sought to create excitement, and to ill-feelings in the minds of some of the whole story were told even the most unfeeling would have laughed at the folly of the man who wanted to persuade them that this was any proof or symptom of danger; he therefore deliberately, wilfully, and most infamously suppressed such portions of the story as would have prevented its doing mischief, and now he has the impudence to say of men who he knows well are duly enrolled soldiers, that they are not Freemans, and that they are all Freemans, and that at all events they are evil doers whom it was his duty to warn. He is the person who would do evil if he could; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the facts, sought to create excitement, and to ill-feelings in the minds of some of the whole story were told even the most unfeeling would have laughed at the folly of the man who wanted to persuade them that this was any proof or symptom of danger; he therefore deliberately, wilfully, and most infamously suppressed such portions of the story as would have prevented its doing mischief, and now he has the impudence to say of men who he knows well are duly enrolled soldiers, that they are not Freemans, and that they are all Freemans, and that at all events they are evil doers whom it was his duty to warn. He is the person who would do evil if he could; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the facts, sought to create excitement, and to ill-feelings in the minds of some of the whole story were told even the most unfeeling would have laughed at the folly of the man who wanted to persuade them that this was any proof or symptom of danger; he therefore deliberately, wilfully, and most infamously suppressed such portions of the story as would have prevented its doing mischief, and now he has the impudence to say of men who he knows well are duly enrolled soldiers, that they are not Freemans, and that they are all Freemans, and that at all events they are evil doers whom it was his duty to warn. He is the person who would do evil if he could; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the facts, sought to create excitement, and to ill-feelings in the minds of some of the whole story were told even the most unfeeling would have laughed at the folly of the man who wanted to persuade them that this was any proof or symptom of danger; he therefore deliberately, wilfully, and most infamously suppressed such portions of the story as would have prevented its doing mischief, and now he has the impudence to say of men who he knows well are duly enrolled soldiers, that they are not Freemans, and that they are all Freemans, and that at all events they are evil doers whom it was his duty to warn. He is the person who would do evil if he could; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the facts, sought to create excitement, and to ill-feelings in the minds of some of the whole story were told even the most unfeeling would have laughed at the folly of the man who wanted to persuade them that this was any proof or symptom of danger; he therefore deliberately, wilfully, and most infamously suppressed such portions of the story as would have prevented its doing mischief, and now he has the impudence to say of men who he knows well are duly enrolled soldiers, that they are not Freemans, and that they are all Freemans, and that at all events they are evil doers whom it was his duty to warn. He is the person who would do evil if he could; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the facts, sought to create excitement, and to ill-feelings in the minds of some of the whole story were told even the most unfeeling would have laughed at the folly of the man who wanted to persuade them that this was any proof or symptom of danger; he therefore deliberately, wilfully, and most infamously suppressed such portions of the story as would have prevented its doing mischief, and now he has the impudence to say of men who he knows well are duly enrolled soldiers, that they are not Freemans, and that they are all Freemans, and that at all events they are evil doers whom it was his duty to warn. He is the person who would do evil if he could; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the facts, sought to create excitement, and to ill-feelings in the minds of some of the whole story were told even the most unfeeling would have laughed at the folly of the man who wanted to persuade them that this was any proof or symptom of danger; he therefore deliberately, wilfully, and most infamously suppressed such portions of the story as would have prevented its doing mischief, and now he has the impudence to say of men who he knows well are duly enrolled soldiers, that they are not Freemans, and that they are all Freemans, and that at all events they are evil doers whom it was his duty to warn. He is the person who would do evil if he could; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the facts, sought to create excitement, and to ill-feelings in the minds of some of the whole story were told even the most unfeeling would have laughed at the folly of the man who wanted to persuade them that this was any proof or symptom of danger; he therefore deliberately, wilfully, and most infamously suppressed such portions of the story as would have prevented its doing mischief, and now he has the impudence to say of men who he knows well are duly enrolled soldiers, that they are not Freemans, and that they are all Freemans, and that at all events they are evil doers whom it was his duty to warn. He is the person who would do evil if he could; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage; who would do evil if he thought it would be to his advantage.

Now this is the whole story out of which the Editor of the News, who, no doubt, knew all the

1
 2
 3
 4
 5
 6
 7
 8
 9
 10
 11
 12
 13
 14
 15
 16
 17
 18
 19
 20
 21
 22
 23
 24
 25
 26
 27
 28
 29
 30
 31
 32
 33
 34
 35
 36
 37
 38
 39
 40
 41
 42
 43
 44
 45
 46
 47
 48
 49
 50
 51
 52
 53
 54
 55
 56
 57
 58
 59
 60
 61
 62
 63
 64
 65
 66
 67
 68
 69
 70
 71
 72
 73
 74
 75
 76
 77
 78
 79
 80
 81
 82
 83
 84
 85
 86
 87
 88
 89
 90
 91
 92
 93
 94
 95
 96
 97
 98
 99
 100
 101
 102
 103
 104
 105
 106
 107
 108
 109
 110
 111
 112
 113
 114
 115
 116
 117
 118
 119
 120
 121
 122
 123
 124
 125
 126
 127
 128
 129
 130
 131
 132
 133
 134
 135
 136
 137
 138
 139
 140
 141
 142
 143
 144
 145
 146
 147
 148
 149
 150
 151
 152
 153
 154
 155
 156
 157
 158
 159
 160
 161
 162
 163
 164
 165
 166
 167
 168
 169
 170
 171
 172
 173
 174
 175
 176
 177
 178
 179
 180
 181
 182
 183
 184
 185
 186
 187
 188
 189
 190
 191
 192
 193
 194
 195
 196
 197
 198
 199
 200
 201
 202
 203
 204
 205
 206
 207
 208
 209
 210
 211
 212
 213
 214
 215
 216
 217
 218
 219
 220
 221
 222
 223
 224
 225
 226
 227
 228
 229
 230
 231
 232
 233
 234
 235
 236
 237
 238
 239
 240
 241
 242
 243
 244
 245
 246
 247
 248
 249
 250
 251
 252
 253
 254
 255
 256
 257
 258
 259
 260
 261
 262
 263
 264
 265
 266
 267
 268
 269
 270
 271
 272
 273
 274
 275
 276
 277
 278
 279
 280
 281
 282
 283
 284
 285
 286
 287
 288
 289
 290
 291
 292
 293
 294
 295
 296
 297
 298
 299
 300
 301
 302
 303
 304
 305
 306
 307
 308
 309
 310
 311
 312
 313
 314
 315
 316
 317
 318
 319
 320
 321
 322
 323
 324
 325
 326
 327
 328
 329
 330
 331
 332
 333
 334
 335
 336
 337
 338
 339
 340
 341
 342
 343
 344
 345
 346
 347
 348
 349
 350
 351
 352
 353
 354
 355
 356
 357
 358
 359
 360
 361
 362
 363
 364
 365
 366
 367
 368
 369
 370
 371
 372
 373
 374
 375
 376
 377
 378
 379
 380
 381
 382
 383
 384
 385
 386
 387
 388
 389
 390
 391
 392
 393
 394
 395
 396
 397
 398
 399
 400
 401
 402
 403
 404
 405
 406
 407
 408
 409
 410
 411
 412
 413
 414
 415
 416
 417
 418
 419
 420
 421
 422
 423
 424
 425
 426
 427
 428
 429
 430
 431
 432
 433
 434
 435
 436
 437
 438
 439
 440
 441
 442
 443
 444
 445
 446
 447
 448
 449
 450
 451
 452
 453
 454
 455
 456
 457
 458
 459
 460
 461
 462
 463
 464
 465
 466
 467
 468
 469
 470
 471
 472
 473
 474
 475
 476
 477
 478
 479
 480
 481
 482
 483
 484
 485
 486
 487
 488
 489
 490
 491
 492
 493
 494
 495
 496
 497
 498
 499
 500
 501
 502
 503
 504
 505
 506
 507
 508
 509
 510
 511
 512
 513
 514
 515
 516
 517
 518
 519
 520
 521
 522
 523
 524
 525

