WARREN LELAND,

Largest Hotel Enterprises of America, says that while a passenger from New York on board a ship going around Cape Horn, in the early days of emigration to Cal-ifornia, he learned that one of the officers of the vessel had cured himself, during the voy-age, of an obstinate disease by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Since then Mr. LELAND has recommended AYER'S SARSAPARILLA in many similar cases, and he has never yet heard of its fail; ure to effect a radical cure. Some years ago one of Mr. LELAND's farm, laborers bruised his leg. Owing to the bad state of his blood, an ugly scrofulous swelling or lump appeared on the injured limb. Horrible itching of the skin, with burning and darting pains through the lump, made life almost intolerable. The leg became enor mously enlarged, and running ulcers formed, discharging great quantities of extremely offensive matter. No treatment was of an avail until the man, by Mr. Leland's direct tion, was supplied with AYER'S SARSAPA RILLA, which allayed the pain and irritation, healed the sores, removed the swelling, and completely restored the limb to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla

after careful observation, declares that, in his belief, there is no medicine in the world equal to it for the cure of Liver Disorders Gout, the effects of high living, Sale Rheum, Sores, Eruptions. and all the warious forms of blood diseases.

We have Mr. LELAND'S permission to invite all who may desire further evidence in regard to the extraordinary curative powers of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to see him personally either at his mammoth Ocean Hotel, Long Branch, or at the popular Leland Hotel, Broadway, 27th and 28th Streets, New York, Mr. LELAND's extensive knowledge of the good done by this unequalled eradicator of blood poisons enables him to give inquiremmuch valuable information.

Mulching Trees and Shrubs.

All who have young trees or bushes should read this article carefully:-

Breeders of cattle have long sought to established fixed types as characteristics of their strains, and these have been so carefully bred that seven different families of the same breed partake so strongly of the idea in the long sought that seven different families of the same breed derived therefrom. It is, however, mind of the breeder that we recognize about as much as has been claimed for the family whenever we see the animal. This but serves as an illustrator these and other reasons comparation of what can be done by systema- tively few persons think that mulchtic breeding. Each year the peculiariing trees is sufficiently beneficial to There is no kind of feed which will ties of each breed are becoming more distinct, so that we do not compare individual members of different breeds, applied as a mulch is merely "to re as much as formerly, but take the lain the natural humidity of the soil," as much as formerly, but take the standard of each or the basis. We standard of each or the basis. We know that in each a different object is being sought after, and that a butter test of a Jersey and Hereford, would be as uffair as a beef test of a Hereford and Jersey. When we enter the horse department all this seems changed, and the style, build, action and disposition of a Knox, Almont, or Morgan excels or falls as the one compand disposition of a Knox, Almont, or Morgan excels or falls as the one standard is met.

Here is room for improvement, and the removal of one great cause of the elements for bone and muscle, for growth and strength; besides it is a healthy feed when ground and mixed with corn for other stock.

Strawberry Culture. Successful strawberry culture de- of the Jersey cow was adopted, there the head of a pheasant and wing and tailsuccessful strawberry culture demands a thorough cleaning after tematically for years. In the trotting records which are being made by the few families, we find that, as a rule, the horses have been carefully bred in direct lines, and under a strict observance of the laws of breeding. We have but to study the lines of breeding of the summer. Although the lines of breeding of the summer and under a strict observance of the laws of breeding of the lines of breeding of the summer. Although the lines of breeding of the summer laborious than the preparing and gainst this system of preserving food for live stock by those who have been for some years in Brazil, have made a two curops from the same plants.

Successful strawberry culture demands a thorough cleaning after bearing, and craefully culture during the remainder of the summer. Old strawberry beds are not profitable. To weed and cultivate an old, neglected bed is a thankless task and much as the preparing and tail-records of butter running from four-teen to forty-six pounds twelve cunces in seven days.

England has an Enailage Commission at work taking the testimony for and against this system of preserving food for live stock by those who have been for some years in Brazil, have made a collection of 20,000 specimens of insects, while the advantages of the system are not held to be as great as some two crops from the same plants.

Knox from a Knox stand-point and an Almont from an Almont, but don't expact them to be alike in any leading Almont from an Almont, but don't expect them to be alike in any leading characteristic, for if this were so, we could not long maintain the ground we now occupy as breeders of choice horses. The greater number of families established and the more rigid the lines of breeding of each, the better for all, and captious criticisms should be lost in the general desire to secure the best.

Tupper's Return.

The return of Sir Charles Tupper The return of Sir Charles Tupper from England to Canada, has created a large ripple on the dog day placidity of Dominion politics. Next to the Premier himself, the movements of Sir Charles are watched with a critical and melancholy interest by the Grit politicans and press. It is certain that no public man in Canada, outside of Sir John Macdonald. occupies a larger place twelve horses, accompanied by a vast a big wave strikes her, doubles her up like a big land her far up on the beach a shapeless mass of red hose, blue skirts, and culture. His temporary petirement from the Commons to fill the important position of High Commissioner to England, was regretted by the whole Conservative party, who now rejoice in his return. There was no abler defender of the Government policy on the floors of Parliament than he, and his absence was severely felt by the Government party during the session just ended. During his residence in London, he has fulfilled many important and delicate duties. and doubtless his time and talents could have been profitably continued there but he is yet too young a man to retire permanently from active political life. The eyes of the Conservative party are turned to him as the future Premier of Canada. Sir John Macdonald is growing old, though doubtless he will be able to serve the people for a time yet, and his natural successor is Sir Charles Tupper. There can be no doubt on that point, and Tupper's reentrance into Parliamentary life is probably an intimation, that so soon as the "grand old man." from the disabilities of age, lays down the sceptre, Tupper will be there
