BERLIN, May 16.—There was war in the International Miners' Congress this morning in consequence of a misunderstanding of translations of efficial interpreters. Delegates Wilson, Lamenden and Struntz, representing the English, French and German, had been selected to act as presiding officers for the day. Delegate Lamenden, in a very threatrical and highly offensive manner, refused to serve. M. Lamenden's remark were translated by Interpreter Ledebur, and Delegate Wilson arose to accept his appointment as one of the presiding officers of the day. While Wilson was speaking the German delegates noisily protested against Lamendin's remarks, the protests being translated and conveyed to the meeting by Interpreter Ledebur. Wilson turned upon Ledebur and virtually told him to mind his own business by demanding that he confine himself to translation and refrain from meddling with the order of the day, with which he had nothing to do. At this the Germans shouted "Withdraw your remarks," "Apologize," "Come down," etc., the English delegates retorting with cries of "Germans get out of the room," "Go home," etc. in danger, and the west wing was blown up vain to pacify the excited German and This sent a great flood down the . ley on deafening. Finally an English delegate Black River Falls. succeeded in making himself heard, and moved to take a recess of ten minutes. Before the motion could be put a Catholic miner named Wallstein sprang to his feet and demanded that this resolution be discussed. In stentorian tones he shouted that he had been delegated by the Christian and Monarchist minority of the German miners. He and his friends, he declared, shared the views of the English delegates. (Riotous denials.) In common with the English he and his friends desired beaceful and legal reforms of the condition of the miners, and he protested against the Socialists ruling the International Con-

> Empire and the Pope. This speech created a tremendous uproar. The Socialist delegates endeavored to how Wallstein down, but without success. LONDON, May 16 .- The striking cabmen had a large meeting in Hyde Park this afternoon. They marched to the park in a procession half a mile long and popular sympathy with them was evidenced by contributions of cash aggregating a large sum by the people who thronged the line of THE GREAT COAL CONFERENCE.

CLEVELAND, O., May 16 .- The secon day of the great coal conference opened with two meetings behind closed doors. The miners held a consultation together, and so did the operators. It was nearly 11 o'clock before the joint session at Case Hall opened. Some of the operators were of the opinion that there were hopeful signs of an agreement being arrived at during the conference. The statement that some of the Pennsylvania and Ohio men had agreed upon a rate to offer to the miners was looked upon as a favorable indication. President McBride, of the miners, announced that the miners had selected their conference committee and that it was prepared to meet the operators. Mr. Horton made a similar statement in behalf of the operators. The convention then decided to adjourn in order that the two committees might be given an opportunity to onfer with each other.

After the adjournment of the conference the conference committee met and discussed the situation. In answer to the proposition of operators for a scale of 65 cents for Pennsylvania and 56 cents for Ohio Sir President John McBride presented the proposition of the miners, which asked 79 cents for Pennsylvania and all others to be adjusted on that basis. This would make the Ohio rate 70 cents. The conferees from the operators were not authorized to accept this proposition, and the miners refused to accept the operators' rates.

After several hours of fruitless conference the committee adjourned to meet again to morrow before the joint conference shall assemble. The operators had a meeting to-night to hear the report of the conferees and consider the proposition. SHORT OF SOFT COAL.

An Interesting Experiment To Be Tried in London

By the Salvation Army-A Food and Shelter Bureau To Be Established -$10,000 Paid for Victoria Hall -$3,000 To Be Spent in Renovations.

(From the War Cry.) Now for London's turn. She has waited long and patiently, but she is to be amply rewarded. She has done her share unself. ishly towards the help and blessing of other parts. The corps has fought for God under difficulties for many years. What appeared at the time to be a misfortune burnt it out of its barracks, but it would seem that misfortune is to be over-ruled by a greater benefit. An extensive property, all but in the heart of the city, has been offered us at an absurdly low figure, chiefly through the the first speaker. He was the secretary of influence of influential friends, and partly the Trent Valley commission, because one on account of circumstances which render of the shifts and delays resorted to by the | it most desirable for the present possessors Government to keep this matter dangling to sell. There are buildings on the land. consisting of two stores with commodious rooms above, offices, a large hall capable of nights, lavatories, and every facility for a the last general election. Two days before | regular fortress of Salvation. But in addition to this extensive pile of telegram to Mr. Carnegie promising a grant buildings there is the greater value of the at the next session. In view of the feeling site, which has a frontage of 90 feet, and is that this was a Trent Valley Government within a stone's throw of the busiest portion of the city. Part of the land is vacant. The price of the property is $10,000, and the value of land alone is estimated by those who understand the business in the city to be worth at least $7,000. The uses to which we propose to put this property

seating 1,200 people, a small hall for week are as follows: We shall lay out the best part of $3,000 upon renovations, the bulk of the money being spent on adapting the large and week-night halls for our purpose. London will have a model barracks. One of the stores is at present let, and will remain so. The rooms above this store will be fitted out for comfortable and commodious officers' quarters, and the money now being paid to an outside landlord on this score will be returned into the till of the army.

In the center there will be splendid accommodation for

PROVINCIAL HEADQUARTERS, where the officers on the bridge in London will be within easy access of all the business houses of the city. The other store, with commodious rooms above, is admirably suited by virtue of its separate entrance for the scheme which is next to be explained, The best feature, perhaps, about this enormous undertaking is the striking fact that although the corps will hold these two cheered. He believed the Government | magnificent buildings, the property of the army, in the center of the city, they will the last general election, and if the Con- pay no more in the way of rent than they are at present for their inconvenient quarthe Trene Valley Canal would some day be ters. On the other hand, the corps is pledged to raise as their part of the scheme Sir John Thompson said that Mr. Hag- $3,500. This is not such a huge undertaking as it appears. It will be remembered th Government. He said he had heard of the after the fire and the disposal of the London work. He also said hedid not believe that Sir | land, there was a balance to be credited to the corps of about $1,400. In view of the brave efforts the corps have made, and the loyalty they have manifested to the flag, the commandant has decided, at a council of the local officers, to make this up to $2,000. The remaining $1,500 will be subscribed gladly, I believe, by the corps and citizens of London, who have a very warm heart and a very deep respect for the army. So we shall have the pleasure of TAKING THE GENERAL ROUND our own premises in London, and we have the additional gratification of being the possessors of a property which in years to come will double if not treble its value. Now, here I confess we are somewhat on uncertain ground. The population of London is 40,000. In point of numbers that would compare well with Vancouver. Halifax and Winnipeg, where we have no doubts as to the success of our enterprise. But then, as we have seen, these are cities with special features. Several WEALTHY CITIZENS OF LONDON, however, who are also good friends of the army, and who feel a generous desire to benefft the worst and poorest of their city, have approached me, and asked that the army should come forward and do something on behalf of the homeless of the city, as also the ex-prisoners of that portion of the Province. Our old and tried friend, Mr. Thomas McCormick, who has been the leading spirit in the movement, asked us to consider what we could do. I made some careful inquiries, visited the city on several occasions, made a round of the lodging houses, and was most astounded to find how many poor men there were, even in the well-governed, wealthy City of the Forest, without A PLACE TO LAY THEIR HEADS. I was informed by several lodging-house keepers that they were actually compelled to turn from their doors numbers of ablebodied men, who had not the necessary tunds to reach the standard absolutely essential for the support and profit of their business. I wrote Mr. McCormick saying that I thought there was every prospect of success for a small shelter, providing he could find the means to fit it out, and if some friends would come forward and guarantee our first year's expenses. The reply was prompt and to the point. "We will gladly subscribe the $500," said Mr. McCormick, "towards the outfit of the place." The promise was accepted. Here is a use for our other store and the premises above.

The store will be converted into A CHEAP FOOD DEPOT, and part of the rooms above will be fitted out for the accommodation of about 30 poor men. So London will have its Food and

But there are great issues hanging on the success of this institution. The friends who have subscribed the money are fully aware that it is an experiment we are trying. Should, however, this class of home succeed, in this kind of a city, there are tremendous possibilities ahead of us. If we can establish a self-supporting shelter in London, then why not in Hamilton, Kingston, Peterboro, St. John, N. B., and any other similar center. This is a jubilee scheme which may be the parent of many others. Don't forget, 219 Dundas street is the place to get an easy shave and a fashionable naircut. JOHN L. FORTNER.

The Record of Mrs. Lemon, Whose Death Leaves in Doubt Whether She Hadn't Several More Life-Partners.

(From the San Francisco Examiner.) Mrs. Marie Lemon, who recently departed this life in Almeda, and whose estate is now in contest because she left it all to a trumpet spiritualistic medium, forgetting all about her relatives in various parts of the country, was in many ways a remarkable woman. She had traveled from one end of the United States to the other, been around the world several times, but it was her matrimonial experiences that made her unusual among her sisters. She had taken no less than thirteen chances at the lottery of marriage, and, like most inveterate players of a game, she had drawn blanks the greater part of the time. She had once been possessed of great personal beauty, which, together with a charm of manner, made her born to rule over the hearts of men and turn their heads and the world topsyturvey. The history of her checkered career, extending over a period of more than 60 years, is a romance with matrimony as the foundation fact. She was once the belle of California, shone from the grand salon to the musty cabin of a merchantman, and compared with the general average of her sisters, her husbands were as the sands of the sea.

relative, Mrs. Rachael Neal, the sister who is now contesting the will, does not know. Mrs. Neal can remember thirteen very distinctly, but she thinks that there are more and that some of them got away in the mazes of memory. But for want of better and more authentic information, the unlucky numbering of Mrs. Neal will have to be taken as the best evidence of Mrs. Lemon's success in drawing from the matrimonial wheel of forrune.

A Week's Notes on Novelties in Peem by the British Grand Old Man.

A very useful book has been issued by the Fleming H. Revell Company, 140-142 Yonge street, Toronto. It is entitled "Secret of Success," and contains many valuable hints to both old and young. It is written from a lofty standpoint, and the assistance it will afford to those who want to "get on" may prove invaluable in these days of keen competition. It is handsomely bound, and contains nearly 400 pages of good reading matter. The author is John V. Far-

Two stanzas from an original poem written by Mr. Gladstone some years ago have just been printed. The lines were addressed to a dead infant, and begun thus:

"Oh whither has thou fled, From the warm joyous world removed Might one of old have questioned Of his dear and dead; Planting and straining for relief

Unto a passionate and hopeless griewhither, O thou in vain beloved, Whither hast thou borne
The smiles and kisses that were gathered up In thee, for her that bare thee, now forlorn,
As sweets in the wild rose's cup
Before the morn?"

Babyland for May opens with a frontispiece of a boy and a dog and a hand-organ, and the story that comes after tells all about what they did May Day. The babies will like it. They will like the verses that follow; they will like the pictures, too, and the other stories and verses. Price 50 cents a year. Alpha Publishing Company,

A journal which outlives all the vicissitudes which beset journalistic ventures in ered in committee, and a large section, if this country, and for eleven years more than holds its own, is a paper that must have tried to bribe as guilty as the man who acroots in the soil and good cause for its existence. The Week has taken root in Canada. It fills a real and not an imaginary need. The best thoughts and aspirations of the country must have a medium for their expression, and the Week's record shows that it is the chosen medium. Free from party leanings, and possessing the courage of its convictions, the Week has ever aimed to promote independence in public life, and honesty and integrity in our Legislatures. The Week is a standing protest against provincialism, representing as it does, by its large number of contributors and correspondents, all parts of the Dominion. In no other Canadian publication can be found the contributions of such prominent writers. The Week discusses affairs from the point of view of the nation, and not the province. This fact is abundantly recognized abroad, and the paper is constantly quoted by English and American magazines and reviews as the best exponent of the best thought and life of the Canadian people.

The novelists are all busy. Mr. Marion Crawford's new work, "Love in Idleness," lock's remarks. is presumably one of his New York series. It is to be printed first as a serial in the Century. In this magazine also is to appear Mrs. Burton Harrison's "Bachelor Maid." This story is thoroughly modern, the heroine being a New York girl who is interested in all the fads of the day.

Recollections of the "old brick row," the campus and the fence so dear to Yale alumni, are pleasantly revived in John Seymour Wood's book of fiction and reminiscence, "College Days, or "Harry's Career at Yale." The volume is well illustrated, and in material appearance reflects credit upon the publishers. The Outing Company (Ltd.). 239 Fifth avenue, New York. Price, $1 50.

Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for June is notably rich in matter of personal contemporaneous human interest, having a gossippy article upon "Characteristics of Congressmen," illustrated with no less than 40 portrait sketches from life, by Gribayedoff and Clinedinst; and some delightfully intimate reminiscences of Gladstone, by Howard Paul, accompanied with eight progressive portraits of the "grand old" Commoner at marked periods of his life between 1852 and 1892. The second of that graphic and entertaining series of memoirs of a war artist, by Joseph Becker, "Special for Leslie's," is devoted to the seige of Petersburg and embraces some thrilling pictures. Alvan S. Southworth contributes a paper of extensive interest and value upon "Horses in Trade, Traffic and Transportation," for which Pruett Share has drawn some spirited pictures. Other seasonable illustrated features in this number of Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly are: "Grasse," by Helen R. Rockwell; "Our Inland Seas," by! Bessie B. Croffut; Exactly how many husbands she had no one seems to remembar; even her nearest Culloch Williams; and contributions by J. Carter Beard, Tudor Jenks and J. William Fosdick.

In Obstructing the Bill to Punish Bribe-Taking.

The Senate Dallies With the Dillon Divorce Suit-A Big Delegation Booming the Trent Valley Canal Echeme.

(Special to the ADVERTISER.) OTTAWA, May 16 .- When the House opened to-day Mr. Taylor, the Government whip, said that he made inquiries from many members of the House, and particularly those coming from a distance, and he believed it would be of general convenience if the House, upon rising on Wednesday, the 23rd, would adjourn until the following Monday. Several members cried "carried."

Sir John Thompson-In a matter of this kind the wish of the Government would be to comply with the general desire of the House, but as we are responsible for the dispatch of business, we could only assent to the proposition, I think, on the understanding that Wednesday should be a Government day.

Mr. Charlton, and Mr. Laurier protested against a private members' day being taken away. Several weeks had been taken up with Government business.

Sir John Thompson then intimated that the only adjournment would be over Thursday, the Queen's Birthday, and the matter dropped.

On motion of Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper a bill to amend the Inspection of Ships Act was read a first time. It is intended to remove all doubt as to the authority of an inspector of gear and tackle to inspect ships in our ports except men of war.

The House then allowed itself to spend another whole day obstructing Dr. Weldon's bill to disfranchise voters who have taken bribes. The bill was being considnot a majority, of the committee favo ed an amendment making the person who cepted it. The amendment was rejected by 25 to 32. Sir John Thompson, after the filibustering had gone on for many weary hours, said the bill would have to be disposed of one way or the other if they sat all night. Messrs. Jeanotte, Amyot and other Quebec members were chiefly responsible tor the obstruction. Finally a motion by Mr. Moncrieff that the committee rise and report progress was carried. On a motion to adjourn Mr. Mulock protested against the disposition to obstruct public business. The time would soon come to understand whether the proceedings of the House were to become a farce. The public would disapprove of the proceedings of to-day. Sir John Thompson agreed that the dignity of the House called for a disposition of the bill. He was anxious to see it passed, but members who were within the rules in opposing it were not open to the charge of degenerating the proceedings into a farce. Mir. Laurier thought there was some

The Downey divorce bill passed the private bills committee of the House of Commons to-day.

There are 100 delegates here who will wait on the Government to-morrow and urge that a sum be placed in the supplementary estimates towards the further construction of the Trent Valley Canal. About 100 other delegates will arrive to-morrow.

The Senate spent to-day in discussing the Dillon divorce case and the principle as to whether two persons united in the faith of the Roman Catholic Church have any right to come to Parliament and ask to have their marriage dissolved. The debate lasted until 6 o'clock, when it was adjourned till to-morrow. Dillon, of Montreal, who is applying for the divorce, as well as his wife, is a Roman Catholic.

Slipped Into the Water.

WINDSOR, May 16 .- While Wm. Gilman, of Detroit, and Ernest Lamay were driving across the Turkey Creek bridge on their way to Fighting Island yesterday their attention was attracted by a noise in the water. On looking over the side of the bridge they saw the body of a man just disappearing below the surface. They lost no time in pulling the man out, and after some vigorous work on their part managed to bring him around. The man turned out to be an 80-year-old farmer named S. Fortier, who resides near Turkey Creek. He has been in the habit of sitting on the bridge while fishing, but yesterday he lost his balance and fell into the creek. He would undoubtedly have been drowned but for Mr. Gilman, and as it is it is doubtful if he will recover from the shock.

PIGS' FEET-AND SUCH.

A good deal has been said recently about the "pigs' feet and beer" episode in the Dominion election of 1891.

It would not serve the detractors of the Liberal party if they told the truth about that matter. The other day they published a libel on Mr. Peter Ryan, auctioneer, Toronto, forgetful of the abject apology which they had to tender citizens of London for a similar offense at the time of the "pigs' feet and beer" investigation. And when Mr. Ryan wrote a letter exposing the rascally untruths in the charge they emasculated the document. The same course is pursued with regard to the "pigs' feet and beer" matter,

What are the facts as revealed at the

That beer was openly purchased by a man who had never been appointed a member of Mr. Hyman's committees, and who, in fact, only attended one meeting.

That it was conveyed in a hack from Mr. Robert Carrothers' place to the band room (not a party committee room) in No. 3 ward, so strong a Conservative as Mr. Maurice Baldwin accompanying it.

That the meeting was attended by supporters of both political parties, and that prominent members of both political parties participated in the "picnic," as ardent Conservatives like Dr. Mitchell and Mr. Geo. Anderson, who were in attendance, can testify. That a local pigs' feet man, hearing of the "union carnival" of the political parties, came on the scene late in the evening, when he found customers of all shades of political views.

These are the facts as they came out in evidence. Whatever discredit there was in the affair-and it was discreditable-must be shared by the participants whether they were Liberal or Conservative. We have heard no responsible Liberal attempt to condone the mistake made by the man political advantage — unless absolute who foolishly ordered liquor and thus in- proof in support of the assertion validated the election of Mr. Hyman. It is | is brought forward. And as a general true that far worse offenses against the law were in evidence against the agents of Mr. Carling, but as that politician, with his usual craft, did not claim the seat, it was impossible to expose them. Since this event, however, the qualified electors of London elected as their member the respected citizen who lost his seat by the unnecessary zeal and liberality of a friend who was so generous as to entertain Mr. Carling's committee men along with other lovers of the pedal extremities of the genus pig. That Mr. Hyman does not occupy that seat now is traceable, not to the offense of an illinformed or over-zealous supporter, not to any misdeed of Mr. Hobbs, who is now the object of detraction, but to the outrage perpetrated by Judge Elliot and condoned by the Toronto official who seeks the suffrages of the citizens of London. No stupid pry of "pigs' feet and beer" can keep in the background the enormity of this offense.

"5. Why should the progressive city of London alone advertise that it has no one within its bounds fit to represent it in the Legislature, and has to accept the candidature of a paid officer of Toronto?"

No supporter of the London candidature of the city solicitor of Toronto has had charges which were made do duty in the byecourage to answer these questions.

This is the sixth time we have propounded the queries.

The little blank book issued recently by humorist to enable citizens to comprehend what Mr. Meredith has done for London is of the city solicitor of Toronto, who addresses to us the query, "When, in recent years, has Mr. Meredith set foot in London, except to carry money out of the city to spend in Toronto?" He asks, Is it not time there should be a change? Assuredly it is. Let the people try the experiment of giving Mr. Meredith a chance to secure a seat in Toronto. In any one of four constituencies there he could be assured of better chance of election than here. Is it to go forth that Lon don cannot find one man amongst those who have remained loyal to her best interests more capable of representing her than the man who for over twenty years has been a tail in the kite of the Brewery Boss? A change is desirable. The city wants emancipation once in a life time from the control of the Carling-Meredith Family Compact. Now is the time to secure it. Let us replace the Toronto civic official by SPECIMEN OUTRAGEOUS CHARGE. A dastardly attempt to mislead the electorate and to stir up religious prejudices against Sir Oliver Mowat on the falsest of evidence has come under our notice. In East Middlesex the opponents of the Ontario Government have set on foot the story that Sir Oliver passed a law to exempt inmates of Roman Catholic institutions from giving evidence, even to aid in the discovery of a crime.

When challenged both on and off the platform to produce the proof these emissaries of evil explained that they did not have a copy of the obnoxious law with them, but that they had it at home, and they indignantly protested that their word should be taken for it.

To their honor be it said, many of the men who have listened to the infamous libel on Sir Oliver Mowat refused to credit the story in the absence of evidence. We are able to say, after consulting the highest legal authority, that there is absolutely no foundation for the statement.

1. Sir Oliver Mowat has placed no such law on the statute book of Ontario. 2. Sir Oliver Mowat could not pass a law of the kind, though he were foolish enough to so desire, because it would be beyond his jurisdiction. 3. The law governing evidence is under the control of the Dominion Parliament. 4. As the law has been, and as it now is, every person who is duly summoned is a competent and compellable witness, no matter where he or she may have his or her habitation. 5. The inmates of convents and of every other institution are, in this matter of evidence giving, on an equality with the Mary Elizabeth, only daughter of James general community.

6. Even physicians, surgeons and clergymen-no matter what their denomination-can be compelled to give evidence in all criminal matters, though in their evidence they may he required to divulge a secret reposed in them.

7. The only person who enjoys exemption from telling all he knows is the professional legal adviser of an accused

Let us warn decent people everywhere to listen to no charge of this descriptionformulated in the first instance by firebrands, bent only on trading on religious prejudice and bigotry, to their personal or caution we would suggest that every accusation of this kind sprung upon the people between now and the day of election, should be disbelieved unless made by gives the universal satisfaction that Dodd's disinterested men and supported by unimpeachable testimony. The time has come for every honest elector to frown down tactics so dastardly and unfair.

BIENNIAL SESSIONS.

In his advocacy of biennial sessions-a session of the Ontario Legislature once every two years, instead of annually, as at present-Mr. Meredith shows himself an unsafe guide, and quite out of accord with the spirit of British constitutional govern-

Under Mr. Meredith's plan an administration could go unchecked, working its own sweet will, for two years at a time!

It would be no more absurd to propose to hold sessions of the City Council once every two years.

The best Government in the world should be expected to render an account of its stewardship in open Parliament once a year. But think of a bad government running unchecked for two years at a stretch ! Mr. Meredith is an unsafe guide.

DR. RYERSON'S FIASCO. Dr. Ryerson, the erratic Toronto M.P.P. moved in the Legislature for a return giving the name and religion of every temporary employe of the Public Works Department during the past two years. It was given him. But from that day to this, and weeks elapsed after he had received it before the House rose, nothing has been heard of the matter. Doubtless Dr. Ryerson has found out that the anti-Catholic elections were entirely refuted by the

No doubt Mr. Charles Moss, Q.C., or any one of several members of the Ontario fitly supplemented by a former supporter Government as it now stands, would make an efficient Provincial Premier. LEXINGTON, Ky., May 16.—The best people of Lexington and Fayette county, including several hundred ladies, turned out to the anti-Breckinridge meeting at the opera house. There were no hoodlums present, and the meeting from a standpoint of morality was a tremendous success. The opera house was filled and 500 people were turned away. Prot. J. W. McGarvey. an eminent minister of the Christian Church, was the first speaker, and he showed Col. Breckinridge up in no favorable light. He held that it would be a disgrace to the district, to the State and to the country to return such a man to Congress, and closed his speech by a strong appeal to the young men to vote against him. The other speaker was Judge M. J. Durham, who denied that Col. Breckinridge was the only man in the district who can represent us in Congress. The speeches were both well received and made a good impression.

Resolutions were adopted denouncing Breckinridge's morals and calling on the good people of the district to rise up in their might and vote against the silvertongued persuader. But when Harry C. Clay got up and offered a resolution not only denouncing Breckinridge's morals but asking that Senator J. C. S. Blackburn be asked to obtain leave of absence from the Senate and that he come home and from the rostrum speak against Breckinridge, the audience went wild. The cheering was deafening and it was plain to any observer that the Breckinridge boom started here by the silver-tongued orator himself a little more than a week ago was badly strained if

Nothing Hunts Out Corns

Like tight boots. Corns are very small affairs, but apply to them a pair of tight boots and all other concerns of life sink into insignificance, Tight boots and Putnam's Corn Extractor (the great and only sure cure for corns) may go together, and comfort will be their partner; but don't fail to use Putnam's Corn Extractor. FRIDAY BARGAIN DAY.

MAY 18

We celebrate the second anniversary of our Friday Bargain Day. Two years ago we commenced, we inaugurated, we started Friday Bargain Day. We little dreamed to what extent the scheme would grow. Friday, two years ago, the quietest day of the week, now one of the busiest. The spasmodic and suicidal policy of oppositionists to bury this infant, only tended to give it exercise, until now it not only walks, but can run alone. The public appreciate honest value, and believe our announcements, hence the success of our efforts. Shop early to-day. We give you the best bargains yet.

ON THE WOODBINE TRACK.

TORONTO, May 16.—This morning nearly every horse that is expected to start during the meeting was out on the track for exercise. A number were sent along at a merry clip, but the majority received only slow work. Higgins' horses have horses were locked in their stables and arrived, and this morning Jugurtha, Fellowship, Blue Garter, Beldemoma, Major-General and Palydora were seen on the track for the first time. They were all cantered with the exception of Jugurtha, who was sent a quarter in 261 seconds. King's County, one of the Hendrie horses, went a mile and a quarter this morning in 2:181, with Japonica a couple of lengths behind at the finish. Two Lips ran a mile in 1:55. Ocean Belle was cut loose for a quarter, which she covered in 243, and Foam ran a mile in 1:51 under a pull. Lou Daly was exercised on the road. Corpland went a half mile easily in 53 seconds. Victorious went a mile in 1:462 without being urged. Vicar of Wakefield made an excellent trial and covered the plate distance in 2:201. He was urged in the back stretch, but was allowed to go as he pleased in the first and last furlongs. Joe Miller was exercised with Saragossa, and had no difficulty in negotiating five eighths in 1:07. Eppleworth was sent a mile in 1:471, beating Meadowbrook by several lengths.

THE GRASSHOPPER BOUNTY.

New Hampshire Pays $1 a Bushel for Catching Them.

The State of New Hampshire pays $1 a bushel to farmers for grasshoppers that they destroy. The insect pests have been very troublesome for the past twelve years, says the New York Sun. They batch out in the first part of June, and the farmers have found that this time is the best for destroying them by plowing them under. The half-grown grasshoppers, that have been hatched early, escape the plow by lively hopping, and to catch these a machine has been invented which consists of two shallow pans of tin or galvanized iron, 8 feet long and 2 feet wide, and having a back 18 inches high. The pans are supported two inches above the surface of the ground, and are fastened to a pair of wheels. The pans are filled with kerosene which he has engaged in Paris, and having and water, and are run over the grass at a rapid rate. The half-grown grasshoppers jump up in their terror and alight in the kerosene. When the pans are full the grasshoppers are taken up to be measured benefit to-day, and the subscriptions already pays for the time and trouble expended in for the bounty, which in some cases amply catching the insects.

Soft Steamer Coal Bought in England for New York. NEW YORK, May 16 .- There have been 50,000 tons of England and Nova Scotiacoal sold to arrive in New York, a portion of which has already been shipped from Cardiff, Liverpool and Glasgow and from Sidney, Nova Scotia. The cost is within 45 to 50 cents per ton of the ordinary price of soft steamer coal delivered alongside New York. The bulk of this has been taken by the companies supplying steamers to fill their contracts. There are negotiations on foot for the purchase of 100,000 tons more to be delivered here between the 1st and 10th of June by the same parties for the same purpose. From this fact it is inferred that the coal companies intend fighting the strike to the finish. The present low rates of ocean freights makes the operation possible to bring coal from England in unlimited quantities and at competing prices even by steam, as very little freight is now coming this way. An agent of one of the leading coal companies which supplies the foreign steamships with their coal for the return trips and a member of the produce exchange, has bought most of the above purchases by cable, and he says the rates of freight paid on them consist only of the cost of loading and discharging the coal, and, he says, they will continue to import coal until the strike is ended.

Jones' Wood, the Famous New York Pleasure Resort, Denuded.

Buildings, Dock Property and Dwellings Destroyed.

Loss Over $800,000-Fierce Forest Fires in New York State.

New York, May 16.—The Empire Coliseum and Washington Park, the two adjoining resorts for summer dancers, long famous under the name of Jones' Wood, were to-day wiped out by fire. The flames communicated to and destroyed much exposed property in the vicinity, including some dock property belonging to one of the city departments. Outside Jones' Wood there were seven dwellings totally, and one partially destroyed, two docks, the build. ings at the tunnel mouth of the East River Gas Company, and all that could burn in a stoneyard, a number of squatters' shanties, nearly 200 trucks and about 50 horses. The could not be saved. Loss estimated at $250,000. Fully insured.

NEW YORK, May 16 .- Ovington Bros'. extensive china house on Flatbush avenue, near Fulton street, Brooklyn, was badly scorched to-day. The fire was got under control after $100,000 damage had been Another account says: Ovington Bros.' stores, Nos. 38 and 40 Flatbush avenue, an immense china an glass emporium, were badly damaged by fire this afternoon. A number of persons were in the store when the fire started, and there was a small panic. Everyone got out of the building without injury. The firm carries an immense amount of valuable stock in the building which is four stories high. The flames started in the batement, and in a few minutes had eaten their way to the first floor. By the time the firemen arrived the place appeared to be doomed. Hard work had its effect, however, and before long the fire was under control. The employes did good service in fighting the flames, and to them is due considerable credit for the building being saved. A great portion of the stock was ruined. Loss, $10,000.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 16. - Fire started in Newell's coal yard, Pawtucket, just before 3 o'clock. It spread quickly and the entire fire department was called out. It was readily seen that the department could not cope with the flames, and aid was summoned from Providence and Lincoln. The fire is still spreading. Four coal and lumber yards are now burning.

At this hour (5:50 p.m.) it is believed that the Pawtucket fire is under control. The electric station and gas works were on fire at one time, but were saved. Four eoal and lumber yards, with barns, five houses and eighteen horses were burned. The loss will probably exceed $800,000.

The estimated total loss is now placed at $436,000; probably insured for $325,000. SARANAC LAKE, N. Y., May 16.-Fierce prest fires are raging near Cascade Lake. The report that the Cascade House was Ferguson (P. of I.), J. H. Matheson (Con.). burned is untrue.

PORT JARVIS, N. Y., May 16 .- For three days a fierce fire has been burning in the mountains just across the Delaware River. The fire has been followed by a furious wind and has burned over an area of several miles, destroying a large amount of timber and two or three farm houses. The atmosphere is thick with smoke. DIAMONDS BY THE HANDFUL How It Feels to Let the Precious Stones Slip Through the Fingers.

"It gives one the oddest thrill to hold a handful of loose, unset precious stones just as if they were pebbles," said a fair cosmopolitan to a writer for the New York Tribune. "Not long since, in London, I went into a store famous for its jewels, and while I was talking with the clerk about the resetting of some old family relics, Lord A., who is a great friend of mine, came in. After some casual conversation he asked me if I would come with him into an inner room to look at some pearls he was thinking of purchasing. There we found Mr. C., one of the heads of the firm and the pearls were produced and discussed, and finally a couple were decided upon. 'Could you let Mrs. X. see your unset stones?' asked Lord A. after everything had been settled. 'I (Con.). will be her security,' he continued jokingly. 'Most certainly,' answered the obsequious tradesman, politely unlocking what proved to be a door into a huge safe, but which looked like part of the paneling of the room. He ushered us into a small room in the safe itself. It was carpeted with green baize and had no furniture, the walls being filled with rows upon rows of drawers, each with its own special lock and key. "Here you have wealth enough to buy kingdom, said Lord A., and I could not repress a cry of astonishment and rapture as Mr. C., with apparent carelessness, opened drawer after drawer, and showed me the glittering contents. Rubies, diamonds, pearls, sapphires-all the long array of precious stones, and all assorted according to size and quality. Would you trust me to take up a handful of those diamonds?' I had the audacity to ask. 'I simply long to know how it feels.' Both men seemed much amused, the jeweler John Campbell (P. of I.), R. Bryans (Con.). gratifying my request without hesitation; and as I felt the heavy glittering things slip through my fingers, I felt the thrill I spoke of in the beginning. 'You look as it you were in church?' laughed Lord A. The expression on your face is absolutely

SCROFULA CURED BY

MRS. JAS. CHASE. Worst Kind of Scrofula.

DEAR SIRS.-I had an abscess on my breast DEAR SIRS.—I had an abscess on my breast and scrofula of the very worst kind, the doctors said. I got so weak that I could not walk around the house without taking hold of chairs to support me. The doctors treated me for three years, and at last said there was no hope for me. I asked if I might take B.B.B. and they said it would do me no harm, so I began to take it, and before three bottles were used I felt great benefit. I have now taken six bottles and am nearly well. I find Burdock Blood Bitters a grand blood purifier and very good for children as a spring medicine.

VIENNA, Ont., May 16 .- The striking miners in the Ostrau district have withdrawn their demands for an eight-hour day, and have pledged themselves to accept 25 per cent increase of wages instead of the 40 per cent ordinarily required by them. They will insist, however, upon the reinstatement of the Socialist agitators who were discharged by the mine owners before the strike began. The mine owners are willing to haggle over the first two questions, but decline absolutely to talk of taking back the discharged men. Negotiations for a compromise continue.

"Turn to the Right.

I confess to having heard this testimony so the Religion with a pride which made me forget for a moment the immediate cirsumstances—the peril in which we stood, the gloomy room darkly lighted by a single eandle, the scared faces in the background, even the king's huddled figure, in which dejection and pride struggled for expression. For a moment only; then I hastened to reply, saying that I doubted not I could still extricate his Majesty without discovery.

"In heaven's name do it, then!" he answered sharply. "Do what you like, man! Only get me back into the castle, and it shall not be a Huguenot will entice me out again. I am over old for these adven-

A fresh attack on the door taking place as he said this induced me to lose no time in explaining my plan, which he was good enough to approve, after again upbraiding me for bringing him into such a dilemma. Fearing lest the door should give way prematurely, notwithstanding the bars I had provided for it, and goaded on by Madame de Bruhl's face, which evinced the utmost serror, I took the candle and attended his Majesty into the inner room; where I placed my pistols beside him, but silently resumed ny sword and dagger. I then returned for the women, and indicating by signs that hey were to enter, held the door open for Mademoiselle, whose bandaged hand I could not regard without emotion, though the king's presence and the respect I owed him forbade me to utter so much as a word, advanced readily until she reached the doorway abreast of me. There, however, looking back, and seeing Madame de Bruhl following her, she stopped short, and darting a haughty glance at me, muttered, "And—that lady? Are we to be shut up together, sir?"

"Mademolselle," I answered quickly in the low tone she had used herself, "have I ever asked anything dishonorable

She seemed by a slight movement of her head to answer in the negative. "Nor do I now," I replied with earnest-ess. "I intrust to your care a lady who has risked great peril for us; and the rest I leave to vou.

She looked me very keenly in the face for a second, and then, without answering, she passed on, Madame and Fanchette following her in that order. I closed the door and turned to Simon; who by my direction had blown the embers of the fire into a blaze so as to partially illumine the room, in which only he and I now remained. The lad seemed afraid to meet my eye, and owing to the scene at which he had just assisted, or to the onslaught on the door, which grew each moment more furious, betrayed greater restlessness than I had lately observed in him. I did not doubt his fidelity, however, or his devotion to mademoiselle; and the orders I had to give him were simple enough. "This is what you have got to do," I said, my hand already on the "The moment I am outside secure this door. After that, open to no one except Maignan. Twice I repeated this; then fearing lest the Provost-Marshal should make good his word and apply a ram to the door, I opened the trap. A dozen angry voices hailed my appearance, and this with so much violence and impatience that it was some time before I could get a hearing; the knaves threatening me if I would not instantly open, and persisting that I should do so without more words. Their leader at length quieted them, but it was plain that his patience too was worn out. "Do you his patience too was worn out. "Do you surrender or do you not?" he said. "I am not going to stay out of my bed all night for

"I warn you," I answered, "that the order you have here has been canceled by the king! "That is not my business," he rejoined

"No, but it will be when the king sends for you to-morrow morning," I retorted; at which he looked somewhat moved. "However, I will surrender to you on two conditions," I continued, keenly observing the coarse faces of his following. "First that you let me keep my arms until we reach the gate-house, I giving you my parole to come with you quietly. That is number one."
"Well," the Provost-Marshal said more civilly, "I have no objection to that." "Secondly, that you do not allow your men to break into my lodgings. I will come out quietly, and so an end. Your order does not direct you to sack my goods."

"Tut, tut!" he rep!ied; "I want you to come out. I do not want to go in."
"Then draw your men back to the stairs,"
I add. "And if you keep to man with men." I said. "And if you keep terms with me, I will uphold you to-morrow. For your will certainly bring you into trouble. M. de Retz, who procured it this morning, is away, you know. M. de Villequier may be gone to-morrow. But depend upon it, M. de Rambouillet will be here!"

The remark was well timed and to the point. It startled the man as much as I had hoped it would. Without raising any objection he ordered his men to fall back and guard the stairs; and I on my side began to undo the fastening of the door.

The matter was not to be easily con-cluded, however; for Bruhi's rascals, in obedience, no doubt. to a sign given by their leader, who stood with Fresnoy on the upper flight of stairs, refused to withdraw; and even bustled the Provost-Marshal's men when the latter would have obeyed the order. The officer, already heated by delay, replied by laving about him with his staff, and in a twinkling there seemed to be every prospect of a very pretty melee, the end of which it was impossible to

Reflecting, however, that if Bruhl's men routed their opponents our position might be made worse rather than better, I did not act on my first impulse, which was to see the matter out where I was. Instead, I seized the opportunity to let myself out, while Simon fastened the door behind me. The Provost-Marshal was engaged at the moment in a wordy dispute with Fresnoy; whose villainous countenance, scarred by the wound which I had given him at Chize, and flushed with passion, looked its worst by the light of a single torch which re-In one respect the villain had profited by his present patronage, for he was decked out in a style of tawdry magnificence. But I have always remarked this about dress, that while a shabby exterior does not entirely obscure a gentleman, the extreme of fashion is powerless to gild a

He took the bint promptly, and calling the link-man to his side prepared to descend, bidding Fresnoy and his men, who remained clumped at the head of the stairs, make way for us without ado. They seemed much inclined, however, to dispute our passage, and replying to his invectives with rough taunts, displayed so hostile a demeanor that the Provost, between regard for his own importance and respect for Bruh!, appeared for a moment at a loss what to do; and seemed rather relieved than annoyed when I begged leave to say a word to M. de Bruhl.

"If you can bring his men to reason," he replied testily, "Speak your fill to him!

Stepping to the foot of the upper flight, on which Bruhl retained his position, I saluted him formally. He returned my greeting with a surly, watchful look only, and drawing his cloak more tightly round him affected to gaze upon me with disdain; which ill-conceived, however, both the triumph he felt and the hopes of vengeance he entertained. I was especially anxious to learn whether he had tracked his wife hither, or was merely in pursuance of his general schemes against me, and to this end I asked him with as much irony as I could compass to what I was to attribute his presence. "I am afraid I cannot stay to offer you hospitality," I continued: "out for that you have only your friend M. Villequier to thank!"

"I am greatly obliged to you"he answered with a devilish smile, "but do not let that affect you. When you are gone I propose to help myself, my friend, to whatever takes my taste."

"Do you?" I retorted coolly-not that was unaffected by the threat and ne villainous hint which underlay ne words, but that, fully expecting them, I was ready with my answer. "We will see about that." And therewith I raised my fingers to my lips, and, whistling shrilly, cried "Maignan! Maignan!" in a (To be Continued.)

Highbinder Wartare in Frisco Claiming

Women Victims. SAN FRANCISCO. May 16. - The battles of warring highbinders in Chinatown have taken a new turn. The fury of these murdering bands is now being wreaked upon the helpless women who are the slaves of the highbinder masters. It has long been an unwritten law in Chinatown that life should be taken for life, and whenever a highbinder has been murdered the members of his Tong, or society, has invariably taken the life of some member of the Tong whose members were supposed to have done the killing. In this way highbinder warfare when once started claims many victims. On May 8, Choy Gim, a Chinese woman, an inmate of a Church alley brothel, died in the hospital from a bullet fired into her head by an assassin whom the police could not discover. Early yesterday morning a second woman, named Quee Sing, was murdered in a Dupont street brothel. Neither of the helpless women had done anything to provoke her assassin's action. More murders of a similar character are looked for. These helpless women are valued by their masters in Chinatown all the way from $1,000 to $2,000 and the highbinder's most sensitive point is a purse. Neither assassin is known to the police.

I continued to grow worse, one day I was induced to try a bottle of Northrep & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, and to my great surprise and joy, I soon began to improve. I continued using this medicine, and when the third bottle was finished I found I was entirely cured; and as a year has elapsed since then, I feel confident that the cure is complete and permanent. -Mr. David Cumberland, the popular manager of the Bank of British North America, has, through several changes in the staff of managers, been transferred to Quebec city, and will take charge there in a few days. A number of his friends took a farewell dinner with him at the London Club last night. A very pleasant time was spent, and all expressed their regret at losing such a worthy citizen. Among those present were Messrs. C. S. Hyman, M.P., Harry Carling, Major Smith, D. B. Dewar (Bank of Commerce), E. A. Cleghorn, Capt. Pigott, T. F. Howe (Bank of Toronto), A. H. Beddome (Bank of Montreal), John Labatt, T. H. Smallman, M. D. Fraser, Judge Edward Elliott, John McKinnon and H. B. Elliott. Mr. Cumberland will be succeeded by the manager of the Fredericton (N. B.) branch. Freaks of the Fluid.

During the severe storm early this morning, about 1 o'clock, the electric fluid struck and shattered the large flagpole at Morkin's Hotel, King street. It entered one of the bedrooms, where Moses Florey, Company, was asleep, scattered the plaster, ripped up his hat, and strange to say never woke up Moses. The lightning shattered the flag pole and

The lightning burned out several telephones in the city. A large pine tree was shattered in Queen's Park. Crops in the southern portion of Westminster township suffered to a great extent by last night's storm. The hailstones were unusually large, and almost totally ruined the vegetable crops. Early Morning Blaze. Lightning struck a frame building used as a workshop in the rear of Mr. Elijah Payne's residence, corner of Richmond and Gray streets, about 1:30 this morning. The alarm was sounded by P. C. Berryhill, and the brigades promptly responded. Despite their efforts the flames communicated to a woodshed and barn, totally destroying the former and badly damaging the latter. A horse, buggy and harness belonging to Mr. W. H. Haskin were removed from the barn without difficulty. The workshop contained sewing machines and a quantity of drygoods, and is a total loss, on which there is no insurance. The house was but slightly damaged.

A Sad Drowning Accident. Little Elgie May, the 2-year-old daughter of Mr. Frank Fortner, con. 4, lot 5, London township, met a sad death yesterday morning. Her father was working in the field a short distance away and she started to meet him. To do so she had to cross a plank over a stream which feeds a large fish pond. Her father consequently warned her to go back, and she did so, but changed her mind, and unknown to him came toward him again, and, losing her balance, fell into the water and was drowned. The creek was two or three feet deep and the current carried her into the pond, where her lifeless body was discovered by chance ten or fifteen minutes afterwards. She was a promising child, and the blow was a hard one on her affectionate parents. A second young daughter is left to them. The farm which Mr. Fortner occupies is owned by Mr. George White, the machine manufacturer, of this city.

Sudden Death at Port Stanley. St. Thomas Times: Mr. David Hume Cromrie died at his residence, New Orchard Beach, Port Stanley, this morning, of neuralgia of the head. Although he had been complaining for some time, he was able to work on Tuesday in his garden, and got up this (Wednesday) morning for a short time, but lay down and expired. A very happy event took place at the residence of Mr. Levi Lewis, on the Wharncliffe road, South London, last evening, when his youngest daughter, Miss Anita, was married to Mr. T. J. The high esteem and respect that Londoners have for Mr. Grigg will undoubtedly insure the support and good will of the public, and feeling that now they have a man whose heart and sympathy are in his work, the directors hope the citizens will rally round those who have for some months labored under many difficulties to keep the Humane Society affoat, and aid both by their support and sympathy the organization whose claims have for some time been before the public. All complaints or cases of cruelty will be promptly attended to by applying either by letter or telephone to

Dear Sir.-The statement made by me in communication signed "K. H." viz., that Mr. Samuel Grigg has been appointed inspector to the London Humane Society. was made under the belief that Mr. Grigg had accepted the position. The offer was made to him and the committee believed that the arrangement was settled. It appears, however, that after considering the proposal Mr. Grigg, while heartily approving of the work of the society and willing at all times to render voluntary assistance in the promotion of its objects, is not able to accept. All lovers of God's dumb creatures will regret this decision, as no man is more fit to carry out the designs of the society, but at the same time will recognize that the reasons for the declination must be sufficient. Yours truly, Scandrett, the president of the association, occupied the chair, and announced that the object of the gathering was to make arrangements for a reception to Toronto's city solicitor lineman of the Canadian General Electric on his arrival in London on Saturday evening. He called on several to express opinions as to what course was best to pursue. Messrs. Flock, Hellmuth and Judd were among the speakers, and they favored the adoption of the roof. The citizens of London are perhaps not generally aware of the great need there is for something being done to aid more efficiently those who are afflicted with incurable diseases. Such persons are not received into the General Hospital, nor are they admitted into any of our charitable institutions, as it is impossible in any of these to give them the constant and unremitting care and attention which their state demands. Rev. Mr. Ballantyne's Congregation Will Oppose His Translation to Ottawa.

At the regular weekly prayer meeting in Knox Church, South London, last night, the call of the pastor, Rev. James Ballantyne, to Knox Church, Ottawa, was discussed by the leading members. A series of resolutions were carried, which, after Mr. Ballantyne's ability and devction during his nine years' service were highly praised, continued as follows: "Resolved, that in view of the acceptance, harmony and success with which our paster has during these years labored among his congretion, and inasmuch as the fruits of his labors have year by year been growing more manifest, and as the temporal and spiritual prosperity of the congregation are more marked at the present time than at any period in its history, it is the unanimous feeling of this meeting that his removal now would be a source of regret and sorrow to every member and adherent within the bounds of the congregation; and that we respectfully request that the petition of Knox Church, Ottawa, for the translation of Mr. Ballantyne be not motion to our beloved pastor." The above were adopted unanimously, and the following delegates were then appointed to represent the congregation before the Presbytery at its special session: Messrs. A. Thompson, John Macpherson, Thos. Alexander, Dr. Ferguson, J. S. Dewar, W. M. Gartshore, D. McAlpine, John Marshall and Wm. Morris.
