Flower Shop
NINE WILL REMAIN
THE OPENING HOUR
OF SMALLMAN STORE

New Arrangement Is Best For
the Purchasing Public.

Notwithstanding the fact that it has been advertised on numerous occasions that Smallman & Ingram's store opens at 9 o'clock in the morning, instead of 8:30, many citizens, even on being told that the store opens at 9 o'clock, have come down at the earlier hour. This new time, which is a result of the new arrangement, is declared by both employees and shoppers to be a great advantage over the former one. It is claimed, can be done in eight hours as in eight and a half hour, because the night and half-hour day was in force the business would only draw over the longer time, as the same number of shoppers come in the business day, no matter how long it is.

Those who have received gifts which are not suitable, and who wish to have them changed, are advised to come in to bring them back and receive certificates, which are worth the value of the goods. These certificates are as good as money at any time of the year.

TWO YEARS IN PRISON FOR THREE DESERTERS

Stern Lecture From Magistrate in Passing Sentence.

Three deserters from the Canadian forces, Robert A. Lammiman, John E. Lammiman and John E. Lammiman, were sentenced to two years in Kingston Penitentiary by Magistrate Marshall Graydon in police court today.

"I don't think you are entitled to any consideration," said the magistrate, passing sentence. "You have proved yourselves to be utterly cowardly. According to the evidence, you were away from the front lines, and as soon as the armistice was signed, you got off and went to the States. You are a disgrace to the name of Canadian."

It would be a very unfortunate state of affairs if men like you were allowed to get off, and I don't intend to let you. Sentence you, each one, to two years in Kingston Penitentiary.

BOARD OF HEALTH RECLINES TO CLOSE SCHOOLS OR THEATRES

Seriousness of Epidemic Brings Conference of Physicians, Officials and Playhouse Managers — The Theatre Employees Not Victims of Disease.

Downham, M. O. H., replied in the affirmative. Some of the managers stated that patrons had been requested.

Dr. Robert Ferguson, W. J. Tillman and Lindsay spoke for the medical profession. Superintendent Heard giving the report for Victoria Hospital since October 3.

Doctors' Lives Endangered.—Dr. Tillman declared that at the present rate and as they have been obliged to do since the outbreak of influenza in the city, the doctors will soon be dead. Many cases, he stated, were traced to people coming in from other cities. A large amount of influenza is believed to be due to the increased travelling on trains during the holiday season. Closing orders could scarcely be effective here unless made general in the province. Among cases cited were those of the doctors.

Dr. Ferguson stated that the influenza epidemic is spreading rapidly in London through visitors coming to the city. He stated that a young girl who came to visit from Detroit died within 48 hours at St. Joseph's Hospital, where both her sisters are seriously ill with the disease contracted from her, and also a caller at her home.

The School Regulations.—The principals will all be notified before the board meets on Monday. The day of the local regulation to this effect: "children from homes where there is influenza are to be kept away from the school."

Where the children have had the disease and are therefore considered immune, they are to be allowed to return to school. It is not thought that they will be a menace to other children.

The theatre managers stated that if their houses were allowed to remain open, they would be in a very bad position. One was suggested was to run films, and another was to give away free tickets. The managers are all in agreement that the greatest danger to the theatre is the influenza epidemic.

Dr. Ferguson called attention to the fact that the greatest danger to the theatre is the influenza epidemic. He stated that the greatest danger to the theatre is the influenza epidemic.

Your Chance in Thrift Stamps?

How much money are you going to save in thrift stamps during the year 1919? One woman wants to go on a trip to Europe some sweet day, by and by, now that the war is over, away up to Norway and Sweden, and all kinds of out of the beaten-track places. Once upon a time she studied in Germany, but she hasn't the least inclination to go back to Germany, never again, she says. But, in any case, after working her head and her hands off for the Red Cross and in other kinds of war service for four and a half years, she is beginning to dream again of the journeys in which her heart has delighted.

"I know how I'm going to do it. Thrift stamps!" she declared the other day, as she saw the sign staring her in the face in a well-known local store. "Will you take your change in thrift stamps?"

She nodded to the printed query and replied aloud. "Yes, I'll take my change that way, but not until after Christmas. I can't until I have all my Christmas presents bought." And there was a kind of apologetic, almost pleading note in her voice.

How many times you resist temptation to buy something you really don't need in the least, something in all probability that would spoil your digestion, in order to add another thrift stamp, a twenty-five-cent thrift stamp to that card with sixteen squares you are going to get sprouted right away? When you have sixteen stamps on the card, then you exchange it for a fully-registered war savings certificate. It only costs you four dollars now, and you will get your own back with usury amounting to five dollars in five years' time. Think of it, four dollars earning one more dollar!

By the time you have eight of those war savings certificates, you will be entitled to a fifty-dollar Victory Loan. It will bring you fifty dollars in five years, even if it is only worth forty dollars right away. Doesn't it make you dizzy to think of the way those salvaged quarters here, and quarters there, are going to pile up into the nucleus of a fortune some day?

Since the last Victory Loan was the last big Victory Loan, it is possible that the opportunity will only be offered for one year to buy thrift stamps and war savings certificates on the present terms.

Ever so many people in the city and Western Ontario are carrying round their thrift cards already. They have given them to the children instead of birthday, Christmas and New Year's Day presents. When it comes St. Valentine's day, on will go another thrift stamp, and so on, every generous outburst during the year. Aunts, uncles, cousins as well as mothers and fathers will tumble over themselves in helping the little people to get their thrift cards filled up.

The big people are going to be just as eager and interested over their own thrift cards as the little people can possibly be over theirs. Quite probably lots of big people will welcome gifts of thrift stamps on birthdays, St. Valentine's days and festive occasions such as these, just as much as the juveniles. Particularly with this kind of a commemorative appeal, if one is saving money to go to Europe, to take some special kind of lessons, to buy a new rug, to help pay for a house, or just to purchase an old age annuity, or a corner of an old people's home.

Thrift stamp buying is not only good business for oneself, but for the country as well. It will furnish the power to help keep the wheels of industry revolving merrily, to help develop the enormously valuable resources of the Dominion, to help Miss Canada run her own show, and to make good times for all the people. It is up to the people to profit by the good times and help to make more good times, also to lay away a goodly store for that rainy day. May it never come!

Will you take your change in thrift stamps?

TO MEET THE NEED OF NURSES

"One of the Workers" in the influenza epidemic, who has since kept closely in touch with health conditions in the city and district, and has been working for herself along the line of promoting efficiency in public health service, this week sends in a letter suggesting a plan which is a big step in the direction of centralizing public health activities in the city under the board of health.

She says of her idea of establishing a city registration bureau for nurses in a central location in the immediate future, "You can see how this plan would gradually evolve into the one which has already been proposed, namely, taking over all the city nurses under the board of health."

The letter is as follows:

Dear Miss Armstrong,—In view of the great demand in the city for nurses for influenza cases, and the need that many people are voicing for the re-establishment of a city registration bureau; and inasmuch as we have been told by the city health authorities that we can expect to find causes of influenza occurring off and on all winter, it has occurred to a number of people that it would be well to make improvements found to be necessary in the "modus operandi" to help develop the resources of the Dominion, to help Miss Canada run her own show, and to make good times for all the people. It is up to the people to profit by the good times and help to make more good times, also to lay away a goodly store for that rainy day. May it never come!

Will you take your change in thrift stamps?

London, Canada, Dec. 30, 1918.

Dear Miss Armstrong,—In view of the great demand in the city for nurses for influenza cases, and the need that many people are voicing for the re-establishment of a city registration bureau; and inasmuch as we have been told by the city health authorities that we can expect to find causes of influenza occurring off and on all winter, it has occurred to a number of people that it would be well to make improvements found to be necessary in the "modus operandi" to help develop the resources of the Dominion, to help Miss Canada run her own show, and to make good times for all the people. It is up to the people to profit by the good times and help to make more good times, also to lay away a goodly store for that rainy day. May it never come!

The V. A. D.'s and practical nurses have done excellent work so far as their experience and training enable them to go, and in view of the fact that many of them are still engaged, and are being sought after every day because of the great demand for nursing help, their work could be made a great deal more effective and their interests better protected, if they were better organized. If the city, when it reopens its registration bureau, would handle it in some such fashion as this, for instance:

1. By establishing headquarters in a store or room down town, if no space in the city hall is available. The congestion at the Institute of Public Health would be relieved, and the office be more easy of access from any part of the city.

2. For equipment, I would suggest two telephones, one for nurses, and one for other calls; an office manager, and a stenographer, and someone to answer the phone, thereby insuring that the business will be dispatched rapidly and smoothly.

3. The city might be divided into districts, and a trained nurse assigned as head nurse of each district, the size of the district depending on the number of trained nurses which the city has available already and can commandeer for the work.

4. All nurses, V. A. D.'s, and practical nurses or volunteers must register at the central office before they go on a case.

5. All requests for nurses to be made at the central office.

6. The name of each V. A. D. or practical nurse, who is sent into her district, with name of family and address, to be sent to head nurse of district daily from central office.

7. Head nurse to respond to calls by V. A. D.'s or practical nurses for advice or instruction.

8. A nurse would only leave one case and go to another after a visit by or consultation with the head nurse had been made. Head nurse would notify central office of release of nurse.

Each nurse would keep a record card supplied by the city of cases attended, family names, ages, work done and physicians' calls with date, these to be turned in to central office in person, when bill for service would be made out. Each family to be billed by office when nurse leaves, and all money to be paid in to city treasurer's office; nurses to be paid by the city, and bills sent through once a week.

10. Head nurse of district would arrange for relief of nurses under her when necessary.

11. A lecture by a trained nurse to be given once a week to all nurses who can attend.

The following little parable, borrowed from the Minnesota Public Health Association Journal of December 25, illustrates the importance not only of eating to live, but of eating as well as to lay up reserve strength and fat against the day of emergency.

The article, by the way, is an expansion of the syllabus of public health, prepared by the Minnesota Public Health Association, of which Dr. H. W. Hill, formerly of this city, is the executive secretary, in co-operation with the state department of education for use of Minnesota teachers. The following is the article.

Too little is as bad as too much; whether speaking of fat or coal. The good ship Nantauk found it to be true, when she left port with only fuel to last for half her journey. Her coal supply became lower and lower, until finally only two small pieces of coal remained in the bin. The firemen rushed to the captain of the ship and asked him what they should do now that there were only two small pieces of coal left, and they were in mid-ocean, thousands of miles away from land, and hundreds of miles from a coal station. "Burn the two pieces of coal," said the captain, "and then begin to break up the steamer chairs."

The steamer chairs had been broken up and burned, so had the dining-room chairs and the kitchen chairs, and the tables, and most of the rafts, but still the ship was not in sight of land. Now the captain ordered the cabin torn down so that the boards could be used as fuel, except the hull itself, and that would probably have been used, too, if it were not for the fact that as soon as a board were taken from it, the ship would have to sink.

It was not regarded as serious until about a week later when complications of an alarming nature set in. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon to the Kintore Cemetery.

CANADA'S DIVISIONS.

THIS NORTHERN LAND of sturdy people, hard wheat and rugged tasks may not have had the "melting pot" problem of its big neighbor to the south, but we have a problem that presents almost as great difficulties—and sooner or later we shall have to be a crucible for a mixture of strange races. What sort of molds are we preparing for the influx of adaptable metal?

What one has in mind are the great four divisions of geography and mental attitude in Canada. First are the Maritime Provinces, from which have come some of the finest intellectual types the nation has produced, a land of sturdy occupations, yet quickly becoming, as it leaves the sea, a pastoral country of contentment, as much concerned with essential democracy as modern improvements, and conducting affairs and politics somewhat on old-fashioned lines, with nothing of the crude strain of latter-day efficient idealism, but working on the homely virtue and sound basic principle idea.

Then is a solid, French Quebec, fenced off, misunderstood, as well as misunderstanding, filled with a volatile, electric spirit which rarely finds expression in terms of broad Canadianism, because it is seldom called to the platform to speak with a mind upon broadened national issues. Quebec is picturesque, rather than practical, yet filled with latent spirit and potentialities that should ripen into a rich fruitage for the whole nation. With the deepening of the St. Lawrence its chief city may become the chief port of America.

Ontario, hard-headed in rural and urban parts, producing intensified and successful concerns, great in finance, great in production, great in egoism, great in loyalty, great in prejudice and insularity, Ontario is a rugged, central key-stone province, which often finds it hard to believe that there is any more to Canada. Toronto is most often the voice of Ontario, a city of magic growth in industry, finance and education.

A veritable ocean of rock separates Ontario from the west. It might well be thought of as a solid wall of rock that will forever remain as a barrier to a common effort. The west is eager and quick, chance-taking and courageous, full of those who dare much and live dangerously, but force ahead in practical experiment, which may be a blunder if it loses, and a howling victory if it wins. The west in a minute would tear up conditions Ontario would regard as sacred institutions. The west will test men quickly and harshly and "throw them down" without a moment's thought; Ontario will follow the man if he belongs to the right lodge or can create idolatry by means of mock heroics and constant appearance.

There are four distinct attitudes of mind in Canada. No man coming with the policies and practicals of one division can give Canada a leadership that will bring about a common purpose and consciousness. It is the rare man with vision broad enough to fuse the whole into a working entity that Canada will always need. The man to bring this country into a close harmony of effort, in which the musicians will all be playing "O Canada," must be no provincial product. "O Canada" must know and see and feel the country's aspirations and merge them into a policy that will give to us such eras of pulling-together force for a common purpose as animated the nation during certain fifteen years.

"MIDNIGHT FRIENDS."

A MAN LIVES in London who saw long service at the front, and left the trenches when the Germans "got" him. He is one who despises the tinsel show of life, and the plated ware that passes for honor or sincerity or friendship. Although his mental equipment is such as to bring him out in bold relief from the crowd, he prefers to make his deposits in the bank of good-will rather than to concern himself with a whirligig race for dollars. He lives his life vitally, indulges his soul in the "good-to-be-alive" doctrine, and thanks God every day that he was able to serve in the war and to stand with his feet upon ground hallowed in the cause of human brotherhood.

He has not a battalion of friends, not real friends. (Robert Louis Stevenson says that anyone who has a round dozen real friends is rich beyond dreams of avarice.) But the soldier who served his country and who continues to serve his brothers knows what he means when he calls these few real friends his "midnight friends." If you are one of his "midnight friends" he would literally plunge into hell for you, if it meant the saving of your life. You could have his coat or his hopes of salvation—and he wouldn't ask why you needed his friendship, or how you got your self into a hole.

If you wear his proud title of "midnight friend" you know that you are elected to wear a character that makes the same demands as the bond of comradeship that he gives. When asked what he meant when he talked about his chosen ones, he said:

"Well, there are plenty of people who would give their home or their desk or their work for you, but there are mighty few who would be up at midnight in response to your call and dash into the cold dark to find you, and spend the whole night searching and finding you, like a sheep, greet you with a glad 'Hello!' and put your feet in the path that leads to home. These are my 'midnight friends,' and the man who has even one of them is richer in life than any millionaire."

A REMARKABLE RECORD.

There is no evidence that enemy submarines ever received information of the departure of shipping from a British port.—From the Report of the Chief of British Secret Service.

THE BRITISH ISLES were full of Germans upon the outbreak of war. Stories of the use of signals and wireless apparatus were widely circulated, and many scares were abroad as to the destruction of fleets and property by means of collusion with the enemy from within the country. It was known that a rigid censorship dammed the avenues of information, and it was suspected that many acts of violence were perpetrated behind the veil, and much information of service to the Germans was being sent from England.

But the statement of the head of the British Secret Service as to the failure of the Huns to sink one ship by means of information secured in the British Isles is as reliable as it is remarkable. It is possible that the term "British" is meant to include Canadian ports, and none of the intimations of the Dominion censor would indicate that any tragedy ever occurred through a leakage of information from this country. How far the German spy system extended in this country remains to be shown, but universal and early precautions were effective. The United States was for a long period the haven of the secret agent, who got "tips" to Germany, and later on Mexico and South America were the scenes of operations. Perhaps, after all, the enemy was too crafty to play overmuch with the British buzz-saw.

A WORD TO THE RESTAURANTS.

THE FOOD CONTROLLER some weeks ago removed the restrictions upon the serving of sugar in restaurants, but many restaurants have not yet given the public the advantage of the lifting of the ban. They continue to dole out the sweetening in minute quantities, and see to it that no profusion of leaves or no overflowing bowl appears on the counter. In other words, they are going to continue the food controller's regulations because it pays, and the public does not make any complaint.

The same applies, and will apply, to other commodities upon which regulations were placed during the war. The removal of the curtailment has not been marked either by an increase in portions or a use of those articles upon which there is less profit. This does not apply to all restaurants, but there are many which reduced the quantity and quality of their meals under restriction, and, in addition, increased prices, and which continue to serve thin soup and thin slices.

Sooner or later there will be a demand for more and better foods in the restaurants. A wholesome meal is worth paying for, and the matter of price does not enter into the question so much as the desire to satisfy the inner man with nourishing and palatable victuals. The feeding of the public more and more becomes a matter demanding regulation. It was, shown by certain investigations that during the war some restaurants made profits of more than 500 per cent by an extreme observance of regulations and a determination to give as little as possible for the money. It is not believed that any London restaurants made any such profits, but the proprietor who realizes that the public is anxious for a return to better catering will be the first to reap the benefit. Certainly the effort made to continue the restrictions upon sugar looks like small business.

"PADDY'S" NEW PIECE

IGNACE JAN PADEREWSKI, he of the massive "mop" and the acrobatic digits, the world's champion piano player, passionate Pole, is reported president of the new Poland. Perhaps this is just a bit of skillful press agenting for another "farewell tour." If, however, Ignace intends running the scales of justice for his people instead of running the scales for enraptured Americans it is worth noting that there are notable precedents to sanction his act. He will not be the first head of a state devoted to Orpheus. Nero fiddled and recent Babylonian excavations show that when in his cups Alexander bewailed Macedonian ragtime. And didn't W. Hohenzollern once ruthlessly perpetrate a symphony and conduct an orchestra? Maybe Ignace with his matchless art could "soothe the savage breasts" of those Bolshevik packs which are sweeping across his country towards Western Europe. Which moves us to nominate Chauncey Olcott for the presidency of that "Irish Republic." Some "sweet singing" might mellow the present raging Sinn Feiner.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Anyone who complains of a little frigidity now is no fit subject of this banana belt.

Lloyd George has served notice on all parties that he sits at the head of the table—and does the carving.

The Bolsheviks can never maintain a permanent power, simply because insanity won't work out as a regular trade.

The Northland investigation shows how sensitive a government may become to complaints when there is political discontent in the land.

The departure of Mr. John Foot for Winnipeg will be generally regretted. He is the type of man who gave vigor to London's aspirations and worked for all good movements.

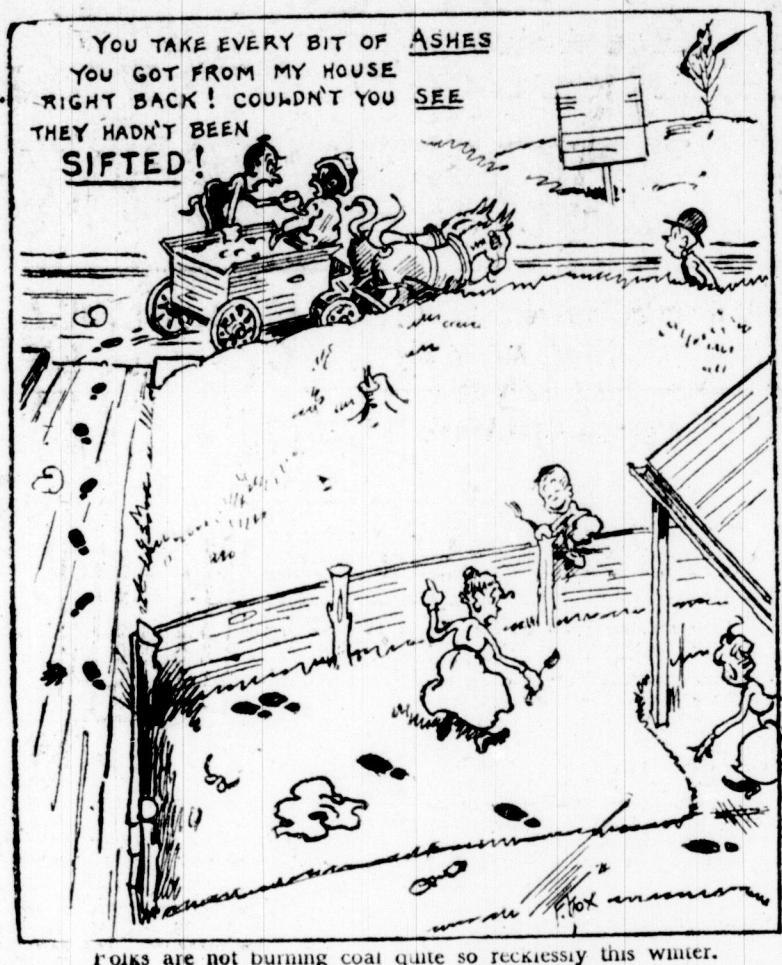

The Brantford Courier, recently absorbed by the Expositor of the same city, is another example of a good newspaper driven to the wall by oppressive prices. Each newspaper that gives up the ghost means the loss of a certain medium of thought and a substantial industry as well. Something has ruined many newspapers. What was the influence? No publisher who has to pay the bills will require two guesses. And does the Government realize how the press as a whole has struggled to keep its head above the water that sweeps from certain heavy stock issues?

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

"MATRICULANTS" REJOINDER.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:
Some letters have a purpose, and others have none. My letter appearing in your issue of December 30, had a purpose. That purpose was to elicit the views of one engaged in the training of stenographers and bookkeepers. As you are no doubt aware, my effort was highly successful, and the views were those anticipated.

I wonder if my esteemed teacher of commercial department work realized that one of the greatest obstacles to the progress of a man seeking promotion to higher position and salary is his own ignorance of conditions in the world of business. Some inexperienced men fail to realize that business is competition, struggle, battle—fail to realize that it is a game for high stakes payable in cold cash. The dollar is the goal of business. In this interesting game of getting the dollar, salaried men are paid in direct proportion to their abilities in getting the dollar, and on no other basis. They are not paid high salaries merely because they are "nice fellows," or because they are "willing workers," or because they have been with the firm a long while (so has the janitor), but because the firm makes a big profit on them.

In reducing expenses, the very first thing the manufacturer or the dealer thinks of is to cut the salaries of the "help."

Therefore the salaries of clerks, bookkeepers, correspondents, stenographers, foremen, mechanics, laborers, etc., are cut to the very lowest limit. If these people could possibly get on less money and still do the work, their employers would force them to do so. Employers can get all they want of this kind of "help" for a "song," because there are thousands of men willing to work for nearly any price.

Training holds good, is "cashable" in every station of work, high or low. The salaries of trained workmen and mechanics are guarded against reduction to an extent by their training. Not so, except a man who has learned the trade can do the work. If it were not for this one fact, the formation of labor unions would be useless, because when a strike occurred there would be thousands of men ready to take their places.

Some say "You can't keep a good man down." Those people are fools—might as well say you can't keep an innocent man in jail. If the innocent man in jail cannot prove his innocence he is kept there; and if a man of ability cannot prove he has ability that are going to keep him down, and we know that there are thousands of good men who are down.

Even the daily newspapers prove this. It is only too often we come across an ad. such as "SITUATION WANTED AS RIGHT-HAND MAN OF 28 years; 10 years' business training as accountant, correspondent and bookkeeper; initial salary secondary consideration. Box 54."

After ten long years of routine work he is still looking for some of the same thing. The prospect of the man who sticks to clerical work are not very brilliant.

Playing for promotion is the cheapest game in the world. There are thousands of chances for gain, and there are thousands of chances for loss. In fact, 75 men out of every 100 fail to win.

These are facts, Mr. Commercial Department Teacher, and facts are stranger than fiction. This is because the most wonderful thing in the world is life itself.

Now, then, what can account for the large number of men who fail to win? Nothing other than the training they have received.

Captains of industry may be born, but they come in on the ground floor, very often as the office boy. That is all right, my dear commercialist—experience is a good teacher, but it changes

Magic! Costs few cents! Just drop a little Freezone on that touchy corn, instantly it stops aching, then you lift the bothersome corn off with the fingers. Truly! No humbug!

Try Freezone! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle for a few cents, sufficient to rid your feet of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and calluses, without one particle of pain, soreness or irritation. Freezone is the mysterious ether discovery of a noted Cincinnati genius. Great!

SYRUP OF FIGS

Look at tongue! If feverish, bilious, constipated, take no chances.

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels.

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child.
See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.
When, listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs,"
and in a few hours all the foul waste,
the sour bile and fermenting food pass out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies,
children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeiters sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

'Give to me that I may help!'

The Red Cross appeal for funds will be made next week. Money is urgently needed to carry on the work in Canada among the sick and wounded who are practically at our doors. The men are used to all the comforts and kindness showered upon them by the Red Cross overseas. Are we going to desert them when they return?

It is our duty and our pleasure to show our appreciation in some way, and the Red Cross is the channel. This inspiring message must be the resolve of us all, collectively and as individuals:

Until the last Canadian soldier, who offered himself as a barrier between us and destruction, is discharged from hospital, we must march forward steadily under the banner of the Red Cross.

COL. NOEL MARSHALL

(In Telegram to the London Branch, Canadian Red Cross.)

The Red Cross has undertaken to systematize the work within Canada, so as to be, in fact as well as in name, the auxiliary of Army Medical Service in Canada as it is overseas.

The Red Cross stands ready to meet all emergencies, and in civil as well as military life, plays its noble part wholeheartedly. This was amply evidenced in the height of the Spanish Influenza epidemic, when, appealed to by the Board of Health, the Red Cross responded to the call for help and supplied bedding, clothing, medical supplies and willing workers.

Resolve to CARRY ON in your giving, that the Red Cross may CARRY ON in its healing. Give without stint, without hesitation, without unworthy quibbling—give as the boys did who saved us all.

Hockey Game Scheduled For Tonight Postponed

Intermediates and Juniors Held Workout Last Night—Practice Tonight at East End Rink Between 6 and 7 o'Clock—Game May Be Played Tomorrow.

The intermediate hockey game, which was scheduled for tonight between the St. Thomas and London teams, has been postponed and will possibly be played Saturday night if weather permits.

Junior and intermediate players had a practice at the East End Rink between 6 and 7 o'clock last evening. The Juniors turned out in good numbers. Manager Jack Grod, the intermediate players are in good condition, and should give the Railway City team a trim.

A practice will be held at the East End Rink, York street, tonight, between 6 and 7 o'clock. Every hockey player is requested to attend the practice.

All hockey players will wear numbers on their sweaters this year. This rule was enforced this year for the first time by the Ontario Hockey Association. The numbers will help the spectators to distinguish the players and each game giving the name and numbers of the visiting team as well as the local men.

The Junior O. H. A. series will open here next Tuesday night, when the Ingersoll puckchaser will hit up with the London lads. This promises to be a fast game.

London will have a strong Junior team this year, as well as a first-class intermediate group. Woodstock, Paris and Ingersoll teams will play the Juniors during the month.

BIG SPORT PROGRAM BEING PLANNED BY BRITISH SPORTSMEN

Football, Soccer, Cross-Country Races, Boxing Events Will Be Held.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Some idea of the widespread recognition of the importance of athletics in the morale as well as the physical development of armies and navies may be gained from Great Britain's latest move in sport.

The Army Sport Control Board has started at once on a most comprehensive plan of British army championship competitions to be held in England in April, 1919. Telegrams have been sent to the troops in every theatre of war, and that means to a very large part of Europe, Asia and Africa, the events will bring together the picked athletes of the British service from the four corners of the earth, and presumably among the entrants will be the auxiliary troops of many nationalities with the exception of the Union Jack.

Competition will be by units, and the events will be football, boxing, soccer and cross-country running. Eliminations will be held overseas, that is, where the troops are stationed, and the final sent to England.

A military tournament will be arranged for the same time. All boxing in the army will be under the rules of the Imperial Services Boxing Association. The telegraphic address of the Army Sport Control Board is Sportobolo, London.

The secretary of the newly-appointed

Army Sport Control Board, whose office is in the War Office Annex, Whitehall, London, S. W., is Lieut. R. C. "Jock" Hartley, who has served in France. He has been a prominent athlete. His education was obtained at Dulwich and at Jesus College, Cambridge. He represented his varsity as a hammer thrower, and also won his blue for football. Later he gained fame as a soccer forward. His experience as an athlete and as an executive in athletics should qualify him especially for the new position in which he will attract worldwide attention.

The United States does not have much of soccer in its army, and has no rugby whatever, but it has boxers, footballers and cross-country runners. Why not an American meet, such as that being arranged by Lieut. Hartley, and then have international championships in the two sports on which the countries are agreed? France, Belgium and Italy might also wish to take a hand and a foot in an inter-Entente Allies meet.

GLASGOW, Jan. 2.—The New Year's Day soccer games in the Scottish League resulted as follows:

Three Bodies Left at Glendyne
For Inquest.

SPEEDING WHEN DITCHED

Were Injured.

CAUSED BY BROKEN RAIL.
QUEBEC, Jan. 2.—The coroner's inquest was held today at Glendyne, on the National Transcontinental Railway into the fatal derailment there on New Year's eve, which cost the lives of Lance Corporal D. W. Johnson, Mimico, Ont.; Corporal G. E. Smith, Toronto, and Corporal W. F. Stagg, Toronto.

The verdict of the jury was that the death of the three men had resulted from the derailment of the train which had been caused by a broken rail.

Canadian Government special train No. 1178 with injured and others arrived here at 5:30 this morning from Glendyne, Que., following the wreck, with 426 soldiers uninjured, but badly shaken up, and 54 injured. The bodies of the three killed were left at Glendyne, Que., for inquest.

Pte. Olson, whose right arm was broken off above the elbow to release him from the wreck, was left in the hospital at Edmonton.

Pte. G. A. Phillips of Toronto, one of the injured, related his experience to the Canadian Press. He says that the accident occurred about 35 miles east of Edmonton on Tuesday afternoon while the troop train was traveling at a fast clip.

He says that of the thirteen cars in the train, ten were derailed, one of them completely turned turtle. The three cars that remained on the track were the dining car and the provision car. There was a strong wind, with snow. A biting cold caused suffering to the wounded, but help soon came, and the wounded were placed inside what remained of the cars that were not completely smashed. All the boys who were uninjured took a hand in helping out the injured, and soon, with the debris of the wrecked coaches, a number of open fires were roaring, bringing comfort to the men.

List of injured.

The injured men brought to Quebec are as follows:

Pianist Will Strengthen
Patriotic Elements.

WARSAW, Jan. 1.—(Associated Press).—During the street celebration attending the arrival of Ignace Jan Paderewski in Warsaw tonight, a balcony of a house collapsed, and twenty-five persons were killed.

Paderewski arrived in Warsaw at 11 o'clock tonight from Posen. A great throng of Poles crowded the streets, and singing and shouting as the pianist and Polish leader made his way from the station to the Hotel Bristol, where he has established headquarters. In his passage through the streets Paderewski was preceded and surrounded by troops to prevent the Bolshevik elements from carrying out their threat to attack him. The city was decorated with Allied and American flags, and roses were strewn before him as he made his way to his hotel.

The newspapers express the hope that M. Paderewski will be able to strengthen the patriotic elements in Poland and undo the efforts of those who have been working toward disunity. The Mairie predicts that his arrival will precipitate certain changes in the ministry which the conservatives desire, so that they may secure full recognition from the Allies.

Lice Caused the Death of a Million Persons in the War Zone of Europe

LONDON, Jan. 2.—British Wireless Service.—Of the insects responsible for the death or disablement of hundreds of thousands in the war zone, the louse is declared authoritatively to have been one of the most deadly and to have accounted for at least a million persons.

That, however, is only a rough estimate, and the probability is that the toll was infinitely higher. For in Serbia alone typhus, a louse-borne disease, infected nearly one million persons, and killed 500 a day in the small-city of Jassy, while 200 of the 1,200 medical officers in that country died from the disease. This disease spread over Russia, Austria, Germany and the Balkans generally.

These figures are vouched for in a publication prepared by Lieut. Lloyd, who was chief entomologist in Northern Rhodesia.

Armor-Plated Airplanes Are Among Dismantled Material Surrendered

LONDON, Jan. 2.—British Wireless Press.—Many German airplanes were destroyed in part by the Germans when they evacuated Cologne. According to reports from British correspondents in the British area of occupation, among the dismantled machines in the skeleton of a huge gotha, it was built to carry 14 men, and on its broad wings are walks, while little iron ladders lead to the upper plane, where the machine gunners were posted. Another machine is an armored airplane for use in attacking trenches with machine guns. The wings are of corrugated steel, and steel plates a quarter of an inch thick protect all vital points. Two machine guns point down through the bottom of the fuselage.

DR. G. C. CREELMAN ADVISES EXTENSIVE LIVESTOCK RAISING

Sees No Prospect of Any Material Drop in Prices.

TORONTO, Jan. 2.—Dr. G. C. Creelman, commissioner of agriculture, said today that the farmers will be well advised to go heavily into the raising of livestock. It is considered to be most unlikely that there will be any material drop in the price of cattle. While there is unanimity of opinion among officials of the department of agriculture with regard to livestock, there is some doubt as to the prospects for grain growing. Whether or not the Dominion is going to fix a price for wheat, and if so, what it will be, are the matters which affect the situation.

PETROLEA PASTOR IS FOUND GUILTY ON HERESY CHARGE

Rev. Dr. R. W. Knowles Is Judged by Methodist Church Court.

FINDING REACHED DEC. 5

Announcement of Decision Is Made to Congregation by Conference President.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
PETROLEA, Jan. 2.—A verdict of guilty of heresy charges, pronounced by a special court of the London Methodist Conference in the case of Rev. Dr. R. W. Knowles, M.A., Ph.D., pastor for many years past of the Petrolea Methodist Church, was read tonight by Rev. H. Holmes, of London, president of the London Conference, to a meeting of the membership of the Petrolea congregation called for the purpose of hearing the result of the trial. The fact that it was well filled attested the interest taken in the Dominion-wide interest.

of the London Conference. During the two years in which it has been hanging fire it has attracted widespread attention in the Dominion. Finally reaching the court of appeals of the general conference it was referred back some time ago to the London Conference, with the order that the trial should take place and a decision be made.

In connection with the reading of the verdict a letter of regret, written by Dr. Knowles, to be presented at the trial, which took place in the Centennial Methodist Church, London, a few weeks ago, was read; the statements therein contained having been in a large measure responsible for the kind attitude of brother ministers and others who knew the circumstances.

Dr. Knowles' attitude.

Speaking on his own behalf after the reading of the verdict and letter, Dr. Knowles denied that the letter acknowledged in any way the charges of heresy.

The verdict in full is as follows:

"The Methodist Church—London Conference Circuit:
In the matter of Wm. McIntosh, J. M. Morris, J. A. Lancaster, R. Calder, M.D., Rev. J. P. Knight, M.A., B.D., and A. E. Dean, Rev. R. W. Knowles, M.A., Ph.D. (defendant).
The committee selected and summoned to try the charges in this matter, having assembled at the time and place appointed for such trial, were thereupon attended by the said complainants and the said defendant, and having heard the evidence adduced by the respective parties, and what was alleged by them and on their behalf, W. L. Hill, B.A., H. T. Ferguson, B.A., B.D., Charles M. Marshall, J. W. Hedley, M.A., B.D., and A. E. Dean, M.A., B.D.—the said committee find that the charge I. spec. (a), which reads: 'That in a sermon preached from the pulpit of the Petrolea Methodist Church in December, 1915, Dr. Knowles stated, "The deity of Jesus Christ I cannot accept," is

SARNIA TAILOR ENDS LIFE IN RIVER; WAS DELIRIOUS FROM FLU

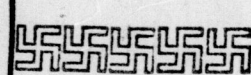

Had Just Returned From Aylmer When Stricken.
SARNIA, Jan. 2.—Frederick W. Johnston, a well known and highly respected young tailor of this city, met his death in the St. Clair River while delirious. The deceased had been on a visit to his mother in Aylmer, and on his return Monday was taken down with a bad attack of the influenza. About 1:30 in the morning the police got a hurry-up call for assistance, to find the whereabouts of the sick man, who was discovered to have left the house. He is thought to have taken a walk to his favorite place in the summer-time, where he swam, and plunged into the water. His body was found after several hours' hunt by Constable Leigh. The cord on his bath robe had caught on a spike and this prevented him from disappearing. He was under water about two feet.

FINDING REACHED DEC. 5

Announcement of Decision Is Made to Congregation by Conference President.

[Special to The Advertiser.] PETROLEA, Jan. 2.—A verdict of "guilty of heresy charges" pronounced by a special court of the London Methodist Conference in the case of Rev. E. W. Knowles, M.A., Ph.D., pastor for some years past of the Petrolea Methodist Church, was read tonight by Rev. J. E. Holmes, of London, president of the London Conference, to a meeting of the membership of the Petrolea congregation called for the purpose of hearing the result of the trial. The meeting was held in the school-room, the fact that it was well filled indicating the interest taken in the case. Denominational Interest. The heresy case against Dr. Knowles, however, has attracted much wider than local interest in Petrolea, the Strathroy district, or even the whole of the London Conference. During the two years in which it has been hanging fire it has attracted widespread attention in the Dominion. Finally reaching the court of appeals of the general conference it was referred back some time ago to the London Conference, with the order that a decision be made in connection with the reading of the verdict a letter of regret, written by Dr. Knowles, to be presented at the trial, which took place in the Central Methodist Church, London, a few weeks ago, was read, the statements therein contained having been in a large measure responsible for the kindling of brother ministers and others who knew the circumstances. Dr. Knowles' Attitude. Speaking on his own behalf after the reading of the verdict and letter, Dr. Knowles tonight denied that the letter acknowledged in any way the charges of heresy.

The verdict in full is as follows: "The Methodist Church—London Conference, Strathroy District, Petrolea Circuit: The matter of Wm. Mainstosh, J. M. Morris, J. A. Lancaster, R. M. Calder, M.D., Rev. J. F. Knight, M.A., B.D. (complainants), and Rev. R. W. Knowles, M.A., Ph.D. (defendant): The committee selected and summoned to try the charges in this matter, having assembled at the time and place appointed for such trial, were thereunto attended by the said complainants and the said defendant, and having heard the evidence adduced by the respective parties, and what was alleged by them and on their behalf, we, L. W. Hill, B.A., H. T. Ferguson, B.A., B.D., Charles M. Marshall, J. W. Hedley, M.A., B.D., and A. E. Doan, which the charge is, spec. (a), which reads, 'That in a sermon preached from the pulpit of Petrolea Methodist Church in December, 1915, Dr. Knowles stated, 'The deity of Jesus Christ I cannot accept,' is sustained and proved, and that the said defendant is guilty of the offence laid therein. "That Charge I, Spec. (b), which reads, 'That the said Dr. Knowles, in his own signature and cause to be read by Rev. S. R. McVittie in the city of London, in the month of April, 1915, in the presence of a number of ministers of the London Conference assembled ostensibly in connection with the business of the Strathroy district, a document which contains statements which are false,' is sustained and proved, and that the said defendant is guilty of the offences named therein. "That Charge I, Spec. (c), which reads, 'And that in conversation with several ministers at the summer school held in the city of St. Thomas, situated in the St. Thomas district of the London Conference, held in the years 1912, 1914, 1915, 1916, and with ministers and others at various times and places, he did express his disbelief in the atonement, the deity of Jesus Christ, the virgin birth, as taught by Methodist standards,' is sustained and proved, and that the said defendant is guilty of the offence laid therein. "That Charge II, Spec. (a), which reads, 'That the action of Dr. Knowles in refusing an interview with Dr. Calder and other members of the church for the removal of difficulties, was contrary to the spirit of the discipline and the teachings of the New Testament,' is sustained and proved, and the said defendant is guilty of the offence laid therein. "That Charge II, Spec. (b), which reads, 'That the attitude of Dr. Knowles toward certain members of his official board who saw fit to differ with him as shown in the following: The calling of a special meeting of the official board in May, 1916; his participation in an attempt to unseat J. M. Morris from being a delegate to a district meeting; his failure to exercise his authority as chairman of the official board when an invitation to him to return as pastor was under consideration; his refusal to rule when requested to do so at a meeting of the missionary committee; and in the subsequent proceedings, and in other matters; his utterances in the pulpit and in his public prayers; his righteousness,' is sustained and proved, and the said defendant is guilty of the offence laid therein. "That Charge I, Spec. (d), which reads, 'That the said Dr. Knowles, in his own signature and cause to be read by Rev. S. R. McVittie in the city of London, in the month of April, 1915, in the presence of a number of ministers of the London Conference assembled ostensibly in connection with the business of the Strathroy district, a document which contains statements which are false,' is sustained and proved, and that the said defendant is guilty of the offences named therein. "That Charge I, Spec. (e), which reads, 'And that in conversation with several ministers at the summer school held in the city of St. Thomas, situated in the St. Thomas district of the London Conference, held in the years 1912, 1914, 1915, 1916, and with ministers and others at various times and places, he did express his disbelief in the atonement, the deity of Jesus Christ, the virgin birth, as taught by Methodist standards,' is sustained and proved, and that the said defendant is guilty of the offence laid therein. monition than severe rebuke. It was apparent that there was strong sympathy in the meeting on the part of a large number present for Dr. Knowles, many evidently not agreeing with the verdict rendered. He will remain in charge of the circuit. Arose Two Years Ago. The heresy case first came up at the annual meeting of the Strathroy Methodist District some two years ago. It was sent on to the London Methodist Conference at the annual meeting held in Dundas Centre, Methodist Church, London, in June, 1917, and discussed in a couple of closed ministerial sessions. The conference refused to deal with the case. Arbitration was attempted in the spring of 1918, which was contrary to the discipline of the Methodist Church. Finally a case against the London Methodist Conference for refusing to deal with the charges was referred to the general conference court of appeals, with the result that the court of appeals ordered the London Conference to appoint a court and proceed with the trial. Rev. W. H. Graham of Stratford was named presiding officer of the court, and associated with him Revs. L. W. Hill, John W. Hedley, H. T. Ferguson, Charles M. Marshall, A. E. Doan, "Centennial Methodist Church, London, Ont. December 5, 1918. "I certify that the above is a true copy of the decision of the committee in the above matter. "W. H. GRAHAM, "Presiding Officer."

The Admonition. Administering admonition, as prescribed in the verdict, the president of the conference used as a basis First Timothy, chapter iv., verses 15 and 16. "Meditate upon these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy profiting may appear to all. Take heed unto thyself and unto the doctrine; continue in them; for in doing this thou shalt both save thyself, and them that hear thee." The admonition of Mr. Holmes was given rather in the spirit of kindly admonition than severe rebuke. It was apparent that there was strong sympathy in the meeting on the part of a large number present for Dr. Knowles, many evidently not agreeing with the verdict rendered. He will remain in charge of the circuit. Arose Two Years Ago. The heresy case first came up at the annual meeting of the Strathroy Methodist District some two years ago. SARNIA TAILOR ENDS LIFE IN RIVER; WAS DELIRIOUS FROM FLU

Had Just Returned From Aylmer When Stricken.
SARNIA, Jan. 2.—Frederick W. Johnston, a well known and highly respected young tailor of this city, met his death in the St. Clair River while delirious. The deceased had been on a visit to his mother in Aylmer, and on his return Monday was taken down with a bad attack of the influenza. About 1:30 in the morning the police got a hurry-up call for assistance, to find the whereabouts of the sick man, who was discovered to have left the house. He is thought to have taken a walk to his favorite place in the summer-time, where he swam, and plunged into the water. His body was found after several hours' hunt by Constable Leigh. The cord on his bath robe had caught on a split rail and prevented him from disappearing. He was under water about two feet.
MEETING ON SATURDAY.
ST. THOMAS, Jan. 2.—It was stated in error in this morning's issue of The Advertiser that a meeting of those interested in the welfare of the St. Thomas Cemetery would be held in the undertaking parlors of C. A. Towers on Sunday afternoon next at 3 o'clock. It should have read that the meeting would take place on Saturday afternoon.

Wooten, who is a tall man, put the end of a double-barreled shotgun in his mouth and pulled the trigger with his fingers, blowing the top of his head off. How Loss of One Sense May Promote Growth of Others

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG,

Dr. Hirshberg

Man is a rational

being endowed,

like animals, with senses. Of the many senses he has, we know but

few. He is taught to take in many of these through his eyes, ears, nose,

touch, taste and smell. He is also taught to use his hands, feet, mouth

use his imagination.

He is also taught person who has never seen, but acquires sight later, gradually learns to use and compound the new sensation with previous ones taken in by the other senses. The orange is first a spot of yellow. It is regarded indifferently until related to and compounded with roundness, touch, taste and smell. Then it becomes, from an indifferent sensation, an interesting, pleasant, helpful, intelligent perception. Restoration of sight, hearing, speech, agility, sensation or movement is less an affair of the doctor and more a matter for teachers, psychologists and trainers.

MY SOLDIER HUSBAND ADELE GARRISON'S CONTINUATION OF REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

What Mother Graham Said To Madge About Her Costume.

I dressed with unusual care for the Sunday afternoon meeting at Howard's Hall. I was painfully aware that my appearance would be carefully scrutinized, and I did not wish Mrs. Gray to regret that she had asked me to be one of her "reception committee."

My husband, who was sitting next to me, said: "You look very nice."

"That's just it," replied Tommy. "It's what he'll do when the apples are ripe. I'm going to shoot every bird in the place, for if they fail to eat the buds from the trees they get the fruit."

"That's just it," laughed Squeedee. "Few folks know better. Suppose we go up to Daddy Woodpecker and hear his side of the story."

Before Tommy could open his mouth he was sitting on a limb before Daddy Woodpecker's house, chatting with Daddy Woodpecker and his wife.

"Sift we eat the fruit when we feel like it," said Daddy Woodpecker, who like Tommy, was a bird.

"Who has a better right than we birds?"

"Unless it's the chickadees," corrected Daddy Woodpecker.

"Right," exclaimed Daddy Woodpecker with a chuckle. "Why do you like it so much that if it wasn't for us feathered folks you wouldn't have any fruit? See that tree over there. It's full of apples."

"Yes, indeed," said Squeedee. "For, you see, after all the boys I know that have guns, said Tommy, when he and Squeedee had reached the ground again, and we'll have to find some way to protect the birds."

"Well, I'll certainly tell all the boys I know that have guns," said Tommy, when he and Squeedee had reached the ground again, and we'll have to find some way to protect the birds."

"You see, after all the boys I know that have guns, said Tommy, when he and Squeedee had reached the ground again, and we'll have to find some way to protect the birds."

"SPORTING LIFE" AT THE MAJESTIC TODAY FOR THE LAST TIME

Sensational Photoplay Witnessed by Thousands.

COMEDY AND WEEKLY

Kublick, the Master Musician, Scores Tremendous Hit.

"Sporting Life" the wonderful screen sensation that has been witnessed by thousands at the Majestic in the last two days, will be presented again today for the last time.

Chief among the big features that make "Sporting Life" so notable a photoplay, is a scene showing the English Derby at Epsom Downs.
"Sporting Life" is an adaptation by Maurice Tourneur of the celebrated Drury Lane melodrama of the same name which was produced in 1887,
and which has held the stage periodically ever since.

The story deals with a young British nobleman who seeks to rehabilitate his fortunes, which are at a low ebb.
He is a thorough sportsman, and he backs a prize fighter, and his own mare Lady Love, to win the Derby.
Both events are carried through successfully, but not without serious disfigurement to the young sportsman's path by a relentless enemy.

The story is an excellent one, and from every standpoint, "Sporting Life" is most notable production. The principals in the cast include Ralph Graves, Warner Richmond, Charles Traik, Constance and Fair Blaney, and Willette Korshak.

London is very fortunate in having many good opticians to care for the eyes of its people, but none are so good that we cannot get better, and with this aim in view, JOHN A. NASH,
"MY JEWELER," searched the field of opticians, and has secured the services of Charles H. Foster, graduate of Northern Illinois College in Chicago, who has had wide experience, both in testing eyes perfectly and in fitting glasses properly, and will be a great asset to "My Jeweler's" already modern optical parlors.

Mr. Nash says they do not fit cheap glasses, but only the best. Value can only be given when the best is supplied.

We must congratulate Mr. Nash for the wonderful stride he is making in all departments of his new store, 306 Dundas street, opposite Gammage's,
where you will eventually buy.—Adv.

REPRESENTS LONDON FIRM IN THE WEST

JOHN J. FOOT TO REPRESENT M'CLARY'S IN CANADIAN WEST

Prominent Londoner To Have Charge of Business
There.

In view of the continued development of the western provinces, and the prospects of increased immigration, and of the fact that it already disposes of one-half of its output in that market,
the McClary Manufacturing Company has decided to place the business in that territory under the immediate supervision of one of the officers of the company, in the person of John J. Foot, assistant vice-president, now to the known as western manager, to the position Mr. Foot can give the varied interests of the company his personal attention.

This will necessitate Mr. Foot's sending a large portion of his time in the west, but for the present at least will not require his removing his place of residence from London.

"FLU" GERMS KILL
RED CORPUSCLES

One of London's foremost doctors stated recently that after a person recovers from Spanish influenza the blood is so impoverished it cannot withstand the attacks of germs, particularly that of pneumonia.

"Influenza germs attack and devour
the red corpuscles in the blood," said
he. "This leaves only the white corpuscles, and a condition closely allied to pernicious anaemia. This condition weakens the system to such a degree that it is really dangerous."

The most essential thing for the system after influenza is Iron. It makes red corpuscles, without which one cannot exist very long.

TONAL-IRON CAPSULES meet the need perfectly and greatly hasten the rebuilding of the system and the throwing off of the disease. We have scores of splendid testimonials from prominent people as to the marvelous upbuilding and fortifying powers of TONAL-IRON CAPSULES, and many reports of cures
in so-called "incurable" cases. Try
TONAL-IRON—for health.

The curative success of TONAL-IRON CAPSULES has caused them to be widely imitated, but remember that no other iron tonic is prepared in pure French gelatine capsules, tasteless, easy to take and wonderful in effect. Reliable druggists sell the genuine TONAL-IRON CAPSULES, and many reports of cures
in so-called "incurable" cases. Try
TONAL-IRON—for health.

HELEN IVEY DIES IN ENGLAND FROM DOUBLE PNEUMONIA

Left City But Short Time Ago
With V.A.D.'s.

The many friends of Miss Helen Ivey, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas.
H. Ivey, Central avenue, will be deeply grieved to learn of her death in England. For some days past cables have been received which stated that Miss Ivey was in a most critical condition, suffering from double pneumonia,
but not until last night did the news of her death come. She is survived by her father and mother, two sisters, Mrs. (Dr.) Robertson, Toronto, and Isabel at home, and two brothers,
Charles and Dick, both in this city.

Miss Ivey left a short time ago for overseas with a party of three other V. A. D.'s of the Lord Kitchener Nursing Division, to help with relief work in France. The three V. A. D.'s accompanying her were Misses Enid Fisher, Kathleen Cronyn and Mary Brown.
During the war Miss Ivey was a most enthusiastic Red Cross worker, and for some time was occupied with munition work, as her special war service.

WEAK, RUN DOWN WOMAN

Tells How Vinol Made Her Strong.
So, Kaukauna, Wis.—"I was weak, all run down, tired all the time, and had asthma so I could hardly sleep around and do my housework. After everything else had failed to help me, Vinol built me up and made me well and strong."—Mrs. Jay Parker.

The reason Vinol was so successful in Mrs. Parker's case, is because it contains the necessary elements to create an appetite, aid digestion, make pure blood and create strength.
It is the beef and cod liver pep-tones—iron and glycerophosphates in Vinol—that does it—you will not be disappointed if you try it.

J. S. BARNARD MAY BE CHAIRMAN OF EDUCATION BOARD

Meeting Will Be Held on Thursday Next.

On Thursday, January 9, the first meeting of the board of education will be held. The question of the chairmanship is one that is naturally before the members. According to all the traditions, the honor should go to the chairman of No. 1 committee of the previous year. If this is followed, and the general opinion among the members is that it will be J. S. Barnard, who preside at the meetings during the year. This question will be settled at the organization meeting next Thursday.
Several committees will also be named then.

CONTRACTOR WINS CASE AGAINST EAST WILLIAMS

What is having an important bearing on the election in East Williams Township this year is the announcement made last night that the township must pay the claims in full, with costs and interest, made by David Witherspoon, 25
of the contract price.

This is the verdict given in the appeal court in Toronto, according to a telegram received by Meredith & Fisher of this city.

Mr. Witherspoon, a contractor, built a bridge for the township about three years ago, but the officials, not being satisfied with the bridge, kept back $2, 300 of the contract price.

When the case was heard in London,
the township was given the decision on the technicality that the township council had neglected to pass the bylaw required before the money for the bridge could be raised.

The Toronto court reversed this, and awarded the contractor his claim in full,
with costs and interest.

SINGLE-FARE VOUCHER FOR SOLDIERS AT

"Why have they cut off our fare vouchers; they must think millionaires?" This statement was made to The Advertiser last night by two indignant soldiers, who had to the G. T. R. ticket office with vouchers, so as to get their tickets at the reduced rates. But when vouchers were surrendered to the clerk, he said that orders had been received "cancel" all vouchers on December 31st. When The Advertiser got information. A military official said that he heard of the action the railroad had taken, but that it was incorrect. The clerks at both ticket offices could not state where the orders had been received from.
