JARDINE UNCONCERNED, PLEADS NOT GUILTY BLACKSTOCK IN SCATHING ARRAIGNMENT

Trial of Alleged Slayer of Lizzie Anderson Opens at Goderich.

CROWN'S STORY OF BRUTAL CRIME

Father of the Dead Girl Weeps When Telling Story of Finding Mutilated Body.

[Canadian Press.]

Goderich, April 12.—The trial of Edward Jardine, charged with murdering Lizzie Anderson last September, opened here today.

Notwithstanding the stories that the prisoner had lost flesh and was worn to a shadow, Jardine looked anything but the invalid as he sat in the box calmly chewing gum and stolidly gazing at the crowd which sat around him. His face was unshaven, showing a growth of a week, perhaps, but his hair, which he always wore long, was carefully brushed. If the strain of six months in jail and the charge of murder, which has been hanging over him since the coroner's jury finding on Oct. 7, has told on him physically, it is not apparent. Mr. Justice Falconbridge is presiding at the trial. Mr. George Tate Blackstock, K. C., of Toronto, is performing the duties of crown prosecutor. The prisoner's counsel is Mr. L. T. Dancey, of Goderich. Also present in the court room were Dr. Bruce Smith and Dr. Clark, both of Toronto, and Detective Greer.

The Indictment.

County Clerk Daniel McDonald read the indictment against Jardine, charging that he did with malice aforethought, murder and kill Lizzie Anderson on or about the 20th day of September."

"Edward Jardine, how do you plead" asked the clerk.

"Not guilty," said the prisoner, before the clerk had done speaking.

"Are you ready to be tried?"

"Yes," said Jardine, and sat down.

A True Bill.

The grand jury brought in a true bill, charging Edward Jardine with the murder.

The empanelling of a jury took 30 minutes, the crown challenging nine of the men called.

Mr. George Blackstock whispered to one of the panel.

"What does he say?" asked the judge sternly.

"He says his heart is weak."

"I will excuse you," said the judge, and Mr. Blackstock looked as if a great weight had been lifted from his shoulders.

Blackstock's Address.

"This is one of the saddest cases in the annals of crime in Canada," began Mr. Blackstock in opening for the crown. "It exhibits every degree of viciousness and depravity."

Witnesses Excluded.

Mr. Blackstock had not gone far in his recital of the facts relating to the gruesome murder, when the prisoner's counsel, Mr. Dancey, interrupted, to ask the judge that all witnesses be excluded.

"It is unusual, but I will allow it," said the judge.

The exclusion of the witnesses left empty half the seats in the courtroom and permitted a few of the disappointed crowd standing outside the court in the rain to come in.

When Mr. Blackstock resumed he went over the events of the night on which the girl was murdered. At some length the lawyer told of the efforts of the Anderson family to find the girl, and what is alleged to have occurred at the Jardine home.

The father made three trips from Saltford across to Goderich, but only on the third visit did he succeed in seeing any of the Jardines.

In great detail Mr. Blackstock went into the chain of events which at last led to the arrest of the prisoner. He told of the statement made to the crown attorney, when the latter summoned him to his office, and stated that it would later be placed in as evidence.

Jardine said that the last time he had seen Lizzie Anderson she had been in the company with a stranger.

"The crown will show you," said Mr. Blackstock, "that all efforts to find this stranger have failed, and we will try to prove that the mention of this stranger was a ruse or trick to divert suspicion from himself."

The horrible details of the finding of the girl's body four days after her disappearance, in the cellar of an abandoned house, just outside the fair grounds, were given; how her father and his friends found the naked body of his daughter with her throat cut.

Alleged Confession.

A reference to the alleged confession of Jardine was made by the crown prosecutor in conclusion. He said he would not refer to certain statements the prisoner had made because he understood some objections might be made by the prisoner's counsel to their admission.

Mr. Blackstock said: "The evidence is so clear, and so utterly at variance with the prisoner's explanations, that I believe every man who sits in that box will believe that the prisoner was guilty of the foul crime."

He added that the jury must carefully weigh all the evidence, and be convinced beyond a shadow of a doubt.

Girl's Mother Called.

The first witness called was Mrs. Massey Anderson, the mother of the dead girl, a rather frail-looking woman, past middle age, dressed in mourning. She was very nervous, and Mr. Blackstock had a good deal of

PREMIER MAY CANCEL TRIP AND BRING ON ELECTIONS

If Opposition Should Be Too Unreasonable After Easter Holidays Sir Wilfrid Might Not Attend the Imperial Conference or Coronation.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, April 12.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has passage to England booked for May 12, and his mind is made up to go for the purpose of attending both the Imperial Conference and the coronation. However, if the Opposition come back from their constituencies after the Easter holidays too full of fight, it can be con-on in Canada while the coronation is taking place in London. However, the chances are that Sir Wilfrid will sail on May 12. Still, there is a chance that he may not.

Confidently stated that Sir Wilfrid would not hesitate to stay home. It is possible that if the Opposition showed a disposition to be too unreasonable in the House there might be a general election going

TOOK HIS LIFE WHILE DESPONDENT

Mr. John McDonald, Formerly of G. T. R. This City, Shot Himself at Sarnia.

PISTOL NEAR THE BODY

Former Conductor Had Lost His Job on the Railway and Brooded Over His Misfortune.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, April 11.—John McDonald, for nearly forty years a conductor on the Grand Trunk, and until six weeks ago residing at 262 Simcoe street, London, was found dead in Bayview Park about 8 o'clock this evening, with a bullet wound in his head.

A 32-calibre revolver was found lying within a few inches of the dead man's hand. One cylinder was empty.

Coroner Hayes was immediately summoned and viewed the remains. The evidences of suicide were so manifest that he considered an inquest unnecessary. The relatives of the dead man were notified at once.

McDonald was born at Point Edward, a short distance beyond where he took his life. He was the son of Mr. William McDonald, of that village, and when quite a young lad took to railroading. He lived here for the most part of his life, and the family were well and favorably known.

A quiet, reserved, taciturn man, he made few friends, but he was very popular with boss with whom he was intimate.

Lived in London.

About three years ago he removed to London, taking a run on the Strat-

A DRASTIC ACTION BY FRENCH BISHOP

Will Excommunicate All Who Belong to Secret Organizations.

[Canadian Press.]

Joliette, Que., April 12.—Much comment has been caused here by the announcement of Bishop Archambault giving formal notice to the faithful that he would publicly excommunicate all who were known to belong to any secret organization condemned by the church. He added that at the expiration of fifteen days he would take action, and would not be deterred therefrom even by threats of imprisonment or other punishment.

AGAIN WILL EXPLAIN LIGHTING CONTRACT

Engineer Glaubitz Will Wait On No. 3 Committee of City Council.

At the regular meeting of No. 3 committee to be held tonight, Superintendent Glaubitz will explain the street lighting contract to the aldermen once again.

It will be remembered that a couple of weeks ago there was a similar conference, when it was decided to pay the water commissioners the same rate for lighting as was paid the London Electric last year, $50,000.

The council, however, sent the matter back to the committee. Ald. Mitchell and others took exception to the contract, claiming that the city was paying too much money for the service rendered. It was claimed that the city was not getting the candle power furnished by the old system, and fault was found with the system.

Mr. Glaubitz has had his report typewritten, and distributed among the aldermen. He will be on hand tonight to explain it.

The estimates of the fire department will also be taken up. Fire Chief Aitken will ask about $45,000 for the maintenance of the brigade this year, an increase of about $1,000 over 1910. He will also recommend the purchase of an aerial truck for the department, and will renew his former recommendation that six additional men be added to the department.

There is some other routine business to be transacted, but the estimates and the street lighting contract will take up most of the time of the committee.

SCHEME TO COVER THE CITY WITH PAVEMENTS IS NOW ON Local Improvement Committee Intends To Go About the Matte in a Scientific Manner, Says Ald. Richter.

The local improvement committee of the city council have not finished their work, although the council have decided to make the property owners pay the whole cost of walks, curbs, gutters and roads.

It is now the intention to outline a scheme for covering the city with pavements. A meeting will be called within a few days, probably as soon as the finance committee have the rate struck, and the whole problem will be gone into thoroughly.

"We have only commenced the work," said Ald. Richter. "It is the intention to have reports on the various kinds of pavement in use at the present time. We will obtain all information as to cost, durability, suitability for certain kinds of work, in fact, everything pertaining to pavements will be secured.

"Then a report will be given us regarding the city, whether the various streets are of sand, or clay, or whatever they are, and a recommendation as to the kind of pavement most suitable to the needs of every district in the city.

Pass Bylaws.

"It is then proposed to pass bylaws limiting the kind of pavement to be used in each district. These bylaws will be similar to the fire limits bylaws. You know, it is impossible to construct a certain kind of building within certain limits. The same principle will apply to local improvements.

"We will take some time to deliberate on the question, as it is very important. We want to make a thorough job of this, and when we lay pavements we want a plan to follow. That is the only method of improving the city.

"I venture to say that in five years public opinion will be unanimous in favor of the plan we have adopted. The city will save much money, and the whole will work out to the great advantage of the citizens."

A number of reports have been sent for, regarding pavements, and when the local improvement committee meets there will be plenty of information upon which to commence their work.

The committee are almost unanimous in reference to the scheme outlined by Ald. Richter, and it is anticipated now that it will be carried to a successful conclusion.

MERCHANTS TELL OF MANY THEFTS

Petty Stealing From Stores Results in Loss of Thousands Annually.

FEW CASES REPORTED

Merchants Do Not Bother the Police Unless Thief Is Caught With Valuable Goods.

London merchants, seen by The Advertiser today, state that the average citizen has absolutely no idea of the amount of petty shoplifting that is going on continually. While none of them, of course, are able to give anything like accurate estimates of what they lose every year, all agree that the total loss from such thefts in London runs into many thousands of dollars.

"In a store like ours," said one dealer in small articles, "we suffer particularly. With thousands of small things displayed we simply cannot tell what we lose, but we know enough to know that it runs away with a good percentage of our profits. We keep a staff of special store detectives constantly on the watch, and it is surprising the number of cases they unearth. Still more surprising, however, is the number that, no matter how vigilant they may be, they cannot watch. Take on a Saturday rush, when hundreds of people are thronging the counters. That is an ideal time for the shoplifter. Women can slip things off a counter and under a cloak or into a shopping bag almost under the very eyes of the busy clerks. For some time we had trouble with two or three particular women, but after we suspected them we trailed them so closely that apparently they have given up the idea of getting anything more from our store, for they have not been in for some time. However, we are always on the watch both for them and to discover new ones."

Boys Blamed.

"What surprises me," said another merchant, "is the number of thefts small boys succeed in making. In a store like mine, where quantities of goods most attractive to boys, are shown, and also lots of articles to be sold to men and women, we find continually that things displayed for children, particularly small boys, are missing. No one who has never tried it has any idea of the task it is to try and watch a lot of goods. That is why so many shoplifters are successful. It is in the store where a lot of small articles are on display that the shoplifter gets busy."

A leading drygoods merchant stated that he experienced the greatest loss during the Christmas shopping season, when immense crowds were in the store all day long.

Store Detectives.

"We keep a force of special store detectives," he said, "trying to protect the articles, but there are always a lot of goods stolen. Lately we have not had very much trouble that way."

The police state that very few of such cases are reported to them usually—only if some person happens to be caught taking some article of more than usual value.

"Very few merchants will bother to report any of the small cases that they encounter almost continually," said one officer to The Advertiser. "Generally they let the party go with a warning, and give his or her description to the store detectives and then if they ever come in again they are watched very closely."

$25,000 WORTH OF FAST BOATS

Few People Realize Advances the Sport Has Made in London.

ALL KINDS OF DESIGNS

Some Owners Have Built Their Own Craft, and Have Followed Plans All Their Own.

While automobiling is soaring in popularity in London at a rapid rate few citizens realize to what extent the motor-boating sport has grown in the last couple of years in this city.

According to a list compiled by Mr. Sim Threapleton, the secretary of the Thames Boating Club, there are now about forty-five boats on the river here valued at between $20,000 and $25,000.

This year many more are being built and before the season is far advanced it is expected that the fifty mark will be passed.

Few boats in the fleet are of the same design, those who have constructed their own craft adopting plans all their own.

Speedy Boats.

There are many speedy motors, while a few of the larger, more roomy type, are designed for family pleasure and comfort. Mr. Ben Fanning is now at work on a hydroplane, the first to make its appearance in this district, while last season Mr. John Collison brought out a peculiar type. It has a couple of inches draft, and is propelled with an automobile motor, with regulation transmission. The floats support a five-passenger automobile body.

Following are among those who have motor boats on the river, the majority being members of the club:

Boat Owners.

CHAS. E. BLANCHARD DEAD

Was Formerly a Well-Known Resident of London.

Word was received last evening by Mr. Thomas Blanchard, of this city, announcing the death in Winnipeg of Mr. Charles E. Blanchard, formerly of London. Deceased had been ailing for some time from Bright's disease, and his demise was not unexpected.

The late Mr. Blanchard was a native of London, having been born here 55 years ago. For many years, he was accountant at the Tecumseh House, later leaving for Winnipeg, where he had since resided. He was prominent in society work in London, being a member of Corinthian Lodge, No. 330.

He is survived by a widow and two daughters, Miss Edna, a public school teacher of Winnipeg, and Miss Gladys, at home.

Three brothers, Thomas and James, of this city, and George, of Komoka, also survive.

Interment will be made at Winnipeg on Thursday.

ALL-ALASKA SWEEPSTAKES.

Nome, Alaska, April 12.—A. A. (Scotty) Allen, driving the dog team, entered by Mrs. C. E. Darling of Berkeley, Cal., won the All-Alaska sweepstakes, coming into Nome late last night after covering the 412 miles to Candle and return in 81 hours and 40 minutes.

STRANGLED HER DAUGHTER.

Boston, Mass., April 12—During what is believed to have been a fit of insanity Mrs. Clara Russell strangled her 12-year-old daughter Marjorie to death at their home in Worcester today. Mrs. Russell told the police that as she tightened a towel about Marjorie's throat, while the child was asleep in bed, the latter awoke and begged the mother not to kill her, but the woman did not heed her appeal.

Mrs. Russell will be arraigned on a murder charge during the day.

BACY OF INFANT IN RIVER FOUND BY BOYS WHILE FISHING

Coroner Has Not Yet Decided Whether to Hold an Inquest.

POLICE TRYING TO UNRAVEL MYSTERY

Little One Dr. McLaren Says Had Only Been Dead a Day.

While fishing along the banks of the Thames at foot of Thames street this morning about 11 o'clock, Lorne Finch, of 344 Thames street, and Jack Raison, of 280 Thames street, fished out a paper box containing the body of a new-born baby.

The baby was well formed and had been carefully wrapped up in a newspaper and tied around with string, and then placed in a shoe box. When found the newspaper was quite dry, although the box was soaked pretty well through. The boys noticed the box first floating down about four feet from the bank and pulled it in with a stick to see what it contained. Upon learning they at once went to the gas office near by and notified the police. The body was taken to the gas company's office and later to Smith, Son & Clarke's, where it was viewed by Coroner MacLaren.

Dead Only Short Time.

Dr. MacLaren this afternoon stated to The Advertiser that he judged the child had been dead only a short time, not more than a day at the outside.

He has not yet decided whether or not an inquest will be held.

The detectives have secured portions of the shoe box in which the body was found. The front part bears the label of the "Idalia" Shoe, size 4 to 4½, No. 10, and sale mark No. 766.

This is the only clue of any kind that they have to work upon.

A Woman Mayor

[Canadian Press.]

Hunnewell, Kansas, April 12.—Mrs. Ella Wilson took her seat as mayor and presided over the city council for the first time last night. Mrs. Wilson said that she would appoint Mrs. Rosa Osborne, defeated candidate for police judge, to the office of chief of police. Mrs. Osborne, it is said, agreed to accept that office provided she is given an assistant.

$2,000 MORE WANTED FOR SALARY INCREASES

Board of Education Will Consider Their Estimates Today.

The board of education estimates will be considered at a special meeting of the board at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The various committees will meet at 3 o'clock to have them prepared, and later they will be submitted to the board.

There will be very little increase, it is thought. The salary increases will be about $2,000. There will be an additional sum for the school nurse, and the manual training instructor, but it is not thought that these amounts will run over $4,000, the amount of the surplus last year.

This will leave about the same amount to be paid over by the city. Last year the Collegiate Institute cost $35,178, and the public schools $164,396, almost $200,000 for both institutions. That amount will cover the expenses for 1911, it is thought.

HILLSBURG BANK MAN STRANGELY DISAPPEARS

Was Going to Toronto When Last Seen—His Accounts in Good Shape.

[Canadian Press.]

Hillsburg, Ont., April 12. — The mysterious disappearance of William Duthie, local manager of the Union Bank, has caused the biggest kind of a sensation in this neighborhood, and systematic search is being made for the missing man far and near. A week ago he told his wife he was going to Toronto, and he was seen boarding the train. Since then he has not been seen or heard of. His wife and two little children are greatly worried.

His accounts at the bank are in good shape.

NO RUSH AT PRESENT, BUT PEOPLE ARE BOOKING

Crush On the Atlantic Will Be Occasioned By the Coronation.

Londoners appear to be travel-bent this season to such an extent that local steamship agents are looking for a record season, and while the ships are filling up well for the coronation business, it is thought that the tourists will continue well on into October.

Stories of abnormal prices for accommodation on the other side during the coronation have frightened a few, as pointed out by one of the agents a few days ago, but, according to annual travellers, who have been "through the mill" before, no person need worry, especially about excessive charges. The proper method, they claim, is to enjoy their holiday at some village a few miles from London, and go into the metropolis at smaller cost for railway fares than would be expended for hotel accommodation in the city.

"While many people are engaging passage in order to be present at the coronation ceremonies, there is no exceptional rush at that time," said Mr. de la Hooke, to The Advertiser today. "Several people who contemplated taking a trip to Europe this summer have rearranged their dates in order to be in England in June, but a great many are arranging for accommodation after the big event. In fact some have booked as late as October."

"The Last Supper" May Now Be Seen in Nordheimer's Window.

What is believed to be a rare old master, painted in Spain in the year 1522, is exhibited in the window of the Nordheimer Piano and Music Company, Dundas street. It is a picture of "The Last Supper," and the name of the artist, although faintly traced, appears to be "Zenklas." The picture also bears the date mark "1522 anes."

It was first discovered in an old church in Mexico, and later was mysteriously stolen, being cut from its frame, and all efforts to locate it failed. It was afterwards rediscovered by chance in an old curiosity shop in New Mexico.

While bringing it home it was again stolen, but was recovered by the railway company and returned to the owner.

The picture will remain on exhibition for a few days, and has already created considerable interest among local art enthusiasts and connoisseurs.

AN ESSAY CONTEST FOR BOY SCOUTS

Will Be Held in Princess Avenue School on April 21.

Five hundred Boy Scouts are expected to participate in an essay contest to be held Friday, April 21, in Princess Avenue School, and for which the Daughters of the Empire have donated 20 prizes, two for each of the ten troops.

The topic for the senior Scouts Grades VII. and VIII. of the public schools and the collegiate), will be, "Cecil Rhodes—The Man and His Work." The Juniors (from Grade VI. down) will write on "Canadian Wild Animals."

The essays will be judged by a committee of the Scoutmasters' Association, and the prizes will be presented at the Empire Day celebration. The Scoutmasters' Association are gratified to the Daughters of the Empire for their encouragement of the Scout movement, and wish to acknowledge the receipt of a collection of $17, made at the Paardeberg celebration in Cronyn Hall, Feb. 27.

ROLLS ARE OUT

People May Now See the Entire Assessment of the City.

The assessment rolls have at last been printed, the first samples having been sent to City Clerk Baker's office.

The streets are arranged in alphabetical order, and the properties assessed in order of house numbers fronting on the respective sides of streets.

Ald. Richter, who was chairman of the finance committee last year, wanted the rolls printed, and after considerable effort had his own way. They were given to the printer last fall, but were not completed until this week. This is the first time it has been done in many years.

"I think the printing of the rolls will do much good," said Ald. Richter. "It will lead to a correction in assessments. There may have been mistakes in the past—there undoubtedly were—and the publication of the rolls will have a tendency to level up values."

The rolls will be distributed this week. One copy will be left with every householder in London.

TO REGULATE VICE

A Vice Commission To Clean Up Montreal's Red-Light District.

Montreal, April 12.—As a result of the too flourishing and prosperous condition of the ever-moving and slippery population of the "red light" district, and the acknowledged inability of the police department to clean up and put the cover on a vice commission with a salary, the first of its kind on this continent, has practically been decided upon by the board of control. The little work that has ever been done towards improving Montreal's morals, has been undertaken by charitable and philanthropic societies, and, once in a long while, the Provincial Government has taken a hand by appointing a judge, a royal commissioner, to run a fine tooth comb through the police department and make a number of suggestions for purifying the atmosphere, which have never been carried out. The city has a morality squad, which is supposed to know everything that goes on after dark, but the sporty people have no better joke or pastime than fooling these worthies, who have never made a really large raid in the years of their existence. The vice commission will attack the social evil from a scientific standpoint, and see what can be done to clean up the city.

CUMMINS BANKRUPT.

New York, April 12.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed here today against Wm. J. Cummins, president of the Carnegie Trust Company, and now under indictment. The liabilities are given as $5,000,000, and the assets as worth $400,000.

Mr. T. H. Preston, of Brantford, Canon Tucker, Rev. Dr. Ross and Others, Delivered Eloquent Addresses.

Moved by Mr. Walter Bell and seconded by Mr. A. G. Calder:

"Resolved, that in view of the presence in and continued influx into Canada of so many foreigners who are strangers to our civilization and religion, the present time is a very critical one in the history of our young nation, and therefore, it is our duty to put forth every effort to Canadianize and Christianize this foreign population, so that as soon as possible they may become useful, intelligent and Christian Canadian citizens."

Moved by Mr. David Ross, seconded by Mr. J. McVicar:

"Resolved, that owing to the awakening of the great nations of China, Japan, and India to new ideas of nationality and citizenship, and to new religious impulses, the present is a most opportune time to give the Gospel to these nations, so that at the beginning of their new national existence Christian ideas and forces may be impressed upon their character, and that they may have the enlightening and elevating ideals of the purse Gospel of Jesus Christ incorporated in their national character and institutions."

Moved by Mr. John M. Gunn, and seconded by Mr. John Harvey:

"Resolved, that we reaffirm our approval of the Laymen's Missionary Movement as the most effective means of accomplishing the great missionary ends and purposes of our church; that an organized Laymen's Missionary Association, of which all men, young and old, of the congregation are presumptive members, be now established in our congreation;

"That a nominal fee of 25 cents per year be charged to meet necessary expenditure;

"That an executive committee of eighteen be appointed, and that the election of officers from their own number be left to them.

"The following are the committee: Walter Bell, J. S. Brown, A. G. Calder, W. F. Darch, John Diprose, Thomas Duncan, J. W. Irwin, J. C. Middleton, S. J. McCreary, G. L. McDonald, J. W. McIntosh, Dr. W. A. Piper, Alex. Purdom, David Ross, Wm. A. Young, A. McVicar, John M. Gunn, and R. A. Little."

The above resolutions were unanimously passed at a largely-attended meeting of the laymen of St. Andrew's Church, held in the schoolroom last night. The laymen gathered at 6:45 and enjoyed a delightful supper, which was served by the ladies.

At the meeting which followed Mr. R. A. Little presided, and, in a brief address, spoke of the pleasurse it gave him to see such a splendid gathering. He then introduced Mr. T. H. Preston, ex-M. P. P., of Brantford.

Mr. Preston's Address.

"I want to take you into the realm of speculation and try to answer the question, 'What is to be the future of the laymen's missionary movement?'" said Mr. Preston.

"The prime object of the laymen's missionary movement is to inculcate the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. This wonderful movement has swept right across both Canada and the United States in the last few years. It has led men of all classes to leave their occupations and go up and down the land preaching like modern Peters the Hermit. Will this movement shine on brighter and brighter, or will it leave us in darkness? To answer, we need to look at what composes the movement. We have, to start with, a body of men who are willing to do everything they can to evangelize the world in a generation. We have men who give in a haphazard way. Men who give because their fathers gave, or because they think it is the right thing to give. We have men who are after any new thing. They want novelty. There is a fourth class.

Right Ideals.

"Men who have been trained from childhood to right ideals, men who have become prosperous, men who have felt that the mere writing of a check does not satisfy them as to what they ought to do.

"The permanency of the movement depends upon the ability of the men of the first class to assimilate all the other three. If they cannot do this, they will lose them. How is this to be brought about? By organization, education and spiritualization. The businessmen can look after the organization. Every church and every city ought to have some prize in view from year to year. When Toronto started, $200,000 was their goal. Later it was made $500,000, and they are in a fair way to realize that. Organization will increase the giving from 100 to 400 per cent. Many pastors seem to be afraid that if the men of their congregations start giving to missions other branches will suffer. They could make no greater mistake, as figures show that the very large percentage of them increase their giving.

Brotherhood of Man.

"Education as to brotherhood is the second important point. We need to cut away from all the artificial distinction between home and foreign missions. If we are all members of one great family there can be no foreign side to the question.

"Men today are spending more on self-indulgence than ever before. They make it easily. There is, however, a great sense of accountability for what we earn. We are beginnig to learn that money is important for the good it will do. Some of us, however, regard the Lord as we do the tax collector. We give him no more than we can get out of. Stewardship does not stop with money. It means more than that. We all ought to have a big, broad outlook, and education will give it to us.

"People are pouring into our country at the rate of 1,000 a day. What will their future be? The work of looking after these people is not missionary work altogether. It is self-preservation. Spiritualization is the most important of all the points. Without it the movement is doomed to failure. The movement needs for its success that we all need to kindle our enthusiasm from the living fire of Christ."

Rev. Canon Tucker.

"We have sometimes been struck by the great interest in missions in the last four years," said Canon Tucker, who spoke next. "This comes from two great causes: first, we have come into contact with the heathen nations of the east—China, Japan and India. Japan has already shown us what she can do. Napoleon said: 'China is a sleepy giant; let her sleep, for when she wakes she will shake the world.' All of the great nations of Europe are afraid of China and India, and are willing that if anything is to happen it may happen after China and India have been submitted to Christian influences.

"Thirty years ago Stanley went into Africa. It took him eleven months to reach his destination, and he found men in the lowest forms of degradation. Now, you can go to this very district in three days, and go in a first-class Pullman coach. When Roosevelt went to Uganda, where Stanley was, he found black nurses in the hospitals nursing black patients, black teachers in schools teaching black pupils. What wrought this transformation? Missionaries preaching the doctrines of the Lord Jesus Christ.

"You will find people in London who will say they do not believe in missions. When you do find them, ask them what Christ meant when he said: 'Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel.' If you want the people of the world to get the Gospel in this generation, you must do the work now. If you put it off it won't be done. One hundred years ago Robt. Morrison, who wanted to go to China as a missionary was absolutely unable to find a British captain who would take him, and had to go in an American boat. What a contrast now, when thousands of the best of our young college men and others are offering themselves for the work.

"If you smoke only once a year, you will never be a smoker. You will simply get sick once a year. It will never be a habit. So if you give an offering to missions only once a year, you will never get the habit. I am glad the laymen have introduced the system of collecting regularly. Good results are sure to follow. It's not the money that is wanting. It's the will. All the money we need is in our pockets if we will only give it. Figures showed that before the Laymen's Missionary Movement struck Toronto the churches were giving $400,000 a year for missions and $1,500,000 to the theatres. Now the figures are changed. Just think if each farmer would give one bushel out of every 100, we would have all the money we need for the work.

The Object.

"Look at the object that lies before us. Is it not worth while? We are living in an age more wonderful than the Arabian Nights' Entertainments. In Canada we are laying the foundations of a nation, and we ought to thank God for allowing us to be Canadians, for giving us the things we have, and the opportunities we have. This land to me is more, however, than gold mines and wheat fields; it is something like a mother.

"The land of the Jews was about as far as from London to Windsor. What a little nation compared with what we are building. Our west is to be the granary of the whole world. Our forests are illimitable and our minerals and fisheries inexhaustible. Such a nation is ours. The building of our national life is the greatest thing we can be called to. The centre of our problem is in getting the right sort of men. The problem of intemperance is a serious one, but the problem of impurity is more so. It is sapping the manhood of thousands of our best men. When I think of my mother, my wife and my daughter, it seems to me that to any man with a heart in him at all an offence against a woman is a crime against humanity. (Cheers.) We need to train up men who will do what is right always. You will find men who will sell themselves for $10, men who will go and place their manhood in the ballot box to the highest bidder. I hope to see the day when that will be impossible, when the man who buys or sells a vote will be branded as a criminal.

"It's a proper manhood we want, and after all it is only through spiritual means that we can produce the highest character. The men who are doing the work of building up our nation today are not the railway magnates and the manufacturers, but the teachers, our preachers and our missionaries. In helping missions you are doing the very best work you can do to help build for the future."

Dr. McDonald.

Postmaster Dr. McDonald, president of the laymen's missionary movement, gave a brief address dealing with the work the organization is doing and can do.

Rev. Dr. Ross in closing the meeting thanked the men for turning out so splendidly, and said he looked for great results from the organization.

HIRAM CARPENTER'S WONDERFUL CURE OF SKIN DISEASE

After 20 Years of Intense Suffering.

"I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M. D.'s. psoriasis, and others leprosy, commencing on my scalp; and in spite of all I could do, with the help of the most skilful doctors, it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in the form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there would be nearly a dustpanful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half an inch large as the envelope containing this letter. In the latter part of winter my skin commenced cracking open. I tried everything, almost that could be thought of, without any relief. The 12th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Springs. I reached Detroit and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich., where I had a sister living. One Dr. —— treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. I earnestly prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs, feet badly swollen; toe-nails came off; finger-nails dead and hard as a bone; hair dead, dry and lifeless as old straw. O my God! how I did suffer.

"My sister, Mrs. E. H. Davis, had a small part of a box of Cuticura in the house. She wouldn't give up; said, 'We will try Cuticura.' Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the word go. They immediately got Cuticura Resolvent, Ointment and Soap. I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of Cuticura Resolvent three times a day after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; used Cuticura Soap freely; applied Cuticura Ointment morning and evening. Result: returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper. Hiram B. Carpenter, Henderson, N. Y.

"We hereby certify that we are acquainted with the aforesaid Hiram E. Carpenter, and know his condition to have been as stated. We believe his statement to be true in every particular." L. B. Simmons & Son, Merchants; G. A. Thompson, Merchant; A. A. Davis; Millard E. Joiner, Merchant; John Carpenter; A. M. Lodingwell, Attorney and Counselor-at-law, all of Henderson, N. Y.

The above remarkable testimonial was written January 19, 1880, and is republished because of the permanency of the cure. Under date of April 22, 1910, Mr. Carpenter writes from his present home, 610 Walnut St., So. Lansing, Mich.: "I have never suffered a return of the psoriasis and although many years have passed I have not forgotten the terrible suffering I endured before using the Cuticura Remedies."

Since this cure was made by the Cuticura Remedies, they have made their way to every part of the civilized world. A 32-page book describing humors and affections of the skin will be mailed free to those desiring further information by the Potter Drug & Chemical Corporation, Boston, U. S. A.

WOMEN ARE WARNED BY IRENE OSGOOD

Popular Writer Is Very Much Opposed to International Marriages.

London, April 12. — Another sad commentary on the rarity of happy marriages between literary people is provided by the case of Mrs. Robert Harborough Sherard, born Miss Belot, of Virginia, and known to the reading public as Irene Osgood, author of several successful novels, the cleverest bearing the title "To a Nun Confessed."

About two years ago she married R. H. Sherard, author of biographies of Emila Zola and Oscar Wilde, chronicler of the woes of child employment in the British midlands, great grandson of the poet Wordsworth, and reputed to be a descendant of Alfred the Great.

All that wealth and a beautiful country home could do to make people happy has been at the call of Irene Orgood and her husband, Guilsborough Hall, in Northamptonshire, is one of the show places in that county, and its chatelaine a very popular hostess. But neither riches nor an enviable position has been a barrier to marital misery.

"I hope my case will keep at least a few American women from international marriages," she said to a friend this week.

The preliminary legal canter in this domestic suit was not without humor, for Sherard sued for the return of a Persian cat, a cat's travelling basket, a grey hunter, six pigs, some divorce papers concerning his first wife, autograph letters from royalty, manuscripts and four albums of newspaper cuttings. Alternatively he claimed $500. In the course of the hearing he alleged he was the real author of the work credited to "Irene Osgood" during the last five years, and when he spoke of his Persian cat he burst into tears. "It was an absolute monarchy at Guilsborough Hall," he declared. "A monarchy ruled by madame. It was a place where the husband was treated worse than the lowest dog. Yes, it was an American sort of invention." He denied that he spent his time "scratching the pigs' backs and looking into their eyes."

In the end the judge ordered the return of the cat or $15, the basket or $3, the hunter or $70, $3 each for the pigs, the manuscript or $100, and the other things if they can be found. More piquant details are looked for in the divorce court.

HAMILTON HIGHWAYMEN

Knock Down and Rob Storekeeper and Go Next Door for Drink.

Hamilton, April 12. — While hundreds of people were passing the Hamilton Bowling and Athletic Club Monday evening, Thomas Launders, proprietor of the club's cigar and tobacco stand, was knocked down and beaten by two highwaymen, who then rifled the cash register and walked away with about $16 in cash.

The men then went into Sullivan's hotel next door, where they spent some time talking with the bartenders. When Mr. Launders had recovered sufficiently to be able to call the police, the men had disappeared.

THE ARBITRATION TREATY

Bryce and Knox Continue to Hold Conferences Over It.

Washington, April 12.—Hon. James Bryce, the British ambassador, Secretary of State Knox, and Chandler Anderson, counsel for the state department, yesterday held another long conference on the proposed arbitration treaty between Great Britain and the United States.

Progress is being made in the negotiations. No obstacles, it is said, have yet been encountered, or are in sight, which would impede the consummation of the treaty.

The Anglo-Japanese alliance, it is reiterated here, offers no stumbling block to the treaty.

GENEROUS JIM PATTEN

Chicago Millionaire Getting Rid of His Millions.

Chicago, April 12.—Social service is to be the guiding star of James A. Patten in the distribution of his fortune for the benefit of humanity during his lifetime.

Mr. Patten has set about the disbursement of his wealth, and has given to the most appealing charities no less than $2,000,000 within the last six months. Half a million dollars was donated to the cause of Mexican research in the white plague. Another large contribution was for the protection and education of that neglected class, called the children of the pathetic estate.

A public park has been provided for in Evanston. Substantial aid has been extended to the Young Men's Christian Association for enlargement of the scope of that institution in dealing with the young men of this and succeeding generations; generous assistance has been afforded to the cause of education in Northwestern University and a large sum given to the Evanston hospital, besides the responses to the almost innumerable appeals that have come to him from the widows, the orphans, the poor and the distressed.

TRIED TO STEAL AUTO.

Quebec, April 12.—An attempt to steal an automobile from the store of the Quebec Motor Company, on St. John street, was made in the early hours of this morning.

The car was run out of the shop, which is situated in the Y. M. C. A. building, corner of St. John and Glacier streets, but as some of the machinery of the car had been removed the previous evening it would not work and the car was found this morning just around the corner on Glacier street, where it had run into the side of a house.

WAS TERRIBLY AFFLICTED WITH LAME BACK.

COULD NOT SWEEP FLOOR.

Three Boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills Cured Her.

It is hard to do housework with a weak and aching back.

Backache comes from sick kidneys, and what a lot of trouble sick kidneys cause.

But they can't help it. If more work is put on them than they can stand it is not to be wondered they get out of order.

Weak back is simply a warning from the kidneys and should be attended to immediately so as to avoid years of terrible suffering from kidney trouble.

Mrs. N. Larmour, Smith's Falls, Ont., writes:—"I take pleasure in writing you, stating the benefit I have received by using Doan's Kidney Pills. About a year ago I was terribly afflicted with lame back and was so bad I could not even sweep my own floor. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, which I did, and with the greatest benefit. I only used three boxes and I am as well as ever. I highly recommend these pills to any sufferer from lame back or kidney trouble."

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

UNUSUAL PRECAUTIONS TO GUARD THE POPE

Result of the Confession of Man Who Shot at Priest in St. Peter's.

Rome, April 12.—The Vatican authorities realize that had the man Desanti, who shot at a priest in St. Peter's on Tuesday last, and who confessed that he intended to make an attempt on the Pope's life, been a more intelligent and more determined man, he could easily have reached the papal apartments. They have consequently decided to increase the surveillance over the apostolic palaces and take special precautions to guard the Pope. Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, has had conferences on the subject with the papal major domo, the prefect of the apostolic palaces, and the commanders of the gendarmes and the Swiss guards.

It was suggested by these gentlemen that gendarmes and Swiss guards in plain clothes should be stationed at the papal ante-chambers with orders to allow no one under any pretext to enter the audience chamber unless able to show a ticket from the major domo.

It was also suggested that, if possible, visitors to the vatican gardens should be escorted by gendarmes; that tickets for collective audiences or religious functions should not be given to anybody not personally acquainted with the major domo or who is not provided with a letter of introduction from a responsible person, and that when the Pope takes his daily walk in the gardens he should be accompanied by four of the noble guards.

Pope Finally Consents.

The Pope was at first unwilling to submit to these measures, which, he said, restricted his personal liberty, and he considered unnecessary, as he felt sufficiently protected by Providence, but Cardinal Merry del Val convinced him that the anti-clericals were as dangerous as anarchists, and persuaded the Pontiff that the precautions were fully justified. The Pope then unwillingly promised to discontinue the practice of receiving his fellow-countrymen from Venice informally, as it was pointed out to him had Desanti, who is a native of Istria, and consequently speaks the Venetian dialect, pretended that he was a Venetian and asked to see the Pontiff, he could easily have obtained access to the audience chamber, even without applying for a ticket to the major domo.

FORTIFIED AT FIFTY

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS BRING HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO WOMEN AT A CRITICAL TIME.

Few women reach the age of fifty without enduring much suffering and anxiety. Between the years of forty-five and fifty health becomes fickle, and acute weaknesses arise with rheumatic attacks, pains in the back and side, frequent headaches, nervous ailments and depression of spirits.

The secret of good health between forty-five and fifty depends upon the blood supply. If it is kept rich, red and pure, good health will be the result, and women will pass this critical stage in safety. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills help women of mature years as no other medicine can, for they make the rich, red blood that means good health, and brings relief from suffering. Mrs. C. Donavon, Newcastle, N. B., says: "About two years ago I was greatly run-down, and very miserable. I did not know what was wrong with me. I was hardly able to drag myself about, had severe headaches, and no appetite. I felt so wretched that I hardly cared whether I lived or not. I had often read of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had done for others, and I decided to try them, and I can now truthfully say I found them all they are recommended to be. Under their use my health gradually came back, I could eat better, sleep better, and felt stronger in every way, and before long I was enjoying as good health as ever I had done."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure by going to the root of the trouble in the blood. They actually make new blood. That is why they cure such troubles as rheumatism, neuralgia, indigestion, kidney troubles, headaches, sideaches and backaches, and the ailments of growing girls and women of mature years. Sold by all medicine dealers, or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2 50, from the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

THE FIGHT AGAINST LONG SAULT DAM

Sifton Offers Financial Aid to Help Oppose United States Interests.

Montreal, April 12 — Yesterday's meeting of the interests opposed to the damming of the Long Sault Rapids, decided that if the navigation of the St. Lawrence is to be preserved, energetic measures must be immediately taken to fight the project at Washington, and arrangements were made to prepare for a lengthy campaign against the proposal.

The announcement was made at the meeting that Hon. Clifford Sifton, chairman of the Canadian conservation commission, was prepared to subscribe a sum equal to that contributed by any individual or corporation in this city or elsewhere. As some of these amounts will in all probability be large, great appreciation is felt of Mr. Sifton's public-spirited generosity with the future of the port of Montreal.

A communication was read from Mr. George C. Boldt, the American millionaire, who owns the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, in New York, stating that he hoped the Canadian people would arouse themselves to the danger they faced in the bill which will be presented to the United States Congress. Mr. Boldt owns extensive holdings in the River St. Lawrence above the rapids, and has spent several millions of dollars on his property opposite Alexandria Bay.

Appreciative mention was made at the meeting of the energies of J. Wesley Allison, of Morrisburg, and the strenuous and successful manner in which he has opposed the bill at Washington. It was pointed out, however, that some practical assistance should be given Mr. Allison to continue the opposition of the project, and that he should not be called upon to bear the financial strain of the fight alone.

Representatives of the Shipping Federation of Canada, the Montreal Board of Trade, the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company, and other public bodies, were present at the meeting.

Some years ago a small account book was picked up in a Toronto street. The owner had kept an account of the street car fares he saved by riding a bicycle. One entry made on Aug. 2 was: "One fare—last quarter's worth of tickets bought June 2." The total saving of fares in seven months amounted to nearly thirty dollars.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 12

A SOMERSAULT.

Readers of Conservative journals have noted a change in the anti-reciprocity tune of late.

The first wild shriek—the loyalty cry—has died away. It carried the politicians farther than they cared to go. Its assumption that reciprocity would put so much American money into the Canadian farmer's purse that he would sell his country rather than forego his new-found source of wealth, was found to be a boomerang in the rural constituencies. One of the master marplots was the Toronto News. The day after the agreement was announced it confessed that the United States had made an offer which it was "difficult for Canada to refuse"; and it varied its loyalty caterwauling with a profusion of tears for the city-dwellers who were to be further punched in the cost of living. Lower down in the scale we found the London Free Press also weeping for the workingmen as the victims of the predatory tillers of the soil. To quote from its issue of March 22:

"If reciprocity is a boon to the farmer, it will not help the wage-earner in the city. That is quite clear.

"If the farmer is to get richer because of reciprocity, the workingman in the city will have to help to make him richer. Any doubt about that?

"Reciprocity is a menace from a national standpoint.

"It is a direct material injury to the workingman, because it takes employment from the Canadian workingman and gives it to the United States workingman.

"If it advances the prices for farm products, the wage-earners in the city must help to pay these advances."

The word has been sent all along the line that these tactics will never do. Reciprocity has caught the farming community, and anti-reciprocity arguments must be addressed to the farmer or all is lost. Hence the anti-reciprocity brass band has selected a new repertoire. All its music is now contrived to arrest the farmer's ear. The American market, which was to lure him from his allegiance, is described as a worthless thing. He is told that his home market will be deluged with cheap Yankee products, grown on soil tilled by negro labor. Having tried to set the town against the township, the mischief-makers are now trying to fool the township. But the township will not be humbugged.

BRIGHT AT WASHINGTON.

The Democratic party has so far handled the reciprocity issue with unwonted statesmanship.

There is a temptation to the Democratic majority in the House of Representatives to couple the agreement with provisions which the Republican Senate, in which the high tariff element is still in control, would not accept. The agreement would then fall between the two Houses. But the Democratic representatives in caucus yesterday decided to support it in its present shape, with a rider calling upon the President to continue negotiations with Canada looking to wider reciprocal relations. This will undoubtedly pass the House of Representatives. Its fate in the Senate is not so assured, but the whole weight of the Administration will be behind it, and it is hardly likely that even the senatorial Bourbons will further challenge the low-tariff sentiment which threatens to sweep the Republicans from power. The present outlook for the adoption of the agreement within six weeks is bright.

The only uncertain thing at Ottawa is the date of the passage of the measure. The torrent of talk goes on in the House, and no progress is being made. Possibly, Sir Wilfrid may leave the reins to Mr. Fielding while he goes to the Imperial Conference and the coronation, if the Opposition is intent on a policy of obstruction. But for the fact that the west would be deprived of its proper representation by an election this year, the Government would be glad to meet these tactics by an appeal to the country. But it is expected that the Opposition will not prolong a futile war of words, and will allow the agreement to be voted upon before the Imperial Conference. The announcement of Mr. Borden's summer tour in the West supports this view.

MR. BOURASSA'S REVELATION.

Mr. Bourassa makes an important disclosure in Le Devoir of Monday. La Patrie had affected surprise because Mr. Bourassa "having joined the Conservatives to drive the Laurier cabinet and the Gouin cabinet from the power," refused to accept Mr. Sifton. Mr. Bourassa retorts:

"The telepathic apparatus is defective; otherwise it would have made known to La Patrie first, in what conditions and through what channel Mr. Bourassa responded to the demand that the Conservatives, once of him, in 1907, to work with them in provincial politics, and, secondly, how Mr. Bourassa has refused the repeated invitations of the Conservatives to ally himself with them in federal politics."

This implies that there is an interesting chapter in Canadian politics yet to be written. The men who attacked the Federal Government because it declined to give millions to the British admiralty to spend abroad, were willing to strike hands with the man who attacked the Government because it spent anything on naval defence. What do the flag waggers in Toronto think of these negotiations at Montreal? It is to be hoped Mr. Bourassa will some day complete the writing of the Book of Revelations, of which he has given us the prologue.

The Marys have beaten the Georges to a standstill in the royal subscription race. Score another for the fair sex.

The Wellington Street Methodist Church is to be felicitated. The next best thing to having money to burn is to have a mortgage to burn.

Colonel Sam Hughes had a good day yesterday. He called the editor of the Globe a liar, and the western grain-growers a gang of windbags, "whose wives are left to clean out the cow-stables while they gas around the blacksmith shop."

Is it only a coincidence that nearly all the talented young men in the House of Commons or about to enter it—Mackenzie King, Martin of Regina, Ross of Middlesex, Robinette of Toronto, Guthrie of Guelph, and others—are on the one side?

The Conservative Association of Ottawa declared against reciprocity last night. The C. A. is a thoroughbred. Both Conservative journals in Ottawa are supporting reciprocity, and one of them is owned by a gentleman who was president of the Conservative Association until last night.

Controller Hocken says that persons living on the outskirts of Toronto and working down-town lose a month in the year riding on street cars. This would be more impressive if it were certain that all of them would have otherwise spent the month's time in physical, mental and moral improvement.

The Hamilton Herald says that if the Ontario Government had bought out the Electrical Development Company when it had the chance a few years ago "it would have had the whole Liberal press of the Province taking against such a 'mortgaging of the resources of the whole Province for the benefit of a few western municipalities.' " Not at all. The purchase was urged by the Liberal press. The Globe was particularly insistent.

In almost every case the interrupter was confounded by his own words. Mr. Fielding's answers came like a shot. Instead of being annoyed by the interruptions, he just revelled in them. One could almost imagine that he was laying traps for the interrupters, so pat and effective were his prompt replies. The interrupters enabled the Minister of Finance to make many strong points that he would not otherwise have made.

NEWSPAPER SACRIFICE.

[Woodstock Sentinel-Review.]

Every reputable newspaper in Canada sacrifices large sums of money every year in the pursuit of its editorial policy or by refusing business propositions which it holds to be not in the interests of its readers. The newspaper which adopts in the interests of the public a policy to govern its editorial and business columns must expect to pay the price in loss of revenue. It should have a right to look to the public for at least a measure of appreciation and compensation.

Strathroy, April 11.—The youngest son of Mr. J. Calcut, Albert, aged 12, met with a serious accident on Monday while attempting to load a 22-calibre rifle in company with other boys. His father took the boy to the London Hospital today to endeavor to have the bullet extracted.

Dr. Hogg is attending young Calcut and will make an examination today and take X-ray pictures to locate the bullet. Unless blood poisoning develops no serious results are anticipated.

TRUE BILL FOR JARDINE

Trial of Alleged Slayer of Lizzie Anderson Is On Today.

MANY WITNESSES CALLED

Justice Falconbridge in Address Carefully Defines Sanity and Insanity as Applied to Law.

Goderich, Ont., April 12.—At the opening of the spring assizes yesterday the grand jury brought in a true bill against Edward Jardine, charged with the murder of Lizzie Anderson last September. Jardine will appear in court this morning. Chief Justice Falconbridge will preside. G. T. Blackstock, K. C. and L. E. Duncey, will act for the defence.

Several witnesses were examined, among them Tom Jardine, Mrs. Wm. Brindley and Katherine McDonald. Their statements dealt principally with Jardine's movements on the night of the murder.

The Judge's Address.

In his address to the jury, Justice Falconbridge referred to the stories of insanity as follows:

"These particular charges have been so widely circulated throughout the country by the public press that probably everyone knows in a general way what the circumstances are. I wish to tell you, as I shall tell it more strongly or forcibly to the petit jury, that nothing you have heard or read outside the walls of this courtroom is to influence you."

Pointing out the difference between insanity in the ordinary sense and insanity in its legal meaning, his lordship said:

"The law says very distinctly that no person shall be convicted of an offence by reason of an act done or committed by him when laboring under any imbecility or disease of mind to such an extent as to render him incapable of appreciating the nature and quality of an act or omission, and knowing that such act or omission was wrong. There is really a man insane, or partially insane, who may have delusions and hallucinations, and yet know perfectly well the moral quality of an act, and, therefore, you see, the law has drawn that distinction.

"I know that there are those who say they could never convict on circumstantial evidence, but what murder trial does not depend largely on circumstantial evidence?

Sir Glenholme Falconbridge in his address to the grand jury, prior to this, also referred to the possibility of an insanity plea, and warned the jurymen not to attach too much consideration to it.

"It may well be," he said, "that the defence in both cases may be what is commonly known as insanity. I tell you, gentlemen, that if the killing is proven to your reasonable satisfaction, the law presumes all unlawful killing to be murder."

Refers to Confession.

"I am told that there will be something in the nature of a confession presented to you. In that case, of course, there need be no hesitancy in returning a true bill. If, as I can scarcely think in these cases, you should not find sufficient evidence you may find no bill.""

The trial seems likely to be lengthy. Chief Justice Falconbridge this afternoon intimated that he expected to have to work on Good Friday, but that he had engagements elsewhere next week and must leave on Saturday.

Rev. Dr. Charles Ross, Jardine's spiritual adviser; Dr. Taylor, jail surgeon; Dr. Gallow, who assisted at the post-mortem; Dr. Mucklin and Dr. Hunter were in the court room, as well as Dr. Bruce Smith, to whom the much-talked-of "confession" of Jardine is supposed to have been given.

When the roll of the grand jurymen was called, one man was found to be absent, and Charles A. Nairn, who served on the jury at the Anderson inquest, was sent for. Albert B. Carr, of Blyth, is foreman.

Charles, Thomas and Albert Jardine and Mrs. Albert Jardine, the latter a sister of the murdered girl, were all in court.

A PRICELESS MSS.

London, April 12.—A manuscript of the highest importance will be sold at Sothebys next month. This is the original legal settlement constituting the British army. The signature of King Charles II. occurs four times in the course of the document, which extends to twenty-seven pages of folio.

SHE WAS SURPRISED

When Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Cured her Chronic Liver Complaint

Mrs. R. Smith, of Winnipeg, Man., tells an interesting story of relief from almost intolerable sufferings:

"I can hardly tell you how great my sufferings have been. Chronic liver complaint accompanied by biliousness were a daily source of trial to me. Every day I experienced the sickening effects of these ailments. I longed for some medicine that should permanently drive them away.

Hearing of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, I thought they were worthy of a trial. My surprise was indeed great. From the very first I experienced relief. Continuing with them I found my troubles were slowly but surely leaving me, and before long I once more knew what it was to be free from the harassing effects of the ailments that had long sickened and weakened me. So great is my faith in Dr. Morse's Indian Pills that I shall never on any account be without them."

COLBORNE MURDER TRIAL OPENED

Prisoner Charged With Murder of Hotel Cook.

CONFIDENT OF ACQUITTAL

Court Room Crowded With the Curious When Matthews Is Arraigned.

Colborne, April 12.—The trial of H. I. Matthews, jun., of Lakeport, charged with the murder last December of Johanna Brimacombe, at the Bristol Hotel, Colborne, where the woman, a deaf mute, was employed, was proceeded with at the assizes yesterday afternoon.

The court room was crowded when the prisoner was arraigned. He pleaded not guilty. He appears much worn after his four months' imprisonment in Cobourg jail.

Crown Prosecutor Peter White, K. C., went over the story of the finding of the body of Johanna Brimacombe, whom Henry I. Matthews is charged with strangling in room 14 of the Bristol Hotel at Colborne on the night of Dec. 17 last. The woman, who was about 43 years of age, a deaf mute, acting as the cook of the hotel, was found by George M. Teasdale on the morning of Sunday, Dec. 18, lying on a bed in room 14, with her eye protruding from her head, and every indication that she had been choked to death in an infectual struggle.

Matthews had been drinking at the hotel on the afternoon and evening of the supposed murder, and was seen coming down stairs with his clothes in a dishevelled condition shortly after midnight by Teasdale, heard proceeding from the direction of the room where the deceased was found. Suspicion is fastened on him as the man who had committed the crime.

Defence Confident.

Four witnesses were called for the crown, they being W. H. Smith, chief constable of Colborne; George Teasdale, proprietor of the hotel where the body of the woman was found; Irving T. Bailey, a boarder at the hotel; and Don Haynes, employed as temporary bartender at the hotel. The evidence did not differ materially from that given at the preliminary investigation, and dealt principally with the location of the room in the hotel, the finding of the body, and its condition.

Don Haynes told of a conversation between Matthews and Teasdale, two days after the murder. Matthews was reluctant to appear as a witness in a case against Teasdale on a charge of illegal sale of liquor. Matthews expressed his expectation of being served with a subpoena in connection with the Brimacombe inquest. Matthews was also anxious that Teasdale should ask his hostler, McDonald, not to mention at the inquest that he had seen Matthews in the kitchen talking in the dumb alphabet to Miss Brimacombe shortly before the murder.

Teasdale said that he did not see the prisoner after 6 o'clock on the evening preceding the finding of the body. He admitted having had a few drinks with Matthews.

The defence is confident of an acquittal.

Be Warned by Headache

IT TELLS OF SERIOUS DERANGEMENTS OF THE LIVER AND KIDNEYS.

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

You can stop a headache with powerful drugs. But it is not generally wise to do so.

A headache almost always warns you of derangements of the digestive system, the liver, kidneys or bowels.

Awaken the liver to healthful action by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and you not only free yourself of headache, but remove the cause which will soon lead to more dangerous results than headache.

Invigorate the action of the kidneys by this treatment and you take away the dangers of Bright's disease as well as free yourself of headache.

Pains are the result of poison in the system and whether you have headache, backache or aching limbs, you can be almost sure of relief and cure when you cleanse and regulate the vital organs by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

They are wonderfully prompt, as well as definite and thorough in action. You can depend upon them, no matter how long-standing or complicated your case, so long as the cause is the sluggish, torpid condition of the liver and kidneys.

If you don't feel like risking 25 cents for a box, write for a free sample. A trial will convince you of their merits. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box; all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

GREY TO VISIT SARNIA AND AUTO TO PETROLEA

Governor-General Will Make a Tour of Oil Fields Some Time in May.

Sarnia, April 12.—Earl Grey, governor-general of Canada, will pay a visit to Sarnia some time during May. The Governor-General has had a strong desire to visit this section of the country, and Mayor Henderson has extended a cordial invitation to his lordship to visit Sarnia near the end of May. The trip will also include a visit to Petrolea. Arriving in Sarnia about noon, the Governor-General and his staff will be met at the depot by Mayor Henderson and the town officials, and the party will be escorted to the town hall, where a reception will be held. The party, together with a number of Sarnia citizens, will pay a visit to Petrolea, leaving here in automobiles. The party will be entertained at luncheon by Mayor Pollard and Petrolea town officials, and after a brief inspection of the oil fields, will return by auto to Sarnia. A reception in the evening will be held, to which the public will be invited.

HARD SLEDDING

Cotton Crop a Disappointment, and Mills Had To Close.

[Canadian Press.]

Boston, April 12.—"Misery likes company," said President Franklin Hobbs in his annual address before the opening session of the annual meeting of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers in this city today, in reference to the fact that the Lancashire cotton mills had been having "hard sledding" as well as those in the United States. The convention, which is being held in Huntingham Hall, Massachusetts Institute, will also be in session tomorrow.

The association medal for 1910 was awarded to Charles T. Main for contributions to textile publications.

In his annual address, President Hobbs said: "Last September I remarked that the cotton manufacture industry had been in troublous times since we met in April last, and I regret to be compelled to state that the troublous times have been continued. The cotton crop has been a disappointment, curtailment has continued, and a most unsatisfactory condition has resulted. Buying is on a hand-to-mouth basis, added to perplexing business conditions, has been the situation. With these two factors removed, we shall know where we stand and be prepared to go forward.

"Misery likes company, and I'm interested to know what this year will bring."

To Grow Hair on A Bald Head

BY A SPECIALIST.

Thousands of people suffer from baldness and failing hair who, having tried nearly every advertised hair tonic and hair-grower without results, have resigned themselves to baldness and its attendant discomfort. Yet their case is not hopeless; the following simple home prescription has made hair grow after years of baldness, and is also unequalled for restoring grey hair to its original color, stopping hair from falling out, and destroying the dandruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy, and can be put up by any druggist: Bay Rum, 6 ounces; Lavona de Composee', 2 ounces; Menthol Crystals, one-half drachm. If you wish it perfumed, add half to one teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. This preparation is highly recommended by physicians and specialists, and is absolutely harmless, as it contains none of the poisonous wood alcohol so frequently found in hair tonics. Do not apply to the face or where hair is not desired.

BABY'S HAIR RIBBONS.

When the hair of the wee girl begins to get long and curly, the young mother wants it tied up in a big bow. When selecting these, choose a delicate shade and one which is becoming, or it will detract instead of adding to baby's appearance. Boys' hair should never be tied.

A LOVELY BABY BOY

This Mother is quite Enthusiastic over a well Known Food.

Mrs. J. W. Pateman, 34 Harriet St., Toronto, in writing about Neave's Food says "When I first knew one of my friends, her baby Jack was eight months old and dying by inches. She had tried three foods because her Jack could not digest milk. At last, I fetched her a tin of Neave's Food. At the end of a month, Jack was rapidly gaining flesh and was bright and happy. He is a lovely boy now and she declares Neave's Food saved his life. And it did.

Then I recommended it to a friend on Victoria Avenue. She had a baby 6 months old that was not thriving a bit. She put the baby on Neave's Food and at the end of three months, the baby was twice the size.

I have never seen two bigger, stronger boys than mine for their ages and we owe it all to Neave's Food. I have the utmost faith in Neave's Food."

Mothers and prospective mothers may obtain a free tin of Neave's Food and a valuable book "Hints About Baby" by writing Edwin Utley, 14 Front Street East, Toronto, who is the Canadian agent. For sale by all druggists. 24

Cynthia Grey's After-Supper Talks

LITTLE GIRLS AND "PAPA'S" FRIENDS.

"I wish," said Dorothy, "that little girls didn't have to kiss their father's friends. I don't think it is nice for big men to kiss little girls."

"What a queer child," said Dorothy's mother.

I wonder, was Dorothy so queer after all? I wish more little girls were queer in the same way.

I have always thought it wrong for children to be made to kiss people, especially that little girls should be made to kiss every man who comes to the home as a visitor.

It seems to be generally accepted that children have no right that grown-ups must respect. Little girls are told to kiss father's friends, and if they do not wish to do so, they are told they are rude or bad, when as a plain truth they are simply self-respecting.

I believe that the beginning of the breaking down of many a girl's modesty has arisen from being made to kiss men when she was small. Of course, the kiss is always given in a fatherly way, but just the same I do not believe in it. It is something fine and splendid that makes a child wish to keep its lips for those it loves and trusts, and the feeling should be encouraged, not discouraged, for the sake of the selfish few who want to kiss every pretty little girl they see.

Teach your little girl not to kiss anybody. Then there will be no habit to break when she is older, no embarrassing readjustment of relations as she grows to womanhood. If "papa's" friends are the right kind of men, they will understand; if they are not, it does not matter, anyway.

A BIRD STORY FOR GIRLS AND BOYS

Some Mason Birds Build Fine Nests With Cement and Stones.

Most of our native mason birds work in something like cement or concrete, rather than in stone. There is a bird, however, which is a real stone mason. This is the "pedroro," which lives in Spain. This bird builds a nest of stone, and actually lays the stones in a mortar made of sand and lime.

In this country there are various kinds of birds who work in cement, among them the best known of all American birds, the robin redbreast, a jolly good fellow, and who does pretty good work in cement, but is a mighty poor engineer. He builds his nest of a few twigs, lined entirely with a mortar made of clay. But he uses such little judgment in choosing places for his foundations that a new nest is often knocked to pieces by the first rain that strikes it. And sometimes his nest is so placed that it gets topheavy when the baby birds begin to get big, and spills the whole brood to the ground.

Swallows not only build beautiful houses of cement, but they are careful to build where there is no danger of rain striking them. The cave swallows, which built their nests in cliffs before there were barns to furnish better shelter, build regular villages of nests, little gourd-shaped cells of mud, placed in a row under the eaves of a building. The barn swallow builds its solitary nest inside a barn or other building, up against a rafter. The bank swallow isn't a mason. He is a tunnel builder, like the kingfisher.

There are a good many other birds who dabble in cement work—the flamingo, for instance, who builds a regular chimney of mud, so that mother can sit on her eggs standing up, and thus avoid getting her legs tangled.

Tomorrow we will talk about a bird that makes a business of fishing.

The Steering Wheel

BY ROBERT ALEXANDER WASON.

CHAPTER XXXI.

The Struggle for the Wheel.

The door to the outer office opened and Kate entered, her face flushed from the haste in which she had come, and the mingled emotions which beset her.

"Is Mr. Bannington disengaged?" she added.

Ivan nodded, but having grown accustomed to having his sacred office treated with disdain, made only a feeble pretense of dismounting from his stool.

Kate crossed the office hurriedly and knocked. Dick aroused himself with an effort, and was at first tempted to escape through the closet, but the few moments of absolute relaxation had given him new force, and he straightened in his chair, and called, "Come in."

Kate entered and closed the door behind her. "Why did you wish to see me?" she asked with reserve.

"Because I am dog tired, and you are the most refreshing sight in all the—"

"Please stop. Under the circumstances I consider your flippancy to be a direct insult. You have deliberately determined to ruin my father—he told me so less than an hour ago, and it is killing him. I did not come here to listen to flattery. I came to see—to see — Why did you wish to see me? Tell me the truth."

"I am not your father's enemy," answered Dick sincerely. "He is not ruined yet, and if he is it will be through his own obstinacy."

The girl looked at him proudly, for a moment the expression wavered toward anger, and then it settled to wistful disappointment. "This is what I feared," she said, in a voice which refused to be quite steady. "Oh, Dick, Dick, I trusted you so—I thought you so chivalrous and noble under your careless manner. Dick, I did love and respect you, but I never can again."

"But I'm not responsible for your father's obstinacy," exclaimed Dick in amazement.

"I think you understand what I mean. It is the smallness of your nature, the craftiness, the—"

"Go right ahead," encouraged Dick; "say just as mean things as you can think of if it will be the slightest relief to you. My spirit is bruised to a navy blue, so that if you wish to unload any little gobs of hatred—I'm that entire department. You started out by saying, 'This is what I feared.' What is it that you feared?"

The girl hesitated. "Make it as plain as you can," begged Dick, "and if you can draw a picture to illustrate it, that will help a lot. My brain is only a lump of chalk to begin with, and this day's business has started it to crumbling."

"I am ashamed to put it into words."

"I'm too weak to do any mind-reading. I reckon you'll have to say it."

Kate turned her face away from him. "I hate even to think of it," she said in a low tone, "but I am sure that you have made my hand the price of my father's ambition. Dick, you have broken my heart."

Dick had risen as soon as he had observed his visitor's identity, but when she had joined the others in attacking him, he had seated himself defiantly. Now he rose and took her face very slowly and very gently between his hands. Turning it toward his own, he gazed into it a long moment and said very soberly, "Kate, I should be glad to have you disappointed in me, if I were such a cad, but, thank heaven, I am not. I have not thought of your hand in this deal—not for a moment. I am willing to work for you all my life; but if you could be bought—no matter at what price—Kate, I couldn't love you then."

Her face turned rosy beneath his gaze and her hands stole upward and pressed his hands. "And you will not ruin my father?" she asked.

"Your father must protect himself," replied Dick firmly, as he gently withdrew his hands. "I did not bargain with him for you; you must not use your love to save him. Love is love, and we must keep it pure, no matter how loudly the dollars howl as I drive them into the open."

Kate backed away from him slowly. "Then I must leave you. I do not think that I could ever trust you again. Dick, you frighten me—and I never was afraid of you before." She paused at the door and then hurried back to him. "But oh, Dick," she said feelingly, "for the sake of all that has passed between us do not be too hard on my father."

"Your father must play his own hand alone," said Dick solemnly, and the girl closed the door without replying.

Dick took a few strides and as a new light came into his face he paused and exclaimed: "She is afraid of me, she said it herself! This morning I felt like a picture-nail when she looked at me. Great Scott, what a day this has been!"

A moment later when Richard Bannington presented himself, he merely questioned Ivan with his eyes and hurried into the private office. "Well, what now?" he demanded.

"Uncle, you said this morning that you would be willing to make almost any sacrifice to save the plant. Burton is willing to merge, or if you prefer, a mutual understanding which will not affect your apparent independence, can be arranged. It all depends on your vanity."

"Dick, I'm all in," admitted the old man brokenly. "This morning I could have killed you, but after I left it came over me that after all you were my nephew. I can't hate you steadily, Dick. I work up as good a hate as anyone could, but it won't stick. You've been meaner than dirt, and I know it's my duty to hate you, but 'way down in my heart the old love I had for you is still fooling around, and it spoils everything." The old man paused, swallowed and then said fiercely: "And that shows whether or not I'm vain, you infernal scamp!"

"That's the ticket! Now, will you be white all the way through and merge with Burton? That was your original scheme, you know."

"No, I'll not merge with Burton," said Bannington with a decisive gesture. "Hang Burton! I don't like Burton. Did he propose it to you?"

"He did."

"Then he is hard hit himself!" cried the old man, striking his palm with his fist. "The market rallied a few points just before I came over. I can make another plunge and wipe him off the slate. His raft won't stand a storm like the old Bannington Plant, which is built like a ship. Dick, it's not too late yet, come in with me, and we'll stand on Burton's neck and shake hands."

"It sounds tempting, uncle, but I have to decline. The fact of the matter is that I have both you and Burton in the same fix. I can wipe you both off the slate, but I don't want to."

"Is that straight, Dick—you are not in with Burton, but are fighting him as well as me?" The weariness which had cloaked the old man when he entered, had fallen from him, and his keen eyes were shining with old-time vigor.

"I am not in with Burton," answered Dick quietly, "but I am fighting no one. I have simply tied one rope to Burton's neck and your waist, and another rope to your neck and Burton's waist. Now, all I need is to give you each a jab, and you will jerk off each other's heads."

The old man looked at his nephew for a moment. "Say, Dick," he asked in a quizzical voice, "who the devil are you, anyway—Mephistopheles?"

"There is nothing remarkable in what I have done," replied Dick, with becoming modesty. "Business is only a game. The great trouble with most young fellows is that they get the shivers at the size of the stakes, and buck-fever at the noble bluffs their elders put up. You remember that marble game I invented when I was kid? Well, I'm just playing it over, only I'm stringing the two biggest steel plants in the country instead of Jim Haskell and Buddy Sanderson."

"You've hit the nail on the head, boy. It is only a game, but it is cruel hard when it sets against you. I've lost my grip, and when you lose your grip just for a moment you're done for. Dick, will you take over the plant and run it?"

"No, I don't want to do that, uncle. I merely wanted to force you and Burton into a merger, and start a little business of my own which would bring in an income of twenty or thirty thousand a year without too much bother; but I did not have the slightest idea to swing a tremendous thing like the merger would be."

"Did not have—how about it now?" asked Bannington eagerly.

To Be Continued.

SUBSTITUTE FOR BEADS.

Following the vogue of beads comes the clever expedient that is supplanting in its stead. It is not new and it is quite easy. French knots are now being used as a means to a decorative end on a blouse of chiffon cloth, silk or velvet. Instead the patch of color of French knots instead of beads. Black silk combined with blue is stunning on either grey or white. The favorite black and white is effective on any shade, and the tones of one vivid color can be applied as quickly as the floss in a needle is changed. Entire yokes and cuffs can be made of this embroidery; lines of color or motifs can be made to give individuality to a blouse.

MAKE LIFE WORTH LIVING

SAYS ELDER CUNNINGHAM.

When pure healthy blood courses through every vein and artery of the body, the organs are in a healthy condition, and a strenuous active life is a pleasure to man or woman.

But if the blood is impure and sluggish, the appetite poor, digestion weak and vitality not up to the standard, life is a burden; then you need Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil. Such evidence as comes from Henry Cunningham, elder of the Baptist Church, Kinston, N. C., should be convincing. He says: "I was rundown and weak from general debility, and suffered from vertigo. I took Vinol with the most gratifying results. I gained in health and strength and now feel unusually well."

Elder Cunningham's recovery was due to the combined action of the medicinal elements of cods' livers, aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron contained in Vinol.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

SEASON'S MOST ECCENTRIC GOWN

Direct from Paris comes this latest freak of fashion, or fashionable freak, whichever way you wish to call it. It was designed and "built" by M. Poiret, the world-famous French dressmaker. The striking black and white effect is guaranteed to attract the attention even of the blase Parisian, who has long been accustomed to the eccentric "creations" of rival dressmakers.

FAVORED MATERIALS.

Smooth materials are very much in favor, though some rough are also seen. In general, a loose rather than a strictly rough weave is favored in this case.

Fine serges are seen everywhere, both in fine twill and in herringbone effects, but particularly the former.

Fancy mixtures, checks and striped worsteds are best for the in-between season of early spring.

Etamine and voile will do well for the Easter suit; they are light and pretty, and make up well. Voile is to be, next season, a real "best seller."

Satin, either the real article or the cloth-backed variety, is to be really the rage for the dressier skirts and suits, and surah and taffeta will run it a close second. A very little velvet will be seen also.

Linen and pique will as usual be in order for summer, with repp for cooler days. Nothing is better than a coarse linen suit for everyday summer wear.

As to colors, black, as usual, has the first call in cloth and silk suits and skirts, with navy blue, brown and grey also in evidence.

In washable fabrics, white is best, with an unusual popularity in natural-colored linen, and a few pastel shades in favor as well.

Correspondence

Edited by Cynthia Grey.

Dear Miss Grey—Please tell me how to make putty to fill in cracks of floor.
A. B. C.

A.—1. Dissolve glue in water, and add as much very fine sawdust as required. 2. Or mix ten parts rye flour, five parts slaked lime, five parts linseed oil varnish, and color with amber.

Brass Polish.

Dear Miss Grey—Kindly publish a process of polishing brass. A. F.

A.—Polish solid brass with whiting and ammonia. Clean brass lacquer with sweet oil and whiting.

Drying Rose Leaves.

Dear Miss Grey,—Please tell me how to make a rose jar. I have a lot of leaves, but don't know how to dry them, or how to fix them. D. L.

A.—Pack jar with layers of rose leaves two inches deep, using dry leaves. Cover each layer with fine dry salt, and set jar in cool, dry place for one week. Then turn out salted petals upon a broad platter, and mix them with a wooden or silver fork until the mass is loosened. Then mix with half ounce each of violet, rose and heliotrope powder, and one ounce of powdered orris root. Add two drams of alcohol, ten drops of bergamot, and set away to ripen for ten days. Then pack in rose jars. Rose leaves make a fine filling for silk pillows. Dry with salt, and mix with orris root before packing.

To Sweeten Breath.

Dear Miss Grey,—Would it be harmful to wash the face and then apply a coat of cold cream and powder over that before retiring at night? Can you tell me of something harmless which, when taken before retiring at night, will keep the breath sweet and clear till morning?
A BOTHER.

A.—Powdering the face on retiring does absolutely no good, and tends to clog the pores. The best treatment is to wash the face, without too vigorous rubbing, with hot castile soapsuds, and then rinse in very hot clear water, followed by a rinse in very cold clear water. Do this at night. On one night retire with nothing additional to this treatment. The next night repeat the treatment, and in addition anoint the face with a pure cold cream. Repeat these two plans alternately. The best thing for the breath is to keep the stomach and bowels regular. Do not eat too heavily a short time before retiring. Clean the teeth and tongue and nose upon retiring and arising.

Blushes.

Dear Miss Grey,—What causes blushes, and what will cure them? TILLIE.

A.—Blushing is a symptom of self-consciousness, and the only cure is utter forgetfulness of self. The girl who blushes ought to be proud of it, not ashamed.

VEALETTES.

Purchase veal cuts from the leg in slices as large as one's hand, and about half an inch thick. On each slice lay a large tablespoonful of dressing made from seasoned bread crumbs, a beaten egg and a tablespoonful melted butter. Roll up the slices, pinning with toothpicks to keep the dressing in. Put on a baking pan in the oven and bake about three-quarters of an hour, basting often with melted butter and hot water. When done thicken the gravy, pour over the veal and serve on a hot platter.

A variation in vealettes is made by getting from the butcher two slices of veal and a slice of ham the same size. Put together like a sandwich, with the ham in the centre, and skewer together. Trim the edges evenly and bake in the oven, basting frequently with the drippings, to which butter or olive oil may be added, if more is required. When the veal is done take up on a hot platter, thicken the drippings remaining in the pan, adding enough hot water to make a good consistency. A little tomato is frequently used for the basting, and this with acceptance.

SIDE LIGHTS ON MANY SPORTS

TORONTO TEAM IS NOW COMPLETED

Willie Keeler Signed Up Yesterday and Will Play Right Field Regularly.

STRING ON BEN HOUSER

Jordan Has Signed, However, and Will Play at First — Doings At the Camp.

Richmond, Va., April 11.—At noon today Willie Keeler signed a contract with the Toronto Ball Club for the season, and will be the regular right fielder for the Leafs. Keeler and President McCaffery were closeted all morning concluding arrangements. This completes the team.

President McCaffery and Manager Kelley had long sessions last night with individual players, and as a result signed all those who had not previously signed.

The Toronto club has a twenty-four hour option from Connie Mack, of the Philadelphia Athletics, on First Baseman Ben Houser, a former Toronto player.

String on Houser.

The option expires tonight and in view of the fact that Tim Jordan signed his contract last night Houser may not be secured unless the Toronto club can place Houser with some other club to be available in case of accident. Jordan looks good to the Toronto club manager, however, and they will likely take a chance with the ex-Brooklynite. Some of the young players may be placed tonight with Richmond and Pittsburg, Virginia League clubs. Armiger is wanted by Petersburg and McDonald by Richmond.

FINE WEATHER GREETS GIANTS AND PHILLIES

Great Crowd at Polo Grounds, New York, for Season's Opening Conflict.

[By Canadian Press.]

New York, April 12.—Baseball came into its own for 1911 today with the beginning of the major league season in eight cities.

Enthusiastic fans in the Metropolis and district were up betimes scanning the schedule and routes to the Polo Grounds, where the New York Giants and the Phillies meet to open the season's play in the National League here.

Both contending teams seemed well conditioned and as the thousands of spectators were assembling at the field which Manager McGraw had put in the pink of condition, the prospects seemed excellent for an opener of good quality. Weather prospects were better than the most sanguine had hoped, for the day started clear and the air was degrees milder than for days past.

Mayor Gaynor was scheduled to toss out the new ball to start play, and long before that the grounds were filled to overflowing. The umpires assigned by President Lynch were Messrs. Johnstone and Eason.

PLAYER M'GANN WAS WORTH $35,000

One-Time Major Leaguer, Who Succeeded, Was in Good Shape Financially.

Louisville, April 11.—The will of the late Dan McGann, baseball player, who committed suicide, was filed for probate today by Joe B. McGann, administrator. McGann left property valued at $35,000.

It isn't often that a college player turns down an offer to play professional ball. Justin Fitzgerald, the Santa Clara (Cal.) centre fielder, has just refused a proposition to play with the Chicago Cubs. The young Santa Claran, during his stay at college, has been the recipient of no less than six big league offers, all of which have been refused. Hal Chase tried to persuade Fitzgerald to sign a Yankee contract. Fitzgerald refuses to consider entering the professional field at present.

OTTAWA HOCKEY CLUB PLAYERS ARE "KICKING"

Some of Senators Are Dissatisfied With Amount Received From American Tour.

Ottawa, April 12.—It has just been ascertained that the salary list of the Ottawa hockey team for the season just closed was figured out so finely that there remained $12.50 to come and go on, without overstepping the $5,000 limit. Walsh, Lesueur, Lake, Kerr, Shore and Ridpath received $620 each. Darragh and Currie came in for $500 each, Stuart took down $500, and Gaul, who was with the team for a month at the start of the season, accounted for about $100. The players counted upon $3,100 bonus to be derived from the Stanley Cup gates and the games played in Boston and New York. However, they took down but $2,300, and in consequence some of them are inclined to kick. Prior to leaving on their barn-storming tour, the players met in the Russell House, and in the presence of one of the club officers, completed arrangements, which were as follows: "That the revenue derived from the games in New York and Boston be divided into eight equal shares, seven of the regular players to receive seven full shares, and the eighth shares to be split between two spare men. According to the players the club was to allow one thousand dollars to the team for expenses. When it came to reckoning up, it was found the expenses reached $1,800.

TOMMY BURNS' HOPE PUT AWAY BY SEASICKNESS

Lester Asks That Bout With Lang in Australia Be Postponed Two Weeks.

San Francisco, April 11.—Mal de mer today has Jack Lester, the white hope from the northwest, down for the count, and the fighter frankly admits that he is all in.

A letter from Lester at Tahiti, which was forwarded here, says his training stunts on board the Mariposa did not stand out as well as he expected, on account of seasickness.

The Tacoma fighter is due to arrive in Sydney, April 16. He has cabled the promoters, asking them to postpone his match with Bill Lang for two weeks, so that he will have more time in which to condition himself.

SUNDAY BASEBALL ALLOWED IN OHIO

Senate Passes Green Bills Permitting Sabbath Ball Games.

Columbus, April 11.—The senate today passed the Greene Sunday baseball bills, each of which have gone through the Lower House. One exempts Sunday baseball from forbidden amusements, and the other gives city councils authority to say whether or not Sunday games shall be permitted under the first law. A bill passed by the assembly a year ago providing for local option in cities on Sunday baseball was vetoed by Governor Harmon.

The senate also passed the Green bill, providing for the non-partisan election of delegates to the constitutional convention next year.

JOSS' PLEURISY SLIGHTLY WORSE

Physician Says Illness Is Not Likely To Be Severe.

Toledo, April 11.—Addie Joss' attack of pleurisy, if anything, was slightly worse today, and the pitcher was confined to his bed. His physician says the illness is not chronic and that he will be back on his feet in a short time. The doctor believes, however, that it will be some time before the player is able to develop the strength necessary to pitch, even though his arm is all right.

NAPS DROP PAIR

Cleveland, April 11.—Catcher John Nagle and Outfielder Dave Callahan, of the Cleveland American League baseball club, were released to the New Orleans club of the Southern League today.

GUELPH MAY NOT MAKE THE LEAGUE

Promoters Are Having Trouble Securing the Necessary Funds For Club.

BRANTFORD IS STRONG

Hamilton Has Signed Eight Men, Including Jerry Edmunds, of Winnipeg Fame.

Guelph, April 12.—Will Guelph have a team in the Canadian Baseball League is a question which has as yet to be fully answered. Knotty Lee and Abby Johnson will come to the city shortly and will endeavor to increase the subscriptions for stock from $300, at which point they now are, to $1,000, and if this can be raised, a team is assured. W. A. Mahoney, who, with T. J. Hannigan, has been most actively engaged in the work of canvassing, said last evening that he would do no more unless the local sports came up with the coin. So it stands that the placing of a team here depends on the efforts of Lee and Johnson after the league meeting at London.

Chances Are Slim.

The Guelph Herald says: Notwithstanding reports to the contrary in some of the Toronto and Hamilton papers, the prospects of a professional baseball team in Guelph this summer are not very bright. Several letters have been received from Knotty Lee and Abbie Johnson relative to placing a team here, but the response of the sports of the city for cash has not been satisfactory, and if Guelph is to be represented at all, it will have to be financed by outside parties. A meeting of the schedule committee will be held in London, and when it is found that Guelph is not represented, what action will be taken is problematical.

It is just possible that some outside capital may be put into a team here, but not at all probable, while it is now a little late to secure another city to make up the sixth.

The name of W. A. Mahoney has been frequently mentioned in connection with the Guelph Club, but he stated to the Herald today that he would have nothing more to do with it unless the sports came up with the money.

This is the situation in a nutshell.

Might Be Brighter.

Guelph Mercury: The situation here is not as bright as it might be, owing to the fact that the canvass for the money had to be delayed for a few days, as the Y. M. C. A. was conducting a big campaign, and the people were naturally a little hard up and tightening shy of all collections. However, Knotty Lee and Abby Johnson will be here tomorrow when they will try to get the amount necessary to finance a team.

Brantford in Shape.

Brantford Expositor: President Eacrett has already got his eye on players for the Brantford team, and lines are out for McIntyre, a promising young pitcher who is being given a thorough trial with the Toronto Eastern Leaguers. The prospects are that he will be turned over to a minor league team, and as McIntyre is a Canadian, Brantford would like to get him. President Eacrett has too much that he would like to secure an all-Canadian team if possible.

By the end of the present week the Brantford ball club officers will know all about the position of the local club. A start was made today by President Eacrett and his lieutenants to secure subscriptions of stock, and the officers thus far have received very encouraging reports from all sources.

Hamilton, April 12.—Knotty Lee, manager of the local club, has outlined a few of his plans. Lee has eight players already signed up, and expects to have them all in line by May 1, having decided to have the various candidates report here on that date, giving fifteen days in which to prepare for the grand opening on May 16. Lee does not intend to use any of the local ball players, although all are at liberty to work out with the squad, and if any of them show anything they will be taken care of. Knotty thinks pretty well of Cecil Carey, and is of the opinion that Carey could be developed into a pretty fair player, with the result that the local lad will be given every opportunity to show something, should he show any desire for a trial.

Edmunds for Hamilton.

Lee has signed up Jerry Edmunds, last summer with the Winnipeg team in the Western Canada League. Edmunds is a big chap, who is equally good behind the bat or in the outfield. Winnipeg was after him again this year, but failed to forward the contract until late in March, when it should have been received by Edmunds by March 1 at the latest. This gave Lee a chance to get in with his contract form, with the result that Edmunds was signed up with the Hamilton club before the westerners got busy.

MANY ARE CALLED, BUT FEW GET UP

By Tom Akers.

Sometimes a Busher has the woods,
Though hailing from the uncut woods;
Sometimes he makes 'em burn the air
And fools the Big Tent stars for fair.

Sometimes a Rucker or a Cobb
Is holding down a Jay-town job;
Sometimes the verdant, rustic lout
Has got the weighty, earnest clout.

But far more Bushers hit the trail
Back to the hay because they fail;
Take it from me—the tip is good—
Few Big League stars are cutting wood.

Which is better? A bottle of prevention or a run of Spring Fever? You ought to know.

HANS WAGNER GOING SOME

Here's a snap-shot of Hans Wagner beating a throw to first base, the first baseman having been pulled off the bag and forced to jump for a wide throw. The photograph was made at Hot Springs, where the Pittsburg team trained this spring. It shows the "Big Dutchman" apparently down to weight, no surplus fat being noticeable in the picture, at least. Hans didn't want to play this year, but he did want to evade jury duty, and when told he must serve unless he joined the club, he packed his grip and went south.

DE ORO EXPECTS HARD FIGHT FOR POOL TITLE

Believes Jerome McKeogh Will Give Him the Battle of His Life.

New York, April 11.—Although he expects to win when he is called to defend his title as world's champion pool player next week, Alfred De Oro declared today that he expects Jerome Keogh, the Rochester expert, would give him a hard battle.

"Keogh gave me the battle of my life when we met last November," said De Oro, "and I have every reason to believe that he will play just as well this time. I consider Keogh far ahead of Hueston as a pool player and expect to have my hands full with him. You know I had to break the record high run to beat him last time, and I am playing just as fine now, so I naturally expect to win."

HARVARD BEATEN BY BOSTON SOX

Collegians Fall Before Major Leaguers By 4 to 2 Score.

Boston, April 11.—In a slow and uninteresting game, the second team of the Boston American club inaugurated the local baseball season today, defeating the Harvard 'Varsity by the score of 4 to 2.

HUGH KEEPS 'EM BUSY

The noisy manager of the Detroit club spends considerable time batting fungoes to his boys. Not only in the South does he do this, but during the season, every day before the game is called, he gets on the job and keeps the outfielders chasing flies and drives nasty ones to the infield. Here he is shown preparing to lift a high one to the distant pastures.

Doctor Told Her She Did Not Have A Pint Of Good Blood In Her Body.

Mrs. Dosithe P. Cormier, Middle Sackville, N.B., says:

"In the spring of 1897 I was all run down, and the doctor told me I had not a pint of good blood in my body. I took different remedies from doctors, but they did not seem to do me any good. After having taken a lot of different other kinds of medicine, and they did not seem to benefit me, I was almost in despair and did not know what to do until my husband met a lady and told her about my sickness and she told him to try Burdock Blood Bitters as she had received the greatest benefit from using it. My husband went and bought me a bottle, and after having taken it I felt better, so I kept on using one bottle after another until I had taken six in all and then I was strong and well. I am positive that my being alive to-day is due to the use of Burdock Blood Bitters. One spring since then I was not feeling very well and had a lot of work to do. I thought I would procure a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and after I had taken two I was able to do a lot of hard work all the summer, and I never felt better in my life. In the winter of 1906 I had Pneumonia, and it left me with a severe pain in the left side. Every morning when I would get out of bed I had to sit down for a while it was so painful. After I had used Burdock Blood Bitters the pain disappeared completely. It has also cured me of bleeding piles. I have received so much benefit from Burdock Blood Bitters that you may publish this as it may help others as it has me."

Baseball's Boiled Bulletins

There's many a slip 'tween drafting and sticking.

Another way out. Lapp to Collins.

Every little signal has a meaning all its own.

The fellows who were writing Cy Young's obituary a few days ago are now telling how good the vet looked in Kansas City when he stood batters on their ears.

This chap Otis Johnson, with the Highlanders, has been called a second Jimmy Collins. He accumulated four healthy swats in one session at Atlanta, and simply devoured everything that went his way.

George Mullin, Tiger pitcher, who said after the 1910 season that Joe Jackson, ex-Southern League sensation, would not bat .250 this year, backed down when Otto Hess offered to bet $100 Jackson would bat .350, and $500 he would hit .300 this year.

Detroit baseball writers continue the gentle practice of making excuses for losing the American League pennant last season.

President Russell, Boston National owner, says its one, two, three for his club. Roll over, Russ, you're on your back.

ROY HARTZELL QUIETLY WEDS AT PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, April 11.—Roy A. Hartzell, infielder of the New York Highlanders, was quietly married to Miss Ella M. Stebbens, of Golden, Col., in this city today. Hartzell, who hails from the same town as that of his bride, came here ostensibly to take part in the opening game tomorrow between the Athletics and Highlanders. The news that he had been married leaked out when, after a trip to the city hall, the bride and groom registered at the Majestic Hotel.

JOHNSON REMEMBERS MAN WHO FAVORED HIM

Reads of Death of Young Woman, and Pays Funeral Expenses From Jail Cell.

San Francisco, April 11.—Bread cast upon the waters many years ago returned today for Thomas Pyne.

From his cell in the county jail, Jack Johnson, heavyweight pugilist, is succoring the white man who befriended him when he was a little pickaninny.

Last week Ethel Lee Pyne, daughter of Thomas Pyne, once a wealthy man, died, and Pyne faced the prospect of being forced to bury the girl in Potter's field. While reading a newspaper, Johnson's eyes caught the name Pyne.

Paid Expenses.

Jack sent for his wife, who investigated and learned that Ethel Pyne was the same girl whom Johnson knew in Texas. Then Jack recalled that Pyne had furnished the money to nurse him through a critical illness many years ago.

The fighter took charge of the funeral arrangements, provided the casket and paid all the expenses. He asked the prison officials for permission to leave his cell and attend the funeral, but this was refused. The pugilist today also arranged to place the Pyne family in a comfortable home.

WELCH WANTS TO FIGHT M'FARLAND

But Will Meet Packey at 133 Pounds, or Not at All.

New York, April 11.—Freddie Welsh, the English fighter, who meets Pal Moore, the Quaker City scrapper, in a ten-round bout tomorrow night, wants a go with Packey McFarland, the Chicago fighter, at the lightweight limit.

"McFarland says he will meet me at 135 pounds, but that is not the lightweight limit," said Welsh today. "The weight should be 133 pounds. All fair-minded boxing experts concede that to be the right weight and McFarland should make it or box with the welterweights. I am going after him as soon as I get through with my engagement with Pal Moore."

Friends of Moore say there is a big surprise in store for the Englishman, as Pal is in great shape at present.

Boston, April 12.—Sporting Boston awoke today from her long winter nap to the call of baseball, with the tail-enders of the National League of last season—Boston and Brooklyn—as the attraction. Bright skies greeted the players as they marched on the diamond where the customary ceremonies of opening day were held, while several thousand enthusiasts shivered in an easterly wind that blew straight from the icebergs of the Atlantic.

WOLGAST GIVES REFERENCES FOR PUGILIST IN TOILS

Cadillac, April 11.—In the mail first reaching Lightweight Champion Ad Wolgast upon his arrival home was a communication from Montreal, Canada, from the United States immigration authorities. "Kid" Brady, whom Wolgast whipped in Moline, Ill., in a preliminary, is in the toils in Canada, said the letter, and it further asked the champion for information about Brady. Wolgast immediately wrote a lengthy letter, saying many good things about the unfortunate Brady.

The Cubs may lose a promising young twirler in Fred Toney, whose arm went back on him during a game against Louisville. Something happened to Toney's arm in the fourth inning. Up to that time Toney had been pitching sensational ball. Suddenly he lost effectiveness, and it was not until three innings later that he informed Manager Chance of his ailment. It is believed that the frigid weather has something to do with Toney's arm.

THE RUSH TO THE WEST GREATER THAN EVER

It is reported that extraordinary developments are taking place in the west this spring, particularly in Alberta. The season has opened up early, and much seeding is already done. Values in farm lands have taken quite an advance during the past month. Now is the best time to buy whether for cultivation or speculation, as nothing is surer than property in the great west.

Mr. Brock, of the International Realty, Limited, 432 Richmond street, is leaving on the 18th of this month with a number of buyers. The company he represents has over 100,000 acres of the best land in Alberta and Saskatchewan, bought some time ago, and have not advanced their prices, so that many who are thinking of investing are making arrangements to go with him. The company is capitalized at $200,000, and sell all their land on a guarantee. As Mr. Brock has been a resident of London for 25 years, all who contemplate buying in the west would do well to accompany him when going out.

EXPERT ATTACKS SWIMMING LORE

Don't Throw Boy Into Deep Water to Teach Him, Says Instructor Corsan.

LEARNS FAULTY STROKE

Warm Water Best Adapted to First Lesson—Cold Water Theory Called "Bosh."

This article is the second of a series of three stories by one of the instructors engaged in the national campaign against accidents by drowning in the States.

[By George H. Corsan.]

The old-fashioned practice of throwing a boy into the water in an effort to make him swim is the lazy teacher's method, and should have no place in scientific swimming instruction.

More often than not the boy thus taught will develop a faulty, ragged style that in time of emergency will only add to his liability to drowning. In addition to the question of style and correct stroke, many persons have been terrified for life by such a stone age method of instruction, and have felt fear of deep water ever afterward.

The proper method of instruction is for the pupil to be taken to warm shallow water, or if the water is over his head he should be provided with water wings. These latter devices are the most perfect known for aiding the pupil to acquire correct stroke. They hold him up while he acquires a perfect motion, and he thus can guide the muscular movements that are known as the crawl stroke, or the trudgeon, as the case may be.

Water Wings Aid to Beginner.

The oft-repeated assertion made by swimming instructors that water wings give a false support and do the pupil more harm than good is absurd. That a swimmer will rely on the wings after he has learned the stroke is not borne out by facts, for the wings then become an obstruction, as the swimmer can glide farther each stroke without them. My trouble has been that the pupil always has been too ready to discard the wings, and I have had my troubles making them understand the maxim, "Style first, speed afterward."

The best time to learn to swim is in the winter and early spring at some indoor pool, for then you safely can venture into deep water outdoors when summer comes. But first and primarily, never try to teach yourself. You are likely to get a wrong start which it will take years to correct, while under competent instruction you can become a good, even expert, swimmer in one season. Of course, the sooner you learn to swim the better, for the adaptability is most marked before a person reaches the age of 14 years.

Rough Water Unsuitable.

Rough water interferes with the beginner, unless he has learned to breathe properly, and that hardly is acquired at the first lesson. Smooth water, on the other hand, usually is cold.

One of the greatest delusions—or old-fashioned bosh I should call it—is the prevailing notion that warm water is enervating. I think the exact opposite is the truth, and I believe in reasonably warm water for natatoriums and pools. Why should a person use up his animal heat and energy in fighting against cold water when he needs his muscular power to glide through the water? What child can absorb instructions while shivering and shaking with the cold, or what good does it do for a strong man to go into lake fine and try to warm up the lake with his body heat?

Opposes Cold Water Theory.

A cold air bath is a splendid tonic for the skin, but a cold water bath is a heat absorber which I believe is injurious, aside from any effect it might have on weak hearts. For those who have strong hearts, nature will protect the vital organs against cold and throw out layer after layer of adipose, so the fat will become fatter and fatter, but the kidneys and lungs and hearts of the thin will suffer from the abstraction of heat.

WASHINGTON'S TROUBLES FADE ON OPENING DAY

Walter Johnson Returns to Fold and New Stands Are Completed.

[By Canadian Press.]

Washington, April 12.—A chill wind, overcast skies and a prediction of rain for the afternoon, threw a shadow on baseball enthusiasts from President Taft down, early today.

As the morning wore on, however, the sun managed to break through the clouds for a time, and there were high hopes that the weather bureau might be in error as to the weather for the opening of the American League ball season in this city today.

Washington will have the Boston Red Sox as opponents, and the game will begin at 3:30 p.m., President Taft being on the programme to toss the ball to the diamond from his private box in the new concrete grandstand.

The Washington team is expecting to have its best season in the American League. A number of adversities threatened the club earlier in the season, but with the arrival today of Walter Johnson, the star pitcher, and with the new stands completed, the management's troubles seem to have been swept away.

Tickle-'em-Jock, the best animal in the New York dog show, whose owner has refused to part with him for £1,000, was for a short period on the benches of a dealer in Leadenhall market, and could have been bought for less than a £5 note. The dog is a brindled Aberdeen terrier.

JONES SEEKS $10,000 BET WITH M'FARLAND

Thiery Stumped When Wolgast's Manager Demands Coin for Match.

BOTH SIDES OBSTINATE

Chicago Boy, Unable to Make Lightweight Mark, Holds Out for 135.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Chicago, April 12.—Packey McFarland's chase for a match with Lightweight Champion Ad. Wolgast was given another setback yesterday when Emil Thiery, looking after the interests of Chicago's 135-pounder, tackled Tom Jones, manager of the lightweight king. Jones did not have much to say as regards a fight between the two men, but simply added to former statements of McFarland having to agree to at least 134 pounds; that, if the Chicago boy was sincere in his wish to battle, he would have to post a side bet of $10,000 in real money.

The side-bet proposition which Jones sprung was a bit too steep for Thiery and he closed the meeting in a hurry and went into consultation with his title aspirant. The $10,000 in cash took the wind out of the sails for the time being and the result was that the proposed match is as much an impossibility as ever.

Won't Make Weight.

McFarland refuses to think of getting under 135 pounds for the reason that it is impossible, and Jones is just as obstinate by sticking to what is recognized as the legitimate lightweight mark, 133 pounds ringside. Wolgast has even consented to 134 pounds for McFarland, but this has proved unattractive and the Chicago pugilist is holding for 135 pounds at 6 o'clock or 133 pounds at 3 o'clock, which would mean that the champion would face a man in the ring touching the scales at about 138 pounds.

"We can't waste any time with pikers," said Jones yesterday. "It is evident that Packey doesn't care to fight Wolgast. He has side-stepped matches with us and still keeps howling for better terms when we are giving him several pounds as it is. I have played around with him long enough, and even if he agrees to the weight terms I demand, he has got to post a side bet of $10,000 before he ever steps into a ring with Wolgast."

WAS THE CAT A SUICIDE?

Grieved at being parted from her kittens, a black cat owned by Mrs. Stanley Fradansky, of Bayonne, N. J., jumped from a third story window the other day, after having attacked S. P. C. A. Officer Lambert. Mrs. Fradansky did not fancy harboring kittens and she didn't want to drown them, so she sent for the S. P. C. A to take them. When Lambert was picking up the youngsters the mother cat sprang upon him and bit and scratched him on the face and hands before being pulled off. The officer put the kitten in his wagon, while the mother cat sat on a windowsill looking down upon him. As the door of the wagon closed the cat let out a loud howl and jumped to the ground, dying instantly.

A pet cat, belonging to Miss Ethel Larrimore, had a thrilling experience at Bethal, Pa., when it fell into a thresher, and before the machinery could be stopped was caried entirely through it. The cat came out at the other end alive, and with two legs broken, but will survive.

A CHEERLESS LAND IS LABRADOR

Cradled in Rocky Fastnesses, Nature Always Warring.

Many years of Labrador life have left in my mind at least one indelible impression. It was created the first day I set eyes on its rocky coast. It was under a cold, sullen sky, from the icy bosom of the polar current that swathes it, as we caught a glimpse of a low, naked line of headlands and small, barren islands, over some of which the heavy Atlantic swell was making every now and again a clean breach, while here and there great ominous "sea horses" raised their gigantic heads, as they charged furiously over unchartered reefs, which themselves neither gave quarter to nor expected it from anything.

Truly, it is a land of eternal warring. Everywhere along its coast-line great seas ceaselessly pound as with the hammer of Thor its adamantine sides. The almost resistless Arctic ice-flow growls and moans as it crushes, cleaves and smashes the very face of nature, while the monster bergs outside, like ominous ice giants, roar and crash as they vainly battle with their still more resistless enemy, the summer sun.

Where in the more sheltered spots gentler nature strives to spread a covering over the nakedness of the land, abysmal cold wages battles with the tenacious plants and scrubs, which grow gnarled and knotty in the conflict. The few animals that in any number can survive in its wilds, are especially endowed to resist its apparently never discouraged efforts to destroy the very source of life.

Rocky Fastnesses.

Cradled in its rocky fastnesses, resistless storms sweep madly its already almost denuded bed rocks with a generous abandonment, as if the chance of effecting destruction justified any outlay of energy imaginable. It is a land well suited for the location of the traditional wicked man, as little likely to afford him any dangerous liability to peace.

As one approaches it from the Atlantic and passes its high portals, the cliffs of Belle Isle, the traveller spies a stout log house perched up on a barren ledge clinging to the very face of the cliff. Suggestive sight: it contains cached the necessities of life against the inevitable day when some poor voyagers shall find themselves dependent on its savage clemency. Meanwhile, the thoughts of those who know fly to the poor creatures from the "Dainty Lady," the liner Scotsman, which, laden with Christmas cheer, late one fall received the hospitality of its eastern ledges, and now lies a scrap heap in her deep-water graves close by. One sees, meanwhile, visions of women dying in their tracks as they painfully struggle toward the western end for shelter. Sometimes one seems in its storms almost to hear their screams of joy over just such victories.

Viewed, as those who frequent it mostly view it, from the sea, one would think its sole harvest was the countless ice-borne erratics that crowd every hillside and crown every sky-line, just where other countries would be flaunting flowers, fruits and trees.—From an article in The National Geographic Magazine.

AN AMAZING FRAUD EXPOSED IN ENGLAND

Beggar Who Lived in Luxury in Scotland by Posing as a Clergyman—Traded on the Religious and Charitable.

Extraordinary revelations of a bogus minister's frauds were made in the Ayr, Scotland, Sheriff's court, recently, when Cecil de Smith, who has been known in Ayr as the Rev. T. H. Clifford, B.D., appeared on six charges, which included:

"Falsely assuming the character and position of a clergyman of the Wesleyan Methodist Church and inducing six persons to allow him to celebrate their marriages.

"Uttering as genuine a document purporting to be a certificate that he had passed through the collegiate course of theology and bearing three forged signatures.

"Making false representations to a committee of the Free Gardens Mission inducing them to employ him and the public to give subscriptions.

"Bigamously marrying Ethel Brown and falsely registering the twin children of such union."

He denied bigamy, but admitted the other charges. The plea was accepted by the procurator fiscal, who stated that so far as the bigamy was concerned it was with considerable hesitation he accepted the plea. He thought, however, he was entitled to say that accused's relationships with women were particularly loose and free.

There had, the procurator fiscal went on, been an enormous expenditure of public money in inquiring into the case. Accused seemed to have emerged from the unknown as a soldier in 1908. One of his first convictions was in London for fraud, and the circumstances were very extraordinary and aroused much comment at the time. He was then living with his lawful wife in a sumptuously-furnished house in London, and was passing as a decrepit, miserable man and a paralyzed beggar. In this character he drew from the charitable public a very considerable sum of money.

His next conviction was at Cambridge, where he got three sentences of three months each for representing himself to tradesmen as an undergraduate and a nephew of Dr. Clifford. He had also been in prison twice for neglecting to maintain his wife.

Lastly, he came to Scotland with Ethel Brown, and induced this lady to go through the Scottish form of marriage with him in a railway compartment. There had been two children, twins, of the relationship. He came to Scotland as a lecturer for the Scottish Protestant Association, and addressed open-air meetings in Ayr. Smith drew large sums of money from the public, on one day during the Glasgow fair holidays taking as much as £7.

When doubts were expressed as to his ministerial credentials, he forged a document purporting that he had been duly admitted as a minister of the Wesleyan Church, and that he had been examined in Hinde Street Church, London, by three clergymen whose names he added to the document.

He defrauded the public by holding out to them that he was converted and leading a Christian life, drew 25s weekly from the mission, and was allowed three collections weekly for himself.

Accused asserted that he had been ordained sixteen years ago. He was the son of a minister and his brothers were ministers, but he dared not give his real name. He had got into the hands of gamblers and moneylenders.

He admitted that his past life had not been good, but he was now determined to live an upright life. The past was, he said, between himself and God. He did not care for the mummeries of priests or the conventionalities of the churches. There was no law which prevented a man from living with a woman.

In passing sentence of eighteen months' hard labor, Sheriff Sharp said it was the worst case that had ever come before him.

The exposure of Clifford was due to a local journalist who communicated with the headquarters of Wesleyan Methodism and ascertained from the secretary that at the time and place mentioned in the so-called "ordination certificate" no such person had been admitted to the ministry. On this becoming known the matter was placed in the hands of the police, who immediately arrested the man.

Dress Is Important to Man

So intimate is the relation between a man and his clothes that it may be said without exaggeration that the question of dress is one of the highly important problems of life, and the far-reaching effect of becoming garb is undeniable. The 20th Century Brand, bench tailored, are made with a full appreciation of the importance of the undertaking, and they reflect the care which the makers take in their production. AERIAL SOLDIERS.

A sky battalion is the newest section of the British army. A special order has been issued announcing that an air battalion to which will be intrusted the duty of creating a body of expert airmen is to be organized in such a way as to facilitate the formation of units ready to take the field with troops, and capable of expansion by any reserve formation which may be formed in the future.

In addition the training and instruction of men in handling kites, balloons, aeroplanes and other forms of air craft, will devolve upon this battalion.

The establishment is to have a strength of 190 of all ranks. The officers are to be selected from any regular arm or branch of the service on the active list, but they must be recommended by the commanding officer and be certified as physically fit for the work. Only unmarried men will be admitted to the service.

On joining the air battalion each candidate will go through a six months' probationary course (including two months' kiting and ballooning), and, if during this period he shows no aptitude for the work, he will rejoin his unit.

WHEN THE CAMEL SMOKES.

A curious fact is described in the paper, Il Tobacco, regarding the taming of wild camels by the natives of Morocco. A three-cornered piece of wood, through which a hole is drilled, is placed in the mouth of the camel, and a lighted cigar, very large and loosely rolled, is then inserted in the hole. As soon as the animal starts to draw it becomes very tame, and continues to inhale the smoke and to emit it through its nose. As soon as the first cigar is finished a new one must be put in its place, otherwise the camel becomes furious and very stubborn, fixes its legs in the ground, and cannot be made to move until the cigar smokes again.

WHEN A SHIP GOES DOWN.

What becomes of the ship that sinks in the mid-ocean? If it is of wood it takes in the first place considerable time to reach the bottom. In a hundred or more fathoms of water a quarter of an hour will elapse before the ship touches the bottom. It sinks slowly, and when the bottom is reached it falls gently into the soft oozy bed with no crash or breaking. Of course, if laden with pig-iron or other heavy substances, or if it is an iron ship, it sinks rapidly and sometimes strikes the bottom with such force as to smash in pieces. Once sunken a ship becomes the prey of countless inhabitants of the ocean. They swarm over and through the great vessel, and make it their home. Besides this they cover every inch of the boat with a thick layer of lime. This takes time, of course, and when one generation dies another continues the work, until finally the ship is so laden with heavy incrustations, corals, sponges, and barnacles, that if wood, the creaking timbers fall apart and slowly but surely are absorbed in the waste at the sea bottom. Iron vessels are demolished more quickly than those of wood, which may last for centuries. Gold is unaffected by the chemical action of the sea. No matter how long hidden in the ocean it will always be gold when recovered, hence the many romantic searches after hidden treasures lost in shipwrecks.

Ever Think of These Things Mr. Golfer?

Just how the longest drivers get their long hits when playing golf, they are doubtless unable to explain. Many golfers have studied the problem carefully. James Braid, English open champion, has published a book called "Advanced Golf," in which he illustrates the various strokes and explains why the ball acts as it does under certain circumstances.

In the upper illustration the first ball is teed behind its normal position, namely, nearer the right foot, with weight of the body on the left foot. The club strikes just above centre and at the beginning of the stroke slightly downward, causing the ball to spin backward, in its flight. The result, when the ball lands, is shown in the diagram.

The flight of the second ball, high, without spin, falling quickly to the earth at the end of its flight and lying dead, is plainly shown by the artist.

With a following wind, the third ball, teed high and forward, namely, nearer the left foot than the right, with weight of body on the right foot. The ball is struck below centre, causing it to spin in the direction of its flight, and thus roll forward after striking the turf.

In the second diagram, the "pitch-and-run shot" is illustrated. It is played with irons of various lofts; the right wrist turns slightly over in the "follow through" to impart the desired run.

The pitch shot is illustrated in the third diagram. This is played with lofted mashie giving the required "stop" to the ball. This can be obtained by the natural loft on the club and taking of turf from under the ball at the moment of impact, or by drawing the club across the ball from right to left, causing the ball to spin.

"The Liver Pills act So Naturally and Easily."

Such a statement, coming from the cashier of a bank, shows what confidence responsible people have in these pills. Mr. A. L. Wilson after trying them wrote:

"I have used Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills and also your Anti-Pain Pills, on myself, with good results. The Liver Pills act so naturally and so easily that I scarcely know that I have taken a pill. Frequently being troubled with headache I take an Anti-Pain Pill and get immediate relief in every case."
A. L. Wilson, Sparta, Ill.
Mr. Wilson was for a number of years cashier of the First National Bank of Sparta.

Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills are different from others. Many kinds of liver pills are "impossible" after one trial on account of their harshness. Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills do not act by sheer force but in an easy, natural way, without griping or undue irritation. They are not habit forming.

GERMANY ELECTRIFYING HER RAILROAD SYSTEM

First Installment, $12,000,000, Appropriated For the Work.

Berlin, April 12. — Germany has taken the first step toward the electrification of her railroad system. The Prussian House of Deputies has adopted the Government proposals as contained in the estimates for the ministry of public works which embodies an appropriation for $12,500,000 as a first instalment for the electrification of several sections of the Prussian state lines.

There has been electric traction in one short section, between Bitterfeld and Dessau, a distance of seventeen miles, for some months past, where a mile a minute speed has been maintained, and the experience gained on that line has been so encouraging that the ministry of public works has assented to the proposal of its expert advisers to extend the process of electrification at once to the important Magdeburg-Leipsic section, eighty miles long, and to several lines in Silesia.

In all an installation for the transmission of current will have to be constructed along 720 miles of single rails. Apart from the main lines there are sidings and additional lines in or near stations which involve an additional 240 miles. The work of preparing this aggregate distance of 960 miles of single rails for electric traction will be intrusted to several great electric firms and must be completed within two years. Germany will by 1913 thus enjoy the advantages of electric traction over 360 miles of main line.

The Prussian state railroads are not purely a commercial enterprise inasmuch as strategic considerations are taken into account in constructing and managing them, so that the assent of the ministry of war was necessary before the process of electrification could be carried out. It is understood that the military experts hesitated at first, owing to the opinion entertained by some that it was easier for the enemy to interrupt traffic on an electrified line than on a steam railway, but the objections were withdrawn.

The Prussian ministry of public works intends to propose further electrification of the state lines as speedily as the money can be found for this purpose by the Minister of Finance and voted by the Prussian Diet.

TWO BADLY HURT IN A RUNAWAY

Animal Grows Restive When Being Exercised and Bolts.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, April 11.—Frank Glover, 62 Alexander street, is dying in St. Michael's Hospital and Allan Theodore is seriously injured as a result of an accident at the corner of Yonge and Wellesley street this morning. They were exercising a horse belonging to M. Rawlinson. The animal had been behaving well till it was turning on to Yonge street, when it became restive and ran away. Glover was thrown against a tree. His head was cut on both sides, and his brain was protruding when he was picked up. They were warned to keep off Yonge street. The men were employes of Rawlinson, who conducts a big cartage business.

CONSTABLE IN TROUBLE

Member of Hamilton Force Is Charged With Assault.

[Canadian Press.]

Hamilton, April 11.—Constable Peter Brannon, the well-known athlete and a former Tiger player, was charged at the police court this morning with breaking William Canute's jaw. Brannon, it is said, was called to Canute's home while off duty to settle a family row. Canute alleges that Brannon struck him on the jaw and knocked him down and kicked him. Brannon was allowed out on $300 bail. This is the first time a Hamilton constable has ever been arrested on a charge of assault. The usual procedure is for the police commissioners to investigate the matter first.

NEW TORONTO HOSPITAL.

Toronto, April 11.—A big crowd of citizens witnessed the laying of a corner stone of the new $200,000 hospital building here this morning. The General Hospital when completed will be the finest structure of its kind in the Dominion. In addition to the governor, Col. Gibson, Sir James Whitney, President Falconer, of Toronto University, Bishop Carman, Mayor Geary and Bishop Sweeney took part in the proceedings. The grounds cover ten acres in the heart of the city.

THEATRES OF NEW YORK

Lead the World in the Number and Variety of Productions—St. Regis Convenient to All.

In the number, beauty and convenience of its theatres, New York leads the world. The volume, variety and magnificence of New York's theatrical productions are all magnets that daily attract to the metropolis a vast army of strangers. These strangers must be housed and fed, and New York has risen to the occasion and has provided mammoth and palatial hostelries that are among the wonders of civilization. Some of these hotels, perfect, but mechanical and almost automatic in their service—are cold, even depressing in their atmosphere. There is one hotel, the St. Regis, located at Fifth avenue and Fifty-fifth street, which has retained "homelikeness" with its other advantages. Unequalled in its appointments and furnishings, with a cuisine unsurpassed by even the most famous foreign restaurateurs, the stranger is here surrounded by "home" atmosphere and "home" refinements, and his stay in New York, whether for a night or "the season," is thus made infinitely more enjoyable than is possible elsewhere. The St. Regis restaurant has no superior in all the world in quality of food, skill in preparation, and perfection of service; while the charges are no higher than those of other first-class hotels. Transient guests coming to New York and stopping at the Hotel St. Regis will find accommodations of the very highest grade in every particular, and at Standard rates. Single rooms are $3 and $4 a day; the same with private bath $5 a day (or $6 for two people); while for a parlor, bedroom and private bath the rates are $12 a day and up.

WOULD BAR LIQUOR FROM PRIVATE HOUSES

Temperance Delegation Asked Drastic Legislation For Nova Scotia.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., April 11.—A temperance delegation has waited on the premier and his Government asking them to pass a bill making it unlawful for a man to keep liquors in his house "unless for medical, sacramental or mechanical purposes," also giving authorities the right to search the houses of private citizens suspected of having liquors, onus of proof to fall upon the suspected person.

The premier said the proposed measure was too drastic and would defeat the working of the prohibition act.

He, therefore, declined to pass the legislation asked for.

NEW HOTEL FOR MONTREAL.

Montreal, April 12.—The property occupied by the W. H. Scroggie Company, Limited, at the corner of St. Catherine and Peel streets, was purchased today by the firm of Carrick, Limited, for a syndicate who propose to erect a big hotel on the site. The property has a frontage of 117 feet 6 inches on St. Catherine street, 179 feet on Peel street, and 113 feet on Dominion Square. The purchase price was understood to be in the neighborhood of $800,000, or about $40 a foot. Messrs. Scroggie have a lease on the property, which expires on April 30, 1912.

The sale is subject to the leases of the Scroggie firm.

In Montreal property is sold by the square foot, not by the frontage measurement.

DUMOULIN'S SUCCESSOR

Meeting Called by Dean of Niagara to Select Bishop.

Hamilton, April 12.—Very Rev. Stewart Houston, dean of Niagara Diocese, has called a meeting of the clergy and the laity for the selection of a successor to the late Bishop DuMoulin. On May 2, a service will be held in Christ Church Cathedral in the morning, and the business meeting in the schoolroom in the afternoon.

AUTO ROAD OVER ROCKIES

Will Run From British Columbia Point to Calgary.

Ottawa, April 12.—An automobile road right from British Columbia across the Rocky Mountains to Calgary, which will be one of the finest in the world, and two new buffalo herds, will be the features of the Canadian National Park at Banff.

Howard Douglas, commissioner of Dominion parks, leaves in a few days to secure the latter attraction. He will arrange for the transfer from Montana of two herds, the Pablo and the Conrad, two of the very few remaining bands of bison which the Dominion Government has purchased for its park.

The herd at present in Banff Park has increased by 150—a total now of 900.

Up to now the Government has not allowed autos in mountain passes, but is making a change in its regulations. A road is now opened from Calgary to Banff and will be extended to Laggan.

QUEBEC BRIDGE PLANS

Were Altered in Order To Reduce Weight and Cost.

Quebec, April 12.—Why the capacity of the Quebec bridge was diminished and the driveway and tracks for electric cars done away with was revealed in a telegram from Hon. Geo. P. Graham, minister of railways, which was read at the meeting of the board of trade yesterday. The telegram was in response to one sent by the board inquiring as to the reason, and reads as follows:

"The engineers were of the opinion that serious difficulty in the erection of this gigantic structure would be obviated by the acceptance of the plan now adopted for the proposed bridge at Cap Rouge. The weight of the structure will be very materially reduced, and an enormous reduction is made in the cost. They also assured me that the street railway system could be operated over the bridge on the regular line."

C. P. R. CHANGES

Reorganization of the Freight Traffic Department Announced.

Montreal, April 12.—W. B. MacInnes, freight traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, today announced that the reorganization of the company's freight traffic department for eastern lines, which has been in progress for some time, is completed. W. B. Bulling will continue to hold the position of assistant freight traffic manager at Montreal but in the future his duties will be the general supervision of all matters pertaining to rates and divisions, and all matters under the jurisdiction of the railway commission and the transcontinental freight bureau.

W. M. Kirkpatrick, who has been the general freight agent at Toronto, will come to Montreal to take up a new office that will relieve Mr. Bulling to a considerable extent. He will have the title of general freight agent, and will be in charge of the solicitation of the freight traffic, and of interchange with connecting lines.

H. Brown, of the freight department at Toronto, has been promoted to take Mr. Kirkpatrick's place in that city, with the title of division freight agent. W. B. Bamford, the general freight agent at St. John, N. B., becomes the division freight agent here; H. E. MacDonald, one of the freight agents at Montreal, will be the division freight agent here. J. H. Griffin, who has been working for the company in San Francisco, will be the district freight agent at Toronto; W. G. Grant, the general freight agent at Hamilton, will be the district freight agent there; F. L. Mulkern will be the district freight agent at London; W. S. Elliott, the division freight agent at North Bay, and R. J. Hunt, the chief of the tariff bureau at Montreal.

Amusements

Good Friday Attraction.

The management of the Grand Opera House is certainly to be congratulated on its enterprise in securing for Good Friday Hanlon's "Superba." Two performances under the personal direction of Mr. Hanlon, and in which Kathryn Stevens as "Superba" and Robert Rosaire as "Pico," the clown, will appear, are to be given at popular prices, no seat in the house at either matinee or evening being higher than one dollar.

The performance is entirely new from beginning to end, play, music, tricks, and scenery, and is declared to be staged with a magnificence never heretofore attempted even by a Hanlon production. Seats are on sale today, and lovers of a real good show with lots of music will do well to secure their seats well in advance, as the mail order list is already very heavy.

Big Musical Comedy.

Musical comedy will be the offering at the Grand next Saturday afternoon and evening, when George Sidney (Busy Izzy), and his company of funmakers, including Miss Carrie Webber, will present his new musical comedy, "The Joy Rider." It has been several years since Mr. Sidney first began playing the style of character with which he is prominently identified, and his characterization of the little Hebrew is hailed as one of the best pieces of character work on the American stage. Mr. Sidney is wholly original in style, and his quiet, unostentatious humor is irresistible. There is nothing of the "rough house" order in his quaint and quiet way of doing things.

"Honeymoon Trail."

"Honeymoon Trail" is a musical comedy written by the clever trio, Hough, Adams and Howard. It was originally produced at the LaSalle Theatre, Chicago, and remained in that playhouse 225 consecutive performances. "Honeymoon Trail" is considered one of the greatest laughing shows which has held the boards of the LaSalle Theatre, and when it is remembered that it is by the authors of "The Time, The Place, and The Girl," "A Stubborn Cinderella," etc, it will readily be seen that it must be good to merit this distinction. It is the attraction at the Grand Easter Monday, matinee and night.

Record Sale For Sheffield Choir.

The great rush for seats for the Sheffield Choir still continues. It appears that there will be the largest crowd in the Armories on Good Friday that ever attended a musical attraction in London. This is little to be wondered at when the unique character of the attraction is considered. Two hundred and seventy-five trained musicians under the leadership of a world-famous leader is an event which will not likely be again seen in London in many years. The tour of the famous Sheffield Choir has been a triumph of success. Halifax, St. John, Ottawa, Montreal and Toronto greeted them with crowded houses of enthusiastically delighted audiences. The press of Canada has been most lavish in its praise. It is declared to be without doubt "the greatest choir that has ever been in Canada." The Toronto Symphony Orchestra, 65 strong, will in itself be an attraction of no ordinary importance, as an orchestra it has no equal in Canada. The afternoon and evening programme will be entirely different. No numbers will be repeated, but the committee announce that the afternoon and evening performances will be of equal merit.

There are some desirable seats left, but they are going fast. The plan will be at the rotunda of the Masonic Temple every day this week.

REVOLT AND MASSACRE IN CAROLINE ISLES

German Officials and Missionaries Killed By Natives.

Boston, April 11.—Details of the recent uprising of the natives of Ponape, one of the groups of the Caroline Islands, in the Western Pacific Ocean, in which four German officials were murdered, were received today by the American board from Clifton F. Rife, the board's medical missionary in the Marshall Islands, an adjoining group.

The rebellion began on Oct. 18 last. The German governor had set two tribes at work building roads. The natives objected to the work and quarrelled with their overseers, who took refuge in a Catholic mission church and sent word to the governor.

The governor started unarmed and accompanied by soldiers for the scene of the uprising. His secretary carried a pistol. As they landed the governor met the ringleader of the rebels and greeted him as a friend. His response was to shoot the governor twice in the abdomen. When the victim tried to lift himself by the help of a wall both of his hands were cut off. Afterward his throat was cut and his body was mutilated.

The governor's secretary was also killed.

Of the five boatmen who brought the governor and the secretary to Ponape four were killed.

The overseers, who had left their retreat in the Catholic Church when the governor arrived, were also killed. Lines were then tied to the necks of the dead and the bodies were dragged up and down the road and subjected to indignities before being thrown into the lagoon.

The rebels had chosen a time when no ship was in port to interfere or carry the news. Having taken the governor's flag they planned to board and capture the steamship Germania, which was due to call at Ponape on her way from Sydney to Hong Kong in November.

The colonists, learning of the plan, got in the passage and so frustrated the plan. At once the Germania carried the tidings to New Guinea and soon four men-of-war were on the scene.

The rebels then collected on the top of a high rock, which was supposed to be impregnable, but after a bombardment of three hours they were driven from their position. Upon the landing of the troops a bush fight ensued, which, at the date of Dr. Rife's writing, Feb. 16, was not ended. At that time 250 rebels had been captured and transported, 50 more were in hand, and about 50, including the ringleader, were still at large.

CAN GROW NEW HEART

English Scientist Claims To Possess Marvellous Power.

London, April 12.—Strange assertions were made at an inquest held on Mrs. Winn, of Barming, Kent, by Albert Grant, of Sheal's court, Maidstone, who described himself as a scientist, and stated that he had been attending the deceased. He said he had no medical qualifications and would simply lift his hand over a person.

The Coroner—Do you hold yourself out as being able to cure people by some occult power?

The Witness—I can cure any disease that any one likes to put before me.

"Do you get many patients?"

"About 100 a day, but never fewer than 50. I have had as many as 300 on a Saturday."

"Have you any knowledge of the human body?"

"I am a human X-ray." He added that blindness, consumption and cancer were the diseases he particularly looked after. Two years ago he had not solved the problem of consumption; since he had grown a completely new eye and a lung. "As a human X-ray I can see their lungs as clearly as I can see my hand." He had cured seven cases of total blindness.

A Juror—If you can grow a new lung, I should think you can grow a new heart?

The Witness—I can if it is necessary.

Mrs. Winn's death was due to heart failure, and the jury returned a verdict accordingly.

Booth's Kidney Pills bring new strength to old backs, and quick relief to weakened kidneys. They banish backache and rheumatic pain, regulate the bladder and urine.

Booth's Kidney Pills are for sick kidneys in old or young, and are guaranteed by the proprietors. The R. T. Booth Company, Limited, Fort Erie, Ont. Sold everywhere, 50 cents a box. Free trial sent on request.

BUILDING PERMITS

April Figures in London Are Very Satisfactory.

Building is taking a decided boom in April.

The first three months of the year fell considerably behind last year, but April is going to make up for some of the deficiency at least, if the present record is maintained.

At the present time permits aggregating in value $76,665, have been taken out. The whole month last year aggregated abou. $106,000, so it can readily be seen that April, 1911, will eclipse the same month last year.

City Architect Nutter expects the remainder of the year to see a lot of building, and is hopeful that 1911 will rival any year so far recorded.

Several fair-sized permits were taken out. Among them is one for the London Concerete Machinery Company which is erecting a factory next to George White & Sons on Cabell street.

The Hobbs Manufacturing Company are increasing their plant on York street, and have taken out a permit for an addition to their present building to cost $10,000.

The McClary Manufacturing Company are erecting a $6,000 storeroom on Adelaide street. It is possible that this building will be increased in size considerably before summer.

Mr. A. G. Calder has awarded contracts for a dwelling two story brick on Talbot street, to cost $5,500.

Mr. J. W. Westervelt is erecting a residence on Waterloo street to cost $4,800. W. A. McCorkindale, a two story brick on Grosvenor street, to cost $2,000. James Crown, addition on York street, to cost $2,000. W. W. Nobbs, two story brick on Sherwood avenue, to cost $3,200, and various other permits of smaller size.

"Building prospects are improving," declared Mr. Nutter. "I am looking for a good season in spite of the somewhat backward beginning."

TOOK HIS LIFE

ford branch. Two months ago he went to Detroit with his family, and had been residing there ever since.

Yesterday he left Detroit, arriving in Sarnia during the afternoon. It is thought that he returned with the deliberate purpose of ending his life. It is believed that he went directly to Bayview Park, within view of his childhood home, and then took his life.

The man was dead some time when the body was found. The park is quite deserted in the winter and spring.

No arrangements have been made for the funeral, but it is likely that McDonald will be buried here.

Conductor Norman McDonald, of this place, is a brother.

Well-Known Here.

Conductor John McDonald was well-known among railwaymen of this city. He had been employed by the Grand Trunk for nearly forty years, running out of Sarnia for the most of that time.

About three years ago he came to London, having been transferred to the Stratford branch. With his family McDonald took up his residence at 262 Simcoe street.

Last autumn he went out on strike with the Grand Trunk conductors and remained out until the strike was settled.

When a settlement was reached he was re-instated. About two months ago, while on his run McDonald's train ran past a semaphore in a storm, and his dismissal followed.

The loss of his position caused him a great deal of worry, and his friends remarked that he was brooding greatly over his dismissal.

His two sons had lucrative positions in Detroit, and they sent for the family. On March 1 they left London, and have been residing in Detroit ever since.

No word reached here from Mr. McDonald since he left. It was said that he had a run on the interurban line between Detroit and Pontiac.

Fretted Over His Job.

"He was a very sensitive man," said Mr. R. J. Wood, who was quite intimate with him. "He seemed to grieve a great deal over the loss of his position. For forty years he had been running on the Grand Trunk, and this was the first black mark against him. I could hardly believe that Mr. McDonald would do such a thing. Despondency undoubtedly was the cause of it. He was a very fine man and was well connected."

Mr. McDonald was a little over 60 years of age. He is survived by a widow, two sons and one daughter, Miss Belle, who was stenographer at the Empire Manufacturing Company until the family removed to Detroit.

BREAKING A CHANNEL

Ice-Breakers Smashing a Path From Quebec to Montreal.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, April 12.—The ice-breakers Montcalm and Lady Grey, are slowly breaking their way up the river. The two vessels reached Port St. Francis late yesterday. They were hampered in their work by the necessity of running back to Three Rivers each night for coal.

It is expected that they will reach Montreal by the end of the week, and thereafter will bend their energies to widening the channel through the ice.

NO CESSATION OF FRENCH RIOTS

Wine Cellars Destroyed and Disorder Is Spreading.

TROOPS CHARGE MOBS

Manifestants Five Thousand Strong Are on the March Carrying Red Flags.

[Canadian Press.]

Damery, Department of Martinique, France, April 12.—The Queen champagne riots which began in this department yesterday, were continued this morning by the excited populace. Wine cellars are being destroyed, and the disorder is spreading, in spite of the presence of troops called out to preserve order.

The trouble in this department began yesterday on the receipt of news from Paris that the Senate had passed a resolution in favor of the suppression of all territorial delimitations of the area in which wine can legally be manufactured.

Seven thousand wine growers left here this morning, marching on the Epernay, four miles distant, to destroy the wine cellars there.

The manifestants were admirably organized, and were aroused to a pitch of fervor in the justice of their cause.

During the progress of the advance they sang revolutionary hymns and waved red standards. This led to disorders. They declare the Government acted as a result of the steps taken by the makers of inferior grades of wine.

The column had reached the town of Ay at noon. Co-operating with another band which had reached Ay from a different direction, the rioters proceeded to Vanteuil, where they destroyed the huge wine presses.

Troops which had hurriedly been dispatched to Vanteuil charged and dispersed the mob, but not until the manifestants had accomplished great damage.

RECIPROCITY WILL BE TAKEN UP FIRST

Farmers' Free List Next, Decide Democrats in Caucus.

ALL ARE FOR THE PACT

Woolen and Cotton Shedules to Follow Consideration of Agreement.

Washington, D. C., April 11.—Reciprocity with Canada and a farmers' free list, it was decided at the Democratic caucus, held here tonight, will be the legislation taken up, in the order named, by the present House of Representatives. The woolen and cotton schedules, according to present indications, will follow.

In the caucus there was no opposition to Canadian reciprocity and no change or amendment to the bill as presented by Chairman Underwood, of the House ways and means committee, were offered by any of those present at the caucus.

On the free list will be included those things which the farmer needs most, namely, agricultural implements, dressed meat and meat products, flour, rough lumber, boots, shoes, and saddles, wire fencing, baling wire, cotton bagging, cotton ties, bagging ties, burlap, and salt.

On many of these products the present tariff is practically prohibitive, and there are few importations of them on that account. It is impossible for this reason to estimate what the difference will amount to by putting them on the free list.

SOUTHWOLD LIBERALS MEET IN ST. THOMAS

Will Be Addressed by Hon. Messrs. King and MacKay on Friday, April 21.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, minister of labor, and Hon. A. G. MacKay, the leader of the Ontario Opposition, will address a mass meeting of Southwold Township Liberals in the Grand Opera House, St. Thomas, on Friday afternoon, April 21.

In the evening West Elgin Liberals will tender the distinguished visitors a banquet in the Engineers' Building, St. Thomas.

From present indications there will be a very large attendance. Both speakers are well and favorably known in the County of Elgin, and undoubtedly they will be given a great reception.

Reciprocity will be one of the issues discussed. Both Mr. King and Mr. MacKay have paid particular attention to the subject, and the addresses will be of an illuminating character.

Mr. W. F. Glover, Port Stanley, is president of the Southwold Township Liberal Club, and Mr. H. S. McDermid, Fingal, is secretary.

Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

OF NEW YORK

JOHN R. HEGEMAN, President

INSURANCE SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

The New York Insurance Department has had the Company under examination, pursuant to law, for about fifteen months. After this examination the Superintendent of Insurance said:

THOROUGHNESS.—"It is thought that no Company of this character under the supervision of any Insurance Department in the United States has ever been so thoroughly examined by such a Department."

PAYMENT OF CLAIMS.—"The claims received averaged from 600 to 800 each working day; the percentage of rejections is small, being in 1909 less than one-half of one per cent."

CAREFUL INVESTMENTS.—"On an investment of $100,000,000 in real estate mortgages this Company now holds through foreclosure but one piece of realty."

INDUSTRIAL POLICIES AT COST.—"On this basis this Company, from all of its departments, added to its surplus in 1909, after setting aside in that year as a liability its dividends and bonuses for 1910, about $800,000; in other words, the volume of its business being considered, seems to have furnished insurance substantially at cost."

PROGRESSIVE MANAGEMENT.—The Department Report shows during the last five years:

Reduction in the ratio of expense to premium income.. 7.13%
Reduction in the ratio of lapse to issue.....10.36%
Reduction of cancellations in first year of insurance.. 8.92%

ORDINARY DEPARTMENT

In 1910 the Company wrote a larger amount of Ordinary business in the United States and Canada than any other company, by TWENTY MILLIONS!

In 1910 the Company placed Ordinary Insurance up to the Limit of the Law and was obliged to hold back hundreds of thousands of dollars of insurance by reason of the New York statute limiting amount in any one year.

MORAL: Get in early this year and avoid the rush at the end. Best plans; cheapest rates; all policies non-participating—that is, the money is not collected on promise of repayment in dividends, but is left in the pockets of the insured by reduction of premium.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT

OLD POLICIES.—A bonus has been declared to Industrial policy-holders amounting to nearly

SIX MILLIONS OF DOLLARS

payable in 1911 on Whole Life and Increasing Life and Endowment policies issued prior to 1907, which bonuses give reduction of premiums varying, according to period of persistence, from EIGHT TO ONE HUNDRED PER CENT.

The Company added not one dollar to surplus at the end of 1910 out of income from Industrial policies.

NEW POLICIES.—The benefits on policies issued since January 1, 1907, are over

TWENTY PER CENT. GREATER than the benefits promised by policies issued previously.

In the last eighteen years it has declared

TWENTY-FIVE MILLIONS OF DOLLARS

in voluntary bonuses over and above all requirements of policies.

WELFARE WORK FOR POLICY-HOLDERS

Extracts from the Report of the Superintendent of Insurance of the State of New York.

"No summary of this examination of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company would be complete which omitted reference to certain agencies for social service which it has inaugurated and is now conducting."

"CAMPAIGN AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS.—Among the activities of this Company begun since the Armstrong investigation is its participation in the nation-wide crusade against tuberculosis. As to policy-holders, its work has thus far been confined to the dissemination of the literature of prevention and instruction; a work which its great Agency force and close contact with the industrial classes makes easy, as well as effective. As a matter of mere business economics, the Company's activities in this direction entitle it to the approval of the Department."

"NURSING SYSTEM.—About two years ago this Company inaugurated a system whereby trained nurses would, upon request, be sent to the homes of sick or bedridden policy-holders in its Industrial Department. . . . While this service has been but recently established, and while, therefore, the examiners are in some doubt as to its ultimate effectiveness either from the standpoint of saving the lives of policy-holders or minimizing unhealthy conditions, no one can make a personal investigation into what has already been done without being profoundly impressed with, not only the economic, but, more, the beneficent value of the work. Numerous cases where lives have been saved are already on record. Many instances showing improvement in home conditions due to the visits of the nurses are known."

LARGEST COMPANY IN THE WORLD

The largest amount of insurance in force of any Company in the world—$2,215,851,388, covering 11,288,054 policies.
In 1910 the Company made the largest gain in insurance in force of any Company in the world.

BIG ICE HOUSE AT SARNIA A PREY TO THE FLAMES

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, April 11.—Fire completely destroyed Brown's large ice-house, located between Sarnia and Point Edward, just north of the Cleveland-Sarnia Sawmill Company, about four o'clock this afternoon. A season's supply of ice was stored in the building at the time. The total loss will be about $2,000. The building is covered by insurance. Owing to the fire being out of the limits, the fire department were unable to stretch a length of hose until the fire had nearly burned itself out. The blaze was due to a grass fire set by some boys beside the building.

The flames had gained great headway before the alarm was sounded.

Five Perish in an Albertan Tragedy

Lethbridge, Alta., April 11.—A message has been received from a settler living near the Brooks family, at East Coutts, saying that five children were burned to death Saturday night. The baby died before the doctor arrived, and there is practically no hope for the mother's recovery. The eldest boy, who caused the lamp explosion, escaped injury.

Seven Years For Collingwood Girl

Barrie, April 12.—Pearl Smith, of Collingwood, charged with the death of her infant child, pleaded guilty to manslaughter and was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary by Justice Teetzel yesterday afternoon.

Through her counsel, Col. Bruce, the young woman pleaded not guilty to the charge of murder. The crown presented evidence which was practically the same as was adduced at the inquest.

A conference of counsel followed, the indictment was reduced from murder to manslaughter and the prisoner pleaded guilty to the latter charge.

In pleading for leniency Col. Bruce stated that the woman did not intend to abandon the child, but had left it where she thought it would be picked up by two men that were approaching. Returning later to the spot where she believed she had left the child she failed to find it and concluded it had been taken away by someone.

AFTER TREATMENT

He was surprised at how the sores healed.—"I took your NEW METHOD TREATMENT for a serious blood disease with which I had been inflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, pains of the hands scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the NEW METHOD TREATMENT for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I certainly can recommend your treatment with all my heart. You can refer any person to me privately, but you can use this testimonial as you wish.

RECIPROCITY DEBATE

Member of South Huron Would Have Absolute Free Trade.

Ottawa, Ont., April 11.—Upon the resumption of the reciprocity debate today Mr. M. Y. McLean spoke in favor of the pact, but thought the best fiscal policy for Canada would be free trade. As for revenue, he favored a system of direct taxation.

He declared that he was not unfriendly to the manufacturer, but he was quite sure he could hold his own. Mr. McLean advocated free coal and expressed regret that the Americans had not been willing to incorporate that in the agreement. He affirmed that if there were an election in South Huron on the issue alone, 80 per cent of the people would vote for the agreement.

Mr. McLean scored Sir William Van Horne and Sir Edmund Walker for their opposition to the agreement, which he called 'rank hypocrisy."

Van Horne, he said, was putting his millions into Cuban interests and Walker's bank loaned money to the Americans. Their talk of disloyalty was mere cant.

Col. Hughes, who followed Mr. McLean, said the latter's utterances were too socialistic. He also attacked Rev. J. A. Macdonald, of the Globe, stating that it was the latter who started the reciprocity negotiations.

Dealing with the leaders of the grain growers' delegation, which came to Ottawa in December, Col. Hughes stated nothing could convince him that these leaders were not in the pay of the Government or of Jim Hill. He charged the Grain Growers' Association with speculating in notes. It was evident, he said, that the men were commercial buccaneers, like the men who operated the Farmers' Bank.

FINED $20 AND COSTS

Liquor Dealer Pleaded Guilty to Breaking the Law.

At this morning's session of the police court, Ed. Shea, the Richmond street liquor merchant, pleaded guilty to breaking the bylaws by selling a pint of whiskey last Saturday to Sam Harris, a colored citizen, and was fined $20 and $2.85 costs. The charge was laid by License Inspector Galpin. The law expressly states that no dealer may sell less than a quart of whiskey in an unsealed bottle. In the case in question, Harris brought in a pint bottle and had it filled.

SIR WM. MACKENZIE ON PROPOSED MERGER

Has Long Favored a Union of the Three Toronto Companies.

Toronto, April 12.—"For the last two or three years I have always said that the Electrical Development Company and the Toronto Electric Light Company should be united in their operation."

Sir William Mackenzie made this statement last night when asked regarding the status of the latter company.

"Would you include the Toronto Power Company in that combination?"

"Well, yes. Its activities are really one with the other two."

But Sir William would not admit that there was any avowed intention of amalgamating the three companies. He would not, however, deny that it would be a probable outcome in the near future. He would not commit himself as to the new competitive conditions created by last Saturday's deal.

Light Company's Franchise.

The question as to whether or not the franchise of the Toronto Electric Light Company is perpetual has excited considerable discussion. If it is perpetual, then the preparations of the city to some day acquire this concern would be of little avail. This, however, is not the case, according to statements made to The Globe last evening. Sir William Mackenzie was asked about it, and he stated he thought that the city could exercise its option in the purchase of that company after the valuation and price had been settled by arbitration.

Controller Hocken said the question rested entirely with the city officials. If they did not exercise their option, then the franchise of the Toronto Electric Company would be virtually perpetual. A provision in the company's charter gives the city a right to acquire it after 30 years by giving a year's notice, which means in 1919. If the city does not exercise this privilege the franchise continues effective for 20 years, when the same privilege may be exercised.

"The franchise is automatically perpetual and automatically terminable," said Controller Hocken.

Cannot Beat Hydro-Electric.

"The deal consummated Saturday and the consummation of the rumored merger would certainly strengthen the competition with the city's plant," he remarked in answer to a question. "But it is going to be pretty hard for the Mackenzie companies to successfully compete with the city, because the hydro-electric commission has practically guaranteed that it will supply light and power to the citizens at cost price. This price, I understand, is about $18 per horsepower. At the present time I think it costs Sir William Mackenzie about $17.50 per horsepower here. That does not leave the competing companies much margin to figure on. Again, there is no chance of the city plant ever going out of business. If we should lose money on the civic plant we would simply make up the deficit out of the taxes, for the citizens are paying for it anyway."

Mayor Geary said that the hydro-electric commission were interested only in giving the citizens electric light and power as cheaply as possible, and all considerations regarding the activity of the competing companies were only secondary. He would not express his opinion as to the character of the Toronto Electric Light Company's franchise.

Mr. William Johnston, city solicitor, stated that the fact that the Toronto Electric Light Company had joined hands with another company, whose powers were really wider, would not affect the relation of the former company to the city. He thought that the company's charter was not perpetual in any absolute sense, but that the company could be taken over by the city at the expiration of the former's franchise.

EAST LONDON NEWS

REV. MR. BOYD WAS WELCOMED

Enthusiastic Greeting Tendered Him by the Adelaide Street Church Congregation.

MANY PASTORS PRESENT

All Had a Good Word to Say of the New Incumbent—A Luncheon Served.

A very successful and enjoyable reception was tendered by the congregation of Adelaide Street Baptist Church last night to their new pastor, Rev. James H. Boyd. A number of the pastors of other London churches were present and welcomed Rev. Mr. Boyd to the local field.

Rev. Dr. Manning made a strong argument in favor of co-operation and goodwill among the churches. "It is a wrong idea," he said, "to suppose that if one church weakens another will be strengthened by it."

Rev. Mr. McIntosh, who has recently entered on his pastorate at King Street Presbyterian Church, in following Dr. Manning, declared that in the presence of great evils and problems to be overthrown it was imperative for the different churches to unite in one confederacy, and to work together for the good of all. He complimented Adelaide Street Church in giving their former pastor, Rev. T. T. Shields, to fill the pulpit of the metropolitan church of the denomination in Toronto.

Mr. Hayden Disagrees.

Rev. Bela H. Hayden, of the Christian Church, took occasion to disagree with the opinion which has been put forward in London that pastors should be trained as policemen and reporters. He extended to Rev. Mr. Boyd the greetings and well wishes of "the Little Church Around the Corner," and hoped that no weeds of envy might grow up between their doors. "All great religious revivals," he said, "create an atmosphere favorable to religious ideas and ideals. All great movements for human betterment have been the work of the churches and their pastors, together with unselfish, earnest women like Mrs. Thornley."

Rev. George McKenzie, of the Christian Workers' Church, gave a delightful and entertaining address, referring good-naturedly, as former speakers had done, to Rev. Mr. Boyd's nationality and to things Irish in general.

Rev. Mr. Carew, of Maitland Street Baptist Church, spoke briefly on behalf of the Baptist pastors of the city. A letter was also read from Rev. and Mrs. T. T. Shields, of Toronto, wishing Rev. Mr. Boyd a long and successful pastorate.

Congregation Welcome.

Deacon Woodburn, on behalf of the congregation welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Boyd, spoke of the pleasure experienced by all at the arrival of Mr. Boyd after waiting so long for him.

Letters expressing regret at being unable to attend the reception, and wishing Rev. Mr. Boyd all success and happiness were read from Rev. Canon Hague, of Memorial Church, and Rev. Mr. Claris, of the Southern Congregational Church.

Rev. Mr. Boyd in replying expressed appreciation for the splendid way in which the reception had been organized. It was a happy fortune, or rather a Divine guidance which brought him to Adelaide Street Church. He was grateful for the hearty welcome accorded him, and he had come to the congregation to work together with them for the promotion of Christ's cause and Kingdom in this city. He hoped for the co-operation, following and assistance of the congregation in all he might undertake.

During the evening a solo was very beautifully rendered by Miss Mina Taylor, and an anthem was also sung by the choir.

Rev. Mr. Bingham, Rev. M. Walker, of South London, and Mr. W. L. Steeves, pastor of Egerton Street Church, were also present.

Following the formal reception, which was held in the auditorium of the church, all present retired to the Sunday school room, where dainty refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed.

Irish Decorations.

The room was decorated in honor of Mr. Boyd's native land with green flags, harps, shamrocks and green lanterns. The arrangement of the small tables and decorations presented a very pretty and fairyland appearance. The reception was largely attended by the members of the congregation.

MEETING CALLED OFF.

The meeting of the executive committee of the East End Progressive Association, which was to have been held last night, was called off. A general meeting has, however, been arranged for Thursday, when the question of the city hall site and other questions will be discussed at length.

A SPLENDID CONCERT IN NEW ST. JAMES'

Supper Served in the Basement Which Has Just Been Completed.

A very large crowd attended the anniversary supper and concert of the New St. James' Presbyterian Church last evening, which was given by the Ladies' Aid. Fully 800 people were present, and the affair was successful beyond all expectations. Supper was served in the new dining-hall of the church, which has just been completed in the basement. The new hall in its remodelled condition presents a very cosy and inviting appearance, and has been fitted up for either social or religious purposes. It can be used either for a Sunday school room or social gatherings. It is equipped with movable chairs and tables, and, in addition, a fully-furnished kitchen has been provided as an adjunct to the dining-hall.

Following the supper an excellent programme was presented in the lecture-room of the church. Solos were rendered by Miss Irene Straitch, and Mr. Edward Webster; violin solos by Mrs. Grant Harris, a piano duet by Misses Lillian and Irene Gray, and several readings by Mrs. Jordan. The quartette, consisting of Misses Straitch and Sutherland, and Messrs. Harold Garner and William C. Murray also favored with several numbers. In addition, two or three piano selections were rendered by Mr. James Given, the church organist. Rev. Thomas H. Mitchell presided over the musical part of the programme.

During supper music was provided by the New St. James' Sunday School Orchestra.

BOY IN THE BAR HOTELMAN WAS FINED

William Wright, of Metropolitan Hotel, Was Found Guilty in the Police Court.

William Wright, proprietor of the Metropolitan Hotel, was fined $2 and $1.85 costs at the police court this morning for breaking the liquor license laws by allowing Joseph Caravella, a minor, to be in the barroom of his hotel.

Caravella was also fined $2 and $1.85 for being there.

The charge was brought by Sergt. McDonald and P. C. Roy Monteith, who stated that when they went into the barroom the other day by a rear entrance, they found Caravella leaning against the bar. Frank Farrell, the bartender, in the box stated that when Caravella came in he asked for a drink, and Farrell refused to give it to him and told him to get out. Later he gave Caravella a cigar as the lad did not go out.

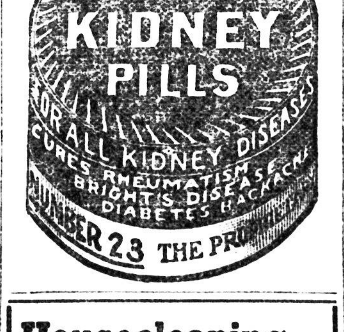

Caravella stated that Farrell did not tell him to go out until after the policemen came in and found him there. He admitted that Farrell had told him to get out on other occasions.

Mr. William Wright, the proprietor, said that he had given orders that Caravella was to be put out every time he came in.

Mr. E. H. Flock, who appeared for Mr. Wright, contended that there was absolutely nothing in the bylaw which prevented a minor from going into a barroom and getting a cigar. He cross-questioned Caravella and asked him if he wasn't trying to "get back" at the bartender for trouble he had with him before. Caravella said he was.

"I submit," said Mr. Flock, "that this evidence is untrustworthy. It gives any boy who becomes annoyed at a bartender or hotelman a chance to get him into serious trouble."

"I feel all sympathy for Mr. Wright," said the court. "I believe that he is trying to live up to the law, but I must find him guilty and fine him $2 and costs. I want to say to Caravella though, that he has absolutely no business going into a place of this kind, where he knows he is not wanted. I am going to deal more severely in future with these boys who do this sort of thing. They cause endless trouble and annoyance to hotelkeepers, and it must be stopped."

NEW YORK, April 12.—(Noon)—Although business was on an extremely limited scale, the tone was fairly strong, and prices at the end of the first hour generally ranged slightly above the close of yesterday. Most of the buying in Missouri Pacific came from room traders, who had put out short lines on yesterday's decline. Brokers in the loan crowd said that the selling yesterday was reflected in the increase in the borrowing demand, that was sufficiently large to cause Union Pacific to loan at 2 per cent for the first time in some months. Steel, com., also reflected an increased demand in the loan crowd.

There was a considerable crowd in the court room today to witness the proceedings.

[Canadian Press.]

Philadelphia, Pa., April 12.—A passenger train, consisting of twelve coaches and a locomotive, went over an embankment near Foster on the Pennsylvania Railroad today, and reports to the offices of the company in this city say that none of the passengers were hurt. H. L. Hull, the engineer, was badly scalded, however, and two other trainmen were hurt. They were taken to a hospital.

A Toronto Employee, of Grand Trunk, Instantly Dismissed By Superintendent.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Ont., April 12. — Because he wrote a letter to a friend and mentioned the fact that he had two "scab brakemen" on with him, a Grand Trunk freight conductor was instantly dismissed by Superintendent Gillen, today. The conductor had written the note and put it under a seat, while he did some work, and one of the brakemen found it and sent it to Mr. Gillen.

POLICE CLAIM THEY WERE HOAXED BY STORY

Claim That Report of Robbery Was Made of Whole Cloth.

A story in a local paper to the effect that the home of Mrs. Charles Hopper, 659 Central avenue, had been burglarized gave the detectives a fruitless chase yesterday afternoon. When they went up to investigate they discovered that there was no such number, and that where such a house would be situated, if there were one, was a vacant lot.

"We also found that there were no such people on the street," said one of the detectives this afternoon. "Last week the same paper had a house that had been empty for two weeks on York street burglarized. This sort of thing is foolish. It's all right to get the news, but there is no need of making up imaginary stories to scare people."

ESCAPES THE GALLOWS

English Murderer's Sentence Commuted to Life Imprisonment.

[Canadian Press.]

London, April 12.—The sentence of death imposed March last on Stinie Morrison, who, after a sensational trial, was found guilty of the murder of Joseph Byron, was today commuted to penal servitude for life. The mutilated body of Byron was found early in January. The police theory was that the victim was a member of the Houndsditch anarchist burglar gang and that he had been killed by his associates for treachery. The evidence at the trial, which occupied nine days, was mainly circumstantial. A petition for the reprieve of Morrison was signed by 70,000 names.

Census Commissioner Scatcherd is busy making appointments of enumerators for the Government census to be taken the 1st of June, this afternoon, and the list will probably be completed tomorrow.

Applications have been received from different parts of Ontario, while students at Montreal and Toronto are also after positions. A New Orleans man is among the applicants.

HAMILTON POLICE BAG TWO BURGLARS

Were Caught Burglarizing the Premises of a Physician.

[Canadian Press.]

Hamilton, Ont., April 12.—Joseph Kibble and Wm. Hurley, who were captured by the police early this morning after an exciting chase, were committed for trial today on a charge of burglarizing the residence of Dr. W. Bell, who came here recently from Kingston. The doctor heard a noise in his kitchen and telephoned for the police. The burglars got out, but the police caught Hurley and Kibble in the vicinity. Several railwaymen identified the pair as having been in the vicinity all night. Kibble is out on parole from Kingston.

A SUICIDE FAKE.

Toronto, April 12.—Pinned to a bridge at Centre Island with a jackknife, a note was found by James Robertson, saying: "I am going to drown myself. Walk three paces to the east and you will find something." D. Cunneyworth, who is working at the R. C. Y. C., found the note and searched for the something. He found a silver match safe with a note inside written in shorthand, and another note saying, "Take this to my wife at 38 Mutual streets." There is no such address in Toronto and nobody on Mutual street knows anyone of that name.

NIAGARA POWER BRINGS IN $1,500

This Is Amount of Receipts for March in the City of London.

1,200 CUSTOMERS NOW

Engineer Glaubitz and Commission Appear To Be Satisfied With the Results.

The receipts from domestic lighting and sale of Niagara power for the month of March in London amounted to about $1,000.

Some of the large power users' bills are not included in this amount. These would add about $500 more, making it in all about $1,500 for the month.

There are about 1,200 power and light users in the city, and the average per customer is something over $1 20 per month.

In addition, there is a bill for street lighting. That would add $2,500 to the monthly account, bringing it up to a total of about $4,000.

At this rate the receipts will be about $50,000 a year if no other customers are added.

In this calculation no reference is made to power for pumping water. It is estimated that $10,000 will be received annually from the water commissioners to be applied to electrical purposes, bringing the net revenue on the above calculation up to $60,000 per annum.

Mr. Glaubitz Speaks.

The water commissioners say they are well pleased with the outlook so far.

"We are well satisfied," said Superintendent Glaubitz. "Customers are coming in daily. We have 1,200 connected up, and the month of April has been showing excellent results. We have already received more applications so far than we did in March. I think that the year will show a very satisfactory balance. Of course, there is a lot of the expense being incurred at the present time that must be charged up to capital account, as it is construction work. Many of our men are working on that end of the game, and their salaries will not come out of current revenue. When we get the system complete, the operating charges will not be excessive, but rather quite economical. We expect to finish with a balance on the right side. If there is any deficit it will be quite small."

"We are making a good showing," said Chairman Pocock. "The people are responding well, and I fell confident that before the year is out we will be in a good position financially. This is the people's scheme, and no matter what the talk of mergers and the rest, we will be with them at all times."

Must Raise $120,000 a Year.

However, it is stated that $120,000 a year will have to be raised to break even on the enterprise. A considerable portion of this is for interest and sinking fund on the transmission line. The Government may, in fact it has been announced, they will, charge this to capital account for five years, and relieve the city of perhaps $40,000 expense annually. But even this being the case, the water commissioners will still have to raise a considerable sum to break even on the enterprise.

Their estimates will be presented to the council this week, and then the aldermen will be in a position to know exactly where they stand in the matter.

Waterworks Surplus.

The commissioners will agree to turn over from the waterworks the same as estimated last year—$53,500. They actually turned over to the city $61,600; $8,350 more than was estimated. They will have as large a revenue, probably considerably larger this year, but the commissioners will hold something in reserve in case Niagara power does show a deficit, in order that the council may not face an overdraft on their account.

ANOTHER SMALLPOX OUTBREAK

Brockville, April 12.—Smallpox has broken out in three families at Roebuck, and a short quarantine has been enforced by the health authorities. A spread of the disease, which is of a mild type, is anticipated, as the patients have been exposed. One school in the neighborhood has been closed, and pupils in the section attending the nearest high school have been required to remain at home until after the Easter examinations.

EX-MAYOR SUICIDES.

Schenectady, N. Y., April 12.—Jacob W. Clute, three times mayor of Schenectady, shot himself dead in the bathroom of his home this morning, while the sheriff and under-sheriff were waiting at the door with a warrant for him growing out of alleged irregularities in the handling of an estate.

SIFTON FOR ENGLAND SELLS OTTAWA HOME

Hopes to Get Canadian Commissionership Under Conservative Administration.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, April 12.—It is reported here that Canada will soon lose Hon. Clifford Sifton as a citizen, and that what will be Canada's loss will be Britain's gain. Hon. Mr. Sifton has sold his handsome Ottawa residence. It is understood that he is negotiating for an English place. The belief here is that Hon. Mr. Sifton has an eye upon the Canadian high commissionership in England, and hopes to be appointed Lord Strathcona's successor by a Canadian Conservative administration. This project is said to have had something to do with his attitude towards reciprocity.

JARDINE UNCONCERNED

difficulty in getting direct answers to his questions. Mr. Blackstock asked the mother about her daughter's character.

It was brought out that Albert Jardine, brother of the prisoner, was courting at the time, and has since married Mrs. Anderson's living daughter. Mr. Blackstock read part of the mother's testimony at the inquest, and showed up certain discrepancies.

About the time when her son came home at the inquest, she said it was 9:30 in the evening. Now she says it was 10:30. The mother admitted that Lizzie had gone driving with an Italian boarder named Spataro.

The father was the next witness. He related in detail the three trips from Saltford, the last at 5 o'clock in the morning, during the night he was searching for his daughter. He corroborated the testimony of his wife to the effect that she had rapped very loudly at the Jardine door upon the second visit, and that there was no response. He had heard the knocking 35 feet away.

Couldn't Find "Punk."

On the third visit to the Jardine home the father went himself to inquire for "Punk" Jardine, and was told by Mrs. Jardine that Tom and Edward were asleep in a tent. The tent she meant was in the Jardine lot.

Anderson thought a tent on the fair grounds was meant, so went there. Not finding them, he went home again.

To Mr. Blakstock the father told a gruesome story of the finding of the body in the cellar. Mr. Anderson kept his nerve in a remarkable way, answesring in a fine clear tone, until he got to the point of the discovery of the body.

"My God, she lay there with her throat cut." Tears trickled down his tanned face, though his voice remained firm. "There was no clothing on her body except her shoes and stockings," the father said.

At 12 o'clock the court adjourned for lunch, with Mr. Anderson still on the stand, with Mr. Dancey cross-examining him.

Afternoon Session.

When the case of the King against Edward Jardine, charged with the murder of Lizie Anderson last September, was resumed this afternoon, the dead girl's father returned to the stand, and his examination by Mr. Dancey for the defence was continued. The lawyer wos very sharp with the witness, but the old man stuck well to his direct testimony. The witness denied stoutly that he had tol danyone, as the lawyer intimated, that the body of his girl would be found in that part of the town.

z"Did you know the body was there before it was found on Sunday?" the lawyer thundered, after asking him in great detail where and when he had searched for the child.

"No, sir," the father said, with great emphasis. "I never saw her alive or dead from Tuesday morning until Sunday."

Mr. Dancey questioned Mr. Anderson about the Italian boarder, Spataro, of whom the father had said he was a "perfect little gentleman." He asked Anderson if he had not tried to shield Spataro at the inquest, and the witness replying in the negative, he asked: 'Did he have a knife?"

"I never saw him with it," said Mr. Anderson.

The witness very warmly repudiated remarks he is reputed to have made to Constable Scott McMath about knowing "more than he dared know, and more than he had ever told them."

A BUILDING RECORD.

Hamilton, April 12.—Hamilton will smash all building records this year. The month of April is already far in excess of any previous month in the city's history. House building operations are setting the new record. The city wants hundreds of men for big outdoor work it has on hand.

FIRST HUSSARS FOR NIAGARA CAMP

Col. Abbott Today Received Notice From the Dept. Regarding Matter.

DATE SET IS JUNE 26

Men Will Have a New Issue of Clothing Before They Go Into Training.

Lieut.-Col. Dr. Harry Abbott received word from headquarters this afternoon that the First Hussars will go into camp at Niagara-on-the-Lake on June 26. He has not yet learned why the Hussars go there instead of to Goderich, where the big camp will be held. He will be in command of the force, which will be 300 strong.

He was also advised today that Squadron Sergeant Major Turnbull, of Sarnia, has been selected as the other representative of the Hussars at the coronation. He and Sergeant Roy Campbell will leave early in June.

The Hussars will have the new issue of clothing supplied to them before they go into camp, and it will be somewhat different from what has been worn in the past. In future Bedford cord riding breeches and tan leather leggings will replace the dark blue breeches and black leggings. Mexican straw hats will also be issued.

AMERICAN WOMEN AT REBELS' MERCY

Are Subjected to Indignities in Stockade at Alamo, Lower California.

UNITED STATES TO ACT

Held by Filibusters Commanded by Simon Bertheld—Reported There Is Little Food.

San Diego, Cal., April 11. — Mexican filibusters hold a number of American women and children captive in a stockade at Alamo, Lower California, it became known here today. The prisoners are said to be at the mercy of their captors and to have suffered insults and indignities. Protests have been made to Secretary of State Knox and Senator Perkins, chairman of the Senate committee on naval affairs, has been advised.

Among those held captive are G. Raffi, his wife and five children, of San Diego. The names of the others have not been disclosed. The appeal to Secretary Knox was made by O. Henry Savage, of this city, a relative of Mrs. Raffi.

Asks for a Warship.

News of the condition of the prisoners at Alamo was brought to Ensenada last week, Savage said today, and reported to George B. Schmucker, United States consul, as well as to Gov. Celso Vega, of Lower California. Savage charged that Vega did not send relief, and that Schmucker ignored the complaint.

Fearing for the welfare of the prisoners, who are said to be held by Simon Berthold, Savage wired Secretary Knox, as follows:

"Members of my family and other American women and children held at Alamo, Mex., by rebels. Unable to obtain food or relief. Wires to Ensenada are down. Reliably informed that Mexican governor Lower California declines relief. Will you order warship to Ensenada to rescue? Please answer. O. HENRY SAVAGE."

The following telegram was received by Mr. Savage:

Can't Get Information.

'The ambassador at Mexico City has been instructed to telegraph to request Mexican Government to extend protection to the American citizens mentioned in your telegram of yesterday, and the American consul at Ensenada has been instructed by telegraph to investigate and report, and to ask the governor for needed protection for these people.

"PHILANDER C. KNOX."

State Senator Leroy A. Wright telegraphed news of the situation to Senator Perkins in the hope that the latter would use his influence at Washington to get quick action.

RED HOT ON TRAIL OF NEW INDUSTRIES

Other Places Longing to Take Away a Good Prospect From London.

An illustration as to the way other cities are going after manufacturers was given today, when a gentleman from the Eastern States came to London, to establish a manufacturing plant here.

Scarcely had he reached here, when some person notified Hamilton, Woodstock and other cities that he was here for the purpose of locating, and they got after him.

The Ambitious City immediately wired not to decide on his location until they saw him. They stated that they were prepared to make him an offer. Woodstock sent word that they were sending a man to London to interview him.

However, he is not going to locate in either place, but will remain in London.

"I am going to start in a small way," he stated to The Advertiser. "I will only employ four or five hands to begin with, but I expect the business to develop. I am asking nothing whatever from the city, being content to take my chance here. I have rented a place of business, and hope to get started very soon. I do not wish anything said about it at the present time, but you can rest assured that I am going to remain here. The other cities in Ontario are certainly after industries, but I am not going to listen to them. London suits my purposes to a nicety.

No person seems to know who informs the other municipalities that an industry is likely to locate here, but some person tips it off, generally with disastrous results to London.

REMAKING MONTREAL PORT

To Provide for the Tremendous Commerce Centred There.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, April 12.—Plans are now under way, and are likely soon to be adopted, which provide virtually for the remaking of Montreal as a port. Commissions, composed of engineers and harbor officials, have been studying for a long time the problem of providing for the more efficient and economical handling of the tremendous commerce which centres in this city and which has made it one of the finest ports in the world. This investigation has resulted this week in the submission of two reports. While these differ in details they are alike in essential particulars, and both provide for the practical rebuilding of the entire water front. The plan generally favored provides for the replacing of the antiquated surface tracks over which freight is now hauled along the river front by an elevated road to be devoted exclusively to the handling of freight and to have spurs connecting with all piecers. Back of the road is to rise a solid row of giant warehouses, connected with the railway at the second-story level. By this means communication between any part of the waterfront and every other part will be direct and convenient, and it is estimated that the cost of handling freight will be reduced forty per cent. The great system of giant terminals will make a striking change in the appearance of the city, and it is expected that the cost of the improvements contemplated will be $10,000,000 or more, most of which, however, will be expended by private capital in the construction of the terminal warehouses.

MONTREAL POLICE PUZZLE

Whether or Not to Arrest Those Who Wear Harem Skirt.

Montreal April 13.—Whether the much-talked-of harem skirt is to become the leading feature in the city's summer feminine costumes remains to be seen. Meantime it is likely to become a political issue, the subject of police rules, traffic regulations and a cause of excitement in many other ways. Already several minor officials have been called upon to declare their attitude regarding this form of dress. Its appearance on the street is sufficient to collect a crowd of proportions great enough to block all traffic, and the problem has arisen as to how the matter shall be handled. One member of the police force when called to explain why he had not arrested the wearer of the harem skirt, who had attracted such a crowd as to block temporarily the passage of fire engines, answered that he did not know that it was a misdemeanor to appear in such a costume, and that he would rather lose his job than be seen making such an arrest, anyhow. Father Knickerbocker may, or may not, be forced to make various harem skirt regulations, but they will have little effect either way. Whether or not they are to be generally worn is a matter which will be decided, not by law, but by feminine decision.

MOON SOLE LIGHT FOR PETROLEA

Hydro-Electric Expert Called Into the Case.

Petrolea, April 11.—For more than a week Petrolea has been without its electric street lighting, owing to a rupture between the company and the council as to rates, which the latter claims are much too high, both for the arc and incandescent service. As the two parties could not reach any amicable settlement, Mr. R. Stirrett, chairman of the P., W. and L. committee, appealed to the hydro-electric commission for advice. On Wednesday an expert from the commission will be in Petrolea and after a thorough examination of the situation and conditions, is expected to advise the council on the best course to pursue. In the meantime Petrolea citizens are very grateful to her majesty, the moon, for her light on an otherwise gloomy subject.

At the end of the year the losers will provide an oyster supper.

MRS. THORNLEY IS INDORSED BY W. C. T. U.

Resolution Passed at a Meeting Held on Tuesday.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union met at 432 Park avenue on Tuesday, April 11, with a fair attendance of members present, and the president, Mrs. Hubert Ashplant, in charge.

The union decided that next Tuesday, the 18th, the ladies would meet at the room at 3:30 p.m. The comfort bags will then be filled, and made ready that they may be distributed before the opening of navigation.

Special prayer was offered for the success of the narcotic and sailors' department of the W. C. T. U.

It was arranged that the Middlesex County convention shall meet in London on the 30th and 31st of May. The union trusts that the citizens will show their hearty goodwill to their visitors by a large attendance at their meetings, and more especially by filling to overflow their audience room on the evening of the 30th.

Mr. H. E. Wilson, superintendent of the city mission was introduced, and gave some statements regarding the work being accomplished by the mission.

Mrs. Thornley Indorsed.

The following motion was enthusiastically passed:

"It is with regret we have noticed the objectionable criticism which Mrs. M. R. Thornley has been subjected, and in honoring and thanking her for her loyalty and courage, we take this opportunity, at our regular meeting, of acquainting the public generally and the press particularly that Mrs. Thornley, in her address before the Ministerial Association, was representative, and voiced the sentiments of the W. C. T. U., and that Mrs. Thornley's utterances then and since have our entire approval."

PROPERTY WITHDRAWN

Only One Bid For the Chapter House Property.

The Chapter House property on Piccadilly street, was offered for sale yesterday afternoon in the office of Cronyn, Betts & Coleridge. Only one bid was received, and the property was withdrawn. Mr. J. W. Jones acted as auctioneer.

The offer was from a Stratford man, who made a bid of $500 for the property. As the lot is a large one, in a fine section, the offer was ignored. Mr. Jones endeavored to get somebody to start it at $5,000 but there was no person present apparently who wished it, and after several ineffectual attempts to get an offer, the property was withdrawn.

TWO HOLIDAYS FIXED FOR MONTH OF JUNE

King's Birthday and Special Holiday For Coronation.

Ottawa, April 12.—June 3, the birthday of his Majesty King George, and June 22, coronation day, will be proclaimed as statutory or legal holidays in Canada. Some time ago his Majesty instructed through the colonial office that he would prefer to have his birthday celebrated on the actual anniversary of his birth, instead of adhering to the precedent set by the late Sovereign, King Edward, whose birthday was officially celebrated on Victoria Day, instead of on Nov. 9. Good Friday, Easter Monday, Victoria Day and Dominion Day are now statutory holidays, and with June 3 added as a fixed holiday from now on, and coronation day made an extra holiday this year, the Dominion will be well served with public holidays during the coming eleven weeks.

EXODUS TO NEW YORK.

Montreal, April 12.—The growth of the annual Eastertide exodus to New York City from Montreal is shown by the announcement that local railway officials have booked passengers enough to fill between fifty and fifty-five Pullmans. In 1882, four extra coaches carried all those taking in the trip to Gotham.

Michael Olapl, an Italian miner employed at Nanticoke, Penn., is exhibiting 23 petrified eggs which he says he picked out of a rock away down in the chamber of the mine where he works. The stones have every appearance of having once been hens' eggs, it is said, and a scientific man has been asked to investigate.

THE UNDERFED

How Children of the Ignorant Are Robbed of Oatmeal.

A canvass made among the intelligent shows that seven homes in eight serve oatmeal. Among the ignorant another canvass shows that not one home in twelve serves oats. The children grow up incapable, because bodies and brains are starved.

Nature stores in oats more energy food, more brain food, more nerve food than in any other grain that grows. That's why children crave oatmeal. There is nothing to take its place.

This is a food on which it doesn't pay to be careless. There is a very wide difference in oat foods—a difference in richness and food value. Don't serve the common kind.

Only the richest, plumpest grains are used in Quaker Oats. They are selected by 62 siftings. Only ten pounds are obtained from a bushel. The result is a food rich in all the oat elements—the utmost in oatmeal. Yet the cost to you is but one-half cent per dish.

GROCERS LIKELY TO PICNIC HERE

Many Members Are Strongly in Favor of Spending Their Money in London.

MATTER IS NOT SETTLED

Michigan Grocers Talk of Coming to This City This Summer—Officers Elected.

The first move toward stopping the excursions out of London was made at a very largely attended meeting of the Retail Grocers' Association, held last night, when the proposal was made that instead of going to Detroit or any other place this year, the grocers hold their big annual picnic in this city.

It was pointed out that a splendid celebration could be held in Queen's Park. A great many of the members expressed themselves very strongly in favor of remaining in London. The matter has not yet been definitely settled, but will be disposed of at a later meeting.

Closing Wednesdays.

A great discussion also took place in regard to closing on Wednesday afternoons during the summer. Some of the members wanted early closing during four months instead of three, but it was finally decided to keep the present arrangements and close on Wednesdays during June, July and August.

Michiganders Coming.

A communication was received from the Michigan Retail Merchants' Association, asking what London could do in the way of entertaining a big picnic party, which would likely come here in July or August if suitable arrangements can be made. The association has over a thousand members, and with their friends and those who would come with them would make up a very large party. The association wanted to know what London had in the way of parks and attractions. The local grocers are going to use every effort to get them to come.

Annual Banquet.

Arrangements, it was reported, are complete for the big annual banquet, which will be held on Tuesday evening next. The affair promises to be a greater success than even the famous banquets of the past have been. Among the speakers secured are: G. H. Earl, of Montreal; M. Moyer, of Toronto, provincial secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association of Ontario; J. S. Percival, secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association of Michigan; Col. A. A. Smith, Moses Masuret and C. W. McGuire. In addition an exceptionally fine musical programme has been arranged.

It was decided in future to hold the meetings of the association at the call of the executive only, and not every month, as has been the custom in the past.

The Sports.

Sports promise to boom this year. The committee reported that the water commissioners are putting in a lot of new seats at Springbank, and a new wire fence to protect the bleachers, and a new blackboard for scoring. Letters were read from the Comfort Soap Company offering to supply all the sweaters for the baseball league, and from the Red Rose Tea Company offering to supply all the caps.

Officers Elected.

The election of the officers for the coming year resulted as follows:

President—Norman McLeod.
First Vice-President—Harry Ranahan.
Second Vice-President—J. B. Drake.
Treasurer—Thos. Shaw (re-elected).
Secretary — James McKenzie (re-elected).
Executive Committee—Ed J. Ryan, H. Fountaine, R. A. Ross, R. J. Wood, F. Paul, W. E. Watson, M. A. Young.
Delegates to Western Fair Board—N. McLeod and H. Ranahan.
Grocers' League Committee — F. Paul and T. James.
Excursion Committee — T. Shaw, N. McLeod, Harry Ranahan and R. J. Wood.

METROPOLITAN LIFE'S GREAT SHOWING

Wrote More Ordinary Business in 1910 Than Any Other Company By Twenty Millions.

Company Is Highly Commended by the Superintendent of Insurance for Its Progressive Management.

Of unusual interest, in view of criticisms which have in the past frequently been made of so-called "Industrial Insurance," is the recent report of the Honorable William H. Hotchkiss, superintendent of insurance of New York. Superintendent Hotchkiss' examiners have in the last sixteen months made an exhaustive investigation of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, and the report embodies their conclusions.

Incidentally, the report brings out other interesting information. The Metropolitan is not only a leading company in industrial insurance, but during the last year it wrote practically $150,000,000 ordinary insurance, the maximum permitted by the New York law. For a company that has been known in the past primarily as an industrial company, this is a remarkable showing. If business written in foreign countries other than Canada be excluded, the Metropolitan wrote $20,000,000 more ordinary insurance than its nearest competitor. There are at present over $700,000,000 ordinary insurance in force, and, including industrial insurance, over $2,215,000,000. In fact, the company was compelled to stop issuing policies for which application was made during the last days of the year in order to keep within the law.

In an impartial and judicial manner Superintendent Hotchkiss expresses his profound conviction that industrial insurance as practiced by the Metropolitan has had the welfare of the policyholders only in mind, and that the officers of the company have bent every [illegible] to cheapen the cost of such insurance, to reduce lapses, and in general to safeguard at every turn the interests and their upwards of seven millions of policyholders. Tersely stated, Mr. Hotchkiss shows that insurance for the masses is given practically at cost, and that the dividends to stockholders, if sifted by the bylaws of the company to $140,000, were insignificant when compared with annual premium receipts of $70,000,000.

During 1911 the company has voluntarily agreed to return to policyholders over $5,700,000 in cash bonuses, making a total of $25,000,000 thus returned, without any obligation of any kind on the part of the company to do so.

Outstanding features of the work of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company are the campaign waged against tuberculosis; the nursery service for policyholders, and the sanatorium for employees. It is stated that 18 per cent of the death claims paid by the company are caused from tuberculosis, thus if this high mortality can be reduced it will benefit not alone the company but also all of its policyholders.

YOUNG MEN'S ANNUAL BANQUET

A Pleasant Affair Last Night in Hill Street Methodist Church.

OVER FIFTY PRESENT

Mr. William Jeffery Says All Should Strive For Character, and Not For Dollars and Cents.

The annual banquet of the Young Men's Improvement Association of Hill Street Methodist Church was held last night, and was undoubtedly the most successful of the kind ever held by the association. Over fifty members of the club and visitors were present. A most enjoyable programme of music and speeches was given.

Mr. E. Dennison, president of the club, occupied the chair. After the excellent dinner had been disposed of, Mr. Dennison, in a brief speech, welcomed the guests. The purpose of the organization was to furnish proper amusement for the young men of the district, and to cultivate the higher and better side of life.

After the health of the King had been drunk, the toast, "Our Country," was introduced, and responded to by Mr. William Jeffrey and Mr. F. Parker.

Mr. Jeffrey told of the marvellous natural resources of Canada, and the opportunities that opened up on every hand.

"There are great chances to make wealth," said Mr. Jeffrey. "The country does not need that. We need character: we need men of vision, who see what this country needs, and will throw their lives into the betterment of this our glorious land. Do not strive for dollars all the time, but strive after the things that are good. Make Canada a good nation, and we need not worry."

Our Guests.

The next toast was that to "Our Guests," and was responded to by Mr. W. H. Wortman and Mr. J. H. Freeman. Both speakers gave some excellent advice to the young men of the club, dwelling particularly on the necessity of developing the spiritual side of their nature.

Rev. C. L. McRoberts, pastor of the church, spoke to "Our Church," paying a tribute to the work done by Mr. Morrow and the association in the building up of the Hill Street Church.

Mr. F. Crossley was allotted the subject, "Our School," and briefly showed the possibilities of Sunday school work.

Ald. H. Ashplant responded to the toast to "The Methodist Athletic Association." He gave the young men some good advice regarding their home life, and warned them above all things to love and honor their parents.

"There are great possibilities in this country, if you are faithful to your trusts," he said. "Faithfulness will win promotion. Begin at the bottom and work up."

"The Press" brought brief responses from Mr. J. H. Fowler and Mr. Fred Landon. The latter told of the organization of such associations in the various churches, and expressed the opinion that they were great forces for good in the community.

Mr. H. Lewis did justice to the toast to "The Ladies," and Mr. J. Fitzgerald replied on behalf of "Other Associations."

Go After the Boys.

Mr. W. G. Young gave a brief but very excellent address on "Ambition."

"It is my opinion that the church would do better to go after the boys and talk less," he declared, in introducing his subject. "The church should go after them, and bring them into helpful organizations, and there would be less need of criticism."

"Our Association" was given to Mr. M. Morrow, who explained briefly the objects of the association.

"We are ambitious," he declared. "We want a gymnasium, and we are going to have one. We have the plans under consideration at this time, and in a short time, we expect to have sufficient money to build it. Then we will be in a better position to do the work we have in hand."

During the evening Mr. Jack Nash rendered a pleasing solo, Mr. W. Wortman gave a piano selection, D. C. Hannah a couple of recitations, and Messrs. Graham, Hill, Morrow and Murray a cornet quartette.

Those Present.

Among those present were: W. G. Young, Fred Landon, W. B. Wortman, D. C. Hannah, John A. Nash, R. D. Boyle, W. R. M. Smith, J. Fitzgerald, H. Lewis, R. D. Hill, Harry E. Graham, Fred Crossley, H. E.
