This Evening.The Western Ontario Men's Missionary convention will open this afternoon at four o'clock, in Wesley Hall.Hundreds of delegates will be present from all parts of Western Ontario, and the convention will be one of the largest assemblies of men ever held in this city.The meetings of the interdenominational conference will be held daily in the First Methodist Church and Wesley Hall, and denominational conferences will be held on Wednesday in other centrally located churches.
Registration tickets will be obtainable at the convention hall up to eight o'clock this evening.THE CHURCH AND HER TASK.The general theme of the convention will be "The Church and Her Task." It is the aim of the members of the Laymen's Missionary Movement to preach the Christian gospel in the language of every man of every race within the next 25 years, so that all will have an opportunity to embrace the Christian faith.The London convention is one of a series which are being held from one coast to the other. Conventions have been concluded at Vancouver, Calgary, Regina and Winnipeg, and others will be held at Hamilton, Ottawa and Sydney, C. B.Among the leading speakers at the local convention are Sir Andrew Fraser, Robert E. Speer, Rev. Canon Gould, and Dr. Donald McGilivray, a noted missionary from China.
Rev. Dr. McGilivray spoke Sunday on the aims of the convention in King Street and the First Presbyterian Churches.WORKED HARD
FOR SUCCESS.Mr. A. J. Robinson, executive secretary, has worked hard to insure the success of the convention. He will be assisted during the progress of the meeting by General Secretary Casky, of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, who arrived in the city today.The offices of the convention during the three days' session will be in Wesley Hall, on Wellington street.
This will be the headquarters and rendezvous for the delegates.WORK IN INDIA.Rev. John Wilkie, D. D., a leading missionary worker in India, who is here for the Men's Missionary Convention, spoke in the First Presbyterian Church yesterday morning on missionary problems and difficulties in India. He emphasized the difficulty which the missionary meets with in country where 90 per cent of the people can only have one meal a day, and work for a daily wage of less than five cents. The sympathies of the missionary are called forth by the condition of the people, and yet almost all material help has a pauperizing effect.The caste system also presents a serious problem for the missionary to solve. He has to adapt all castes of converts into a new Christian caste, which is no easy task.
Dr. Wilkie's plan for missionary work among the Indians is to buy villages outright and rent the land to the natives, thereby giving them an interest in agriculture and industry.
The experiment has already been proved successful, and Dr. Wilkie wishes to buy three villages, which by bringing the villagers under Christian influences he would make centres of missionary work, from which the natives would go out over the country making new converts to Christianity.LARGELY POLITICAL.The unrest in India at the present time, Dr. Wilkie declares to be largely political, but also in part religious.
The Hindus are quite aware that their old religions are crumbling, and they are in resentment of this stirring-up of religion in opposition to the British.
The Mohammedans, on their part, are jealous of the people by Mohammedan systems, and to this end are building a great university, and spending large sums in literature and religious propaganda. Dr. Wilkie pointed out that the present moment is very opportune for the Christian church to step in and stem the strong tendency towards Mohammedanism, which is working in direct opposition to Christianity.Ninety-five per cent of the natives, Dr. Wilkie claims, would, if they had a referendum on the question, vote in favor of European officials and

ON ALBION'S COASTSAn Unknown Steamer Goes Down Off Cuxhaven.[Canadian Press.]
Berlin, Nov. 6.—A very severe storm is sweeping over the Baltic and North Sea coasts. An unknown steamer sank off Cuxhaven. The fate of the crew is not known. Lifeboats rescued the crews of several other distressed vessels. Dikes at many points have been broken, and the country in the vicinity is flooded.
Special trains are being rushed to the coast with boats and soldiers to rescue endangered residents there.A CONTEST FOR sociation has a big balance to its credit.President's Address.

Mr. J. M. Dillon, the president, occupied the chair.At the meeting he stated that it was exceedingly gratifying to him and to the other members of the board of

MAY FEDERATE

Houston, Texas, Nov. 6.—Members of the Brotherhood of Engineers, Brotherhood of Firemen and Engineers, Brotherhood of Railway Conductors and the brotherhood organization of the Harriman lines entering Houston, met yesterday behind closed doors for the purpose, it is declared, of discussing a federation of these four unions. Similar meetings, it is said, were held at all the division points of the Harriman system. It was stated that the meetings had nothing whatever to do with the strike now on.FARMER'S WIFE, BOY AND DOG SAVE HIM FROM AWFUL DEATHAllan Taylor, of Adrian, Near Dorchester, Was Tossed Twice by Infuriated Bull and Will Be Laid Up for Some Time With His Injuries.[Special to The Advertiser.]
Adrian, Nov. 6.—Mr. Allan Taylor is laid up at his home here as a result of a series of mishaps which happened to him in the last few days. A couple of days ago as he was in a field one of his bulls attacked him and hurled him about fifteen feet. As the ferocious animal was about to attack Mr. Taylor again, Mrs. Taylor rushed out and attacking it with a big club managed to drive it away while Mr. Taylor made good his escape. Later the bull was driven into an inclosure and penned in, but in a few minutes it again broke loose and charging upon Mr. Taylor hurled him into a straw stack. A boy with a pitchfork rushed to Mr. Taylor's help, and by prodding the bull with the prongs of the fork forced it back. A dog which was with the boy leaped upon the bull and was confined to his bed for two days. Almost as Mr. Taylor was out he went to the orchard to pick some apples, and while up in a tree a limb broke,
and in falling he fractured his arm.
A Dorchester physician was summoned and set the fracture, and Mr. Taylor is doing nicely.CONTINUE MARKET LANE NORTH TO CARLING STREETA Move on Foot To Have This Done Now That Big Fire Has Left Land Needed Vacant.It is now proposed that the city purchase two of the stores destroyed by the conflagration Friday morning, and continue the Market Lane through to Carling street. This would make for a better business section, it is thought, and improve Carling street. Aid Eckert is of the opinion that the scheme is a feasible one, and would result greatly to the advantage of the city.
"We could purchase 30 or 40 feet directly through to Carling street," he declared. "That would give us a continuation of the Market Lane, and release in another business street. Smaller places of business would be established there, and make it much better for all concerned. This has been done in other cities with excellent results, and I cannot see why the same could not be done here. If it costs us $50,000, the money would be returned in increased assessment in a short time. I think the proposition a good one."
It is probable that the matter will

Peters.[Special to The Advertiser.] Detroit, Nov. 6.—Men dragged the river all day yesterday near Steven's Bridge, Flint, Mich., in the hope of finding the body of Miss Emma Peters, 32 years old, of Toronto, who mysteriously disappeared from the home of her sister, Mrs.
Lazear Harmer, Saturday night. Miss Peters went to the store near her sister's home to buy some groceries and has not been seen since she left the grocery store. The police and sheriff's force and relatives spent almost all night and all day yesterday in an unsuccessful search for the woman. Miss Peters became ill several weeks ago from overwork, and came to Flint on Oct. 3 to go to a sanatorium. She left there and went to visit her sister a week ago.ALL GRADES SUGAR church. The body was brought here early today from Salt Lake City, where Mr. Bellein died last Thursday.

REMOVAL OF WRECKS

Marine Department To Find Out Who
Is Responsible.[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, Nov. 6.—Canada is going to find out who is responsible for the removal of wrecks by bringing action against the owners of the Cleveland barge Joliet, which sank a short time ago in the St. Clair River. The wreck has been buoyed, but is still more or less of a menace to navigation. The marine department is going to seek an order of the courts to compel the owners to remove the wreck.

SPAN COLLAPSED.

Auburn, Cal., Nov. 6.—Three bodies have been recovered from the wreckage of the Mountain Quarries Company's bridge across the American River, the east span of which collapsed late Saturday night.
Five workmen were injured. It is believed still more casualties will be discovered.
The victims were working under the superstructure building caissons when the concrete pillars gave way. The men caught under the sinking arch were enlashed.PROBATED WILL IS DISPUTED LEGAL FIGHT OVER HUGE ESTATEFourteen Petitioners Secured an Order From Judge Macbeth to Have Will of Late R. P. Smith, of Strathroy, Returned —A New List of Bequests.Curious complications have arisen in the settlement of the estate of the late Richard Portingall Smith, of Strathroy who died on May 25 last, at his home in that town, and whose will was probated in the local surrogate court on July 4. The disposition of four subsequent wills has been made, and as a result one of the greatest battles in the history of Canadian law may be waged.
The estate was valued at approximately $154,000 by his executor, Mr.
John Cowan, a Sarnia solicitor, when the matter was entered for probate, but it is since asserted in legal quarters that his holdings in Ontario and the State of Michigan may amount to $400,000 or $500,000.Must Return the Will.
Judge Macbeth, upon being petitioned by fourteen men and women interested in the four wills now in question, has issued a citation order commanding the executor to return the probated will to the court, in order that the parties at present interested may take whatever action is necessary to revoke the accepted document.The amounts bequeathed to the petitioners under the later wills range from $1,000 to $15,000, and total $76, 000.The four documents purport to have been drawn up in Strathroy on Nov. 2, 1910, in the presence of Robert Howie, of London; Benj. T. Gar-side, of St. Thomas, and Ann Caroline Frost, of this city. They are signed by Benj. T. Garside, "per R. P. S.
Smith," whose signature is also affixed in a weak, scribbling hand that bears little resemblance to that written by the former private banker when he was in better health.The Bequests.
The sums granted in the bequests of the four documents of Nov. 2 are as follows:
Mrs. Robert Howie, London, $5,000
John Winnerton, Strathroy, laborer, 1,000
Benj. T. Garside, St. Thomas,

FIVE HURT WHEN CAR STRIKES AUTO

Two Were Mount Forest People Who Moved to Toronto Recently.

ONE WOMAN MAY DIE

Aged Lady Who Had Stroke Is Now Suffering From Concussion of the Brain — Chauffeur Badly Shaken Up.

Toronto, Nov. 4.—Five people were injured, one seriously, when an automobile belonging to John A. Halstead, 71 Madison avenue, collided with a motor car at Harbord and Grace streets on Sunday. Those injured were Mr. and Mrs. Halstead, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Reid, of Mount Forest, and the chauffeur, William Lowe, of 44 Mutual street. Mrs. Halstead, who recently had a paralytic stroke, was taken from a scalp wound and concussion of the brain; the chauffeur was badly cut about the face and arms, while the others sustained slight bruises.

The automobile was coming east on Harbord street, and the car was going in a westerly direction. Approaching Grace street, the chauffeur, noting that the road was in bad condition, tried to avoid running over the bad section by going a short distance beyond the regular turning point, passing behind an automobile car, he noticed the approach of a westbound car, increased the speed of the motor, but was unable to get clear of the car, which struck the rear wheel of the machine and overturned it around the tracks. Mr. and Mrs. Halstead and Mr. and Mrs. Reid were sitting in the tonneau, while the chauffeur was huddled through the glass shield. He fell on the hood and rolled on to the pavement.

When Lowe saw that a collision was inevitable he applied the emergency brakes and shut off the power to prevent the motor from running into a number of people on the crossing. Then the collision came. Mrs. Halstead, unconscious, and the chauffeur were carried into a house, where they were given medical attention. The police ambulance came, but before its arrival, Mrs. Halstead was placed in a passing automobile and rushed to the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Halstead came from Mount Forest and took up their residence in Toronto about three weeks ago. Mr. Reid is manager of the Traders' Bank at Mount Forest.

EAST ELGIN LIBERALS WOULD LIKE ROWELL

He May Be Invited to Accept the Nomination.

St. Thomas, Ont., Nov. 5.—The local Liberal organ says that in the event of Mr. Daniel McIntyre, of Yarmouth, declining to accept the nomination of the Liberals in East Elgin for the Legislature, the executive, as expected, will invite the new Liberal leader, Mr. N. W. Rowell, K. C., to accept the nomination. "Such a move on the part of the executive," says the Journal, "would meet with the heartiest approval throughout the riding, and in the event of Mr. Rowell's acceptance, there would follow a rallying of Liberals in the district that would spell victory for the new leader."

A meeting of the executive was held on Saturday afternoon at Alton, at Mr. McIntyre's request, when it is understood that Mr. McIntyre was given an extension of time before coming to a definite decision.

LOCKED IN VAULT

Amherstburg Youth Had a Most Terrifying Experience Before Rescue.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Amherstburg, Nov. 4.—Clare Parris, a young man whose home is here, had a terrifying experience yesterday when he was accidentally imprisoned in the vault of the town hall.

The young lad had been assisting in the arranging of the tables for the Galt Club's party luncheon in the council chamber and had stepped into the vault to obtain something when the heavy door closed. It was not until some time later that his father, when near the vault, heard cries for help. Recognizing the voice of his son he made a frantic effort to release the boy, but owing to the excitement under which he was laboring, he was unable to work the correct number, with the result that the chief of police was summoned.

It was a badly scared boy that stepped out of the vault when the door was thrown open, and it was a lucky escape from what might have resulted seriously, as the vault is only used on special occasions and the boy might have been detained for some time.

DRANK CARBOLIC ACID

Galt, Ont., Nov. 5.—Mrs. Lottie Exvy lies in the hospital in a serious condition as the result of taking a dose of carbolic acid last night. ## WINGHAM POLICE KEPT VERY BUSY

Frank Allen Arrested for Taking an Overcoat and J. Campbell Committed.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Wingham, Nov. 6.—Police Magistrate Norton and the police generally have had a very busy time in the last few days. Frank Allen, a citizen who had no overcoat when he saw the snow, stole an overcoat belonging to Mr. Henning, as Mr. Henning was in the King Edward Hotel looking over some traveller's samples. An umbrella mender who saw him take the coat reported the matter, and he was arrested. In Godrich, where Allen was taken, he elected trial before a jury, and has been remanded indefinitely as the case goes over.

John Campbell was arrested for stealing a traveller's grip at the Queen's Hotel, and was sent to Godrich jail for two months. About two months ago Campbell's wife and family were found on the outskirts of Hamilton, living in a hovel, and it was ascertained that he had been expending his money on his expenses to Wingham. Mr. Campbell, it is stated, is now with his parents near Whitechurch.

SUTHERLAND IS PARTY'S CHOICE

Well-Known Cattle Man, of Dorchester, For East Middlesex.

MUST SECURE CONSENT

Committee Named to Wait on Mr. Sutherland and Ask Him to Run.

At the convention of East Middlesex Liberals held on Saturday afternoon in Hyman Hall, Mr. Robert Sutherland, of Dorchester, was unanimously tendered the nomination for the coming Provincial elections. He was unable to be present, and a committee composed of Alf. Bailey, Nis. Smith, Dr. Routledge, Lang. Smith, Murray, Dorchester, Dan. McInnis, Dorchester, and Ed. Douglass, Hilderton, will wait on him and secure his consent to stand. He is a very strong candidate, and the Liberals are hopeful that Mr. Sutherland will carry the riding.

The meeting was largely attended, over 100 delegates being present. In spite of the rather emphatic defeat of the Liberal ticket in the last election, the Liberals were in good spirits, and the night was a good one. Mr. Alf. Bailey, of Thorndale, the president, was in the chair. He first asked the opinion of the meeting as to the advisability of running a candidate.

Dr. Routledge's Address.
Dr. George W. Routledge, ex-M. P., was the first speaker, and he urged that a man be placed in the field. Although the riding had elected Conservatives for two or three terms there was no reason to believe that this would always be the case. East Middlesex could be won, and the Liberals had as good a chance at this time as they ever had in the past. He took occasion to thank his supporters for the assistance during the recent campaign. He had been defeated, but he was proud to go down, fighting for such a leader and for such a cause. The issue was not dead, but would have to be considered at no distant date.

Mr. T. H. Purdon, K. C., followed, and also urged that a candidate be named at this time.

It is due, I think, to our new leader, Mr. Newton Rowell, to place a strong man in the field, said Mr. Purdon. "East Middlesex was the cradle of Mr. Rowell in Liberalism. It was a better man than Newton Rowell, and he has great ability to lead. I cannot be a candidate at this time, but I cherish the hope of some day being again a candidate for the riding. Mr. Rowell, and I want to see the riding stand loyally by Mr. Rowell."

A motion was then put to name a candidate, and amid the greatest enthusiasm, it carried unanimously.

Nominations were called for. Dr. Routledge and Mr. J. H. Elliott, of Westminister, nominated Mr. Robert Sutherland.

Shop Early, In the Morning If Possible

From now until Christmas the advantages of shopping in the morning will be all in favor of the shopper. Saturday this was demonstrated most emphatically, and we venture to say that every day in the week from now on more may be accomplished in one hour in the morning than in two in the afternoon.

E. Lawson and W. C. Matthews. These gentlemen were intimately associated with the association, and some were amongst its earliest officers, and were universally respected and esteemed.

Continued efforts have been made to obtain better accommodation for travellers and the public generally in municipalities where the local option law has obtained, and also for better sanitary conditions and safety appliances in hotels.

SOMBRE IS THE GARB OF MOURNING, BUT IT'S MOST ATTRACTIVE ON MANY WOMEN.

The influence of England and France is strongly felt in this country when mourning is worn. For many years American women wore nun's veiling as a badge of bereavement. That day is past. Heavy English crepe is now shown not only in hats and veils, but forms a strong feature upon the coats and dresses of those who are "wearing black."

From France comes the head dress for mourners. The veil is not worn over the face. It is draped on the back of the hat with many folds and hangs to or below the waist line. Even widows wear this. The sign of widowhood is the narrow ruche which is worn underneath the rim of the rolling hat. The latter is formed of heavy crepe made of folds and a crushed crown.

A very handsome costume for a widow was recently made. The dress proper being of China crepe. This was so elaborately trimmed with English crepe that little of the main part of the dress was seen. The heavy English material reached within 12 inches of the waist line in front and at the side and back the crepe was put on for a depth of 20 inches. The yoke was of black chiffon. The collar and bow were of the crepe, while crepe bands were on the short sleeves. The sash and bow were also of this material.

When the heavy mourning is being laid aside a face veil of dotted maline may be worn. This should be edged with five rows of narrow black grain ribbon.

Many pretty mourning stocks and cravats are shown. These, too, are donned with second mourning. A used over white chiffon. In both of these cravats the jabot is pleated and around with ruchings of the same while black Brussels net is effectively

Our Burdensome Things

(By Cynthia Grey.)

What we shall do with our things, where we shall put our things; how we shall get more things; to whom we shall leave our things when we get through this vale of things—these are the thoughts that demand our attention.

Without all our things we should have little to do, and little to worry about.

Whether we keep our things in a trunk, a bundle, or a paper bag; whether we hire a horse to put them in; whether we run away to Europe to get away from our things—our horrible things—for a while; the fact remains that they are the principal part of us, and that they keep us in a perpetual bondage to them.

My word! And then to think of the perfectly proper people who are actually waiting for dead men's shoes! So that they can inherit more things!

Wait! Whitman says: "Oh, to be like the oxen—not burdened with owning things!"

The Bible passes some stirring reflections on things. The Bible has no use for things, only to give away. In looking up the references set down in the concordance, even a dull person, non-sectarian and having no light to speak of, must discern the implicit attitude toward things.

There is the story of the "rich young man" in quest of eternal life, who when he found he had to give up his things, went away sorrowing. What was eternal life compared to things?

Moses had his. When on this, when he wrote the Second and Tenth Commandments, in another place it is distinctly stated that "a man's life consists not in the abundance of things which he possesses."

It is evident that "things" haven't much standing in the Bible. Sometimes it seems as if the Bible hadn't such a very great influence after all, but, possibly it is just a patient book and can wait.

When Thoreau was keeping house by himself in the woods near Walden pond, he wrote in his diary: "Today I threw out of the window some specimens of sandstone lying on my desk. The required dusting. What right have I to spend my time dusting things when the furniture of my mind remains all undusted?"

Things to wear! and things to eat! Things to put away, to hang up, to absorb us, to wear us out! Things! Things! They drive us to sanatoriums, divert us from the really worth while, and when we are done with life, we leave behind them all but the things we have taken with us. But let's be in such bondage to them. Read again the story of the rich young man! Its meaning is—oh, so wonderful!

The PRODIGAL JUDGE

The Famous Novel by
VAUGHAN KESTER

Copyright, 1911, The Robb-Merrill Company

"Good-by, Mr. Yancy—lift Hannibal, not that I can kiss him!" Yancy swung the child aloft. "I think you are such a nice boy, Hannibal—you mustn't forget me. And touching her nose lightly with the whip she rode away. Then she turned and said: 'She's a lady!' said Yancy, starting after her. And we mustn't forget Hannibal of Belle Plain, nevy."

Crenshaw and the squire approached. "Look," said the merchant, "Hannibal is going to have the boy—but he made a mistake in putting this business in the hands of a fool like Dase. Blount, I reckon he knows that now."

"I reckon his next move will be to send a posse of gun-toters up from Fayetteville," said the squire.

"That's just what he'll do," agreed Crenshaw, and looked disturbed.

"They certainly air an unpeaceable lot—them Fayetteville folks! It's always seemed to me they had a positive spite ag'in this end of the county," said the squire, and he pocketed his spectacles and refreshed himself with a chew of tobacco.

"Hannibal ain't actin' right, Bob. It's a year and upwards since the old general died. He let you go on thinking the boy was to stay with you, and now he takes a notion to have him."

"No, sir, it ain't right nor reasonable. And what's more, he shan't have him!" said Yancy, and his tone was final.

"I don't know what kind of a mess you're getting yourself into, Bob. I declare I don't!" cried Crenshaw, who felt that he was largely responsible for the whole situation.

Pains Have Vanished

Neuralgia Completely Cured.

The cure of Mrs. H. L. Barrett, Guthrie, P. Q., is another victory by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine has succeeded in many cases where others have utterly failed. Mrs. Barrett says: "I suffered intensely from neuralgia in the head, face and shoulders. I had used various medicines without relief. I heard of Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it, and I blent the day I did. I took it several months and now feel well. All my pains have vanished."

Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today. Sold by all druggists everywhere.

"Looks like your neighbors would stand by you," suggested the squire.

"I want them to stand by me. I'll only get them into trouble, and I ain't going to do that," rejoined Yancy, and he turned away. Then he turned and resumed meditatively. "There was old Baldy Eberole, who shot the sheriff when they tried to arrest him for getting drunk down in Fayetteville and licking the tavern keeper."

"Sho, there wa'n't no harm in Baldy!" said the squire, with heat. "When that sheriff come along here looking for him, I told him p'inted that Baldy said he wouldn't be arrested. A more truthful man I never knowed. And if the blame fool had taken my word he'd be living yet."

"But you-all know what trouble killing that sheriff made for Baldy," said Yancy. "He told me often he regretted it more than anything he'd ever done. He said it was most aggravatin' having to always lug a gun wherever he went. And what with being suspicious of strangers when he wa'n't suspicious by nature, he reckoned in time it would just naturally wear him out."

"He stood it until he was risin' eighty," said Crenshaw.

"His father lived to be ninety, John, and as spry an old gentleman as a body'd wish to see. I don't uphold no man for committing murder, but I do consider the sheriff should have waited on Baldy to get 'mo' reasonable, like he'd done in time if they'd just let him alone—but no, sir, he reckoned the law wa'n't no respect for persons. He was a fine-appearin' man, that sheriff, and just elected to office. I remember we had to leave off the tail-gate to my cart to accommodate him. Yes, sir, they pretty near pestered Baldy into his grave—and seem'd that pore old fellow pottering around year after year, always totin' a gun, was the pathetic sight I most ever seen, and I made up my mind then if it ever seemed necessary for me to kill a man, I'd leave the county, or maybe the state," concluded the squire.

"Don't you reckon it would be some better to let the state atake of you done the shooting?" suggested Yancy.

"Well, a man might I don't know but what he'd be justified in getting shut of his troubles like that."

When Betty Malroy rode away from Belle Balan's, Murrell galloped after her. Presently she heard the beat of his horse's hoofs as he came pounding along

Dear Miss Grey.—What will keep peach-butter from getting sour?

MRS. H. S.

A.—Allow three-quarters of a pound of sugar to every pound of fruit, and cook until very brown and thick. Put into glass jars and seal. It will not sour.

Polishing Cloth.

Dear Miss Grey.—Please repeat recipe for making flannel for polishing silverware.

MRS. H. T. S.

A.—Mix together two quarts gasoline, one pound Spanish whiting, and quarter ounce oleic acid. Take wadded cloth of the desired size and soak in the mixture. Then wring and hang up to dry. The cloth must be wrung, as cotton will not hold the whiting, and when the gasoline dries out, the whiting falls from the cotton cloth, as it will not from the wool. Be careful about fire.

Canneton à la Royale.—Two cups of cold minced veal, half cup minced ham, seasoning, one teaspoonful minced parsley, half teaspoonful onion juice, little grated lemon peel, dash nutmeg, two eggs well beaten. Take out of bag carefully, place on hot dish and cover with tomato sauce.

The art of making and pouring tea gracefully is one that any girl may acquire with a little practice. The English custom of dropping in to a friend's house informally for afternoon tea is growing, and it is worth while learning how to serve it easily and without embarrassing hitches. The girl who wishes to acquire herself as a finished hostess would do well to remember a few points.

NATIONAL TRUST CO., LIMITED, TORONTO

The legal opinion of Messrs. Blake, Lash, Anglin and Cassels, Toronto will be furnished.

We emphasize the following salient points of this issue:

- (1) Value of assets as of July 1st, 1911, $5,000,000—Consisting of Real Estate, Buildings, Plant and Goodwill, $3,837,911.94, and Net current quick assets in excess of current liabilities, $1,162,088.06.
- (2) Average annual net earnings for past four years (1907-1910) $291,719 or practically 3 1/2 times the interest on the present bonds.
- (3) An annual Sinking Fund beginning July 1st, 1916, sufficient to retire the present issue prior to maturity at a maximum price of 105 and accrued interest.

The Company has outstanding $1,500,000 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock and $2,000,000 Common Stock, both of which are listed upon the Toronto and Montreal exchanges.

The present capacity of the plant which may be said to comprise everything required for the building of the most modern and up-to-date locomotives, provides for a yearly output of seventy-five engines, but as each year many satisfactory orders have been declined owing to the inability of the Company to make the deliveries required, it has been decided to proceed immediately with such enlargement of the works as will increase their future output to at least double their present capacity. Therefore, it may safely be assumed that a corresponding increase in the earnings of the Company will be assured.

At the present time, the Company has a sufficient number of orders on its books to keep it fully employed for about a year, and if negotiations for additional contracts now pending are successful, the Company will have abundance of work until the early months of 1913.

The excellent management of the Company has been further strengthened by the acquisition of Mr. A. W. Wheatley as its General Manager. Mr. Wheatley is one of the foremost locomotive manufacturers in America, having, previous to joining this Company, been the General Manager of the American Locomotive Company's plant at Dunkirk, N.Y., the second largest locomotive works on this continent.

LONDON WANTS THE NATIONAL COUNCIL

Local Council of Women Will Invite Next Annual Convention Here.

WOMEN ON SCHOOL TRUST

Resolution of Indorsement Was Passed—Miss Laidlaw's Departure and Frank E. Lawson's Death Referred To.

The Local Council of Women held the first meeting of the season Friday afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. parlors, Dundas street.

Mrs. Boomer presided, and there was a large attendance of representatives from the different affiliated societies. Lady Taylor, of Hamilton, vice-president of the National Council of Women, who, with Mrs. Boomer, has lately been made a life patron of the International Council of Women, was present, and addressed the meeting.

In replying to Mrs. Boomer's words of welcome, Lady Taylor said she was pleased to be present. She had heard of Mrs. Boomer's accident, and only delayed coming because requested to come later on to this evening. It only for good-fellowship and love of the president, she was glad to be with the members. Mrs. Boomer was one of the National Council of Women, and she it was who first inspired her (Lady Taylor) with enthusiasm in the work of the National Council of Women.

The Warmest Friendships.
"Some of the warmest friendships," declared Lady Taylor, "are formed in work for the public service. In such work one gets beyond the outer veneer, as it were, and learns to know and love another for what they really are."

Lady Taylor's kindly remarks and helpful suggestions were much appreciated by the members.

Miss Moore, recording secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting.

Mrs. R. M. Graham presented the treasurer's report, which showed a balance of $49.72.

Mrs. Barker, corresponding secretary, read the correspondence.

A warm welcome was extended to the Teachers' report, which was most helpful to the council, and the latter needed their co-operation and help in their work.

The Late Frank Lawson.
Moved by Mrs. Waller, seconded by Miss Manigault, that the sincere sympathy of the Local Council of Women be conveyed to Mrs. Frank Lawson and family in their sudden and irreparable loss, which is shared by the Local Council, in coming to the aid of the women of London, and we would ask that this message of sympathy be sent by the corresponding secretary through the King's Laughters, to Mrs. Lawson, their honored president.

Women Candidates.
It was moved by Mrs. Gahan, seconded by Mrs. B. M. Graham: "That the L. C. W. desires to heartily indorse any effort which may be made either locally or abroad to have women elected to the boards of education in Canada, and would urge upon every member who has the privilege of a municipal vote to support every candidate in the field."

Moved by Mrs. Murray, seconded by Mrs. Gahan, that the Local Council of Women willingly indorse and be prepared to act in conjunction with any steps which may be taken by the Children's Aid Society in its efforts to place the maternity homes under municipal supervision and control.

Wife's Conviction.
Moved by Mrs. Murray, seconded by Mrs. Gahan, that the Women's Christian Association, in its efforts to place the maternity homes under municipal supervision and control, be prepared to act in conjunction with any steps which may be taken by the Children's Aid Society in its efforts to place the maternity homes under municipal supervision and control.

The Annual Meeting.
Moved by Mr. E. B. Smith, seconded by Mrs. Jeffrey Hale: "That the Local Council of Women be empowered to convey to the executive of the National Council of Women a request that London may have the honor of being chosen for the holding of the nineteenth annual meeting in 1912."

Mrs. Barker, who represents Mrs. Boomer at the executive meeting of the National Council of Women, in Toronto, on Nov. 23.

The Local Council of Women will have the honor of being chosen for the holding of the nineteenth annual meeting in 1912.

Miss Laidlaw's Departure.
Moved by Mrs. R. M. Graham, seconded by Mrs. Marshall: "That the Local Council of Women desire to indorse the amendment to the criminal code proposed at the joint committee meeting held by the Associated Charities and the Toronto Local Council of Women, which provides that any husband who refuses to provide for the support of his wife or children, shall be guilty of an indictable offence, and shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $1,000, or to imprisonment, with or without hard labor, to be provided by the state or municipality, for a term not exceeding six months, or to both."

TROUBLE IN STARTING MOTOR WHEN COLD

Liability of Water in Radiator Freezing—An Automobile Talk.

With the advent of cold weather, owners of automobiles are giving more attention to their motors, according to local dealers. As is generally the case a large percentage of the motorists are planning to run their cars all winter, and many of the novices in the game are being advised by garage men as to methods of avoiding large repair bills.

"The difficulty of starting the motor when cold," said one dealer to The Advertiser today, "together with the liability of freezing, is a troublesome feature. The modern self-starter may obviate the difficulty of cranking by hand, thereby saving a great deal of the part of the driver, but the freezing of the motor cannot be prevented except by exercising the greatest caution."

"When the mercury is at freezing point the motor should not be left dead with the water in it. While there may be sufficient heat in the circulating system to prevent immediate freezing, it is only a question of a short time before this is lost, due to the great radiation area. Probably the radiator is the most sensitive part of the engine, and the water in it should be kept at a temperature of 100 degrees Fahrenheit. However, in zero weather the danger of freezing is much increased by having a large radiation area exposed to the cold wind. Therefore, in zero weather to use an anti-freezing solution if the motor is to be exposed to the cold wind is a must."

"If this is not done then the water should be drained from the lowest point in the system. After the water is drained the engine should be started and allowed to run for a minute or two in order to further dry the motor. This is impracticable in the cold for a long time. ### THE STATE ELECTIONS CUE TO PRESIDENCY

Tomorrow's Polling in United States Will Be Closely Watched.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, Nov. 6.—Leaders of national politics are looking ahead with acute interest to the state elections tomorrow because of their possible bearing on the presidential campaign of next year. Contests will afford the first opportunity for a formal popular expression since the bringing together of the first democratic national house of representatives in sixteen years, and the continent-spanning speech-making trip of President Taft.

In Massachusetts, Governor Foss has led the Democratic forces. In New Jersey the election is held in the home state of a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president (Woodrow Wilson); in New York the issues are local but the election is one always closely scanned by political observers; in Kentucky Representative Ollie James, one of the bulwarks of the party in Congress is a candidate for United States senator, and William J. Bryan and Speaker Champ Clark have campaigned for him.

Vice-President Sherman has taken an active part in the Republican fight in New Jersey, while Speaker Clark has done some vigorous campaigning in Nebraska and Tennessee, as well as in Kentucky.

SUFFERED THREE YEARS

THI Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cured his Kidney Trouble

There are few diseases that cause more acute suffering than Kidney Trouble, and Mr. F. A. Thomas, of Sudbury Ont., is one of those who know it. He writes: "For over three years I suffered from kidney disease. First I thought I had sprained my back, for suddenly the pain would catch the small of my back and it would be impossible for me to straighten myself up for several minutes. A dull ache across the kidneys was always present, my urine was thick and cloudy, and passing it caused a burning, scalding pain. Tried medicine, but they failed. I was advised to try Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, as they had cured my wife years before. A few boxes affected a complete cure. I now enjoy the blessings of good health, which is due to this remedy."

Don't neglect kidney trouble—it's too dangerous as well as so painful. That old, reliable family remedy, Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, has cured thousands and will cure you. It is equally effective in curing constipation and its attendant evils, biliousness, indigestion and sick headaches, and in purifying the blood. See a box at your druggist's.

CARE FOR BABIES DURING SERVICE

Rev. H. H. Bingham Establishes a Nursery in Talbot Street Church.

A BOON FOR MOTHERS

Scheme Will Be Tried for the First Time on Sunday Next.

Crying babies need no longer keep their mothers away from church. Rev. H. H. Bingham, of the Talbot Street Baptist Church, has established a nursery in the basement of the edifice, where babies will be cared for while their mothers attend the services.

The scheme will be tried for the first time on Sunday next, and there is every evidence that it will prove a decided success. A number of young ladies in connection with the church have volunteered to look after the babies for the mothers, so that the latter can enjoy the sermons.

Rev. Mr. Bingham is enthusiastic over the idea, and is confident that it will work out successfully. "I feel that very many mothers are kept from attending divine worship owing to the difficulty of caring for the little ones," said Mr. Bingham to the Advertiser. "I expect by means of the nursery to give them the opportunity of attending church in comfort, secure in the knowledge that their babies are being well cared for. A room has been fitted up in the basement for the nursery, and it will be in charge of the young ladies of the church."

Mr. Bingham explained that the scheme had been tried in other cities, and had proved to be of great benefit to the mothers of the congregation.

CANADIAN WHEAT BEATS ALL OTHERS

Saskatchewan Farmer Wins the Thousand Dollar Prize Offered by Sir T. Shaughnessy.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Nov. 6.—The announcement of Canada's victory over the United States in the contest for prize offered by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, for the best wheat, spring or summer, was made yesterday afternoon at the land show in Madison Square Garden. The committee of the contest, headed by Sir Alfred Atkinson, Montreal Agricultural College, and Prof. J. W. G. Laidlaw, Kansas State Agricultural College, concurred in the official statement that Canada raised the best wheat in the world.

The British wheat-beating wheat was Senger Wheeler, of Roanham, Sask., Canada. He received a prize of $1,000 in gold. Another Canadian, T. G. MacLeod, of Alberta, was the alternate.

The $1,000 silver cup given by James J. Hill, of the Great Northern Railway, to the winner of the contest, was won by James Todd, of Georgetown, Mont. William H. Dorris, of C. Williams, of the Indian corn, with thirty ears of Indian corn. The $1,000 silver cup for oats was awarded to Patton & Hartman, of Bozeman, Mont.

R. Elsieger, of Manhattan, Mont., won a $1,500 silver cup and the honor of having the best of the contest. The prize of a silver cup was given by Col. Gustave Pabst.

London, Nov. 6.—The British steamer "Victorian," on her way from Liverpool to London, sent a wireless message today saying that she had on board the crew of the water-logged American schooner Stephen G. Lord.

The Stephen G. Lord is a three-masted schooner of 400 tons net, owned by Dunn & Elliott Co., of Thomaston, Maine, sailing from Savannah Oct. 23 for Boston. The British steamer Lord left about 100 miles off Charleston, abandoned.

OPPOSITION DEVELOPS TO GRANTING INCREASES

Male and Female Teachers Not Likely to Ask for More Money This Year.

No petitions for increases in salaries for the public school teachers have been presented, and it is rumored that none will be. This is due to the fact that opposition has developed to granting increases.

The regular meeting of the board of education is to be held on Tuesday, and it will be necessary to have the petitions presented prior to that session, if anything is to be done this year.

However, one of the principals stated that nothing would be done this year. The members of the board were fully aware of the opposition, and stood, and if they wished to advance the salaries, the increase would be developed in certain quarters, and for this reason the petition would be withheld at present.

Unless the principals petition for an increase there will be no demand from the women teachers.

As a result, it is very evident that larger salaries will not be authorized this year, though petitions have been circulated and largely signed amongst both male and female teachers.

A REIGN OF TERROR IN CITY OF TRIPOLI

Refugees Charge Italian Soldiers With Brutal Treatment.

[Canadian Press.] Malta, Nov. 6.—Steamer passengers who have just arrived from Tripoli describe the situation there as a reign of terror. Strong military patrols are conducting rigorous house-to-house searches, and on the slightest pretense summary punishment is meted out.

Many victims have been shot in their own homes. Such being the case, the order forbidding anyone to be out before 6 o'clock in the morning or after 6 o'clock in the evening has been strictly enforced. The Italian soldiers appear to have unlimited power, and the passengers say, were shooting down man, woman or child who disobeyed the order.

The passengers also confirm the stories of the brutality displayed by the Italians in their treatment of the Arabs.

LONDON JUNCTION IS GOOD ENOUGH

Petition Against Changing Name to Eastmount Is Being Largely Signed.

A petition against changing the name of London Junction to Eastmount, as has been proposed in connection with incorporating it as a separate village, is out, and is being signed by a large number of the residents of London Junction. The petitioners think that the present name is quite good, and incidentally many indignities upon the poorer classes of natives disappeared. In recognition of these services he was created C. S. I. for his services to the public commission, using his influence to keep down the illicit sale and use of opium, and other harmful drugs, and making a determined effort to put a stop to child murder and kindred heathen practices, which in a few remote places had contrived to survive in spite of the law.

From 1903 till 1908, he had the honor of holding one of the most dignified and influential appointments under the Government of India, that of lieutenant-governor of Bengal. In the same year he was created K. C. S. I.

Sir Andrew is unusually acceptable as a survivor of the misadventure and general public.

CONGRESSMAN SEES REVOLUTION IN U. S.

Unless There Is Remedial Legislation for Labor Man.

[Canadian Press.] Chicago, Nov. 6.—Speaking before the Chicago Federation of Labor yesterday, Congressman Frank Buchanan, of Illinois, predicted a revolution within twenty years if Congress does not enact remedial legislation to deal with the labor leaders in Congress are having an uphill fight to bring about legislation beneficial to the laboring man.

"The Taylor system, which the Government and others are trying to introduce, is a most serious danger to the laboring man," he said. "It is a system of twenty years of getting better conditions by vote-buying for men who will vote for remedial legislation."

SEASONED WITH ARSENIC

Chicago Woman Murder Suspect Sprinkles Food With Poison.

[Canadian Press.] Chicago, Nov. 6.—Mrs. Louise Vermilyea, the widow suspected of having poisoned Policeman Arthur Blaisette, was ready today to leave her home, where she had been under guard, and become a prisoner in the county hospital. Her alleged attempt at suicide by calmly sprinkling her food with an arsenical preparation resembling pepper, convinced the police that she would be safer under their direct watch than in her home.

Judge Walker, who issued the warrant for Mrs. Vermilyea's arrest, consented to hold court in her room before her removal to a hospital, and she will be arraigned while still in bed.

THE CITY MUST BEAR WHOLE COST OF SEWER

Contractors Cannot Be Held Responsible for Victoria Street Damage.

The city must pay the whole cost of the Victoria street sewer, which has been condemned by City Engineer Wright as useless.

The opinion of City Solicitor Meredith was asked as to the liability of the contractors, and he points out that they cannot be held responsible. It will be remembered that the sewer was constructed by Blight & Fielder, of Chatham. A year ago it was found to be plugged up, and this summer it failed to work at all. Mr. Wright and his staff investigated, and found that it had been in and was otherwise in bad condition.

The council thought the contractors should be held responsible, and as a result the city will now have to pay the whole cost.

A NOTED PREACHER FOR MEN'S MEETING

Sir Andrew Fraser Will Deliver an Address Tonight.

Sir Andrew Fraser, who will speak this evening at the Men's Missionary Convention on "The Unfinished Task in Non-Christian Lands," is one of the best known and most striking figures in the great world-wide Laymen's Missionary Movement.

Sir Andrew's father, Rev. A. G. Fraser, D.D., was an eminent minister of the Scottish Presbyterian Church. His mother was the daughter of Rev. J. Shaw, another clergyman of the same denomination.

Such being the case, the order forbidding anyone to be out before 6 o'clock in the morning or after 6 o'clock in the evening has been strictly enforced. The Italian soldiers appear to have unlimited power, and the passengers say, were shooting down man, woman or child who disobeyed the order.

The passengers also confirm the stories of the brutality displayed by the Italians in their treatment of the Arabs.

Why Actresses Never Grow Old

(Theatrical World)

Nothing concerning the profession seems more puzzling to the dear old public than the perpetual youth of our feminine members. How often we hear remarks like, "Why, I saw her as Juliet 40 years ago," or "How, allowance is made for make-up, but when they see us off the stage at close range, they need another explanation."

How strange women generally haven't learned the secret of keeping the face young! How simple a matter to get an ounce of mercolized wax at the drug store, apply it like cold cream, and in the morning wash it off! We know how this gradual, imperceptibly absorbent old cuticle-keeping, the complexion new and fresh, free from fine lines, sallowness or over-redness. We know, too, that this mercolized wax is the reason actresses don't wear moth patches, liver spots, pimples, and the like. Why don't our sisters on the other side of the footlights learn the reason, and profit by it?

How to Secure Beauty

Beautiful hair does not come by chance. This is a law of nature. Man has ever had to devote care and study to secure and maintain the beautiful.

This is demonstrated in everything, and more so with the hair. Providence has made it possible for every man and woman to have beautiful hair, but demands that it be cultivated and cared for.

Don't neglect your hair! It becomes thin and lifeless. It then commences to fall out, and just at the time you should be looking your best you are old-looking and unattractive.

A woman's glory is her hair. And yet how often we see women who would otherwise be called beautiful, marred by the neglected appearance and dried-up condition of the hair.

Hair must have proper nourishment or die. Partisan Sage is a hair nourisher and one that is fully guaranteed by Fred A. Taylor, 389 Talbot street, opposite market, who will refund your money if it fails to cure dandruff, stop itching of scalp, hair falling out, and promote a thick and luxuriant growth. All druggists and stores. 50 cents a large bottle, or postpaid, from the Gironoux Manufacturing Company, Fort Erie, Ont.

SARNIA CITIZEN INSTANTLY KILLED

[Special to The Advertiser.] Sarnia, Nov. 6.—S. T. Copus, of this place, formerly of Windsor, was instantly killed last night when he was run over by a train in the G. T. H. yards. He was found with his head severed from the body. Absolutely nothing is known as to how the accident happened. An inquest has been ordered. Mr. Copus was very prominent in Masonic circles. While in Windsor he was connected with the Windsor Gas Company.

Later. An inquest was held this morning on the body of Copus, and an adjournment made until Wednesday evening in the police court. There are indications that Copus committed suicide.

WANT MORE WAGES. Potville, Nov. 4.—The miners' convention of district numbers one, seven and nine, adjourned last night after formulating demands to be made upon the operators. The miners ask for an eight-hour working day, an increase in wages of 20 per cent, and a minimum wage of 20 cents for miners.

The miners also demand that the next contract be for a period of one year, commencing April 1, 1912.

Once you stop taking medicine into the stomach and get the healing oil and pure balsams of Catarrhazone at work you can be sure of quick and lasting cure for nose colds, catarrh, weak lungs, bronchitis, and speaker's sore throat.

Horton Street Man Died in New Jersey.

An old resident of this city, Edmund K. Land, of 89 Horton street, dropped dead Sunday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Martindale, in Camden, New Jersey. He had gone to Camden about a month ago, intending to pass the winter with his daughter.
For a man of his age, 78 years, his health had been fairly good, and his sudden death was an entire surprise to his relatives and friends here. His wife predeceased him only a few months ago.
Mr. Land is survived by one son, First Lieutenant, in Detroit, and seven daughters, Misses Eva and Emma Land, at home;
Miss Jessie, at Detroit; Mrs. Bell, Hamilton; Mrs. Wilfrid Blackie, of this city; Mrs. (Dr.) Martindale, of Camden, N. J.; and Mrs. Knowles, of Hartford, Conn.

The remains will be brought to London tomorrow. The funeral arrangements are now being made.

CORRESPONDENCE

The Domestic Help Problem.
To the Editor of The Advertiser:

The question of solving the domestic servant problem, to which you call attention, may be tackled, but so are such things as fire protection and deep breathing, and we never hear the editor of them. Don't leave seeking remedy because the topic is time-worn.
Because, in my opinion, it is all a matter of raising the standard of household service. Our servant needs a little more appreciation—and a higher-sounding title. No doubt if she had been a graduate of a college of cookery, with the degree of D. S. (Domestic Scientist), she would have been given her worthy profession more honor.

In the matter of titles, the domestic servant of today gets "my maid." A few years ago it strikes us that "our girl" was the more satisfactory designation. The woman with "a maid" certainly takes every opportunity of letting her calling list know she has one.
The woman who has only "a girl" and calls her "Jennie" or "Rose" or whatever the name may be, is the one who can tell that in an experience of 22 years she had only three girls, and all of them left to be married. Call her "the maid" and you have social distinction; call her "our girl" and she will probably stay and be happy.
The woman with "a maid" has a little more social service mixed up in domestic service always helps. Several Londoners provide sitting-rooms for their girls and dismiss the routine of "Tuesdays and Fridays out." Why not permit the girl in the house a few more liberties? Yours very truly, A. HOUSEHOLDER.

London, Nov. 6.

This is an interesting subject. We should like to hear more about it from our readers.—The Advertiser.

2,900,000 GALLONS DAILY

The Supply at Springbank Was Greatly Overestimated.

Springbank is not producing the water that the majority of the citizens imagined. It will be remembered that prior to the installation of the Venturi meters at the pumping station, the pumping reports showed the daily consumption to run from 3,500,000 gallons to much above 4,000,000 gallons. As a result, the consumption of water was considered very large in this city.
Superintendent Gaults thought there must be some mistake, and at his suggestion a meter was installed at Spring-bank. It has been in operation for some time now, and has never registered more than 2,900,000 gallons. This is the maximum. At this time of the year the springs are giving their capacity, or practically so, and it is the opinion of the water commissioners that at no time did the city obtain more than 3,000,000 from the Springbank source of supply.
The total consumption now, with the wells, is about 4,500,000 gallons daily.

WANTED HIS MOTHER

Berlin Boy Who Was Lost Made His Way to Toronto Hospital.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

New Hamburg, Nov. 6.—The mother surrounding the disappearance of Roy McDonald, aged 9, of Berlin, who was staying at the hotel of his uncle, P. A.
Krause, here, has been solved. It is stated that the boy had been out walking and getting rides to Toronto, where his mother was in the hospital.
The lad had an irrepressible desire to go to the city, and started away suddenly without saying anything to anyone. A great search was made for him.

THE TEA PENALTY A STRONG MAN'S EXPERIENCE.

Writing from a busy railroad town the wife of an employee of one of the great roads says:

"My husband is a railroad man who has been so much benefited by the use of Postum that he wishes me to use it. He has thanks to you for the good you have done for him. His waking hours are taken up with his work, and he has no time to write himself.
"He has been a great tea drinker all his life, and has always liked it strong.
"Tea has, of late years, acted on him like morphine does upon most people. At first it soothed him, but now it has become a habit. It is only for an hour or so, then it began to affect his nerves to such an extent that he could not sleep at night, and he would go to his work in the morning wretched and miserable from the loss of rest. This condition grew constantly worse, until his friends persuaded him to quit tea and use Postum.
"At first he used Postum only for breakfast, but as he liked the taste of it, and it somehow seemed to do him good, he added it to his evening meal. Then, as he grew better, he began to drink it for his noon meal, and he will drink nothing else at table.
"His condition is so wonderfully improved that he could not be fired to give up Postum and go back to tea. His nerves have become steady and reliable once more, and his sleep is easy, natural and refreshing.
"He owes all this to Postum for he has taken no medicine and made no other change in his diet.
"His brother who was very nervous from coffee drinking, was persuaded by us to give up the coffee and use Postum, and he also has recovered his health and strength." Name given by

LESSONS FROM LONDON FIRE

Rev. Mr. Steeves Says Some
One Was to Blame For Big Fire.

PEOPLE OUT OF WORK

Some One Must Bear the Responsibility of Their Inconvenience and Loss, Said the Pastor.

Egerton Street Baptist Church was crowded to the doors Sunday evening to hear Rev. W. L. Steeves preach a sermon on "Lessons From the London Fire." Mr. Steeves took his text from Job 2:10:
"Shall we receive good at the hand of God, and shall we not receive evil?"
In opening his discourse, Mr. Steeves stated that the recent disaster seemed to have started a great many of us, and was wondering what part God had in this great burning down of so much of the business section of the city.

"No doubt somebody on earth was to blame," he continued. "There is no question about that. But we will leave that to the people concerned and to the proper department. I think it rests there. Coming at this time of the year, when a man can ill afford to be out of work, we say, can God be in that? It is impossible for us to see behind the scenes tonight and see the hand of God there, but I believe that God has worked it out to a great purpose and end."

Great Responsibility.
Mr. Steeves continuing, said that one of the lessons to be learned from the fire was that of the great responsibility that lies upon men.

"No doubt," he said, "someone was to blame for the fire, and I believe I am sure as I believe that this congregation is here, that if any man shirked his duty at that night or failed under his responsibility, God will hold him accountable. He will be held just as accountable as a man who stole a large sum of money, or a man who had kindled the blaze."

Mr. Steeves then went on to show how God would hold Christian men and women accountable for the lives they live. He also spoke of the fact that God is no responder of persons, or makes no preference.

"It makes no difference," he stated.
"When God says that a line of buildings will be consumed in a few hours, whether they belong to a church or to Kingmill. It makes no difference whether there was a thousand babies of silk thread, or whether there were a thousand babies. They all went the same way when God said they had to go."

Never Can Tell.
The speaker then dealt on how we never can tell when the hand of God will be upon us.

"These men," he said, "locked up their stores that night and went to their homes, and were there when the flames of any liability. In the night, a flame belches forth from the building, and they see all their hopes and ambitions burning before them."

In conclusion, Mr. Steeves dwelt upon the great benefit derived from insurance.
He stated that the day comes when buildings are insured was a god-send. It enables them to build again, and it will give back employment to the people who have been thrown out of work by the fire.

"I believe that every man and woman should be insured," said Mr. Steeves.
"Perhaps you will say you cannot afford it. That may seem a reasonable excuse, but let me tell you of men who have drinking, smoking and chewing and spend their money on insurance policies, they will find that it is the best investment in life. It is a god-send, if when a man dies and leaves no property or money for his family, they have an insurance policy on his life.
The great day is coming when the earth and the mountains will melt with burning lava, and the fire will reach from the centre to the circumference. Will we be fireproof on that day? Will we have a wall of protection built around us the day when the day comes? May it be that our lives will be lived in such a way that they will be insured for that great day?"

Buffalo Man, Well Known Here, Is Again
Named for Municipal Honors.

Ald. George Staples, of Buffalo, who visited London on Thanksgiving Day, in connection with the big banquet given by Mocha Temple, has again been nominated a candidate for municipal honors in that city, on the Republican ticket.
In that city, on the Republican ticket.
He is a leading figure in that party, and is considered a coming man. In addition to his activities in the political field, he is a prominent Mason, Oddfellow, a member of the Knights of Pythias, the Royal Arcanum and other bodies.

Ald. Staples has a large number of friends in London, who are watching his career with much interest.

The Moose and the Lily Pad.

The moose's love for the lily pad that floats on the surface of the northern lakes make him appear reckless and unafraid. In summer, even in September, the fishermen often cut him off from the shore, drive him into deep water and have fun with him. Sometimes, when the moose reaches shallow water and gets his hind feet on the bottom, he has an with the fisherman, smashes his canoe and makes him swim for his life.

However, after the shooting season opens the moose becomes more cautious.

There are thousands of moose around the lake Temagami. At North Bay you change from the Grand Trunk to the Temagami and get off at Temagami Station.

The big conflagration which destroyed seven stores, and caused much damage to two others on Friday morning, has at last spent itself. At 8 o'clock Sunday evening the firemen withdrew, confident that there was no further danger of the flames breaking out again. The men had been constantly on the scene for 64 hours, and the majority of them were very tired.

All day long Sunday the firemen worked amid the ruins, with four lines of hose. There was much debris in the cellars burning, and the men had to extinguish this to prevent another outbreak. Plenty of water was kept on the ruins until at last the coal burning in several basements was extinguished.

It looked as if there was no fire at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, but the firemen took no chances, and kept pouring water on the ruins.

At 8 o'clock it was evident that the fire had been finally overcome, and the firemen went back to the station with their apparatus.

Many Sightseers.
All day long hundreds of citizens walked down to the scene of the blaze.
Many drove in from the country, and spent much time surveying the ruins of the big stores. Policemen were constantly on duty to prevent light-fingered gentry. They found several taking some goods away, but most of them gave up their plunder.
Most of the walls still standing will be torn down today. City Architect Nutter made a tour of the ruins and found some of them unsafe. Along-

Losses Being Settled.
The insurance adjusters are busy at work. Mr. Andrew Durand is ad-justor for all the buildings burned, and he has practically finished his work. His appointment was made Friday morning, and he was soon at work, settling the losses.

Gray & Parker had their loss settled on Saturday, and were opened in the afternoon and evening. They are ready for business again.

There is an immense quantity of water in the cellar of R. J. Young & Co.'s store, and it will have to be pumped out. Fire Chief Aitken will send the fire engine some time today to pump the cellar out. There is no sewer connection from the cellar.

The work of clearing up the debris will be commenced at once.
"The building bylaw makes provision for fireproof buildings," said City Architect Nutter. "I will endeavor to see that the contractors are constructed there is not so much danger from fire."

The upper story of the Purdon Hardware Company's store will have to be rebuilt.
