Cabinet "Stands Pat" As Postal Men Prepare For Strike

POSTAL MEN ISSUE WARNING TO PUBLIC

Message Through Press Advises That All Important Mail Matter Be Posted Before 12 o'Clock Tomorrow—Government Remains Firm as Employees Prepare for Impending Strike.

RETURNS SHOW MAJORITY FAVOR WALKOUT

Ottawa, June 17.—A strike of the postal clerks throughout the Dominion is indicated by the following message which has been given to the public through the press by the secretary of the Dominion Federation of Postal Employees:

"The public are warned through the press that all important mail should be posted before 12 o'clock noon tomorrow. The warning of the impending strike has been conveyed to the local Retail Merchants' Association and the board of trade, who are calling emergency meetings to deal with the unusual situation. At the same time the government remains firm in its decision to stand behind the civil service commission's schedule of salaries."

INDICATIONS POINT TO STRIKE.

Indications this afternoon point to a Dominion-wide strike of 10,000 Canadian postal workers. Unless some action is taken by the Dominion government to bring the civil service schedule submitted by the civil service commission may be effected, or unless some other action is taken by the cabinet to conciliate the postal employees, it is expected that the Dominion executive of the Federation of Postal Employees before midnight will decide the question of a walkout.

Majority Vote Strike.

By 6 o'clock the time for turning in the vote of the workers from the Atlantic to the Pacific will have expired. This is later than the time originally set but the officials desired to give the employees in the eastern and western corners of the Dominion a little more time.

According to reports the returns made up to the present have been overwhelmingly in favor of a strike and if this is the case when the final count is made the executive will have little left to do but to set a time for a strike. The Federation which meets tonight is composed of representatives of four organizations of employees in the postal services. They are the Dominion Railway Mail Clerks, Dominion Postal Clerks' Association, Federation Association of Letter Carriers, Dominion Postal Porters, Mailmen and Transfer Agents' Association.

GOVERNMENT FIRM.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent.

Ottawa, June 17.—The government this morning has no intention of deviating from its attitude expressed by Premier King in the house yesterday with respect to the demands of the Federation of Postal Workers. Representations have been received by the premier from the mayor of Toronto and from other bodies and businessmen. These express the hope that a strike will be averted, but offer no suggestions as to how it shall be done.

From the official standpoint, the only intimation that a strike is pending is the statement made by the government through the newspaper. Neither to the prime minister nor to the acting postmaster-general has any ultimatum or representation of any kind been addressed by the postal workers themselves. There has been no official offer of compromise nor threat of a strike.

STRIKE PREDICTED.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, June 17.—With returns from branches all over the Dominion favoring a strike, the Dominion government takes some action to meet the demands of Canadian postal workers, officials of the Canadian Federation of Postal Employees are marking time today. Last night the Dominion executive passed a resolution calling on parliament to amend the civil service act so that the government would have power to amend the salary schedule brought down by the civil service commission, and federation authorities are anxiously awaiting developments. The resolution was in the hands of Premier W. L. Mackenzie King and members of the cabinet this morning. Final action will be taken by the Dominion executive of the federation at a meeting scheduled for tonight and unless the government acts a strike of the 10,000 postal workers in Canada is freely predicted.

Representations have been made to the government by municipal authorities, boards of trade and heads of large business enterprises, urging that a conciliatory policy be adopted. Never before has there been a postal strike extending throughout the Dominion and a tie-up would result in a serious situation. It is hoped that a considerable tie-up would result to their businesses, but could offer no suggestions as to how such an emergency could be coped with. There has been little discussion in an organized way to seek emergency moves.

MURDERER OF BRIDE IS CHASED BY RADIO

Police Piece Together the Romance of Geo. Cummings and 62-Year-Old Wife.

Associated Press Despatch.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 17.—Radio descriptions of George Cummings, said to be a Canadian, and wanted for questioning in connection with the murder of his bride of a week, were sent out last night in hope of cutting off the man's escape. He is thought to be traveling by automobile toward the international line.

The body of Mrs. Cummings, who was 62, but bobbed her hair and said she was 39, was prepared for shipment to Grand Rapids, Mich., last night.

Authorities have pieced together the story of the romance of George Cummings, travelling salesman, and his aged bride, Mrs. Dean Rae, who ran a boarding house. After the marriage in Grand Rapids they went in the bride's automobile up through Northern Michigan.

The body of Mrs. Cummings was found in a shallow grave yesterday, after a farmer had told of assisting Cummings to get his car out of difficulties. Cummings, he said, appeared to be excited and had offered him $5 for his services.

BELGIAN BALLOON IS STILL IN LEAD

Belgica Is Reported To Have Drifted Over England Last Night.

Associated Press Despatch.

Brussels, June 17.—The balloon Belgica, one of the entries in the Gordon Bennett Cup race, piloted by Lieut. DeMuyter, twice winner of the event, was reported to have drifted over England at 6:12 o'clock last evening. The Aero Club was informed today by a message timed 8:30 last night. After passing over Brighton the big bag drifted back toward the channel. The newspaper Derniere Heure, on the other hand, is in receipt of a telegram from Brighton reporting that the Belgica landed in England last evening.

Professor Jomotte, director of the meteorological service of the observatory of Brussels, thinks the balloon still aloft are probably moving southward over France toward the Bay of Biscay.

The Veenstra (French) which was sighted in the Rhineland took the direction of Dijon. It is thought the winner of the race will be decided by the available deservings of ballast.

WHITE INDIANS ARE FOUND IN WILD REGIONS OF PANAMA

Marsh Expedition Succeeds After Terrible Hardships in Unexplored Regions.

TWO DIE ON WAY

Previous Attempt To Penetrate Savages' Strongholds Have Failed.

Special to The Advertiser and North American Newspaper Alliance. Canal Zone, June 17.—The Marsh-Darrien expedition has discovered white Indians and will sail for New York in three weeks with the King of Darrien and two white Indians. This message was received here today from Richard O. Marsh, leader of the expedition into the previously unexplored wilderness of eastern Panama, which already has cost the lives of two members of the exploring party. Marsh's message said:

"The white Indians I am bringing with the King of Darrien are a boy of 19 and a girl of 21. They are golden-haired, blue-eyed and white skinned, and their bodies are covered with long, downy white hair. They are not the standard Albino type, but look like very primitive Nordic whites. We have discovered many strange, primitive white Indians, with evidence of a very ancient civilization. We have secured a large ethnological collection and fine moving pictures."

Two of Party Succumb.

In addition to Marsh, who is a civil engineer and explorer, the party, which sailed from New York on January 13 included Prof. John L. Baer, ethnologist and anthropologist, of the Smithsonian Institute, also of the party.

JUVENILE COURT IS SUPPORTED BY CHURCH

Such Is Situation Pointed Out by the Officials in Charge.

ACTION IS ASKED

Report On Work For Year Is Presented by Judge Warner.

Will the municipality of London continue to permit the office of juvenile court judge to be maintained by a church congregation? That is the situation which exists, and an ultimatum may be handed to the city council before long. In order that the services of the Rev. G. Q. Warner may be available as juvenile court judge, the parishioners of Cronyn Memorial Church have engaged an assistant for the past year. The city and county gets Mr. Warner's services and the church pays for an assistant to his rector, because he cannot completely attend to parish work.

In order to show a record of twelve months' operations, a statement has just been prepared by the juvenile court. It was completed last night and will be handed on to the council for perusal and discussion. The matter will likely be brought up by the special committee, of which Ald. McKay is chairman.

"It isn't fair to my congregation to ask them to continue as they are," says the reverend. "It is not their duty to maintain such a position, yet they have carried on without complaint for the past year."

"I am not asking to be paid for my services by the city. I am only saying that, if it is desired that I continue as judge, my congregation should be recompensed for what it pays my church assistant."

1,448 interviewed.

According to the statement just prepared, 1,448 individuals have been interviewed during the past twelve months. All these might have been juvenile court cases, but, thanks to the work of Major Bradshaw, probation officer, this number was cut down greatly. Out of 227 cases which were serious enough for police court charges, had it not been for juvenile court attention, only 27 developed into court proceedings being made.

The department costs the city $3,450 in rent, salaries and supplies. Fines and other indemnities secured by the court resulted in $200 being returned to the city. The court is not intended to be a revenue producer, but assessments are made where citizens would have to pay damages to the other side of the road. Duncan started to follow him, but stepped in front of a car and was knocked down.

ALD. SMITH REPRESENTS CITY AT U. E. L. SESSION

Alderman Edwin Smith left the city early this morning for Belleville, where he will represent the city at the gathering of the United Empire Loyalists. He was the only member of the council who could get away to make the trip, and was appointed official representative of the mayor. He expects to be back tomorrow.

MAN HURT WHEN TRUCK HITS CAR, RECEIVES $300

The county court case of Alphonse Driessens, 74 Colborne street, against the London Street Railway and Silverwoods Ltd. for $300 damages has been settled out of court for $300 in full of claim. J. C. Elliott, K.C., solicitor for the defendants stated today.

The street railway will pay $175 and Silverwoods $125, Mr. Elliott stated.

Mr. Driessens was injured on the morning of June 9, 1923 when he was a passenger on a street car, struck by one of Silverwoods' trucks driven by Murray Johnston. The accident occurred at the intersection of Rectory and York streets.

The text was withheld from publication until such time as a simultaneous announcement could be made in Tokyo and Washington, probably Thursday.

United States newspapers were asked to refrain from a patriotic duty from attempting any forecast or description of the note in advance of its being officially made public.

Woman Republican Member Firmly Believes Coolidge To Return to White House

Mrs. B. E. Marks, in City as Guest of Brother, Prepares Campaign.

NOT SUFFRAGETTE

Declares Women in Politics Because Housecleaning Appeals.

Eighteen women attending the National Convention in Chicago four years ago, represented feminism in the Republican party of the United States.

In the convention which just closed at Cleveland, four hundred and twenty-three duly elected delegates and alternates were indicative of an enormous calvalcade of women lined up across the continent to march the elephant of the G. O. P. into the most decisive victory it has yet known.

Mrs. B. E. Marks of Phoenix, Arizona, who represented her state at the convention as the National Committee woman, is a guest in the city with her brother, Borge Lewis, of Hamilton road. Mrs. Marks, herself, is a woman whose abilities have been linked up within the past three or four years with the Republican party. An ivory elephant, mascot of the grand old party, swung on a ribbon about her neck, in an interview this morning, and the elephant loomed large in all her statements: loomed large enough in fact to quite convince one that a sweeping smashing Republican victory was as sure as tomorrow, and that President Coolidge will add re-election to the list of campaigns in which he has never yet suffered defeat.

Army of Women.

But the most striking thing of all that Mrs. Marks had to tell was of the remarkable leadership in a group of women who are ready to march under the Republican banner. More ready to recognize the feminine influence than the Conservatives, who are only this year allowing the concession of half a vote, the Republicans at the last convention decided to make the women delegates properly qualified voters. They were first made associate delegates, but this year they were properly elected by their constituents. The women took their seats at the convention on a fifty-fifty basis with the men. Mrs. Marks, who is a duly elected member of the Arizona Republican party, has announced her candidacy for another term, was made the national committeewoman, and as such took her seat with forty-seven others on the convention platform.

Mrs. Marks does not allow Republican sentiment to influence a sound opinion. She is a woman of the world, and she is not a politician. She will stand for the vice-presidency, and be elected.

"They are the sort of men who are so seldom found running for office," she said. "Both are men of business ability and sound judgment. The one is a politician, the other is a statesman. No man in such a short space of time has ever taken such a hold of the American people."

Elected Each Time.

"Few men share Coolidge's record for having been elected in each campaign he has entered. Few men ever rise so triumphantly from the well-known political graveyard of vice-presidency."

"General Dawes is a man of equal ability. He is not a politician, and he would handle the vice-presidency as well as a political position, but as a business appointment."

"With the combination of two such men I don't see how we could be beaten."

Nor could anyone else! Mrs. Marks' enthusiasm for the right things in the government is sustained by the insight of states politics four years ago, when she was one of those who assisted in electing Governor Campbell. It kept her in the limelight sufficiently to win her own election to the Arizona legislature.

NEW FRENCH GOVERNMENT HOLDS GRIP ON GERMANY

Herriot and Doumergue Insist on Fulfillment of Ruhr Promises.

POLICY REVEALED

Cabinet Stands For Disarmament of Germany by Allied Nations.

Associated Press Despatch.

Paris, June 17.—The declaration of Premier Herriot's cabinet, submitted to parliament today, affirms that the Ruhr will not be evacuated until the guarantees provided in the experts' report have been set up.

Other features of the declaration include a pronouncement for the restoration of normal relations with Russia.

The declaration calls for prompt ratification of the remaining treaties signed at the Washington armament conference and of the international labor convention and the conclusion of peace with Turkey.

The ministry stands for the disarmament of Germany by the Allies, and as soon as possible by the League of Nations. It would find a solution of the problems of France's security through guarantee pacts under control of the League of Nations.

Application of the income tax law, with a revision of the direct taxes, especially those on food and the business turnover, in the next budget.

Reduction of the floating debt by large consolidation operations is on the ministerial program, as well as re-organization of the army and other internal measures of economy. The cabinet promises amnesty to political offenders with the exception of traitors and mutineers.

Suppression of the French embassy at the Vatican is another feature of the foreign policy.

BILLS PREPARED.

Associated Press Despatch. Paris, June 16.—The Herriot cabinet has prepared three bills for introduction in the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon. One of these is an amnesty measure. The second provides for ratification of the Lausanne peace treaty with Turkey. The third is a bill to repeal the Poincare measures authorizing laws by decree—the measures the Poincare government had put in force as a means of bolstering up the failing franc.

DOUMERGUE'S MESSAGE.

Associated Press Despatch. Paris, June 17.—General Doumergue, France's new president, in his first message to parliament today, declared Germany, before the reparations experts report was put into effect, must prove his good faith. Such proof, he insisted, must come "from facts and not from mere engagements without previous assurance of fulfillment."

"France's conciliatory spirit, which is sincere and indisputable," he continued, "cannot go so far as to lull as a quibbling and make her forget the lessons of the past."

The president laid stress on the statement that France could not rescue the world from the control which the treaties give her the right to exercise over Germany.

SCHOOL DEPOSITS SHOW INCREASE

Total in Past Two Months Is More Than Double of Former Years.

TRAFALGAR FIRST

Deposits from London public schools in the Penny Bank of Canada have shown large increases for the months of March and April. For March there was over $2,500 more deposited during March of this year than for the same month last year. During April there was nearly $1,000 more than for the same month in 1923.

In London schools deposits during March for the last three years have been: 1922, $1,610.89; 1923, $1,615.33; 1924, $4,205.11. For the month of April over the same period the deposits were: 1922, $1,292.77; 1923, $1,673.21; 1924, $2,571.32.

For March and April of this year children of Canadian schools loaned $100,877.93 to the government. Average deposits for the pupils of 20 public schools of London was 48 cents per month during March and April. This stands up well in comparison with the average for all the Dominion of 39 cents.

Trafalgar School pupils led the others with an average of 84 cents. This is a high mark for any school in Canada. Cornwall led other school centers in the Dominion with an average of $1.14, far above any other.

Average deposits for London schools were: Aberdeen, 44 cents; Alexandra, 37; Boyle Memorial, 41; Chesley, 26; Ealing, 34; Empress, 56; Knollwood Park, 61; Lord Roberts, 44; Lorne Avenue, 31; Pottersburg, 28; Rectory Street, 27; Riverview, 78; Ryerson, 50; Simcoe, 72; St. George's, 73; Talbot Street, 46; Tecumseh, 71; Trafalgar, 84; Victoria, 24; Wortley Road, 41.

ICE BREAKING UP, M'MILLAN RADIOS FROM THE ARCTIC

Noted Explorer Preparing To Move Soon From Icebound Refuge Harbor.

LOTS OF DAYLIGHT

Experiment of Taking Wireless Into Far North Declared Great Success.

Donald B. MacMillan, explorer and Arctic radio expert of The Advertiser and the North American Newspaper Alliance, is preparing to move within a short time from ice-bound Refuge Harbor, in the north of Greenland. This is the word brought by the latest radio message to be received from his vessel, the Bowdoin, which sailed north last summer carrying radio equipment into the Arctic for the first extended experiment in air communication to and from polar regions.

That MacMillan's latest message got through to this continent in spite of increasing daylight is cited by the success of his experiment.

The message, picked up in Canada, was relayed to Hiram Percy Smith, president of the American Radio Relay League, at Hartford, Connecticut. It reads:

"We are having good weather here now. Daylight most of the time now. Temperature around and thawing. Ice breaking up. Expect to start home soon now. All well."

The message was picked up at its terminal by S. Kruse, operator of amateur station 10A and 1X4Q at Silverlane, Connecticut, just outside of Hartford.

It reaches Kruse from amateur station 3HG, operated by G. L. Deichman of Baltimore, Maryland, and was routed to Hartford through Canadian stations 4RR and 9FB.

As finally received at Hartford, the radiogram did not make clear which Canadian station actually made contact with the Bowdoin.

During his many months in the Arctic MacMillan has frequently been in communication with radio stations and has reported that the rigors of Arctic exploration were mitigated to a great extent by the reception of radio messages and broadcast features.

MacMillan's operator is Donald Mix, who was chosen by many members of the American Radio Relay League.

Their costumes had been aptly chosen. The play was introduced by Miss Topley Thomas, the director, who explained the object of the Workshop and just what they were accomplishing.

The cast was as follows: Solinus, Duke of Ephesus, Mrs. C. Lampkin; Aegeon, Miss Jennie McCallie; Antipholus of Ephesus, Miss Bessie Shaver; Antipholus of Syracuse, Miss Leona Kirkwood; Dromio of Ephesus, Miss Ruth Tanner; Dromio of Syracuse, Miss Margaret Griffiths; Balthazar, a merchant, Miss Marjorie Partridge; Angelo, a goldsmith, Miss Gertrude Dumaresq; First Merchant, Miss Dortha Coleman; Second Merchant, Miss Helen Holt; The Officer, Miss Rose Tingley; Aemilia, an Abbess at Ephesus, Mrs. J. ## NEW PLANTS PREPARED FOR SCHOOL GROUNDS

Arrangements are being made today for the securing of new plants for flower beds in the school grounds of the city.

Following the completion of the tulip season, new plants are being ordered by Secretary W. A. Tanner of the board of education for each school. Principals select varieties of their own choice and there is a pleasing range of summer flowers available.

Some $300 will be expended on the new flowers, and these will be secured through the public utilities department. Principals and school janitors will see to the planting.

NEAR EXPLAINS HOUSE SHAKING

Says Badly Fitted Car Track Joins Cause Cars To Jar Ground.

The complaints registered by the residents of the Wharncliffe road north and on Adelaide street, from Pall Mall to Oxford streets, as to the noise and the shaking of houses caused by the street cars, is due, says the city engineer, to the fact that the joints of the rails on these streets do not fit and that as the cars jump over them they jar the houses at the side of the road.

At the present time, the street railway has gangs busy on Richmond street and the Hamilton road taking out these badly-fitting joints and putting in new pieces of rail and welding the new piece to the old rails, thus removing the cause of the jarring and of noise.

Engineer Near asserts that on streets with a concrete pavement these repairs are practically a permanent job, as the thick bed of concrete, with a very small range of temperature, protects the rails from expansion and contraction to a certain extent, and that the rails will remain in place by the majority of cases through winter and summer heat.

On the Wharncliffe road, where the rails are lying on the old ties, many of which are rotten, the repairs are of a temporary nature at best, and may have to be made every year. The question was brought up by Alderman Forrester last night at the council meeting, and the engineer was instructed to see what might be done to remove the annoyance.

JUBILEES DROP ANOTHER IN LONDON LIFE LOOP

The Jubilees lost their third straight game in the London Life Soft Ball League yesterday afternoon, when they went under to the Super-Selects by the close score of 9 to 7.

Both W. McLaren and C. Norton of the Super-Selects were the umpiring of the game, and the umpire was stilling added interest into the contest. J. Smith and L. Dalglish did the receiving for the winners and losers, respectively.

The standing of the league to date follows:

|               | W. | L. | P.C. |
|---------------|----|----|------|
| Canadians     | 2  | 0  | 1000 |
| Successes     | 2  | 0  | 1000 |
| Super-Selects | 1  | 2  | 333  |
| Jubilees      | 0  | 3  | 000  |

The teams will meet on Friday afternoon at the big picnic being held at Port Stanley. The fur is sure to fly, for one team must lose.

DISPLAY OF BANK CHECKS BRIGHTENS TAX OFFICES

In the tax collector's office hung on hooks on the wall for the benefit of tax paying citizens are checks of the various banks. They make a picture of color in the drab office. There are 15 of them and they range all the way from pale green to orange.

There are two a brilliant sky blue. There are two of a pale lemon. Then there is a cheerful strawbererry shade on one check, and the rest are saffron, green, buff, and merely a dirty gray, according to the whims and fancies of the presidents of the banks concerned.

PARTY WILL BRAVE WRANGEL DANGER

Carl Lomen Heads Expedition To See If Charles Wells and Companions Alive.

By D. M. LEBOURDAIS, Correspondent of The Advertiser and North American Newspaper Alliance.

Nome, Alaska, June 16.—A new expedition will brave the Arctic this summer to Wrangel Island, North of Siberia and will leave a memorial at the grave of Lorne E. Knight, who was one of the four men who perished on a previous expedition. His sole companion, Ada Blackjack, was brought back to civilization last year by a relief expedition headed by Harold Noice, whose dramatic account attracted widespread attention when published in The Advertiser.

The new expedition announced today is the project of Carl Lomen of Nome, Alaska, head of the great reindeer industry of Alaska. Vilhjelm Stefansson, the explorer, who has been active for several years in trying to hold Wrangel Island as a British territory, has disposed of his interests in Wrangel Island to Lomen. On the island a party composed of Charles Wells and thirteen Eskimos was left by the relief expedition of last year. This year's venture will determine whether the Wells party, which was fully equipped, has survived or whether it has met the fate of Knight and his companions on the bleak isle around which many others perished in the past.

One reason for the present leadership of Lomen is the necessity of sending an expedition this year and determining which determined Lomen to become, for the time being, king of Wrangel Island.

Carl Lomen is the son of G. J. Lomen, former mayor and federal official, one of the first to reach Nome in the gold rush of 1900. The Lomen family has been active in the development of Alaska.

RUSSIANS OF OPINION CZAR'S ASHES FOUND

Hope Remains May Some Day Rest in Native Soil.

Russians in Paris are newly inspired by a hope that one day the ashes of their former Czar may be laid in a fitting monument on Russian soil. There are many thousands of Russians who are refugees in Paris and among whom has been aroused a feverish interest by the statement of General Janin, former head of the French Mission to Siberia, that in 1920 he brought to the Czar his remains to his native land, where some day hopes to see them suitably honored in his native land.

Some credence has been given previous statements that the remains of the Czar had been brought to France, but General Janin throws a new light on the affair in his statement that on several occasions prior to his murder, the life of the Czar could have been saved by the Czar's own general staff. General Janin states that the ashes were confided to him by General Diederichs and M. Gillard, tutor of the Czar's children, from whence he brought them to France.

Convention of International Rotary Clubs Officially Opened In Toronto

ROTARIANS OPEN BIG CONVENTION

President Gundaker in Annual Address Emphasizes Value of Service.

RUNS ALL WEEK

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, June 17.—Truly cosmopolitan—a city of the universe—is Toronto today, with its thousands of visitors from practically every land under the sun, gathered here to further the cause and radiate the spirit of Rotary at the fifteenth annual convention of the organization which opened at the grounds of the Canadian National Exhibition this morning.

Representatives of twenty-eight nations parade her streets and crowd her hotels, stores, amusement resorts, each bringing customs of a life that is new to the Canadian city, but all merging under the banner of blue and gold that aims at international understanding and good fellowship. For four days will the co-wheel of Rotary dominate the social life of the city, and its circle will run the gamut of service endeavor and entertainment in a program that overshadows anything ever before attempted by the hosts of the great organization.

Mammoth Spectacle

The convention was really ushered in last night with the mammoth spectacle specially arranged for the visitors before the grandstand of the Canadian National Exhibition, where twenty-five thousand people, thrilled to the unfolding of the story of the accomplishments of peace, told in vivid and colorful pictures. All the elements that go to make entertainment, all the beauty and color that make its own special appeal, and all the value of service and lends to an ideal for all mankind, were combined with great achievement which left an impression deep and significant.

Trains, steamships and automobiles were bringing visitors to the city early today, and it is expected that still many hundreds will register at the exhibition grounds before nightfall. Glorious summer weather greeted the delegates as they assembled in the spacious Transportation Building this morning for the opening business session. An ideal spot for the gathering of the people of Rotary is the grounds of the world's greatest annual exhibition, situated close to the waters of Lake Ontario, and where cool breezes temper the warm sun and brilliant green, well-kept lawns lend beauty to the huge buildings which house the convention.

President's Address

Shortly after 10 o'clock Rev. E. Leslie Pidgeon, of Winnipeg, invoked divine blessing on behalf of the delegates. He was followed by a song of welcome from the Toronto Rotary Club, and the official address of welcome by Frank H. Littlefield, responses were made by Thomas D. Hunter, of Edinburgh, Scotland, and Hon. George Fowle, of Auckland, New Zealand. The convention was called to order at 11:15 by President Guy Gundaker, who in his address stressed the value of service and straight dealing between man and man.

"Until men meet on the common ground of honest business methods there can be no world fellowship of businessmen," he declared. The convention adjourned for lunch after hearing the president, and met again at 2:30, when there was a presentation of general officers, district governors and trustees. The social program for this evening includes district dinners, moonlight trips on Lake Ontario, garden party by Toronto, and a luncheon at the city hall.

CITY ALMA DAUGHTERS CARRY OFF BANQUET CUP

Miss Stella Venning Is Re-elected President at St. Thomas Gathering.

The London branch of the Alma Daughters carried off the cup at the annual Alma Daughters banquet, held in the dining-room of the college, St. Thomas, last night. The cup was won for taking in the greatest number of new members during the year. Another interesting feature of the banquet was the presentation of a beautiful silver trophy to the Alma Daughters in memory of Miss Flisk, beloved dean and founder of Alma College. The gift was from Mrs. Nason of Toronto. Mrs. Lumley of New Haven, won the prize for coming the farthest distance to the banquet.

Miss Stella Venning, of this city, presided over the banquet table, which had been attractively decked with the school colors, blue, red and yellow. Dark blue iris were used effectively, while at each place were pretty favors. Mrs. John Rose, of this city, was the chief speaker of the occasion, her subject concerning mainly the different women's organizations which make up the great National Council of Women.

Preceding the banquet, in the afternoon, a meeting of the Alma Daughters board was held, which Miss Venning was re-elected to the office of president. Other officers are: Vice-president, Mrs. Curtis of St. Thomas; secretary, Mrs. D. J. Robertson of London; treasurer, Mrs. Still of St. Thomas.

Special mention was made of the Pick scholarship, which is given annually by the Alma Daughters. Among the Londoners who were present were: Miss Stella Venning, Mrs. R. E. Edman, Mrs. D. J. Chambers, Mrs. A. T. Edwards, Miss Hawkins, Mrs. F. W. Hughes, Mrs. Curtis, Mrs. Thompson, Miss Gertrude Morgan, Mrs. L. W. Hawke and Miss Bradshaw.

ONLY WOMAN FREEMASON.

Lord Castleknock, in a book of memoirs tells how one of his wife's ancestors, a Miss Helen St. Leger, became the only woman Freemason. Working in an alcove adjoining a lodge room she unintentionally overheard an initiation ceremony. Through intercession of a cousin she was made a Mason on the spot as the hosts of the great organization.

BRITAIN IS BLAMED FOR MEXICAN STATE

London Times Comments On Threat To Expel British Agent.

Associated Press Despatch. London, June 17.—The incident involving the attempt by the Mexican government to expel Herbert C. Cummins, British agent, fixes the attention of the press today on Great Britain's relations with the Obregon government. Some of the commentators declare the problem has not been well handled by this country, the Times saying:

"It is a pity that Sir Thomas Holcher or another diplomatist who knows Mexico equally well was not sent in there at about the time of the United States' negotiations with Obregon. Mr. Cummins has shown himself a fearless advocate of British rights, but owing to the peculiar relations which have long existed between him and the Obregon government he is manifestly not the man to conduct negotiations demanding unusual patience and tact."

The Daily News, while agreeing that Cummins' only crime has been too much zeal for British interests, cannot see "what good purpose the British government can serve by insisting upon being represented by a person so manifestly obnoxious to the Mexican authorities."

"If we are going to wait for a stable government in Mexico," it adds, "we may have to wait a generation. A government which is good enough to pass the tests applied by the United States ought to be good enough for us."

BEAUFORD STREET GRAVEL PIT BOUGHT FOR $4,000

The new gravel pit which the city will open up in London West is to be situated on Beauford street. Last night in the council meeting permission was granted to purchase the property at a cost of $4,000. The city engineer explains that he will use over 1,200 loads of gravel from this pit this year, and that he will save about 25 cents for every load, as compared with a pit further away from the city work being done.

NEW GAS HEATER LIKELY FOR THE COUNTY JAIL

Duncan Gordon, reeve of Delaware and chairman of the jail committee of Middlesex County Council, will be in the city on Thursday to inspect the county jail and order any repairs deemed necessary. It is expected that the jail will receive some new cast-iron and a new gas heater, so that the prisoners will receive plenty of hot water for baths and shaving.

Sun Having Lost Its Pep Is Blamed For Cold Wave

With regard to the freak weather they have been having for a season past, farmers of the district would be highly delighted to know just when it was going to end. So far, however, meteorologists and weather experts have been able to give them nothing more satisfactory than an explanation of how it is caused. These eminent gentlemen declare that the sun is losing its pep, and that this is the cause of the farmers suffering from effect, but more than ever helpless to reach the cause.

The sun's listlessness and general inattention to duty is also blamed for an epidemic of summer overcoats, toothache, and tornadoes. Professor Henry J. Cox, of the United States Weather Bureau at

ISLAND FROLIC LEADS TO COURT

Four Old-Timers Appear With Rubbing Alcohol—One Fined $50.

GAVIN'S PREY

Four old timers of police court fame and three partly-filled bottles of rubbing alcohol were the prey of Constable Gavin Monahan in a raid conducted on Becher's Island yesterday afternoon. All the men were convicted on charges of intoxication and some hot-shot advice was handed out by Magistrate Graydon. One man, who appeared regularly of late was fined $50 and costs or 30 days in jail, while the other three were assessed the usual $10 or thereabouts.

One guessed he was a little drunk. He was found under a tree with his shoes off. None of the men would lay claim to the bottles, and the court finally dismissed the charge of having liquor in other than a private dwelling laid against one of the quartet. He was seen throwing a bottle away by Constable Monahan, but claimed he had picked it up to look at it. Monahan turned two bottles side by side and the other four feet away.

"You shouldn't pick up a bottle of liquor that doesn't belong to you. That is a dangerous thing to do," the court warned the prisoner, charged under section 41 of the O. T. A. One prisoner insisted he hasn't drunk, but Constables Monahan and Williams and Sergeant Middaugh all declared he was.

"What were you doing to him? Didn't you hit him over the head with a door lock?" asked Mr. Braden. "Not the door lock," replied the witness. "I hit him with shoes."

"Didn't you throw a knife at him?" demanded Mr. Braden. "That's a lie," flatly denied Mrs. Bardwill.

"You've been calling the police on a number of occasions?" "Yes. He nearly killed me 2½ years ago."

This finished the cross-examination. Denies Any Assault.

Mr. Bardwill denied that there had been any assault. He had not made a move toward his wife, he declared. Witness said he was lying in bed and his wife had stuck a hatpin in his face. He had not deserted his wife and had left money in the bank for her when he went away was that she wanted to get his house away from him.

"He raises Cain all the time," declared the witness. "The assault is a trivial one."

"Surely there is some way of protecting this woman," stated Mr. Douglas.

"You might bring an action for alimony," suggested the court. "They shouldn't be acting this way. I'll advise them not to quarrel."

Members of the Listowel Chamber of Commerce and Motoring to London tomorrow and will be met at Brough's Bridge at 12:30 by Mayor Wenige, several of the aldermen, and representatives of the London Chamber of Commerce. The party will then motor to Springfield where lunch is being served in the pavilion at 1 o'clock.

Following the luncheon, the visitors will be conducted on a drive through the city and will end up at Victoria Park where a public meeting will be held, to which all of the citizens are invited. The Listowel band will render several selections during the afternoon.

Speeches of welcome will be given by Mayor Wenige and T. W. McFarland of the public utilities commission.

LOCAL STRAWBERRIES TO BE READY IN WEEK

Plentiful Crop Expected, But the Season Will Be Short.

Strawberry growers of the district report that home-grown berries will be for sale on the local market within a few days, and that they will be better than those of last year, but in the opinion of growers will not last more than two weeks.

The farmers point out that it is usual when a late spring prevails, to have a short berry crop. The blossoms all seem to come on at the same time, which means a heavy supply of berries for a couple of weeks, followed by a scarcity.

This time last year, home-grown berries were competing with American fruit on the market. The season this year is two weeks late.

FUNERAL OF A. E. WARDEN. The funeral of Albert Edward Warden was held from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Warden today. He died in St. Joseph's Hospital on Sunday.

He was four and one-half years old and was the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Warden.

Rev. Mr. Chapman conducted the services at 2 o'clock.

Interment took place in Woodland Cemetery.

HAT PIN WAS USED. HUSBAND CHARGES

But Court Dismisses Assault Claims of Mrs. George Bardwill.

USES CLOTHES BRUSH

The domestic troubles of Mr. and Mrs. George Bardwill, 233 Hyman street, occupied the attention of Magistrate Graydon for half an hour this morning, and was terminated by the court dismissing the assault charge laid by the wife.

A. R. Douglas, appearing for the plaintiff, asked the court to bind Bardwill over to keep the peace, and that if this were not done, it would merely mean another court case, with additional evidence.

That Mr. Douglas had the right "dope" on the matter was borne out when the participants left court, for there was an immediate jangling of voices that was plainly audible just outside the doors.

Mrs. Bardwill complained that her husband had been away since March 11 and came home two weeks ago. He had become enraged over a money matter and had twisted her wrist and used a clothes brush on her. He also picked up a chair, but she had run out of the house.

"Cross-examined by J. A. E. Braden, Mrs. Bardwill admitted her husband had not struck her with the brush, but had just "pushed" it against her.

"What were you doing to him? Didn't you hit him over the head with a door lock?" asked Mr. Braden. "Not the door lock," replied the witness. "I hit him with shoes."

"Didn't you throw a knife at him?" demanded Mr. Braden. "That's a lie," flatly denied Mrs. Bardwill.

TWO BADLY BURNED AS LAMP EXPLODES

Miss J. Baker and J. J. Hill Victims of Mishap—Another Suffers From Shock.

The explosion of an oil lamp at 10 Shiders street last night caused the injury of two people and another has been made seriously ill by the shock of the fire which followed the explosion.

Miss Bessie Baker who was sitting in the room when the lamp exploded had severe burns about the face and hands. J. J. Hill, who ran into the room when he heard Miss Baker cry for help, is also suffering from severe burns, and is about blind from the effects of the burning oil. Due to his age Mr. Hill is in a serious condition and a physician has been in attendance since the fire.

Mrs. Hill was the victim of a heart attack due to the shock of the fire and her condition is critical. The blaze was confined to one room. It is not known what started the explosion. Miss Baker was trimming the wick when suddenly the lamp blew up and she was enveloped in a mass of burning oil.

CITY TAX PAYMENTS NOW TOTAL $1,800,000

Treasurer Well Pleased With Response—Total Roll Is $3,000,000.

Of the total tax roll for the year, which is $3,000,000, about $1,800,000 has been paid into the office of the city tax collector up to last night which was the last day for the payment.

This means that the large majority of Londoners have paid the first two instalments in one payment. The city treasurer says he is well satisfied and that this is on a par with the usual rate of payment in the city. He congratulates the tax collector and his staff on the strenuous work they have put in the last four or five days working from nine in the morning to nine at night, and regrets only that they have such an inconvenient place as the existing tax office in which to give the city service.

DISTRICT CONSTRUCTION WORK IS IMPROVING

Though not particularly busy, construction work improved last week in and around London. Such is the encouraging feature of the bulletin issued from the local office of the employment service today.

The women's department was reported rather slack, with the exception of general domestic help, in which class the demand exceeded the supply. The office was able to fill all calls for women for work by the day, however.

The employment situation throughout the province was not written up in particularly optimistic note in the general summary of the bulletin listed. A bountiful harvest in Ontario and other provinces of the Dominion is being looked to relieve the situation materially for the fall and winter months.

ARRANGING PICNIC. John Manning and P. C. Hooper are chairman and secretary, respectively, of the committee in charge of the arrangements for the annual picnic of the six local camps of the Woodmen of the World, which is to be held at Springfield Park on Saturday, July 5. It is expected that between 800 and 1,000 Woodmen and other visitors of the Dominion will attend the big picnic this year.

PREPARE FOR CAMP. The executive committee of the Woodmen of the World met in the head office of the order this afternoon to make the final arrangements for the sessions of the head camp, which will open here tomorrow afternoon in the club rooms over the Imperial Bank.

Delegates have already begun to arrive in the city, some being present from Winnipeg, Port Arthur, Ottawa, Kingston and Toronto.

Among the many prominent citizens who were present and assisted in making the decoration services in the local cemeteries such a success on Sunday afternoon were: Mayor George Wenige and Mrs. Wenige, Lieut.-Col. Ware, representing Brig.-Gen. W. F. M. King, Mrs. Ware, representing the Girl Guides, Col. Hill, representing the R. C. R. and Col. Murphy, doctor on the Heights.

News From City Churches

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

A splendid paper on "Memories of a Curse or a Blessing" was presented last evening by Mr. Gordon Fonger at the regular meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Southern Congregational Church. Plans were made for a meeting to be held June 29, when Mrs. S. F. Lawison will give a talk on her recent trip. The Scripture lesson was given by Miss Ruth Rudbeck, and the devotional part of the evening was in charge of Miss L. Rudbeck. The business meeting was presided over by the president, Dr. H. Taylor. Solos by Miss Eula Hilton were greatly enjoyed.

A very fine program of sports, which featured the day's events resulted as follows: Choir boys' race, Ruth Hodson, George Tucker, men's race, Bart Robinson, James McCormick, ladies' race, Lilian Adams, Gladys McMillan, ballroom dance, Eunice Jarvis.

WELLINGTON STREET LEAGUE. Mr. Trace of the teaching staff of the technical school was an interesting speaker at the meeting of the Young People's League of Wellington Street Methodist Church, which was held under the direction of the citizenship department last night. The resignation of the third vice-president was accepted and plans for the presentation of a program at Wellington Street were made. The meeting was presided over by M. Muma.

PAY LIST OPENING SESSION IS DELAYED

Mayor Will Go to Toronto to Attend the Rotary Convention.

By having to go to Toronto on Thursday to attend the Rotary gathering the mayor will miss the meeting of the public utilities commission, and thus have no official opportunity to ask the commission when it intends handing over its salary list to the city clerk for publication. He had intended doing this on Thursday, but previous engagements make it impossible, and it will have to wait for another and more favorable season. While the mayor has the right to attend the commission meeting, he cannot delegate any member of the council to take his place as one or two of them wished, and accordingly the questions remain in status quo until the next meeting of the commission. In the meantime the city year book is being held up, as all the other material is in the hands of the city clerk, and ready for the printer.

PAY LIST OPENING SESSION IS DELAYED

Mayor Will Go to Toronto to Attend the Rotary Convention.

By having to go to Toronto on Thursday to attend the Rotary gathering the mayor will miss the meeting of the public utilities commission, and thus have no official opportunity to ask the commission when it intends handing over its salary list to the city clerk for publication. He had intended doing this on Thursday, but previous engagements make it impossible, and it will have to wait for another and more favorable season. While the mayor has the right to attend the commission meeting, he cannot delegate any member of the council to take his place as one or two of them wished, and accordingly the questions remain in status quo until the next meeting of the commission. In the meantime the city year book is being held up, as all the other material is in the hands of the city clerk, and ready for the printer.

RIVALRY IS KEEN FOR PIPERS' CUP

The Advertiser Offers Another Trophy For Annual Scottish Games.

AT PORT JULY 23

At Port Stanley on July 23 the Caledonian Society of Elgin and Mid-Lothian will hold its annual highland games and the swing of the kilts will share with the skill of the pipers in the honor of the day. The Advertiser cup for the pipe band championship of Ontario will be competed for and the Ingersoll band, which won the trophy last year is coming back to accept the challenges of Windsor and the W. O. R. band of London.

In the individual piping contest there promises to be a duel between Piper "Jimmy" Hamilton of the W. O. R. and some three or four pipers from Western Ontario who have the fancy that they can blow a spig better than "Jimmy," and intend to tell the world that they can on July 23.

Reports from Ingersoll and Windsor state that these bands are practicing regularly and that they are coming to the lake with the best pipers that ever squeezed a tartan bag.

As for the W. O. R. London's representatives, judging by the airs they played last night and the fine, clean playing of their pipers, the visitors will have to travel far along the road of pipe music to take the cup back to the respective cities.

The Advertiser is presenting another individual cup for the best piper similar to the cup won by Jimmy Hamilton last year, which carries with it the championship of the province, just as the band cup does.

If any citizen doubts the facts of Scottish settlement in this part of the Dominion, he is invited by the executive to come down to the port on the gathering day and see for himself. Highlanders, in the past, war, and tossing the caber are all on the program for the day and there is no prettier place for the earb of old Gaelic than the shore of the lake under the shady trees which line the cliff side above the port on the lake shore.

WHITE INDIANS FOUND IN WILDEST PANAMA

the faculty of George Washington University; Dr. H. L. Fairchild, geologist of the University of Rochester, and Dr. Chas. M. Broder, zoologist of the American Museum of Natural History in New York. The explorers met hardships and dangers from the beginning, entering the jungle from the Atlantic side along the Chucunaque river. About two months ago, a young attaché of the Panamanian government, who was assigned to the expedition, succumbed to exposure and diseases, and two weeks ago Prof. Baer died of chagres fever.

Many attempts have been made to penetrate the savage Darien region since the occupancy of the Spaniards, early in the sixteenth century, but all previous efforts have failed. The Indians were treated so cruelly by the Spaniards that they swore eternal enmity to the white man and all who ventured up the Rio Darien, on the west of Chucunaque on the east have been killed.

German Expedition Failed.
A determined effort was made by a German in the spring of 1908, with the view of conquering the one half-crazed man, who left the party before they reached the country of the Darien Indians, returned. Before entering the Darien, members of the expedition predicted that if the white Indians were found, the discovery would be among the most important of modern times in its bearing on the origin of the human race. with under special statutes referring to the percentage of children resulted in $7,072 being contributed to be paid in over a period of sixteen years. That is looked upon as a saving to the city as keep of children of unwed mothers would have to be paid either by private or public charities.

Few Repeaters.
There is a small percentage of repeaters," said today. "Most of the children who came back a second or third time are on suspended sentence. We try to eliminate the cause of wrong doing."

In juvenile court, 249 boys were dealt with and seventeen girls. Boys were chiefly between the ages of eleven and sixteen, while the youngest girls were thirteen.

Only six boys and four girls were committed to industrial homes, and only one boy broke detention. There was a wide variety of offenses. They included shopbreaking, larceny, disorderly conduct, vagrancy, truancy, indecency and breach of civil bylaws. In 100 cases of some 269 treated, 160 were made wards of the city. Sixteen were made wards of the Children's Aid Society, the Soldiers' Aid Commission took over nine, and nine are being cared for in private homes.

Tells What "A" For.
"G stands for George and W stands for Wenige and the A in the middle is for Action," says the mayor in answer to a question as to how he manages to stand the strain of 70 meetings a month and business as well in this hot weather.

CANADIANS SUCCESSFUL IN VAUDEVILLE.

Success on the New York stage and first-class vaudeville circuits throughout the Eastern United States and Canada has come to two Canadian sisters. Seldom do "sister acts" become successful during their first season in "big time" vaudeville, but the Misses Violet and Edythe Walsh of Toronto have put their act over big.

WESTERN CONDITIONS GOOD, SAYS OFFICIAL

Morley Aylesworth, of Huron & Erie Staff, Returns From Tour.

Morley Aylesworth, assistant general manager of The Huron & Erie Mortgage Corporation, who has just returned from a tour of the western provinces extending into British Columbia, brings back a very favorable report of conditions generally.

He says he is not in the least pessimistic as to business conditions in the west, and that while the farmers there are forced to retrench in many ways, the majority of them are making money and are working their way clear of the depression which followed the post-war boom. They are beginning to settle themselves down to a new wheat time, and base their living on a lower price. They realize that $2 wheat is a thing of the past, an unnatural condition, and by some economies are getting through the changing conditions satisfactorily.

business demoralization all over the country. Federation officials state that the results of the strike are beyond expectation. If the same percentage of those favoring a strike is maintained in the final returns, the decision will be for a walk-out.

Canadian Press Despatch. Winnipeg, June 17.—Local postal workers unanimously decided to extend to the eastern postal federation their sympathy and co-operation in any means they may take to change the attitude of the government in regard to the new wage scale. It was stated, following an executive meeting last night.

STEWART HOPEFUL.
Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, June 17.—When asked this morning what the government intended to do in the event of the postal workers going out on strike, Hon. Charles Stewart, acting postmaster-general, said: "We have not issued any ultimatum to the postal workers and we hope they will reconsider their decision."

"What are the government's plans in regard to the maintenance of the postal service?" the minister was asked. "Well, if the government had any plans they could hardly be given out just now," was the answer.

Hon. Charles Murphy, postmaster-general, who has returned to Ottawa from the south, was not expected at his office today.

VACCINATION IS URGED, BUT NOT COMPULSORY

Charrin was expressed today by a party of Londoners who had just returned from Detroit. Before going to the Michigan metropolis they had been told that vaccination was compulsory, and that they would have to exhibit doctor's certificates if they could return across the border. They became vaccinated, and made their visit to Detroit. No one asked for their certificates or bothered if they had been vaccinated.

It is apparent that those who want personal protection may do well to be vaccinated, but there is nothing compulsory about such an operation.

PLUMBING BYLAW COMES UP TONIGHT

Representative Citizens Will Gather To Settle Puzzling Problem.

The plumbing bylaw comes up for revision and adjustment tonight by the board of health at a special meeting at 7:30.

Members of the Real Estate Owners' Association have been invited to attend as well as Dr. W. H. Hill, dean of the Institute of Public Health and all master plumbers.

At the last meeting of the board to discuss this question, the mayor, using a Webster's dictionary, discovered that a plumber was a worker in lead, in an effort to secure what is meant by the word plumber in the application form. An expert in the plumbing business in the city says that if that is the case, then about 90 per cent of the so-called plumbers with the dollar an hour sign tacked up prominently on their wage schedule are no more plumbers than a turnip or a turnip.

The criticism of the present bylaw is that it is too vague in its wording and that it imposes unfair restrictions on the plumber by making them buy their materials from a plumber and employing a plumber to do all the work. The friends of the bylaw argue that the plumber can mean owner as far as the application form goes and have the opinion of the city solicitor to back them up.

For 7:30 sharp and ringside seats are going up every hour.

BRITISH TO INVEST IN ONTARIO MINES

Minister of Mines Sees Great Development Following Influx of Capital.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, June 16.—Commencing immediately, Hon. Charles McCrea, Ontario minister of mines, who returned to his office today after a month's visit among the mining and financial men of England, foresees an era in which Ontario mining industry will receive tremendous impetus and development from the influx of investment money from the Old Country.

His mission overseas was to make known to the British financial men the opportunities for mining investment which Ontario offers, and to give the British money markets the accurate and first-hand information about Northern Ontario which Mr. McCrea thought they needed to encourage investment in Ontario. He knows of substantial investment funds that Ontario is to receive immediately as a result of his mission.

"During the time of my visit to London the empire congress of mining and metallurgy was held, mining men from practically every country in the empire were in attendance, and it is not boasting to say that the mineral resources of Ontario are much more widely known today than six months ago," said the minister.

The government's attitude of encouragement and fair dealing toward capital and mining in Ontario, said Mr. McCrea, had had visible results in England. Capital, he said, is very shy of unfair regulations and legislation, and the government of Ontario is one of the few governments under which there were mining investment opportunities. Ontario now stood in first place in the world in the production of copper. Capital might expect reasonable co-operation.

Deputy Minister of Mines T. W. Gibson is leaving for London in mid-July to represent the Ontario mining industry during the exhibition.

That preparations have been made to supply Canada with a heavy tonnage of Welsh coal was the information brought back by Mr. McCrea. The minister stated that Sir Alfred Mond, in co-operation with others, had entered into the production and shipping of Welsh anthracite for Canadian consumption, to such an extent that already the price of anthracite in Montreal is lower than it has been for some time.

"By autumn," said Mr. McCrea, "this coal will be easily available in Canada. There is a whole fleet of boats ready to engage in the transatlantic shipment. The coal is better than the American product to which we are accustomed, and I believe it will make a fuller statement later."

CITIZENS ARE THANKED FOR DECORATION DAY SUCCESS

The officials of the G. W. V. A. and E. F. Chapter of the I. O. O. F. wish to thank all persons who helped to make the Decoration Day parade such a great success.

It is the intention of these organizations to make a visit to each cemetery on a Sunday next year. Due to the large number of graves in St. Peter's Cemetery, it is almost impossible to visit Woodland and St. Peter's on the same day, which was done this year. The Sunday nearest to the 15th will be the day on which Mount Pleasant will be visited, as this is where the Cross of Sacrifice is located.

PIPE GOES IN DISCARD AS SUMMER APPEARS

Tobacconists of the city point to the decreasing sale in packages of A. W. Wilson and also to the fact that the pipe smoker as simultaneous with increased sales in cigarettes.

"Men don't want to be bothered with the pipe and the cigarettes as well in their summer clothes," said one vendor of smokes today, "so they turn to fags during the warmer months."

American cigarettes are making a stand on the Canadian market just now, and as those sold in local shops include duty as well, they are a more expensive than the Canadian blends. However, there appears to be a fair sale of them, due possibly to appetites formed when customs restrictions were not so strict.

CANADIAN SHIP LOST $73,400 ON INDIAN TRIP

Sir Henry Thornton Tells the House Committee of Marine Operations.

BOATS TIED UP

South American Countries Have Monopolized Chilled Beef Transportation.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, June 17.—A single voyage of a Canadian government merchant ship to India resulted in a loss of $73,400, Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railway, told the house committee on national railways and government merchant marine this morning. Sir Henry was giving evidence on the operation of government ships.

Sir Henry told the committee that when all the cost of the traffic was taken into consideration, the profit on carrying cattle to the United Kingdom was only $2.52 per head. He placed the cost of carrying cattle from Canada to Great Britain at $17.48 a head and the revenue at $20. Discussion of the merchant marine brought out the fact that the vessels of the Canadian government merchant marine had carried none of this traffic last year. The trade was practically monopolized by the Argentine, Brazil and Uruguay. Sir Henry expressed opinion that carrying chilled meat would be more remunerative than carrying cattle on the active than carrying cattle on the active.

He said that the new service inaugurated between Vancouver and the United Kingdom, via the Panama canal, showed considerable promise. Five of the smaller boats of the government merchant marine were tied up at Montreal and two at Halifax.

"CONFEDERATION FATHERS" BREAK CITY WINDOW

"The fathers of confederation" paid a visit yesterday to the office of the assessment commissioner for the city and smashed a window. The fathers did not stop to express their sorrow or to make any apology, they merely continued on their serene way to the basement and left broken glass on the floor of the commissioner's sanctum.

The fathers of confederation is the remains of what was once a print of the oil painting, and at one time hung in the council chamber of the city hall. During the recent spring cleaning it was found to be a useless encumbrance and was accordingly lowered to the basement. It was during this journey that the window of the assessment commissioner was broken. As the weather is warm he says he is comfortable.

LINE FENCE ROW BRINGS $10 FINE

G. B. Marshman Testifies the O'Brien Clan Grew Warlike.

MET WITH CLUBS

A neighborhood quarrel over a line fence in Caradoc Township brought Walter, Frank and John O'Brien to county police court this morning, charged with assault by George B. Marshman. Walter O'Brien was fined $10 and costs, while the case against the other two members of the family was dismissed.

Marshman said he lived on the Longwoods road, next door to the O'Briens. There had been some difficulty over the line fence and last summer fence viewers were called in and gave their decision. He had attempted to build his portion of the fence several times and the O'Briens had objected.

Last Saturday he again made the attempt with several men, and they were met by Walter and Frank O'Brien, armed with clubs, who threatened to hit them. He and his men took down five rods of rail fencing and started to put up posts for a wire fence. The young men came back with John and Matilda O'Brien, witness said, and John shoved him away from the post.

"I stepped over to their side of the fence to get the Indian's hat and Walter hit me with a spade and I was thrown into the seat of the pants," stated Marshman. "We quit work then, and they dug out the five posts I had put in."

"You were a little pugnacious, weren't you? You were spitting on your hands and doubling up your fists?" asked John Marshman, counsel for the defence.

"Yes," admitted Marshman. "I was a little mad. Maybe I was ready for a fight."

The defendants denied that the complaint had been handled roughly, and thought the case should be dismissed.

J. G. Gillanders appeared for Marshman.

MAYOR DENOUNCES COUNCIL FOR ACTION IN TENDERS

Mayor Wenige deprecates the action taken by the council last night in refusing to accept the lowest tender in the case of the city hall printing of envelopes and motion pads on the ground that the bid was too low to allow of the proper quality of work or material.

"It is not the business of the council," he said, "to do more than see that the tenderers pay a union wage, as is enforced by the bylaw governing it, and to see that the firm is a responsible one. To say that any tender is too low to allow of a profit for the tenderer, or to say that the city hall will not allow of the right material or workmanship, is going beyond its bounds, in my opinion. That is entirely a matter for the man who is doing the tendering. It's up to him to know what he can do for a certain price and what he can't do. It's setting a dangerous precedent and I, for one, am opposed to it."

POPULARITY OF TENNIS INCREASING IN LONDON

Two tennis courts at the Thames Park playgrounds were out of commission for a short time this morning while repairs were being made to the nets. Tennis is showing increasing popularity in the city hall and private courts of the city.

In order to get satisfactory accommodation this year permits are issued in the city hall for those who wish them, and in this way courts may be reserved ahead of time.

DOROTHY DALTON STARS AS CROOK

Drama of Thieves in Paris and Normandy Appears At Loew's

VAUDEVILLE GOOD

Dramas of crook life laid on our own continent are usually engrossing. They are more so when their stage is set in Paris and Normandy, and an Austrian criminal and his beautiful daughter hold the center as in "The Moral Sinner." One of the most interesting things in which Dorothy Dalton has yet appeared, the picture is feature of the current bill at Loew's, and in addition to first-class vaudeville, makes an excellent program.

By the apparently simple expedient of always appearing as the figure of an interesting story, and by maintaining her part of the bargain with unvarying good work, Dorothy Dalton has kept to the front rank of film stars.

Her pictures are always of a calibre sufficiently strong to draw out the most ordinary vicissitudes. The story of "The Moral Sinner" is that of a beautiful woman who was a thief. She became a thief, because she was the daughter of a criminal, and because it seemed the line of least resistance, and also because her father was always cleverly touched up for her by a ring of Robin Hood romance. With the entrance of love, however, and the attendant dramatic incidents, Leah Kleschna's penchant for dark nights and safe doors is abruptly terminated. Happiness follows her as far as Normandy, once the thief is driven out, and with a fluttering peasant bonnet vanishing down a beautiful winding road, one realizes that a lovely story has come to an end. Adequate direction, settings and supporting cast supply all the details necessary to a first-class picture.

No tea so good as RED ROSE—Advt.

SIX CYLINDER LOVE LOUDLY APPLAUDED

Audience Greatly Enthusiastic Over Latest Offering of McGarry Players.

AT GRAND THEATRE

"Six Cylinder Love" is the latest New York success to find its way to the Grand Theatre at the hands of the McGarry Players. They presented it last night to an audience so tremendously enthusiastic that it hampered proceedings several times with an overpowering applause. Since the latter is food to the profession, to use a trite expression, that McGarrys can open a cafeteria for a week.

At all events "Six Cylinder Love" was one of the most laudable presentations the company has offered. Hardly less exacting than any of its predecessors, the play was yet given with a homely ease and sympathy that made it at once interesting and appealing. For the last act, particularly, the Burton and Sterling families' fortunes were the most important things in the world to the particular audience there last night. So completely fascinating are they that even though one knew definitely that Mr. Stapleton would arrive in a softened mood before the curtain fell, his shadow falling across the threshold nevertheless is the most surprising shadow that could at any moment fall across that particular threshold.

The Hard Employer.

Mr. Stapleton, be it known, is the hard employer—hard from a certain point of view one might take, but generous from that of the young clerk, who realized that the bills were lined with men whose intentions had been equally as honest as his, when he borrowed $5.00 from his employer's cash drawer.

When one remembers that "Six Cylinder Love" has been hammering its moral from the boards these years past, there is only one conclusion to be drawn.

Times are better and more people can afford cars, because in the face of such a stringent lesson as that given the young Sterlings, people could simply not go on buying cars who could not afford them. The Sterlings, like the Burtons, could not afford a car, but they mortgaged their home to purchase the car, which the Burtons were giving up because they had found the cash purchase price of an automobile was only the initial payment.

CHANGE COSTS JAM FIRM TWENTY MILLION DOLLARS

Associated Press Despatch.
London, June 16.—The reconstruction proposal of the firm of Crosbie & Blackwell, famous jam manufacturers, which was floated as a public company during the industrial boom which followed the war, involves the writing off of more than $4,500,000 capital as lost to the concern. One of the biggest mistakes of the firm was in moving its principal factory into the country from London. It is now decided to have this factory returned to the city.

Business is Good

To-day business is good—Every day shows definite sustained progress.

Savings Bank Deposits have increased since December by $12,552,769 or over 10%. Freight Car Loadings have increased by 9.7% over a year ago.

The movement of grain represented by cash receipts is 23.6% greater than a year ago. The balance of trade (that is excess of exports over imports) is 15.7% greater than a like period of last year.

The Canadian Bank Clearings for the first four months of 1924 are 5.6% greater than during the same period of 1923.

Hundreds of individual business houses have increased sales. In our own business, not an isolated case by any means, the months of January, February, March, April and May show substantial increases over the same period a year ago or any of the past three years.

Take a trip down the Main Street of any leading city. People are not staying at home. They are buying from leaders who by their enterprise and thought have made it worth while for them to buy.

True, business is not what it might be in some quarters. That is caused chiefly by lack of effort to make business better. From this same cause unemployment has developed in industries that should show improvement.

Every business house must recover that daring spirit of enterprise—that spirit of sane optimism—not only in trade, but in civic and national affairs.

Fortune will not turn the wheel of better business for us. It is the task of every business executive to turn that wheel for himself and his business by harder work and by more aggressive enterprise. KEEP BUSINESS IMPROVING.

$100,000 IS STILL DUE TO METHODIST PASTORS

Superannuation Fund Secretary Predicts Shortage in Salary Requirements.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, June 16.—There is still $100,000 due to Methodist ministers in Canada on last year's salaries, Rev. R. J. D. Simpson, secretary of the superannuation fund, announced at today's session of the Toronto Methodist conference. He predicted that there would be a big shortage of funds to meet the salary requirements again this year. Nevertheless, Simpson condemned any efforts to save us from a commercial ministry, he declared, and indicated that just as soon as a minister started to sell real estate it was time to leave the ministry, for men who entered the ministry should give their life to the church. He thought there should be some plan to carry ministers over the period when they had not regular preaching stations so that they would not have to enter commercial pursuits.

BILL TO STOP EVICTION OF TENANTS RESTORED

House of Commons Rejects Amendments Proposed by Lords.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, June 16.—The House of Commons tonight, after debating the government bill for prevention of the eviction of tenants who do not pay their rent because of unemployment, rejected all the amendments proposed by the House of Lords. The government was aided by the Liberal vote, and the bill, restored to its original condition, will go back to the House of Lords, which may either persist in the amendments or accept the decision of the House of Commons. In a subsequent debate on a measure dealing with street traffic, the government sustained an adverse vote, which, however, had no political significance. The Labor government will still be in power in the fall, in the opinion of Premier MacDonald. He declared in the House of Commons today that he was perfectly certain that the November session would be reached without a general election.

SCIENTIST READY TO TALK TO MARS

Simple Radio "Hookup" Is Made To Carry Out Experiment.

MUSIC OF SPHERES

Mars Needs Beam of Searchlights To Start Talking to Earth.

By L. F. PARTON.
Special to The Advertiser.
Auburn, N. Y., June 17.—Theodore W. Case, scientist of this city, was two years ahead of European physicists in listening to the stars. While the cables have just brought the news of the success of General Gustave Ferrie of France, in making audible the "singing of the stars," Case was the first earth-dweller to be admitted to the stellar concert. If Mars, when she swings closer to the earth this summer than she has been for a hundred years, has anything to say to the earth, Case has an apparatus which will receive her message.

By placing a photo-electric cell at the focus of a paraboloid mirror, and connecting it with a radio "hook-up," Case gets from Mars a high-pitched musical note, broken by a steady flow of "signals" almost like a dot-and-dash code.

Hears Stars Twinkle.
Being a careful and conservative scientist, Case does not interpret the signals as Martian Morse. His theory is that the broken sounds are due to the refraction of the light through atmospheric layers of varying density—in other words he simply hears the stars twinkle. But at that, Case has "plugged in," in the event that Mars, or any other planetary neighbor, wishes to say hello to us. He is one of the foremost scientists of the world in the exploration of problems involving light reactive phenomena, and has a complete, completely equipped laboratory for research in this field. It was after years of patient experimentation that Case heard the first faint impulses—the first ever returned to the earth—traversing the stellar deeps.

What Mars Needs.
Basing his assertion on an authoritative study by P. R. Basset, Case estimates that if Mars wishes to reach us by light signals this summer, he will require a bank of two-hundred sixty-inch searchlights. If Mars is ready with a beam of this magnitude, the earth can receive her signals. However, it will be necessary to await the message on a high mountain top, where the air will be thin enough to assure freedom from interference by the twinkling of the planet.

But how could we possibly communicate with Mars, having no basis of language or experience? The astronomers believe this would be easily solved. We would have in common the solar and stellar universe, common opposition, attraction and repulsion of planets, which it is believed would quickly result in evolving a new inter-planetary cosmic language which would gradually include more and more the concepts of time, and spatial relationships, heat and cold, distances, light and dark and other fundamental concepts of the universe which might be shared by sentient beings.

May Avert War.
If the folks on Mars get to talking to Case they will like him. Some astronomers are now saying that the Earth stole the moon from Mars. If the Martians are angry about it, and want their moon back, Case will tell them a funny story and put them in good humor. And, unlike many scientists, he seems able to speak almost anybody's language.

"Of course I don't know whether there are living beings on Mars or not," he said. "Nobody knows. Furthermore, nobody knows whether if there is life on the planet, it has evolved to a point at which communication would be possible. But it doesn't seem reasonable to believe that the infinitesimal earth should be the only house of life in the infinite universe. It is our job, as scientists, to reach any possible mechanical means of communication—and this has been accomplished. If there are beings on Mars as intelligent and competent as those on the earth, we can strike up a conversation."

Case described his apparatus—simple indeed, it seemed, in view of its momentous use. With a "Thalid" cell, which Case has perfected, and a specially prepared audio bulb, any radio amateur can reach out into space and hear the light years and brag to the boys at light years about how he "got Arcturus last night."

10,000 ROTARIANS BESIEGE TORONTO

Delegates From Many Countries Gather As World Convention Opens.

CELEBRATE PEACE

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, June 16.—To promote understanding, good will and international peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men, 10,000 Rotarians are gathered here from all sections of the civilized world for the fifteenth annual convention of Rotary International, to be called to order at Exposition Park tomorrow morning.

The convention will continue in session four days, and will end with the election of officers on Friday. Former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois will be one of the chief speakers. Reports will be made on the progress of the work of developing codes of ethical practices in business and professions, and the influence of Rotarian members of national, international, state and provincial trade and professional associations, and the work of the Rotarian Club administration will be discussed.

Seek President.
A president and eight directors will be elected, a new administration coming into Rotary every year. The leading candidates for president are Everett W. Hill of Oklahoma City, at present first vice-president; Harry Bert Cradick of Minneapolis, and Frank H. Lamb of Hingham, Washington.

Chicago, Cleveland and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, are the leading cities bidding for the next convention. With a fleet of strange but much belated ships in Toronto harbor, and the arrival of a score or so of special trains, bearing delegates from all parts of the continent, the greater international Rotary convention made its impression on the permanent and "floating" population of this city today. The ships were steamers of various capacities, and the delegates, mostly from the United States, Canada, the Great Lakes and the Atlantic coast. They brought in contingents from New York, Massachusetts, Ohio, Michigan, and other states, with a good sprinkling of Rotarians from several provinces of Canada. Most of the delegates were well leavened with detachment and fair weather.

Thousands Have Arrived.
Entertainment features for the big gathering began tonight with a huge pageant in front of the grandstand. It was an historical pageant, staged by the Rotary, and commemorated the memory of more than a century of peace between Canada and the United States, and calling attention to the tribute to the spirit of friendship and hospitality shown to the visitors by Toronto. He added:

Indebted to Canada.
"Rotary is deeply indebted to Canada for their great contributions toward Rotary progress," he declared. "In acknowledging your kind words of welcome I wish also to express public appreciation for the services of your fellow-countrymen in our world-wide movement."

"It is with great pleasure that I learn of the purposes to which your countrymen have devoted their efforts during your administration. I understand that many gatherings have been held here to bring about a better understanding and closer friendship between the peoples of this city, the province of Ontario and the Dominion of Canada. It is therefore fitting that Rotary, which seeks a world fellowship of business and professional men, should have its initial welcome in a building which has been devoted to such splendid uses."

About 1,000 motor cars will be put at the disposal tomorrow of the women here for the Rotary delegates, and the city will be a scene of receptions and parties have been arranged for their entertainment.

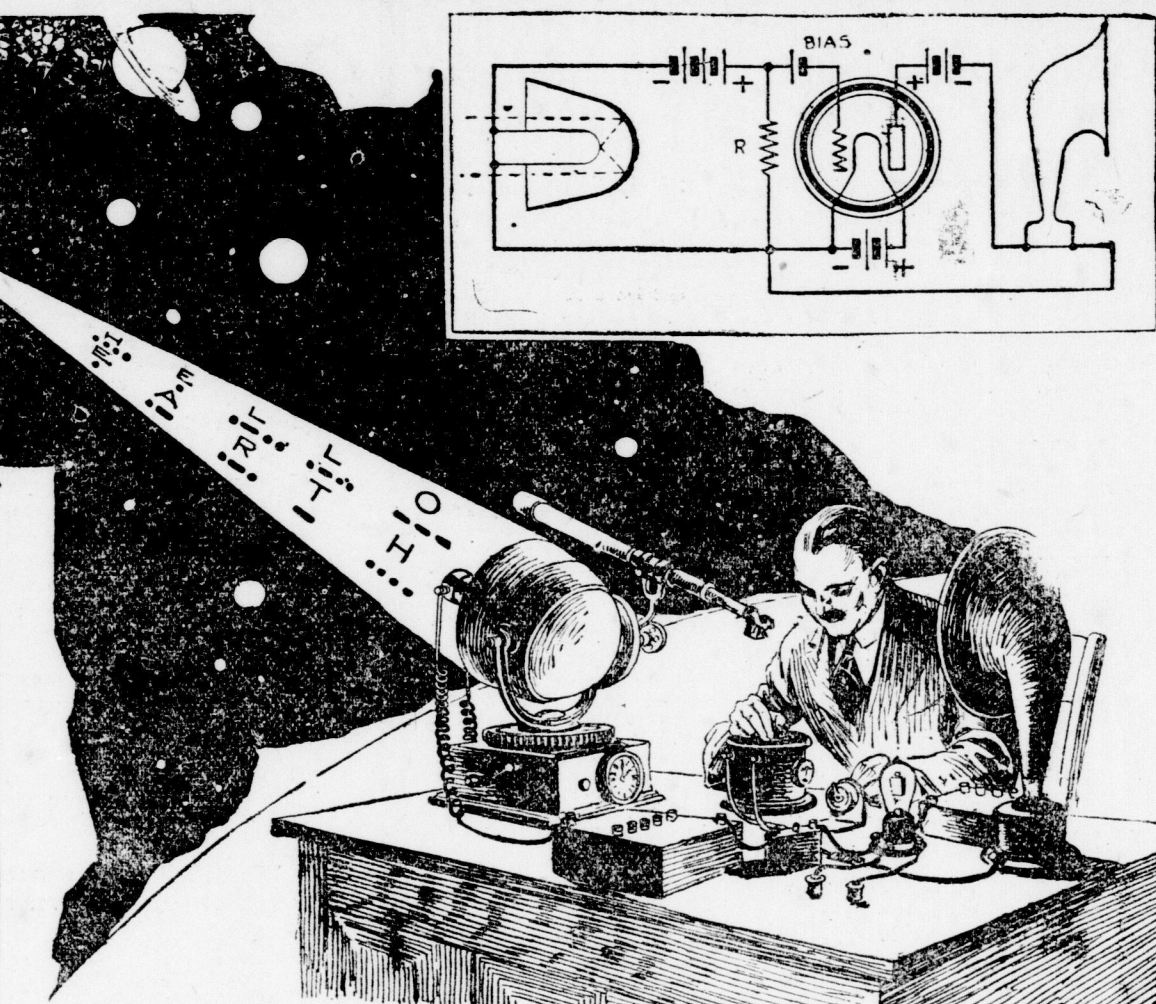

More than one hundred delegates represent the 150 Rotary clubs in the British Empire. There are three delegates from Sydney, Australia; the Johannesburg, South Africa, delegate, F. J. Stephenson, represents the Rotary clubs from the Union of New Zealand has sent six delegates, while every Rotary club in the United States and Canada is expected to have at least one representative.

France, Uruguay, Brazil, Peru, Argentina, Chile, Cuba, Mexico, Panama, Japan and China have all sent delegates.

MOTHER WOUNDED BY SHOT AT SON'S TARGET PRACTICE

Canadian Press Despatch.
Drumheller, Alta., June 16.—Mrs. R. S. Patterson, was accidentally shot by her 11-year-old son at their farm, 14 miles south of Wayne, on Saturday afternoon.

The mother was in an outbuilding and the boy, not knowing she was there, used it for a target with his twenty-two.

Here is the apparatus by which Theodore W. Case, Auburn scientist, is "listening to the stars." At the upper right is a diagram of the "hook-up," which receives the star light, through the paraboloid mirror, and translates it into faint electric impulses, amplifies it in the audio bulb at the center and gives it out, in a high musical note, broken by a dot-and-dash code, through the loud speaker at the right. The diagram, which is for the reception of sub-audible light signals, provides for straight amplification. The light cell is brought right on to the filament grid of the audio bulb, with an appropriate resistance hook-up, with a high vacuum in the bulb. A disruptive discharge takes place between the filament and the plate, causing the continuous musical note in the horn. The signals come in as a change of pitch of the continuous note, due to change of resistance of the photo-electric cell. The effect is amplified by keeping the plate filament on to the grid. This is the apparatus which was first used two years ago in listening to the stars and planets twinkle.

CITY HOLIDAY BYLAW SUSTAINED IN COUNCIL

Big Majority Vote Against Board of Works' Recommendation For Repeal.

SOME COMPLAINTS

Thomas Adams Will Be Asked To Complete City Plans.

By a vote of ten to two the city council decided last night that the bylaw giving all city hall employees, who have been one year in the service of the city, two weeks' holidays with pay should be sustained against the recommendation of the board of works, which asked for its repeal. The two members voting in favor of repealing the bylaw were Aldermen Greer and Towse.

It was also unanimously agreed, on the motion of Alderman Douglass, that a request be made by the council to the federal government in view of the recent redistribution of political representation that the city be given less representation rather than more.

The only objection was registered by Alderman Greer, who thought that less representation rather than more was the essential need of the Dominion at the present time. He, however, agreed to the motion.

Street Cars Noisy.
Alderman Douglass told the council that he had received several complaints from people living on the Wharfside road north, and on Adelaide street between Oxford and Pall Mall, that the noise of the street cars on the tracks was keeping them from sleeping, and the city engineer was instructed to see what might be done to lessen this annoyance. He also asked that the engineer should meet the London Street Railway heads to see why the paving of the intersection of Richmond and central avenue could not be finished at once, as it was part of the work included in the 1923 program for Richmond street.

Thomas Adams, the author of the town-planning plan of the city of London, will be asked to complete his original contract with the city, making such arrangements for the completion of the plan through Mr. Seymour and an appointee of the city engineer for the sum of $1,300, as agreed on by Mr. Adams last year.

Further Absence Granted.
In the recommendation to give Referee Inspector McCallum a further two-months' leave of absence with pay, the mayor was the only dissenting voice in the council. He thought that to carry out this proposal of the finance committee was setting a precedent which would have to be followed in future cases, and might involve the council in a difficult position, as every employee of the city would be entitled to the same treatment.

A labor delegation that included John Colbert, Arthur Mould, Rud. Hessel, Gordon Wright and William T. sat through a prolonged council meeting until 10 o'clock, when the holiday bylaw came up for discussion, and as the bylaw was upheld they merely sat and looked on without saying anything.

"Why should there be any amendment to a bylaw that has already received the sanction of the council?" asked Alderman Douglass.

Greer Can Tell.
"Alderman Greer can tell you," suggested the mayor.

"The question came up at the meeting of the board of works, arising out of a letter of the engineer," answered the chairman of the board, "and it is simply a recommendation to the council."

In a search for the responsibility of bringing up the question, Ald. Towse saved the council some time by stating that he accepted full responsibility for the bylaw, and personally not in favor of the two-weeks' holiday.

"I can't understand why the bylaw has been questioned," said Ald. Kay. "I don't see why such a letter should come to the board of works from the city engineer at all. Other

CHURCH UNION BILL COMES UP TONIGHT

Progressive Leader Moves Early Hearing and Disposal of Measure.

GETS PRECEDENCE

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, June 16.—Robert Forke, Progressive leader, moved in the House of Commons just before adjournment this evening that the church union bill, which stands in his name, be the first order of business for Wednesday next, and be given precedence over all other business of the House until disposed of, unless disposed of tomorrow evening.

The motion was seconded by H. Putnam, (Liberal, Colchester). Mr. Forke said that he hoped that the bill would be reached tomorrow evening when the private bills were taken up at 8 o'clock. Therefore he was going to ask if the prime minister, with the consent of the House, would set apart Wednesday for consideration of the bill, if it was not disposed of on Tuesday, in order to expedite its disposal. The importance of the bill placed it in the same position as a public bill, he said.

William Duff, Liberal member for Lunenburg, objected to the motion as unusual. Interested members should have been consulted, he objected. He had made an important engagement in Montreal for Wednesday.

As this motion required unanimous consent, it must stand over until Wednesday when the order is called and consent may be given. The delay speaker said.

PREPARE FOR UNION.
Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, June 16.—Presbyterian and Methodist conferences are to go on with their work in preparation for the first meeting of the general council of the United Church of Canada. This was the advice given to Toronto Methodist Conference today from the law and legislation committee of the uniting churches through Rev. Dr. W. R. Young of Toronto, who has been acting as Methodist representative at Ottawa.

"June 16, 1925, is the new date set for the union bill to take effect," said Young, "so far as we can see it is now. A large number of communications are being received by the Cabinet. These are being referred to reason why the paving of the intersection of Richmond and Central avenue was not being done, and added that no time had been done for the same reason that no paving could be done this year on any city street where the company had tracks under the terms of the franchise."

Alderman Towse asked for the support of the council to do away with the left and right hand turns at the corner of Richmond and Dundas street on Saturdays, declaring that the traffic problem at this corner was a serious one for the city to consider. He was not able to get a second, however, and the motion was withdrawn.

Usual Immediacy.
The city engineer told Alderman Douglass that "the usual thing" was the London Street Railway."

POSTMEN DEMAND LAW TO ALLOW GOVT. ACTION

Ultimatum Is Sent To Parliament by Executive of Federation Calling For Change in Law Giving Power To Government To Deal With Critical Situation.

FIX TIME LIMIT OF TWENTY-FOUR HOURS

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, June 16.—The Dominion executive of the Canadian Federation of Postal Employees passed a resolution this afternoon, which was forwarded to Ottawa tonight, calling on parliament to amend the federal act so that the government would have power to deal with the situation caused by the postal employees' refusal to accept the salary schedule recommended by the civil service commission.

This action by the executive of the federation was taken in view of the statement by Premier King that final power in regard to the salaries of the civil servants rests with the civil service commission, and the government is powerless to interfere unless the act is amended.

The government and parliament, federation officials said, have been given 24 hours in which to make a satisfactory reply, and if it is not forthcoming by tomorrow night they expected a strike call will be issued at once. It was explained that a strike could not be called until all the returns from the voting had been received, which will be tomorrow night at 6 o'clock.

Strike Favored.
Officials intimated tonight that every return from the men received so far, and which includes a large portion of the Dominion, has shown a majority in favor of a walkout if the schedule recommended by the civil service commission is insisted upon.

The Dominion executive's resolution censured the present members of the civil service commission of Canada for the manner in which they had handled the postal situation. It was held that while all right in theory the commission had not functioned according to the act. Not only had it disregarded the claims of the men, but it had rejected the proposals of the Canada postoffice department itself. Proposals of wage schedule put forward by departmental heads of more than a year ago in postal work were rejected as valueless by members of a commission that knew "little or nothing of the actual situation."

Well Prepared.
It was reported today that well over 90 per cent of the postal workers are in favor of an immediate strike call.

It was stated that the employees were well prepared to finance a strike, a per capita tax having been collected from the members for some years past. The men would have no reason to capitulate for lack of strike funds. They are counting on the fullest co-operation from organized labor.

Dominion officers left by train for Hamilton to perfect plans that city for the holding of a strike.

WOULD AVERT STRIKE.
Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, June 16.—Today brought action by the business interests of Toronto to avert a strike. At the rooms of the board of trade there was a meeting composed of bankers, manufacturers, wholesale men, bankers, and members of the Rotary Club.

R. A. Stapells, president of the board of trade, who called the meeting, said he believed the thought of a general postal strike in Canada, within a few days or hours was a matter of first importance.

He told of a conference he had with representatives of the postal workers, when he learned the true causes of the dispute between the government and the workers. As a member of the minimum wage board, he knew something of what wages should be paid to postal men and he said he had no hesitation in making the statement that the award of the civil service commission is not adequate to the needs of the men.

Special to The Advertiser.
By a Staff Reporter.
Ottawa, June 16.—Hon. Charles Murphy, postmaster-general, who has been absent from the capital for several weeks by reason of illness, returned to Ottawa this morning, considerably improved, and prepared to resume the duties of his department. The first work of the minister will be to review the situation with respect to the threatened strike of the postal workers, supervision of which, during his absence, has been in the hands of Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of interior.

While fully realizing the seriousness of a strike to the business of the country, and to the public of Canada generally, the government, this morning maintains the same attitude as was expressed by Premier King in the House on Friday last, and there are no indications that the civil service commission intends to change its mind.

A large number of communications are being received by the Cabinet. These are being referred to the cabinet.

Yoke of Oxen Adds Charm To Loyalist Celebration
Special to The Advertiser.

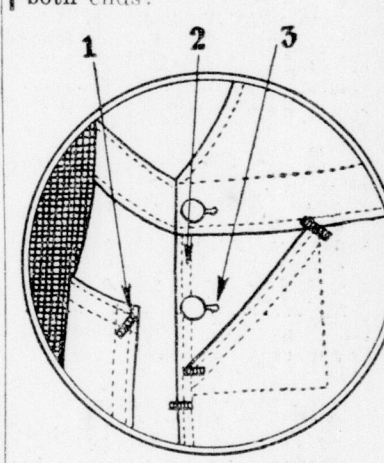

Belleville, June 16.—A touch of the year 1784, when the first United Empire Loyalist settlers came to the wilderness of Quinte, was to be seen in a new country, which was the big attraction of the United Empire celebration this afternoon.

The oxen and the creaky cart are to take a leading part in the big military pageant which will depict the arrival of the United Empire Loyalist settlers, and trace the development of the Quinte district from its opening up 150 years ago, until its present era.

The proposition is that Mr. McDonald is to build a factory and plant to the value of $25,000 on a piece of land, two acres in extent, on Erie street. In this plant he is to manufacture threshing engines and threshing machinery, and similar lines.

HANDSOME NEW PATROL TO CONVEY LAW BREAKERS

Police Commission Will Purchase New Motor Combination Patrol Ambulance.

WILL HOLD TEN

Magnificent Equipage Costing $3,112 Ready For Use in Two Months.

How would you like to have a ride in a big, magnificent motor equipage, costing $3,112, attended by a uniformed chauffeur and a footman and with a big brass rail behind?

In order to take a trip in such a chariot one will have to run foul of the law or arrange to be an emergency case for one of the hospitals. For the auto mentioned is none other than the new motor combination patrol ambulance that the police commission decided to purchase at a meeting yesterday afternoon in the secret confines of Chief Birrell's office.

The tender was let to the McLaughlin Motor Company of Canada, after the commission had considered a total of nine tenders. The new "Black Maria" will be delivered in about two months, the chief expects. Apparently Chief Birrell is expecting to do a rushing business in the future, for he specifies that the patrol must be built to hold ten prisoners. The engine will be a 65-horsepower affair, so that no time will be lost in bringing in the grist for the

HON. CHARLES MCGREE,

Ontario minister of mines, who promises much British capital to develop Northern Ontario. He declares also that British mine owners are preparing to ship enormous quantities of coal to Canada.

police court mill. Solid Comfort. The seats will have deep cushions, covered with good material, proving beyond a doubt that the head of the force has the interests of the prisoners at heart. The interior of the patrol will have two dome lights, so that constables riding with their faces will be able to keep tab on their guests.

There will be a small door at each side, used only in ambulance cases. The main entrance will be from the rear, where nice brass rails will serve as decorations. Metal panels will grace the doors, and the interior lining will be basswood in either black, white or mahogany finish. The ventilating windows will, of course, be properly barred.

The patrol will be painted dark blue to conform with the feelings of all those unfortunate enough to become passengers. The police commission has specified that the springs must be specially good so that there will be little or no discomfort for patients who are being rushed to the hospital at a speed of 40 miles an hour. There will be two sets of stretchers and the patrol can be changed quickly into an ambulance with room for attendants and a two-foot space for patients.

Park-Driving Question. T. W. McFarland of the P. U. C. was present at the meeting to thresh out the question of allowing vehicles to drive in Victoria Park. The public utilities has maintained that the park should be open at all times to vehicles, while Mayor Wenige and the council insist that it should be closed.

Chief Birrell was not for handing out any information on this subject, merely stating that Mr. McFarland should bring his proposition to the attention of the council.

The resignation of Constable Wm. Pruder was accepted by the commission and the application of Steven Eddy for the position was approved. Constable Pruder, who has been with the department for 23 months, was considered a splendid officer. He leaves for a position on the Toronto force with some of his old comrades from Owen Sound.

FIREMAN RESCUES BABE FROM FIRE

Fireman Edevane Saves 18-Months-Old Baby From Suffocation.

The 18-months-old baby of T. T. Snider was rescued yesterday afternoon from the second floor bedroom of the house at 289 Ridout street by Fireman Edevane, attached to the central fire hall. The child had been forgotten in the excitement of trying to remove the furniture from the burning house, and when the firemen reached the child it was almost suffocated from the smoke.

When the firemen arrived they were not told about the child on the second floor, and they had been there about five minutes before the fact was known. It was with great difficulty that the child was brought out of the room, as the hose had already been turned.

The house is owned by the C. N. R. The inside of the house was destroyed by the flames which started in the kitchen. Almost all the furniture was saved, except that in the kitchen. The back roof was totally destroyed, and as the house is next to a pile of coal in the C. N. R. yards it was a supreme task to prevent the fire spreading to the coal pile.

Volumes of smoke hampered the firemen in their efforts to combat the blaze. Although a steady stream of water was played on the roof, the flames refused to die out because of the tar paper material covering the roof.

Kiwanians Entertained At Jolly Garden Fete

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel G. Amoro were host and hostess at a delightful garden fete last night at their home, "Linalva," on the Base Line, when they royally entertained the local Kiwanis Club and delegations from the St. Thomas and Ingersoll clubs in observance of "All Kiwanis Night," the outstanding feature of which was the "zero hour" program.

In the absence of the president, Thomas H. Yull, who is attending the grand Kiwanis convention at present in session at Denver, Rev. Col. Wm. Beattie, vice-president of the club, presided.

While the guests, to the number of about 200, were foregathered on the spacious lawn, beautifully and charmingly decorated for the occasion with flags, Chinese lanterns and booths, music was provided by the Kiwanis Club orchestra. Wilfred Hodgins led in the singing of a number of popular and community songs. Mrs. Wm. Wortman and Wilkins Shuff were heard with much pleasure in vocal solos, each responding to enthusiastic applause by singing an encore.

Congratulates Club. The address of the evening was given by Verne Buchanan of the Ingersoll Kiwanis Club. Mr. Buchanan referred to the fact that the London Kiwanis Club had "sponsored" the Ingersoll Club. He congratulated the local club in having been honored by numbering amongst its members Bevon Hay, past governor of Ontario and Quebec. None had done more for the Kiwanis cause than he, declared Mr. Buchanan. Fred Lawton, also a member of the London Club, is the present incumbent of the office of district vice-president.

In a stirring delivered speech,

Mr. Buchanan commented upon what he termed "the seriousness of the hour and its unlimited potential possibilities." He pleaded earnestly and eloquently for yet another creed to be added to the creed of the Kiwanis order and that the creed of optimism.

One Minute of Silence. Then followed the "zero hour" program proper including one minute of silence in token of the fellowship of 88,000 fellow Kiwanians in the 1,240 clubs throughout Canada and the United States; the full-voiced and inspiring rendition of "God Save the King" and "My Country 'Tis of Thee"; the reading by Bevon Hay of the convention message of Governor Edmund F. Arnes; invocation on behalf of the welfare of all Kiwanian Clubs by Rev. Mr. Beattie and the singing of "O Canada."

At the close of the brief fifteen minute period Mr. Beattie commented upon the magnificent conception which had prompted All Kiwanis Night and the common program. "Zero hour" meant that every member of a Kiwanis Club present should be inspired by this program," affirmed Mr. Beattie in conclusion, "to become a better Kiwanian and a better man."

Telegrams Received. Fraternal telegrams were received and read by Chairman Beattie from the Kiwanis Clubs of Hamilton, the pioneer club of the province, Galt, Hull, Guelph, Toronto, Brantford and Kitchener-Waterloo. A telegram from Tom Yull, president of the club, ran as follows: "Denver crowded with Kiwanians and ablaze with Kiwanis enthusiasm. Fred Lawton and Hugh Marley send greetings. Will think of you at the zero hour tonight."

At the conclusion of the more formal program there was orchestra music, dancing on the green sward, listening in on the radio and lunch. The orchestra included Wm. Wortman, Frank McLaughlin, Fred Weeks, Gibson Ward and Ed. Shuttleworth. Upon making his appearance on the veranda, which served as a platform, Mr. Amoro was greeted with a hearty rendition of that ever-popular song "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." Mrs. Amoro seconded her husband's words of welcome in an apt speech.

The gathering, which was a most enjoyable and charming affair, was voted a distinct success by all who attended. Mr. and Mrs. Amoro were spoken of on all sides as hosts par excellence.

COUNCIL OBJECTS TO REDISTRIBUTION

Request To Be Forwarded Asking Larger Representation in Federal House.

A request to Ottawa, asking that London be represented in the Federal House by a larger number of members, and that no areas of the city be included in the county, was ordered to be sent from the London City Council at last night's meeting on the motion of Ald. Douglass, chairman of the finance committee.

Ald. Greer thought that fewer, rather than more, representatives in the Federal House was the need of the hour in the Dominion, but agreed with the motion in general, and voted in favor of it.

The council was strongly in favor of not allowing any area of the city to be included in the county in the new distribution arranged by Ottawa, and made it quite clear their disapproval of the recently-announced scheme of political redistribution.

TRAFFIC IS EXPANDED BY VISITORS TO BRITAIN

Increasing Travel To Empire Show Necessitates Extra Accommodations.

Canadian Press Despatch. Quebec, June 16.—Indications that the eastward passenger traffic, via the St. Lawrence River, in connection with the thousands of Canadians and Americans who will visit the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley, will attain unprecedented proportions during the present season, is contained in the announcement by the White Star Dominion Line that the Ellerman Line, City of Exeter, a ten thousand ton passenger steamer, is now on her way up the St. Lawrence River bound for Montreal and Quebec, where she will take care of the overflow of passengers from other lines at those ports.

OFFER ODD CONTRACT FOR GOVERNMENT JOB

Profit-Sharing Plan For Engraving Bank Notes, Bonds and Stamps.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, June 16.—Among the tenders received by Acting Minister of Finance Robb today for the making of engraved bank notes, bonds, postage and revenue stamps, as at Oct. 1, 1925, is one from the Dominion Banknote Company, which is unique in that it proposes a profit-sharing plan with the government.

The government would be permitted to share in the earnings of the company to the amount of one-third of its profits, with the further option of purchasing the plant and equipment at the expiration of this contract.

The Speedy Heating Electric Range

Several years ago we came to the conclusion that no woman likes waiting around for her kitchen range to heat up. So we set out to make Moffats Electric Ranges the speediest heating ranges manufactured. And that is just what they are today.

With a Moffat Electric Range in your kitchen there is no delay or tiresome waiting for the elements or oven to heat up. The snap of the switch brings intense heat with astonishing speed to the range top or oven elements.

They are Inexpensive to Operate

No heat is wasted. Every degree of heat is directed toward the cooking of your food. Food is cooked in shorter time. That means less current is used.

If you save, say, 10 minutes at each meal, you save 30 minutes of time and current every day. That comes to 180 hours in one year—a worth-while economy you must admit.

Moffat Electric cooking is truly economical. The ranges themselves are moderately priced, and the cost of operating is low. Can you afford to do without a Moffat any longer? Consult your local electrical dealer for an estimate or write Moffats, Limited, Weston, Ont.

The Conscientious Perplexed

Many a man with business and professional interests needs all the money he can make—and more, to develop his business or practice.

Then how is he, at the same time, to provide adequate life insurance protection for his family? This is the thing he wants to do.

It is made possible now by our Jubilee Policy which gives you life insurance protection to any amount you require for an annual deposit that works out at much less than current interest rates:

| Age | Insurance | Premium  | Rate                            |
|-----|-----------|----------|---------------------------------|
| 20  | $10,000  | $138.50 | less than 1 1/2% of sum assured |
| 30  | 10,000    | 183.00   | " 2% " "                        |
| 40  | 10,000    | 259.00   | " 2 3/4% " "                    |
| 45  | 10,000    | 318.00   | " 3 1/4% " "                    |
| 50  | 10,000    | 396.50   | " 4% " "                        |

(Premiums are subject to reduction annually by dividends)

The Propagandists Start Again.

Following the statement of the fathers of Loeb and Leopold, held in Chicago on a charge of murder, that only a legitimate and proper amount would be spent on the case, comes the propaganda of the hired experts for the defence. These alienists assumed a dignified pose, and although they did not "talk for publication" they were ready to place their views in such places that they would be sure to reach the public through the medium of the printed page.

The trend of their remarks is carefully designed to bring about a state of mind on the part of the public that these two youths should not be hanged. "Leopold is an experimenter in human emotions. He wanted to kill a human being so he could satisfy himself on the problem of what a man who had committed a cold-blooded murder thinks about." Therefore he should not be hanged, because he is abnormal.

If anything more callous could be desired it comes in the next statement of one of the hired experts, who points out that Leopold "believes that persons of unusual intellectual attainments, who have been carefully trained, are above the ordinary laws of mankind, and that it is not wrong for them to do what might be pointed out as being wrong to an illiterate person."

It is the most damnable sort of propaganda, and it is being carefully put forth with the idea of prejudging the case. It is known that all these statements sent out by the "experts" for the defence will be read by the public, and they will probably be read by the men who will ultimately sit as jurors. It is a plan to start people thinking in the direction that the defence wants them to think. They know that the line along which they are advancing jars and clashes with all our solid ideas of right and wrong; they realize that it strikes right at the root of the first principle of law and democracy—that all men are equal in the sight of the law.

Were an alienist to appear in a court of justice in Canada and give his opinion that a man should not be hanged he would be put in his proper place. He could state his belief as to the man's sanity or insanity, but to attempt to create a current of opinion, or to state an opinion that amounts to assuming the duty of judge, jury and witnesses combined, is clearly a case of turning liberty into license.

The storm of criticism and protest as to the method of teaching these youths, and the frank condemnation of a home surrounding that could permit boys to develop in a way that made them a menace to the community, continues unabated. It is well that the American conscience should be pricked and brought into such a state of active interrogation that will cause it to scrutinize and take stock of its home life and its school facilities.

The Los Angeles Times asks what, after all, is to be gained by the possession of great monetary fortunes in a family. The Times says: "The factor of money in our civilization is to be measured by the wholesome influence it has on human life. Does it make him a better neighbor? Does it make him more useful to the honorable business institutions of his community? Does it make him a more reliable American citizen? If it does not do one or all of these things it is a deadly peril. There is a heavy burden which money never satisfies. Babson is surely right in his constant insistence that rich men and women do a wrong and dangerous thing to their sons and daughters in turning over indiscriminately riches which these children have not earned."

Turning from money to the schools and colleges of United States that have been made possible by the handing over of great sums of money, the Times asks pointed questions of the men in charge:

"The supporters of our schools, colleges and universities have a reason and a right to ask the presidents and instructors in these institutions what they really mean by education. We know the etymology of the word. We must have something better than that. We know it means 'lead out,' 'lead forth.' But Chicago and the rest of the country are asking now with a new emphasis, 'What is it that the university is going to lead out—a moral idiot or a sane citizen with a conscience?' If sensible men are to be asked for millions to endow the Chicago University and other schools, these men are going to ask with fresh interest and emphasis, 'What sort of citizens are you going to train in your university? Are you going to lay more stress on chemistry than you do on character?' 'Are you going to fan the central fires of the universe called God and the human conscience, or are you going to have sneering professors who make light of these everlasting verities?' The men who give money to educational institutions have a right to ask these questions. And it is their duty to demand a satisfactory answer."

What can the serious-minded element in United States say now of the propaganda carried on openly and unblushingly to prove in advance of the day of trial that the confessed murderers killed in order that they might know what it felt like to be a murderer, and therefore should not pay the penalty of the crime?

God pity the men who preach the doctrine of inequality before the law, and pity the country that would dare substantiate by the process of its legal machinery that there is a shred of truth or a grain of worth in such a doctrine.

It Is the Country's Turn Now!

During the session in London of the parliamentary committee on rural conditions, Mrs. W. N. Glenn, of Hensall, brought up the condition of many of the farm wives in sections that are not served by hydro power.

There being no power there can be no electric washing machine, no vacuum cleaner, no electric iron, toaster or stove.

It is the people in the cities who ought to take note of these conditions. The people on the farms are facing them all the time and they know all about it.

The woman in the city has become so used to some or all of these modern conveniences that she does not realize the position of her sister on the farm who has none of them.

There can be no question that the coming of these appliances has been the means of taking much of the drudgery out of housework. It has lessened the amount of labor, and has made it possible to carry on in much more comfort.

In the hot weather of summer the woman in the city can turn on the electric range which contributes very little to increasing the heat of the room; when she irons she can simply attach the cord to the socket. In the absence of these things the woman on the farm must work over a hot stove; she must keep on a fire in order to iron.

These considerations are all apart from the use to which power could be put in operating pumps for the barn and the house, driving cutting machinery, etc.

Rural Ontario needs electric power, and the people in the towns and cities should be prepared to do everything possible to see that they get it. The larger centers have enjoyed a monopoly of the benefits of cheap electric energy for some years. It is certainly the turn of rural Ontario to be allowed in on this good thing.

An Explanation That Does Not Explain

Following the robbery of an express train outside of Chicago, in which $5,000,000 in cash and securities were stolen, the chief postoffice inspector issued an explanation. He claims that during the war many undesirable men entered the service of the postoffice department, and until these are found and rooted out "similar robberies may be expected."

That is as near a gesture of utter helplessness as could be imagined.

The war has been over more than five years. The United States period of participation in it was comparatively brief compared to that of Canada. There has been no such experience in this country as the inspector claims is responsible for the robbery of mails in United States. Nor has Britain uttered any such flimsy excuse for the very good reason that she has not been called upon to explain robberies.

For the U. S. inspector to take such an attitude is a reflection on himself and his whole department.

Nine Thousand Came Home.

The St. Catharines Standard, discussing tariff matters, says:

"Without preaching blue ruin, there is no doubt that conditions are stagnant in the Dominion right now where they should not be stagnant. The exodus across the line continues."

Why is it necessary to always drag in that qualifying phrase, "without preaching blue ruin"? Is it because the reader will see that such is being done?

Employment figures furnished by the Monetary Times show that there are more men employed in Canada than there were two months ago.

The department of immigration has just sent out its figures that show, during April and May, that 9,000 Canadians who had been residents of United States for a period longer than six months returned to Canada. It is a condition of affairs that the St. Catharines Standard should rejoice to see. It should do much to take the moan from its statement that "the exodus across the line continues."

The Rotarians Were Busy.

London Rotarians had a busy time over the week-end trying to say "Hello" to the hundreds of Rotarians from United States points who streamed through here—and stopped, or were stopped—on their way to Toronto.

The idea was to impress on all the fact that "this is London," and the Rotarians did the thing well.

The coming of thousands of people from United States to this country, many of whom had never been here before, and letting them know as they passed along that Canadians were glad to see them—it was a good piece of work, and one that is bound to have a lasting influence for good. London Rotarians attended to this work well.

Note and Comment.

June is over half through and a number of our notable and chronic bachelors in London go about as though they'd never heard of such a thing as a June wedding.

As dull as a hoe—an old statement reflecting a foolish state of affairs. A hoe can easily be made and kept sharp—by not using it.

An economist is he who makes a folded newspaper work as a fly swatter.

The Detroit News says that a model husband is the chap who doesn't reach for the nut cracker when his wife puts her first biscuits on the table.

We are getting to the season of the year when a pound of butter looks like the first cousin to the cake of soap that gets left in the wash dish over night.

Youthful servitude is exemplified by the boy who gets $0 on a Latin examination, yet doesn't know why he is studying it.

The civil service commission is in authority at Ottawa, and it creates a situation that may bring on a strike of postal workers, for all of which many people are ready to blame the government of the day.

London is likely to show an increase of 1,400 in population for the year. A steady climb, based on growth by merit, is what makes a community that can stand all sorts of financial weather and still pay 100 cents on the dollar. That's London.

Dr. Frank Crane

Afraid to Do Too Much.

The average man is afraid to do too much. That is the reason he is average. If he wanted to do more than he was paid for he would be an exceptional man.

It is the exceptional man who is in demand. It is a rule of human conduct, as well as a test of entry into life, whatever that may be: "Broad is the way that leadeth to destruction and many there be that go therein."

It is easy enough to do what is expected of us, but it is difficult to find the person who will do it. Most people soldier on the job.

"Creation's cry goes up
From age to cheated age:
Give us the men who do the work
For which they get the wage."

The demand is not for unusual men, for geniuses, nor for men of extraordinary ability. The demand is simply for men who will do what they are paid for doing.

And the demand exceeds the supply. Whoever will make it a rule to do just a little more than he is expected to do is on the sure way to success. Whoever makes it a rule simply to "get by" or to do as little as possible, is on the way to mediocrity.

I know a great many employers of labor. I do not know any who is not constantly harassed by the difficulty of finding good help. I know of a great many laborers. But I do not know of anyone, who is satisfied and happy, who is not doing all he can. And I do not know of anyone who is dissatisfied and a maker of trouble who is not doing as little as he can.

Work seems to be the universal panacea. It not only smooths things out between employers and employees, but it helps things between employees themselves.

It is difficult to restrain the inferiority complex and it is as difficult to restrain the superiority complex. There are laborers who are angry with the boss because he makes more money. And there are bosses that are angry with the laborers because they make so much.

There is a simple and sure test for this matter. It is the test of honesty and fidelity. Is any man, be he boss or laborer, doing his stunt as he should do it? In that case he is worth the price he gets and more.

Let's Ship Them Out

Some folks is awful picky on the things that's served to them at meals, perhaps it comes from how they be about the time the whistle peals.

I've seen some healthy chaps about who always have a cheery grin, just itchin' for the time to come when fillin' silos will begin. They never ask no foolish things about how this thing's cooked nor that, they take the bitter with the sweet, and saw the lean off with the fat.

Them sort of folks, yes, bless 'em all, they'd eat in dark as well as day, and thankful be for bran or oats, for pickled pork or wisps of hay.

How easy on the women folks who plan the menu for this bird, who eats what's set before his vest and never springs a cuttin' word.

Again there's folks, I know a lot, who take ten pills from out their pouch, and carry to the eatin' trough a face stole from a chronic grouch.

And when there's pork cooked to a turn, a healthy lookin' sort of dish, they holler out to cart it off and hustle in a feed of fish.

Another day they get some beef, "this thing would put me in my bed, scat out of here, I want a beet, a parsnip and a lettuce head."

It's just the same thing right on through, when puddin's put beneath their eye, they smite a fist upon the board and holler for a slice of pie.

It must be awful tryin' like to churn up fodder for the tribe, what's always turnin' up their snouts at things that go to their inside.

I'd like to gather up these folks and ship 'em to some desert land, out where they'd live on cactus leaves and wash 'em down with gobs of sand.

I know the ladies in the land would cheer until their necks were red, they'd pen a verse unto my name and call down blessin's on my head.—ARK.

The Value of Trees

(From The Baptist.)
Before the dawn of the motor-car age a passing motorist picked up a farmer who had never before seen an automobile.

The farmer was duly impressed and delighted. To impress him still more, the motorist put his foot on the accelerator and for six or seven miles they tore along like the wind.

Then something went wrong with the steering gear and they ran into a tree. The farmer and motorist alighted unhurt on a bank of moss. The car was not damaged.

"That was fine," said the farmer, as he got up. "We sartinly went the pace. Tell me this, though—how do you stop her when there ain't no trees?"

House Votes To Investigate Methods of Assessing and Collecting.

GOOD AMENDMENT

Member For Brant Refers To Alleged Irregularities During Year 1921.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, June 16.—Methods by which business profits and income taxes are assessed and collected are to be investigated by the public accounts committee of the House, and thus prorogation seems still a little further away. W. C. Good, Progressive member for Brant, who raised the question of collections earlier in the session, brought it up again today, and as an amendment to motion to go into supply, moved that the public accounts committee be given authority to investigate.

Premier King intimated that the government was willing to accept the amendment; it carried by a vote of 89 to 26, Liberals and Progressives generally voting in favor of, and Conservatives against.

Adoption of the Good amendment gave rise to a curious situation. Usually, an amendment to a supply motion is regarded as equivalent to a straight motion of non-confidence, and, immediately the result was announced, Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, opposition leader, arose.

"Now that the government has succeeded in defeating itself," Mr. Meighen questioned, "may I ask when

Dock Foreman Saves Worker

Special to The Advertiser.

Sarnia, June 16.—Thomas Shaw, dock foreman at Point Edward, this afternoon plunged into the St. Clair River to rescue Thomas Mercer, dock laborer, who fell from the gangplank of the S. S. Hamonic during unloading operations. Shaw eventually succeeded in getting Mercer ashore in an exhausted condition, and applying first aid measures, was able to revive him.

It is going to resign and consult the country."

Disclaims Defeat.

Premier King sharply replied that as the government had accepted the amendment before the vote it could not be interpreted as a vote of non-confidence.

Then, the amendment having been declared carried, the prime minister again submitted the motion to go into supply.

Mr. Meighen objected that the government having already been defeated on its motion to go into supply, could not on the same day present the same motion again.

Speaker Lemieux, however, did not sustain this view and the House went into supply.

The motion of W. C. Good calling for investigation into the administration of the business profits and income tax, reads:

"Whereas, it has been alleged in the public press of Canada that, if an inquiry were instituted, some interesting information and astonishing facts showing how the treasury of Canada failed to receive revenue intended for it would be disclosed to the taxpayers of the Dominion; and

"Whereas, for instance, it has been alleged in the press that checks totaling about $1,700,000, representing the income and business profits taxes of three well known concerns in Ontario, were received by the department of finance in March, 1921, but were not deposited until December 6, of that year; and

Whereas, a number of similar specific allegations have been made in the press; and

"Whereas, it has been alleged in the House of Commons on May 27 of this year that in the case of a certain corporation the treasury of the Dominion seems to have lost in one year $800,000 to which it was entitled;

"Therefore, in the opinion of this House it is expedient that the standing committee on public accounts be and same is hereby instructed to investigate the methods by which the business profits and income taxes, especially in the case of large concerns, have been assessed and collected.

Motion Submitted.

The motion was submitted as an amendment to a motion to go into supply. In the vote on the Good amendment Messrs. Sutherland and Arthur were the only two Conservatives to support it. The only Liberals to vote against it were Messrs. Flinn, Duff and Forrester, and the only Progressives Messrs. McDonald (Temiskaming), McBride, Woods and Pritchard. A. W. Neill, Independent of Comox-Alberni, also voted against the amendment.

There was Conservative cheering as Hon. G. P. Graham, minister of railways, cast his vote in favor of the amendment. In the debate Mr. Graham argued that to make business details public would be a serious injury to business, which was already in a sensitive condition.

Boy Saves Chum From Drowning

John D. Bernard Rescues James Cort in Stratford Accident.

Special to The Advertiser.

Stratford, June 16.—A young lad named James Cort was saved from drowning on Saturday night by his chum, John L. Bernard, age 17, 144 Elizabeth street. The youths were out in a canoe on the river, when another paddler came along and gave their canoe a "playful" poke, upsetting the craft. Cort, being unable to swim, sank twice before Bernard was able to grasp him and draw him ashore. Cort was none the worse for his wetting.

As an aftermath, Charles Smith appeared in police court this afternoon, charged with assault and occasioning bodily harm. He was allowed to go on suspended sentence, but must pay for a new suit of clothes for one of the boys, and the cost of cleaning and repairing the other boy's clothing.

Mrs. Peter A. Palmer, Saltburn, Sask., writes:

"Dr. Chase's Ointment has completely relieved me of eczema and piles. I also used this Ointment for my baby, who broke out in eczema. A few applications were all that was necessary in her case. Dr. Chase's Ointment has been worth a hundred dollars to me,—before using it I had spent a great deal more than that in unsuccessful treatment from doctors. We have also used Dr. Chase's other medicines, the Nerve Food having restored my health after suffering from severe nerve trouble when a girl."

How to make better strawberry jam in a few minutes
Keeps perfectly—Make up a supply now to use during winter months.
By ANN PROCTOR

Everyone loves strawberry jam. For a spread on bread or hot biscuits nothing seems to equal it. Its wonderful flavor makes children of us all. Until now, however, an expert was required to make it. Until now, it was expensive. Certo, a natural product of fruit, has solved the problem so that everyone can now make and eat this delicious conserve.

This process banishes all the guesswork or worry, as perfect results are certain. Unlike the old method of "peep for pound" mixture which had to be boiled for thirty or more minutes, with consequent loss of fruit juice and flavor being boiled away, the economical Certo process requires only one minute's boiling and thereby saves all the fruit to produce 50 per cent. more jam.

Certo is an absolutely pure fruit product—contains no gelatine or preservative. Jams and jellies made the Certo way will keep perfectly. Certo will positively save you time and fruit and eliminate all guesswork. You can use it on all kinds of fruits and you can even use canned fruits—something you could never do before. It is highly endorsed by all domestic science experts. Every woman who has used it recom-

Riverview Pupils Serve Fine Dinners For 35 Cents

Girls Entertain Businessmen At the School Last Night.

A PRETTY TABLE

Marketing, Cooking and Serving All Done by Young Hostesses.

Another successful demonstration dinner was given last night, this time at the Riverview School, under the direction of Miss Isabel Craig. Prominent businessmen and educationists of the city were the guests of honor, and the very excellent meal which was served to them cost the youthful cooks but 35 cents a head. There was clear tomato soup, roast beef, Yorkshire pudding, mashed potatoes, creamed asparagus, combination salad, bread and butter, pineapple trifle, fancy cakes, coffee and candy.

The hostesses were the girls of grade eight, who served the dinner at a table attractively arranged with mauve iris in crystal vases and dainty floral wreath. Little mauve baskets at each place were pretty favors. The girls themselves, frocked in white middie and skirts, acted as efficient waitresses, cooks and hostesses. The resultant meal was well balanced as to food values and cooked to suit the most fastidious taste. Even the marketing was done by the girls themselves.

The guests, delighted with their dinner, were: Inspector G. A. Wheable, T. S. H. Graham, principal of the South London Collegiate, F. J. Newhouse, principal of the school; John Graham, of the teaching staff of the school; Bryden Campbell, Rev. R. D. Mess and Trustees of the board of education; Mayor G. A. Wenige, Col. C. M. R. Graham, Capt. Tom Robson, E. R. Dennis, John Orchard, Thomas Fortner, P. J. W. T. D. McCullough, W. D. Quigley, John Stuart, Rev. W. L. Armitage, W. G. Rigner, Charles Walker and others.

Miss Leonora Ross of Canton, China, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. Wilson of 216 Richmond street, this city, will tell the interesting story of her Musk among the people of China for the past years at the home of her host and hostess at 8 o'clock tonight. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are extending a cordial invitation to all her friends to hear her message.

Miss Oaks, physical director of the South London Collegiate, is arranging a demonstration of dancing to be presented at the garden fete being given under the auspices of the Women's Guild of St. James Church, London, at the lovely home of Mrs. Rowland Stevens, on the Base Line road Friday afternoon and evening. Mrs. A. O. Hunt, president of the guild, and general convener of the affair, will be assisted in receiving by Mrs. W. L. Armitage and Mrs. Stevens.

Mrs. W. J. Chisholm, Stanley street, was the hostess of a charming little informal tea given yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Grace, who is leaving her home on Hale street shortly to take up her residence in Ottawa. The honored guests were three house visitors, Mr. Oliver Eytne, Mrs. Henry Bruell and Mrs. Oscar Kelhofer, all of Mount Clemens, Mich. From a table attractively arranged and centered with a silver basket of golden and white iris, Mrs. Ed. Shu poured tea, assisted by Miss Hodgkinson.

There is but one London girl graduating from Alma College on Friday night, Miss Marion Waide, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Waide, Adelaide street. Miss Waide graduates in physical education. The Teutonic House was the scene of a series of interesting little reception parties on Saturday afternoon and evening and all day Sunday, when a large and enthusiastic audience was present, demonstrating knowledge of the piano and keen sympathy with the composers whose work they were interpreting. Assisting was Miss Katherine Sweet of Brantford, a vocal pupil of A. D. Jordan, who sang beautifully two groups, "Mermaid's Song" (Haydn) and "L'Heure Silencieuse" (Debussy), "Cuckoo Song" and "It Was a Lover and His Lass" (Quilter).

The piano program included big numbers from Beethoven and Mozowski, by Miss Evelyn Jarvis, "Country Gardens" (Grainhol), by Frank James; the Bach concerto in C minor by Miss Mildred Chantler, with Mr. Martin at a second piano; Godowsky and Cyril Scott numbers by Miss Chantler, and an interesting group—"Impromptu in E Flat Major" (Faure), "Fisherman's Song" and "Fire Dance" (de Falla), by Miss Laura Kirkwood.

Mrs. Jack Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Will Forbes, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Forrester, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Garbutt, Rev. John Garbutt and Mrs. Garbutt, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gordon.

When Thomas Martin's pupils appeared in recital at the Institute of Musical Art last night, they were greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience. The program throughout was brilliantly given, demonstrating knowledge of the piano and keen sympathy with the composers whose work they were interpreting.

BIRTHDAY FEATURES
DODD CLAN REUNION

Members Gather For Fifth Annual Meeting at Spring-bank Park.

A happy time was spent by the members of the Dodd Clan when they held their fifth annual reunion at Springbank recently. A pleasing feature of the picnic banquet was the lighting of eighty-six tiny candles on the birthday cake of Mrs. Jane Dodd. Mrs. Dodd is a pioneer of Metcalfe Township and resided there until a few years ago, when she made her home with a daughter, Mrs. Moore of Glenora. Mrs. Mary Dodd, in her eightieth year, was also present, and one of the most popular items on the menu was a large fruit cake which Mrs. Dodd made for the occasion. Members were present from Indianapolis, U.S.A., Sarnia, Detroit, St. Thomas, Stratford, Alvinston, Glenora and Thorndale. Mrs. Owen St. Thomas, is the energetic president, and her executive is planning for another reunion in 1925.

Should a Boy Trust the Girl He Loves
and Believe All She Tells Him?—Only One Good Way to Stop Arguments—Shall
the Girl of 29 Marry the Widower of 51?

Dear Miss Dix—Will you please answer these three questions:
First—Should a boy place all his trust in the girl he loves? Should he believe everything she tells him?

Second—If a girl really loves a boy will she try to please him in every way?

Third—Would just an ordinary friend take a girl out riding once, and sometimes twice a week, and even allow her to drive his car?

Answer:

First—There can only be perfect love where there is perfect faith. No man can entirely and completely love a woman unless he feels that he can absolutely trust her in every way. But there are many degrees in love, and it is quite possible for a man to have an infatuation for a woman whom he knows perfectly well is not trustworthy.

A man often loves a woman well enough to kill for her, when he knows that she is entirely lacking in principle and that she will lie and cheat and be disloyal to him. The reason shows that the one who is jealous does not trust the one of whom he or she is jealous and believes that he or she is capable of being a traitor.

As for a boy believing everything a girl says to him, that is not a proof of love. It is an evidence of assinine credulity. Nobody but a simpleton believes everything he or she is told. If we have any intelligence, we apply a mental acid test to everything we hear, for as Holy Writ justly observes, "All men are liars," and all women, even the truthful Jones, tell tall tales.

And more especially do the sexes lie to each other, so any man is justified in taking with a grain of salt everything a girl tells him, discounting by half her earnest assurance that he is the first man she ever loved, and that she does not think of him when he is away from her, and similar lovers' perjuries.

Second—If a girl really loves a boy she will try to please him in all reasonable ways, because real love seeks not its own, but prefers the happiness of the beloved one. But a girl is foolish if she submits her will entirely to a boy's and lets him establish a tyranny over her. A man soon ceases to care for that sort of a spineless woman. Certainly before a couple are married the man has no right to dictate to the girl and force his will upon her. If a boy isn't willing to go fifty-fifty in giving up to the girl she is wise not to marry him.

Third—Whether a young man's taking a girl out riding once or twice a week indicates any feeling deeper than ordinary friendship depends on the circumstances. If he is engaged to another girl, it shows an undue interest in No. 2. But if he is not engaged to any one, it may merely indicate that he finds a girl an agreeable companion.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—My husband and I are in a perpetual argument about everything. I try to make him happy, but he is so contrary. It is making me very nervous. What shall I do?

DESPONDENT WIFE.

Answer: Stopping an argument is the easiest thing in the world. Despondent Wife. It takes two to make an argument, and if you just keep out of it your husband can't get into it. Break yourself of the habit of contradicting him. Keep silent, no matter what he says.

If he asserts that the moon is made of green cheese, let it go at that. It doesn't make a bit of difference to you whether it is or not, but it does make a big difference whether you get into a quarrel with your husband over it, and in the heat of debate you both say things that you don't mean, but that stab like dagger thrusts and hurt like an unhealed wound afterward, so that your husband goes out and slams the door behind him and you sit and brood over his injustice.

Of all foolish and futile things in the world, an argument is the silliest and most useless. Nobody is ever convinced by one. Nobody ever changes his or her opinion on account of one. All that it does is just to stir up strife and trouble, and alienate people who care for each other.

Nine-tenths of the discord in homes can be traced right back to the arguing habit that husbands and wives fall into. Why I have been in homes where people had fought for forty years over points of doctrine in religion, or political issues that were dead as a door nail, or whether a man should smoke in the living-room or not. Each one knew that nothing on earth would change the other's opinion, and that just to mention churches or tobacco was as good for a fight as a ginger cake. Yet instead of stepping aside of these topics, they dragged them in by the hair of their heads and went at them hammer and tongs.

All the peace and serenity was scattered to the winds. Half the time there was a grouchy man and a tearful woman around the house, and they actually came to dislike each other, all because they had not sense enough to cure themselves of the arguing vice.

Use more intelligence than this, Despondent Wife, and cheer up. The remedy is in your own hands. Just let your husband say what he pleases, uncontradicted. Repeat any assertion he makes in silence. You can go on believing as you like, but he can't argue with your unspoken thoughts. And you can't monologue along about a thing that nobody takes enough interest in to discuss with you.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—Should a widower in poor health, who is fifty-one years old, marry a woman of twenty-nine? If he has grown children, should they interfere in his plans of matrimony?

SUNBEAM.

Answer: To answer your last question first, I do not think that grown children have any right to interfere with their father's matrimonial plans unless he is making a much more foolish marriage than he would be if he married you. But unless your widower is able to provide very well for you and to hire trained nurses when he is sick, it seems to me that you would be making a very poor bargain in getting him.

The disparity of age would be too great, even if he was a strong and healthy man. It is prohibitive in a sick man. You would be nothing but the slave of a man concerned with his own health, gloomy and hypochondriacal, and you would spend the best years of your life in the sick-room instead of in enjoying yourself. If the man is not rich the situation would be worse, because you probably would have to support him in addition to nursing him.

WEDDINGS
MARTIN-GOODWIN.

A pretty June wedding was solemnized in the Egerton Street Baptist Church on Saturday afternoon, when Lily Louise Goodwin of this city, formerly of London, England, was united in marriage to William Albert Martin of this city. The church was pretty with spring flowers and ferns, arranged by the girl friend of the bride and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Alfred Burgess, pastor of the church.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law Mr. Jack Lawrence, entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss Myrta Jones. Her wedding gown was of white crepe with long lace side panel and cluster of orange blossoms, and she wore a pretty tulle veil arranged in coronet style with hand or orange blossoms. The bridesmaids were: Miss Gertrude Martin, who wore a pale pink dress with hat to match and carried pink sweet peas, and Belva Mills, who wore a dress of orchid shade with large picture hat and carried mauve sweet peas, and the groom was attended by Mr. Robert Wedman. During the signing of the register Miss Myrta Jones sang "Until."

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lawrence on Hyla street. The house was prettily decorated throughout and the wedding breakfast was served from the dining table, centered with the wedding cake. Decorations with white streamers and valley lilies.

THE COACH'S JOB

Something of the taskmaster, the general and the diplomat, and a lot of the doctor must be hidden away in the man who would be the coach of a successful football or track team.

Emergencies of all kinds are his daily routine. A thorough knowledge of first aid is as essential as a knowledge of the game played by his men.

Bumps, bruises, strained ligaments and muscles are every day happenings, but the coach never becomes conscious of them. He knows that if he neglected, they may result in anything.

Trainers everywhere keep Absorbine Jr. in their lockers. They use it not only for sprains, cuts and bruises, but for the skin and blood protection of his disinfecting properties. In a convenient container it combines the functions of a number of preparations.

It is the first of all the First Aid requisites in use in all of the leading athletic clubs.

And there are just as many everyday uses for Absorbine Jr. in the homes of Canada as there are in the training camps. Always keep it in the home where you can "jump to it" in case of emergency. $1.25 at your druggist.

Vegetable Compound

Jamestown, N. Y.—"I was nervous, easily excited and discouraged and had no ambition. Part of the time I was not able to sit up as I suffered with pains in my back and with weakness. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I feel the need of it."

ALICE D. DAVIS, 203 W. Second St., Jamestown, N. Y.

Often some slight derangement may cause a general upset condition of the whole system, indicated by such symptoms as nervousness, backache, lack of ambition and general weakness.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will be found a splendid medicine for such troubles. In many cases it has removed the cause of the trouble.

It is the first of all the First Aid requisites in use in all of the leading athletic clubs.

And there are just as many everyday uses for Absorbine Jr. in the homes of Canada as there are in the training camps. Always keep it in the home where you can "jump to it" in case of emergency. $1.25 at your druggist.

Tecumseh's Win Streak Broken By Grand Rapids In Fast, Clean Engagement

LOCAL MINTERS DROP FIRST OF SERIES WITH JOSHERS 4-2

Ross Holds London To Four Hits, While Rapids Gather Twelve.

FIELDING STELLAR

Outer Gardeners of Both Teams Gather In Many Hard Ones.

Ross, a southpaw, who once helped to hurl Grand Rapids to a pennant in the old Central League, played the role of a traffic officer yesterday, and directed the Beattiesmen from their winning streak to the byways of defeat by a 4 to 2 count. From Mr. Ross' performance yesterday it might easily be suspected that the Furniture City had a one-man pitching staff in those departed days, for his line of things he laid the local swatters away in neat little bunches of three.

George Tice, who almost earned the sobriquet of "Slumping George" when he first came to the plate, but for some time past has been living up to his real name of "Thumping George," refused to let the visiting doer smug up his averages, driving out two of the four hits the Tice registered and bringing in the two runs his teammates squeezed into the score sheet.

These Londoners who happened to be on the paths when Tice's timely blows came had seen them through a walk and an error respectively.

Single Brings In Run.

The error came in the ninth, when Baldy bobbled Sandquist's smash, Naleway was robbed of a single by Payne's fast run and reaching catch, and the Nason singled over third. Tice's second timely swing, a single in the same direction, scored Sandquist.

The winning and tying runs were on the path when Turk Elffert, who makes a habit of breaking up ball games, limped into view. Mr. Ross didn't seem particularly impressed by this knowledge, and the best Turk could get off his meagre offerings was a carom shot off the visiting hurler's shiny right arm. Brown's hands for a force-out at second. Connie Fields was brought in to pinch-hit, but the only diversion he managed to furnish was a roller to the box, with which Ross jubilantly sprinted to first for his own out.

It was in the faraway second frame that the Londoners got their first counter. Ross never had things by halves, apparently, for the twice he grew wild yesterday, and he was in each time. Sandquist was the first to get into the second, and then Naleway also strayed.

No-Hit Effort Flivvers.

Nason lofted one into the blue for an out, and then Tice cut an early crimp in who might have things by halves, apparently, for the twice he grew wild yesterday, and he was in each time. Sandquist was the first to get into the second, and then Naleway also strayed.

OUTFIELDERS' DAY.

nomadic tendencies the Tice displayed were in the sixth, when Baker singled down past the hill and was sacrificed along, and the other again, when Nason and Elffert went dead-head in the seventh.

Joe Devore's men are credited with a dozen hits off Achenbach, but their runs were achieved in two jinx innings, in which fate which has pursued by tall string-bean hurler on the home lot showed itself in the form of breaks, some of which won't be seen in the said home lot for the rest of the season.

The first sour mixture of clean and funny hits came in the fourth, when a curved a corker-er blow which rounded the pitcher's box and then swept crazily around the mound, and the sacrifice. Baldy singled, but Tice's fast fielding held Kopschaw glued to third.

Kopschaw Tallies.

He came in through when Beatty lofted a hot grounder off Turner's bat. Brown forced Baldy between third and the plate and then Payne singled, scoring Turner. Payne and Brown pulled a double play, but Quellsch pulled out.

In the eighth Payne singled to deep short, Baker making a play for him. Quellsch drove a triple through the ropes in left, which was pared down into a double by ground rules. With one already gone the crowd scored when Walsh essayed a bunt, and it went for a fly single out over first base, both runners tallying.

Scintillating fielding by both teams featured the eighth inning. In the fourth Chick Naleway, playing Simpson's field, picked his way around the fence supports to nail Bonnelly's hard hit liner, and in the ninth with a hard base, Nason in a great sprint toward the fence took Brown's drive over his left shoulder. Tice made several nice running catches.

Fielders Good.

The Rapids outfielders gave plenty of reason for their being back almost intact in view of a big shake-up by the visiting manager, and catches which might have been features in many games were pulled down by the Homeo trio.

The Beatty machine purred along nicely in the sixth, when the road became rough and wallopy. Quellsch walked. Payne lifted a curving pop and Gehring tripped, his head hitting the ground with a thud which held him for a few minutes. Payne essayed a steal, and Baker had it called as soon as the Payne had the idea. Quellsch walked. Walsh dropped a single back of second, for which Nason came on the run, doubling Brown at the plate. Perrins, with a one-run rally in the last inning on Sumner's single and Connor's double defeated C. N. R. A. last night, 3-1. Quick retired the first two batters by strikeouts in the C. N. R. A. half and Oliver grounded to the first baseman in the seventh.

Blue Baker opened the scoring in the first frame for C. N. R. A. A., hitting the first of two homers, with Smith on second base through a double. An error and two hits produced a Perrins reply, and two runs in the third, and two errors in the fourth.

Connor's double, safe on an error. In the sixth Silverstein's sacrifice fly unloaded a Perrins run off filled bases, and their rally in the seventh won for them.

THE BURG'S RISE.

Wallaceburg lacrosse team will march into the Stone Town on Saturday night to lift the scalps from Billy Lavell's crew on their own flats. Wallaceburg has been knocking at the door for several seasons, and may crash through this year with wins over Sarnia on its home lot and against St. Marys on the 'Burg grounds as outstanding features of their work so far.

THE OMNIPOTENT.

It is recorded that Mr. John Joseph McGraw, using a telephone from his office at the Polo Grounds connected with the dugout, directed the Giants in a rally that won the ball game the other day. The account of this feat does not state whether or not the master mind of the Giants directed any of the losing games. But this is neither here nor there. The fact remains that he did direct a winning rally by telephone with his knee in a plaster of paris cast and his head in his hands taking the accepted pose for deep thought.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE.

It is axiomatic that one blast from Mr. John Joseph McGraw of an explosive character is worth nine pinch hitters to the Giants. But once in a while the commentators rather go to extremes in handing the credit to the Little Napoleon. Mr. McGraw is the master baseball strategist. There is no question about that. But it cannot be taken for granted that the Jovian nod of his iron gray head can cause nine batters in a slump to break into an avalanche of home-run hits.

NEW SPRINTING WONDER.

Harry Coursey of the London East Athletic Club, a recent track marvel, who made such a good showing in the Ontario Olympic trials in Toronto. He made Vince, the Canadian champion, step it in both the 100 and 200 metre events, running second in both. He also plays baseball, and does his stuff on the mound for the L. E. A. C. Juniors.

On the Side Lines

With C. S. G.

IT'S BASEBALL.

It is claimed in Detroit that Lu Blue was made a great defensive first baseman, because when Pep Young's arm got lost Lu grew so adept at picking impossible pegs out of the dirt that it became a habit. Harry Dayton of Flint draws a parallel in the Mint League with the case of Chief Proman, the Indian first-sacker, with the Grand Rapids the last time the Joshers were here, and now with Hamilton. One of the chief's weaknesses which did not find particular favor with Josh Devore was his inability to dig for them. Since the chief has been with Hamilton, Dayton states that the claim has been made by players that the rotten throwing of the Hamilton infield will be the making of the chief. In recent games he has been cutting two-base errors down to one-base miscues, at least, and saving a lot altogether.

FAMOUS COLLECTOR LAID TO REST TODAY

John Sonley Had Great Group of Valuable Indian Relics.

The funeral of John Sonley who passed away in Victoria Hospital on Sunday, was held from his residence 208 Wharfedale road, this afternoon at 2:30.

Mr. Sonley was private secretary to the late Mr. Shaw-Wood and it was through this position he became the owner of one of the finest collection of Indian relics in the Dominion.

While employed by Mr. Shaw-Wood he lived at the Shaw-Wood residence on the Hyde Park road most of the time. As the site of the dwelling is an old Indian village he was able to obtain many additions to his then large collection. He collected many of the old Indian weapons and ornaments that had been left by the neutral tribes that lived there for 300 years.

The collection is now at his home in London West and many of the prominent scientists of the Dominion have come to see it. The most valuable article in the collection is an old tobacco pipe.

There is a lizard carved by a master hand on the top and on the front of the bowl there is a human face done in masterly fashion. This is considered one of the most valuable artifacts ever found in Canada.

Mr. Sonley was constable for London West for a number of years. He was a member of the Woodmen of the World.

The pallbearers for the funeral were: A. Wilson, J. McNamara, B. Cunningham, C. Jarvis, P. C. Hooper and J. H. Coulter.

MANUAL TRAINING STAFF PLANS NOT COMPLETED

Adjustment of the manual training staff of London public schools has not yet been arranged for the autumn term. At the last meeting of the board of education, O. W. Poast, Outremont, Quebec, was named as assistant instructor, after fifteen applications had been opened.

A manual training supervisor for the public schools has yet to be appointed. Five applications from outsiders were received and one or two local men were in view. The matter is being left for Inspector V. K. Greer to make recommendation on.

MEET THIS AFTERNOON.

The monthly meeting of the Children's Aid Society is being held this afternoon. The regular session for June was postponed from last Tuesday and it is expected that much business for the summer months will be cleared up today. No regular sessions will be held by the board during July or August.

CLASS PICNICS AT PORT.

E. E. Gibbs took his class, grade eight, Chesley Avenue Public School, to Port Stanley this afternoon. The outing is an annual affair looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure by the members of Mr. Gibbs' class. Forty-four boys and girls participated in the picnic this afternoon.

CLOCK GOLF FEATURES PRETTY GARDEN FETE

Home of Mrs. George Gillespie
Is Scene of Attractive
Event This Afternoon.

Clock golf was an interesting and novel feature of the garden fete, held this afternoon on the grounds at the home of Mrs. George Gillespie, Albert street, under the auspices of the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church. Golden sunshine, flower decked tea tables, blossoming shrubs and velvety lawns made a pretty setting for the event.

A large number of guests, wearing smart summer frocks, came and went during the afternoon, many of whom stayed on for tea. Mrs. Gillespie, who acted as general convener, was assisted in receiving by the president of the association, Mrs. Hugh Rennie, and the members of the committee, including Mrs. William Beattie, Mrs. William Howie, Mrs. J. B. Aikenhead and Mrs. Percy Millman. Tea was poured out by Mrs. Donald Graham and Mrs. Charles Sweet, and the ice was in charge of Mrs. H. D. Wright. Assisting at the tea hour were Miss Laura Beattie, Miss Mary Myott and Miss Margaret Millman.

There is a lizard carved by a master hand on the top and on the front of the bowl there is a human face done in masterly fashion. This is considered one of the most valuable artifacts ever found in Canada.

The BREATH of the AVENUE

ALL the most exclusive of the country clubs around New York are carefully checked by this store's fashion representatives. The staff of the Breath of the Avenue—our exclusive New York fashion-first service—are there working for us—and watching for you.

WEEK-END WARDROBES

FROM now on, the week-end vacation figures prominently in summer plans. There are more week-end vacationers every year, for in many families this Friday to Monday holidaying takes the place of a summer at the lake shore.

SO everyone who takes four vacations a month plans her summer wardrobe with a watchful eye on her week-end plans, activities and luggage.

FIRST comes the travelling costume. If it goes in a car, or by a short train trip, it is more than likely to be a flannel coat, with a harmonizing coat and a matching felt hat. The flannel dress makes its appearance later for morning walks or rides, and the flannel coat may be an all-sufficient wrap for the week-end. As it is light in weight and usually light in color, it lends itself to the afternoon dress as well as the sports costume.

FOR the longer trip, the dark silk coat is the best choice. And the printed dress worn with it makes an effective ensemble on the way, and an extra afternoon frock for Saturday or Sunday.

THE sportswear costume is the type that will give free play to any game. The smartest examples are either a two-piece costume, a skirt with a sweater, flannel waistcoat or sports blouse. Or a one-piece dress with simple lines in a knitted fabric, or in washable silk.

THE sport skirt, to be very popular, will be either flannel or silk crepe, group pleated. As for the sweater, the balance of fashion favors leans slightly to the slip-on sweater with its V neck.

LIGHT frocks for the afternoon, and this usually means Sunday evening, too, many take their choice of silk crepes and sheer cotton crepes, dotted Swiss or voiles. The most successful afternoon frock for the week-end, however, is the voile frock. Because it is so simple in line, and so unobtrusive in its handwork trimming, it may change its personality, by changing its accessories.

THE white felt hat can easily be crushed into nothing. And it serves all week-end, from morning tennis to afternoon tea.

WHEREVER your week-ends are to be spent, at a hotel among strangers, or at a country home among friends, some of these suggestions prove usable.

To-day I saw

Have you ever stopped to watch the early morning activity of a big store? I suppose it is an every-day occurrence, but to me it was excitingly new. Only the caption is very misleading—I saw it last Wednesday, and not today at all.

My lookout on the balcony commanded a view of the first floor. To an accompaniment of cheerful greetings and quick footsteps, the funeral white covers disappear from counters and shelves, lights flash on and stocks are deftly arranged for the day.

Dusters whisk about industriously, and there's a subdued clink of coins, as the contents of the money bags are emptied into the cash registers. Just as the hands of the clock point to nine, the big front doors are unlocked and swung open to admit the crowd of determined shoppers who are waiting in the vestibule.

There is no delay or confusion at the entrance, for each woman knows just what she wants, and just where she will find it. The remarkable values of the Wednesday sales insure an interested crowd.

In an incredibly short time, businesslike shoppers are scattered all over the store. In fact, the whole place is such a hive of industry that I'm sure it would give the proverbial busy bee a lot of new ideas about improving each shining minute!
