The presentation to the lady principal, Miss Esther Abram, was an important of the program and one which was most happily and appropriately incorporated. Since Miss Abram became principal, McKeough school has entered upon an era of unexampled educational prosperity, and its progress has been phenomenal. The lady principal is also surrounded by an excellent and accomplished staff, and nothing more was needed than the exhibit of last evening to demonstrate their energy and prograte in the property of the control To "get next" you must first get

GH SCHOOL

The whole school presented a picturesque, animated and unique appearance. The decorations were of a Hallowe'en character, charmingly gotten up and artistically arranged. The display of school work in the various rooms, which included work from every pupil in the school, was a revelation. It included the regular school lessons, dainty kindergarten triumphs and exquisite exhibits of drawing, fancy work, color and manual training accomplishments. The bazaar booths were a high tribute to the skill and artistic taste of the staff. They were beautifully designed and executed and the pretty array of charming creations attracted segres of delighted purchasers. It was unfortunate that so excellent a program as was provided should be lost upon the large majority of visitors by reason of carelessness and noise. Even in the hall the only gentleman who was heard at all was Mr. McCoig, and his stentorian tones succeeded, after an effort, in surmounting the murmuring, moving obstacles. To ex-Mayor McKeough and others who so carnestly devoted themselves to the restoration and maintenance of order, the thanks of a large portion of the audience is due. However, Hallowe'en is the night when the young folks are, perhaps, entitled to special privileges, and the more serious disorder without the school was doubtless traceable to outsiders.

The eloquent young member for West Kent, Arch. B. McCoig, M. P. P., put in a nutshell. "We are all rightly proud of our schools," he declared, "and it is occasions such as this —and exhibits such as these—which demonstrate to the Province at the common that the common trace of the province at The program was opened with a se-ection from the orchestra, which was

H. S. Clements, M. P., was to have presented this medal, but he was unavoidably absent, being called out of the city. A letter was read from him, in which he sincerely regretted his absence, and wished Miss Abram and her capable staff of assistants continued success in their work.

The boys' chorus, "The Holy City," was especially enjoyable, the solo parts being taken by W. Stewart Mc-Keough, the talented young son of Keough, the talented young son of ex-Mayor W. E. McKeough.

One of the prettiest features of the evening was the unexpected presentation of a beautiful brooch and a well worded address to Miss Abram by the graduating class.

Miss Abram has shown remarkably good work with this class, with whom she has always been a popular teacher. She made a very fitting reply, thanking the graduates for their gift.

teacher. She made a very fitting reply, thanking the graduates for their gift.

The following was the address: Dear Miss Advan:
The graduating class of 1905 of Mc-Keough school takes advantage of this important occasion to express to you our appreciation of your kindness towards us, and your efforts in our behalf, during our last year of Public school life. The year spent in the entrance class with you as our teacher, was one of pleasure, mingled with hard work, and your painstaking and careful instruction was rewarded in the success of your publis at the last midsummer examination. In a way we are sorry to leave behind us the McKeough school and its teachers, but we are boys and girls who desire to grow, not only in size, but in intellect, and our promotion from the Public school to the Collegiate Institute is one step in advance.

As a small token of our love and esteem, we ask you to accept this brooch, accompanied by our best wishes for the old school, its prin-

The cavalier hat is predicted as the picture hat for the season, and higher crowns mark some of the new models.

For autumn traveling the most prac-tical and satisfying scheme is that of the Frenchwoman. The dress is tailor made, a coat and skirt combined, in a fine serge or light cloth. The jacke should be close fitting, well shaped to the figure at the back and displaying straight buttoned front. These fronts are shaped toward the side and foll quite straight in front, which gives a pretty roundness to the figure. loose, floppy sack coat is never adopted by the chic Parisienne, excepting when fashioned as an evening wrap, a travel ing overcoat or motor coat. Worn with this coatee is a blouse chemisette of linon, embroidered with a dainty cravat and collar, which is finished by hapely belt in tan leather or white kid, fastened in front by a deep buckle. The skirt is cut closely round the hips, allowing plaits or volants en forme to ward the base to give the necessary fullness. It must not be made to short, but well off the ground, sufficiently to display a well shaped boot or shoe, not a dancing slipper. A neat tan or black boot or shoe is the most practical, comfortable and the prettiest for such use.

The short, close fitting coats require to be exquisitely cut, and, this granted, there is no doubt that they cannot be surpassed for quiet elegance and comfort. For what exists more awkward, tiresome and hot than a long heavy tweed coat in conjunction with a skirt of the same substantial fabric during the autumn days, when the sun's strength is still overpowering? J. VERNON WALDER.

Salad Points.

Mold tomato jelly in a shallow pan. When firm cut in cubes and scatter over a bed of cress or shredded lettuce. Pour over it a French dressing. Unpeeled radishes, sliced thin, mixed with a few pearl onions and served with a French dressing, make an appetizing salad, A salad that suggests a flower is nade by placing a hard boiled egg cut in two in a cup of lettuce leaves. Serve with mayonnaise. A salad of beans, celery and onlong is good, the beans having been baked with a little salt pork.

Chop some celery, blanched almonds and cabbage, add shredded lettuce and mix with a cooked dressing. Beets and pearl onions are nice com bined, as also are asparagus tips and carrots, the carrots cut in tiny pieces. Pour over it a French dressing.

paper with tailor made garments, and pack them as much like a man's suit as possible. Never forget that wrinkle, and many other wrinkles will be avoided. And of materials, remember serge and most voiles pack magnificently, alpaca always cresses faced cloth wants care, cashmere does crumple but soon shakes out. Velvet of course must never be creased at all; crepe de chine travels very well on the whole; silks vary, and anyhow should be treated with discretion.

Silk or Voile Evening Skirt. This skirt shows a quite plain model cut in the prevailing fashion, with considerable fullness around the feet, starts from just beneath the hips. The skirt has a fairly long train and is set to the walst with a few gathers in the immediate back.

Hot Buttermilk Hot buttermilk will often give relief to a person suffering from a cough. It works wonders taken either hot or cold by persons troubled with indigestion. It will often cure stubborn cases of constipation, says a person who claims to have gained ten pounds in as many weeks while taking a quart of buttermilk daily.

Names In Ireland,

The Cornish names in Ireland are few and far between, but evidence of an extensive Welsh immigration is forthcoming in the fact that at the present day the name Walsh — pronounced Welsh—is to be met with in nearly every county in Ireland. The curious settlement of Welsh colonists in the baronies of Forth and Bargy, in County Wexford, who maintained their County Wexford, who maintained their ancient manners, customs and language for some 400 years, no longer deserves the title of a "peculiar people," given to them by S. C. Hall in 1841, the Forth dialect having producially died out, though many of the old family names—Ccd. Sinott, Rossiter and Walsh—are still very common in the neighborhood.

The Huguenois were granted letters

Ine Huguenots were granted letters of na ralization in 1674 and founded colonies in Dublin Kilkenny, Portar-lington, Waterford, Cork and Lisburn. Many prominent, distinguished Irishmen have borne and still bear Hugue-not names, among whom mention may be made of the La Touches, Trenches, La Fevres, Lefroys and Lefanus, of the last of whom one may say, in the best sense, that they are Hibernis ipsis

Some Good Suggestions About the Kind of Articles to Buy. Bolster rolls can be bought which ar hollow, where the pillows can be stored during the day after being aired. If the dining room is small get a pretty serving table with a drawer or so, if possible, instead of a cumber-some sideboard.

Do not buy dining room chairs with spreading claw feet or with backs curv-ing out sideways, for when the time comes that you want to entertain many around the table you will find that you cannot get many chairs around it,

A round dining table measuring four feet six is the best in size for general purposes. Around this table eight peo-ple can be nicely accommodated, while it is not too large for four. But only six can be comfortably seated, at round table measuring four feet in di-omission. When purchasing a dressing table get one that is high enough from the floor in the middle to permit you to get your knees under when sitting at it; otherwise you will find yourself a considerable distance away from the glass. When buying a couch buy a box couch. It makes an excellent storing place for porfleres, blankets, etc.

Never buy a chair till it is tested as to its comfort and remember that a chair seat which seems slightly high from the floor will be higher still when the casters are in. - Good Housekeep-

BABY HAMMOCKS.

They Are Convenient and Comforta-ble Aids to the Nursery.

Baby hammocks, ready to hang from convenient posts or independently pro-vided with supports, are among the greatest joys of the nursery. Some of them-for the littlest tots-have an at tachment which makes it impossible for the baby to tip the hammock over Those for real "hush-a-bys" have high sides, with an extra piece set in at each end; there's no chance left for crawling out at the ends. They are made short - not much over length-and more closely woven than strong, but simple-the kind that can be made at home. The hammock swings with the cords at the ends drawn through two uprights, which on the inner sides have hooks. When the hammock is to be at rest the cords are fastened to the hooks, and except for a little rocking of the lower part the hammock is immovable.—Philadelphia North American.

Does Your Door Stick? If your door or bureau drawer sticks, do you know how to "fix" it? The said the other day: "This is a trouble with much furniture, especially that which is new. What do we do in such cases? We simply tell the customers to wet the surface of a bar of common laundry soap and rub it firmly over the parts of the wood that stick. This makes the surface smooth and slippery and in nearly all cases the drawer will slide easily, especially after it has been opened and shut a few times. This also is valuable with doors which, in new flats, are likely to settle or are apt to scrape at the top. Just use soap on them and save the trouble of calling in a carpenter, who will plane off the varnish. China cabinet loors with curved glass cause us a lot of trouble, but most of the tightness can be remedied by the use of soap and a few applications of sandpaper."

Don't Neglect Neuralgia. Nothing is so terrible as severe neuralgia, and beyond a doubt girls acquire it often enough by the conditions of school life. Headaches in a schoolgirl usually mean exhausted nerve power through overwork, overexcitement, overanxiety or bad air. Rest, a good laugh or a country walk will usually cure it readily enough to begin with, but to become subject to neadaches is a very serious matter, and all such nervous diseases have a nasty tendency to recur, to become periodic, to be set up by the same causes, to become an organic habit of the body. For any woman to become liable to constant neuralgia is a most serious thing. It paralyzes the power to work; it deprives her of the power to enjoy anything; it tends toward irritability of temper; it tempts to the use of narcotics and stimulants.

The Value of the Home, Home is the one place in all the world where hearts are sure of each other. It is the place of confidence it is the place where we tear off that mask of guarded and suspicious coldness which this world forces us to wear in self defense and where we pour out the unreserved communica-tions of full and confiding nearts, says Woman's Life. It is the spot where expressions of tenderness gush out without any sensation of awkwardness and without any dread of ridicule.

IN COLONIAL DAYS. The First Iron Mines and Flour Mills

In 1619 the London company, the proprietors of the colony of Virginia, sent over a Mr King and 150 skilled ironworkers to erect furnaces on Falling creek. These men came chiefly from Warwickshire and Staffordshire and when once in Virginia named the village that grew up about their iron

Mr. King soon dropped out of the enterprise, and a Captain Bluett superintended the erection of the works. But his career was a short one, after which John Berkeley, son of Sir John Berkeley, a nobleman of much dis-tinction, succeeded to the superintendency of the establishment and conducted it ably until one day-March 22, 1622-the Indians, under Opitchapan, a brother of Powhatan, surprised the village and murdered Berkeley and 150 men and women.

In 1700 mills were built upon the ruins of the iron furnace. In those mills was ground the first flour exported from America, much of it going to South America. From that time on Warwick grew rapidly until it became an important manufacturing and shipping village, as it was at the head of navigation.

Shortly before the outbreak of the Revolutionary war Colonel Archibald Cary acquired possession of the vast known as Ampthill, that lay on the James river and inland along Falling creek for a distance. The estate was named after one in England.

Colonel Cary was chairman of the committee that drafted the first bill of rights and state constitution in America, that of Virginia. When the war broke out he took an active part in the military operations of his country in the south.

Tarleton, the British general, sailed up the James river and burned Warwick and Colonel Cary's mills on Falling creek. The old Ampthill house occupied by Colonel Cary at the time is still standing, and the present owners are descendants of the Cary family.

THE HOUSEKEEPER'S PROBLEM.

THE FACTS OF THE CASE.

The tendency of the times is for young women to prefer work in office or factory rather than doing housework. Yet the work in the office or factory is usually more nerveracking because it is a constant rep-constant rep-on of work at etition of work at high speed—a tension which racks brain and body and from which there is no relaxation. On the other hand the housekeeper, the housekeeper, if she be a mother of a large family, is weighted down with worries and cares—her housework is beyond her strength, perhaps, yet if she studies her work, puts her housework on a business basis and manages well, she can easily take twenty minutes or half an hour in the middle of the day to completely relax. Many women are confined to a continual in-door life because of disease of the womanly organs. To these is offered $500 reward if they cannot be cured of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb. All Dr. Pierce asks is fair and reasonable trial of his means of cure.

Time has brought a transformation.

Instead of th of the Indian's nature. Instead of th brutal and wild disposition he origin-ally possessed are traits of character which endear him to the whites and make toward better condition for the tribes and the Americans with whor they come in contact. Canadians pro-fit considerably by trade with the Olib-ways, who are active in agricultural pursuits and fur trading. Many Indians have acquired considerable wealth in dealing with the Canadians wealth, in dealing with the Canadians. The fur trade in the Hudson Bay country has no mean proportions and summer finds the Indians active in their corn fields. They are learning to provide better homes for their families. The old saying that "An Indian once will be an Indian still," although disputed by students, has truth in it, for even to-day one of the greatest delights of the Indian is to teach his off-lights of the Indian is to teach his off-spring the language of his race and the legends of his ancestors. The Ojibways have many traditions. Some are historical, some are of myth-ical origin. "The Long Chase" is one of the principal traditions of the Ojib-Others almost as sacred to their ways. Chiefs are regarded as "Hiawatha." Chiefs are regarded as the best repositories for the Ojibway legends. The chiefs attend to their duty of preserving these legends well. They tell them on various occasions and see to it that young Indians are instructed at an early age.

The Ojibways several years ago first produced the play of "Hiawatha." The redice are described in the play of "Hiawatha." The redice are described in the play of "Hiawatha." The redice are described in the play of "Hiawatha." The redice are described in the play of "Hiawatha." The produced the play of "Hiawatha." The Indian as a dramatist had hitherto been undiscovered, but the ability to act has been demonstrated in the production of the play. Each summer the Indians troop down to the northern shores of Lake Huron, where they see the play produced by a company of their own people. The spot selected has been an island near the Huron shore about thirty miles east of Sault shore, about thirty miles east of Sault Ste Marie. This is the fifth season that the In dians have produced "Hawatha." Chief Kakaosa, one of the most eloquent of Indians, is a central figure is the play, His Indian title is Chi of Obtosaway, meaning "Cloud of the South Land." Carey W. Hartman, formerly of Toronto, is probably more familiar with the Ojibway Indians than most men. When a lad he was adopted into one of their tribes and can speak the lan or their tribes and can speak the language fluently. He has many friends among the red men. Although it is now more than seven years since he left them, he frequently returns to visit them. On a recent visit he went through their country in a canoe, making use of a camera as he went. Ojib-ways who belong to the company play-ing "Hiawatha" donned their best leg-gings and war paint and gave the play for him. That was in the forest, be-

Mrs. Hartman a few years ago was formally adopted into the same tribe in ing much to better their education. Naturally they are a very intelligent people and they learn easily. Most of the young Indians attend school several months out of the year and are being trained in agricultural pursuits.

"I believe it will not be many years before Canadians will be very proud of the Ojibways. They constitute the greatest Indian nation we have in this part of the country. Being ambitious, and having among them many very clever red men who are trying to elevate their people, it seems that at some clever red men who are trying to elevate their people, it seems that at some time before long their efforts will be rewarded fully."

Mr. Hartman believes it a good education for any one to live among the Ojibway Indians. Their ways, he says, are instinctively Indian. Historians record that certain great Indian chiefs were fine orators. Some Indian speeches have been published as examples of splendid oratory.

Among the Ojibways are found textbooks settling forth the principles of their language, Some of these Indians insist that their children be taught the Ojibway language. Most of them learn sufficient English to enable them to converse with the white men who live sufficient English to enable them to converse with the white men who live near their reservations.

The northern winter is the hardest thing for the Ojibway Indians to endure. Those living in the most northerly portions of their lands usually move in the fall to the north shores of Lake Huron. A few instal themselves in log cabins, well banked, and face the winter and the deep snows as best they can. Those moving southward often can. Those moving southward often find employment among Canadian farmers during the winter, while the others spend their time hunting and trapping. Deer, beaver and other animals valuable for food or for their furnishmen in the country inhabited are common in the country inhabited by the Ojibways, so privation is not

WAS REPREHENSIBLE

A score or so of small boys and fads who should have known better caused much annoyance to the Mc-Keough school visitors last night. These boys, secreted in the dark, threw pieces of pumpkin at people passing in and out of the school. One lady, just at the head of the school steps, was struck full in the face by a speedy missle and was badly hurt.

HALLOWE'EN PRANK

They say the old boys take as much interest as ever in Hallowe'en and many good stories are told of their doings. For instance 'tis said that Dr. Duncan and A. I. McCall both went out on bicycles—the sly old foxes knew they could get around faster. But they met—they didn't want to meet, but they did on Wellington street and met head on. It was an unkind Hallowe'en prank of the wheels and somewhat dampened the Hallowe'en ardor of the old boys.

The boys, however, were fairly quiet fast night and no serious pranks are reported. The usual number of gates were missing this morning but the victims take the jokes good naturedly as they remember their own boyhood days, and so far no complaints have been made to the police.

Perhaps the most surprising and difficult prank was played on ex. Reeve James McCormick, of Harwich. During the night some persons took his buggy out of his barn and in spite of the darkness of the night hung it Torty feet above the ground in a big chestnut tree. Mr. McCormick spied it there when he was coming into town this morning. He is now looking for those who did it, not to lay a complaint, but to find out how they get the buggy there, so that he may use the same means in getting it down.

Libellious Innuendoes in London Paper - Slanderous Gossip on Lacroix St. Case

The many ugly and vitriolic slanders being circulated in connection with the recent raid on a Lacroix St. house of questionable repute, coupled with a glaringly untruthful and sensational report in the London Free Press this morning, have occasioned much righteous indignation. Crown Attorney Smith, when interviewed, said he very much regretted the number of slanderous statements being made concerning those who were, to the knowledge of all the authorities, absolutely inno-cent. If these statements, he said, are not promptly dropped and withdrawn it would be necessary to officially determine their origin and take steps to deal with those responsible. Almost everybody's digestion is disordered more or less, and the com-monest thing they do for it is to take some one of the many so-call-ed blood purifiers, which, in many oases, are merely strong cathartics. Such things are not needed. If the organs are in a clogged condition, they need only a little help and they will right themselves. the stomach and bowels and often do more harm than good.

Purging is not what is needed. The thing to do is to put the food in condition to be readily digested and assimilated. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do this perfectly. They partly digest what is eaten and give the stomach just the help it needs. They stimulate the secretion and execretion off the digestive fluids and relieve the congested condition of the glands and membranes. They put the whole digestive system is condition to do its work. When that is done you need take no more tablets, unless you eat what does not agree with you. Then take one or two tablets—give them needed help, and you will have no trouble.

Prehistoric Plants.

Prehistoric Plants.

One of the oddities of a coal mine in Belgium is that the earth brought to the surface with the coal contains many seeds of plants unknown to modern botanists.

As the shaft runs to a depth of 126 feet it would seem that these seeds must be those of plants which flourished ages ago, and which, after centuries of darkness, at last spring into growth when again brought to the vivifying influences of light and air.

Most of the products are rank growths of weeds unlike any of the latter day vegetation, and they form a curious study for the botanist, who has vainly sought for their twentieth century descendants.

Kent Law Society Takes Sympathetic Action on the Death of Christopher Robinson

On receipt of the sad news of the udden death of Christopher Robinson, K. C., President J. G. Kerr called a special meeting of the Chatham Bar at noon to-day in the Judge's Chambers. There were present: President J. G. Kerr, His Honor Judge Bell, Col. J. B. Rankin, K. C., C. R. Atkinson, K. C., M. Houston, M. Wilson, K. C., J. A. Walker, K. C., O. L. Zewis, H. D. Smith, W. H. Robinson, S. B. Arnold, Fred. Stone, Thos. Scullard and others.

President Kerr explained the sad office of the meeting. The deceased had been a warm and particular friend of the local Law Society and had donated a series of valuable works to their library.

Mr. Houston then moved, in a feeling address, and Mr. Atkinson seconded a motion of condolence be forwarded by wire to the widow. A floral emblem was also ordered. Chambers. There were present

THOUGHTLESS BOY

Engideer Murphy, of the Taylor Mills, performed a very thoughtful act when he telephoned Chief Pritchard at two c'clock this morning, noard at two o'clock this morning, notiffying him that a Pere Marquette, flat ear blocked the road near the Colborne St. siding. If the firemen had been palled out and had attempted to cross this bridge a serious accident would, no doubt, have happened. Some thoughtless boys, who were out for a time, had evidently blocked the street with the flat car, fined $30 and May Collins $10.

"There was a report that these two girls went back to Lacroix street and raised a disturbance the next night after they were let out," said Chief Holmes this morning. "This, however, is untrue. The girls went back to the house as they had no other place to go. A couple of drunken men came around and tried to break in. The girls called a policeman and afterwards went to a city hotel, where they put up for the night."

HAVE NO LIQUOR

Will be Prohibited-Government Takes a Stand

Clause to be Added to Charters-Not to Effect Old Clubs-Chatham and Octawa Elks Shut Out.

The Ontario Government has for ion of granting liquor licenses t clubs, and has practically decided that in future no club charter will oe granted without a clause attach ed to prohibit the selling of liquor or the carrying on of betting o gambling. This will not affect existing clubs already possessing liquor privileges. The Toronto Elks reently obtained the right to dispose of liquor at their club, but the Chatnam and Ottawa Elks, which have ocen sceking a similar privilege, will thus be shut out. The Chatham Elks sent a deputation to interview the Government on Monday to present their case. Under the law, as it has existed until the present, clubs have been able to dispose of liquor on their own premises, just as if they were private homes. They will be able to continue in the same way, but new clubs will have to do without liquor. WORDING OF THE NEW CLAUSE.

The new clause, which will be at-tached to all new club charters, is a very stringent one, and is as follows:
This charter shall be forfeited and may be canceled by the LieutenantGovernor-in-Council should the club or the manager, directors, commit-tees or steward, or any member thereof, or any other persons, with the assent, or the acquaintance, or permission of the club, the manager, directors, committees or steward or members thereof, deal in barter, traffic in, or sell or dispose of alco-hol, spirits or other spirituous, malt or intoxicating liquors upon the pre-mises of the said club; and this charter is accepted upon this condi-tion and upon the terms that any person so dealing in, bartering, trafficking in or selling, or disposing of any such spirituous, malt, or intoxi-cating liquors upon the said premises whether he be a member, servant, or agent of the said club, or not, shall agent of the said club, or not, shall be guilty of an infraction of the Liquor License Act and of selling intoxicating liquors without the necessary license authorizing or permitting such sale, and shall incur the penalties by the said Act provided, and shall be otherwise amendable to all the provisions of the said vided, and shall be otherwise amendable to all the provisions of the said Liquor License Act and the amendments thereto, and a plea in such case that such sale or other violation of the said Act took place by a member of the said dub to a member thereof, or that the said cfub was duly incorporated, shall not be made, received or entertained.

And we further ordain and declare that these was granted.

that these presents are granted upon the condition that this charter and the condition that this charter, and the favors of the club hereby incorporated shall be subject to forfeiture and may be cancelled by the Lieutenant Governor in Council should the club or any officer, employe or member thereof or any other, person or persons, with the assent, acquires our persons, with the assent, acquires our persons, or the said tr. person or persons, with the assent, acquiescence or permission of the said club, or of any officer, employe or member, permit, allow or carry on in or upon the premises of the club, betting or gambling between any person whatsoever, or should the club be reported to be maintaining or using a place for any gambling or unlawful purpose whether such betunlawful purpose, whether such bet-ting or gambling is, or is reported to be, partially or wholly entered into or carried out upon such premises."

among the members of the Cabinet, and it is expected that it will be formally made law by the passage of an order in Council to-morrow afternoon.-Mail and Empire.

Snakes In the Wine, The long-suspected affinity between the wine and the serpent was proved in a startling manner at the customs house at Montreal recently. An offi-cer who had been testing several car-boys of port wine from China report-ed that he had discovered snakes in the wine, and, as he had not been in the wine, and, as he had not been in the habit of "seeing things," his statement received credence. Returning to the wine with other officers, he showed how, in testing, in the contents of one of the carboys, he had seen a snake through the wine, and so the vessel was opened for inspection. To the astonishment of all, the remains of several snakes and a lizard were found in the bottom dressed in a manner to indicate that they had been placed there for a purpose. The snakes were taken to the City Hall and the Chief Food Inspector drew a sample of wine to test to the City Hall and the Chief Food Inspector drew a sample of wine to test its properties. The consignment was addressed to a local Chinese merchant, and when an inquiry was made about the snakes all that could be learned from that source was, "Muchee good; cure sole headache; got leumitism, eatee some snake."

A LITERAL APPLICATION

By LOUISE J. STRANG Copyright, 1905, by Louise J. Strang

"You shall never marry her on the face of this earth!" Aunt Eliza delivered her assertion autocratically, and swept from the room, closing the door with an emphasis that made tear ful Kitty shriek. The young man whose temerity ha evoked the declaration gathered the little figure in a comfortable embrace saying coaxingly, "Look here, grile, what's the use of caring whether she consents or not? You're eighteen. Let be married aryway."

"But-but papa gave her control of me and my property till I am twentyfour. You know she-she can keep me from having a penny all that time.

"She's welcome to. We won't need it. But as for waiting six years—that's out of the question, and we are not going to do it. Besides, she declares I shall never marry you anyway, and we will have to do withou her consent in the end or give each other up." Giving each other up was not to be considered at all, Kitty agreed, but she had not the courage openly to defy Aunt Eliza, and the only thing seemed

But as the weeks passed the waiting policy appeared only to strengthen Mrs. Stratton's opposition to her niece's marriage with Frank Renfew. She grew distinctly tyrannical, finally prohibiting the young man's visits, and prohibiting the young man's visits, and forbidding Kitty to recognize him at chance meetings. Then the girl flared up and demanded some good reason for her aunt's unexplained attitude of the state of hostility to Frank. There was none, really, except the willful desire to

But she told Kitty sharply: "He is not at all the man to contribute to your happiness, and he has not the ability to manage your property successfully In plain words, he isn't burdened with any too much smartness."

"I am the best judge as to my happiness, and I'd trust Frank's 'smartness' with every cent I have!" Kitty retort-

"I wouldn't and won't! I consider the matter settled and shall expect you to act accordingly, else you may find yourself in school again."

She sailed away, thus securing the last word, as was her habit, but the threat made Kitty rebellious, and she went out immediately and purposely to meet Frank. As he was on the watch for sucirchances, she was soon pouring out this new grievance to him in the helter of the park.

Frank seized the moment to urge their marriage at once, but in spite of her indignation Kitty could not quite make up her mind to take that step. She felt that she could not bear to be utterly estranged from her only living relative because of her disobedience, Something might happen to change Aunt Eliza-and anyway, she was determined to see Frank when and where she could, and she would be true to him always. She sobbed a little and labbed her eyes with her handkerchief, swelling with pride at the similarity of er position with that of her favorite. cuted heroine.

Frank had preserved a moody si-ence, his eyes fixed on a distant billboard just now being spread with flam-ing posters. Suddenly he started up alertly, a broad smile chasing the gloom from his countenance. The smile increased to a wide grin, a chuckle, and presently, to Kitty's astonishment, he broke into a gust of laughter.

"Girlie, I've got the greatest idea ver! We'll be married and not run up against auntie's veto either!" He gleefully explained the scheme that had fashed into his mind. "There's a sort of negative consent in her declaration, though she never dreamed of it, of ourse, but she'll see it herself," he as-

She became more compliant, and, as Kitty seemed disposed to mope, exerted herself to interest the girl, even sacrificing her dignity to the extent of proposing that, dressed plainly, they should join the herd of sightseers and witness a circus parade, tight rope walking and balloon ascen-Aunt Eliza's presence on the street that day was peculiarly desirable, and Kitty acquiesced with secret joy.

Frank passed them once with a stiff bow, and Mrs. Stratton's keen eyes could detect no cloud on the rosy face beside her. Kitty was becoming reconciled.

A few girls joined them, and it was Aunt Eliza herself who further smoothed the way unconsciously by offering to remain seated on a dry goods box commanding an unobstructed view, leaving Kitty and the girls to run about unhampered by her slower movements. Kitty promptly lost her companions and joined Frank at the prearranged rendezvous.

"Really, it is taking a mean advantage, Frank. She has made it so easy!" she exclaimed.

"Never mind. It was wholly unintentional on her part and she will probably more than make up for it afterward," he comforted.

"I suppose so," Kitty giggled hysterically.

Frank looked at her anxiously Brace up, girlie! Take a tight hold of yourself and don't be afraid. They're waiting for us, and it'll be over soon.' He pushed through the jam to the big balloon swaying on its stout cables. A slim, severe young man in clerical dress was already in the car, looking dignified disapprobation. He had not realized the extreme publicity of the position, and only Frank's prepayment of a large fee prevented his withdrawal.

Clinging to Frank, trembling and frightened, Kitty was helped in, the balloon set affoat, and a man elevated above the crowd bellowed through a

Just at its conclusion Aunt Eliza, who had gaped in open mouthed, petrified astonishment, scrambled to her feet upon the box, waved her umbrella and shricked wildly: "Kitty! Kitty! Stop this instant! I forbid it!

"Too late, ma'am!" yelled the megaphone man, with a laugh that set the spectators off in delighted cheers.

"You're a pretty pair of underhanded neats!" Aunt Eliza exploded when the bridegroom finally had fought his way through to her with his shrinking bride. "It can't be legal-such a perfeetly disgraceful thing!"

"Oh, yes, it's all right enough, auntie," Frank grinned. "And we were obliged to do it, disgraceful or not, for I was determined to have Kitty, and she would not disobey your mandate prohibiting our ever being married on the face of this earth. London society folk are much amused at a recent misadventure of Lord Newton-Butler, who is a dignified man of rather stiff carriage and who is himself responsible for the story.

It was a musical at-home in Belgravia, to which Lord Butler was invited, and, it being a rainy night, he wore a felt hat and a long waterproof coat over his evening dress. The family butler opened the door to him, looked puzzled for a moment, and then asked tentatively, "Name, please?"

"Lord Newton-Butler," was the reply.

They've got a job lot upstairs to-night and your master ain't come yet, if you're looking for him."

"With pleasure," said his Lordship, who spent a chatty five minutes with the butler over a glass of Burton ale.

"Much obliged way you, I'm sure, and now I think I'll go and have a look at the 'job lot' in the drawing-room."

And to the butler's horror his new acquaintance strode up the stairs and was soon warmly shaking the hand of his hostess.

A certain London corn chandler had just engaged an assistant, who hailed from a small village near Leeds. He from a small village near Leeds. He was not remarkable for his intelligence. His friends, realizing this deficiency, had evidently warned him against being caught by the sharp London people who would be certain to try and take a rise out of him. Full of this resolve not to be caught, he began his duties.

OLD AGE.

OLD AGE.

Old age as it comes in the orderly process of Nature is a beautiful and majestic thing. The very shadow of eclipse which threatens it, makes it the more prized. It stands for experience, knowledge, wisdom and counsel. That is old age as it should be. But old age as it so often is means nothing but a second childhood of mind and body. What makes the difference? Very largely the care of the stomach. In youth and the full strength of manhood it does not seem to matter how we treat the stomach. We abuse it, overwork it; injure it. We don't suffer from it much. But when age comes the stomach is worn out. It can't prepare and distribute the needed nourishment to the body, and the body, unnourished, falls into senile decay. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a wonderful medicine for old people whose stomachs are weak and whose Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a wonderful medicine for old people whose stomachs are weak, and whose digestions are poor. Its invigorat-ing effects are felt by mind as well as body. It takes the sting from old age, and makes old people strong.

A CHAPTER ON PICKLES.

Products of the Fall Garden Pre-served For Winter Use. For making pickles I prefer white wine to cider vinegar, but as this is not always obtainable pure cider vinegar may be used. If it is not homemade get it only of some respectable, honest dealer upon whom you can depend. The success of your pickling depends upon the good quality of your vinegar. Use glass jars or else unglazed earthen jars. The vinegar acting upon the glaze produces a mineral poison. Use saucepans or kettles of porcelain to boil the vinegar in and wooden knives and forks in the preparation of the pickles. Fifl jars three parts full with the articles to be pickled and then add vinegar up to the neck of the jar. Sweet Tomato Pickle.-One peck of half ripe tomatoes and six large onions, sliced. Sprinkle with nearly a teacupful of salt and let stand overnight. In the morning drain, add two quarts of water and one of vinegar, boil fifteen minutes, drain them and then add to the tomatoes two pounds of sugar, two quarts of vinegar, two of sugar, two quarts or vinegar, two tablespoonfuls of cloves, allspice, glin-ger, cinnamon and mustard and one teaspoonful of cayenne. Boil fifteen minutes. Afterward place in jars and

I was presented with one of these and told that I could rest more comfortably by putting the back down on a common chair, which was true, but the other chair was in the way, and there was the risk

A NEW DEVICE. of some one moving it unthinkingly, letting the back to the floor. I finally thought of having a small "horse' made, such as carpenters use, one just the right height to let the back down almost level and only as wide as the chair, as shown in the illustration. To think was to act, so now I can sit erect, half recline or lie down, as I wish. Little knobs on the top go just inside of the side pieces of the back and prevent it slipping, so I can rest as securely as if on a bed or lounge.

Brown In Favor.

It would appear that brown, which has been so fashionable all the season through, is gaining in favor rather than diminishing and that it is likely to be patronized during the winter and autumn. There are as many shades almost as it is possible to find We have mustard brown, tobacco brown, snuff brown, golden brown, moleskin brown, deer brown and others, including walnut and chestnut. Tan mingles well with brown, and so does orange. A good many cashmeres and long skirted coats in fine cloth have had a great following in this color, and rich silk braid looks very well on ladies' cloth of tabac tone. Terra cotta or wood shades are used, but warmer tones of brown are really most in favor. Cashmeres in these brown shades are trimmed with ruch-ings of glace put on in scroll work. A Useful Wrinkle Any one having a window box or shirt waist box without casters will find it a great convenience to tack common table oilcloth on the bottom, letting it come up on the sides and ends far enough to hold the tacks nicely, say an inch or two. The box will then move over the carpet as easily as though there were casters on it. The oilcloth should be tacked under the upholstering or before it is done.

A Way With Rabbit. Having to put up a luncheon on short notice and having no cooked meat, I used a nice fat rabbit which had soaked overnight in salted water. I took the thick fleshy parts of the back, sliced the meat from the bones, pound-ed it, dipped it in cream, then in flour, and then fried it. It proved a success and is considered as good as chicken by those who have tried it, says a good

A TIME Doan's Kidney Pills CURED HIM

Mr. Thomas Fitzgerald, Hazeldean, Ont., writes us as follows: "I was a great sufferer from kidney trouble for eight months. I had terrible pains across the small of my back. I would have to stay in bed for three days at a time and could not do any work. I tried several remedies but of no avail, and also plasters but they were of no use.

One day a neighbor of mine advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I was so much discouraged I told him I was tired of trying remedies, but he urged me to try one box so I purchased one, and before I was through using it. I found a change for the better so I got five boxes more, and I have had no trouble with my kidneys since. I would not be without Doan's Pills in my house."

It is really not difficult to cure kidney to is really not difficult to cure kidney trouble in its first stages. All you have to do is to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial. They are a never failing cure for all forms of kidney trouble. They quickly relieve the conjested, overworked kidneys, and gradually bring them back to health.

The People, Liberty-Mad, Sing, Cheer and Revel.

St. Petersburg Masses Celebrate the Dawn of Freedom With An Enthusiasm That Has Never Before Been Theirs-Strike is Still On-Count Witte Asks Editors For Support-Bloody Disorders Reported.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 1.—The Russian capital blossomed out with flags and bunting yesterday. All the troops were withdrawn from the streets and the city presented almost its normal appearance. The nervousness of the people has suddenly disappeared. Workmen by the thousands flocked back to the shops and factories without awaiting the permission of the strike committee. The authorities did all in their power to encourage the spirit of rejoicing over the newly-granted liberties. It was by order of Gen. Trepoff that the regulation decorations were hung out, the troops were withdrawn to their barracks and the police were instructed to permit the St. Petersburg, Nov. 1,-The Ruspolice were instructed to permit noon the celebrations began, and the city soon appeared to have gone mad. Such scenes had never before been wit-nessed in Russia. Unrestrained by word or deed the crowds said and did what they liked. Despotism seemed to have been replaced by license. Red lags are everywhere in evidence. In the churches devout men and women on bended knees before the image of St. Nicholas, the miracle worker, rendered thanks for the blessings of liberty, while at the corners of the thronged streets orators harangued the populace. The people assembled principally on the Nevsky Prospect. From the Kazan Cathedral to the Town Hall opposite the Hotel D'Europe, traffic was block-

Witte Asks Editors to Support. Count Witte yesterday summoned a conference of the editors of all the St. Petersburg newspapers, and asked for their aid and co-operation in restor-ing normal conditions and securing the confidence of the people in the new regime, whose purpose was to give the fullest measure of liberty outlined in the manifesto. The count said he had telegraphed to many eminent Liberals to come to St. Petersburg and assist in putting the new administration on a solid and acceptable footing, but while the railroad strike prevented their arrival he was forced to rely on the sober sense of the St. Petersburg press, without whose assistance in calming the people the Government could do nothing positive, and would be obliged to content itself with negative and even reactionary measures. The editors present expressed the pointed out that they could not pub-lish their papers without the consent of the strike committee. The editors of the Radical papers said that to content the people it was necessary to give the fullest amnesty to political prisoners and remove Gen. Trepoff, the Cossacks and other military forces from the city. Count Witte said the Government intended to proclaim am nesty. A manifesto was being prepared, but everything could not be done in a day. He added that it would be madness to remove the troops from the city at such a juncture.

Procurator Resigns. Constantine Petrovich Pobledonostseff, chief procurator of the Holy Synod, has resigned.

Strike Continues. Strike Continues.

The strike committee during the afternoon decided to continue the strike, joining with the students in their demand for the deposition of General Trepoff, general amnesty, the removal of the troops twenty miles out of the city and the creation of a national militia.

Fatal Disorders At Lodz. Lodz, Russian Poland, Nov. 1.—The situation here last night was extremely serious. The general strike is still in progress. Several collisions occurred between the mobs and the troops on Plotrkowski street early last night. The infantry fired on the mobs, killing two persons and wound-ing three, An hour later on Monstantin ing three, An hour later on Monstantin street, two persons were killed and eight wounded. At the same hour a collision occurred in the suburb of Baludy, where three persons were killed and eight wounded. The military Governor has ordered the troops to mercilessly quell all disorders.

Strike in Finland.

Helsingfors, Finland, Nov. 1.—Before the news of the manifesto was received here the workmen's committees, which had been urging co-operation with their Russian comrades, had declared in favor of a general strike, which commenced yesterday. The entire train service east of Helsingfors ceased after midnight, and a general industrial strike began yesterday morning. The students joined in the movement.

Procession Shot At.
Pablanice, Russian Poland, Nov. 1.—
Infantry fired on a procession of workmen here yesterday, killing eight and wounding 24.

Panic At Odessa.

Odessa, Nov. 1.—Something approaching a panic prevailed here last night. There is much indiscriminate shooting, and bands of roughs are prowling in various quarters looking for an opportunity to pillage.

It is openly stated that the police and military are indignant at the changed order of things resulting from the Emperor's manifesto, and are abetting the disorderly elements in order to give excuse for violence.

Petrolea's Fire.

Petrolea, Nov. 1.—A fire occurred here yesterday morning by which the Petrolea Packing Works were totally destroyed. The flames, discovered at an early hour, made rapid progress, and the buildings were soon completely wiped out. During the progress of the fire many narrow escapes from in-juries were experienced by the firemen and townsmen, but no one was hurt. The fire will throw about 100 men out of employment. It is expected that the loss will be between $75,000 and $100. 000, though the actual figures are not yet obtainable.

Fire at Port Elgin.

Port Elgin, Nov. 1.—About 3 o'clock yesterday morning fire started in Miss Mitchell's dressmaking shop, above A. McLean's store, and spread rapidly to McLean's apartments. Hessanaur's blacksmith shop and sales rooms, and Vanderick's showrooms were also burn-ed. Hollingshead and Jeffries lost the entire furnishings of their dwellings

BALLOT BOX CASES.

John Bremner Tells His Story and Is Mercilessly Cross-Examined.

Belleville, Nov. 1.—The Assizes opened here yesterday afternoon be-fore Chief Justice Sir William Mere-dith. After the Grand Jury had been dith. After the Grand Jury had been sworn and instructed in regard to the two murder cases to be tried, the case of King v. Harryett was proceeded with. The accused is charged with conspiracy in connection with the bogus ballot-box cases. At the investigation in November last, John Bremner, a newspaper publisher in Bancroft North Hastings swore that just croft, North Hastings, swore that, jus prior to the 1904 election, a box had come to him which he delivered to Harryett, and which contained four bogus ballot-boxes. The day after the election Harryett wanted him to help get rid of the bogus boxes. Bremner re-fused. Afterwards, at the Liberal con-vention in Toronto, Bremner said he was approached by Byron O. Lott, was approached by Byron O. Lott, Harryett and others to forget all he knew about the bogus boxes, and kiss his thumb instead of the Bible when in the witness-box. Harryett was ar-rested and admitted to bail in $20,000. Bremner went into the witness box Bremner went into the witness box and told practically the same story told at the preliminary investigation. Mr. Johnston's cross-examination was most merciless.

FLOODTIDE OF PERJURY

Witnesses in Kingston Election Trial Swear Criss-Cross.

Witnesses Swore That They Got Money, But the Alleged Bribers Swore That They Did Not Pay Any Money, and the Charge Would Be Dismissed - Fifteen Charges Dismissed, Four Held Over.

Kingston, Nov. 1.—The second day of the election trial resulted in four charges being held over and fifteen dismissed. Incidentally there was a flood of perjury that was depressing to nearly everyone in the court room. Howard Jones swore to getting $2 from Edward Gallivan. This will be gone into later. Thomas Scott swore he got $3 from R. J. Carson. He declared the latter came to him several times after and, shaking his finger at him, said: "I see six months facing you." said: "I see six months facing you."
Witness tried to get money to skip out before the trial. R. J. Carson denied the story and the charge was dismissed. Charge No. 115 was also against R. J. Carson. Mrs. McGee, whose husband died last May, swore that R. J. Carson left an envelope with $2 for her husband. Confronted with R. J. and T. A. Carson, brothers, who are much alike, she pointed to T. A. Carson, and this charge also fell through.

this charge also fell through.

Robert Jamieson swore to getting $5 from Dr. Sands in a laneway. Dr. Sands swore to the contrary, and this charge fell by the wayside. In charge No. 10 George Burns swore to getting an envelope from James Redden with $3 in it when in a Chinese laundry, while two Chinamen were looking on, A companion, William Jackson, had since died. Burns got $15 for his expenses for coming down from Toronto. James Redden swore he did not re-member Burns at all and the charge fell through.

Where Did Money Come From.

Where Did Money Come From.
Charge No. 1 was that James Stewart and Joseph Kehoe gave money to Robert Kemp. Kemp swore that when he came home his wife handed him an envelope with $5 in it, but he had voted first. Mrs. Kemp swore that Joseph Kehoe left to her hisband. It came out that Kehoe, who is care-taker of the postoffice, has been miss-ing for four weeks. This charge was reserved. In charge 52 John Anderson swore that after voting he went into the Beaupre Hotel and S. S. Corbett, who was up Monday, treated him, with nine or ten others. He had not been canvassed. This charge was not sus-tained.

interesting charge was one An against John Johnson, a class leader in Queen street Methodist Church who swore that he ordered half a ton of coal and a bag of flour for John Peters just before the election. He did it because the family needed it. One child was in his class and was sick. Money to pay for these was afterwards left at his house just before the election by an unknown. He has five sons who vote. This charge against John son was also dismissed, the judge thinking the giving of the coal and wood was consistent with an act of charity.

Two Charges Reserved.

Charge No. 147 was against C. F. Gildersleeve, late manager of the Richi-lieu & Ontario Navigation Co., of hir-ing a rig from Augustus Thompson. Thompson denied getting any money, but had received a loan of $10 from him and gave a note. C. F. Gilder-sleeve admitted the loan and said it had not been paid until last week. He asked for it then owing to the protest being on. There had been no contract with Thompson for driving. Decision was reserved.

Another reserved decision was on charges No. 171 and 178, that James Halliday paid James Shortt $15 for a rig on election day. Shortt swore he was paid the $15 on election day. Halliday swore he gave him nothing. Charles Cummings swore he was treat-ed by Halliday in Shortt's saloon that day. Halliday didn't remember. Five bery were dismissed.

POLLING NOV. 22.

Writs For the Dominion Bye-Elections Have Been Issued

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—Writs for new elections in North York, West Lambton and Wentworth, Ontario and Antigonish, N.S., were issued yesterday. Nominations are fixed for November 15, and polling for November 22.

Another Railway Tragedy.

Toronto Junction, Nov. 1.—Another tragedy occurred in the C. P. R. yards, near the car-checker's office, at 6.10 last night. John Colvin of Victoria street was going home from his work in the C. P. R. shops when he found in the C. P. R. shops when he found cars blocking his way, and started to crawl under one of them, when a shunting engine struck it and moved the car, the wheels cutting off one leg below the knee and crushing the other so terribly that he died a few minutes afterwards. The only words he uttered were, "I'm caught." He was one of the Junction's oldest residents, and leaves a wife, three daughters and two sons, one of the latter being principal of St. Clair avenue Public School. He was about 60 years of age. was about 60 years of age.
