THE JINGO IN DESPAIR

The Montreal Star, most belligerent and loud-voiced of the Canadian family of jingo journals, is in despair. Its faith in the militarist instincts of Canadians is at low ebb. For weeks it has belabored daily of the German menace, marshalling every argument that might be expected to convince us that it was only a matter of days, or even hours, until we would be called to forsake the office, the field and the workshop for the gun. It has given expression one day to its unbounded confidence in the loyalty of Canadians and on the next to its unalterable conviction that all who are not Conservatives are incapable of that sentiment. By turns it has used every available weapon to stir the Canadian people to that condition of fury which might be expected to make the Germans apprehensive of trouble and fill the heart of Colonel Sam Hughes to overflowing with supreme happiness. It has tried appeals to prejudice, misrepresentation, argument, entreaty, and even threats; but all to no avail. It is now in a state of the most profound depression, from which it delivers itself in the following jeremiad: "We confess," it says, "that it is difficult for us to continue to debate the reality of the German menace with that proper Christian patience that is so desirable. This belated and localized scepticism—for it is only to be found in Canada—seems to be remarkably perverse, and surely can only be genuine in persons who have been asleep for the last ten years."

Many will notice the smug self-complacency with which The Star assumes that its hysterical announcements on this question have been characterized by Christian patience. Of much greater interest, however, is its frank admission that the onslaughts of the jingo press have failed to shake the sanity of the Canadian people. In every city from the Atlantic to the Pacific one or more of these journals has belabored or bleated, according to its capacity, of the German menace, admittedly without effect. The Canadian people have too much sturdy common sense to allow themselves to become excited to no purpose. Their patriotism is made of sterner stuff than that of the jingo. They have a duty to perform which they will not shirk when the time comes to act. If Mr. Borden can present them with a naval policy which will satisfy their conception of that duty, even The Star will have no reason to lament a want of enthusiasm in the support that policy will receive. Meanwhile, they see no reason for neglecting useful work or losing sleep in order to hunt for German soldiers whom The Star believes to be hiding in the back yard.

THE SALE OF FIREARMS

The murder of the C.P.R. detective and the commission of similar crimes of recent date, suggest that it might be well to consider the closer regulation of the sale of firearms in the city. The suggestion that the sale of firearms be prohibited altogether save by dealers who have procured a special license and to purchasers who have obtained a permit, might accomplish much to reduce the number of crimes of violence. The alarming frequency of such crimes in Montreal and Toronto, more especially among the foreign population, led to the enforcement of similar regulations in those cities and the prosecution of a vigorous campaign against the carrying of firearms, which has resulted, according to recent reports, in a marked reduction in the number of offences. The display of firearms in store windows is in many cities prohibited, a provision that is admitted to have done much to discourage their sale. In Calgary at the present time not only are they to be seen prominently in the window of every second-hand store, but no regulation is in force requiring even the registration of sales.

While the West has, on the whole, been singularly free from lawlessness, it must be recognized that the development of large centres of population is invariably accompanied by dangers which can be guarded against only by the exercise of every precaution on the part of the authorities. The needs for close regulation in such matters grows greater urgency when it is remembered that our cities absorb each year thousands of foreigners who have to be taught respect for law and order.

THE BONUS EVIL

Exemption from taxation to the amount of $25,000 and free water for twenty years has been granted by the Canadian Northern Railway company to the town of Pembroke, Ontario, subject to the condition that that place is made a divisional point in the company's system. That this great railway corporation was influenced in the choice of a divisional point by the concessions which the ratepayers of Pembroke offered, is a suggestion that no thoughtful person will entertain for one moment. Any intelligently directed railway company would be determined in its choice purely by considerations of strategic advantage. Its purpose in extending or developing its system is to make money, not to benefit municipalities. It merits no favors from them and should get none. Nevertheless, when favors are offered it is not to be expected that they will be refused. It is not to be blamed for receiving such plums when all that it is required to do is to open its mouth in order that they may be dropped in, and its quite excusable liking for such dainties naturally leads it to pretend that it has been influenced by the gift.

Commenting upon the Pembroke incident, The Toronto Mail and Empire points a moral from the experience of Hamilton. Efforts were made some time ago by the International Harvester company to secure valuable concessions from that city in return for locating there. Hamilton refused, despite enticing offers made from other cities, with the result that the company located at Hamilton without concessions.

Some means should certainly be devised to save municipalities from this policy of purposeless competition. The bonus in most cases is nothing more or less than robbery of the ratepayers, the more to be condemned because it is given under the impression that value is being received. One fact that cannot be too deeply impressed on the minds of the ratepayers is that what is given must be paid for. Exemption of a corporation from its just share of taxation means nothing more or less than that a corresponding burden must be borne by the remaining taxpayers.

THE GAME OF POLITICS

A certain degree of publicity is essential to the character of the man engaged in politics. Under the system of party government, measures deemed important by individuals must often be sacrificed in order to secure the passage of measures approved by the majority in the party. A too clear definition of party lines is to be deplored as tending to restrict that free inter-play of individual minds from which come the best results. Compromise, however, if the essence of the system. The man whose back is so stiff that it can bend to no occasion does well to satisfy his desire to serve the public in some other sphere. Such a man apparently was Sir George Kemp, formerly M. P. for Northwest Manchester. If he is reported correctly, Sir George's experience in parliament served only to develop in his mind a hatred for politics. He stated that he had "nothing but unhappiness out of politics," and told an audience recently that if they wished to see the lower side of life "let them go into politics and the House of Commons."

There is a type of mind, and that not an ignoble one, which finds many of the conditions of success in public life irksome. Minds of fine mould, entering the arena with high purpose, are sometimes disappointed with the character of the weapons they are called upon to use. Interesting light is thrown upon this aspect of public life by the following passage from the correspondence of a public man of no less distinction than Richard Cobden: "You must not judge me by what I say at these tumultuous public meetings," he writes. "I constantly regret the necessity of violating good taste and good feeling in my public harangues. I say advisedly necessary; for I defy anyone to keep the ear of the public for seven years without striving to amuse as well as instruct. People do not attend public meetings to be taught, but to be excited, flattered and pleased. In they are simply lectured they may sit out the lesson for once, but they will not come again; and as I have required them again and again, I have been obliged to amuse them, but not by standing on my head, or eating fire, but by kindred feats of jugglery, such as appeals to their self-esteem, their civility or their humor. You know how easily in touching their feelings one degenerates into flattery, vindictiveness or grossness."

Few of the questions with which the public man deals are simple. Few of the suggested solutions. On all differences of opinion, and therefore solutions of the problems which he confronts are conflict, is inevitable. For the man who does not love fighting it is no place, unless he is identified with a cause which he believes to be just, when his place is at the guns, even though the smoke offend his nostrils.

Vest Pocket Essays

By GEORGE FITCH

AMPAIGN funds are money which is contributed by generous and financially prosperous citizens in an effort to make the common people do what they always intended to do anyway—vote as they pleased at election.

A campaign fund consists of such a large pile of money that it keeps a national manager, and a large number of assistant busy all summer spending it. Some of this money is spent for bands and flags and red fire and cigars and a large white water cooler for the headquarters. The rest goes into literature and speakers. Early in the campaign year a large number of eloquent orators become politically confused and uncertain and cannot tell whom they are going to favor with all their hearts until they hefted the rival campaign funds. One of the most persuasive sights for the doubtful voter in this nation is that of a famous speaker who is exhorting the common people to arise and shake off their shackles for $100 a day and carfare—for the orator, not the common people.

In the good old times it was customary for the ordinary citizens to refrain nobly from contributing to the campaign fund while the prominent capitalists took charge of the job and finished it in no time by chipping in $100,000 apiece, taking a few congressmen and a federal judge or two as souvenirs when the campaign was over. We are now so particular, however, in our politics that if a capitalist were to come around to a political headquarters and ask in trembling tones to be allowed to leave a $3 bill there as a token of his interest he would be chased four miles by the fanatical and agitated secretaries fuming at the place. When a rich man wishes to contribute to his party nowadays he doesn't do it in person. He hires a burglar to break into the treasurer's office at night and put the money in the safe.

As a result of this reform we now have no campaign funds worth speaking of and the starving managers of our great political parties have to get hold of pennies outside their offices in order to pay their rent for the day. There is now a movement on foot to raise funds by collecting $10 bills from the common people and several of the latter have already shown their interest by promising to contribute such bills.

Peculiar Power of Human Eye

When the 44th Massachusetts regiment was defeated in Washington, N. C. it was on a mountain confronted by a big wolf dog that leaped from its kennel furiously upon me. The situation was a desperate one, and called for instant action.

I studied that animal by throwing myself on all fours, and springing to my feet with catlike snarls. He retreated into his kennel with piercing howls, and nothing could bring him out. I was completely cowed by the eyes of man while his body is absolutely still, or by an intense and mysterious action with a corresponding look of the eyes.

The following incident I relate as an example of this silent but effective sketching in an orchard which I afterwards learned had been repeatedly robbed by roughs from a settlement of about a half mile away. I was mounted a series of terraces. With trembling hands I bounded toward me. His eyes glared and foam spraying from his mouth. I ceased sketching. My eyes on him as he descended, with all the intensity he could command.

When the dog had reached the middle terrace he stopped, and though he looked furiously and showed his shins, he did not advance. He was motionless and with eyes fixed as dead on me. I turned and, running up the hedge, disappeared behind the hedge. I resumed my sketching, but the dog's eyes were still concentrated on my will upon the dog. Five minutes passed when the Newfoundland again appeared. He did not stop to bark this time, but down he came upon me, clearing a terrace at each spring. Why this appalling charge? Ah, there it is! A huge mastiff is close behind, making springs like a wild beast. Both dogs were so close that I could feel the hot steam that glistened on their teeth, told too plainly what awaited me. The Newfoundland had gone to get help, and he got it.

I saw that the mastiff had lost an eye, and so I had only three eyes to magnetize. As before, I stood fixed, not even permitting my lids to wink. The Newfoundland leaped first and planted his great paws so heavily on my back that I nearly knocked me over. My eyes were riveted upon him in all his fury, and in an instant he was upon me. The third time he sprang at me, and each time I moved not a hair, keeping his eyes to mine. When he dropped the third time the mastiff, who had been growling with impatience, took his turn. His massive paws struck my chest more heavily even than had his leader's, and it was with effort that I stood against the blow.

He, too sprang at my throat, and, like the Newfoundland, dropped to the ground. He repeated the same three times, and seemed at the limit of frustration. But my eyes were too much for his one eye. The moment the mastiff leaped for the ground for my throat, time both of the dogs turned and ran up the terraces as if I had charged upon them. They sketched. They sketched behind the hedge, and, though I was half an hour finishing the sketch, they did not appear again. I could have robbed that orchard with impunity. Darius Cobb, in Our Dumb Animals.

Bath Tubs Provided for Mules

Both tubs supplied with warm and cold water, showers and vacuum cleaners have been installed for the benefit of the mules in one of the colonies of the mule and iron company. The tubs are of concrete, and are built in the form of a shower, which animals can be easily driven into. They are four feet deep, six feet wide, and thirty-seven inches high. Each tub is furnished with cleats at either end for the mules to enter and pass out, and with a central opening in the tub, and fastened to the railings, are two areas, which act as a support for the mule's feet. The tubs are six feet long and a foot and a half wide. This is made of perforated pipe, and gives off a fine spray of water. The water in the tub is cold water, heated by means of a small boiler. The mules are so bath so much that it is necessary to keep the entrance channel drained so that the mules do not slip when they enter. Another cleansing device is the vacuum cleaner, which operates by electric power. The suction curries comb, as it might be termed, is passed lightly over the animal's coat, removing dust and loose hair much more thoroughly than an hostler would do it by hand at the same time.—The Technical Magazine.

Science Wrestles With Eugenies

It is not at all surprising to learn that when the mothers of the race, outnumbered the men at the recent International Eugenic Congress in London. There at the Imperial Institute over four hundred delegates discussed laws by which the race may be improved.

"An agency making for progress," declared Major Darwin, "consists of a selection to replace the blind force of natural selection, and man must utilize all the knowledge acquired by studying the process of evolution of the past in order to promote moral and physical progress in the future. The nation which first takes that great work thoroughly in hand will not only win in all matters of international competition, but will be able to place a plaque of honor in the history of the world."

Improvement of the stature in many European countries during the last 50 years was the subject of a highly interesting paper read by Dr. Soren Hansen, of Copenhagen. "In Denmark," said Dr. Hansen, "there has been an unmistakable increase of one and one-half inches in the average height of the adult male during the last fifty years. Similar increases have been noted in Sweden, Norway, and Finland. Hansen suggests that there may have been more or less periodic waves of increase or decrease in height, since, on one hand, we cannot imagine that the increase continues indefinitely, and on the other we know that man of, say, 1,000 years ago, were quite as tall as those of today."

"The weight of new born children is stated to have increased in England by one or three ounces during the last twenty years, and in Denmark, where it has been an increase of one and one-half ounces in thirty-five years. The average weight of the new born in France has also increased by eight and one-half inches in the last fifty years."

Blonde and Brunette Types. It has long been maintained that the blonde type is simply the loss of color from the brunette type, as in the case of the blonde type is simply the loss of color from the brunette type. However, it never differs from the general view, and contend that the brunette type and blonde type are two characters, clearly marked out. A paper presented by Professor Guglielmo Ruggieri, a famous Italian geneticist, he says one generally accepts the idea that blonde parents have only blonde children. In view of the researches of eminent eugenicists.

Fraternal Organizations Increasing

Fraternal societies and mutual benefit organizations in the United States and Canada count about 12,000,000 members. Their strength increases at a much greater rate per cent than that which measures the growth of the countries in which they flourish. Some of the youngest have made wonderful progress. The Eagles, for example, are only fourteen years old, but already their number about 300,000, and they have distributed more than $8,000,000 in benefits. Now they are paying out $1,500,000 annually, in round figures, to members who have just claims upon the treasury of the order.

Here is an organization which has gained in a brief space a membership equal to the adult male population of a city of 1,000,000 inhabitants, and is disbursing about $5,000 every business day to its beneficiaries. Its field is as wide as the Republic and the Dominion, and its growth promises much greater things in the near future.

THEY ARE FROM MISSOURI AND MUST BE SHOWN

On Tuesday morning a party of bankers and financiers from St. Louis and points in Missouri will visit Calgary. The party is touring Western Canada for the purpose of seeing the west and slaking the country for investment purposes.

Foundland again appeared. He did not stop to bark this time, but down he came upon me, clearing a terrace at each spring. Why this appalling charge? Ah, there it is! "In Denmark," said Dr. Hansen, "there has been an unmistakable increase of one and one-half inches in the average height of the adult male during the last fifty years. Similar increases have been noted in Sweden, Norway, and Finland. Hansen suggests that there may have been more or less periodic waves of increase or decrease in height, since, on one hand, we cannot imagine that the increase continues indefinitely, and on the other we know that man of, say, 1,000 years ago, were quite as tall as those of today."

"The weight of new born children is stated to have increased in England by one or three ounces during the last twenty years, and in Denmark, where it has been an increase of one and one-half ounces in thirty-five years. The average weight of the new born in France has also increased by eight and one-half inches in the last fifty years."

Blonde and Brunette Types. It has long been maintained that the blonde type is simply the loss of color from the brunette type, as in the case of the blonde type is simply the loss of color from the brunette type. However, it never differs from the general view, and contend that the brunette type and blonde type are two characters, clearly marked out. A paper presented by Professor Guglielmo Ruggieri, a famous Italian geneticist, he says one generally accepts the idea that blonde parents have only blonde children. In view of the researches of eminent eugenicists.

Fraternal societies and mutual benefit organizations in the United States and Canada count about 12,000,000 members. Their strength increases at a much greater rate per cent than that which measures the growth of the countries in which they flourish. Some of the youngest have made wonderful progress. The Eagles, for example, are only fourteen years old, but already their number about 300,000, and they have distributed more than $8,000,000 in benefits. Now they are paying out $1,500,000 annually, in round figures, to members who have just claims upon the treasury of the order.

Here is an organization which has gained in a brief space a membership equal to the adult male population of a city of 1,000,000 inhabitants, and is disbursing about $5,000 every business day to its beneficiaries. Its field is as wide as the Republic and the Dominion, and its growth promises much greater things in the near future.

UNSOPHISTICATED GIRL IS MARRIED TO FILIPINO

Sister Connived at the Unnatural Alliance in Order to Spite the Mother. Girl Was Only 14 Years Old at the Time; Case is Being Investigated.

Seattle, Sept. 8.—Married to a Filipino under an assumed name at the age of 14, so she claims, at the behest of her older sister in order to spite her mother, Sarah Walthrop, a young and unsophisticated girl, whose name is in the news, will result in the unravelling of one of the strangest mysteries that have yet attracted the attention of the government sleuths. According to the story told by the young woman, her mother criticised the older daughter continually at their Bellingham home, while Sarah herself received practically no censure. This aroused the anger of the older sister, Sarah asserts, until finally her patience, strained beyond the breaking point, she took the young girl to Tacoma and induced her to marry a native Filipino, whose name the government sleuths refuse to reveal at present.

The sister did this, says the girl, in order to have revenge on her younger sister and to wreak spite on the mother. Sarah says that she was too young to know what was going on, and could not prevent the marriage. According to the information given by the girl to the immigration officials, her sister is now married and lives in Bellingham, Alaska. Steps were taken today to find her if possible.

The girl was taken in charge yesterday afternoon near the Federal building at Third Avenue and Union street, by Crossing Patrolman Frank Spier, whom she called her fiancee. Patrolman Spier investigated her complaint for a moment, and then turned her over to the government officials, inasmuch as the case came within their jurisdiction.

According to the tale told by the young girl to the government officials, her father since she was left in Tacoma as the wife of the Filipino has been a sad one. Entirely without friends, with no one to advise her and absolutely penniless, she came to a realization of her position and tried to break away.

MRS. LILLY LANGTRY WILL AID SUFFRAGISTS

Will Make a Vaudeville Tour of United States in Interest of Votes for Women

London, Sept. 8.—Lilly Langtry, or, to be correct, Lady Hugo de Batho, and to be more vulgar, the Jersey Lily, has announced that she will use her famous vaudeville tour of America, which will begin when she sails for New York September 16, as a means of championing the cause of woman suffrage. Lilly's tour is scheduled to occupy all of twenty weeks and during that time she expects to accomplish much good for the cause, it is said.

Mrs. Langtry is to make a tour of the Martin Beck vaudeville houses, otherwise known as the Orpheum circuit, of which she was signed up by Mr. Beck last March. The salary that was offered to her as inducement has never been made known, but it is believed to be large, perhaps as large as that equally unknown sum offered to Mrs. Sarah Bernhardt.

The first appearance of the muskrat coat flower will be at Martin Beck's Palace Theatre, Forty-eighth street and Broadway, New York. Aside from the elaborate and altogether magnificent wardrobe of gowns which Mrs. Langtry will carry with her on tour, the feature of her act will be a sketch dealing with suffrage. It won't be a sarcastic, horrid take-off on the cause, either, but will show the justice of "Votes for Women," in its broadest light. Lady de Batho will carry no company, but will depend upon her gowns and her personality, which once fascinated the late King of England when he was Prince of Wales, so it is said.

SCHOOL SYSTEM OF ALBERTA IS PRAISED

W. Harbord, London Educator, is Investigating Conditions in Canada

He is Interested in Emigration Scheme of Bringing Out Young People to Canada

Plan of Educating Boys and Girls in England for Life in Colonies is Proposed

Walter Harbord, who has been appointed by the London County Council Education Committee to investigate educational conditions in Toronto and Western Canada, spent Saturday in Calgary with Superintendent Scott of the public schools. Mr. Harbord expressed himself as highly impressed with the school system of Calgary, and when he returns to England will make a favorable report of the educational system in this city.

While Mr. Harbord is much interested in investigating educational matters, he is more interested in the promulgation of a scheme for bringing emigrants to this country from England selected from the schools and colleges of the old country. Mr. Harbord's scheme originated in his observation that London children after they left school deteriorated. The scheme is to send young men and women to the colonies for a certain number of months of the year. These young men and women will be placed in residential schools for a certain number of months of the year. One bad habit which most people overlook is keeping the mouth open while awake or sleeping. The lips should be kept closed except when talking or eating. It is not meant tightly closed, but to form a hard line or groove. Do not close in a disagreeable smile.

The habit of keeping the mouth open while awake or sleeping is a prejudicial to the health of the teeth. The habit of matter accumulating around the neck of the teeth and in the cracks and crevices between the teeth. The membranes covering the gums and lining the lips and mouth, at the same time lose their natural delicacy and become hard and unresponsive.

Have you never seen a man who does not seem to swallow, but who allows the saliva to accumulate while they are talking or eating? The lips should be kept closed except when talking or eating. It is not meant tightly closed, but to form a hard line or groove. Do not close in a disagreeable smile.

Old fashioned people rub their teeth with tooth powder or tooth paste. They use the stump of an orange, and they use a piece of soap. The teeth should be cleaned after each meal so that no particles of food may remain to decay them.

We depend upon our teeth to masticate our food, so we should endeavor to do their duty, thus avoiding indigestion, dyspepsia, heartburn and other annoying diseases.

There are many foods which have a healthy effect upon the teeth—brown bread, beans, nuts, and even sugar. Notice the fine, white teeth of the actresses who live and work on plantations and daily masticate sugar. They prove the lie to the assertion that sugar ruins the teeth. Rock candy is good for the teeth and gums, but molasses candy is very bad for both.

Nothing one eats will really hurt the teeth if the teeth are cleaned immediately after eating.

Often an offensive breath comes from decayed food around the teeth. One should be more than careful of how they neglect them.

People are more apt to treat their poor teeth as enemies rather than friends. Teeth are very grateful for any little attention, and they resent neglect.

MAMIE: You can remove the ugly blackheads from your face if you take a little time and patience to do it. Blackheads will not remove blackheads. Sometimes they are caused from anemia or indigestion, but usually from neglect. The face should be cleaned thoroughly at least once a day. First cleanse it with a good cold cream, rubbing it well into the skin for about five minutes and then allowing it to remain about five or ten minutes.

PUZZLED: Blonde hair should be washed once a month to keep it bright and in good condition. If you will send me a stamped addressed envelope I shall also send you the formula for a good cleansing cream and a bleach for the face.

WASHED: Wash the face first in warm water and then very cold, or rub a piece of ice over the face. This hardens the flesh and closes the pores. PHENOMENAL TWIRLER DISCOVERED IN THE PRESS BOX

With the Bases Full, Pencil Pusher Was Called to the Mound

Side Was Retired on Two Pitched Balls, Which is Going Some

Final Game of League Season a Burlesque of National Pastime

Before an enormous crowd which packed the press box and three seats in the bleachers, the curtain was rung down on the regular season of the Western Canada League Saturday night. The bronches were in the mood of the hoop, so the evening game was made a burlesque. The score board showed that the Boosters had won the so-called contest by the score of 5 to 4. The teams were switched around after the first few innings. Jack Roche and Pete Standridge traded places as catcher and pitcher respectively, while the outfielders traded places with infielders in the last inning. Finally, to make the burlesque even more complete, one of the scorers took up the mound duties with the staff, this man, who had been overlooked by the scouts all season, shows up the regular men in a bad light. He assumed the mound duties when the bases were drunk and retired the side on two pitched balls. Before he got his coat of arms caught in the act of standing, then he heaved a wide one at the plate. The next ball was a slider, and Levee Roadick only succeeded in laying down an easy one to the first baseman. Retiring a side on two pitched balls is a record, which will stand in the annals of baseball for some time to come.

There was one feature of the evening contest, however which did amount to something. It was the fact that the Boosters pushed Red Deer down to the cellar and allowed the Boosters to climb up to the place one from the bottom.

But in the anxiety to tell of the remarkable performance of the Boosters' new twirler, we forgot to mention that there was also a game played Saturday afternoon, which was won by the Bronchos by the score of 4 to 3. It was a pitchers' duel, played by Barnstead and Snapper Naverson, in which the latter had all the better of the argument except the score, which is appended.

YANKEE CRICKETERS WON EASY VICTORY FROM CANADIANS

Philadelphia, Sept. 7.—The United States defeated Canada in the 48th international match between the two countries at the Germantown Cricket Club, Manheim, today by the margin of eight wickets. At one time it appeared probable that the United States would win in a single inning, but the Canadians "rallied" waggled merrily, and set the representative of the states and British 45 runs in order to win. The United States and Canada, as the record book stands, are tied, with a record of two and one-half yards inside of ten seconds.

Manchester, Eng., Sept. 7.—Jack Donaldson, of South Africa, world's champion professional sprinter, today defeated A. R. Foster, New Zealand, and R. E. Taylor's Football Gossip

Not often is there such an interesting program for the opening day of the old country soccer season as that of Saturday. We had the two rival teams in Manchester, the City and the Rangers, in a contest of the highest quality. The City, who were the real champions of the real championship of the teams, were defeated by the Rangers, who were the real champions of the real championship of the teams.

Of the few games, five resulted in draws, and only three teams won maximum points. In the second division, the game between the Rangers and the City was a draw, and in the Southern League there were five draws and one victory to a visiting team.

In Scotland nothing very unusual happened. The Rangers defeated St. Mirren away from home by three clear goals, and the Celtic defeated Aberdeen in the last game of the season. The game between Dundee and Clyde was as closely fought out as was expected, and no result was come to after five minutes of play.

The outstanding result of the day was undoubtedly the defeat of Birmingham by Bradford Park Avenue in the second division of the league, by nine clear goals. Not for many years has there been such a score in a league game.

There was another surprising result also in this section. Preston North End being defeated at Deepdale by the only goal of the match, but the other games resulted much as expected. Nor did anything out of the ordinary occur in the Southern League. Queen's Park Rangers successfully disposed of Norwich City, and Swindon Town defeated the team in a keenly fought and hard-fought game.

CALGARY CRICKET CLUB WON FROM HILLHURST XI

Return Match an Easy Victory for Old Organization; Score 191 to 52

The return match between the Hillhurst C. C. and Calgary C. C. "A" team was played on the barracks grounds Saturday, and was won by the Calgary club by a margin of 139 runs and decided to bat first, sending in Sgt. Major Vickers and Gray to face the bowling of Parkington Clark. The innings opened up disastrously, Calgary losing five wickets for 15 runs.

G. H. Nettleton and T. W. Bryant became partners, and after playing a careful cricket, which was needed, as the bowling of Parkington Clark was very deadly and no liberties could be taken, the batsmen finally got the bowling, and runs came merrily. When the score reached 115 Bryant was well caught by Jacobus, and Nettleton fell for 119 runs. This score was as follows:

MR. MORELL, LANDSCAPE ARTIST, VISITS CALGARY

Is Entertained at Luncheon by Calgary City Planning Commission

Tells of the Steps Edmonton and Saskatoon Are Taking in Civic Planning

R. A. M. MORELL, the landscape architect and city planner of Minneapolis, Minn., who has been engaged by Saskatoon and Edmonton to lay out a comprehensive scheme for their future growth, was entertained on Friday at an informal luncheon at the Grosvenor by the Calgary City Planning Commission.

President James W. Davidson asked Mr. Morell to relate the steps Edmonton and Saskatoon had taken toward beautification and, before the city planner got through, those present were amazed at the enterprise being shown by the younger western cities. Saskatoon had a broad arterial highway for the main traffic and 100-foot boulevards down the center of which small shrubs and flowers will be planted. Both Saskatoon and Edmonton are planning civic centers, but not of the elaborate design affected by cities like Cleveland or Chicago.

"I do not advise, in fact I strongly deprecate the spending of very large sums of money on one 'center,'" explained Mr. Morell, "and then to neglect other parts of the city. I believe we should have something to show the visitor in all parts of a city—not just take him to the great beauty spots and then have to say: 'This is all there is!'"

Mr. Morell has just spent ten days in Edmonton carefully investigating that city's problems. He said his report, to be presented to the citizens early in the spring, would embrace not only the present city limits but land outside which the city will require 50 years from now. Of the courtesy of the city officials of Edmonton, from the mayor down to the expert spike in the warmest terms.

Harmony There "My work has been a pleasure so far," he said. "The park superintendent, the city engineer, his assistants, the city architect—all have shown me the greatest kindness. My idea when I go to a city is to get at things from every point of view. I want to talk to the street car conductor, the dray man, the pecker, the railroad man, the city official, the clerk—everyone can give me something that will help me properly to get in touch with the local situation so that I may apply to it the principles of scientific town planning as practiced by the leaders of our profession both here and abroad."

Some of the members tried to draw the expert out about Calgary. He was very chary of expressing an opinion, declaring that it would be folly to do

Rearranged Households

In getting settled for the fall and winter there's a deal of rearranging to be accomplished in many households.

Many are looking for different houses, apartments or flats, some are seeking rooms, some are desirous of hiring dependable and capable domestic servants, some are planning home arrangements that will result in selling or exchanging property.

To find in the accomplishment of all these home changes make full use of the Want Columns.

Trees, Trees!

"One thing struck me," he added, "as I looked out over the city from the east windows of your secretary's office in the city hall—the hills. They are in need of a little more beautiful, so beautiful, in fact, that everyone who goes away with an ineffaceable memory of them."

It was rather a far to the expert when he was informed that the hills, now bare, but which he would plant with trees, were privately owned.

"Well, in that case," said he, "the only thing to be done is to encourage private owners to beautify their own property."

HAVE THE POLICE ARRESTED MAGINTOSH'S SLAYER?

Have the police arrested the murderer of C. P. R. Constable McIntosh who was shot in the C. P. R. freight yards last Wednesday night?

Last night about seven o'clock the police apprehended Goussano, an Italian who was shooting a revolver in the C. P. R. freight yards only two or three hundred yards from the spot where McIntosh was killed. The revolver found on Goussano was a thirty-eight calibre, and the bullet corresponding with that taken from the murdered policeman. It was a five-chamber gun; had three discharged cartridges and two that had not been fired.

The policeman who arrested the prisoner states that he only heard one shot fired. When Goussano saw the policeman coming he threw away his gun and ran. He was not far enough from the feet-footed man to be caught.

At the police station nothing could be obtained from Goussano except that he had been in the city about two weeks. He also declared that he had never fired the revolver and that the gun did not belong to him. The prisoner could not give any satisfactory information about himself and all the while he cried like a baby.

STRENUOUS WEEK'S WORK FOR THE POLICE

Jail is Full of Holdup Men and Pickpockets; 242 Arrests in Seven Days

James Cartwright Robbed of $50; Dip is Caught Robbing a Woman

Yesterday the police detectives had a very strenuous day, and made a large number of arrests. It was a case of the crooks making a grand finale, as a sort of a farewell in order to make enough change to get away to some other place where the pickings might be good. Some of the boys will not be able to make their getaway for a while when Chief Cuddy gets through with them—their next visiting place will be either at the barracks or in Lethbridge jail.

Three hold-up men, Amos Belmer, J. Douglas and J. Cameron, all from the States, were arrested yesterday, charged with robbing James Cartwright, and taking away his roll of fifty dollars. Cartwright was going home early Sunday morning on Ninth avenue east, when he encountered the three hold-up men. He had no chance to put up any fight, and after being roughly handled he submitted, and afterwards before they were picked up by Detective Richardson and a Pinkerton man, Cartwright recognized the men and they are now safe under lock and key.

N. Carlejohn and Thos. McNeil, both of Seattle, were arrested Saturday night, and are charged with being "short change artists." They worked their scheme at the Stampedo, doing a dipping hand proprietor out of fifty cents and later got the best of a booth keeper for $500.

Jim Gordon of Minneapolis, tried to put his hand into a woman's purse on Saturday night. The woman let out a big squeal, and three or four men held Gordon until a policeman came. The man of color resulted in the finding of a nice little black purse, the kind that fits into a small hand-bag.

Detective Richardson yesterday afternoon raided a house, 902 Eighth avenue east, and found a "blind pig" den. A lot of gin resulted in the finding of a nice little black purse, the kind that fits into a small hand-bag.

The detectives are after three or four more hold-up gangs, which they have been shadowing during the past few weeks. Chief Cuddy stated last night that if it had been a very strenuous week for his men. The plain clothes men have been working eighteen hours a day in an effort to protect the city.

How well they have done their work may be imagined when there have been 242 arrests in the past week, which is a record for this city. Of that number 160 were drunk and disorderly, 30 pick-pockets, 28 hold-up burglaries, 7 short-change artists and twenty odd vagrancies.

The detectives state that a number of the crooks are leaving the city for the Stampedo. There are a large number of boobies here, who evidently have not the money to get away, but the chief states they must walk out or take their chances as he intends cleaning them all up and riding the city of their presence.

AT THE THEATRES

GEORGE DAMEREL WITH "THE HEART BREAKERS"

"The Heart Breakers" at the Grand in "The Heart Breakers," Manager Horst H. Singer's latest musical comedy hit, which will be seen at the Sherman Grand tonight, many song successes abound. Among those that are worthy of mention are "Your Eyes," "Your Smile and You," "My Honolulu Honey Love," "The Tale of the Bashful Bumble Bee," "If I Had a Hundred Hearts," "The Songs You Used to Sing to the Girls You Used to Love," and many others. The cast is headed by George Damerel, who became famous through the "Merry Widow" waltz, and includes a perfect Princess chorus. The piece is in two acts, the first takes place at the Saxon club in New York, and the second at Hunger Castle, in the Adirondacks.

An engagement of unusual interest to local play-goers will be the return visit of "In Old Kentucky," which will be given again at the Sherman Grand beginning Monday, September 18, for three nights. Last fall the organization paid its initial visit here, and gave splendid satisfaction, both as to play and company. The same excellent organization will appear here again with a new and improved cast.

Crowded houses greeted "In Old Kentucky" last season here, and if favorable reports have anything to do with it, the show will unquestionably do record breaking business this visit. It is a pleasure to be able to announce the appearance of good, wholesome plays like "In Old Kentucky." They are rare indeed in these days of bad musical plays and indifferent dramas.

It is worth any man or woman's time to spend three delightful hours in witnessing a presentation of "In Old Kentucky."

Orpheum Bill Thursday The vaudeville loving public are offered a great attraction this week when the Orpheum vaudeville show will open at the Sherman Grand Thursday night, September 12, with a ripping fine bill. The headliner, "In 1899," is a clever satire from the pen of Cecil De Mille, in which the audience is taken on a tour of the world. Joseph Jefferson and Felice Morris, handle the respective roles of the "New Woman" and the "New Man" in a remarkably clever manner.

The great Asahi offers a wonderful juggling act—open direct from the "Flowers Kingdom." This turn is marvellous, and is one of the most magnificently staged acts on the road today.

"La Ballet Classique" is a turn that is creating a furore. Ten beautiful dancers from a European ballet give a performance that is well deserved. Fresh from a victorious European tour come the Berge Bros. in a sensational bicycle act, thrilling from start to finish.

"Just Married" is a clever little sketch in the capable hands of Melville and Higgins. Their songs are catchy and they put up a good entertainment. The famous "Blue Grass Boys," the clever Bowman Bros., versatile entertainers, will be seen much to the enjoyment of many.

A clever sketch of college life, entitled "The Rehearsal," given by three genuine college boys, is one big scream and is bound to please.

words, they could not enter into detailed expression, but with few exceptions the unanimous verdict was that the Stampedo was a big circus staged to get the money and not, as advertised, a world's event wherein the best men of the range were called upon to grand titles and awards.

Possibly the happiest man among the contestants is Ed. Echols, of Drummond, Ariz., winner of the steer roping championship. Echols will be glad to share his glory with "Ribbon," and as proudly exhibited him to admirers as he did his gold championship belt.

Stabled in rotation were "Ribbon," "Skunk," the prize-winning cow pony, and "Faddy," the latter of whom worked under George Weir, and helped capture second money. All these horses come from one stock known in southern Alberta as "Studebant-Gardiner's" breed. To the owners they are unpriceable.

"Never Again." Already many of the southern contingent have left Calgary and more will follow today. Saturday, as the first train bearing horses and cowboys left the city, one of the latter gave a parting salute by the sky with his six-shooter.

"Just say," said one of the boys, "that if there's another Stampedo in Calgary that's turned into a circus there won't be a single cowpuncher present from south of Cheyenne."

The attendance at the Stampedo, according to the official figures given out yesterday, totaled 100,294. Of this $16,283 was taken in at the Horse Show building for the night performance. The attendance Saturday was 8,592.

Mrs. Eddy Estate Bids on Bonds Washington, Sept. 8.—The estate of Mary Baker Eddy, late leader of the Christian Science church was the highest bidder in the proposal for Porto Rican bonds opened at the insular bureau today. The bonds bear four per cent interest and are part of a loan of $500,000 for improving San Juan Harbor.

Came From the Trail. Others that had complaints to make were C. Logan and B. Robb, who came from Northern Alberta, and helped participating in the Packing event.

Non-Professionalism Charged. All day Sunday the non-professional contestants stood about the stables and the administration building discussing the Stampedo. There were winners and losers in the Hittie groups, and there was one of the many who dissatisfaction everywhere. Men of few

WINNIPEG WATER SYSTEM CONDEMNED BY EXPERT

Recommends That City Proceed to Shoal Lake for Permanent Visible Supply

Would Take Until 1916 to Complete System, Which Would Cost $16,000,000

Winnipeg, Sept. 7.—Prof. Slichter the expert appointed by Public Utilities Commissioner Robson to assist him in his investigation of the water supply system for the city of Winnipeg, has handed in his report, and, much to the surprise of the civic officials, he has recommended that the city proceed at once to Shoal Lake for a permanent visible supply.

The cost of a single pipe line which he advises should be constructed at once is estimated at $5,000,000, and the present water supply of the city is estimated at 35,000,000 gallons of water daily could be completed, if undertaken at once, by July 1st, 1916.

The present water supply of the city is strongly condemned, and the professor also advises that the Poplar and Crystal Springs project and the Winnipeg river project be not undertaken. To tide the city over until the new pipe line is installed, he suggests that the city should construct fifteen additional wells should be sunk at once northward of the city, and he points out that the well system with all the machinery intact should be kept as a reserve supply in case of emergencies even after the line to Shoal Lake is in operation.

Ultimately the pipe line system to Shoal Lake would cost $12,000,000 according to the professor's estimate, as with the growth of the city a second line would have to be built, and this would cost just as much as the first line. The professor speaks very highly of Shoal Lake as a source of supply, remarking that it is as near ideal as it is possible to find, and that the city is very fortunate to be within a reasonable distance of it. The water, he says, will always remain pure. He was much impressed with the possibilities of the city as an industrial centre, and declares that it is of the utmost importance that the water supply of an industrial centre which wishes to make progress shall be as well as pure and abundant. Shoal Lake is situated about ninety miles from Winnipeg, being to the northwest of the Lake of the Woods. The northwestern part of the lake just crosses the Ontario boundary into Manitoba.

Despite the anticipations of the eight thousand odd spectators that gathered at Victoria Park in the afternoon Saturday, they were denied the thrill of seeing Ed Echols, the steer roping champion, repeat his former good work in the finals. This event was staged in the morning.

Ed. Echols Victor. True to the faith that had been pinned upon the victor in this event, Echols, with "Ribbon," took down not only the $500 purse for the fastest time made during the contest, but the $1,000 for the best average for five steers. In George Weir, of Monument, N. M., and Joe Gardner, the swift roping slinger from Sierra Blanco, Texas, Echols found worthy foemen, but aided by his superb little steedstool sore and the experience of former years, when he lifted the southern championship, Echols stood out as a master roper. His best average time for five steers was 44-1-6 seconds, and that of Weir, who took second money, 50-2-1 seconds. Joe Gardner, third man, had an average of 54-3-5 seconds.

Again a new champion was knighted when Miss Fannie Sperry, of Mitchell, Mont., defeated Miss Goldie St. Clair, of Merrimack, Ohio, in the cowgirls' broncho bucking contest. Miss St. Clair taking second and Miss Bertha Blonett, of Phoenix, Ariz., capturing third. Miss Sperry rode with hobbled stirrups in the contest, but in a "wild" saddle ride, and one of the most daring cowgirls of the plains.

No time was announced by the judges, and none could be secured from the management. The final awards gave Lawrence first, Tipton second, and Clemento third.

Warrant Issued for Jake Rose, Who is Missing With Parcel and Cloak Room Receipts

Jake Rose, an employee at the Stampedo grounds, who had charge of the cloak room, had skipped with $300 cash, which was the receipts of the cloak and parcel room and banner for the Stampedo. The police have issued a warrant for his arrest. Information has been sent out to Vancouver, Winnipeg, Spokane, Seattle, and other cities asking that he be apprehended. The information was laid on Saturday night, when Rose was missed, and it is thought he has skipped across the line.

The Warrants afford a ready reference of property that's for rent. Tenants who are ready to rent, or who are looking for a place to rent, should call on the real estate agent at the Stampedo grounds, who will be glad to furnish them with a list of properties for rent.

The Indian at his side as if glued to it, with hands up and a challenge to "Cyclone" to do his worst.

Again and again the horse stopped, but only for a few seconds, when he renewed the struggle. Again he tried to throw himself backward, and then, acknowledging he had met his master in the struggle, he surrendered.

The show for the audience and the fine riding of the Indian who would blossom forth champion unless someone else essayed to try conclusions with the horse or some other outlaw could equal his performance. Enjoying the thrilling spectacle equally with the thousands around the big arena was Princess Patricia and the Duchess of Connaught. The Princess could not restrain her girlish enthusiasm, and stood and applauded with the others, her winning smile beaming upon the Indian as he rode by to receive the homage that was his.

Building Up the heels of this event a world's record was set for the bulldogging contest. Senator E. Clemento, of the City of Mexico, bulldogged and threw a steer in seven and two-fifths seconds.

Del Blonett, of Arizona, was the first candidate up, and his steer ran to the front of the royal box, where Blonett slid from his mount on to the steers' side, and grasping his horns, flopped him prone upon the race track. This was a new experience to the royal party, and approval was unstinted.

A few minutes later the little figure of the Mexican vaquero was seen waving himself over the side of his saddle, while the hater was plotting a fleeing steer down the track. Like a panther he made a flying leap, grasped both horns, threw his knee before the steer's nose, and both animal and man went over in a heap. As he arose a mighty shout greeted the performance. Unofficial watches had caught his time inside of ten seconds, and when the judges announced 7-2-1 the Mexican was conceded the first place.

Ben Ludea, another Mexican, threw his steer, but his time was nowhere near the leader's.

near the grand stand, and then Charles Tipton, who set a mark of 18 seconds Monday, took his steer in hand. Though suffering from bruises and a slight fracture of his arm as a result of his performance Monday, Tipton swung from the saddle upon a heavy steer and pulled him with a flying twist.

Art Acord suffered trouble with his steer, and failed to throw, dropping out for Jim Maeste, who surmounted his steers.

Clemento, Blonett, and Lawrence were left in the finals, Tipton having thrown two steers. Blonett failed to throw his steer, and Clemento met with trouble on his second which struck his time out.

Then Lawrence, the champion came down at the track, and taking plenty of time, piloted his steer prone in front of the royal box. Princess Patricia stood up and applauded the performance.

No time was announced by the judges, and none could be secured from the management. The final awards gave Lawrence first, Tipton second, and Clemento third.

COWBOYS OBJECT TO THE CIRCUS FEATURES OF THE STAMPEDE

unfair one," said Miss Muthall. "My profession is roping and tying steers, roping horses, etc.; not a vaudeville act."

Miss St. Clair also showed keenly her feelings in the broncho riding award.

"When there are rules that makes the result dependent upon the horse and not the rider," said Miss St. Clair, "anyone who has ever ridden a bucking horse can win." This in reference to riding with hobbled stirrups.

Around the stables Sunday there was little joy save in the ranks of those who were participants in the night performance, and a few who are shown in the show building.

Doc Pardes, the stillwater, Oklahoma, rider, made no secret of his chagrin.

"When a steer roping and riding play becomes a circus," said he, "I'm going to go back to Oklahoma and get a few fancy ropers and riders together and make moving pictures. One might as well be in the show business for the money."

In the award for the bareback riding, Egge, the only man who spurred a horse behind the circle, I called the judges' attention to this fact, and pointed out what really constituted expert riding. Any man with spurs can hang on to a circle and roll his horse in the neck after he starts pitching, but where I come from, the man who can reach his mount in the most places and ride cleanly is considered the best.

Others that had complaints to make were C. Logan and B. Robb, who came from Northern Alberta, and helped participating in the Packing event.

Non-Professionalism Charged. All day Sunday the non-professional contestants stood about the stables and the administration building discussing the Stampedo. There were winners and losers in the Hittie groups, and there was one of the many who dissatisfaction everywhere. Men of few

CANARIES PLAY BIG PART IN RESCUE WORK

That canary birds are destined to play an important part in mine rescue work was proven for the first time to the United States government in its rescue work at the Cross Mountain mine explosion at Erieville, Tenn...

Government rescue men, equipped with the new oxygen-making machine strapped to their back and protected with hoses leading into their mouths, entered the mine depths with several dozen canary birds in cages and a squad of unskilled volunteer rescuers...

As long as the birds remained cheerful and hopped about in their cages it was known that all was well with the surrounding atmosphere...

DO YOU WANT CHEAP LUMBER

Fifty-two Yards in Alberta—Two Yards in Calgary

Few people appreciate that there is quality in lumber the same as there is in tea or in paint, or in most other articles. Cheap cut lumber or green lumber in better grades will build a house that, when well painted, will look fairly well for a few months. Such a building in our extreme climate soon takes on a dilapidated cheap look, making it difficult to sell, difficult to rent, and uncomfortable to live in.

We have always made a specialty of the highest quality, and owing to the tremendous size of our business we are able to buy on a basis that permits us to sell our lumber for as low a price as would be generally asked for a poorer quality. This has built up our large business—the largest in Western Canada.

Before building inspect our stocks and permit us to give you evidence that quality considered, our prices cannot be beaten. Particular people use our lumber. If your contractor obtains his lumber from us it is a sign that he is a particular man and demands the best of everything.
